Kennedy Orders Defense Review

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has ordered a new review of the nation's defenses in the light of Soviet threats to Berlin, it was disclosed today.

Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick said the President ordered the review Saturday after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev announced that Russia was calling off its planned military manpower reductions.

Gilpatrick disclosed the President's directive in testimony to a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

If the defense review leads to the conclusion that military spending should be boosted, revised budget requests will be submitted to Congress, Gilpatrick told the subcommittee.

Chairman A. Willis Robertson, (D-Va.), asked Gilpatrick whether the President's top military advisers would be free to give their own personal views on preparedness to the subcommittee.

Gilpatrick gave assurances on this point. But he said an appearance by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's new military adviser, "presents a different question."

Questioning by Robertson and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, (R-Mass.), indicated congressional concern that the White House and Pentagon were not moving fast enough to counter Khrushchev's threats to Berlin.

The defense review was disclosed shortly after Kennedy flew back here from a Cape Cod weekend of rest and work.

With Congress also returning to Washington today after a long Fourth of July holiday, the President was expected to start work immediately on generating all possible support for such keystones of his legislative program as foreign aid, aid to education and tax revision.

He met today with his newly formed Citizens Committee for International Development, a group of business and professional leaders dedicated to support of the foreign aid program.

The President also planned to talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other diplomatic advisers on plans for the visit of Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan who arrives in Washington Tuesday for a three-day state visit.

Kennedy met over the weekend at his Hyannis Port home with Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, new military adviser to the President. The subject of their five hours of discussion was Germany and Berlin.

Reds Outnumber U. S. Armed Forces By 50 Percent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. armed forces will be outnumbered almost 50 per cent by the Russians because of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's cancellation of troop reductions.

The Soviet decision apparently means that Russia's armed forces may maintain a strength of over 3,500,000 men, compared with 2,517,000 men planned for the U.S. forces by next July.

The difference of 1,000,000 men would leave the Russian military machine 46 per cent larger even if Congress approved the 50 per cent increase requested by President Kennedy.

Khrushchev's decision, announced in a speech last week, was made at a time when top Pentagon leaders were beginning to plan for a possible stage of "peace" military manpower.

The Soviet premier said he made entirely clear that the Russian forces would be reduced in January 1960 to equal the U.S. forces which would be reduced to 2,500,000 to 2,400,000 over a period of "a year or two."

Last weekend he said "the Soviet government was compelled to instruct the Defense Ministry to suspend, temporarily, pending on special orders, the reduction in the armed forces planned for 1961."

This left unclear whether any reductions had taken place.

Pentagon leaders, who said the American plans will be reviewed on the basis of Khrushchev's announcement, may feel that secret U. S. intelligence reports provide a better estimate of the size of Russia's forces.

Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell Gilpatrick told a news conference recently that "if you compare all the forces with the military we are not in terms of military manpower alone very far behind the Soviets."

Gilpatrick added, "Then if you add in the satellites and other bloc countries and you take our allies, the military equation—in terms of manpower—is not very lopsided."

Khrushchev also disclosed an increase amounting to $3.5 billion at the official rate of exchange in Russia's military budget for this year.

A VIEW straight down the hatch shows three spacemen, lying on their backs on nylon cord couches at the bottom of a mock-up space station. The vehicle is the MARS (Manned Astronautical Research Station), under study by General Dynamics/Astronautics in San Diego. This would be the crew's position during launching and re-entry of the proposed vehicle. MARS could be launched by 1963, says its designers.

War Of Nerves Plague Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berliners detected a speedup in the war of nerves over this isolated city today, but they calmly placed their faith in the United States to pull them through any crisis.

From Moscow to Washington the increase in the pressure on West Berlin was perceptible over the weekend.

The Russians showed some flashy new airpower in Moscow and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev let it be known the Soviet Union was being up its arms.

A 150-truck Soviet military convoy during the weekend rumbled over the Helmsdorf route that connects West Berlin with West Germany 110 miles away.

In Washington, the House Foreign Affairs Committee released testimony given less than 7 months ago in which NATO's European commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad, warned that any serious Soviet move against Berlin would bring reaction from the entire might of the Western alliance.

In Paris, informed sources reported that the 15-member NATO alliance had reached virtual agreement to boost NATO's front-line divisions in Europe from 22 to 30 should Khrushchev touch off a full-scale Berlin crisis.

West Berliners, living in a city completely surrounded by Communist territory, have learned to bet their future on U. S. determination to hang on in West Berlin.

Flood Control Taxes Go Up

Property owners in the southeastern part of Seminole County will be paying additional taxes because of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District action this past weekend.

The district raised taxes in its 18 county area which embraces about half of Florida's population.

The FCD's governing board voted to increase the flood control taxes from its present level of .75 to .925 mill. This will add 17 1/2 cents for every $1,000 evaluation to the tax bills which go out about Nov. 1.

The 18 counties comprising the flood control district are Seminole, Brevard, Broward, Dade, Glades, Hendry, Highlands, Indian River, Lee, Martin, Monroe, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Polk, St. Lucie and Volusia.

Officials said that the existing levy of .75 mill would have left the FCD nearly $1 million short of the $9 million required in the budget for the coming year. It was reported that the increase of .175 mill would enable the district to proceed with work on schedule.

Sanford Man Reported Drowned

Included in weekend deaths reported today by United Press International was that of Willie C. McDonald, 38-year-old resident of Sanford.

The Lake County Sheriff's office, which could give no further information early this morning, said that McDonald fell from a boat while fishing in a Lake County creek.

Other drownings in the state report included Alfred Barton, 35, and Marvin Louis Baker, 9, both Negroes, who drowned near Tampa Saturday when their boat capsized and Byron E. Alford, 40, of Ft. Lauderdale who drowned while swimming at Boca Raton Beach Saturday.

In traffic accidents, a Levy County automobile crash that killed three persons was the worst of a weekend in which at least 15 persons perished.

Both drivers — Mary Jane Waters, 19, of Lake Butler, and Joseph E. Lucius, 47, of Newberry — died instantly in the two-car crash on State Road 255 near Lebanon Station. A passenger in Miss Waters' car, Mary Elizabeth Stinson, 18, of Gainesville, was fatally injured.

At least three other persons were killed in traffic Sunday. Five died in traffic Saturday.

The Sunday deaths included Perrine restaurant owner B. C. Smith, 35, killed when his car crashed into a utility pole in Miami; Ben T. Meredith, 61, Fort Lauderdale, killed near Ocala when his car ran off the road and turned over; and Bertha O. England, killed in a one-car accident near Brooksville.

North Orlando Cancels Meeting

The July meeting of the North Orlando Village Council has been canceled due to lack of a quorum, Mayor Frank Fasula reported today.

New Red Planes Impress West

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union kept facts and figures on its new jet bombers and fighters under wraps today, but Western observers said they had seen enough to be impressed.

For two hours Russian air force pilots roared over Tusline Airfield Sunday displaying at least 10 new aircraft including a fighter with a liquid-fueled rocket booster and a big four-engine bomber said to be capable of launching missiles.

The air show's announcer and Tass news agency were long on claims for the spectacular display but short on detailed facts.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who had announced only the day before that Russia is boosting its military budget by a third, watched from the reviewing stands.

Tass said new rocket-carrying planes had equipment capable of "destroying any target hundreds of kilometers away, and no defenses can save these targets from destruction."

Tass also mentioned "jet aircraft for the detection and destruction of submarines far away from Soviet shores" and "a new jet plane armed to destroy any modern plane, whatever its speed and altitude."

as quickly that foreign military attaches could not focus their binoculars on them — but the supersonic booms shook the hundreds of thousands who watched the aerial show.

"It was an impressive show," said Col. Melvin J. Nielson, American air attaché.

"It is evident that the Russians are continuing with the development of all classes of aircraft," he said. "They are not standing still."

The Western military observers were left to guess at such figures as wing spreads, power of engines, speeds and ranges. There also was no way of knowing whether these planes were in mass production or mainly prototypes.

MONDAY NIGHT, July 3, the Seminole Chapter, Order of DeMolay elected Diane Beasley to be its chapter sweetheart. Miss Beasley was elected from the girls who attended the recent DeMolay picnic which was held at Rock Springs. Miss Beasley is a member of the Cheerleading squad and the Anchor Club at Seminole High School.

12 Persons Facing Charges In Chicago Mixing Incident

CHICAGO (UPI) — Twelve persons were charged with disturbing the peace today for refusing to obey police orders during a Negro "wade-in" demonstration at a public beach.

Seventy Negro and white "freedom waders" arrived at city-owned Rainbow Beach Sunday and stayed for about two hours while an estimated 200 police officers stood by.

Arrested were 11 white persons and one Negro girl.

Some of the estimated 20,000 white persons at the beach cheered the demonstrators when they left under police escort.

During the demonstration, the "freedom waders" strummed guitars and sang what they called, "The Freedom Equal Blues." The group was led by Norman Hill, 38, executive secretary of the Socialist party of Illinois and an advisor for the Congress of Racial Equality.

Hill said the group would return to the beach next Sunday. At least 20 squad cars and a police boat were on hand during the demonstration. Police said there was only one actual disturbance.

At one point in the demonstration a white person asked a Negro member of the group if he would "take a punch in the nose." The Negro replied, "If that happens, you'd better be prepared to get a punch in the nose." Police broke up the argument.

At Detroit Sunday, a group of about 20 Negro and white students failed in an attempt to enter a private swimming pool. The manager closed the pool.

Mrs. Evelyn Hyatt Dies In DeLand

Demos Nominate Governor Tuesday

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Virginia Democrats nominate a governor Tuesday in a primary that will tell whether one of the nation's hardest political organizations still has its grip on the polls.

The name of Harry F. Byrd won't be on the ballot, but a measure of the 74-year-old U. S. senator's prestige is involved in the outcome.

Byrd, who derives a national reputation as a leading critic of big government spending, has managed easily to keep a firm grip on home state politics throughout his 23 years in Washington.

As undisputed patriarch of the dominant conservative faction of Virginia's Democratic party, he has had a big hand in the election of the state's last eight governors. All had Byrd organization approval, express or implied.

Navy Was Never Like This!

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of Chanel No. 5. In the near future, a pretty lady lieutenant will make naval history by dishing out orders to seaman on a U. S. Navy ship.

And Wave Lt. Charlene Suneson, 27, who last Thursday received orders making her the Navy's first woman line officer, said today:

"If they don't send any more women, you'll know why. I've been told I'm sort of a trial balloon."

Just to clear up any scuttlebutt, the pert Chicagoan explained her accommodations and setup on the military transport General W. A. Mann:

—She'll have her own cabin.
—She'll share mess and laundry facilities with her fellow male officers.
—She'll put in an 18-month tour of duty starting sometime around the first of the year.
—Capt. Millar J. Smith of the General Mann said he's not sure what duty is in store for the brown-haired pioneer.

"We'll just wait and see where she's needed," he said, adding: "The crew is pleasantly surprised and looking forward to her assignment."

The ship carries about 3,500 troops on its 11-day trips between San Francisco and the Far East. It's had nurses assigned before — but no lady line officer.

Charlene herself isn't sure what she'll be doing — but her guess is that it could involve troop dependents carried on the ship.

Peel Back On Trial Again Today

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Former West Palm Beach City Judge Joseph A. Peel Jr., under a life sentence for one murder conspiracy, went on trial again today on charges of conspiring to kill his hatchet man.

The dapper Peel went on trial before Judge Vassar B. Carlton in Brevard County Circuit Court for conspiring to kill convicted murderer Floyd (Lucky) Holsapfel, the man he hired for another murder.

Holsapfel was the star witness for the state last March when Peel was convicted of masterminding the slayings-at-sea of Circuit Judge G. E. Chillingworth and his wife on June 14, 1953.

Holsapfel said he and Negro moonshiner George (Obby) Lincoln dumped the Chillingworths into the Atlantic Ocean offshore from the Judge's Manalapan home on orders from Peel. Peel denied it, but was convicted and received a life sentence.

Peel, 37, is accused of conspiring with J. Donald Miles of Eau Gallie to kill Holsapfel, allegedly because he wanted Holsapfel and his knowledge of the Chillingworth case out of the way. Miles has already pleaded guilty to the charge.

Murder Compiled By Newsmen

EDITOR'S NOTE: A violent true-life drama as big as the outdoor setting of southeastern Utah's Badlands was enacted during the past week in an area long favored by moviemakers for their celluloid tales of violence. It left dead a Connecticut divorcee on a "once in a lifetime" vacation and a teen-ager here, who now has been labeled a gunman. The dead woman's daughter is missing, and almost certainly dead. Only one person survived the tragedy.

A UPI special reporting team composed of James Golden, Keith J. Wallentine, Steve Swilley, Denton Harvey, Lawrence H. Gray and Ramon J. Gorman dug into the background of his tale of violence in both Utah and Connecticut.

By UPI Special Reporting Team, MOAB, Utah (UPI) — Mrs. Jeannette Sullivan is on her way back east without her daughter. At the end of the train ride waits a grave.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteers still are roaming the means and 2,000-foot-deep canyons of the Colorado River searching for Mrs. Sullivan's daughter, slim, brown-haired Denise Sullivan of Rockville, Conn. The searchers have little doubt that 15-year-old Denise, too, will be dead—if she ever is found in the lonely, multi-hued country of southeast Utah so favored by moviemakers for its "badlands" scenery.

Mrs. Sullivan, 41, shot in the back of the head as she turned her back disdainfully on a rifle-wielding man who demanded money, won't be seen again on the streets of the little Connecticut town that she, her daughter and Charles E. Boothroyd left June 30.

The coffin containing her body was put aboard a train here Saturday. Tuesday afternoon it will arrive in Boston and be taken to Fall River, Mass., where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Beaver, have arranged services on Thursday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

If Denise's body is found before then, Mrs. Beaver said the funeral would be delayed so that mother and daughter could be buried together in rural St. Paul's Cemetery outside Portsmouth, E. I. Mrs. Sullivan's other daughter, Jaane, 4, is staying with her grandparents but won't attend the services.

But the quiet of the grave must wait for Abel Benny Aragon, 35, twice a hero, but now labeled by authorities as the man who almost certainly pulled the trigger and killed Mrs. Sullivan, shot Boothroyd twice in the face and kidnapped Denise.

The Mitchell Funeral Home at Price, Utah, Aragon's hometown, can't arrange the burial until after today's inquest into Aragon's death. The verdict almost certainly will be suicide. Aragon shot himself in view of two FBI agents who were trying to question him about the kidnap and slaying.

For the broad-shouldered, 55-year-old Boothroyd—a "real outdoorsman who loved the mountains and canyons"—there remains at least two weeks in a Salt Lake City hospital, and a lifetime of memories of the drive through Dead Horse Point State Park.

The man, authorities believe, was Aragon. And if chance had worked the other way there might not have been the fatal meeting.

A miner who hadn't been employed since December, Aragon had left his wife and five little boys at their clean, well-kept frame home in Price the week before the shooting, presumably to seek work.

Ironically, after he left town a local contractor was looking for him to offer him a job operating a road scraper. But Aragon, who had courted death both for his country and to save a co-worker, wasn't to return to Price alive.

There is shock in Price over the fatal sequence of events. His friends can't understand "how he could do anything of that sort."

On another July in 1944, Aragon was a Marine mortarman pressed into duty as a rifleman in the battle for Guam. He won the Navy Cross, that service's second highest decoration, in an advance up an enemy-held ridge that killed or wounded seven of the eight men with him.

In July, 1957, he was running a rope hoist at the No. 1 mine of the Independent Coal and Coke Co., when there was a cave-in, trapping four men. Aragon left the hoist and managed to pull out one man, but the roof fell in and killed the other three before Aragon could reach them.

No one thought of the short, barrel-chested Aragon as a suspect. But twice his wife went into Moab looking for him. A service station where she inquired notified police, and when they talked with Mrs. Aragon, she broke down and told them Benny had a .22 rifle and a pistol with him. She gave the license number and description of the car. An alert was put out.

Is It Worth It?

Does a sewerage treatment plant justify any increase in sewer rates for Sanford residents? That seems to be the big question we in Sanford are asking ourselves now.

We think without a doubt that IT DOES! Without a treatment plant we can just forget about Sanford getting any new industry here.

The State Health Department will kill any industry from locating here—unless we get a plant—and for that reason alone building the plant is justified.

Its construction also will broaden and ease home construction and will enhance the recreational use of Lake Monroe.

Unless we want to be stifled in our growth we must have a treatment plant—and certainly it's worth the 50 cents extra per month.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Mildred's interesting case is becoming so common in our SMP that we expect such reports every day. The panic to get an engagement ring on the side, so these attractive fellows can relax and be gay. Many unmarried people are victims of a wrong mental outlook. They need to use "reverse English."

CASE J-37: Mildred M., aged 21, was married last month. "Dr. Crane," Mildred's mother says, "Mildred is our adopted daughter."

"She is a lovely girl and we are devoted to her. But I fear she always cherished a subconscious fear that maybe she would not win a desirable husband."

"Her ideals are high and sensible boys didn't seem to be available."

"So she enrolled in your Scientific Marriage Foundation. And her personality changed at once."

"For her relaxed and immediately became happier."

"No longer did she feel it was up to her to find the proper man. So she smiled and was gay. She simply acted like the natural, attractive girl she really should have been."

"Oddly enough, although you introduced her to a fine boy, she met another man right here at home and married him last month."

"Thus, we attribute her happy marriage to the Scientific Marriage Foundation, although she didn't pick the man you gave her."

Mildred's case happens so often that we have found it is typical of many men, as well as women. They wish to be happily married. But their jobs often keep them out of social contacts with suitable people of the opposite sex.

So they grow somewhat panicky. And in this tense state, they tend to press too hard. Instead of relaxing and being gay, smiling and jolly, they create the constant feeling they are trying to get a prospect's name "on the dotted line."

Thus, they scare off prospects. For they subconsciously irritate the fact they are marriage mad. If you wish to attract the opposite sex, it is often better to affect a casual "take it or leave it" attitude.

Indeed, star salesmen also find that it often spurs prospects into action much faster if the salesmen act as if they have so many orders that they aren't eager to sign up any more.

This is the same type of psychology that merchants have often found successful when they run a sign "Limit - Two to a Customer" over their soap or other merchandise.

Girls, if you wish to win proposals of marriage, go in the opposite direction.

Give the impression that you are more interested in being a nurse or missionary or teacher than in becoming a bride.

This broader perspective will also give you more poise and permit you to be jolly and gay.

Besides, boys will then immediately relax in your presence and feel more comfortable, since they think you are not whirling a matrimonial "lariat" around their heads.

Soon they grow so attracted to you that they want to change your viewpoint about marriage. They will actually try to "sell" you on accepting an engagement ring.

This clever ruse is so universal that you will become astonished at its success. It's what we psychologists call the "reverse English" strategy.

Send for the 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped, return envelope plus 20 cents. Use them to widen your perspective.

The incisor teeth of the pocket gopher grow at the rate of one inch a week. His incessant gnawing keeps them worn down for practical use.

ROME, Italy — If New York City were some other place, America would get a lot more European tourists. Or, to put it another way, if some other city were where New York is, Europeans would be much happier about coming to visit us.

Letters

To the Editor
 Dear Sir:
 I was pleased with the write-up of my visit to the Overseas W.W.I. Flyers Reunion printed on page 3 of the July 7th Herald. However I was distressed by the use of the word "Ace" in the headline. Somewhere between the byline and the headline I was prompted: I was not an Ace and would appreciate this correction, as I do not wish to appear as claiming something that is not true.

Very Truly Yours,
 W. V. Lovell

(ED. Note. You are an ace in our book.)

Dear Sir:
 The article in the Sanford Herald announcing a decision of the present County Commission to include their names on the new County Jail plaque did not reveal what portion of this project they participated in.

The accepted custom has been to place the names of those responsible on the building as recognition and honoring those with the initiative and the courage to plan and carry out to completion projects that not only benefit the present but the future generations.

I feel sure all members of the Commission who spent two years working and planning this new jail would willingly agree to remove their names from the plaque in the event the present board needs recognition this badly.

Very truly yours,
 Homer Little

weak in the knees, faint in the head.

America's hope of getting hundreds of thousands of tourists would be brightened if, say, Charleston, S. C., or Butte, Montana, or San Diego, California, or Madison, Wisconsin, were situated on Manhattan Island.

Europeans know little or nothing of these cities. They've heard of them, yes, but little else. They would approach these places with easy hearts, sure they could get around all right, and be as safe and sound as in their own towns across the sea.

But New York gives them the shakes.

They have read too much about it and seen too much of it in the movies. The movies—that's the answer. I'd say that 99 per cent of the image that Europeans have of America they got through the movies, and who is to say it's a sane, sensible, and true one?

To them New York is a mad giant, ready to devour all newcomers. The rush is headlong, sweeping all before it. The traffic is a mad Niagara that crushes, and the people are cold, hard, ruthless, and unwilling to give a second look a bewildered foreigner.

The picture they have of New York is a city made up of millionaires who care not for cost, and gangsters who care not for others, and nightclubs that never close, teen-agers who never sleep, jazz bands that blare without stop, taxis that run down pedestrians, cops who are grim, parks that are not safe, streets that must be avoided after dark, costs that are appalling and, in general, a pace of life that is impossible to comprehend.

I know this is true because I have talked with scores of Europeans in half a dozen countries. They all want to go to America, and they all long to see New York, but they are plain afraid of what awaits them on arrival.

"I'd be lost," they say. Or, "I wouldn't know how to act, whom to turn to for help if I needed it," or, "New York is not for Europeans like me. It's too big, and too awful, and too dangerous."

There is little use in telling them that New York just seems to be the city of perpetual motion; that despite its size and bustle, drive and go it is not very different from the other great cities of the world. They just won't believe it.

They have spent too many hours in the movies, seen too much of the Hollywood version of New York. The movies—or precious few of them—have never shown the millions of quiet, hard-working New Yorkers, with the same problems and worries of men and women all over the world, be they French, Italian, Spanish, or Danish.

It's a shame that so many Europeans feel the way they do about the city that is No. 1 in the world. And it is! There is none to match it. It's such a nice city, too.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A last chance at survival as private enterprise may now be facing the U. S. eastern railroads.

In the opinion of some transportation experts, class one roads east of the Mississippi River and roughly north of a line connecting Norfolk, Louisville and St. Louis have about three years in which to reorganize to save themselves and their customers. If they don't do it, nationalization—government ownership and operation—loom within five years.

In making over the United States railroad map, the great question is whether it will be done in the public interest or just in the interest of the railroad moguls. For this is a battle of giants, with the government sitting in as referee. Hundreds of millions of dollars hang on the outcome.

What is considered the first act of this epic drama is now being played in the big Interstate Commerce Commission hearing room with examiner John L. Bradford presiding.

Curtain raiser is the application of Chesapeake & Ohio—Walter J. Tuohy, president, with Cleveland financier Cyrus L. Eaton pulling strings in the wings—to control and then at some unspecified time to merge with Baltimore & Ohio, Howard E. Simpson, chairman of the board.

Completing the dramatic triangle and thickening the plot is New York Central—Alfred E. Periman, president—who argues that any B&O and C&O merger must include NYC.

The first week of hearings played to standing room only with an all-tycoon cast of characters. Now that the show has settled down for what appears to be a long run, the lawyers have taken over and attendance has dropped off.

But the play will go on for months. The examiner's report will be reviewed by the full ICC. There will be briefs, objections and exceptions from interested parties. No decision will be handed down till next year and the whole business may end up in the courts for final decision.

NYC's fear is that if C&O and B&O merge, a large part of the midwestern freight traffic will be diverted to their system for movement to the East Coast ports of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and Newport News.

NYC alone would not be hurt by this. It would divert traffic from the port of New York. It would also divert traffic from the New England railroads and port of Boston. And it might hurt much more than that.

It is for this reason that New York state and New England industrial Council have intervened in these hearings to protect their interests. New York—through Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Atty. Gen. Louis K. Lefkowitz and Transportation Director Arne C. Wiprud—have petitioned that all U. S. railroad merger cases be consolidated into one ICC hearing.

So far, the commission has decided to take merger applications one at a time. This is what it has done in the past. Five rail mergers were approved in 1959, one in 1960.

But there are now nine more merger applications involving 25 class one carriers before ICC. Two involving northeastern roads are considered most important. What is done with them may set a pattern for all U. S. mergers.

One would merge the five principal New England roads—New Haven, Boston & Maine, Bangor and Aroostook, Maine Central and Rutland. The second—and this may be most important of all—would merge Norfolk & Western with Nickel Plate.

N&W merged with Virginian in 1959. Pennsylvania controls N&W and has a piece of Nickel Plate.

This brings into the cast of characters Penn's board chairman, James M. Symes. Last year he broke off merger talks with NYC.

But if Pennsylvania can now get ICC approval for merger of N&W with Nickel Plate, it can be combined with other holdings in what has been described as "a system so powerful that all other eastern roads couldn't compete with it."

The most interesting spectator in all these goings on is probably the Department of Justice anti-trust division, represented by E. Rigns McConnell. Acting in the public interest, possibly to balance the Pennsylvania system development, Department of Justice could recommend inclusion of NYC with B&O-C&O.

Q—Can a person make a will if they have less than $1,000 in cash and only house furnishings and jewelry of little value?—D. B.

A—Dear D. B.: You certainly can write a will no matter how meager your assets. However, this is one of those rare instances where I would not advise seeking specific legal counsel. Instead, write down to whom you would like the cash and items to go. If you have a lawyer friend, ask him or her to witness your will. If not, as long as you have two witnesses to your signing and tell someone where you have put your will, you probably are safe.

Q—Is a house with a big mortgage easier to sell?—J. B.

A—Dear J. B.: Not necessarily. A mortgage is not usually transferred when a house is sold unless the seller is willing to remain legally liable or the company who made the loan agrees to substitute the new owner for the original mortgagor.

During the years between the time a mortgage is taken out and the house is up for sale, a lot can happen. The market value of the house may increase. The monthly payments may reduce the once big mortgage. Interest rates may decline, making the mortgage unattractive. The buyer may have cash or his own source for a mortgage.

Q—I have around $1,000 and I'd like to leave this in trust for 25 or 30 years for grandchildren. Can this be done?—M. M.

A—Dear M. M.: There would be no point to opening a trust for so small an amount because the invested income from $1,000 would not even cover the cost of setting up and administering this trust.

If a bank in your town is willing to let you put your sum in a savings account for grandchildren, stipulating that they cannot touch the money for a stated period of years, this would be your answer. However, most bankers tell me that they would not want such a long-term responsibility.

Instead, they suggest opening what is known as a "Totten Trust." Here you can withdraw the money yourself if you need it or the beneficiaries can withdraw when you die.

Q—What is a trustee pension plan?—R. C.

A—Dear R. C.: This is a pension plan in which your company's contribution to the plan is placed in a trust for investment and reinvestment as distinguished from a plan in which the benefits are secured by life insurance.

Q—Is investment service very expensive?—M. M. B.

A—Dear M. M. B.: It depends upon what you mean by investment service and what you mean by expensive. For a few dollars you can subscribe to an investment service. Some of them offer good advice. If you make money with such advice, it is worth the price of subscription.

FIRST STUDENT from Sanford to be accepted for the second freshman class at the brand new Florida Presbyterian College at St. Petersburg is Miss Deanna Nichols, one of the top students in the Seminole High graduating class of 1961.

This newest liberal arts college, the only Presbyterian school in the state, has its permanent campus on beautiful Boca Ceiga Bay, where it stands on a peninsula of land, reaching out into the blue waters of the Gulf, giving it a charming aspect of water on both sides.

President of the new school is Dr. William Howard Kadel, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Orlando. Last year's first freshman class at the co-educational institution was made up of 180 students and the enrollment for this year's class brings the total up to approximately 400.

Deanna, who was awarded the Jaycees leadership recognition trophy, was also crowned May Queen at the May Day Ball, one of the highlights of the school year. All of her other school activities are too numerous to mention, but she was a natural and popular leader.

She is having a busy summer, with lots of fun. Her first venture, immediately after the closing of school was to take off with friend, Sunny Skinner, for a cruise to Nassau. She is now visiting with a long-time friend and former Sanfordite, Cinda Ponder, presently living in Belle Glade. When she returns from there, the family will head for the beach to spend some time enjoying care-free days swimming and sun-bathing.

REGROUPING and tightening the cinches, after the loss of two of their leaders, the recently organized Democratic Women's Club of Sanford will hold a meeting of new officers at the Sea Shell Restaurant, Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, president-elect of the infant organization, has called together her officers and board of directors for the meeting. Mrs. Reynolds, herself a former political candidate, is familiar with many of the ins and outs of politics, which make it such a fascinating sphere of public life.

The unfortunate loss of the two Ruths, Mrs. Ruth Gallagher and Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, who were formerly president and vice-president, respectively, made a temporary dent in the group, but the handful of women, who are interested in building up the active participation of Seminole County women in the world of politics, have closed ranks and picked up the reins, determined to hold together the nucleus of an organization that has a great potential for good influence in the county.

MRS. H. L. JOHNSON and Mrs. W. H. Heinbuch left this morning for Gainesville where they will represent the Seminole County Home Demonstration

MRS. JOHNSON

Council at the short course. Miss Myrtle Wilson, county home agent, and 10 other HD members will accompany them.

Mrs. Johnson, who is president of the Seminole County Council, is past president of the Lake Monroe club. In her spare time she is organist and an elder in the Uptala Community Presbyterian Church, drives a county school bus and is correspondent for the Herald.

She also served as music director and pianist of the recent highly successful Monroe PTO Minstrel Show. She has three children and two granddaughters. Mrs. Johnson has been in home demonstration work two years and says that it is the best hobby she has ever had.

MRS. HEINBUCH, who is county delegate, is president of the Lake Mary Home Club. She and her husband came to Sanford eight years ago from Baltimore, Md., where they were in the florist business.

She has been a member of the home club for five years and is also active in the auxiliary to the Lake Mary Fire Department. She has two children and eight grand-children.

The theme of the short course this year is "Learning — The Key to Living." The two delegates will serve on the county record book exhibit committee. Mrs. Johnson is on the scholarship fund committee and Mrs. Heinbuch on the publicity committee.

Mrs. Johnson will attend the president's dinner and later in the week both delegates, attired in white, will march in the procession at the worship service in the new auditorium of the J. Hillis Miller Medical Center.

Miss Carol Sobeck, Francis W. Smathers Married In Presbyterian Ceremony

Miss Carol Lee Sobeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Sobeck, and Francis William Smathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Smathers, all of Lake Mary, were married June 16 at the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary. Rev. John Pilley officiated at the candlelight, double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with basket arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladioli, potted palms and candelabra.

Mrs. Belle Thompson, organist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Jean Brooklyn, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Seven ruffles down the back of the skirt ended in a chapel train.

Her finger tip veil of nylon lace was attached to a rhinestone crown and she carried a large bouquet of white roses, capered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Jackie Duncan, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue nylon chiffon dress, with matching hat and veil and carried a basket of mums and pink daisies.

Lola Ann Hudson, bridesmaid, wore a pink nylon chiffon dress, with matching hat and veil and carried a basket of mums and blue daisies.

Richard Friend, brother of the bride, was best man and serving as ushers were Jerry Hudson and Robert Duncan.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue lace and chiffon, white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the Educational Building of the church. Refreshments of sandwiches, heart shaped mints, and punch were served with the three tiered wedding cake.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Dorothy Keefe, Miss Joan Keefe, Mrs. Patty Cooper, Miss Dolores Kirsh and Mrs. Ruby Hommerie. Mrs. Catherine Jones kept the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to the East coast the couple will reside in Lake Mary.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walt Jones, of Altamonte Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Millam and daughter, Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smathers and sons, David and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smathers and Mrs. Kitty Estabrook on son, Phillip, all of Orlando.

Henderson - Aylies Wedding Announced

Miss Roxann Belle Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Henderson, of Enterprise and Andrew Clark Aylies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Aylies, of Cleveland, Ohio, were united in marriage July 8 at 4 p.m. at the First Christian Church in DeLand.

Rev. Darrell F. Joachim, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Robert Millard, organist, and Chad Allen, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The church was decorated with basket arrangements of white gladioli and pom poms and four candelabra garnished with magnolia leaves and ferns.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of psau de sole and re-embroidered Alençon lace. The fitted bodice featured a sash and neckline, long pointed sleeves and tiny covered buttons.

Tiny seed pearls lined the neck and appliques. Her full skirt ended in a chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil of silk illusion fastened to a coronet crown of pearls and also carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Acker, matron of honor from Akron, Ohio, wore an aqua organza dress over tulle, featuring a cowl neckline, two-tone aqua sash and full skirt. She wore a matching Juliet petal cap and veil and carried a cascade bouquet of carnations.

Mrs. Boman Honored At Farewell Party

A farewell party in honor of Mrs. Willard Boman was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Varn in Lake Mary, recently.

Decorative arrangements and scenes in keeping with the occasion were the highlights of the evening. Games and contests were enjoyed by the group along with a get-acquainted session with Mrs. B. Eugene Jackson, wife of the new pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The honoree received many lovely gifts. Mrs. Varn read an appropriate poem, entitled "The Pastor's Wife."

Refreshments of salad, cookies and punch were served by the hostess and Mrs. Marley Wilhelm, co-hostess.

Others attending were Mrs. James Gray, Mrs. Floyd Horine, Mrs. G. Jones, Mrs. T. N. Stafford, Mrs. B. Bewhey, Mrs. E. Peters, Mrs. W. T. Anderson and Mrs. Lamar Stokes.

Sgt. Aylies of Cleveland, Ohio, served his brother as best man and ushers were Howard Henderson, brother of the bride, Edwin Davis of Jacksonville and Richard Acker of Akron.

The bride's mother wore a blue nylon lace over tulle sash with scoop neckline and matching jacket, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the DeLand Woman's Club. The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with a four tiered wedding cake. It featured white bells and pale pink roses, flanked by cherub candelabra with arrangements of pink sweetheart roses.

The punch table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and white pom poms and held two allover punch bowls.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. John Cannon and Miss Sylvia Davis of Daytona Beach, Mrs. Glenda Drummond, St. Cloud, Mrs. M. M. Davis, Mrs. Clarence Redmond and Mrs. Eimer Straugler of Maitland and Mrs. E. P. Henderson of Orlando.

Mrs. Garland Cowan of Penny Farms kept the bride's book. Background piano music was presented during the reception by Mrs. Eugene Henderson of Orlando.

For traveling, Mrs. Aylies chose a royal blue silk suit, with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After July 17, the couple will reside at 423 9th Ave., Jacksonville Beach. The groom is employed by the P. Lorillard Co. and the bride is an employee of the Florida State Department of Welfare.

Babe Ruth League All - Star Teams Set

District July 18

Two all star teams will represent the local Babe Ruth league in the District 3 tournament that will be held in Leesburg starting July 18.

The winning side from this competition will move up to the state tournament to be held in Ocala a week later.

Managers of the eight clubs in the American and National divisions of the Sanford circuit met last week to name candidates from whom will be chosen just prior to the trip to Leesburg the 15 men for each division that will make up the two squads.

Those players who were named as candidates in the American division and the clubs they represent are: KIWANIS — John Jensen, Lawrence Pivec; CIVITAN — James Riser, Earl Black, Billy Kuykendall, Marvin Sheffield, Edward Fitzgerald, Roger Outlaw; CFO — John Bows, Jeff Scott, Bill Higgins, Danny McFarlin, Jack Caelo, Carl Phillips; ELKS — Bob Edgin, Jerry Moody, Richey Riser, Gene Griffin, Bobby Polsted, Rod Vihlen.

The National all stars will be chosen from this roster: OVIEDO — Wesley Swenson, Ronald Howard, Timothy Bohlers, Rex Roberts; LARK MARY — Daniel Tillis, Lewis Dodson, David Scott, Bill Day, Kenneth Mason, Larry Chester; ROTARY — Tim Barrowsman, Mike Petrunic, John Odman; SERINE — Mike Fordham, Ronald Klason, John Accorbi, Paul Quinn.

All the managers of the teams were eager to help put one of the Sanford delegations into the finals, but as a starter Ray Gries, Roy Thomas, John Lewis and Ronnie Dunn were to head the board of strategy for the American division. The National division manager-inals will be headed by Frank Stifford, Roger Crocher, Paul Miller and George Stine.

It is hoped by Buck Metts, city athletic supervisor under whose guidance the Sanford league has operated, that between the closing date of the league play, July 14, and the opening of the district tournament some "down to earth" practice may be gotten in by the players a chance to become familiar with each other's style of play.

Metts commented on the high caliber of baseball that had been shown by these candidates for the all star teams and said that he was confident that both teams would give a good accounting of themselves in Leesburg.

Musial Dismisses Practice Suggestion For All-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Stan Musial, zeroing in on his 20th All-Star game, dismissed the suggestion today that each team could use a couple of days practice before taking the field Tuesday at Candlestick Park in the 30th renewal of the baseball classic.

"These guys are the best and they don't need to work out together," the St. Louis Cardinal's legend declared. "Everybody knows his position and how to play it. It's automatic."

The tricky winds at Candlestick have resulted in suggestions that the players should work out there to get accustomed to the air currents that make pop flies do strange tricks. American League managers will be facing the wind problem here for the first time.

"The ball players are too good to be worried by the winds and, besides, I think it blows less during the day than at night," said Musial.

The game is scheduled to start at 4 p. m.

Whitley Ford (16-3), who is having his greatest season with the New York Yankees, loomed a solid choice to start against the Nationals.

Manager Danny Murtaugh had four possibilities to counter with: Joey Jay of Cincinnati, Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles, Art Ma-

Jay, Robinson Keeping Redlegs 'Hot'

United Press International Staff
 Back in spring training there was some doubt whether Joey Jay and Frank Robinson would be around by All-Star time, but largely because of them the Cincinnati Reds are leading the National League by five games today at the mid-season layoff.

Jay and Robinson gave further evidence that their selection to the All-Star squad was justified by pacing the Reds to their third victory in their four-game showdown series with the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday. The 64, 225-pound Jay pitched his 12th triumph of the season and Robinson collected four hits, including a pair of home runs, to give Cincinnati a 14-3 win.

It was the first complete-game victory against the Dodgers in 16 lifetime starts for Jay, who had never lived up to his promise in three previous years with Milwaukee. Robinson, who became involved in a gun-toting incident during the off season and got off with a $250 fine, may have been sobered by the scrape. He's in line for the triple crown with a .328 batting average (8th in league), 23 home runs (tied for 2nd), and 70 RBI's (2nd).

Meanwhile, Detroit's position atop the American League was rather shaky. Only a half game separated the Tigers and the New York Yankees while the third place Baltimore Orioles are coming strong.

The Tigers regained the top rung by sweeping a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels, 1-0 and 6-3, while New York split a twinbill with Boston, winning the opener 3-0 on rookie Roland Sheldon's five-hitter and losing the nightcap, 9-4.

In other American League games, the Chicago White Sox won two from Cleveland, 7-5 and 9-8; Baltimore beat Kansas City, 8-0, and Minnesota trounced Washington, 7-1. Pittsburgh downed Milwaukee, 5-4; the Chicago Cubs ran their winning streak to five straight by defeating Philadelphia twice, 9-8 and 8-3; and San Francisco downed St. Louis, 6-1, after losing the opener, 6-3, in other National League contests.

Jay, who won only 22 games the past three seasons, became the first NL hurler to win 12. He has lost four. Charley Neal's two-run homer and a solo homer by John Roseboro accounted for the Dodgers runs.

Robinson "knocked in seven runs, the final three coming on a bases loaded double in the ninth inning. Robinson also was hit by reliever Don Drysdale, who was ejected from the game."

Frank Lary won his 13th game against four losses in helping Detroit to its opening triumph. Lary scattered three hits while Detroit got the lone run on a walk, a hit batman and rookie Mike Roarke's single. Billy Bruton's two-run homer in the nightcap provided the margin of victory, giving Jim Bunning his ninth win.

Sheldon, up from class D ball, struck out seven in registering his second shutout in a row. Roger Maris hit his 33rd homer for the Yankees, leaving him 13 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record at the All-Star break. Carl Yastrzemski went 4-for-5 in leading the Red Sox' 13-hit attack on five Yankee hurlers in the second game.

Steve Barber's fourth shutout of the season gave the Orioles their 16th victory in the last 20 games and put them seven games back of the league-leaders.

Sherrn Lollar's pinch grand slam home run enabled the White Sox to win the opener over the shuffling Indians and Turk Lown put out the fire in the nightcap to preserve a victory after Willie Kirkland hit three consecutive home runs for Cleveland.

Camilo Pascual's five-hit hurling gave the Twins their first success at Griffith Stadium this year. Earl Baty hit two homers and Ted Lepcio connected once for Minnesota's first victory in the last five games with Washington.

Powell's Set Pace In Loop

Powell's Office Supply added two more wins to make a 26 point win in leading The Thursday Nite Mixed League. With the league two-thirds over, this is a slight margin of safety, since four other teams are now pushing towards the top.

Pryor's State Farm Ins., along with Appleby's Restaurant and Steinmeyer Roofing are all tied up in second with 21 wins each, while DeBary Pharmacy holds third with 20. Union Park Pharmacy is next with 19, followed by Sanford Mfg. Co. and Plerro's Mfg. Co.

Ken Stone showed how it is done as he racked up a big 630 scratch series. Other 500 plus series were Ed Michalek 568, Bill Foster 558, Margie Woods 530, Ralph Betts 579, Jim Smith 538, Carl Nicholson 546, Ed Callan 564, Car VonHerbulis 584 and Harold Appleby 535.

The 3-10 was once again the easy mark as Nicholson, Von Herbulis, Mike Accardi, Albert Warner, Dot Powell, Stone, Ann Conklin, Vicki Carter, Dutch Shugarts and Michalek all topped it. Pat Foster made the 2-10, Bill Foster got the 1-8-10. Carolyn Betts made the 1-4 and 3-7, Mike Wemy made the 2-7 and both Jerry Farrell and Chester Fawley picked up the five and dime.

The American Red Cross was organized in 1881.

Sprains Back

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York Yankee first baseman Bill Skowron sprained his back during infield practice before Sunday's doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox and was kept out of the lineup. Earl Torgeson took his place.

THE PHANTOM

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss invited us to their home for an evening. We were told "not to dress up." I almost fainted when they greeted us at the door. The wife was wearing shorts and a halter top. The husband was completely bare on top, and was wearing shorts. Both were barefoot. They are in their late fifties, and weigh over 200 pounds apiece. I found it revolting to look at them. Him, with his big stomach hanging in layers over his shorts, and her, with rolls of fat flopping around. In addition to this, the veins in her legs stood out in red and blue knots all over. I tell you I couldn't wait to leave. Are we old-fashioned? Or is this the way "high society" entertains the working stiff?

DEAR DISGUSTED: Well-bred people do not entertain their guests in the get-ups you described. This "high society" has a very low ceiling.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow about to marry a widower. We love each other very much, but I am very hurt because of his attitude toward his deceased wife. On Memorial Day he bought the most expensive spray of flowers, took it to the cemetery and placed it on her grave. I've mentioned this, and he says no one else remembers her and he feels it is his duty. I think it is nice to remember the dead, but why overdo it? I have found a new life and am willing to forget my loss. Can't he do the same? LIVING TODAY

DEAR LIVING: You should consider yourself very fortunate to get a man who is so generous, sensitive and kind. Doesn't it give you pleasure to know that, should you go first, he will cherish your memory and not "forget his loss" quickly? Think it over.

DEAR ABBY: I went out with a cled—and I mean a first class drip—because he pestered me for a date for months. I had a miserable time. I couldn't even stand to let him hold my hand.

He has been bothering me for another date ever since. I don't want to go out with him again. Every time he calls I tell him I am "busy," but now he says, "YOU name the time when you are free." I am stuck for an answer. Please tell me how to discourage this guy without coming right out and telling him he nauseates me. MUCHACHA

DEAR MUCHACHA: Tell him you think too much of him to let him waste his time and money on a girl who thinks of him as a "brother." This will cool off the most amorous amigo.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SYL: Don't be a sap. Let him do his own laundry. He has plenty of soft soap handy.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Running a household is very much like running a small business, yet few housewives ever bother to set up an "office" in their homes.

They scribble appointments on a calendar in the kitchen. They pile bills into a pantry drawer and stick important papers away in bureaus. All sorts of receipts and reminders are tucked in their minds. They burden their minds with endless things they feel simply must not be forgotten. Any man who tried to run a small business in that haphazard fashion would soon be nagged to death by overlooked appointments, lost papers, frantic searchings for needed information, and so on.

What a housewife really needs is a well-equipped desk and a filing cabinet, a typewriter, if she knows how to use one, and the determination to run the business side of housekeeping in a business-like fashion. If she spends 30 minutes a day at her desk she can keep up with her filing, answer letters and social invitations promptly, jot down reminders for the day's work, put the telephone to work to save unnecessary errands and clear her mind of a dozen or so nagging business matters.

She will not only save valuable time by being businesslike about business matters, she will clear her mind of the clutter of trying to remember too many things. And that means less frustration from overlooking important matters.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

When you open a doubleton, the standard rule is to open the top. When you open a suit of three cards or more, you open the third best from three and the fourth best from four or more unless you have certain high card combinations.

Here is the table of high card leads against a suit contract: Lead ace from suit headed by ace against the king. It is always dangerous to underlead an ace against a suit contract. Lead king from ace-king or king-queen.

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH (D) and card combinations like AKJ1098, QJ10, 1098, etc.

Lead queen from queen-jack-ten or queen-jack-nine. Lead jack from king-jack-ten, jack-ten-nine, or jack-ten-eight. Lead ten from king-ten-nine, queen-ten-nine, ten-nine-eight, or ten-nine-seven. West's opening lead of the king of hearts was both normal and effective. East played his eight spot. This play of the higher card asks partner to continue the suit and this time it showed a doubleton. West continued and East ruffed the third lead. Since West still had to make his king of trumps the hand was down one.

Judy Returns To Summer Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Singer Judy Garland returned to her summer home here Sunday night after 24-hours of diagnostic tests at Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis.

Miss Garland was rushed to the hospital shortly after dinner Saturday evening when she was stricken with severe abdominal pains.

Dr. Robert D. Watt said the singer was "greatly improved" after her hospitalization for what was believed to be a kidney inflammation.

SHOT FROM ABOVE HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Joshua Logan's first scenes for the movie "Fanny" were directed from a helicopter over the port of Maracaibo. The helicopter hovered as close as 35 feet to the aftermast of the square-rigger Malaise for opening sequences with actor Horst Buchholz on the rigging.

Michigan produces nearly one-half of the lumber marketed in the Great Lakes states.

Federal Court To Hear Petition On Segregation

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — A judge federal court was scheduled to hear a petition today asking an end to segregated public transportation facilities in Mississippi.

The petition also asks an injunction from arresting persons for refusing to observe state laws requiring whites and Negroes to use separate waiting rooms and other facilities.

A bi-racial group of 17 "freedom riders" followed 190 of their predecessors to jail Sunday for refusing an officer's order to "move on" from segregated waiting rooms at the bus and rail terminals here.

They were part of the almost continuous trickle of integrationists into the capital which began in May when the Congress of Racial Equality and a number of Negro groups vowed to "fill up the jails" in protest to segregation.

The suit today was filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of three Jackson Negroes arrested at the terminals.

The petition claims that Negroes "have suffered and shall continue to suffer irreparable injury as a result of the enforcement of state segregation laws while they are traveling." It also alleges that Negroes are subject to "daily public inconveniences, harassment and embarrassment" in violation of their constitutional rights.

The 17 riders arrested Sunday came in two groups. Eight Negroes and a white man were arrested shortly after noon when they arrived at the Central of Louisiana train terminal from New Orleans.

The other group of eight persons was arrested a short time later at the bus terminals. They came from Montgomery, Ala.

The arrested and jailed as they were taken away to jail.

"That man didn't tell us to move on but to wait," Patricia McMillan, 24, said. "I thought he was ordered to tell us three times. Let's do this thing according to law."

The 17 riders arrested Sunday came in two groups. Eight Negroes and a white man were arrested shortly after noon when they arrived at the Central of Louisiana train terminal from New Orleans.

91 To Compete In Beauty Contest

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Pictures taking and briefings were on tap today for the 91 contestants from all over the world competing for the title of Miss Universe.

Ninety of the entries, in a variety of dress ranging from bathing suits to a parka, showed up Sunday night in Miami's Bayfront Park for the pageant's opening ceremony. They presented gifts to Miami Mayor Robert King High and were given white gold purses emblazoned with Miss U.S.A.

The pageant, which ends Saturday with the selection of Miss Universe, gets underway in earnest Wednesday with the selection of 12 semi-finalists in the race for Miss U.S.A.

Harassed pageant officials today worked to unravel a snarl over the credentials of the Cuban entry.

No entry appeared here from Fidel Castro's island republic, so Miami's Cuban exile colony whipped up an impromptu contest, named buxom Maria Victoria the winner, and sent her into the limelight as "Miss Free Cuba."

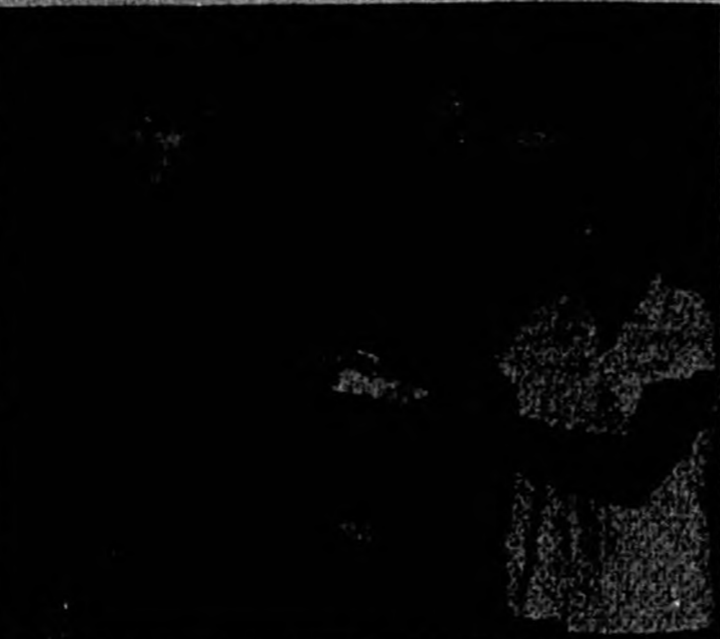

Maria didn't get very far. Pageant officials told her she was lacking credentials proving her age (she says she is 25) and marital status (she says she is single.) She was not on hand Sunday night.

An estimated 2,000 persons saw the beauties in their first public appearance.

Miss South Dakota, Sharon Hoffman, stunning in a skin-tight purple swim suit, caught many eyes. She presented Mayor High with a balloon symbolic, she said, of her state's claim to the title "balloon test capital of the world."

Miss Alaska, Judy Ostad, appearing in a fur-lined parka, presented High a flag. Gesturing toward her parka she said, "I'm colder than anybody; it's 110 in here."

COFFEE BUSINESS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans drink about 600 million cups of coffee daily, or about 50 pounds for every man, woman and child. The Commerce Department recently predicted that coffee consumption would continue to rise and that prices would be stable at least until 1963. It also said that coffee is now at least 10¢ a pound in 50¢ per cent of its cost.

SGT. VINCE SMALLWOOD, Florida Highway Patrol, presents Robert Kromarczyk with a Certificate of Training on his completion of the Basic Driver Training Course conducted by instructor Tom McInnis, of the Seminole Driving School. The most recent class was the seventh in the program to provide thorough and reasonably priced instruction to new drivers which is conducted by the CPO Wives Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. H. Williams.

WARREN G. CREWS, Aviation Machinist's Mate Chief, is shown being congratulated by Capt. Robert W. Slye, USN, NAS commanding officer at ceremonies marking the chief's retirement and transfer to the Fleet Reserve. Chief Crews reported to NAS Sanford in July, 1957 and has served in the demanding position of leading Chief of the Shore Patrol since that time.

First Federal Assn. Assets Show Big Yearly Increase

The mid-year statement of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. shows assets totaling $18,819,089.92 as compared with $10,821,028.50 on the same date last year. This sharp rise is in contrast with the general economic trends and speaks well for business conditions in this area.

On June 30 savings accounts amounted to $11,956,824.00 were paid dividends at the rate of four per cent a year and amounting to almost $210,000. Since Dec. 1960 the thrift accounts advanced from $10,158,287, a jump of over 25 per cent.

E. C. Harper Sr., president, said that the directors had added over $85,000 to the reserves that now stand at $1,315,819 and stressed the added safety for savings that comes from this fund in addition to the up to $10,000 insurance on each account by Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

Harper added that operation for the six months just closed has been very gratifying, and the fact that there was an increase in the number of loans handled amounting to 27 per cent as compared to the figure for June, 1960, indicates that First Federal is serving well the people in this county and nearby DeBary, Enterprise and Osteen.

The local thrift firm has 5,200 savings accounts on its books, the officer said, again representing a substantial increase over the figure of a year ago.

While the savings association has not escaped the "squeeze on profits" that has been said to characterize business in general this year, the new building has provided some efficiencies that have "eased the strain" somewhat and have worked for the benefit of the savers and borrowers at First Federal, Harper said.

With what economists say is the "low spot of the business drag" behind us, there is every reason to feel that the next six months will afford even more opportunities for progress, it was said. The general temper of the home building industry is that there will be no sudden spurt in new home construction, but there will be advance, especially by those who recognize the opportunity in today's labor and material market, Harper concluded.

Even 'The Bard' Gets His Own Television Show Now

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — Television gave the bard a bonus Sunday: a show of his own.

William Shakespeare, the most honored playwright of the past TV season, had no trouble holding his own as the star of CBS-TV's "Accent."

What's that? Did someone say, "who cares?" For those who may still regard Willy as a writer who never could make it on TV, as one who appeals only to a tiny audience, may I remind them of the following facts:

The TV public, when last summoned to a national election by the editors of the TV Guide Magazine, chose "Macbeth" as "the best single dramatic program" of the 1960-61 season.

And the people who comprise the TV industry saw things the same way. They sprinkled five "Emmys" upon the "Macbeth" film, topping off the outpouring with the "TV Program of the Year" title.

So you see, Shakespeare has got to be TV's fair-haired boy. He appeals to everyone. Right? In fact, I'm just about ready to accuse CBS of playing follow-the-leader by presenting this rating blockbuster about "sure-thing" Shakespeare.

But seriously, as Danny Thomas once said — or was it Henry Youngman? — I enjoyed what there was of the half-hour "Accent." For the first in a series of summertime visits to European cultural landmarks, "Accent" aimed its cameras at the Royal Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon, England.

The visit to the world-famous Shakespeare festival permitted some bright conversationalists to oscillate across the Shakespeare-cope. There were sections of the program devoted to Stratford's history and to a lot of acting from "As You Like It" but I was sorry that producer Bill Rubin had no time left for the cameras to tour the insides of the festival theater.

The discussions, guided by Alexander Kendrick, took place on the lawn outside the theater and gave us a chance to hear how Christopher Plummer, Vanessa Redgrave and Peter Hall, the 30-year-old director at Stratford, feel about the bard.

Hall, the sprightliest of the talkers, seemed to have dedicated himself to the worthy task of eliminating boredom and boria, both off-stage and on, from the theater. He appeared anxious to help actors and audiences get new kicks out of Shakespeare by riding the plays of lingering traces of Victorian age interpretations.

But Hall didn't seem to be sold on his summertime audiences. "In the summer," he said, "we get rather stuffy audiences. They come to worship." Plummer, a veteran of Shakespeare festivals in the Stratfords of Connecticut and Canada, found audiences at the three places to be equipped with helpful, fresh attitudes. Miss Redgrave, daughter of Michael Redgrave, addressed herself primarily to the Bard's talent-stretching qualities.

Viewers seeking an answer to the question, "Why Shakespeare?" should have been helped by this program, brief though it was.

County Plans Welfare Check

The County Commission today authorized District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery to draw up a directive taking all able-bodied men off the county welfare rolls.

Action Slated On VFW Post Liquor Permit

The Cassberry Board of Aldermen, meeting in regular session Monday with all members present, again tabled action of the South Seminole VFW's request for permission to seek a small club liquor license.

Art Bloch, commander of the Post, appeared before the board at its June meeting, with plans to build a $20,000 home at Interstate Rd. and SR 436 pending approval of its operation under the small club license.

Sales Barred In East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communist regime today barred the sale of household luxuries to East Berliners who earn their living by working in free West Berlin.

The city government announced that East Berlin residents buying such goods as television sets, refrigerators, automobiles and similar items in Communist stores must prove they work in East Berlin before they can take the goods home.

The regulation affects approximately 50,000 East Berliners now employed in West Berlin.

By LARRY VERHEEL. Now that the City Commission has authorized the purchase of 80 comfortable chairs for the chambers, the next big project will be to get drapes. Wonder if the wives of the commissioners will be called in on the colors?

Leffler and Bush, local engineers, fresh with a contract in their pockets to draw up sewage treatment plant plans, have moved their offices in the Kirk Plaza Building.

Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce has a good reason for the big boost in her budget request for 1961-62. More elections next year!

Did you know that from July 1, 1960, through June 30, 1961, there were 823 motor vehicle accidents in the city and also accidents involving motorcooters. The city is considering prohibiting anyone from riding double on scooters and Monday night asked City Attorney William Hutchison to check into any existing state law concerning this.

Approval Forecast For Aid Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic congressional leaders forecast after meeting with President Kennedy today that Congress will approve a foreign aid program along lines of the $4.5 billion measure he requested.

Senate Leader Mike Mansfield said that "the support for the program would come as the 'net result' of new anti-communism by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the Berlin crisis."

Speaker Sam Rayburn said he did not know whether Khrushchev's threats would mean more votes for foreign aid but "I think we'll pass a good bill."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday approved a few minor sections of the bill but put off decisions on the most controversial parts. Heavyweight fire has been aimed at the plan to give the administration authority to commit aid money for five years, instead of on a year-by-year basis.

Reds, North Korea Sign Treaty

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China and North Korea today signed a treaty of "friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance," Communist China's New China News Agency reported.

The seven-article pact was signed in Peking by Chinese Communist Premier Chen En-Lai and North Korean Premier Kim Il-Sung.

Eichmann Fights 'To Clear Name'

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Adolf Eichmann said today that he is fighting to clear himself of untruths "piled on" him for 15 years —not to save his own neck.

"I am not fighting for my head or my neck," he told the Jewish court trying him for mass murder, "but I do ask that the untruths that have been heaped on me for 15 years be removed."

Looking pale and exhausted, Eichmann fought back for the third day against a scorching cross-examination by Israeli Prosecutor Gideon Hausner, who denounced him repeatedly as a liar.

Engineers Get Sewage Plant OK

The Sanford engineering firm of Leffler and Bush today started work on preliminary plans and designs for a sewage treatment plant for the city.

Monday night, the City Commission signed a contract with Clark, Daly, Dietz, Leffler and Bush to draw up plans for the plant and said that the plant would be constructed "whenever it was economically feasible."

Engineer William Leffler estimated today that it would be about four weeks before the preliminary plans are completed.

A primary plant for a 30,000 population is expected to cost approximately $320,000 and one for 40,000, some 25 percent more. The city will decide on the plant once the preliminary plans are completed.

In other business, the commission approved the low bid of Universal Seating Co. for 60 theatre type chairs for the commission chambers at a total cost of $1,428.

Awarded the low bid to American Cast Iron Pipe Co. for cast iron pipe at a cost of $18,289.

Appointed Frank Galloney to the Zoning Board and Arthur Harris to the Board of Adjustment as a liaison member.

Accepted George Binioni's comprehensive city plan for Sanford.

Hearing Set On Revoking Hotel License

The City Commission Monday night set Aug. 14 as a public hearing date to consider revoking the city license for the Palm Hotel on W. First St.

Both Building Inspector M. H. Yelvington and Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr. have called the three story building a serious health menace and fire trap.

The board agreed to hold the hearing after City Manager, W. E. Knowles informed commissioners that an official of the State Hotel Commission inspected the building Monday and was "fabergasted" at what he saw.

Knowles said that the "official plans to report back to the state board to have the state license of the hotel revoked."

At the same time, the commission, condemned an old building located at 708 W. Ninth St. after Cleveland said he received numerous complaints that the building was a fire hazard and health menace to the area.

Cleveland said he inspected the building and urged the commission to remove the building.

Teenagers Blind Florida Airman

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Three sadistic teenagers threw acid into the face of an airman from Florida Monday night and laughed when he screamed.

Thomas J. Avinger, 21, stationed at the Amarillo Air Force Base, was rushed to a hospital with first degree burns and "serious damage to his right eye."

Police said he was "totally blinded" for a time, but doctors felt they can save one of his eyes and possibly both of them.

Explosions Blast Italy Railways

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—A series of terrorist explosions blasted railway lines in northern Italy today, virtually cutting off international train traffic.

Police and railroad workers found numerous mines and explosives on lines that pass over the Alps into Switzerland and Austria. Authorities halted all rail traffic in these areas until undamaged lines could be checked and cleared.

Guild To Meet

The Catholic Guild of the Mary Magdalen Church in Altamonte Springs will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Community Center on Mailroad Ave. All members of the parish are invited to attend.

CDR. Silas R. Johnson Friday will take over the command of Heavy Attack Wing Three relieving Cdr. Kenneth Rowell. Johnson has just returned from a deployment in the Mediterranean Sea where he was in command of VAH-9 aboard the USS Saratoga.

Rescue Teams Head For Island

QUEILIMANE, Mozambique (UPI)—Rescue teams headed by sea and air today to an isolated beach to pick up the remains of survivors of a Portuguese ship that caught fire during a storm and was ripped by explosions.

A handful of survivors was stranded on the lion-infested beach 30 miles from the ancient slave trade port of Quelimane.

The 2,037-ton "Savo" ran aground near the mouth of the Mahindi River off the southeast African Coast of Mozambique Friday.

Portuguese authorities in Lisbon said Monday night the ship had carried 443 persons. At least 30 Portuguese soldiers and 105 African troops among them were dead or missing. Naval officials in Lourenco Marques, Mozambique's capital, said there had been 565 persons aboard and that 237 were dead or missing.

Marine Admits Going 'Over Hill'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Marine private who was confined for 30 days in the "box" at the Okinawa rig admitted Monday he was released temporarily from solitary, where he was held on charges of black marketing in government goods.

Pvt. Stobo C. West, 31, Union, S. C., held a news conference at Treasure Island, where he is awaiting appeal of his five-year sentence for black market operations.

Won't Rest

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he will not rest until United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is replaced by a three-man "troika" directorate.

Cleveland Spells Out State Law

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. today told the County Commission that it has no authority to realign or "alter" any peace justice or constable districts in Seminole County.

Cleveland, who also is state representative for this county, made the remarks after District 6 Peace Justice Elmer Ashley complained to the board on the proposed redistricting move and asked the commission to reconsider its plan on slightly changing the three districts in conjunction with the realigning of the commissioner districts.

Cleveland emphasized that only the Legislature can change JP districts and that the board could ask the legislature in 1963 for any changes.

Cleveland also told the commission that the board has the authority to hire an administrative assistant but the board tabled any action on an assistant until further study.

Commissioners John Fitzpatrick and Vernon Dunn cited the need for a deputy clerk or administrative assistant to put the county on a sound economic basis.

However, two county residents in the audience asked the board not to take any hasty action on hiring an assistant because of the cost to the taxpayers.

Cassberry Alderman Mrs. Hope Bennett asked the board "where would the money come from to hire any assistant?" Fitzpatrick said, from tax revenues and said it was too premature to discuss an assistant at this time.

Joseph Barbro told the board that it ought to hire District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery as an assistant. "He's the best man for the job," he said.

Chairman J. C. Hutchison brought the discussion to a close by telling Barbro the board plans no action on an assistant yet—and when "we do it will be at an open meeting."

Cabinet Approves 400 Pay Raises

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Cabinet approved pay raises for more than 400 state officials and employees today, with nearly half the number in excess of the legislative-directed salaries.

The pay hikes were tabulated in two long lists, one containing salaries in excess of $10,000 a year and the other including salaries in excess of the legislative budget. The Cabinet must approve all salaries of more than $10,000.

Gov. Farris Bryant, who had asked for delay of the pay raise authorizations, said he had completed his study of the requests. He said the bulk of the salary raises in excess of legislative budgets went to employees in the lower paid categories.

Altamonte Sets Hearing On Zoning

Altamonte Springs councilmen, meeting in regular session at the Town Hall Monday, set a public hearing for July 31 on proposed zoning changes.

The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.

27 Await Death

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant said Monday he would act "expeditiously" to reduce the record number of 27 convicts awaiting execution on death row at Raiford State Prison.

Residents Protest Landfill Dumping

A delegation of about 30 persons, bearing a petition of 100 names, Monday night protested the dumping of garbage into a city borrow pit on W. 22nd St. through 19th St. between Lake and Marshall Aves.

The protest was made at the City Commission meeting. Residents complained that the situation is creating a "serious health menace, depreciating the property and that the city is 'slipping something over on us.'"

However, Mayor Joe Baker quickly assured the delegation that the area had been designated a sanitary landfill area and has the approval of Health department officials.

In an effort to seek some sort of solution, the commission, after debating the issue well over an hour, ordered a clamping down on outside dumping and a rigid enforcing of the hours. They also ordered the police department to police the area against scavengers and to log the area if necessary.

The board emphasized that it would be a two week trial period to see what could be accomplished.
