Sanford Farms News Items

Agent Bell of the Southern Express Co., has just broken ground for the erection of a store building with sleeping rooms in the second story for the accommodation of purchasers of Sanford Farms.

Mr. L. W. Barnes, of Tennessee, has arrived at Sanford Farms and will superintend the development of some 70 acres of land purchased by himself and associates.

Mr. Pather is having a portion of his 10 acres tilled. He grows his potatoes on it of it planted to sweet potatoes.

Mr. Draper is having his five acre tract cleared, preparatory to cultivation.

If you want to know the kind of land you should have to make a success of your vegetable growing business here write Title Bond & Guarantee Co., who are now distributing a book that is of much value to land purchasers who propose to invest their money in Florida.

Mr. Loren Vorce who has purchased fifteen acres in Sanford Farms has had five acres tilled, two and one half acres cleared but not tilled, three wells driven, the entire 15 acres fenced, all preparatory to putting the 7 1/2 acres in cultivation this winter. Mr. Vorce has just completed a large and commodious barn and has the foundation down for a fine 8-room dwelling. He will install a gas plant to make gas for lighting and cooking and will erect a tower into which the water will be forced by a ram so as to furnish the second floors of the dwelling with ample water supply. This will be one of the nicest homes and vegetable farms in the Celery Delta when Mr. Vorce has it completed.

The growers in the vicinity of Sanford Farms are preparing to put in their early fall crops. Some tomatoes have already been planted, as also have some strawberries. Many seed beds are to be seen in the vicinity and the celery acreage will be of good size.

Mr. Mason, who purchased five acres from J. W. Bell for $4,000, will occupy a residence that Mr. Bell is repairing and improving. Mr. Mason will arrive at Sanford Farms within a short time and will bring his family with him.

Quality counts. Land with quality to it such as Sanford Farms, never has to be sold at a discount. Men of quality are willing to pay for a thing of merit. Buy where you are assured that success will attend your efforts.

We have two acres tilled, ready for cultivation, flowing well and four-room cottage, close to shipping point. Rent $110 for one year. Possession given at once.

We have six acres part cleared and part tilled; good flowing well, barn, chicken yard and five-room house to rent for $15 per month. You can make good on this place.

Wise men are instructed by reason. Men of less understanding by experience and the most ignorant by necessity. The latter class are the gnat between the two millstones.

The road gangs on Sanford Farms are busy these days building bridges, making culverts, digging drain ditches and clearing out the roads, thus placing each lot on a passable road.

The improvements planned for Sanford Farms this fall will make this popular division of farms one of the most important in the Celery Delta. Title Bond & Guarantee Company are constantly in receipt of letters from purchasers setting forth that they intend to put their places in shape just as soon as they can get away from their various places of business in the north.

We have a couple of nice small farms for rent; some of the ground around each is cleared in shape for cultivation. Both places have flowing wells.

LETTER NO. 2.

The Father Gives His Son a few Points on Deduction

To Be Applied in the Purchase of Florida Land

My Dear Son:

With commiseration and personal interest I admonish you to use your own judgment in selecting your vegetable farm, other than that of the fellow who is a fresh arrival here, having landed, fully embellished with the latest design in Rubberoid Collars and

Creosoted Gall

For it is written in the book, that "To Him Who Hath, it Shall Be Given and to Him Who Hath Not, Even That Which He Hath Shall Be Taken From Him." Hence, you must be deliberate in exterminating the designs of the fellow with the Smooth Table, Two Shells, and One Tiny Pea, your function being to locate said Pea under one of the other of the shells at so much per locate, payable in advance. He is laying for you as

Hampton's Magazine for September

Shows by his notice which reads, "In 100 days it is possible for a man to pay for his land and put $1,000 in the bank on 10 acres Rutabaga farm tract." If you had the coin in advance you could chuck it into bank and save the trip and loss of time to the Rubberoid Rutabaga tract, but if you have to

Make the Gopher Dunes Yield the Thousand Simoleons

Before you chuck them into the coffers of Old Tightwad, it is reasonable to assume that you should have at least 1,000 years instead of 100 days in which to swell the holdings of the fiduciary concern.

The Grits-Eating Crackers of Florida

Have been trying to pull this stunt off for various spaces of time and from your father's acquaintance with conditions here, he knows it to be a positive fact that if a thousand dollars could be made in 100 days on ten acres, the said Grits brigade would have absorbed every acre of said land.

The Difference Between a Knock and the Truth

Is that the first is a statement circulated which cannot be sustained by truthful assertion. The second, in this instance, is the relation of a fact or series of facts setting forth the

Utter Impossibility

Of a person making a living on ten acres Rutabaga, Sand Dune, Gopher Pile, Submarine Farm. The lie becomes the truth in this instance and the truth a prevarication, if you listen to the new arrival, who knows about as much about Florida and its various possibilities as he does about sailing an Atlantic Liner.

The Gopher Hills and Sand Dunes

Are now selling for $25 an acre, discount of 10 per cent. for cash and 20 per cent. to the agent who sells the property. This makes the stuff net the dealer $17.50 an acre, or in other words the

Sucker Pays $17.50 an Acre for Five or Ten Acres of Sand

To be held as a Souvenir and not to be Used as an Utility, for it has been demonstrated that this sort of land refuses to work when you desire it to do so. When the crops should be growing it is dry as powder and when it should not have rain it is covered with water.

"Publicity is the Great Agent in Correcting Evil."

You Know It. But to knock, or tell the truth, as it were, is a sin. If King George could have dug his bony claws into the thorax of George Washington, the Father of Our Country would never have crossed the Suwanee River at Dowlings Springs in a Gasoline Launch. To England Our George was a Knocker.

It is Perfectly Right

For land agents here to tell of crop failures in the north-west, to mention the Cooked Condition of Agriculture in Oklahoma, to talk of the lack of fuel, the plentifulness of hardship and suffering in the North.

None of That is a Knock

It is well enough for the Socialists to knock the Single Taxers, Single Taxers to soak the Republicans Republicans to soak the Democrats and Democrats to soak the Socialists.

None of This Soaking is a Knock

You may be at variance with your neighbor on predestination, the Darwinian theory on the evolution of man, the nebular hypothesis, the Sargasso Sea, the eradication of White Fly and annihilation of Boll Weevil

That is a Difference of Opinion

It is O. K. to assert that "No part of Florida presents the same aspect for beauty and prosperity as does Rutabaga's farms." This is no knock to the remainder of Florida.

It is the Perfect Thing

For Huxley, Spenser and Adam Smith to differ on the theories relating to political economy and it is also correct for Karl Marx to throw the gauntlet into the faces of all nations, but

When it Comes to Telling the Truth About Rutabaga Farms

The said truth becomes a knock. Then it is, when publicity is the last thing the ADVENTURERS WANT.

The Class Who Purchase Land By Mail

Would save millions of dollars if they would properly deduce before sending GIFTS TO THE SAND MAN, and while the latter.

You Should Write to the Title Bond & Guarantee Co., at Sanford, Fla., at once for a book that company is now distributing. It tells you a few things about the land you should have if you want to make a success here. This company is one of the foremost in the South in the matter of honorable dealings and your money placed them will secure for you just what you want. I will write you next week and in the meantime hold on to your money, unless you trust your interests with the T. B. & G. Co.

Among those present were Macy and Thelma Newlan, Charlotte and Irma Smith, Lillian Shinholser, Elma Tolar, Pierce Griffin, Leonard McClucas, Tom Anderson, Deane Turner Jr., Ernest Brotherson. Various games were indulged in after which light refreshments were served, and on leaving for their homes wished Tom many more happy birthdays.

No. 12 engine of the East Coast Railway slowed up and stopped immediately in front of the drawbridge, which separates the railroad embankment from Trumbo, or Key West proper.

Anti-Saloon League Auxiliary

Monday afternoon a large number of the ladies of Sanford met in the Methodist church, and after a brief program rendered by the Stetson Quartette they proceeded to organize an auxiliary to the Anti-Saloon League.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Henry Wight; Vice Presidents from the different churches: Presbyterian, Mrs. Sharpe; Baptist, Mrs. Wildman, Congregational, Mrs. C. R. Walker; Methodist, Mrs. A. E. Phillips; Episcopal, Mrs. M. Martin; Catholic, Mrs. Mahoney; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Key.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the Stetson Quartette for their valuable assistance.

Next meeting called for Monday, Sept. 26th, in the Congregational church.

Judge Milam Dead.

Hon. J. B. Milam, for twelve years county judge of Lake county, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, died Tuesday night at the age of 72 years. The funeral occurred at Tavares on Wednesday.

Judge Milam, who was a captain in the Confederate army, had lived in Lake county the greater part of his life and no better or more patriotic Floridian ever lived. He was beloved by all, and leaves a large number of relatives to mourn his loss.

Return from New York.

W. J. Hill and J. D. Davison returned on Tuesday from New York and other points in the East. While in New York they met many former Sanford folks among them Archie Fulton who was the first assessor and one of the pioneers. Mr. Fulton showed his visitors little, old New York and they had a pleasant time. Messrs Hill and Davison report that many people are coming to Florida and many to Sanford and that everything points to a most prosperous season.

Nathan Oglesby.

Nathan Oglesby, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oglesby, died at his home near Monroe last Saturday. Nathan was a fine young man and gave great promise of a life of usefulness. He was loved and honored by all who knew him and his sudden death was a shock to the community.

Notice of Meeting

The first business meeting of the newly organized Woman's Auxiliary to the Anti-Saloon League will be held on Monday, 3 p. m., at the Congregational church. The ladies of Sanford and vicinity who sympathize with this movement are most cordially urged to be present.

Mrs. Minnie Key, Sec'y.

STETSON QUARTETTE HERE

Boys Made A Great Hit With The Large Audience.

The campaign quartette composed of Stetson students who have gained name and fame over Florida for their efforts in waging war against the open saloon were in Sanford last Monday and those who attended the concert were amply repaid. The quartette is composed of Florida boys, students of Stetson College are Doyle E. Carlton of Wauchula, H. C. Garwood of Green Cove Springs, A. Y. Milam of Jacksonville and Frank Wideman of DeLand.

In the afternoon the boys enlivened a meeting of the ladies at the Methodist church where a league was formed. In the evening at the Park band stand one of the best entertainments of the season was given, in fact the quartette is good enough for a lyceum course.

The way the boys discuss the liquor question and go after the open saloon is enough to convince the most skeptical and if the amendment is carried making Florida dry, much of the credit will certainly be due the quartette. The boys are born orators and to enliven the occasion they have some fine quartette selections and the oratorical efforts in the open air does not seem to affect their musical ability. Their rollicking glee songs took the crowd by storm and the applause was given most freely. It was a happy thought of the prohibition campaign committee to enlist the services of these bright young men who are a credit to their state and college. The Sanford people would enjoy hearing the Stetson quartette upon a future occasion and they will always receive a warm welcome in this city.

BASHAM MAY BE ALIVE

Jacksonville Papers Intimate That He Pursues Former Tactics.

According to the latest reports about Aaron Basham, the Jacksonville real estate dealer who came to Sanford and disappeared, the man might be "playing possum" and hiding out from his relatives. He drew all of his money from the bank and had upon his person about $6,000 when he left. No sane person would take a launch ride upon the lake at night in company with two strange men with that sum upon him and neither did Aaron Basham. The theory advanced now is that Basham left the same night of his arrival in Sanford and is now rusticated at some point farthru south. He left his home several years ago in the same manner and stayed away for a long period and he will probably come back to Jacksonville ere long and report a pleasant trip.

Work Started on New Church.

Work has been resumed on the new Congregational church and the excavation and concrete work for the basement has been finished. The work on the main building will begin at once and the structure will be ready some time during the winter. The work is being done by the Hammond Contracting Co.

Card of Thanks.

To those who so kindly assisted us in our late bereavement and cared for our boy during his sickness and to the pastor who was such a comfort to all of us we desire to express our thanks.

J. M. Oglesby and family.

Make Sanford Beautiful.

A loyal citizen is always a booster. The man who lives here, who claims Sanford as a home, who pays taxes or rents, who enjoys the protection of the municipal government, should be a citizen whole-souled, faithful, loyal and unflinching. The first thing for the citizens of a town to do is to make their town attractive it will impress visitors and prove an advertisement worth a great deal in itself. It is true we can tell visitors what could be done here in Sanford in the way of beautifying the parks, lake front, etc., but nearly every visitor is from "Missouri" and we must show them what can be done in this wonderful city in the land of flowers. There is a fact that marks the progress of every community worth while, and that is civic pride and public spiritedness. Making Sanford more beautiful and attractive will enhance the value of our homes. Woman, who is recognized everywhere as the helpmeet and preserver of the home, can be of further assistance to her husband by making more "beautiful" the surroundings of the cottage or mansion that is the home nest. You may have heard the story of two brothers who moved from Chicago to a pretty suburb among the hills and hollows of Illinois. They bought adjoining lots, and each built a cottage thereon. The wife of one of these gentlemen was a woman who loved flowers. Early in the spring she began to make her beds and plant her seeds; to this she added shrubbery.

The other was different, she spent her leisure time in other ways. After three years a change in business necessitated a removal to a distant town. Both places were thrown upon the market. The home that had the neat flower beds and blossoming shrubbery found a quick sale at a profit. The other home went begging, and was finally sacrificed. What did it? The woman who loved flowers. Passersby stopped and admired, and many a woman longed for a home as beautiful and attractive as this woman had made hers.

We hope every woman in Sanford will join the S. I. A. and help their husbands, fathers and brothers make Sanford beautiful. S. I. A.

Lynching at Tampa.

Outraged by attempts to assassinate J. Frank Easterling, bookkeeper for Bustillo Bros. & Diaz, and others connected with the cigar manufacturing industry, a mob of about seventy quiet but determined citizens Tuesday night lynched Castenge Ficorotta and Angelo Albano, Italians, who had been arrested on suspicion of being responsible for the shooting of Mr. Easterling.

The men were hanged to a tree near Grand Central avenue, just beyond Hyde Park, the principal residence section of the city, and on their bodies the following warning was placed: "Beware, if any more of our citizens are molested the guilty will die like this. We are watching seven more. Justice." Others will undoubtedly be lynched in case any more violence is resorted to in connection with the cigarmakers' strike.

Mrs. Jarley at Imperial

Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works will be given at the Imperial on Friday, Sept. 30th, at 8 p. m., for the benefit of the Congregational church by Sanford young people representing four groups, Mother Goose, Historical, Curiosities and Chamber of Beauty. Through the kindness and generosity of Mr. DeCotte's the usual reels will be given between the sections. Admission 25 cents; children 15 cents.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

The laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Temple at Inverness on Tuesday was one of the most interesting events in the history of Citrus county. Citrus and its county town are taking on a rapidity and solidity that commands respect and admiration. The new temple is an evidence and a type of the progress they are making.

Some interest is arising over the move on foot to create a new county out of western Marion, southern Levy and eastern Citrus. There is a considerable number of people in these sections who claim that they are not getting a fair show in the matter of road and school funds, and so they desire to form a county of their own with Dunnellon as the county seat. They have population and business enough for a good-sized county, but will doubtless have difficulty in inducing the remainder of their respective counties to let them go.

Governor Gilchrist left the state a few days ago to visit his mother and sister in South Carolina, after which time he will go on a trip of inspection with some prison authorities from various European countries examining the best known prisons of New York, Illinois and Indiana. He will then attend the meeting of the American Press Association to be held in Washington, D. C., the latter part of September.

Kissimmee citizens will build their own ice and cold storage plant.

Pensacola will build $17,000 a year for advertising purposes.

Fernandina suspects that sponges can be found in its nearby waters and some of the Greeks of Tarpon Springs have been prospecting there, without announced results thus far.

The lid has been lifted high enough at Kissimmee by Mayor Murphy to allow a man to buy cigars on Sunday. The lid was down tight only one Sunday. The citizens hope later to have ice cream, candy and soda water included. There is neither sin nor wrong in smoking and taking light refreshments on Sunday, and it follows there can be nothing wrong in serving them.

The United States department of agriculture will soon issue the report on the soil survey of the Marianna area, Florida. The report will be accompanied by a large map showing in colors the location and extent of the various soil types found in the area, and will contain a description of the area, its climate, agriculture and soils.

The September meeting of the Georgia-Florida Saw Mill Association was held in Jacksonville in the auditorium of the Hotel Seminole. The meeting was satisfactory from many viewpoints. A large number of the members were present and all expressed themselves as optimistic of the future wherein the lumber industry was concerned.

Editor McCormack claims that the Suwannee Democrat has the oldest mechanical force of any newspaper in the state, employing four men in his composing room whose combined ages aggregate 248 years. They are J. T. Dixon, editorial writer, proofreader and compositor, aged 68; George Butler, local editor and compositor, 64; L. F. Ingerfoll, mailing galley man and compositor, 61; and "the kid" of the chapel is John R. Ray, ad-man and make-up, 58.

Later reports from the sweet potato crop are more encouraging. The quality is the best, while the quantity seems to be increasing in response to inquiry and proffers of liberal cash prices. The potato may have been waiting for a good show to get in on the uplift of prices.

Report comes to The Times in a very informal and roundabout way that quail are being mercilessly slaughtered in the woods by game hogs thus far in advance of the opening of the season. It is asserted that by using automobiles the hunters can get out of reach of observation in the sparsely settled sections of the country and hunt and shoot to his heart's content. This barbarous and unfair practice should receive an immediate quietus.—Tampa Times.

Plan of Proposed Brick Roads for County.

The above cut represents a cross section of the proposed new road described in detail as follows: A, nine feet of vitrified brick. BB, 3 1/2 feet of clay or marl on each side. CC, curbing. DD, sod seven feet on each side. Most of the travel will naturally be done on the nine feet of brick. The clay will be used only in turning out in passing or meeting other vehicles. Gradually the sod on each side sloping down to the ditch or gutter will be set to Bermuda grass and become sod, which will not be damaged by running over it occasionally in an emergency. We know that our clay roads, when at their best are good enough, but they do not stand in either very wet weather or very dry weather and they will not remain good under heavy traffic conditions. Turn to meet or pass another vehicle today and it is quite probable that another vehicle will not use the same track for the same purpose in a month or six weeks, so that the clay will meet every condition imposed upon it by this method of construction.

There is no reason why, with a very small expenditure for up-keep and repairs of road so constructed, should not last indefinitely. From time to time, as the country develops, it may become necessary, on account of the increase in traffic to extend the brick. It will only be necessary in that case to remove the clay and lay and roll the brick into position. The engineering will be done with that end in view.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
I note the arrival of Prof. Perkins and several of our teachers which reminds me that in about two weeks our schools will open. A good start is a battle half won. The golden opportunity meets you at a most opportune time. You have had a rest from your labors and been refreshed by pleasant associations, and now feel ready for duty. You are impressed that life requires a fitness to get the most out of it, and your aspirations lead you in seeking for that which will mete out to you a full recompense of reward for endeavors put forth. Our schools have wisely and carefully considered you and your desires and have made special provisions to meet these demands, and cordially invite you thither. You will find here good society, pleasant associations and a most hospitable people. Come and see us, learn our school advantages and know they are not excelled by any city in the state.

Sanford is growing so rapidly that Jacksonville people come here and get lost amid the maze of street car tracks and tall buildings. I would advise them to seek a policeman at the depot for protection while they are in the "village" of Sanford.

Just as we are preparing to erect a large high school building to accommodate the young people of this city and the surrounding country, there comes a college professor with the view that soon the children of the cities will be going to the country to study instead of the opposite condition as now in vogue. Prof. George H. Tapy, head of the department of Indiana college, made this prophesy, in an address recently. He said that in the future the children of the cities will go to suburbs or to the country to school instead of country children flocking to the city as they now do. He also propesed that, in the not far distant future, all branches of school studies will be taught agriculturally; that is, they will be taught in an atmosphere of agriculture. Prof. Tapy pointed out that the country children have numerous advantages over the city children in the matter of getting the fundamentals of school room studies. He mentioned that they are physically more vigorous and stronger; that they study in an atmosphere of quiet instead of in one filled with noise and excitement; that their senses are better trained; that they are taught at home as well as at school to share more responsibilities; that they learn more things that teach them to meet the emergencies of life as they come up and that they have more time for meditation and thought and have developed in them more qualities necessary to leadership. He referred to the fact that in all of our cities a vast majority of the leaders in commercial and educational circles are country-bred men who first went to school at the little red school house on the hill. He explained that the four main qualifications for leadership are self-control; self-reliance; energy and quickness to act. These four essentials are learned more thoroughly in ground in the natures of the country boys than they are in the natures of the city boys.

Chicago is urging a protest against the extortionate rates charged by the express companies of the country. Thank heaven for this! If there were ever an arrogant, conscienceless trust, this express company aggregation of highwaymen comprises it. Enormous profits are reaped each year by the stockholders of the leading express companies of the country and rates far beyond fairness and business decency are charged. The express companies in this territory have practically doubled their rates within the past two years and there is no assurance that another raise will not be inaugurated within a short time. They have shippers at their mercy and if they do not like the robbery, all they have to do is to grin and bear it. There is no relief as things now stand. But this toleration will not continue always. The people will rise some sweet day and when they do, there will be little of the robbing express companies left.

Several weeks ago I mentioned the fact that unless our people kept their money at home we would soon cease to have any and since that time a dozen business men have discussed the matter pro and con and I understand they fully agree with me in these views. The merchants themselves are to blame for this state of affairs for they buy their stuff out of town at every opportunity. Not even the banks are exempt and a few figures compiled by me will be given later on that will astonish the natives. Either I will break up this habit or advocate that everybody buy everything needed out of town and maybe this will cause the business men to sit up and take notice.

The ladies of the S. I. A. can do good work in keeping people from defacing the sidewalks by painting signs thereon. If a merchant is desirous of advertising his business he can do so in other ways. Aside from disfiguring the side walks and making the whole city look like a bill board the paint or chalk is injurious to ladies skirts and this free hand drawing and landscape work upon the sidewalks should be abolished by popular acclaim. I would refuse to patronize a business house that stood for this method of advertising.

I like the moving picture show business when I can get a good seat and quietly enjoy the pictures. But there are times when I feel like reaching out and handing some smart guys a good rap behind the ear. There are certain boys who seem to go to public entertainments for the sole purpose of exhibiting their lack of brains and moral decency and they deport themselves to the disgust and discomfort of everyone around them. Regardless of the presence of ladies these candidates for the reform school will use indecent language and otherwise make themselves obnoxious to the decent people around them. This occurred several times in the opera house last season and if they intend to keep it up a special policeman should take them out of the room and let them cool their heels in jail all night. Some of their actions is an outrage.

A visitor to the city this week remarked to me that he had never been in a city the size of Sanford where there were so many young boys on the street all during the day and until late at night. I was surprised at this statement but he carried me down the street and made good his assertion and since then I have noted the feature myself. Now the parents of these children are to blame for this state of affairs and some of these boys have fathers who must know their boys are staying out late at night. A curfew law in Sanford would certainly work a great cure and the marshal could be instructed to keep the youngsters off the main street in the day time. The rule in the larger cities to "move on" would be a good one to enforce in Sanford.

There is some talk of cutting out the sanitary tax and adding same to the regular taxes by increasing the millage. I am not in favor of an increased millage for any purpose and to add the sanitary tax would be a hardship to the regular tax payer. The transient people who rent houses for a few months would never pay any sanitary tax and the regular tax payer who is now taxed to death would have to assume the added burden for his neighbor who did not own property and thought moving cheaper than paying rent. I think the present sanitary tax is too high but this idea of taking it off and increasing the millage to take care of the deficiency will not appeal to the tax payer and I am one of them.

License Tax Due

W. E. Martin, county tax collector wishes to call attention to the fact that the license tax became due on October first. Following is the state law regarding same: "No person shall engage in or manage the business, profession or occupation mentioned in this act unless a state license shall have been procured from the tax collector. This is clear and explicit, and there is no provision in the law authorizing any officer to grant any extension of time or modify in the slightest degree this requirement."

A FEW WORDS ABOUT OUR COLONY

There isn't a thing in this world done by anybody that hasn't its critics. Really too it's a good thing because publicity is the great agent in correcting all evil. The greatest agent in this line is the country paper because it appeals to people with a conscience. We offer this preface to a few remarks: First we have good land, we offered 10,000 acres at $25 an acre, paying railroad fares to buyers and other concessions. Why? because we've got 60,000 acres of land and we want 1,000 families to settle on our land before January 1st, 1910.

Well, then what? We have sold now, September 1st 8,550 acres of the 10,000 and we've just begun. That's pretty good isn't it, from July 5th. That means a lot of people close to Sanford who will be
People of Florida

We don't care for the fellow with the anvil and the hammer. He does no good for his own proposition or the city of Sanford. We know we are going to bring a lot of people to Sanford's vicinity; that's enough.

We want at Celery City, now listed as a station on the Florida East Coast Railway, a lot of business people. We want grocery and general store; hardware and agricultural implements, lumber yards, portable houses, tent dealers, men with teams for plowing, carpenters, small trades of all kinds. We will give a lot free for one year to anyone putting in a business place in Celery City. We need a new hotel, a big boarding house, and a lot of things that people want NOW. We offer these opportunities to Sanford first.

Don't wait until to-morrow. Opportunity comes but once. A community, brand new with money ready to pay at your doors. Branch houses for furniture, hardware, and all sorts of goods will pay. You may have to loaf a few days but you'll be there ready to sell. Write us today.

October 1st, all our propositions for concessions, low prices and special rates close in accordance with our previous statements.

Engineer's Report on Sand Dune Property He Was Sent to Investigate

By THOS. K. BATES

Ex-Senator Catchema and Klem, Confidence game, Kans.

Honorable Sir—After ruminating over the 65,000 acres owned by your company which you design to divide into five and ten acre tracts to be sold to the proletariat as starving sites, I submit for your consideration the following report:

The land lies low and level, the drainage thus being handled by evaporation. Your company will do well to begin the manufacture of Chili Tonic right on the ground in wholesale quantities as soon as you have sold one-tenth of the property.

In making the test for flowing artesian wells I penetrated a cap shield of platinum at a depth of 9 feet, which released an inexhaustible flow of Extra Dry Champagne in wholesale quantities as soon as you have sold one-tenth of the property.

The drainage being taken care of by evaporation, as just stated, will give you sufficient opportunity at the surface water, which is of a deep mahogany color, on account of the presence of a large per centum of Tannic Acid, to apply one-tenth part of one per cent of sacharine of glucose, bottle the solution in colored retorters and dispose of it as French Claret of an ancient vintage.

In testing for the nimble artesian flow which seemed very shy of our men I discovered a vein of brackish water, highly saturated with salt. This is in evidence in sufficient quantities to put the large salt mines of this country out of business if you will install a plant for its evaporation and reduction. If the supply should wane, there is nothing to prevent you from erecting a line of conduits from the Atlantic Ocean to the property, which is seven miles distant by the arrow your artist drew and fourteen miles over the same route as established by the Government survey.

If you cared to do so, your company could throw up an eight inch embankment at an expense of three cents per yard and convert the entire property into a frog producing farm, which industry could be supplemented by raising ducks and geese. This of course would do away with the plan to dispose of the tract as fasting and starvation site, to those who practice xerophagy and quadragesima.

The artesian well refused to arise as I desired it and I had a six by six foot shaft put down to a depth of seventy-two feet. At the twenty foot level we passed through a nineteen inch strata of well ripened grapefruit, which the professor of horticulture whom you sent along as consulting genius, believes will run 340 boxes to the ton. The price for this product is seldom less than $2.50 per box and oftentimes runs up to $6 per box. You can beat judge of the value of this discovery when I inform you there are millions of tons of this deposit in sight.

At the 45 foot level we passed through an eighteen inch vein which seemed to be a saturated solution of a new make of automobile, which I imagine will be the models of 1912. This vein will run at least one finished machine to the ton and their value is about $2100 each.

At the 65 foot level we discovered a deposit of Trade Dollars, which vividly brought to my mind the crime of '73. They are not of the 16 to 1 variety, but still it is plainly evident that they will run $32,000 to the ton. We put out a lateral at this point for 22 feet and penetrated a deposit of automobile tires, which will run 100 per centum pure.

A feature of more than passing importance to your company would be the manufacture of hour glasses made of sand. The quantity of pure white sand on the surface extends down for a depth of 15 inches and by proper conservation, there is little doubt but what sufficient raw material is at hand to furnish each person on earth with one of the sand hour glasses. On the present basis of one billion five hundred million population, this source of revenue would give your company $375,000,000 if you sell the glasses at two bits each.

In the north east corner of the property there is a bay head that seems to have been the dumping ground for badly used pink tea. This spot is heavily coated with muck. The said tea could be rehabilitated and there is little doubt but what society from all parts of this country would invest heavily in them. They (the tea) could be cauterized and wrenched loose from the tertiary stage and again placed in circulation with little or no danger of innoculating the communities in which they would be used, if the premises are first subjected to proper disinfection.

The swinging gardens of Babylon could be made to appear as comic valetines in comparison with the floating gardens you could establish on any part of this tract. Those who love aquatic sports could revel to their hearts content in the brackish, feld waters overlying the entire property.

If you would erect a plant comprehending a series of highly heated crucibles, the sand unused in the manufacture of hour glasses could be reduced to talcum powder, the refuse from this product being converted into a scouring compound.

Your purchasers will be able to grow at least four full crops of disappointment on each acre each season. These crops will have no monetary value, but still the experience thus gained will be of unlimited value to the growers in their guidance in future land investments in this State.

The Professor of Agriculture you sent with me coincides with my opinion, in that slayer of rich humas, eight inches deep will have to be spread over the entire tract (with the exception of the pink tea area) before it can be utilized for agricultural purposes. I may address me at Flinttown, this State, and have a similar investigation to make there for a company who believes they have received a Divine inspiration to colonize a lot of their friends and acquaintances there.

Yours very truly, Jonathan Short Change, Consulting Engineer.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR

OF A Romance Of Flying LANES

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Hobbs-Merrill Company

She obeyed. They had risen to a height of perhaps 200 feet before her inexperienced hands could change the propellers, and Carson told her to keep the height. She asked if she might not use a little higher speed, but he said no—economy in gas was in the moderate speed. "Keep her as she is," said he.

"Can you come up?" she asked. "Have you the strength?" She asked this two or three times and got no reply. Suddenly she screamed with the fear that he had fainted, and as if aroused from a stupor he asked her to advance the spark a little and when she had done so to retard it again.

"Are you in danger?" she asked. "Can you hang on?" "I'm all right," said he, "only my hands. Can you see shore? Is it far?" The shore was rising fast, she told him. It was not so very far now, but the gas was almost gone. Could she do anything? Was there nothing to be done to eke it out so as to bring them a little closer before they fell into the sea? Could he do anything if he were in the car?

"Keep her as she is," said he. "When we get close enough so she can glide in I'll lighten her."

"How lighten her?" she asked. "It's easy," said he, "from down here. Keep her as she is!"

The dunes lifted while in the sun, shimmering in the heat, swelling as the Virginia darted nearer and nearer to shore. The horror-stricken people on the beach saw her coming, like an albatross before a gale. The girl on the deck prayed fervently for the miraculous renewing of the little cruise of oil from which was made the gas that kept them up, and the man underneath hung on grimly, awaiting the cessation of stroke, which would prove that the mixture which was the breath of life of the great engines was exhausted at last. Once, twice, thrice, came the halting in the machinery that was the death rattle of the motors.

"Virginia!" said he. "Yes," she replied. "Fix the gliding mechanism. The gas is done."

"Yes, Theodore."

"Turn her nose down a little. With momentum enough she'll make it from here. And when she gets within those breakers, if she is less than twenty-five feet high, tilt her up again a little. Do you understand?"

"Yes, I'll do it. Anything more, Theodore?"

"No; only remember what you said about forgiving me if I'd let you come with me. Remember, turn her prow up a little when she nears shore. You'll make it, dear; you'll make it!"

Mrs. Graybill, standing on the shore, noted with the rest the new motion of the airship when the engines were stopped and wondered why it behaved so queerly.

And then Mrs. Graybill screamed. She had seen the man under the car deliberately let go his hold and drop into the water. The lightened car tilted slightly upward now as Virginia obeyed orders, soared slowly upward, rising a little as her momentum brought the great gliding surfaces against the air, and then, clearing the foam of the surf, she softly settled on the sand with her stern rudder, like the tail of a great dead bird, washed by the hungry waves which she had as by a miracle escaped. And rowing in from the offing where he had gone in his flailing boat in the wild and improbable belief that he might help his master came Captain Harrod with a white faced young man lying in the bottom of the boat whose fingers dripped blood from the remorseless work of the file.

"Allow me to suggest," observed Craighead as the gentlemen of the party at Harrod's camp sat in lounging attitude on various articles used as chairs, mostly jetsam and bits of the gulf, "that in perfecting the first really practicable flying machine we have set in motion social and economic reactions that will go on and on far beyond the ken of those who, unlike myself, have not made a specialty of them. As that submarine dragged the Virginia out to sea yesterday we all thought it was the last of Carson, M. A., didn't we?"

Mr. Carson picked at his bandaged fingers, embarrassed.

"I didn't see much hope of escape," said he. Breakfast was served. Mr. Waddy was upon tenterhooks until the Virginia had been explained to him, so a trip was arranged for Waddy, Craighead and Carson. They would fly down to Fort Morgan, thence to Palmetto Beach, get their mail and be back for dinner.

Mr. Waddy shied from the sea, but once in air he became intoxicated with enthusiasm. If this machine, said he, was so good that the Aerostatic Power people thought it good business to hire Winer to drown it and its inventor—he could not otherwise explain the horrible affair of yesterday—it was good enough to be backed with all the Waddy money in all the eight banks.

"The Virginia had alighted on the parade ground at Fort Morgan. The bamboo-braces fell outward, and she lay on an even keel. The aeronauts invariably halted at the mooring balloon and received passes, but Mr. Waddy's declaration of fealty was so absorbing and the speed of the Virginia so untoward to her pilot that the fort had been spread beneath him like a map before he was aware of it. To alight might mean arrest, inquiry and discharge after explanations to the commandant, Colonel Krimnitz, of whose severity Carson felt no real fear. But if he tried to go away after running the guard he might be fired on as a spy making off with complete photographs. Altogether it was safest to alight, thought Carson, and he settled on the parade ground, greatly to the agitation of an awkward squad drilling under a sergeant, whose belloyed commands were cut short off by the whirl of the reversal of the Virginia's wing blades. He turned and saw the huge dragon fly with its bow rudder pointed at him like a great mandible.

The drill sergeant's expression carried conviction to the sergeant of the guard, where his description of a devil of a bird thing that you couldn't see at all till it struck the ground might not have been credited. The guard turned out and moved on the parade ground. The guard encountered a great silver winged insect with a snug car amidships, her four braces sticking in the Bermuda grass like very short legs.

The drill sergeant's expression carried conviction to the sergeant of the guard, where his description of a devil of a bird thing that you couldn't see at all till it struck the ground might not have been credited. The guard turned out and moved on the parade ground. The guard encountered a great silver winged insect with a snug car amidships, her four braces sticking in the Bermuda grass like very short legs.

The guard halted at five paces, and the sergeant advanced, obtaining his first good look at Mr. Craighead, maintaining the attitude of military caricature with a steadiness perfectly statuesque. The sergeant, a little man with a red mustache turned up, a la Kaiser, looked at him for half a minute and uttered a mysterious exclamation.

Craighead remained motionless, his hand to his cap. The sergeant amazingly returned the salute. Craighead relaxed his tense muscles, dropped his hand to his side and winked with the utmost sobriety of expression.

"Podner," said he, "have yeh got any eatin' tobacco?"

"I'll trouble you gentlemen for your passes," returned the sergeant.

"Unfortunately," replied Mr. Craighead, "we omitted to obtain passes. Say no more, Mr. Sergeant. We are all soldiers. This is Genie Theodore Cabson, M. A., and this Mr. Waddy, who served in his youth in the typhoid uprising at Chickamauga in the Spanish-American war. Show your button, Mr. Waddy, as an S. A. W. V. You see, sergeant, that you are quite safe against our capturing Fort Morgan."

"Here's Captain Bolger now. Tell him about it."

"Captain Bolger was a choleric gentleman with whiskers like General Sherman's, much thinned by the increase in the area of the face since the establishment of the foliage. He advanced rapidly, with a bippey-hopping gait, as if catching step with an imaginary companion very careless of the march.

"What's this, sergeant?" he sputtered. "This is quite irregular, sergeant—irregular. The parade ground! A d—d thing with wings and V type engines! And no passes? Some one will sweat for this. Highly irregular!"

"Pardon me," said Theodore. "My name is Carson. I miscalculated my speed. I know Colonel Krimnitz, and if—"

"Colonel Krimnitz, sir," said Captain Bolger, "is temporarily on leave. I am the officer of the day, sir. You will produce a pass for your confounded aeronaut or I shall order you!"

"I feel sure," said Mr. Carson, "that Colonel Krimnitz—"

"Colonel Krimnitz be hanged!" retorted Captain Bolger. "You can't come the Krimnitz game, sir, while he is on leave. Sergeant!"

"Captain!" said the sergeant, saluting.

"See what that thing is in the fellow's hand," pointing to Mr. Waddy's camera. "Take it, and if it's a bomb explode it at sea. If it's a camera turn it over to me instantly and confine [CONFUSION]"

ECHOES FROM EDEN.

Whatever troubles Adam had,
No man could make him sore,
By saying when he told a jest,
"I've heard that joke before."
—Success Magazine.

Whatever troubles Adam missed,
This must have made him sore
When he and Mother Eve fell out
He couldn't slam the door.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Whatever troubles Adam bore,
He never had to grieve
Because a woman lived next door
Who coaxed the cook from Eve.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Whatever troubles Adam had,
He was a lucky man,
He was not nightly told to dump
The ice-box water pan.
—Detroit Free Press.

Whatever trouble Adam had,
(We hope this thing will rhyme),
He never wept over punk like this
In the good old summertime.
—New York Tribune.

Whatever troubles Adam had,
The old man got off light,
Eve never told him dinner-time
That maw'd be here tonight.
—Savannah News.

Whatever troubles Adam had,
There's one he missed, I'll own,
Eve never took a summer
—Tampa Tribune.

Whatever trouble Adam had,
And he had some, I guess,
He never had to foot the bill
For Eve's new summer dress.
—Kissimmee Gazette.

Whatever troubles Adam had
Were none that really hurt,
Like the modern Eve could tell him
She'd bought a hobble skirt.

Bryan refuses to support an old Nebraska friend for Governor because of the whiskey plank in the platform. Mr. Bryan stands for local option.

A headline in the Tampa Times announces that the Pathfinding car is "Blazing Its Way Southward." The Times evidently meant "Smoking Its Way Southward."

The Herald will not be up to standard for a few weeks for the office is on the move and will not settle down to a steady grind before October first. Our friends and enemies will please overlook any deficiencies during this period. We can promise them that never again shall we move.

W. D. Bell has taken editorial charge of the Arcadia Champion. Mr. Bell was formerly editor of the Sanford Chronicle as his salutatory rings like the same Bell. The Herald extends a greeting to the new editor of the Champion and if it is the same Bell that formerly rang in Sanford we hope he will have success in ringing for Arcadia.

The society and local department of The Herald will hereafter be in charge of Mrs. J. C. McDaniel. The public can confer a great favor upon the society editor and the paper by using the phone and keeping them informed of current events. Mrs. McDaniel is a well known writer and will be a most valuable addition to The Herald staff.

A visit to The Herald office this week that was certainly a great pleasure was that of Bro. Hetherington, editor of the Lakeland News who is one of the most brilliant and virile writers in the south. Bro. Hetherington, "didn't know where he was going but he was on his way" to get a few days vacation from the ceaseless grind of getting out the best weekly in Florida.

The Herald added ten new subscriptions to the large list this week. On October first this paper will inaugurate a piano contest which promises to keep the young ladies on the qui vive until the holidays. One of the young ladies will get a fine piano, one a diamond ring and other prizes for Christmas presents. Watch The Herald for future announcements. We intend to have 4,000 subscribers by January 1st, 1911.

On two separate occasions lately the Jacksonville Metropolis has referred to Sanford as a village. When Bob Holly of the Sanford Herald goes to Jacksonville again the police had better meet him at the train and take his gun off of him. He will never stand for this "village of Sanford" business. It's too much.—Starke Telegraph.

Especially in connection with a Jacksonville man who comes to a large city and gets lost—with 6000 simoleons on him at that. The next jay from Jacksonville will be placed under police protection at once. The skyscrapers and street cars of this "village" are too much for them.

There are a few papers in this state that are constantly howling about fake land schemes. We have yet to hear a man who has purchased land in this section say he regretted the act. There may be some fake land schemes working in other portions of Florida, but a man who buys dirt in this section gets his money's worth every time.—Kissimmee Gazette.

The brick was thrown into the crowd and there is really no need for you to dodge. Kissimmee lands have never been mentioned in fake land class.

A glance at the drawing of the proposed brick roads on the first page of The Herald will convince any one of the feasibility of the nine foot road flanked by clay and Bermuda grass sod. The county commissioners have no wish to build a road that would not accommodate the traffic and at any time the road should prove too narrow an extension could be made. The nine foot road built according to the outline ought to accommodate the traffic under ordinary conditions. Vehicles can pass on this road at all times with perfect ease and safety.

THE STRAWBERRY.

Late developments in the cultivation of the strawberry up in the frigid north are interesting in a cursory way to the growers of the luscious fruit in this section. It is claimed they have discovered that by keeping the blooms clipped off all through the ordinary bearing season the plants will remain vigorous and growing and will put forth a fine crop in the latter part of August and during September and so on till frost kills the entire plant. If true, the story is interesting, but unimportant. By no possibility can the denizens of the northern region make their strawberry patches put forth bloom and fruit in January and the following months as is the pleasant and profitable custom of the strawberry in Florida.

So our berry growers will persist in the happy habit of supplying the first berries of the season, beginning about the Christmas holidays and continuing until the crop of Missouri, Maryland and Virginia comes in. By that time the cream of the market will be skimmed, and we are not deeply concerned in the matter after the idea of September. A big luscious Florida strawberry in December is worth a pint of the belated freaks that may be produced in New Jersey and New York along in the fall after the devouring public has been satisfied with apples, plums and peaches and filled up with grapes. Everything in nature works for good to them that live in Florida, and everything outside of nature is too expensive to be profitable.

All of which means that the Sanford growers will realize handsome returns from their berries this season. The sub-irrigation and protection offered the Sanford berry should make it the first in the market and the best of the kind. Sanford strawberries are destined to become as famous as Sanford celery.

Rose, proprietor of the Bye Lo Hotel, and took in the sights of our city. Like all others who have not been here for some time, he was amazed at the growth and general prosperity of our section and will go home speaking a good word for us.

It is now almost time for the fall cleaning up to begin. We are watching with much interest and possibly some anxiety to see the city fathers making preparations to harvest our more than luxuriant crop of grass and weeds on all our streets and vacant lots. If we really want our town to be attractive to visitors and home-seekers we must leave no effort untaken, but put away unashamedly rubbish, clean up, make everything shipshape, neat and beautiful. Give our beautiful little city a chance to feel real proud of herself.

STREET CAR TO YOUR DOOR

Sanford & Everglades Railroad runs street cars through the Thermal Belt of the Sanford Celery Delta. From the car windows are seen the famous sub-irrigated celery and lettuce farms that have made "Lucky Sanford," world famous, and leaves unchallenged the ideal that larger yields have been made here in crops and dollars than any other place on earth. What more can be desired to make this the claim place for a Home and Farm? Frequent street car service is constantly maintained. Side tracks for loading are placed every half mile or less, so that vegetables are loaded in refrigerator cars without delays or exposure to sun and wind. The nominal freight to Sanford being less than cost of hauling from many other farms. Rural Free Delivery of Mails. Numerous homes are occupied by good families and are in hailing distances, Churches are being built, several stores are in operation between Sanford and Cameron City.

The Railroad is graded from Cameron City to Palm Villa, in Palm Hammock. Town Lots and Celery Farms will be sold at reasonable prices and on reasonable terms, with a guarantee that street cars will be operated by October 1st. Palm Hammock has been drained by the owners, and avenues already completed. No tax or charge to purchasers. Each ten-acre farm fronts an avenue. These lands should sell for double our price by January st. Address or call on

BRICK ROADS ARE BEST

Experiments in Other States Demonstrate Quality of Brick

If the people vote the bond issue, this simply gives the county commissioners power to issue the bonds and sell them as money is wanted to build the roads. A bond would not be worth any more than blank paper until signed and sold and delivered. The commissioners would not sign and sell bonds unless as they needed money to pay expenses as incurred. If any calamity like a freeze should come, the bonds not issued and sold could be held and not sold, the county would only have to pay for bonds sold. Some people seem to think the entire million dollar issue would be sold at once and all the money be on hand drawing interest. This is error. Cuyahoga county, Ohio, has issued for 1909 the report of its county commissioners on building roads. The commissioners of that county say, "We built roads of stone and tar. They were not satisfactory. They tried macadamized roads on clay foundation six inch layer of two and one-half inch of stone, and upon that a four-inch layer of small stones, and upon this stone screenings to fill in. Each layer was rolled. These roads failed and proved not satisfactory. Over thirteen years ago we began to experiment with vitrified brick. We built the roads eight feet wide. The vitrified brick made now is the best road material and we are now building one hundred and sixty-five miles of brick roads. This is the best pavement for roads." The Cuyahoga county commissioners report further states: "We first paved the main thoroughfares and then lateral roads, thus traversing the county. The less the cost of hauling the less cost of living. The better the roads and bridges of a county the less the cost of hauling. Real estate values increase rapidly where roads were built. The farm and garden products became worth more when they could be taken to market easily. New houses sprung up along these roads as soon as these roads were built. This new value added to tax valuations of our county. It is shown that taxes paid by the values added by the new improvements were more than pay the increase of taxation." Thus it worked in Ohio. It did so in Texas and other sections. It will bring same results to Orange county.—Reporter-Star.

Notice to Land Buyers.

Having made arrangements to handle the famous Smith lands on the West side I can now offer you the best bargain in celery lands ever put upon the market. These lands are especially adapted to lettuce, celery and early vegetables, and flowing wells are guaranteed upon every part of them. Situated between one mile to two miles from the city of Sanford and close to the loading station these lands can now be purchased upon easy terms—terms that will enable the man of moderate means to locate at once and make the land pay for itself. This is positively the best chance the public has had to purchase real celery land at a nominal figure and upon easy terms. Let me show the land to you or I will make a choice for out of town purchasers subject to their later approval. Ask any bank or business house for references.

Efficient Staff of Reporters Weekly Covers the Territory for The Herald

PAOLA POINTS

Special Correspondence to The Herald: The summer wanderers should all be coming home to enjoy our ideal autumn weather, cool sunny days and the harvest moon nights. Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McGuin have returned from their summer vacation in N. C. and Georgia. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Buchanan are also again at their home here after a pleasant summer in their cottage at Daytona Beach. Mrs. L. P. Hagan and children of Meridian, are making a short visit in Deland and Daytona. Mrs. Clarke and children from the east coast, spent Sunday in Paola the guests of her brother Mr. O. R. Morey. Mr. C. C. Pearson is making a short visit to his home here. Mr. Geo. Smith killed a large rattlesnake near the yard gate of his home lately, measuring six feet and having eleven rattles. Wanted by the young men of the neighborhood—a few more young ladies.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald: Miss Irene Peters returned to Daytona Beach last Saturday, where she will resume her studies in the high school of that place. Miss Bray of Winter Garden arrived in Geneva Friday last, and will make this her home during the school term. Mrs. C. N. Hays visited Orlando last Tuesday, going over to consult an oculist. Mrs. Weason of Orlando has recently visited her sister Mrs. George Gelger. There was a call meeting of the M. M. S. society at the home of Mrs. Geo. Peters last. The proposition of needed improvements upon the city hall was fully discussed and a committee consisting of Messrs. Wicks, Mathews and Taylor was appointed to decide upon what should be done. One new member, Mrs. Etheredge, was added to our roll. Mr. and Mrs. Davis entertained the Epworth League last Thursday night at their comfortable cottage. Several unique games were played, music and conversation were enjoyed, at a late hour very palatable refreshments were handed the guests and all pronounced it one of the most pleasant socials. The Geneva school was opened last Monday with Rev. Saunders as principal, and Miss Bray as assistant. Certainly with these two excellent teachers the school should have a most flourishing session. Herman Daniel and sister, Miss Marie, left Wednesday last for Southerland college where they will remain for some time. Leo Rbeinder, Carol Culpepper and Milton Brown, who are working on the new railroad, visited the home folks last Sunday. The continued services at the Methodist church will begin Wednesday night of this week. Rev. McCall, former pastor here, will assist the present pastor Rev. Brook. Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy the services both night and day. Mr. Simmonis from the east coast has been on a visit to his daughter Mrs. Gelger. S. P. Smith has moved back to his home in Geneva. J. P. Taylor has begun work on his new residence to be erected near his present home. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McLain came near having a fatal fall last Wednesday. The child was on the stair way landing several feet up and fell to the floor below, striking her head first. Medical aid was summoned and every attention given her. At present she is improving.

ENTERPRISE ETCHINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gordon and three children, accompanied by Mrs. Reed, mother of Mrs. Gordon, arrived last week and will make Enterprise their home. Miss Fannie Tucker reached home last week from California, after visiting her two sisters there. The public school opened Monday morning with forty scholars enrolled. John Smith of Jacksonville and his son-in-law, J. H. Teal, have recently moved on Mr. Teal's homestead, named the Buckeye Lake Farm. They will go the poultry business.

DEATH OF MR. GEO. SAULS

Mr. Geo. Sauls died in Enterprise at 9:30 Wednesday night of last week. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Haynes of Livingston College at Enterprise, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Osteen cemetery, where the burial service was read by Hon. O. T. Patillo.

Mr. Sauls was eighty-nine years of age. He was born in Duval county, served in the Seminole war, and with the late Mr. Minshew and others moved to Volusia county in its early history.

He was the father of ten children, eight of whom survive him, viz: John Sauls of Enterprise, Mrs. R. D. Brook of Osteen, Mrs. James Gimes of Oak Hill, Mrs. S. S. Davis of Enterprise, Mrs. J. B. Screven of Miami, Mrs. Ellen Carlisle of Deland, Mrs. H. H. Bond of Enterprise and Mrs. R. C. Bushnell of Deland. He has leaves sixteen grand children and eighteen grand children. His wife died in 1903.

Mr. Sauls was a non-combatant in the war between the states, but he was suspected by Union soldiers with being a Confederate sympathizer and was captured by them with his horse and 150 head of cattle and taken to St. Augustine. He was held in St. Augustine some time, after which he was released and given his horse and sent home. The cattle were eaten.

Mr. Sauls was a Baptist. He was the first person in Florida to donate $5,000 to Stetson University after that institution was placed under the control of the Baptist convention and his example encouraged many more to assist in the work. He led a peaceful and law-abiding life, whose influence was felt among all who knew him.

Address to the People of Florida.

On November 8th, the people of Florida must determine by their ballots whether they will preserve the right of local self government, or destroy it by incorporating state wide prohibition in the Constitution of Florida. On the election day, therefore, every voter in Florida becomes in effect a member of a great Constitutional Convention, which possesses and exercises powers that are broader than those of the Legislature. Power implies responsibility; and no voter who exercises this vast power to alter the fundamental law of our state should act without a clear appreciation of the result of his decision. The proposed amendment seeks to abolish the system of Local Option which, for more than a generation, has protected the liberties of the people of this State, without interfering with the right of a majority of the voters of each County to prohibit the sale of liquors. This just and equitable solution of the liquor question has worked well in this and other states. It better preserves the rights of individuals and communities than any other known system. It secures laws which are backed by public opinion. It has proved to be efficient because under this system no community has unwelcome laws forced upon it by strangers. Are the people of Florida willing to exchange the fair and reasonable plan of Local Option for the drastic, rigid and unchangeable system of state wide prohibition? Not merely this. Are they willing to write state prohibition in their Constitution, where it is practically beyond the reach of change if hereafter found unwise and undesirable? We ask you not only to vote against the amendment, but to use your active influence in accomplishing its defeat, for the following reasons:

1st. It is an EXPERIMENT in Florida, SUPPOSED to be wise here, although a failure in all states where tried. You cannot afford to embody in your CONSTITUTION a measure which you may after trial, desire to change or modify. 2nd. The Constitution is a lasting, iron clad limitation on the power of the Legislature. The people should not hold out their hands to be shackled by a Constitutional amendment they cannot remove, and which even those who fasten and bind you, cannot take off. 3rd. It is unwise to absolutely prohibit by perpetual Constitutional provisions, the manufacture or sale of anything. No one knows when the time may come when such a course would be regretted and even disastrous. 4th. The Constitution already provides for local option, whereby the people of each county are given the right to prohibit or license the manufacture or sale of liquor as they may best beat from time to time. This system permits a full and adequate expression of popular opinion on the subject. 5th. State wide prohibition by Constitutional amendment violates the principles of a free government. 6th. Local Option has proved a success; it would be disastrous to displace it by a system which is offensive to the people of many of our counties, and which cannot result otherwise than a failure. We appeal to the people of Florida by their votes to strike down this attempt to deprive them of the right of local self government.

We ask you to go to the polls on election day and record your disapproval of this agitation. The issue is in your hands. D. J. HERRIN, Secretary. H. W. LONG, Chairman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mettinger.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Mettinger who died at her home, 105 Midvale Ave., on Friday evening of last week, took place Tuesday afternoon, the obsequies being largely attended, among the throng being many representatives of the oldest families of this vicinity.

Deceased, who was the wife of Adam Mettinger, one of our oldest business men, was born at Belfast, Ireland, 78 years ago, coming to this country with her parents, when but a mere child.

She had been a resident of the Falls for nearly sixty-five years. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Ferguson, her father being Francis Ferguson, a local preacher, who was among the active workers in the establishing of the Falls Methodist Church in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Mettinger celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding but last May, they having been married in May, 1860. She was the last surviving of her immediate family and is survived in addition to her husband, by an only son, John K. Mettinger, who is a prominent merchant of Sanford, Florida.—Philadelphia Forecast.

TIDE TURNING SOUTHWARD

Florida Offers More Than Any Other State in the Union.

The following letter to the Southern Cultivator from H. H. Deane gives a good description of the rapid strides of the South and especially Florida:

Were Horace Greely alive he would not say "go West young man," but "go South."

Never before in the history of our nation has the South gone forward with such rapid strides in agricultural and industrial development as now. Each Southern State has advantages pre-eminently advantageous to some special industry. Textile, coal, iron, phosphate, lumber, turpentine and others. Capital has been quick to enter these promising fields, and the South is rapidly forging to the front as a great manufacturing center.

Agriculturally the South has no competitor. When the chill winds of the North-East and West begin to blow, and the frosts are nipping vegetation, the South with a yawn arouses from her midsummer siesta, gets busy and sends to her shivering neighbors from her bounteous groves, fields and gardens, all the various luscious fruits and tender vegetables for which that favored section is famed.

With no disparagement to any other section of the South, it may be truly said that Florida is in the lead in agricultural development. During the last year many hundreds of thousands of acres have been sold to individuals and syndicates, in tracts varying for 5,000 to 100,000 acres each, these tracts are at once platted into small farms of ten to forty acres each and offered for sale to settlers at a reasonable price, on very liberal terms.

Occasionally a careless purchaser is "bit," but there is no excuse for this, as the truth may be learned by writing to a newspaper editor, county official, or reliable real estate agent living near the land regarding which information is desired. Most of the companies exploiting these tracts are honest, and desire actual settlers, satisfied settlers, for each of these is an advertisement, a loadstone, drawing the attention of their friends to that special locality, acquainting them with its advantages and eventually recruiting from their ranks many settlers.

Our whole State is on the move. The "Good Roads" question is occupying the thought and receiving attention at the hands of individuals and counties.

Duval county has just voted one million dollars of bonds for this purpose. Jacksonville now has a hard road to the ocean beach, eighteen miles distant, about sixteen miles of which is laid with vitrified brick. Her enterprising citizens are enthusiastically working for a hard road from their city to Atlanta, this project is enthusiastically received by Georgia counties all along the proposed route.

The lower East Coast has one hundred or more miles of hard surfaced road—an unbroken strip—while on the coast farther north are many shorter strips of varied lengths. Jacksonville and St. Augustine will soon be connected with a good, hard road, and it is only a matter of a short time until the road will be surfaced on through to Miami, nearly 400 miles south. Orange county will submit at an early date to a vote of her citizens the question of issuing one million in bonds for the building of brick roads. The county commissioners submitted figures showing that the present annual expenditure for repairs of the system of dirt roads now in use, is $1,000,000 to pay the interest on the total proposed million dollar bond issue.

The East Coast Canal Company has completed the opening of this canal into the St. Johns river. This now gives an open inside waterway from Jacksonville to Key West, something over 500 miles. The advantages of this long waterway for pleasure and commerce are many and varied. What more entrancing than a leisurely trip along its placid waters in mid-winter, with the luscious fruits along the banks of the Indian river, the waters teeming with glistening fish, on down to the home of the stately palm, the royal carriet of the gorgeous Ponciana, the clinging fragrant yellow Jessamine, the towering cluster laden coconut, where flowers ever bloom, the busy bee is eternally busy, where the bumble bee ever bumbles, where the very air is heavy with the fragrance of countless blossoms of fruit and flower.

A few years hence, we are assured on good authority, we will see an open water way across the northern part of Florida, navigable for large vessels. This waterway connecting the Pacific and Atlantic, will be of incalculable benefit to our nation.

Mr. H. M. Flagler is pushing to completion the lower terminus of the Florida East Coast Railroad, on the Key West. When completed this will be a marvel of engineering skill, and dauntless courage, built as it will be, over many miles of water.

500 ACRES OF CELERY LAND 500

WOULD YOU?

If you wanted to invest your money in Florida land where by intensive farming you can make more money in one season than in the north in five—what kind of land would you choose? The land that cannot be irrigated and cannot be depended upon to grow vegetables for profit or the famous Sanford lands that have startled the world by their wonderful sub-irrigation method and productive qualities. And in buying Sanford land would you buy land six or seven miles from a railroad or would you prefer a farm within a mile of Sanford and near the loading station between two railroads? The very choicest location in the whole Celery Delta is the 500 acres recently placed in my hands to sell.

WILL YOU?

Let me show you over this land and pick you a tract at a reasonable price that can guarantee you a large profit on the investment? If you fail to see this land you miss the best thing in Sanford Celery Land.

CHULLUOTA SNAPSHOTS

To the Editor of The Herald:
 Rev. T. J. Bell filled his regular appointment with the Baptist church here Saturday and Sunday. There were two new members added. The baptizing will occur on the third Sunday in October at 9 a. m.

The pillau given by the young folk Wednesday was greatly enjoyed.

It is reported that the Messrs Brassel have purchased a home here.

Mr. Frank Simmons, who has been visiting relatives here, returned to his home at Pompano last week.

Messrs Billy and George Jacobs made a business trip to Orlando and Sanford last week.

Mrs. Lusadder, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Billie Jacobs, returned to her home in Orlando last Friday.

Miss Ethel Barber of Orlando, is spending a while with Mrs. Hattie Jacobs.

Mrs. C. M. Sutton, who has been suffering for some time with rheumatism, is getting along as well as can be expected.

I. L. Hodger lost a very valuable horse last week.

Messrs Kilbee and Peters bought a bunch of fine razor backs a few days ago.

Thomas Hodges of Cocoa, and Billy Jacobs and David Self of this place, leave in a few days for a two weeks cow hunt on the upper St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and children and Mrs. McKenzie's sister, Miss McClenahan, are spending their vacation at Daytona Beach.

E. L. Brown, county commissioner-elect who has been visiting his daughter at Ft. Dunn, returned to his home last week.

D. B. Wesson and Miss Mollie Story, visited her relatives at Geneva last Sunday.

Web Hart of Conway, attended church here Sunday.

Alva and Will Tanner expect to leave in a few days for the east coast where they will engage in truck farming.

Sad Death of E. P. Peabody.

Intelligence was received here on Monday afternoon of an accident which befell E. P. Peabody and family at Waycross, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Peabody were driving a spirited horse when he became frightened and ran away throwing out Mrs. Peabody and breaking one of her ribs, while Mr. Peabody was kicked in the stomach during the attempt of the horse to free himself from the buggy from the effect of which he died on Wednesday morning. The children were uninjured. Mr. Peabody was well known in Sanford where his boyhood days were spent and where he has a host of friends. He left here several years ago to accept a position with the former Plant System at Waycross, but during the last year had been in the insurance business. Mrs. Peabody, Don and Clifford attended the funeral. The family has the sympathy of their many Florida friends in their hour of bereavement.

Drowned at St. Cloud

The body of Mrs. Wright was discovered in about two feet of water Tuesday morning in East Lake Tohopekaliga, St. Cloud, by some boys who were playing along the edge of the lake. The supposition is that both Mr. and Mrs. Wright were drowned while in bathing, as the skirt of the woman was found on the banks of the lake beside the shoes and socks of her husband, no other wearing apparel belonging to the man being found. There were no marks of any character denoting foul play. After the coroner's inquest searchers began dragging the lake for the body of the man. It is not known how they were drowned as the lake is shallow for some distance out, and unless they went some distance from the shore the water would not be over a person's head while standing erect.

Free Grape Vine Offer

For the information of all concerned in the premiums of grape vines with each new subscription to The Sanford Herald I wish to state that the agreement with me by the management is not for mere cuttings or for small mail order plants, but for heavy two year old plants, heavily rooted, grown by experts in grape culture who have spent practically their whole lives in cultivation of the grape. The same size and kind of vines that did so well for me and fruited heavily within eighteen months from planting. No one will regret planting these vines.

Volusia Farms in Volusia County, Florida, Just Across the River from Famous Sanford

You Must First Pass
Through Volusia Farms
On Your Way to Everywhere, if You Cross
the River at Sanford

Many people have asked us why we are selling lands in Volusia County at the same time we are selling lands in Sanford's Celery Delta.

Volusia Farms are Sold
On the Most Liberal
Contract Backed by One of the Most Reliable
Incorporated Companies

This Issue of the Sub-Irrigator Contains our Answer. The Widely Diversified Opportunities of Volusia Farms Make These Lands Exceedingly Desirable to those who do not want to Farm by the Intense Sanford Method and those who cannot Meet the High Values of Sanford Lands, yet who want to Come to Florida.

WE are probably the oldest regular advertisers of Florida Farm Lands in the State. We advertised before the present interest in Florida. Our advertising and our methods brought us in touch with thousands of people who expressed a desire to come to Florida. Some of these people came to Florida, bought land from us and are doing well. We have others on our list with whom we are keeping in touch by correspondence. A percentage of these people will eventually come to Florida if they can buy the lands they are looking for.

IF they can afford our Eureka Hammock or Black Hammock they will settle within the Celery Delta proper. If not, they will settle on cheaper lands if they know these lands have been selected and are handled by the Howard-Packard Land Company—the Company they remember before, and the Company that will be here after the ebb of the tide of mere land syndicators.

IN a nutshell, then, the Howard-Packard Land Company, Inc., realizing the futility of attempting to meet all its numerous calls for small farms at low prices in the Sanford district proper, decided to throw open its valuable agricultural Volusia Farms for colonization on the same conservative plan that has characterized the Company's operations in and around Sanford.

VOLUSIA Farms was first offered in small tracts April 1, 1910.

VOLUSIA FARMS

Comprises 17,000 acres located just across the St. John's River, east from Sanford, the main highway through the Volusia Farms being a direct continuation of Sanford's famous Celery Avenue.

This immense fertile tract is now in the same unimproved condition, though not so heavily timbered, as many of the trim, profit-yielding farms at Sanford were as late as eighteen months ago. Volusia Farms is within four miles of the Sanford Delta—shouldn't history repeat herself as the development of Volusia Farms proceeds?

SOIL

The surface of nearly the entire tract is covered for several inches with a dark vegetable mold, beneath which is a gray sandy loam with a substratum of sub-soil just hard enough to hold moisture and retain all the soil elements. It is in this identical class of soil that fruit and truck growing and stock raising has proven most successful.

Read the statistics of Volusia's Products from land now cultivated, in the next column, and you will see that fruits come first in present area cultivated. Peaches, oranges, grapefruit, pears, grapes. What has been done elsewhere in Volusia County can be done on Volusia Farms in any line about which we reprint statistics of values.

Figure out the truck earning possibilities of these lands. Egg Plant over $1 a crate, English Peas, over $1.50 a crate, Cabbage over $1 a crate, Sweet Potatoes over 50c a bushel, Tomatoes nearly $1, and so on. These are figures that cannot be questioned for accuracy. Ten to forty acres of Volusia Farms can be cultivated and harvested by one man and his family, and the net profit will surpass that secured from three times the acreage in the North.

Some of the land in Volusia Farms is better adapted to the culture of oranges and all kinds of fruits, or to pecans, while other tracts are better adapted to the growing of vegetables and similar crops. It will aid us in selecting your tract if you will give us an idea of the kind of crop you prefer to grow. We want to please you and we guarantee that we will please you in the selection we make if we know before hand what you intend to do with the land.

Of course, we prefer that you see what you are buying. Whenever possible we want you to see Volusia Farms before buying. Volusia Farms improves the longer you know it, at the same time; we have never advocated the buying of any of our lands sight unseen.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF PURCHASE

Five acres and up—$25 per acre, $5 per acre cash with application, $1 per acre per month for the balance without interest or taxes during payment period. On receipt of first payment of $5 per acre, we will give you a Contract for Deed. On completion of all payments, this contract will be exchanged for a Warranty Deed which will convey the tract to you free of all encumbrance.

We could not draw up a better contract. We believe it the most liberal of all land contracts in Florida. It contains a clause whereby we agree to give you your money back if you are not satisfied one year after completing payments. We also make you a present of 5 per cent interest in addition. If you fall sick we have liberal time extension clause. If you die with payments still due, we give the land to your heirs without a single further payment. We give you liberal discount for cash on the balance of your payments at any time you wish to pay.

You can have a copy of this contract by writing for a copy of our booklet "Resources of Volusia Farms"—it's on page 23, and the book is free. Tells you all about Volusia Farms and the absolute reliability of ourselves. Address your envelope:

Sanford Library

Mr. J. E. Pace has recently given to the library a set of books that merit a public acknowledgment. It is a work edited by A. H. Keane, B. A., entitled "The Earth and Its Inhabitants." There are eighteen volumes, profusely illustrated, and full of interesting information that will make them of especial value as books of reference. Pupils of the public schools are urged to take notice and make use of them as they desire.

Once before the library profited by Mr. Pace's generosity. "Life and Writings of Thomas Jefferson," and "Nones on Virginia" (twenty volumes in all), were his gift.

Another work that may prove interesting to many readers is "Memoirs of Florida" by Francis P. Fleming, in two volumes, donated by Dr. Mason of this city.

This week is added to the list of fiction, "Romance of the Ten Thousand Islands" by our townsman, Dr. A. E. Phillips. From the number of requests it is certain to find many readers.

For those who have missed the early chapters of "Virginia of the Air Lines," now being published in the Sanford Herald, the story in book form can be had at the library.

Also "Sweepers of the Sea" by Claude Wetmore, a story of the sea and a strange favy which brought Inca land into rank as the second naval power in the world (the United States having taken first place). It will please "Young America" and older ones as well.

Library hours—Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p. m.; Saturdays, 4 to 9 p. m.

SANFORD, FLORIDA, SEPTEMBER 23, 1910

Number 34

Our Terms and Quality are Just What You are Looking for

It is gradually being demonstrated that West Sanford is one of the most stable portions of the Sanford Celery Delta. There is very little actual farming within the city limits of Sanford. The Sanford Celery Delta begins on the west at the Astor Grant, skirts along the shores of Lake Monroe on the south and Lake Jessup on the north and terminates at Soldier Creek. This area is within the irrigable belt. There are some areas on the south side of Lake Jessup that are also irrigable and some portions of that area are in cultivation, but it could hardly be located within the limits of the Sanford Celery Delta.

Beginning at the west limits of Sanford and extending on west for a distance of four miles are to be found as good farms, in actual cultivation, as there is on the globe today. Farming land that sells at from $150 to $1,500 an acre must be good farming land. This is the kind we have on the West Side.

As an evidence of the popularity and worth of the West Side there are now in process of construction some twelve or fifteen farm residences. These range all the way from a modest cottage to a handsome eight room residence on Sanford Farms. Every available acre will be placed in cultivation and there is no has been little of no land for rental on the West Side.

The Sanford Farm tract comprehending 200 five acre farms, which is an integral part of the west end of the Celery Delta, was placed on the market late in March, since which time Title Bond & Guarantee Company has sold three-fourths of the property.

One of the prime features of this tract is the terms upon which it is being sold, the said terms appearing in the box at the head of this page. These terms allow the purchaser to place the greater portion of his money in development work instead of in land payments, thus giving the purchaser six years in which to pay out his contract. The payments of $120 per annum on each five acres is simply cheaper than rent. Many a poor devil is paying more rent than this for a place that is wholly unproductive—a place that will never yield a single cent. But in this case the property can be made to take care of all payments, if the purchaser will roll up his sleeves and go to work.

Every acre of the land can be irrigated with flowing wells and this makes the property immune from all weather conditions so far as wet and dry is concerned. In fact, the Sanford Farmer is very glad indeed when the rain refuses to come. He has his unlimited supply of water from the artesian wells and he will make a crop whether or no.

If you are interested in coming to Sanford and if you want to grow vegetables for the winter markets of the north, write us about our guarantees on property and other points of which you should have knowledge before purchasing here. We will take care to tell you the plain unvarnished truth in every instance and give you only that information upon which you can rely.

Title Bond & Guarantee Co.

Sanford does not have free delivery of mail. There is always a large number of persons lined up at the general delivery window of the post office, and those who are coming to this city will save time and trouble by having their mail addressed in care of the Title Bond & Guarantee Company.

LETTER NO. 3.

The Father Shows His Son That the Sort of Land to Purchase in Florida is the Kind That Can be Irrigated.

My Dear Son:—

It is with a little concern that I write you in regard to the quality of land you should purchase in Florida when you launch into the vegetable growing business. I had a talk with a gentleman here yesterday and he gave me the

Following Statement

In the season of 1904 and 1905 I placed fifty acres in cultivation, no part of which could be irrigated. I planted it to egg plant, tomatoes, peppers and melons. The entire venture which had a first cost of several thousand dollars to me was a TOTAL LOSS, on account of no rain falling at the proper time. I have had much experience in growing vegetables and know the crop failure did not occur on account of a lack of experience. This venture fully satisfied me that land that cannot be irrigated is worthless for winter vegetable growing. I would not accept any sized Florida farm as a gift if I had to cultivate it without irrigation.

Signed G. F. SMITH, Sanford, Florida

The Truth Is What Should Guide You

And when a gentleman of Mr. Smith's standing in the community makes the broad assertion that land which cannot be irrigated is useless for vegetable culture, you should pay strict attention to his admonitions.

You Know As Well As I Do

That flowing wells cannot be had on Tenth Street in Sanford and that out side of the city limits in that direction land can be purchased for the nominal sum of ten dollars an acre on account of the absence of Flowing wells.

A Gentleman Took Your Father Out To Palm Hammock

A few days ago and while we sat in the machine, he pointed out forty acres of land within a stones throw of us that could be had for

Twenty-Five Dollars An Acre

While within a stones throw in the opposite direction he pointed out unimproved land that is worth $150 an acre. The difference being that the $25 land was above the artesian level and the $150 land was in the irrigable zone.

I Have Tried To Make This Fact Plain To You

Many times I want you to secure a thorough comprehension of it. If you can get the water from flowing artesian wells that land is better by an unlimited number of times than the land that is high and dry and without the irrigable zone.

Because Land Is In The Vicinity Of Sanford

Does not make it valuable, any more that does it make you a millionaire by standing within the shadow of the Knickerbrocker bank which has resources amounting to $60,000,000.

Do You Grasp The Point?

If not you have become very dense and are sorely in need of a lotion to clear the bat nests out of your belfry.

A Good Thing to Tie to

Is the proposition offered at this time by the Title Bond & Guarantee Company, which owns one of the handsomest unsold tracts of land in the entire Celery Delta. Fifty per cent of these farms which are known as Sanford Farms and are in the suburbs of Sanford on the west have been sold, a good majority of which have undergone improvement. The unsold tracts are the choicest pieces in the entire division.

This Company

Will sell you one of these farms on the most liberal terms offered by any real estate concern here. The land is perfectly adapted to the growth of vegetables. The drainage is correctly poised to take care of all surplus water and.

You Have Six Years Time In Which to Pay

For the land. This allows you to place your money in betterments, instead of in land payments. You of course can readily appreciate the value of this feature.

Things Are Picking Up In Fine Shape Here.

I will keep you fully posted as to developments here and in the mean time you had better send to Title Bond & Guarantee Co., for their book "We Feed The Nation Without Competition." It will show you how to proceed in the matter of vegetable growing here.

Your loving Father

P. S.—I have just had a conversation with Mr. F. Irving Bond, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who says he has investigated the many five acre propositions in Florida and also those in California, and he has decided that Sanford is the best, and has greater possibilities than any that have been called to his attention.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Will Rice, a white mill, was found dead with a bullet hole through his head in a ditch in front of the house of Nellie Lancaster on the outskirts of Punta Gorda early Sunday morning. Nellie Lancaster has been arrested charged with complicity in the affair. Much mystery surrounds the shooting, as there were no eye witnesses, and the first the authorities knew of the supposed murder was when Rice's cold body was found lying in the ditch.

At 2 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the second story of the Tribune building. Prompt work prevented a total destruction of the building. Investigation by officials indicates that the fire was of incendiary origin. The Tribune has consistently opposed the cigarmakers' strike. The damage was about $2,000.

President Taft has signed the appointment of William H. Northrup to be collector of customs at Pensacola, in place of J. E. Stillman, long a Republican leader of Florida. Stillman's scalp was taken by Postmaster General Hitchcock, it is said. The latter did not consider Stillman the right man for the place, which he had held five years and stood for Northrup.

One of the most encouraging and interesting reports ever made comes from the University of Florida, Gainesville, where already the enrollment is far in excess of last year and the prospects are very bright for the term now opening. President Murphree is a most popular and well known instructor, and the great increase is thought to be in part on account of his splendid management. The attendance at the university is said to exceed by 125 per cent that of two years ago and more than 75 per cent that of last year's enrollment.

That the Pensacola navy yard may be selected as one of the fuel oil supply depots of the gulf is suggested by the Journal, and the reason for this, anticipating the government's purposes is said to be the inquiries recently made concerning the tank capacity at the yards. Including a barge, Pensacola has a storage capacity at the navy yards of over 100,000 gallons. A number of the oil burning vessels of the navy will be sent to the gulf during the coming winter, and it is natural to suppose that Pensacola will be the point designated for replenishing oil supply.

With an unusually large enrollment for the first day, the Florida State College for Women reopened Wednesday, and has brought to the capital city of the state the customary swarm of young women students who are receiving their usual welcome by the people of hospitable Tallahassee. The new term begins with a very auspicious outlook, the number of room reservations indicating that the enrollment will far exceed that of any previous year.

Rumors drifting from Tampa during the past few days strongly indicate that an acute stage has been reached in connection with the disastrous and long drawn out cigarmakers' strike, and before the end of the present week citizens may resort to deportation or even more effective methods in ending the strike and the reign of lawlessness among the foreign element. In fact those conversant with affairs in the cigar metropolis intimate that bloodshed may be expected at any moment.

The strike of the tobacco working trades of Tampa is having a very bad effect on the business of the saloonists, as is evidenced by the fact that twenty of the sixty-odd saloons that are now doing business in the city will not seek re-licensure.

One of the many new industries established at the thriving phosphate city and railroad center of Dunnellon is the immense new plant of the Dunnellon Ice, Storage & Machine Company. The company is composed strictly of local capital and local men compose the officers and board of directors. The company is capitalized at only $25,000, but their buildings and plant when all complete, will represent nearly twice that amount of capital invested.

SANFORD SCHOOLS OPEN

Large Attendance and Most Successful Year Is Expected

The opening of the public schools is always an event in which the majority of the people of a town are greatly interested, and in this particular town it is also a time when every good citizen rejoices in the knowledge that Sanford has one of the best school systems in the state. Prof. N. J. Perkins, the efficient Superintendent of Sanford Schools is again in his place, and with his splendid corps of teachers it goes without saying that another year of successful school work, which has just begun, will be added to those that have passed. The schools opened Monday morning with a larger enrollment than ever before, showing an increase of forty-five over the beginning last year. The enrollment of pupils was as follows: High School 85, Grammar School 267, Primary 183, making a total of 535.

The High School building not being completed, the High School students are attending an afternoon session in the Grammar School, the session beginning at 12:30 and closing at 4 o'clock. These crowded conditions will be relieved, however, in a few weeks, as the handsome new building will soon be completed.

There are vacancies in the teachers' places, but they will be supplied. The County School Board has authorized the Sanford School Board to secure a science teacher for the High School, but a teacher to fill this place has not yet been appointed.

Principal of the High School, Miss Clara Louise Guild; Assistant Principal of the High School, Miss Alice Tetherly; Drawing and Music, also High School Assistant, Miss Edith Savage.

Grammar School: Eighth grade girls, Miss Flora Walker; seventh and eighth grade boys, Miss Gertrude Speer; seventh grade girls, Mrs. G. B. Dickinson; sixth grade, Miss Nellie Furey; an extra fifth and sixth grade teacher to be supplied, fifth grade, Miss Lucile Richards; fourth, Miss Carrie Essinger; and Mrs. Charles Polk.

Primary School: Third grade, Miss Nita Moore and Miss Clara Millen; second grade, Mrs. E. W. P. Dunn and Miss Edith Fair Smith; first grade, Miss Lillie Farnsworth and Miss Peacha Leffer.

FERRY BOAT SINKS

Automobile and Wagon Consigned to The Deep

Again the gondola that transports the people from Orange to Volusia counties has become waterlogged and sank to the depths with all on board. This time B. T. Williams loses his valuable automobile and a man from Osteen lost a cargo of meat. The boat seemed to sink rapidly and the wagon and automobile an almost submerged.

Mr. Williams was making the trip from Daytona and was unable to get his car for several days.

This ferry boat and crossing is a disgrace to civilization and demonstrate how the people of this end of the county are treated in the matter of improvements. The people who suffer losses by the ferry expect to make the county suffer and before the matter is ended, the exchequer of the county will be depleted for enough to build a good bridge across this part of the river.

The ferry has never been satisfactory and never will be and some day the commissioners will wake up to the fact that this end of the county must have recognition.

A Message to the People

On or about the 15th inst. a job printing office will make its debut into the business society of Sanford. A building is now under course of erection on Palmetto avenue, between 6th and 7th Sts. to be occupied for this purpose. It is a little out of the commercial zone, but the city is expanding and steadily growing in this direction. The plant when completed will be modernly equipped, and placed in efficient hands. It will be a print shop of quality known as The Abbey Press, where courteous treatment to all and strict attention to business will be the paramount features. Like all new enterprises it starts trying a little light and immediately needs some business ballast—in other words a little financial accommodation in the way of patronage. I wish to employ the "Missouri" plan of convincing you the merits of The Abbey Press.

Yours for business,
CHAS. L. WING.

N. B. BROWARD IS DEAD

Ex-Governor and U. S. Senator Elect Passes Away Saturday

Having Just Won a High Position the Stalwart Floridian Dies at the Threshold of Career

The news that Napoleon B. Broward, ex-Governor and U. S. Senator elect was dead fell like a thunderbolt from a clear sky last Saturday and his legion of friends in this vicinity were grief stricken for the man who was U. S. Senator and belonged to them all regardless of party or factional opinions.

Mr. Broward was taken ill several days while on a visit to Ft. George and taken ago from there to his home in Jacksonville. As a last resort an operation was thought to be best and the patient was rushed to the hospital but died before he reached the operating table. He had been a sufferer for years from kidney trouble but paid little attention to the matter in his strenuous days, and the insidious disease crept upon the stalwart frame with but little warning and laid him low.

The sensational rise of Mr. Broward from a deck hand to the highest position in the gift of the people of Florida and his arduous campaign against Hon. J. P. Tallaferr several months ago, in which he was successful, had made him a prominent figure in national politics and the name of Broward was mentioned as a possible favorite upon the Democratic ticket in 1912. Big of heart as well as of body, Mr. Broward had won a place in the hearts of the people seldom equalled in the annals of history.

Mr. Broward was a man of powerful physique and rugged character. He lacked the polish given by schools, but of shrewd instinct, of thorough knowledge of human nature, of foresight into the course of events, he had enough for a team of statesmen. He was pertinacious, self-confident and never knew when he was beaten. But even the steam engine to which he has been so often likened cannot sustain unending toil. He taxed himself beyond his remarkable strength and endurance, and during the past year his vital powers had been sapped, by an insidious disease which came stealing upon him unawares, neither awakening him to his danger nor giving notice of its certain fatality unless checked at the beginning. A few days ago he succumbed, and was taken to his home in Jacksonville, and then to the hospital. But it was too late. He had hardly entered its portals before his spirit passed away. His unexpected death has caused a universal grief throughout the state. As a man he had thousands of personal friends, as politician he had come to be recognized and relied upon as one who would accomplish much for his state when he should have entered the senate. His election had in a large measure disposed of the problems that had vexed Florida politics, and the people believed that there would be a long term of political peace and quiet before them. The grief for the man is reinforced and widened by the consciousness that political rancor and rivalry may revive.

Mr. Broward married early in life a most estimable woman, strong in character and a fitting helpmate to a man who lived the strenuous life. He became the father of eight daughters and one son, the latter the youngest of the family. To them will go out the sympathy of all the people of Florida.

To Destroy Tampa Papers

The attempt to burn the building occupied by the Tampa Morning Tribune during the early hours of Sunday morning, an attempt which had it been delayed an hour, might have been entirely successful, has been followed, it is alleged, by veiled threats to destroy not only the Tribune plant but also that of the Times as well. Both of these newspapers have been very outspoken in their condemnation of the leadership which has held the cigarmakers out of work for weeks after the strike has been known to be absolutely hopeless, and at the same time threatening the city with the loss of a considerable part of its main industry. The attempt to burn the Tribune building followed a few hours after the incendiary fire which destroyed the three story frame building used by Balbin Bros. as a cigar factory. There have been no arrests as yet.

SANFORD BUSINESS CHANGES

Removals and Changes in The Business District

Fall trade is starting in with renewed vigor and Sanford merchants are getting ready for one of the best and busiest seasons in the history of the Celery City. Many changes have taken place in business location made necessary by the rapid growth of the city. Last week the furniture house of Williams & Milteer moved into the two store rooms of the Rand building made vacant recently by the Sanford Grocery Co. They will occupy two rooms on the first floor and one above making one of the largest furniture stores in Orange County.

D. A. Caldwell & Sons will occupy the room recently vacated by Williams & Milteer and will enlarge their department stores and give ample room to the various departments. N. P. Yowell & Co., will soon occupy their fine new store room now in the course of construction and when settled in new quarters expect to add to their already mammoth stock. One of the new rooms in the Garner & Woodruff building will be occupied by R. G. Stockton & Co., who will open up a first class grocery.

The other room will be occupied by J. Lawson & Co. who will conduct a first class cold drink and confectionary establishment.

One of the store rooms in the Bishop Block will be occupied by a Spanish restaurant. The one recently occupied by the Herald will contain a grocery. The Herald has moved into its new building on Magnolia avenue.

The large lodge room occupied by the Commercial Club and the Eagles in the Stone-Gove Block it is rumored will be given over to a large cigar factory.

Chas. Tate has taken the building recently occupied by M. P. Lipe and is conducting a barber shop under the able management of Mr. Richey. The frame building of the Sanford House on First street has been remodeled and is occupied by the Sanford Pressing Club and Green & Platt's barber shop.

Hanson's Shoe Shop has been removed from the Leffer Block to the room in the Hynes Block recently occupied by F. J. Powers.

There will be many changes in offices when the Yowell buildings and the Garner & Woodruff building are completed and a general exodus and moving day will take place about November first.

With all the many new business blocks the demand for stores and offices seems as brisk as ever and a number of new firms are expected to start during the next few months.

ANOTHER CIGAR FACTORY

Sanford Is The Location For Making Clear Havanas

Another factory comes to Sanford this week not because any great inducements were opened in the way of city block but because this city presents more inducements as a factory site than any other city outside of Tampa, the former home of the cigar industry. The third floor of the city hall has recently been remodeled for a factory being occupied by Berriman Bros., but finding it inadequate for their large cigar business the whole second floor of the Stone-Gove block will be given over to Berriman and will make a fine factory. This building occupies an entire half block and will have light and ventilation on four sides. The room in the city hall formerly occupied by Berriman's will be used by Menendez Bros. & Verplank who expect to operate a force of about fifty men.

These two factories expects to establish permanent branches in Sanford in order to take care of the trade regardless of conditions in Tampa.

There are other factories looking Sanford way and will be welcomed for factories are something that is needed here and the cigar industry has proved to be one of the most lucrative of any manufacturing business known.

The cigar strike at Tampa will be settled in a few weeks, but the Sanford branches will manufacture clear Havanas just the same.

New Bakery

C. A. McGlon has established a new bakery in the Clark Building to be known as the White Front Bakery and will carry a full line of bread, pies and cakes, confectionary and cigars. The wagon will make a quick delivery to any part of city and a share of the public patronage is solicited.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Items of Interest Gleaned From Various Sources

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Nineteen men in the newspaper plant of the Los Angeles Times were burned to death last Sunday. The fire was caused by a dynamite bomb placed in the building by enemies of the paper. The entire plant was destroyed, but will be rebuilt.

As a result of two negro employees of the Hagenback-Wallace circus trying to rob other employes of the company, on the first section of the train coming into Augusta from Columbia Sunday night, one white man is known to be dead, another is missing and is believed to have jumped from the moving train and been injured or killed, and a missing negro is believed to be dead, though no trace of him can be found.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat, following the disastrous fire in its building Sunday night, and which practically wiped out the plant, is being issued from another office. Not an issue will be missed. The fire, which started in the paper stock room on the ground floor, practically destroyed the building and contents. The loss is about $125,000, partially insured.

The average condition of the cotton crop on September 25 was 65.9 per cent, of the normal, compared with 72.1 per cent, a month ago, 58.5 per cent, a year ago, 69.7 in 1908 and 65.6 the past ten years on September 25, as estimated by the crop reporting board, department of agriculture.

SANFORD BELT LINE

Traction Company Will Assist in Making Greater Sanford

Sanford grows by leaps and bounds and foremost in the development of the city in the Sanford Traction Company. Started several months ago and backed solely by home capital, this line extends for several miles through the Celery Delta to Cameron City and a car makes the trip every thirty minutes. Few people realize the significance of such a service but the world at large in quick to do so and every visitor to the city is amazed at the idea of a suburban service of this kind. Yet there are greater things in store for Sanford in the quick transit service service for the Traction Co., will install one of the latest model Edison cars that generates its own electric power in transit and this car will belt the city using the tracks of the A. C. L. on the Lake Charm branch. The line will also reach to Mecca Station or Sanford Avenue and or by the way of Palmville to Cameron City and back to Sanford. The regular cars will make the suburban run but the new car will be used for the city service and will give the employees of the shops, the school children and those who reside in the suburbs one of the best cars services to be had, with such a line in operation. Sanford should expand into the largest city in South Florida. The present Traction line to Cameron City will also be extended to take in Silver Lake, Onora and Ft. Reed and in conjunction with the Sanford & Everglades Railway will carry freight and passengers and give the people of that section a good service both passenger and freight.

The man who now owns a few acres near the car line can count himself fortunate indeed for he will have all the benefits of a country home with a quick service to Sanford at all times.

This admirable arrangement simply places Sanford lands in the front rank as a place to locate whether it be to operate a truck farm, chicken ranch or a place to live just to enjoy life.

There is no other section in the world that offers more inducements to real prospective residents than Sanford and the Celery Delta.
