REGARDING ACTION OF NEGROES WHO TRY TO MINGLE WITH WHITES

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Jan. 25.—Guarded by motorcycle policemen six members of a negro orchestra engaged by one of the largest tourist hotels here was taken to the northern suburb early today and placed on the train bound for Columbus, Ohio, their home. The musicians after midnight were lured to the outskirts of the city and beaten by a gang of men which they said numbered seventy-five and warned to leave Miami within twenty-four hours. Some of their instruments were destroyed. The police are without clue to the identity of the assailants. Several complaints had been made to police of the actions of the negroes but it was not believed there would be any trouble.

It was reported the negroes had not conducted themselves in accordance with Southern custom and had sought to mingle with the white people in public parks and at public entertainments and that the leader of the orchestra had on one occasion left his place with the orchestra and stepped on the dance floor to direct a new dance. The hotel had telegraphed for an orchestra of white musicians.

FLORIDA'S FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE—CINDERELLA SPENT COIN

Expenditures Overtook Her Income, But Balance Helped Out

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 25.—Cinderella, the appellation given Florida by Governor Hardee, required exactly $9,127,882.97 to provide her with governmental clothing in 1921, according to the annual report made by the guardian of her finances. The per capita cost of her maintenance was $9.52, if the word of the census in placing the population of the Cinderella household at 968,470 is to be taken. Her expenditures for the year overtook her income, but a tidy bank balance from 1920 not only helped in 1921 but carried her over into the new year with cash on hand of $1,693,473.56. The year's receipts totalled $8,552,405.55.

No small portion of Cinderella's expenditures went for her education, the treasury report, showing $759,497.49 was disbursed for the various educational institutions of higher learning, either through the annual support fund or for improvement or extension projects.

The judicial department, charged with keeping her in the straight and narrow path, came in for $299,589.88 divided as follows: Salaries $113,253.53; jurors and witnesses $185,089.80; salaries of Supreme court justices $23,760.

Cinderella's interests are far reaching and diversified and an executive department is maintained, which costs insofar as salaries are concerned, $29,721.42. Salaries of clerks in the administrative department totalled $95,729.13.

The meeting of the legislative medicine who for 60 days prescribed for Cinderella's manifold ills, entailed an expenditure of $118,110.80.

The young lady is no flapper, however, for she goes along on a well nigh cash basis. The total indebtedness amounts to refunding bonds totalling $601,576.

GOLF LINKS ARE NEEDED FOR TOURISTS

PROMINENT VISITOR TO CITY SAID SANFORD SHOULD HAVE COUNTRY CLUB

If there is anyone in Sanford who does not believe in a new tourist hotel, in golf links and country club, in a boat basin and lake front improvements, in all kinds of amusement places for tourists let them talk to some of the really big men of the country who have been here this winter.

For instance, Mr. Ringling, who was here yesterday for the first time was carried away with Sanford and its wonderful possibilities. Asked what he thought of Sanford his instant reply was that it had everything that nature could give it but if Sanford wanted tourists it would have to build a boat basin, a pier and have a golf links and country club. It is what they all say and have been saying for years. It is what other Florida cities have discovered long ago and these cities that have gone ahead and made these improvements have benefited by entertaining thousands of new people every year. Sanford has relied too much on the farming industry in the years past. The farming industry is all right and is the backbone of the country but the farming industry will take care of itself and needs neither advertising or support in a financial way except from the banks. What Sanford should become and what Sanford will become if the Sanford people can be interested sufficiently is a tourist resort.

BODY LIES IN STATE AS TROUSERS ANDS THROUGH THE VATICAN

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, Jan. 25.—The funeral of Pope Benedict will be held at 3:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at was announced at the Vatican today.

ROME, Jan. 25.—For another day the body of Benedict XV will lie in state. The funeral ceremonial will thus be delayed until Thursday. An official announcement to this effect was made yesterday afternoon, with the qualification, however, that should previous burial be advisable, the final rites would occur today, as originally arranged.

Benedict's tomb will face that in which Pope Pius VI lies; it adjoins that of Queen Christina of Sweden, who having abdicated the throne in 1654, settled in Rome, where she died in 1689.

Fully half a million people have filed past the catafalque in St. Peter's to view the body of the late pope, and while the great procession has been orderly, its very vastness has entailed strenuous labors on the part of the gendarmes and guards, for the stream moved slowly amid scenes of grief and mourning.

An alignment of forces and opinions which are likely to clash in the conclave for the election of the next pope, was plainly discernible last evening, although the opening session is nine days distant. That the question of closer relations between the Italian government and the Vatican dominates the discussion is the consensus of opinion in religious circles and the press.

INFLUENZA AND PNEUMONIA EPIDEMIC IN NEW YORK CITY, OFFICIALS BECOME ALARMED

Getting Start in the Congested Area Would Kill a Million People

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(By the Associated Press).—City Health officials today are taking steps to block any further progress of the threatened influenza and pneumonia epidemic. The City Health Commissioner, Mr. Copeland, said under the present conditions the epidemic disease might get such a start in the congested areas as to sweep the town and kill a million people. He declared the city was worse off today than during the epidemic of 1918 on account of the housing situation.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE MAY BLOW UP HARDING IF FARMERS ARE IGNORED

Powerful Bloc in Congress Want Something and Will Get It

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A volcano is grumbling under the placid surface of President Harding's agricultural conference. It threatens to erupt with devastating political effect if the conference fails to produce a constructive program of agricultural relief.

A powerful, progressive group is now threatening open insurgency in the conference, unless the assembly goes on record emphatically in favor of what it believes is the only program that will aid the farmer. This program follows:

- 1.—Financial relief even if the government must extend credits totaling a billion dollars or more.
- 2.—Twenty-five per cent reduction in freight rates.
- 3.—Insurance of the farmers against loss.
- 4.—Co-operative marketing and buying.

This in substance was the program drafted at an executive meeting of the National Farmers' Union. In attendance at this session were Charles S. Barrett, Union City, Georgia, president of the organization; C. J. Osborne, of the farmers union of Nebraska; Milo Reno, farmers union of Iowa; A. C. Davis, farmers union of Arkansas and W. C. Lunsdown, farmers union of Kansas.

Support of this program, it is understood has been pledged by the National Glensers Federations, the Pennsylvania State Grange, the National Non-Partisan League, the Montana Society of Equity, the Farmers National Council and other agricultural organizations classed as progressive. State Senator H. F. Baker, of Michigan, president of the farmers national council, is planning a speech against any attempt to adopt what the progressives term "a purely negative political program."

Much bitterness is manifested among the progressives at the composition of the various committees of the conference. They charge the committees, selected by a committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, is loaded with reactionary delegates. This, however will not balk the progressives who plan to bring in minority reports on every question that does not meet their approval.

One delegate, a financial power in New York and prominent during the last two years of the Wilson administration, plans to take a leading part in the battle on the side of the progressive element.

President Harding's slip at the agricultural block in his address to the conference drew a sharp rebuff from all the farmer elements. J. R. Howard, president of the American farm bureau federation, issued a statement yesterday in which he declared:

"The farmers of the nation are and will continue to be squarely behind the block and its members. Congress has seldom given serious consideration to the needs of agriculture. For fourteen years we advocated packer control legislation and almost as long government supervision of grain exchanges, but without avail. The agricultural bloc enacted both."

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Rejection of all railroad shop rules, recently promulgated by the United States railroad labor board which cut time and one-half pay for extra work from the shopmen wages, was ordered yesterday by the committee of one hundred acting for the six railway shop crafts.

In a circular issued to the 500,000 shop workers in the country, the committee ordered new disputes instituted with the railway managements immediately over these rules and failing an agreement, the disputes were ordered taken to the labor board for hearing. The circular was signed by the international presidents of the six shop crafts unions.

Of the seven rejected rules, the greatest dissatisfaction centered on rule six, providing straight time for regularly assigned work on Sundays and holidays. This work was previously paid for at time and one-half and the committee proposed a substitute rule reinstating time and one-half.

GAINESVILLE MAN FLOGGED, GIVEN TWO DAYS LEAVE

IN JAIL ON THE CHARGE OF DE- SERTING HIS WIFE

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 25.—J. T. Rossell, a machinist, about sixty years of age, was in the county jail last night on a charge of wife desertion and meanwhile nursed wounds received, he says, at the hands of masked men, who called him from his home early yesterday and severely flogged him.

Rossell had been arrested and placed under a peace bond of $300 Monday on complaint of his wife. He says about twelve men comprised the party that attacked him yesterday morning and after severely beating him ordered him to leave town before Thursday morning. When he explained that he was under a bond he claims his captors exhibited a "Ku Klux Klan" mask and asked if he had ever seen it before. He replied that he had seen it in the "movies," whereupon the men told him, according to his story, that he could see 200 more if he did not leave town.

Much secrecy surrounds the affair. It had not been generally known yesterday that Rossell had been re-arrested and placed in jail.

A newspaper man was accosted by a stranger yesterday afternoon who inquired as to the condition of the man "whipped last night." The newspaperman then visited Rossell in his cell and heard his story. Another charge, in addition to the one of wife desertion, is booked against him.

Rossell says he showed fight when taken by the men but they beat him over the head with revolvers and finally weakened him into submission. His body bore deep welts as the result of his flogging while his head was badly bruised. He said he would not leave town and if armed would fight the "whole dozen." He said his domestic troubles were the result of a frame-up.

SPORT PAGE REVEALS BEAUTY SAYS WOMAN

HEAD GIRL SCOUTS OF AMERICA AT SAVANNAH MEETING.

(By The Associated Press)
SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 25.—To find real beauty of pose and motion pass up photographic sections of Sunday papers and turn to sporting page, Mrs. James Storrow, Boston, first vice-president, advised the National Girl Scout council here today. "Any goose," she said, "can take off her shoes and stockings and armed with silk scarf or dagger center around interpreting whole gamut of human emotions or pose in would-be classic attitudes with most unclassical figure. If our scouts are to adopt these types do at least let us first see that they have not acquired the debutante slouch before exhibiting themselves in too revealing garments."

COMPLAINTS MADE

DEMOCRATS WANT TO IN- CLUDE BONUS IN RE- FUNDING BILL

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Assurance that the permanent tariff bill would be reported to the senate early in February and passed before the close of the present session the senate Republican leaders announced today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The question of a bonus for former service men was again fully presented to the senate yesterday through the introduction by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, of the five way adjusted compensation plan as an amendment to the pending measure providing for refunding of the war time loans to the allied powers.

With the exception of provisions for payment of the bonus, the Simmons amendment is identical with the bonus bill which was taken up by the senate last summer only to be recommitted to the finance committee after President Harding had addressed the senate on the subject. The provisions for the payment of the bonus call for the issuance of short term treasury certificates until interest on the debt can be collected to retire them and, later, the use of the principal of the debt, if, and when such becomes available, through the issuance and sale of the foreign bonds.

In offering the amendment, Mr. Simmons assured the senate that he "was in earnest" and declared that he was bringing the subject up because former service men deserved the bonus and because the finance committee, of which he is the ranking Democratic member, had given "serious consideration" to attaching it to the funding bill before the latter was reported to the senate.

REPUBLICANS ARE STILL IN BAD FIX IN A FINANCIAL WAY

PAID OFF LOTS OF MONEY BUT STILL OWE NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—The Republican national committee still owes $708,161.32 for the campaign of 1920 which resulted in the election of President Warren G. Harding, according to figures made public last night by F. W. Upham, national treasurer.

This amount will be reduced Thursday, however, when Mr. Upham meets the New England finance committee at Boston to report funds raised since their last report. Mr. Upham will sail from New York Saturday to spend a two months' vacation in Europe and Africa and final reports will not be made until he return April 3.

The outstanding indebtedness includes $521,250 borrowed from the New York Trust, Empire Trust and Chase National Bank of New York; $127,000 borrowed from the First National and Old Colony Trust of Boston; and $14,311.32 borrowed from the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco.

At the close of the campaign in November, 1920, the committee was $1,683,000 in debt, including $1,405,000 in loans; $192,000 in unpaid bills and $88,000 owed to various state committees. In 15 months $1,400,000 has been collected of which $741,500 was applied to the loans, the state committees paid off; unpaid bills settled; $88,000 interest paid and $232,500 spent for the operation of the national committee, leaving about $60,000 cash on hand.

SANFORD ROTARY CLUB HAD GOOD MEETING AT NOON TODAY

The Sanford Rotary Club has a meeting at noon today at the Hotel Valdez with the usual amount of good things to eat and the songs and stories that go to make the noonday lunches so enjoyable. Two new members were voted in unanimously in the person of B. F. Whitner of the First National Bank and R. A. Morse of the Southern Utilities Co. W. T. Donnelly of Brooklyn was a guest of the club and was called upon for a few remarks by President Stevens. Mr. Donnelly is a most convincing speaker and he talked for five minutes upon the subject of what real Americans should be and the idea of service as embodied in the Rotary Club. Rotarian Alfred Smith of Columbia S. C., visiting the city was with the club at dinner and also made a five minute talk on the possibilities of the south and especially of Florida and Sanford. The Rotary Club is going in for athletics and a report from the athletic committee brought out the interesting fact that last week the Rotary Club played a game of basket ball being beaten by a narrow margin and also howled a few frames being beaten by the Men's Club of the Parish House. The Rotarians had too much fat but they are training now and dieting (anyone seeing them would see it) and under the careful eye of Dr. Ralph Stevens they will be allowed to eat nothing but Key West crawfish, steak, chicken and turkey and what wild game Arthur Yowell will bring them from time to time. They will also go in for slim members having already obtained all the fat ones in town and expect to put out a ball team in the early spring. Ed. Higgins was on the basket ball team but was down in South Florida fighting elephants and could not get back in time.

OCALA, Jan. 21.—Newspapers throughout the state have been congratulating Merrina on completion of the hydro-electric plant near there which is supplying power and lights to that city, and urging that other cities follow the pace set by the Jackson county capital.

The first hydro-electric plant in Florida, which is serving half a dozen cities, was placed in commission so long ago by Marion county business men that the event has almost been forgotten. In May 1911, nearly twelve years ago, the Florida Power Company, with officers in Ocala, began operating its plant on the Withlacoochee river, a few miles below Dunnellon, furnishing power to that city and phosphate mines in the vicinity. At the present time the plant is serving in addition to Dunnellon, Crystal River, Iverness, Floral City, Bushnell, Brooksville, several smaller towns and a host of industrial enterprises.

RUMORED FORD IS TO TAKE OVER S. A. L. RAILROAD

(By The Associated Press)
DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 21.—Rumors were heard yesterday although without tangible foundation, that Henry Ford may negotiate for the purchase of the Seaboard Air Line railway if his offer for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals plant is accepted by the government. It is believed the report emanated from the New York stock exchange owing to the rise in Seaboard Air Line railway Saturday after months of stagnation and inactivity in the stock.

In the event the government turns Muscle Shoals over to the Detroit industrial Wizard, the Seaboard would form an excellent outlet to the ports of the Atlantic Coast from Tampa, Fla., to Norfolk, Va., with direct connections to the larger ports of the east. The Seaboard owns and operates 3,123 miles of track from Richmond to Birmingham, extending as far south as Tampa and with direct lines to Norfolk, Wilmington, N. C., and Jacksonville and Savannah.

Bankers and railroad men are disposed to give the report serious consideration and speculate upon the possible purchase of the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio, which would connect with Ford's other railroad property in Ohio, and with the Seaboard establish direct connection between his Detroit holdings and Muscle Shoals.

DAMAGE TO CITRUS CROP IN CALIFORNIA IS STATED BY VICTOR GENTILE

Lawrence Gentile, of Gentile Bros., fruit packers and shippers, was in receipt this morning of a telegram from his brother, Victor Gentile, a member of the firm resident in California, outlining the extent of the damage to the California citrus crop by last week's freeze.

The damage was estimated as follows: To the northern Valencia crop,

WARD & RIVE

GENERAL REPAIRING

West First St. Old Ford Garage Phone No. 417-W

35 per cent; to the Southern Valencia crop, 15 per cent, and to Orange county Valencias, 5 per cent.

The telegram sent yesterday from Los Angeles, told of the thermometer dropping to twenty-one degrees.

"The Exchange and other big shippers" Mr. Gentile advised, "are holding off shipment for two weeks."

Asked what effect the news of the freeze would exert in Florida, Mr. Gentile declared life would be injected into a citrus market that had gone practically dead.

"Buying power is so curtailed in the north," he asserted, "and there is such an over-production of fruit, that strictly speaking, there was no market. The local situation has been stimulated by California's loss. It's the old story over again, that it's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

"The net result, as I see it, will be that the growers will receive from a dollar to a dollar and a half and dollar seventy-five for fruit for which previously there was practically no demand."—Orlando Reporter-Star.

The production costs of potatoes in the Hastings section this year are half a million less than last year. This is true of the Sanford section. Our Florida growers should make some money this spring.

Talk in a barber shop at Key West led to the reunion of a long lost family. All of which leads us to believe that there is some good in barber shop talk after all.

Old Man Jack Frost has taken up his residence in California. He just keeps going back there day after day. It will make an ideal skating and winter sport country next season.

Our congressmen are getting active at Washington. We have received our regular package of garden seed and are especially grateful for the lettuce seed. Lettuce has been very scarce and very high here this season and we shall proceed to eat the lettuce seed at once. Thanks, awfully. If you have any new recipes for home brew send them along. The hogs are looking thin.

Bostain's of Tampa, serves grapefruit free with meals. A big advertisement for Florida. What must a visitor from out of the state think when he comes into the locality where grapefruit abounds and is forced to pay as much for it there as he does a thousand miles away. Every Florida locality should through some source in at least one hotel or restaurant, serve grapefruit free. It is not only healthful but it would be a big advertisement for the state.—Lakeland Star.

By the same token the Sanford restaurants could make some similar arrangements about serving celery hearts either free of charge or at so small a charge that the visitors would know they were in the greatest celery section of the world.

HELPING THE KNOCKERS.

Some Florida newspapers feel called upon to devote their columns at frequent periods to answering the tirades of the "knocking clan" which is ever busy berating Florida.

Nothing successful ever existed, whether it was a state or a city, or merely a man, which did not draw criticisms of itself and attract the venom of the confirmed "knocker."

Florida is a success—if it were not, the "knockers" would let it alone. There's no fun in "knocking" something which is already recognized as a failure. It's the thing which has succeeded against which these writers direct their shaft of sarcastic junk.

The Times ordinarily eschews resolutions and promises about the future. A newspaper lives in the active now and cannot venture backward into the past or tread lightly on the thin air of the future. Promises and resolutions are dangerous, for the future, with its shifting action, may bring the newspaper into a position of being forced to remain silent or stultify itself by breaking its promise and forgetting its resolution.

However, in this case, The Times believes that it might lead the way for some Florida newspapers by asking that they tentatively join in giving these "knockers" a dose of the silent treatment. The "knocker" dearly loves to be "knocked." He likes to see other folks in his business. He's about the only man of that disposition. But he does, nevertheless. If he finds his "knocking" propaganda is winning publicity for him, he cares little what the press may say. He gets before the public eye and he's better known the next time he appears in his favorite role.

Fancy Groceries

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

Brother Florida editors, let's forget the "knocker" and let's refuse to pay attention to him in our columns. Better had we throw up a smoke screen of truth and a barrage of thousands of boosting facts that can be found within our state, until these "knockers" will be lost in the haze and forced to seek other targets for their attacks.—Tampa Times.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

A few years ago it was said that more people had their arms broken by cranking Fords than any other car. It was only that there were more Fords than any other kind of car, hence the more arms to be broken. It is now said that people are getting too careless with driving on the city streets as there are more accidents but it is really that there are so many more cars and hence the more accidents. People are probably as careful and are no doubt more careful now than in the years gone by when they knew so little about driving and about cars. But the very fact of so many cars being in Sanford at this time and the traffic getting heavier every day should make people driving cars and those driving other vehicles and those walking to use all the care possible on the streets and at the crossings. The streets were made for vehicles and if people crossing in the middle of the block would remember this the drivers would have a better chance to avoid hitting pedestrians. Stepping out of a car in the middle of the street is dangerous also. But the drivers of cars should use the utmost caution and care in driving at all times and if the drivers used care and used their head there would be less accidents. No one should ever drive a car on the streets of Sanford unless they drive slowly and carefully and have complete control of the car at all times. They should be able to stop at any and all times if they know how to handle a car, if they are careful drivers and if they have good brakes on their cars.

One fellow the police and the courts One fellow the police and the courts one who fills up on booze and goes careering over the city with danger to himself and to pedestrians and to traffic generally. We have often wondered why the courts do not handle these cases severely. We believe the courts are too easy on the careless drivers at all stages of the game. They are usually let off with a light fine and sometimes with no fine at all. If there are traffic laws let them be observed. If they are broken let the guilty suffer. If we break them we expect to suffer and all should be treated alike.

OUR BOAT BASIN

The advent of the tourist and the yachting tourist brings to the minds of the Sanford people the necessity of quick action on the new boat basin, the concrete pierhead and the other improvements contemplated on the lake front. If Sanford had these improvements supplemented by the golf links this city would have the tourist hotel and 5,000 satisfied tourists of the right sort in a few months and Sanford instead of being in the smaller class of Florida cities with few tourists would be in the big city class and filled with tourists. There is more real sport here now in the hunting and fishing line than any other city in Florida. We are situated upon the lake and the rivers and our location gives us those superior advantages obtained at no other part of the state. Nature has done so much for Sanford that the people have been prone to sit down and let Nature do it. all. If we would but stir ourselves and supplement the hand of Nature here Sanford would be a city of twenty thousand people almost over night. With the boat basin, with the white way, with the tourist hotel, with the golf links and country club and the road and gun club there would be nothing left undone for the comfort and the pleasure of the tourists and the winter visitors of all kinds. These improvements will have to be made and the way to make them is to bond the city and make them. Fifty thousand dollars spent in the lake front improvements would mean half a million dollars made on the investment in new people coming here to live and to spend the winters. Our lake front is our greatest asset "soon so oft, familiar with her face, we first endure, then forget, then efface" and none of us realize the wonders that could be worked on the lake front with the proper development. W. T. Donnelly has drawn comprehensive plans for the lake front for he has travelled over the world and has a long vision—he looks ahead 100 years, he sees a great city here where we do not, he knows what these improvements would mean to Sanford, he has made plans that would have cost the city a large sum of money but he has given them to Sanford and is giving his time and experience every day to this city. He wants nothing in return but his ideas put into force for he wants to see Sanford embodied in the spirit of his dreams and his ideas carried to completion and like many other hard working citizens of Sanford would like to see the plans for a great city completed before he retires from an active life.

Our lake front should be improved. The St. Johns river should be made the Inland Waterways through Florida, the hundreds of pleasure yachts that are never seen here now would be tied up at our new municipal pier and hundreds of them should be here the years around in our contemplated boat basin and thousands of tourists should be attracted here every year by the big water carnival that we purpose to put on beginning just as soon as our boat basin and other improvements are made. There are dozens of propositions to bring the people here if you have something for them when they arrive. They don't come to see Sanford or Sanford's people. They come here because Sanford will have a comfortable berth for their boats, have water sports and races, will have a first class tourist hotel, golf links, country club, rod and gun club, amusements of all kinds, plenty of hunting and fishing (when the proper game laws have been passed to protect them and all that goes to make life worth living. Think about it, dream about it, then act.

TO LESSEN CROSSING ACCIDENTS

An effort is being made to have all states adopt a plan tried with great success in California that would prevent injury and death to children who ride to and from school in automobile busses and have occasion to pass over the railroad track.

In many communities busses are provided to pick the children up at designated points and take them to school. In view of the many accidents that are occurring at railroad grade crossings it is felt that unusual precautions should be taken to prevent injury to the children. The State Federal Commission of California recently issued the following general order, which went into effect immediately:

"It is hereby ordered that all transportation companies as defined in Section 1, paragraph 'C' of Chapter 213, Statutes of 1917 and amendments thereto, be and they are hereby required to stop each and every stage engaged in the transportation of passengers before crossing the tracks of any steam or electric interurban railroad, such stop to be made not less than fifty (50) nor more than seventy-five (75) feet from the nearest rail of the railroad over which the highway crosses. After making the stop hereby required, the driver or operator of the stage shall carefully look in each direction for approaching cars or trains and shall not start his stage until it has been ascertained that there are no cars or trains approaching the crossing in either direction.

"The foregoing rule shall not apply in connection with the operation of passenger stages within municipalities as regards operation over the tracks of electric or other street railroads."

The State Superintendent of Education of California went a step further. He recommended that all school boards and principals of schools promulgate an order that, when the busses stopped as required by the general order of the State Railroad Commission, the teacher accompanying the pupils, or one of the pupils themselves, should go to the crossing and make sure that no train was approaching and then signal the stage or bus to proceed.

At a meeting of the Committee for Prevention of Grade Crossing Accidents, Safety Section, American Railway Association, a few days ago in Chicago, J. T. Broderick, chairman of the committee, and superintendent of the Safety Department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was delegated to get in touch with all railroad and public utility commissions in the country, with school authorities and others in an endeavor to have similar orders adopted in all states. The railroad authorities are most anxious to prevent injury to the young folks on their way to school, and feel that extreme caution on the part of drivers of automobiles will be a sure preventive. Mr. Broderick has already communicated with railroad and public utility commissions, with the United States Director of Education and others, and it is believed that there will be a ready response.

TRUCK

By a Sanford Celery-fed Man

Redd: "Hear your girl had an accident when she was out in her car yesterday?"

Porry: "Oh, it didn't amount to much."

Redd: "Neither she nor the car hurt?"

Porry: "No, only a little paint knocked off both."

Since I saw Charlie Ringling with his Rolls Rejoice here yesterday I will never be satisfied until I can drive one of them fifty miles an hour down First street with Judge Maines in the car with me.

I don't care "what the world is coming to" that all these reformers are talking about. What gets my goat just at present is "where is it coming to," yassum!

Dear Truck Column: Can you tell me the meaning of "Romance?"—Young Lady.

Dear Young Lady: Romance is the calm before the storm of matrimony.—T. C.

Asked my best girl the other night why she was always late with every date to the movies and to parties and dances but was always right on time at the card club and what do you think she said: That they had to get there on time at the card clubs to keep the rest of the bunch from talking about them. Can you beat it? It will take a royal flush.

"Can I be of any assistance?" asked the sympathetic motorist of a man who was looking unutterable thoughts at a disabled car.

"How is your vocabulary?"
"I'm a minister, sir."
"Drive on."

Judge: "Now, I don't expect to see you here again, Rufus."

Rufus: "Not see me here again, Mr. Judge? Why you' all ain't goin' to resign yo' job, is you, Judge?"

Reilly—"Pat was drowned yesterday."

Fitzpatrick—"Couldn't he swim?"
Reilly—"Yes, but he was a union man. He swam eight hours and quit."

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

On Friday evening L. R. Reynolds, of Daytona, the county Y. M. C. A. secretary lectured at the school building under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association, his subject for the evening was "The Rights of a Child." The principal points of his lecture were the rights of a child to (1) a good birth; (2) a normal play life; (3) an education and (4) a normal religious life. It was indeed a profitable lecture and the regret of the association was the weather turned off so cold that so few of the citizens availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing Mr. Reynolds. Mrs. F. A. Rowe and Mrs. L. P. Wilson rendered several musical selections.

Doubtless you have noticed that the army of unemployed contains no efficient house servants.

Emile Magnuson came up to spend a few days with the home folks, returning Thursday to Windemere with Elmer Tyner and expects to resume packing next week.

Mrs. Hirschi and little daughters called in to see Mrs. Bullinger Tuesday. Her husband is working on their new home during the lay off.

Mrs. Andrew Bertleson and daughter Claire returned home Sunday from Palatka where they have been visiting her relatives since Christmas.

Frank Ericson has been looking after W. C. Meador's place during his absence on their trip to Okeechobee.

There was a young folks surprise party held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. E. Vaughn and a pleasant time enjoyed by all present. We are sorry we could not be there. Cake and coffee were served.

A number from this section attended the Moody Bible services in Sanford this past week. We got to hear the last one and it was fine.

LONGWOOD

One of the pleasant events of the New Year was the ninth annual reunion of the Longwood and West Longwood Old Settlers Association held at Longwood Jan. 21st, 1922.

The day was one of Florida's ideal winter days. The ladies served a basket dinner with all the "good eats" one could ask for.

After dinner the President called the house to order and the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting held Jan. 15th, 1921, also letters from Rev. Chas. Frazer, of Jacksonville, Mrs. E. Dexter, Lima, Ohio., Mrs. C. DeVoe, Berlin, Wis., J. E. Pfeifer, Orlando, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hunt, Berkeley, California.

A vote of thanks were tendered to the ladies of the Civic League for the use of the Library building.

Mrs. J. S. Dinkle was asked to give the following toast:

A toast to the Old Year, a toast to the New,
May its pleasures be many, its sorrows be few,
A hope for the future a sigh for the past,
A smile for the present, its years speeding by,
A toast to the old friends, a toast to the new
A toast to the dear friends, and one to the true,
A prayer to our Maker, (in reverent fear)

CUTTING AND CURING MEAT ON THE FARM

Two days of the ten-day short course, held at the University of Florida from January 3 to 13, were devoted to demonstrations in meat cutting, curing and canning.

The methods taught in the demonstrations are contained in Farmer's Bulletin 1186 which can be secured free by addressing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington.

The following paragraphs are from this bulletin. The farmer who accurately follows this advice should have little trouble in producing extra good meat.

Cooling the Carcass

To facilitate cooling, after the hog has been dressed, split or saw the carcass down the backbone. While the carcass is still warm remove the leaf or kidney fat in order to facilitate its cooling.

Cutting Up the Carcass

A carcass should not be cut up until it has thoroughly cooled. Head.—The head is generally removed before the carcass is split. Cut about an inch back of the ears, making a complete circle around the neck.

Shoulder.—Cut off the front foot about an inch below the knee. The shoulder cut is made through the third rib at the breastbone and across the fourth. Remove the ribs from the shoulder, also the piece of attached backbone.

Middling or Bacon.—The ham is removed from the middling by cutting at the rise in the backbone and at a right angle to the shanks. The loin and fatback are cut off in one piece, parallel with the back just below the tenderloin muscle on the rear part of the middling.

Curing Pork The first essential in curing pork is to make sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled, but meat should never be allowed to freeze, either before or during the curing period.

Vessels for Curing.—A clean, hardwood molasses or sirup barrel is a suitable vessel in which to cure pork. The barrel should be clean and tight so as to prevent leakage.

Curing Agents.—Salt, saltpeter, sugar, and molasses are the principal preservatives used in curing pork. The use of borax, boric acid, formalin, salicylic acid, and other chemicals should not be used.

Salt when applied alone to meat makes it hard and dry, because its action draws out the meat juices and hardens the muscle fibers.

even more than does salt and therefore should be used sparingly. Sugar and molasses soften the muscle fibers and improve the flavor of the meat; hence, a combination of salt and sugar makes a good cure.

Place for Curing.—A cool, well ventilated cellar, free from rats, is the most desirable place for both brine and dry curing. The smokehouse may also be used for this purpose, but it should be observed that when curing by the dry-salt method special attention should be given to ventilation to prevent excessive dryness.

Cold-storage and ice plants in certain sections have rooms equipped with partitioned shelves, where farmers may store their meat during the process of curing at an even temperature, which insures excellent results.

Dry Cure Compared with Sweet-Pickle or Brine Cure.—There are two methods of curing pork—the dry cure and the sweet-pickle or brine cure. The dry cure is preferred, as it is simpler and requires less handling of the meat.

Dry-Cured Pork.—For each 100 pounds of meat use— 8 pounds salt 2 1/2 pounds molasses, sirup or sugar 2 1/2 ounces saltpeter 3 ounces black pepper 2 ounces red pepper.

Mix the ingredients well. Rub the mixture over the meat thoroughly and pack it away in a barrel, box, or on a table.

Middling or Bacon.—The ham is removed from the middling by cutting at the rise in the backbone and at a right angle to the shanks. The loin and fatback are cut off in one piece, parallel with the back just below the tenderloin muscle on the rear part of the middling.

FIRE AND RAT PROOF BUILDING MATERIALS

The Petros Manufacturing Co., of North Carolina, has secured a charter in the state of Florida, incorporating the local company with a fully paid up capital of $50,000. It has been decided to put up at Chuluota a factory that will manufacture brick, flooring, roofing, wall plaster, drain tile, street and road building materials, all of which is manufactured by using sand, asphalt, cement and asbestos.

Petros refers to a composition of minerals which, if correctly mixed becomes petrified and harder than stone. The old Greek and Roman remnants of antiquity composed of these minerals became petrified years ago, and remain mute witnesses of the everlasting quality of this material and it is a well-settled fact that nothing could have been selected that can be more fire proof, indestructible or everlasting and manufactured as cheap as this material.

D. G. Zeigler, of Columbia, S. C., is the one who has discovered the long lost art of combining these minerals and has secured U. S. Letters Patents on the same and patents on a line of special machinery for manufacturing the materials economical. He has been manufacturing the materials in Mississippi, South and North Carolina since 1911.

Wood rots, iron rusts, clay products deteriorates from age, but Petros will never be touched by the tooth of time, it is everlasting and one of God's creations. The factory which will be built at Chuluota will manufacture 30,000 brick per day and in addition will manufacture shingles, sheet roofing, flooring, floor tiling, wall plaster, and the capacity of the plant will be increased as the business grows.

It is understood that he has sold a one-half interest in his patents for five northern states at a price of more than $100,000 and that as soon as the factory is put in operation at Chuluota he will go north with the gentleman and build factories up there during the summer.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

It is snowing in the north today and probably in California. You can sort of feel it in the air, you know. Of course it will not snow here but we don't like the appearance of the weather. However, with the temperature at 70 we should worry. Cold and freezing weather everywhere except Florida. Mr. Wannamker left today. Good bye, John. Hope to see you again before you go back to ice and snow. You will never find anything more charming than the St. Johns river trip and we just know you will come again. "A NIGHT IN HONOLULU"

The scenes of this latest play of Hawaiian life are laid on the Island of Hawaii. There are three acts. The action takes place in a small village on the bay of Hilo, not far from the volcano Kilauea. It concerns an episode in the life of a beautiful Hawaiian voodoo woman, an Englishman and their child. The play reveals the story of a night long past as one pictures—a terrific storm raging on the outside of a hut. The voodoo woman amid the chants and weird music of her native companions is heard praying for the recovery of her infant who lies near death and for the safe return of her lover, who has gone to Hilo. An old Servitor enters and tells her the lover will never return to her; that he has gone to Hilo to await the arrival of the boat from England, which will bring him his white wife and baby. He swears by the great goddess Pele that his information is correct, shows her from the English vessel driven far out to her course by the storm and struggling in the breakers sending out calls for help.

The natives in their superstitious fears do not aid the illfated vessel and it is wrecked, washing ashore many of the passengers, the majority of them whom were drowned; among these is the white wife of the Englishman, but the child survives. The Hawaiian wife substitutes the white child for her own, rears her, and in the following two acts, which are supposed to take place seventeen years later, the child is seen as the girl "Kalama" favored by the gods and the idol of the natives.

BELIEVE MAN KILLED

BRADFORD, Pa., Jan. 25.—One man was killed, the authorities believe, when the magazine of the American Glycerine company at Howard Junction just south of this city blew up this afternoon. The shock of the explosion broke windows in houses and stores for miles around. The missing man is Ben Haven, a oil well shooter.
