STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Aviation has been placed decidedly on the defensive in this country by the loss of sea-plane PN-9, No. 1, in the attempt to fly from San Francisco to Hawaii, by the failure of heavier-than-aircraft to accomplish the most important part of the MacMillan expedition's mission in the Arctic, and especially by the Shenandoah disaster.

The dirigible is far harder hit than the plane, so much so that it is quite likely a full stop has been put to its development in the United States, at any rate for the present.

Public confidence even in the plane certainly has been considerably shaken.

Not only were army and navy flyers looking forward hopefully to very kindly consideration of their plans by Congress next winter, but a strong movement was afoot in the interest of a government subsidy for commercial aviation.

The army and navy men may still get, more or less, what they want, but an extremely black eye has been dealt to the argument that airships have rendered surface fleets obsolete for sea warfare.

The subsidy advocates contend that an impetus simply cannot be given to commercial flying by any other means. The recent setbacks, however, have not improved their chances of convincing the national lawmakers of its desirability.

The possibility exists that two notable airmen will find their hands strengthened by what has been happening—Col. "Billy" Mitchell, who insists that aviation is being mismanaged by both army and navy and that a separate government department ought to be created for it, and Capt. James V. Martin, who maintains that American flying craft are not what they ought to be because a monopoly controls them and discourages improvements by independent inventors.

"It's a punishable offense," says

Capt. Martin, himself a veteran mariner, "to send a surface ship to sea without an adequate supply of fuel—not merely enough but a safe margin—for her port of destination. Yet this is just what was done with the PN-9 No. 1.

"For a 2000-mile voyage, she had, even theoretically, only a 200-mile margin of safety. It should have been at least a 1000-mile margin. Nor is this at all impossible. France has now and England is building planes with a 3500-mile range, carrying a 4000-pound load. This same type of plane, when offered to our government, was rejected."

The new treatment for torn flesh, cuts, wounds, sores or lacerations that is doing such wonderful work in flesh healing is the Borozone liquid and powder combination treatment. The liquid Borozone is a powerful antiseptic that purifies the wound of poisons and infectious germs, while the Borozone powder is the great healer. There is nothing like it on earth for speed, safety and efficiency. Price (liquid) 30c, 60c and $1.20. Powder 30c and 60c. Sold by Laney's Drug Store.

"Bicycles and saddle horses shall carry one lighted lamp which shall be so lighted as to throw a red light visible in the reverse direction from which said bicycle or saddle horse is traveling." Thus reads the terms of the ordinance, introduced by Alderman Donald S. McKinley of the nineteenth ward of Chicago.

Famous Italian Musical Master Dies In Tokyo

TOKYO, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Professor William Dubravich, Italian violinist and the first organizer of the symphony orchestra of the Imperial Court died recently at the Imperial University Hospital after an operation. He was 57 years old.

For 24 years Professor Dubravich had been in the service of the Imperial Household Department as instructor of the court musicians. He was studying music in Vienna when Count Makino, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, who was then Japanese Minister to Austria-Hungary, noticed his ability and recommended that he be made instructor of western music for the Imperial Household Department.

A movement among Japanese musicians for the erection of a monument in his honor has been started. Professor Dubravich had been decorated and raised to the rank of Chokunin.

Over $50,000,000 Now Being Spent On Improvements In America's Finest Suburb

INVESTORS in Coral Gables, Miami, Florida, are today realizing a steady enhancement in values resulting from the rapid execution of the huge development program. Many who sell are taking down fine profits. Others are holding for the still larger profits to come.

The progress of the program is surpassing all expectations. Less than three months ago announcement was made that $100,000,000 would be expended over a period of from five to eight years. And at that time conservative minds perhaps received the prediction with question.

Yet today the construction actually going on and far-seeing planned to meet the needs of the present year alone will total in cost over $50,000,000. One-half the entire amount announced for a five to eight year program is being spent right today.

Among the items on which this great sum is being expended are new hotels, apartment houses, more than one thousand additional homes, white-ways, water mains and landscaping. The largest street and sidewalk contract ever let in America also is included, calling for one hundred miles of new streets and two hundred miles of new sidewalks.

Early-day investors in Coral Gables property who already have taken down large profits are re-investing heavily, with an eye to future — and greater — profits resulting from this unparalleled development. There is no better time to invest than now — when this era of new development is beginning. A visit to Coral Gables will be the most convincing evidence of the investment opportunities open today — and such a visit can be made free of all transportation cost. fourth time that he had been caught, and that one time it cost him $13,000, and that he came back here broke, and he went to Mr. Lake and borrowed $5,000 to go on with his business. He did not say what business. He said that he still owed some $400, for which he had a note in the bank and which he sometimes paid interest on.

Asked For Statement Monday On Monday night, I believe, Chief Williams sent for me, or left word in the office to come down to the station, that they were after me for a statement of the case, and he talked as though he thought it was the police's business and he was not justified in making a statement right then, unless he had to do it.

Then I said, "If I catch some of these coming out on the street with a load of liquor, how about running down the car?" He said, "That is all right, but don't go around there any more."

So Chief Williams never jacked me up about being off my beat, and I consider Third Street my beat, and he had told us if we saw anything suspicious off our beat to go after it. He had never told me before to stay away from the Elks Club.

Told To Keep Out of Trouble But he did not tell me not to arrest him at the Elks Club. But then after the arrest of "SI" he told me the best thing I could do was to stay away from the Elks Club and keep out of trouble.

That is my statement. Now I would like to ask several questions. You stated to me yesterday, Mr. Lake, that I should have seen you before I resigned, that you put me on that job, and that I should have seen you. That seems to say, Mr. Lake, that you are really sort of head of the Police Department.

Walker: Have you been protecting this man in selling liquor. Lake: You know I have not, without asking me. Walker: Well, why has he not been caught before. Lake: I am not a policeman.

Walker: How about this statement that Smith made when he was caught once before, that he cost him $13,000 and he came here and borrowed $5,000 from you to go on and still owed you $400? Lake: He never borrowed as much as $13,000 from me.

Walker: Why didn't you tell me yesterday that he made that statement? Walker: I told you about the statement of Reginald Holly, Reginald Holly was there when he made the statement.

Chief Never Interfered Before. Walker: In all of the preceding days, Chief Williams has never interfered with my making arrests. And the only time that I would call it interference was when he told me to stay away from Elks Club and not to bother them any more.

Walker: Wouldn't you suppose that after I had made an arrest near the Elks Club and then they came to me the next night and told me to stay away from there, it was not co-operation.

Lake: That is for you to decide. I am going to ask Chief for his conversation later. And because Chief told you not to go around the Elks Club any more, you felt you were not getting co-operation of the police force.

Walker: In that, it was taking too much authority away from me. Lake: You told me yesterday that you were afraid they would pull some trick up on you.

Walker: That is one reason, and the other is that I was afraid something would be put over on me like the way Dyson was treated, one of the straightest, squarest men on the force.

Lake: Did you think Chief was going to put up any job on him. Walker: No, I don't believe Chief would or Mr. Lake, but SI Smith or some of his friends.

Lake: So you wanted to get out, and get out quick. Chief, what did you say to Walker. Chief Williams is Quizzed. Williams: SI Smith and Stokes found me on First Street and told me that Walker had him under arrest at the police station, and that he wanted to put up bond and get his car and leave the police station.

anyone. I always told them to do their duty, that I had no favorites, and to treat them all alike, regardless of who they were.

Walker: No, you never have told me not to arrest anyone, but to always do my duty and treat them all alike. Since I have been chief of police for the city of Sanford, I have never had any interference from the mayor or the city commission in doing my duty. They have always given me a free hand.

Lake: Has the mayor or any commissioner told you to give SI Smith or the Elks Club any special protection. Williams: No, I never have received any such orders.

Lake: Now about being called to the Elks Club. You were not there when he was brought in at the police station. Chief: No, I was not at the police station. That is why Mr. Lake was called to clear the case up.

Lake: I have been called several times before. Chief: Yes, sir. Lake: The reason I asked that question is that I want to bring out the fact you remember that negroes on several occasions have called me.

Chief: Mr. Lake has been called down there quite frequently. Walker: They had called for Mr. Lake before they came to the police station.

Chief: I don't know anything about that. Took Bottle of Liquor Home. Lake: Mr. Walker, just one question. I want to ask this, you said you had taken a bottle of liquor out and carried it home. Is that customary.

Walker: This was a complicated case. I have witnesses that I did take it and mark it there and carried it to the house. Dr. Marshall: Have you ever taken any whiskey home on any other occasion?

Walker: I never caught any one before, except one case, and he had a five gallon and a three gallon jug and I couldn't manage it. Chief: You brought the quart back after I went down to your house the next morning and told you that the case was coming up for trial, for you to return the quart of liquor or whatever you had to the police station.

Walker: Didn't I tell you this night after I had come back that I had taken the quart out and had taken it home, and would return it before the case was called? I told you also that I had it labeled. Bottle Had Name on Label.

Chief: The quart of liquor returned to the police station had a label with Mr. Walker's name on it. Walker: It said, "One quart of rye whiskey, one of 12 quarts found in Smith's car."

Chief: Yes. Lake: When the case was called for trial, how much was Smith's bond? Chief: Mr. Smith's bond was $200.

Lake: Have you ever had any other bonds like that? Chief: Yes, sir, that is a common occurrence. Lake: In other words, was Smith given the same treatment that any other man you catch with liquor in his possession or selling liquor?

Chief: Yes, sir. I accept bond from anybody who can put up the required sum of money. Walker: When was Smith's bond down there? Chief: The bond is on record. The money is in the city treasury, and I handled that case just like I would any other case.

Walker: Higgins, a bootlegger whom I caught, was put in jail and kept until cash bond was put up. Now I want to ask a question. When was this bond of Smith's put up? Chief: Didn't you call up Smith after the trial and tell him to send the money on down there at once?

Money Collected Before Court. Chief: I did not. That money was sent down there before court. Walker: One more question and then I am through with questions. Is it true Mr. Lake that you were invited or asked by a committee of citizens of this town, as mayor of this city, to clean out the Elks Club the way things were going on there?

Lake: No. Walker: Isn't it true that you said you would several times, and when a certain day the committee members said they were going down there themselves and clean it up, you cleaned it out yourself? Lake: No committee or anybody else reported to me about the Elks Club in an official manner. What political interference were they threatening you with? Believed Political Threat.

Noble County Gives Up Last Piece of Wreckage of Big Shenandoah; Farmer Makes $3,500 From Many Visitors

CALDWELL, O., Sept. 17.—(A)—Noble county Wednesday gave up its last traces of the navy dirigible, Shenandoah, wrecked two weeks ago on two isolated farms near here that suddenly sprang into the nation's limelight. The debris of the Shenandoah, including all salvaged parts and the wreckage, sold to the Aluminum Co. of America, Pittsburgh, loaded in eight cars and shipped away.

Three cars went to Lakehurst, N. J., as salvaged remnants, the other five went to Pittsburgh. The Niswonger Farm, east of Ava, where the greater part of the great ship came to earth, has been swept clean of everything that came as an aftermath of the ship's crash. The very ground has been swept with heavy brooms and the farm today is the same quiet, peaceful one that it was two weeks ago. There is no traffic up the narrow road that was jammed for an entire week.

Receipts Are Small. According to Lieut. Havill, in charge of the final cleanup, the receipts of the two land owners, on whose property the dirigible fell, is far short of that which had been reported. Niswonger collected $2,500 from persons who visited the scene of the wreckage, while Ernest Nichols at Sharon, where the ship's nose alighted, collected only slightly over $50.

Niswonger, according to Lieut. Havill, expects to file a large damage claim against the government while Nichols will take no action. Lieut. Havill and three other navy men who remained today to complete the work, left this evening for Lakehurst.

Souvenirs Recovered. WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 17.—(A)—In a series of raids on private homes and business establishments in Northern West Virginia and Eastern Ohio today, government agents recovered four truck loads of wreckage of the destroyed naval dirigible Shenandoah that had been carried away as souvenirs following the wreck of the ship near Ava.

The raids were made by twenty department of justice agents assisted by federal and state prohibition agents. Among the recovered articles, which were placed in the federal building here, were personal grips of several members of the ship's crew and a cap said to have been worn by Commander Zachary Lansdowne. No arrests were made.

WALKER: I would like to say that I have considered ever since I have been here that Mr. Lake is a friend of mine, as he had done me a favor in a little financial matter. I considered Chief Williams a friend, but when it comes to breaking of my solemn oath, which you might call a dishonor to myself and family, I feel under no further obligations, and I feel that I should come clean.

Chief: Mr. Walker isn't your beat Third Street and South Palmetto Avenue, to Myrtle and Third Street to 10th Street. Didn't I tell you some time ago to stay on your beat and not to work Sanford Avenue that I wanted every man to work his own beat. The only statement I have to make is in reply to the preachers yesterday.

I want to assure the ministers of this city, that the law will be and has always been enforced, and I will continue to enforce the law to the best of my ability and any assistance that can give me I will be glad to receive, as it is my intention to run the police force in an efficient manner.

Lake: Walker, you intimated that you considered me and the chief friends, but that you would have to violate your oath. Walker: He never told me to violate my oath, but I consider it that because chief told me to stay away from the Elks Club. I consider it my duty to catch an Elk Club rum dealer as well as a Georgetown beer dealer.

Chief: I put Mr. Walker in a residential section to keep down drinking and house breaking, and that was his main duty. Walker: I consider it my duty to catch any bootlegger, murderer, or any one breaking the law the same as catching a house breaker.

Chief: Also didn't I tell you that any other kind of a case that comes to your attention on your beat to make a case against them just like any other case, or words to that effect.

Walker: Yes, that is the understanding I got. When we were going down to the station he says, "You will not be able to arrest me any more," and I replied, "I expect my job is gone." He says, "You're right, it's gone," my remark was, "It's like to hell, but you'll be at the Police Station before it goes."

WALKER: I would like to say that I have considered ever since I have been here that Mr. Lake is a friend of mine, as he had done me a favor in a little financial matter. I considered Chief Williams a friend, but when it comes to breaking of my solemn oath, which you might call a dishonor to myself and family, I feel under no further obligations, and I feel that I should come clean.

It was away back in 1899 that State Senator William Goebel seized the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky and, so doing, split the party in the State to flinders.

Examine Auto Drivers

Who cause automobile accidents? The highbrows rather than the lowbrows are likely to cause them, according to the conclusion of Dr. W. W. Bingham, director of the Personnel Research Federation, who in an address a few days ago before the National Conference on the Science of Politics, said:

"Data gathered over a period of years show a greater proportion of accidents among professional men, doctors, lawyers and business men, than among delivery boys, truckmen, taxi drivers and laborers."

"This difference is most marked in collisions with a street car when the driver has absent-mindedly started out from the curb without giving warning or looking back to see whether a car is bearing down upon him."

The Providence News commenting upon the subject, says "if a man who undertakes to drive a car, finds himself unable to keep his mind on the task, and it alone, he should not have a license to drive." The Herald agrees with the statement of the News because, as it points out, "this is a case where the consequences of absent-mindedness are likely to be just as serious as those of moral irresponsibility or technical incompetence."

Supervision of auto drivers on scores other than their ability to handle a machine under ordinary conditions is advocated by Dr. Bingham, who told the conference that it is impracticable to give an ideal test to everyone who applies for driver's license.

The conference took up the matter and studied intently Dr. Bingham's recommendations in this connection which included, stiff road test with traffic regulations, psychological tests of reaction time with the brake, full inquiry into conditions of eyesight, hearing, judgment of distance, temperamental and moral traits, and so on.

As the Providence paper points out, "we can scarcely hope to see many states adopting these very admirable regulations very soon." Motor accidents in Florida and other states are increasing every day but the growing menace of incompetent driving must become more dreadful and apparent for the people of the country to every realize it.

Here in this state where the population is growing by leaps and bounds, the situation is most serious for the reason that motorists of all types are being assembled while no stringent requirements upon driving their cars are being made by the various cities or the state legislature.

The Florida law makers have passed some wise laws regulating speed on the highways but it has done little or nothing toward examining a motorist before issuing him a license. The Herald would like to see an adoption of regulations similar to the ones submitted by Dr. Bingham. It believes that now is the time to begin efforts to reduce automobile accident to smallest number possible.

Hang On To Your Straw Hat

A news story in the New York Herald Tribune tells the readers of that paper that it is time to discard the straw hat, in favor of the succeeding felt. And we wonder just when fashion will force the discarding of the straw hat in Sanford.

With Florida having summer weather the entire year and a climate that makes it known the world over for its warm and delightful days. The Sanford Herald believes a moment to make it fitting and proper for Florida residents to wear their straw hats, and their white suits, and their white trousers, and their white shoes, for twelve months in the year, would meet with popular approval of a great number of people.

Perhaps you have noticed that tourists, who come to this state in the middle of the winter, buy new straw hats, dress all in light weight clothing and enjoy themselves while the man who lives here all the time heavily bundled up with felt hats, heavy-weight suits, and dressed for skating.

We preach to the world about the wonderful climate we have. We glory in the sunshine, and we spend huge sums of money telling of our state and its advantages, and then we turn around and lay aside our straw hats and begin dressing as if we were resident of the arctic region.

How great it would be if all Florida appropriately dressed for its year-round climate. Why can't Sanford take the lead in this matter with a movement to keep the straw hat and the light weight clothing as popular wearing apparel for the whole year. Instead of allowing the seasons to dictate how Floridians shall dress, why can't our people dress more in keeping with a warm climate and tourist playground?

Sanford is this year catering to tourists and should cultivate an atmosphere of a tourist town. One of the easy ways to do this is to put on the appearance of a tourist town where the people dress in keeping with their surroundings.

The Churches Report. Not So Very Crazy. Clergy Good Fighters. What Do We Need?

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THE FEDERAL Council of Churches, having investigated "the success of prohibition," reports "Yes and No." There is improvement in the homes, in comfort, larger savings bank deposits.

But that is offset by a constantly increasing lack of respect for the law. The church sees less public drunkenness but deplores increased whiskey drinking among young people.

ADMIRAL MOFFETT, discussing Colonel Mitchell in his accusation in connection with our incompetent air force, goes so far as to suggest that Colonel Mitchell is "of unsound mind."

Colonel Mitchell, however, didn't send the Shenandoah through the storm belt to be ripped to pieces, ignoring the protests of the Shenandoah's commander.

And Colonel Mitchell didn't send a seaplane "hopping" from California to Hawaii without enough gasoline to make the hop.

There are in our aircraft management several minds a good deal more unsound than Colonel Mitchell's mind.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, fortunately, is not depressed concerning the situation, nor is he carried off his feet by talk about "saving the honor of the Navy."

REV. DR. Fosdick in Geneva says the church must end war. But the church can't end war. A human institution, although operating under divine approval, shares the impulses of humanity.

WHAT DOES the world need? Thousands of preachers, standing on the shore of time and peering into eternity with the strong authority that their vacation gives them, try to answer the question.

Here are a few answers made in the pulpits of one city yesterday: The Reverend Henry Howard, The Bible is now on the shelf, not enough family prayers. Not enough religion in schools—time proves it.

REVEREND C. Everett Wagner, Methodist Episcopal: Too much preaching of Hell fire. Too much parading of wickedness instead of talking about goodness. Too much tempting listeners by describing in detail the things that the wicked do.

Rev. Dr. Sookman: Too much shifting about from place to place. Too much raming. The people becoming nomadic can't settle down.

REV. DR. S. E. Young, says voters neglect their duty. They could make this Republic anything that they choose to make it if they would take the trouble to do it. Perhaps that is solemn truth.

Rev. John Roach Straton, who would willingly help Lynch our modernists, if his conscience would let him, says we need more revivals. That's proved by the fact that there were ten thousand murders and only a few hangings and electrocutions in this country last year.

Rev. Paul C. Warren: We need modern prophets to interpret the old truths in the pew and in the pulpit. More purity of heart and strength of conviction will bring the millennium.

BUT THE Rev. Charles Francis Potter, prominent Unitarian, says we need a brand new religion, and he proves his sincerity by resigning from his job. It is very enlightening and twenty or thirty sermons a week.

A BEAUTIFUL carillon of fifty-three musical bells, given by John D. Rockefeller to the Park Avenue Baptist Church of New York, now rings sweetly on Sundays. The music is very clear, and, unlike some church bells, does not disturb the sick or the sleepy.

This music of church bells can be heard distinctly at a distance of five blocks from the church. These science steps in. The radio broadcasts a little distance from the bells and the music can be heard in Chicago, Havana, Seattle, Honolulu and Paris.

How that would amaze and frighten the sincere old Christians that used to ring the church bells in a thunder storm as a plague to frighten away the devils supposed to be riding on the air.

GREAT POWER companies use coal, hard or soft, pulverized, ground to the finest dust and blown by compressed air to feed the fires under boilers. This does away with ashes and smokes almost entirely, greatly increasing the heat value of the coal making the handling of coal by firemen unnecessary.

THIS ARRANGEMENT undoubtedly will be applied to the use of the enormous and at present practically wasted supplies of peat and lignites.

SITTIN' PRETTY

PEGASUS IS BALKY

MACON TELEGRAPH

After grubbing down into the earth among the earthy in search of oil sixty years, John D. Rockefeller came to his eighty-sixth birthday. He shook the load of carking care from his shoulders, transferred most of his money and all his estates, with one or two exceptions, to his son, and mounted the good steed Pegasus for a ride.

By now, perhaps, some one close to the old financier, has whispered into his ear that his poetry is not so good. It reminds one of the story of an editor of The Telegraph who, some years ago, under the spur of inspiration that stirred him into feverish activity, set down on paper a sentence of about 200 words.

PETTY THIEVES MIAMI HERALD

Papers that circulate among the farmers in all sections of the country have recently been calling attention to the petty thefts by city folks who ride through the country, usually on Sundays, in automobiles and help themselves to fruit and vegetables they find near the roads.

Hundreds of farmers in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other states have given up trying to raise turkeys because they have found that after the turkeys are grown they are shot by thieves who drive away in their cars before the farmer, who may have heard the shooting, can reach the scene.

Most of the turkeys that are found on city tables for Thanksgiving and Christmas come from small flocks raised on farms. The turkey is a fowl that refuses to thrive in huge flocks, as a rule, but when a dozen or two are allowed to run at large in orchard and field they grow up without much expense and the money they bring when marketed goes a long way toward buying the winter clothing for the farmer's family.

Ice-Crowned Volcanoes Of The Pacific Coast May Erupt Any Time, Is Report

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Ice-crowned volcanic cones along the Pacific Coast generally are presumed to be dead. Scientists, however, agree that they are not merely burned-out shells, but it is entirely possible that one or more of them might erupt at any time. Mount Ranier and Mount Baker in Washington, Mount Hood in Oregon and Mount Shasta and Lassen Peak in California are individuals in a great series of volcanoes that extends in a circle for 10,000 miles or more around the North Pacific ocean in both North America and Asia. There was a time, in the opinion of the scientists, when these peaks were in violent eruption at the same time, so that a chain of fire bounds the Pacific Coast, for the five peaks are so close together that any one in eruption could be observed from its nearest neighbors.

Since 1914 Lassen has been in frequent eruption, and it is regarded as scientifically established that not one of the volcanoes can be called dead. All except Lassen have been quiet for several thousand years, in the opinion of expert reckoning.

During the past century there have been several minor eruptions from Mount Ranier, the highest of the five volcanoes. It has been hundreds of years since the great peak blew off a half mile of its top and scattered volcanic ash to a depth of hundreds of feet over large areas of what now is Washington.

Almost every year faint earthquakes are recorded on Ranier, and steam still issues from the crater, which is half a mile across. This steam is so intense that great caverns have been melted in the snow that fills the crater.

These caves, sheltered from the winds and warmed by the escaping steam, have often proved of advantage to persons scaling the peak. Stephens and Van Trump, the first white men to conquer Mount Ranier, more than half a century ago, undoubtedly owed their lives to these steam caverns. It would have been impossible for them to have retraced their steps in the darkness, and they could not have lived through a night on the summit without blankets or other protection if it had not been for the timely discovery of the warm caverns.

The steam on top of Mount Ranier is so hot that it will transform a pan of snow to boiling water in ten minutes. Eggs can be cooked if placed in the hot pumice of the crater.

DAYTONA MAN IN RIFFIAN WAR HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Major Succon's Bomber Was Forced to Land in Moroccan Field But Tribesmen Prove Friendly To Him

QUEZZAN, French Morocco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Major James Succon, of Daytona, Fla., one of the American volunteer aviators forming the Riffian escadrille, had a thrilling experience on Monday, when his bombing plane, piloted by "Red" Mustain, was forced down in a wheat field and surrounded by natives. These, fortunately, proved to be friendly tribesmen instead of hostile Riffians.

The airplane became unbalanced by the failure of most of the bombs on one side to drop when released, and the pilot was unable to control the craft.

French Take Stronghold RABAT, French Morocco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—French troops have captured the mountain range of El Bilane, one of the Riffians' strongest positions.

Troops Rest FEZ, French Morocco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The troops continue at rest along the battle line, except in the Taounat region, where a smartly delivered offensive culminated in the capture of the old post of Mezghoua.

A big Franco-Spanish offensive, however, will be launched in the immediate future. French troops already are massed in the Ouzan region and west of the Taza region, where the first attacks will be delivered. The forces of Abd-el-Krim appear determined to offer stout resistance.

tribesmen to attack FEZ, French Morocco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Information received here from the Spanish area of operations indicates that the tribesmen are preparing to make a fresh attack on Tetuan, the Spanish capital.

Spanish Planes Bomb 3 Points MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Spanish aircraft are bombing the rebel concentrations and gun emplacements at Cala Bonita, Cala Rocosa and Yebel Malmusa.

Increased rebel activity has been observed between Afriau and Sididris and near Anual.

What are believed to be signs of impending submission by the Bo-coyn tribesmen are seen along the coast, where white flags are fluttering at various places.

Baseball Analysis

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Their leisurely amble toward major league championship at marked variance with the stirring finishes freely predicted in the heat of close races six weeks ago, the Pirates and Senators continued to move along undisturbed yesterday, the play of Pittsburgh in particular showing no tendency to let down with the end in full view.

The Pirates took a double header from Brooklyn, and increased to six and one half games their lead over the New York Giants, who tamed Cincinnati's wild desires for a second place berth with their second successive victory.

Most Powerful of Its Size and Weight —a One-Profit Value.

THERE are (as you probably know) only two manufacturers who actually build their cars complete—make all their own bodies, engines, clutches, springs, gear sets, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

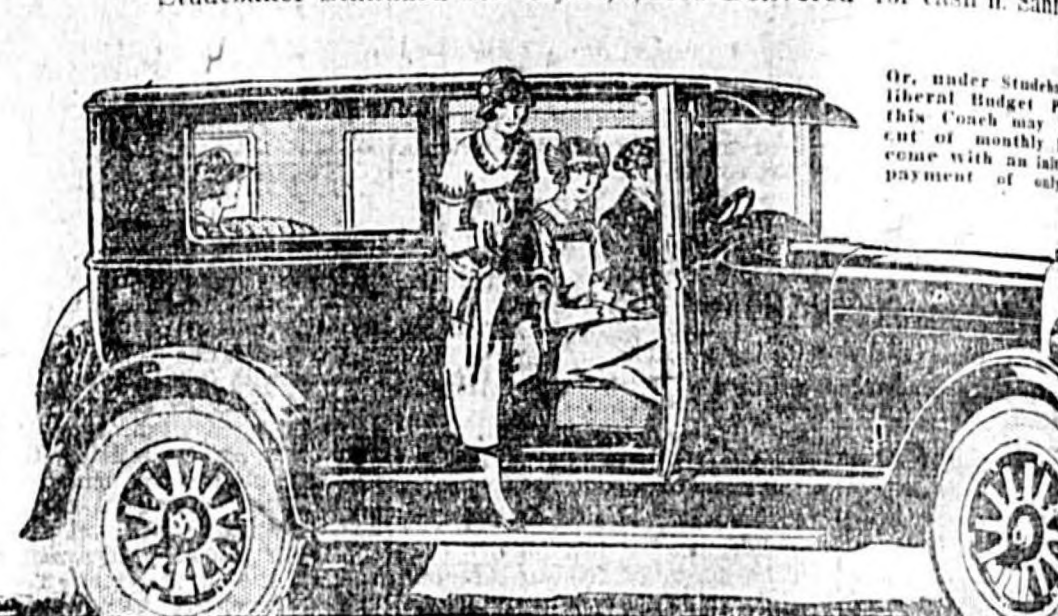

One of these is Ford—in the low priced field. The other is Studebaker in the fine car field. This one-profit principle of manufacture makes possible four great advantages.

1. It eliminates the extra profits and overhead that many other manufacturers have to pay and include in the purchase price to you. This keeps Studebaker prices low.
2. It enables us to build a better car because the vital parts are designed, engineered and manufactured complete by one organization. Being built as a unit—Studebaker cars function as a unit, with all of the advantages of unit over assembled construction.
3. It makes possible finer quality because Studebaker, being an independent manufacturer, with no subsidiary or allied companies to favor, is free to buy on the open market, demanding the finest materials at the lowest possible price. Studebaker purchasing agents are unrestricted in their search for quality and value. Studebaker designers and engineers are unhampered by outside interests.
4. And, finally, because of these savings, Studebaker is able to offer you a car, more substantially built, more economical to operate, more powerful than any other car of its size and weight, based upon the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce's big balloon tires, resilient springs, portable cushions and ample room.

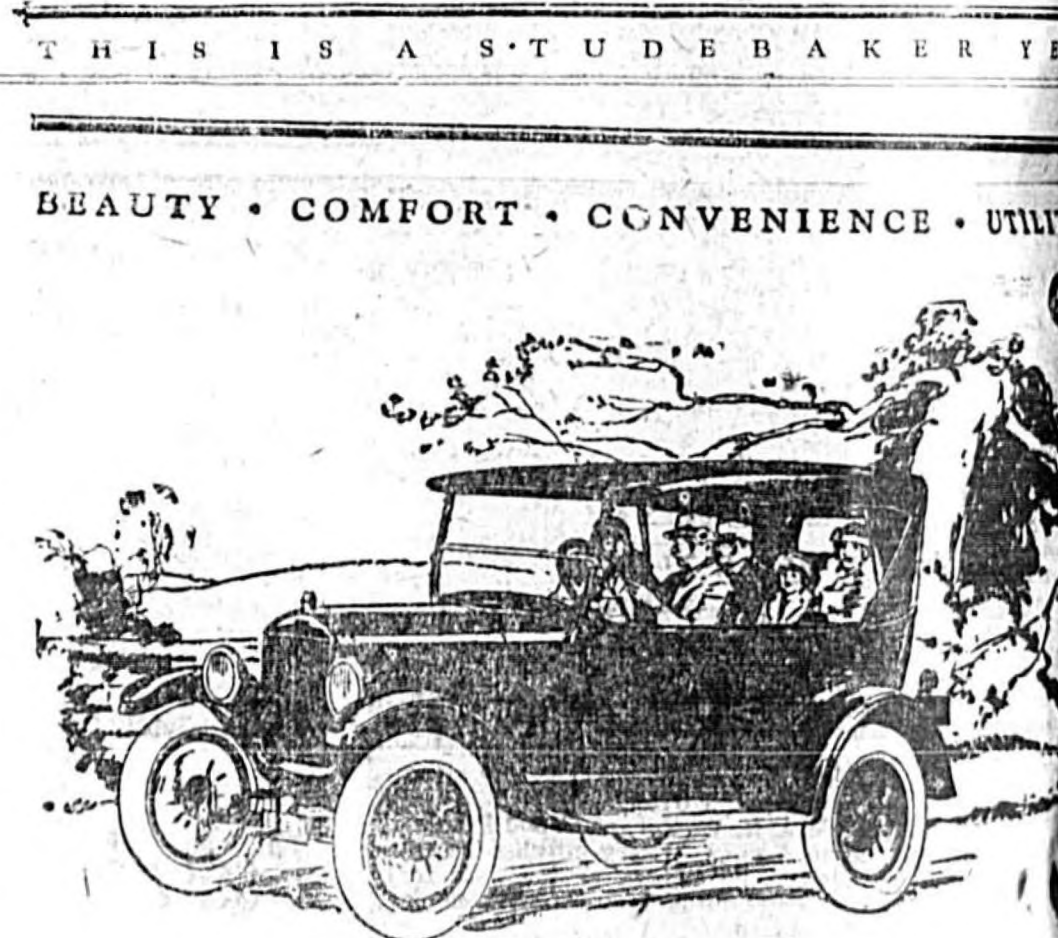

But the only way to judge this car is to drive it! Feel the luxurious upholstery, the deep, soft, comfortable seats. Hear the surge of its tremendous power. Compare it with other coaches.

The recent Studebaker price reduction policy of "no yearly models" only emphasizes the logic of this reasoning.

If you seek a bargain in a quality car, means see this One-Profit Coach.

FORD SEES COMBINED PLANE AND DIRIGIBLE AS AIRCRAFT OF FUTURE

BORN, Mich. Sept. 14.—Henry Ford believes the air of the future will be a combination of the dirigible and the airplane.

Combination of the types will fly better than either, says the automobile maker, whose factories and are now aiding in the of aviation research.

Line Is Big Trouble

Will Ford Retire?

Henry Ford may administer a knockout blow to the confidence of his Ford Motor Company business associates some of these days.

Ford may retire.

"You never can tell," says Ford. "Henry Ford retire? Never!" say the men whose names top the Ford company's payroll.

Edsel Ford is president of the Ford Motor Company now. Re- lieved of many responsibilities, Henry Ford gives time and thought to such semi-philanthropic as the revival of old-time dances.

Will he desist altogether, in his later years, from direction of the Ford industrial affairs?

"You never can tell," Ford smiles.

"But do you expect to retire?"

"If I expected to, then I could tell. I don't expect to, but you never can tell."

Talks on Reincarnation

No retirement by Henry Ford, however—even the final one—will be for all time, Ford holds.

He is a believer in reincarnation. "You believe that Henry Ford will return to earth, reincarnated, after death?" he is asked.

Ford gazes out a window and drums his fingers on a table top.

"Well, nothing is ever destroyed, is it?" he responds.

"Do you believe in a Deity?"

"The trouble about discussing those things is that nobody ever knows just what he is talking about."

At 62, with the Ford fortune, measurable only in ten figures, Henry Ford's chief ambition for the Ford Motor Company is—

"To keep it going."

A friend of Ford, he is reminded, quotes hi mas saying, "Our job is to make work for our people at better wages."

"It's the same thing," says Ford.

There are no fine distinctions in Ford reasoning.

"Do you get more personal satisfaction out of making more jobs for people, or making more automobiles for them?" he is asked.

"It's all the same," is Ford's answer.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(AP)—But for the fact that transportation facilities are ample in the United States, a considerable part of the south would be on the eve of as genuine a famine as ever gripped China, according to arrivals in Washington from the drought belt, described as extending roughly from the southern Virginia and North and South Carolina coasts through most of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and into Texas.

That has been a dry season in this region is no news, but if reliable eye witnesses' stories are to be believed the situation's real seriousness is only just beginning to be revealed.

and doomed otherwise to a slower death from lack of food and water.

Many Georgia farmers are feeding ragweed to their swine and cutting small bushes for their other stock. Towns are mentioned which are bringing in their water supplies in tank cars.

Not only have crops suffered heavily, but in some sections it is declared that good trees are dying, to such a depth is the earth completely dried out.

Small lakes and numerous fairly large streams have disappeared so completely that their beds are deep in dust and buzzards are eating dead fish from them.

References are made to Texas ranchmen who are shooting their livestock, too emaciated to sell

The situation has one recom- pense. The boll weevil can't stand such dry weather much better than the cotton can. The boll weevil distinctly is a wet. With- out moisture he dies.

That's what he's been doing lately, at a prodigious rate. Indications are that next year he'll be scarce.

Later on he may increase and multiply again, but his absence even for a single season will be a blessing. It will mean, given an adequate rainfall, a good 1926 cotton crop, at any rate.

The Southern states, with the exception of Florida, are suffering appreciably also from the tush to the latter state.

In Georgia particularly, just across the state line, the south- ward movement is spoken of as having assumed almost the proportions of a gold stampede.

The Georgians, with less faith in the Florida boom than the Floridians, have, except to see the tide turn, and sweep back, in due course.

It shows no signs of doing so as yet, however, and in the mean- time its effect on Georgia busi- ness is the reverse of satisfactory to residents there.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Of Brazil's entire population of 30,635,605 a fraction more than 75 per cent cannot read or write. This was disclosed recently when the government published statistics on illiteracy gathered when the 1920 census was taken.

Illiteracy in Brazil decreased from 84.2 per cent in 1872 to 75.5 per cent in 1920. In the latter year there were 11,401,715 illiterates over 14 years of age.

Permanent Summer Dates Fixed in Act

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Summer time will end this year in the morning of Sunday, October 4, says a notice from the Home Secretary's Department.

Summer time in the future will begin at 2 o'clock Greenwich mean time on the morning of the day after the third Saturday in April, or, if that day is Easter Day, the day after the second Saturday in April. It will end at 2 o'clock Greenwich mean time on the morning of the day after the first Saturday in October.

This is in accordance with the Summer Time Act, which was recently passed, to establish summer time permanently.

Safe In Harbor at Last

Navy Seaplane PN-9 No. 1 in which Commander Rodgers and his men made their adventurous flight to Hawaii here is shown in the harbor of Niwi Iwili, island of Kial. The photograph was rushed to Honolulu and transmitted thence 6000 miles to New York by the Photoradiogram process of the Radio Corporation of America. The radio impulse was relayed only once, at the station in San Francisco. The conditions of bad static conditions in the atmosphere permitted sending of recognizable pictures one way around the world is considered a notable achievement by radio experts. The torn condition of the ship by the time the airship reached port is noticeable.

FLORIDA FACTS

(By The Associated Press) Farms in Florida increased in number during the year 1924 although there were thirty thousand fewer farms in the United States as a whole. The greatest increase in the number of farms made in Florida was made in the southern part of the state. Light crops of avocados and mangoes of good quality are now moving from south Florida. Early grapes are moving and a light crop of late variety is ripening. The movement of pineapples is well advanced.

While the conditions of the peach crop showed a further drop during the month of July, growers are expecting to secure a satisfactory yield.

Increased production of practically all farm crops is noted by the condition report of August 1 issued by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The Florida crops this year will yield more cotton, corn, hay, sweet potatoes and tobacco than last year, it is predicted.

Prospects for sugar cane and other crops of small acreage is reported as being good.

The Florida state bureau of vital statistics, under the general supervision of the state board of health is again during the registration of all births occurring in the state.

A campaign to bring the importance of this act to the attention of the mothers and fathers of Florida children was started about a year ago. Since that time a marked success has been made of the efforts of the members of the bureau. Birth registration with the bureau has increased by a large number, but there is still a great percentage of births in the state that are certified with the bureau.

Officials of the bureau point to the fact that often times in later life a more birth registration with a county official is not sufficient when certain legal evidence of residence or families is required in business negotiations.

The state bureau gives a certified copy of the registration with completed details described thereon to the mother of all children registered with that office.

The early treatment of crippled children is also being urged by the officials of the state board of health.

Florida has a large percentage of crippled children, the officials say, and they claim that this number could be greatly reduced by early treatment. They point with distress to the fact that there is not a hospital in Florida with a devoted exclusively to the early treatment of crippled children. The board has established an orthopedic department where crippled children can receive treatment regardless of ability to pay.

There is a Florida law prohibiting the sale, or offering for sale, the transporting, preparing, delivering, receiving, and cirrus between the dates of August 31 and Nov. 26 unless the fruit is accompanied by a certificate of maturity from the duly authorized inspector of the department of agriculture.

Important oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and satsumas can not be sold in Florida unless they are mature in accordance with the Florida standards for oranges and grapefruit.

Any such fruit from Porto Rico or the Isle of Palms which in passing through Florida loses its interstate character cannot then be shipped again unless it has the certificate of maturity.

Any person who sells or offers for sale any citrus fruit upon which the inspection tax has not been paid or whoever transports any citrus fruit without a maturity certificate will be subject to a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $1,000, with such fruit being illegally sold being confiscated.

J. Hinton Pledger, supervising inspector of the department of agriculture stated that these laws will be rigidly enforced.

The state medical examination permission to practice law in Florida will be held on October 9. One of the largest classes of examinees ever gathered before a medical board in this state is anticipated. Many of them are physicians from other states.

The state bar examination for permission to practice law in Florida will be held on October 19. The clerk of the supreme court has received nearly 2,000 inquiries regarding the state bar examination. Only a few applications have been made. The time limit on applications for permission to take the state bar examination will expire on September 29. The secretary expects a large number to reach his office by that time.

When the board convenes next month it will be the first sitting that it had since its organization by the last legislature. F. P. Fleming of Jacksonville is chairman.

On December 31, 1924 there were 5,094.36 miles main line and branch line railroads operated in the state of Florida. This included mileage under lease and track-ago rights. This information is furnished by R. Hudson Burr, chairman of the state railroad commission.

In the same month of 1920 there were 5,134.72 miles of railroads in operation. June 30, 1901 the mileage totalled 3,174.87 and on June 30, 1911 the mileage was 4,374.15.

On January 31, 1925 the total mileage of railroads in operation in the state was 5,326.86. This quick increase from December 31, 1924 was made by the beginning of operation of the Tampa and St. Petersburg Railway Company and the Florida Western and Northern Railroad.

Since December 1920 there has been abandoned 92.04 miles of railroads. This was as follows: Atlantic and St. Andrews Bay Railway 2.84; Madison Southern Railway, 0.70; Ocala Southern Railway, 23; Ocala Valley R. R. Company, 54; and Pelham and Havana R. R. Company 6.70.

While no accurate record of the number of miles of railroads now under construction in the state or that contemplated for the immediate future is obtainable, the chairman of the commission asserts considerable construction of railroads is to be done within the next 12 to 18 months. Among the lines proposing new construction are the plans to come into the state from Seaboard Air Line, The Atlantic Coast Line and the Frisco which Alabama and Pensacola.

There are now 32 railroad companies operating in the state of Florida. In 1911 there were 25; in 1914 there were 31; and in 1920 there were 33.

There are a number of privately owned and operated railroads in the state. These do not come under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission as they are not common carriers.

Seven cities in Florida have street cars. These are Jacksonville, Pensacola, Tampa, St. Petersburg, St. Augustine, Miami and Key West. Only five companies reported in 1920.

In December 1924 there were 58 telephone companies in the state. In 1914 there were 48 and in 1920 there were 71.

The increase from 1914 to 1920 shows growth of the use of the telephone throughout the state. While the decrease from 1920 to 1924 shows the tendency towards consolidation of the smaller companies with the larger ones.

In 1914 there were 93 telephone exchanges in the state. In 1920 there were 133 and on December 31, 1923 there were 145. This is significant of the continued growth of the telephone systems throughout the state. Within the past few weeks several announcements have been made of the erection of new and larger exchanges in different cities of Florida.

Among the 60,000 inhabitants of Tripoli there are more than 8,000 Jews.

RUSKIN'S HOME TO BE SOLD
LONDON, Sept. 16.—(P)—John Ruskin's home, "Brantwood House" Coniston, Lancashire, where the poet lived for 25 years and died in 1900, is to be sold. In 1885, by deed of gift, Ruskin made over his house and contents to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Severn, "praying them never to sell the estate of Brantwood, nor to let any portion of it upon building lease." He also requested that they "accord during 30 consecutive days in each year such permission to strangers to see the house and pictures as I have done in my lifetime."

POLAND HAS WEEK END PROHIBITION
WARSAW, Sept. 16.—(P)—The Polish government has prohibited the sale of alcoholic beverages from 3 p. m. on Saturday until 10 a. m. Monday. An exception to the decree is beer with a maximum of two and one-half percent alcohol.

Enforcement of this prohibition has led to a series of mass demonstrations in several of the larger cities of Poland.

If You Tire Easily—Beware of Chronic Fatigue

Thousands are victims of chronic fatigue—and do not know it! If you tire easily, feel "all in" at night, and wake up unrefreshed in the morning—if you are always weak, nervous, headachy, etc.—nine chances out of ten the real cause is chronic fatigue.

Ordinary fatigue—the kind you feel after hard work, etc.—is normal. That's nothing to worry about. But chronic fatigue comes from within. Your nerves, muscles, etc., have become debilitated and cannot function properly.

To conquer it you must get at its cause—in the blood. For it is when your blood is thin and pale, lacking in sufficient iron, that you become run-down, and are a victim of chronic fatigue.

What you need is to strengthen your system by getting more iron in your blood. Don't take the older mineral iron medicines which many doctors now say do little good. Take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your own blood. Unlike ordinary mineral iron it does not injure the teeth or upset the stomach, but is promptly assimilated. Take Nuxated Iron for just 2 weeks and you'll be astonished how it begins to revitalize you and gives you new strength and endurance. Money back if not improved. At all good druggists.

BEER PRODUCTION HALVED
KARLSRUHE, Sept. 17.—(P)—The consumption of alcoholic beverages in Germany is much less than in prewar days, notwithstanding the annulment of the majority of the restrictions imposed during the inflation period. The production of beer now is only about 50 percent that of former days.
