

JITNEY BUS LINE WILL START IN SANFORD

NEW IDEA IN TRANSPORTATION CIRCLES WITH A FIVE CENT FARE

Street railways are not in style this season and Sanford being in the forefront of civilization at all times will discard the street railway and take on the new style jitney bus.

The jitneys will be operated by the Sanford Transfer Company and they are arranging the jitneys this week preparatory to starting this new wrinkle in transportation. The special bodies have arrived and will seat eight passengers comfortably. The bodies will be placed on Ford running gears and will be greatly strengthened to stand the heavy traffic. Since the jitneys will not go anywhere except on the good paved streets the buses ought to carry eight passengers very nicely. A ten cent fare to the depot will be maintained and the regular schedule to and from the trains will be adhered to just as the street car lines would do. A schedule around the city for a five cent fare will also obtain and the jitneys are bound to prove popular with the travelling public and the commuters.

The jitney invasion in Sanford is only a forerunner in Florida for the jitney has put the street car service in many of the larger cities out of business. The jitneys maintain the regular schedule, can go to any place the street car can go and many places where the street car does not go and with the nickel fare the popularity of the jitney is assured. The Sanford Transfer Co. will sell six five cent fares for twenty-five cents, thus making very cheap transportation. The jitney will start in Sanford about June 10, and the new idea will be watched with much interest in this city where the hack business has reached large proportions. A transportation amounts to a goodly sum especially with the public.

Beach Resorts Open

Daytona Beach is opening for the summer season and many Floridians from the interior will soon be making arrangements to spend the summer months at the famous coast resorts. In the Herald will be noticed the advertisements for the Seaside Inn that is now under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stewart. These good people need no introduction to Sanford people as they have been residents of Daytona for many years and are proprietors of the Seaside Inn. The Daytona Beach Hotel has also opened for the season, under the management of W. F. and E. R. Ayers who expect to give the patrons the best there is in the way of service. Go to Daytona Beach.

General Assembly

Newport News, Va., May 27.—The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church this afternoon selected Orlando, Fla., as the meeting place next year. No other nominations were made. The date for the meeting has not yet been set.

The Reporter-Star received the following message from Dr. John W. Stagg:

Newport News, Va., May 26.—The assembly votes for Orlando as the next meeting place unanimously.—John W. Stagg.

It was due to the good work done by Dr. Stagg undoubtedly that no other nominations were made, and that Orlando was unanimously chosen for the next meeting. The assembly will bring between two and three thousand people to Orlando, and will be the biggest assemblage ever entertained in Florida. Dr. Stagg bore invitations from the Presbyterian church of Orlando, the St. Johns Presbytery and the Orlando Board of Trade.—Reporter-Star.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC DATE HAS BEEN CHANGED

UNION SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO PICNIC AT DE LEON SPRINGS JUNE 10

The date of the Sunday school picnic at DeLeon Springs has been changed from the 1st to the 10th of June but the change will not take away any of the pleasures of the trip and the youngsters will only have another week to look forward to that plunge into the springs and the big dinner to follow.

The A. C. L. has granted the usual low rate of 50 cents round trip from Sanford to DeLeon and return, children 25 cents and the excursion train will leave Sanford at 8 in the morning, returning leave the springs at 5 and arrive at 6 o'clock, thus giving the people the entire day in the woods.

Hon. Van C. Swearingen, mayor of Jacksonville will arrive at the springs at 1 o'clock and make his address on Sunday school work before lunch. This will be a feature of the day and is an innovation that should appeal to the parents of the children—and all those who are interested in the Sunday schools. Mayor Swearingen is a central figure in the state after his spectacular campaign and his able administration in Jacksonville as the chief executive of that city. Mr. Swearingen is an able and fluent speaker and knows how to reach the hearts of his hearers.

The children, of course will enjoy the day with swimming and games and the good things to eat and the older folks will enjoy the day in the woods away from the cares of business and state. DeLeon Springs needs no words of praise as a picnic grounds and the committee in charge will have plenty of ice water and the refreshment stands will supply anything needed in the way of cold drinks, ice cream, etc. Remember the date, Thursday, June 10th and the train leaves Sanford at eight o'clock.

NEW TEACHERS FOR THE SANFORD SCHOOLS

THEY WILL BE A GREAT ADDITION TO THE STRONG FACULTY OF OUR SUPERIOR SYSTEM

Sanford schools have just closed a most successful term and the thoughts of the people are naturally turning to vacation instead of the work of the next term of school but in order to let the public know that the local school board is looking after the interests of the school children this early in the season The Herald gives an outline of the work to be done and a short history of some of the new teachers. The list demonstrates that the new teachers will add greatly to the strength of the faculty. The board is anxious to have an election during the summer to issue bonds and make many needed changes in the buildings that will give the scholars the room that is needed now and in the future and it is the idea of the board to build sufficient rooms in the new buildings to take care of the rapidly increasing population of the city for the next ten years. Many of the rooms will not be fitted up until really needed but in the construction of the building these rooms can be built and equipped later when the need is apparent.

The list of the regular teachers was given in last Tuesday's issue and today we publish the new teachers as follows:

Miss Harriet Hulley of DeLand, daughter of Dr. Hulley, president of Stetson University will be the teacher of Latin in the Sanford High School, according to the recommendation of the local school board. Miss Hulley has the degree of M. A. of Stetson and has taken a special course in Bryan Mawr College and has studied in Berlin, Germany. She taught last year in Eustis school with phenomenal success and comes to Sanford with the highest recommendations from all those who know of her work in college and high schools.

Miss Elizabeth Nix comes to Sanford from the St. Augustine schools highly recommended. She has been teaching in the past year in the St. Augustine schools and has the highest recommendations from all those who know of her work in college and high schools.

Miss Elizabeth Nix comes to Sanford from the St. Augustine schools highly recommended. She has been teaching in the past year in the St. Augustine schools and has the highest recommendations from all those who know of her work in college and high schools.

CIRCUIT COURT IS GRINDING AWAY

The spring term of circuit court opened here on Tuesday with all members of the fraternity present or accounted for. The grand jury has been the busiest little body of men connected with the court machinery and their presentment is awaited with much interest. Civil cases occupied the attention of the court much of the time and the following cases were disposed of in record time: John Russel, vs. J. G. Maples, assumpsit, verdict for the defendant. J. W. Sipes vs. Fred Dorner, continued.

A. Dorner vs. Peoples Bank, assumpsit, case continued.

Union Trust Co. vs. W. A. Ginn, assumpsit, judgment for plaintiff.

Chase & Co., vs. C. Bell, order non suit.

American Agricultural Co. vs. F. F. Green, damages. Judgment for plaintiff.

C. C. Cobb, vs. I. L. Jenkins, judgment for plaintiff.

Edward L. Enocha, vs. B. A. Howard, judgment.

State of Florida vs. Will Griffin, assault with intent to murder, plead guilty.

State of Florida vs. W. L. Cook alias J. D. Cooper, passing worthless checks, plead guilty.

State of Florida vs. Peter Adkins, murder first degree. Plead guilty of manslaughter.

State of Florida vs. Clara Mumford, murder in first degree, plead not guilty.

and doubtless will succeed in the work in his chosen field.

In the primary school Mrs. Arrington comes to us from the Monticello schools where she has been teaching in the primary department for a number of years. Mrs. Arrington is the sister of Dr. Puleston of this city and comes to Sanford in order that her mother and herself can be here with Dr. Puleston and make this city their future home. Mrs. Arrington has a first grade state certificate in the primary department and was sought by the Sanford board two years ago but the Monticello board would not release her and promptly raised her salary to keep her at home. Sanford is fortunate to secure Mrs. Arrington.

Miss Alice Whitner of our city has been added to the faculty of the Sanford schools. Miss Whitner needs no introduction to the patrons of the schools. She has made a success of her work in the schools of Winter Park and they are urging her to return, but she has decided to cast her lot with home folks.

Miss Peacha Leffler is also one of our popular girls who has been teaching in the Jacksonville schools during the past year, will return to her first love and will teach again in the primary department of the Sanford schools.

Miss Annie Harris of Winter Park—another new addition to the Sanford school faculty. Miss Harris is a graduate of Rollins College and has taught for several years past in her home school at Winter Park. She comes to us with the best of recommendations and the best of feelings that they are making a valuable addition to the staff of teachers.

There may be one or two other teachers to add to the list before the opening of the schools but the local board believes in strict economy in connection with the best results obtainable. The new teachers mentioned in this part of the article, if they can be secured this next term of school will be as good if not better than the preceding terms. The other teachers who have been listed and applied for positions are well known to the patrons of the schools and they will assume their regular grades at the opening of the schools, which will be a source of satisfaction to all concerned. The contemplated improvements are made Sanford can well boast of probably the best school system in the state. This city will then have four well equipped school buildings with a corps of trained teachers.

A FINE PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED BY THE COMMITTEE

Sanford will have a Chautauqua. This has been decided upon after a pratical canvass of the people of Sanford, who are in favor of getting a portion of the better things in life and who recognize the true value of the Chautauqua, especially to the children.

While the Chautauqua did not pay last season for various good and sufficient reasons the majority of the guarantors are in favor of another Chautauqua and believe that a good one properly placed before the people will pay expenses. No one can figure in dollars and cents the real value of the Chautauqua and if the money expended upon this one can be returned in part the people of Sanford and the children will have gained a hundredfold in witnessing the best there is in instructive lectures, good music, etc. The committee has arranged the following very attractive program and the Chautauqua will be given the first week in March:

Dunbar Male Quartette & Bell Ringers For a score of years this organization has been on friendly terms with hundreds of thousands of concert goers and chautauquans. It has charmed and thrilled them with its part songs, carried them to fanciful realms with its beautiful music from 200 ponderous, mellow toned bells swung like silver censurs, sent them into convulsions of laughter with sung and impersonated humor and won acclamations of applause by the excellence of its instrumental ensemble. They are ministers of joy and gladness, not to one class of folks but to everybody that loves music of the finest type, and hearty and wholesome laughter when produced by men actually called to this high purpose, and fitted to it by talent, training and character.

Ribbadafer Skibinsky Company: composed of three artists, in one pre-entment in his or her own sphere, has been a peering alone before record breaking audiences. Mme. Ribbadafer is recognized by both press and public as one of the greatest of American pianists. Mr. Skibinsky, a gifted member of the choir has been favorably compared with Wenzlawski and Sarasate. Mr. Velle, the other member of the company has been pronounced everywhere as an ideal accompanist and competent soloist.

George Endowment Poole Lectures. To be given by Sen. Burton, Hon. P. F. Clayton, Com. of Education D. Hamilton Wright, Manager of the Outlook, or Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent. All men of national and international repute.

Hettie Jane Dunaway Company: In costumed musical character readings, presenting an interpretation of "The Lady of the Decoration."

Criterion Glee Club: Composed of four musicians with extensive and varied repertory consisting of classical selections, folk songs, pathetic and humorous numbers and plantation melodies and with the use of erayon they present a program of unusual attractiveness.

W. Powell Hale, Impersonator of Tennessee. In his matchless mimicry we see the several characters and hear them speak as though they are actually before us. Mr. Hale will also act as platform manager and is a favorite in that capacity.

Lycum Arts Conservatory Orchestra: Eight talented and comely maidens coached by the famous Elms Day, director, and Max Fischel, teacher of violin, of the Lycum Arts Conservatory. The enthusiasm of their audiences everywhere, and the press and personal comments that are given testify to the delight with which these charming and talented young women have been received.

Each attraction will be given a view of giving Sunday afternoon and best part of the day to be put on for four straight and four evenings.

Misses Mary and Julia Zachary have returned from Orlando where they have been attending the Cathedral School this past session. The excellent standing taken by these young ladies in their classes is another evidence of the excellency of our Sanford public schools.

Dorothy patted the bald head reflectively. "Mamma," she said, "will it make him ill when he cuts his hair?"

Distinctive Style in Utility Coat

For the woman of average means, a separate coat, to be worn with frocks of varied character, is a necessity of the wardrobe. Such a coat needs to be carefully selected, since it is to do duty as a street coat, for traveling, for driving in the auto, and for such occasions as may demand a sport coat. But great numbers of separate coats were designed this spring that are suitable for all-round service, and have much style to recommend them as well.

Among them, coats of covert cloth in tan and kindred shades and those in black and white checks seem really to fit in everywhere. They are full of style and snap; just the sort of garment that the American woman needs and delights in.

A fine example of the general utility coat is pictured here—it is a black and white check, with collar and cuffs in leather color. These accessories are often shown in emerald green and in black with white piping, so that there is a choice in color. The coat, as pictured, is worn over a frock of black taffeta. A combination of black and white appears in the Breton sailor hat and is repeated in the low walking shoes. No one needs to be assured of the smart appearance of such a toilette for the promenade.

But an equally pleasing picture presents itself if one imagines the coat worn for traveling. The hat might be a Panama or small outing shape, the shoes have tops of tan-colored cloth, and the dress is a plain suspender model worn with pongee shirt waist. The coat would fit in and complete a perfect outfit for the journey.

These coats are all cut on flaring lines, but they vary somewhat in length. Pockets and buttons are featured in their finishing. There is a great variety of styles in collars, and in the covert models buttons, collars and cuffs are usually all of the cloth.

In selecting a coat for general wear it is necessary to make sure that the material has been shrunk or is water-proofed.

Outing Collars

Whether the blouse is of silk, tulle or crepe, the collars are shaped like the collar on a man's outing shirt and are held together in front with a bow, linked buttons or a long bar pin.

Neckwear Must Be Considered

One might conclude that there had just come about a general awakening to the importance of the collar, if the number of new designs brought out measures the demand for novel neck wear. Those who provide it deserve all sorts of credit, for the neck may be becomingly dressed now whether it be thin or fat, long or short. There are all kinds of collars for all kinds of necks.

For the thin woman the turnover collars and those with plaits at the back are an inspiration. For her, collars are made closed and high at the front, or with only a narrow opening and a deep turnover cape at the back. They are wonderfully becoming.

At the right, a collar with long pointed wings at the sides is shown. It is made of batiste and net combined with a dainty pattern embroidered on both. It is high in the back. All these collars of sheer fabrics—including laces—are wired to hold them in position.

Besides being very becoming and providing a pretty finishing touch to the dress, these collars save the blouse or waist from becoming soiled and discolored. They are inexpensive and easily done up, and they must be reckoned with as the most important dress accessory of the season. More and more attention is to be given to them, and everyone wants a generous supply.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Odds and Ends of Laces

Every woman possesses what she calls her treasure bag. In it she has odds and ends of laces, ribbons and various other trimmings. Now is the time to get out this bag, go over its contents, select the things suitable to one of the new stock collars and then go ahead. Half a yard of black velvet or satin ribbon with which to make a high stock and a bit of lace to add to its embellishment will turn out just as smart a creation as any woman could wish for.

The high collar is softly gathered and there is a plaited jabot of cream net and lace. There is a flat tie of tan grosgrain ribbon with a bow placed at the side.

Bordered Goods

Bordered goods are among the spring novelties. Unlike the bordered goods that have been in favor other seasons, the most interesting of the new goods will have the border not woven in, but of a different material. This furnishes another opportunity for embroidery, for the contrasting fabric will be joined to the other material by means of fancy stitches. Such bordered fabrics have been used by some of the designers in the new models and it is thought that they will be well accepted by the general public.

JUDGE PERKINS WON'T RUN

There has been much talk of Judge James W. Perkins of DeLand being a candidate for governor, but the following from the Orlando Reporter-Star seems to settle the rumor:

"No; I've decided that I won't do it," said Judge James W. Perkins to a newspaper man when asked if he would enter the race for governor. "I would like to, I admit that; the prospective is attractive, and if I am ever to do it now's the time..."

There can be no doubt that Judge Perkins would be a strong, probably the winning candidate. He has friends by the score, is a fine campaigner and has made such a good record as a judge that he could draw on it as a political asset, were he minded to.

A Correction

Editor Herald: Your type setting machine made me say I will not buy your votes while I wrote will not beg your votes. To buy votes is against the law, to beg for them would in my opinion only be in bad taste.

Yours truly, J. N. Webster

The Sunday school picnic that was to be given at DeLeon Springs on Thursday, June 3rd has been postponed on account of the lack of extra coaches on the A. C. L. The big Confederate Reunion at Richmond the same week will take all the extra equipment as the A. C. L. has been designated as the official route from Florida and when this is over the picnic will be given. At this time it seems that June 10th will finally be decided upon and the further announcement will be given in The Herald. The picnic will be pulled off as arranged for everyone is interested in this popular excursion.

Tipperary

The pictures at the Parish House are sure to bring a large crowd Saturday evening, for they will be no less than "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Everyone knows how popular the song of that name is and the pictures are sure to attract.

There will be good music, the violin and the piano. The former will be played by Mr. Earl Paxton and the latter by Miss Fannie Reba Munson.

Also a word might be said about the ventilation of the Parish House. It is cool and comfortable on account of the high ceiling and many windows. There is a great plenty of good fresh air.

Come and have an enjoyable evening.

Runaway June Discontinued

Manager Herndon has made a final investigation concerning Runaway June and has concluded that it could give no more interesting story progress and in his judgment is below the standard that betrays the discriminating patrons of the Star. Voicing the sentiment of many of the witnesses of the beginning and at the request of numbers of the regular moving picture fans he has deemed it wise and opportune to discontinue this story and run in its place the well known serial, "The Exploits of Elaine." Pearl White plays the lead and will be remembered by the talent she exposed to many thousands when she played the part of Pauline in The Perils of Pauline. Arnold Daly plays the opposite, being a detective and furnishes some thrills for the audience that will move every person from the most decrepid and tire old man to young America in all his glory and innocence.

This subject varies from Pauline in numberless different ways. It has the peculiar distinction of being the most popular serial ever issued and is being run in practically every theater of consequence between the endless boundaries of Nova Scotia, Key West, Cape Horn and Seattle. Being of a detective nature everyone naturally knows how much real excitement can be aroused by a well acted story bordering on this subject. It is useless to take up time and space describing this subject. It has been said by some prominent critics that Webster should have molded some word other than "superb" that could be applied to things that were better than anything ever shown to the scrupulous and criticizing eyes of mankind.

The first episode of this story will be shown Wednesday, June 2nd.

Box Social

A most enjoyable box social was given at the home of Mrs. W. H. Peters Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Catholic church, from which a goodly sum was added to the treasury. A large number of members and friends of the church gathered to enjoy the fun, with Clarence Mahoney in the role of auctioneer—Clarence is a man of many talents and not the least is his ability as an auctioneer. Boxes sold from fifty cents to two dollars, the contents of them being most delectable. Punch was served free, gratis and for nothing, which of course added to the enjoyment of the evening.

A bird contest and vegetable contest were much enjoyed and elicited much fun. In the former, Mrs. J. L. Hurt was the fortunate best guesser and in the latter Miss Adelaide Higgins secured the honor. Each was presented with corsage bouquets of carnations. Another form of amusement was the play on names. This latter is becoming quite an entertaining adjunct to such affairs. A number of musical selections completed an evening of delightful enjoyment and sociability.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

In view of the general determination to secure larger financial returns from agriculture, more than ordinary attention is being given this year to truck farming.

This branch of industry takes a smaller investment in land and equipment than ordinary grain farming or dairying, and it pays better. There is a distinct tendency toward smaller places, and the next couple of years will see a great many more farmers than there are at present, many of them being city people, who have turned to the agricultural vocation.

Under modern business methods there will be good financial returns from ten and twenty acre farms, besides which rural life will be greatly improved, and the rush of country boys and girls to town will be checked.

To make the little farm pay, to equalize the work and to get any enjoyment out of country life there needs to be a wide diversity of production, including bush and tree fruits, vegetables of various kinds, poultry and some live stock. A place of twenty acres can easily carry three or four cows, a couple of dozen pigs, three brood mares and a small flock of sheep, besides raising a few head of young cattle, either to keep up the dairy or to sell for beef. A small farm so planned will yield an income of $2,000 to $4,000 a year, according to the skill with which it is managed. Truck farms of ten to twenty acres near all large cities are paying at the rate of $300 to $500 an acre. In many cases the owners are city men.

The average city man who is accustomed to hustle for his living will be all right on a modern farm. He need not work more than ten hours a day. Perhaps as wise a stroke as he could make at the outset would be to establish the ten hour day for himself and his hired help as well as the members of his family. Whenever I consider the farming subject one of the first points to come to mind is the dislike entertained by young people for the drudgery pertaining to the dairy, the corn field, the garden and agricultural labor generally. Another thing which flashes before me is the barren social life which is all too common in the farming districts. There is not enough recreation, and there is not enough attention given to the ethical or cultural side of the farm home. This accounts in part for the great exodus from the farming districts. The backward condition of many agricultural sections is wholly due to the loss of the young men and women, who have rushed away to the cities, hoping to have an easier and happier life. The proper place for the farmer's sons and daughters, as a general proposition, is in the agricultural vocation, which they might be able to enjoy and progressive ideas to broaden and brighten and make more profitable.

Land ownership is highly desirable for any family of limited means. The importance of a home in the country, with land enough to afford a living income, becomes more and more apparent every year. Therefore, I say, buy if you can and only rent when you cannot buy. I repeat that there need be no great fear of an ordinary debt in the case of providing a nice farm home for the family. It will be a matter of pride and satisfaction to work up to an independent position as a land owner and farmer. If good sense and industry are applied the earnings from the soil will be sufficient to maintain the home in comfort and pay off any debt that has been necessary.

If it is to be a small farm proposition get as close as possible to one of the big markets. Places are to be found within two or three miles of a good suburban station in almost any section of the country. If your taste runs toward a new, locally in the west or south there are plenty of fine opportunities in states where land can be bought at $15 to $25 an acre without improvements and $25 to $75 an acre with buildings.

The advantage of holding a city position for the first year or two will decide the matter for a great many. These people will take little farms close to town and in so doing they will keep in touch with the comforts of life as they have been used to them and with business methods as they understand them.

CLUBROOT IN CABBAGES.

When cabbages, cauliflower, turnips or similar crops are grown repeatedly or in succession on the same piece of ground the roots of these vegetables are likely to become attacked by what is known as clubroot. In our older gardens we do not seem to have very much trouble from that source. Nor is there much danger in soils that contain a good proportion of lime. Lime applications are therefore often recommended as a means to head off the disease. The vegetables of this family should be kept out of any piece of ground where the disease has once made its appearance, at least for several years. If you set plants entirely free from infection and put them in a spot that was free from clubroot last year you will not be likely to have your plants injured or destroyed by this disease.

KILLING THE POTATO BEETLE

Paris Green and Lead Arsenate the Favorite Remedies.

A good method is to mix the paris green with ten to twenty parts of cheap flour, sifted land plaster or air slaked lime before applying. It is always advisable to add lime (air slaked) to neutralize the soluble acid contained in paris green, and if this is done no injury will result. Large plants can be much more thoroughly treated by spraying. The paris green should be used at the rate of one pound in 100 gallons of water to which two pounds of fresh slaked lime have been added. It can be combined with bordeaux mixture, which is used to control blight, without the addition of the extra lime.

Lead arsenate is replacing paris green in spraying potatoes, as in all other spraying with arsenicals. The paste lead arsenate should be used at the rate of three pounds in fifty gallons of water or the dry lead arsenate at the rate of one and one-half pounds in fifty gallons of water. The lead arsenate is less liable to injure foliage, sticks to the leaves much better than paris green, and one application is of ten as effectual as two or more of the latter.

Poison should be applied as soon as the young larvae begin to hatch, and the number of applications to be given will depend upon the abundance of the pest as the season advances.

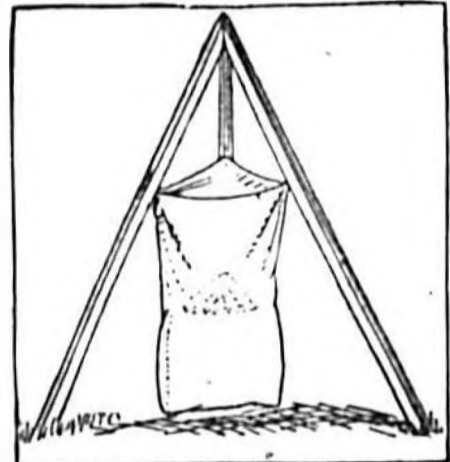

Often only an occasional plant will be infested at first, and with a small amount of poison in a compressed air knapsack sprayer one can treat these in a short time. Frequently this will reduce the numbers so that no further treatment will be necessary.

Dr. J. B. Smith of New Jersey recommends spraying potatoes as soon as the beetles begin to feed in order to kill these before the eggs are laid. R. H. Walden, Experiment Station, New Haven, Conn.

Handy Bag Filling Device.

A handy device for filling bags can be made by following the plan given herewith.

Set up three posts, as shown in picture. The apex should be about six feet from the ground. Screw into each post a stout hook at the height that will let the bag rest lightly on the ground when filled. If they are too high the bag will tear out. By means of this arrangement one man can do the work of one man and a boy. It can easily be moved from one place to another, as the posts can be made of 2 by 4 inch pine material, light enough for a man to carry easily.

MARKET GARDENING.

Don't neglect thinning the lettuce. If sown in rows thin the plants to stand eight inches apart. The thinned plants may be set in other ground if desired.

Cauliflower is not considered an easy crop to grow, but it is such a good vegetable that every home gardener should try to grow it. Seafoam is one of the best varieties for the late crop. It seems to be more resistant to hot, dry weather than most other varieties.

Good crops can't be grown on poor soils. The most important factor, then, in vegetable gardening is to make the soil good. Drainage, humus, plant food, tillage and moisture are the main factors in making soils productive.

Many farmers have not learned the value of Swiss chard. It produces an enormous quantity of leaves, which are valuable for greens as well as for the poultry, especially if the fowls are kept in small yards. Sow the seed as early as possible. There should be at least fifteen inches between rows. Thin the plants to about four inches and then to eight inches. The young plants are most tender and delicious for greens.—National Stockman and Farmer.

PASTURE LANDS.

The more fertile the land the better the pasture, but for economic reasons the rough fields and gullied hillsides should be the first to be used for grass. The increasing prices of meats and of farm labor will often make the fertile fields more profitable in pasture than in tilled crops. The convenience of water for the stock should not be overlooked in choosing a field for a pasture.

GENERAL SPRING SEEDING.

Sowing by Hand and With the Aid of a Disc Drill or Harrow.

Some men can sow seed evenly by hand, while others make a bad failure of the job. The trouble with sowing seed broadcast by hand is that in most cases the seed is distributed very unevenly, in thick patches here and thin patches there. The inexperienced hand, too, may sow more seed than is necessary to the acre, or he may not use enough seed. A few experienced men can sow fine seed broadcast almost as evenly as can be done with a mechanical contrivance.

Where seed is to be sown by hand broadcast the surest way to have the ground covered evenly for a perfect stand is to sow lightly both ways of the field. However, mechanical seeders which distribute seed evenly and in set amounts to the acre are cheap and by all means should be used when it is possible to secure them. Of mechanical seeders for small seed there are many different kinds, ranging from the wheelbarrow seeder to the small seed attachments to grain drills. The wheelbarrow seeder is one of the best of these kinds for one man use only.

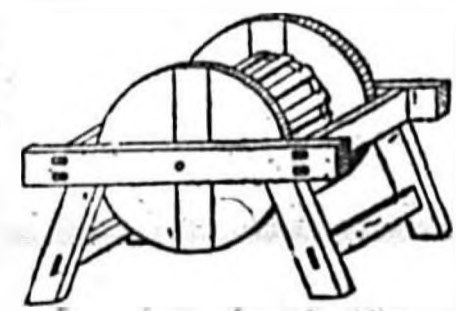

Common sense and good farming practice should teach us that all seed should be planted if it is expected to germinate and produce a crop of good plants. Every year literally thousands of bushels of high priced seed are wasted simply by "throwing" the seed upon the bare surface of the soil to take its chances with rains and elements. The reason so much of the valuable seed is wasted is that it never becomes covered with soil, hence much of it never germinates and grows. Much is washed away by rains and melting snows. Some that does germinate on the surface of the soil never makes good plants because the young roots are too near the surface. They are killed with the first dry spell of summer.

Sowing clover and other kinds of seed in February and March on snow or honeycombed ground is well and good if after conditions are such that the seed will sink into the soil deeply and become well covered where it fell without being moved. If the wet, alternate freezing and thawing soil will really plant it, then it will be all right.

The surest way to plant small seed of all kinds at any season is to open the surface soil with a disk drill or disk harrow, sow the seed so it will fall into these small furrows made by the disks and then cover with a smoothing harrow. With some disk drills where the soil is medium dry and friable the seed will be sufficiently covered with the drill drag chain attachments, thus saving subsequent mechanical covering. It is as foolish and wasteful to place wheat, oats, rye, barley, cotton or any seed on the surface soil and allow it to be covered by chance as it is to sow small seed in the old style way without being covered. Small seed must be planted the same as large seed, and when farmers come to realize this important fact less good seed will be wasted and much surer results will be secured.

Garden Hose Reel.

The making of useful garden work is something which is within the ability of any one with ordinary ingenuity. In the accompanying cut I show a cheap, strong and serviceable garden hose reel. It is perhaps not as desirable as a reel such as one would purchase, but it is useful and particularly desirable by those who cannot see their way clear to buy one. The stand is made of four inch by two inch scantling for the sides and top stretchers and three inch by two inch for the legs and leg stretchers. Two of each are wanted except in the case of the legs, where four are wanted. The construction of the stand is simple. The sides have to be mortised to take the stretchers and also the legs. The stretchers have to be tenoned to fit into the sides, and the same applies to the leg stretchers and the legs. The only part of the construction which is not altogether simple is that of the legs, which, of course, are on a slope and must be tenoned accordingly. The reel is formed with two circles of wood made up of three boards, the narrowest in the middle. The boards are held together by small circles screwed to them. The reel will run on an iron bar passed through the middle of the sides. Metal or wood washers should be placed between the reel ends and the sides of the stand. To make the arrangement a lasting one it should all be painted before being put together. It should be repainted in the spring when it is perfectly dry.—Farm Progress.

Camphor in the Philippines.
The bureau of science of the Philippine government is making a study of the plant known as Blumea balsamifera, known by the natives in the Philippines as "sambon" or "gabuen," which produces camphor. The shrub is one of the most common weeds in the Philippines. It grows from five to eight feet high, with a stem almost woody in texture, and has long been used by the natives of the Philippines as well as by natives of China for medicinal purposes. The Chinese in parts of Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces already distill considerable camphor from the plant, the chief drawback to the more extensive use of it being the amount of labor required to secure the gum. The bureau of forestry at Manila is introducing the ordinary camphor tree of China and Japan into the mountain districts of Luzon in large numbers for the purpose of building up future camphor production in the islands.

ELDER SPRING WATER
99.98 PER CENT PURE
ANALYSIS:
THOS. R. BAKER, Ph. D., Rollins College, Florida
Winter Park, Florida, April 19, 1915.
H. B. Coney, Esq., Orlando, Florida
Dear Sir:—I have completed a careful sanitary analysis of the sample of water that you brought me last week and have obtained the following result:
Color..... Clear
Reaction..... Neutral
Free Ammonia..... None
Albuminoid Ammonia..... None
Chlorine..... 6 parts per 1,000,000
Total Solids 8 parts per 1,000,000
Nitrates..... 1.00
Hardness..... 38 parts per 1,000,000
The absence of both calcium and albuminoid ammonia in the spring water and its very small amount of chlorine indicate its good quality. The indications are that it is of exceptionally good quality.
A very desirable feature of this spring water is its softness, containing less than one-fourth of the amount of calcium and magnesium carbonates found in many waters of this region, and just about enough, as many authorities think for supplying the lime and magnesia requirements of the body.
Yours Respectfully, (Signed) THOS. R. BAKER

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS UNTIL NEXT FRIDAY

GRAND JURY PRESENT- SENYS WERE SHORT BUT SWEET

Circuit court has been adjourned to meet next Friday. The Baxter case was postponed on account of the absence of witnesses. Only a few civil cases are on the docket and court will probably be over Saturday afternoon.

The following presentment of the grand jury was handed in last week: To the Honorable J. W. Perkins, Judge of the Circuit Court, Seventh Judicial Circuit:

The Grand Jury of Seminole County for the spring term of 1915 beg to make the following presentments:

We have concluded our labors after a brief session.

We have carefully considered all matters brought before us and have rendered indictments in all cases in which we deem such a course proper.

We have by committees examined into the condition of the poor farm and the jail.

In the matter of the farm we find that the kitchen is small and in bad shape generally and insufficient for the purposes of a kitchen. There are no window sash and no screens to the doors. The back porch of the building is leaky and in general bad repair. In the house the plastering of the ceiling is in many places hanging and liable to fall to the injury of any person under same.

There are no facilities for bathing and this is, we regard, very necessary to be remedied at once.

We find further that there is no water supply on the place within seventy-five yards of the house and that insufficient.

The closet arrangements are also inadequate.

There are at present some repairs being made on the place, including putting in sanitary closets, which have been only recently purchased, but we deem it our duty to especially call attention to these matters, that they may be thoroughly attended to while these repairs are being made.

We find through the committee appointed to this work that the jail is in good condition, well kept and disinfected.

We recommend, however, that better facilities be afforded for bathing. There should be added at least two bath tubs and the inmates given opportunity for taking proper baths for cleanliness and sanitation.

We think, further, that there should be provision made for keeping white female prisoners, for which there are at present no provisions.

Since the last session of the Grand Jury we regret to learn that there has been a lynching in the county of Seminole, which was in consequence of a very atrocious assault and attempted crime upon a highly respectable white woman of this county.

In response to the directions of your Honor and in pursuance of our duty we have made investigation of the matter and have summoned before us the highest and best evidence in the county, including the sheriff and his deputies and from the sworn testimony so produced we have not been able to ascertain the names of the persons engaged in the affair.

As citizens of Seminole county we deplore this assumption of the province of the law by private citizens and we proclaim to the world that Seminole county is law abiding and it is the sense of this body that we condemn interference with the due and orderly conduct of the courts upon which we rely for the protection of the rights of all.

The record of Seminole county has been free from matters of this kind and while we have not been able to discover the perpetrators in the present instance we trust that no such charge may again be laid at the door of this county.

We beg to return our thanks to his Honor, Judge James W. Perkins and Hon. Joseph H. Jones, state attorney and to the officers of the court for their unfailing courtesies during our sessions.

Foreman.

Christian Endeavor in May

Wanted—Correspondents in the Sanford societies, please.

Sunday evening in the state convention Mr. Evans during the consecration service which he led, urged Endeavorers to dedicate their lives in some special form of Christian service and several signified their intention of doing so. Some good missionaries and other useful workers have gone from Florida C. E. ranks into the great "harvest field" during past years, and we should always be ready to do our share this.

For west Florida, which had no officers for several years being looked after as well as possible by the state officers, the following were chosen in the district rally time in Jacksonville. President, Fred L. May, Quincy; Vice Pres., Miss Irene Dees, Mayo; Sec., Mrs. C. N. Horne, Treas., Mrs. B. L. Porter, both of Grand Ridge. The west Florida field is the region west of the Suwannee river, covering many miles but yet having but few Christian Endeavor societies.

Central district in which are Tavares, Ocala, Ocklawaha, Candeir, and other wide awake towns, reported in the state convention seven Young Peoples, with membership of 227 and four Junior societies. Mrs. Geo. Marsh, Mt. Dora is president; Miss Hattie Allen, Sorrento, secretary; Mrs. Thos. Kelsey, Weirsdale, vice president, and Miss Margaret Burleigh, Tavares, treasurer. This district is almost entirely under leadership of women Endeavorers, yet is the best in financial conditions of any in Florida, and as good other ways. Please notice this paragraph.

Fellsmere in Southeastern District has forty members, thirty of whom are active. Their secretary E. C. Christesen represented them in the state convention. Floyd Zook the district secretary is Fellsmere's president, and organized a Junior society last year. Why not more men Junior superintendents?

Here is the list of eight district treasurers in the State Union. Can you pick out yours without being told? W. F. Hawley, Gilmore; Laurence Botts, DeLand; Mrs. B. L. Porter, Grand Ridge; Mrs. Ira H. Weatherbee, Kissimmee; Miss Elizabeth Hood, Bradentown; Curtis Prince, Hawthorne; Mrs. M. V. McCourtney, Miami, and Miss Margaret Burleigh, Tavares.

Sanford Presbyterian and Congregational Endeavorers combined efforts and as a result raised over $92.00 for Save a Baby Club last winter. Only a few years ago there were no white societies in Sanford. This is how we grow and do good because we grow.

West Palm Beach writes "We still hope to have somebody at the Chicago convention." How many progressive societies are thinking the same way? It is but a few weeks off now—July 7-12th. The probability is Canada gets the one for 1917. Chicago is some nearer Florida.

Partnership Dissolved

Drs. Mason & Housholder have dissolved their partnership in the practice of dentistry. Dr. Mason has moved to the DeForest building, over Caldwell's store. Dr. Housholder will retain the same offices in the Garner & Woodruff building.

Farmer Householder

Dr. W. E. Householder having purchased a farm on the west side expects to remove there and will try the farming game for awhile. But the Doctor will not give up his practice of dentistry. When he is not pulling up weeds he will be pulling teeth and while he is not treating his vegetables for disease he will be treating his patients for the various ills to which teeth are heir and he takes this opportunity to let his many patients know that he will occupy the old stand in the Garner-Woodruff building as usual.

FLORIDA LEGISLATURE WILL ADJOURN FRIDAY

THE PRESENT SESSION HAS BEEN AN IMPORTANT ONE IN A GREAT MANY WAYS

Only two and one half days remain for the legislature to finish its consideration of the hundreds of bills on the calendar of both houses. All local measures that have been reported favorably will be passed during the week, and there are more than 100. Of nearly 500 general bills that are ending today, but few will be passed before adjournment.

A prominent senator this afternoon stated that Monday the appropriations bill would be finished and passed in the senate, and the franchise tax bill would probably consume the remainder of the session during the morning and afternoon.

A new reapportionment amendment has been mapped out since adjournment Saturday and will be presented by Senators Stringer, Calkins and Himes Monday to substitute the provisions of the resolution proposed by Senator Stringer. It is confidently expected that this reapportionment measure will be placed on third reading Monday and be given final passage Tuesday.

The reapportionment is to occur in 1917, but the question of the final passage of the census bill this session is doubtful, though an effort will be made to get the bill through this week, and have the new census as a basis for the reapportionment.

In the event that the census bill fails the last Federal census will be made the basis for reapportionment. Today the legislative expense bill will be presented in the senate for final passage. It is understood the expenses will not be any greater than for the 1913 session.

The next most important measure pending in the senate is the Woods county treasury bill, which is on third reading and is expected to pass. County depositories are provided to replace the county treasurer, which office was abolished by constitutional amendment at the last election. The present treasurers will fill out their terms before the amendmett is effective.

It is predicted that the Gornto game bill, which abolishes the office of Game Warden E. Z. Jones, will pass in the senate Wednesday and go to the Governor for his approval.

Another important measure that will likely be passed in the senate this week is known as House Bill 261, by Mr. Hardee, regulating the conditions under which foreign corporations may transact business or acquire property in the state of Florida.

Unless the senate has another call of special calendar bills the state printing plant measure will die on the calendar, as will the hundred of other general bills that have been proposed.

One effect of the amendment to the license law not mentioned in the Saturday dispatches was the elimination of the license required of newspapers to conduct contests. Senator Gornto had prepared a bill that eliminated this feature and the coupon section, and it was the body of his bill that was substituted for the house bill Saturday in the form of an amendment.

Mr. Gornto asked that this section be made public, as he felt many newspapers had been discriminated against because of the license, which only large contest companies ever paid.

Our Inland Waterway

The house has passed the concurrent memorial to congress relative to inland waterway through Florida from Jacksonville through St. Johns river and from St. Johns river to Indian river near Titusville and thence to Miami. Mr. C. R. Walker as chairman of this committee sent telegrams to the legislature for the passage of this resolution and yesterday sent one to Senator Donagan urging the passage of the resolution through the senate.

This is something that Sanford is greatly interested in and all of our citizens should work for it to pass the next congress. The St. Johns river is the natural inland waterway and should be chosen by the government to the exclusion of any other route.

Moultrie's Packing House

Moultrie is not a very large town. The census of 1910 gave it a population of 3,349. And yet Moultrie is today one of the most talked of towns in the south. And why? Because Moultrie has done something that is worth while. The progressive citizens of the town got together and built a packing house, has advertised Moultrie as nothing had ever done before. Not only has it advertised the city, but has been of substantial benefit to it. Mayor Cline tells what has happened in the Moultrie territory, which has been brought about by the erection of the packing house.

"Our whole section," says Mayor Cline, "has been transformed from cotton raising to a hog raising country. Our packing house will be enlarged in the fall so as to take care of 1,000 hogs a day. Hogs that were selling for five cents a pound are now selling for seven. You can scarcely find an acre of land planted in cotton in several counties surrounding Moultrie. I recently counted 3,500 acres that were formerly planted in cotton that are now devoted entirely to the raising of hogs. In Moultrie there is not a vacant store or dwelling, and we are building new stores as fast as we can. Prosperity is seen on every hand. We have three wholesale houses for the sale of grain seed, when a few weeks ago there was not such a store in our section."

With packing houses here and there throughout the south there would be quite a change in farming operations. Farmers would be assured of a market for their hogs and they would not fear to raise them in much larger numbers than they are now doing.

Ralph Quit

Harry Wilson has a new Jake in which he has the fish trained to take the bait every minute. The other day he and Ralph Wight went to the lake and Ralph made the remark that every time he and Hal Wight went fishing they paid a dollar for every fish caught. Harry said he was on and about that time he had a strike and brought up two small trout. Ralph paid and Harry threw out again and brought in two more. This was too much even for Ralph and he immediately called all bets off.

GERMANY'S NOTE TO THE U. S. NOT SATISFACTORY

Policeman Biggers

Paul Biggers is living in Lewiston, Montana (wherever that is) and writes the Herald that he is now a motorcycle policeman and making good but that Sanford will soon see him and his family again for the lure of Florida sand is too strong. The following clipping is from the Lewiston Daily Democrat:

Just an even half dozen speeders have found themselves entangled in Officer Biggers' net thus far, and it is reported that local accessory stores have prepared for the rush that will result from his activities by placing orders for precise speedometers. There is a very perceptible change in the gait of the local speed kings since the appointment of a mounted officer, and since it has been definitely learned that a strict enforcement of the law is to follow. No longer do the motorists recognize their friends along the city's thoroughfares, but, instead, attention is continually upon the little indicator on the dash.

About 8 o'clock last evening, while making an arrest and arranging for the deposit for appearance in police court this morning, it is charged several men took exception to the officer's action, which resulted in an altercation terminating in the arrest of four for interference with an officer. Quite a crowd congregated when the cause of the excitement was learned. Chief Ray and Officer Nelson appeared on the scene and the affair subsided with the dispersing of the crowd.

Death of C. A. W. Thomas

C. A. W. Thomas died at his home on Celery avenue last night of heart trouble. The death was sudden and Mr. Thomas had been in apparent good health up to the time of his death. Mr. Thomas came to Sanford several years ago from Gainesville, where he had resided many years and was well known in Alachua county. He leaves two sons and one daughter to mourn his loss and a faithful wife. Mrs. Thomas is also in very poor health and it is feared that the intelligence of her husband's death will cause her demise. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the Thomas family in their hour of bereavement.

The funeral will occur from the late home of the deceased tomorrow afternoon, interment being made in Lakeview cemetery.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL INSIST ON A FULL REPARATION

Washington, June 1.—Germany's reply to the American note concerning the sinking of the Lusitania with a loss of more than 100 American lives produced a feeling of profound disappointment here. Dissatisfaction at the failure of Germany to answer the demands of the United States was reflected in Government circles generally.

Secretary Bryan would make no comment. Other cabinet officers were reticent but there was little concealment anywhere that the answer from Berlin had produced a grave situation in the relations between the United States and Germany. Just what course of action the United States will pursue is undetermined.

From a previous knowledge of President Wilson's position, it was generally predicted that a prompt answer would be sent to Berlin, perhaps within twenty-four or forty-eight hours. This is expected to give the American government's understanding of the facts—that the Lusitania was unarmed and carried no concealed guns, that she sailed from the United States a peaceful merchantman, and that under all rules of international law and humanity, the vessel should have been visited and searched and her passengers transferred to a place of safety, whether she carried ammunition or not. American law does not prohibit ammunition from being carried on passenger ships, it will be asserted, but only self exploding material, and liners in the past have been permitted to carry arms and ammunition by special ruling of the state department on the meaning of Federal Statutes.

Germany's failure even to discuss the reparation demanded by the American note and evasion of the request that guarantees be given that American vessels and lives be not endangered in the future, are the main points, however, to which the United States government, it was generally believed tonight, would advert in the second note. In the expression of regret and offers of reparation for unintentional attacks on neutral ships are expected to have little weight in determining the nature of the response of the United States. When the note of May 13 was sent it was pointed out that such promises did not remove the risks to which American vessels and lives were subjected and to support this contention, the United States will add, it is said, that the American steamer Nebraska was torpedoed without warning within the last few days.

While it is generally thought the United States will answer Germany's request for facts with a re-statement of the circumstances as recited in the American note of May 15, the promptness with which the reply will be dispatched is counted upon to serve as an indication that the American Government wishes an early answer and does not desire to engage in a protracted diplomatic discussion.

Persons close to President Wilson have learned that he is determined to have reparation for the Lusitania victims and of other explosions, and that he would not hesitate to sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

A Sanford Violinist

Little Miss Elinor Herring of this city is being congratulated by her many friends upon the great showing made at the students' recital of the School of Music at Stetson University at DeLand last Saturday. Miss Elinor is a violinist of great promise despite her tender years and on the program rendered Berceuse from Jocelyn and Perpetuo Mobile by Bohn in a manner that called forth a most enthusiastic applause from the large audience present.

Miss Elinor is the youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. George G. Herring of this city and her many friends here are gratified at the success of her first "tour."

K. R. Murrell and Prof. Ezell have returned from Jacksonville where they went to procure a Studebaker for the use of Prof. Ezell and family.
