

Big Game Hunting Available Aplenty To U. S. Sportsmen

By DION HENDERSON

Big game hunting may mean Africa to some but the American hunter can find enough to keep him busy this year within a few days' drive of his front yard, wherever he lives.

And whether he measures success by pounds of meat or by hunting thrills, there is opportunity to shoot more than he can carry off, scare himself white-faced, as he chooses.

For instance, Alberta already has opened season that will offer grizzly bears, caribou, elk, mountain sheep and goats before it closes Dec. 31. And although moose are getting a little harder to find, non-resident aliens can try for them in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

And if Canada is too far flung, there is bear and boar hunting along with deer in North Carolina and Tennessee, bear and deer in a dozen states, and even buffalo in Arizona and Montana.

anything the folks were serving around the campfire when the Pilgrims arrived still can be brought to the table.

Some big game probably is in better shape now than it was then, because of extensive management by modern conservation agencies.

Deer, for instance, can be hunted literally around the country from New England to California, from Florida to Oregon, and many states in between.

Last year, Iowa had its first deer season of modern times, and even Illinois is beginning to think of one as protected herds multiply in agricultural areas. One of the few dissenters comes from Ohio, where busy highway traffic killed 300 animals last year and upset population forecasts.

The biggest game like moose and buffalo are no longer present in numbers that greeted the pioneers, of course. Saskatchewan has preserved its moose for residents, and in Arizona and Montana, and other provincial licenses for deer, bear and moose are issued.

states and provinces shows that for instance, but buffaloes are on the way back as a limited huntable species in the West, and even if controls are rigid as Montana's three just three permits must be maintained, it keeps the frontier flavor in the game.

One of the notable trends in giving more opportunities more sports with the same, or even fewer, numbers of game seems to be growing up of the bow and arrow. Modern bow hunting, in the popular sense, is barely 20 years old, but more than a dozen states have offered continually more liberal seasons to the archers, and this year North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Colorado have added something to the list.

Shooting started last week in the North and will run on through Arizona's Javelina hunting late February. But the peak activity is October and November.

Licence fees range from about $25 to Quebec's mouse tag. Correspondence should precede any application to hunt antelope, elk, goats and such in the Western states, though, since most of their permits are distributed by lot.

to inoculate 2,000 children. Snyder asked the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization for an additional supply sufficient for all children under 13. He also said doctors, nurses and other help is being sent here.

WASHINGTON — The Public Health Service today listed 2,121 new cases of polio over the nation for last week, an increase of 10 over the preceding week.

However, an official told a reporter the eight-day period did not alter the belief that the peak for this year has been reached.

The weekly summary noted that last week's total was "below the 2,200 cases reported for each of the last two weeks in August."

Through last Saturday, 21,322 cases of infantile paralysis had been reported, compared with 22,491 in the similar 1953 period and 31,261 in the 1952 span.

Increases in new cases were listed last week in Illinois, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Nebraska, said an official who added that California and Texas showed considerable declines.

Dr. Joe Bostwick, county health officer, said allocation of the GG to the county did not reflect a critical polio situation.

"We have by definition an epidemic but we are no worse off than we were two weeks ago," Dr. Bostwick said. "In fact, the number of new cases this year compares fairly mild and half of them adults," he said.

207 Are Missing, Officials Say; U.S. Air Force Drops Rations

SEOUL (AP)—A Pacific typhoon which hit Korea Tuesday left 32 persons dead and 207 missing. South Korean officials said today.

Most casualties and damage were along the mountainous east coast where torrential rains flooded large areas.

U.S. Air Force transports dropped 51 tons of emergency rations to flood-marrowed troops of the ROK 1st Corps on the east coast Wednesday and Thursday, officials said.

Another 21 tons of food were airlifted to U.S. troops in the same area and 100 tons of supplies are to be flown in to meet additional food and medical supplies at Pusan.

Supply routes were cut by flooding streams which washed out roads and destroyed 10 bridges, the announcement said.

Strolling In Sanford

A. G. Claus Sr., Sanford, composed a poem, "My Old House," on his 80th birthday recently. Mr. Claus has lived in Sanford and its vicinity for the past 29 years. He said he based his poem on a Bible passage found in his book of Ecclesiastes, 12:7, which reads as follows: "Then shall the dust return to earth as it was, and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." The poem is as follows: "The people say I'm very old, But me, they do not see. It's my old house they're looking at."

In almost all gambling cases, the defendant is now represented by counsel, Chief Williams said. He offered the opinion that the defendants were worried about federal gambling stamp.

Farmers May Apply For Crop Loans

Farmers may now make application for emergency crop loans, according to Curtis Green, supervisor of the Rural Farm Credit Service. To obtain a loan, farming must be the chief source of income, and the applicant must be unable to obtain credit from other sources, Green said.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from the office in the Court House. The administration is a bureau of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

I know my house will soon decay beneath the earthly soil. The spirit that is dwelling there will then return to God.

"I'll live with him forever more, though I am sleeping. Long after my old house is gone, A living soul I'll be."

Mr. Claus said he believed the Florida climate added "16 good years" to his life. He said that most of his brothers had not lived beyond 70 years of age. He came to Florida from Tennessee, where he was a trader, farmer and teacher of vocal music. He lived in the vicinity of Nashville.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet Thursday, Sept. 23, instead of Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Members of the American Legion junior baseball team and candidates attending Boys State will be entertained by the Legion post Monday at a supper meeting, according to R. S. Johnson Jr., commander. In addition, there will

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today it has exploded "one of a type of atomic weapons" with "valuable results."

The brief announcement by the official news agency Tass said the test will enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack.

Tass gave no details on where the explosion took place or what type of weapon was involved.

The announcement said:

"In accordance with the plan for scientific research work, trials of one or two types of atomic weapons were carried out in the Soviet Union during recent days."

"The aim of the trials was the study of an atomic explosion."

"The trials produced valuable results, which will enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack."

In Tokyo, the Kyodo News Service reported that the meteorological laboratory of Kyodo University had recorded unusual instrument readings Aug. 20 similar to those observed when the United States made atomic tests at the Bikini Atoll.

Kyodo said a student at the laboratory measured a pressure gauge, gave the readings on that date at 8 a.m. Japan time and again at 1 p.m.

There was no immediate reaction from the Russian announcement from American officials.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty, who President Eisenhower has in his Faro, Colo., vacation spot, said the President had been notified. Hagerty added that any comment would have to come from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lewis L. Strauss, the commission's chairman, said in New York City he had no statement to make. The State Department likewise refused comment.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said at Hammondport, N.Y.:

"I feel that at the present I should confine my remarks to the question 'Do we need further evidence of the real intent of the Soviets toward world domination?'

Today's communiqué from Moscow was the first official word in a year on atomic tests inside Russia.

In August, 1953, the Russians claimed that in a series of tests they had touched off a hydrogen bomb explosion of great strength. An American scientist who had been involved both fusion atomic and thermonuclear reactions—the latter a term used by scientists to describe a hydrogen explosion.

Strauss, commenting last August on the 1953 Soviet experiments, said the Russians "tested a weapon or device of a yield well beyond the range of regular fission weapons and which derived a part of its force from the fusion of light elements."

NEW CHEESE CAKE RECIPE—Now homemakers can make wonderful cheese cake without baking. Made with gelatin, cottage cheese, milk and cream, the new recipe eliminates baking worries. Just mix the ingredients, and chill until serving. The recipe appears in many homemaker magazines this month.

You Can Serve Delicious Cheese Cake And Save A Lot Of Trouble, Expense

Now you can serve delicious cheese cake often and save most of the trouble and expense. According to a new recipe all you do is mix gelatin, cottage cheese, cream and milk, place in refrigerator and chill until time to serve. This new no-bake cheese cake is rich in calcium protein that makes a nutritional dessert for all occasions. Not only is this cake delicious and rich tasting, but it's low in cost, making an economical addition to your favorite homemaker dessert recipe.

Here's the recipe for this new revolutionary way of making cheese cake:

1. Mix together 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 cup sugar, and 1/4 teaspoon salt in the top of a double boiler.
2. Beat together 2 cups milk and 1 cup milk with gelatin mixture. Cook over hotboiler water, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is smooth. Cool about 10 minutes.
3. Remove from heat, add 1/4 cup grated lemon rind, and 1/4 cup lemon juice.
4. Stir in 3 cups creamed cottage cheese (24 oz.), several 1-tablespoonfuls melted butter, 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. Set aside.

5. Fold 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten, into heavy cream, then fold into chilled mixture.

6. Turn into 8" spring form pan and sprinkle top with crushed nuts. Chill until firm.

7. Cut into 8" squares or 16" squares. 1/2" pan may be used. Line with waxed paper and press crust mixture in bottom of pan. Turn gelatin mixture. Chill until firm.

Seminola Rebekah Honors District Deputy President

Seminola Rebekah Lodge met recently in the 1000 Hall for its fall meeting with Sophie Nauert, Native Daughters president. At this time, Hilda White, district deputy president, was honored. She was accompanied by her secretary, Mabel Snyder.

The hall was decorated with pastel shades of pink and blue bunting. After an interesting program, refreshments of homemade cookies and punch were served to 22 members and two visitors.

Many Homemakers Meet With Problem Of Stubborn Dirt

Stubborn soiled clothes that don't come clean with regular washing are problems to many homemakers, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Women at either re-wash clothes that come out of the washing machine dirtier than they went in, or they're too tight to fit.

Special pre-soaking, suited to both soil and fabric, is suggested by textile specialists for easy, effective washing.

7. Turn into 8" spring form pan and sprinkle top with crushed nuts. Chill until firm.

8. Cut into 8" squares or 16" squares. 1/2" pan may be used. Line with waxed paper and press crust mixture in bottom of pan. Turn gelatin mixture. Chill until firm.

1954 College Grid Season Opens Tonight With Two Major Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1954 college football season opens tonight with two first-rate games, but the big attraction comes tomorrow when light-hitting Oklahoma meets California at Berkeley in the television game of the day.

Oklahoma was a close second to Notre Dame in AP's pre-season poll of football strength, and California was 12th. The game will be one of the sternest tests of the year for Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

Tonight, however, comes two major games. Alabama, the 14th-ranked team of the land, faces Mississippi Southern, a little team that surprised last year by dumping Alabama 25-10. Southern California takes on Washington State. In what would be only bresher, powerful Mississippi faces North Texas State.

The '54 version of football finds the rules unchanged, and the N.C.A.A. limiting television to one game each week, under A.B.C. sponsorship, except for a few regional Saturday later in the season.

Notre Dame, under its new and youthful coach, Terry Brennan, is idle this weekend but next week meets Texas in a thriller. Notre Dame was voted first place in the AP's poll.

Continuing the trend that began with the end of World War II, a flock of major games are scheduled for tomorrow, making this one of the earliest big football Saturdays of all. Maryland, the national champion last year but ranked third for 1954, takes on Kentucky; Georgia Tech, another powerhouse, opens with Tulane; Baylor faces Houston; Rice meets Florida; Washington plays Utah, and Texas will be tested by Oklahoma.

Two of the flock of new coaches will make their debut tomorrow: Elton Collier, former Cleveland Brown assistant, is directing Kentucky, and Andy Palley, who won his name at Notre Dame, piloted Tulane.

In other games Saturday, Oregon meets Idaho in a Pacific Coast Conference affair; New Mexico has Brigham Young in a Skyline Eight battle, and Virginia Military plays host to Davidson in the Southern Conference.

Oklahoma A. & M., expected to be in the Missouri Valley title race, and Wyoming, a Skyline Conference contendent, meet at Bartlesville. Drake plays Colorado, Iowa State meets South Dakota, State, and Kansas State opposes Colorado A. & M.

In the south, Georgia should not be troubled by Florida State, while Mississippi State meets Memphis State; Virginia Tech plays North Carolina State and Texas A. & M. tackles Texas Tech.

In far western games Stanford plays Cal in the Pacific, the U.C.L.A. meets the San Diego Navy, Washington opposes Utah, and Denver faces Colorado College.

Leipzig Fair Shows
Reds Wants Trade

111216, East Germany (P.R.)—Leipzig Trade Fair, which opened this week, made it evident that the East has something to boast this year for the first time since the war. Moscow wants each and is pushing for it.

The fair managers boasted that you could buy anything you saw, that included giant drill presses, flying optical instruments, precision Russian and Czech automobile working machines, large-scale precision and not too large engineering lathes and needle-like railway cars and Russian tanks, radios and champagne.

The Soviet pavilion was jammed with machinery, advertising for the public. A statue of Stalin, whom dominated an entry to the pavilion, was given way to a statue of Lenin, that appeared to depict Lenin as the teacher and Stalin as the pupil. Stalin was half as much shorter than Lenin.

The Red Cross pavilion was the grand largest. It offered silk dresses, fine ones and quantities, and all precision lathe and machinery. A bronze bust of Mao Tse-tung was in the center of the hall.

The East German government announced that business contracts to the equivalent of nearly 400 million dollars were signed during the 11-day fair.

Letters TO THE

A SAD CASE

Not long ago my week end physical culture program was disrupted when my wife handed me without comment, the July 1 issue of All Florida Magazine. Raising my head, I saw the words "Do It Yourself" emblazoned on the cover. An arctic footed pimmonition sauntered down my spine, but I bolstered my courage with a sip of orange juice and read on.

Within minutes, my hands were trembling and sweat was popping out on my brow. I was the only man in Florida it seemed who wasn't "doing it himself."

When a pipe burst, or a fuse blew, I had to call for help. My wife and daughter patronized beauty shops while I—spendthrift that I am—had a barber cut my hair!

To make matters worse, our home was hopelessly out of date. We didn't have a miniature bowling alley or a patio with an outdoor fireplace. Even our clothes hamper was of the common variety sold by unimaginative department stores; it wasn't a "tropical" one. And the dining room table was disgracefully rectangular, not a single unrealistic curve did it have!

At this point I gave up, my battered inferiority complex could stand no more. I was a pariah, slinking about with my head bowed in shame. Fingers of scorn were pointed at me by men who "did it themselves." Surely, my wife would leave me, my daughter develop a Jungian complex. I would be socially ostracized.

BACKYARD GYMNASIUM

Though when we get our neighbor's phone calls instead of Drag-net. And for some reason, every time we open the refrigerator door, a large rainbow appears on the TV screen.

My two ladies soon calmed down, of course, and let me come home. But the workshop is gone, and there isn't a tool in the house. The TV set is bolted to the wall. Terry and Carolyn treat me gently and carefully censor every issue of All Florida before I see it. I get the idea.

From now on, I'll let others do it!

OUR COVER

Anytime a pretty girl and a cute kitten get together—a photographer should be at hand.

This time Trent Rogers, All Florida's cameraman "just happened" to be all ready at Rainbow Springs when pretty Judy Senter, "Miss Rainbow Springs of 1954" and a sophomore at Dunnellon High School, got together with a cute kitten whose main object in life appeared to be the strings on her bathing suit.

Judy saved the suit—and in the process made what we think is a cute cover picture for All Florida Magazine.

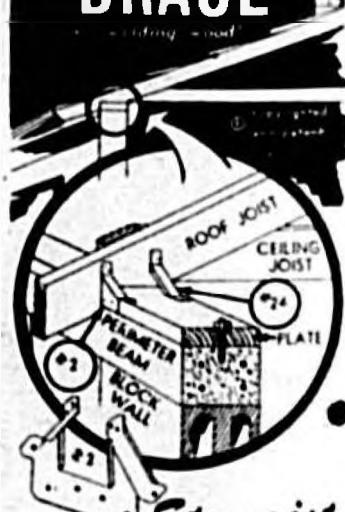

TWO swings, a see-saw, climbing rope and horizontal bar make this unit a number one "must" for the family with children.

Just the other day one proud father told me how much this gym meant, not only to his children, but also to his wife. Since all the neighborhood children are content to spend the afternoon "in the gym," his wife rotates watching the group, rather than just her two infants. The other mothers take turns, so each one gets free afternoons every week "at no extra cost." The savings in "babysitting" costs in one month were almost enough to pay for the materials required to build the gym.

Full size patterns for all angle cuts and clearly illustrated directions make it possible for even a rank amateur to build with only a few basic hand tools. No special skill is required.

Pattern shows just where to drill all bolt holes—gives correct spacing and height for swings, etc. For fun and relaxation—"Build It Yourself." For truly professional results, send 60 cents in coin or money order for complete Gymnasium Pattern No. 152 to Pattern Dept., All Florida Magazine, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N. Y. (Allow two weeks for delivery.)

SPORTS SPLASH!

By BOB BALFE
All Florida Sports Editor

AAMERICAN swimmers and divers figure to make their biggest splash in international competition in the next few years and Florida is providing the reasons for the bright outlook.

The upsurge in competitive swimming in the State has turned up more promising prospects than in any past era, so that Florida entries in the 1955 Pan-American Games and in the 1956 Olympics may help the United States write aquatic history.

ONE OF Florida's brightest aquatic stars, Sonny Bippus, a West Palm Beach doctor's daughter was junior national champion at 12 years of age. Now 13, she set three records in one meet this past summer at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

At the National AAU championship meet this year, one world record, nine new American records and 13 AAU records were established. Figuring in five of the marks was Carolyn Green, a University of Miami co-ed who does her record splashing for the Fort Lauderdale Swimming Association.

Carolyn was on the 1952 Olympic team taking a fourth place in the 100-meter freestyle at Helsinki. In the recent National AAU she broke the record in the 100-meter event and also smashed a 10-year American record in the 200-meter. So Carolyn Green may well be the top American hope on the women's side of the aquatic teams which will invade Mexico City next year and Melbourne, Australia, in 1956.

Ben York, the city recreation director of West Palm Beach, who is a member of the women's swimming committee of the National AAU and chairman of the sub-committee on diving, thinks Florida right now is developing the volume and caliber of future stars to take the front in the national swim picture.

Fellows like Glen Whidden of St. Petersburg, now attending Ohio State, and Buddy Barck, Clearwater, now in military service, are considered among the top diving and swimming prospects for the near future.

Some youngsters not even in high school are showing great promise. Sonny Bippus, a Palm Beach starlet, was a junior national champion at the age of 12. Now 13, she is continuing to improve and set three records in one meet at Oak Ridge, Tenn., this summer. In that same meet Nila Shieh of St. Petersburg set a junior national record in the 200-meter freestyle, and only a fraction of a second behind her was Linda Leisdale of Palm Beach.

"Age group swimming and our junior Olympic program are important factors in the Florida aquatic picture," says York. "More youngsters are being encouraged to become good swimmers and divers. The swimming associations are making more competition available and thus making the training program more attractive. There is no doubt at all that we are building for Florida's greatest era in water sports."

The pattern for the swimming association, combining various teams in a locality into a stronger squad for competition, was set at Fort Lauderdale where the coach is Tom Lamar, formerly of Lake Worth, now the University of Miami coach. Lamar, incidentally, may become the coach of the U. S. women's team at the Pan Am Games next year.

Now Metropolitan Miami, Lake Worth, Palm Beach, Tampa and some other cities are working in the same direction. Daytona Beach, site of the indoor nationals on several occasions, is building similarly.

The full realization of the program may be further away than 1955-56, York believes, but from now on, watch Florida's water kings and queens.

IS YOUR HEARING AFFECTED BY IMPROPER BODY USE of FOODS?

Safe . . . Clinically Tested . . . Easy To Take

"B - AMINO COMPLEX" TABLETS

ARE A VALUABLE SUPPLEMENT IN THE TREATMENT OF PERCEPTIVE DEAFNESS IN WHICH FAILURE OF THE HEARING NERVE RESULTS FROM A DISTURBANCE OF THE CARBOHYDRATE METABOLISM OF THE BODY

In 1949, one of the world's most noted ear specialists, associated with a large New York hospital, introduced a new theory pertaining to deafness. He disclosed that, in his opinion, a cause of deafness was the improper use of foods by the body.

and in the general clinical picture were obtained through such use. Other physicians have found "B-AMINO COMPLEX" a most useful supplement in the treatment of this type of deafness.

NOW! HERE IS THE REALLY GREAT NEWS FOR THE HARD OF HEARING

Now, "B-AMINO COMPLEX" tablets are available to you without a doctor's prescription. Since perceptive deafness due to carbohydrate metabolism disturbances occurs gradually, improvement should take place gradually from 3 to 6 months. Adult dosage 2 tablets 3 times daily after meals.

WE CARRY THE FREIGHT

By MILTON COLE

THE records show that the defenders of Dien Bien Phu held out for 57 days before finally being overwhelmed. But what the records don't and can't show is how many of those days were made possible by men who, only a few short months before, were studying and working in sunny Florida.

Experts in wartime logistics figure these men, pilots of the behemoth Air Force transport planes, the C-124's, may well have doubled the life of that beleaguered Indo China garrison.

They flew mission after mission, day and night, in good weather and bad, bringing in supplies and men to Indo China. They learned to fly over the treacherous hills and jungles, to center their machines of transport and supply and bring in the men and supplies they were carrying safely and soundly, at the Air Force's only training center for C-124's, Palm Beach Air Force Base, West Palm Beach.

This MATS embryo pilot "gets the works" in the simulator, the Air Force's ground airplane training cockpit.

The night flying, the missions through the rain and heavy winds in Indo China were not too dissimilar from the torrential rains, heavy winds and pitch black nights that are part of the yearly weather makeup of the Palm Beach area.

Since Sept. 2, 1952, when PBAFB became the Air Force's official training school for pilots for the Military Air Transport Service, 631 pilots have been given instruction and training on the handling of the Air Force's biggest transport plane.

Hundreds more have learned the intricacies of flying the KC-97's, big refueling planes for the Strategic Air Command, the C-54's, smaller cargo ships and the S-6-16's, amphibious rescue plane of the Air-Sea Rescue section of MATS.

They are stationed all over the world. Some are doing the glamorous work of rescuing marooned sailors at sea, or flying vital supplies to desert areas. Many are doing the regular, mundane work, but ready for the major task of delivering sup-pplies or men to an area when and if needed. Where the C-46's and C-54's, which were used in the 1947 Berlin airlift could travel 200 miles an hour and carry 14,000 pounds of supplies, the C-124 can travel at 230 miles an hour and carry 50,000 pounds.

Thus, one C-124 could do the work of almost four C-54's.

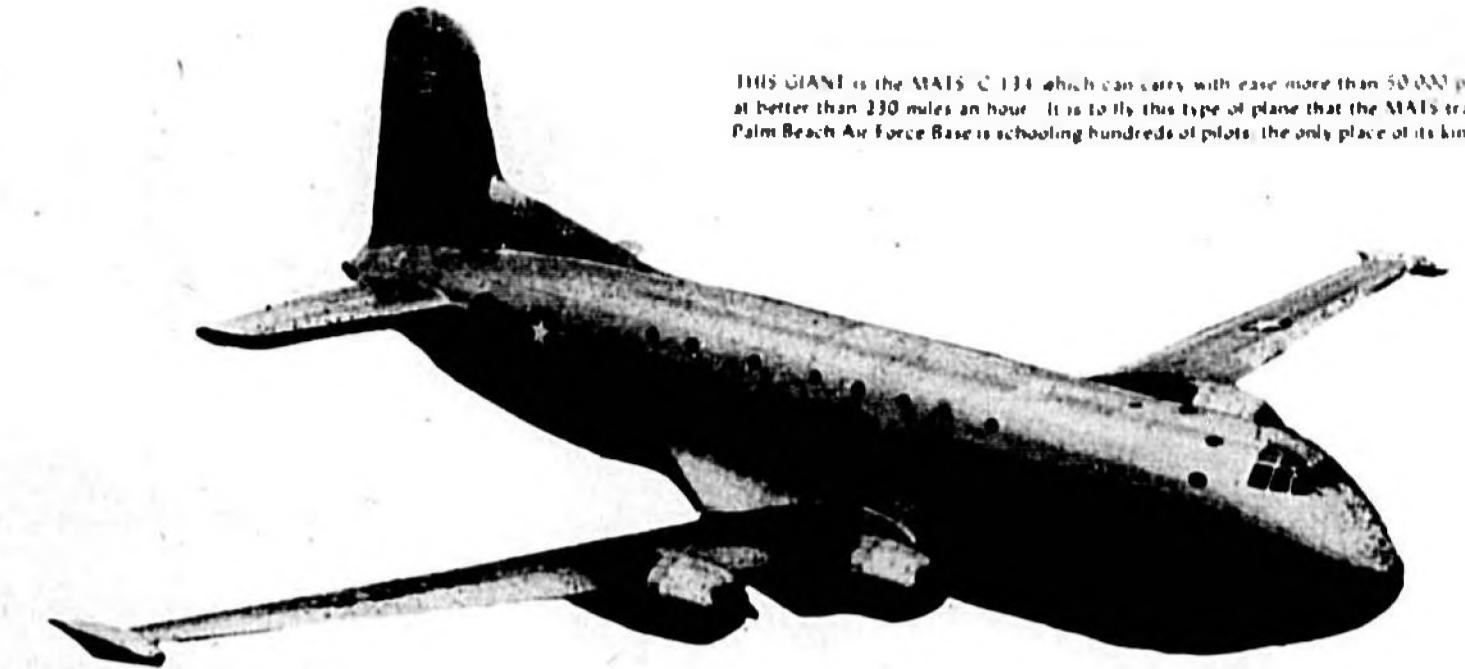

Soon another phase of training will be added to the already bulging airport at West Palm Beach. The C-118's, the DC-8's, will be added to the curriculum and more pilots will go through the task of becoming experts in the nation's growing air arm.

Prior to making PBAFB the centralized and only school for MATS training in the country, pilots and crews were sent to various bases throughout the nation for their education.

Now, no matter where they are stationed, the young pilots come to Florida for their formal training.

ANOTHER VIEW of the simulator. So complicated it's hard to tell top from bottom in the picture. The simulator saves taxpayers thousands of dollars by training pilots for MATS on the ground.

THIS GIANT is the MATS C-124 which can carry with ease more than 50,000 pounds of cargo at better than 230 miles an hour. It is to fly this type of plane that the MATS training center at Palm Beach Air Force Base is schooling hundreds of pilots, the only place of its kind in the nation.

They turn out these experts in about eight weeks at PBAFB. And as fast as one group goes out, another comes in. The instructors at the base are termed the "best in the entire Air Force" by Col. H. G. Thorne, Jr., who commands the base.

Since the base opened, not one crash has been recorded, despite thousands of flights in all kinds of weather by all kinds of new pilots.

The training for all four types of craft at the base is basically similar in its character, although more complicated for C-124 and C-97 crews.

A typical group of new pilots and flight engineers will arrive at the base, fresh out of pilot training. They are trained fliers, capable of handling the training planes they were weaned on, but novices when it comes to flying the heavier, more complicated planes of MATS.

"Anyone who has a pilot's license can basically fly a plane, that is, get it off the ground and back down again," Colonel Thorne explains. "But there are many other matters to be learned, such as what to do in emergencies or bad weather, instrument flying, flying with loaded planes, and particularly the task of learning to be flight commanders, leaders, capable of bringing squadrons of MATS planes to and from a mission."

The new recruits begin an intensive ground school curriculum, during which the thousands of parts that make up a C-124, C-97, C-54, and SF-16 are described and shown, with their purposes explained.

When a pilot or flight engineer completes the ground school training, which lasts three weeks, he theoretically is able to take that plane apart and put it back together again.

After the three weeks of ground school, the fledgling C-54 and SF-16 pilots and crew members immediately begin flying their planes at the base. The SF-16 men practice day and night takeoffs and landings from the field, Lake Okeechobee, and the ocean. The C-54 men practice flying in a 100-mile radius of the base.

But there is more unglamorous work for the C-124 and C-97 men before they get air borne. They begin practicing in the simulator.

Thousands of Air Force men remember the famed Link trainer, and millions of Americans have read of it in books and magazines and newspapers, and seen it in movies. It is the stationary electronically-operated machine that laid out like the cockpit of an airplane, and will go through the same motions of an airplane at the touch of the various controls.

The simulator is the same thing, only more complex, to take care of the complicated machinations of the C-124's and C-97's.

It has been estimated that it costs $100 an hour to run a C-124 in KC-97's in the air. This is just for the mechanical operation of the plane, and does not include the salaries of the instructors and trained personnel.

It costs $27.10 an hour to run the simulator. There are 28 hours of simulator training that would otherwise have to be taken in actual flight training. The savings to the taxpayers and the Air Force in the two years of MATS and SAC training at PBAFB has been over $10 million, or enough to buy a half dozen more C-124's or C-97's.

Thanks to this training, our country will not be caught with an inadequate crew to do the work required when, and if, the emergency arises. And we of Florida can join the nation and the world in being proud of the contribution this Florida base is making to worldwide peace and security.

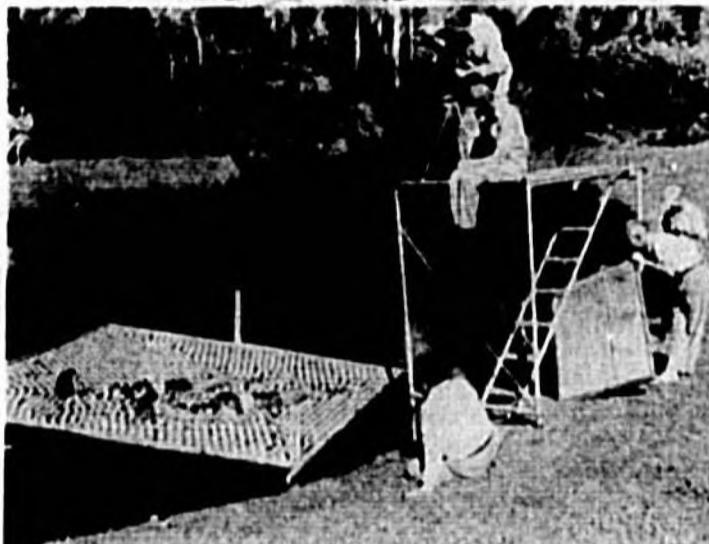

THE YAWNING mouth of a C-124, MATS cargo plane, gives only a small conception of its capacity. Jeeps, tanks, men and tons of supplies can be carried in one of these behemoths of the air. Comparatively tiny men today are storing vast knowledge in their heads at the MATS training center at West Palm Beach, to become masters of these metal complicated air giants.

SUNSHINE

NOTHING IS too difficult when Dick Pope gets a picture idea for publicity. This type of "gag" has produced volume publicity both for the state and Pope's Cypress Gardens.

JUST LIKE a movie set is the scene with Pope (in foreground with megaphone) directing models and cameramen—all just for one publicity picture. But the picture is likely to be used in many newspapers and magazines.

SMILE PRETTY says Pope as he poses two of his models. Pictures like these are sent out by the thousands to lure tourists to Florida's sunny beaches and, according to the State Advertising Commission, the "bait" is attractive.

PAGE 8—All Florida Magazine

THE Merchant of Venus, the Swami of the Swamp, Mr. Buzz Saw, the Barnum of Botany is still all that—but he's fast becoming Mr. Florida, the state's biggest national promotional asset, and non-paid at that.

At one time Dick Pope's publicity activities were strictly selfish as a matter of self preservation. A man likes to eat now and then, and get in and out of the rain. There were times when it was doubtful if he could do either.

He was so determined to impress others with his ideas that he made more than his share of enemies, some of whom he has managed to retain. There were times when he felt impelled to tell a person here and there that person was wrong. But he's learned that more flies can be caught with sugar than vinegar and as a result the Florida scene is being spread more and more across the country before potential visitors and future residents.

People are flocking to Florida—to visit and live. The year-round visitors number into the untold thousands and until three years ago—says Harold Colce, executive vice president of the Florida Chamber of Commerce, 1,600 persons a week migrated to Florida to take up permanent residence. Now the number is 1,975 a week.

"Dick Pope is doing a commendable job," says Colce. "He sees the state need as a whole and is doing a fine job. He's received a lot of tributes from various quarters for the excellent work he and the Advertising Commission is doing."

There are some cynics who still insist Pope has an ulterior motive in all this promotional philanthropy, that more visitors to Florida means more visitors to Pope's Cypress Gardens at Winter Haven. He won't dispute this. In fact, he'll agree loudly. He has to be loud to be heard over the clanging of the cash registers at the entrance to the Gardens.

Dick Pope has devoted the later years of his life to the theory that what is good for Florida in general is good for Floridians in particular—and he has spent much time, money and energy publicizing most sections of the state, always for free and often without the knowledge of the other place.

And now that he's vice chairman of the State Advertising Commission and has increased his list of important friends in the entertainment and publishing world by the score upon score, Florida's name and reputation and the state's incomparable scenic delights are being spread across the country in a growing variety of ways before uncounted hundreds of thousands of people.

Pope is a heavy believer in movies and some of his most influential friendships lie in this field. He has been instrumental in many a movie being shot in Florida, not only at Cypress Gardens but in other places; and he has more such irons in the fire.

And the Commission's News Bureau in Tallahassee turns out an average of a TV show a week — either an idea or a completed movie. The numbers of people who see them over the country are legion.

One of the leading Hollywood executives the other day suggested that Pope be the liaison between the motion picture studios and the State of Florida in furnishing location possibilities and suggestions.

Pope has just begun to gather this information with the result that over 100 communities will have their photographic assets listed for quick reference when a movie company has a particular need.

He has begun arrangements with Eddie Shipstead of the world-famous Ice Follies which plays 22 of the country's largest cities—including a month in New York City and three weeks in California—for the finale of the show to be a 20-minute depiction of the Florida scene.

His friendship with Jeff Wade of the advertising agency which handles the Kurt Massey-Martha Gilson show resulted in that singing pair presenting a 15 minute salute recently to Florida over two national networks.

For the first time the Commission is working on a large scale with travel agencies, transportation companies, merchandise establishments and other places catering to the public all over the country for display of three-dimensional Florida scenes like bathing girls, beaches, hunting and fishing; placards; and anything else which will advertise Florida.

A close friend of Pope's, Bill Stensgard of Palm Beach and Chicago, an expert in the display advertising field, is spearheading this display move by going into 200 of America's finest stores to stage window and inside displays.

Showing in 12 theaters over the country to 160,000 persons a day. All it cost Florida was the time, energy and money of Pope and his staff.

Pope didn't invent water skiing, but has done, perhaps, more than any other person to popularize it—and this sport has done much to publicize Florida. He has also helped put on water ski shows all over the country, all calling attention to Florida.

He was instrumental in Tom Moore moving to Florida and broadcasting his Ladies Fair 25 minutes a day five days a week, 52 weeks a year over 561 Mutual Broadcasting System stations.

Pope is a cherubic, effervescent, indefatigable, ebullient volcano and equipment—and cost nothing except for placards.

"I tried this kind of thing last year in Michigan and one store set up 11 windows featuring Florida," Pope explains. "And there were more displays and promotional material inside the store. The store also talked about Florida on radio, TV and in the newspapers."

"I brought this up in Chicago recently and the merchants association there said: 'What's wrong with our doing that in Chicago, too?'

Another example of Pope's successful efforts to publicize Florida is the fact that Cypress Gardens has 23 minutes of the two-hour Cinerama show now showing in 12 theaters over the country to 160,000 persons a day. All it cost Florida was the time, energy and money of Pope and his staff.

POSED PROUDLY before a board full of newspaper clippings. Pope says these were returned from just one picture sent out as Florida publicity. It is this kind of "payoff" says the Swami of the Swamp, that makes life worthwhile.

BIRTH OF an idea is illustrated in Pope's office where each day he holds an "idea forum" with members of his staff. On the wall are scenes from the motion picture "Easy To Love" which was made at Pope's Cypress Gardens.

RTURE a bowl of golden peach crescents tinged with a tosy glow, then, think of a pitcher of cool rich cream to pour over each serving of the juicy-ripe slices and "your mouth will water" for that flavorful dish of fruit. Peaches are a favorite fruit among many and are not only a gourmet's delight when fresh, but equally as welcome on any menu, canned or frozen, whether it be used in a salad, in preserves, pie or ice cream.

The next time you invite the girls to a buffet luncheon, treat them to a refreshing salad platter of peach halves, sections of oranges and grapefruit, banana slices, halves of pineapple and melon balls. A touch of zippy for your fruit salad platter would be a pink cream dressing. To one cup of mayonnaise, add one cup jellied cranberry sauce, and blend well. Whip generously over your serving of lush fruits.

A delicious addition to any meal, whether it be for company or the family, is a dish of spicy peach halves. Just open a can of peaches, place the fruit in a baking dish, dissolve two tablespoons of brown sugar in the juice, pour over the fruit, sprinkle cinnamon over the top and place in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 20 minutes. Serve while warm with the main course.

Another delicious salad combination using peach halves (canned), which have been chilled, is to fill each half with cottage cheese mixed with the pink cream dressing.

The next time you are in a hurry and only have a few minutes to prepare a meal, try a Sausage 'n' Peach special. Drain liquid from one No. 2½ can peach halves. Sprinkle each peach half with ½ teaspoon brown sugar. Broil three inches from heat for five minutes. Put ½ teaspoon chili sauce in center of each peach half and top with two Vienna sausages. Broil eight to 10 minutes more. Makes six to eight servings.

Other "peachy treats" will be found on our Cookbook Page for your enjoyment.

Peach Ice Cream

½ cup water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup orange juice
2 cups water mixed with 18
tablespoons powdered skimmed milk
½ cup top milk or whipping cream
½ cup sugar
2 cups mashed, sweetened peaches

Soak the envelope of gelatin in the ½ cup of water. Fill cup of soaked gelatin with boiling water to dissolve thoroughly. Add sugar and dissolve. Add orange juice and mix mixture. Pour in freezing tray and place in freezing compartment at coldest point. When thick and frozen around edges, pour into bowl and whip until creamy. Add sweetened, mashed peaches and fold in whipped cream and freeze.

CITRUS RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Molded Citrus Dessert or Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 ½ cups fresh or canned Florida tangerine, grapefruit, orange or blended juice
2 tablespoons sugar (for salad)
4 tablespoons sugar (for dessert)
½ teaspoon salt
1 ½ cups fresh or canned Florida grapefruit sections, well drained

Soften gelatine in ½ cup citrus juice. Heat remaining 1 ½ cups juice; add gelatine, sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapefruit sections. Chill in individual molds until firm. Unmold on crisp greens, serve with salad dressing, or as dessert with whipped cream. Six servings.

A very simple and delicious recipe for Orange Sherbet was sent to us by Mrs. Caroline Cain Durkee of Daytona Beach, which we know you will want to try.

Orange Sherbet

1 ½ cups strained orange juice
1 ½ cups buttermilk
¾ cup sugar

Mix together and freeze, stirring occasionally until frozen. Makes about one quart.

Weekly Household Hint: If your phonograph records become warped and lopsided, place several between two pieces of window glass and place in the sun for an hour or two.

All Florida Cookbook

Peach Pie

4 cups of sliced peaches mixed with juice of half a lemon	2 ½ cups of flour
½ cup of sugar	½ cup shortening
½ teaspoon cinnamon	½ teaspoon salt
	1 tablespoon ice cold water

Blend shortening into flour sifted with salt with pastry blender or fork until thoroughly mixed. Add water to form a ball. Divide into two parts and roll one on floured pastry board. Fit into pie pan and trim. Place peaches into unbaked pie shell and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Dot with one tablespoon butter. Roll out balance of dough, fold in half and cut half inch slits across several times. Dampen rim of bottom pie crust and place top crust over peaches by placing one half of pie and then unfolding. Prick edges together lightly and trim. Bake in 425 degree preheated oven until crust is golden brown.

Peaches 'n' Cream Pie

1 ½ oz. package orange flavored gelatin	2 cups fresh, sweetened, sliced peaches
1 cup hot water	or 1 No. 2 can (2 ½ cups) sliced peaches, drained
½ cup cold water	1 ½ in. baked pastry shell
1 pint vanilla ice cream	Whipped cream
½ teaspoon almond extract

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Cut ice cream in six pieces, add to hot liquid. Stir till melted. Add almond extract. Chill until mixture begins to thicken and mound when spooned, 35 to 40 minutes. Fold in drained, sliced peaches. Pour into cooled, baked pastry shell. Chill. Spread top with whipped cream and garnish with sliced peaches and maraschino cherries, if desired.

Household Hint: If cream will not whip, add the white of an egg, or a little cornstarch. Canned fruits become richer in flavor if opened an hour before using.

of ideas, most of which blow away in smoke—but those that stick are solid.

One of the promotional operations Pope has helped on is the orange juice vending machines. These have been placed only in the last so far, but are going into the Midwest this year.

He worked out with John Smiley, big Florida citrus grower, a plan to put the dispensers in public places such as railway and bus stations. Last year dispensers in New York subway stations alone sold $600,000 in juice.

Pope also works with manufacturers to set up photos and stories in which the Florida scene can be promoted—in connection with the product. He gets no money for this kind of operation. He furnishes the photo and gets only a credit line.

"Florida has more sun and natural beauty than any place in the United States. We'd be crazy not to take advantage of it—and more and more business firms are taking advantage of it, too."

His film bill is $30,000 a year, and many of the pictures publicize scenes and cities other than Cypress Gardens and Winter Haven. Any phone call from him closer than Hollywood is a local one. A long distance call would have to be from, say, Africa!

In the past 20 years he and his staff have produced a thousand odd newsreel stories and hundreds of short subjects with Florida backgrounds. His newspaper clippings give proof that about 100 papers each day across the country carry a photo sent out by Pope about one place or another in Florida.

His photos have appeared on the covers of over 300 magazines in 20 years.

He has a staff of 120 at the Gardens—140 in winter—and for pretty girls you can hardly tell the difference between there and Hollywood. Pope's office has a series of push buttons at the rear of his big desk—one for orange juice, one for coffee, one for shrimp salad. There are several he either doesn't know what would bring forth—or isn't telling.

Dick, Sr., and Malcolm were responsible for the pictures of the world's first jumping boats. Malcolm won several national jumping titles and now is associated with brother Dick.

Dick's father, J. Walker Pope, was a pioneer Polk County resident and his plan of a network of roads for the county was included in State Road Department projects.

U. S. Accuses Red Chinese Of 39 Warlike Incidents

Strolling In Sanford

Qualifications deadline in the County Judges' race is noon tomorrow. At noon, only Atty. Gordon Frederick had qualified.

Dr. John W. Wilson of the Central Florida Experimental Station gave a talk on the history of entomology today at the regular session meeting of the County Club. Dr. Wilson based the major portion of his speech on the progress made in Florida in recent years in controlling insects and disease, that has increased the productivity of vegetables and citrus many times. He said that the war against people, Python are not popular.

Gunman Steals

$75,000 From Bank In North Carolina

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — A masked, gloved gunman robbed the North Rock Mount Branch of the People's Bank and Trust Co. of an estimated $75,000 today. He left thousands of dollars in his safe to get away.

Two employees were the only ones in the bank when the white man entered at about 9:45 a.m. and struck a pistol on Mrs. Petty Ferguson, a teller.

"This is a stickup, hand over the money," he said and thrust a paper bag at her.

"That's enough," she said after he had partly filled the bag.

Then he matched her and R. F. Ward, the manager, into a test room and ordered them to stay there. He could not lock the rest room from the outside.

Ward said he and Mrs. Ferguson were there for only a minute or so before he heard the tires squeal on the bandit's getaway car. Ward then gave the alarm. He did not see the getaway automobile.

The parent bank has headquarters here and Atlanta.

It was North Carolina's eighth bank robbery of the year.

The gunman wore a white handkerchief mask and was described as being approximately 6 feet 1 and weighing 180 pounds.

Police said a passerby told them about the time of the robbery he saw a 1949 or 1950 Ford speedster from the vicinity going west.

The Highway Patrol radio at Raleigh said the bank robber, or robbers, were believed to have fled west with the delegates elect her successor.

Principal candidates for president are Elco van Kleefens, Netherlands, whose supporters claim a clear majority on the first secret ballot that may be reached late Tuesday, and Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, supported this year by the United States.

Planning Anew From UN Entry To Block Reds

$500 Is Offered For Python, Pete

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Pete, a python with 1500 on its head, is still loose.

Rewards totaling $500 were posted yesterday. But there's been no trace of the 18-foot, 150-pound serpent since it slithered from the reptile exhibit at a zoo early Saturday.

Experts think Pete will receive $250. Another $250 will be given the crew which captures the snake and returns it alive. The money was offered by Star Telegram publisher Amon Carter and Amon Carter Jr.

Experts think Pete, who can swim in the nearby Trinity River or lurking in adjacent trees or bushes, probably won't attack people. Pythons are not popular.

Over 500 Poisoned By Food

NEW ULM, Tex. (AP) — Upwards of 500 persons were stricken with food poisoning after eating barbecue and potato salad at a volunteer fire department picnic yesterday. Doctors said the potato salad probably caused it.

At least 42 remained hospitalized today in five surrounding towns. None was in serious condition. The hospitals reported they treated and released about that many more.

No deaths were reported.

Five doctors from nearby communities responded to an emergency call to treat victims on picnic grounds. Many of the ill were placed in private homes after hospital beds were filled.

Dr. C. L. Shultz of nearby Columbus said:

"When I arrived people were doubled up and laid out all over the grounds. We set up behind a nearby home and started giving syrup to ease their pain and release the gas. Some seemed seriously ill, and that was about all you could do for them."

"There were at least 600 affected on the grounds, not telling how many more who had left earlier and gotten sick on the way home. We treated between 250 and 300 on the grounds. The rest went home to the hospitals."

"I gave men about 150 shots a day and was there six hours."

Shultz said probably bacteria in the potato salad, which was prepared in advance of the picnic, caused the poisoning. He said victim suffered from "terrible pain, acute vomiting and diarrhea."

"Such poisoning is seldom fatal because affected persons usually get rid of everything," he said.

Mosquito Center Contract Awarded

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Construction of the state board of health's mosquito research center — first of its kind in the nation — is scheduled to start in about 10 days in Indian River County.

The board awarded the contract for the project yesterday to St. Johns Construction Co. of Palm Beach on a low bid of $193,890. The building will be two stories of concrete block, and financed out of a $4 million dollar legislative appropriation.

John A. Mulcahy, director of the Bureau of Entomology which will operate the center, said completion is due 210 calendar days after construction begins probably next week.

The center, which will seek the most effective measures to control mosquitoes, sand flies and other pests at lowest possible cost, will be located on the north side of Oslo Dock Road near Indian River, about two miles south of Vero Beach.

In another action, the board raised the maximum daily payment to hospitals for care of indigent cancer patients from $16 to $17. Dr. Carl G. Mendosa, member from Jacksonville, explained that costs have increased because of the use of atomic energy by products in treating some types of the disease.

Mrs. Lucy A. Burch Dies At Residence

Dr. J. E. Matzinger Dies At His Home

Mrs. Lucy A. Burch, 73, died Friday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Andrews.

Mrs. Burch was born in Islip, N.Y., Feb. 9, 1881. She is survived by her husband, Robert K. Burch; four daughters, Mrs. R. L. Andrews, Sanford, Mrs. Leonard Chernier, Lakewood, N.J., Mrs. Kenneth Mayo, Pottersville, N.Y., and Mrs. Carl Clark, New York; two sons, Robert Burch, 41, of Long Island, N.Y., and Raymond, Freeport, N.Y.; 16 grandchildren, and one brother, John Howell of Santa Monica, Calif.

The remains were sent to Amity Hill cemetery for funeral and interment.

Meat Packing Heir Tossed In Jail On Narcotics Count

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — An early morning arrest put George A. Hormel II, musician and meat packing fortune heir, in jail for 10 hours in a narcotics case highlighted by an encounter between arresting officers and Hormel's friend, actress Rita Moreno.

Hormel, 26, divorced from French actress Leslie Caron, is free today on $1,500 bond on a habeas corpus writ returnable Thursday in Superior Court.

At a press conference arranged by her studio, actress Rita Moreno, who wasn't arrested, said, "when the officers said they're O'Grady and O'Connor, I thought it was a gag. But I didn't kick him. I just pushed him in the stomach and slapped his right hand."
