 ple, yet he also has announced he would accept it in the Democratic platform.
 Russell has said he will not compromise on the FEPC issue and in event such a plank is included in the 1952 party platform, he will repudiate the plank.
 He has just as firmly said, too, that he will not bolt the party if the plank is included.

 The Georgia's schedule for today included a breakfast with supporters this morning topped off with a radio broadcast tonight.
 The Northwest and the Deep South were the arena today for the Taft-Eisenhower and Kefauver-Harriman-Russell jousts for presidential-nominating votes.
 At Spokane, Washington Republican convened a 3-day session at which the 24-vote delegation will be chosen. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower had the edge in advance figuring over Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio.
 At Baton Rouge, Louisiana Democrats met in convention to name a 20-vote delegation to the party's national convention. Louisiana was one of four Southern states which went States Rights Democrat in 1948.
 The Seattle representatives apparently held the balance of power in Washington. They have agreed to vote as a unit and for Eisenhower at Spokane, where they comprise nearly one-third of the state delegation. Taft forces are making at the agreement an undemocratic and improper.
 Senator Russell met a boost from North Carolina Thursday in his quest for the Democratic nomination. Russell forces won full endorsement for him at a Raleigh convention.
 Although the 23-vote delegation was not instructed on how to ballot at the party's July 11 nominating convention in Chicago, a poll showed 164 votes favored Russell.

STUDENT EXPELLED
GAINESVILLE — The ring-leader of an underwear raid on women's dormitories at the University of Florida has been expelled.
 Dr. J. Max Wise, dean of student personnel, said Thursday seven subcommittees have investigated about 300 cases resulting from the May 8 riot when students stormed co-ed's quarters, did about $1,800 damage, and took clothing valued about $800.
 More cases are up for investigation, Dr. Wise said. He did not give the name of the expelled student.

FORGERY CHARGE
ST. PETERSBURGH — A Pinellas Park church treasurer was admitted passing a forged check for $25.25 at a super-market has been bound to Circuit Court on a forgery charge. Clyde L. Stough, 48, a carpenter and treasurer of Wesleyan Methodist Church, told justices of the Peace Edward Bink had no money. My two children are sick. My wife is sick. I was desperate with worry.

Koje Report

 into smaller groups.
 U. S. tanks converted to bulldozers cleared ground for new barbed wire encircled compounds for the 80,000 North Korean and Chinese Communist POWs.
 Some compounds hold as many as 8,000.
 Outside of the present projected compounds, combat-wise U. S. infantrymen put the finishing touches to gun positions and watch towers.
 Inside the occupied compounds die-hard Communist leaders apparently still ruled. They maintained guards within their areas. But several Korean prisoners managed to break loose and surrender to United Nations guards on the outside.
 One escapee broke and ran from a work detail that was outside Compound 76, where the Reds two weeks ago seized Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, then camp commander and held him hostage 78 hours.
 He ran, hands upraised, to guards who found on him a neatly written pledge to support South Korea.
 Boatner issued a third information bulletin to the prisoners since he took command 10 days ago. In it he advised them to be "obedient and respectful" and warned that he had the power to enforce his orders.
 The bulletin said:
 "1—The new commanding general is learning the situation here more and more each day.
 "2—He has summoned some of the acting (POW) spokesmen to his office. Some meetings with spokesmen have been satisfactory, others unsatisfactory.
 "3—He will command this camp, just as long as his commands are obeyed. Conditions will improve. He desires maximum conveniences and comforts for the prisoners. He knows and understands Orientals. (Boatner has spent several years in China and speaks Chinese.)
 "4—The greatest way you can help yourself is to be obedient and respectful. This is mandatory under the Geneva Convention.
 "Remember, the commanding general must command. He wants to do it peacefully. You can see for yourself that he has the power to enforce his commands."

Pantie Raid

 activity than earlier in the week.
 At the University of New Mexico a handful of raiders out of 500 got past police and snatched a few undergraduates out of one dormitory. Students threw stones at officers and the police used tear gas once. No one was injured.
 Fire hoses helped disperse 300 youths massed near the women's quarters on the Texas Tech campus at Lubbock. About 100 policemen and two fire truck crews held back the crowd.
 At Colorado A & M hundreds of men students picked up a variety of silken trophies in a raid on dormitories and sororities.
 Many students who participated in raids earlier this week however were undergoing disciplining.
 Approximately 30 University of Kentucky men and one 6-foot were reported suspended. Another 10 do-ers were placed on probation for aiding the raiders.
 Three University of Missouri students were dismissed. It suspended and three put on probation. Butte Gilmer, Oklahoma public safety commissioner, said if his troopers were called out on another raid such as one at the University of Oklahoma Wednesday night, charges of inciting a riot would be placed against the leader. A to enforce his commands.
SOUTH CHICAGO, Ill.
 "Those damned Reds sure are making a mess out of the Americans on Koje Island, an Army officer in Korea has written his mother Mrs. Bobbie Burris said her son, 2nd Lt. Virgil M. Burris, wrote her that when he visited the island on May 1 Red prisoners were still holding a sergeant they had seized three weeks earlier.
 "They (the Americans) won't go in after him because they don't want to hurt anyone," the letter read. "It was not clear whether the sergeant is an American or a member of one of the other U. N. forces."
 "They throw stones at the guard and the guards have to take it," the letter read. "We are down in Pusan (at another prison camp), only here we are going to be able to use force if they try anything."

demonstration at Oklahoma, tagged "a lust for lace," ended in a fight between students and officers.
 Raids also were reported Thursday night at the University of Southern California and San Diego State.
 Shortly after Dr. Walter Hammer, president of San Diego State, said he didn't think his students would resort to pantie raids, 50 youths invaded a private dormitory just off the campus. They ripped drapes, set off a fire extinguisher and nabbed undies. Police arrested 12.
 There were repercussions at the University of Florida from one of the first pantie raids this spring. The ringleader of the expedition was expelled. His name was not announced. Dr. J. Max Wise, dean of student personnel, said more cases are up for investigation.

FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1953
TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Millions of good men have had this experience. We are not alone if we are right, for one man and God make a majority. No man stood with me, but all men followed me.—11 Tim. 4:14.

The expert conversationalist is also an accomplished listener. He is always so anxious to add his two bits worth that he ignores what others are saying.

If the House has its way the Marine Corps will land on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and will soon have this Army-Navy-Air Force situation well in hand.

The annual spring rough-housing in the colleges merely means, according to sociologists, that boys want girls. When boy gets girl, he goes in for a lifetime of helping with the annual spring house-cleaning.

A New Yorker named Joe Drunk was charged with driving while intoxicated. He told the court he was Drunk and had been all his life, but had never been intoxicated. The court ordered a jury trial on these issues.

As political campaigning mounts with increased intensity, it is interesting to note that medical reports indicate a consistent rise in the number of cases of high blood pressure. We sincerely hope there will be no widespread epidemic of stomach disorders after election no matter which candidate is victorious.

Knowing how to spell "ferrous" won first place and a $500 prize for little Miss Doris Ann Hall of Hudson, N. C. in the 25th annual Spelling Bee. Other toughies were "vignette" and "cicero".
Doris achieved perfection in the art of spelling by thumbing through a thousand page dictionary, committing to memory everything she saw there. That is a wonderful accomplishment and one for which she deserves great credit. We would like to see her example more widely emulated, but in our business we would settle for someone who could spell, "nicie" and "pilla" "wiener meat".

Both Brailey Odham and Dan McCarty admitted on the Miami television show last night that neither was a crook that neither had direct connections with gamblers or racketeers. That is a relief.
Now that we have got this boggy mess out of the way, let's consider the real issues. There is a difference between the two men, though both are honest and decent. There is a difference in the projects which they stand, about the best being the road program and the manner of financing it. On these issues the voters should make their choice. In Seminole County, of course, as in St. Lucie county, the major factor enters our consideration is quite natural for people to want their home town boy, friend and neighbor, all other things being equal.

Only a few more days remain which to make the proposed Nativity Scene to be shown in Sanford's Band Shell at the same time a reality. The sum of $250 must be raised by June 1.
Those who have been working toward this goal are Mrs. Martha Fox and Mrs. Elvira Garner and sure they will be reached if everyone will be made to understand the importance of the project.
Some of the names who are helping are Mrs. Mary Joseph and Mrs. W. M. Smith. We also need more names. We are sure that everyone who wishes to help should be reached.

The Women Speak

The increasing interest American women are taking in politics is reflected in the resolution adopted by the recent session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs urging its members to strive for higher levels of morality in public and private life.

American women cannot achieve any overnight transformation. But through their organizations they can exert a profound long range influence on public life. In return for their support they can demand a high standard of national morality.

The text of the resolution indicated the awareness of the clubwomen that political morality is not an isolated segment of American life. They called for a higher moral level in public and private affairs, realizing that unethical practices in private business are bound to influence the moral tone of the government. Instead of calling on politicians or government employees alone to adopt more ethical conduct, they recognized that "a high standard of national morality can be achieved only through its practice on the part of individuals." The resolution urged the clubwomen "to rededicate themselves to live and practice the faith they profess, thus demonstrating that America's strength is spiritual as well as material."

The women have come to the heart of the problem. Individual morality comes first. Only through the building up of individual ethics can America attain that "high standard of national morality" which Americans so heartily approve.

Hard Road Back

Britain is learning that socializing industry is a great deal easier than returning industry to private enterprise once it has been socialized. Legislation is pending to return the steel and iron industry, socialized under the recent Labor government, to the original owners. The government will have to sell the mills back at less than it paid for them and if the legislation is passed immediately it will be two or three years before the return can be effected.

Labor Party leaders warn the former mill owners that if the industry is returned to private enterprise it will remain there only until a Labor government returns to power.
This is hardly an inducement to investors and the government may have a hard time getting the owners to take back their property. Recent strength exhibited by Labor in local elections is not calculated to make the Conservative positions in the matter any easier.

This may be regarded as an unfair stand for Labor to take. But ethical or unethical it is the declared position of those who favor nationalization in Britain. It is also an example of how difficult it is to turn back once socialization is launched.

U. S. Faced With Bad Shortage Of Church Buildings

NEW YORK (AP)—No matter how much or how little they want to go to church, more Americans have no church to go to than at any time in our history.

This picture has been put before the 194th annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Dr. Robert Worth Frank, president of the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, said that in regard to buildings, the church faced serious problems in multiple regions throughout the nation.

"More people are living in communities not adequately church-ed than at any time in our history, not excepting the frontier days of their wildest and wooliest," he said.

Speaking Thursday night to more than 2,000 Presbyterian leaders, here for the meeting of the church's top governing body, Frank appealed for support of the denomination's 12 million dollar building fund drive.

He cited many areas where people are worshipping in community halls, schools and private houses.
He said vast migrations of people to new industrial and other centers involving more than half the nation's population in the last 10 years—had created the towns without churches.

"These new frontiers in new and thickly populated areas have grown too rapidly for the church to keep pace with it in its routine benevolence giving," he said.

By acclamation, the assembly elected Dr. Hermann N. Morse, New York, as its new moderator.
It was the first time since 1927 there was no election contest for head of the 2 1/2 million member church.

United Nations Warplanes Smash Industrial Unit

Greatest Saturation Bombing Attack Of War Takes Place

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations warplanes smashed a huge industrial complex southwest of Pyeongyang today in the culmination of what the Air Force called the greatest saturation bombing attack of the Korean War.

The attack near the North Korean capital began Thursday morning and ended at 4 p. m. today.
Nearly 800 fighter-bomber sorties were flown against the fat target.

Burned and blasted in the assault were a Communist hand grenade arsenal, the surface works of a coal mine, storehouses and nearly a half mile of machine shops and warehouses. They were along the north bank of the Taedang River between Pyongyang and its port city, Chinnampo.

Rain squalls sweeping down from Manchuria blotted out the target area late in the afternoon.
Nearly 500 sorties were flown Thursday and 300 today.

The Fifth Air Force said it threw every type of plane it had into the assault.

The burden of the attack was carried by F 84 Thunderjets of the 49th and 130th Fighter-Bomber Wings. They splashed the area with bombs, rockets, napalm (jellied gasoline) and machine-gun fire.

Supporting the Thunderjets were the Eighth Wing's F 80 Shooting Stars, the 12th Wing's Mustangs; Corsairs and Sky Raiders of the 12th Marine Air Group and Australian Meteor jets.

During the night B-26s continued bombing the area.

The attackers were screened by F-86 Sabre jets.

"It's a little hell up there all right," said Capt. Lynwood Clark, 23, Delhi, N. Y. He flew both days.
"We went in and got their flak yesterday morning," he related.
"Then we came down on the buildings. It was really a fat target compared to some of the rail missions we've been getting lately.
They had no warning and they must have been caught by surprise."

After the Reds' ground guns were silenced, fighter-bombers dropped 500 and 1,000 pound bombs, rocketed the area and splashed it with napalm.

"Almost every plane over the target emptied its machine guns in the blazing wreckage," Clark said.

On the ground the Reds threw a saturation artillery barrage at a small United Nations sector on the western front Thursday night.
In less than an hour, the Reds poured about 2,400 artillery and mortar shells across a 3 1/2-mile front northwest of Yonchon.

The Allies replied with infantry and artillery fire. About 46 Chinese were killed.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters had no comment on the big salience of the Red bombing attack. It began with small arms fire by two Chinese platoons. Then the big shells flew.

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Red delegates today agreed to a 3-day recess in the tightly deadlocked Korean armistice talks after the Allies new chief delegate told them "Our stand is unshakable—we will make no further concessions."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, who has been demanding daily meetings at Panmunjom, agreed to the recess. But he demanded that Maj.
Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., new senior U. N. delegate, set the time of resuming the talks.

screening showed.
Harrison again offered to let the Communists participate in a re-screening of the prisoners. The Reds refused.

Nam Il again accused the Allies of slaughtering captured Reds. He added:
"Your aim in retaining our captured personnel is to send them to the (Chinese Nationalist) Chiang Kai Shek gang on Taiwan (Formosa) and to the Syngman Rhee clique (South Korea) to serve as cannon fodder to extend the war."

Harrison said this was "not worthy of an answer" and asked for a recess.

Nam got so "mad" when Harrison refused to be drawn into debate that he slammed his pencil down on the table, said Brig. Gen.
William K. Nuckols, U. N. spokesman.

Soviet Charge

American military aid to Iran does not "in any sense" violate a Russian-Iranian pact, a spokesman said today.

A spokesman said too that the pact is outdated and has been superseded by the United Nations Charter.

The department reacted swiftly to a stiff note that Moscow accused Thursday night had been given to the Iranian government.
The Soviet note charged that Iran's acceptance of U. S. aid violated the Soviet-Iranian Defense Treaty of 1921.

The situation is a potentially serious one because there is always a possibility that on some such charge as they have now made the Russians might invoke treaty provisions for sending troops into Iran.

American officials contend the present circumstances would not in any way warrant such a step but are always apprehensive that the Soviets might someday make the move, warranted or not.

State Department Press Officer Michael J. Dermott accused the Soviets of trying to "intimidate" the Iranian government with their protest.

Kirkland, before whom the indictment was returned, ordered a warrant issued for Weinberg's arrest.
The judge fixed bond at $10,000.

The indictment charges Weinberg's statement under oath that he had not been a member of the Communist Party was "false." A second count alleges that Weinberg falsely told the committee that other than one Communist Party meeting in Oakland, Calif., during the war, he did not believe he had attended any meeting which he believed to be Communist.

A third count alleges Weinberg lied when he testified he did not remember having known Steve Nelson prior to April 28, 1949.

Nelson now is a Communist Party functionary in Western Pennsylvania. During the war he was party organizer in Alameda County, Calif., where he university is located.

The House committee alleged that Nelson, in that capacity infiltrated the Radiation Laboratory with Reds and obtained atomic secrets to be passed along to Russia.

McCarty said WMIE was the only Miami station that turned down the Crime Commission, and added "I don't have anyone traveling with me or advising me, or arranging programs for me who has made such a statement." Venn, tours the state to arrange Odham's radio talkshows.

Odham asked him if Matty Matthews, who had worked at WMIE under Venn, isn't McCarty's South Florida public relations man and speech writer.

McCarty said he understood Matthews was once a WMIE sports announcer, that he's never written any speeches for him and he is only a volunteer worker in the Dade County McCarty campaign.

"Oh, he quit a $7,000 a year job to become a volunteer worker," Odham remarked.
"I know what he quit," McCarty answered.

Judy Holliday curbs the impetuosity of Aldo Ray, in this scene from Columbia's "The Marring Kind."

Rings Are Explained By Judy Holliday

By MARY McGUIRE
Lots of people wear wedding rings, but few people have ever wondered why, claims Judy Holliday. The Academy Award-winning wonder girl of "Born Yesterday" got curious about the ring-wearing custom while making her new Columbia picture, "The Marring Kind," which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theater.

After research, Judy discovered that when a blushing bride has the traditional ring slipped onto her third finger, left hand, she is subscribing to a legendary Pharaoh's first, it is said, to symbol of ancient Egypt. The sketch she circled as a symbol of eternity, to regard the ring as a heavenly sign of life, happiness and love without beginning and without end.

Some chroniclers say that wedding rings go back to the Stone Age, when the caveman made bands of braided rushes or grasses for the wrists and ankles of his mate. In time, only the wrists were tied with these bands, later evolving into a simple rush ring woven around the finger.

Diamonds became popular for adorning engagement rings toward the end of the 18th Century, although they were not generally in use until two centuries later. Today, of course, the blue-white stones have their place not only in engagement rings but in wedding bands as well. They are as much a part of the wedding day as rice and old shoes. Rice, of course, always has connoted plenty—a freedom from want.

Fires In Stores Can Be Prevented By Better Caution

An "inexcusably high total" of 60,000 store fires a year indicates the necessity of including store buildings in the Spring Clean-Up campaign for removal of fire hazards, according to Chief Mack N. Cleveland of the Sanford Fire Department and the National Fire Protection Association.

Chief Cleveland asks store-owners to concentrate attention of cleaning up hazards in basements, fire's principal "breeding places." Records of the NFPA show that more than 40 percent of all store fires start in basement areas.

"Basements are the breeding places for fires because they usually contain highly combustible materials in which any flame or spark can take hold," Chief Cleveland says. "Such hazards as heating plants, rubbish chutes, and stock rooms are just waiting for a chance to burst into flame."

"Basement fires go longer before being detected, have larger amounts of flammable materials upon which to breed and spread horizontally and vertically with greater freedom from restrictive fire division walls than do fires starting in other parts of a store."

Chief Cleveland recommends automatic sprinkler system for all store basements and suggests that all basement stairways be enclosed. He also stressed the importance of providing ample fire extinguishers throughout the premises. Pointing out, however, that protective devices do not eliminate the primary causes of basement fires, the fire department official offers these Spring Clean-Up suggestions:

1. Conditions favoring spontaneous ignition must be frequently checked. Janitors' supply rooms, packing material bins and rag disposal containers require special attention.
2. Remove all rubbish every day to a safe location outside.
3. Keep stock in well-defined storage rooms. In particular, keep hazardous stocks such as flammable liquids, paints and packaging materials in fire-resistant rooms.
4. Check all electrical equipment carefully. A stray spark from a short circuit, overloading of wiring has "unusual opportunity" to start a fire among combustible materials.
5. Clean grease from kitchen vents, hoods and stoves. Keep combustible objects away from floor at the close of each day's stoves. Institute a special inspection business to make sure burners are turned off and electrical appliances are disconnected.
