Prison Superintendent D. D. Bazer radioed for state police help early today when the convicts, in Camp "1," refused to leave their barracks and made several demands for better living facilities.

Gen. Ridgway

(Continued From Page One) peace we have so lately won at so fearful a cost. "The alternative was slavery. We have aggressive intent toward none."

Ridgway referred to "the illimitable reservoirs of our own strength" and declared: "If these historic evidences of strength should be mistaken by the lords of Communism as indications of weakness, be construed as signs of a declining civilization that places peace before freedom, comfort before sacrifice, self before common good, that error would bring dreadful suffering to us, but it would bring destruction to them and their power."

Let no one underestimate our resolve to live as free men, in our own territories, engaged in our own peaceful pursuits," he continued.

Above all let no one mistake our constant quest for peaceful solutions at the council table as evidence of fear."

The general also arranged to lay wreaths at other historical points along the invasion beaches during the day — at Milestone Zero, start of the "Liberty Highway," route of victory through France in 1918; military cemeteries and military cemeteries where lie thousands of soldiers who fell on the beachhead.

Justice Dept.

An employe of the accounting agency's Detroit office, Sprague said Comptroller General Lindsay Warren asked the Justice Department in September, 1934, to try to recover an alleged $25,000 overcharge from the Detroit firm on a government contract.

Sprague said that in April, 1931, he came to Washington on another case with George Peiser, an assistant U. S. attorney.

On April 5, the witness said, Peiser visited Baur at his Washington hotel, and later left a note in Sprague's hotel room saying Baur had telephoned Boyle and McGrath.

Sprague noted the note as saying "They both came to his (Baur's) suite."

He testified also that Peiser told him he was going to discuss Baur's case with McGrath the following morning.

Sprague said he turned the note over to the comptroller general and returned to Detroit.

The witness said a court trial cleared Baur of criminal charges in connection with the alleged overcharging.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Holmes Baldrige notified the General Accounting Office in June, 1931—two months after his Washington trip—that the government would not prosecute a civil suit for recovery of the money.

Sprague said Baldrige told him the reason was that "some of the witnesses are dead."

"Are any of them dead that you know of?" Sprague was asked.

"No, sir," he replied. "Are any of them even ill?" "Not that I know of."

Sprague said the comptroller general wrote McGrath in August, 1931, urgently recommending a civil recovery action. He said the Justice Department has not replied to the letter.

The ambassador also said he was "very happy" about his departure — "of course."

National Politics

Dwight D. Eisenhower got down to the button-holing stage in their drives to win the Republican presidential nomination at the national conclave opening in Chicago July 7.

That meant ardent wooing of 341 delegates who hold the balance of power. They are the 130 GOP delegates thus far chosen who are committed to other candidates on the first ballot, and the 211 who are uncommitted or are in dispute.

Eisenhower took the offensive Sunday on a key sector—he had a three-hour lunch and chat with Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania, the state's 70 regular delegates, 20 have been reported favorable to Eisenhower, 16 to Taft, and 32 are officially uncommitted. These last may take their cue from Fine.

After the conference, Fine told reporters he would not influence the views of delegates; that his own mind was still open toward the candidates. He described his talk with Eisenhower as "pleasant" and dealing with specific issues and practical politics.

He announced the Pennsylvania delegates will meet Friday with Eisenhower at the general's farm near Gettysburg. But, Fine said, he did not look for any "definite action" to come out of the meeting. A meeting with Taft will be arranged later, at Taft's request.

The latest Associated Press tabulation of GOP delegates listed 400 for Taft and 390 for Eisenhower. Nomination requires 604 votes.

The present AP tabulation of Democratic delegates lists 246 for Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, 85 for Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman, 415 unknown, and others divided among a dozen candidates. Nomination requires 610 votes.

Sheriff Group Meets Here In 33rd Session

General J.C. Hutchison Condemns Trend Toward Centralizing Of Police Authority

Lt. General J. C. Hutchison, U. S. Army (ret.), today condemned what he called "the trend toward centralization of governmental authority, and the constant pushing of old and new functions to higher and higher levels," pointing out that this centralization can result from failure on the part of local authorities as well as encroachment by state and federal government.

Local law enforcement is hindered, he continued, because of the "temptation to establish a double standard of observance which would negate the concept of equal treatment for all."

General Hutchison was speaking at the 33rd annual convention of the Florida Sheriffs Association which convened this morning at the Seminole County Court House. His speech was preceded by welcoming addresses by Sheriff Perry G. Hays, Sheriff of Seminole County, Mayor William Hemper of Sanford, and the introduction of distinguished guests by Senator Lloyd F. Boyle. The program also included addresses by Sheriff Rex West of Duval county, Police Chief Roy G. Williams, and Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland, Sr.

At the Sheriff's luncheon in the Episcopal Parish House, Sheriff Hays announced that tonight's barbecue, slated for the Seminole County Club, has been shifted to the Elks Lodge on East Second Street.

Among the guests was State Railroad Commissioner Jerry Carter who gave a short talk on the sheriff's role in the state. He denounced the conspiracy to convert Florida into a two party state. "As long as I live," declared the Commissioner, "I want to assure you that I will make a Republican state out of this. At least as long as I live in Florida, they aren't going to do it." He also recalled that Florida's greatest governor, Napoleon Bonaparte, said he would look forward to the day when another sheriff might be governor.

In the main address of the morning, General Hutchison stressed that the "internal threat of communism, communism as an idea, can only be defeated by a vigorous, alert, individualized, thinking populace. And the best way to achieve this is through education, by not just giving lip service to, but by actually practicing local self-government."

"If we allow the decisions about government and our public life," he said, "to be made and executed (Continued on Page 11)

Retailers Are Told Nation Is Moving Toward Socialism

ORLANDO—Florida retailers were told here Monday that the country has lost control of the purse strings of this nation and we are moving quickly into a state of full socialism.

John C. Hason, Washington manager for the National Retail Dry Goods Association, also said at the Florida State Retailers Association's annual meeting that Congress should be notified when violations in the operation of stores and services are discovered.

The association adopted a resolution criticizing what it called abuses in the operation of such stores.

The resolution noted wide violation of the military stores "from their original intent of selling surplus goods to members of the armed forces without actually competing with established private business."

The resolution asked the American Retail Federation to take whatever steps are necessary to end alleged abuses.

The state association re-elected J. R. Batts, Sr., Petersburg, president and elected E. S. Taylor, Orlando, treasurer.

129 Students Given Diplomas At Seminole High School Exercises

Impressive commencement exercises were held last night at Seminole High School for a class of 129 students who were awarded their diplomas by Principal Herman E. Morris.

The graduates, numbering 89 girls and 41 boys, were seated in a double row semi-circle on the auditorium stage in what was perhaps the most beautiful setting ever witnessed here. A large painting by members of the Art Club in the background depicted a road to a castle of opportunity. In the distance, the graduates as they received their diplomas appeared to be walking off on this

State Cabinet Grants Beverage Group $10,000

TALLAHASSEE—The State Cabinet today granted the Florida Beverage Department $10,000 to meet a financial crisis and passed out some kind words for Director John E. Montgomery and some criticism of the policies of former Director Lewis M. Schott.

Montgomery asked the Cabinet Budget Commission for $25,000. He said $10,000 was needed immediately and $15,000 next month.

He recalled that Schott, before his resignation in March, had sought $50,000 in extra funds but had received only $25,000. Montgomery said that since taking over he had made every effort to trim expenses, but had to have the $25,000 to carry on enforcement work.

The cabinet voted $10,000, but told him to come back later and renew his request for the other $15,000.

Comptroller C. M. Gay said he previously had opposed the Beverage Department's request for extra funds because the department "was not making any attempt to live within its appropriation."

Gay said the department had bought unnecessary equipment, particularly $10,000 worth of short wave radios for its automobiles and five new cars in recent months.

Attorney Gen. Richard Ervin said he was willing to give the department more money because under Montgomery enforcement of liquor laws had been stepped up and liquor licenses had been suspended in cases left by Schott's being cleared up rapidly.

Montgomery said the radio equipment could be sold without too much loss to the department.

Gov. Warren asked if automobile short wave radio equipment was not necessary in enforcement work.

"I don't think so," Montgomery replied. "Where it is needed we always can call on local enforcement officers to help us out."

POW Rebellion Is Overcome By U. S. Paratroops

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN KOJE ISLAND, Korea—Tough U. S. paratroopers today cracked a Communist prisoner-of-war rebellion in a rip-roaring 24-hour battle that made a shambles of notorious Compound 18 and uncovered a prisoner plot to seize the island.

31 Prisoners Slain And 139 Wounded In 2 1/2 Hour Fight

Thirty-one prisoners were killed and 139 wounded in the bloody fighting. Autopsies showed that 12 prisoners were killed by their fellow Reds with crude spears.

One American was killed and 14 wounded. The slain American had been reported to be dead and not killed by a concussion grenade as first reported. Only one American was seriously wounded. Seven returned to duty and the others will go back in a few days.

The fight broke out when the POWs disobeyed orders to move peacefully into new, smaller enclosures of about 500 each.

U. S. Army intelligence officers found a master plan in 78 to liberate all 80,000 Communist prisoners held on Kojé. It called for the Reds to seize the island and its U. S. Army base there.

Not a shot was fired in the battle. The 750 Americans of the "Angels from Hell" combat team used concussion grenades, bayonets, tear gas and flares to subdue the rebellion. 6,000 North Koreans, the Reds were armed with spears, knives, rocks and fire bombs.

Surrendering prisoners were hustled off to the new enclosures. Brig. Gen. Hayden Boatner, the Kojé commander, had given the Reds a chance to move to the new quarters peacefully.

The hard Communist leaders chose to fight. Boatner met the resistance with force in his campaign to gain uncontested control over the prison pens.

The wild, swirling battle was witnessed by prisoners of two other nearby compounds—78 and 77. Shortly after the fight ended Boatner told prisoners in 78 to get ready to be moved—up the hill. The prisoners obeyed meekly.

And leaders in Compound 77 sent word that they would be ready to move on Boatner's command. They will be moved Wednesday.

Boatner was jubilant over the way the paratroopers from the 18th Airborne Regimental Combat Team quelled the Reds. He said:

"The discipline of the troops was superb. I have an official report that not one shot was fired in Compound 78. We captured the exact plan of resistance."

He referred to the map and papers found inside.

Boatner personally had ordered North Korean Col. Lee Hak Woo, a Communist 78 leader, to assemble the POWs for moving. Lee refused.

U.S. Soldiers Burn Red Flag And Signs At Kojé

TANKED AMERICAN SOLDIERS are shown inside a prisoner-of-war compound on Kojé Island, of Korea, as they rounded up defiant Communist prisoners. The troops charged into three compounds and tore down a Red flag and a number of offending signs, without firing a shot. They burned the flag and destroyed the signs. At bottom, the bayonet-wielding soldiers tore down one of the Communist propaganda posters.

Medical Advance Told Rotarians By Dr. Haynes

There has been more progress in medicine in the last 50 years than in the previous 500. Dr. Walter M. Haynes Jr. told the Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting yesterday in a talk on "What's New In Medicine."

City Authorizes Plans Be Prepared For Local Museum

The City Commission last night authorized Elton Moughtin, architect, to proceed with preliminary plans for the construction of a museum in which to house the library and antique collection of General Henry S. Sanford, founder of this city, and to prepare an accurate estimate on the cost of such a building.

Mayor W. H. Stumper also announced a committee under the chairmanship of Roland Dean to study the plans and present recommendations. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Mrs. Miriam Russell, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, John Knott, Randall Chase and A. J. Greer.

An inventory of General Sanford's collection, which under the terms of his will is to be left to the City of Sanford providing a suitable memorial building in which to house it, is constructed, was read to the Commission by Mr. Dean. The value of the collection is roughly estimated at in excess of $100,000.

Mrs. E. E. Rommler explained the work which has been done by the Woman's Club and the D.A.R. in promoting the project and revealed that two gifts of $1,000 each have already been made toward helping to defray the cost of the building. It was explained that present plans call for an expenditure of approximately $20,000.

A. J. Greer explained the cultural value to the community of such a center and pointed out the success of a similar museum in St. Augustine. He said that Sanford's location half way between Rollins College in Winter Park and Stetson University in Deland made it an ideal place for the establishment of a library such as contemplated under the terms of the will of General Sanford.

Others who spoke in behalf of the memorial to General Sanford were Mrs. Miriam Russell, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. Fred Williams, and Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Sanford Surgeon Describes Work Of Interns In Hospital

There has been more progress in medicine in the last 50 years than in the previous 500. Dr. Walter M. Haynes Jr. told the Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting yesterday in a talk on "What's New In Medicine."

The younger Mr. Haynes was born and raised in Sanford and graduated from Seminole High School in 1930, and was employed for a time at the Florida State Bank. At the outbreak of the second World War he volunteered for duty with the Air Corps and served overseas as a radar navigator on bombing flights out of England.

Following the war he entered the University of Florida where he received a pre-medical course, later studying from the Harvard Medical School. For the past year he has been serving as an interne in surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Pointing out that the work of an interne is pretty much of a grind, Dr. Haynes said his schedule consists of 34 hours on duty and 14 hours off with no weekends or other time off.

Outlining some of the advances which have been made in medicine during the past few years, Dr. Haynes said:

N. F. Caldwell, 60 Died Sunday Morning

N. F. Caldwell, 60, died at his home in Longwood Sunday at 1:30 a.m. following a lingering illness. He was born in Barberville, Oct. 8, 1891, and was a veteran of World War I, serving at Camp Wheeler, Ga. He was a member of the Baptist Church of Delton Springs.

Mr. Caldwell is survived by five children, Mrs. C. G. McWatters, Sanford; Mrs. Joe Werner, Orlando; J. C. Caldwell, Sanford; Col. Benjamin Caldwell, Ogden, Utah; and Franklin Caldwell Jr., Sanford; also three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at the graveside in Evergreen Cemetery Sunday at 4:30 p.m. by the Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr. Military services will also be conducted by American Legion Post 55.

City To Tighten Up On Payment Of Water Bills

No second notices regarding delinquent water bills will be sent out by the City after June 1, it was decided by the City Commission last night. Personal collection calls will also be discontinued, and if bills are not paid when due, water service will be discontinued, H. N. Sayer, city clerk, announced today.

Heretofore, he pointed out, second notices on delinquent bills have been sent out, and if these have not been paid, a collector has been sent out as a final resort, making as many as 100 calls a month. This has been taking too much time and costing too much, it was decided by the Commission.

An ordinance was passed which provides Social Security status for all City employees, and sets up a program to be handled by the Florida Industrial Commission.

A number of recommendations of the Baseball Stadium Committee were adopted. These include the tearing down of the wooden grandstand in East Park.

Truman Decries Use Of Taft-Hartley Act In Settling Of Steel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today cut off all exports of steel by dealers for civilian use from fractions to embargo affects even steel shipments for which export licenses have been issued, if the metal is destined for consumer goods use.

NEW YORK (AP)—The collapse of the steel strike talks knocked the stock market down today. Steel and railroad shares were hardest hit. The remainder of the market, although generally lower, showed some signs of resistance to the fall. Losses ran from fractions to between one and two points at the low end, with the greatest decline in steel and rail. Gains were scattered and on the small side.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for power to seize and operate the struck steel industry.

Before a hastily assembled joint session of the Senate and House, Mr. Truman said the choice lay between federal seizure and use of the Taft-Hartley Act. A Taft-Hartley injunction against the strike of 65,000 United Steelworkers, he said, "is by far the worst of the two approaches."

Standing on the speaker's dais in the House chamber, Mr. Truman told the senators and representatives that the Supreme Court had ruled against presidential seizure of the steel mills, but had said Congress could vote to take private property. He said:

"The issue is squarely up to Congress. I hope Congress will act quickly. The issue of peace of war hangs in the balance and steel is a vital element in the outcome."

He said it would be "unwise, unfair and quite possibly ineffective" to pass a law allowing him to seek an injunction without first appointing a board of inquiry and waiting for its report as required by the Taft-Hartley Act.

The government seizure of the mills under congressional authority, Mr. Truman declared, would "restore full-scale steel production, provide treatment for all concerned" (Continued on Page 11)

Newest Books For Adults Are Added To Local Library

Many new and interesting books have been added to the Sanford Public Library's collection for adult reading, Mrs. E. J. Moughtin, librarian, said today. Mrs. Moughtin also commented on the large number of books from the Sanford Naval Air Station who are using the library. She said every effort is made to extend to them the full privileges of residents and any further courtesies which it can.

Among novels recently added for adult consumption is "The Alexandrians" by Charles Mills, the story of a century in the life of a small Georgia town and its people. Other titles include "The City Boy" by Herman Wouk, "The Cane Mutiny" by Frank Yerby, "The Saracen Blade," a tale of crusading, and "Winton's Way" by James Ramsey Ullman, "East Side Jackson" by Frank Slaughter of Jacksonville, a story laid in New York's Bellevue Hospital, is another recent novel in circulation.

Non-fiction which Mrs. Moughtin mentioned as outstanding includes "North With the Spring" by Edwin Way Teale, the story of 120 days from the Everglades to Lake Champlain following the northward migration of birds and vegetation in the spring, "Skool Scandinavia" by Edward Streeter, author of "Father of the Bride," who describes the "slow disintegration of the Desire for Self-Improvement" and the revolt against "Points of Interest" during a motor trip through Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Also mentioned as interesting was "Adventure in Two Worlds" by A. J. Cronin, the Scottish novelist-physician, who began life as a struggling doctor in British mining communities and went on to become a famous London physician and a noted author.
