

Trouble With Earle Mack Is Fans Expect Too Much Of Him

By JACK SMITH

PHILADELPHIA—A hot-headed Irishman sat in the 23rd Park stands on a September afternoon in 1911 and permitted himself to come to a slow, sizzling boil.

"Mack catching! That guy couldn't catch a volley ball at sight!"

Whenupon young Earle Mack, son of Connie, caught several innings for the Philadelphia Athletics against the New York Yankees, lined out a three-bagger and a single, and acquitted himself behind the plate to the high satisfaction of all.

That was Earle Mack's only experience as a player in the majors—and it's cited here because the incident epitomizes the trouble he will face someday when he succeeds his father as manager of the Athletics.

He bears a magic name, and fans always have expected too much or too little of him, depending upon mood and temperament.

Most Famous Father and Son. Connie and Earle Mack probably are the most famous father and son in sports—the 80-year-old Connie as boss of the A's and the 33-year-old Earle as assistant manager—and remaining famous as a father and son in baseball entails some problems.

For example, before the ruddy-faced, brown-haired Earle became his father's understudy in 1924, he was in 1919 went to Illinois to manage Molins of the Three Leagues.

Molins was so excited about having a Mack arriving to head the ball club that it set its fire hot players to raise money for a reception for him.

A lesser man might have tossed in the towel and turned to some other line in which the name of Mack wasn't surrounded by a halo.

Earle, however, shy and different mannered though he is, settled down to work—and three years later came up with a pennant winner.

Respect and Courtesy. This story, too, gives you an idea of the father-son problems of Connie and Earle T. McCleddy, the Mack's real names.

They solve them by maintaining respect for each other and the respect and courtesy that embellish less-publicized father-son relationships.

The other day, Connie, 60 years old and gray-haired, she swift passage of the days, confirmed publicly that Earle would be the successor to the same position.

Yet a decade ago, Earle Mack, an interview in Cleveland, said that no one would be able to inspire athletes and lead a team like Connie.

Further, Earle has the authority of his father's name, without first attending to Connie the courtesy of talking over the transaction, even though they invariably agree.

"Earle has been a wonderful help to me," Connie says.

Earle, on the other hand, says Connie has given him the bulk of his knowledge of the game.

That, incidentally, is plenty. It was Earle in the minors who discovered—and sent on to the Athletics—such baseball greats as Jimmy Dykes, Cy Perkins and Fred Heimach. His father says he has a keen eye for players.

Perfect Team. Earle and Connie make a perfect team, Earle learned the game at his father's knee and now has Connie's full confidence. Connie has taught him every phase of operating a club.

Generally, they divide the managerial chores. Connie handles business management and Earle works with the players. Connie, however, directs the team on the field, signing as always with the scoreboard, but he considers a competent understudy.

When Earle finally succeeds his father, he will have served Connie the longest apprenticeship in the history of the game.

Earle, Connie, he began playing in his childhood on the sandlots of Brookfield, Mass. He played during his one year at Wesleyan University and then joined the old Atlantic City "College" made up of college players.

At 20, he entered the minors, played first base for Raleigh of the Carolina Association, then went to Asheville, Charlotte, Hartsville, Pa., Meigs and finally Montgomery, W. Va. of the Blue Ridge League. An eye for an eye, he missed a strike, he was

Dick Romney Has 25 Coaching Years To His Credit

By LOUDON KELLY

LOGAN, Utah, June 25.—Square-jawed E. L. (Dick) Romney, dean of Rocky Mountain football coaches, is heading toward his 25th anniversary as grid leader at Utah State college.

Starting his 17th annual coaching school on the Utah Aggie campus this summer, Dick took time to think back and talk about the famous football professors who have come out to this college in the northern Utah mountains for its annual coaching schools.

This is how Romney recalls them: 1927, Knute Rockne—"Colorful, dynamic, magnetic and creative. A great man who just happened to be a football coach."

1928, Pop Warner—"Colorful, inventive and philosophical."

1929, Bob Zuppke—"Daring, resourceful and versatile."

1930, Howard Jones—"Thorough, set, candid, exasperating and particularly hard worker."

1931, Wallace Wade—"Thoroughly sound and analytical. Also a polished gentleman."

1932, Bernie Bierman—"Quiet, friendly, thorough and imaginative."

1933, Harry Kipke—"Frank and conservative, probably because of an inherited system of play. Very likeable."

1934, Fritz Crisler—"Adaptable, creative and a good organizer."

1935 and 1941, Clark Shaughnessy—"Possesses a great imagination, especially on offense. Has the ability to get favorable results with little material."

1936, Bill Spaulding—"Decidedly philosophical with a great sense of humor. A good debunker."

1938, Francis Schmidt—"Very daring, a lover of offense, and a hard worker."

1937, Dana X. Bible—"A great teacher with the confidence of everyone. Thorough with disarmingly genuineness."

1938, L. B. (Stub) Allison—"Realistic, a hard worker, detailist and genial."

1939, Lynn Waldorf—"Original, generous in his opinions, stimulating."

1940, Carl Swasey—"Thorough, a detailist, especially resourceful, and a hard worker."

1941, Lou Silner—"Young and full of fire, with excellent demonstrations of line play."

1942, Henry Fritts—"Coach of Tulsa University is the star attraction at this year's school."

DEL BAKER, FORMER DETROIT MANAGER, NOW A BIG STAR TO THE CLEVELAND INDIANS. HE'S DOING A GREAT JOB WITH THE CLEVELAND PITCHING STAFF.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

NEIGHBORS IN WAR FOSTER SPIRIT OF UNITY AND COMMUNITY PRIDE

During this war farm families are facing the enemy, because they supply materials vital to the food supply, health and morale of the country's armed forces and war workers.

It has been shown time after time that people working together can accomplish many things they cannot do alone.

and neighborhoods assume cooperatively the responsibility for tasks rural people are expected to perform.

The war—with its attendant scarcities of essential products—has brought a noticeable reemphasis on cooperative and responsibility. Rural people have worked together since the founding of this country, and the spirit has never entirely died, even though the "log rollings" and "working bees" so common even up to the early part of this century no longer exist.

Florida Grower for June carries a story of rural pride and unity built largely by work of rural women of the home demonstration clubs in Gadsden County.

Not only do rural communities cooperate, but town and country stick together in Gadsden, each realizing its dependence on the other. This spirit of unity, of town and country cooperation, has been growing in Gadsden for more than

Max Minor, Speedy Texas Runner, Is West Point Bound

By HAROLD V. RATCLIFF

AUSTIN, Tex. June 25.—Max Minor, the chunky guy with the piano legs, is going to West Point July 1—and that means the U. S. Military Academy will get an athlete just reaching his college stride.

Minor comes from Little Tahoma, Tex., where he first attracted attention by trying the national scholastic record for the 220-yard low hurdles at 23.5 in 1940.

He went to the University of Texas and earned varsity letters in football and track but was not until the past year that he really began to go places. He was on the Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl championship Texas team last fall, and was a star for the Longhorns in the dashes during the past track season.

But it wasn't many years ago that Minor was told he never could compete in athletics again. As a sophomore in high school Max underwent two serious operations. It not only kept him out of part of the football season but all of the basketball and track.

And the doctors informed him he never could participate in any of these contests again.

"I took things easy until the next football season," Minor recalls. "That was as long as I could stand it. I finally persuaded my parents to let me try again. They had some crafty taping and padding me up, I was able to play in every quarter of every game my junior year. After going through the football season, I felt as good as new."

In track he set a couple of district records and won the low hurdles in the State meet. The following year he was back at the State meet to tie the national record. "I made up my mind to shoot at the State record," he said. "I had no idea that the national record was in the same time. If I had known this, I sincerely believe I could have put just a little more into my race for a national record.

Charley (Red) Ruffing won 258 games while losing 216 in his big league career.

16 years.

The Grower story opens with this paragraph: "Just one big happy family. That's the people of Gadsden County, Florida, where rural women produce and town families purchase, where the town takes pride in its country surroundings, trading at home; where relief by outside agencies is little needed, because—"

—an industrious people make full use of resources at hand and find a market for everything produced."

The rural women developed canned products, craft articles and other items to a high quality standard, and have no difficulty in disposing of them. Glen Julia Park, made possible by contributions from townspeople and work by rural families, serves as a county center for recreation.

Farm families plan better now because all members participate in the planning. The rural groups cooperate for fun, for business, and for community betterment.

Owners Will Regain Mines, Ickes Insists

Government Does Not Intend To Keep Possession Of The Mines Permanently

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Secretary Ickes told the House Ways and Means Committee the government has "no desire and no plans for the nationalization" of the coal industry and hopes to return the mines to private ownership "at the earliest possible moment."

He was unable to say when the return would be possible, but said the government would "take the first opportunity to return them to private ownership." That will be when there is "reasonable assurance" that the miners would work for the private owners, or when a contract is signed.

In Pittsburgh scattered gains in the number of men working in the coal fields was shown in early reports which indicated the movement to restore full shifting in the partially operating fields might be a slow process. The back-to-work movement showed some progress in Alabama but the Alabama Mining Institute estimated about three-fourths of the fields closed through 1942.

Administration leaders were reported attempting today to salvage from the wreckage of their coal price restraint program congressional authority for direct subsidy payments to farmers instead of processors to hold down living costs.

Block houses have voted to prohibit further payments to processors to cut back the retail price.

Nazis Flak Curtain In West

IN A DESPERATE attempt to stop the relentless Allied bombing fleets now raining death and destruction on Germany, the Nazi High Command is reported to have mounted at least 40,000 anti-aircraft guns and tens of thousands of searchlights in an area (white) along the country's western border. More than 1,000 fighter planes, about 90 percent of her entire fighter strength, are said to be based at fields in the same area. In the Ruhr Valley, over 1,000 heavy flak guns, and 500 searchlights have been set up. (International)

Higgins Sees Early Action On New Road

Delegation Confers With Road Department Meeting With Navy

Favorable action in regard to development of the new road from Sanford to Geneva and to the Naval Air Station new satellite field now under construction at Ocala, was today reported by Mayor Edward Higgins following a conference during the week with J.H. Dowling, engineer of the State Road Department.

Mayor Higgins added that he and Mr. Dowling had a conference with the Naval authorities at Jacksonville in regard to this road, which has now been recommended to the Bureau of Docks and Wharves in Washington.

Accompanying Mayor Higgins for conference with Mr. Dowling in Tallahassee, and to Jacksonville on several matters pertaining to County and City business, were W.A. Leffer, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Commissioner H. James Gut, Rep. M.B. Smith and County Commissioner W.G. Hill.

The group also conferred with Mr. Dowling regarding the road going through Sanford which will probably be developed after the emergency as part of a post-war planning plan. Plans are being made to fit Seminole County objectives into the general planning, Mayor Higgins said.

At Jacksonville the group discussed the matter of building a road from Sanford to the State Farmers Market, with William L. Wilson, manager of State markets.

As a result of this meeting, Mayor Higgins said, he has a possibility for us to acquire such a road storage plant for the local Farmers Market. It will require local support.

Airdromes In Greece Are Hit By U.S. Planes

American Battleships Join Allied Concentrations At Gibraltar, Mediterranean

Lashing at Axis targets in Greece for the second time in a week American heavy bombers numbered two airdromes near Athens Sunday, it was disclosed today and Saturday in a powerful Allied air offensive over the Mediterranean.

High explosives were tossed effectively by American heavies of the Middle East Command upon the Eleusis and Haissas airdromes dramatically reviving the threat of an Allied invasion in the eastern Mediterranean.

RAF Wellingtons from the northwest African command delivered a Naples punch hitting docks and industrial areas in that rail hub of southern Italy.

The heavy Mediterranean action brought frank warnings from Italian newspapers that the invasion was imminent.

Meanwhile over Europe British typhoons and hurricanes sank two enemy ships early today, drove another blazing onto a beach and brought three more to a standstill after a night in which RAF mauling squadrons winged deep into Allied aerial offensives.

A Reuters report from Stockholm said United States battleships have reached the Mediterranean and joined the British battle fleet.

Reuters also reported from Algiers that Pierre Boulson has resigned as governor general of French West Africa. He was replaced by Charles Dakar. The French Committee of National Liberation expressed the resignation.

Mr. Boulson had been appointed strongly to determine to intensify the Japanese preparation for an invasion of Indochina.

Medium bombers—Army Mitchell's and Navy Ventura's—exploited the advantage of a break in the weather which had slowed operations in the Aleutians for several days, scored over the island in the half dozen assaults Friday afternoon.

With them sped Lightning fighter planes ready to beat off any attempted interception as the bombers dropped their loads. But the aerial resistance did not develop.

Bombs blasted into the Japanese camp area on the island of Iwo Jima, the American island chain. Other bombs struck enemy gun positions and probably put some Japanese anti-aircraft pieces out of action.

Dean Is Presented With Rotary Past President's Pin

Ruprecht Discusses Plans For Sanford After War Is Over

The Past President's pin of the Rotary Club was presented to Edmund Dean at the regular meeting of the club today by R.W. Ruprecht in recognition of a year's service as president of the club. Mr. Dean accepted the gift with an expression of appreciation for the help of the committee chairman and members of the club during his term of office.

Dr. Ruprecht, who was also the principal speaker on the program discussed "The Future of Sanford after the Present Unpleasantness is Over" and recommended a number of projects which he thought would be of value in the development of a better city.

Chief among the public projects suggested by Dr. Ruprecht was the construction of an adequate sewage disposal plant which he said could be built at Grassy Point in the Lake and to which the present sewerage system could be extended without tearing up existing sewers.

Dr. Ruprecht declared that we should stop dumping our sewerage into the lake and insisted that some way be found to dispose of it in a healthful way.

Dr. Ruprecht, who was introduced by Herman Lehman who has charge of the program said that farming in this section is far from gone for and he does not subscribe to the theory that Sanford cannot compete with the Everglades. Admitting that crops can grow more cheaply down there, he said that the yield per acre is not as great as the one crop idea and pointed out that the most successful farmers were the ones who practice diversification. He said that the Experimental Station is constantly trying to find crops which can be grown profitably here in place of citrus and said that much progress has been made in the study of some 25 varieties of cabbage, in the development of tobacco, in the use of the cultivation of English peas.

A report on the future plans of the school was made by Dr. J. H. Green, who is in charge of the school. He said that the school is planning to build a new building and to expand its program.

Annual Tax Sale Is Scheduled For Next Thursday

Final Warning Given To Owners Of Delinquent Property

County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins today issued a final warning to property owners who have not paid their 1942 County taxes and advised delinquents that liens on their property will be sold at the annual tax sale at the County Court House beginning at 12:00 o'clock noon on Thursday July 1, unless the taxes are paid before that time.

The first item on the delinquent list will be sold promptly at 12:00 o'clock noon on Thursday and the sale will be resumed and continued as long as necessary to complete the sale, Mr. Jenkins said.

County tax certificates bought at the sale will draw interest at the rate of 10% per annum for the first year and 8% per annum for succeeding years, except in cases of competitive bidding.

The method of competitive bidding is to bid a lower rate of interest for the first year, Mr. Jenkins explained. If no bids are made the Tax Collector is required to bid in the property in the tax sale by individuals as known as "Individual Certificates." At the tax sale last year ninety individual certificates were sold and 3,197 County certificates were issued.

Lands advertising for sale are lands on which the 1942 County taxes have not been paid, and on which there are no prior County tax certificates for unpaid taxes of 1941. However some of these items may have State certificates for years prior to 1941.

Property owners have two years in which to redeem property on which County Tax Certificates are issued.

The list of lands delinquent for 1942 taxes was published in the Sanford Herald of May 31, and June 7, 14, and 21. Lands advertised as delinquent, and on which the taxes have not been paid, are struck from the selling list.

The tax sale this year will be one of the smallest in the history of Seminole County, as there are now only 877 items on the sale list.

Company C Holds Practice With Small Firearms

Good Turnout Reported Despite Clouds And Threat Of Rain

Company C of the Florida State Guard held a successful practice with small firearms on the outdoor range west of the Golf Course yesterday morning despite threat of rain, a heavy dew, and a short clear spell.

Members assembled at the Army at 7:00 A.M. and were transported to the range by bus. Practice included rifle, machine gun and shot in rifle guns all over the regular 25 yard course, and under the supervision of Range Officer Boyd Goodie.

On account of the inability to secure clay birds, a staggered numbered stationary target was used as a means of giving the men practice at concentrated targets with all men shooting 4 shells each. There was no scoring.

The complete scores with rifle and machine guns follow:

Capt. John Galloway and the other officers were well pleased with the turnout and cold refreshments were served by Sgt. M. L. Raburn.

Staff Sgt. Goodie was in charge of the range, assisted by Averett, Cooper, Thomas and Webb as instructors.

CONCENTRATED ALLIED BOMBING ATTACKS on Sicily's airfields and military installations on the western end of the Italian island indicate that this may be the area chosen for the first bite the Allies will try to take out of Mussolini land. Allied bombers from the Middle East Command, teamed up with others from Tunisian bases and protected by fighters based on Malta and Pantelleria, have been plastering the circled area in round-the-clock raids. When invasion does come, it may coax the bashful Italian navy out of its nearby bases at Naples, Taranto, and Cagliari. Marsala has been hard hit. (International)

High School Ball Is Often The Best

By BOB WILSON
BALTIMORE—The International League's Chickadee kid believes Double A baseball is better to cope with than the high school brand of play. For this reason, 18-year-old Jack Meech, utility Baltimore second baseman, the league's youngest player, expects to hit 270 this year, his first in professional ball.
Signed by Baltimore only last year, the Baltimore kid, a youngster who carries the name of the league, is a high school pitcher but the five-foot, 125-pound right-hander says he's getting a lot of coaching instruction from talented pitchers, and as for hitting:
"In this league, you know the pitchers will throw them over the plate in high school, they're liable to throw it over you, behind you, or at you."
Jack doesn't think 270 too high to aim at, since he hit 270 last season in high school, and, after all, he expects to see action only when the Orioles are way ahead, hopelessly trailing, or if Benny Bell gets hurt.
Praised by Manager
Anything he does won't surprise Manager Tommy Thomas, who terms his roommate "a very good prospect, with a great pair of hands, ability to hit to all fields, excellent assistance, and fantastic enthusiasm."
Jack was signed, partly in May after a friend of his father, a farm implement salesman, brought him to the attention of George W. Reed, Baltimore club president. He made his debut May 23, playing one inning against Syracuse, not getting a chance to bat or handle the ball.
Thomas has only one fault to find with his recruit: "He sleeps too much—15 hours a night. That boy's upsetting my routine."

Wallace Says RFC Jones Is Hurting War

Bitter Feud Between Vice President and Cabinet Member Is Shock To President

WASHINGTON, June 30, (AP) Secretary of the Interior will discuss the coal mining situation tonight at 7:05 P.M. Eastern War Time, tonight over the Blue network.

WASHINGTON, June 30, (AP)—In a red hot quarrel, Vice President Wallace accused Secretary of Commerce Jones yesterday of obstructing important phases of the economic warfare program. Jones snapped back that Wallace was guilty of "malice and misstatements" and called for a congressional investigation.

The head-on clash, climax to a long-smouldering feud, was virtually without precedent in view of the high places the two men occupy in the government and the sharpness of the language they used.

Coming a day after War Food Administrator Davis resigned in disagreement with administration policy, the incident, confronted President Roosevelt with the biggest row yet to occur within his official family.

Roosevelt said it took him by surprise. He had only read the headlines five minutes before he told a press conference, and consequently could not comment on Wallace's charges. Asked if it did violate his instructions of last August that agency heads should come to him with their differences rather than stir public opinion, the President replied that he had not read the Wallace statement, but that he thought his impression of last August was a "very hard, hot, hot, hot, hot."

First, Wallace is a statement to a news conference by Jones (Continued On Page Two)

Knock Declares War May Last 4 More Years

War Secretary Says National Security Will Come Only If Force Is Applied

CORONADO, Calif., June 30 (AP)—The United States and her Allies face a long bitter war which may last three or four years, Secretary of War Frank Knox declared at a meeting of high Army, Navy and Marine officers and executives of San Diego City and county governments.

Secretary Knox said the time is approaching when the United States can put into effect plans for victory "and for our own success, let me urge that it's better to calculate that the war will last three to four years more, and take steps to that effect."

Knox stressed the vital role the United States must play after the war. He said security will come only if forced by those who demand it.

Frank Evans Solicits 40 Persons To Volunteer Giving Blood

Forty blood donors for the Blood Bank in Seminole County, Fla., are being sought by Frank Evans, chairman of the Seminole County Blood Bank Committee.

Persons interested may register with Mrs. F.E. Roumillat at Red Cross headquarters on First Street, he said.

The clinic for the Blood Bank will be in operation Monday, July 12, at the Sanford Clinic in the Masonic Building, starting at 9:00 A.M., he said. Dr. Putnam is technical consultant of the Blood Bank.

"Due to the good work by the Rotary Club financial committee," Dr. Putnam, the Seminole County Blood Bank, an independent organization as a part of the Central Florida Blood Bank which was organized a year ago.

"At the present time we have 24 quarts of blood plasma which was procured from blood drawn at a previous clinic several months ago with the cooperation of the Florida State Board of Health.

"Blood has been drawn on several occasions from his supply in urgent cases where the lives of local citizens were at stake," he added.

"This proves conclusively the absolute necessity of local storage of human blood in peace time as well as war time," he said. "This blood will be processed in the future at the Central Blood Bank in Orlando."

30 Year Lease Is Given On USO Bldg.

A resolution authorizing a 30 year lease to the Federal Government on the site of the Federal Extension Building for service men, now being completed at the southwest corner of First Mellon Park, was passed by the City Council Monday evening, according to City Clerk H. N. Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer presented a tentative City budget for the fiscal year ending Oct. 1, 1943. It includes a budget for the new well and sewer pump now in operation. $1,200 million of bonds can be delivered instead of cash.

A Commission authorized to study the problem of the city's water supply, according to a resolution passed Monday evening at an Executive Committee meeting, will be appointed next Wednesday evening, July 7, instead, Mr. Sawyer said.

Pfc. Benton Says Germans Smart, But Not Enough

Pfc. Edgar Benton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Benton, 511 Cedar Avenue, has been stationed in North Africa for some time and is in on a good deal of the recent fighting. It was revealed in a letter to his parents, part of which they have released for publication.

"Speaking about the weather being so hot there. Here it is 12 and I was sure glad to see land and at night it gets very cool. I have been getting some real good sunbaths for the last few weeks. I have been enjoying it very much."

"You have probably seen the maps of the different towns and places over here. Now that the war is over here, I can tell you some of the places I have been to. We left Ireland on Dec. 12 and went to England. We were only there until Dec. 21 and the started down here. We landed in Oran about Jan. 3 and I was sure glad to see land again. Just before we landed I had the biggest scare I have ever had in all my life. We were supposed to have landed about 10 miles from land and suddenly there was a big noise and the boat just shook. I was ready then to start trying to swim but it was only another ship had rammed into us. The room next to us was beginning to fill with water and I didn't like that so much. I think everyone on the boat was scared by what we made it on to land O.K. No one was hurt but the ship had a large hole in the side of it. That night everything in Oran was all lit up like N.Y.C. and we didn't see any lights at night since we left we left the states. We stayed for that vicinity for almost a month and then it was time to start the job we came over here for. We left and went thru Algeria into Tunisia all the way by truck and that was some ride. I had about 800 miles in the back of an army truck. After we got up here is where the fireworks started. It was just like you see in the movies only the real thing. Although I wasn't right on the front lines when the fighting was going on, I wasn't far behind that the shells didn't come back sometimes. Our biggest worry was air craft. Jones Insists Americans Are Eating Better

New Food Administrator Promises To Do The Best He Can With Tools He Has

WASHINGTON, June 30, (AP) Tonight, Uncle Sam will take a personal interest in your pay check. Official estimate employers will deduct about $500,000,000 a month from the pay envelopes of employees under the new system to keep the people on an income tax pay as you go basis.

WASHINGTON, June 30, (AP) Judge Marvin Jones took over yesterday as War Food administrator with a definite indication that he believed any shortages would be only relative to a people he said were better fed than ever before in the nation's history.

"The American people are getting more and better than ever before," he said and added that it was a point not enough emphasized in talk of shortages. He said there would be enough food for a "healthful diet" for the duration of the war.

"As war food administrator, I expect to do the best job with the tools at hand," Jones said as he took the oath of office to succeed Chester Davis.

His statement was accepted as evidence that he would not exercise any enlargement of the powers which his predecessor contained were insufficient to meet the responsibilities of the post.

Davis' resignation was accepted by President Roosevelt Monday night for more authority, particularly in relation to prices, and a direct disagreement over the administration program to take the oath of office to succeed Chester Davis.

Another inter-club meeting will be held by the Sanford and DeLand Kiwanis Club at the Elmer Methodist Home at DeLand on the evening of Tuesday, July 13, at 8:00 P.M.

Invation Of Europe Told By Churchill

Combined American Forces Occupy Island of Rendova In Central Solomons

Prime Minister Churchill forecast an Allied invasion of Europe today in London while in Washington the Navy Department announced that combined American forces have landed on Rendova Island in the central Solomons.

The Prime Minister said, "It is very probable there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of Autumn fall."

Also in London British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called upon Premier Mussolini to "sally in the interests of humanity."

Other news items were relatively quiet although in Russia Soviet troops captured a strongly defended hill from the Nazis in hand fighting on the northwest front.

In Washington, the Navy announced today that combined American forces have landed on Rendova Island in the Central Solomons in what appeared to be the first stage of a new offensive operation against Japanese positions in the south Pacific.

Rendova's most obvious military characteristic is that it lies only about five miles south of Munda where the Japanese late last year developed an airbase.

Deadline Is Near To Get Cigarette Selling Permits

Retailers of cigarettes were today advised by Mrs. P. A. Metz, who at the Court House is awaiting her husband as deputy director of the cigarette tax division for Seminole County, that new sales licenses of $1 and stamps for cigarettes in stock must be secured by Thursday, July 1.

"There is quite a penalty if cigarettes are sold after that date without complying with these regulations," she said.

After July 1, each individual package of cigarettes must bear the three cent revenue stamp as directed by the State. This means that retailers must stamp each package before selling it. After these are sold it will not be necessary for the retailer to stamp each package," she said.

Meanwhile cigarette jobbers, most of them lacking machines to do the stamping, which are stated to cost several hundred dollars and of which very few are available in the state, face the job of hand stamping the cigarettes. This is a transfer job, accomplished by wetting the stamps and must be done exactly according to directions to get the desired result.

"We intend to get the stamping job accomplished, although being a transfer job, it will be a hard job to do by hand," said H. M. Pearce of the Wight Grocery Company, jobbers of cigarettes.

At the Smoke House it was stated that two times would be required to operate the cigarette machine, the actual cost of the cigarettes being 19 cents, and the other cent being for the penny's worth of matches. In the event the matches are not wanted, the penny will be refunded. At stores where cigarettes are sold across the counter, the usual price will be 19 cents, it was stated.

Dealers today are expecting a last minute rush of buyers of cigarettes before the tax goes into effect.
