Murder suspect goes to court

SANFORD — Accused murderer Eddie James was scheduled to make his first court appearance at 1:30 this afternoon at the Seminole County Correctional Facility.

James was arrested yesterday at the jail on a warrant charging him with capital sexual battery on 8-year old Tony Neuner.

According to sheriff's spokesman Ed McDonough, the charge was filed after the medical examiner told the State Attorney's office he had medical evidence to prove that Tony Neuner was alive when James reportedly raped her.

McDonough explained that James was not charged with capital sexual battery in the initial indictment because the medical evidence was not available at the time.

James is accused of killing Neuner and her grandmother, Betty Dick, at their Casselberry home last September.

Murder trial begins

Ex-wife shot in Lake Mary shopping center parking lot

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — "Look what I have for you," were the words allegedly spoken by a New York man as he pulled a handgun from his waistband, holding the weapon inside the car where his ex-wife and her cousin sat. Moments later the woman was dying of two bullet wounds in her head.

The testimony was given Tuesday in the murder trial of New York resident, San Francisco Goungo, 44, by the man he is charged with attempting to murder, Hector Rivera Ruiz. Rivera was in the car February 4 with his cousin, Matilda Ferrer, when Goungo pulled behind them in a Lake Mary shopping center parking lot blocking their exit. Goungo is charged with first degree murder in Ferrer's death.

Rivera said he and Ferrer went shopping that afternoon for food for a dinner she was going to prepare for Goungo. Rivera said he was not invited to the dinner. The defendant had delivered a severance check to his former wife from the job she left in New York. In addition, she had told Rivera about a trucking job in the area.

Goungo and Ferrer divorced but had continued to live together as husband and wife until Ferrer left Rochester without telling anyone where she was going, shortly before Christmas last year.

Goungo, an unemployed truck driver, made repeated attempts to locate Ferrer through family members and friends, according to the court testimony. Eventually, a private investigator Goungo hired tracked Ferrer through her social security number and a credit card to the Sanford area.

When Goungo pulled the gun on the pair, Rivera said Ferrer moved his hand away. Then Goungo pointed the gun toward Rivera, who fell toward the floor. He heard a shot and glass shattering and let himself fall out of the partially opened driver's side door. Rivera said he momentarily looked at Goungo, then ran between the parked cars for help. When he looked and saw Goungo's white Cadillac had left, he went back to

Soccer club play hours extended

By J. MARK BARFIELD

SANFORD — Seminole County commissioners unanimously approved extended play hours for Seminole Soccer Club yesterday, but eliminated all athletic activities at the Markham Road fields on Sunday mornings.

Soccer club leaders wanted to extend their current weekends-only play and practice to seven days from noon to night on weekdays and down to dark on weekends. Residents complained the extra hours would further disturb their peace.

Commissioners approved the time extension, but prohibited all sporting activity on the fields Sundays from 7:30 a.m. until noon. Club officials sought to only prohibit

Lakeside dwellers: Rules revised for docks, boathouses

By NICK PFEIFAUPE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Lakeside dwellers in Lake Mary may soon face new rules for boathouses and docks.

The Lake Mary City Commission will tackle rules on docks and boathouses Thursday night. The proposal has already been approved by the city's Planning and Zoning Board on a unanimous vote.

City Planner Matt West says the new ordinance revises and improves the city's current regulations. The draft ordinance will create regulations for boathouses and will strengthen the regulations concerning the uses and placement of docks.

West said the present city codes do not specifically address boathouses.

Local business backers say job is done

SANFORD — A company that helped capitalize several small businesses in Sanford will shut its doors because its job is done, one official said Tuesday.

The Sanford Seminole Development Company helped start many businesses that provided many jobs in Sanford and north Seminole County over the past 32 years.

Executive Vice President Jack Horner explained, "We have recently received the final payment from one of our business loans, and with the banks now handling such loans, the company can cease operations."

The SSCD was formed on July 10, 1961 through the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, when the late John Krider was Executive Director. Krider became the first Executive Vice President of the SSCD, with the late Cliff McKibbin as president.

According to the articles of incorporation, 10 persons were named as subscribers, each purchasing five shares. They included: Cliff McKibbin, Robert Crumley, R.J. Bauman, F.E. Roumillat, Jr., B.L. Perkins, Jr., Mason Wharton, T.E. Tucker, Sylvan "Joe" Davis, Jr., Tom McDonald, and John Krider.

Since that time, the two jobs have only been

Amtrak, CSX sue truck company

ORLANDO — Amtrak and CSX Transportation claim a trucking company should be held responsible for a train derailment last month in which 61 passengers were injured. The companies filed a negligence suit Monday in U.S. District Court in Orlando naming Rountree Transport and Rigging Inc. of Fort Lauderdale, the company whose truck carried the generator, and Kissimmee Utility Authority. A locomotive and four cars on Amtrak's New York-bound Silver Meteor derailed Nov. 30 after crashing into a stalled tractor-trailer carrying an 82-ton generator. The truck was headed to a Kissimmee Utility Authority plant under construction near Intercession City, 20 miles southwest of Orlando. Also named in the suit were Wolko Transportation, a company affiliated with Rountree from Palm Beach, and two power firms involved with the construction of the utility plant — Metric Constructors of Charlotte, N.C., and Black and Veatch of Kansas City, Mo. Amtrak and CSX, which owns the rail line, seek at least $250,000 in damages plus the cost of the accident cleanup and compensation for future lawsuits.

Boats

According to the ordinance as presented, a boathouse will not be allowed to be over 500 square feet in area, and no greater than 20 feet in height at its highest point. A structure built on a dock may not be used for any purpose other than a boathouse or boatshelter. Enclosed storage areas within a boathouse will not be allowed to exceed 80 square feet. As for the docks, the ordinance will provide for maximum lengths and locations on which they may be constructed. A dock will not be allowed to exceed 75 feet in length, and may not be higher than five feet above the mean low water line. Although the ordinance covers floating docks as well as those permanently installed, it specifies that the structure must be able to withstand a 100 mile per hour wind load.

At the Planning and Zoning Board meeting on the ordinance, board member Dr. Robert Hawkins reported that he had sent a copy of the proposed ordinance to certain individuals on Little and Big Lake Mary, asking for comments. He said the only response he received dealt with the need for a longer dock sometimes required to get out to the water.

The ordinance will be presented for a public hearing and first reading, during Thursday night's meeting of the city commission. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the Lake Mary City Hall, 100 N. Country Club Road.

league games on Sunday mornings. In a busy holiday meeting, commissioners:

- unanimously rejected a request by George Viele to build suburban neighborhood along the proposed Chuluota Bypass, agreeing with residents and the state Viele wanted too many homes in the rural area of the county.

- unanimously approved a six-month extension for the White Construction Co. Baker borrow pit west of South Sanford Avenue flanking the Seminole County Expressway. Pit operators said the excavation is almost complete and they needed the extra time from their January expiration date to grade the banks, plant vegetation and meet other county closure requirements.

- voted 4-1 to grant Excavated Products Inc. a second time extension for their Cochran Road borrow pit near Geneva, with commissioner Larry Furlong opposing. The pit may now operate from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday with no deputy supervising morning and afternoon school bus stops.

Furlong said the hours shouldn't be extended without traffic safeguards in addition to flashing lights offered by pit operators. Officials from the Sheriff's Office, school board and county traffic engineering department opposed the extension.

- unanimously approved creation of a special stormwater taxing district for the unincorporated areas of the county "on paper" to preserve their ability to create a new drainage tax next year. No commissioner supports the idea, but says they're willing to preserve the option which would otherwise be removed Jan. 1, 1994.

- voted 3-2 to vacate what some believe is a historic roadway through George Means' citrus grove near Oviedo. Means wanted the right of way, which he argued didn't exist, removed to clear a "cloud" on his property title.

Neighbors and historians believed the path through Black Hammock was once the Orlando to Lake Jesup Road created by Orange County commissioners in the 1800s. The road linked the Solary's Wharf commerce station on the south shore of Lake Jesup with Orlando. Opponents said the 1,000-foot segment was the last remaining unaltered section of the road.

Commissioners Furlong and Dick Van Der Weide opposed, saying a decision wasn't needed until after the site could be investigated next year to determine if indeed, it was the road to the historic wharf.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

County drops ties to zoo grant

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County commissioners have snipped one string they considered wrapping around their $180,000 grant to Central Florida Zoological Society.

Voting 4-1 Tuesday, they agreed to drop a proposed condition which would have required the society to repay the grant if at any time during the next five years, they receive permits to construct another zoo outside the county. The condition might have forced the society to repay up to five annual grants if they received permits to build a non-Seminole County zoo without prior commissioners approval.

Commissioner Larry Furlong opposed the removal of the provision, but other commissioners said they were satisfied with zoo officials' assurances the grant won't be used to relocate to another county.

Zoo society president Kathleen Palmer said the requirement could jeopardize the current operations.

"We feel very strongly that we give $180,000 worth of benefit back to Seminole County each year," Palmer said. "You are asking this board of directors to do something that could very well bankrupt the zoo. Without this money, we would have to drastically cut back our operations."

Commissioners were concerned over Palmer's August announcement revealing secret discussions with owners of 10,000 acres along the Orange-Osceola County lines for a "Wild Way" zoo and research center. Palmer made calls to commissioners the afternoon of the evening announcement at the annual society ball.

Commissioner Pat Warren said she was originally for the restriction because Palmer handled the announcement "badly" and was embarrassed by the incident.

Most commissioners said they were comfortable with existing grant conditions which allow the county to cancel the contract without reason and require the zoo to leave behind any facilities should they leave the county with the assurance the society did not intend to abandon the county. Palmer and zoo director Ed Poste assured them they did not.

Furlong said he could not understand why the society wanted the provision out. He was told it would jeopardize current and future operations of the zoo. He persisted.

"It's hard to understand why you want this out," said Furlong.

"Commissioner, it seems you don't have a very high opinion of the zoological society," answered Palmer.

Cocaine deaths down statewide; violent deaths high in Miami

By JACKIE HALLIFAX
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — Cocaine was blamed for 685 deaths in Florida last year, way down from 1991 and the lowest since 1987, according to an annual report.

By comparison, there were 818 cocaine-related deaths two years ago, 711 in 1990, 963 in 1989, 1003 in 1988 and 664 in 1987, show statistics compiled by the Medical Examiners Commission.

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement thinks efforts at education and prevention are beginning to pay off, spokesman John Joyce said Tuesday.

"I think they're finally getting the word that this cocaine is a killer," he said.

He said the state has seen somewhat of an increase in marijuana use but didn't yet know if fewer deaths were linked to cocaine use because drug users were choosing the less dangerous drug.

Cocaine arrest figures have gone down in the last few years, Joyce said. In 1992, arrests for its sale dropped by 7.5 percent from the previous year.

The annual report by the commission compiled 1992 data submitted by the 24 medical examiners offices around the state. Besides cocaine-related deaths, the report looked at the number of violent deaths.

Medical examiners reviewed nearly half of the 140,687 deaths in the state and performed autopsies on one in 10.

Across Florida in 1992, 8,509 deaths, or 6 percent, were classified as violent because they were caused by an accident, suicide or homicide. In 1991, Florida had 8,654 violent deaths.

Of the 1992 cases, 57 percent were accidents, 24 percent were suicides, 17 percent were either murders or manslaughters. The cause of death was undetermined in 2 percent of the cases.

In raw numbers, the state's most populous areas — Miami, Fort Lauderdale, St. Petersburg, West Palm Beach and Tampa — all had the highest numbers of violent deaths, although not in order. Miami led with 1,470 violent deaths followed by Fort Lauderdale with 1,100.

However, when the districts were ranked according to the violent death rate per 1,000 residents, mostly rural Southwest Florida was on top.

Cabinet buys resort, sells sports complex site

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Lawton Chiles and the Cabinet approved the $21.5 million state purchase of Silver Springs in a deal that will let the operators run the historic attraction for 15 more years.

In another major land deal Tuesday, they agreed to sell 438 acres of state-owned wetlands for $4 million for the proposed Blockbuster Entertainment sports complex popularly nicknamed "Wayne's World."

The governor and Cabinet had put off a vote on the 254-acre Silver Spring purchase at an earlier meeting after Treasurer

Tom Gallagher called for more study.

Rep. George Albright, R-Ocala, urged the group Tuesday to go ahead and buy the park, targeted for preservation since 1986 under the state's Conservation and Recreational Lands program.

"There has been a long history of support for this," Albright said. "It is imperative that we have it under protection."

The only objection came from former Gov. Claude Kirk, who has proposed going into business selling water from the spring. "Enough fiscal study has not been done," he said.

Tourists have shelled out money for glass-bottom boat rides over the cavernous mouth of the 850-gallon-a-day spring since before the turn of the century. Admission is now $21.95 for adults; $15.95 for children.

Silver Springs served as a Tarzan movie set in the 1930s and a location for many episodes of the Sea Hunt television series in the 1950s and 1960s.

The state will buy the park from Florida Leisure Acquisition Corp. and lease it back for at least $925,000 a year. After 15 years, it will become a new state park.

The Dade County acreage would become part of the proposed 2,500-acre Wayne's World project on the Dade-Broward county line.

Dade County would buy the land and lease it to H. Wayne Huizenga's Blockbuster Entertainment for its proposed baseball stadium, hockey arena, television and film production studios, movie theaters and 36 holes of golf.

The deal approved Tuesday wouldn't require Dade County to make any payments until 1999. If the project stalls, or fails to meet environmental requirements, the land reverts to the state.

Sanford fire ruled arson

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — A fire at the Seminole County Mental Health Center yesterday morning has been ruled arson by the Sanford Fire Marshall and the investigation has been turned over to Sanford Police.

The fire, which was first reported by witnesses at about 1 a.m. Tuesday, was contained in the rear one-third of the building which is located at the corner of 25th Street and Park Avenue in Sanford.

"The police are doing the investigation now," fire marshal Rich Cohen said this morning. "They have all the information. They probably have more than we do."

No dollar amount has been given to the damage at this time, but fire officials said that damage was "extensive" the area where the fire was concentrated, but that there was smoke and water damage throughout the rest of the building.

Fire officials also reported that Christmas presents for many of the center's needy clients were lost in the fire.

According to Sanford Police Commander Dennis Whitmire, the fire department ruled the fire was arson and turned the investigation over to the police.

"All we know now is that the back door of the building was broken into before the fire started," Whitmire said. "We're looking at the other evidence, but we don't have anything else right now."

The fire appears to have started on the second level of the one and a half story building, but investigators have not determined if something was used to ignite the fire or the specific location of the fire's origin.

"We'll have to look at more of the evidence," Whitmire said.

It is still unclear when the Seminole County Mental Health Center will reopen or if it will resume business at its current location.

The center serves the needs of lower income mental health patients throughout the county.

Help your lawmakers fight crime

One main need in the battle against crime, is to keep prisoners in jail and eliminate early release. Almost everyone agrees to that.

How to accomplish it however, is another matter. People want to keep criminals off our streets, but differ on how it can be done.

Florida prison officials have now compiled the figures. They say it will cost an estimated $300 million, next year alone, to speed prison expansion.

Statewide, inmates presently serve an average of about 40 percent of their sentences. They get time off for almost any reason, with the excuse that there is no room for hundreds of additional prisoners entering the system each week.

The Department of Corrections has room for about 52,000 prisoners. They see a need for 85,000 rooms by the end of this decade, just seven years away.

Lawmakers will begin to consider expanding the prison system as they begin the regular session on February 6. This gives them, as well as the people, slightly less than two months to come up with a solution.

Will people be willing to spend $300 million in tax dollars? Do we have other facilities, such as closed military bases where prisoners could be stored? Are there other answers?

It's time to start dealing with the problem. We should no longer put up with having criminals sentenced to what amounts to a slap on the wrist. They get released and immediately return to a life of crime.

We believe the people have logical solutions, and suggest they submit them to their legislative delegates. Our Senators and Representatives were elected to serve the will of the people. They can better do so if people let them know what approach they want legislators to take.

Talk about it with friends. Bring it up at meetings or parties. If there is a solution, write it down and send it to Tallahassee. The more input they receive, the better chance they have of resolving the problem without spending $300 million.

Addresses of members of the legislature are contained in most telephone directories. Put them to use.

Abuse and holidays

Holidays are happy times for many families as they gather to celebrate the season. For too many women, however, that togetherness is not only unhappy, it may be life-threatening.

In the United States, a woman is battered every 15 seconds by her husband or boyfriend. Battering causes more injuries to women than auto accidents, rapes, and muggings combined.

Domestic violence crosses all boundaries - age, race, religion, and socioeconomic level. It is not a private problem or simply an issue to be addressed through social service channels. Rather, people everywhere - homes, schools, the workplace, religious institutions, the media - need to learn more about domestic violence.

Misconceptions about domestic violence help perpetuate the problem. For example, as with rape, often the victim of abuse is held responsible. "Why did she stay?" people ask. A woman may be trapped in an abusive relationship in a number of ways. She may not have economic independence - the house and credit are in his name, he might prevent her from having a job or force her to give him her paycheck if she is employed.

The batterer may insist she not talk with friends and family, isolating her from the people who would support her. Many women have nowhere to go. Some battered women's shelters aren't able to take children, and women may be understandably reluctant to leave their children with the abuser. Most shelters are underfunded and short on space, thus requiring them to turn away women who seek their services.

In addition, leaving an abusive partner doesn't necessarily mean a woman is safe. In fact, her life may be most at risk as she is in the process of ending the relationship. Thousands of women are killed each year as a result of domestic violence.

Focusing on why women stay takes attention away from the source of the problem: men who batter. Battering is about power and control. Traditionally, it has been acceptable for men to maintain control over women using whatever means necessary, including violence.

How to stop legitimizing illegitimacy

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — To get a flavor of America's welfare problem, consider a question I started to ask a group of six welfare mothers here. Roughly this: "Some people say that teen-age girls are having out-of-wedlock babies in order to get welfare; now I don't think that's so, but isn't it likely that the package of welfare benefits reduces the restraints against such births, and makes them more likely?"

I never did finish the question. Most of the women vehemently jumped in: "Right, there are women out there just having children just to get it..." "... that's what they'd rather do, is sit at home and do nothing..." "... young girls out there that will brag that 'I have four kids so I get this amount of money and this amount of food stamps.'"

Not even neo-conservatives are supposed to believe that about welfare. It is permitted to suggest that welfare indirectly encourages illegitimacy. But to suggest that it is purposeful behavior is a no-no.

The women I talked to know whereof they spoke. They were not necessarily talking about majorities, and they weren't talking about themselves. They were part of the "Futures" program in Kansas City. Most of them were African-American and in their 20s, mostly now going to school, beginning to work or getting ready to begin work, trying to get out of a tough personal situation, and deeply concerned about their children.

They represent one part of the welfare dilemma: how to get existing recipients off the rolls.

That mostly involves education, training, day care, medical care, getting child support from so-called "dead-beat dads" and jobs. In short: rehabilitation.

But there is a second, bigger, aspect of the welfare problem: prevention.

How do we see to it that girls don't fall into the welfare trap, either purposefully or indirectly? After all, a girl who doesn't have a first out-of-wedlock child doesn't need special day care. Nor Medicaid. She doesn't have to get a father to pay up.

I never did finish the question. Most of the women vehemently jumped in.

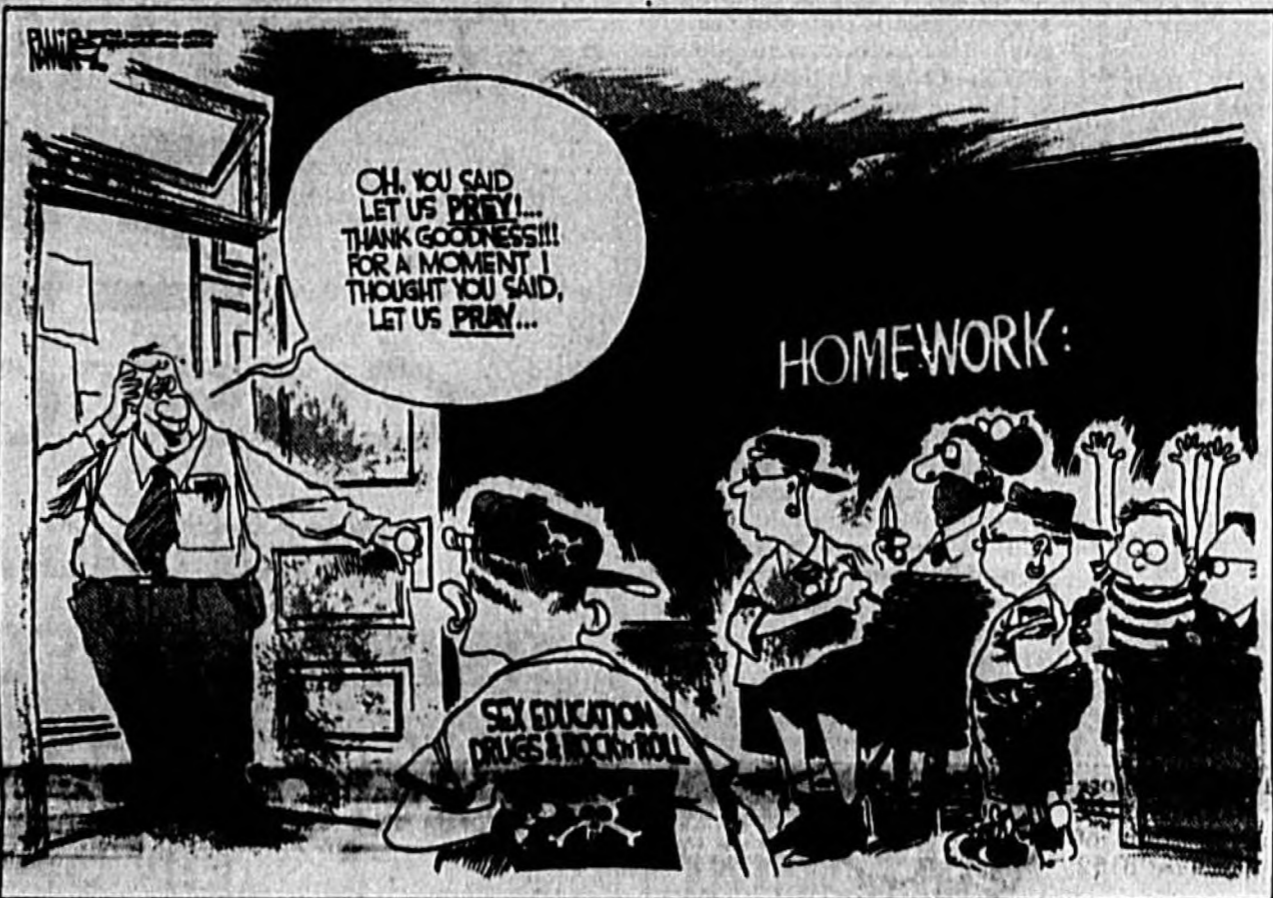

There's no argument about paying added benefits for a second child. She can get an education and a job, get married, and — later — have children.

Is there an answer? Across the river, in Kansas City, Kan., there is a moderate Republican congresswoman, Jan Meyers, who says there is. "We have created our own teen-age pregnancy epidemic," she says. "The current system provides an indirect incentive for out-of-wedlock births. A young girl on welfare gets a cash grant, food stamps, medical care, day care, a transportation allowance and, in many instances, a rent allowance."

Meyers says that as long as that situation continues the welfare case load will keep going up. (It is now at an all-time high.) "We have to take away the incentive," she says.

Her proposal has 40 co-sponsors, including several Democrats. It would freeze welfare payments and not give new cash grants unless both the mother and father were over 18 years of age.

Denying the cash part of welfare to teen-agers would remove much of the incentive — direct or indirect — that draws people into welfare. And, under Meyers' proposal innocent children would not be abandoned; food stamps, Medicaid, day care and the rest of the package would continue.

Property taxes continue to soar

WASHINGTON — As Americans scramble for year-end tax breaks, dodges and shelters from federal taxes, the largest amount of wealth confiscation takes place on the local level. The fight is with city hall, not Congress.

Federal taxes are like the heists that occur in broad daylight with the cameras rolling. The slow of state and local taxes are more like the quiet embezzlement — harder to track but just as bankrupting.

From 1985 to 1991, federal taxes rose 43 percent and state taxes rose an average of 44 percent. At the same time, local taxes (mostly property taxes) jumped an average of 60 percent.

John Shannon, a senior fellow at the Urban Institute, in Washington, D.C., calls the trend in greater local tax increases "fend for yourself federalism." One of his Urban Institute colleagues, George Peterson, explains that recent years have seen "sharply declining federal contributions to local budgets and local increases to replace the lost revenue. And since there was a slow growth in sales and personal taxes, and a decline in corporate taxes as a result of the recession, property taxes bore the brunt (in filling the revenue gap)."

Currently, an estimated $186 billion is collected each year in property taxes by more than 13,500 local government units across the United States. Another $7 billion is collected by state governments.

Property taxes are the least liked form of taxation. Chris Edwards, an economist with the Tax Foundation, believes it's because "property taxes have often been poorly administered and subject to political influence, leading to unequal and unfair assessments." Of course, property taxes seem particularly unjust because they're a tax on potential wealth rather than real wealth.

For senior citizens who have paid off their homes, and don't intend to sell, it's a particularly heavy burden. Property taxes sometimes price widows out of homes they planned to live in until they die. One reader in the Midwest was particularly eloquent about this inequity in a letter: "You buy a lot, build a house, pay off the mortgage and you're still not home free. For the rest of your life, you must rent your home from the government at an ever increasing rate. You have created property for the government. If you don't believe it, stop paying your property taxes. You will soon find out who the real owner is."

A large part of the rage over property taxes is mixed in with anger over the decline of public schools, which claim 40 percent of all local property taxes. In Michigan, home to the third-largest public school system in the country, frustrations reached a boiling point last summer when Gov. John Engler signed a bill that eliminates the property tax beginning next year.

"We have," Engler declared, "a 19th century system of education whose funding has been based on unfair property taxes. We can no longer accept in this state a monopoly of mediocrity."

Experts estimate that 60 percent of taxable property in the United States is over-assessed, which naturally leads to higher tax bills. Yet fewer than one in 50 property owners challenge their assessments — even though the taxpayer may only win a partial victory it's worth a try: At least half of those who challenge their assessments win reductions of 10 percent or more in a matter of months.

That's the only good news to report this tax season.

Polls consistently show that property taxes are the least liked form of taxation.

One war ends, one war rages

BOSTON — This should be a time for a small celebration. We should hear a modest cheer or at least an audible sigh of relief.

With each symbolic act, the nuclear ice cap on the old cold war is melting a bit more. Just last week, the two old enemies who have pointed nuclear missiles at each other for decades — weapons poised for any incident or accident to ignite a holocaust — announced that they are planning to turn these warheads away from their hostile targets.

Surely those of us who spent decades watching the big hand on the Doomsday Clock, Americans who built fallout shelters and worried about the day after, should feel safer.

But we don't. Instead we have spent this week focused on anger and fear about violent crime. With barely a pause, our attention has shifted from anxiety about living in a dangerous world to anxiety about living in a dangerous country.

As one war de-escalates, the other escalates. The nuclear nightmares fade and the random terror or drive-by shootings, murderous kidnappings and crazed men on commuter trains come into our horrific line of vision.

"National security" once justified our defense against a foreign threat. Now it evokes images of the domestic threat. On the homefront we have our own MADness — the mutually assured destruction of armed teenagers.

Maybe the president said it best on one of his many trips to the bully pulpit these last days, "The American people are tired of hurting and tired of feeling insecure and tired of the violence." He said again, "I believe that this nation is really prepared...to do something about violence, to do something about all of its causes." Well, I hope so.

I have worried that we are dealing with our current national security problem as sadly and futilely as we dealt with the old one. From the 1950s through the 1980s, we stripped our cupboards in the name of defense and stockpiled nuclear weapons. In the 1990s, we have focused on an equally expensive buildup at home.

We are securing high schools that need computers with metal detectors. We are protecting hospitals that need nurses with security guards. We are paying for gunshot wounds and funerals instead of child care.

Even the crime bill that passed the Senate last month is tipped toward this defense buildup: two-thirds of the money directed to more prisons, more boot camps, more police. Twice as much for prisons as for job training. Twice as much for boot camps as national service.

In the past 20 years, we've quadrupled the prison population to well over a million without reducing the crime rate or, certainly, the sense of national insecurity. Yet in frustration and fear we go on stockpiling prisons.

Meanwhile, we have enough ammunition to overkill each other many times. And we have lacked the will to slow the domestic arms race.

I understand frustration and fear. Hand me the keys to the cell that holds the man alleged to have kidnapped and murdered a 12-year-old girl from Petaluma, Calif., and I will turn the lock and throw those keys away. Point to the teenagers who have bloodied their streets and neighbors and — damn the cost — I would put them behind bars.

But at the end of the roundup we won't be more secure.

Now if the polls and the president are right, we are ready for something better than a buildup. We need to negotiate hard for a different sort of treaty about crimes and causes.

Instead we have spent this week focused on anger and fear about violent crime.

If we are to send more police onto the streets to be shot at, then we must also agree to take guns out of the hands of teen-agers. As we fund prisons to hold armed criminals, we have to ban the sale of handguns and assault weapons they use to shoot their way in. And for every boot camp built, we have to agree to spend more energy, money and imagination on the daunting but not impossible tasks of shoring up community, family and opportunity.

We can't do one without the other.

The old cold warriors have backed off the brink, dismantled missiles, turned their sights and changed their targets. We feel safer in the world. But at home, we have to spend the dividend wisely and widely, on making peace.

Filed one time, with Howard Hodges taking over as president in 1981, and Horner replacing Krider.

The articles of incorporation explained, "The purpose of the corporation is to aid, assist and promote the development and expansion of business concerns and opportunities by making plant or other facilities available through lease, sale or other means, and thereby to contribute to the economic well-being of Seminole County, Florida."

"When we started," Horner said, "Individuals from all around the area bought shares in the company, some for as little as $10. We then used that money to help finance some loans to small businesses wanting to establish in this area."

The names Horner has listed as stockholders reads like a "Who's Who" in the business and private leadership of the Sanford area.

"According to our connection with the government," Horner said, "we were considered as the Small Business Administration Local Development Company. Our prime goal was to help bring businesses into the area, which would help provide jobs, and improve the economy."

He added, "Judging from the businesses we believe we were responsible for helping to get started, I think we did an excellent job, but most of the credit should go to John Krider."

"Krider went door to door to find investors," he said, "and he took an active part in helping bring new businesses into the area. I believe it was the finest economic development person this area has ever had."

Among businesses helped by the SSCD, Horner listed the School of Dance Arts, R&M Crankshaft, Pinebreeze Eggs, S&H Fabrication and Engineering, Florida Extrusions, and many others.

"We couldn't have had a better company," he said. "In all of these years, we have never had a loan default, which is a remarkable record."

In addition to helping finance and obtain Small Business Administration loans for a number of businesses, the SSCD also served as a catalyst for information requested by businesses seeking to move to the area.

Horner said letters of notification will be sent to each shareholder. "They will get back more than they invested," he said, "and while they certainly won't be getting rich from their involvement, I'm sure no one will be disappointed with the end results."

The SSCD is expected to officially go out of business in mid-January after all of the paperwork and distribution of funds is completed.

Kids

this festive time of the year? The answers may even surprise those who have raised a household of children. Sanford youngsters do have more than toys. Santa Claus and more toys tucked away in their curious little heads. The dances of sugar plums cannot always take the place of the "warm fuzzles" the holiday cheer can bring.

Children between the ages of two and 12 were asked the question, "What does Christmas mean to you?"

Two-year-old Shelly Huffine said "Light!" yet her sister, who is four, Brittany, shyly whispered,

"Santa Claus." Five-year-olds Clayton Scott and Kayla Phillips, both agree that "presents" take the lead. Rebecca Lemons and Joel Polk, both six, exclaimed enthusiastically, "opening presents, the toys."

The older children responded with more complex ideas, often with emotion, always with excitement.

Timmy Wilcox, six, joined the ranks of the older crowd with the response, "Happiness, and God's birthday. We don't know exactly when Jesus was born but we celebrate it then." Jonas James, age eight, and his brother, Adrian, age 10, said, "It's a special day, a holiday I can celebrate, a happy holiday and a reason to celebrate Santa Claus."

Breaking away from the somewhat norm for his age, Scott Orinell said, "Doesn't mean nothing to me as long as I get toys." The Maldonado brothers, Johnathan, age 11, and Matthew, age nine, express, "A season of giving and joyful happiness, caring and giving presents."

The phrase, Jesus is the reason for the season, hit home for two, Jacob Polk, age seven, said "Jesus," while Quinton Rumph, age 10, said, "Christmas is a special day and a holiday that we celebrate Jesus' birthday."

An answer that would make any mother proud came from Ty Polk, age nine. He said, "A big family getting together and spending time...like all the relatives."

Timothy Phillips, age 12, gave a heartwarming, "It's sharing and kindness and friendship." Holly Lemons, age 10, added a big smile and with laughter in her voice said, "Christmas is fun!"

The answers of 20 children may not reflect the voice of a nation of children. Yet the youth of the city of Sanford seemed to send a hopeful message to us all. They do seem to be counting their blessings with grateful hearts.

Murder

where he saw blood coming out of Ferrer's mouth.

Although he was about three feet from Goungo during the confrontation, Rivera said he did not smell alcohol on the defendant's breath.

Rivera and Ferrer shared a one-bedroom apartment in Lake Mary, Rivera, who has a wife and children in Puerto Rico, testified he decided to come to Florida to seek a better paying job. Originally bound for Miami, Rivera said he accepted Ferrer's offer to help him find employment in Central Florida and came to Lake Mary instead.

Speaking through an interpreter, Rivera repeatedly denied he and Ferrer had a romantic or sexual relationship under pointed questioning by defense attorney Don West. Rivera said he did not tell his wife he was living in Ferrer's apartment. In addition, he said he did not ask Ferrer what the status of her relationship with Goungo, who was known as "Cholo," was either. In the sparsely furnished apartment, Ferrer slept on a mattress and box springs in the bedroom while he slept on a thick blanket on the living room floor, Rivera testified.

During opening statements, assistant state attorney Michelle Heller claimed Ferrer had talked about leaving Goungo for almost a year because she was unhappy. Goungo was obsessed with his ex-wife and jealous, she said.

Defense attorney Don West said it is not disputed that Goungo shot Ferrer, but the real issue for the jurors was his intent, his state of mind at the time of the shooting. West claims Goungo hoped to reconcile with Ferrer, but after drinking and smoking marijuana Feb. 4, Goungo "snapped" when he saw her with another man that afternoon in the parking lot.

Two men who said they were Goungo's best friends, described drinking and sometimes smoking marijuana with the defendant. Neal Post and Melvin Cruz testified Goungo was distraught after Ferrer left. The defendant told them he sometimes thought of killing Ferrer and other family members on more than one occasion but then expressed remorse and asked forgiveness for having the thoughts.

Once, Cruz said Goungo told him, "I swear to God, whatever bullets I get I'm going to use them on her (Ferrer)."

Goungo drank heavily after Ferrer left and wanted to know why she abandoned him, Cruz said. After Ferrer left, Goungo could not pay his bills and was evicted from their apartment. He received government checks for a service related disability. Goungo told most people he planned to go to California, but came to Florida instead.

The trial is expected to continue all week.

Radioactive warfare

Glenn: Government released radiation on purpose

By KATHERINE RIZZO
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The government deliberately dropped radioactive material from planes or released it on the ground a dozen times after World War II, Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, said today.

Eight of the tests were part of secret radiation weapons research in Tennessee and Utah. In four other instances, radiation was put into the air in Nevada so that pilots could chase the cloud of fallout to see how it moved.

One radiation cloud was tracked 70 miles downwind over a sparsely populated area in New Mexico from Los Alamos to Watrous. Another was tracked 10 miles, said Glenn, chairman of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee. He released an unclassified version of a report on the tests by the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress.

The experiments, done between 1948 and 1952, have been concealed until now.

"There is no justification for the government to keep this information secret and there is no justification, except in extreme wartime conditions, for the principle of informed consent to be abandoned," Glenn said. Arjun Makhijani, president of the Institute for Energy and Environmental Research in Takoma Park, Md., said the disclosures confirmed educated guesses about the extent of government experimentation after the Manhattan Project, which developed the first atomic bomb.

"This is the first solid evidence that there was a systematic radioactive warfare program," he said. "There had been indications that the military considered radiation warfare to be very important after the war, but no indication of thorough and systematic planning like this."

Energy Department spokesman Sam Grizzle said that DOE officials had not had a chance to review the new information but that Secretary Hazel O'Leary believes the public has a right to know about the experiments.

Revealing the long-concealed evidence "is very much in line with her policy of opening this department to the public, and we look forward to working with Senator Glenn and his staff to provide a full accounting of these tests," Grizzle said.

The latest disclosures came a week after O'Leary announced a new policy of openness at DOE, which produced America's nuclear arsenal and guarded its secrets during the Cold War.

O'Leary for the first time acknowledged 200 nuclear weapons tests and radiation experiments the government conducted on human guinea pigs, including injections of plutonium into 18 civilians during the 1940s.

The GAO report was triggered by revelations in 1989 of experiments that spread radiation over a 200-mile stretch of Oregon and Washington state in 1949.

Investigators probing those tests at the Hanford Reservation in Washington uncovered evidence of the additional deliberate radiation releases. None was accidental or part of nuclear weapons-making, Glenn said.

Eight of the tests were part of an attempt to design a weapon that could spread radiation around a limited, tightly controlled area. Such devices were tested through 1952 and the research appears to have ended in 1954, the report said.

As part of that research, radiation was emitted at or near ground level at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., office of the old Atomic Energy Commission twice during 1948.

Secretary claims Packwood tampered with diary tapes

By LARRY MARGASAK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Lawmakers investigating Sen. Bob Packwood's sexual conduct are urging a federal court to seize his diaries now that a secretary claims he tampered with tapes used to transcribe his notes.

Describing their request as urgent, Senate lawyers said in legal papers filed Tuesday that "it is now apparent that the integrity of Sen. Packwood's diary tapes and transcripts is not guaranteed."

The Senate Ethics Committee must "ascertain whether Sen. Packwood has endeavored to obstruct the committee's inquiry," the lawyers told U.S. District Judge Thomas Jackson. Obstruction of a federal proceeding violates federal criminal law.

The committee is investigating allegations that Packwood made unwanted sexual advances to more than two dozen women, including Senate employees, and attempted to intimidate some of the accusers.

Jackson previously scheduled a hearing Thursday on the Senate's demand that Packwood end his defiance of a committee subpoena for the diary tapes and transcripts. That proceeding now will include the request for the court to take custody of the materials.

The assertion by Packwood's former Senate secretary, Cathy Wagner Cormack, that he had altered some diary tapes recalled the 18 1/2-minute gap in Richard Nixon's White House tapes that emerged during the Watergate scandal 20 years ago.

After the Watergate discovery, the Senate legal brief said, U.S. District Judge John Sirica asked the White House to voluntarily turn over the original versions of the subpoenaed tapes, for safekeeping by the court.

In addition to the Ethics Committee probe, the Justice Department also has subpoenaed Packwood's diaries as part of a criminal investigation. Justice Department spokesman John Russell had no comment on whether federal prosecutors now would investigate possible obstruction of justice.

Elaine Franklin, Packwood's chief of staff, said, "We have no details" on the alteration and referred calls to Packwood at attorney Jacob Stern, who did not return telephone messages.

Ms. Cormack told the Ethics Committee on Dec. 10:

"Subsequent to the initiation of the Ethics Committee investigation, the senator took back some tapes in my possession which I had not yet transcribed.

"At a later time, it appeared to me that he may have made some revisions to those tapes. Subsequently, he confirmed that he had. I do not know what changes he made or how extensive any changes were."

The Ethics Committee, which began its probe a year ago, subpoenaed all diary materials from 1989 to the present and asked a federal court to enforce the demand when Packwood refused to comply.

The committee voted to issue the subpoena on Oct. 20, and the legal papers did not reveal whether the alterations occurred after the demand was made.

However, federal law on obstructing investigations prohibits alteration of any materials needed by an investigating body. Long before the subpoena, the committee made clear to Packwood that it sought all materials relevant to its inquiry.

Newly available JFK files bulge with trivia

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The amount of trivia that found its way into FBI files 30 years ago is a window on the conspiratorial mindset that swept America after Jack Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald, who had shot John F. Kennedy.

In Fairlawn, N.J., a woman noticed from television tape replay of Oswald being shot "a seemingly obvious connection between two honkings of an automobile horn and the action which followed." She wondered why no newspaper or television account mentioned that.

A fire chief from Dearborn Heights, Mich., told a hometown newspaper of being in Dallas that November weekend and having no difficulty getting into the police station's basement. FBI agents tracked him down and he admitted his published account of the shooting was "a complete fabrication and untrue."

A woman in Roseville, Ohio, notified the FBI that on Nov. 21, 1963, a day before the Kennedy assassination, she was watching Jimmy Dean's television show. After singing part of "Cowboy's Lament," she said, Dean stopped and said something. She told the FBI that she concluded that was a message of instructions to Jack Ruby.

The FBI's records on Ruby were released for reading Tuesday in the National Archives, in compliance with a 1992 law making assassination-related material public. The FBI tried to find a connection between Oswald and Ruby, between Ruby and the Fair Play for Cuba Committee to which Oswald belonged, between Ruby and the Communist Party, between Ruby and the mob.

But to no avail.

In less than a month after the Kennedy shooting in Dallas, a thousand or more people had been interviewed, either as a result of such tips, or from the mere mention of a person who might at some time have had some contact with Ruby, who operated a couple of strip joints in Dallas.

The FBI concentrated heavily on Las Vegas, where one man who knew Ruby for a long time

"stated that he is certain in his own mind that Ruby has no underworld connections, although he might be acquainted with some figures in gambling and other illegal activities."

The 21,224 pages from the FBI's Jack Ruby headquarters file were in 28 archival boxes. The FBI's half-million files are expected to be turned over to the archives by July 4.

Much of the material already has been opened to the public through the FBI reading room. But portions of some documents previously blacked out or omitted from the public record was included in the archives release.

The files included clippings, including a wire service story that said Ruby had told the truth during a polygraph test administered in 1964 at the request of the Warren Commission. At the bottom is scrawled: "I assume none of this is coming from FBI." It was signed "H." by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The investigation was so thorough that it included an evaluation by the Chicago Institute for Juvenile Research on 12-year-old Jacob Rubenstein in 1923. That was Ruby's name before he shortened it.

"Patient truant from school. Disobedient. Quick tempered. Patient doesn't steal. Doesn't know of any sex delinquencies. Patient fell from table at age of two years and hurt his head. No enuresis (bed-wetting)," it said.

After the Oswald slaying, which unfolded on national television as Kennedy was lying in state in Washington, the FBI put together 150 pages of notes on interviews with the Dallas police officers who witnessed the shooting. Detective T.D. McMillon said he heard Ruby say, as he charged toward Oswald, pistol in hand, "You rat son of a bitch, you shot the president." Others quoted Ruby as saying, "I hope I killed ... " Oswald.

A Dallas jury convicted Ruby of murder "with malice," in March 1964, a crime that carried the death penalty. The sparse quotations, however, became the center of a dispute that led a Dallas appellate court in 1966 to grant Ruby a new trial. But Ruby died of cancer on Jan. 3, 1967.

Man says he discarded the winning lottery ticket

By The Associated Press

DAYTONA BEACH — No ticket, no $10 million Lotto prize.

But his winning Florida Lottery ticket went out with the garbage. Dale Miller insists, even though he and friends failed to turn up the winner in a careful search through tons of trash at the landfill.

Miller's last load of laundry may have cost him a life on easy street. After reading the six numbers Sunday afternoon, he was sure he had one of two winning tickets that would split a pot of $20 million.

But he accidentally left the ticket in a shirt he washed that morning. He had afterward thrown away a fat ball of lint, including the ground-up ticket, that he fished out of the washing machine.

"There were no letters or numbers on it. It was just a ball, so I threw it away," said Miller, a groundskeeper for The Daytona Beach News-Journal.

"I know all the numbers. I even know the place and the time (he bought the ticket), but you know they want proof."

He reluctantly wrote it off. Miller's hopes soared Monday, however, when his girlfriend, Linda Hayward, said she was told by a Florida Lottery employee that tests could be carried out if they could produce at least part of the ticket.

Miller's trash had by then been picked up by a garbage truck, of course.

So he and Ms. Hayward hurried out to the Tomoka landfill. They beat the truck that had picked up the trash earlier in the day. And with hundreds of birds circling overhead and dump trucks and bulldozers working around them in a pungent atmosphere, they sifted through the mountain of trash brought in by the truck.

"I knew I would probably find the trash, but with my luck a couple of the bags were ripped or wide open," Miller said. "Then I had a gut feeling I wouldn't find anything."

He didn't. And neither did landfill workers who were told about it later.

Ms. Hayward remained optimistic since she and Miller can name the time and store where the ticket was purchased. But lottery spokeswoman Angie Raines doubted whether that information alone would help.

Lightning tie in O-Rena

ORLANDO — Montreal goaltender Andre Racicot turned away 33 shots in place of the injured Patrick Roy as the Canadiens and Tampa Bay Lightning tied 1-1 in the first National Hockey League regular season game ever played in the Orlando Arena.

The tie marked the third consecutive winless game for Montreal (0-2-1), while Tampa Bay improved to 9-18-3 in the first of five Lightning games being played in Orlando this season. A crowd of 9,433 attended Tuesday night's game.

Montreal's Kirk Muller and Tampa Bay's Mikael Andersson scored the only goals of the game, both in the second period.

AROUND THE STATE

Another Dolphin goes to bench

MIAMI — The injury-plagued Miami Dolphins received more bad news from the doctor Tuesday. Cornerback Troy Vincent will miss the rest of the season and require major reconstructive surgery on his right knee.

Vincent suffered ligament and cartilage damage when he was tackled running a reverse on a punt in Monday's 21-20 loss to Pittsburgh.

A second-year pro, Vincent had emerged as one of the league's best cornerbacks.

Vincent joins quarterback Dan Marino, center Jeff Uhlenhuth and running backs Bobby Humphrey and Aaron Craver on the list. Also, quarterback Scott Mitchell, linebacker John Offerdahl and safety Louis Oliver are recovering from injuries that have sidelined them.

Rockets burn Heat

MIAMI — Floridian Vernon Maxwell scored 25 points and hit four 3-pointers early in the final period as the Houston Rockets outscored the Miami Heat 27-0 from long range in a 97-88 win.

The Rockets (20-1) won their fifth consecutive game. Only the 1970 NBA champion New York Knicks, who started 23-1, did as well through the first 21 games in a season.

Hakeem Olajuwon had 23 points and 11 rebounds for Houston. Harold Miner led Miami with 24 points. Miami's Glen Rice, who scored 40 points last Thursday at Houston and 39 Monday at New Jersey, missed his first 12 shots and scored two points.

AROUND THE NATION

Sonics maul Magic

SEATTLE — Ricky Pierce scored 24 points as Seattle stayed unbeaten at home with a 124-100 victory over the Orlando Magic, which lost Shaquille O'Neal to ejection for a flagrant foul.

O'Neal received a level-2 flagrant foul — which brings automatic ejection — for knocking Shawn Kemp into a TV camera as he was driving for a layup. Kemp did not return.

O'Neal, the NBA's scoring leader with 28.8 points, finished with a season-low 16 points and 11 rebounds in 31 minutes before leaving the game with 1:45 to go in the third quarter.

The Sonics improved to 17-2, including 9-0 at home. Gary Payton added 18 points. Donald Royal came off the bench to get 17 for the Magic.

'Tired' Rams edge 'Hounds

By TONY DeBORMIER Herald Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — It was a nail-biter, a barn-burner, a thriller from whistle to whistle. In short, it was everything expected of a Lake Mary-Lyman High School boys' soccer match.

On Tuesday night, the undefeated Lake Mary Rams came out on top, scoring a 1-0 win to improve to 9-0-3 on the season, 3-0-1 in the Seminole Athletic Conference.

"We've already played 12 games this season," said Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle. "We were tired, you could see that. We were dragging out there tonight. The guys really need a break."

"Last year, when Lyman didn't play it's best, they seemed to find a way to win. We're certainly not in that league yet, but I look upon this game as one where we didn't play our best and still found a way to win. I could see right from the start that it wasn't going to be that normal, crisp effort."

Despite their fatigue, the Rams controlled play for much of the game, outshooting Lyman 14-6 and having a 3-1 advantage in corner kicks. Most of Lyman's opportunities came in the final 20 minutes of the match.

The only goal of the match came at 24:27, when Matt Rosenblum took a cross from Jodi de Bruin and beat Lyman keeper Chris Lewis.

Lewis was largely responsible for keeping the game close, coming up with seven saves and picking off several potentially dangerous crosses. Lake Mary goalie Greg Velho had to make just three saves to register the shutout.

"We're right where we want to be," said McCorkle. "I'm tickled to find out that the guys could dig down and find a way to win when they're tired, when they're not at their best."

For the Greyhounds (5-3-1 overall, 2-2 in the SAC), the result was both disappointing and reasonably satisfying.

"They're a great team," said Lyman coach Ray Sandilge of Lake Mary. "They're ranked first or second in the SAC."

WINTER PARK — Four players scored in double figures Tuesday as Lyman knocked off the Winter Park Wildcats 59-39 in a high school girls' basketball contest Tuesday.

The win caps a stretch of six straight road games for Lyman, which won five of the six.

Kate Brown led the Lyman varsity with 14 points, seven assists, and nine rebounds. Carolyn Crager added 12 points and 10 rebounds. Sara Wood contributed 11 points and two assists. Carrie Scranton had 10 points and 10 rebounds.

"It's nice to get four players into double figures," said Lyman coach Steve Carmichael. "We played a good team game."

Now 7-4, Lyman will play again Friday, when the Greyhounds will host Lake Brantley in a varsity girls/boys doubleheader.

For 80 minutes Tuesday, the Lake Mary Rams and Lyman Greyhounds banged on each other all over Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium, contesting every ball. In the end, Don Delaney (No. 17, right) and the Rams came out on top, posting a 1-0 win over Jason Kendall (No. 2) and the Greyhounds.

KISSIMMEE — Seminole High School's boys' basketball team finished a two-game tuneup for Friday's big Seminole Athletic Conference showdown at Lake Mary with a 72-65 triumph at Gateway High School in Kissimmee Tuesday night.

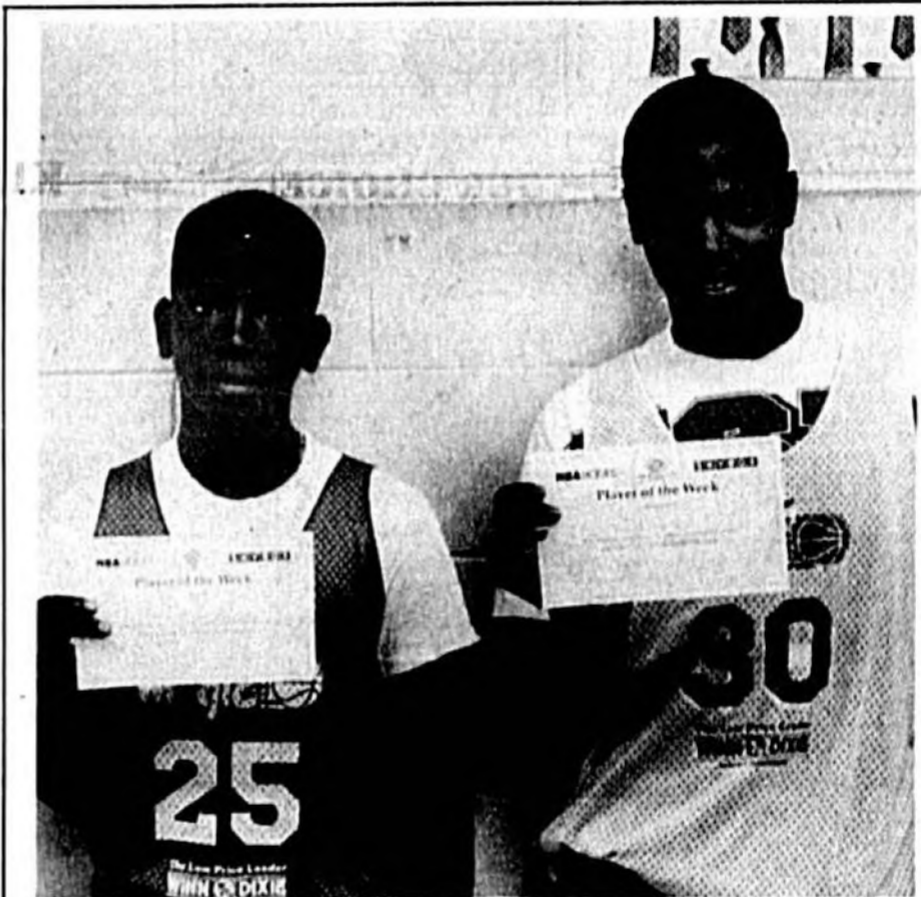

Center Andre Hall scored 16 points and grabbed 11 rebounds while the guard duo of Brad Traina and Eric Roberts combined for 28 more points as Arrow Force II (5-2) overcame 20-plus turnovers to win its second game in as many nights.

"We led by 10 points most of the way," said Seminole head coach Bob Traina. "Then they hit all four of their 3-pointers at the end to get close."

"We did some things better tonight than we did last night, but we're still not playing as good as we can. It's tough to play on back-to-back nights, especially when you're not playing your best."

Roberts had a team-high 17 points while Brad Traina added 11. Ray Perkins came off the bench to score eight points and collect nine rebounds.

Nutt, Lyman take down Seminole

LONGWOOD — Winning seven matches with pins, the Lyman Greyhounds hung a 57-9 defeat on the Seminole Fighting Seminoles in a Seminole Athletic Conference wrestling dual meet Tuesday.

Perhaps the most impressive performance of the evening was turned in by Lyman's Jason Nutt, who scored an 8-2 decision over Bernard Mitchell at 189 pounds despite suffering a split lip in the second period.

"Jason wrestled the rest of match with cotton in his mouth to stop the bleeding," said Lyman coach Andy Dyer. "He wrestled real tough."

MAITLAND — Amy Vandestreek and Spencer Meler led the Orangewood Christian School Rams to a sweep of a varsity girls/boys basketball doubleheader Tuesday night with Pine Castle Christian Academy.

In the girls' game, Vandestreek poured in 32 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as Orangewood Christian celebrated being ranked No. 6 in the Florida Sports Writers' Association's Class B state poll with a 56-38 victory over Pine Castle Christian.

Meler scored the first 17 points of the game for the Orangewood Christian boys, finishing with a game-high 23 points in a 56-53 win over Pine Castle Christian.

Jessica Maffei added 10 points as the Orangewood Christian girls improved to 8-0 on the season.

second in the state and they should be.

"What was pleasing was that we didn't quit. We had some chances late. We played much better in the second half and that was the challenge. We were down 1-0 and didn't quit. I'm not unhappy, a little disappointed, maybe, but not unhappy."

Lyman won the junior varsity contest 3-2 while Lake Mary won the freshmen contest 5-0.

Lake Mary will play again Thursday, when the Rams will host Seminole. Lyman is at home Thursday against Lake Brantley.

LAKE BRANTLEY 5 BISHOP MOORE 0

ALTMONTE SPRINGS — Five different players contributed goals and keeper Sean Seaver registered his fourth shutout Tuesday as the Lake Brantley Patriots ripped the Bishop Moore Hornets 5-0 in a high school boys' soccer match.

After taking a 1-0 lead at halftime, the Patriots put the game away with four goals in the second half.

"It took us a while to get going," said Lake Brantley coach Jim Brody. "We missed some chances in the first half. In the second half, we put them in."

Phillip Cianculli, Ken Villet, Jimmy Melettilde, Chad Larson, and Brian Taylor each scored a goal. Melettilde and Mike Coleman had two assists each while Villet was credited with one assist.

Lake Brantley outshot Bishop

Moore 14-9, forcing the Hornet goalie to make seven saves. Seaver had to make just three saves. Each team had three corner kicks.

Now 7-4-1, the Patriots will play again Thursday at Lyman. Bishop Moore falls to 3-4.

LAKE HOWELL 3 DR. PHILLIPS 0

ORLANDO — Kevin Yearick scored one goal and assisted on two others to lead Lake Howell to a 3-0 boys' soccer win over the Dr. Phillips Panthers Tuesday night.

At 17:03 of the first half, Dean Shields converted a pass from Yearick into a goal and a 1-0 Silver Hawk lead. Jeff Yearick made it 2-0 when he took a pass from his brother and scored at 45:58 of the second half.

Kevin Yearick capped the scoring with a goal off of a direct kick at 50:38. "The team played well," said Lake Howell coach Anatole Popovich. "The boys are finally gelling and starting to play well. It was a good win, especially on the road. It was a well-played game, very nice to watch."

Lake Howell goalie Jacob Zoosky notched his third shutout of the season by making nine saves on 11 shots made by Dr. Phillips (3-0). The Silver Hawks took 19 shots and had a 7-8 edge in corner kicks, forcing the Panther keeper to make eight saves.

The junior varsity game ended in a 1-1 tie.

Now 5-4, Lake Howell will play Oviedo Thursday at home.

Wood scores consecutive Late Model wins

By PAUL MARSEGLIA Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — Orlando's Ricky Wood, fresh off a victory Friday night at Orlando SpeedWorld, cruised to victory in the Sonny King Orange Buick Late Model race Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

Wood, using his advantage of starting on the pole, charged out of turn four at the drop of the green flag and quickly pulled away from the rest of the field.

By lap four, Wood had a 10-car length advantage over the second place car of Michigan driver Steve Dorer. Several laps later a caution bunched the field for a new green flag, but Wood easily regained the advantage.

Wood, driving the Russell Automotive/Boyd Engine Camaro, went on to lead every circuit as he raced to victory lane for his second FASCAR (Florida Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing) win of the season.

"I can't believe how good we ran. Our Boyd engine is in the shop getting freshened up and we raced our old motor tonight," said the 29-year old Wood, who has been racing since he was 13 years old. "At the beginning of the race, the car was a little squirrely, but as the race went on, the car got better and better. It's really great to come away with two wins."

Dorer was second, followed by Tuffy Hester, Mike Staggs and Ruas Whitaker. New Port Richey driver Butch Yoakam, surviving a kamikaze charge by Wayne Heckle, made a clean sweep of this weekend's Modified championship.

Like Wood, Yoakam was also a feature winner in his division Friday night at Orlando SpeedWorld. As in the previous night's action, Yoakam once again inherited the No. 1 spot when the race leader was forced to pit.

Mike Fitch, who set the evening's fastest qualifying time, appeared to have the race in the bag when he developed a tire problem.

With Fitch behind the wall, Yoakam took the lead. Heckle closed to his rear bumper and the battle was on. The two veterans, who have more than 55 years racing experience between them, raced wheel-to-wheel for the next 10 laps. Coming out of turn three on the white flag lap, Heckle got down on the speed bumps for an inside pass but lost the car and spun to the infield.

Yoakam, who earned $1,500 for the weekend, took the checkers ahead of Dave Savicki, Ed Meridith, Danny Bancroft and Heckle.

Conrad Greiner outduelled Robble Yoakam and Oateen's Bobby Sears to take top honors in the Mini-Stock main event.

Sears and Yoakam battled until the white flag lap for the runner-up slot with Yoakam getting the advantage coming out of turn four as they raced to the finish line.

J.D. Duncan and Bob Doxie rounded out the top five.

Art Chapman picked up his second Sportsman win of the season with Darren Gould, Barbara Pierce, Jim Sharp and Don Tracy in tow.

Other winners were Glen Castro in Bombers, Timmy Todd in Modifieds, Chuck Vola in Run-Abouts and Ken Fenske in the Demolition Derby.

Yoakam bests 'youngsters' for Modified win

By PAUL MARSEGLIA Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Veteran Butch Yoakam held off a pair of young challengers to win Friday night's 35-lap Modified special at Orlando SpeedWorld.

"We didn't qualify good, but we sure ran good," said Yoakam. "I had to really work for this win. The guys behind me were really pushing me. Toward the end of the race, the track got a little bit slick from someone dumping oil."

Earlier, the race looked like it belonged to fast qualifier Ed Meridith, who set sail from the pole to a huge lead.

However, Meridith was black flagged during a caution period for an oil leak which eventually put his car in the pits.

Yoakam inherited the lead and went on to win the $750 first prize despite a great duel with second generation drivers Raymond Lovelady and Jon Compagnone Jr., who came home in second and third, respectively. Dave Savicki was fourth and Howard Oateen fifth.

A wild Late Model feature saw Ricky Wood claim the win over Tuffy Hester, Michigan's Steve Dorer, Mike Staggs and Dave Debiulis.

A major crash brought the field to a halt as Jimmy Sills and Gary Balough saw their cars badly damaged with Balough nursing a sore wrist after the crash.

Paul Colgan led wire-to-wire in the Sportsman race for his second win of the season. Finishing in the runner-up spot was Bill Loomis, followed by Joe Randow, Jeff Rule and Scott Wood. Despite a sick engine, Michael Williams won the Limited Late Model main event over Andy Saffioti, Timmy Todd, Gary Schlichter and David Gould.

Other wins went to Oateen's Bobby Sears, his third of the year in the Mini-Stocks. J.D. Duncan, Darrell Ellis, Kelly Jarrett and Mike Nogtee rounded out the top five, respectively.

Bomber honors went to Doug Gould. Chasing Gould to the checkers were Glen Castro, Glenn Cordell, Dwayne Waddell and Bobby Stevens.

for us," said Daugherty. "They only had two turnovers combined and the team only had eight turnovers total. That's great for us considering we had 37 turnovers in our first game of the season."

The Rams will now be off until they face host Evans in the Evans Christmas Tournament that starts December 28th.

Erin DeLoach paced Pine Castle with 13 points.

With Pine Castle Christian concentrating on stopping Ram leading scorer Jakob Hardrick, Meler stepped in and scored all 12 of Orangewood Christian's points in the first quarter. He also hit the first two shots of the second quarter.

Meier, who was good on three of six shots from three-point range and 7-for-13 on two-pointers, also collected 11 rebounds and seven steals.

rebounds. Reggie Holloway also grabbed nine caroms.

The Renegades (the nickname for Seminole's second team) scored 22 points, which is right in the range of the 20-25 points we need from them each night," said Traina. "I'm pleased with our offense. We missed some easy shots tonight, but the offense is playing well. But our defense is a real concern."

Jorge Prieto scored a game-high 20 points to lead the Panthers, while Mariano Ayala and Randy Werner added 12 points each.

The Arrow Force II junior varsity also was victorious, winning its third straight game, 58-40, to improve to 3-2.

Cook of the Week

Retiree shares shortcuts to flavorful recipes

By RENEE KEITH
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Retirement has come easy for Jeannine Loyd, Cook of the Week.

"I love being a homemaker," she said. "I really don't know where I found the time to work outside of the home."

Although she enjoyed the position she held on and off for 15 years as a supervisor (in small claims) with the Seminole County Courthouse, Loyd will be the first to admit that she eased right into her retirement.

Born in Boston, Loyd has lived in the Sanford area for the past 20 years. She and her husband, Howard, have been married for 12 years. Howard is a true fisherman and, together, they enjoy camping. "I like fishing only if the fish are biting," said Loyd. Their combined families consist of four children and six grandchildren. Their daughter, Pam, is the mother of five of the grandchildren who are: William, 10; Joseph, 8; Rebekah, 6; Jonathan, 3; and Mary, 1.

"Oh, Pam is due any day now," said Loyd. So, very soon, their family will be blessed with child number six. Their second daughter, Angie, is the mother of the Loyds' sixth grandchild, Danny is six years old. Brian, who was stationed in Alaska during his time with the military has decided since his discharge to make Alaska his home.

"We keep hoping he'll get tired of it up there and come home," Loyd said. But, so far, Brian doesn't seem to have any immediate plans for change. Still at home is 11-year-old Matthew. He currently attends Idyllwilde Elementary School.

Loyd is active with her sorority, Beta Sigma Phi. She is also very active with her church, First Church of the Nazarene. "In fact," said Loyd, "my recipe for Chicken Casserole is almost always one dish that I'll be asked to bring when we have our covered dish dinners." She went on to explain how quick and easy it is to prepare.

Jeannine Loyd loves being a homemaker and cooking for her family.

COOK OF THE WEEK

RENEE KEITH

Loyd has mastered the art when it comes to making pecan pie. "What I just love about this recipe is that it's not so sickeningly sweet," said Loyd. "I use brown sugar instead of Karo syrup and it simply makes all of the difference in the world."

By this time, nearly everyone is into full swing when it comes to Christmas baking. Needless to say any short cuts can only be welcomed. Loyd's recipe, Blisquick Banana Bread, is exactly that, a delicious short cut, both in ingredients and preparation time.

Do you want something with a very different and mouth-watering taste when it comes to Christmas cookies? Loyd's recipe for Anise Cookies might just be what you're looking for. "They remind me of Black Jack gum," said Loyd. "If you're a licorice lover, then there's no doubt, you'll love these cookies."

Give something from the heart

It's time again to prepare the homemade "goodies" that you give to special people on your gift list. Small glass jars, fabric for lid covers, ribbons and your imagination will make these gifts something from the heart.

I usually make many many jars of this jelly because everyone enjoys it and I like having it on hand for "drop in" entertaining.

PEPPER JELLY

4 medium green Bell peppers
3-4 Jalapeno or hot banana peppers

¾ cup white vinegar
3½ cups sugar
3 oz. liquid pectin
Green food coloring

Using rubber gloves, cut out stem ends and remove seeds from Bell peppers and hot peppers. Cut peppers into chunks

MICROWAVE MAGIC

and place in food processor or with vinegar. Chop fine.

Transfer mixture to a 3-quart casserole and microwave on 100 percent power 8-10 minutes, or until mixture reaches rolling boil, stirring to make sure sugar has dissolved. Add pectin and microwave on 100 percent power 2-4 minutes or until mixture returns to rolling boil. Boil 1 minute longer. Add green food coloring. Stir. Skim foam from surface. Pour jelly immediately into sterilized jars and seal. Store in refrigerator up to 6 months. Enjoy with meats or with cream cheese on crackers.

This makes a pretty gift. Delicious to serve with turkey or chicken.

CRANBERRY CHUTNEY

½ cup chopped onion
1 medium tart apple, peeled, cored and chopped
¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar

¼ cup fresh orange juice
½ tsp. ground ginger
½ tsp. ground cloves
½ tsp. ground cinnamon
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup cider vinegar
2 cups raw cranberries
½ cup raisins

Combine onion, apple, sugar and orange juice in 2-quart measure, cover, and microwave on 100 percent power 5-6 minutes. Add ginger, cloves, cinnamon, salt, vinegar, cranberries and raisins. Cook, uncovered on 100 percent power 5 minutes. Cool, then pour into three 1-cup jars and cap tightly. Store in refrigerator up to 1 month.

A special relish will be an appreciated gift.

CHRISTMAS CORN RELISH

1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1 small onion, chopped
1 Tbsp. mustard seed
1 Tbsp. celery seed
¼ tsp. turmeric
1 cup apple cider vinegar
¾ cup hot water
5 cups fresh corn or 3 cans (12 oz. whole kernel corn, drained)
¾ cup finely chopped red and green pepper

Combine sugar, cornstarch, onion, mustard seed, celery seed and turmeric in a 3-quart casserole or butter bowl. Gradually add vinegar and water, blending well. Cover with plastic wrap and microwave on 100 percent power, 5 minutes. Remove from oven, stir well. Add corn and green and red pepper to sauce. Recover with wrap; microwave on 100 percent power 12-15 minutes. Stir well after 7 minutes and again at end of cooking. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Makes 8 ½ cups.

A gift for those with a sweet tooth.

BUCKEYES

1 stick unsalted butter
1½ cups creamy peanut butter

2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract
16 oz. semisweet chocolate chips

In 2-quart measure, microwave butter on 100 percent power 1-2 minutes or until melted. Add peanut butter, sugar, and vanilla and blend until smooth. Form into ¾-inch balls and place on a wax paper-lined baking sheet. Freeze 1 hour.

In 1-quart measure, microwave chocolate on 70 percent power 3-4 minutes or until melted. Stir until smooth. Remove peanut butter balls from freezer and, piercing balls with a toothpick or fork, dip into chocolate, coating three-quarters of each ball. Let excess chocolate drip off and place on wax paper to dry.

Wife longs for home alone with only husband, kids

DEAR ABBY: This is a very touchy problem. We are a young couple with three young children.

My husband's mother lives with us and we share all the rooms, except for the bedrooms. (Grandma has her own bedroom.)

The problem is that she has no social life of her own — therefore, she is with the family all the time. I can never spend any time alone with my husband and children — unless I leave the house.

Have you any suggestions on how I can be alone with my husband and children without hurting my mother-in-law's feelings?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Much depends on what kind of person your mother-in-law is. The only clue to her personality is that she has no social life of her own — which leads me to believe she isn't very sociable, and nobody seeks her out. In addition, she is not the kind of person with whom you can be perfectly candid without hurting her feelings — otherwise, why would you be writing to me?

I could be more helpful if you answered a few questions: How old is she? Is she in good health? Does she drive? Does she have any friends? Is she good company? Does she have any special interests? Does she want to socialize on her own? Is she content to stay home? Answer these questions and perhaps I can be more helpful.

DEAR ABBY: You had some columns about people who had trouble with their names. Please include me.

My first name is Roberta and my last name is Law. Simple, right? Wrong!

I get correspondence with some strange combinations. Some examples: Robert A. Law, Robert A. Law, also Robert Long. I got tired of being mistaken for a male, so I decided to use my middle name, which is Mae.

Then, I received correspondence addressed to: Robert A. Mac Law. I give up!

ROBERTA M. LAW, OLYMPIA, WASH.

DEAR ROBERTA: You think you have trouble? A female named Jayne Nesbitt received a "greetings" letter from Uncle Sam addressed to "Jay Nesbitt."

DEAR ABBY: I strongly disagree with your advice to "Disgusted," the woman who moved into a studio apartment next door to a drug-using prostitute.

Do you really believe that complaining to her neighbor

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"Disgusted" would be safer following the last sentence of your advice — to see an attorney about getting out of her lease. My advice would have been, "Move as soon as possible."

CAUTIOUS

DEAR CAUTIOUS: Your answer was better than mine.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you printed Lord Chesterfield's opinion of sex. It was hilarious. Please print it again.

CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: The price is exorbitant, the pleasure is transitory, and the position is ridiculous.

DEAR ABBY: I have worked in a state government office for 15 years and take pride in my work. Several women are now being allowed to bring in their babies all day, even though many child-care options are available to them. Our old building has very few amenities — no lunchroom, no clean bathroom, or any kind of privacy provided for the majority of employees. Many of my work colleagues now spend a good portion of their day fussing over these babies instead of working.

The mothers bring their babies into meetings and do not have the courtesy to leave if the babies start crying or fussing or need to be breast-fed. The office manager brings in his own handicapped child at his convenience, so my complaints that babies and children are very distracting in an office, especially when trying to meet deadlines, have fallen on deaf ears. The other staff don't seem to be the least concerned that there are no smoke alarms. I dread to think what may happen if there is a fire or an accident.

offices with their parents?

PERTURBED IN WASHINGTON

DEAR PERTURBED: It is distracting to co-workers, and therefore is not conducive to a constructive work environment, and it's also unfair to the children.

Drug therapy may work for prostate

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 75 and have an enlarged prostate. My health is good, I'm active sexually and in sports. An operation is in order but has been postponed partly because of prostration and mostly because of fear of unfavorable results regarding sexual activity. What alternatives are there?

DEAR READER: Traditionally, men with enlarged prostate glands required surgery to open the passage leading from the bladder. As the prostate enlarges, it progressively affects the ability to void urine. Frequency, dribbling, nighttime urination, and diminished strength of the stream are the initial symptoms, usually followed by urgency and increased frequency.

Eventually, blockage of the bladder opening may occur, causing extreme discomfort, a backup of urine and kidney damage. Therefore, untreated prostatic enlargement may have serious consequences.

In the past year or two, a new drug (Proscar) has been marketed to shrink prostatic swelling, relieve symptoms and enable men to avoid surgery. Ask your urologist about this. Proscar is not appropriate for everyone.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a feeling of weakness and fatigue all the time and feel that my nerves are affecting my life. I awaken at about 4 o'clock in the morning and eventually feel better as the day goes on. My doctor has prescribed Sinequan, and I don't know why I'm taking it.

DEAR READER: Weakness and fatigue often reflect serious undiagnosed physical ailments, such as anemia, hidden infection, hypothyroidism, or cancer. Therefore, it's mandatory that you undergo a full medical examination -- as well as blood and X-ray tests -- to discover the cause of your symptoms, which may not have an emotional basis.

Sinequan (doxepin) is an anti-depressant. Your doctor evidently believes that your listlessness is caused by depression. He may be correct -- if you have undergone the medical evaluation that I mentioned and it was normal. However, I urge you to review your symptoms -- again -- with your physician.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

Bob Hope is well-known, along with Dorothy Lamour and Bing Crosby, for the "Road to" movies. One of his jokes went like this: "To give you an idea how fast we traveled -- we left Spokane with two rabbits and when we got to Topeka, we still had only two."

In bridge, many contracts require starting quickly down the right road, a step in the wrong direction being fatal. How would you map out the play of today's three-no-trump contract after West has led the spade queen?

After winning the first trick with the spade king, South saw that if he attacked diamonds immediately, he couldn't make his game. Even if they broke 2-1, he would be restricted to eight tricks: two spades, two hearts and four diamonds. Realizing he had to take strides in a different direction, South led a low club from hand.

If West had ducked, declarer would have won with dummy's king and, with his ninth trick in, switched to diamonds. He would lead low from the dummy and cover East's card. Therefore, West won with the ace and played a second spade honor. This left South with only one street to safety: He led the club jack, simultaneously picking up West's queen and East's 10. Now declarer had nine tricks: two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

Nicely done, but East missed a chance to lure declarer down the drag to death. On the first round of clubs, he should have dropped the 10, not the six. Then South would have had the option of playing for East to have started with the Q-10 doubleton.

Readers are invited to send card-play questions to Phillip Alder, in care of this newspaper. They can be answered only through the column.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Dec. 16, 1993

In the year ahead you might experience more opportunities than you have for quite some time. Just because there is a profusion of developments, don't take even the smallest one for granted.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Strive to be painfully pragmatic today or else you might lull yourself into a mode of unrealistic expectations. See developments for what they actually are. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 4485, New York, N.Y. 10183.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is a good time to try to trim waste and unnecessary expenses from your budget. Unfortunately, however, instead of doing this, you might splurge and be extravagant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

ANNIE
IF THAT VOICE WAS G.G.'S PA, IT JUST SEEMED TO BE THERE IN MIDAIR! DID YOU DID IT COME FROM THE ER... BEYOND?

Don't embarrass yourself today by requesting favors from hotshot friends. You'll have a better chance getting help from pals who don't possess clout.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A battle of wills may transpire within your inner person today. Your better nature might urge you to do one thing, your less noble side another.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't be taken in by a development today where an associate dangles a carrot at the end of a stick. If you're naive, you might trot off after the unattainable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It may be wise to avoid a tempting partnership arrangement at this time if there is a possible conflict of interests. The worse case scenario might transpire.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Methods and procedures are important today, so don't rush into your project without first thinking a few steps ahead. To be successful, you must consistently think ahead.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

This is not a good day for you to take gambles or chances on persons or things about which you know little. The odds indicate you might make bad decisions.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Unless the other guy can make a genuine contribution, it's best not to turn something which is now singularly successful into a joint endeavor.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Objectives will be accomplished today, provided you can get others to do your bidding. Without assistants you're not likely to do much about things on your own.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Generally speaking your financial trends look encouraging in this cycle, but there could be some intermittent bad days. Unfortunately, this might be one of them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Getting in the last word could be of enormous importance to you today, but it isn't likely to provide you with any benefits or advantages. In fact, you're better off saying little or nothing.
