Fitzpatrick, Avery, Williams Elected To County Board

A retired Navy chief, accountant and Sanford businessman were handily voted into three county commission posts in Tuesday's second primary. James P. Avery defeated incumbent Lawrence Swofford in the District 2 race while John Fitzpatrick won over incumbent Homer Little in District 5 and Ted Williams defeated J. D. Cordell in the District 3 race.

Camilla Bruce, County Commission Chairman John Krider and County Judge Vernon Mize are meeting today at a canvassing board to check all the votes and open the 278 absentee ballots. The absentee ballots are not expected to change the outcome in any of the races.

Avery, retired Navy chief from Lake Mary, unseated Swofford in the District 2 commission race taking 10 of the 18 precincts and collecting 3,453 votes to his opponent's 2,213.

In the first primary, Swofford had been high man in the voting but there were four other candidates in the race.

Although Swofford took two of the three Sanford precincts, Avery proved strong in Oviedo, Goldenrod, Longwood, Lake Mary and Fern Park.

Avery, in a victory speech after the returns were in Tuesday night, said, "I am extremely gratified that so many wonderful people put their faith in me. I'll never let them down," he said.

Fitzpatrick, in besting Little grabbed 3,348 votes to his opponent's 2,584.

Fitzpatrick captured 13 precincts although in many cases the voting was very close. The accountant, who has his offices in Sanford, took all three Sanford precincts in chalking up his victory.

Fitzpatrick thanked his supporters and promised to work toward a more businesslike approach in running the county government.

Ted Williams, operator of his own hardware and appliance store on 25th St., rolled up 3,887 votes to Cordell's 2,884.

Williams rolled up the biggest majority of any candidate as he took 18 precincts in most instances handily, while Cordell had only leads in Bear Lake and Hillside Springs.

Williams said he was grateful for the support of the people and thanked his opponent for running a clean campaign.

The three victors will take office Jan. 1.

J. C. Hutchinson, who was unopposed in the second primary collected 5,545 votes. His runoff opponent in the District 1 race, T. V. Brown died a week before the election.

The only member of the present commission who will again serve next year will be Vernon Dunn from District 4.

Commission Chairman John Krider declined to seek re-election this year.

'Spy-In-The-Sky' In Perfect Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's first "spy-in-the-sky" satellite whirled around earth in a near-perfect orbit today, poised for a crucial test of its missile-detecting eye.

U. S. scientists plotted the path of the 2½-ton moonlet, named Midas II, as accurately as possible, to work out a tight series of real and simulated missile firings during its operating life of about a month.

The tests were delayed somewhat Tuesday when, shortly after the satellite had gone into orbit, a key computer malfunctioned and scientists were forced to spend 35 minutes making rough calculations by hand.

The Air Force hopes to prove that Midas II can detect rockets by heat radiations the size of they are launched. This would pave the way for a system of satellites that would patrol the skies around the clock within two years, to warn against sneak attacks by an aggressor.

'Unknown' Takes Committee Race

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa voters wondering today if the nephew of his name carried Bob Johnson, a political unknown from Jacksonville, to an amazing victory in the five-man race for Democratic National Commission.

Johnson, better known as a popular Tampa city judge, Hillsborough County, of which Tampa is the seat, gave Johnson a commanding 23,821 vote Tuesday. It was his most decisive margin anywhere in the state.

State-wide, with 1,000 of Tampa's 1,200 precincts reported, Johnson led the race against the incumbent, John B. Bunch, by a margin of 23,821 votes.

Johnson's victory was a surprise to many observers, who had expected Bunch to win.

Bryant Swamps Carlton

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida today acclaimed Ferris Bryant as its governor-to-be and furnished solid endorsement of his deep-South approach to any racial problems that may arise in the next four years.

Bryant rolled to victory over state Sen. Doyle Carlton Jr., in Tuesday's decisive second Democratic primary with a margin of better than 25,000 votes. Bryant carried 55 of the state's 67 counties.

Unofficial United Press International returns from all 1,971 of the state's precincts gave Bryant 501,103 votes and Carlton 406,319. In doing so, Bryant not only turned back Carlton's first bid for the governorship, he also overcame the editorial endorsements of most of the state's major newspapers and the powerful backing of out-going Gov. LeRoy Collins which were given the 37-year-old son of a former chief executive.

Bryant rolled up a more than 2-1 majority in defeating Carlton in the runoff.

Thousands Dead In Chile Quake

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Volcanoes that had been silent for as long as 40 years belched smoke, ash and lava today over southern Chile, in what may be the worst earthquake in history.

Official figures compiled by UPI placed the toll at 8,426 persons dead or missing.

Two new volcanoes on the shores of Lake Rinihue, born in the travels that made itself felt all around the Pacific basin this week, added their snags to that of at least seven known volcanoes.

"I want to work with him and earn his friendship and support."

Governor Collins, at the peak of his own political career in Florida, accepted Carlton's defeat with disappointment. But he congratulated Bryant and offered "any cooperation or assistance I can give to him, and that he would like to have."

Collins learned late Tuesday he had been chosen as permanent chairman of the national Democratic convention at Los Angeles in July, a post that could put him in position as a strong dark horse candidate for the vice presidential nomination.

Carlton also offered Bryant congratulations.

The 12 counties that went for Carlton were Broward, Charlotte, Dade, DeSoto, Glades, Hardee (his home county), Highlands, Hillsborough, Monroe, Pinellas, St. Lucie and Sarasota.

Bryant won the remaining 55 and yielded Hillsborough, Pinellas, Sarasota, Charlotte, DeSoto, Glades, Highlands and St. Lucie by only slim margins.

Carlton's biggest votes came from Dade, 111,272 to 58,306, and Broward, 27,874 to 15,820, but the swells there were not nearly enough to stem the tide for Bryant.

Saratoga, Merchant Ship Collide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The super aircraft carrier Saratoga and a West German merchant ship collided off Cape Hatteras, N. C., shortly after midnight, the Navy said today.

There was no serious damage to the carrier and no personal injuries were reported early today, the Navy said.

The Saratoga was en route to Mayport from Norfolk, Va.

The Navy said a jet fuel line which carries fuel for aircraft was broken and a fire resulted on the Saratoga, but it was quickly extinguished.

The merchant ship was identified as the Bernard Leon Hardt.

The Navy said the Hardt suffered "extensive damage" above the water line. Its radio communications were knocked out.

The ship's engine was running, however, and it got under way for Cape Hatteras, Va., by 1 a. m., escorted by the U. S. destroyer Stripling.

The German ship intended to proceed to Baltimore.

The Saratoga, which carries a crew of 2,500 and is as long as a city block, is the largest ship in the world. It is also the largest ship in the U. S. Navy.

Ashley took the majority of the votes in Fern Park, Bear Lake and Longwood while Sewell captured the majority of Forest City votes, 59-58.

Carroll collected 2,500 votes to Owen's 1,643.

Carroll will replace J. Q. Gallaway as constable Jan. 1. Gallaway opposed Sheriff J. L. Hobby in the first primary and was defeated.

Campaign On To Keep SHS Graduates Home

A campaign to "keep Sanford teenagers working at home" is presently being waged by the local Florida State Employment office.

Daniel R. Hahn, manager, said applications for summer and full-time employment have been received by Seminole High School students, and he is urging local employers to hire local youth.

"The applications are piling up," Hahn said, "it would be a loss to this area. If the graduating seniors were forced to leave Sanford in search of employment."

Fog, Rain Delays Return Of Flyers

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) — Fog, rain and still winds today blocked the return of a U. S. Army C-47 and its nine occupants from East Germany after the Iron Curtain had lifted in record time.

The American crew and passengers, including a woman, had been scheduled to fly to West Germany this morning five days after Soviet MIG-17 jets forced the plane to land in a Communist controlled area near the Baltic Sea.

After hours of fingernail biting today a spokesman at U. S. Air Force European headquarters here said the plane and the nine Americans were still grounded. He said if the weather did not lift the Americans would be taken to Berlin by car.

Telephone calls to the Mayor's office in the tiny village of Grovesmühlen confirmed that bad weather had delayed the plane's takeoff for the two-hour flight to Wiesbaden.

Adams, Conner Roll To Victory In Cabinet Posts

MIAMI (UPI) — Youth and North Florida were served in Tuesday's Cabinet races with Doyle Conner and Tom Adams piling up one-sided victories over older opponents from farther South.

The 31-year-old Conner won election as the youngest Cabinet member in the history of the state. He carried 52 of the state's 67 counties as he beat W. R. Hancock of Groveland by more than 20,000 votes.

Adams, 42, crushed Jess Yarborough by more than 100,000 votes in carrying all but two counties.

Adams defeated Yarborough in the race by a 3-1 vote in Seminole County. Adams rolled up 4,400 votes to Yarborough's 1,421.

In the commissioner of agriculture race, Conner defeated Hancock 2,884 votes to 2,348. Conner took 11 of the 18 precincts although Hancock proved strong in the Sanford precincts.

The victory of Conner, a five-term state representative from Starke, and Adams, a two-term senator from Orange Park, reaffirmed big leads they carried into the runoff from the first primary May 3.

With 954 of the state's 1,971 precincts reported, Adams polled 414,530 votes to 269,184 for Yarborough, who got more than a third of his votes in his home county, Dade.

With 1,905 precincts counted in the agriculture race, Conner rolled up 415,000 votes against 268,573 for Hancock, who led through the early counting but faded as the night wore on.

Nixon Looms As Sure Bet For GOP Hope

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon apparently has clinched the Republican presidential nomination unless a lot of delegates to the GOP convention change their minds.

Nixon gained 23 Florida and 23 Tennessee votes Tuesday which gave him a total of 722 delegate votes definitely committed or expressing a preference for him.

He needs only 696 votes at the convention to win the nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) runner-up to Nixon with 29 pledged votes. Many delegates have yet to be chosen but most are expected to go to Nixon barring some dramatic political upset.

Goldwater, not regarded as a serious presidential contender, frequently has been mentioned as a possible running-mate for Nixon. However, many others figure in speculation for second place on the GOP ticket.

Nixon long has been regarded in Republican circles as the logical presidential nominee in view of his widespread popularity on behalf of the administration during his 7½ years as vice president.

President Eisenhower has entrusted him with missions abroad and has given him domestic assignments never before tendered a vice president. Unlike many of his predecessors, he never was absent for long from public attention.

Negroes Planning Beach Mixing Drive

DATTONA BEACH (UPI) — A Negro leader said Saturday a new drive to integrate public beaches probably would begin here, but not until after Tuesday's primary.

The Negro spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, is an official of the NAACP. He said the drive would be delayed until after the primary because Negroes did not want it to cause a last-minute flare-up in the governor's race.

The spokesman said the campaign "might" begin along Daytona's Beach's miles of broad beaches next weekend.

NAACP leaders met in Tampa recently to plan the drive.

'60 Business Should Be Better Than Previous Year, Leaders Told

1960 should be a bigger year for business than the previous year, Bill Leberz, marketing director of the Ox Fibre Brush Company told a group of Sanford business leaders and civic officials Tuesday.

Leberz was the guest of honor at a special noon luncheon at Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant.

The marketing director was introduced by James Wright, manager of the Benson Junction plant.

Attending the luncheon were B. L. Perkins Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, John Alexander, newly elected Jaycee president; Mayor Earl Higginbotham of Sanford; Clifford McKibbin, chairman of the chamber's committee of 100; Mack Cleveland Jr., county attorney; Vernon Mize, county judge; Robert Bannan, president of the Sanford Atlantic Bank and John Kridger, manager of the chamber.

Leberz told the group that he was tired of hearing about any depression talk.

"As far as we are concerned, we are doing business like never before and are way ahead of last year," Leberz said.

The area plant, located at Benson Junction, employs more than 100 persons and uses Sanford as its mailing address.

Castro Denies Surrounding Base

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro, his face flushed with anger, said Monday night there was no truth to American press reports that Cuban troops have surrounded the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

"The reports, published in Norfolk, Va., had previously been denied by U. S. authorities.

"On May 1, we made it clear in definitive terms that Cuba did not have an aggressive attitude toward the Guantanamo base nor about any other matter," Castro told a press conference.

"These reports were propagated by elements which persist in trying to provoke a clash between Cuba and the United States. . . .

"The aggressions don't come from Cuba, but from the United States, and from the U. S. Senate, from the planes that have burned our sugar cane, from the circles who persist in creating problems for Cuba."

The Premier said Jose Miro Cardona, Cuba's ambassador to the United States, will leave for Washington "when convenient." He did not set a date.

Policeman Escapes Death When Gun Misfires

MARION, Ind. (UPI)—Deputy Sheriff Guy Spencer, a police officer for more than 20 years, says he's had some "close ones, but nothing like this."

Spencer, 49, was escorting convicted rapist Harold Lohman from the courthouse to the county jail Tuesday when his prisoner pulled out a hidden .32 caliber pistol, aimed it at Spencer and clicked the trigger three times at point-blank range.

The gun misfired each time. "My guardian angel must have been on my side," Spencer said.

Lohman had been out on bond pending an appeal from a January, 1959, conviction of raping an 11-year-old girl. He was ordered back into circuit court when his bond expired and the judge ordered him held for pre-sentence investigation.

"The next day police discovered that Jerry Nixon was not the son of the city councilman and had been arrested before for not having a driver's license and using loud mufflers on his car. He was arrested again.

"I was taking him to the jail," Spencer said. "We use the alley quite a bit going from the jail to the courthouse and back. I got him about half way. He pulled a gun from his right coat pocket and turned and fired at me.

"While I was getting my own gun out of the holster, he pulled the trigger twice more.

"It took me by surprise," Spencer said soberly. "We were going to search him at the jail."

The prisoner had been brought to court by his attorneys. When he finally was searched, authorities found more than the gun. Lohman had three backlaw blades sewn into the waistband of his trousers," the deputy said. "He had foam rubber insoles in his shoes, and a pair of wire cutting pliers in his right shoe. A key and box of medicine were in the other shoe."

Youth Talks Way Out And Into Jail

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—A fast-talking young man arrested for speeding had the brushstrokes to telephone Dallas Mayor R. L. Thornton in the middle of the night and demand release from jail.

Jerry Nixon, 29, told the mayor he was the son of city Councilman George Nixon. The mayor got the chief of police to order the release of his caller.

The next day police discovered that Jerry Nixon was not the son of the city councilman and had been arrested before for not having a driver's license and using loud mufflers on his car. He was arrested again.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by Marquis Childs

PARIS—As the four heads of government go their separate ways in the aftermath of the explosion at the summit—or just below it—no conclusion is inescapable. They are all, without exception, reduced in stature.

Each nation has begun in its way to develop a rationalization, a justification, for what happened and for the role that the nation's leader played or failed to play. While this may do for national consumption, to assuage wounded pride and avert hurt feelings, it is not good enough.

There is a great void, a vast and somewhat ominous emptiness, in which only a few persons can join the chorus of "I held you so." Among them are articles such as former Secretary of State Dean Acheson who has consistently scored summits as an exercise opening the way to precisely the kind of storm to which President Eisenhower was subjected and to a painful disillusion, putting the cause of peace back to a new low. But even these articles could hardly have foreseen the accident of the espionage plans and its effect on any slight chance of success at the summit.

It is too early to know how much of the four so dissimilar men will react in the void that has been created. Eisenhower will go on traveling, receiving as in Portugal the massive acclaim that has come to mean much to him. It is probable that his Asian tour will be extended to take in Formosa, the Philippines, Thailand and other beneficiaries of American aid.

His far-flung travels have in some instances, notably India where there has been an effective follow-up, been of great value. But, as in Latin America, their usefulness is questionable, since their stir expectations that cannot or will not be fulfilled. And as Eisenhower reaches the end of his authority these ceremonial progresses with all the appurtenances of vast cheering crowds and triumphal archways have less and less value.

On the eve of his departure it was characteristic that Prime Minister Macmillan should express to those who talked with him about the future a concern for Eisenhower and what it had meant to him to take such inroads from Khrushchev. After all, as the prime minister remarked with the urbanity, the worldliness, that is his hallmark, a president of the United States, and particularly this president, "is unaccustomed to the kind of rough exchange that is the staple of life for those of us who grow up in the House of Commons." How will he react? What will he do?

The Macmillan watchword is "caution." Above all, no hasty action from the West, since there is no evidence that the Communist line out of Moscow is about to undergo a radical shift. The disillusion is almost greater for Macmillan than for Eisenhower since he had built his hopes higher, and certainly just prior to the U-2 he had given clear indication that he was prepared to go much further in a temporary solution for Berlin than France or the United States.

On the day that the heads of government left Paris for home the leading commentator on the state-owned radio, which in France under the DeGaulle regime has become virtually an instrument of propaganda, said with something like proud complacency that the U-2 proved the wisdom of the DeGaulle policy of refusing to submit control of France's fleet and air force to NATO. This was an example of what could happen if one's allies were not consulted. That is, of course, untrue, since, no matter what the agreed extent of consultation, such an act as the espionage flight would never have come within its compass.

If this is to be the line, then DeGaulle's nationalism and his determination to build, regardless of cost, an independent nuclear deterrent for France is reinforced. The tragic folly of that course—its impossibility in relation to French resources—has been evident enough in other parts of the country it is given a glowing color by the dream of grandeur of which DeGaulle is both symbol and progenitor.

As for the fourth man, we know too well what his course is to be. It is to cause the utmost trouble and uncertainty in the West without provoking a war. Or, at any rate, the assumption despite the summit explosion is still that Khrushchev wants to stop short of war.

If the recent past is to precede the tragedy will be to find the West in the newly created void reacting to the actions of the Communist leader. Except for piecemeal instances, some of them important enough, the West has not taken a major independent initiative since the Marshall Plan. That fact should sober even the hottest of hot-heads who now seem determined to react with a bigger and bigger chip on the shoulder to the Russian aggressiveness. The Marshall Plan saved Western Europe from communism and it has stood through the years as a symbol of what the West can do in unity. It is a lesson, a profoundly important example, if anyone is in the mood to discover what to do in a void.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE E-48: Peggy O., aged 29, is perplexed about romance.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have dated a teacher of chemistry for the past four years. He is now 35, and his name is Joe.

"The lives with his widowed mother, who seems to like me fairly well. And Joe protests that he loves me, but he shies away from all talk about marriage.

"Recently, while I was attending her state teacher's convention, I met a high school principal named Arthur.

"He is a widower, aged 34, with a little boy who is three years old. And Arthur has been driving over to my town each weekend to see me.

"Joe gets hurt because I don't love him all my time, but I have decided I have already spent four years with Joe, so why waste my life on an old bachelor. Am I right?"

Girls, beware of unmarried men past the age of 30 to 35! For they are usually enslaved by the "man-meat" complex. (Put off till tomorrow.)

This means they still off regarding vital problems by thinking "tomorrow I'll decide."

They may be talented and attractive, but if they have deferred to a loved mother for 25 years and have become enslaved by the habit of putting off decisions, they are usually difficult to handle.

A widower, however, has already been housebroken by some other woman.

He is thus more considerate than the bachelor, and far more understanding of women.

Besides, he is not so indecisive. And women can't get their greatest romantic thrills from the kisses of a timid male.

For women regard indecisiveness as a feminine trait. They think men are POSITIVE and bold, not uncertain and hesitant.

When they meet a fellow who can't make up his mind and who runs home to mamma to get his problems solved, they subconsciously rate him as only half-man.

Most women react with disgust at the stories of males who use rouge and lipstick or wear in feminine lingerie, for women don't grow romantic about half-males.

But there are a lot of other secondary female traits besides the use of rouge or lacy lingerie.

Women themselves tend to feel timid, uncertain and physically weaker than the other sex.

So when they encounter a male who is timid, uncertain and afraid of athletics or fistfights, they vaguely recoil.

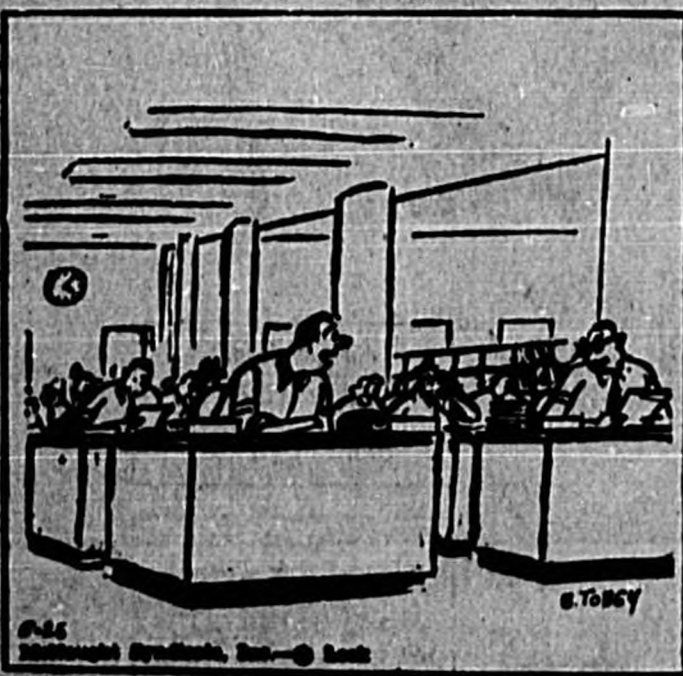

You unmarried girls like Peggy CAN marry a bachelor and be reasonably happy, but you will generally pay a heavier price in quarrels and heartache.

A widower of the same traits and physical charms, will be a safer bet for a happy, harmonious married life.

And if your bachelor boy friend is the son of a long time widow, be doubly on guard, for he will probably remain tied to her apron strings till she dies.

So I advised Peggy to continue dating the widower. It is okay to keep dating an old bachelor if you have no other better prospects, but don't waste more than one year of your life on such "man-meat" guys.

Send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 30 cents (non-profit). They will help weed out the men from the overgrown boys!

"I'm glad I'm out in business for myself. I worked the whole darn day!"

"Then the warm girl, with a warm smile, takes your bare chest and puts it against a cold, cold plate."

"Why does she do that, Daddy?" "I am not sure, son," I said.

"Even in restaurants they warm the plate. But in the X-ray room, the photographic plates are made of some heat-resistant metal. Furthermore, it is your father's opinion that they keep these slabs of metal in a deep-freeze."

Well, we have been going through what we refer to as "the annual checkup."

We have been poked and prodded. Flashlighted, tapped with rubber hammers—"with a kick like that we can get you a spot on the Forty-niners," said the medic.

Our diet is inquired into. "I eat like a horse," I said. "Neigh, neigh."

"Very funny," said the medic without a smile. "Let's try the old blood pressure." He wrapped up my arm and pumped and listened. "Hummmmm," he said.

I hate those "hummm" things. It could mean anything.

"Take this slip up to X-ray," said the doctor. Medicine is specialized these scientific days. (You could cut your throat and the stomach man would not touch you. "Out of my department. See Dr. Jones, ear, nose and throat. Hours 3 to 5.")

X-ray is a curious department of modern medicine. This is where we get the picture on the old pump.

"Take off everything down to the waist," said the lady in the white smock.

"My wrist watch, too?" I asked shyly. You know, you might want to know what time it is.

The lady slapped a pair of over-size callipers on my bare chest.

"Good heavens, girl! These are cold."

"Now, now," she said soothingly. "Just step up and put your chest against that plate. Chin up. That's right."

When guests arrive to spend a night or two they will bring suitcases with them. These must be moved from their automobile to the guest room.

It is the part of the host to do the carrying. This even though he may be a frail man with a bad back. Carrying the suitcase could be just enough to cause the back to snap, crippling the host for the duration of the guests' visit.

On the other hand, a male guest may be a former athlete, solidly built and as powerful as an ox. He may keep himself in excellent physical condition taking strenuous exercises, whereas the host is the bookish type whose physical exertion is limited to walking to his automobile or the bus.

The guest, sensing the situation will insist upon carrying the suitcases. If the host has already started to walk off with them, the guest will intercept him and try to wrest the suitcase from his grasp. The host will fight back using up some of the limited strength that should be conserved for carrying the suitcases.

If the guest, in spite of his greater strength, cannot wrest the suitcases from the host he will demand the privilege of carrying at least one. But the host will refuse the compromise, contending that it is easier to carry two suitcases than one because they balance each other.

On the other hand should the guest win out and wrest the suitcases from the host will be mortified, feeling that he has not done his duty by his guest and also that his inferior physical condition has been exposed and embarrassed.

Clearly, it is right and proper that the host should carry the suitcases. But the guests could cooperate by bringing with them suitcases that are not so heavy they feel as though they were packed with bricks.

Native Has To Pay For Supper

WEWAK, New Guinea (UPI) — A civil court today awarded T. Tyrell, assistant district officer of Lumi, seven pounds, ten shillings ($11) because a native ate his prize Persian cat.

The native had been brought from the primitive Green River area to Lumi by a missionary. He was being shown the town when he spotted Tyrell's cat, dropped it at 20 yards with a bow and arrow and ate it.

The native told the court he thought the cat was wild.

"Back at Green River everyone eats wild cats," he said. "They are the No. 1 food."

WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — The lawmakers blinked when the man said he needed $4,000 to slow down the revolving door at the Capitol.

And, in almost the same breath, he said he wanted $5 million to speed up the Capitol's trolley service.

There were other strange requests for money on this occasion—the annual trip of Capitol architect George Stewart to the appropriations room.

If the general rule applies, the lawmakers will approve most of the items, almost all of them matters involving personal convenience.

There was, for instance, a request for money to pay a muscle-soother—physical therapist they call him—to give our senators free massages in the gymnasium steam room.

And a $2,200 item—for two special mahogany telephone booths for the Democratic cloakroom of the Senate.

Looking over all this proposed spending had my head spinning—especially that one about the turning door that turns too fast for our speedy lawmakers.

Stewart maintains that it's too dangerous and it needs a governor to hold down the maximum speed to 12 revolutions a minute.

Holding legislators in check with a governor isn't as costly, of course, as rushing them through a subway. Stewart wants to build a new trolley section underground from the new, new House Office Building to the Capitol.

This undoubtedly will turn out to be the most expensive one-minute ride in all the world's transportation history.

Now, members of the House must walk from their offices to the Capitol across the street, while the 99 men and the lady on the Senate side ride in style on a $4 million trolley system.

The architect was describing the new proposed line. "The haul," he said, "is not too long, and the longest run would take a little over one minute from terminal to terminal."

Rep. Frank to Bow (R-Ohio) sighed: "This . . . is for that?"

Actually, the money for this trolley system is just a small hunk of the full cost connected with the new, new House Building.

That structure, now being built so that each congressman may have a three-room suite instead of two, will end up costing $100 million before it's completed in 1963.

There was one request that did stir up the lawmakers' dander. It was for an additional tree doctor for the 2,500 rare, beautiful trees on the Capitol grounds. Only one man is attending them now.

Rep. Walt Horan (R-Wash.) was mortified. "As an apple grower who has not only 2,500 trees, but 15,000 trees," he said, "I do not understand why the architect has to have tree surgeons."

Stewart explained that a lot of his trees are 25 to 50 feet high and many are ailing from Dutch elm disease. They're getting up in years, he said—60 and 65 years old—and need additional loving care.

Whereupon the congressman went into an off-the-record huddle, and then apparently buried an axe in that request.

But it looks like they'll furnish the money for the trolleys, the revolving door, the telephone booths—and their own bone doctor.

Three Minutes A Day

"Singers have a glorious mission—to transmit to their audients all the musical beauties that lie in opera."

Giovanni Martinelli, the world-famed tenor who sang with New York's Metropolitan Opera for 30 years and who will soon celebrate the 50th anniversary of his singing debut in Milan.

One who is imbued with the conviction that he has been entrusted by God with a mission to fulfill in life usually experiences the true joy of living.

On the other hand, he who has little or no concept of the special role he is expected to play on the stage of life ordinarily leads a dull, aimless, purposeless existence.

In God's plan you, too, have been given a personal assignment to "transmit" to men a bit of divine truth, goodness and beauty. It should be a "glorious mission" for you because you also can make the world better for your being in it.

"As the Father has sent Me, I also send you." (John 20:21)

Deepen in me, O Holy Spirit, the realization of the mission in life which You expect me to fulfill.

Insurance is peculiar. You must pass to your reward under very special, fine-printed circumstances. The more you see the doctor, the less chance they have to pay off. It is sound business.

Any way, back at the X-ray Ranch: There you are with something burring in back of you. And you think, "She probably turned it on and forgot to turn it off. I am probably well-done, already."

"Breathe deeply," she said. "Hold it!"

I tell you a man standing around in his pants, with his chest against cold metal, is in bad psychological position.

"You may dress now," said the smiling lady, switching off the current and stepping out of the lead box.

That's that for one more year.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. DODSON

Dodsons Married Sixty Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dodson celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary, recently, at their home on Lake Mary Blvd. in Lake Mary.

April 17 Mrs. Dodson celebrated her 81st birthday. Mr. Dodson will also have 81 fruitful years to his credit in August.

Eleven years ago they came to Florida for a visit and traveled all over the state. They stopped in many pretty places, but found that Lake Mary had the best drinking water, and decided to move here from Berea, Ohio. They purchased an old home and later bought additional property across the street and built a new concrete block house.

They have seen many changes in the last few years, and have done their part to help make Lake Mary grow. They have built several homes here and had many friends and relatives join them in this location. Both were born in West Virginia, and were married but later moved to Ohio. Mr. Dodson worked in Akron and Cleveland, Ohio where he was maintenance foreman at the Cuyahoga Hospital. Then, as Mr. Dodson puts it, he retired and came down here and went to work.

He is proud of the fact that he did not apply for social security until he was 75. He does all of his own yard work, and has one of the greenest lawns around. Mrs. Dodson keeps her comfortable home like new, and does her own housework. All of their children like to return home often for Moms

Mrs. Langden Feted With Stork Shower

Several interesting and informative quiz games were enjoyed by the group under the direction of Mrs. Betts. Novel prizes were awarded to Mrs. Skipper and Mrs. Vernon Hardin.

The hostess served cake and punch to Mrs. Skipper, Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Freed, Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Leon Swain, Mrs. Alfred Chiles, Mrs. Donald Reagan, Mrs. H. L. Swagerty, Mrs. Dan Batten, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, and the teacher, Mrs. J. D. Cordell.

Rapid 'Changes' Discussed By PTA

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — More than 2,000 Parent Teacher Assn. leaders from throughout the world have been told the big assignment facing free and responsible citizens is fostering change that "nurtures excellence, human freedom and human dignity."
Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an address opening general sessions of the organization's 64th annual convention that "change" is the key word in our lives today.
"So violent are changes in certain areas that we characterize them as explosive," she said.
Mrs. Parker pointed out that increased automation makes physical and mental work easier although "the fantastic burgeoning of knowledge and the rising demand for mental skills puts heavy pressures on school children."
The PTA head noted that some schools have lengthened the school year while some are even talking of lengthening the school day. Many are giving more homework, she said, making an eight-to-nine hour work day for school children compared to a six-hour work day for adults.

Salocracker On Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Harold Eugene Fields, a quick on the trigger salocracker who has shot it out with police on two occasions, was placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals today.
Another new name will have to be added soon, Tuesday in Rockford, Ill., police arrested Edward Bailey, 24, who was placed on the list May 19 for the Jan. 20 robbery of a bank at Loganport, Ind. A used car dealer identified him from an FBI poster and told police.
An inveterate, dangerous lawbreaker for 22 years, Fields specializes in victimizing fraternal and social groups and on one occasion burglarized a church safe in Oklahoma City.
The 43-year-old fugitive has admitted a run for wine, women and money, he is an avid gambler, a steady consumer for clothes, shoes and whisky and a fishing and hunting enthusiast.

Israel Captures 'War' Criminal

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Premier David Ben-Gurion said Tuesday Israeli security services have found and arrested Adolf Eichmann, one of the most infamous Nazi war criminals. Eichmann has been accused of ordering the extermination of about six million Jews before and during World War II.

Jordan, Peret Finish Training

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Welterweight champion Don Jordan and Benny (Kid) Peret of Cuba finish training today for Nevada's first world title fight in a half century at Convention Hall Friday night.

Unexpectedly, Jordan of Los Angeles, says he is not taking any great risk with his 147-pound crown, here in the city that became America's gambling center during the 50 years that elapsed since Jack Johnson kept the heavyweight crown by knocking out Jim Jeffries at Reno, Nev., in 1910.

When rangy, sleepy-eyed Jordan squares off with Peret Friday night, "I think I'll win the fight very easily," he said.

U. S. Open Golfers Fall By Wayside

By United Press International
Completion of the first elimination round has trimmed the original entry list for the 1960 U. S. Open golf championships from 2,410 down to 480.

First-round elimination tournaments at 54 sites on Monday and two more on Tuesday produced 421 golfers who will compete in the second round of eliminations at 18 different sites June 6-7. Also competing in the second round will be 48 golfers exempt from the first round.

140 In Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—More than 140 yachts are expected to start in the biennial Newport-Bermuda race June 18. Austin G. Wagner, who arranged the 1958 event and advance plans for the America's Cup contest, said the starting mark for the 630-mile race would be a 600 to 800-foot line that will be established between the Brenton Reef lightship and the Cutter Halfmoon.

Moore Favored In TV Bout Tonight

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Eight heavyweight champion Archie Moore, admitting he's not in the best physical condition, was favored to defeat Willie Besmanoff in tonight's television fight.

The bout will give the titleholder a "payday" before his next defense.

Both fighters were expected to weigh in around 200 pounds. It will be an unusual fight for Moore, who usually doesn't step into the ring unless his title is at stake. But he was guaranteed

Harvey Stallings And 'Prize' Catch Here's New Way To Land A Fish.

A 15 year old Seminole High School student didn't need bait to trap a 30 pound catfish—he just grabbed its tail with his hands and shoved it in his boat.

Harvey Stallings, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stallings, Lake Mary, was paddling down the St. Johns River, near the Osteen Bridge fish camp, when he spotted the Catfish eating the shad near the shore.

"I moved near, and a first try at netting it failed so I grabbed it by the tail, shoved his head in the net and dumped it in my boat," the 115 pound teenager said. Stallings said the fish didn't give him any trouble until he got it in the boat, then it "acquired so much, it almost bounced out of the boat."

Mather Loses Ground In Play

The "Match-of-the-Week" in the Sanford City Bowling League was the Mather of Sanford Team lose four points to drop into third place behind Lance, Inc. and Buddy's Auto Service.

Johnny Gromer, with a 548 series, was high for Lance as they took four from the Mather team, in spite of the 554 rolled by Dan Rydel.

Meanwhile, Jack Kanner led Buddy's Auto Service to a four point sweep over Harry's Liquors with a big 576 evening, while Tom Best led the losers with a 515.

Also taking four points from their opponents were the Bukun Music Shop team and the Lake Monroe Inn five. The Musicmen behind Frank Huhn's 585 had little trouble with the Faust Drugs team. The same was true of the Lake Monroe Inn keggers as Garry Fox rolled the high series of the evening with a 627, while Joe Carey led the losers with a 516.

Gene's Seminole Cleaners and Laundry was the other team to score a four point sweep, as George Swan rolled a 534 to help the team over Team Five in the league, led by Pat Fitzpatrick's 500.

The only even match of the night saw Jim Spencer's and George's Tavern come out with a dead heat, as each team took two points. Rick Skelly led the aggregation from George's with a 540 total, while O'Leary topped the Spencer group with a 525 night.

The single game for the night was rolled by Al DePalma, who made a fine comeback from a 108 to roll a big 241 total. Other 200 games were rolled by Johnny Gromer, Ed Jones, Jack Kanner, George Kenis, Buck Ferguson, Rick Skelly, and Frank Huhn and Garry Fox rolling two of the elite games apiece.

'Spy' Visits Champ's Camp

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UPI)—If master boxing "spy" Joe Louis uncovered any secrets in the training camp of heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson, he's keeping them to himself.

Louis, who is advising Floyd Patterson on how to regain the crown from Johansson in their June 20 return bout, paid a much-ballyhooed visit to Ingemar's camp here Tuesday to see what he could see.

But the only thing he had to say publicly was that it might take Floyd a round longer to whip Johansson than he first figured.

CPO Defeats BRL Leaders

CPO defeated front running Civilian in Babe Ruth League play Tuesday while First Federal slammed Perfection, 16-6 in Little League play.

Braves Sign Two

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves have signed two college players to minor league contracts. Pitcher David Cox of Westchester State Teachers College, Pa., will report to Louisville of the American Assn. and catcher Butler Powell from Loyola of New Orleans will be assigned to Boise in the Idaho State League.

Limits Training

NEWTON, Conn. (UPI)—Challenger Floyd Patterson limited his training Tuesday to calisthenics and a seven-mile run in preparation for his return heavyweight title fight with champion Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds in New York, June 20.

Class B Hurler Giving Orioles 'Boost' In AL

United Press International
The kid from Class B Paul Richards said was his "spring headache" is giving the Baltimore Orioles a king-sized hangover.

He's Steve Barber—a 21-year-old left-hander Coach Harry Brecheen says "can throw a strawberry through a locomotive"—and right now he looks like the rookie find of a lifetime.

Only three weeks ago Richards had Barber ticketed for the minors but Tuesday night he pitched the Orioles into a half-game lead in the American League with a 6-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The six-foot, 190-pounder now owns a 4-1 record and a glittering 1.66 earned run average—not bad for a kid who was 7-11 at Pensacola of the Alabama-Florida League in 1959.

This is the first time the Orioles have been in first place at this stage of the season since they switched to Baltimore and it appears it's time for the "big boys" to start taking them seriously.

Richards himself says, "It's a real 'later than they think' and that the young Orioles already have come of age."

The Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Senators, 7-2, and moved past the White Sox into second place. Detroit Tigers whitewashed the New York Yankees 4-0, and the Kansas City Athletics dealt the Boston Red Sox their 10th straight loss, 6-2, in other American League games.

The San Francisco Giants reclaimed first place in the National League by eight percentage points when they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-0, and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2. Milwaukee at St. Louis and Chicago at Cincinnati were rained out.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant downed the Senators for the 12th straight time over a two-year period with a four-hitter. It was a shutout until Jim Lemon's two-run homer in the ninth.

Don Mossi, who beat the Yankees six times last season, pitched a four-hitter as the Tigers scored their ninth win in 13 games and moved to within a game of fourth-place New York.

Bud Daley pitched an eight-hitter and Jerry Lumpe and Mary Thornberry hit homers for the Athletics, who routed Dave Hillman in the fourth inning. It was Daley's fourth win against two defeats.

Sam Jones finally turned in a top-notch road performance in that he pitched a walk-less four-hitter to win his fifth game for the Giants. Willie Mays doubled home the Giants' first run and singled their second in scoring position before they added their final runs in a eighth.

Bill Hofer's two-run homer and Johnny Podres' eight-hitter combined to dump the Pirates into second place. Hodges' homer came in the second inning after a leadoff single by "nature boy" Frank Howard, who also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I love children and we have eight of them. On Saturday afternoons I go to town to do the week's marketing while my husband stays home and minds the children. I never go more than three hours, but when I return I find the children sleeping all over the house. The six-year-old told me that "Daddy gives us sips of his drink." This can be beer, wine or hard liquor. I asked him about it and he said it quieted them down and did them no harm. Will a few sips do them harm, Abby? I am worried.

MOTHER OF EIGHT

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband had better learn a few facts about the effects of alcohol on children AND the penalty for making it available to them. I mean sips, gulps or snootfuls. Insist that he stop it. And send HIM to the store while YOU stay home and mind the children if he hasn't any better sense than that.

DEAR ABBY: I was 14 years old on Easter Sunday and my mother and I had a big birthday party planned. Unfortunately I had the flu on my birthday, so we had to call the party off.

I was hoping we could postpone it for two weeks, but my mother called it off for good. She said it would look like we were... the party just for the sake of it. We had the birthday party two weeks later. Do you think this was fair to me?

NO PARTY

DEAR NO PARTY: Your mother was right, honey. The only time to have a "birthday" party is on your birthday. You could have had just a plain party at a later date, however.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 55 who has worked for the government in a civil service job for 25 years. I retired last September and now I think I am going to have to go back to work again in order to get some rest.

The reason is this: I have three daughters and a son. They are all married and are raising families. Since I have "retired" I have been pestered to death to come and take care of this one's children and the other one's baby. They don't realize what they are asking. I get two and three calls a day: "Mom, can you run over and watch the kiddies for a few hours?" How can I say no when they know I am not working? Don't get me wrong, Abby, I love my children and my grandchildren, but I don't want to be a free baby-sitter seven days a week—and that's what I am. If you can think of a solution besides going back to work, please let me have it.

FREE SITTER

DEAR FREE SITTER: It's strange how some people can't say "NO" — but when they're stepped on they certainly can holler "OUCH!" You retired because you wanted to rest. Now stay home and next time you are asked to "sit"—unless it is convenient and you really want to say "NO!"

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "DOG LOVER" who thought more of his dog than his wife. Will you please send me his name and address? I think we are related.

ANOTHER DOG LOVER

Plot Of 'The Woman In White' Too Much For One Hour

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The Woman in White" mystery story with a deep-plot and suspense, came out of the TV wringer looking like a stringy throw rug Monday night.

The 100-year-old classic by the English author, Wilkie Collins, just had too much story for the confines of a one-hour time slot. Despite Frank Ford's a-great adaptation, the "Hour of Great Mysteries" production on NBC-TV tended to bounce, jerk and skip where it was supposed to glide and flow. The grace and neatness of Collins' novel about a mean fortune-hunting husband's plot against his bride — with the aid of Count Fosco, the master schemer — was largely absent on Monday night. The cast was obliged to work flamboyantly because of the great condensation in the story. Even if it was meant to be a representational showpiece of well-tuned mysteries, the production failed because of its pace.

Still, there were moments of compelling mystery and tension in the hour. The show started off with a rousing fog-bound graveyard meeting between the woman in white and the story's hero, Walter Hartright. Unfortunately, the first act soon lapsed into strident, choppy scene-setting.

The second act saw some flashy staircase-like plotting being done by the villains of the piece, Fosco, played by Walter Blank, and his Percival Glyde, played by Robert Flinn. But again, the spiritlessness of this sequence soon evaporated with the need for bolder action and dialogue.

The final act came close to galloping off into the area of burlesque, what with dramatic confrontations, dueling, shooting, seduction, fire, death and reconciliation taking place. Credit must go to director Paul Nickell and the cast for not letting it reach the burlesque level. Bit it was close.

Lois Nettleton, in the role of the woman in white and the heiress, Laura Fairlie, was the best one in the cast. She was intense and plenty weird-O when she had to be, frail and confused at other times, and communicated those characteristics beautifully. Stephen McKelley, as her step-sister, wasn't spindly enough. The Floyd Patterson again in their June 20 heavyweight championship fight at the Polo Grounds.

erine Proctor, did well enough, although Slezak missed much of the unctuousness as Fosco.

This was the third and last show of the season for this series, which returns next fall. If it was not as cleverly done as "The Burning Court," I put the blame on the need for trimming it to fit a 60-minute slot. They said it couldn't be done. And it couldn't.

Tampa Youth Wins Model Plane Honors At NAS

Fred Mulholland of Tampa took top honors at the Armed Forces Model airplane meet held at the Naval Air Station Saturday.

The meet was sponsored by the NAS Prop and Rib Smashers. The meet ran throughout the day and a large crowd was on hand to watch the various events.

Mulholland, dogged by an engine failure and landing his plane in the lake came through with a winning single channel score of 73 and a double channel score of 80 from the judges.

Second position in the single competition was won by James H. Snow of Orlando and third place honors went to Sam Benjamin of Sanford.

Thirty-five boys competed in the events.

Approximately 4,000 persons visited the base during the day long open house activities.

Various exhibits were on display including a demonstration of firefighting and rescue operations by the NAS fire and crash crew; a mock assault by NAS Marines and a simulated rescue of a man from a life raft.

Visitors to the base were welcomed by NAS commander Capt. Robert Slye.

Bugs Beware!

The spray fogging of the city's streets and alleys started Monday and will continue for the next seven days, City Manager Knowles said.

The east side of the city will be sprayed today, he added.

The fogging process, used to reduce the supply of mosquitoes and gnats in the city will start at 4:30 p. m. daily and continue through midnight.

Parents are urged not to allow their children to follow behind the fog, as the nozzle used to spray becomes extremely hot and children are liable to receive "bad burns," the city manager warned.

The spraying will continue until the entire city has been covered and then will resume again in about a month.

UN Rejects Red Demands

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The U. N. Security Council today rejected Soviet Russia's demand to condemn the United States for its spy flights over Russia.

The vote was 7-2 with Ceylon and Tunisia abstaining. Russia lost out in its bid to brand the United States an aggressor after U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told

Red Demonstrators Riot In Tokyo; March On Embassy

TOKYO (UPI) — Tens of thousands of leftist demonstrators besieged Premier Nobusuke Kishi in the Parliament building for more than 12 hours today, attacked police with rocks and marched on the American embassy screaming against Eisenhower's planned visit.

More than 1,000 policemen massed in front of the main gate of the embassy to black any attempt to smash into the embassy compound. The demonstrators didn't try, instead they snarled and yelled anti-Eisenhower slogans.

The leftwing opponents of the N. S. - Japanese security treaty using Communist Party sound trucks, shouted demands of "Kishi resign" and for Eisenhower to cancel his June visit.

After passing the American embassy the huge throngs began screaming toward Tokyo's main railway station many blocks away to disperse and board commuter trains that would take them home. More than 100,000 had thronged.

Kishi remained in his office and looked nervously out the window from time to time as a roar swelled up from the crowd.

The students outside yelled for Eisenhower to stay home and for Kishi to scrap the defense alliance. He had no intention of doing so.

Sometimes around 11 p. m. Kishi slipped out of the building safely. The remaining students, frustrated by the unopposed departure, left the area and disbanded.

The students had stoned police when they found they could not break through the cordon.

School Addition Bid Is Awarded

Carroll Daniel Construction Co.'s low bid of $30,896 for the addition to Rosewald Elementary School was accepted today by members of the Seminole County School Board.

Construction is expected to begin immediately and will be completed before the start of the fall term this September.

In other action the board tentatively approved the American scenic Co. Greenville, S. C., bid of $4,961.34 for the installation of stage curtains in seven county schools.

The curtains will be installed at South Seminole, Longwood, Lake Mary, two Oviedo, Midway and Rosewald elementary schools.

Bryant Plans Statewide 'Thank You' Work Tours

OCALA (UPI) — Ferris Bryant, Democratic nominee for governor, plans two statewide tours between now and his January inauguration.

The Ocala lawyer said one would be a "Thank You" tour and the other a "Work Tour" unprecedented in Florida history.

"I don't know of any governor who has done anything like this," Bryant said. "Preparation has been the keynotes of my life and I want to be prepared for this job."

Bryant, who beat Doyle E. Carlton Jr. by more than 90,000 votes in Tuesday's runoff, said he planned to talk to city and county officials, engineers, his supporters and "even people who opposed Bryant if they've expressed his interest."

Orlando Woman Killed In Mishap

A 33-year-old Orlando woman was killed Wednesday night when she apparently ran a stop sign at the intersection of SR 434 and Hwy. 17-82, the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Clara Louise Holt died of severe head wounds less than two hours after the accident happened on the rain slicked highway, Bill Stringfield, investigating officer said.

Stringfield reported that Mrs. Holt hit the side of a tractor trailer truck at approximately 8:05 p. m. Stringfield said the truck, operated by Edward Shalinski, of Savannah, Ga., was heading south when the car "slammed into the vehicle."

No charges have been filed against Shalinski, Stringfield said.

Modernize Army, Congress Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) urged Congress today to vote 800 million dollars to modernize the Army because of "the bellicose Soviet response to the U-2 incident."

Both Jackson and Sen. Frank E. Moss (D-Utah), in appearance before the Senate defense appropriations subcommittee, asked for restoration of 294 million deleted by the House for the Bomarc-B anti-aircraft missile.

The measure was tentatively approved Tuesday after attempts to boost and cut the spending total failed.

Chile Quake Toll At 5,000

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — President Jorge Alessandri instituted price controls today to prevent profiteering in quake-damaged areas.

Recurrent earth tremors and tidal waves were reported in the disaster area Wednesday, but the only new casualties reported were 20 seamen lost in the sinking of a tug.

Eruptions of varying force were reported from at least nine volcanoes in the southern mountains — two of them formed this week — but no casualties or damage were anticipated.

Reports of a "cataclysmic" earthquake near Chile's southern tip inspired tidal-wave alerts in Hawaii, New Zealand and Australia. A check indicated, however, the effects of the aftershock probably would be purely local.

A UPI compilation of reports from various communities affected by the disaster placed the known toll so far as 5,125 persons dead or missing.

The latest government figure listed 1,850 dead, 2,508 missing and 666 injured, most of them seriously.

Bad weather and inadequate airstrips made air supply difficult but U. S. embassy planes did succeed Wednesday in reaching Concepcion and Santiago with loads of relief supplies.
