TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

The everlasting arms are a safe refuge. He will come in due time for our aid if we are patient. Rest in the Lord and wait patiently for him.—Ps. 37:7.

Russia is reported to have 370 submarines in actual service and plans to build a thousand more.
We wonder how anyone outside of Russia, even James Fighting Ships, finds out what Russia plans to do.

The Sanitary Engineering Committee of Cleveland, Ohio is conducting a nationwide survey to locate the country's oldest sewer pipe. We don't know, but some of those in Sanford might have that distinction.

Uncle Dan from Doolie says,
"The President told reporters at Key West it looked like Russia was trying to 'tax our patience'."
Well, Truman has taxed everything else, and if the Russians don't tax our patience, we'll bet Harry does.

An Australian radio network broadcasting "The Kindergarten of the Air" tells thousands of children, age 3 to 5, there is no Santa Claus, it's all just a lot of propaganda dished up by cruel and heartless parents. There ought to be some special kind of jail made for that program director.

Veterans Administration officials in Miami are accused of accepting gifts of turkeys, whisky and what have you, from building contractors in the Miami area in connection with GI housing loans.
GIs who have built houses, which sometimes fall apart before they are paid for, should be interested in the reason for such gifts.

In addition to their efforts in trying to prevent accidents, curtail reckless driving, Florida Highway patrolmen are proving of invaluable assistance to the motoring public in numerous other ways. So far this year they have helped 72,917 motorists having difficulty with flat tires, drowned out cars, defective batteries, and similar breakdowns.

Some Florida motorists are going "hog wild on the highways," says the State Safety Director. They have accounted for 19 deaths in one weekend recently, and 811 so far this year.
It is too bad we cannot have a duel system of highways in this state, one for those who drive hog wild, the other for those who want to live.

It pays to advertise, Florida has just received the one mil-lionth inquiry in the six year history of the State Advertising Commission. Florida probably didn't get a new industry, a new resident, or even a new visitor as a result of each of these inquiries. But you can bet your bottom dollar that much of Florida's growth in the past six years can be attributed to Florida's great advertising program.

Chinese and Korean Communists have turned over to the Allies a list of 11,559 United Nations prisoners, including 3,198 Americans, they admit holding, or short of the total of 100,000 or more they are believed to have captured. And they camouflaging a tremendous number of tragic atrocities, the UN Commanders believe, or did the war do fighting in battle without ever being captured at all? The answer to that question may never be answered.

The United Nations Commission on the Responsibility of the United States Government, which was set up by the UN in 1946, remains the policy of the Soviet government.
The Soviet-Nazi negotiations referred to in the American press were reported when the Allies signed German documents at the end of the war. Many of these documents were signed on which the current UN is set up, were signed by the state Department about the year ago in a volume on Nazi-Soviet relations.

Appraising Roosevelt

Was the influence of Franklin D. Roosevelt good or bad? The late J. Brooks B. Parker, a Pennsylvania insurance executive, thought that this question should be decided, and that the best time to do it was now, before the chief witness vanished from the scene. He therefore bequeathed $25,000 to hire the best historians to study the Roosevelt record and publish their findings.

Neither the executors of the will nor the men whom they may pick for this task are to be envied. Already the existing literature on the late President has been estimated to exceed that on any other chief executive except Lincoln. Robert E. Sherwood, biographer of Roosevelt's friend and agent, Harry Hopkins, says that quantities of Hopkins papers have not yet been examined. The documents of the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, promised for publication soon, will need consideration. Much other pertinent material must be still unpublished. Examination of all this will almost certainly take so long that the $25,000 will be exhausted well before the task is concluded.

The choice of the historians will be no small problem. How are the executors to exclude bias? President Roosevelt aroused so much emotion for and against him and his works, in all groups of society, that even supposedly impartial historical specialists probably have their share of prejudice. It is likely that no findings will gain permanent acceptance. Napoleon has been dead 130 years, with innumerable studies of his career, yet there is still no agreement as to whether his influence was good or bad.

Pince-Nez On A Pigeon

A few months ago two New York office workers declared that a pigeon wearing spectacles, pince-nez in fact, had appeared on the sill of their seventh floor window. It was an insurance office, but the bird seemed merely curious and showed no desire to purchase an annuity or a twenty-year endowment policy. After an absence of four months the pigeon appeared again and the people who saw him the first time were relieved to see that he was still wearing the glasses.

When a man wishes to convince someone else that he has seen a pigeon wearing spectacles, he had better have a long record of sobriety to back him up. But this time a newspaper photographer managed to get a picture of the bespectacled bird, which should help to convince cynics.

Many cities have become provoked with pigeons which linger in the eaves of public buildings and have taken action to drive the pigeons away. Some have resorted to sprays, electrical devices and streams of water to dislodge the pigeon tenants. It may be that this bird has decided to wear the glasses as a safety measure in the belief that persons will be restrained from making passes at pigeons which wear glasses.

Honor For Athletes

A Wisconsin hall of fame for athletes is a feature of the new $5,000,000 arena in Milwaukee. Plaques have been installed honoring conspicuous performers and coaches in football, baseball, track, bowling, boxing and wrestling. The impressive array ranges from Strangler Lewis as the state's best wrestler to Kid Nichols, a National League pitcher who won 360 games in the '90's and has recently been elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, New York.

The Wisconsin idea probably will be imitated. Both states and communities often have produced star athletes in whom they justly take pride. The hamlet of Ney, Ohio, could well put up a sign telling the world that it is the home of Ned Garver, the pitcher who last season won twenty games for the tall-tail St. Louis Browns. The Oklahoma home town of Carl Hubbell, the former star hurler of the New York Giants, did just that.

Athletic prowess is not the highest form of activity that a town or state can produce, but civic pride may be stimulated by honor paid to it. Once civic pride is stirred, it may develop other causes for celebration.

Gus Hall Is Found Guilty Of Contempt

NEW YORK (AP)—Gus Hall, one of the convicted Communist party leaders, was found guilty in federal court today of criminal contempt for failing to surrender last July to begin a five year prison term for violation of the Smith Act.

Hall now is serving his five year term. He was ordered by Judge Sylvester J. Ryan to appear Dec. 27 for sentencing.

During his trial the government asked that, if convicted, Hall be sentenced to five to seven years more imprisonment.

Hall, former Ohio State Secretary of the Communist Party and one-time national secretary, was one of 11 party leaders convicted in 1949 of conspiring to teach and to advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The two contempt counts on which he was convicted cover his failure to surrender and his flight to Mexico from the jurisdiction of the court. He had been held in $50,000 bail.

Three others of the 11 Communists also jumped bail and are still being sought. The seven who surrendered are now serving their terms.

Hall was seized in Mexico City last October and returned to this country. He had altered his physical appearance by taking off weight, dying his hair, shaving off his mustache, and having a mole removed from the right side of his neck.

THE WORLD TODAY By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing sensational about three men sacked in 45 years for crookedness.
Not a drop in the bucket compared with more than 50 fired in a year from the Internal Revenue Bureau.
Three chiselers sacked in almost half a century can't compete for interest with cut-rate milk, home freezes, free Florida plane trips.
From the scandals, now exploding, it's easy to get the impression of interest with cut-rate milk, home freezes, free Florida plane trips.

The impression isn't any more true than trying to generalize by saying all people are good or all people are bad.
And the opposite side of the picture comes from Charles W. Crawford, head of the Food and Drug Administration.
As government agencies go, it's small. It doesn't make headlines often.

It has about 1,000 employees scattered all government employees around the country and the main office in Washington.
All come from the government's Civil Service rolls. None is a political appointee.
The agency's job is to enforce laws requiring foods, drugs and cosmetics to be pure, safe and honestly labeled.
The following story comes from Crawford, who didn't just step up with it, saying "What a good little boy am I." He was asked for it.

Since the agency was founded in 1906 only three men had to be fired for crookedness.
From the beginning the agency has had a tradition that none of its employees could accept gifts or favors of any kind from any person or organization in the drug-food-cosmetic field.
Further, lest it should create an embarrassing situation, the employees are not to accept lunch from anyone in that field.
Each new employee is told what's expected of him. And on being hired by the agency, everyone has to get rid of any interest he may have in the food-drug-cosmetic field.
For example: If he has stock in a can company in which food is distributed, he must sell his stock.

Crawford, who joined the agency in 1917, said he thinks this policy, which he inherited from his predecessors, has paid off.
The people in the industry respect the law, he said.

This restriction against any gift or money tie-ups with the industry with which it deals, doesn't mean the employees can't have other interests in that field.
For example, it's all right for them to have stock or some other financial interest in a firm or industry not connected with their field of operation.
Last night, President Truman laid down a general rule for all government employees: no gifts from people doing business with the government.

He issued that statement after being told the steps another agency has been taking for years to keep its employees honest. This was the Housing and Home Finance Agency, headed by Raymond M. Foley.

Foley years ago laid down a standing order to his employees, except gifts or gratuities from anyone with whom they deal in the home and housing industry.
Besides, he said, his employees must sign a statement listing all their outside interests. An IHFPA official in Puerto Rico was fired not long ago for failing to list his interest in a housing company.

He issued that statement after being told the steps another agency has been taking for years to keep its employees honest. This was the Housing and Home Finance Agency, headed by Raymond M. Foley.

while off their course on a flight from West Germany to Belgrade, Yugoslavia. Only Tuesday a Budapest dispatch quoted a Hungarian weekly as referring to "hostilism" of the detained fliers, indicating a possibility the Communists were attempting to draw a "confession" from them.

Sanford baseball fans are up in the air about just what's going to happen to the local club since the Glants' publicly announced in the Glants' publicist's office that they had no plans for supporting a club here in 1952.

About the only man who seems to have any of the answers, and he is asked questions about the club daily, is John Krider, state league president, and last year's manager of the Sanford club. But Krider hasn't been coming out with much big talk about what the Sanford fans can expect.

When the Glants go, they take their money with them which means Sanford interests must put up the dough and quick, to maintain their Florida State League franchise.

And publicity wise, any time in the next two weeks is the wrong time to issue any thunderous announcements about what needs to be done to get a ball club set for the coming year.

Folks who haven't seen a good baseball game in some time might do well to take the 40 minute ride over to Winter Park High

Sports Scribes Divided On Two Platoon System

Pool Finds Some Enthusiastic, Others Violently Opposed

NEW YORK (AP)—There's one thing sure about the two-platoon system in football: you can stir up a good argument about it whether you're for or against it.

School's new gym Thursday afternoon to see the Seminoles quintet play the Parkers.

Rollins College to the south and Stetson just a few miles to the north have what looks to be some of the finest basketball material in the state this year.

of alternating offensive and defensive teams listed the following reasons:

- 1—It gives more boys a chance to play.
- 2—It makes for more exciting football.
- 3—This is an era of specialists, why not in football?
- 4—It reduces the number of injuries in that fresh players are used.

The anti list had the following reasons:

- 1—The necessity for "deep" squads further recruiting and protesting.
- 2—It will force many schools, especially the smaller ones, to give up the game because of the cost.
- 3—It is too confusing for the spectator.
- 4—It makes for too many specialists.

"Two-platoon football may be costing small schools more money but it brings more exciting football and allows more boys to play, and probably will reduce the number of injuries if schools scheduled only teams in their own size and strength, the situation probably would be equalized."

"While it is true that many more boys get a chance to play in platoon football, I like the old-time game wherein a boy played all for one."

Wade Is Shown As Top Southeastern Total Offense Ace

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Vanderbilt's Bill Wade was the top total offense back of the Southeastern Conference this year; Tennessee's Hank Lauricella was the No. 1 half carrier and Kentucky's Babe Parilli led the passers, all are seniors.

The SEC statistics were announced today by Joe Sherman, University of Florida sports publicist and league football statistician.

| Team | Player | Yds. | TDs | Att. | Comp. |

Illinois Stays In Unbeaten Class By Whipping Oklahoma Quint 69-51

By TED MEIER NEW YORK (AP)—Illinois, of the Big 10; Kansas, of the Big Seven; Southern California, from the Pacific Coast Conference; and Syracuse, a major Eastern Independent, spotlighted college basketball competition Tuesday night.

Illinois, ranked third in the Associated Press poll, stayed in the unbeaten class by trouncing Oklahoma, 69-51, for its third successive victory.

Unbeaten Kansas, ranked seventh, walloped Rice, 68-48, as big Clyde Lovellette scored 24 points to boost his season total to 167.

Syracuse, whacked Dartmouth, 64-57, in the first college doubleheader ever played in Syracuse to stay in the unbeaten ranks.

Britain Taking Steps Against State Controls

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Britain is taking its first cautious step toward restoring confidence in the state-stertered pound sterling. Canada at the same time has taken the final step and set its dollar entirely free. Switzerland has freed the price of gold, but not its movement, from government control.

Children Enjoy Life At Florida Methodist Home

Upper left, eight children of the Nursery at the Florida Methodist Home. The 10 buildings of which are located in a park-like area of 80 acres on the shore of Lake Monticello in Enterprise. A total of 120 young people from 3 to 19 are housed in the Home's seven dormitories. Upper right, older boys of the Home are raising Christmas trees in front of Harden Hall, administration building and girls dormitory. Lower left, Warren Jackson, Key Club secretary, takes winter, slips a hole for the tree while the Rev. Charles A. Thompson, superintendent, directs. Lower center are calves at the well cared for farm, and at lower right, J. R. Goe, 13, carefully washes a calf. Forty-five highly pedigreed cows furnish ample milk and dairy products for the Home.

George A. Heroux Listed As Nation's No. 1 Criminal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The name of George Arthur Heroux, 21, today was placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals. In a circular to law enforcement officers, the FBI described Heroux as armed and "considered extremely dangerous." Heroux is wanted for the robbery of the Southbank Bank of Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 10, 1946, and the robbery of the Johnson County Bank, Prairie Village, Kan., Nov. 22.

HOLIDAY CAROLERS
LONDON (AP)—Holidayers are muscling into bands of children singing Christmas carols at public. Scotland Yard reported today that racketeers have taken over parties of youngsters averaging about 10 years old and organized them into "teams." Competitors are chased off. The children sing carols under lighted windows and house-holders usually reward them with a shilling (11 cents) or so for their songs. It's an old Christmas tradition in England. But since the holidayers look over, the kids must turn over half their collections — which usually amount to two or three pounds (10 to $5) to a night — for "protection."

Hal Boyle Calls 1951 Year Mixed With Blessings
By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—What can the average guy say about 1951 as it fades into history? Should he cry into his beer over it, or break into a cheer? Is he any better off? Has the human race inched upward or downward any since 1950? On the one hand, yes. On the other hand, question mark. It has been a mixed and indecisive year. For example— True, we avoided a World War in 1951. But we had avoided it in 1950. Are we really further or closer to one now? Truce talks began in Korea this year but hope for real peace here flickers on and off like a bad phone connection. When will it come and can we trust it when it does come? The ground the air war is hotter than ever. True, an atom bomb didn't go off in anger this year. We tested some. We're building a hydrogen bomb plant. And they're building 1,000 new submarines—and maybe a hydrogen bomb also. True, the atom has gone to work to cure disease, but when will the hope it gives outweigh the dread it brings? It wasn't safe in 1951 to remove the identification tags from the wrists of our children. Nor will it be in 1952. How about the domestic situation? The statisticians tell us that total personal income has gone up, savings have increased, debts have dropped. Tell that to your neighbor, however, and he is likely to answer "You can prove anything with statistics." The things he is sure have gone up are prices and taxes. Scandal had a heyday. It began to look like the only subsidized amateur athletes left in America were the checker players in the public parks and the old people who play shuffleboard in sunny Florida. The government cracked down on bookies. Then the government began to set up machinery to crack down on its own "wrongdoers." Congress initiated more than 100 inquiries of one kind or another. It investigated everything except why the courts stop was lower, and might have done that except you can't get votes by convicting the weather. Boy, what a confusing year! The five-star generals quarreled about how to conduct the Korean police action, and nobody could tease "Ike" Eisenhower into saying publicly whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. The traffic problem became it might have done that except you can't get votes by convicting the weather. Buy, what a confusing year! The five-star generals quarreled about how to conduct the Korean police action, and nobody could tease "Ike" Eisenhower into saying publicly whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. The traffic problem became it might have done that except you can't get votes by convicting the weather.

SWINE PROGRAM
LIVE OAK (AP)—Swain County is rapidly becoming synonymous with "hog country" because of the purshed hog program being carried on by commercial and 4-H club producers, according to Assistant County Agent Leon B. Cobb. Profound thanks have come from recent county and area fairs where Swain County hogs have won many of the top prizes. The Lake Mary School played the Sanford Grammar School at Touch Football Tuesday, with a score of 10-0. Recently, the Grammar School had defeated the Junior High 10-0 on Dec. 10. Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hall and Mrs. W. Kirehhoff of Sanford attended "The Messiah", the oratorio produced by the University Choir and Symphony in Gainesville on Dec. 9. Their daughter, Miss Betty Remball, was a member of the chorus. The Business Women's Club of the Community Church held their monthly meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. P. D. Anderson. Mrs. Ola Cochran, president presided. Various new projects for the coming year were discussed and a committee of Mrs. J. M. Thompson and Mrs. E. E. Lloyd, Jr. were appointed to measure the church for a new balcony, rail curtain and possible background curtains for the choir. Two new members were accepted, Mrs. Sidney Fowler and Mrs. J. L. Humphrey. At the conclusion of the business meeting, gifts were exchanged by the members. A heated Christmas tree, Brazilian pepper berries, and candies carried out the holiday theme in decorations and the hostess presented each with a gay boutonniere. Article On Taft By Zora Hurston In Post Magazine

A famous Negro writer who once washed dishes as help in Sanford kitchens is the recent author of a Saturday Evening Post article, "A Negro Voter Blazes Up Taft."

Zora Neale Hurston, born in Eatonville near Sanford, but now living in Kau Galle, is the author who through ambition, and taking advantage of her breaks has gained fame for her books on folklore, short stories and magazine articles. In her latest Post article of Dec. 8 she gives the reasons why she thinks the Negro vote as a Republican presidential candidate. She is the daughter of a Baptist minister who preached in Eatonville and Sanford and was a moderator of Florida colored Baptist conventions. She worked as a girl of 14 and in her autobiography, "Dust Tracks On A Road," she vividly describes the boat trip down the St. John's from Jacksonville, where she went to school, on the old side-wheeler "City of Jacksonville" and the trip on the old ACL train to Maitland.

In her recent Saturday Evening Post article she expresses optimism over Senator Taft's chances of winning the Negro vote on his record in "throwing Bilbo out of the Senate," the writing of the Taft-Hartley Act which, she says, gives Negroes an equal opportunity where they would be discriminated against by union rules, and for his record as a "brainy" leader. She cites Mrs. Taft as one of the Senator's strong points in getting Negro backing in Ohio. Mrs. Taft, she describes as a woman of wit and charm who is an effective speaker on her husband's behalf before colored audiences. The Taft family background is also given in the article as part of the Senator's vote getting power among Negroes.

Garden Gate By NELL M. WILLIAMS Sanford Garden Club

BEGONIAS . . . and How to Grow Them (Part I). The Begonias is the only horticultural genus of the family Begoniaceae. Botanists tell us that the Begonia has no genetic relationship with any other living plants. They are named for Michel Begon, a French botanist of Santo Domingo (1658-1710). They make up a large, varied group of succulent herbs or partly shrubby plants found widely distributed throughout the warm regions of the earth. Central and South America probably have more native species than all the other warm countries combined.

It is estimated that the number of species varies from 500 to 1300 and many of the natives have been introduced into cultivation. The number of varieties resulting from hybridizing and the horticultural forms developed in the gardens now runs into the thousands. This fact has resulted in a nomenclature that is still very confusing. Some varieties of Begonia is to be found blooming every month in the year. In more ways than one the Begonia heads the list of house plants which may be looked on as permanent and annual bloomers. Many are grown for their handsome foliage, the showy flowers, summer bedding outdoors. Summer and winter under glass, in window gardens, in the full sun and in the shade. Some grow just anywhere with little care while there are those which defy the efforts of the amateur and professional. The vast group offers excellent opportunity for the collector providing he has the right growing conditions.

CLASSES . . . Dr. I. H. Bailey divides Begonias into four classes, according to the types of roots, tubers, tuberos, rhizomatous and fibrous. Since the tuberos class has but one representative, B. Socotrana (one parent of our well-known Christmas-Flowering B.) the gardener divides his subjects into the three remaining groups. Due to the intermingling of all types the lines are not clearly defined in all cases.

De Bary Doings By KAY HENNINGER

As most of our readers know, it was a little more than four years ago that the community of De Bary was started. There was so much to do, that those who had bought land, built houses and made their houses homes, found little time for community life. To be sure, there were house parties, beach parties and a "show" or two, but it was not until May, 1948, that the big get-together for all the people of De Bary was planned.

On the last Sunday of May, more than five hundred people gathered on the grounds of the Joseph H. Schriener home for an all-day picnic. Many friends from nearby towns and cities were with us and, what was even more gratifying, neighbors who had never met before got to know each other on De Bary day. Many plans were promulgated on that day but there was a hitch. Where could we have a group meet? Where could we have a group meet? Where could we have a group meet? Where could we have a group meet? Where could we have a group meet?

The De Bary Civic Association, Inc., took the problem under consideration and after studying various plans, some good, some not feasible and some downright impossible, suddenly there was a bright ray of sunshine for at last, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Schriener offered a generous offer. They would donate a large corner lot overlooking a lake, for the building itself and would give the association an option on a number of adjoining lots at a nominal price. These might be purchased when and if needed for parking lot or playground.

At the December meeting the gift was accepted with much thanks, and it was decided to purchase two of the additional lots for parking space. Up to now, there had been a small building fund but all the plans seemed so nebulous and far off in the future. Now we have the land and with it the will to get going. The first step in that direction was taken on Friday evening when a record crowd filled the auditorium of the Enterprise school, which was loaned to us by our good friends in Enterprise. The entertainment was called "Through the Year" and was a series of 12 tableaux with incidental music and readings. It was written and produced by Lorothea Henninger assisted by your correspondent. We wouldn't try to name all the people who helped make the evening a success for there were so many willing workers, and each one did the job assigned to him to the best of his ability. We would not have you think us mercenary but we are rather proud of having added well over $100 to the building fund.

On second thought, we must mention by name one good friend who is too often neglected for 11 months of the year and then worked to death during the last month of the year. We mean Santa Claus. Just before curtain time, there was a commotion at the back of the auditorium and there he was with boxes of candy for all the children. He greeted them in his jolly fashion and told them he had made a special trip from the North Pole to see them. We just had to have a community "Show Boat" when Charles Winger was in the cast. Do you remember how he beamed upon list in Begonias one will no doubt be interested in only two groups—Tuberos-rooted and Fibrous-rooted. This latter group generally includes B. rex and with B. semperflorens. The beginner had best start with B. semperflorens or Wax Begonia. It is the best known of all the Begonias and is used largely as a house plant as well as a bedding plant outdoors in the summer. It is a perennial and may live 5 years or more. The species is very variable and many named varieties, plus a large number of hybrids, can be easily grown. The Wax Begonia is divided into four groups, each of which is illustrated by the varieties named. Tall growing—Christmas Cheer, Masterpiece Medium height—Darling, Indian Maid Dwarf—Adeline Double—Westport Beauty These varieties are suggested for the beginner to try growing first. FLOWERS . . . The male and female flowers are borne separately in the same cluster. They are slightly irregular in shape, the male having two to five or more parts scarcely distinguishable as petals and sepals, the female with ovary inferior, 2 celled, and fruit a many seeded capsule. It is not so very difficult to obtain seed either by hand or insect pollination. The colors of all Begonias are red, yellow, pink, or white.

Rural Common Sense By SPUDS JOHNSON

As practically all hunting in Florida is done in rural areas, farmers are especially interested in the hunting season. Farmers own most of the land on which hunting is done, and quite naturally, they want to bag some game for their own tables and they are interested in hunting by others on their property.

To avoid difficulties on a hunting trip, therefore, the wise thing to do before hunting on another man's property is to obtain permission from the owner. Because they have livestock on the land or because of other reasons, some farmers may not grant permission for hunting on their places, but many do permit neighbors and city folks to hunt. The farmer has a right to refuse permission for hunting on his land, and it should be respected.

Nearly every hunting season, officers receive numerous complaints from farmers whose lands have been invaded by hunters, and sometimes a hunter winds up in court as a result of failing to obtain permission. A hunting trip should be pleasant and recreational, and one way of making it so is to have the permission and good will of the owner of the land. The University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service also calls attention to other points that are necessary for the hunting trip to be a pleasurable event: Have the proper license. Observe all regulations regarding hunting days and hours, bag limits, protected game, and guns and other equipment. Handle guns carefully. Do not carry a loaded gun in a car or into a house. Do not climb a fence with a loaded gun. Never carry a gun so it is pointing at another person, and never shoot at an object that is not plainly visible or toward other persons. There are about 100,000 hunters—farmers and city folks—in Florida, and care and caution by all are necessary to prevent trouble and tragedy on hunting trips—occasions which should be pleasant, healthful and recreational.

President To Delay Notice On Clean Up

Once Fired William Willett Is Back On Government's Pay Roll Again!

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today exempted canned fried worms from price control. An EPA official says he does not know how much they cost. But it said it had found their price has a "trifling" or "insignificant" effect on the cost of living.

There were little orders for crepe suzettes, walnut sauce and canned rattlesnake meat among other things.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today again postponed an announcement of the drastic action he has promised to clean out "cronies" in government.

The White House wouldn't even say whether the announcement—originally scheduled for last week—would be made before Mr. Truman goes home to Independence, Mo., next Monday for a short Christmas stay.

Mr. Truman is not in a position to predict Mr. Murphy's future. Secretary Joseph Short told reporters. There have been widespread reports that the President will set up a special unit, with Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy of New York in a key role. Its job would be to look into allegations of corruption in government, take action against any officials found to have been acting improperly, and clear the names of all others.

Short told newsmen he didn't know whether the White House was working with congressional Democrats, including Sen. McNamara (D-Okla.), who are drafting legislation aimed at curbing use of influence and stopping irregularities in government.

Meanwhile William E. Willett, who was described by a Senate investigating group as having yielded to "influence" pressure while he was an RFC director, was reappointed to his job on the government's pay roll.

Francis Whitehall, Undersecretary of the Navy, confirmed today that Willett has been appointed a $11,800 a year official in his office.

Willett came under fire of a Senate Banking subcommittee some months ago while serving as director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

North Blanketed By More Cold And Snow From Canada

By The Associated Press

The northern two-thirds of the nation, buffeted by snow and cold for a week, was struck by a fresh storm today. Behind the storm was a new blast of icy air.

At least 225 deaths have been attributed to the severe weather. The new storm whirled eastward, dumping tons of snow, sleet and freezing rain. Temperatures plummeted along the route of the storm, dipping far below zero in many areas.

Freezing rain glaced thoroughfares in the Kansas City area and created a hazardous traffic snarl. Many schools and business houses were closed.

The storm pelted the Rocky Mountain area first. Colorado had snow and frigid temperatures. Denver, with five inches of new snow, reported a low of 6 below zero. Limon, Colo., had —11.

Then the storm spread over the plains states, with snow accumulating in the Great Lakes region. It was expected to strike today in Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio. The Weather Bureau issued a special bulletin warning of dangerous driving conditions in that area this afternoon and tonight.

Colder weather headed into the Midwest behind the snow. New England and northern parts of New York State had subzero readings, too.

It was 25 below zero at Havre, Mont., early today and —18 at Sheridan, Wyo. The coldest spots in the northern region were at Albany, N. Y., the lowest since March 1949, when it was —30, and —11 at Burlington, Vt.

Community Co-operates In Plan To Sing Carols Christmas Eve

The community Christmas carol songfest is gaining momentum as more and more people get the spirit of the occasion and express the desire to join with their neighbors in this united effort to rejoice in the celebration of the birth of Christ. Floyd Palmer, chairman of the organizing committee said today.

The plan to have a chorus at radio station WTRB lead an all-county observance of the spiritual significance of the season in which all radios in Seminole County would be tuned to 1400 on Christmas Eve between 8:00 and 9:30 o'clock has found ready acceptance, it was said.

The call for men who want to sing, but trained voices, but just women who would join with him in a truly American observance of the occasion. Mr. Palmer continued, has brought volunteers from all sections of the county. He pointed out that there would be no rehearsal for women who would sing and all men who would be given their own part to sing or hum the words of the Christmas carols with which they are all familiar.

Shopping Tour

Children from the Lutheran orphanage in Slavia learned something about the Christmas spirit of giving and had the time of their lives as they went on a Jaycee sponsored Christmas Shopping Tour called this week. Probe Is Begun Into Slaying Of US Secret Agent

Michael Stern Testifies About Death Of Major Holocaust

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional investigation has begun behind closed doors into the killing of an American secret agent in Italy in 1946, and what the Defense Department did about reports he was slain by two other U. S. agents.

Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.) told reporters today that he conducted an all-day hearing Wednesday. The witness was Michael Stern, author of an account published in True Magazine last summer of the death of Maj. William V. Holtzman of the cloak-and-dagger Office of Strategic Services.

Cole is the Republican member of a two-man House armed services subcommittee set up last October to look into the matter. The other member is Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.).

Cole said he questioned Stern about details of his published account.

"He filled in the gaps in his story, and recounted the results of a final investigation," Cole said.

A musical program will be presented tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the meeting of Elk Lodge 1241. Little Miss Dana Lee Rankin will be featured with three piano selections. Charles Morrison will lead in the singing of Christmas carols with Harry Kudell accompanying.

Details for the annual Elks Christmas party for underprivileged children will be announced. Robert Billheimer will report the benefits obtained for charity at the Elk Ball held Saturday night at the Mayfair Inn.

20 New Donations Increase Jaycee Fund To $634

The Tourist Building Fund was boosted to $634 by 20 new donations today, it was announced this afternoon at the weekly luncheon of the Seminole County Jaycees at the Yacht Club. The Jaycees further decided at the meeting to send a one-dollar bill to President Truman and other notables asking that it be autographed and returned to the sponsoring Jaycees for the benefit of the tourist building.

Douglas Hainstrom, in charge of the sale of blocks for the proposed tourist center announced that card tables will be set up tomorrow and Saturday to take orders from anyone desiring to aid the building by buying one or more blocks for the project. The tables, to be located in front of Kountillat and Anderson's and Faust's drugstores, will be manned by Jaycees and carry the slogan "For a better Sanford buy a brick for the Tourist Center."

The plan to auction off dollar bills autographed by Harry S. Truman, Arthur Godfrey, Vaughn Henry, Fuller Warren, Gene Douglas MacArthur and others was suggested by Bob Roth. Letters will be sent along with a new dollar bill explaining the Jaycee plans for the Tourist Center and asking for the return of the dollar signed along with any contribution.

11 Missing From Burning Ship In Columbia River

Coast Guard Rushes To Scene To Save 103 From Vessel

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today that eight passengers and three crewmen "possibly are missing" from the Danish midget ship Leria burning in the mouth of the Columbia River.

The Coast Guard said 23 passengers and 30 crew members have been accounted for. These estimates were based on the belief that 11 persons were aboard the ship when it anchored just inside the mouth of the stream to await clearing weather before attempting to cross the bar. Crew members were unable to say positively how many people were on board.

One little tow-haired fellow whose head came just about counter level got inside the door and no farther. He cried a giant green truck with a red cab under the table loaded with noisy mechanical gauges. He forgot about buying presents for his friends back at the Haven and just gasped.

The other kids had plenty of fun with the toys on the top of the table as they wound up roller coasters and a merry-go-round that played a tune. One of the bigger boys with his hand on a ping pong paddle looked at the bright green set and the row of white balls, just sighed and said, "I wish I had one," as he wistfully put the paddle back in the set.

Bustily chewing gum given out by Mr. McClung, the kids bumped into the problem that plagues parents every Christmas, how to buy gifts for everyone on the list and stay within the budget.

Jerry who was keeping warm in a Hopalong Cassidy sweat shirt gave up his idea about the ping pong set and bought a black-eyed six-year-old Dorothy Klineck all bundled up in a red coat of which she was very proud whispered that she had a black board for Carolyn back in class at the Haven and a set of blocks for Joyce Hillborn. The blocks and black board were wrapped up in one large package.

NEW YORK (AP)—Good progress on the upside was made today by the stock market with liberal help from oil and rail.

Index advanced to between one and two points at the outside with losses held down to a fractional range.

The oil and rail were rather active higher prices up to 10. The rubber division, although not so active, made gains ranging to an exceptional three points in the case of U. S. Rubber, which was irregular with U. S. steel starting unchanged at 40 and a block of 1,000 shares and continuing to trade most of the time at 40 1/2.

Pentagon Completes Check Of POW Lists Given By Communists

One Shot Effort Is Made To Break Truce Deadlock

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Truce negotiators turned the problem of how to supervise a Korean armistice over to staff officers today in a "one-shot effort" to break the long deadlock.

The staff officers met for two hours at Panmunjom. Then they adjourned until Friday. There was no report of what happened.

An official Allied spokesman said U. N. subcommittee delegates suggested calling in the staff officers because there had been no progress for days.

"I give you my solemn word," said Brig. Gen. William F. Nierke, "that I am certain that the staff officers were because of the lack of progress rather than because of any progress."

Earlier in the day the Communists suggested their version of a compromise.

They asked the Allies to (1) permit construction of North Korean airfields, (2) accept the Red proposal for inspection by neutral teams of specified points and (3) drop a demand for aerial observation over all Korea.

In return, the Communists said they would consider the U. N. demand for unlimited rotation of troops and replenishment of equipment and supplies.

The regular subcommittee will meet Friday regardless of the outcome of the staff officers' session.

There has been no announcement as to whether the subcommittee on prisoner exchange will meet Friday. The regular subcommittee will meet Friday regardless of the outcome of the staff officers' session.

Greeks Win Seat On U.N. Council After 19 Ballots

Red Satellite White Russia Is Defeated By 39-16 Vote

PARIS (AP)—American-backed Greece won a seat on the United Nations Security Council today, beating out White Russia on the 19th ballot.

The vote was 39 for Greece, and 16 for White Russia.

A two-thirds majority of U. N. members present and voting in the General Assembly today was required for election.

The deadlock was the longest in the history of U. N. elections.

Greece, thus, will replace Yugoslavia on the Security Council. Jan. 1, White and Pakistan were elected two weeks ago to fill vacancies caused by the expiration of terms of India and Ecuador in the Security Council.

White Russia, one of the constituent republics of the U. S. S. R., was made a member of the United Nations, along with the Ukraine, under the Yalta Agreement which guaranteed Russia three member seats. Britain and others had backed White Russia for the Security Council under a "gentlemen's agreement" in 1945 which gave one seat to the Eastern European bloc of countries under Russia's wing.

The United States contended the agreement was for only a year. The Security Council is made up of the Big Five permanent members, Britain, China, France, Russia and the United States, and six rotating members who serve two year terms.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky has violently denounced American support for Greece as a violation of an alleged gentlemen's agreement.

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS (AP)—Two congressmen today attacked the U. S. counter attack against the Soviet spy charges. One accused the whole Soviet-dominated world as in the grip of "a new cold war" and called Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky "a venomous old snake."

Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) told the United Nations Political Conference as a violation of an agreement whose unnamed transport plane was forced down in Hungary Nov. 29. He was a victim of the spy mania. Vishinsky Wednesday expressed in a radio speech the hope that the four would be tried by "our military and justice authorities."

Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio) accused the Soviet delegate of trying to wreck "the two great world steps taken by the United Nations this week. Vorys said that the Soviet delegate in Paris delivered a stinging attack on U. N. matches, "putting stream of vituperation."

You often wonder how to compete with the venomous old snake but you realize that there are certain kinds of contests you do not enter with a snake. Vorys said.

The two great achievements of the U. N. this week deserve triumph.

Santa Thinks Sanford's Little Boys And Girls Nice Children

Santa Claus is much impressed with the honesty and truthfulness of Sanford and Seminole County children.

This morning he passed out early in a downtown store, and in returning up the aisle offered candy to some boys and girls who shook their heads and said, "No thanks, Santa, you just gave us some."

Brought to Sanford by special invitation of the Sanford Merchants Association, Santa, with his heavy red suit, in finding the Florida climate a bit warm, and he gets a little weary peering about the downtown section, but his arm around them and they tell him that he brings to boys and girls, and especially the small fry who look up at him with wondering big eyes.

With a gentle chuck on the cheek of small kiddies, Santa puts his arm around them and they cuddle to him affectionally to tell him their wants. Other children, loathsome waiting in parked automobiles while their parents are shopping, wave with joy and yell, "Hi, Santa." Drivers stop
