Defense Cross Examines Story Against Hines

Weinberg Is Unruffled As He Denies Theft Accusations Made By Stryker

Defendant Says Witness Is Lying

Two Named By State's Star Witness Deny Any Part In Gift

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Unruffled and unflinching cross-examination, George Weinberg, 36, business manager of old Dutch Schultz gang, today denied accusations by the counsel for James J. Hines that he stole $300,000 from the Schultz "policy empire."

Weinberg, returning his testimony against Hines, Tammany district leader on trial charged with conspiracy to extort political protection to a gang, was questioned closely about the Schultz treasury.

Defense counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker turned back to Weinberg's conviction at the age of 19 for conspiring to commit a burglary but Weinberg insisted his story had been to drive the burglars away in a taxicab and that he never had participated directly.

Yesterday Hines stood up in Supreme Court and cried out that George Weinberg was lying. The dramatic moment came late in the afternoon after Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief defense lawyer, had begun a sharp cross-examination of the witness.

Many Arrests Expected In Prison Death

Investigators Plan To Test Cells To Find If They Are Planned Roasters

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Arrest of at least eight persons on the "baking to death" of a convict, who led a hunger strike at Philadelphia county prison, was predicted today by Governor Charles A. Harsch.

He said the investigation he is conducting with District Attorney John A. Boyle indicated at least that many would be implicated in the deaths of the men in the steam-heated, almost air-tight punishment cells.

State prison investigators and they planned to "bake" on the heat and enter the stuffy cells to learn whether the punishment cell block was a "planned roaster."

When the men appeared before Nathan Bell, Assistant District Attorney John A. Boyle protested that the arrests were "premature" and asked the magistrate to exclude testimony believed agreed and held the guards without bail for a hearing next Tuesday.

Later Boyle obtained from Commonwealth Judge Gerald F. Flood a writ transferring the guards from police custody to that of the district attorney. He notified police his office was "taking complete charge of the investigation."

Flood held the men in $2,500 bail and ordered them brought before him next Tuesday. The attorney promised to raise bail for their early release.

Whittington Is Chosen Judge For National Fox Hunt

C. C. Whittington, local hound enthusiast, has been chosen as one of the judges for the 45th annual run of the National Fox Hunters Association to be held this year in Winchester, Ky., during the week beginning Nov. 17.

Mr. Whittington is the first Floridian ever to be given the distinction of judging the hounds at the national meet. He was awarded this honor for his activities in judging local, state and regional field trials throughout the Southeast during the past five years.

At least 600 hounds from all over the United States will participate in the week's chasing of red fox. Mr. Whittington stated, pointing out that there would be two main events in the chase. The first event will be a chase futurity with a purse of $500 for the winning hound. Mr. Whittington said, explaining that hounds in this event were limited according to age and were required to meet other exacting standards. The second event will be the National All-Age Championship run in which the owners of the winning dogs will be awarded trophies of many kinds.

In conjunction with the field trials there will be a bench and a horse show, he said, adding that leading apartment men from all over the United States were making entries for the event.

Chamberlain's "Unrealistic" Policy

Two days ago Premier Mussolini through his son-in-law, Count Ciano, announced that Italy is sending regular army divisions to Spain as additional reinforcements for Gen. Franco's belated rebels. Three months ago Italy concluded a widely hailed accord with England, agreeing not only not to send any more volunteers to Spain, but also to withdraw those already there.

The conclusion of this accord was the cornerstone of Prime Minister Chamberlain's "realistic" foreign policy. He explained to Parliament that the way to avoid war was to play ball with the dictators, and he set about trying to make friendship pacts with both Italy and Germany with the understanding that in return for loans and certain other concessions from England the dictators would stop bombing British ships and committing other acts of aggression.

It was because of this effort of Chamberlain's to deal with the dictators that Anthony Eden, then British foreign minister, resigned. It was his belief that any treaty made with Mussolini was not worth the paper it was written on, that the only way to deal with international outlaws was to meet force with force. He advocated a strong stand by both Britain and France in defense of Franco-British rights.

There is no way of knowing what the result of Eden's policy would have been as it was never tried. It might have resulted in an immediate war. Or the dictators, knowing that Britain and France were ready to fight, and realizing that they were no match for these two powerful nations, might have allowed their warlike dispositions to cool.

However this may be, one thing is certain that Chamberlain's policy of trying to deal "realistically" with Europe's problems has gotten nowhere, and that the world is much closer to another great war now than it was three months ago.

A Man's Best Friend

George Vest, an attorney, stopped over in Sedalia, Mo. to visit some friends for a few days. While there he was asked to represent a man whose pet dog had been killed by a neighbor. Vest sued the neighbor for $250, and the following appeal to the jury proved so effective that the plaintiff was awarded $500. Vest settled permanently in Missouri, and was finally elected to the United States Senate where he served for 32 years.

"The best friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps, when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads.

"The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog. A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and poverty, in health and sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens.

"If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him, to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies and when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad, but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death."

Florida Tag Numbers To Be Simpler In '39

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 25 — (P)—Florida's automobile license tag numbers will be simplified in 1939 to meet some objections raised by J. Edgar Hoover, chief G-man, after the Cash kidnaping investigation.

Commissioner D. W. Friley said he had decided to retain the number of each tag designating the county to which it is sold. This figure, running from one to 68, will be separated from the tag number by the letter which indicates the type car on which the plate is to be used.

Thus a $15 passenger car tag of Leon county will read 13D1000, where this year it reads D13-1000.

Hoover Objected Particularly to the Dashes Separating Numbers

On $10 passenger car tags, there is no letter designating so such a plate will read 13-1000. The state cabinet discussed a proposal to eliminate the county number but took no action because the motor vehicle commission has sole power to decide on the tag form.

The cabinet delayed purchase of paint for the red-on-white tags to be made at the state prison in Raiford until a brand is found that will not fade. Employees reported difficulty in the past.

MATHER STORES FORCED TO PAY

$25,200

To the State of Florida -- Comptroller Lee Decides We are a Chain of Fifteen Stores.

... We Must, Therefore, Raise the CASH in 10 Days.

This Comes When We are in the Midst of Our Removal Sale. Therefore We are, Forced to Slash Prices A Second Time. This is Your Gain--Take Advantage of it.

Here Is The Law WHAT IT CLAIMS CHAIN STORE SENATE BILL No. 724 SECTION 1 A. Due to Advantages of 1. Mass Buying 2. Intensive Selling 3. More efficient utilization of capital assets 4. More efficient coverage and results of advertising 5. Specialized character of merchandising Stores operated in multiple units enjoy an advantage over individually owned stores. B. And Tend to Foster Monopoly 1. Create Unemployment 2. Drive their competitors out of business Therefore chain stores should be DISCOURAGED AS A MATTER OF PUBLIC POLICY.

Here Is What We Deny 1-That we foster monopoly and drive competitors out of business. There are now more furniture stores in Sanford than before chain stores entered the field, and ALL stores are doing a better business. 2-That we create unemployment. There are today more individuals employed at greater than average wage in retail furniture stores than ever before. 3-That chain stores should be discouraged and driven out of business as a matter of public policy, if this were true, why not discourage enterprises such as Henry Ford, Simmons and Florence Range? 4-To discourage chain stores as a matter of public policy would mean to rob the average working citizen of the opportunity to enjoy the comforts of home which he now enjoys because of chain store distribution and LIBERAL LONG-TERM SYSTEM OF CREDIT.

Here Is What We Admit 1-That we can sell better furniture at a lower price than can individually owned stores. 2-That we save money on merchandising methods and pass the savings on to the consumer. 3-That we have more efficient coverage and results of advertising (again passing the savings on to the consumer). 4-That we buy in quantity and at lower prices than can the individually owned stores. 5-That we price our merchandise at cost, plus operating expenses, plus a reasonable profit. 6-That we have been doing business in Florida for the past 43 years, serving thousands of customers, creating employment for thousands of workers, selling the best furniture at the lowest prices we know how. You are the consumer--you be the judge.

50,000 Lose Their Social Security Numbers In Month

Board Gets Harvest Of Fiction As Workers Ask For Duplicates

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Every month 50,000 apologetic souls write to get duplicates of their social security cards. They have lost theirs.

The excuses make nice Sunday morning reading. Babes have chewed up several dozen. That's a little hard to understand, but there it is. Some went off to smoke when the house burned, then there's the old excuse, "My wife lost it."

One fellow probably had been reading de Mungusant, because his card was hidden behind grandfather's picture over the mantel. He forgot about it the day the paperhanger came to do the living room.

Other thousands go to the opposite extreme in care. They carry their cards everywhere and the cards wear out. The board has been experimenting with a protective transparent coat for the card. But nothing's decided. Some bright people figure it's easier to open a new account than to explain the loss of an old one. But the board's light bookkeeping system shows up the duplication and one account is dropped.

That tight little system, by the way, is the world's biggest bookkeeping operation. Between 35 and 42 million accounts are on tap in the 200,000 square feet of social security office space in Baltimore.

They've doped out a fancy way of keeping down the terrific space (and rent) requirements. They photograph all the cards on thin film for one duplicate file.

The real bookkeeping headaches are the old-age pensioners with part time jobs. Take the longshoremen. They may help unload twenty boats in a month, so their names show up on records of twenty different companies. Yet every cent they earn is recorded on their individual accounts so that their pensions can be figured accurately when they turn 65.

Lady correspondents with the bureau have a special problem that takes a lot of writing. They want to know, "If I get married, do I lose my right to an old-age pension?" One confided she wasn't "crazy enough about Joe" to marry him if it would cost her the pension. The board advises these ladies to go ahead and get married because the account card plays right in the file, and if the lady should go back to work once or a dozen times in her life her record will show it.

It gets pretty difficult at times to explain to some people—like the Negro farmhand who wandered into the Jacksonville (Fla.) office. He was pretty vague about why he was there. But they figured he wanted a card. So they started the routine of questions. First, what was his name?

"Mortimer," he said.

"Mortimer, what?"

"Oh, just Mortimer."

After ten minutes they had Mortimer's last name. That kept up for how old he was, where he was born, what his mother's maiden name was and so on. After forty-five minutes the social security people were perspiring, but they had drawn out Mortimer's record. So they filled in a card and handed it to him. Mortimer's face showed the dawn of a great light—Mortimer's hand dived into his back pocket and he pulled out a card as he announced contentedly, "Oh, I got one of 'em."

Setting accounts can be an other-run-around, especially when people die in some unorthodox manner. This year the board had to worry about some American seamen who went down with a clipper off South America. The board had to be sure the men really were dead before it paid. Finally they just decided the men had signed on and the ship had gone down so the men must be dead.

Inducing Siamese twins is a double trouble. On their cards it is only the first name that's different. But there is one pair of side-show entertainers whose names are Mary and Margaret. So their accounts are exactly alike except for the letters in their first names that comes after "Mar."

The records for some business are often involve points of ethics. Some poolrooms, for instance, send in records for a surprisingly large number of employees. The pay-off is there in a gambling room upstairs.

The board read over the law. Since it did not say anything about catching law-breakers, the board just made out the wage cards and washed its hands of the rest.

ment race but is making great strides to catch up. The defense estimate for this year is $4,031,961. Practically all the Canadian aircraft plants are working on national defense orders. Heavy artillery, anti-aircraft guns and tanks are being purchased from Great Britain. Canada itself is manufacturing light machine guns of the Bren type.

The country's naval power does not amount to much. Its present strength is six destroyers and four minesweepers, with 116 officers and 1,352 ratings. Lack of the navy are three classes of reservists.

The Canadian army numbers 144 officers and 3,692 other ranks of the permanent force, and 5,212 officers and 40,101 other ranks of the militia.

Military activities were not popular in Canada after the war and financial support was hard to come by. Officers of the militia were forced to forego pay and to spend private funds to support their regiments. Now, however, the vital importance of the militia is being realized, and there is expectation of further appropriations.

The Royal Canadian air force is composed of 218 officers and 1,702 of other ranks, plus 81 officers and 752 other ranks in the militia. In recent years, most of the appropriations for Canada's armed forces have been applied to this branch. At present 127 new planes are in the process of delivery. The force is preoccupied with Pacific coast and St. Lawrence defenses. The principal base is Trenton, Ont.

Tobacco Growers Get $4,500,000 For Crop

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 25—(AP)—This year's tobacco crop brought Florida growers about $4,500,000, the State Marketing Bureau estimated today.

Sales at six live oak warehouses and two at Lake City totaled 10,080,275 pounds with returns of $2,250,600 for average of $22.1 a hundred pounds.

The bureau estimated the total Florida crop was 14,000,000 pounds and said difference between that and sales at Live Oak and Lake City was made up by the shipments to Georgia auctions.

German movie fans prefer scenes depicting life among the upper ten thousand to any other kind, according to the monthly magazine, "Der Deutsche Film."

Lookouts Drop Contest To Senators By Score Of 8-1

Six Local Errors Assist Orlando Nine In Victory

Bill Holland Limits Rodgersmen To Six Safeties While Joe Pinder Gives Up Nine Blows To Opponents

Behind the six-hit pitching of Bill Holland, the Orlando Senators walloped the Sanford Lookouts Wednesday night at Tinker field in Orlando 9 to 1. The Senators seemed to be on their way to a shutout when Bob Pitman, Lookout third sacker, tangled with one out in the ninth, were to third on Johnny Ada's single and on Sid Hudson's long flyball to right came in with the local lone run of the game. While Sanford was booting six chances with the ball astir, young Joe Pinder permitted the Senators to tie the game. Orlando scored three runs in the fifth inning to begin the deluge of scores. To open the frame Smith walked, Holland bunted and was safe when De Ramus miscalculated his throw to special in an effort to catch Smith. Pinder entered on Buggerio's bunt and all were safe. Smith came in when Elliot put a single down on the third base line. Cole's single drove in Holland and sent Buggerio to third from where he scored on a wild pitch. In the seventh frame the Senators added three more to their total and in the eighth got their last two runs of the evening. Pinder was wild most of the evening being unable to control his tosses when he most needed it. He walked seven; Holland walked one one while striking out six batters.

Colorado's Dust Bowl May Become Cattle Domain

Abandoned Farms To Be Turned Into Domain For Cattle

BRIGGSDALE, Colo., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Cowboys are being searched wheat lands here. And with a little more time, the dust experts say, north-east Colorado's dust bowl may be converted into a grass-covered domain for cattle.

Already, the fences and the land have been uprooted from more than a quarter million acres. A barbed wire fence in the north and the wheat fields have been removed.

Eventually, the government hopes to turn more than a million of the region's unirrigated acres into a pasture so gigantic that it will bring back the old-fashioned round-up.

Before the droughts of recent years began to wither crops and bring dust storms, the families were trying to make a living on the quarter-million-acre domain by raising a occasional bumper wheat or bean crop.

When disaster struck, the government offered to resettle some of the families and to buy the worst of the farms. About 100 families sold to the government.

CLASS had German navy membership, Harold Wessel (named for a Nazi hero), as she left home port, Kiel, for training cruise to West Indies. "Harold Wessel" is also the name of the famous Nazi marching song.

Chesterfield Begins New Schedule Of Ads

With an appeal to "smoke Chesterfields for more pleasure," the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. will launch next week its fall advertising campaign with a series of ads, which will show Chesterfield smokers in lively, human situations. The ads will appear in daily newspapers throughout the country, including The Sanford Herald.

Announcing their new advertising schedule, officials of Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. declared Chesterfield advertising has been "readily popular with the public and tobacco retailers because it advertises Chesterfield cigarettes for the smoking pleasure they give." The "pleasure" illustrations are backed up with interesting copy which shows that "the Chesterfield way to real tobacco smoking pleasure is to age, blend and manufacture choice tobaccos in the way that makes a cigarette better tasting, mild and completely pure."

LEWIS FIGHTS

Four cowpunchers hired by the association are now "riding fence" to see that no one tries to steal grazing rights in the area.

U.S. Makes Emphatic Objection To Japan's Attack On Airliner

Ambassador Grew Presents Secretary Hull's Protest To Tokyo Government

Intense Fighting Rages In China

220 Killed, 70 Hurt In New Bomb Explosion In Holy Land

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—The United States expressed to Japan its "emphatic objection" to the attack of Japanese war planes on a Chinese commercial airliner Wednesday with the reported loss of 11 lives.

On instructions from Secretary Hull, Ambassador Joseph G. Grew, Tokyo, presented the Japanese government with a note which declared:

"My government desires to express its emphatic objection to the jeopardizing in this way of the lives of Americans, as well as other non-combatant occupants of unarmed civilian planes engaged in clearly recognized and established commercial services over a regularly scheduled air route."

Hull told the Japanese "the attack upon the plane has aroused public feeling in the United States."

The pilot of the plane was an American, Hugh L. Wood, Winfield, Kan., who was one of the three survivors.

Hostilities continued in the wars in Spain and China and in the racial strife between Jews and Arabs in Palestine.

Spanish Government dispatches reported insurgent troops were attacking in force north and south of Gandesa in an attempt to flatten the wedge. Government troops drove a month ago in a sudden offensive across the Ebro river.

Bulletins acknowledge Government lines were giving slightly on the southern Catalan front but asserted the offensive on the Extremadura front in the northwest was staving off the insurgent drive on the rich Almaden mercury mines.

Intense fighting raged on the west shore of Poyang Lake in central China where Japanese were driving toward the Nanchang air base, strategic point in the outer defenses of Hankow, provisional Chinese capital. Both sides suffered heavy losses.

At least 20 Arabs were killed and 70 others wounded by a terrific bomb explosion in a crowded Jaffa market place which touched off furious Holy Land rioting.

Four bodies were recovered from the wreckage of the Chicago-down and machine gunned near American owned airplane Wednesday by a Japanese air squadron near Canton, China.

Malay and Siamese athletes, especially footballers and boxers, are credited with consuming the blood and flesh of tigers to give them courage.

Sharon Selected As Speaker For Townsend Clubs Local Attorney Given Credentials For Work In Movement

James G. Sharon, County Judge and for a long time prominently identified with the political life of Seaside County, has been selected as an authorized Townsend speaker, according to information received from national headquarters as disclosed at the Sanford Townsend Club meeting Thursday night in the Welaka Building.

In commenting on Mr. Sharon's selection, Arthur E. Kirshoff, secretary of the local club, told The Herald Friday morning that the "national headquarters" is very particular in the selection of speakers. He said this was so because "it is absolutely necessary to keep out false propaganda."

"Before national headquarters issues credentials to any person to speak on the Townsend Plan, great care is exercised to ascertain the fitness of the candidate. Mr. Sharon has come up to all the required standards. He has been a conscientious worker in the National Recovery Plan, and of sterling character," Mr. Kirshoff stated.

In accepting his new position, Mr. Sharon thanked the club for the honor and declared: "I'm Paul of old, I'm ready at all times to go and do all the good that I can and go wherever I am sent."

Members of the club feel that the appointment of Mr. Sharon will assist in bringing prominence to Sanford nationally in the Townsend cause.

President And Farley Agree In Conference

Postmaster-General Reported To Have Urged FDR To Campaign In Maryland

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 26. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he and Postmaster-General James A. Farley "were in complete agreement as usual" during a political conference here. The President made the direct statement in answer to questions at a press conference.

He and Farley were understood to have gone over the political situation in every state in which the New Deal is a political issue. Farley reportedly urged the President to go personally into Maryland in an effort to defeat Senator Millard T. Ewing, Administration opponent of making a nomination.

The President did not comment on this, saying he had no general policies to be already announced for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Chattanooga, Tenn., today.

HYDE PARK, Aug. 26. (AP)—President Roosevelt today appointed Donald Wakefield Smith of Pennsylvania as a member of the National Labor Relations Board. Smith's term will be five years. His old term expires tomorrow.

Survey Reveals Small Increase In Foodstuff Prices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—The price of the nation's foodstuffs, except slowly upward in early summer months, but still generally well below the average for the corresponding period of 1937.

Statistics compiled by Bureau of Labor Statistics show 20.2 cents bought as much food in June as could be obtained with 86.3 cents in the same month of 1937—the same amount 100 cents purchased in 1937.

But the same quantity of food purchased with the 80 and a fraction cents in June could have been bought for 79.1 cents in May.

The increase of 1.3 percent of the food index was attributed by the bureau to jumps in the price of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The department based its figures on a study of food prices in 51 cities.

Figures for individual districts and cities included: South Atlantic, 77.6 percent in June, 77.5 percent in May, and 85.3 percent in June, 1937; Atlanta, 72.5, 72.9 and 83.5; Jacksonville, 76.8, 76.3 and 82.3.

Townsend Club Has Its Regular Meeting

New impetus to the Merchants Co-operative Plan, whereby 2 percent of the amount purchased by Townsend members is contributed to the club, was reported at the meeting held Thursday night in the Welaka Building.

Arthur E. Kirshoff, secretary of the club, was instructed to write to the Florida State Chamber of Commerce that Sanford will endorse the resolution to have the 1938 Townsend convention held in Florida. It was pointed out again that Florida is the first and only state to elect all senators and representatives on the Townsend Plan.

The Sanford Herald was mentioned for favorable publicity given the club.

Garden Club Plans To Begin Beautification Work Soon

Redirection of the city's beautification program, which has been suspended since the late war, will probably begin Saturday, it was announced Friday by Mrs. Lucie I. Williams.

It is the purpose of the Garden Club to plant the land left by the late war, mostly public and school grounds, with trees and shrubs and plantings which will beautify the city.

Mrs. Williams declared that it has long been the intention and desire of the Garden Club to beautify the city through the purchase of land in order to make an attractive entrance to the city coming in from the south on the right.

The word filtered to Mr. Moughton through some sort of grapevine telegraph that at the last meeting of Kiwanis, George A. DeCottis had suggested naming the animals Sid and Josephine after President Sidney Cox and Joseph L. Zoo's New Puma Cubs Are Named After Kiwanians

The two puma cubs recently donated to the zoo by the Kiwanis Club have been named Sid and Josephine after a couple of Kiwanians.

James Moughton, superintendent of parks, felt that because the Kiwanis Club had been kind enough to purchase the pair of five young animals for the zoo that it was only right they should receive recognition for their good deed.
