It's life or death for Michael Stoll

HERALD EDITOR

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Two courtroom veterans on opposite sides of a crime will face each other Tuesday to argue the fate of a man convicted of murdering his wife.

Assistant District Attorney Steve Plotnick will argue that Michael Stoll, 36, should be sentenced to death for the November, 1994 killing of his wife, Julie, 35, who was found dead in the couple's Sanford home, her neck broken and her larynx

Calling the action "abourd", Schapker supports the students' position that they are old enough to drive and have jobs, they should be able to choose what they eat.

The students understand that there are bigger problems, but denying them choices as basic as what foods they will eat is of great importance to them. So important that they have taken their complaints to their representatives.

Rent battle rages at Winter Springs retirement park

WINTER SPRINGS - While negotiations are under way to reach a final peace agreement in civil war- torn ireland, residents of Winter Springs' Hacitle which has also turned neighbor against neighbor.

It is not religion, but economics, that has ripped this community in two.

In Nov. 1996, the residents' association of the mobile home retirement community made the decision to purchase the property despite the fact that nearly 65 percent of the residents said they did not want to be owners. Most said they were not willing or able to come up with the money that would be needed to buy the 25- year -old park.

Ray Smith, one of the realdents who did not choose to spend the $25,000 to get a share of the park, said some of the residents who live in the park are on fixed incomes of less than $700 a month. Investing in the community was not something they could afford to do.

Their solution was to raise the rent for those who had chosen not to buy into the park. The first opportunity they had, residents say, they raised the rent 660 a month to $330. The residents sued, saying the 24 percent rate hike was unreasonable, a violation of state statutes.

While they are fighting the rent increase, the money was to be held in escrow, to be returned if they won their case in court. A hearing on the case, originally scheduled for last month, has been postponed until June or July, they said.

In addition to the rent increase, the residents often still have a mortgage on their mobile home, plus they must pay utilities and for their groceries "At that point, they're really living on the edge," Smith said. One woman who did not want to give her name, said she sometimes had to make a choice between making her rent payment and buying food. Another rent increase would 'do (her) in."

Residents said they have heard their rents will be increased another $11 next month.

LAKE MARY - They weren't Lewis and Clark, looking for a northwest passage, but Lake Mary City Commissioners Gary Brender and Thom Greene and City Manager John Litton made some discoveries of their own on a recent cance trip on West Crystal Lake.

The commissioners and city manager spent two hours touring, by water, areas of the lake they would have never seen from land. The officials were responding to a request by a concerned citizen to view portions of the lake he feels are being impacted by run-off from fertilizers and pesticides being applied to lawns and a golf course located on the shores of the lake.

Darrell Leidigh, a homeowner on the southern shore of West Crystal Lake, became con-tion to environmental concerns when lake levels in the area rose after winter rains a couple years ago. Leidigh, who owns a canoe manufacturing company in Longwood, said he spends a lot of time on the lake and thinks increased amounts of fertilizers from homes in Timacuan, on the north side of the lake, are destroying the quality of the water.

Leidigh bought his property in 1972 and built his house in 1984. The lake was nice in 84." said Leidigh. There were only a few single family homes around the lake at that time, he said.

Crystal Lake was a popular swimming hole for area bathers who accessed the lake off of West Grand Bend Avenue. The lake was closed to swim-ming in the mid-1980s, because of increased bacteria counts. The city blamed septic See Casee, Page SA

Are small business managers sacrificing customer service?

I just left a very prominent fast food chain in the Interstate-4 corridor. As I waited for the chance to give my business to this chain, I was watching how the customers were being treated. The sales counters were seven deep with customers with new ones arriving in a steady stream. The manager, or who I took for the manager, had a headset on and was working the drive through.

As the manager went about filing orders in the drive through you could sense a restlessness in the crowd at the counter. Here were about 20 people attempting to give their order to one and a half cashiers. These people, for the most part, were workers on their lunch break which meant that time was a factor. I looked at my watch and timed the amount of time it took for my order to be given and my money taken. After 10 minutes that part of the sales process was over, but the sale was not completed. I had not received my food. I glanced at my watch because it was becoming interesting to follow this. After seven more minutes, my food was delivered without asking me if I needed any condiments. As I stood there waiting for my food someone remarked, 'are they killing the cow?" Another customer said, "they are just overwhelmed by the crowd at noon."

I am by nature a tolerant

ing my lunch I thought about the customer blaming us, the customers, for showing up at the same time. It set me to thinking about why should I the customer, accept a business' refusal to plan for the business cycle. I mean, after all, is it that hard to predict if you are in the fast food bustness that noon is a busy time? In this day of flex time, working seniors, etc. is it not the business' job to have sufficient help to allow me to be served in a reasonable time? Is the manager really helping his business by performing a non-managerial function? Did the $6.$7 an hour he saved really benefit his business? Would he not have better served the business by being available to manage the work flow's, peaks and valleys by adjusting his people? I watched customers walk in and walk out because their needs for quick service could not be met. When you manage your small business, are you sacrifleing customer service chasing the clusive goal of low labor costs? Do these lower labor costs cost you present and future business? Are you so busy in personal production that you don't have the time or the energy to manage the work flow?

Don't expect a customer to understand your difficulties because it is not their role to understand your shortcomings. Be assured that competitors will arise to fill these needs if you don't. Just ask the big fast food restaurants where the low cost drive through competitors came from.

The cream of the administrative crop

By Shari Brodle HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

The elementary and secondary principal and assistant principal of the year were announced Tuesday at the Seminole County School Board meeting.

The winners are Bill Gibson. principal of Jackson Heights Middle School; David Scott, principal of Idyllwilde Elementary School; Linda Shakar, assistant principal of Lyman School; and Carol Chanter, assistant principal of Pine Crest Elementary.

Each administrator had something to say about receiving the honor:

Bill Gibson

OVIEDO - Bill Gibson, in his fourth year as principal of Jackson Heights Middle School, began his career in education as a teacher and then headmaster at the Sanford Naval Academy. Two of the teachers at Jackson Heights former students of Gibson's.

"I love my job," said Gibson, I really do. He attributes his success to a team effort of administrators, teachers and parents. "I take a collaborative view of administration."

Jackson Heights already offers a fine arts program similar to the magnet program that will be implemented at Lakeview Middle School next year. Another program instituted by Gibson is the requirement of a half-year of technology classes for all students. The school also sponsors the only middle school Navy Junior ROTC unit that Gibson is aware of.

We made choices good for the kids," said Gibson, who involves students in the decision making through leadership classes. BETA club and focus groups.

David Scott

SANFORD - David Scott is a product of the Seminole County school system, entering second grade in Sanford and graduating from Seminole High School. He has been principal of Idyllwiide Elementary since

"I'm in it for the kids," said Scott. Since coming to Idyliwilde, Scott has been a part of developing a band, Spanish and drama programs at the school and a before-school intramural program. A grant writing team has won $200,000 in grants for a language lab at the school.

Linda Shakar

LONGWOOD - Linda Shakar has 29 years experience in the education business. She has been at Lyman High School as assistant principal for 7 years, under 3 different principals.

She is proudest of the strides Lyman has made toward raising test scores at the school. Through a concerted effort of a committee which instituted a study program and

To Whom It May Concern,

We have been employed at China King Buffet for 4 1/2 and 5 years and would like to inform you that some of your Action News reports are totally untrue. You state that M. Lam closed a business because of Health Violations and re-opened here. China King has been open for 5 years and Mr. Lam only took over management 2 years and 3 months ago. You also report we have had fitthy conditions and health violations in the past 2 1/2 years. We have been here for all our inspections, and the only violations we've had were. before Mr. Lam took over.

Maybe we've had warning of a utensil being placed in a sink it shouldn't have been in or pest control problems which every restaurant has especially in Florida, but Mr. Lam is always quick to correct any problem we have and has done so all along. Why don't you put that in your report?

On your web site you show 18 other restaurants with many violations however you only show Bamboo Cafe' and China King on film, both Chinese Restaurants. Could that be discrimination? Also the way you show on your commercials the kitchen of Bamboo Cafe' and then our sign gives the impression that is our kitchen and it is

We can also assure you we would not be writing you this letter with our signatures if we thought it would backfire.

As frequent viewers of Channel 9 we are very discouraged by the way this story was handled and wonder if the news we rely on every day is only half of the story as this one is.

Please know this letter is to tell you our side of the story as employees that want to get the story straight.

Seat belt laws

A group called the Florida Safety Belt Alliance, a coalition of over 200 Florida organizations recently met on the rooftop of Orlando Regional Medical Center to discuss pending legislation regarding the use of seat belts. We believe this is a good move.

At the present time, a motorist cannot be charged for violation of the seat belt law, unless another traffic violation is witnessed first. We believe this is a bad move.

The coalition plans to urge the Florida Legislature to pass laws making the violation a punishable violation on its own. Right now, there are two bills pending in Tallahassee which would do exactly

According to figures from the Alliance, only 62 percent of Floridians wear seat belts. Another study by Ford Motor Company says adults who don't wear seat belts will buckle their children in just 30 percent of the time.

Statistics supplied by the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles say over 170 lives could be saved and 5,246 serious injuries prevented EACH YEAR if Florida's seat belt laws were strengthened. Talk to just about anyone who has had a close call in a vehicular accident and they will probably tell you that they won't drive another inch without wearing their seat belt. One such situation generally has a long-term result.

Louisiana passed a safety belt law making it an offense on its own. As a result, child restraint use jumped 78 percent. Who could doubt, seatbelts can save lives and prevent injuries, of course, only when they are used properly. Why then, do we seem to have a continuing conflict over the need to use them and the need for laws to back up this use. We commend the Alliance for meeting on this matter, and we urge our legislature to get on the ball and make some decisions. Failure to make such decisions is costing us in lives. Do they need based on fact. He states that because of the tax dollars provided by Seminole County residents to the Orlando Sanford Airport, that it is able to compete with Orlando International Airport for business.

The taxpayers of Seminole County do not subsidize the Orlando-Sanford Airport; never have, never will. The enabling legislation creating this special district allows the City Commission of Sanford to levy a tax upon the residents of Sanford (only), although they have never done so since the airport was purchased from the United States in 1969 for $1.00.

The airport is operated with land and building rental income, aviation user fees, state and federal grants, and miscellaneous income generated by the airport. To the contrary, the airport returns millions of dollars to the Central Florida region and acts as an economic engine which promotes job growth and business opportunities. It also broadens the tax base for the entire county by putting more taxable value on the tax rolls, allowing businesses to pay a larger share of the county budget.

This will have the positive effect of reducing the tax burden on the residents of all of Seminole County. While I can empathize with the residents of Lake Mary who are concerned about the noise issue, because I live within a mile of the airport, let us not confuse the real issue by making up facts as we

Stop ignoring the best route for light rail

Why are some politicians and planners ignoring the proposed 17-92 route for the light rail? This may prove to be one of the major questions in upcoming elections, at every level, and puzzling to taxpayers. The concept was first presented in the Seminole Herald. The public responded very well to the idea and now both Winter Park and Maitland appear to favor this route. The future route, if it is the 17-92 corridor, apparently has everyone "onboard". So why isn't the choice route by planners, our REPRESENTATIVES, and the Metro Planning Organization? This is a question that needs to be asked by everyone?

To try and force the CSX proposed down the throats of, not only these two cities of the idea, creates further suspicion regarding the entire light rail system program. It clearly points out that there is little support for the CSX route and, indeed, it is our representatives that are being stubborn...not the citizens. The route of the light rail, or any other system of mass transportation, is one of the most important decisions EVER. It has never been supported by the public, and that is the truth.

The media has failed terribly in reporting the true feelings of the public and their lack of support for light rail. The people have been fed only what the few supporters wanted them to hear. Now, an apparent solution has come forth that can be truly

Ernie Hatton II

Emie Hatton II is a veteran member of numerous government boards and is a civic activist in the interest of good government.

supported by the public, despite the fact that in their hearts they are opposed to light rail.

The political forces, along with "others," aren't satisfied. Why is that? All of this is creating further suspicion among the pub-lic. The taxpayers, through the efforts of a few local mayors and some media, are asking the question, why are you not con-sidering the 17-92 corridor? What is so special about the CSX route? Isn't it apparent that the 17-92 corridor is less costly, more direct, has less impact, would be far easier to construct, and can in effect be planned now? Most importantly the support is there for this route despite the reservations about light rail.

All of this raises immense questions regarding the entire program. What exactly is be leading the way? In my mind, this is a taste of Washington. Major facts have been left out of the reporting of this great en-

The first is that the vast majority of the public do not support it. Secondly, there is...and has been, apparently little factual and supportive information given out. Whenever challenged there has been back tracking. You will note the continuing changes in ridership numbers and so many other things altered from one day to another. So where are we?

We are in dispute, basically with our own representatives and those given the awesome responsibility to advance the light rail. It is my opinion that the public has done back flips in order to accommodate these people and it has finally come down to a very basic premise. There is little faith in the proposed routes, the planning, the consultants, the political process, the Department of Transportation, and the accuracy of information supplied.

So what does the public have to do? Why don't you give us a little credit and bend in the direction of the taxpayers who are saying take the 17-92 route with the possible inclusion of I-4, when necessary, and we will support light rail.

If you cannot at least compromise on the route, then we need to step back and reexamine the entire process. Something is on the minds of those who are supposed to very wrong when the public is, in fact, not included in a process that will put them in debt for many, many years.

Who initiated town meeting?

Many readers of the April 10 edition of the Seminole Heruld may have gotten the impression that the "town meeting" held at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, April 9, was initiated by Mayor Larry Dale or by Chamber officials. In fact, the meeting was initiated by Debbra Groseclose through a series of phone calls with Chamber Director

The week following the last "town meeting," held at First Presbyterian Church the evening of March 17, Debbra called to ask if the Chamber building could be used by a group of citizens to hold a town meeting in early April. She was told that the building could be rented for meetings for a $75 fee. In conversations with Mr. Rose, Debbra asked how much the Mayor was charged when he used the building and was told it was furnished to him without charge, whereupon, she questioned why a group of citizens would be charged a fee.

Mr. Rose agreed to take the matter to Chamber officials and later informed Mrs. Groseclose there was agreement that the meeting could be held in the Chamber building. Upon arriving at the Chamber Thursday evening, we were informed by Mesers. Rose, Sills, and Strickler that we would not moderate or even participate equally with the Mayor because "this is our turf and we make the rules." Another citizen who questioned Mr. Rose about the format of the meeting was told, "They don't want to pay the $75 fee so it's not their meeting." This is not meant to be critical of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber performed a public service with this meeting even though its format was different than what we believed it would be. It is stated simply to act the record straight that Mayor Dale did not initiate the meeting. In fact, a strong assumption could be made that the Mayor attended only because he had no graceful way to avoid it.

According to Commissioner Lessard, prior to the City Commission meeting following his and Commissioner Eckstein's attendance at the March 17 town meeting, they proposed to the Mayor and Commissioners Williams and Lyons that an official public meeting be held by the Commission to relate all the facts about the proposed development of Fort Mellon Park to Sanford citizens, and to give citizens an oppor-tunity to ask the questions that were saked last Thursday evening. Commissioner Lessard reported that the Mayor and Commissioners Williams and Lyons were "vehemently opposed to such a meeting."

We must also respond to the Mayor's continuing rhetoric that, "I've taken it before the people more times than you could imagine." (Seminole Herald, April 10, page 2A). Note those whom the Mayor listed following this statement. The Waterfront Development Committee. The Community Redevelopment Agency, Sanford Main Street, The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. The Historic Trust. With the sole exception of the Historic Trust each of these bodies shares a common purpose, either by title or charter; the economic development of Sanford.

These groups are not "the people," Mr. Mayor. They are the officially constituted groups that seek and support economic development. They would each be expected to support the proposed development of Fort Mellon Park. Again, this is not stated to be critical of these groups for their stand. It's just what they do.

Finally, it would be nice if the Mayor's actions were consistent with his words. Mr. Dale has repeatedly stated that he has initiated and supports the proposed development of Fort Mellon Park because he believes it will help rejuvenate downtown Sanford. He is, of course, correct that downtown needs an economic injection. Why not be part of this, Mr. Mayor?

Defining habbu disabilities

Today we will delve into one of our favorite topics here at "Special People", definitions. Our first definition is Obsessive Compulatve Disorder. Although it may not be what you would call a disability, it is still something that many people suffer with every day.

Obsessive Compulsive Disorder is characterized by recurrent habitual, obsessive or compulaive, thoughts or actions. These compulsions may become very distressing and time consuming. In severe cases, they can significantly interfere with a persons normal routine or relationships with others.

The cause of Obsessive Compulatve Disorder is not known. There is some evidence that the disorder may be genetic because it tends to occur in more than one member of a family. Obsessive Compulsive Disorder may occur in a mild to severe form.

Symptoms of other atlments such as Anorexia Nervosa, may resemble those of Obsessive Compulatve Disorder. Anorexia Nervosa is an illness of self starvation resulting in marked weight loss, characterized by a disturbed sense of body image and anxiety about weight gain.

in rare cases, a persons ac-tions dictated by the compulsions may become the major activity in life which can be acverely disabling. Standard treatment of Obsessive Compulsive Disorder consists in a combination of antidepressant medication and psychotherapy.

Our second definition is Autism, a lifelong, nonprogres-sive neuralgic disorder typically appearing before the age of 30 months. This is characterized by language and communication difficulties, withdrawal from social contacts and extreme reactions to changes in the immediate cuvi-sociation, has written letters to various representatives including Senator Bob Graham, Senator Connie Mack and Congressman John Mica. Seminole High School has also generated a petition with more than a thousand signatures against the ban.

Schapker joined the students' letter writing efforts. Why would the state be so heckbent on destroying student's choices as well as much needed revenue in a time when public education has endured so much criticism about the costs of extra curricular activities?", Schapker wrote in a letter to Sen. Bob Graham.

Schapker also is concerned about the impact of lost revenues for the schools. The schools receive a share of the proceeds from the vending machines. These funds must be spent on students and are used to supplement student activities and programs such as band, art, dance, chorus, drama, TV production as well as academic subjects.

Responses so far have been sympathetic to the students' position, but with a bottom line of 'ii's not my job'. Wells plans to continue the letter writing with future letters going to Sen. Anna Cowin, Rep. Tom Feeney and Department of Education Commissioner defendant in a capital case.

Frank Brogan. According to Dan Andrews, director of Food Services for Seminole County Schools the removal of sodas from schools is necessary to come into compliance with a federal regulation that has been in existence for many years.

"Here we have kids we are trying to teach to act like responsible adults," said Andrews, and we don't trust them to make choices about their dicts.

If it is an issue of nutrition, Andrews points out that parents are the greatest influence on teens' eating habits. Students can bring sodas from home. 'Sales (in the schools' cafeterias) have not risen one dime since the machines went off," said Andrews.

Following spring break Lyman High School stopped selling sodas. Students and staff are upset with the changes. Even employees in Lyman's Food Service department do not agree with the ban on sodas.

Principal Sam Momary expects to loose $20,000 in revenues for the support of student activities. For Momary the revenue is a secondary issue. The real issue is we have students this age making major life decisions and they can't choose what they drink?" comments Momary. "It is very demeaning for the students".

The goal of the regulation was to protect the physical health of students. The ban on selling sodas in schools will at best inconvenience students. The greater concern of school administrators is the harm it may do to their self-esteem.

ferent companies."

That may or may not be correct," Maloy said Friday. There was a merger a year ago. What concerns me is that the company president (Harry Schuman) has said that he felt it would be morally wrong to go anywhere else because he had told his people to move to Lake Mary. They've been determined to come to Lake Mary all along. We didn't need to waste $150,000 of taxpayer's money to coax them."

Irritated at Maloy's letter, Seminole County Commission Chairman Randy Morris sent his own letter to Mealor on Wednesday. He said, "I think it is rather unfortunate that the issue was not better researched by Commissioner Maloy prior to his drafting the letter to you."

Morris said that Maloy should have sought more information than contained in a business brief in the Orlando Sentinel. If Maloy had consulted with Robert Turk, Seminole County Economic Development Manager, he would have understood Fisery was under pressure from its corporate headquarters to leave the region.

We weren't going to give an incentive if they had already made a decision, if they already owned land," Turk said. This is the real deal."

A timetable Turk provided, indicated that a company calling itself FIS purchased a parcel of land in Lake Mary in 1983 and later sold it. Fisery formed through the combination of two companies - has known for four years that its Orlando site was scheduled for demolition by the city of Or-

In February 1998, Fisery contacted Seminole County to seek incentive assistance and in March for economic incentives from Lake Mary. The Lake Mary Commission agreed (4-1), conditioned upon the county's approval of equal amount. On March 24, the county agreed by a 4-1 vote - Maloy against.

"When Fisery's request came before the Seminole County Board, only Commissioner Maloy dissented, as he has done on all economic incentive requests," Morris wrote to Mealor.

Morris suggested that Mealor talk to the president of Fisery to get a fuller explanation of the issues surrounding their move. The award clearly was justified," Morris said.

"It is tronic that this award has been questioned when it is one of the better awards the City (Lake Mary) and the County have made in terms of their investment," he said.

Contacted Friday afternoon, Mealor withheld comment until he had a chance to read the letter from Morris.

Fisery has signed an agreement with Pizutti for a new facility in Lake Mary - a $38 million capital investment project.

According to Ken Simback, senior vice president of the Pizutti development, Fisery will occupy the first and second floors of a 175,000 square foot building with occupancy projected for May, 1999. The building is on International Parkway in Heathrow International Business Center.

Fiserv has locations 85 cities with more than 10,000 employ-CCB.

tanks seepage from homes around the lake. Development at Timacuan began during this period.

Heavy rains in late 1995 and early 1996 threatened to flood homes in that community and area residents questioned the flow of water through the chain of lakes that make up the Crystal Lake Basin.

The officials said they were awed by the natural beauty and the abundance of birds that they naw on their trip.

Brender, an avid canocist, said 'More than anything, I was struck, that despite living in such an urban area, (we have) something as beautiful and natural (as this lake) in the middle of the city."

Brender has spoken to his fellow commissioners and city staff about the creation of an environmental advisory board, that would oversee issues such as surface water quality. A Lake Watch program has been active in the city but Brender did not know the status of its findings.

"We obviously have some work to do," Brender said, with regard to the water quality. Brender observed the change in clarity of the water as he canoed near the golf course. We have to look at all of the causes. There are some things that can be done...fairly inexpenatvely."

The very first thing we need to do is deal with the water quality," Greene said. The commissioner sees the positioning of the new police station downtown as an asset to the cause of better water quality in Crystal Lake. The sewer lines installed to service the new police station will eventually allow more businesses and home to connect, relieving dependence on septic systems.

Both commissioners would like to see the lake managed as a resource for the citizens of Lake Mary, but Litton said the public does not have the right to access the lake, without the permission of private property owners. The city owns two parks located on the shore of the lake but city ordinance prohibits public access, so there is no boat launching allowed.

The city's responsibility (to the lake) is protect it during development," Litton said. He added that Timacuan, as stipulated in its development agreement, is required to monitior the amount of fertilizer an esticide that is applied to the common areas around the lake. Litton said, because of the cance trip, he has a better un-derstanding of both sides of the water issue. "I certainly gained a deeper appreciation of the Crystal Lake Basin, and more respect for the beauty and wildlife of Crystal Lake." bensitive Caring

Dangerous drugs used as assault weapons

drugs which have been used in cases of sexual assault. The drugs that have received the most publicity are Rohypnol and Gamma Hydroxybutyrate (GHB). These drugs, which dissolve easily, are slipped into an unsuspecting victims drink, The victim is rendered helpless once the effects of the drugs are felt.

Each of these drugs, commonly called the date rape drugs, have several different street names. Rohypnol is usually referred to as rooftes, rophies, rope, forget pill or mind-erasers. GHB is known on the street as cherry meth, liquid X, and liquid eestasy.

Another drug to beware of that produces an effect of "conscious sedation" is Midazolam Hydrochloride (Versed); It is a powerful sedativehypnotic. Both Rohypnol and Versed are benzodiazepines. These drugs usually are sold on the street in pill form.

GHB was original developed as a surgical anesthetic, but was abandoned because it has many serious side effects. It is commonly distributed as a white powder or a colorless. odorless clear liquid and sells for around $10 a vial. Although GHB can be easily slipped into a glass of water and remain unnoticed, some people claim that it has a salty taste. Some serious effects of these drugs are memory loss, confusion, intense drowsiness, nausea, vomiting, unconsciousness, respiratory depression or arrest, seizures, and coma-They can also produce an amnestac effect; when you are victimized you may not remember what was done to you. The drugged person appears drank Victims of these drugs can lose eight to twelve hours, or their life

These drugs are potentiated and therefore more lethal when mixed with alcohol. The attacker will slip one of these drugs, which dissolves quickly, into the victim's drink. The victim remains unaware of what is about to happen. The drugged effect can occur in ten to twenty minutes and result in dangerously low blood pressure, respiratory depression, coma, respiratory arrest, and death.

According to Erin Brown, Coordinator of Health Education Programs and Co-Coordinator of Rape Awareness and PreCentral Florida), the problems we see with these drugs now are just the beginning. "People on campus take these drugs because they want the cuphoric alcohol-like effect, or they use it to drug their victims. Everyone infixes these drugs differently. You can not be sure of the potency of the drug, and there is a fine line. between safe doses and over doses, especially when taken with alcohol." GHB and Rohypnol are often sold on the street after being manufactured illegally in the homes of

There is a high rate of drugs being used for rape and theft in Orlando, Ms. Brown knows of a student at UCF who was at an Orlando night club when he was slipped a "roofle". He was then mugged outside of the club. No police report was made, but he went to campus health services for help. They were able to test his urine to find out that he had been drugged. In order to know if a victim has been drugged, blood and urine tests must be done within the first eight to twelve hours. The victim can be tested up to 72 hours after being drugged, but it is less accurate.

"President Clinton signed legislation in February of 1997 which provides up to 20 years in jail for use of an illegal drug as a tool for rape or other violent crime," said Erin Brown. "According to people who have admitted to purchasing Rohypnol in this area, it was easy to buy and costs $2 a pill." Rohypnol is sold as a prescription drug in other countries and is smuggled into the United States. Under new Federal law, simple possession of Rohypnol is punishable by up to three years in prison and

The Center for Disease Control surveyed more than 35,000 college students in 1995, and found that one in seven men and one in five women had been forced to have sexual intercourse. According to the Core Institute at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, Sorority women were twice as likely to be sexually assaulted than nonsorority women.

If you believe that you have been drugged and then victimized in any way, save your first morning urine and report the crime to the police immediately. When friends act as though they have had too much too drink, do not leave them alone. Be sure that they make it home safely, or to an emergency room if you suspect that they have been drugged. Never leave your drink unattended at parties or night clubs and never accept drinks from strangers.

Simple Solutions to Tough Weight Loss

A weekly column by CAROL PREEMAN Health and Fitness Consultant

U: I've found that I can cut about 500 calories a day by skipping breakfast.

A: That sound like a logical idea on the surface, however, breakfast skippers often more than make up for it a lunch. Researchers have found that breakfast caters generally ate a diet lower in fat and higher in carbohydrates than breakfast skippers.

Lesson #1: Don't skip breakfast. Breakfast may reduce the impulse for high fat, high calorie anacks later on. Skipping meals lowers your body's metabolism, which normally speeds up to digest food. You'll feel that in the form of lower energy. Teachers report that students that eat breakfast are more mentally alert.

Lesson #2: Burn more calories. Lets say your body will burn 1,600 calories a day at rest. When you skip breakfast, you burn 80 fewer calories that day. By eating breakfast, your metabolism would will speed up to burn those 60 calories. After 15 months you will have burnt an extra 35,000 calories, the equivalent of ten pounds.

Carbohydrates Are Not Equal

Carbohydrates come in many different forms, such as, rice, potatoes, bread, pasta, oatmeal, and others. But when it comes to dieting the most frequently used are oatmeal, potatoes, and rice. These carbs seem to be the ones that your body can easily digest into energy with little chance of turning into fats. When planning a low calorie nutritional program it is important to understand the difference between fast burning carbs and slow burning carbs, to successfully lose weight.

12 alternatives to lashing out

Special to the Herald

Everyday we experience pressure from work, family, friends and other external factors. Sometimes those pressures build to the point where you feel out of control and ready to lash out at those around you. Too often, children are the victims. Currently, 14 out of every 1,000 U.S. children are confirmed victims of child maltreatment and another 33 children are unconfirmed victims.

When you feel like lashing out at a child--STOPI Simple alternatives such as those listed here from Elaine Moore, a clinical social worker with Optum, can help you feel better and may stop harmful abuse from occurring.

"I would have missed too much studying," Allison said. She started the day at the Nutcracker Ballroom at Dis-ney World eating breakfast with a group of the others who were being honored. Each year. Disney honors one student from each of Central Flortda's schools after kids are nominated by schoolteachers and voted on by a school panel.

After breakfast, they were led to the main ballroom so they could be introduced to crowd, consisting of school teachers and administrators and friends and family members. Allison's picture was put on a large screen and she walked across the stage to accept her medal.

Later, her picture was taken with Mickey Mouse and it was time to study. She's been doing a lot of studying. Allison maintains an A average despite a busy schedule that includes participating in the video club and student government where the Lake Mary students have been raising money for the Outside of school, Allison works out with gymnastics, tennis and she plays piano. That could help her in the future because she wants to be a Christian singer one day.

Still, homework always cones first.

"I take a long time on my homework," Allison said. "My favorite classes are language arts and math. I really like language because when I just want to have hin, I like to sit down and write."

When the award was announced, it came over the intercom at school and Allison said her friends went wild, but that she was shocked.

"I'm not the kind of person who ever wins at anything." she said.

Don't worry about Allison. She really in a winner.

Allison Leich was honored Thursday as the Disney Dreamer and Doer from Lake Mary Elementary School where she is a fifth-grader and maintains a perfect straight-A average.

A pleasant stay at Stanton's Garage

By David Frazier HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Your vehicle breaks down in the middle of The frustration nowhere. starts. The only garage anywhere is a little backwoods place where everybody seems to know each other. The frustration starts to bubble. Then, the diagnosis on your car doesn't look very good. You end up having to stay an entire night when you needed your car repaired yesterday. By now, the pressure cooker has blown.

This is the situation that unfolds in the new Seminole Community College play, Stanton's Garage. Written by Joan Ackermann, the action takes place in Missourt on Route 36 at a small garage. A business lady from Chicago is stuck at the garage while her Volvo is getting fixed. Her wait turns into a 24-hour ordeal. She's in a hurry while everybody around her seems to be in slow motion. She wants the job done in a New York minute but it takes a country mile to get to the finish line.

While waiting, she takes an introspective look and makes some self-discoveries. audience is having a grand time in the process. Laughter rose from the crowd during the April 17 show. It was well earned. It's a quirky comedy that starts off, literally, with a bang as one of the waiting customers pulls a gun. Nothing malicious mind you. He just does it to make a point.

Theater review

Dr. Karen Copp directs the play and she splendidly captures the down home feel of the garage from the hubcaps hanging on the walls like trophies to the old waiting room couch. It all has a familiar, lived in feeling to it. The country music moseys out of the Fine Arts Theatre speakers. Even though you probably would hate to be stuck in the same situation as the play's lead character, you wouldn't mind it too much with all the hospitality and amenities.

Copp employed the services of 20 SCC students for her product is memorable, and a credit to the theater program that Seminole Community College has. And both the acting and the production delook at but lifeless without good acting. In Stanton's Garage, the sets were vibrant thanks to the talents of the

The two- act play will con-tinue tonight, April 19, and April 24 thru 26. Friday and Saturday performances begin at 8 p.m. Sunday shows start at 2 p.m. For more informa-tion, call (407) 328-2040. Also, parents should heed the warning in the play's program: This play contains graphic language and adult situations.

Tickets are $6 for the general public, $5 for senior citizens and students from other schools. And the play is free to SCC faculty, students and staff. Reservations can also be made by calling the theatre box office.

Sure, walting rooms are about as much fun as watching water drip from a faucet. But the waiting room in SCC's Stanton's Garage is a pleasant stay. It is funny and vivacious. So sit back in your chair and relax. That car should be ready soon....

Seminole Herald, Sanford, Flonda - Sunday, April 19, 1998 - 18

Extra Points... Jeff Berlinicke Herald Staff Writer

County schools loaded with nice guys and girls

SANFORD _ As a sportswriter, you come across all kinds of people from the petulant to the popular.

You go out every day, write about a game and meet up with some athlete that, at the Seminole Herald, can mean anything from a Magic player to a group of eight-year-old soccer kids.

Some of them are great; others aren't. But when it comes to the Seminole County high school athletes, and we're just talking about the spring players, it's amazing how cooperative and, well, just darned nice, they've been. It can't always be easy for them to cut class to meet up with a desperate sportswriter on deadline. After games, the last thing they want to do is stand there, sweating, explaining his breaking ball.

And when you do this for several years, sometimes you dread going to certain schools and competitives you know you have schools and sometimes, you know you have a bunch of great kids that will make your job a pleasure.

That brings us back to the spring season this year. We haven't always gotten everywhere and, honestly, based on results, some schools get a little more ink than others. and some deserve a lot more. But it seems like it's time to point out some of the kids who have made this season such a pleasure to cover, at least so far.

Because of the previous policy here at the Herald, Lake Mary and Seminole used to get the majority of coverage. Not any more, but we'll have to start with Seminole.

While it's impossible to name everybody who has gone out of their way to cooperate over the past couple of years, some of the athletes who come to mind are softball players Sherri Eiland and Kelly Langton. Eiland once came up after an interview and asked to make sure everyone got mentioned while, on a solo story on Langton, Kelly came up and asked if Sherri could be included. No egos here. At Seminole baseball, between the past two seasons and the American Legion Post 53 World Series championship team last summer, there are too many to name, but C3 Williams, Chaz Lytle, Andrew Diemer and Tim Raines have always gone out of their way to help. That doesn't mean no one else has, but that's just to name a few.

And don't forget Amy Hawkins from the girls lacrosse team who stood up to help when we needed a story about a beginning team that had just lost 25-0.

Lake Mary has been excellent this spring. Josh O'Brien and Brian Bretzer are always available and when it comes to softball, it would be easy to just include the entire team although Brea Van Swearingen, Kelly Harbour, Sarah Smith, Jeannie Manz, Halie Sowards and, basically, everyone else been

While we're at it, some thanks to the Lake Mary lacrosse managers who are one of the funniest bunch you could ever interview.

While we're talking funny, the Oviedo girls lacrosse captains are the best. Sometimes it's not easy to get a high school player to talk. With them it's not easy to get them to stop. And, by the way, they went out with the guys team and conducted a clinic at Lawton Elementary.

Also at Oviedo, David Walsh and Taylor Pope were great talking about a boys lacrosse team that just never lived up to expectations. Staying at Oviedo, baseball players Ben Knapp, Jeremy Frost and Scott Ferrell have always been great, especially the guys that played on the Post 53 team. It was always easy to write about the Seminole players, but Oviedo never complained. At Lyman, the baseball team hasn't always gotten the recognition it has deserved, leading the districts with a week left in the regular season, but Tyler Carr and Evan Loiacono have been wonderful throughout the season, and with the way things are going with the Greyhounds, there more contacts soon.

For some reason, although Lake Howell has had its best year in awhile, playing with a record of 18-10, for some reason, every time we come out to cover them, we see a loss. It's not a knock against the Hawks; it Places see Jeff, Page 38

Can you believe it?

Lake Mary baseball team rises to top of 6A-District 3 standings

By Jeff Berlinicke ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY _ Who would have thought that, when district play ended at the end of the season, it would be Lake Mary celebrating on the pitcher's mound with a regular season championship?

Certainly not Lake Brantley, Oviedo or any of the other teams expected to finish above the Rams in the standings, but by finishing in a dead heat with Lake Brantley, the Rams took the tie-breaker and won a first-round bye and top seed in district play which begins next week.

Lake Mary beat Lyman, 4-2 last night to earn the title. Lyman could have won it if it hadn't given up a late lead to Lake Brantley Wednesday which put the Patriots back in the race.

Confused? You should be. But, after it all breaks down, the Rams and Patriots have first-round byes which means an awful lot in a year in which everybody in Class 6A-District 3 is so evenly matched.

Josh O'Brien got the ball in the biggest game of the year for Lake Mary after ace Brian Bretzer shut down Lake Howell Wednesday to put the Rams in position. O'Brien filled the role perfectly.

We like it that everyone considers us the underdogs," O'Brien said. "It shows us what we're made of."
Last night, O'Brien was made up of guts. He got through an early deficit when Lyman scored in the first, then shut down a Lyman threat in the sixth.
"I felt a lot of pressure," O'Brien said. "It was a big game with big possibilities. For the Rams, it started out disastrously. Billy Hess led off the game for Lyman with a double and was sacrificed to third by Josh Hazen. Jose Torres sent a grounder that was bobbled by the Lake Mary infield and the Greyhounds led 1-0.

Lake Mary came back right away. Eric Otero singled and Matt Allegra followed with an immediate homer to put Lake Mary up, 2-1.

The Rams scored again in the second when Jose Tormos singled and came around to score, then Lyman pitcher J.T. Williamson settled down and battled O'Brien. Lyman made it 3-2 in the third when Jason Ziegler singled and scored on a balk after a pair of sacrifices.

O'Brien hung tough and Lake Mary got a key insur-ance run in the fourth when Randy Lewis led off with a double, moved to third on a ground out, and scored on a deep sacrifice fly from Josh Sanford.

There was trouble in the Lyman sixth for the Rams. Tyler Carr got hit by a pitch with one out and Kevin Graves hit a massive double off the center field wall, but O'Brien got back his composure and struck out two straight. No Lyman runner would reach again, and Lake Mary won the regular season title.

The Rams will host Seminole Monday night. It will be Senior Night for Lake Mary with ceremonies starting at 6:45 p.m. and the game beginning at 7:30 p.m. Lake Mary will then conclude the regular season with a pair of games against Orlando power Dr. Phillips. The Rams will go to Orlando on Wednesday for a 4 p.m. game and then return home to host the Panthers on Friday at 7 p.m.

Lyman will wrap up the regular season by hosting Deltona on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and then host the Class 6A-District 3 Tournament that will run from April 27th-through-May 1st. The Greyhounds and Rams along with DeLand, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell and Oviedo will make up the field.

Matt Allegra hit a two-run home run in the bottom of the first inning to give Lake Mary a lead it would not give up.

ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY . There were times when it got rigly last night at the Lake Mary - Lyman boys lacrosse game.

There was a lot on the line as the teams played to determine who would have home field advantage for the first round of playoffs when the teams meet again Tuesday.

Lyman won the game, 8-2, dominating throughout, but not only was the play sloppy, the mood turned towards rigly by the end of the game.

Lacrosse is a finesse game with just a teuch of combat. Last night, it was a game of combat with a touch of finesse.

By the time the officials picked up the last yellow flag off the playing field, Stephen Smith had scored four goals to lead the Greyhounds. He said the game got ugly, but that there would be no hard feelings. when the teams battle again inlour days.

'Yeah, it got a little ugly at the end," Smith said, "But it wasn't all trash talking. We play with good, clean sportsmanship.

The winner of the rematch Tuesday will get the privilege of playing Lake Brantley unless the Patriots suffer a major upset Tuesday. Lake Brantley has only one loss on the season and that was to a team from Long Island where lacrosse has been played for years.

Lyman opened up the scoring early last night playing strong defense with the defense stopping several Lake Mary threats from close range. Smith scored on a scoop shot right in front of the net to put Lyman up 2.0 early and Chad Rogers scored on a perfect feed from Nathan Take Mary called timeout.

The Rams came back quickly, scoring early in the second quarter when Adam Watkins took a pass from Adam Kurtr from behind the net and wrapped it around the goal to put take Mary back Please see Lacrosse, Page 3B runs scored, two RBI, and three stolen bases (Nos. 13, 14, and 15 on the scason) Friday to lead the Lions to a 6-0 victory over the Lake Howell Silver Hawks.

The win improves Oviedo to 12-10 overall and 3-7 egainst 6A-District 3 opponents. Lake Howell, which was celebrating its Senior Night, dropped to 18-11 and 4-6 in the district.

Frost currently leads the Lions in hitting with .379 average. He's scored a team-leading 23 runs and driven in a teambest 26 runs, accounting for nearly 30 percent of Ovledo's run production.

"Jeremy's the complete package offensively," said Oviedo coach Kenne Brown. "He hits for power, hits for average, drives in runs, and steals bases. And he plays good team baseball ... he does what needs to be done in the situation."

About 10 days, when the Lions were mired in a streak that saw them lose four in a row and six of seven (all to 6A-District 3 opponents), Frost made another important contribution, moving from the outfield to behind the plate.

"We were struggling and I was looking to shake things up," said Brown. "Guy Erwin's been doing a phenomenal job for us at catcher, but he's been getting beaten up back there catching every inning. So Jeremy said he'd catch and Guy could move to the outfield."

Frost staked Oviedo to a quick 1-0 lead when he belted a solo home run in the top of the first inning. He walked, stole second, and scored on Rich Rodriguez's single in the third. In the seventh' Frost singled home Larry Grayson.

Ben Knapp followed Frost's lead and knocked a solo home run in the second inning.

in the fourth inning, Erwin led off with a single and advanced to third on Knapp's double that knocked Lake Howell starter Danny Burleson from the game. Troy Boutwell greeted reliever Ross Decker with a single to plate Erwin and Knapp.

That was more than enough offense for Oviedo pitcher Jeff Monaco, who tossed his second consecutive complete game. Monaco, who attended Lake Howell before moving into the Oviedo district last summer, allowed just four singles while striking out 11 and walking one.

A week ago, Monaco (6-2) threw his first complete game of the season in defeating "Jeff Monaco has really come through here when we've needed him," said Brown. His two complete-game wins have really given the team a lift." Knapp led the Lion nine-hit attack with his home run, double, and two runs scored. Frost had a home run, single, two driguez finished with two singles and an RBI. Boutwell had a single and two RBI. Erwin and Grayson each singled and scored a run.

Notching one single each for

Lake Howell were Chris Gase,

Jim Bloodgood, Joe Muley, and

RBI, and two runs scored. Ro-

Nik Hajak. Oviedo visita Seminole Tuesday for a Seminole Athletic Conference contest at 7 p.m. before wrapping up its regular scason campaign at Boone next Friday night.

SANFORD Did anybody notice the most important thing about the Masters last week?

Somehow, Augusta National Golf Chib isn't quite obsolete.

Tiger didn't go out and shoot four straight 59s because the course was too short to contain him.

Last year, he played the greatest final 63 holes in the history of golf. Everybody was picking Tiger to win at least the next 20 Masters (absurd), especially since he didn't hit an approach with anything higher than a seven-iron all week.

But the world's greatest golf course proved that, if you can't putt, you don't make the cut.

Orlando's Mark O'Meara can't litt a driver within 50

they got to the greens, O'Meara proved that golf isn't about crushing a ball 330 yards. Two-time major winner John Daly can hit it that far, but he's won on tour because he has an under-appreciated short game. That's how he won his ma-

So now everybody can calm down. Augusta and most of the other old girls (Merion, Baltusrol, etc.) may be short, but there's more to it than outdriving the field.

Seminole Power Sports dominates Central Winds Park softball battle

From Staff Reports

WINTER SPRINGS _ The battle for first place in the City of Winter Springs Men's Monday Night Polar Bear Slowpitch Softball League disappeared in the fourth inning as Seminole Power Sports scored six nins and cruised to a 17-7 victory over Orlando Ale House at Central Winds Park.

In the other game, Kerrymans Pub won by forfeit over the Golden Gloves.

Seminole Power Sports is now 6-1 and leads Orlando Ale House (5-2), Kerrymans Pub (2-5) and the Golden Gloves (1-6). Orlando Ale House used two walks and a single to score a run in the top of the first inning, but Seminole Power Sports calmed down defensively and that was only run in

Seminole Power Sports then took the lead as Ron Prager doubled and later scored on a sacrifice by Joe Schneeberger and Greg Reynolds homered to make the score 2-1

Seminole Power Sports added three more runs in the second inning, but Orlando Ale House answered with four runs on four hits in the top of the third inning to tie the game at 5.5.

Seminole Power Sports then took over the game, scoring three runs in the bottom. of the third inning and the big six-run fourth and the outcome as no longer in Providing the offense for Seminole Power Sports were Chris Barganter (4-for-4, four-runs scored). Darrell King [4-for-4, three runs scored). George Pavlik [4-for-4, onenin scored) and Jose Granada (3-for-4, with a home run)

Also contributing were Ron Prager (2-for-3 with a double, two runs scored). David-Hodges (2 for 3), Greg Reynolds (2-for 4) with a home run, two runs scored) and Derek Catlin and Joe Schneeberger (both 2-for-4 with two runs scored).

Pacing the Orlando Ale House attack were Jay Bengert (2-tor-3), two runs scored). Dong Carpenter [1-for 2] with a home run, three RHD and Rick Blume (1for 2, one run scored) into the game, but then things got sloppy. Neither team did well on ground balls and the passing wasn't sharp, espectally for two teams with designs on Lake Brantley.

The league plays every Monday night at Central Winds Park with games starting a 7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The Greyhounds went up 5-1 at the half and it got physical in the late second half as personal fouls were called throughout the fourth quarter. LIONS GO OUT WINNERS

OVIEDO _ The Oviedo Lions

made Senior Night an exciting one as the boys lacrosse team scored two minutes into overtime to edge Lake Howell 6-5 Friday night at John Courter

The Lions had a new season-high of 41 body checks and sophomore goal keeper Mike Sheets made 15 saves as Oviedo improved to 5-6 on the Taylor Pope led the Lions' attack with three goals and was helped out by Dave Walsh (two goals, one assist). Aron Goodenberry (one goal) and Penste Penos and Stef Macthi (one assist each).

Scott Ramey had 13 body checks. Bryant Latts 12 body checks and John Godwin nine lody thecks as Oviedo now has 200 body checks on the scason.

Lions head coach Ed Norton also had high praise for John Rots, who elected to stay in the game despite incurring a gash that needed stitches.

just hasn't given us many chances to meet with the players, except for Danny Burleson who graciously continued throughout his interview to give all of the credit to new coach David Vince.

Over at Lake Brantley, Robbie Sitz is one of the best pitchers, and best talkers in the county. He's always a sure-fire interview and superstar Felipe Lopez is always there as well. On the lacrosse team, Danny Hogan Is one of the nicest and most articulate kids anywhere.

Haven't had a chance this spring to get out to Winter Springs, but we will in the future. Other players on previous teams this year have always been there and been well-spoken, especially for freshmen and sophomore, but we can say that there isn't a more hustling school in the county when it comes to baseball and softball.

When you have gotten dead foot skin (seriously) thrown at you by a member of the Magic, dodged a flying jockstrap in the Dallas Cowboys locker room, and dealt with professional tennis players who are by far the most surly, uncooperative people in any walk of life, it's refreshing to meet with nice kids who want to work with you. # Cardinals regain Senior lead

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO _ The Cardinals took a good dose of 'medicine' and got well in a hurry to regain the Orlando Sentor Baseball Association Spring League lead in crushing fashion two Sundays ago at Edgewater High School.

On the strength of a combined 9-for-10 day by the Smith brothers (remember Smith Brorthers cough drops?), a four-hit day by Wayne Hilburn and the three-hit pitching of Nick Brady, the Cardinals bounced back from their first loss of the season to rout the Yankees 22-1.

The Cardinals scored in every inning, but it was not until they scored six runs in the fourth inning, making the score 11-0, that the game started to get out of hand. The Cardinals then turned the game into a rout with an eight-run fifth inning.

In the other game, Doc Manos pitched a super game as the Braves got their first win of the season, 12-6 over the Mariners.

The Cardinals are now 5-1 n the season, while the Yankees are 4-2, the Mariners are 2-4 and the Braves are 1-5. The league did not play on Easter Sunday but will return to action this Sunday at Edgewater High School with the Cardinals taking on the Braves facing the Mariners at 1 p.m.

Brady (3-0) was not as overpowering as he had been in his first two starts, only striking out five, but he still did not allow a runner past second base until the sixth inning and only allowed seven runners total in

The Yankees finally broke the scoring drought as Russ DeBerke walked, moved to third on a double by Ross Jarrett and scored on a ground

Robert Smith was 4-for-4 for the Cardinals, but still was a single short of the cycle as he homered, tripled and doubled twice. The former New York Mets farmhand also scored four runs and drove in four.

The other Smith brothers had pretty good days too, as Dean was 3-for-3 with a run scored and one RBI and Trent (in his first appearance in the league) was 2-for-3 with one run scored and one RBL

Hilburn could not let the Smith's steal all of the thunder as was also 4-for-4 with a double, three runs scored and five

Other contributors to a 23hit Cardinals attack were Bill Gracey (3-for-5, four nums scored, one RBI), Chris Gagliano 12 for 4 with a double, three runs scored, one RBI), Blanton (2-for-5, one RBI). Mike Carpenter thome run, two runs scored, two RBI) Terry Finley (double, one nin scored, two RBI), (single, one run scored) and David Cook and Jack Eltonhead (one run scored each).

Doing the hitting for the Yankees were Al Mackey (2-for-2) and Jarrett (1-for-1).

one I met at the Bath and Tennis Club in Palm Beach. Constantine Charterhuis was very beautiful, played a wonderful game of tennis, and was a powerful swimmer, yet she found bridge a mystery. Her boyfriend, Crispin Brougham-Billingsgate, wasn't her match on the court or in the pool, but he was the club's best at the green baize table. Although they seemed to be a perfect match, their relationship was being strained by the weekly bridge game. And this deal was the final straw

West's three-spade overcall put Constantine under pressure. She might have doubled and settled for the 300 penalty on offer, but eyeing the vulnerability, she took a shot at three no-trump

After West led the spade queen and the dummy appeared, it should have been apparent that if West held both the diamond ace and club king, the contract was hopeless. And if East had the club king, there was no dan-ger. But if West owned the club king, it was vital to remove it from his hand immediately. So, the right line of play was to win the first trick in the dummy and take the club finesse.

However, Constantine won in hand and advanced the diamond queen. With alacrity, East won with his ace and returned his remaining spade. Then, when the club finesse lost a moment later, the contract drowned.

Tom Jackovich, of the Oviedo Taxicab Co., with Oviedo's very own cab

Taxi!: Company is 'hacking' out a business in Oviedo

By Vicki Belluccia HERALD STAFF WRITER

OVIEDO They say you know you've made it to the big time as a city when you can hail a cab to take you where you want to go.

Getting a cab to come to the Oviedo area had been a nearly impossible task until now

"If you wanted to have a cabcome out, you could call one of the Orlando companies," Jake Jackovich, the spokesman for the Oviedo Taxicab Company, "They'd never come out. Oh, they'd tell you they were coming, but an hour, two hours, three hours later, they wouldn't be there."

Jackovich said it was just not cost-effective for a cab to drive all the way from Orlando to Oviedo. In the time it takes to make that trek out to Oviedo, they could have made several fares right there in Orlando.

"So they never came out." dackovich said. "They would say they were coming, but it was pretty rare if they would actually show."

dackovich's son, Tom, owns the Oviedo Taxicab Company, which began picking up fares in mid-February and the calls have kept the cabbies hopping.

"We've had them picking up several fares a day," Jackovich said

The owner has plans to put cab companies in small towns around Florida as well as in Georgia. The towns include Bartow and Haines City in Polk County and Sorrento in Lake County, and several subturbs of Atlanta and Macon, Georgia.

"Small towns are more challenging." Jackovich said.
"You have to start from scratch. There's a market in small towns because they have been so long."

The Jackoviches are ready to start hacking in Oviedo, Geneva and Chuluota.

"We've had our number (366-0000) published with directory assistance for about a month and a half," Jackovich father said.

explained Before we began service, we were averaging about five calls a day with people inquiring about the service.

Most people, he said were looking for rides to their doctors offices. Some people want a ride to, and more especially, from some of the local bars.

That's another thing about taking a cab." Jackovich said. "If you get a DUL it's going to cost you up to $10,000 to defend yourself. With a cab, you get home safely and cheaper."

The younger Jackovich owns a wholesale leasing company that provides vehicles for police and fire departments as well as limousines for private companies.

"That will keep the cab company going for a year or two until he gets established here, but I think there's a need for a cab company in the Oviedo area," the father said.

The Oviedo Taxicab Company is actually based in Orange County, but the car will stay in the community and it is a local call to get the cab.

The phone is right there in the cab," Jackovich said. There's no dispatcher or anything like that. The call goes right there to the cab driver. You talk to the driver not someone in a building somewhere else."

The younger Jackovich, who flies his own private plane to airports in small towns around the Southeast, conceived of the cab company idea when he arrived at one airport and couldn't get a cab to take him to a large city nearby. The idea of waiting an hour or more for a cab that sometimes didn't come helped Jackovich see the need for small town cab companies.

Small towns, he said, just don't seem to have cab companies. He figured that if he started companies in small towns, he'd at least have a cab waiting for him in the small towns where he landed.

"Now Oviedo doesn't have an airport, but there's a real need for a cab company here," the

New curriculum has students racing to learn

By Vicki Belluccia HERALD STALL WRITER

ALIAMONTE SPICINGS. While other teachers were racing to enjoy a day off on a recent teacher work day four instructors from take Orienta Elementary School in Altamonte Springs and their principal James Burnham spent the day working on a new curriculum.

working on a new curriculum.

Daytona USA—the theme park associated with the Daytona international Speedway, had asked the leachers to develop a program they could use to help youngsters on field trips to the park integrate what they learn there into the things they are learning at school.

Disguised as fun activities related to the faced paced world of racing the curriculum offerings are an exciting addition to the trip that many students look forward to all year.

Fourth grade teachers Nancy Ferreita and June Perdomofifth grade teacher Kuryl Young and drop out prevention teacher Kimberly Purcell created a curriculum that relates the racing displays to math, science, reading, writing and so and studies

"Everything they learn is connected to the state manufated curriculum." Burnham said "There are pre-visit activities for the teachers to use to prepare the students for the trip. There are things for the students to learn and figure out while they are there and there are post-visit activities that allow students and teachers to bring the whole thing to some sort of closure."

Hundreds of Seminole County elementary school students will visit Daytona USA this year, along with thousands more from other counties. The curriculum developed by these area teachers will make the trip there more than just a look at race cars and racing history

"They've done a great job integrating all the lessons into this program." Burnham said: "The students will learn a lot while they have fun at Daytona USA."

Goodness gracious snakes alive!

Areva Barnes had a little help recently on a drive she took near her home in Longwood. No, she didn't have a chauffeur to drive her around town. Actually, she had a visit from a 2-1/2 foot snake that crawled out from under her dashboard and along the steering column. If know you

Documentary: The Big One fights the good fight

The Big One (PG-13): It's disheartening to watch people squashed by the system. Layoffs, downsizing, welfare and unemployment often lead to despair, alcoholism, drug dependency and suicidal tendenctes. It is an unfair, unruly world. But when times seem their darkest and hope is an unavailable luxury, good Samaritans like Michael Moore are ready to put the gloves on and fight the "good fight".

What he did for the downtrodden folks of Flint, Michigan in Roger & Me, Moore does for most of the people along his 47 city, book signing tour in his new documentary. The Big One: he becomes their in 1989, documentarian Moore charged the General Motors chairman, Roger Smith, to speak with him regarding the economically devastating layoffs in Flint. Smith never granted an interview which came off as bad press for the GM big wig.

In The Big One, Moore has expanded his blue collar crusade from his hometown Flint to all over the United States. His socially conscious documentary follows the same pattern of sharp wit and sad moments that his first feature

Moore is going cross country promoting his book, Downsize This! Random Threats From an Unarmed America. Virtually every city that Moore stops at has a story to tell. In one city, employees from a Borders book store are trying to establish a union. In another city, Leaf Inc., makers of such sweet goodies as Payday, laid off workers at one of the compantes more profitable facto-

In each situation. Moore and his intreptd production crew get the latest scoop and then try-sometimes to no avail-to speak with the CEOs or someone of rank of each questionable company to probe them for answers about the issues.

Usually, he is met with indifference or disdain. To think audacity to bother the busy white collars with such insignificant nonsense. Why the nerve! But Moore keeps plugging away.

Finally, he is able to corner a CEO: Phil Knight of the Nike Corporation. Now, some may think it unfair to interrogate Knight for all corporate evils, but Moore focuses on the charges brought against Nike such as the sweat shop in Indonesia, where workers make less than 40 cents an hour. The footage Moore uses to show the workers is disturbingly tronic: the workers are crafting shoes yet they have nothing to cover their own bare feet. Moore uses Knight as a prime example of ignorant corporate figures who would rather pay slave wages in a Third World country rather than addressing the unemployment problem by making more jobs available here at

Moore tends to inject himself too much in The Big One. It's as if he is saying "Aren't I funny?" with several stand-up routines at the various tour stops. Yet. Moore's tremen-dously big heart pours out of every reel of The Big One. In one touching scene, he holds a lady at a book signing in his arms as she cries. Moore is consoling the bereft woman who had just been laid off from her job and is now stricken with apprehension as she wonders what to do next.

The Big One is an anthem for the powerless. It is an attack on those who wield their dominance without prejudice. Often when the cuts come, workers resemble the deer in the head lights while the giants sit back counting the extra revenue from the closings and the downsizings. Michael Moore just happens to play the part of Jack ready to axe the beanstalk from under those giants. Three and a half stars (out of four).

Weld has been tap dancing since she was three years old. Her mother happens to be the Valerie in Miriam and Vale-rie's School of Dance Arts located on Elm Avenue. And, Weld was just recently given the honor of being crowned Miss Apopka 1998.

Weld is now one of the nearly 50 contestants that will be competing for the title of Miss Florida. She will begin her trek for the coveted award on July 5 in Gainesville. - "I'm a little nervous," said Weld in-side a studio at Miriam and Valerie's. The petite redhead said that she would do "three back flips and then walk up* if she won the pageant.

She will start with the preliminary competition where she will go through a battery of events ranging from interviews to swimsuit competition. She divulged her platform: spreading the positive about

Natalie Weld, Miss Apopka

America's youth, if she is suc-cessful with the preliminaries, she will then advance to the final round as the field of 50 dwindles to 10.

She started pageants when she was 18. She has been in five altogether. "But," she said,

MOVIE TRIVIA

Q. I would like to know what happened to a beautiful young actress from the '60s. Her name was Yvette Mimieux. I remember she was in a movie, "Where the Boys Are," with Connie Stevens and others. Other than that, I don't recall see her again. — R.M., Bristol, Tenn.

A. You must have been in hibernation, because Ms. Mimieux was very active in the years after that film. She made many movies and appeared in countless TV dramas.

Q. Many years ago, Hayley Mills starred in a Disney (?) movie called "The Moonspinners." It was a mys-tery-romance taken place on a Greek isle. Is the movie available on video, was it a Disney movie and who starred as Ms. Mills's love interest in the movie? - B.H., Sharon,

A. That '64 release was, indeed, a Disney movie, and Peter McEnery was Hayley's love interest. A VCR is avail-

Local players provide backdrop for poignant Depression drama

One of Sanford's grand dames has well-served the community she loves all of her life. For more than 50 years now, Martha Yancey has done Sanford proud _ from charring one of Sanford's largest projects, Park on Park, to serving as the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Goodwill Ambassador for 12 years.

And now, she is taking center stage in a starring role in the poignant drama, "Mother Hicks," being presented by the Ritz Theater Group. Martha has been cast in several neighborhood plays, but never of this magnitude. Martha's dynamic personality and unbridled talent have earned her many honors in the commu-

Rep. John Mica met recently with Sanford area residents at the Mount Vernon Inn in Winter Park to speak on the traditions of the Magna Charta and review recent legislative initiatives in Congress related to the district.

Attending were descendants of the Barons of England who wrested the first charter from King John in 1213 AD at Runnymeade, according to William H. Stemper Jr., formerly of Sanford, prelate and Lord Warden of the Baronial Order of Magna Charta.

Among the other descendants and members of the Magna Charta Dames and Barons attending were: Mrs. Donald (Adelaide Key) Merrell of New Smyrna Beach, formerly of Sanford; Mrs. Mills (Libby) Boyd of Sanford; and Grace Parks of Winter Springs. Boyd and Parks are former regents of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American revolution.

According to Stemper, members presented several central Florida regional hereditary, patriotic and lineage societies including the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States. This legion was established the day Abraham Lin-coln died by Thomas Elwood Zell of Pennsylvania, who subsequently established Zellwood, Fla.

Stemper serves as state recorder of the Loyal Legion and chair of the Zell National Memorial Committee of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion which supports the Zellwood

Mobleys gather for family reunion Easter weekend

The Mobiey family at reunion in Sanford

The Mobleys on West 8th Street, hosted the day of reacquainting, fund and food, as the Mobleys of Winter Garden and Sanford gathered to chat with the last remaining child of the late Ned and M. Mobley of Winter Garden.

Clara Mobley Freeman, the only living matriarch of the Mobleys was full of smiles as her nieces and nephews gathered for the afternoon of fun and chatting, Saturday, April 11, at the home of the Mobley's and Jennings.

Joining in a remembrance of generations after a meal of chicken wings, fish, baked beans, salad, hushpuppies and cake were Melodie James. Vickie Davis, Wayne James, Faye James, Eleanor Mobley Solomon, Marilyn Mobley Jennings, Charlene Mobley. George Jennings, grands and great-grands.

Also sharing this visit was Madgle Muller Collins, Asbesto White and son who came from Jacksonville to celebrate the eighty-eighth birthday of her sister and the children's aunt. Albesto Muller Johnson, who celebrated on April 10.

The Mobley family will share an afternoon again on August

Commission learns about life before power tools

The Lake Mary Historical Commission was very pleased to have a special guest for its April meeting. Tuck Russell, a Professional Living History Interpreter from Barberville, came to talk about early tools in the United States. He also brought some very interesting tools, some antique and some reproductions, for the audience to sec.

Early Native Americans used triangular-shaped sharp edge tools made of flint or chert. When Europeans came, they brought steel-tipped tools. Steel was very expensive, from was cheap, so tools would be made of iron with steel welded on as the sharp edge. Great Britain, by design, had a monopoly on tools for many years. But, despite tariffs and taxes designed to prevent it, Americans began making their own tools in early 1700's. Files were used to sharpen everything, so they were cheap and made completely out of steel.

LAKE MARY

MARY ROWELL

In the US colonies, in Boston and Philadelphia, the first solid steel edge tools were made by melting down files. The American designed ax was a radical improvement over the European ax. By the mid 1700's, the American design became the world standard.

Last of commercially viable forests in Europe went to build the Spanish Armada (which sank). One reason people flocked to North America was the abundance of wood which shaped much of our early history. American fireplaces were hugely inefficient, but no one cared because wood was abundant. Ben Franklin's stove didn't sell well in the US, but it sold like hot cakes in Europe. The principal fuel around the world was charcoal. It was exported by the United States. Coal replaced charcoal as the principle fuel in Europe between 1830 and 1850. In places like Florida, charcoal remained the principle fuel until around 1900 because of the abundance of wood.

There's an old saying "Shun the broadax and cleave to the adze". It's an early safety rule. An adze is safer, you are much more likely to cut yourself with a broadax. Large and unwieldy, the broadax fell into disuse by 1920 except in shipyards and in out of the way places like Florida where it was still used to hew frames for houses and ties for railroads.

Tuck showed the audience how they used to make shingles. Shingles were the standard on many American homes. In Europe, thatched roofs were the standard because they didn't have wood to spare for shingles.

looking at the tool marks on them. The easiest kind of tool marks to identify are from drills. (Different drills leave a different shape hole in the wood.) Twist augers were invented in 1770, but didn't come into use until after 1800. (Carpenters were very conservative and loathe to try something new.] Problems with dating arise with tools that were used for more than a century. One simple drill tool was used from the 1700s until almost the start of the 20th cen-

Denial: Whatever became of sin?

By Dr. William Robert (Bob) Parker FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH MARKHAM WOODS

Western thought has been greatly influenced by the Founding Fathers of this great nation. Coming to this country seeking religious freedom with a pioneer spirit, our early fathers set the tone for America to become the greatest nation in the world. Within this early influence and emerging from Plymouth in 1620, came strong religious/spiritual convictions. New England society was termed by the general description as Puritan. Puritanism is depicted as "Theocratic...and Calvinistic..." (Ralph B. Perry, Puritanism and Democracy). Calvinism was "more than a series of fixed points on a theological compans; it was a way of life that embraced or affected politics, economics, social outlook, and to be sure, individual behavior" (Norman Cousins, 'IN GOD WE TRUST - The Religious Beliefs and Ideas of the American Founding Fathers). This sys theological thought also came down hard on the depravity and natural sinfulness of man. As throughout history, the idea of man's sinfulness did not universally or completely permeste man's ideas. However, "an idea does not have to find its mark in the mind's of large numbers of people in order to create an incentive for change (or influence) (ibid.)." Years, later, Daniel Webster spoke of the significance of ideas:

The whole world is becoming a common field for intellect to act in. Energy of mind, genius, power, wheresoever it exists, may speak out in any tongue, and the world will hear it. A great chord of sentiment and feeling runs through two continents, and vibrates over both. Every breeze wafts intelligence from country to country; every wave rolls it; all give it forth and all in turn receive it. There is a vast commerce of ideas; there are marts and exchanges for intellectual discoveries, and a wonderful fellowship of those individual intelligence's which make up the mind and opinion of the age (bid.)."

The mind and world of ideas may be used both to build faith or to destroy it. Ideas and thinking can take you most anywhere. However, valid thinking is when ones mind is stayed on God and truth. Why? Because God and truth never change and is, therefore, always reliable.

'I'm OK, you're OK!' The pop-psych jingle, "I'm OK-You're OKI" was made popular by disciples of Carl Jung's psychology. Calvin Miller relates that: Karl Mark threw God out of government sys-

Carl Jung threw God out of the human mind. Carl Sagan finally got Him (God) clear out of the universe.

"Once God was gone, we could, of course, proceed with sin. It was an old-fashioned idea anyway, said Jung's most recent disciples. They pointed out that the idea of sin tended to produce bad conscience, induce guilt, and taint Protestant sermons with negativity (Calvin Miller, SBC Life, April '97).

"I'm OK-You're OK" may be popular thought leaving out the problem of sin. It is sure, however, that ain is missed because sin must be a necessary subject before salvation becomes necessary. "One rarely hears much of it [sin] in church... Sunday by Sunday I'm given reasons for 'accepting Christ,' These all focus on becoming more successful, realizing my full potential, having more fun, finding meaning, or getting my own T-shirt so I can look like the rest of the church softball team (ibid.)." When sin no longer exists in the minds of society, moral relativists flourish and abound. Relativists have no sin; and thus,--no need of God! "To proclaim yourself righteous, all you have to do is compare yourself to someone who is more wicked. The key to blessing your own goodness lies simply in proclaiming yourself OK (ibid.)"

'Whatever became of sin' The above caption was the title of a book written by secular psychologist Karl Men-ninger (founder of the famous Menninger Clinic, Topeka, Kan.) which demands of us an answer. Menninger relates in the book that with the denial of sin, something fundamentally honest about the human condition has been abandoned. He was convinced that one could not practice good medicine unless one recognized that sin was at the bottom of human sickness. To say "I'm OK-You're OK" in the face of human ain is to flit through life like a blue bird on a dung heap (ibid.).

The real impact The literal denial of ain in this day may not hold the greatest or worst impact. "I'm OK-You're OK" is bad enough when it is not true, however, to acknowledge man as sinner with a response of "So what!" is the epitome of the damning nature of sin.

Think about that!

Request for flatware tarnishes family relations

DEAR ABBY: Please help me solve this problem. I gave my son and his wife, "Janet," my sterling silver flatware set. A short time later, they divorced. It was my son's fault that the marriage broke up. Janet received the silver in the divorce settlement. She is now engaged to a nice man, and I wish

I wrote Janet a letter saking her to please give the silverware to her daughter, my granddaughter, as I would like to keep it in the family. Now she is engry and will not speak to me or return my calls. She lives in New Jersey and I live in Arisons.

Was I wrong to ask her to give the set to my granddaughter? ALICE IN PHOENIX

DEAR ALICE: No. However, Janet is probably still bitter over the breakup of the marriage and doesn't want you or your and detains terms to be.

Write her another note and offer your apologies if she was offended — as that certainly was not your intention. Then keep your fingers crossed be-tends to give it to your grand-daughter anyway in due time.

DEAR ABBY: My friend recently phoned to tell me she was writing thank-you notes to all the people who helped her and her three young children after they were in a serious auto accident with an 18-who Among those she was thanking was a Tennessee highway patrolman who had given her a traffic ticket the menth before because she didn't have her children buckled up.

Every one of them received major injuries even though they were wearing seat belts, but they survived the accident. My friend cause chances are Janet in feels that the highway patrolman probably saved their lives by giving her a wake-up call.

Please keep reminding people to use their seat belts. PAULINE MILLER ATHENS, TENN.
