Waterways Meeting To Begin Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John Krider of the Florida Waterways Committee hoped to call the group into session today in conjunction with the 44th convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Krider, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Sanford, Fla., also is a state vice president of the Rivers and Harbors Congress. The main session of the congress will start today.

Krider said the state group would discuss a long-time development problem of linking all parts of the state together in an inland waterways system.

The group may also attempt to agree on the name of a Florida as a candidate for a south Atlantic regional directorship of the Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Krider said he understood that W. Avery Thompson, present regional director from Lake Waccamaw, N. C., had resigned and that the south Atlantic directorship was open.

Krider said the state group was interested particularly in the Sanford-Titusville canal project to connect with the St. Johns and Indian Rivers and the proposed cross-Florida barge canal to start near Ocala and cross the state to Yankeetown on the Gulf of Mexico.

Meanwhile the new budget director warned the National Rivers and Harbors Congress today to go slow on demands for water resources development.

"I want to urge upon you that we must keep a sense of perspective about our national problems and the budget," Maurice H. Stans said in a speech prepared for delivery before the group's 44th annual convention.

The organization's membership is studied with senators and congressmen to whom rivers and harbor development is important politically.

Congress soon will decide whether to override or uphold President Eisenhower's veto of a bill authorizing appropriations for a large number of rivers and harbors and flood control improvements.

Stans said Eisenhower "regretfully withheld his approval" of the bill because "it included some projects which did not meet the requirements of sound projects."

Other permits issued in 1957 included one each for a motel, a motel addition and a city sewer, the latter having been installed in the Queen's Mirror South Addition.

At present an extension of the sewer project, included in the original permit, is being installed in the Lake Triplet section where a majority of the new homes are under construction.

Mrs. Allen said that one commercial permit has been issued this year, covering a filling station which is to be erected on the Southeast corner of Piney Ridge Road and highway 17-99.

Construction of the new homes is divided among the following building contractors: Darwin A. Shea, E. C. Heinzen, George S. Hammond, C. A. Brattain and Herman W. Joyce.

The town benefited last year with the location here of Johnson Electronics Inc., in the former Casselberry Industries Building and Murphy Ready Mixed Concrete, located at the ACL siding.

Our Chamber of Commerce has a membership of 160 resident people, and it is the unanimous opinion that we should not lose this service.

Soviet Union Launches Third Satellite Today

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union today successfully launched a giant satellite—the third—weighing one and a half tons. It was more than twice as large as any previous earth satellite.

The newest satellite is a cone-shaped object 12 feet 8 inches long and 8 feet 8 inches wide at the base. Its weight was given as 2,972.46 pounds.

The announcement by the official Tass News Agency said the new satellite was making an orbit of the earth every 106 minutes and that its greatest distance from the earth was 1,167 miles. It was in an orbit of 63 degrees in the equatorial plane.

The huge satellite dwarfed the satellite that carried the dog Laika into space. It was about 100 times heavier than the biggest U. S. satellite.

In Bonn, Germany, the Soviet embassy said there was no living animal aboard the Sputnik but that it contained "very important" apparatus.

The new Russian Sputnik also was orbiting higher than either of the two Russian efforts which preceded it. Its maximum height of 1,167 miles compared with 1,056 miles for Sputnik II and about 630 miles for the pioneer Sputnik I launched Oct. 4, 1957.

Six Times Heavier Russia entered the space age when the first of the Russian satellites went up on Oct. 4, 1957. The second rose less than a month later, on Nov. 3.

The first of the Soviet satellites weighed 134 pounds and was about 23 inches in diameter. The second was more than six times heavier and weighed 1,120 pounds. Here is how the three American satellites, all still in orbit, shape up:

Explorer I, the first to orbit successfully, weighed 30.8 pounds and is 80 inches long and is tube-shaped. The Navy's Vanguard I weighs 3.85 pounds and is a sphere 6.5 inches in diameter. The Explorer III weighs 31 pounds and is a tube 19 inches long. Explorer II was a failure.

Packed With Equipment Today's official announcement said the new west Sputnik was packed with equipment enabling it to carry out the following research along its entire orbit:

"Pressure and composition of the atmosphere in the upper layers;

"Concentration of positive ions;

"The magnitude of the electrical charges in the satellite and the intensity of the earth's electrical field of the earth;

"Intensity of the sun's corpuscular radiation;

"Composition and variations of the primary cosmic radiation;

"Distribution of photons and heavy nuclei in cosmic rays;

"Micrometeoroids;

"Temperature inside and on the outside surface of the satellite."

Observing "Armed Forces Week", representatives of Sanford civic clubs were guests of the Sanford Naval Air Station for luncheon at noon yesterday.

Members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, Sanford Rotary Club, Sanford Kiwanis Club, Sanford Lions Club and the Sanford Civitan Club visited the NAS facilities.

Captain K. C. Childers, of the Naval Ordnance Test Center at Patrick Air Force Base, gave the visiting civic club members a complete review of missiles launched from Cape Canaveral.

"The age of space has served to focus attention on Cape Canaveral," said Captain Childers as he spoke of the Navy's mission at Patrick Air Force Base.

"Guided missiles are meant to supplement the present Navy facilities," he said, as he pointed out that "there's going to be a need for conventional methods as well."

"The AFMTC is an establishment of the Department of Defense and is a tri-service range extending from Florida to Africa," he continued.

The Air Force is designated as operator of the AFMTC operations, Captain Childers explained. "Pointing out that the Navy has two principal projects, Capt. Childers named the Vanguard and the Fleet Ballistics Missile or the Polaris."

Patrick Air Force Base is completely open, the Navy Captain explained, and who support the Chamber of Commerce year after year.

This year, the Sanford-Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is larger and more effective than ever before in its history.

The accomplishments, for the past 12 months, are numerous—and for the first time extend into industrial expansion and new industries.

Objectives of the Sanford-Seminole County Chamber of Commerce are broader and more flexible, including a gigantic advertising campaign to attract more and more people, as well as industry to the Seminole County area.

The general public has been invited to participate in the salute, next week, to the Chamber of Commerce and all that it has done to promote better Florida living, in every way, for those who live here now and for those who come here to participate in the vast expansion program that is in progress.

Florida In Middle Of Another Land Boom

Florida In Middle Of Another Land Boom

part of Florida also are a big item, pitched on the slogan, "Buy Now, Retire Later."

Islands are a hot item, too. Recently, the federal government sold a group of small islands off central Florida in the Gulf of Mexico. Most were more than a mile from land, but all brought good prices, up to $1,500 an acre.

None is large enough to begin supporting a resort of any type. In the 30's, there were hundreds of complaints that land, bought bottom to fill in.

So much of this filling has been done that the state had to call a halt in some areas for fear Florida, famous for its sun, sand and water, will wind up all dry land.

The latest fad to keep real estate rolling is buying by mail, on the installment plan. Whole towns are being built and the lots sold for $20 down and $20 a month, some lower than that.

Million dollar sales of land tracts are not uncommon. At least one a week is made and sometimes more.

Cattlemen hold big ranches in several areas and are under constant pressure from promoters who want to build retirement towns. One developer who didn't want to pay the big price demanded for open land bought into a swamp in central Florida and for several years has been filling it in in a multi-million dollar project.

He now has a city about built and is busy luring in residents. While there is a lot of speculative buying, it is not typical of the current boom, Ferguson said.

Most of the buyers, he pointed out, are actually pouring money into their developments.

Ferguson sees no likelihood of another bust. "With cash money going into actual development, it looks like we're on a sound basis," he said.

Also, state law now gives more protection in investors. The state

Real Estate Commission had broad authority to prevent fraud and misrepresentation and a developer who promises more than he can deliver may go to jail.

Development by Small Owners And today, plots for subdivisions must be approved by the county commission.

Ferguson reports the American people still are in a buying mood. "We get several inquiries every day and a good many offers for swamp and overflow land. People buy 20 acres, with the hope of getting two acres of property for a home site."

Dade County, which includes Miami and its fabulous satellite beaches, is a fast real estate area. The state of Florida has a choice 60,000 acres there which it is holding on.

But Ferguson said most of the development is by small owners who want to improve what they have. For example, there are more state sales in Key West and Monroe County than all the rest of the state put together.

Most of the buyers are private owners who want to make beaches or build boat harbors for their pleasure craft.

Tamny Receives Appointment To Annapolis

Mike Tamny, Seminole High School Senior, and son of Cdr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Tamny, NAS, Sanford, Executive Officer, has been notified of his appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Tamny previously received word that he had been awarded a scholarship through the Navy's Holloway Plan.

The Seminole High School Senior explained in an interview that he had been thinking of the Navy as a career for some time.

"It was a Naval officer speaking to a number of students on the Navy as a career which actually set in motion the idea."

The appointment to the Naval Academy is made through Congressional approval.

Previously, Tamny had selected Princeton University as the college he would attend under the former award as part of the Navy's Holloway Plan.

The husky senior has played important parts in the athletic program of Seminole High School, taking part in football and other athletic programs.

Children Raising 4 Baby Possums

The children of Osteen School are learning their nature studies the practical way.

They are raising four baby possums.

The possums are kept in a cage and are given every three hours with a doll nursing bottle.

They are very tame and will crawl up an arm or hang from one's fingers. The children are taking turns keeping them at home overnight.

The teacher, Mrs. Margaret Harris, says she wonders "if adult possums make good pets."

Public Invited To NAS Open House

An Armed Forces Day "Open House" celebration will be held at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Sanford, Saturday, May 17, commemorating the ninth annual observance of this day.

Throughout the country, as last year, "Power for Peace" will be the slogan of the day on which the general public is invited to take a closer look at the National Defense system.

During the "Open House" at the Sanford Naval Air Station, home of Heavy Attack Wing One, all visitors will be given the opportunity to see a continuous showing of service connected movies. Some of the films to be shown have never been viewed by the general public.

Some of the high lights of the day include a simulated air-sea rescue by a Navy helicopter and a crash/true fighting demonstration.

At least eight different types of combat aircraft will be on display for inspection by the general public. This year for the first time all visitors are urged to bring their cameras aboard and special areas and aircraft are being reserved for "shutterbugs".

The purpose of an Armed Forces Day Open House celebration is to give the people of the country a better understanding of the personnel, equipment, and tasks per-

Building Permits Show Increase In Casselberry

CASSELBERRY—Building permits issued as of May 12 this year are running only four behind the total number issued during the entire year of 1957, according to city clerk Francis M. Allen.

A total of 25 permits for residences were issued during the year 1957 as compared to 21 already issued thus far this year. The records also revealed that permits for additions of remodeling in 1957 totaled 23 as against four to date this year.

Other permits issued in 1957 included one each for a motel, a motel addition and a city sewer, the latter having been installed in the Queen's Mirror South Addition.

At present an extension of the sewer project, included in the original permit, is being installed in the Lake Triplet section where a majority of the new homes are under construction.

Kadets Of America Rated 'Excellent' In Inspection

A formal inspection of the Kadets of America was held yesterday with the inspecting party from the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Commander G. C. Michel and Lt. John Dooley went into every detail of an inspection as more than 80 Kadets, in two platoons, opened ranks in military fashion for the inspecting party.

Headed by Chief W. E. Dyson, the Kadets of America passed in review before a huge gathering of parents and invited guests.

Greeting the Kadets for the City of Sanford was Mayor Merle Warner. Also on hand for the inspection was Cdr. J. M. Miller of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

A United States flag was presented to the local unit of Kadets of America by the Sanford Elks Lodge 1241.

Russ Spencer, Lecturing Knight of the Sanford Elks Lodge, told the group of parents and Kadets "I am sent by my lodge of Elks to do this because the Order of Elks is completely American, believing that for all of us the best and finest qualities in any person are devotion to duty, love of our homes, and loyalty to our nation."

Kadets were told that they had rated an "excellent" in their inspection.

Visiting naval officers were piped aboard in regular Navy fashion with an honor guard of Kadets and a Navy Chief sounding the salute whistle.

The formal inspection was held in preparation of the Kadets of America participation in the Armed Forces Day parade to be held Saturday morning.

Longwood CofC Protests Removal Of 2 ACL Trains

The Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce has gone on record in protest against the proposed removal of trains 80 and 89 by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

These trains, especially 80, are used extensively for the shipping of ferns and other nursery plants, as well as general express. To remove these trains would greatly diminish the express service in Longwood and surrounding area.

Called into special meeting by the Chamber of Commerce President, H. S. "Law" Arnold, the directors voted unanimously to register the desires of the area with the Florida Railroad and Utilities Commission, in Tallahassee.

Brought to the attention of those attending the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, it was again unanimous that Longwood be granted a public hearing before the Railroad Company definitely decides to change the existing schedule.

Letters sent to the Railroad Commission in Tallahassee, to the office of Frank Howard, Leeward and to the Town Council read in part "We have been informed that request is being made for the elimination of trains 80 and 89. It is the desire of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce to protest this action, and we request a public hearing regarding same, before it is approved by your commission."

We feel that our express shipments, especially fern shipments, will be crippled should we lose an opportunity to make shipments of express during daylight hours.

Our Chamber of Commerce has a membership of 160 resident people, and it is the unanimous opinion that we should not lose this service.

Elk's Lodge Will Honor Merchant Members Tonight

Sanford Elks Lodge 1241 will honor merchant members at its regular meeting tonight.

"Merchants' Night" will also include a chop suey dinner at 6:30 with the business session getting underway at 8 o'clock.

W. D. Harlin, Exalted Ruler, said that tonight's "Merchants' Night" is one of a series of entertainments featuring members in certain occupations or classifications.

Others have been "Old Timers Night," "Railroad Men's Night," and "Produce Men's Night."

A VFW MEDAL AND CITATION for 46 years membership is presented to John J. Seufert (center). ## 'Old Doc' Termed Success

By Kathy Carles

Last Thursday night a curtain call was taken by sixteen well-deserving people. Fifteen students and their director, Mrs. Coleman. Of course, we're speaking of the senior play "Old Doc" and its cast. We're not exaggerating in the least when we say that experienced actors couldn't have put on a more successful play.

Wayne Johnson was outstanding as Old Doc. We didn't realize Wayne had acting like that in him. The entire supporting cast was simply beyond words.

We'll always remember Ma and Pa, Ellen Vihlen and Bill Bernosky, who kept us laughing from beginning to end. Angelo Campan and Delores Bailey also amused us as the dignified Dr. Brand and daughter from Boston, who tried earnestly to convert Bob, Old Doc's son (Berry St. John), into becoming a money hungry doctor who only helped wealthy people.

They had Bob convinced, and his fiancée (Carol McNell) decided she wanted no part of a life of that type. So she gave Bob his ring back.

Old Doc becomes seriously ill and dies, and this scene was one of the most touching I've ever seen. All of the patients and friends of Old Doc were right there to help out in time of need because Old Doc had always gone out of his way to help them. Those people were Linda Cannon, Helen Adams, Jackie Senkark, Agnes Stanfield, Roger King, Judy Clark, Sandra Lee and Roger Jimenez.

Of course, in the end, Bob follows in his father's footsteps as the town doctor, and he and fiancée once more make wedding plans.

"Old Doc" was surely the most enjoyable play I've ever attended.

Tom Tom Talk

Did anyone happen to see Mr. Laver downtown last Saturday? Wow! What legal (He was such a good sport at the Carnival!)

Rosemary Lodge came to school Friday with starry eyes. It seems she received a very special ring the night before. Congratulations to Rosemary and Boel Cuwan.

Hearty congratulations to the senior play. It certainly put on two good performances. Even Dino (an Fred Ball said it was good!)

Speaking of alumni, we saw a lot of them at the May Day Ball. Bobby Brumley, Allan Hobby, Bentley Schiratz, Jim Warner, and Ernie Morris, to name a few. We also saw one alumna, namely Mary Grace Hobby, with Claude Hillitt. They appeared to be having more fun than our own lot.

Well, Kathy Carles has done it again! Guess who she had a date with for the May Day Ball? That new doll, Johnny Lovelace!

Your new editor for next year is Joyce Lynn Boston, new associate editor is Pam St. John. From all of us, congratulations and good luck!

While on the subject of congratulating, we might mention that next year's Key Club Sweethearts will be Mary Jane Flynn, Sue Waters and Peggy Westgate. Cindy Rounit came so close to being one that we might as well mention her name, too.

Whatever became of the "Gossip Song"? We were looking at the last edition of Smoke Signals last year and found out that the gossip singers had willed their song to three senior girls (we won't mention their names). Shame be upon you three!

Enough for now. In a couple of weeks we'll try to arrange a special edition for the outgoing seniors. This special edition would have Class Prophecy, Wills and Testaments, and senior affairs exclusively.

One other thing: Delores Bailey wishes to take no credit for this week's Tom Tom Talk. Therefore we dump all this libelous material to the credit of the unsuspecting Claudia Warmack and Angelo Campan.

Senior Play Party

By Angelo Campan

Shortly after the second performance of the senior play "Old Doc" last Thursday, the cast and backstage crew met at the St. John home where Mrs. J. B. St. John assisted by Mrs. Emory Speir, Mrs. William Bernosky, and Mrs. F. W. Pope, acted as hostess to what turned out to be a very delightful evening.

Several senior class sponsors were present, among which were Mrs. W. R. Fort, Mrs. W. B. Wray, and Mr. Paul Hickson. Students who attended the party were Bill Bernosky and Helen Adams, Jimmy Emerson and Jackie Senkark, Max Finch, Harold Frizzell, Bill Grenier, Roger Jimenez (with Kathy Ventry), Wayne Johnson (with Judy Herron), Mark McTeer, Walt Pope, Dickie Rountree and Carol McNell, Barry St. John (with Amoret Speir), Linda Cannon and Delores Bailey (with Bob by Ray and Alvin Wright—I never did find out whose date was which) Judy Clarke (with Tommy Brown), Sandra Lee (with Marvin Goebel), Nancy Robb, and, of course, myself. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Coleman—the director of the play, you know—completed the group.

Incidentals and tea were served in sort of a buffet style, and I compliment whoever is responsible for the delicious salad because I really did enjoy it.

After this delightful prologue the dancing began, which part of the party I'm sure everyone enjoyed to the fullest extent. And as the hour of twelve approached and the guests began thinning out, someone suggested that our sponsors join the younger generation in the dancing. No sooner than Mr. Hickson was bopping with Carol McNell out on the porch (where we were all dancing), after which event Mr. and Mrs. Coleman announced Mr. Hickson's lead to close up the evening.

Photographs were taken by Dickie and Jimmy, and I do hope that I can get at least ONE negative for Smoke Signals.

Liza Jane Writes Home

Dear Ma,

It sure has been a long time since I last wrote to you. I'm sorry, but it really wasn't my fault. That there Mr. Laver (the one that teaches bugology) had us all outside hunting them poor defenseless little bugs, and killing 'em with ammonia, and sticking 'em with pins! It broke my heart to kill some of them that purty butterflies.

Wal, so much for my excuse, now for some news. About a week ago the faculty and student council picked next year's hooters or scream getters—whatever you wanna call 'em. They are Jacques Fern, Frances Strickland and Sunny Skinner. They oughter do real hot dang, you all, I swear, good.

The seniors will be leaving any day now it's sure gonna be empty in 'ol BHS. They're so shook up about graduation and all the parties, you can't get a sensible word out of them. They got their keys, and the caps and gowns are due any minute now. So the entire senior class is on a big, pink fussy cloud.

Hey, Ma, I've got an exclusive. This is right out of the Key Club meeting. Next year's Key Club Sweethearts are Mary Jane Flynn, Susan Waters, and Peggy Westgate. That lucky club!

Wal, I guess this is about all for this time. I'll be home in about three weeks.

See ya then,

Liza Jane

P. S. Tell Abigail I'm a-comin' home!

Japanese Youth Asks About Adults

TOKYO (AP)—In this era of adult worry about teenagers, a 20-year-old signing himself simply "Unlabeled Student" has written a letter published in the English language Japan Times that makes some pointed remarks about older citizens.

"It is really a sad fact that many of the teenagers today are crazy about rock 'n' roll and other contemptible and disgusting songs and dancing, and that juvenile delinquency is frequent these days," he wrote.

"We hear many words of lamentation from adults. However, adults have no right to blame the present day youth only, for some of the responsibilities rest upon the former also.

"Among the many things, I want to point out the following:

"Adults: do not misunderstand the true spirit of democracy. Discipline your children more in the home.

"Adults: be more earnest about your own country's politics, that is, the Diet election instead of being so zealous about demanding higher wages only.

"Adults: consider what religion really means instead of worshipping idols.

"Democracy and Religion

He wrote that Japanese adults misunderstood democracy when they were suddenly given it after the war.

"Most of them thought it was democratic to let their children do as they liked," he explained. "Thus they did not like to disturb and offend their own children. Inexperienced children and youth need some guidance and discipline from their parents."

His experience as a houseboy, he said, "taught me that an American

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller

My, how many things have happened since last Thursday! First, of course, was the May Day, sponsored by the Student Council. We know everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest, for the whole evening was as pleasant as one as anybody could have asked for. Thanks and orchids go to the Student Council and also Miss Whittle for their very fine work.

Last Tuesday was the annual Glee Club Spring Concert. As we write this dubious masterpiece of the literary art, everyone is quite excited over it. I haven't learned all my accompaniments yet, and must work, work, work over the weekend. If I'm not at school as you read this, you'll know I didn't learn it and killed myself. Which would be the case.

Betsy Williams had a punch party before the dance last Friday night. Since I'm writing (as usual) one week ahead of publication, I can't actually describe the party. However, I hear that she's going to have 50 people. I shall have to go snooping around for interesting (and you know what THAT means) news. With all those people, I ought to get SOMETHING that wouldn't offend anyone and yet be amusing, interesting, or both. Oh well, what fun to dream! I guess I should have been born with Walter Winchell's talents.

Girls, I haven't had anyone to take up my offer for a steno-grapher. No pay, but wonderful practice.

National Guard Unit To Take Part In Range Firing

This Saturday, Armed Forces Day, the Sanford National Guard Unit, Co. B, 164th Arm'd. Inf. Bn., will participate in range firing at Camp Blending. Because of this exercise, Seminole County's only active Reserve force will not be represented in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

The 93 officers and men of the unit (281 move by military convey to the Camp Blending reservation at 7 a. m. Saturday morning and return Sunday afternoon.

While firing at Camp Blending the unit will be receiving valuable training that enables the National Guard to remain the Army's "Ready Reserve." Weapons in which firing will be conducted during the weekend include the M-1 rifle, Carbine, sub 45 cal. machine gun, Browning automatic rifle and the 30 and 50 caliber machine guns.

This will be the last weekend training period for the unit this year. On June 8 Company B, with other elements of the 48th Armored Division, will move to Fort Stewart, Ga. for two weeks of intensive field training.

Braves Clobber Tigers 10-1

The Braves clobbered the Tigers Wednesday afternoon in a Rotary League game, amassing seven runs in the second frame and taking the hob-tailed game, 10 to 1. This was the second time in as many afternoons that the Braves had downed last year's pennant winners.

Carl Vanzura opened on the mound for the Braves and gave up three unearned runs while his opponents batted around. He was relieved by Johnny Wheelhel in the duce spot after two batters by Alec McKibbin and Glynn Hodges, a single and two walks. The erstwhile catcher took the ball with one out, three on base. After walking the first man to face him, he got out with an earned run charged to him, but with the Braves sending 12 men to bat in that frame.

Meanwhile, McKibbin held the Tigers hitless in the four innings, although a pass to the leadoff man resulted in a run in the initial chuker.

1,816 County Workers Get Jobs In Seaboard States

TALLAHASSEE — A total of 35,927 migrant farm workers in Florida, including 1,816 from the Sanford area, have been signed up for jobs in the Atlantic Seaboard States, James T. Vocella, State Industrial Commission Chairman, reported today.

That was 2,171 less than the number signed up in 1957.

The total makes up 678 crews of migrants participating in the "annual worker plan" which secures employment for them in northern states after the Florida harvest is finished.

"Under the plan," Vocella said, "workers are signed up in Florida for jobs in northern states that they can go directly to when the harvest is over in Florida. Thus, they are saved a great deal of lost time searching for work."

The pooled interviews of the crews were given from mid-April to the first of May.

Of the eighteen locations in Florida where workers were interviewed and offered jobs in other states, Lake Wales led in the number signed with 44,017.

Numbers signed in other farming centers were: Ft. Pierce, 4,237; Pompano, 3,008; Belle Glade, 3,661; Bradenton, 2,171; Homestead, 1,977; Palatka, 1,914; Orlando, 1,715; Lakeland, 1,589; Winter Haven, 1,119; Leesburg, 1,294; Tampa, 1,059; Immokalee, 1,026; Hattiesburg, 958; Avon Park, 863; West Palm Beach, 770; and Jacksonville, 563.

HINTS FOR SPRING HOUSECLEANING

Vacuum, brush or shake draperies and slip covers before putting them in the washing machine. Remove hooks, mend any rips and, by all means, review the washing instructions that came with the fabrics as well as those of the manufacturer of your washing machine and gas dryer. Some fabrics that are not soiled can be freshened in the gas clothes dryer without washing. Slip covers can be more easily smoothed and stretched to fit if they are removed from the gas dryer while slightly damp. This saves ironing, too.

Living Costs Rise To All-Time High In Month Of April

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living rose to a new all-time high in April for the 24th consecutive month, the National Industrial Conference Board has reported.

Consumer prices in April rose 0.4 per cent from March and ran 3.2 per cent ahead of the same 1937 month, the board said.

The board's all-item index for April stood at 107.2 per cent of the 1933 base price.

Food costs scored at month-to-month gain of 1.1 per cent to pace the index higher. The survey showed food costs now are 70 per cent higher than a year ago.

Small gains also appeared in apparel and sundries, while housing and transportation costs were unchanged from March. All components of the index were up sharply from a year ago.

National Hospital Week Is Time To Emphasize Important Careers

The importance of a hospital to a community is many-fold.

This is emphasized materially during "Hospital Week" now being observed at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Particularly, will the visitor notice, during the open house events, these important features:

Serving as a center for the preservation of life and health, your hospitals provide the tools with which a physician, a surgeon, a specialist or one of the many professions dedicated to human life and health, deals in his efforts to administer to the sick, the wounded, and the afflicted.

There is another important phase of your hospital, emphasized this year during National Hospital Week, and that is the careers offered to those who live here.

Medicine and surgery, psychiatry and laboratory, all provide hundreds of outlets for brilliant futures.

Development in the world of science has added new and intriguing, even challenging careers. There is the discovery of the self-sustaining nuclear chain reaction which resulted in the atom bomb to create brilliant developments in the field of nuclear medicine.

The challenge is to the community—to realize the importance of hospitals as an avenue for satisfying futures.

Behind the scenes — at Seminole Memorial Hospital — one may find a future in nursing and its many branches of specialization. Therapy provides another outlet, an outlet for people who have developed special skills that even a decade ago were unknown and unheard of.

Science, which so strongly has attracted hundreds of young people within its structure and future, provides the biochemist or bacteriologist, or even the medical technologist.

A Seriously Diluted Curriculum

In the great debate about education, the thunder of emotional involvement has tended to drown out the sweet voice of reason. Passionate defense of this or that educational theory has often obscured the overriding concern, which is that the young people of America be prepared as adequately as possible to play their role in a world of growing complexity.

It is good, therefore, to listen to a calm voice that speaks with authority and yet without any conviction that those who disagree are entirely wrong. The voice we have in mind is that of Dr. Howard L. Bevis, a distinguished educator who is now chairman of President Eisenhower's committee on scientists and engineers.

Ike Pledges Support To GOP

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower is pledging to do all he can to help elect Republican congressional candidates who support his program, particularly his defense reorganization, foreign aid and reciprocal trade proposals.

This implicit pledge was contained in the President's nationally broadcast and televised speech at a dinner for Republican members of Congress.

It was fresh evidence he was taking a no-compromise stand and fighting harder than ever before for a legislative program that was running into trouble from both Republicans and Democrats.

Eisenhower spoke at a meeting called by the GOP National Committee as the formal opening of the 1958 Republican campaign to recapture control of the House and Senate. He said the party could win the elections this year if it put its record and hard work into the campaign.

But he devoted almost all of his speech to a fast-talking, vigorous defense of his programs on defense reorganization, foreign aid and foreign trade. He was obviously appealing for support from his own party, which contains many critics of all these programs.

"These programs we have discussed tonight," he said, "challenge us to place the nation's imperative needs above partisan goals.

"Speaking for my own party, I hold that the more nearly unanimous our Republican support for these programs, the stronger will be our country, the more effective the Republican Party in its leadership and the greater our pride in our party's efforts.

In addition to giving Eisenhower a standing ovation at the end of interrupted 80 times with applause. The dinner was attended by 126 members of the House, 23 senators, five cabinet members, 18 White House staffers and 11 from the GOP National Committee staff.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

THE RUSSIAN in this photograph says the man at the head desk appears to be following a down-to-earth policy. Both of their attitudes have permanently quit the scene.

To see the transportation in this photo, you have purchased 2,000 more tickets. Now, what do you do to see the traffic jam?

Watch the man at the head desk. He is looking at the man at the head desk with the same expression of the man at the head desk.

While these scenes of common sense are being thought out, the entire operation, the whole thing, is being planned by the man at the head desk.

Washington See-Saw

By Winn Freedman
Who Named It? And Why?—If you know the answer to this one, Congressman Charlie Bennett would like to hear from you.

It started last week when hearings were being held on two important Florida waterway projects—the Cross State Canal and the deepening of the St. Johns River. While preparing his testimony for the committee, Congressman Bennett spent many hours poring over old maps of the St. Johns River. On a faded map made in 1850 he noticed a tiny island at the mouth of Ship Yard Creek called "Calypso."

Modern maps refer to it as "Island No. 12." Bennett, always with a flair for the romantic, would like to know who named it "Calypso" and why. Also, why the name was discarded for the more prosaic designation of "Island No. 12."

"Originally," Bennett said, "the island of Calypso was a mythical island where Odysseus was held captive for seven years by the lovely daughter of Atlas,

Soviet Russia needs to have taken a short step toward agreeing to start negotiations on disarmament.

Francis Bissell, U.S. ambassador in a letter to President Eisenhower, accepted in principle a United States proposal that experts start discussing means of supervising a possible agreement to suspend nuclear weapons tests.

Khrushchev's offer was hedged about by qualifications which left a lot of room for doubt whether he is setting in good faith or in merely launching another propaganda balloon.

But it was received in Washington as appearing to justify some hope that the long deadlock on disarmament talks might be broken.

A White House statement said that Khrushchev's offer might "serve as the basis for progress toward agreement on disarmament."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was considerably more reserved in his reply to Khrushchev's offer.

"In some degree at least," the statement by the United States said, "the progress of talks is the prime essential in any disarmament agreement."

Dulles added that he did not mean to say that he thought the prospects for any disarmament agreement were good.

He said it would take a lot of study to determine whether there was any ground for optimism. "But at least," he said, "there is some progress."

The Washington reaction showed plainly the feeling of officials in allied countries toward any development, however slight, in the attempt to negotiate a "summit" conference on world issues and get started on discussion of disarmament by experts.

First, there was eagerness to grasp at any apparent concession by the Soviet government. Secondly, there was the natural suspicion of every Russian move, and the doubt whether the Russians will agree to conditions that would justify a summit conference.

Their efforts unconstitutional. Holland feels his position is being weakened by the possibility of a labor strike over being able to paralyze the nation by calling a strike in our communications system.

Holland's bill would allow states to pass laws making it illegal to strike against any public utility, including telephone, gas, light, and water systems.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

IT'S NOT EASY to make people laugh nowadays. George A. Axelrod, author of "The Seven Year Itch," explained the predicament to Mike Wallace: "Life itself is so satirical, it's hard to satirize it. . . with buffoons way up high in government and the Russians making us look idiotic in some ways. In a grotesque, horrible fashion, life itself seems to have become pretty much of a joke. And you can't make a joke on a joke."

Myself, I think Axelrod is deliberately sounding too much like the spokesman for the "beat generation"—but his words merit earnest consideration.

Lady went to see "West Side Story," the hit musical about teen-age gangs in New York, and post-cooked, "What's so original about this one? It's just South Parkington's 'Seventeen' with knives!"

Herlong Report

I am receiving quite a few invitations to speak in the District at this time, but as you know Congress is entering its busiest period, and as much as I would like to, it will not be possible for me to get home except on an occasional week end when the House is not in session.

The various committees have held hearings on many pieces of legislation, and the bills they prepared are about ready for action on the House floor. The early months of a Congress are taken up with hearings on legislation, with June and July probably the busiest months of the session for the whole House.

For instance, this week our schedule called for action on the State, Justice and Judiciary appropriation bill, Statehood for Alaska, and other measures of equal importance.

Facing the Congress in the coming weeks is such controversial legislation as the Postwar reorganization, foreign aid and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements.

This legislation presently is caught up in the anxiety over the business recession and the talk of a tax cut, but Congress will have to begin taking up these issues very shortly. Adjourning probably will come around August 1, since this is an election year.

With the school year coming to a close many of our young people are making their plans for college. Some young men have written me about their prospects of attending one of the service academies. I have had to tell them that my nominations for the classes that begin this year have already been made. This has done several months ago. However, it isn't too early for those of you who may be interested in the classes that begin in 1959.

If you are between the ages of 16 and 21 and want to get other appeal procedures. They are available to anyone who will write to him. If you are one of the thousands of small boat owners in Florida who are riled up over the Coast Guard telling you to add fire extinguishers and life belts and lights and other expensive gear to your boat—and you want to appeal their decision, write to Sikes for a copy of his appeal procedures.

These procedures have been in effect for a long time, but few folks knew just what steps to follow when they disagree with the Coast Guard. Sikes also this week opposed a bill that would require a Federal registration for all boats, even those under 14 feet.

"I'm fighting it on the grounds that the states can regulate their small boats just as well as they can regulate their automobiles. Let's keep the Federal Government out of it."

Holland-Robertson Bill—Senator Holland has again introduced his bill to give states the right to control labor problems that concern all public utilities. This time he has been joined by Senator Robertson of Virginia in his efforts to return this power to local jurisdictions. Several states have tried to enact such laws, but each time the Supreme Court has declared them unconstitutional. Holland feels his position is being weakened by the possibility of a labor strike over being able to paralyze the nation by calling a strike in our communications system.

Holland's bill would allow states to pass laws making it illegal to strike against any public utility, including telephone, gas, light, and water systems.

They should be designed as a trifling spot, not a gay one. You'll be surprised how much easier it is to fall asleep in a properly decorated bedroom.

HEALTH HINTS

By Dr. Harley D. Benton, President National Chiropractic Association

Did Your Hay Fever Goody?
From the chiropractic standpoint, the prognosis for recovery in hay fever is very favorable. Some people, not knowing the symptoms of hay fever, mistake it for a "summer cold."

For the symptoms are quite similar: irritation of the mucous membrane of the nose, sneezing, watering and irritated eyes, and a continuous watery nasal discharge. Sleep and breathing are both affected.

Change of climate is not always conceivably possible. The chiropractor adjusts the misaligned vertebrae so all pressure is removed from spinal nerves, thus permitting a free flow of nerve impulses from the brain to the mucous membrane lining the upper passages of the respiratory tract, which restores normal nerve function and increases resistance to the affected tissues.

Recovery varies in length of time and also in different cases. Some find relief come quickly in some cases where there is a short period of remission. In long-standing cases, it may take several weeks for complete relief. The common belief that this condition is "incurable" is not supported by the number of recoveries from hay fever and rhinitis through chiropractic treatment.

You're a Poor Sleeper? Redecorate Bedroom!

By HERMAN M. DUNBAR, M. D.

IT'S ABOUT TIME for your annual spring housecleaning and decorating chores.

Certainly I am no interior decorator. But I'd still like to give you a few tips about painting and papering an important section of your home—the bedrooms.

Should Be Neutral
They should be designed as a restful spot, not a gay one. You'll be surprised how much easier it is to fall asleep in a properly decorated bedroom.

Wallpaper or painted walls should be blue or green. They are much more soothing than yellow or red. Paper should be soft-lined and should have a simple pattern. Wild figure patterns might be "noisy" enough to keep you awake.

Gray or Blue
The right color woodwork is important, too. I advise against a shiny, high-gloss white paint for the bedroom. Rather, use a flat gray or buff paint.

There's a lot to say for wall-to-wall carpeting or large rugs in the bedroom. If they cover the entire floor, and are dark-colored, they will absorb both light and sound.

As for window shades, the dark green shades are preferable to the yellow or tan colored ones. The latter are apt to be semi-transparent and will admit more light than the darker colors.

Eye Cover Helpful
Use an eye cover. You can purchase these helpful little covers at almost any drug store or medical supply house. If you can't buy one, you can make one easily.

Simply take some black material of soft texture, shape it so that it covers both eyes, then attach a piece of soft elastic tape. By blotting out all light, this mask will do a lot to help you get to sleep faster and sleep more deeply.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
J. R. S.: Which of the "wonder" drugs or antibiotic drugs would have the best effect on arthritis of the knees?
Answer: As yet, none of the antibiotic drugs has proven of value for arthritis, unless, possibly, it is due to gonorrhea.

Conning The News

Funny how one thing leads to another—a friend of mine who has lived here for two years thought that she was the only one with a retarded child until the Mental Health Association started its work. Now she finds there are at least twenty in Sanford. A meeting of parents and interested persons will be held next Monday night (May 16) at 8 in Mr. Milwee's office at 202 Commercial Ave. Problems, solutions and experiences will be exchanged and discussed in an effort to clear the way for proper instruction for retarded children.

They are expecting orders here next fall. The Wittels left Sanford only a short time ago for North Carolina, but the going must not be as good up there. Or maybe they wouldn't let Gene go in the Men's Golf Association meetings. Nice to have them back. They are excellent golfers and delightful people. Are staying at the Mar-Lou and making the E. J. Gill's home headquarters.

Guests at the luncheon today included Ginny Abbeville's mother, Mrs. Newton from Pittsburgh, Margaret McKee, Betty McCracken's mother, Mrs. Hovey from Daytona, and Bonnie Ring, Frenchie and Doc's darling baby.

It was wonderful to see so many friends this morning at the BOQ when VAH-11 wives gave a coffee for the girls whose husbands are deployed. Europe plans were all set, as among other things. The food was sumptuous, scrumptious and I'm sure, delicious.

Jane Miller drove her mother to Gainesville early Wednesday. From there, Mrs. Gordon will return to Mississippi. Treva Michel gave them lunch on Tuesday. Also, Jean Dooley. That is really informal reporting, isn't it?

Have been so rushed this week that I haven't been able to make any slams at anyone. But all of you who are waiting for me to put my foot in my mouth, just hang on. Very soon it's bound to happen.

Don't wish to wax cynical about this, but if truth cannot be found in the press, where is one to find it? With that statement I shall leave you. Was trying to think of joke Ed Lane told me for this column, but have forgotten it.

COFFEE AND CHATTER were enjoyed Wednesday morning when wives of VAH-11 officers gave a coffee for those whose husbands are deployed. The coffee was held at the B.O.Q. ## VAH-11 Wives Give Coffee

Morning coffee was enjoyed Wednesday when wives of VAH-11 gave a party for the wives of deployed officers in VAH-9 and VAH-7. Coffee and an abundant assortment of rolls, cookies and doughnuts were served in the afternoon at the B. O. Q. at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Welcoming guests at the door was Mrs. Caesar Fernandez, wife of the commanding officer of VAH-11. Hostesses for the morning were Mrs. Kay Downs, Mrs. William Warwick and Mrs. Bus Bray. The service table was centered with an arrangement of snapdragons in spring colors. Coffee was served from silver services placed at each end of the table.

Individual tables in the room held tiny maypoles of crepe paper, garnished with gardenias.

Attending from VAH-11 were Mrs. Arletta Bryant, Mrs. Pat Knight, Mrs. Helen Crawford, Mrs. Ann Hovey and Mrs. Lis Dodge. From VAH-9 were Mrs. Virginia Conn, Mrs. Sally McIntire, Mrs. Julie Anderson, Mrs. Marcia Cousins, Mrs. Betty Hartzell, Mrs. Caroline Legare, Mrs. Marion Bent, Mrs. Jo Ann Shiver, Mrs. Betty Blesinger.

Also, Mrs. Dornell Killeline, Mrs. Ruth Chaffee, Mrs. Dottie Fitzgerald, Mrs. Leta Peterson, Mrs. Jean Fowler, Mrs. Mary Carman and Mrs. Mary Nelson.

From VAH-11, Mrs. Vera Brown, Mrs. Bobbie Fernandez, Mrs. Louise Andrus, Mrs. Bert Burkholder, Mrs. Pat Hansen, Mrs. Kay Downs, Mrs. Walnetta Ramey, Mrs. Helen Cobb, Mrs. Margaret Hendrick, Mrs. Ramona Steele, Mrs. Dottie Nelson.

Also, Mrs. Phyllis Graham, Mrs. LaVerne Hamilton, Mrs. Sally Warwick, Mrs. Tommie Tennison, Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Mrs. Sue Belay, Mrs. Doty Maliczewski, Mrs. Edie Colvin, Mrs. Vicki Wilster, Mrs. Winifred Norriscay, Mrs. Virginia Allen, Mrs. Esther Stripp, Mrs. Ann Oliver, Mrs. Polly Hatch, Mrs. Lucille Harris, Mrs. Jean Rossi and Mrs. Fran Robertson.

Mrs. Eugenia C. Reedy of IAT-Wing Staff was a special guest.

Billowy, Light Graduation Dress Still Tradition

NEW YORK (AP)—The chemise and trapeze may come and go, but the billowy graduation dress seems destined to go on forever. The silhouette of short sleeves, wide ash or cummerbund, and full skirt is the top one with this spring's girl graduates as it has been for many years back, according to New York manufacturers.

Not a single house that I talked to dared a variation of the chemise or trapeze, which dominates women's fashion generally.

"This is the one time they want to look especially pretty," said a spokesman for Conle Sage. "And the full skirts are prefit for this age group... they're a little young to try for sophistication."

"The hard instinct here much change," said Post Eddy, of Rapid Frocks. "For the same reason they will wear blue jeans around the house they all want billowy skirts for dressup. They want to look alike, I guess."

"We did depart a little this spring with a couple of sheaths, and they sold quite well," said a spokesman for Sportlane. "But graduation styles remain pretty standard for a couple of reasons. Many schools regulate what the girl graduate will wear. And it's easier to fit most teenagers in full skirts."

Manufacturers aim for variety with fabrics and color combinations. White, once a "must" has been deposed by the pastel.

"We sell less and less all white each year," said Sage, "because most of the girls are looking for something they can wear later."

A pastel goes more places.

Junior First said that this spring its pale pinks, blues and yellows were out-selling white. Sportlane said mine was "very strong."

Many manufacturers combine white with pastel. The bodice and ash in pale pink, the rest of the dress white, for instance. Sage shows one of white organza worn over a pale blue silk slip.

Mrs. Ray Murray Invited This Month To Safety Conference

Mrs. Ray N. Murray will go to Miami Beach May 20-26 for a meeting of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. Mrs. Murray received her invitation from the White House. The meeting will be held at the Americana Hotel.

Mrs. Murray was recently awarded a certificate of merit from the National Safety Council for her contribution to an effective traffic program. A Shell Oil Co. Grant acted as mediator.

Much of the credit for the "preservation of lives through the development and direction of an effective program" must go to law officers of Seminole County and Sanford, according to Mrs. Murray.

The organization of bicycle inspection and the instruction of school children was one phase of work done by Mrs. Murray and her aides.

School and law enforcement groups in Seminole County are sponsoring her trip to Miami. The Southern Regional Conference is one of four such meetings scheduled this year by the National Safety Council.

Each conference will focus the widest possible public attention on the urgent traffic safety needs of each state and its local communities.

Existing citizen organizations will be encouraged by the group, in the hope that more citizen support for priority needs will be enlisted. Safety organizations will be strengthened, and the formation of new ones assisted, for the support of a continuous and effective program.

Mrs. Murray organized the first bicycle safety club in Sanford. She re-organized the mothers patrol of Southside School the year she was there.

Church Observes Youth Sunday

Holy Cross Episcopal Church, in keeping with all other Episcopal Churches throughout the United States, observed Youth Sunday, Mother's Day, as Youth Sunday. The regular 11 A. M. service of Morning Prayer was conducted by members of the local Episcopal Young Churchmen's organization, under the supervision of the Rector, Father John W. Thomas.

Taking part in the service were Ray Lanquist, Nancy Thomas, Bob Knight, Barbara Bradley, Niki Ashby, Rob Bruce, Doug Tammy and Agnes Stansfield, EYC President, who delivered the sermon. Ushers were Ruth Carlton and Desta Lee Horner.

In her address, Miss Stansfield explained to the congregation that the youth of the parish realize their importance as future leaders of the church. However, she made it clear that the young people are today contributing to the growth and welfare of the parish by serving as acolytes, choir members, church school assistants, etc.

Everyone present at the service thoroughly enjoyed the sincere, well-prepared manner in which the young people carried out their assigned parts of the Morning Prayer service and the EYC are to be highly congratulated for their fine efforts.

The organization is made up of 16th thru 18th grade students and meets each Sunday evening throughout the school year at the parish house. Adult sponsors of the group are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horner, who assist Father Thomas in planning activities for the group.

Fabrics include pure cotton broadcloth, a white-on-white broadcloth, cotton batiste sycot, dacron and cotton blends in solid or eyelet, embroidered organza and basillates.

Manufacturers do their best business in the grade and high school age group, although today graduation for the kindergarten set is becoming commonplace.

BLACK AND WHITE checkered suit is from a special group of suits on a small scale designed by Adia Simpson. The box jacket is self-banded around the roll collar and cutaway petal front, punctuated with tiny bows at either side. The slim skirt is on a wide band.

A patient is not served only by a doctor and a nurse. Behind the efficient doctor is an operating room fighting to keep an accident victim alive; behind his nurse with her ready hands and skill, are dozens who make the pulse of a hospital throb with life.

"Careers that Count" is the theme this year for National Hospital Week, which is observed this week in Sanford. A medical career dedicated to the preservation of life and health does not end with the doctor or the nurse.

In every phase of hospital work willing hands perform the background tasks that ensure patient comfort and care.

From the administrator who runs the plant, to any president of a large company, to the maid who polishes the floors, jobs run the gamut of versatility.

When a patient enters the Seminole Memorial Hospital, he is greeted first by the "pink ladies", members of the Hospital Auxiliary who give their time voluntarily to assisting the hospital staff and patients. He will perhaps notice the half dozen people in the business office to his right: the cashier, bookkeeper, switchboard operator, accountant and business manager.

In the admitting office he will meet a kindly person who checks his record and makes out a slip for the floor, the diet kitchen and the laboratory. Then up the elevator to the floor where he will stay, met by several nurses. Maids, nurses and housekeepers are cleaning, checking linens, serving meals.

He sees his doctor, the nurses, the pink ladies, the aides and the maids. In a trip to the laboratory he may come in contact with the technicians there. In X-ray, he will find a registered X-ray technician.

What he does not see is the background. This includes the stock clerks, the dishwashers, the cooks, the dietician, the medical librarian, the medical record librarian, the pharmacist, or the engineer. He does not see the electricians, the painters, the plumbers.

We salute the Seminole Memorial Hospital as an institution dedicated to the health and comfort of those who are ill or hurt. Its modern facilities and efficient staff may well give us a feeling of security. We should be proud that the city of Sanford has seen fit to erect and support a hospital that will stand for many years as a symbol of our progressive attitude toward medicine and its practices.

PRINCESS MAKES PROGRESS
LONDON (UP)—Seven-year-old Princess Anne is "progressing normally" after her operation for removal of tonsils and adenoids and is expected to leave the hospital at the end of the week, her doctors said today.

Doctors In Town On Thursdays

There are seventeen practicing doctors in Sanford. With a constantly expanding population, they are always busy. For sometime now, many people in Seminole County have thought that all the doctors except one take the day off on Thursday.

With this in mind, there is a rush for the emergency room in the hospital for minor injuries which could ordinarily be treated in a doctor's office. A doctor is always on call for duty at the hospital.

The Medical Society has revealed that the doctors do not all take Thursday off. Eight of them do, leaving a balance of nine. Seven take Wednesday off, one Tuesday and one Saturday.

Even a day off cannot be considered as such when one is a doctor. This indicates that they possibly half a day—and sometimes an hour before normal daily labors cease. When a baby is ready to be born, a patient suffers a heart attack, or an appendix bursts, the doctor's "day off" goes out the window.

To them, the patient comes first.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALTY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Carmen Basilio had a hot hand today as he cut considerably in the middle of one of today's biggest prize games.

Middleweight champion Ray Robinson is playing it easy as he suppresses the percentage for a third bout with Carmen. But the winner of the welterweight championship bout between Vince Martines and Virgil Atkins has to hope that Basilio will return to the 147-pound class.

So Carmen, whose presence is necessary to provide a big pot in a September outdoor extravaganza, has a sure-fire winning hand. Sugar Ray is running a fine show, hoping that he may not return to the ring again.

But the Harlem dynamiter, who recaptured the middleweight title from Carmen in their last bout, knows from experience that he can't pick up the bundle anywhere else that he can against Carmen. It was a dollar deficit while working as an entertainer which brought him back to boxing.

But this time he really is putting on the big squeeze. In their first bout, Robinson took 40 per cent and Basilio got 25 per cent—although the boxer's total end in any production is 60 per cent. The last time, when Carmen was the champion, they split it 50-50.

Now Robinson is demanding 45 per cent and Basilio says he won't fight for less than 30 per cent. The promoting IBC contends it lost $100,000 on the first bout in which it gave them a total of 65 per cent.

So something has to give in their current demands for a total of 75 per cent — and it won't be Basilio.

Because Carmen has an ace in the hole.

That's a return to the welterweight division which he abandoned as champion to move up into the middleweight division. The frustrated elimination to provide a new 147-pound king reaches its climax in St. Louis on June 3 when Atkins goes in as a 9 to 5 favorite against Martines.

FSU Team One Game Short Of Record

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—Florida State's fast-rising baseball team is on a 10-game winning streak—two games short of the school record—and the reason is obvious.

Danny Litchfield's Seminoles are hitting and pitching.

A month ago, the defending District 3 NCAA champions sported a mediocre 8-5 standing. Today, thanks to some magnificent pitching and solid stickwork, the Seminoles boast what is believed to be the best overall record in Dixie.

Boxing Committee To Take Definite Action On Situation

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Julius Hoffman said today the World Championship Boxing Committee will take "definite action" on the heavyweight situation late this month.

Hoffman, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission and president of the committee, will fly to Paris May 25 and preside at the committee meeting there May 26-30.

Just what ultimatum to be given champion Floyd Patterson will be decided by the committee, Hoffman said. Young Floyd hasn't defended his crown since last Aug. 25, when he knocked out amateur Pico Bademachet in the sixth round at Seattle.

Cue D'Amato, Patterson's manager, declared today, "If the World Committee or any other organization tries to force us into a fight with an opponent who may have any connection with the International Boxing Club—no matter how indirect—we will challenge the committee's action in court."

BROWLDER BOOTERS ON WAY
NEW YORK (U.P.)—The Manchester City team of the English Soccer League's First Division will move here today ahead of the St. Louis team for a nine-game one of the United States and Canada. The team will open its tour at Philadelphia Sunday.

All-America shortstop Dick Howser of West Palm Beach, hitting .326, leads in runs scored with 38 and is tied with sophomore catcher Bill Westendorf (.340) in doubles. Each has six two-baggers. Left-fielder Jerry Philip (.345) has three home runs and rightfielder Mike Coppe (.318) is the run-batted-in leader with 21.

Trenton Qualifying Trials Start May 25

TRENTON, N. J.—Qualifying trials for the Northern 200-mile NASCAR Grand National championship at Trenton Speedway on Memorial Day, May 28, will be a thorough test for the late model stock cars as well as the ability of the driver, according to the regulations announced by Bill France, NASCAR president.

Each driver will be forced to drive four consecutive laps once he takes the green flag signifying the start of his trial and the average time for the four laps will be his qualifying time. Twin electric timing devices will be in operation so that each lap will be recorded separately as well as the time for the full distance.

The qualifying tests will start Sunday, May 25, two days after the opening of the official inspection station at the speedway on the New Jersey State Fairgrounds. No car will be allowed on the track for a qualifying run until after it has passed through the inspection station and has been officially approved. Special attention will be paid to safety specifications.

Trials will be run on four consecutive afternoons, weather permitting, with May 25 having been reserved as an emergency day in the event of inclement weather. The three fastest cars qualify on the first day, the six fastest on each of the next two days, and the remainder of the 40-car field will be filled May 28. Positions left open on days prior to May 28 due to forced postponements will be filled the final scheduled day.

Once a driver takes the green flag, he must complete his four-lap run, or drop back to the next day. There will be no re-start and should a car catch out for any reason on the final day, the driver goes to the rear of the field if there is an open position.

A four-lap special race will close the program at 4:30 p. m. each qualifying day, open to those who qualified that day.

Complete ticket or hotel reservation information may be obtained by writing P. O. Box 1489, Trenton, N. J.

This event, which attracted many hundreds of Central Floridians last year is the ninth annual observance of this day.

First on the list of events will be a simulated air/sea rescue by a Navy Helicopter. Here, all guests will be able to see and photograph actual rescue procedures, including the hoisting of a survivor into the helicopter.

Immediately following this performance, a precision fire fighting crew will give a crash fire fighting demonstration.

Open for inspection will be some of the Navy and Air Force's fastest jet fighters and bombers. Aircraft included in the display are A3D "Skywarrior", A4 "Skyhawk", F4U "Corsair", B-47 "Stratojet", F-102 "Machete", F2H "Bananae", and the F4D "Skyray".

As an added feature, a rescue air boat, a crash fire fighting truck, and a large crane will be open to the public.

All visitors planning to attend "Open House" at NAS Sanford are cordially invited to bring their cameras along. Special areas have been set aside for the use of "shutterbugs."
