The bill providing for the work, and he has decided to finish the Sanford schools before looking after the rural schools.

Inasmuch as the form provided by the state Board of Health contains certain data which could not be accurately obtained from the school children in the lower grades, Dr. Miller requested Dr. J. Y. Potter, State Health Officer, to issue a form which will be furnished to the schools to be filled out at the time of the inspection.

The purpose of the law is to secure accurate data regarding the health of the children, and to determine the cause of any disease which may be prevalent among them.

It is expected that the inspection will be completed by the end of the month, and that the results will be reported to the state Board of Health.

Bones of a Prehistoric Animal Found in St. Johns River

The boys pulling nets for J. E. Vincent found some more of the bones of the prehistoric animal in the bed of the St. Johns river near Ft. Florida last Saturday and brought them to The Herald office.

Those bones have created considerable comment and many of the citizens think that if the Smithsonian Institute could be consulted about the matter they would send a representative here to make a search of the St. Johns river at this same spot and unearth the head and other parts of the animal.

Just how long these bones have been buried in the river none but a scientist could tell and the find would tell a most interesting story.

The find of the bones was made by the boys pulling nets for J. E. Vincent, who is a well known fisherman in the St. Johns river.

It is expected that the bones will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute for further study.

FIRST HEALTH BOARD TRAIN FOR FLORIDA

THE STATE BOARD SENDS DEMONSTRATION CARS THROUGH STATE

Florida's "Health Train" is no longer a dream but an actuality. The present week marks the date of its initial journey through the state on its mission of education to better living, to better health through better sanitation and the prevention of disease.

The realization of this ambition of the State Board of Health, by which it may increase its efficiency and usefulness has come after almost infinite effort. It has been provided and equipped without special appropriation of state funds, and its operation will not add a single cent to the burden resting on the taxpayers of Florida.

The first trip began at Jacksonville Monday morning with the first stop at St. Augustine. The next was at Miami and the third at Key West. The return will be made next week at the various stops and the subsequent itineraries will be arranged later.

I see many boys and dogs chasing our pet squirrels over the city and I would call the attention of the officers to this fact. Several public spirited citizens have donated those squirrels to the city and they should be protected in the parks and streets. They should not be harried in any manner but allowed to live in peace and have their homes in the beautiful oak trees unblemished by man or dog.

I note that the office of clerk of the circuit court is attracting some attention and D. L. Thrasher and J. K. Mettinger have announced that they would like to wear the ermine of E. A. Douglass. As yet Mr. Douglass has not officially announced but I suppose he wants the office for one term at least, as few other holders care to retire on such short notice. This little three cornered race will be a very pretty one for all of the gentlemen believe in a quiet campaign and if we can get them on the stump at some of the big meetings there will be something doing.

TRICKED BY A RUSE

British Cruiser, Masked, Sinks German Submarine.

Superstructure of Supposed Merchant man Collapses, Revealing Big Gun by Which Submarine Is Sent to the Bottom.

New York—The latest ruse adopted by the British navy to sweep the seas of the German submarines was related by Mr. Frank F. Boulton, who was a passenger on board the Noordam of the Holland American line. Mr. Boulton received his information from Captain Anderson of the Norwegian steamship Vitalla, who asserted that he witnessed the destruction of a U-boat by a British cruiser.

According to the Norwegian captain, Mr. Boulton said, several of the British light cruisers have been disguised as merchantmen, with false funnels and superstructure.

The Vitalla was in the channel when she saw a merchant vessel, flying the British flag, stopped a short distance from her by a submarine. The submarine, awash, ran close to the British vessel, and her conning tower opened. The German hailed the merchantman when through their glasses the Vitalla's captain saw the superstructure of the British vessel suddenly collapse, revealing a large gun. The next instant the gun was fired, blowing the submarine's conning tower away, and the U-boat sank in a swirl of frothing water. The commander of the submarine and one other man were saved by the English vessel, the Norwegian captain said.

the winter season. A slouchy looking officer is a bad advertisement for the city and all of the force ought to have the proper "front." They should not be allowed to smoke pipes or stop too long on one corner, or travel in pairs. They should take special care of the strangers, answer all questions courteously, be informed about the city and county and state and do many things that seemingly are not their duty and yet, make a good impression on the stranger. Our police force is one of our city's assets and should be right up to the handle all the time.

Even in the midst of the terrible strife in Europe grim humor creeps in as witness the following.

A young American artist, recently returned from the trenches in Belgium, relates the following amusing little incident.

One cold morning a sign was posted up above the German trench facing ours, only about fifty yards away, which bore in large letters the words:

"GOTT MIT UNS!"

One of our cockney lads, more at a pattern than a poet, stood at the trench for a moment and then he thought it was a good idea to write a reply to it.

He wrote the following and it was sent to the trench in a shell.

"We shall be with you in a few days."

The German officer who received the message read it and said:

"That's all right, but we shall have to wait a while."

The British officer who wrote the message read it and said:

AMONG FARMERS

Uniformity in Hogs Pays

A lot of folks will tell you that a hog is a hog regardless of breed and that they are all about the same under the hair and skin. That may be true inasmuch as the hog is concerned, but it does not apply to the market. Even where the pigs have been fattened under the same conditions and will grade the same in weight uniformity of breed means a greater profit and a higher selling price.

Men experienced in marketing livestock have been urging the farmers of a given community to decide on a given breed of hogs and produce it exclusively. Some farmers cannot see why each cannot produce the breed he likes best. He can, but in doing so he sacrifices from 1/2 to 1 cent a pound unless he can ship in carload lots and few can produce enough to do that.

Bradford Knapp of the United States Department of Agriculture cited a case in point in a recent lecture at the University of Florida. A demonstration agent in Louisiana asked the farmers to raise a uniform breed of hogs. They refused. Then he proposed a shipping experiment. He found by canvass that about 60 per cent of the hogs raised in the county were Poland Chinas, committee was appointed and they selected half a car of Poland Chinas and half a car of mixed breeds consisting of one-third each of Poland Chinas, Duroc Jerseys and Berkshires. The hogs weighed about the same. The car was accompanied the car to market. It was found that the half car of Poland Chinas brought 6 cents a pound while the mixed car brought only 5 cents.

The farmers were told that if they would raise a uniform breed they could get a higher price for their hogs.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED IMMEDIATELY

J. S. MCGEE, PRINCIPAL, DEPT. MGR.

WILSON & JOHNSON FERTILIZER COMPANY

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

QUESTION: Please advise if you know of something that will kill moles. I have a beautiful lawn of St. Augustine grass and they are doing me a great deal of harm.

ANSWER: The control of moles is very difficult indeed and there has been no reliable remedy yet. The best way to get rid of them is to dig them out and kill them.

QUESTION: I note you advise against tilling land for Irish potatoes because it can be so easily infested with the most smothered crop you ever saw on land and you that had been given three tons ground limestone per acre.

ANSWER: There is a difference between causing soil to induce it. Lime in any form that will sweeten the soil induces the growth of the scab fungus. This fungus is a tiny plant and can no more grow without a start than the potatoes could grow without either seed or eyes. Your experience simply shows there was no fungus germs present. Had there been they would have multiplied rapidly. We advise keeping potato soil slightly acid because it is most exceptional when there is not at least a little scab present either in the soil or on the potatoes planted.

QUESTION: What do you mean by having land "properly plowed?"

ANSWER: The work should be done at the right time when the soil is neither too wet nor too dry and before a rainy season so as to conserve the water content. The plow should be run as deep as the surface soil allows. Do not cut into the subsoil more than an inch except when you have a disk plow and there is a good crop of vegetable matter to be worked in. As to whether subsoiling is advisable depends upon the subsoil and the crop to be raised. Do not "plow and cover." In other words, be thorough and stir all your soil, not half or two-thirds of it. Plow at different depths each year, especially in heavy land, to prevent forming a "plow sole."

QUESTION: Which do you advise for a good spray for powder or paste for control of insects?

ANSWER: By all means advise the use of paste for liquid sprays, though a great many use the powder and then almost invariably complain that the spray was not as effective as it should be. This is particularly true in the case of Bordeaux sprays, as the Bordeaux mixture is only about 40 per cent as effective as Bordeaux mixture paste, this according to careful experiments carried on by the United States government and the states of Maine, Vermont and New York.

Among the Methodists

Monday night Mrs. Zob Ratliff entertained the Epworth League at her home on Magnolia avenue. Miss Nellie Elmer, elected president, as Miss Luella Chappell resigned, preparatory to entering a college at Tallahassee.

Ways and means for encouraging the Epworth League spirit were discussed also many other phases concerning their work. They are an enthusiastic corps of young people. At the close a program was rendered and a social played, after which most delicious refreshments were served.

The Workers' Council of the Methodist Sunday school met at the parsonage Tuesday night in its regular business session with the superintendent in the chair.

Among other business some new officers were filled and committees appointed for taking care of our rapidly increasing membership. The most important transaction of the evening was a decision to purchase a piano for the Sunday school and committees were appointed for selecting and purchasing the same.

The council was fortunate in having present with them for consultation in settling nifty questions Dr. W. J. Carpenter of Jacksonville.

The council voted to hold their meetings at the church every Wednesday night at 6:30 with following order of business:

- First serving of supper. Workers' council. Superintendent's conference. Prayer meeting. A full attendance is urged. The day after tomorrow the study circle which is under the direction of Mrs. H. V. Perry, third vice president of the Missionary Society was delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. D. Jenkins at her home on French avenue. This was the initial meeting of Mr. Perry's fourth year as director of this department. The regular lesson for the month was read in the usual manner.

Mr. Perry, touching on the lesson thought and the reading of the lesson, which was the closing chapter of the New Testament, a question drill upon the entire book closed that part of the evening. The members then took charge of the meeting and promoted good fellowship and confidence by serving fruit cake, coffee and New England sponge with whip cream and pineapple. A fitting souvenir of the evening was a Study Circle book, made of water color paper tied with pink ribbon, with the following: "What shall I wish for thee this year?"

Health, wealth and prosperity, good cheer, all yours, if you heed my words. N. J. only this. That God may lead thee His own way. That He may choose thy path each day. Let this prayer be thine. How soon I'll be thy guide. W. J. Frazier. 40-1f

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS... A RESUME OF SANFORD HAPPENINGS UP TO DATE. Address all Communications for this Column to "Society Editor," or Phone Mrs. R. A. Tolson, Phone No. 203

For Auld Lang Syne. Mrs. Thomas A. Neal entertained on Saturday with a charming and beautiful bridge luncheon at which the guests were girlhood friends of the hostess, most of them being from out of town.

Under the skillful and artistic arrangement of Mills and Nunnally, prominent florists of Jacksonville the pretty home was transformed into a bower of pink loveliness, an exquisite setting for the attractive women gathered together for this occasion.

Fragrant pink sweet peas and roses were used lavishly in the decorations of rooms and table, while hand painted place cards and score cards suggested the color scheme and flower chosen for adornment. Sweet peas and maidenhair fern featured the appointments while a lovely enamel basket tied with a big bow of pink tulle and artistically filled with sweet peas and ferns graced the center of the table.

The favors were corsage bows of the same exquisite flowers, while the place cards contained little verses appropriate to the occasion. With a background of beautiful ferns, pink hibiscus were used in the library and roses in the reception hall. Bridge was played during the afternoon hours, with Mrs. Margaret Barnes winning the prize, a pink shoe tree.

BAT NELSON WON'T ADMIT HE'S THROUGH

Oscar Matthew Nelson.

Bat Nelson isn't the same old durable Dan he used to be; there's no denying that. Twenty years of wear and tear of the sort the Hegewach landowner has been going through would batter down the most staunch of constitutions. But the battler isn't what you'd call dilapidated even with those years of punishment. He's still able to fall those Danish arms, and the old description of the Dane, "He's fighting every minute," still is applicable.

The career of Oscar Matthew Nelson is one of the most picturesque in ring history. The old boy has been fighting since 1895. He made his real debut in Kansas City against Clarence English. Jim Blake saw it and he'll tell you that English punished the novice to a frazzle. But Nelson had the heart. He didn't care how fast Clarence's blows came. He took 'em all and was there at the finish. And with that heart as his entire stock he set out to make a record.

That heart carried Bat Nelson to a championship, and it held that title for him until along came Ad Wolgast. Bat won't admit even now that the Michigan Dutchman gave him a beating in 1910, but Referee Ed Smith thought so and stopped the fighting, giving Wolgast a technical knockout and the championship. Bat the Dane's fight career did not stop with that defeat. His heart was still with him.

He has kept right on fighting with one object in view. He wants that title back—not for what it's worth in gold, but to redeem himself.

Bat says he doesn't care about the financial end of the game any more. That's a bosh, of course. He does like that old per cent. But a talk with him will convince you that money isn't all he's after. He is in earnest about regaining the championship.

LACK INTEREST IN BREEDING

Man Who Is Responsible for Greatest Sport in World Falling Into Decay in America.

The man who goes out to the race track bets on a horse and shows no interest in the breeding, even if his favorite wins, is of no use to the sport, or of any assistance to the breeding industry and does not love a horse.

That in a nutshell expresses the views of Robert S. Sievier, the famous English horseman now visiting America for the purpose of acquainting himself with the methods of American stud farms and the future of racing as a sport.

"Moreover," explained Mr. Sievier, "the kind of man I mention is the one who is responsible for the greatest sport in the world falling into decay in America. A person who is not interested in the breeding of horses has no real interest at a race meet. He is merely a gambler."

"By that I do not mean to say that men ought not to bet on horse races. Men always have bet on their favorite horses and always will. Without this element the sport would lose much of its zest, but betting should be paramount. Interest in breeding is what denotes a true lover of the horse."

SEEK GOTCH AS IOWA COACH
Famous Wrestling Champion Wanted by University Squad—Athletic Board Is Hopeful.

Frank Gotch, Iowa's famous wrestling star, may become the coach of the Iowa university wrestling squad. The university athletic board is in communication with the Humboldt Hercules, and the local officials think they will be able to secure the big man's signature to a contract for the coming season.

Not Boasting of Year 1915.
There are a few persons who will not boast of the year 1915—John McGraw, Connie Mack, Francis Oulmet, Jerome Traversa, Chick Evans, Maurice McLoughlin and R. Norris Williams.

August Herrman is going to make another effort to bring peace out of the present warfare between the Feds and organized ball.

The president of the International League says there is a lean year ahead of ball players. There are several behind some magnates.

Some major clubs will not send scouts to the high school season. Probably because there are enough bush leaguers in the majors.

There is a man in Pittsburgh, sixty-seven years old who still plays baseball. Joe Cantillon ought to land him quick for his Minneapolis team.

Judging from experience of Mike Fing and Iris Lord, the man who goes to Memphis as manager should not move his household furniture with him. One season is the length of his stay.

Whenever the great Epsom carnival comes round, sportsmen, young and old, talk about the Snowdon Derby when Hermit starting at 2 to 1 against, owing to a report that he was lame, won for Mr. Henry Chapin, netting him a fortune. Daley, the jockey who rode the successful animal, received a present of £1,000 from the owner, and the victory won a long way toward erasing the plunging memories of Hastings.

As to drama, what could be more tragic than the action of that famous sportsman, Lord George Bentinck, Lord George after spending a lifetime attempting to win the Derby, sold all his horses in disgust for a total sum of £10,000 down and retired from the turf with his ambition unattained.

Included in the sold racers was Surplice, who ironically enough, carried off the Derby in 1848. Afterward Surplice also won the St. Leger, and a few days later Lord George Bentinck was found dead on his estate at Welbeck.

When Bend Or won the blue ribbon for the duke of Westminster the winner was immediately offered to the two who had been changed when foals there was a tremendous amount of excitement, as fabulous sums were offered, but after interminable conversation, the stud farms upward, the authorities decided in favor of Bend Or. The latter afterward became additionally famous as the sire of the celebrated Ormonde.

A few days ago the boys were speculating on the possibility of obtaining a dollar and incidentally on the expenditure of it.
"If I had a dollar I'd buy 50 cents worth for mother, a quarter's worth for dad and a quarter's worth for sister," said Joe.
Louis looked thoughtful.
"What would you do if you had a dollar, Louis?" questioned Joe.
"If I had a dollar, I'd buy it first changed into halves, then quarters."

"Then into dimes, then nickels, then pennies."
"Well?"
"And in the meantime, if anybody made a mistake, it would be me," explained Joe.—Indianapolis News.

FAMOUS DERBY RACES

EXTRAORDINARY INCIDENTS AT WORLD-FAMOUS TRACK.

Ambition of Every Sportsman Interested in Game Is to Win Great Contest—Lord George Bentinck's Sore Disappointment.

Since S. Arnulf rode Diomed to victory in the English Derby in 1780 some extraordinary incidents have occurred in connection with this world famous race, to win which princes and peers have sacrificed fortunes without success, says a writer in London Answern.

Time was when the house of commons was wont to adjourn on Derby day, so that our jaded legislators could run down and bask in the breeze which blew over Epsom Downs. Again, when the great Crimean war was raging, parliament ordered that the result of the race should be included in general orders.

From time immemorial the Derby has been marked by sensations. On three occasions, for example, horses starting at the forlorn odds of 100 to 1 against have captured the classic prize. Jeddah, in 1898; Signorinetta ten years later, and Aboyer, two years ago, were their names, and their performances recall others which will stand out prominent in turf history for all time.

In 1913, one remembers, the race was doubly memorable. There was the terrible episode of the suffragette, who sacrificed her life in a vain attempt to stop the horse, whilst, as a kind of anticlimax, came the disqualification of Craxanour after finishing first. Last year we had the memorable scratching of the Tetrach, the quaintly-colored animal of the rocking-horse type, of whom such great things were expected.

Whenever the great Epsom carnival comes round, sportsmen, young and old, talk about the Snowdon Derby when Hermit starting at 2 to 1 against, owing to a report that he was lame, won for Mr. Henry Chapin, netting him a fortune. Why Hindu Poet Avoids Japan.
A traveler returned from India to Japan, according to the East and West News, tells why Sir Rabindranath Tagore gave up his proposed visit to the land of the Rising Sun. First he says because the Hindu poet, like other poets, changes his mind frequently, second, because his tenants are suffering from want of food; third, he has become increased at a "Japanese who abused Tagore's confidence, pretending to be an admirer of the poet's most refined works and all the while insidiously added to London must-halves some. He sines for hours in private, the poet is reported to have said, with a withering expression of scorn, "what he calls 'Tippulaly'!"

Instinctive Utterance.
"Did the failure of women to get the vote in your state change views in favor of a feminine ballot?"
"Not a bit of it. It convinced me that my wife is naturally qualified for the vote. As soon as the returns were in she began to say 'Fraud' like a regular veteran in politics."

Hint for Mother.
A gate between two rooms has proved a blessing, no mother it is fastened in the doorway between the nursery and mother's room. There are times when the mother likes to wash the children without being bothered by them. Often sewing or writing may be done more easily with the gate between the mother and the little one.

Elusive Hubby.

For the Children

A Doll Fruit Vender at Soldiers' Toyland.

Each a varied and unique display of dolls and toys probably has never before been seen in this country as that on exhibition in New York city. It is held under the auspices of the Lafayette fund and the proceeds are to be used to finance for the benefit of the war sufferers. Many French artists have contributed their best skill to the exhibition and have produced some charming pictures. Besides the thousands of individual dolls, there are historical scenes and representations of French everyday life all worked out with delicate correct costumes and settings. One scene, a portion of which is here illustrated, is an exact reproduction of a French market in miniature. In this scene is shown a fruit and vegetable vender. On the stand in front of her are displayed her wares, such as they are, in the last detail. At the bottom of the scene, resting on the ground is a bag of fine potatoes, each one a work of art, made by painstakingly painting each one in size of the potato.

The name of latest news is very important and well created today of news. It is a trade or profession which is supplied with a regular supply of news which she is requested to read and some of them of news. When she reads and looks at one of them she never must at once again to come to keep up with her news. The effect will be something like this:

"Fire on the Mountain"

In this game there are two rings of flowers, one outside the other. The players forming the inner ring sit down and those in the outer ring stand behind them, though there is a small wide space between them. A single pinner stands behind the mountain. Run run run in the outside then you get behind as fast as they can, the rest of the game and the running is continued to the one in the center cries "Stop."

Then everybody, including the single pinner tries to find a place behind one of the inner ring, and the boy or girl who is left out must take his or her turn in the center.

The Cat's Tongue.

A cat can quickly empty a saucer of milk because at every swift dart of her flexible little tongue the tip of it curls up as it enters the fluid and draws it back into her mouth. Her tough haired tongue, like a little ste. enables her to get every particle of food from a saucer by licking it. It is a very interesting fact that the cat's tongue is a wash rag too, with which she cleans her long and elaborate toilet.

The Elves' Rugs.

The elves are in the grasses. The leaves of gold and brown. Of dusty green and crimson. I saw them fluttering down.

The elves from the tree tops. There were in their garments bright. They danced for the elves of the grasses. They reflected the dancing light.

The elves have given their ruglets. To the Mother Earth from the snow. Warning the seeds in her bosom. So when spring comes we'll see them grow.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Kitchen Chair Converted Into Seat For a Child.

Where a high chair is not at hand or available an ordinary solid bottom kitchen chair can be used instead. If rigged up as shown in the illustration says Popular Mechanics. The chair is reversed, and the back is used as one support, while two pieces of wood fastened to the sides form the other. A seat board is fastened to the upper side rounds and a table board to the two lower side rounds. A small piece is nailed to the two back posts for a back.

Vegetable Turkey.

Stock overnight two cups of pea beans, drain and cover with cold water and simmer slowly for the hour and a half. Drain, saving this water for soup stock. Rub the beans through a colander. Season with one-quarter cupful of butter, a little cream salt and pepper. Place half the mixture in a shallow pan, pressing it flat. Cover with a lid and with two layers of paper. Bake in a 350 degree oven for one hour. Turn over with a fork, and serve with a moderate oven. It is a good thing often with melted butter, and serve hot with sauce.

As they are done lay them on a napkin to absorb the surplus fat. Serve with roast chicken.

Pork Cake.

Put one cupful of salt pork through fine cutter of meat grinder. Pour over this one cupful of hot water. Stir well to blend. Add two cupfuls of molasses. Press one two cupfuls of soda in one half cupful of hot water. Add one half teaspoonful each of all spice, nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon. Add one cupful of raisins and one of currants or any other fruit you prefer. Add about four cupfuls of flour. This makes two loaves and will keep for weeks.

Lemon Pie.

Make a rich crust and cover a pie tin, then bake, pricking to prevent bubbles. Stir into a teaspoonful of sugar a tablespoonful of butter, pour slowly into a teaspoonful of brisely boiling water and cook ten minutes, add a well beaten egg, the juice of a large lemon and a very little of the grated peel. When partly cold fill the baked crust and cover liberally with powdered sugar.

Glass Polisher.

Cut five six inch squares of muslin, sprinkle a little fine pumice powder in them and pile them one on the other. Stitch round the edges in order to prevent the powder from falling out. Wind down, lamp glasses, etc., rubbed with this cloth will speedily become clear and bright. If carefully handled it can be used for a long time before the powder will need renewing.

Potato Fried Cakes.

To two cupfuls of hot mashed potatoes add two tablespoonfuls of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, three well beaten eggs, one cupful of sweet milk, two heaping tablespoonfuls of baking powder sifted with two cupfuls of flour. Add as much more flour as needed to make a dough to roll and cut out and fry like any doughnuts.

Mutton Haricot.

Have three pounds of breast of mutton cut in two inch squares. Wipe clean and roll in seasoned flour. In the bottom of your iron kettle put one pint of dried lima beans that have been soaked overnight. On top of the beans place two small onions, then lay the meat on top of all. Bake three hours.—Country Gentleman.

That Deadly Room

Recently a furnisher and decorator was called upon to refurnish a room that had been redecorated and refurnished. It was a sitting room in the home of a trim middle aged woman. Everything in the room was tastefully furnished. The furniture was of the rugs well chosen, the draperies and wall paper correct. Yet there seemed to be something wrong about that room.

The housewife felt it, but it took several minutes' puzzling before the expert realized that what gave to the place its suggestion of stiffness and closely approaching real discomfort was that it totally lacked coziness.

It had the deadliness of a room that is never actually lived in. It was entirely lacking in personal touch. There was nothing to bespeak the taste, habits or character of her who dwelt in it.

If it had only had a cushion among the others that looked as though it might have been worked by the fingers of a friend, if there had been a rack of magazines or a table with some favorite book open face down upon it—if there had been a musical instrument or a set of golf sticks in the corner or a bit of sewing or even a bird or a box of ferns some spirit might have breathed into it.

But as it was, in spite of the fact that it was furnished as well as expensively furnished, it was as lifeless as a way by figure well coiffed and Paris gowned smiling a stuck on smile from behind the plate glass of some store show window.

Among the extras that are most desirable additions to a sense of comfort at the home are a variety of small tables. Haphazardly a room is cheerfully settled with a table here and one small table there. The table is not a table, but a table, and the table is not a table, but a table, and the table is not a table, but a table.

It is a table, and the table is not a table, but a table, and the table is not a table, but a table, and the table is not a table, but a table.

TO MARK GRAVE OF POE

In almost every walk of life, from those high up in the councils of the government to the very lowest laborer who earns his living by the sweat of the brow, the stories by Edgar Allan Poe have thrilled the hearts of countless readers. Great as this American author has become since his death, his remains lie in an obscure little cemetery on Fayette street in the city of Baltimore, Md.

Virginia Pearson, an actress of prominence, has taken upon herself the organization of a campaign to raise a monument to the author of the most beloved grave of the great author.

Miss Pearson finds time from the arduous duties of her profession to study the lives and habits of the various animals of the zoo, and very often she can be found as the curator of the Central Park Zoo, with the children of Central Park, N. Y., on the most intimate terms with the four-footed animals.

Several months ago Miss Hoelt purchased a tract of land east of this city. On the tract was a fair sized residence. A few days ago Miss Hoelt visited her property and found the house had disappeared.

There was no indication that it had been destroyed by fire, so the sheriff was notified and a search was instituted. The missing house was found on Johnson's ranch near Marsda sawmill.

He admitted to the officers he had torn the house down and had removed it piece by piece to his own property, where he rebuilt it. He stated he is not in a position to return the house to Miss Hoelt's property.

Man Sent to Jail for Larceny Can Now Have Beat of Lawyers to Defend Him.

Sapulpa, Okla.—Luther Huff, who is now serving 20 days sentence in the Creek county jail for larceny, has received word that a bachelor uncle, named Gilmore, in Broad City, N. M., has died and left him a ranch and herd of cattle, valued at $31,000.

When Huff was tried a lawyer had to be appointed to defend him, but now lawyers are flocking to volunteer their services to get him out of jail.

Huff's wife, who left him when he went to jail, is ready to live with him again and he is already drawing up a paper to put money in trust for his son's education.

Entire Defenses of City of Beloit, Wis., Are Destroyed by Vandals.

Beloit, Wis.—If the United States is thinking about declaring war, Beloit wants the powers that be to wait awhile until the city is prepared. The entire defenses of the city have been destroyed by vandals.

Boys have been using the cannon in the city park as a place to play and the paint has been rubbed off. The ammunition—three cannon balls which had been placed in a nice little heap beside the gun—has been carried away by souvenir hunters.

Yes, Beloit would be in a terrible state of unpreparedness right now if war should be declared.

GATES TO BLACK SEA

IMPORTANT POINTS WHICH ARE MAKING HISTORY TODAY.

May Again Determine the Future of Europe, as They Have Done in Gigantic Conflicts of the Past.

With the northwestern battle theater of the Turks proclaimed by the war prophets as that where the deciding master strokes in this most titanic of all struggles are to be delivered, a sketch of this remarkable region's past prepared by Harry Griswold Dwight for the National Geographic society is of more than usual interest. Here the West won its self confidence, and this confidence has borne fruits with splendid richness for longer than 2,000 years. Here the course of civilization has been changed and modified several times, and here again today the attention of the world is fixed in the belief that the future of Europe will once more be determined by events about to transpire. In the bulletin issued by the National Geographic society Mr. Dwight tells about The Gates to the Black Sea.

"There is something alluring in the very shape and position of these lakes—the Black sea and the Sea of Marmora—separating as they do the two most historic continents of our globe and communicating with each other and with the outer seas by openings that seem miraculous. And those landlocked waters have been from earliest times as they happen again to be today, the theater of epic events. For us of the West no legends are older than those of Zeus and Io, of Phryxus and Helle, of the Trojan war, of Jason and the Argo, which commemorate the earliest voyage into the Great Lakes of the Levant.

of the two the Marmora, the Propontis, if you prefer to be classical, is by far the smaller. Not much more than 70 miles long and some 40 miles across at its broadest part it is about the same size as Lake Champlain. The Marmora has much of the softness of our streams, of color and beauty of scenery that we associate with the Arabian and Indian seas. Thread the narrow strait of the Bosphorus, however, and you are in a world of a different world, a world of a different color.

If the Marmora may be compared to Lake Champlain the Black sea is about four times the size of our great lake. Lake Superior is 410 miles long, the Black sea is 1,100 miles long.

has a length of 750 miles and a breadth of 385. That there is something dark and unfriendly about it is more than a legend.

"At the moment at which I write the fleets of France and England are hammering at the historic gateway. Thus the question of the Black sea, which is the ancient question of the straits is posed anew, more dramatically than ever before. Is it for a final solution? No solution can be found, the writer concludes, which will give any one nation an absolute right of control over the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles."

Zeppelin Bombs.

There are many different kinds of bombs dropped from Zeppelins and aircraft. They are divided into two main classes—explosive and incendiary bombs. The explosive ones are divided again into those dropped with no initial velocity, and those propelled with high initial velocity in somewhat the same way as a bullet is propelled from a gun. The first kind of explosive bomb is more used than the second, and explodes upon hitting the ground. In an article on the "Zeppelin Question," by Mr. Prade, published in translation in the Scientific American for April 3, 1915, it is stated that nowhere have bombs been found weighing more than 49 kilos (108 pounds). "This was the weight," says Mr. Prade, "of the bomb found intact at Yarmouth, N. S. Large naval dirigibles which appeared over the English coast certainly had not 1,000 kilos (2,204 pounds) of explosives on board, which is proved by the fact that they did not throw that number, as they would hardly have returned with any unbroken. From this Mr. Prade proves that the bombs do not weigh more than 50 kilos at most and that each Zeppelin carried at the most 20 bombs.

Undertaker's Note.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Sacred music at funeral services played on a phonograph for those who are unable to afford more expensive music is the latest innovation of the undertakers. One of the machines, with a program of sacred music, is now on hand in Walla Walla.

A Line of Defense.

The adjective beautiful, as applied to a woman, may tempt the indulgent eye of a man to look at her in a way that is not to his credit.

Optimistic Thought.

Do not get too much of any one thing.

TAMPA SHORT IS RESTORED TO SERVICE

TRAINS NO. 27 AND 28 BETWEEN SANFORD AND TAMPA TO RESUME

The Sanford Short Line to Tampa will be restored on January 17th, which will be good news to the traveling public. Trains Nos. 27 and 28 will be re-established for a period of three months and the train will probably leave Sanford at eight in the morning and return to Tampa at eight in the evening. These trains enabled people to stop over in Sanford all night and get out on the early train in the morning for all points south and west also a convenience for local people who wished to transact business in the south of Sanford before leaving and returning to Tampa in the morning. The exact date of the restoration has not been decided but it is expected to be on or about January 17th.

The Florida is still running on the old schedule but it is felt that the new schedule will be in effect by the first of the month.

Change in Auxiliary Committee. The Auxiliary Committee of the Five County Fair Association has chosen Mrs. W. P. Carter as chairman of the committee for the year 1916.

Mr. Hill at the helm there will undoubtedly be a nice line of cars in the automobile parade that opens the Fair on February 16th.

More Safety Deposit Boxes. The First National Bank is installing 1500 deposit boxes.

Volusia County Fair Drawing Near. Each day brings the date of Volusia county's first fair nearer.

WILL NOT TRAIN HERE

Ball Park Unsuitable and Colonels Will Not Come

The Louisville Base Ball team will not train in the south this season on account of the many changes that have been made in organized ball in the past few months.

The enclosure is entirely too small and the infield is being anything like sufficient clay to permit proper playing and training.

We deeply regret that conditions are such as to preclude our coming to Sanford as we expected.

We also wish to assure you that we have now abandoned altogether the idea of going to any other far southern point for our preliminary training as it is too late now to undertake other arrangements.

If the people of Sanford would like to have us come to their city for training in the spring of 1917, we would be very glad to take this matter up with you at the proper time.

Yours very respectfully, Louisville Athletic Association

SEMINOLE TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT BIG FAIR

COMMITTEE MEETS AND GETS DOWN TO THE BUSINESS OF EXHIBITS

Seminole county will have a first class exhibit at the Five County Fair in Orlando if the efforts of the fair committee are seconded by the growers of the county and others interested.

Mr. Berry was made secretary of the committee and will not only take an active part in getting up the exhibits but will also be on the ground at Orlando and assist in every way to make the exhibit the proudest and best that has ever been sent to the fair.

It was decided to place A. V. French in charge of the exhibit at Orlando and he will assist in looking after the exhibits here and with Messrs. Berry and French on the committee will be forthcoming in great shape. Aside from the magnificent vegetable display that Sanford can always have there will be live stock, hay and grain, poultry, fancy work, the exhibit of seed, fruit, floral, canned goods and preserves and many of the products of field and farm and grave.

Any one who has anything to exhibit should get it in shape right now for the fair, as there is just about thirty days in which to prepare. Information is obtainable at the Herald office, at the office of Chase & Co., or from A. V. French and C. M. Berry or I. A. Brumley.
