

Grandma Murphy Does All Right Without Slugger

Old Pitching Tandem Now Separated After All These Years

By HILTON GRAHAM
AP Features Sports Editor
NEW YORK The renowned pitching tandem of Gomez and Murphy has been separated after all these years but the Irish half of it is doing all right.

Grandma Johnny Murphy has already won three games. The twirling firm of Gomez and Murphy was advisedly listed in that order for Murphy always ran the anchor leg.

with the Bronx club, was twice a part-time hurler. He might be the Lefty of old for an inning or two and then transform into just another southpaw named Vernon who could pitch little leeches into his pitcher's little leeches about that time and that was Johnny's cue to head toward the mound and pitch whatever assets the Yankee had at the moment or try to salvage something out of Lefty's disaster.

The Gomez Murphy duo was at its peak of efficiency two years ago. That was the year Gomez won 15 games while losing only five. A conservative estimate would be that at least half of those wins were racked up through Murphy's protection in the late frames. Johnny got credit for eight wins himself that season with only three setbacks.

History has not recorded Lefty's reply but Casey, being a practical man, probably began looking for a Murphy.

Lefty has always fancied himself as a better pitcher than Casey. He can't explain how he did but when he found himself safe at first he didn't ask questions.

From where I sit...

By Joe Marsh

Almost everybody's figuring what things'll be like after the war. I talked about that today with Tom Corbett. He's a veteran of the last war.

"One thing's sure, Joe," says Tom. "I don't know what the world will be like after the war, but I know what I want to do now."

"That's true, Tom," says Joe. "I've been thinking about that for a long time. I've been thinking about how I can help my country and myself."

U. S. Troops Reported On Attu Island

Japs Say Americans Land On Western Tip Of Aleutians Held By Japanese

(By Associated Press)
Japanese imperial headquarters reported today that American troops had landed on Attu Island at the western tip of the Aleutians, less than 2,000 miles from Tokyo, and said bitter fighting was in progress.
Attu, occupied by the Japanese last June, lies 600 miles west of the United States base at Dutch Harbor, Alaska.
U. S. Navy confirmed today the Attu landing on May 11, launching a long-expected attempt to drive Japan out of the Aleutians.
Two Japanese planes bombed the Port Moresby area without causing damage yesterday, the high command announced. Port Moresby is the big Allied base on the south coast of New Guinea.
Allied bombers struck at Gasmata, on the southern tip, and Rabaul, on the northern tip of New Britain. Three planes were destroyed on the ground at the Gasmata airfield.
In the ground fighting on New Guinea, the noon communiqué announced, Allied patrols have killed 80 Japanese since May 8 near Mubo. This fighting occurred on the approaches to Salamaua.
A third aerial strike against New Britain was directed by two big bombers at the Cap Gloucester airfield.

Ceiling Prices Are Placed On Local Poultry

Chicken Raisers Will Be Permitted To Charge 30.8 Cents Per Lb. For Friers

Ceiling prices on poultry to be sold in this area were announced today by B. Peterson, secretary of the Seminole County and Raiting Board.
"Considerable misunderstanding seems to have been created as to the various ceiling prices for poultry in this area," he said, "and retailers have complained to this office that chicken raisers are demanding greater prices for live chickens, than they are permitted to sell those chickens for to the consumer."
"In order to clarify this situation," he said, "prices for grade 'A' poultry have been established for Seminole County as of April 20, 1943. If you are a raiser or farmer, and wish to sell live chickens to a regular store for resale, or to a hotel or restaurant, you are permitted to charge the following prices: live weight per pound: Broilers and fryers under four pounds, 30.8 cents; Roosters, four pounds and up, 30.8 cents; fowls, 27.3 cents; and stags and old roosters, 23.3 cents.
"If you are a poultry raiser, a farmer, or a retailer, and sell directly to retail trade such as a housewife, you may charge the following prices: Broilers and fryers under four pounds, 37.2 cents; dressed weight, 45.6 cents; and drawn weight, 60.2 cents. Roosters, four pounds and up, 37.2 cents; dressed 45.2 cents; and drawn, 57.2 cents. For fowls of all weights: live, 33.8 cents; dressed, 40.2 cents; and drawn, 54.2 cents. For stags and old roosters, all weights: live, 28.3 cents; dressed 34.3 cents; and drawn 44.3 cents.
"Poultry sold at drawn or dressed ceiling prices must be weighed for drawn or dressed weight. You cannot take the weight of the poultry as drawn or dressed ceiling price."
Mr. Peterson added, and stated that any question as to the ceiling prices should be referred to the War Price and Rationing Board by telephoning 970.

Allied Fleets Of Airplanes Bomb Europe

From Pantelleria To Berlin "Softening Up" Process Is Begun For Invasion

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) Prime Minister Churchill, replying to the congratulations of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek on the North African victory, declared today the "day will come when we shall rejoice at the fall of arms of the United Nations which will surely drive the Japanese invaders from the wild of China."
The likelihood that Hitler will make desperate attempt to win some spectacular victory over Russia in the next few weeks to offset the African moral blow was regarded as posing one problem for the Churchill-Roosevelt conference.
(By Associated Press)
Britain's block buster fleets returned to the assault on Hitler's Europe last night "in very great strength," the British announced today, centering attacks on Berlin, and war industry cities in the German Ruhr and Czechoslovakia.
At dawn fleets of Allied planes swept across the channel again, following up yesterday's daylight raids by the largest force of United States bombers ever launched from Britain. A Berlin broadcast said United States bombers attacked the north German coast today also.
With the close of the Tunisian campaign, marked by the capture of 12 Axis generals and nearly 175,000 prisoners, Allied naval and air forces opened a temporary "softening up" offensive against the Mediterranean. The bombardment of Pantelleria, the strategic Italian island of the straits by warships which pumped 20 salvos into the harbor defense and surrounded the ineffective Italian garrison, was announced with a squadron of 50 United States bombers smashed 20 ships in the harbor of Augusta, Sicily. Other Allied fleets raided Lough, Martin, and Naples.
Red armor stormed the German inner defenses in the siege of St. Nazaire, battling still stubborn resistance and capturing additional lines northeast of the Black Sea port. Big guns pounded the Nazis and terrific lightning mounted. The Russians also seized the initiative on the Donets front.
The agency fees also reported that long range Russian bombers touched off fires and explosions amid German ammunition dumps, stores, and railway installations of the Polish capital of Warsaw in a series of attacks far behind the lines to disrupt German offensive plans. Lvansk and Uzel also have been attacked repeatedly in this strategic pattern.
A Pravia dispatch reported that hundreds of guns had paved the way for an infantry tank wedge in the new German attack from the Nazis since after the Red Army had smashed his way through the first enemy line. Final Big Push.
The mass shelling of the German positions was on such a scale a stooge space a final big push aimed at throwing the enemy into the Black Sea.

Drafting Fathers Is Foreseen For Immediate Future

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) The drafting of military laws for the immediate future appeared likely today as the army extended the furlough period giving men inducement from Commanding generals of the nine service commands were ordered to make extension as soon as possible, but not later than July 1. Further, they are directed to increase the furlough to three weeks by Sept. 1.
The War Department said that the actual reason was the belief that heads of families, since they were in the military, would need more time to make arrangements for their families and wind up their business affairs.
"Major Lewis E. Hershhey, selective service director, told a House committee Tuesday that his organization is to meet the need for 2,500,000 more men for the armed forces this year, would have to be drafted in the next few months," he said.
The War Department said the extension would become a part of the country, while in other sections it would be delayed by difficulties of transition.
The procedure consisted of stepping up the furlough period, first to 16 days, then to 31, was considered necessary to prevent undue interruption in the flow of men into the military service.
"All other requests of the legislative system will continue to be handled as they have been. When a bill is introduced, it will be handled as a normal legislative process," he said.

AAA Plan By July Is Petitioned By Farmers' Bureau

A resolution, requesting the government to announce the Florida AAA agriculture program July 1, when the farming year starts, rather than in November, when it is well under way, was passed by members of the Seminole County Farm Bureau at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the City Hall. Leo Butler, president of the County Farm Bureau, stated today.
The Florida Bureau will be requested to present this resolution, along with like resolutions made by the farm bureaus of Sarasota, Manatee and Palm Beach counties and representing celery growers of the State, to the American Farm Bureau Federation at Washington, which in turn will seek government approval. Food Committee Is Named To Aid In Distribution

In order to insure adequate food supplies in Seminole County and to combat black market activity in meats and other foods, a local Food Advisory Committee, with H.M. France as chairman, was organized last evening at the Sanford Army, through cooperation with Seminole County Defense Council.
S.F. Orr, representative of the Food Distribution Administration, a branch of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, organized the Committee, outlined the work to be done, and made a survey of the food needs of the County. It was revealed that only essential food items lacking were dried fruits. Headquarters for the Committee were established at the office of A.B. Peterson, secretary of the Peace and Rationing Board. Mr. Peterson stated that he wanted it made clear that the Food Committee was not functioning as a branch of the OPA, but of the Department of Agriculture. He added, however, that his office facilities could be used to receive complaints from consumers dealing with rationing, relative to food shortages.
Shortages of foods, it was explained by Mr. Orr, exist when ration coupon requirements cannot be exchanged for foods and meats.
"This does not mean, however, that when one food item, such as canned tomatoes, cannot be procured, that there is a food shortage," he said, "providing the consumer can secure other canned foods such as peas etc. The same reasoning applies to cuts of meat, lack of any special cut such as sirloin does not constitute a shortage. If however, the consumer cannot procure any type of canned vegetables or if no cuts of meat of any type are available, that constitutes a constitutes shortage," he explained.
Mr. Orr also stated that the Food Distribution Administration had authority to increase slaughterer's quotas within the county to those slaughterers who had secure permits through the County War Board, based on their 1941 slaughtering activities when it appeared there was a deficit of meat.
Members of the Food Advisory Committee include: Mr. Peterson, P. Pope, A.B. Peterson, Eddie Langford, M.J. Lodge, Mrs. Marie E. Edwards, Mrs. Bobb, Dr. C. W. Bowers, and others.
Daley Knox, a local sub-committee was named consisting of M.J. Lodge, chairman, Miss Roberts and Mr. Langford.

East Is Hoping To Have Potatoes In About Two Weeks

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP) There is not a simple answer to the question, "what happens to potatoes?" but to the companion query, "when do we get some?" comes a comforting reply pretty soon.
Increased supplies are expected within two weeks in Eastern markets where there has been only a fraction of the usual potato trade in the past weeks.
Several Southern shipping points report peak loading expected between May 18 and May 25. Louisiana is expected to ship 100,000 cars to Alabama expects to move between 6000 and 8000 cars.
"The Carolina crop will start harvesting a fair crop shortly, and this will be followed by the North Carolina crop which was serious by damaged by early frost, but which has made good recovery since."
Market experts here attributed the shortage to number of factors. The armed forces recently took practically all of the remaining supplies of Idaho and old crop. Civilian consumption had been unusually heavy due to increased purchasing power and the rationing of other food items. And then the expected shipments from the South of new potatoes were delayed by cold weather.
Larger than-normal acreage have been planted in New Jersey and Long Island, but in common with the entire Atlantic Coast, these crops are now expected to mature two weeks later than normal.
During the past week small shipments have been received from California, Florida and Louisiana. The California acreage this year is expected to exceed the 8000 carloads shipped last year.

Investment Is Made In Bonds By School Board

The Seminole County School Board met Wednesday morning in the office of Supt. T.W. Lawton, authorized L.E. Jordan, chairman of the Board, and Mr. Jordan to invest such portion of sinking funds in war bonds, as would be needed during the next few years to retire bonds.
This action, Mr. Lawton stated, followed the report of Walter M. Haynes, who had been asked by the Board to investigate the advisability of investing school sinking funds in war bonds. Mr. Haynes reported that it appeared that the best type of bonds to invest for some assistance in meeting the present acute labor shortage.
Supt. Lawton stated that as a result of the approval of the Board, the school board will lead the life of a soldier. The school will have intensive training in other fundamental courses in weapons and tactics. The officers will report Sunday, May 16, and start work on Monday morning.

The present set up provides for a maximum of fifteen members. However, since all Government Vocational trainings are for the needs of the people and the country, two or more classes may be arranged.

Persons contemplating taking the home defense training course for women are requested to be present by 7:00 P.M. Monday at the shops on the corner of French Avenue and Sixth Street.
Herbert Spier, instructor, said today that the passing of the old fashioned hair pin (for you know it has been said a woman can fix any thing with a hair pin) is probably the cause for so much interest being manifested in the New Vocational Class for women, in Home Defense Force.
The present set up provides for a maximum of fifteen members. However, since all Government Vocational trainings are for the needs of the people and the country, two or more classes may be arranged.

Flier Shot Down At Sea Is Saved By Life Jacket

Capt. Joe Foss Decides He Had Better Learn To Swim

By John L. Springer
AP Features Writer
NEW YORK—The most exciting experience of America's No. 1 flying ace (Capt. Joe Foss) was the time he was shot down at sea and saved from death because he couldn't swim.

The curly-haired, 28-year-old Marine captain, who has knocked out 26 planes to equal Eddie Rickenbacker's record in World War I, didn't let the experience stop him. Five days later he went up again to shoot down three more Zeros. And he has since learned to swim.

Joe is back from the Solomon Islands on a rest at his home in Sioux Falls, S. D., here his mother and brother now live. Then he's going to visit war plants to boost morale and later he hopes to go back for more hunting. But as for his nearest scrape with death during the war, he says he'll never forget it.

"I started on a routine flight of the eight planes in our 'Flyin' Circus' from Henderson Field," Joe recalls. "It was the flight leader, but was last in line when we started going down to strafing Jap shipping."

Then I saw a reconnaissance plane and decide to get him. As I moved in, I sort of visualized what I thought would happen like a boxer in the ring, waiting for an opening.

"I guess I must have thought too long, because I misjudged

Off THE ELBOW WITH THE REPORTER

Lack of a landing field night after night was the worst thing I had to experience. I had to land on a beach and then I had to get out of there as fast as I could. I had to be ready to go at any moment. I had to be ready to go at any moment.

"The other planes in my flight were all gone by now and I headed home the motor started missing. I was only one thing to do, I saw an island in the distance but the prospect of reaching it were none too good."

I glided the plane to a water landing. I finally got out.

"But I couldn't swim much and it was getting dark. That island was about 5 miles away and I wondered how I was ever going to reach it."

It was long waiting but there in the ocean and growing darker the "Mar West" life jacket held him up and he kept stroking for that island.

"My swimming wasn't very good. I wasn't making much headway, and it began to look farther every minute," Joe said.

After more waiting and more praying Joe saw a lantern blink from a small ship. "I was afraid to call out, it might have been Japs," he explained.

"Finally a voice said clearly 'Let's look over here.' I yelled out, 'You're right here.'"

As an Australian saw the operator with some of his arms thrust on the island, who had seen his come down.

"The Australian meant help for Joe. But if he had been a good swimmer he might have reached the island."

"Exactly where I was aiming," Joe said. "It was a stagnant water just filled with coconuts."

through the items in the bill at adjournment time, the Senate had already added $725,000 to the total proposed by the committee for general operations during the next two years.

Most of the increase, just the appropriations for the various agencies back up to the figure recommended by the State Budget Commission. Only one proposed restoration a $370 item for the State Soil Conservation Board.

The House Utilities Committee approved a bill by Representative Clement of Pinellas for State regulation of privately owned electric and gas systems.

The committee also approved an its own companion bill to bolster the State Railroad Commission, which would be the regulating agency, from three members to five, with one elected from each congressional district.

3 Navy Officers Die As Balloon Explodes Landing Near Camden

CAMDEN, N. J., May 11.—Three Navy officers from the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., were killed by death in a balloon inflated with hydrogen exploded as it was landing on a flat plain between the intersection of Routes 10 and S. I. 11, near Ellensburg, N. J., five miles east of Camden.

Two of the victims were identified by the 1st Naval District as Ensign George F. Limer, 19, Tverven, of Boston, Mass., and Ensign Angus W. Kuytland, 27, of New York City.

The balloon was coming down from the last flight of the day and was hovering a few feet off the ground when it burst into flames and exploded, according to the official statement of the 1st Naval District. The 26,000-cubic-foot bag split apart, and the open wicker basket containing the three officers caught fire, but landed right side up. The flaming bag fell on top of the basket.

Cadet Donald T. Wood, of Ipswich, Mass., and J.B. Goralnsky, an enlisted man, who were on a truck with the ground crew, ran forward and succeeded in pulling out one of the officers who was still alive. He died a few minutes later. The other two were trapped in the basket and the possible.

The balloon took off from Lakehurst Naval Air Station at 10 A. M. today on a routine training flight. Such flights are made, the 1st Naval District explained, to instruct prospective blimp pilots in the handling of balloons as free balloons when the motors are off.

Several ascensions and landings were made without incident. After the next to the last one, Cadet Wood and Cadets Darnley Swartley, of 65 Prospect Avenue, Lynnbrook, Wis., and William Goldman, of 1801 North Fifth Street, Philadelphia, departed and were replaced by the three officers.

The three cadets climbed on the truck in which the ground crew was following the balloon as it ascended. They were watching the balloon as it came for the final landing after which it would have been inflated and returned to Lakehurst by truck when the explosion occurred.

The explosion occurred about 10:30 A. M. today.

Tampa Senator Leads Fight On Cigarette Tax

Senator Leedy pointed out that he had opposed such taxes in all of his legislative career, but he had not done so, particularly the imposition of a tax on five, with one elected from each congressional district.

Even before the public hearing started, Chairman Leedy of Oregon's said the House finance committee would report the cigarette tax bill tomorrow, and that it would be put at the top of the special order calendar of bills to be considered Monday.

"We're all familiar with why we want a cigarette tax," Leedy said, explaining that 11 of the finance committee's 21 members were contrabanders of the tax measure.

Rep. Martin of Hillsborough, a finance member, said the bill had not been voted upon in any committee meeting "and I've attended them all," but Leedy said later he had pulled the members and that a favorable report was assured.

The rules committee voted today to put the cigarette tax in the No. 1 position tomorrow, but Leedy later said it was decided to withhold it until Monday because the senate is still arguing about the general appropriations bill.

The Legislature voted to change the name of the Florida Defense Force to the Florida State Guard. The House unanimously passed the Senate bill and sent it to the Governor.

The Defense Force was organized soon after the Florida National Guard was called in military service in 1941.

Representative Byrd of Duval steered the bill in the House.

A fine defining an attempt to attach a $2,000,000 amendment program rider to the general appropriations bill, the senate restored more than half the $1,500,000 cut.

Rubber Men Act To Slow Down Bombers

AKRON, O. (AP)—Although most aeronautical attention is focused on attaining increased speed engineers here are pushing research on how to slow down and stop planes once they touch ground.

Already, they say, brakes operating on the "expander tube" principle give American planes a greater degree of stopping power than ever approached in other "types." Extraordinary stopping power is needed for bombers, says H.J. Keller, brake engineer at R.F. Goodrich, because few landing fields can accommodate even relatively short-run stops.

Captain Jerry Crosson Wins Hero Award In Pacific War Zone

NEW YORK, May 14, (AP)—Captain Jerry Crosson, "The Flying Cop," received the 7th War Medal for his seventh award in the war, but all his family in Cape Hatteras have heard about the captain's assurance that he is "going to stay home."

Captain Crosson, who turned to flying in the Pacific after several years of commanding the city's police force, has had many close calls in so many battles in the Japanese. The last one was in the Philippines, where he was shot down and captured by the Japanese.

At the home of Mrs. Crosson, the captain's wife, she said that the officer was badly wounded and he was forced to land. He was captured and taken to an enemy base in New Guinea. Another report said Captain Crosson was wounded during a Japanese raid on New Guinea.

Similar Arrangements Have Been Made With The Overseas White and Colored Schools

Similar arrangements have been made with the Overseas white and colored schools, Mr. Lawson said, and all students who participate in this emergency work will be given school credits and will not be recorded as absent.

This is in accordance with the policy adopted by both school trustees and the County School Board last fall, when a number of growers predicted a shortage of labor at some period during the season.

On recommendation of trustees of Special District No. 2, of which J. A. Hollins is school board representative, the following teachers were appointed to schools in that district: Emma School, Longwood, W. J. Taylor, principal, and as teachers, Mr. Rosebud North, Mrs. Emma Starr, Miss Helpe Arnett, Mrs. Mary Hartley, Mrs. Flora Wilks, Mrs. Maude Tupper, Mrs. Lucy Roumillat, Mrs. Nellie Coleman and Miss Evelyn Robbins.

At the Lake Mary School, Mr. T. C. Cochran is named principal and Mrs. Gertrude McAlley and Miss Esther Rodgers as teachers. At the Rosewood negro school of Altmore Springs, W. L. Too Much Money

Ordinarily the big financial problem of this country, or any country, is to get enough money for a decent living. But this is still the main problem for millions of Americans. But the nation as a whole seems now to have too much money for its own good. This is true especially of millions of factory workers who are earning more money than they ever dreamed of before, and of young people who, by their ordinary standards, are reveling in riches.
 Most of them do a natural but a dangerous thing—dangerous to them and to the nation. They start buying things, or services, that they have never had before, often things that they don't need at all. And thereby they tend to push up prices just when it is to their advantage, and the nation's advantage, to hold prices down.
 This makes a steady pressure for inflation, which means the puffing up of prices until everything costs more and the benefits are lost. The newly rich lose their gains. And people with fixed incomes, or people living on savings, are practically made poor because their money buys less.
 This is one of the big national problems now. The remedy is to get money, by tens of billions, out of circulation, so as to keep prices on even keel. The best and safest way to do it is to pay debts and to buy substantial things like homes, bonds and annuities, thereby salting down their gains and getting the loose money out of circulation. That helps everybody.

Chinese Learning

China is rapidly catching up with contemporary life. The Encyclopedia Britannica for instance, is being translated into Chinese. And in this procedure many facts come to light which are much to the credit of that ancient land.
 It appears that China really invented both encyclopedias and dictionaries. One of them in the Ming dynasty, was composed of nearly 23,000 separate books. There were not enough copies however, to go around very far. That seems to have been for lack of an efficient printing press, although printing itself was first practiced in China.
 In any way you look at it, China has been a great country. It was civilized when most of the western nations were still in a savage state and has never lost its love for knowledge and its moral power. Real culture, in many forms, seems to have existed there for perhaps 3,000 years. And at the present time there is a great expansion of learning, combining the ancient and modern.
 With peace and a fair opportunity for development, that nation should rank high in dignity and influence during the next generation. Always providing that the Japanese barbarians are not allowed to destroy modern China before it has consolidated its recent gains.

Russia Thaws

Little by little, the Russian Bear crawls out of her ideological hibernation and proceeds to thaw out. As she gets warmed up, she grows more friendly and realistic, and the outer world—with the exception of Germany—doesn't seem so bad after all.
 Joseph Stalin, biggest of dictators if you except Hitler, has really been warming up to a most surprising degree. Nothing so unexpected as his May Day eulogy of Russia's "gallant allies" has come out of Russia for many years. The Russian press, long chilly and suspicious of all foreigners, reflects Stalin's warmth. Allied representatives are welcomed to Moscow and treated with a friendliness never shown before by the Soviets. Some of this geniality may be a sort of back-handed slap at the Poles, in return for too ready acceptance of the Nazi atrocity tale against Russia. But something certainly has happened to Russian officialdom.
 Apparently the Russian leaders at last see that Britain and America can be counted on to help in this war without limit, that they accept Russia fully as an ally, that they pool their resources with Russia, and that they will play the game through. As for ideologies, why bring that up now? Such arguments can be resumed, if necessary, when the war is over. The necessity of crushing Hitlerian Germany makes everything else trivial.

SITTING IN WITH THE LAWMAKERS

 Ben Stone, Jr. of Blountstown, who began the session as Chief Reading Clerk in the House resigned, last week to accept the post of Credentials man at the main door of the Chamber. Ben checks 'em in and out and since he knows just about everybody and why they're here he is an ideal man for the job. Ben possesses a genial personality and can turn a man down and at the same time send the fellow way making him feel like he'd done a real favor.
 When it comes to a good old-fashioned orator, Tom Beasley of Walton can hold his own with the best of them. He claims this to be the best Red Head Lawyer in Walton county and nobody can dispute him. The other day he got on his feet and when the Speaker asked "For what purpose does the Gentleman rise?" Beasley replied: "I feel a speech coming on."
 If the question has anything to do with human health, happiness or security, you'll always find Newman Brackin, popular Oklawaha county Representative, in there pitching. He has steered several health and welfare bills through the House and has additional important legislation coming up.
 An attempt to curtail the State Economic Advancement Council was struck down by a vote of 11-10. The bill was introduced by Representative Brackin and was designed to limit the council's powers to a mere advisory nature. The bill was defeated because of opposition from the business community and the fact that the council had already done a great deal of good work in the past.

SWEDISH NIGHTINGALE

SANFORD FORUM

Editor The Herald:
 If you have space in your paper would like to use this method of showing my appreciation for the help that I have obtained through our colored school at Bookertown, and I also want to thank Mr. Lawson, our deputy superintendent also our trustees of this district.
 Because of the lack of field workers, I went to see the teachers of the Bookertown school and they said they would be glad to help me, if it would be satisfactory. Mr. Lawson, the deputy superintendent, has been very cooperative and has helped me in every way possible. I have been able to obtain from the parents' permission to work pulling plants in the afternoon.
 I paid these pupils so much per thousand plants and they worked entirely under the supervision of their teachers who were Sadie Hogan, principal and Thelma Johnson, her assistant. I would like to mention the agricultural lessons that were taught these pupils. They were marched to the field in formation and when they reached the field every day before starting to work they were given a lecture by the teachers as to their duties.
 They were told that at all times they were to take care of the crops they are working to see that nothing was damaged in any way, that they must remember at all times that they are a part of an organization as to the accuracy in work and obedience to orders, as to quality of plants pulled and correct count of plants in the bundle, as the head of the group was responsible for their work.
 They were told to remember at all times that they have to make money for their employer.
 I really believe that these lessons should be taught in schools, whether in agriculture or not. I would like to state further that these teachers are welcome at all times to anything growing on my farm. Through all the shortage of labor, they have managed to give my customers prompt service and quality work.
 Yours, truly,
 J. W. Bell.

 The era of spending is upon us—from the soda fountains of Hollywood to the night clubs of New York. And how some of those lads would, at no distant day, like to have some of the money they are now squandering.
 The first thing labor knows it will be up against the stone wall of public opinion. A Gallup survey discloses that 72 percent of the war workers favor a law against walk-out strikes.
 Among the many changes war will bring about is a shift in the population. A survey shows that of the vast number who have gone from farms and small towns to industrial centers for war work an average of about 40 percent have signified their intention to remain there after the war. Broken down into regional areas Buffalo, 35 percent; Philadelphia, 37 percent; New England, 32 percent; Pacific coast, 40.
 The Allies' African victory had a stabilizing effect on Turkey and Spain, the latter's king making his second effort toward peace and I wonder if his move was inspired by humanitarian motives or from Germany.

 The old ghost of state division is again abroad in a story fathered by John D. Pennekamp, of the Herald editorial staff. He quotes a professor of economics in the state university as having worked out a scientific and equitable plan of division. His line of demarcation is called Mainland and Peninsular Florida, the latter containing 40 percent of the state's 66 counties and 78.1 percent of its population. As to development, the Prof. asserts "The mainland had neither the intensity nor the magnitude of expansion found in the peninsular region."

 When growers got from Washington, via grapevine dispatch, information that plans were in the making to cut this year's cotton acreage about 20 percent in order to grow peanuts for oil, they became agitated about it. Once only the latter was saved, the rest choking the streams in an effort to dispose of it. Now all is utilized, the seed furnishing a valuable oil for soapmaking, etc.

"It takes a lot of hard practice and a coordination of mind and muscle to fly through the air with the greatest of ease," said Mrs. Bonniwell, "and I don't know where you could find more sport thrills than in a gymnastic exhibition."

As the ex-gym queen spoke, pretty girls and husky men were doing tumblers and tumbles from flying rings and a leather horse.

"We have about 500 fans here tonight many of them from Philadelphia and New Jersey. Look in on any meet and you'll find the same faces, for they follow the gymnasts wherever they go."

As Mrs. Bonniwell spoke, one of the contestants told her it was time to judge the balance beam exercise for girls, so off she went leaving Mrs. Pearl Perkins Nightingale, the women's all round gymnastic champ to take over.

Mrs. Nightingale, a graceful blonde about 5 feet 6, admitted to the age of 28, and said she had been swimming on the bars, horses and rings since she was 8.

"I usually work three hours a night in a gym three or four times a week," she explained, "and I've been doing it so long that I would be lost without it." Mrs. Nightingale agreed that it took a lot of practice to be a gymnast, but "it is a lot of fun. The hardest part of these meets is training for them," she said. "When you get here, it is all

WMC Is Seeking Job Freeze By Agreement

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The War Manpower Commission, controlling experimental "Democracy" in industry, is seeking to solve its job control problems by a slative system set up within an executive agency.

Under WMC guidance, members of the management-labor policy committees are forming "agreements" which the commission considers binding upon workers and employers as laws passed by the legislators.

WMC officials say the committees represent all management and labor when a majority agrees to a program orders issued to carry it out have been "accepted" by all.

This last system gives the WMC almost all the authority Congress could grant by the passage of a National Service Act.

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga. (AP)—Coincidence has maintained a close relationship between two WAACs stationed at the Third Training Center here.

They were assigned to the same company and the same barracks. After completing basic training, Aux. Anderson was made an assistant to the chaplain and Aux. Cambridge went to work in the classification office.

A week later, the chief of chaplains asked for another assistant. New Auxiliaries Anderson and Cambridge are working together again, this time in the chaplain's office.

Accused Of Taking Stamps Worth 500 Thousand Gallons

NEW YORK, May 14, (AP)—A 25-year-old Negro custodian of gasoline ration coupons in a Queens branch office of the Office of Price Administration, who allegedly sold coupons he was supposed to destroy, was arrested recently for violating a section of the Second War Emergency Act.

The arrest of the Negro, Stephen C. Pool, of 168-28 104th Avenue, Jamaica, came within 24 hours after four men were taken into custody on charges of disposing of the coupons Pool gave them.
