By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR. Herald Sports Editor
their "jinx" over the Sanford Celery Peds by sweeping the current series in a 6 to 3 contest at the Municipal Park last night.

Tonight the locals motor to Daytona Beach and will return to the local ball orchard for a twin bill with the Islets tomorrow evening. The Pirates scored two runs in the first frame last evening on three hits and a Fed boot.

The Feds came back in the bot-

The Feds came back in the bottom of the first to chug one run across and knotted the count in the third canto when Irving Boim walked two Sanford batters, Kalphi Satterfield singled and Don Mur-ray drew a free pass to send Walt Harrington home.

Paying for Pensions

The principle of retirement pay for workers attaining certain age is becoming widely accepted in industrial, business and professional circles. Announcement by the Ford Motor Company of an $800,000,000 pension fund, details to be set forth later, is good news for individuals to be benefitted.

But implications of this and other similar retirement plans are not always understood by the public. A hint was found in a Ford official's statement that the pension virtually was a wage increase. This program and similar plans in all lines will be charged off to expense of production. The consumer, including the pensioned, pays production costs. This is true, whether the retirement salary is for industrial workers or for teachers and librarians. Pension money for the latter group comes chiefly from taxes That for ministers is chiefly paid in by parishioners who have earned it the hard way and given it out of himited

Financed retirement is admittedly desirable. It must be realized, however, that the wide working of the pension idea introduces a new factor into American economy. The cost of living is further pushed up by the need to accumulate pension reserves. This makes it harder for individuals to pursue their own thrift schemes for "rainy days". True, they are not faced with quite the same necessity as formerly, Amendated From which is cottiled if they are to be taken care of by pension. But it must be excluded to the use for republication of all the local news printed faced that the pensioner, and everybody else, pays for such security.

People, as a rule, find this fact difficult to accept, for it has become a habit to accept the advantages of a high standard of living at a low level of cost. The public, while endorsing pensions, must be prepared to pay for them. Pension money has to be earneed before it can be dispensed.

Indian Economics

New regulations for imports into India will cut deep into their supply of both necessaries and luxuries, says ar

a article in Bysiness Week. Up to the middle of this year, India has imported canned goods, bottled beverages, proprietary medicines, tobacco products, cosmetics, hosiery, cutlery, domestic hardware, motor vehicles and radios. All of these articles are banned now, and a quota system regulates the importation of several other items. Export trade of the United States will suffer a sizable reduction as a result of this move.

-Serious results will be felt within India, too, with panic buying under way already.' Wealthy upper class and middle class people are hoarding vital articles and materials while the lower classes suffer for their lack. When their governwas does the listed-what open the ment's pre-occupation with political matters gives way to concern over production, the situation may be improved.

The American workman, whose livelihood depends on the demand for his product, never thinks of the loom-operator or stedl-mill worker in India as having any connection with his life. Nor does the Moslem or Hindu visualize a link between himself and the far-off citizen of the United States. The connection exists, nevertheless, tenuous as a spiderweb, strong as steel, for better or worse.

The economic well-being of the South will be pushed ahead another step by the $30,000,000 newsprint paper mill which, according to announcement from Birmingham, will shortly be constructed in Alabama.

that light-weight woolens are smart, comfortable and practical for hot weather wear. Too many discriminating American men-men who know the value of always maintaining a well-groomed appearance - have already proved this fact, to their complete satisfaction. First of all, the fibers in these woolen fabrics are hollow; they have a thermostatic quality which lets the air circulate through, yet keeps out heat.

If you want to combine smart good looks with summer comfort, the answer is a natural. Just choose Curlee Summer Suits for your hot weather wardrobe. Come in and select yours today.

Evidence Admitted Of Jap Asset Freezing

THURSDAY, AUG. 14, 1947

TOKYO, Aug. 14, 6P)-The International Tribunal vesterday reallowed the defence to introduce testimony that Japanese learned from Morgan and Company, New York banking firm, of the contemplated freezing of Japanese assets nearly a month before the freezing was ordered, July 25, 1941.

The evidence, taken from the U. S. Pearl Harber inquiry, was re-jected by the tribunal trying 25' Japanese wartime leaders when offered during the phase of the defense case dealing with econ-

Earlier testimony had shown that the Japanese ambassador notified the United States on July 20, 1941, of the contemplated Japanese move in Indo-China.

Today's testimony was taken from a memorandum by Max W. Schmidt of the State Department recording a conversation on July 1941, with the late Tailan Wikawa, an unofficial emissary, seeking diplomatic settlement o Pacific problems.

The memorandum said that Wihawa stated he had learned of Japanese funds in the United States could be expected in the near future." Morgan and Complando, has also been the guest of any, the memorandum said, had fund to purchase Japanese government bonds at a price favorable

Investigation Of Uprising In Sanford Called By Pres. Herlong

from the

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

We had a lengthy conservation yesterday with President Sid Her-long of the Florida State League and it looks as though the uprising that ended in a near riot at the Municipal Park last Saturday night is far from being settled. Herlong stated that he did not realize that the rukus was as large as it was until after he tag-ged Manager Bevil with the $25 fine and additional reports began to pour into his office.

It is quite evident that Umpire Lavely squelched the incident in

In simple words Herlong will find himself in a muddle. The young jurist has announced that ie will be a candidate for Congress in the coming election. No matter how he handles this problem he will make some people unhappy. But Herlong is not a man to shun responsibility or to run from trouble. It had been stated that Herlong was advised not to accept the arduwas advised not to accept the arduous task of straightening out the

for not running from the task.

He jumped into the middle of the whirlpool and immediately slapped a $50 ticket on the Daytona Beach Islets for not protecting players from abuse in the City Island Park. That took plenty of intestinal fortitude.

Upon accepting the presidency of the FSL Heriong stated that he would not tolerate any foolishness and would require all clubs to walk the straight and narrow line. walk the straight and narrow line.

Herlong, being an honest man, will not sidestep this issue and will face it. It is true that if he were less honest, and thinking only of vote getting come the primary elections next May, he might have bypassed the whole affair and would have let it drop with the $25 fine stamped on Bevil.

The way it looks to us is that there will be more and larger repercussions from the Senator uprising.
