Herron has extended an invitation to his friends and customers to visit him at his new business location.

Now that spring is here and a steady program of feeding your plants is necessary, the easiest way to take care of the job is a liquid plant food and a sprayer that attaches to the garden hose.

Proper balance of nitrogen-phosphorus-potash and the minor elements needed to keep plants healthy is essential for best results. The elements provided must be readily "digestible" by the plants and not locked in the soil.

One of the most effective plant foods on the market today is a liquid plant food (ORTHO-GRO) made with organic fish and other materials and containing a chelating agent. It's great for plants grown in containers.

What's a chelating agent? It makes iron and other minor elements available to the plant so that leaves turn green and stay green — thus keeping the plant healthy and growing. Frequently there are plenty of minor elements in the soil but they are locked up in the soil complex. The chelating agent converts them into lunch and dinner for your plants.

SAA Meets Today At 7:30 P. M.

The final business meeting of the year for the Sanford Art Assn. will be held at the Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. today.

Officers for the new year will be elected at this time and plans for next year will be made. The club is planning a covered dish supper party home in Loch Arbor.

Osteen Installs New Officers For P-TA

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
New officers of the Osteen P-TA were installed by Rev. Trammel Kilpatrick, pastor of the Osteen Baptist Church, at this month's meeting of the groups.

Before officially installing the officers, Kilpatrick read the objects of P-TA and offered a prayer for continued future success of the organization.

Mrs. Edward Pell, retiring president, presided at the business meeting during which the membership voted to sponsor a school ground beautification project and named Albert Pell as chairman for the job.

Mrs. W. B. Whidden, chairman of the recent ham supper sponsored by the association, reported that a profit of $172.67 was realized from the event.

The summer recreation program was discussed and the committee agreed to meet with the school board for further discussion. Mrs. Pell reported that the board had allocated $508.80 to put fluorescent lighting in the school.

In other business, members approved an insertion to by-laws amendments; announced that Mrs. Whidden has been appointed lunchroom manager for the coming year, and appointed Mrs. Darlene Nettles as summer recreation program chairman and Mrs. L. W. Jones as co-chairman.

AROUND THE CLOCK
BY LARRY VERSHEL
First the downtown clock, next the bandshell and now the greatest loss of all... the airplane at the Elks Playground. Yes, the City Commission is considering abandoning the obsolete aircraft... It could take anti-aircraft but the kids were too much... Monday night the board agreed to talk to the Navy on their feelings about the plane. "Maybe we could get a more modern obsolete aircraft," said Mayor J. H. Crapps... A youngster was injured the other day when the tail section pinned him to the ground.

LEFT OVER CITY COMMISSION NOTES... The Sanford Fire Department was commended by the board for successfully controlling the highly dangerous fire at the Standard Oil Bulk tanks the other day... Lt. Harriet and Lt. Faint were singled out for their jobs... Both volunteered to go to the top of the tank at great risk... The commission agreed to recover the pool table at the fire station... Rack 'Em up... Cost, $57.05...

AND SOME MORE... B. L. Perkins reappointed to the Sanford Housing Authority... City fathers talked about installation of ladder safety devices on the two water tanks... Cost $900... Industrial Commission ordered the board to get busy on the devices... Wonder how that youngster who scrawled "Class of '62" on one of the tanks got up there?... City thinking of periodical physicals for all employees...

AND SOME MORE... City commission ordered flag poles in front of all city buildings and to fly the flag every day the building is in use.

City fathers backed down and agreed to a compromise salary advance for all employees... There's a catch though... Have to pay it back within three paydays... Seems when they get started they don't leave us working people anything.

There won't be any changes in the precincts as was reported yesterday by Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce. "Not enough time," says Mrs. Bruce.

CRYSTAL BALL DEPARTMENT: Things coming up at the county commission meeting this afternoon... Engineer's report on Lake Orienta drainage... property owners paying the cost... move on to stop drag races at the Osceola Airport... complaints from Geneva... we hear letter going to the governor...

AND SOME MORE: FRANCHISE DIRECTIVE COMING UP AGAIN... board may decide to set a public hearing on the matter... might be some talk about paying road department personnel a week instead of twice a month.

About the Ballard Ave. blockade erected by County Commissioner Dunn to stop Altamonte Springs traffic to Highway 17-92, the following conversation was reported by Mayor Larry Swofford of Altamonte:

Swofford: Do you think this is serving the people?
Dunn: I ordered it blocked.
Swofford: Why?
Dunn: Because of the dust.
Swofford: Are you going to close all unpaved county roads because of the dust?
Dunn: I sure closed that one.

'Sick Of The Whole Rotten Mess' --- Baker

Commission Rules Out Bus Franchise Ordinance Ok

The City Commission by a split vote, ruled out second reading of the bus franchise ordinance despite charges by City Commissioner Joe Baker that his previous motion on the ordinance "had been altered in the minutes" and he was disgusted with the "whole rotten mess."

Members of the board contended the company had withdrawn its request for a franchise. "The president told me last night that he was definitely interested in the franchise," Baker said. Commissioners Earl Higginbotham, Mayor J. H. Crapps and Al Wilson refused to hear a reading on a blanket franchise and wanted to wait until someone was interested in taking the franchise.

To this Baker charged that he made a motion at a previous meeting that second reading be ordered with the transit company name inserted. "However, I see this part of the minutes have been erased." "Who did that," Baker said. City Clerk Henry Tamm wanted it clarified he had never altered any minutes and the notes "I take down are only my interpretation until the board has approved them." Baker kept asking the board to vote. However, Crapps suggested that they hold up any action one way or another until they can get a taker for the franchise. "You vote your conscience and I'll vote mine but let's vote. This has gone far enough and I'm sick and

City Moves Ahead On Condemned Bldgs.

The City Commission, despite protests from Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps, moved a vigorous step forward to clean up dilapidated buildings in the city by condemning 18 structures at its meeting Monday night.

Probe Asked Of Financing Water Program

A complete investigation into the financial picture of Sanford to help pay for a $600,000 water improvement program was ordered by the City Commission at a lengthy meeting Monday night. The board asked for the report "as soon as possible." Commissioner Tom McDonald told the commission "on my own" he had asked Fiscal Agent D. Kirk Gunby of DeLand to come up with some cost estimates and Gunby would be present at the next regular board meeting.

Put Post Office Up For Bid -- Merchants

A delegation of downtown merchants asked the City Commission Monday night to reconsider using the present post office for a library when a new postal facility is constructed. The merchants, led by Francis Roumillat Jr. and E. C. Harper Jr., suggested the board ask the General Service Administration to put the building up for public bid. However, commissioners said that the GSA would only allow the building to be used for "certain purposes." Roumillat, former chairman of the post office site committee, said his group had unanimously suggested that the present post office be used for commercial purposes. Harper said the building would be a bigger drawing card to downtown Sanford if it had a commercial use. "What could be a bigger drawing card than a library?" Earl Higginbotham asked. The commission agreed to take the suggestion under advisement. Earlier in the year, the commission voted to lease the present facility for $1 per year.

Reappraisal Study

City Manager W. E. Knowles was asked by the City Commission Monday night to investigate and come up with a recommendation on the reappraisal of all vacant property in the city limits. Commissioner Joe Baker called vacant property "out of line."

Treatment Plant Upsets Council

Monday night's meeting of the Oviedo city council was marked by consideration of the treatment plant to be erected with the County Commission's approval on Round Lake and a discussion of a municipal water system and the decision to have a preliminary survey made to gauge town reaction. The treatment plant subject was brought up by John Evans, Oviedo, whose property abuts Round Lake and Long Lake. He is concerned about the effect of the effluent from the proposed treatment plant being turned into Round Lake. Evans, who had complained to the Zoning Board and the Board of Adjustment earlier, and lost out to builder Joe Metz at a special meeting of the County Commission, was accompanied to the council meeting by engineer William Leffer of Sanford.

Fire Cooperation

The City Commission Monday night agreed to cooperate with the county on setting up fire districts within fringe areas if the people in the area approved the district by referendum vote. A delegation of property owners outside of the city asked that Sanford aid them as "the cheapest method of fire protection." Spokesman for the group was Jack Taylor, who said he lived in the city but owned some property outside, and stressed there were close to 100 homes in the fringe area without fire protection. Commissioners asked the delegation to get in touch with the county board to set up the districts, and District 4 County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick, who was in the audience, said "The machine has already been set up and will be discussed at today's county meeting."

Barricade Irks Altamonte Folks

A considerable percentage of the citizens of the Ballard Ave. section of Altamonte Springs are deeply perturbed over the barricade that appeared over the weekend at the east end of the street blocking access to West Loren Court, Fern Park, and their access to Highway 17-92. County Commissioner Vernon Dunn, who lives on South Street, Fern Park, and past whose house the traffic moves on its way to the highway, ordered the barricade to be erected with county materials by J. C. Lavender, county road superintendent. According to Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swofford, who is one of those perturbed, the action on the part of Dunn was "uncalled for and arbitrary, and he did it only because he doesn't want the traffic to go by his house on South Street." When queried Monday afternoon on the road block, Dunn said, with considerable acerbity, "No comment, except that he can bring his little problem to the County Commission meeting Tuesday."

School Bus Driver Has Quite A Day

Mrs. H. L. Johnson had quite a day on her school bus run Monday. As she was about to leave the junior high school with her load of kids she smelled smoke and discovered a short circuit was causing the trouble. Being a resourceful person Mrs. Johnson took care of the in short order. Then, when she made her stop on West 20th Street, Martha Cook slipped on the bus step, fell and injured her back. Martha was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital where her condition was reported as "good." The hospital refused to give any further information.

PARIS (UPI) — Former Gen. Raoul Salan, France's most decorated soldier, was transferred to the Palais de Justice from Fresnes prison under heavy guard early today to stand trial for leading the Secret Army Organization (OAS) against Algerian independence.

Casselberry Zoning Plan Abruptly 'Halted'

Progress on a new comprehensive zoning plan for the town of Casselberry was called to an abrupt standstill Tuesday night when the Board of Aldermen voted to halt any further work until a map is approved which definitely establishes the municipal boundary lines. Final copy of the town's new map was available at the board meeting Tuesday, however reduced workable copies will not be made until it is officially approved by the board.

North Orlando Roads Meeting Set Today

An offer has been made by the North Orlando Co. to provide matching funds for improvement and repair of graded roads in the area.

Attorney Kenneth McIntosh warned that the map now being used by the town's zoning commission in its preparatory work is not a true map of the municipality and could result in trouble. Hibbard Casselberry, owner of Casselberry Gardens, Inc., pointed out that he wanted a chance to study the draft of any new zoning ordinance before it comes up for adoption. He made it clearly understood that he wanted his property left alone and would go to court if necessary should the proposed zoning fail to meet with company agreement. Members of the Casselberry commission have met regularly with McIntosh and County Zoning Board Chairman Bob Brown for the past four months in an effort to draw a new zoning plan and according to the attorney now have 26 pages in readiness with some 50 more to go. McIntosh repeatedly emphasized that before any further work is done he and members of the commission must know if they have the authority to continue. "The town's money is being spent on your authority," he reminded, "and if its for no purpose, you should let them know." In the meantime, building permits within the town are being issued as usual except for those of a "questionable nature" which must be okayed by the commission, Cliff Overman, building inspector and alderman, said.

National Police Memorial Day was celebrated in grand style in Sanford Monday as the Sanford Police Department kicked off their day with double events including opening of the new Police Club House, and Open House at the newly renovated station.

Memorial services were held in the new Police Benevolent Assn. Hall on the lakefront at 1 p. m. in honor of deceased policemen, three of whom died in the line of duty.

Tribute was paid to William Benton, Cleveland Jacobs and F. Z. Graves Jr. who were killed on duty with the Sanford Police Department and to George Harriet, Arthur Marshall, R. C. Wilcox, Wesley Prescott, J. B. Quattlebaum and S. C. Graham who died while serving with the department.

State Representative Mack Cleveland Jr. served as master of ceremonies for the occasion. The dedication was given by Father Richard Lyons and the memorial address by Rev. John T. Adams.

Present for the dedication and memorial service were members of the Sanford Police Department, the Florida Highway Patrol, members of the Shore Patrol, Sheriff Hobby and Deputy Jim Singletary, Assistant States Attorney Anthony Roseman, Judge Vernon Mize, City Manager W. E. Knowles, Mayor J. H. Crapps, Judge Kenneth McIntosh, Captain Joe Tully and Captain Robert Ware, members of the county commission and other Navy, city, county and government officials and dignitaries.

Following the memorial services, a portrait of Police Chief Roy Williams, presented by House of Rahnja Studios was unveiled by Mayor Crapps before Chief and Mrs. Williams.

Refreshments of hot biscuits, ham and coffee were served by Miss Lucy Nowlin, David Thrasher and Scott Burns of the Florida Power and Light Company.

New offices of the Police Department at the City Jail were opened to the public at 1 p. m. and hundreds of citizens called during the afternoon and evening to see the new quarters.

Visitors first saw the new sign, with aluminum letters on paneling, standing on concrete pillars. The lobby of the new addition to the station is furnished with a lounge and chair and a lamp and the paneled walls are hung with the photographs of the former Mayors of Sanford.

Also in the new section is the spacious new office of Chief Williams, the records office, call desk and switchboard and the duty officer's room, centered by the lobby. Beyond these four rooms are the identification room where fingerprints are taken, mug shots photographed, and drunk-o-meter tests given. Here is the dark room for development of pictures and the spacious kitchen, equipped with a new refrigerator, and a generous pantry.

Lake Brantley Civic Club Hears Talk On Fire District

By Shirley Wentworth
Members of the West Lake Brantley Civic Assn. met in special session last Thursday to hear an explanation of the proposed Fire Control District for Seminole County Precinct 12 which will appear on the May 29 primary ballot.

Raymond Maxwell and Adolph Juhl explained the bill in detail advising that if the measure is approved by the voters the tax will be assessed at one-half mill per thousand dollars to the property owner.

Money received through the small taxation will be used to purchase up-to-date fire fighting equipment. If the referendum passes, a volunteer fire department will be organized shortly thereafter, members were told.

The speakers conducted a question and answer period before the association resumed its regular business meeting with President Joe Young presiding.

Committees were appointed to begin immediate work on the beach area which will be posted, fenced, chained and locked with keys available only to members in good standing. A Palmer will head the beach and float committee and Joe Whitehouse and Mac McClellan, the boat and ramp improvement committee.

Appointed to the membership committee were Mrs. Harry Peyske, chairman and Mrs. Malcolm McClellan, Mrs. Jeannette Burns and Mrs. Robert Phillips. This committee will canvass the area for new members and to collect annual dues which must be in by June 1.

Future projects recommended by the executive board included street signs, erection of two bus shelters in the area and the planting of shade trees on the beach.

Reports from all chairmen will be expected at the next meeting set for June 7.

Mr. Coursey To Be Buried Here Wednesday
Funeral services for Mr. McAlpine (Mac) Coursey who died Sunday will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. E. L. Strickland Jr. officiating.

Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

Classics will meet again Wednesday at 9 a. m. and if sufficient interest is not shown, the classes will have to be canceled.

With the tremendous number of children which will have registered for these swimming classes, it is imperative that we have mothers to assist us. We simply do not have enough qualified Red Cross instructors. Helpers do not have to know how to swim to be of assistance to us," she emphasized.

Classics will meet again Wednesday at 9 a. m. and if sufficient interest is not shown, the classes will have to be canceled.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We moved into a new home about a year ago. The first neighbors we met were the people next door. They are nice people, but they are so depressing! All you have to do is talk to them in the morning and your day is ruined. You don't dare ask them how they are feeling. They are always "miserable"! They complain about everything. We've met other neighbors and want to give a get-together. I would feel guilty excluding these people because they were so nice to us when we first moved in. They are lonely. But I'm afraid if we invited them they would ruin the party for everybody. What would you do?
UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: If you are friendly enough with them to give them some tips on how to be better company and, consequently, more popular and less lonely, by all means do so. If you aren't, let them stay home and tell each other how miserable they are.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are separated and I am expecting. I am getting a divorce as soon as the baby is born. How should I word the birth announcements? Should I say, "Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown announce the birth," etc.? Or should I say, "Mr. Henry Brown and Gloria Tomlin Brown (which will be my legal name after I am divorced) announce the birth," etc.
SEPARATED AND EXPECTING

DEAR S. AND E. Under the awkward circumstance, I suggest you skip the formal announcements. Write a personal note to those you wish to inform.

DEAR ABBY: I am a normal teen-aged girl of 13. Like any other girl I like to talk on the telephone when I get home from school. I never talk more than two hours. My mother says that is too long, yet she doesn't stop me. Do you think two hours is too long to talk to friends?
PHONE BUG

DEAR PHONE BUG: Indeed I do. About an hour and forty-five minutes too long, to be exact.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from the young woman whose "ex" owed her $300. Her problem stemmed from the fact that she had no note from him acknowledging the debt.

If the woman were to write to her "ex" and demand that he pay her the $300 he owes her, she would hear from him promptly protesting that he did not owe her $300—but only $300. This should be sufficient evidence for her to collect the debt in any court.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When today's hand was played in a master point game at the Bridge Deck in Dallas all South players arrived at four spades and were greeted by a king of diamond opening lead.

The hand would be a cinch at rubber bridge. South would probably win the diamond, draw trumps, lead a club to dummy's ace, return the queen of clubs and discard a diamond. West would take the king of clubs and two diamonds and South would claim the balance of the tricks.

There are a lot of other safe plays, but I like the one adopted by Don Reid. He took the ace of diamonds and four rounds of trumps and noted that West discarded three diamonds. Then Don led his eight of clubs and finessed dummy's queen. When the finessed succeeded Don discarded a diamond on the ace, ruffed another club and made six because the king dropped.

Why was his play safe? Because after three diamond discards there were only two diamonds left. If East held one of those diamonds and the king of clubs Don would have only to lose one diamond trick. If West held both diamonds, he would never get the lead.

Why was the play certain? Because the odds certainly were in favor of the man who over-called holding that king of clubs.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Nothing makes a woman quite so mad as——Having her husband call her down in public. (She'll take a lot more from him in private than she will in front of others.)

—Having a woman she knows is as old as she is pretend she is younger. (It's worse if the woman is able to fool most of the people most of the time.)

—Getting ready for company and then having the company cancel out at the last moment. (She may not have wanted them in the first place, but once a woman is ready for guests she is really disgusted if they don't show up.)

—Being high-hatted by another woman. (This is so infuriating that she will vow to get even—and, sure enough, she will.)

—Having her husband ask: "Is that what you're going to wear?" when it obviously is. (Because it is just as obvious that what he really means is, "You're not going to wear that, are you?")

—Having her husband ask: "What were you saying, dear?" after she had finished telling him what she considers an exciting piece of news. (It never seems quite so exciting the second time she tells it.)

—Having anyone imply that any one of her children is less than perfect. (She probably knows her children's faults—but she doesn't want anyone else pointing them out.)

—Having her husband say: "If that isn't just like a woman" when another woman does something stupid. (That's one remark any woman takes personally.)

—Having another woman get the last word in an argument.

—After having spent a day rearranging the living room, having her husband say, "I liked it better the way it was."

New Start For Fisher

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It's a new chapter in a new book for Eddie Fisher, who begins the road back next week with his first nightclub engagement since the Roman ordeal.

Curiously, the singer has chosen the Coconut Grove as his jumping off spot. It was less than a year ago that Eddie warbled "That Face" in his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, sitting ringside at the Grove.

Rebuilding his career on the ruins of his private life does not present an insurmountable obstacle to Eddie. His confidence in himself and his voice is unshakable.

Sitting in the living room of his breathtaking new home high in the Hollywood hills, the singer was tensed and relaxed in sports shirt, slacks and sandals. If the rest of the world considers him a loser it is apparent Fisher feels differently.

"My voice is better than ever," he said. "I'm going to sing, and keep singing until I'm told to stop—and then I'll continue singing."

"For a performer gifted with a voice such as mine, not singing is a crime. The voice is a delicate instrument and was meant to be used regularly."

"My last television show was three and a half years ago. Since then I've hardly done anything with my voice. I was born to sing and I want to do as much of it as possible."

Ebenezer Men Get Charter

The newly organized Ebenezer Methodist Men's Club received its charter from Hubert Talton, lay leader of the DeLand District, at last Thursday night's installation meeting.

Rev. Hugh Booth, Ebenezer pastor, presided at installation for Russell T. Hamilton, president; W. G. Norwood, vice president; Gordon T. Meyer, secretary and Arnold E. Corder, treasurer.

Clifford Johnson, chairman of the church's devotion committee, led the meditation on "What God Expects of the Men of His Church."

Discussion at the meeting centered around plans for acquisition of a parsonage and of County Judge Vernon Mize's stand on driving while under the influence of alcohol.

They wear whistles too, and Peg put hers to good use when she gathered the bathing beauties around to brighten the day for the trio, whose husbands are with the Tigers in the "Med."

She attended Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, where she received her AB degree. Her master's degree was taken at Chapel Hill and she has also taken courses at Stetson University and at the University of Florida. She is a past president of the Seminole County Education Assn., a coordinator of Future Teachers and serves as parliamentarian of Delta Kappa Gamma, Beta Chapter. She is now working on a history of Seminole County. Articles she has written have been published in the N. C. Historical Magazine and in the Normal Instructor. Upon her retirement she plans to continue with her historical research and writing, travel a bit and work with her flowers.

WELCOME HOME ceremonies of VAH-9 had a special added attraction for their decorations when the husbands and daddies came home last week. It was a real live hoot owl, who silently eyed the crowd as the Hoot Owl squadron members filed into the ready room for refreshments after landing. The little owl was introduced as "George Yehudi." Get it? (Ye-hooty!)

George is a Sanford product, who was given a home by Billie Kimmons, and he had a fancy circus-decorated cake for the ceremonies. Other Sanford-styled products were also used in the decorations including orange juice, water skills, golf bags and equipment, fishing tackle, beach umbrellas and all the things that remind carrier-bound flyers of their home port, Sanford.

THE ANNUAL NAVY-CIVILIAN post-tournament party, held this year at the NAS Ballroom for Navy and civilian golfers and their friends was "the best ever," according to reports received in this corner.

More than 200 Navy and civilian friends attended the "gala," and we hear they danced the Twist all night, to the music of the Starlighters.

The food was reported to be "fabulous" and it sounds like it was, with a menu of prime ribs of beef, baked ham, barbecued pork, potatoes in sour cream, fancy salads and other delicious accompaniments.

The decorations also were said to have added greatly to the spirit of the thing, with golf the theme, of course, and golf pictures and golf equipment used extensively to implement this idea.

The entertainment was provided by the hilarity aroused by various contests in the manner in which the contestants were picked and the winners chosen. One prize, that of "Any man present with garters on" went to genial Capt. Joe Tully—the only man who could have won, according to classified information.

The other contests were just as bizarre and it's just as well not to tell the name of the man who won the prize for having the most credit cards. He had 28!

Master of ceremonies for all this delightful nonsense was John Ivey. Responsibility for all the behind the scenes planning for the party, which those who attended say cemented the happy Navy-civvy relationship even more securely, goes to Abe Fennell, Bill Sowell, Keith Burr and Sonny Powell. Sponsors who made it all possible were Florida Power and Light, Sanford Atlantic Bank, Florida State Bank and Navy Special Services.

Honoring The Police

This week has been officially proclaimed by Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crappa, as Police Week.

The citizens of Sanford are to be credited with the maintenance of a fine and efficient Police Department, and congratulated on having Roy G. Williams serving as Chief. He has had over 40 years of experience in law enforcement and has given unstintingly of his ability, time and experience in building a department second to none in the South in efficiency for a town of our size.

Twenty-four hours a day the safety of the people of this city is in the hands of Chief Williams and his men. We sleep at night because we feel secure, and that security is the job of the Sanford Police Department.

The Herald salutes Sanford's finest.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Establishment of a $1.8 billion international fund for the stabilization of export markets will be the big business before the 10th annual meeting of the United Nations Commission on Commodity Trade in Rome, May 14-20.

W. Michael Blumenhail, deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will be chief U. S. delegate.

If this complicated enterprise can be set up, it could have tremendous influence on the success of not only the Alliance for Progress in the Western Hemisphere, but also for President Kennedy's foreign trade expansion program and all free world international trading.

There is as yet no blueprint to show how this business would work, if it will work at all. It is still a gleam in the eye of a lot of farsighted people who recognize the economic dislocations caused in many countries by fluctuating commodity supplies and prices.

They think something can and should be done to stabilize world markets for both producing and consuming countries.

International coffee trade offers a prime example. A coffee study group of six importing and six exporting country representatives which has been meeting in Washington for several months has just requested U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant to call a formal conference of all coffee-producing and consuming countries in New York, beginning July 9.

It is expected that this meeting will run six weeks or more. But any agreement reached would be expected to fit into the broader export stabilization plan that will be considered in Rome and at later U. N. trade conferences.

The idea of commodity market stabilization was included in the Alliance for Progress Charter signed in Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August. Its final section called for analyzing "the proposal for establishing an international fund for the stabilization of export receipts" and for preparing "a draft plan for the creation of a mechanism for compensatory financing" in fluctuating markets.

For an oversimplified example of how it might work, take the case of Colombia, a principal coffee exporter.

Every time the New York price of coffee drops one cent a pound, Colombia's coffee producers lose $1.5 million. Colombia now has an Alliance for Progress development plan which will cost roughly $200 million a year. Any year there is a bad crop or even a bumper crop which drives down prices, Colombia doesn't have the foreign exchange to carry on development work. All it can do is cut back.

The alternative would be to set up an export stabilization fund, to which all coffee-producing countries would contribute. Any time an exporting country had a bad crop year and a shortage of foreign exchange, it could draw on this reserve by a temporary loan which would tide it over. This would enable the country to carry on its development plan.

This was the situation which Jorge Mejia Palacio, Colombia's minister of finance, described at the opening of the Board of Governors meeting in Buenos Aires last month. He was extremely critical of the Alliance and the IADB for not having done anything to correct such conditions in their first year of operations. His remarks were intemperate and were rebuffed by United States delegates.

Mejia Palacio did emphasize the problem, however. And the most important decision taken at Buenos Aires was to explore possibilities for stabilizing commodity markets.

Theodoro Moscoso, United States co-ordinator for the Alliance for Progress, has the idea that any plan worked out by the IADB should be limited to stabilizing exports so that funds can be guaranteed for carrying on development programs.

Gary Vs. Varnes

Battlelines For Primary Drawn

Smoke cleared from the first primary shooting, and candidates for the May 29 run-off election are beginning to shout for the big prize coming up.

In the local race, District 4 candidates Phil Varnes and Lee Gary are snapping out strategy and sources say that Varnes had picked up the political support of the third and fourth place candidates Bob Cameron and Walt Bondar.

However, no public statements have been made on this matter. Gary polled the biggest majority in the race beating out Varnes by about 600. On the state level it appears, however, that candidates will have to do a lot of shouting to get 700,000 voters (less than half of those registered in Florida) back to the polls.

Only one statewide run-off is set, while races for congressional nominations and 20 seats in the Legislature are scheduled.

Veteran Utilities Commissioner Jerry Carter and Jim Blanton of St. Augustine, will battle for statewide votes for the utilities commission nomination. Carter gleaned 90,000 more votes than Blanton in the first primary, but other candidates got enough votes to force the run-off.

The congressional contests, at least in three districts, seem to be the liveliest prospects at the moment.

Hal Davis of Quincy, will take on State Rep. Don Fuqua of Altha for the 9th District Democratic congressional nomination. Fuqua collected 5,000 more votes than Davis in the first primary.

Tallahassee attorney Dexter Douglas, who lost the run-off spot to Davis by 88 votes, has already stepped to Davis' side of the line for the May 29 battle. Douglas said voters in the 13-county district have a clear choice between Fuqua "a liberal, and Davis—a Southern Democrat."

State Rep. L. B. Vocelle of Vere Beach, and State Sen. John Sutton will fight for the 11th District congressional seat. Vocelle, who campaigned as a 100 per cent backer of the Kennedy administration, ran second to Sutton in the first primary.

In the 10th District run-off are conservative Sumter L. Lowry of Tampa and middle-of-the-reader Sam Gibbons of Tampa.

HUNGER STRIKE

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Franco Having Troubles

Generalissimo Francisco Franco always has had trouble with the rebellious workers of northern Spain.

Laws promulgated at the start of the Franco regime more than 25 years ago declared strikes illegal and placed them in the same category as military rebellion, subject to the penalties of a military court.

Yet even stern measures failed to subdue the tough dock workers of Bilbao or the Asturian miners who fought Franco in the mountains during the civil war.

Today, a strike touched off by 60,000 Asturian miners has affected steel, heavy machinery and electrical works in Vizcaya and Guipuzcoa provinces in the north and threatens to spread still further.

This is the area of traditional left-wing and Communist opposition to Franco.

Berestona, where strikes also threatened, was a principal Republican stronghold during the Civil War and has remained a center of underground Communist opposition.

It is natural then that the government should blame the strike on Communists.

Others believe the explanation goes deeper.

Spanish intellectuals of all shades of political opinion protest government censorship and demand greater freedom of thought.

A manifesto issued by the Catholic Action Workers Brotherhood declared that Spain's efforts to lift itself economically had placed the heaviest burden on the workers.

"We conceded the need for financial stability," the report said, ". . . but we demand that the necessary sacrifices be evenly distributed . . . in many ways the working class is without authentic representation, without means of expression."

In the last seven years, strongly supported by more than a billion dollars in U.S. economic aid, Spain has registered some spectacular gains.

Electric power and coal and steel production have soared upward. Fertilizers, cement and consumer goods pour out from old and new factories.

Spanish currency is stable, and in the next year the government plans to double investments in agriculture and to boost industry and public works investments 50 to 25 per cent respectively.

Last summer, about eight million tourists spent around $450 million in Spain.

But much remains to be done. Railroad rolling stock is out of date. There is a shortage of a million houses.

There are fears that government complacency and internal bickering could erase Spain's modest standard of living gains and leave the country far behind its prosperous neighbors in the European Common Market.

Political tolerance seems far in the future.

For Spain, Franco has decreed "an organic democracy unmarred by the spectacle of free elections."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE M-420: Dr. Sam is a prominent dental surgeon who presided at a convention which I recently addressed.

"Dr. Crane," he asked me at the luncheon, "what do you think of the brand of psychology used by Russia as contrasted with our own?"

Although I am an arch foe of Communism, as you regular readers certain know well enough, I think Russia has far surpassed America in its use of Applied Psychology.

For this is an age where small nations are either bluffed or "bought."

Uncle Sam has thus spent over $100 billions trying to "buy" good will abroad, and line up allies in the UN.

Russia, however, "bluffs" her satellites, plus half the rest of the world; then taxes or confiscates much of their wealth, besides.

We pay money out; she rakes it in:

She even coaxed over $14 billions out of us Americans: Then, instead of paying the huge I.O.U., she used the money to finance her space program and sent her satellites, plus astronauts, into outer space—with our money.

Khrushchev recently boasted that horse meat has now become rather plentiful in Russia.

When taunted by Americans about eating horse meat, he cleverly told to the Russian people that America is so poor we must eat dogs (hot dogs).

That was certainly a clever psychological twist.

Will Rogers once said that "The United States never lost a war or won a conference", which indicates we have plenty of courage and industrial capacity but not enough psychology to salvage victory after it has been won on the field of battle.

In time of war, we are constantly vigilant to prevent sabotage of our power plants, water works and big industries.

But a nation can be ruined even faster by internal psychological sabotage.

This can involve twisting the basic concepts that have made America great.

For example, do you readers believe the modern doctrine that everybody is entitled to a living?

If so, you are victims of psychological sabotage, so wake up.

All our Constitution and pioneer ancestors struggled to give us a "chance" to earn that living, not the "living" itself!

Millions of Americans are thus muddled in their thinking. They confuse a "living" with a "chance" to earn it. There is a whole of a difference!

The entire welfare state is based on that false doctrine that every member of the human race, is automatically entitled to a living. That's not true. All he deserves is a chance to go out and earn that living.

Captain John Smith uttered the proper doctrine that has brought America to the forefront of world powers by his view, "No work; no eat."

Woodrow Wilson also summed up the true American philosophy when he said: "All any American should ask for is a free field and no favors."

It isn't Russian bombs we should fear as much as internal dry rot, as indicated by creeping socialism.

So send for my booklet, "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski
Well, now that the hustle and bustle of the highly successful Women's City Tournament has been written into the history books, let's scan some of those little yellow sheets and see who's been doing what to my mind!

In the final nite of the Jet Lanes Kegler's League, Clyde Piercy of the American Legion five-some smacked home a 210, hi for the nite and William Ward lead in series with a 588. Not too many plus behind Piercy was James Waller with a 207 and Charles Tournoux and a 209. Incidentally, those same Jet Lanes Kegler's will have their familiarization nite on May 24th. So, if you'd like to join, be on hand on that nite.

Our newest league entry, the Dearborn Electronics, found Harry Penelcost away up on top with a 310,578 duo. Wednesday nite's mixed couples league, the Ball & Chains had Don Spear leading all of the men bowlers with a 198,523 set. In the meantime Rosemary Laubert's 181 and Louise Cadenhead's 499 took individual honors with those scores.

Hey, looker here! Ginny Frederick's 175,468 was the best rolled in the Bill Hemphill Motor-ettes League. See that Ginny, I told you those lessons would eventually pay off. (And it didn't take you a thousand years, either, to win honors in your league!)

Well, that All Star League with its Position Night every night, is really proving to be an interesting league to bowl in.

You've either got to knock over those pins or else you're knocked-out of your current position. Makes for real tight bowling every nite.

Gerald Murphy was hitting all ten all the time as he checked-in with the hi series for the nite, a 584.

And we still have another new name to add to our column this week. Lucy Mays (Yowell's) in the Jet Bowlerettes Lg had hi series and game with a 198,461. Atta girl, Lucy. You bowl as well as you drive!

In our Junior League on Saturday am's, Johnny DePalma and Teddy Wagner were high for the Bantams with a 179,418, respectively.

For the Juniors, that 13 years of age and over, Carl Cunningham and Chuck Ogden tied for high game with a 214 scratch. Chuck also rolled the highest series, a 587.

Incidentally, you All Star

Leaguers . . . that 214 shot by the Juniors was higher than your highest turned in for last week's play. Ahem, gentlemen. Come on out on Saturday mornings and maybe you'll pick-up some pointers from the kids. (What the heck, that's why I'm always on hand on Saturday!)

Taking a quick look at the one, two, three standings in the Spare Ribbers League finds Tender on top, followed by Cracked and then Never Better. Herbert Richards 586 still leads the lg for hi series honors and Huey Long's 227 tops all of the "youngsters" in the Singles Dept.

Before I forget it, men, don't forget you have your annual Bowling Association Meeting this coming Thursday a 7 p. m. at the American Legion Hall on Highway 17-92. There'll be plenty to eat and drink . . . ALL FOR FREE . . . so show your support to the officers and men in the association by being there in person to cast your vote for the coming slate of officers.

Bob Rugenstein's 224 (Owen's Gulf) was the high single turned in in the Bursesmen's Lg this past Tuesday in their final nite of bowling. High Series was that of C. Wallis Sr., who had a 372. Tonight, will be familiarization nite for the league when the prize money will be distributed and the election of officers for the coming summer season will be held.

Their league will officially begin next Tuesday at 9 p. m. All newcomers are urged to attend tonight's meeting. There are currently six teams signed to bowl in the Summer League.

The women's Annual Meeting of their Association will be held on Sunday, May 20th at the Shrine Hall at 2 p. m.

At this time the trophies and prize money for the winners of the recently completed tournament will be awarded and equally important, the election of officers for their coming year will also be held, just as in the case for the men. Ladies, continue to show your support for the game by planning on attending this very important meeting. A little bird told me that you'll be electing another good slate of women to serve you for the coming year. I hope so as it's most important to have an active group of officers.

That'll do it for this week. Remember to patronize your sponsors.

David McCoy, 18, Wins Championship

By Jane Casselberry

The Man of the Hour at the Country Club of Casselberry Men's Assn. Awards Dinner held Saturday night was David L. McCoy, 18-year-old winner of the club's championship.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David G. McCoy, 511 Queen's Mirror Circle, Casselberry. He has been playing golf for 10 years and will graduate from Lyman High in June.

He was presented with two handsome trophies by club golf pro Floyd Chaffee.

The awards presentation followed a delicious buffet dinner prepared by the Ladies golf association. Mrs. Ralph Park, charming wife of club owner Ralph Park, welcomed the many members and guests present in the absence of her husband who unfortunately was confined to the hospital.

Trophies also were presented to the following tournament winners: Championship Division runnerup, Robert C. Harvey; winner of Consolation Championship Division, Don Conklin; runnerup for Consolation Championship Division, Charles Daugherty; first flight winner, Jim Matthis; runnerup, Cliff Overman; second flight winner, Paul Anderson; runnerup, Richard Miller; consolation second flight, Al Vickers; third flight winner, Francis R. Darland; runnerup, Hugh Smith; consolation, Tommy Morris; fourth flight, Doc Smith; runnerup, Pat Lary.

President of the Men's Association, Fred Hennig, and president of the Ladies' Association, Betty Vickers, were introduced to the group. It was announced that a Scotch two-ball tournament will be held at the course next Sunday.

Gorton Rolls High Series

In the Muller Motors Navy Wives League, Mary Jane Gorton rolled a 189-489 series. Other high games were Martha Kinnard 189-472, Fran Mackey 177-444, and Clara Barber 178-448.

The 5-10 split was made by Ollie Yellnek, Joan Adams, Marie Cioowski, and Kay Bowman. Betty Allen made the 8-7-10 split and Sue Reno the 6-7. Martha Kinnard made the 2-7 while Irene Dulek made the 3-10 twice.

Turkeys were made by Clara Barber and Mary Jane Gorton. Navy Wives Club No. 211 is in first place and VAH-7 Wives are in second place.

The public is invited to attend the intersquad contest the 23th of this month. A definite place has not yet been decided for the playing of the game but things lean toward the field in back of Seminole High School.

SHS Baseball Varsity Letters Set For 20

By Ronnie Broadway
Seminole High School Baseball Coach Jim McCoy announced that the following members of the SHS baseball team will receive varsity letters for the season: Steve Barnes, Tim Barrowman, Roocoe "Amos" Bowen, Earl Black, Jack Carlo, Mike Carlo, Gary Davidson, Billy "Gasser" Higgins, Berry Johnson, Bobby Johnson, Billy Lovelace, Danny McFarlin, Chuck Ogden, J. B. Phillips, Lawrence Pivec, Butch River, Marvin Sheffield, and Jerry Whitmore. Managers receiving letters are Chuck Meeks and Eddie Griffin.

The Seminoles finished the regular season, including the sub-group tournament with a 10-6 record and were tied with DeLand for second place in the Orange Belt Conference. Sanford went to the finals of the sub-group tournament but was eliminated at the hands of DeLand, 11-0. McCoy thought that the boys had a very fine season with their record being the best in recent years at SHS. McCoy will lose only five senior lettermen this year, Barnes, Bowen, Mike Carlo, Davidson, and Bobby Johnson. There will be lots of experience left on the Seminole bench and McCoy has hopes of next year being as good, if not better, than the past season.

United Press International Rookies are blooming in the major leagues in record numbers this season with Bo (no-hitter) Belinsky of the Angels, Manny Jimenez of the Athletics and Dick Rollins of the Twins the early standouts in what may turn out to be a bumper crop come September.

Not since the war years when many of the established stars were in khaki and blue have there been so many rookies still on major league rosters beyond the first month's cut-down date—a whopping 20 per cent of the total number of players in the two leagues.

Expansion, no doubt, has had a lot to do with it, but the outflow of the newcomers this season is surprisingly high. A breakdown of the two leagues shows 50 rookies in the AL, which expanded a year ago, and 47 in the NL, which added two new clubs this season.

There were no major league games played Monday, but in exhibitions the New York Yankees beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3; the Chicago Cubs defeated the Chicago White Sox, 2-1; and the Washington Senators beat the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4, in 13 innings.

Belinsky, an eccentric left-hander who had a so-so 9-10 record at Little Rock in 1961, has won all five of his major league starts, including a no-hit, no-run game against the BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS...

That's what the library needs before we talk about a First Street site for the library. Maybe, it will be interesting to see just how much the city appropriates this next fiscal year for the library... For the past five years it's been that same small pittance... What's the good of having a choice library location without proper books...
AND We have been told that the library will not be opened at night... so what's the good...
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Why doesn't the City fix up the present library site... Say, like looking over the top floor of the library where the magistrates are stored... I wonder how many commissioners have been upstairs?
A CONVERSATION WITH EARL HIGGINBOTHAM.
Reporter: It is true what I hear that there's a move on to get rid of Pete Knowles and Bill Hutchison?
Higginbotham: We're not about to get rid of them, regardless of all those "rumors" floating around.
Reporter: Who started this talk?
Higginbotham: That's not important! All I know is I'll never vote for it. They are two of the most capable men we have in city government.
The County Commission might just as well take down that $20 sign in the chambers which reads "please limit discussion to 20 minutes." It was obsolete Tuesday.
Youngsters celebrating "Youth Government Day" were at the county chambers Tuesday during the meeting and one officer of the Seminole High Student Council got up before the board and asked when the county was going to pave the access road to Seminole High School. Of course, the youngster was told the board had approved the project.
Why, O Why, won't our kids take more of an interest in local government! That paving project was one of the leading stories in your favorite newspaper three weeks ago.
Commissioner John Fitzpatrick has taken over the super-human task of eliminating chinch bugs from the grounds of the county jail. John never did say how he was going to do it.
Did you notice that the City fathers in the "city clean-up" of dilapidated, unsanitary and unsafe houses are still working on the SINGLE story structures? ... And in the business district "fringe" area? ... Just you wait; they've already told you that the Palm Hotel is on their list... But that is a THREE story affair... And it is right down town! ... Has to wait its turn after the TWO story houses... And their "clean up the Palms (hotel, not hands, that is) promise is ONLY about six months old...
Yesterday ACLRR had a swinging blade—and a man to swing it, of course—cutting down the weeds in front of the old freight station at Myrtle and First... Cleaned up those unsightly palm fronds, too. Sure, it looks better!
Now when are the shrubs and the grass going to adorn the plot?
Oh yes, and speaking of Tom Rice's railroad, that tooth-jolting crossing at fifth and Elm got a sprinkling of asphalt, so that now the "shake-rattle-and-roll" of our "33 Maxwell doesn't shake the teeth out of our mouth—just the filling out of our teeth... You see, it is better.
No doubt all of Bob Bessner's hospital's two dollar bills will each have a corner torn off. Just to ward off bad luck, you know.

Tempers Flare At 7½ Hour Commission Meet

The County Commission met in what turned out to be a routine business meeting for the first five hours Tuesday but, after the board adjourned, had supper and came back, tempers flared as one commissioner charged another with settling county business in a car instead of at a public meeting.
It was one of the longest board meetings on record as the commission got together at 1:30 p. m. and everyone went home after 9:30 that same night.
The commission rescinded its previous action on a joint participation project paying Highland St. in Sanlando after Commissioner Vernon Dunn said he and two other commissioners, Chairman J. C. Hutchison and John Fitzpatrick took a ride on the property and didn't see why the joint participation was warranted.
An angry James P. Avery shouted at Dunn "You seem to spend more time in my district than in your own. Why wasn't I invited? Why do we even come up to a public meeting when you settle every item in a car?"
The board authorized Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. to return a $6,000 participation project check to the developer of this property.
In other business, during the long drawn-out meeting, the board:
RETURNED to the zoning commission the present setback regulation to revise the amendment after Bryan Kimball, president of the Board of Realtors called it a "hardship."

According to Zoning Director Robert Brown, there are many municipal sections in the county which are "feet wide" and under the present regulation, setback would be 75 feet from the right-of-way which far exceeds the standard setback.
Commissioner Vernon Dunn wanted the whole amendment rescinded and the voters to start "anew" but, the board turned thumbs down on this request. "Maybe I should hire someone to vote for me," Dunn said.
AUTHORIZED the sale of alcoholic beverages at Spartan Drive and Hwy. 17-92 despite a recent zoning regulation that no liquor be sold within 1,000 feet from a church.
Both Hutchison and Avery opposed the request.
AGREED to set up a meeting for next week with the engineers who drew up the franchise directive and the "opponents" of the bill to "iron out differences in an informal air." Avery praised engineers W.E. Knowles, Bill Krause and Bill Laffler for the original directive but let loose a few barbs at the opponents of the directive who "are against sewage" and "make no bones about it." Their so called revised directive makes no sense to me," Avery said.
VOTED to put a lock at the Osceola Airport for stricter security reasons but, to give a key to officials of the Seminole Timing Assn. for drag races. There was some discussion of stopping the races after Hutchison reported that a Geneva resident had written a letter to the governor complaining of the noise. However, the board said the races were "good, clean fun."

HEARD a petition from some 200 residents of the Bear Lake section complaining about the "deplorable" condition of roads in their precinct.
Avery called on Road Superintendent J. C. Lavender to answer if that part of the county had been neglected. Lavender said "no" and Avery called the petition the result of an attempt by "one individual to embarrass me." "However," he added, "you can't embarrass old retired sailors." He didn't elaborate.
LISTENED to a petition from the Casselberry Town Council asking that Winter Park Dr. and Seminole Blvd. be designated as municipal connecting links and after the usual hassle with Dunn objecting to Winter Park Drive, the board turned the matter over to Attorney Harold Johnson pending a joint meeting between the Casselberry officials and raceway officials on financing the four-laning project into the raceway.
AGREED to get a list of registered insurance people in the county so the commission could start rotating members of the insurance committee;
HEARD a complaint about unsightly condition of a junk yard on Hwy 17-92 south of Longdale but took no action after Avery said "our Legislative delegation was supposed to get some legislation but we never heard about that."

AGREED to pay road department personnel once a week from now on instead of twice monthly;
TOLD a group of interested persons on the Sanford fringe area that the commission was helpless in giving them fire protection and the board was powerless to extend tax funds for protection. The commission emphasized that anyone in a district can circulate a petition asking a referendum be placed on a ballot establishing the district if the majority of the freeholders approve it. The board urged the delegation to get to work immediately circulating the petition to get it on the November general ballot.
AGREED to pave an entrance to the stockade at the County Home which is being turned into an agricultural center. Cost was estimated at $3,500. Zoning Director Bob Brown estimated the stockade would be completed in two weeks.
AUTHORIZED Acting County Engineer Guy Stenstrom to start acquiring rights-of-way for the Lake Orléans drainage plan submitted by engineer Bill Krause. Cost of the project is $15,000 which will be paid by property owners in the area;
AGREED to pave the motor park area by the National Guard Armory on a joint participation basis with the state.

Chase And Company Cited For Violations Of Labor Act

A summons was served on Chase and Company, Randall Chase and Clyde Ramsey, on May 3, notifying them of a hearing concerning their alleged violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act by the Federal Marshall's office in Orlando, it was learned today by the Herald.
The plaintiff in the case is Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.
Goldberg, in the charges, seeks injunctive relief to prevent any further violations by the defendants.
In a statement this morning company president Randall Chase declared, "We have no objection to being asked to obey the law. As far as we know we are law abiding citizens and want to remain so, and any violations of the law, if there are any, have been entirely unintentional on our part."
It is alleged in the complaint that the company failed to pay the minimum wage of $1.00 per hour prior to September 3, 1961, and the minimum of $1.15 subsequent to that date.
It is also spelled out in the complaint that the company failed to compensate their employees for overtime at the rate required by the act which is the usual time and a half for anything over 40 hours work per week.
According to the acting deputy clerk of the Federal Court in Orlando the charge was filed with the Department of Labor office in Birmingham, Ala., and the Orlando Marshall was ordered to serve the summons. The defendant company, President Chase and Secretary Ramsey have until May 23 to file their answer and as of this morning had not done so.
The hearing will be held before the Court in Chancery which will decide on the sufficiency of the charges and rule on whether or not to issue the injunction sought.
The company is also alleged to have failed to keep all the records required under the act for companies engaged in interstate commerce.
The office of Congressman Syd Herlong called the Herald this morning from Washington and said the action against Chase and Company here was concerned with the interpretation of certain parts of the Fair Labor Standards Act having to do with exemptions pertaining to particular classes of agricultural workers.

Peaceful Laos Settlement Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hope for a diplomatic settlement of the Laos crisis rose slightly here today with Russia's renewed pledge to support a cease fire and creation of an independent, neutral government in the strife-torn Southeast Asian kingdom.
Top officials, however, warned against any undue optimism. They pointed out that Communist intentions in the area still were far from clear.
The U. S. military buildup in Southeast Asia was going steadily ahead, with an 1,800-man Marine battle group scheduled to go ashore late today in Thailand, which borders Laos.
The Marines, added to 1,000 U. S. Army troops already headed for the Mekong River boundary of Laos, a 1,200-man Army element to follow and U. S. Air Force and Marine air units, will bring the total American strength in Thailand to about 6,000 men.
Officials said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin's reaffirmation, in a conference Tuesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk of Russia's year-old pledge to support a cease fire and creation of an independent government in Laos was heartening as far as it went.
The real test will come, they said, on the ground in Laos where the Communist-led Pathet-Lao rebels appear to be holding their fire after wresting the northwest part of the country from pro-Western royal government forces.
The United States is pinning its hope for a political settlement on neutralist former Premier Souvanna Phouma, who has tried unsuccessfully in recent months to form a coalition with elements of the royal government and the pro-Communist Pathet-Lao.
Souvanna plans to return to Laos from Paris this weekend for another effort. He was said to be irritated with the Communists, with whom he has worked at times, for undertaking the attack in northern Laos 10 days ago without advising him of their plans.

Combat Planes From U.S. Land In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—The United States started landing combat planes in Thailand today to reinforce this country's defenses against communism. A U. S. Embassy spokesman said 1,000 Marines would be landed within the "next 24 to 36 hours."
Communist China reacted with a warning that its people "cannot remain indifferent" to U. S. military moves in Southeast Asia. The wording recalled similar declarations in September, 1950, a month before Red China entered the Korean conflict. At the time the Peiping regime was only a year old.
Interior Minister Gen. Praphug Charusithing said the American troops may be joined by troops from other members of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO) if the situation grows worse.
Already taking up positions near Thailand's northeast border with Laos were 1,000 American soldiers who have been here for a month.
The American decision to send troops into Thailand, with the blessing of the Thai government, resulted from attacks by pro-Communist rebels in northwestern Laos which drove the royal Laotian army across the Mekong River into Thailand.
Communist China's reaction came in a commentary in the official Peiping People's Daily newspaper, quoted by a Peiping Radio broadcast.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators disclosed today that Billie Sol Estes has been subpoenaed to appear at congressional hearings on his shattered Texas farm empire and the possible involvement of Washington officials.
The Agriculture Department Tuesday night fired former Assistant Secretary James T. Ralph because of his alleged dealings with the indicted Texas farm magnate.
Ralph was the fourth administration official to lose his job in the furor over the government's dealings with Estes.
But Republican demands for Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman's resignation brought a ringing endorsement of the cabinet officer Tuesday night from President Kennedy.
Shortly afterwards, Freeman announced Ralph's dismissal.
Freeman said the Justice Department told him it found that Ralph had made long distance telephone calls charged to Estes' credit card.

New Wave Of Terror Spreads Across Casbah

ALGIERS (UPI)—The outlawed Secret Army Organization today fired at least 15 mortar shells into the heavily-populated Moslem Casbah quarter today and spread a new wave of terror across Algeria.
First reports from the Casbah said there were "several victims" but no exact casualty figures were immediately available.
At least 26 persons were killed and 15 wounded by terrorists in other attacks in Algiers and the western port city of Oran, as the OAS moved through the second day of a campaign of retaliation for Monday's attacks on Europeans.
As the wave of violence spread the French government in Paris ordered the mobilization into the army of all European youths in Algeria between the ages of 19 and 21. The move was aimed at keeping the youths under government control and preventing them from joining the

A Warning
SONOMA, Calif. (UPI)—Adm. Charles M. Cooke Jr., USN (ret.) former commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet and a military-political strategist with a remarkable record of accurate prophecy, said today that if the Communists are not stopped in Laos and South Viet Nam they will continue toward conquest of all Southeast Asia.
