HAVANA TOLL 4 DEAD AND 89 WOUNDED

City On Trigger Edge After Wild Night; Many Blame U.S. For Not Taking Action

HAVANA, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Warfare in which 44 were killed and 89 wounded left Havana today on trigger edge. Through the night bullets whizzed in streets and the city discovered that a truce had not yet been called. What the ABC Society would do stood out as today's major problem.

Called men of the army and police to quell the riot. The rioters had not "interfered", but many Cubans mourned their dead and blamed the United States for not acting to prevent the bloodshed.

Bullets still scattered Havana's streets last night as even the surrender of beleaguered officers in the National Hotel failed to bring peace after the bloodiest day in the city's history.

After an all-day battle soldiers trooped riotously into the hotel, finding no resistance. With pandemonium due to street fighting and the looting of the hotel, the rioters were mistaken by the officers for violators of the truce and they re-opened fire from the top floors of the hotel, shooting into groups of civilians and soldiers on the street.

Soldiers returned the fire for 30 minutes, after which all the officers surrendered peacefully and were taken either to prison or hospital.

Afterwards snipers and soldiers began to exchange shots over the city.

Motorists Warned To Observe Law In Respect To Buses

Just as he did last year on the opening day of Seminole County's school, Superintendent of Schools R. W. Lawton called the attention of all motorists this morning to a state law which requires that all automobiles must be brought to a stop on any highway upon which a school bus is either loading or unloading passengers.

Several bus drivers visited Mr. Lawton's office yesterday to report that several children had nearly been run over by motorists who passed the stopped bus at a rapid rate of speed, apparently uncontrolled over the fact that school children, some of them small, were preparing to walk across the highway after alighting from a bus.

As this new school year begins, Mr. Lawton appealed to motorists to give their children the same consideration as they would give to a child of their own family.

Attempt Made On Life Of Dollfus

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfus was slightly wounded in two places by a would-be assassin today just an hour after receiving treatment at a hospital. He was able to go home and continue with his official duties there. One shot struck his left arm and the other grazed his left breast when he was fired upon at the entrance of the parliament building. "That was a close one", he remarked to friends as he left the hospital and walked smiling to his automobile. A young ex-soldier, recently discharged from the army and whose political connections the police were not immediately able to identify, was arrested in connection with the shooting and police began a roundup of all political suspects.

FANCES PERKINS OUTLINES PLANS AGAINST SLUMP

Program Built Around Unemployment Reserve Of Companies

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—An economic program designed to prevent depressions, built around unemployment reserves, was outlined last night by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

Public works or government expenditure in advance for stimulating employment and business in line of early slack in employment.

Free public employment exchanges on a national scale; development by industry of means for employment stabilization.

An agricultural program integrated with industry.

For unemployment insurance, the labor secretary declared for a compulsory system "because I believe it would provide an incentive for the stabilization of employment. The managers of industry would be seeking themselves to reduce their premiums just as they become interested in safety devices to cut their problems under various state workmen's compensation laws."

Death Sentence Of Negro Set Aside By State High Court

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Joseph E. Johnson's sentence of execution for murder of Policeman T. A. Nicholson of Lakeland was set aside by the supreme court today in an opinion which held the lower court in error in denying a motion for a change of venue.

The supreme court in a three-to-two opinion and in an opinion published yesterday against Johnson made it impossible for him to obtain a fair trial in Polk county and that the defendant, aware of this condition, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty, where the lower court denied the change of venue motion.

Chief Justice Fred Davis, who was in Lakeland earlier Sunday, 1932 when Nicholson and Officer W. T. Hammet were slain, did not participate in the decision.

NEW YORK CITY PRE-ELECTION DRIVE IS BEGUN

J. V. McKeels Accused Of Having Accepted Fusion Nomination Over 5 Months Ago

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Heavy shelling began last night in what promises to be the most hotly waged mayoralty campaign New York has witnessed in years. Joseph V. McKeel, now the independent candidate, was accused by Joseph M. Price, head of the independent fusion committee, of having secretly accepted the fusion nomination more than five months ago. McKeel denied he was offered the fusion nomination when he announced his independent candidacy last week.

John F. Curry, Tammany chief, electrified a routine meeting of the State Democratic committee in Albany by jangling through a resolution pledging the support of "all loyal Democrats" to regular Democratic candidates, which would include Mayor John P. La Guardia in the mayoralty race.

The fusion cohorts, aiming to place former Congressman F. H. La Guardia in the mayoralty office, formally launched their campaign with a mass meeting at Cooper Union, where the national leader, pledging the support of "all loyal Democrats" to regular Democratic candidates, which would include Mayor John P. La Guardia in the mayoralty race.

Price, repeating yesterday the assertion that McKeel agreed to head the fusion movement against Tammany and the meeting took place in a restaurant the night of Aug. 23, and McKeel told him he could tell former Governor Charles F. Whitman that he would make the race, Price said.

The only thing I had that he had agreed to do was to head the fusion movement against Tammany and the meeting took place in a restaurant the night of Aug. 23, and McKeel told him he could tell former Governor Charles F. Whitman that he would make the race, Price said.

Three Young Men Held Upon Charges Of Robbing Woman

Harold Duker, William Ferguson, and E. C. Kennedy, young white residents of Sanford, were held in the county jail this morning to await grand jury action next December.

Duker, Ferguson and Kennedy, charged with the possession of stolen goods, did not plead guilty to the charge. He is being held for investigation.

Kennedy, charged with receiving stolen goods, was ordered placed under a $100 bond.

According to the story told by Justice Roberts, the three youths were walking toward Sanford on the Orlando Highway late Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Emma Crawford, of Deland, driving toward Sanford, slowed down her automobile, and offered the boys a lift.

Duker got into the car, while Kennedy and Ferguson stood on the running board and the boys left the car when they reached Sanford.

Mrs. Crawford had driven only a few blocks away when she noticed that her purse was gone. She visited the police station immediately, reported her loss, and with the aid of other women passengers in the car, she described the boys. Within half an hour they had been arrested.

Duker had in his possession a $5 bill which had been in the purse, while Kennedy had both the rings which Mrs. Crawford had described, according to Mr. Roberts, Kennedy was not arrested until yesterday.

Georgia Battler Succumbs After Dogged And Amazing Fight Against Great Odds

MACON, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—William Lawrence "Young" Stribling, Georgia heavyweight, died at 6:00 o'clock this morning from injuries received Sunday in a motor accident.

The end came an hour after the fighter lost consciousness following a dogged fight which physicians said was possible only by a person of his tremendous vitality. At his bedside were his parents "Pa" and "Ma", his manager and trainer respectively, his wife, Claire, herself a patient at the hospital following the birth of their third child, born two weeks ago, and his younger brother, Herbert, himself a fighter.

Physicians said death was due to complications arising from the mortal injuries suffered when Stribling's left foot was severed and his pelvis crushed in a collision between his motorcycle and automobile.

Physicians were amazed at his ability to cling to life with a temperature of 107.15 and a pulse of 175. Stribling was 29. His death ended an up and down career which saw Stribling fight all the middleweight and heavyweight champions in the past 10 years. Six times he battled for the championship but never made the grade.

City Commission Has Brief Special Session Monday

Sanford City Commissioners met in special session at the City Hall last night to continue their study of existing and proposed property assessments. The meeting was brief, and was attended by all the Commissioners except S. O. Shinholtzer.

During the meeting it was decided that Mayor V. A. Spurr should notify Chief of Police Ray G. Williams that he and his officers should enforce the city ordinance forbidding the sale of groceries within the city limits on Sunday.

It also was decided that the petition of the Florida Power and Light Co. should be called to the fact that there are scores of lines laid in wires that constitute a hazard to life and property. A request will accompany the letter, asking that repair be made in three weeks as quickly as possible.

The Commissioners also adjourned their meeting until next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock when they will discuss the budget for 1933-34, and make an attempt to revise the occupational license list so that additional sources of revenue may be set up.

New York Giants Win Opening Title

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 3.—The New York Giants scored their first blood in the 1933 World Series by scoring a sensational 4 to 2 victory over the Washington Senators before a sell-out crowd here this afternoon. Carl Hubbell, ace of the Giant staff, pitched five hits and struck out 10 men, while the Giants got 10 hits off Wally Stewart and Gene Russell, and none off Thomas who pitched the eighth frame for the Senators. Mel Ott led the batters with four hits, two home runs and three singles in four times at bat. The Giants scored two runs in the first and two runs in the third inning, while the Senators scored one run in each of the fourth and sixth innings.

Stribling's Death

When we first learned that "Young" Stribling had lost his foot in a motor accident, the thought occurred to us that death might have been better for this young, extremely active, and versatile man. His career had been led to the very brink of flaccid supremacy, whose activities had always been along the path of dangerous living, whether in airplanes, motorcycles, or high-powered automobiles, and whose injury would have forced him to lead the remainder of his life in a sedentary manner.

But when the eventuality of death did occur, and we reflected on what this would mean to his family, to his father and mother, who were so vitally and enthusiastically interested in his career; to his wife, who had just born him their third child; and to his brother, who was trying to follow in his "hero's" footsteps; and when we considered that a man of Stribling's courage and talents might have done great things in other fields besides sports, we thought what a pity it was for him to have to leave this world before he had reached the prime of life.

Stribling was the enigma of the boxing profession. He fought all the middleweight and heavyweight champions in the past ten years and six times he battled for the championship title without reaching the top. At times he would appear to be stalling, a characteristic which won for him the sobriquet of "Willie the Clutch." Probably no fighter ever received at the same time so much adulation and condemnation. Those who knew him, especially his townsmen, were almost fanatical in their faith and admiration for him. Those who knew him less some times questioned his courage.

Whatever it was that kept Stribling from winning the championship title, whether it was the lack of the vital edge by his family, whether it was the lack of courage, as one sports writer said: "No one would suggest this who had ever seen him take an airplane into the air at an angle which would make many a veteran fighter shake in his boots."

The fact that Stribling retained his popularity in his home town and in the South, where he was known so well, in spite of the failure of his championship aspirations, speaks well for anyone in this area, where there is always a sizeable clan ready to tear someone down. We predict that his name will be remembered long after many of those who have won the heavyweight championship, have been completely forgotten.

"Cracker Day"

The outstanding success of last week's "Cracker Day," in which hundreds of persons came from miles around, from as far away as St. Augustine, to participate in the horse racing, tournament riding and a fiddlers' contest, adds fair to make this celebration an annual event in the future. Old timers point out that up to twenty years ago, when auto-makers began to crowd the horses off the highways, "Cracker Day" was an occasion unexcelled.

For the resumption of this celebration Seminole County citizens are indebted to the Sanford Elks Club, who are taking calling for the utmost in faith and courage. The affair was not only to the organizations which sponsored it but also to the crackers who did their stuff.

Progressive Sanford merchants contributed to the success of the occasion by hawking a special dollar day sales which proved sufficiently attractive to many country folks, well acquainted with the trend of raising prices, to induce them to "Buy Now." Stores were crowded during a large part of the day and many a merchant has commented favorably on the most successful day's business of the summer.

They, as well as all the rest of Sanford citizens, will look forward pleasantly to the return of the crackers next year when the thud of horses hoofs, the pop of the strumming of the fiddles, and the calls of the square dance will remind everyone that all romance is not dead and the cowboy still lives.

Green Is Drawing His Lines To Resist Less Conservative

The high mark of the reception came, however, when he referred to President Roosevelt. "We must have faith," Green said. "Faith in the new deal, faith in the principles of this act, faith in those who are honestly and liberally administering it, and, most important of all, faith in the United States, as the President of the United States."

Green opposed "rapid inflation" and said the federation would press for unemployment insurance, adoption of the child labor constitutional amendment, adequate re-employment laws for workers and the elimination of discrimination against workers 40 and 45 years of age.

NEW LINE-UP BY JAMES M. MULLIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The keenest New York observers say that the farm revolt has most serious implications than most people realize.

Confidential reports received here indicate that farmers in various parts of the country are as bitter as at N. R. A. because their living costs have gone up rapidly while the prices of the goods they sell have stood still or dropped. They are getting the idea that the A. A. program is a colossal flop and insist that nothing but actual inflation will do them any good.

It is noticed in high quarters that nothing Mr. Roosevelt can do will satisfy the farmers. They will tend to raise all prices and to have the relation between farm products and other goods where it is now. They believe the President's program is a failure and that the only way to rectify the situation before Congress meets again.

The trouble is that the farmers' interest here fundamentally different from those of either labor or industry. He needs an absolute price rise to do him any good. The increase in business is a general one, and the city dwellers in a big city don't mean the farmer's life. The farmer's life is a struggle to consume food and cotton clothing. The farmer's life is a struggle to consume food and cotton clothing. The farmer's life is a struggle to consume food and cotton clothing.

The American, Robert G. Lotz, of London, Ohio, manager of Swift International, was shot fatally in the chest as he stood in an apartment building near the hotel watching the battle.

The building of the Ford Motor Co., adjoining the scene of hostilities was struck by a shell intended for the hotel.
