40,700 Persons Die In Traffic Accidents In '56

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council has reported a record 40,700 persons were killed in traffic accidents in 1956, the greatest slaughter on the nation's highways in 15 years.

And the council added a grim warning that there is no indication the reckless traffic toll will slacken in the near future.

The council, which tabulates traffic deaths and accidents across the nation, said last year's toll broke the previous record of 39,900 deaths, set in 1941.

It said figures also show the ratio of traffic deaths per mile still is climbing, indicating more disastrous records will be set in the future.

The council's announcement came on the heels of the worst holiday traffic carnage in history. An all-time holiday record of 718 deaths was recorded in the nation during the Christmas weekend and this was followed by a New Year's weekend record of 412 fatalities. The total of 1,134 deaths also was a record for the combined weekends.

An indication of the increasing death rate on the highways was in the fact the 1955 traffic toll was 39,428, or about 1,700 under last year.

The fatality rate showed an increase in every month of 1956 except October, the council said. The October decline broke a string of 19 straight months in which the toll showed a steady increase.

November Deaths Jump
Council officials hoped the October slump would help prevent a new record for the year, but November traffic deaths killed 8,700 persons for a 4 per cent increase over November, 1955.

The council said all hopes of keeping 1956 off the record books as the bloodiest in history disappeared with the November toll.

A United Press survey showed at least 11 states set traffic death records in 1956. They were North Dakota, Wisconsin, Montana, Georgia, Florida, Missouri, Arizona, Louisiana, Iowa and California.

2 Companies To Go Ahead With Gas Pipeline In State
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Officials of two pipe line companies have stated they will go ahead with the $150 million gas pipeline in Florida despite conditions imposed by the Federal Power Commission.

In a three to two decision the FPC has authorized the Houston Texas Gas and Oil Corp. and the Coastal Transmission Corp. to construct and operate a natural gas pipeline from the Gulf Coast to Florida. But the commission said that within 30 days the companies must "eliminate a number of objectionable features relating to traffic and methods of financing the project."

Officials of the two companies said the conditions imposed can and will be met. Under the plan submitted to the FPC, the two companies will lay about 2600 miles of main line and lateral pipelines from Texas and Louisiana gas fields to points in Florida.

Emotion May Produce Spots Before The Eyes

BY HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.
YOU may not actually "see red" when you are angry, but you may see spots.

Those floating specks or little half-like curlicues which most of us see before our eyes at some spots usually come from broken blood vessels.

Other Causes
If you are nearsighted, or have astigmatism, you are much more likely to see these spots, and they are more likely to remain with you. But if you are still young or middle-aged, and are in pretty good health, they probably won't cause any great annoyance.

Still, if these spots appear suddenly, and remain for any length of time, it's a good idea to see an eye doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A. R.: What causes a person to be a dwarf?
Answer: There are many causes for a person not growing to proper size.

One type may suffer from chondrodystrophy, a condition affecting the cartilages in the body in which they do not grow properly. Other types evidently are hereditary.

Dwarfs are not premature babies. Certain types of individuals may be abnormally short because their vision actually are floating clouds of disturbances of the inside the eye in the jelly-like

Hunter Shows Up After 3 Months

AYNOR, S. C. (AP)—A 54-year old cotton gin and trucking firm operator who started out on a squirrel hunt three months ago and ended up "wandering and wondering" with a mnesia, returned home Sunday for a belated Christmas dinner with his family.

Francis M. Altman went into the Santee swamp Oct. 21 to hunt squirrels. He turned up in Montgomery, Ala., nearly 300 miles away, Saturday, penniless and seeking help. Police said he went to the state employment office there.

Altman told authorities he didn't know who he was, but consented to have his fingerprints taken. The FBI matched them with a set Altman had taken while he was a merchant seaman.

After the FBI identified him, a call was put through to Altman's home here. Police said he "broke down and started remembering things" when he talked to his small daughter on the telephone.

Altman was flown to Charleston for a tearful reunion with his family, and the family celebrated Christmas 12 days late.

"Remembering my family and seeing them again was the greatest thing that ever happened to me," Altman said. "There are still a few things I don't remember completely, but as I am associated with things, I start to remember."

He said the last thing he could remember was that a copperhead snake bit him on the ankle while he was hunting and "I remember cutting the wound open and sucking out the poison."

UNPREPARED FOR FISH ALDEN, Mich. (AP)—Peter Smith, 15, was caught unprepared when he snared a muskellunge while ice-fishing. He had to cut a bigger hole in the ice in order to pull the 50-inch, 35-pound fish through.

'56 Year Of Rising Incomes, Low Work Weeks In South

ATLANTA (AP)—The U. S. Department of Labor has reported that 1956 was a year of rising incomes and lower work weeks throughout the growing industrial South.

Brunswick A. Bagdon, regional director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said average weekly earnings of manufacturing production workers in the South rose from $61 to $64.96 from October 1955 to October 1956.

Over the same period, the average work week was cut by almost one hour while average hourly earnings increased by 13 cents.

Bagdon said the past year was one of "high level economic activity throughout the South," with the troubled textile industry one of the few dark spots in the economic picture.

Trade and service industries led the expansion of non-farm workers in the South, reflecting a rise in consumer purchasing power.

Bagdon said the growth of suburban shopping centers produced steady expansion in the number of retail trade and service establishments.

Some other year—and review facts reported:
1. Metal working industries led the advance in the South's factory employment.
2. The textile industry had a poor year, with employment declining over most of the year.
3. The trend in the growth of finance, insurance and real estate businesses continued.

4. Non-farm employment in the South was due to show an all-

PARIS — Premier Guy Mollet warned Algeria rebels and the United Nations today that France "will never abandon Algeria."

VIENNA — Hungarian hopes of breaking the shackles of the Stalin-type dictatorship of the Soviet puppet regime may depend on India and Communist China Western observers said today.

WASHINGTON — A group of Northern senators seized on part of an advisory opinion by Vice President Richard M. Nixon today for a new and probably doomed attempt to curb filibusters.

HOLLYWOOD — Famed Criminal attorney Jerry Giesler served notice today that he and his client, Mario McDonald, are dissatisfied with the way authorities are investigating the case of her kidnaping.

WASHINGTON — House Democratic leaders gave priority today to a substitute for the Eisenhower Doctrine written by an unidentified prominent former government official. The substitute, only 34 words long, would declare only that the United States stands ready to fight, if necessary, to protect the Middle East from Communist aggression.

8 Refugees Sent Back For Giving False Information

WASHINGTON — The United States has sent eight Hungarian refugees back to Austria for giving false information to immigration officials.

The Justice Department announced the action late Tuesday as Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) charged that many Hungarian refugees admitted to the United States did not receive the thorough screening which the law he helped write requires.

The refugees were the first to be returned to Austria since thousands began arriving by plane during the Christmas season.

Former Turncoats Seeking Back Pay

WASHINGTON — Three former turncoat soldiers have filed suit against the government to recover about $14,000 in back pay and allowances while they were prisoners of war in Korea.

The suits were filed by Lewis G. Bell of Jacksonville, Fla., Otto G. Bell of Hillsboro, Fla., and William A. Cowart of Dalton, Ga.

The former prisoners of war refused to return to the United States after the Korean armistice but later renounced Red China and came home in July, 1955.

The Army charged all three with collaborating with the enemy when they returned to this country. They have denied the charges.

In their suits before the U. S. Court of Claims Bell asked for $4,500; Cowart $3,037; and Griggs $4,071.

After the Army filed its charges against the three men the Supreme Court ruled that since they had been given dishonorable discharges when they refused to return home they could not be tried by court-martial.

The Army has turned down their pay claims.

State Leaders Discuss Time For Lawmakers To Take Up New Charter

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins, the banner-flapping and hoopla of inauguration behind him, today sank his teeth into the gritty question of when the Legislature should take up a new constitution, major goal of his administration.

Collins sat down with legislative leaders to discuss whether the proposed new state charter should be presented to the Legislature at the first of next spring's regular session, before the session or after it.

Meeting with the governor were Senate President-designate W. A. Shands of Gainesville; House Speaker-designate Boyd S. Starnes; Sen. Merrill Barber, Vero Beach, and U. C. Pearce, Palatka; Rep. Mallory Horne, Tallahassee, and Circuit Judge Wallace Sargis, Ocala, chairman of the Constitutional Advisory Commission which is drawing up the document.

A special session of the Legislature after the regular session, which starts in April, was recommended by Pearce and Conner. The advisory commission also suggested this.

But Collins pointed out this would be putting the "cart before the horse," since the regular session will consider dozens of changes in laws based on the present Constitution, which would be superseded by the new document.

Possibly much of the regular session's work would be undone this way, Collins indicated.

U. S. Will Rely On Present Military Power To Back Up Doctrine

WASHINGTON — Defense Department officials said today the United States will rely on its present military forces, rather than creating a special police force, to back up the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East.

An official military official involved in top-level planning put it: "We have adequate military forces now to carry out any decision the political leaders wish to make."

Although there are no plans for any large-scale deployment of forces into the Middle East to act as a "police force," there may be some strengthening of U. S. units in the vicinity, such as the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Defense officials said if there were an attack of the Middle East which required only air power to support the local defenders, the United States could call on planes from the 6th Fleet or from Air Force units in North Africa and Europe.

If the threat were posed more to the east at say Iran, it might dispatch carriers now stationed with the 7th Fleet in the Far East into the Indian Ocean.

In event ground forces were needed to bolster the local troops, the United States could call on a reinforced Marine battalion with the 9th Fleet or dispatch Marines now with the 7th Fleet. Or the Army could airlift troops down from Germany.

New Board Takes Over Last Night

Commissioner David Gatchel was named Mayor of the City of Sanford as a new Board of Sanford City Commissioners took over the reins of the city last night at approximately 9 o'clock.

Nominated by Commissioner F. D. Scott, Gatchel's election to the honorary office was made unanimous when Commissioner Merle Warner asked that the board's action be made unanimous with the changing of his vote.

Warner nominated commissioner A. L. Wilson for the Mayor's position.

Gatchel, 32 has served one year on the Board of Commissioners and has another year to serve following his Mayor's term.

Commissioner Scott, in his nomination of Gatchel stated "I hope the legislative delegation will allow the people to elect the mayor in the future."

Actual voting took place with an open ballot with Commissioner Scott casting his vote for Gatchel Commissioner Warner voting no Commissioner Gatchel abstaining and Commissioner Higginbotham voting for Gatchel.

City Attorney William C. Hutchinson determined that Gatchel was elected.

Gatchel, on his election said "I appreciate the honor and trust that you have bestowed on me tonight. I go on without saying that I will uphold the dignity of the office. All I ask is that the commission as a whole, the five of us, cooperate toward the betterment of Sanford."

Prior to the election of the Mayor, Commissioner John Krider was presented a resolution for his "outstanding service to Sanford." He was also presented a silver tray in recognition of his service.

Commissioners Merle Warner, newly elected to his office and Commissioner Earl Higginbotham, re-elected to the office, were sworn in by City Clerk H. N. Sayer.

Wreckage Of Navy Plane Is Found After 2-Day Search

NORFOLK, Va. — A two-day search for a missing Navy jet plane ended Tuesday afternoon when Marine pilots spotted the plane's wreckage on North Carolina's Outer Banks and an hour later removed the pilot's body from the cockpit.

A Navy spokesman in Chicago, where the plane originated its final flight, identified the victim as Lt. Cmdr. Joseph I. Neri of Chicago.

The plane failed to land as scheduled at Oceana Naval Air Station near here Sunday, and an air search was launched with more than 10 aircraft, including planes, helicopters and blimps, taking part.

Marine planes from Cherry Point, N. C., spotted the wreckage about 1 1/2 miles north of Atlantic Airport near Cape Lookout. A helicopter landed and removed the body.

Egypt's Deportation Of Jews Protested By U. S. Officials

WASHINGTON — The United States has protested at least four times to Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser against Egypt's deportation of Jews, officials disclosed today.

The latest protest was made to Nasser last week in Cairo by U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare, who has been arduous against anti-Jewish activities in Egypt for more than six weeks.

The State Department believes that more than 4,000 Jews already have "left" Egypt since the attack on Egypt by Israeli, British and French forces. Most of these were deported, but some left Egypt on their own initiative, believing that they would have to do so sooner or later anyway.

During the last 100 weeks or so, officials said, there have been indications that Nasser may be "slowing down" on recent anti-Jewish moves. Orders for some deportations have been reversed following appeals, and some Jews being deported have not had their property sequestered as was the case earlier.

Firm To Prepare Plant Survey

The firm of consulting engineers Smith and Gillespie of Jacksonville was employed by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night to prepare a survey for the construction of a primary treatment plant for the city.

Representing the firm at last night's meeting were W. Austin Smith, senior partner in the consulting engineers firm, and Benjamin F. Borden Jr.

Smith, in making his report to the Board of Commissioners prior to the seating of a new commissioner and the election of a new mayor, said that because of sewers, interceptor system, and other construction there is a considerable change in the criteria set up by the State Board of Health for the construction of the treatment plant.

The senior member of the firm presenting the proposal, stated that the original studies prepared 10 years ago will have to be supplemented.

Borden, speaking for the firm stated that the city will receive credit for data used from the original studies after the material is evaluated for its usefulness.

Borden also agreed to submit the application for federal aid under Public Law 660 which, according to City manager Knowles, must be filed prior to Jan 15.

CHAPTER 18

PEGGY POMEROY called on the girls late that morning. She called very properly, in hat and gloves, and with a dignified manner that seemed like a little girl playing grown-up. When they saw her car stopping in front of the cottage, Priscilla said, "It's Peggy Pomeroy. I wonder why she's coming here?"

"I suppose you're right," Priscilla said, but there was something in her voice that made Rita look at her speculatively. They must complete their business and be on their way. Priscilla must move among the guests with constant replenished trays and the guests were very gay and appreciative of the luxury of the beautiful boat.

"To me, she seems like a well-fed kitten basking in the sun. And remember, men don't fall in love with depth. She's an appealing little thing, with that unusual look in her eyes behind those thick, curling lashes. Men look for that sort of thing before they think about depth or brains."

Rita served coffee and small cakes, her own manner imperceptibly friendly, but the briskness was unconsciously there, and Priscilla thought again, if I were dead and just watching their movements, I believe I could pick out which is Northern, which Southern. Well, there was something to say for both ways, of course.

"The party aboard the Silver Song was attended by all the elite of the town. Some Alvarez was a gracious and charming host, his foreign manner quite apparent—in fact, it was a little overdone. There was a good orchestra. Strauss waltzes floated out over the bright water. Moonlight washed the night, making the water a vast net of sparkling silver spangles, a silver path straight to the horizon. Waiters moved among the guests with constantly replenished trays and the guests were very gay and appreciative of the luxury of the beautiful boat.

"In Havana," she said smoothly. "Bill standing near by did not hear the question, only the answer. He heard Alvarez say something in Spanish then, heard Rita's pleasant reply in the same language, and was irked because his knowledge of Spanish was not sufficient to follow. But he watched. How had Alvarez known Rita could dance the rumba? He had suggested that they dance with a sureness born of familiarity. And yet Rita had said she did not know the man. Or had she really said that? Hadn't she evaded his questions? What were the two talking about when she said, 'In Havana?'"

"The girl must have some..."

A GYPSY FORTUNE TELLER stormed into the police station to report the disappearance of her husband. "You gypsies swear you can find everything in the cards," needed the police sergeant. "How's for locating your husband that way?"

"Give me fifty cents," proposed the seeress, "and I'll do it!"

Help Rehabilitation Programs; Contribute To March Of Dimes

Now . . . there is an opportunity for the people of Sanford and Seminole County to help push a job to the absolute finish. The March of Dimes campaign has opened and is now being conducted in all of the communities throughout the state. Happily, this 1957 campaign opens on a note of triumph. For 1956 was a year of great achievement in the long fight against infantile paralysis. Tens of millions of American children were inoculated with Salk vaccine. The number of polio cases was sharply cut. By next summer millions more adults as well as children . . . will be protected.

'Ideal Physician'

"What makes an 'ideal physician'?" A prominent doctor in another community has provided the answer, and it's a compelling one. The ideal physician, first, must be of top abilities, faultless personal habits, and the talent to inspire confidence and respect in others. He must be active in community affairs of all kinds, and a frequent church goer. He must be available to service, educational, religious and other groups which are seeking reliable information on medical subjects. He must work on and contribute liberally to fund raising campaigns for hospitals, young people's organizations, homes for the aged, charities and other good works. He must be in local and state medical societies and must be faithful in attendance at hospital staff meetings, as a participant and educator. He must be a good family man, "with a gracious and tactful wife who abhors milk coats and other vulgar extravagances. . . ." Finally, the doctor says: "But above all this, he must never fail to give his patients the finest possible medical service, keeping abreast of medical progress by reading, attendance at medical meetings, and taking frequent post-graduate courses. He must be a tireless worker and improve his public relations by spending adequate time with his patients, answering urgent calls promptly, day or night, and by not keeping his patients waiting. This must all most certainly be done for what has been vaguely defined as a 'reasonable fee.' All over the country, thousands of doctors are doing a splendid job of living up to such high standards as these. And here in Sanford and Seminole County, we believe that we have the finest of doctors all of them having as their highest goal "to be the ideal physician."

Sanford, Florida
Dear Sir:
The purpose of this letter is to express my personal appreciation of your cooperation in publishing my almost monthly schedule of visits to your area for several years to assist veterans and their dependents, or survivors, with their applications for benefits. With your invaluable assistance I have been able to expedite my work and reach a greater number of those who were in great need of my services. I have thoroughly enjoyed this work;

but, because of ill health, I must restrict my activity to the vicinity of the office. Service Officers are not necessarily laymen but they have to be as thorough specialists as Chief Sale's "Carpenter". The Boss, Mr. Melvin T. Try and Stop Me

ONCE IT WAS GOLD and silver that lured prospectors and fortune-hunters to the wide-open spaces out West. Today, of course, it's uranium. One old-timer was mighty mystified by the new invaders. "Dun- no what this excitement is all about," he confided to a reporter from the Louisville Courier-Journal. "Just thing I knew was when some feller come on the place with a contraption called a Goober counter and seemed hell-bent on huntin' for geraniums."

A hotel manager heard a newly engaged dance band rehearse, then glumbed to the leader, "I think there's something wrong with your rhythm." "It's not our rhythm that's bothering me," answered the leader earnestly; "it's our material. We've been stuck with a man with a gray flannel flute."

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a druggist hung this sign over his ice cream counter: "Take home a brick or two; company may drop in."

PROPOSED MIDDLE EAST GREASE JOB

Malenkov Is Making Comeback

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Russia's Georgi M. Malenkov seems to have made a big political comeback. Ever since he resigned as premier on Feb. 9, 1955, Malenkov had been in partial eclipse. But his attendance at the important meeting of Communist leaders in Budapest last week indicated pretty clearly that he has been restored to first rank in Soviet leadership. One reason apparently is that Malenkov kept his head during the long argument among Soviet leaders over Nikita S. Khrushchev's course in repudiating Joseph Stalin's methods of dictatorship. Another is that Malenkov probably is the smartest of the 11 men in the inner leadership of the Kremlin. When Malenkov resigned so dramatically as Stalin's heir in the prime ministry, he said he was inadequate for the job. Reduced in Rank Malenkov was reduced to the rank of an ordinary deputy premier—behind several first deputies—and made minister for electric power stations. He remained a member of the Politburo, the ruling body of the Communist Party, and Nikolai A. Bulganin, who succeeded him as premier, did the talking and represented the Kremlin on visits abroad. Malenkov did make a visit to Great Britain. But he did so in his capacity of minister for the power stations, to visit British atomic and other installations. Last week's Budapest meeting marked the launching of a new Soviet policy line toward the East European satellite countries. Khrushchev's Job Safe Khrushchev seems to be safe in his job as Communist Party first secretary despite the East European revolts which resulted from his down-grading of Stalin. There has been no sign that Bulganin, who supported Khrushchev in the down-grading policy, is likely to lose the prime ministry. But it is entirely likely that some day Malenkov may get back that job or may replace Khrushchev as first secretary. For a short time after Stalin's death Malenkov was first secretary as well as premier. The big thing in Malenkov's favor is that he is both smart and an able administrative executive, and that he does not indulge in loose talk. His visit to Great Britain was a sign of success. Khrushchev and Bulganin, who followed him there, bounced from one blunder to another. At 55—today, incidentally is his birthday—Malenkov was Stalin's right-hand man for years. He called pudgy and roly poly. Though he is but 5 feet 7 inches tall, he weighs about 250 pounds. The keen little eyes that look out from his fat face miss nothing.

Knowland May Make Presidency Bid

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland's decision to retire from the Senate prompted speculation today that he will make a bid for the presidency in 1960.

The 48-year-old Californian stunned his Senate colleagues and eight California political leaders by surprise in announcing that he will not seek reelection when his current term expires in 1958.

Some senators quickly concluded that Knowland, a veteran of 11 years in the Senate, will try to win the California governorship in 1958 and use it as a stepping stone to the White House in 1960.

Knowland had planned to seek the Republican presidential nomination last year before Mr. Eisenhower announced his intention to seek a second term. After the President made known his intentions, Knowland withdrew.

The constitutional prohibition against presidential third terms will prevent Mr. Eisenhower from running again.

Knowland, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood, a Republican, said he would run for Knowland's Senate seat in 1958. He said his political philosophy is "holly in accord with the great Eisenhower movement."

Knowland a conservative on most issues, has sometimes been at odds, as Senate GOP leader, with the President's views. But Senate Republicans again picked him as their leader for the new session of Congress which opened last week, and Knowland said he would retain the post until his retirement from the Senate.

California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, whose term expires at the same time as Knowland's Senate term, exclaimed, "I must say I'm surprised" when informed of Knowland's decision.

Knight said he expected to discuss the development with Knowland, when he comes here for President Eisenhower's Jan. 21 inauguration.

Newsmen asked Knight whether the senator might be a GOP candidate for the California governorship.

"It's entirely up to him to discuss if he wants to," Knight replied. "I won't endeavor to cross-examine him in any way."

Noncommittal On Plans It has been widely assumed in California that Knight would run for a second term as governor. But Knight refused to say Monday night what his plans will be in 1958.

When asked if he might run for Knowland's Senate seat, he replied: "I declined a chance to run for the Senate in 1948, and I see no reason to change my attitude." There was speculation here, however, that Knight would be glad to change places with Knowland.

Knowland said he would retire in 1958 because he and his wife would like to be closer to his family—his three children, five grandchildren and his father 83-year-old Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Calif. Tribune.

No one doubted that family pressures have come to bear on the heavy-set, ruddy-faced senator who was picked by the late Robert A. Taft R-Ohio to be Taft's successor as GOP floor leader in the Senate.

Knock-Knees In Children Nothing To Worry About

By MERVIN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY parents are unduly concerned because their children are knock-kneed. This deformity, common in children between the ages of two and six, is usually overcome with little or no treatment. Adults are seldom afflicted.

In fact, a British orthopedist, Dr. F. C. Durbin, contends that knock-knee "might almost be regarded as a normal phase in childhood."

The most common cause of this deformity in youngsters is a delay in acquiring postural muscle reflexes. However, any pathological condition of ligaments, muscles or bone may be the cause of this disorder, which doctors call genu valgum.

It may be wise to consult an orthopedist if you are worried about your youngster's legs and feet. But there are things you can do to help correct this muscular deficiency at home.

Dr. Durbin, an expert on the subject, gives several suggestions for parents to follow in a recent issue of "The Practitioner."

For one thing, don't let your child assume harmful postures—sitting while sitting or eating. Don't permit him to sit on the floor on his heels with his feet rotated outward. Dr. Durbin has found this particular position is very common among youngsters viewing television.

Your child must not stand with his feet apart and turned out. Don't take him on long walks or shopping tours unless you have a stroller, buggy or some other device in which he can ride when he becomes tired.

Keep him off scooters, but encourage him to run about normally and to use tricycles, bicycles and other pedal toys.

Dr. Durbin also recommends getting a knock-kneed youngster sit astride a rocking horse frequently, remarking: "Who has ever seen a knock-kneed jockey?"

QUESTION AND ANSWER B. M.: Would it be possible for me to have a sandpaper operation to remove blotches and small holes left by a skin disease which has been cured?

ANSWER: This depends upon the type of skin disease. Certain cases of acne scars have been benefited by the sandpaper treatment, but it takes while sitting or eating. Don't per-

The circle then voted to hold their bazaar funds until the May meeting. The study for the day "Paul's letters to the Colossians" was then given after which the hostesses served delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie, coffee and nuts.

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA COON

I've played almost a whole day playing bridge with Dodie King, Janie Miller and Gretchen Hall, but it was mighty pleasant, and hard to come by these days. Believe Dodie was the big winner, but Louise Parker filled in for me, and I don't know the out come. Louise had played golf with Lee Gunning, a new wife attached to the Station. I mean that she is new to Sanford, not a bride, as she has four children. The Gunnings are living in Lake Mary and have just recently come from duty in Japan.

Attended the concert last night, and thought it was an excellent performance. The Chanteleers are a versatile group, and sang a varied selection to please every taste. We are sorry that Francis Roumillat was struck down with a cold, and could not introduce them. Seen a very large audience (and if you didn't come, you should be sorry), were Tom Blackburn, Cy and Jean Fitton, Betta and Doc Linber, Kay and Ben King, Anita Hadden, Rosemary Duncan, Mollie Barlow, John and Virginia Johnston, Retta and Paul Spetz, Ruth and Joe Tully, Marty and Lew Millsaps, Rita Bauer, Ruth Jean and Harry Robinson, Cliff and Jean McKibbin, and Barbara Chapman.

Of course there were several hundred more. The ladies dress ranged from fur and hats to casual suits. Noticed Camille Metzger is back from her trip. She has been gone for some time.

The High Fever Folies is taking the spotlight in society today, as the committees jell their plans, and prepare for the big production to be held in the auditorium of the High School the eighth and ninth of February. This is the first really big venture that has consolidated both navy and civilian men and women. It is a joint effort, and now that we of the navy will be using the hospital constantly, it is hoped that nautical interests will be directed toward the success of the Folies, and the ultimate goal.

Jean Ann Nelson Is Contest Winner In Seminole High

The Homemaker of Tomorrow in Seminole High School is Jean Ann Nelson.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administered Dec. 4, to senior girls in the graduating class. Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. For her achievement, she will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

The national winner in the third annual Search conducted among 300,538 young women in 11,636 of the nation's public, private and parochial high schools will be named May 2 at the American Table banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City.

The program is designed to assist schools in education for home and family living and to emphasize through a sound Scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runner-up girls in each state. The school of the state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Minerva Smith Weds C. Walters

Miss Minerva Karlen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Smith Sr., became the bride Nov. 25 of Chester Reid Walters Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reid Walters Sr., in the Congregational Church with Dr. J. H. Root officiating at the candlelight double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white mums, carnations and ferns and nuptial music was provided by Miss Helen Witte.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue wool jersey dress with brown accessories and a white orchid.

Miss Grace Smith, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and wore an aqua wool dress with a corsage of pink roses.

Larry S. Porter was best man and Robert Armstrong was usher.

Mrs. Smith chose, for her daughter's wedding, a dress of beige wool with brown accessories and a corsage of gold and bronze chrysanthemums and rosebuds.

The groom's mother wore navy blue with navy accessories. Her corsage was pink rosebuds.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Lexington and Salisbury, N. C. They are now at home at 108 S. Mangouatine Ave.

Miss Smith was born in Lexington, Ky., and attended schools in Lexington and Sanford, graduating from Seminole High School, where she was a member of the Glee Club, Nurses Club, Home Ec and Art Clubs.

Mr. Walters was born in Lexington, N. C. and attended Boyden High School, graduating with the class of '53. He is now with the U. S. Navy.

Making raw cranberry relish? You can use a fine, medium or coarse blade when putting the berries through the food chopper.

For an elegant la king sauce, use cream for the liquid and thicken with egg yolks.

Noneless cuts of meat to be roasted should be placed on a rack in a shallow pan.

Jr. High Cage Quintet Remains Undefeated Team

Same Teams Stay Atop UP Ratings For Third Week

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It is this to be one of the most "formal" college basketball seasons ever? The same four teams have remained atop the United Press ratings for the third straight week with Kansas and North Carolina 1-2 for the fifth week in a row.

Seminoles Down Pierson 43-33

The Sanford Seminoles cage quintet broke their seven game losing streak last night at Seminole High on the auditorium courts by dowing the Pierson Wildcats 43-33 in a rough and tumble game that got off to a shaky start. Pierson made nearly half of their total points on five away chances off Seminole fouls.

the Snapshot Guild

This girl will be even more delighted with her gift camera at time goes on if she follows the ten tips listed below.

A Snap-Happy New Year to You!

Here they are—our ten picture-taking resolutions for 1957:

1. Keep your camera "snap-happy" with a semi-annual check-up and cleaning. Like your watch, it's a precision instrument that performs better when it's given a little extra care.
2. Always have a good supply of film and flash bulbs on hand so you won't be caught short whenever a fine picture opportunity presents itself.
3. Keep your camera handy—and loaded—for shooting unplanned, unposed pictures wherever they happen on the home scene. These usually turn out to be the best shots of all!
4. Remember that flash is important to catch on-the-spot action indoors or after dark. Flash really puts your camera on a full-time working schedule!
5. Aim for simple pictures that tell their story clearly. Choose a single main point of interest and don't let a cluttered background vie with the subject for attention.
6. Make sure you have an interesting picture—one that shows your subject amid some activity he's interested in. This

- will prevent self-conscious poses and glazed expressions that so often spoil the effect you wanted to capture in your picture.
7. Remember that there's "safety in numbers," so shoot a series of pictures rather than a single one. You'll find a series of shots will do a better job of telling the whole story just as it happened.
8. File your negatives in a box or drawer specially set aside for them. They deserve extra good care because they can't be replaced the way prints can. Once lost, they're gone forever!
9. Make the most of your good pictures. Use them enlarged and framed to brighten your walls; mount them in albums or "remembrance books"; send extra prints to friends and relatives; let them serve as personal greeting cards for holidays and other special occasions.
10. Enclose snapshots in your letters. There's no better way of keeping far-off family members and friends in close touch than by a friendly exchange of pictures throughout the year.

—John Van Gulder

If a candle is too large for the opening in a candlestick, try this: dip the base of a candle into very hot water; when the wax melts, press it gently into the holder.

If you have ripe bananas on hand that are not firm enough for a salad or fruit cup, mash and blend them with vanilla or chocolate pudding for a flavorful dessert.

Want a fish sauce with zip to it? Add capers of pimientos to white sauce and serve over fish—looks pretty, too.

JUST AS TRUE TODAY

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness" is probably one of the best-known by-words in the home. All of us quote it, and have heard it for as far back as we can remember. No generation has ever seen fit to dispute the fact that cleanliness really is related to holiness.

It's interesting to realize just how many centuries old this principle actually is. While the quotation is generally attributed to John Wesley (1703-1791), the founder of Methodism, research reveals that Francis Bacon made a similar statement at least a hundred years earlier. And reviews of the Bible and ancient Hebrew writings show that even earlier writers urged cleanliness as a step leading to purity and holiness.

There have been many different ways of expressing the thought, but they all add up to the same thing. For instance, Francis Bacon put it this way: "For cleanliness of body was ever esteemed to proceed from a due reverence to God, to society and to ourselves." The Talmud cites two quotations attributed to Phineas Ben Jair, one of which goes like this: "Study leads to precision, precision leads to zeal, zeal leads to cleanliness, cleanliness leads to restraint, restraint leads to purity, purity leads to holiness."

Mothers in many countries and many walks of life have sought to raise their children by this philosophy.

HE STILL NEEDS YOUR HELP!

My New York

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Hard-bitten farmers and their work-worn wives in the Kansas prairies, Maine woods and proprietors of lighthouses all over the country. I imagine, have one beef in common. They never get to meet celebrities. "If I only could host a beer with Gina Lollobrigida," the plaint goes, "I'd be satisfied. But never to meet someone glamorous at all, through my life—well, gee whiz."

I have old and cynical news for these isolated ones. You don't know how good you've got it. Jack and Jill, you really have it made. As a disillusioned man, I have been fighting hard in recent days to evade my last remaining idol. His name is Gruecho Marx and it doesn't matter what you think of him, because for 25 years I have considered him the funniest, thus the greatest, man in the world. It's personal taste. Some people even consider Danny Kaye funny.

Since more than a baker's dozen of my earlier idols in show news have turned out to have clay feet, when I met them, I have avoided Gruecho studiously. This week it has been difficult. NBC has been giving a big 30th anniversary party at this year's hotel in the land of the sun, the Americana—and loping bitterly through the neat of big shots in the joint (Leo Durocher, Laraine Day, Eddie Fisher, Debbie Reynolds, Dave Garroway, Steve Allen, William Bendis) has been my boy. I've had to hide behind lobby pillars to duck him. The other night he had lamb chops in the Gaucho Room (the what, Jack?) at the next table to mine, while I was having lamb chops. I read the business section of a newspaper through twice, to avoid catching his eye.

After all—what's left for me if he turns out to be, in the Broadway patois, a stiff? Yogi Square-dancing? Vows of silence? Elvis Presley?

The Sad Truth is that so many of the people who make news, on the drama pages or even on Page One, are stiff.

A hundred movie queens, Deborah Kerr excepted, have proved to be egotistical, vain bitches—and I'm an egotistical, vain bitch myself, that has left us nowhere. Movie moguls, theater impresarios, opera stars, statesmen—too many of them don't stand up under close study.

I avoid the use of names. Column readers too often are celebrity worshippers and if you insult their loved ones, you're in for it. If I came out flaky and said Ava Gardner was a so-called ass (she's not; she's almost the exact opposite), I'd have Ava Gardner fans coming after me with stilettos. Or, worse, canceling their newspaper subscriptions.

Actors, I suppose, are the worst. In small doses, they are entertaining, but it's suicidal to take them seriously. By and large they are posturing, prancing klowns, full of sound and fury signifying nothing. I could break your little heart by telling you, for instance, about the eternal juvenile who eats two dozen vitamin pills a day, along with yogurt blackstrap molasses and all the rest of the vitality routine because "after all, old fellow, an actor's looks are his fortune and must be preserved at all costs." When you see him on the screen, you have to smile at his infectious good nature. He seems so nice.

The Grapevine Has Told Me through the years that in person, Gruecho is an adler-tongued, honest-rator, sarcasm: wit who tosses off insults in the direction of anyone. According to a waitress at the Americana, old Gruecho has been up to the familiar dodge here. He has led more than one innocent conventioner cut and bleeding on the ropes with his rejoinders.

How I would take all this, were I to meet him and pass the time of day. I don't know. I loved him as a comical misanthrope in the movies, most of the hilarious insults were for him by R. J. Perelman.

Maybe I'd feel the same about him in person. I hate to see poor, glibble, native persons crucified by intelligent sarcasm, but my idolatry of Gruecho may be such that I might even overlook it in him.

Then again—I might not. There have been only a handful of Big

the Snapshot Guild

A scrabble game provides a fine "activity" center of interest for this informal family group shot.

"Doing What Comes Naturally"

Are you looking for an easy way to get better pictures of your family and friends? Well, you'll have a superior snapshot of a person every time if you just try catching him in the midst of some activity he enjoys—or if you give him something to do that's natural and typical for him to be doing.

In that way, you can be sure even the most self-conscious or reluctant subject will relax and be himself. Although your camera's aimed right at him, his attention remains on the task he's performing—and you'll be spared a stiff-necked pose or a glassy-eyed stare in your viewfinder.

By letting activities keynote your snapshots of people, your reputation as a picture-taker is bound to grow. Your prints will show more than just what your subjects look like. Rather, they'll reveal what each person is like—what he likes to do—what it's like to be with him. The result won't be simply a shot of someone having his picture taken. It will be a picture of him doing something that reveals a facet of his character and personality.

Of course, there are other points to remember, too, when you snap your friends and family. Check the background carefully before you shoot. Make sure it's not so cluttered and confusing that your subject will be lost in a wall of detail. In some cases, you may want to use a narrow depth of field and no additional light to give the effect of a dark backdrop rather than a detailed background for your subject.

Camera viewpoint can also make a world of difference in your pictures of people. In general, you'll do well to snap your subject on his own level or from slightly below. Naturally, your choice of camera angle will depend on the particular elements you want to emphasize in your picture. If, for example, you were shooting a person reading a book, a low angle would completely bury the person behind the book, while a high one would highlight the book rather than the reader.

When you're picturing people, study and select background, viewpoint and lighting carefully. But most important of all, catch your subjects "in action."

—John Van Guilder

A MATTER OF MONEY by Waldemar

Pin money got its name in the 17th Century when English pin manufacturers paid King Charles II $2,500,000 for the right to maintain a monopoly on pins. King Charles gave the cash to his wife for spending money!

The U.S. nickel has a misleading name. It actually contains three parts of copper for every one part of nickel. And in World War II, nickels contained no nickel.

The name two bits originated in the 18th Century West Indies where a Spanish dollar ("piece of eight") would be chopped into eight "bits" for small change. Two "bits" became equal to our quarter, four "bits" to our half dollar.

Travelers Cheques got their name in 1891 when Marcellus F. Berry, an employee of the American Express Company, designed a Cheque with two blank lines. The purchaser signed the top line when he bought a Cheque, then signed the bottom line to cash it. Anyone can obtain these cheques from his local bank and have his funds completely protected against loss. Yet the cheque can be spent anywhere.

Names who have held up for me, Fred Allen disillusioned on meeting them—Paul Silvers, me by being waspish toward a hardworking cameraman.

Marx isn't going to get the chance. I'll continue to worship him from afar—if he'll stop eating at the next table to me in res surants.

532 Telephones Are Added Here in '56

Investing in new telephone facilities and service improvements at the rate of more than $1,000,000 per week, Southern Bell added a record of 532 telephones during the year according to C. S. Yates, vice president and regional manager of the telephone company's Florida Operation.

As a result of the 1956 construction program, Yates said, 11,000 new telephones were added in Florida for a total of 600,000 telephones now in service. In addition, some 61,000 telephones were provided with a higher grade of telephone service.

In releasing the year-end statement for Southern Bell, Earl Turner, manager, here said that 532 telephones were added locally during the past year. This is an increase of 9.1 per cent. The installation of our new dial switching equipment in March will make possible much greater growth and many more service improvements during the coming year.

During the same twelve-month period, long distance calling volume here increased 18.6 percent an average of 2070 long distance calls being handled daily.

Yates pointed out that in order to meet continuing demand for telephone service throughout Florida, 1250 new people were added this year. This brings to total the number of employees in the state to almost 12,000 with a payroll of over $3,000,000 per month.

Oviedo Boys Win; Girls Lose To Lyman

By MRS. MARION JONES
The Oviedo High School gym was filled to capacity last night when the two Seminole County rivals, the Oviedo Lyons and Lyman Greyhounds met. The Oviedo girls game led off at 7:15 and was by far one of the most exciting and spectacular games I have yet witnessed. Led by sharp-shooting little Peggy Fleming, alternate captain Kay Estes, captain and Melaine Jackson, the Oviedo girls played nip and tuck with the Lyman lassies led by Lynn Joyce who made 45 of Lyman's 52 points.

TV Sets Cost More This Year

CHICAGO (AP) - A new TV set is going to cost more this year, because manufacturers think the public is getting "too good a bargain."

The statement was made by Leonard Truedell, vice president of Zenith Radio Corp., at a conference held in conjunction with the International Home Furnishings market.

Truedell said the industry has made many mistakes in its "wild adolescence."

The 1956 inventories were too high, and the production level too fast, said the executive. As a result, the industry has lost so much profit that it companies were forced to combine with others or to go out of business entirely.

The meetings have been called against a backdrop of concern over the exports of cotton textiles to this country from Japan.

F. E. Grier of Greenwood, S. C., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, said the meetings will be designed to "bring manufacturers up to date on broad problems and to give them the opportunity for full discussions of all matters affecting the textile industry."

Meanwhile, Grier has called a meeting of the board of directors of the Institute to meet in Charlotte Thursday to discuss "whatever information is available at that time."

The Charlotte meeting, and the subsequent series of meetings, may show what will be the reaction of at least a large segment of the U. S. industry will be to the Japanese-American agreement.

Grier said "the problem of uncontrolled imports of cotton textiles from foreign low-wage countries has received much attention during the past two years. There have been many discussions in Washington about this matter, so much so that a special meeting of the board of directors of ACMI has been called for January 10 in Charlotte, N. C.

Meetings Listed Here is the schedule of the series of meetings, with the place, date and name of the local mill executive who will preside at each:

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 14. H. H. Jewell of Chickamauga, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 15. R. C. Moyer of Anniston, Ala.; Columbus, Ga., Jan. 16. Paul K. McKenney Jr., Columbus, Ga.; Macon, Ga., Jan. 18. Henry J. Tichenor of Monroe, Ga.; Greenville, N. C., Feb. 5. Marion W. Helms of Greensboro, Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 5. Charles A. Cannon of Kannapolis, N. C.; Gastonia, N. C., Feb. 5. C. Roberts of Gastonia; Augusta, Ga., Feb. 6. J. C. Ewing of Edgefield, S. C.; Greenville, S. C., Feb. 7. W. H. Beattie of Greenville, S. C.; Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 8. Howard B. Carlisle of Lyman, S. C.

Textile Executives Set Series Of Meets

CHARLOTTE, N. C. - Textile manufacturing executives from five Southeastern states will hold a series of meetings beginning Jan. 14 to discuss "the continuing threat of cotton textile imports and other matters of interest to textile manufacturers."

Board To Consider Use Of Code For Development Of Subdivision Areas

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners will consider the use of a code for the development of subdivisions and other areas similar to codes that are now being used by other counties.

Other codes discussed by the Seminole County Commissioners require developers to enter into a bond in an estimated amount necessary to complete roads, curbs, water and sewer facilities within a specified time. "If the developer doesn't complete his project the county takes the bond money to complete it," said the commissioners.

Commissioners were notified by county right-of-way agent

John Fox that the State Road Department will turn over right of way maps and instruments next week on the section of 17-92 from Five Points to Sanford. This followed the action of the board requesting the State Road Board to advance money for the purchase of right of ways.

The possibility that Seminole County may develop a county-manager system of operations was suggested by Commissioner John Krider. "An engineer-manager or an engineer-planner is necessary," said Krider. "The time has passed when numerous people come up to make requests—our future should be planned ahead of these requests," he said.

Commissioner Lawrence Swafford went on record at Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the board of commissioners in favor of "re-assessing the county."

"We can't operate the county on a 1917 assessment for 1957 needs," he said. "We're talking about building roads—the school board is on us for money—im-

President Calls For New American Unity Measure

Annual Message Heard

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for a new measure of American unity and effort to continue prosperity at home and meet the continuing threat of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" abroad.

In his annual State of the Union message, Mr. Eisenhower stressed not only the cooperation of Congress but "a personal effort of dedication" by every American to help establish "a secure world order."

On the domestic front, he found America enjoying an "unprecedented peak of prosperity. But he said there is a continuing threat of inflation which can materially damage the economy."

Against this background, he called on business to avoid "unnecessary price increases" at a time when demand in many areas "presses hard on short supplies."

He also said that wage increases and other labor benefits should be "reasonably related" to productivity. He said that pay boosts should outrun prices and productivity contribute to inflation.

School Problems

Mr. Eisenhower urged speedy action on the school construction bill to meet emergency needs for more classrooms to benefit "children of all races." He expressed the hope that the legislation could be enacted on its own merits.

Mr. Eisenhower said he was proud of the progress in the general field of civil rights but "regrettably much remains to be done." He urged Congress to continue this progress by enacting the school desegregation bill.

His warnings against inflation appeared to be directed equally at business and labor.

Domestic Program

The chief executive delayed until his Jan. 16 budget message the bulk of his detailed legislative recommendations. Today, however, he did include the special requests:

1. A school bill which should be a priority.
2. A four-point civil rights program which he recommended last year, but which did not pass Congress.
3. Prompt action on the status

SR-436 Blinker Light System Said Confusing

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners was asked Tuesday to investigate the possibilities of changing the blinker light system on State Road 436 at the entrance to the Vantage Plant in Forest City.

"The blinker light," said one county commissioner, "confuses motorists."

The problem created by the blinker light was made imminent when a Sunday morning auto-truck crash sent six people to a hospital.

Leonard Samuel DeWeese, 35, of Longwood died Monday afternoon at 3:45 p. m. from injuries received in the crash which was described as "a head-on collision."

DeWeese, a 5-foot-11-inch man, was driving a 1955 Buick Wildcat. The other car was a 1956 Ford. The cars were involved in a head-on collision at the intersection of State roads 431, 434, and 436 during a dense fog early Sunday morning.

"As a motorist comes up over a rise in the road approaching the intersection," one commissioner explained, the blinker light becomes confusing and they smash on through."

DeWeese, wife of the driver of the automobile was described this morning by hospital attendants at Florida Sanitarium as "still in critical condition." The report stated that her condition might be described as slightly improved.

Four others still in the hospital from serious injuries sustained in the intersection crash were both the automobile and pickup truck were thrown out of the intersection.

Only one man came out of the accident without injuries. Boyd Hieboeck described his experience this way: "I was thrown about 30 feet from the truck. It must have rolled over me and missed me entirely." The 21-year old youth was riding in the back of the pickup with David Redwine, also 21.

A report of the accident and the possibilities that the flashing light might have entered into the cause of the crash is to be reported to the State Road Department's DeLand office for possible inspection.

Controversy Arises Over Appearance Of Big Tree Park

Controversy has arisen in the Board of Seminole County Commissioners relative to Big Tree Park and its appearance.

Commissioner Lawrence Swafford was appointed chairman of the Big Tree Park committee and will be responsible to the commission for reports concerning Seminole County's attraction.

Swafford from the very beginning of the discussion respected the county. He explained the buildings are rotted park stated "it is a disgrace to the rest rooms are in bad shape, souvenirs are being sold from picnic benches provided for the public's use."

At 7:30 p. m. time, according to B. C. Dodd, the chairman of the Big Tree Park committee, the county would provide six hundred dollars, to fix up the place, paint it, and put the buildings in proper order."

Commissioner Swafford fell, in his discussions with members of the Board of Commissioners, that the present caretaker, given the privilege of selling souvenirs and handling the concession, should keep the property presentable. Materials necessary, if furnished, should be used without cost to the county, said Swafford.

The Board of Commissioners called for a report from Commissioner Swafford at its next meeting.

2 Accidents Told; Charges Placed Against Drivers

Two accidents investigated by Florida Highway Patrol Trooper A. Marx Mack resulted in the arrest of one driver for using an improper tag and charges of exceeding a safe speed against the other.

Herman Lee Pryor, 24 year old Negro attached to HATTU at the Sanford Naval Air Station, driving a 1957 Mercury south on Sanford Ave., made a wide turn as he attempted a turn into Onora Rd. His car went off the shoulder striking a culvert and smashing into the ditch.

Damages were estimated at $25. However, an improper tag brought charges against the driver. The accident occurred at 7:10 p. m. Tuesday.

Damages estimated at $400 was the result of a 1953 Mercury skidding out of control and turning bottom up Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. on the old Lake Mary Rd. south of 25th St.

Mrs. Gladys Mae Foulk, 36 year old Lake Mary housewife, according to Trooper Mack traveling toward Sanford came into a curve too fast, ran off the shoulder and then pulled back too short.

No injuries other than a minor skin abrasion were reported. Charges of exceeding a safe speed were placed against Mrs. Foulk.

Workers Threaten To Flee In Protest Of Martial Law

VIENNA (AP)—Thousands of Hungarian workers are threatening to flee to the West in protest against the return of Communist dictatorship, reports reaching Vienna said today.

Reports from Hungary said workers at factories in scattered regions of the country staged protest marches and demonstrations in open defiance of martial law.

The new police force of Premier Janos Kadar turned out in force on several occasions but there were no reports of violence.

The Soviet-imposed puppet premier ordered some 200,000 workers laid off from the national factories idled by the fuel and power shortages.

The revived terror campaign coincided with a tightening of the escape routes from Hungary to Austria. More than 150,000 Hungarians fled across the frontier since Russia unleashed its armored forces to crush the freedom-from-Moscow uprising two months ago.

Queen Names Harold Macmillan Britain's New Prime Minister

United Drive Is Proposed; CoFC Heads Endorse Plan

LONDON (AP)—Harold Macmillan, a right-wing Conservative, was named prime minister of Great Britain today by Queen Elizabeth II, to succeed the resigned Anthony Eden.

Macmillan moves up from the nation's top finance post, chancellor of the exchequer. He accepted the appointment by kissing the hands, in a traditional ceremony.

Asked if he would resign if elected to consolidate his position—or risk losing it—Macmillan answered with typical bluntness: "No, and when there is one we

A tentative date of Jan. 30 was set by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday evening for its annual membership dinner.

Setting of the date for the annual dinner followed the announcement that the membership drive, in its last phase, will possibly be completed this month.

Clifford McKibbin, president of the CoFC, presented a proposal for a United Drive in the Sanford and Seminole County area. Letters addressed to organizations requesting a meeting of the heads of these groups have been answered, said McKibbin.

Participating organizations are expected to meet for the purpose of adopting a plan. A resolution endorsing the United Drive plan was approved by the Board of Directors.

The Naval Air Station and the Osceola Base were discussed. "It looks as if it is proceeding satisfactorily" was the report following the tabulation of information.

President McKibbin, who presided at the meeting, advised the Board of Directors that a new industrial brochure is now on the press and the first phase of the Industrial Survey will be released within the next two weeks.

Greensboro, N. C. Reports Emergency Blood Shortage

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Red Cross officials here rationed blood to hospitals today in an emergency blood shortage.

Surgeons postponed all operations possible in the light of the emergency situation.

Mrs. A. L. Thompson, head of the local Red Cross blood program, said, "We are in a bad situation in local hospitals and we have begun rationing blood."

Greensboro has more than 100,000 persons in its metropolitan area. A United Press check showed the hospitals "usually" stock a total of 95 pints of whole blood, but there were only 13 pints or hand today.

Mrs. Thompson said the chapter was called upon to secure donors for transfusions five times Tuesday and twice early Wednesday because not enough processed blood was available.

"We desperately need donors. The registration is very light," Mrs. Thompson said.

in it."

... term of the present Parliament has three years to run. As long as Macmillan can control it, he can see it through."

Macmillan, 62, was an American, who moved to Buckingham Palace to form a new government.

Queen Elizabeth II, 70, was the aging Winston Churchill, choosing Macmillan over R. A. Butler, majority leader of the House of Commons.

Churchill was one of many statesmen summoned for consultation and rumors promptly spread that the old veteran might spread that the old veteran might be asked to form a caretaker government until the badly shaken Conservative Party can nominate a strong new leader.

The audience lasted 20 minutes, and a few moments before 2:30 p. m. the palace announced briefly:

Formal Announcement

"The Queen received the Right Honorable, Harold Macmillan, m. p. in audience this afternoon and offered him the post of prime minister and first lord of the treasury."

"Mr. Macmillan accepted Her Majesty's offer and kissed hands upon his appointment."

Thus, just about 18 hours after Eden stepped down for reason of health, the dapper son of an American mother was given the job of restoring Britain's prestige and economic stability after the Suez debacle. His rise to political prominence came only after World War II.

Ocean Liner Tips Over; 8 Injured

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP)—Norway's second largest ocean liner, the 16,844-ton Oloffe, tipped over on its drydock ways and crashed against an adjoining drydock holding another ship.

Eight crewmen were injured. Two were hospitalized. Another 200 crewmen were evacuated after being trapped for more than an hour.

The Oloffe immediately developed a 60-degree list, police said.

"I can assure you it will definitely sink if it hits the water," Police Lt. John Filhus told United Press. He said the vessel's sea-cocks were open.

A shipyard spokesman, Max L. Brown, said later the Oloffe was in no danger of sinking. Other sources reported the position of the vessel partly flooded by water rushing in through portholes.

Bevan's Pigs Put On Probation

ASHBRIDGE, ENGLAND (AP)—Arthur Bevan's 200 pigs were put on probation today.

The parish council gave the left-wing Labor Party leader 30 days to "improve" the odor emanating from his pig farm, although some members said Bevan's pigs "smell no different than other pigs."

Man Blind Since '44 Suddenly Regains Sight

MANFIELD, TEX. (AP)—Novelist John Howard Griffin, who has been blind since he was bombed in the South Pacific in 1944, disclosed today that he suddenly regained his sight Wednesday.

"There was no bump, no jar," he said. "Nothing had happened. I started walking from my workshop toward my parents' house. Suddenly everything looked like red sand in front of my eyes. It was a terrible shock."

Griffin wrote, "The Devil Rides Outside," an account of the temptations to which Satan subjected him while he was in a monastery. It became a best-seller in 1952.

He has written a second book, "Nun!," about a pilot crashing up in Africa, which has been well received by critics, and is working

Tighter Security On Refugees Told

CAMP KILMER, N. J. (AP)—The government plans to tighten security and other restrictions on Hungarian refugees coming to the United States.

A Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) chairman of the House investigation subcommittee, announced the security crackdown Wednesday and said "many more people" are to be returned in the future.

Walter came to this refugee reception center after it was announced that eight Hungarians were returned to Austria for giving false information. Another Hungarian returned at his own request.

He said many of the first refugees to flee Hungary were "hard-boiled Communists" trying to escape the fire of revolutionists, but that he was not sure how many Communists reached the United States.

CHANGES MIND ABOUT CHARGES

TORONTO (AP)—Carmel Sherwood told a judge Wednesday she had changed her mind about pressing charges of "watching and besetting" which she had filed against James McDonald, 29, last December. She has married McDonald.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Governor Courageous Man

TAMPA (AP)—Former first lady Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt called Gov. LeRoy Collins an "extremely courageous" man for telling the people his views on integration during his inaugural address Tuesday.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been visiting relatives at Sarasota for the past two weeks, told reporters here she was greatly impressed by Collins' speech.

"I think Gov. Collins was extremely courageous" for saying the state is ready to voluntarily integrate some public facilities, she said.

"He is absolutely right that the South must move slowly in integrating because you simply cannot change the minds of thousands of persons overnight," she added.
