Search Begun For Gold Loot Of Japanese

Investigation Also Begun Into Jap Religion Of Shintoism As Militarist Tool

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1. (AP)—At least 250 transport planes will be shuttling American troops into Shanghai within ten days so they may be aboard ships reaching home before Christmas.

TOKYO, Oct. 1. (AP)—American occupation authorities today began a quest for untold millions of dollars of gold, silver and currency which Japan is believed to have wrested from lands overrun in a Jap try for world domination.

The Bank of Japan, one-quarter of which is owned by the United States, is expected to be reformed and placed under American supervision.

Meanwhile, an investigation of Shintoism, Japan's state religion, is being conducted. It is believed that Shintoism was used as a tool for militarists.

The 1st Marine Division entered Guilin yesterday to assume police duties in northern China's national capital, where Chinese Nationalists and Communists are at loggerheads.

Sgt. Julian Altman, 34, 648 2nd Headquarters Company, 3d Battalion, 250th Infantry, for meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy, from December 1944 to 1 April 1945, in Belgium, France, Holland and Germany.

Sgt. Altman's citation reads as follows: "Under the provisions of AR 600-45, 22 September 1944, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded to Technical Sergeant Julian W. Altman, 34 648 2nd Headquarters Company, 3d Battalion, 250th Infantry, for meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy, from December 1944 to 1 April 1945, in Belgium, France, Holland and Germany."

In the capacity of service section chief for the construction platoon of the 57th Signal Company, Sgt. Altman exhibited aggressiveness and devotion to duty, in the coordination of the Division Wire Teams of the three regiments of the 75th Infantry Division. His conscientious efforts in insuring the distribution of all Division Order Diagrams and in supervising the maintenance of all wire communications to maintain peak operational efficiency, are highly meritorious, reflecting distinction upon himself and the Army of the United States.

Sgt. Altman is a brother of Sgt. Robert Wilman, a liberated prisoner of war made in Italy. Altman and his son, Jay, will make their home at 3100 Oak Avenue.

Five Billion Dollar Cut In Tax Proposed

Administration Plan Would Make Over 12 Million Persons Income Tax Free

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—The Administration, telling Congress today that eight million people may be unemployed by Spring, recommended taxes be cut by five billion dollars. As proposed, the cut would affect salaries, dividends and interest.

The House Ways and Means Committee will send to Congress after the report of the "bad debt" commission.

President Roosevelt's son, Elliott Roosevelt, was an advance information on what the report would say but the Republicans—in a minority report—said the "late President played an important part" in the 200,000 loan.

Pulling A Boner Is One good way To Secure Fame

By HAROLD V. RATHJEF AP Newsfeature

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Fred Merkle, Roy Riegel and others who made classic boners in sport are best remembered by their miscues, not by their accomplishments.

Harold McClure, however, pulled a boner at a most inopportune time and lived it down.

Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian University told about it recently, using it as the basis for a talk on the duty of a football coach to his boys.

McClure was a reserve back at T. C. U. in 1935 when the Horned Frogs had visions of the Rose Bowl. Sammy Baugh was playing for the team that season and the Frogs could feel the soft California breezes blowing their way when they appeared at Southern Methodist University.

All week long the crafty Meyer had lectured his boys on Bobby Wilson, S. M. U.'s All-American back. He had told them time and again they should never let Wilson get behind them when going for a pass.

That, said Meyer, would mean a touchdown because Wilson could run as fast as the wind.

The score was tied 14-14 when Jimmy Lawrence, regular right halfback of the Horned Frogs, went out with an injury. Meyer sent McClure into the game.

Harold did just what Meyer had told his boys not to do and Wilson took the pass that meant a 20-14 victory for the Mustangs and the Rose Bowl invitation.

"McClure felt worse about this mistake than anybody else," said Meyer. "He broke down in the dressing room.

"I'll never forget him as he walked toward the dressing room that day. His face was drawn and he had a look of utter dejection. I called him and we had a talk. We think just as much of you as we ever did," I told him.

"Think of the fellows who have done the same thing as you but were more fortunate; their mistake didn't come in such a crucial moment," I told him he would start against Santa Clara and I wanted to see what he was going to do about it.

"Well, McClure showed me. He scored the only T. C. U. touchdown of that game. And the next year he was the leading scorer of the Southwest Conference. And football fans will never forget his great playing."

Vocational School To Offer Courses For War Veterans

The Sanford Vocational Commerce School has recently been expanded to include a special educational department for returning service men, said Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, principal.

Returning service men who lack a few credits and are interested in completing their high school education, also those interested in brushing up on any high school subject, may enter the school at any time. The progress involved in completing the subject or subjects will depend on the capacity of the individual. Upon satisfactory completion of the work, the student receives a diploma.

Since it is expected that as many as 20 service men will be studying in one class room at the same time, each taking a separate course in grades ranging from the ninth through the twelfth, work sheets have been devised as a rapid means of study, instead of the usual load of books.

This type of work is being done in vocational schools throughout the State of Florida. It was adopted for the convenience of the returning service men who might be unwilling to wade through one complete year of school in order to finish one or two subjects, which according to the new method, can be finished in a minimum length of time.

T. W. Lawton, Superintendent of Public Instruction, said that Dr. J. B. Root has been appointed by the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction as an educator and counselor for returned veterans. Every veteran is invited to confer with Dr. Root before deciding on his courses. Dr. Root took special courses at the University of Florida this past summer and is qualified and certified to assist veterans in selecting educational courses. He will confer with veterans at his home at 811 Palmetto Avenue every afternoon and evening except Saturday and Sunday.

Upon completion of the vocational study, Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. J. C. Hall, assistant, aid the graduates in securing jobs. In the past seven years 522 graduates have been placed on jobs.

"Young men from all parts of Florida pursue the study of agricultural subjects at the University. Naturally anything which can be done to improve the instruction of these agricultural leaders of tomorrow must be of very vital importance to the entire State."

"I have noted with interest plans announced in news dispatches for the national meeting of the Florida State Poultry Producers Association to be held in Orlando, October 11. Homer I. Huntington, general manager of the poultry and egg national board of Chicago will be a featured speaker. Poultry production is an important and increasingly valuable State industry. Doctor's Efforts Are Often Handicapped

By W.V. Bitting Touchton Drug Co.

Sometimes the doctor's efforts are seriously handicapped by voluntary advice of those who can cite instances where they have seen a doctor who worked wonders for their friends.

Perhaps it did, but that case may not actually resemble yours in any degree. Only a trained doctor can know what your constitution can stand, how your very mental processes work, and what your individual needs may be.

By all means, protect the doctor from misuse of his time and energies. But do not hesitate to refer to him those symptoms which demand instant attention and real skill in handling.

Medication is always important. It must be prescribed by a physician. It must be compounded by a competent druggist.

When Does A War End?

CHILDREN — just like your own, except that they talk a foreign tongue—are starving, dying of cold, in allied countries ravaged by the war. The war isn't over for them—or for the many war-relief agencies that help them. These war-relief programs can only be kept going through your contributions.

THE WAR has ended in many places. But its effects haven't. Millions of our boys must remain scattered over the earth — thousands of miles away. One of their nearest contacts with home is the U.S.O., which brings American cheer to American boys through Camp Shows given for them. The U.S.O. operates on your dollars.

OUR SHIPS — manned by our men — will be docking at foreign ports for many months to come. The men who man them are not military personnel, but their work is every bit as vital. One place they can go for relaxation is to the clubhouses operated by United Seamen's Service. The U. S. S. needs your help, too.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED veterans still have a long way to go, to get all the way back to civilian life. To help them, Veterans' Information Service has been established. It cannot function without your help. You help many a boy get properly started again, when you give to your local Community War Fund.

HOSPITALS for the wounded and maimed will not find their work finished when the war ends. Many servicemen will remain in their charge for years to come. To help them recuperate, the U.S.O. sends entertainers to bring them amusement, talks with them, brighten their days. Your contribution helps make this work possible.

RIGHT IN YOUR OWN community, there are troubles that have not ended. Family service, hospital and clinical services, visits by trained nurses, care for children right here in our own community, are still needed. These services are rendered by our own local agencies. They, too, need your help.

Many GIs Attend 1st Fall Fashion Shows In Paris

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures
PARIS — At the first well attended fashion openings here the salons have played host to many English designers, fashion writers of all nations and groups of Wacs who admire the clothes, as well as GIs who discuss the mannequins.

Paquin emphasizes shoulder lines by prominent use of the yoke in innumerable ways.
In contrast, Lucien Lelong's emphasis is on the draped front neckline.
Paquin's suits, afternoon and evening dresses have interest concentrated on neck yokes and belts by use of contrasting material and by outlining wide shoulder lines with metal embroidery. Skirts are full with pleats front and back.

Fur skins decorate dresses and suits. Seal, beaver, silver fox and less costly pelts appear as patch pockets and tiny collars. Velvet is used for collar, belt and pocket trimming.
Nipped-in natural waistlines and suit jackets that fall well below the hip line form the theme. Street dress lengths are just below the knees.
Raglan and dolman sleeves are shown and modified leg o'mutton sleeves are used in afternoon dresses.
A pastel green tweed suit carries sheared beaver cuffs reaching above the elbow and giving the appearance of gauntlets.
Paquin, like Lelong, trims many coats with fur and putting quilted silk and satin linings of brilliant hue in others. But while Paquin sticks to the slim doublet wasp waist and flaring skirts in most coats, Lelong is deliberately giving many coats a bulky look.
Spectators are impressed by Paquin's unusual odd-color-combinations. A rich hostess gown of emerald green bodice has a flowing skirt of red-purple and is accented at the waist by a garnet red belt and a front held by deep red garnet buttons.
Purples and browns dominate his collection, just as black is the primary color in Lelong's.
Women with tiny waists are the only ones who will have an easy time in Molyneux clothes. While his collection is not as dramatic as some, he emphasizes the importance of the silhouette with smooth, sophisticated understanding. Shoulders are square without exaggeration. Bodices are form fitting and pockets of all types are important.
But where only one trend is noticeable in each of the other large collections a wide variety of styles is shown in the Molyneux models.

One interesting note is the use of flat fur such as leopard cat and sheared lamb for full-length coats with sharply contrasting use of bulky fur such as skunk or opossum.
His skirts are shorter, generally, than those of the other collections. Most of them are full with pleats except one slim, straight model similar to a Lelong specialty of the season.
One of the most striking models in the collection is an angora wool housecoat with huge dolman sleeves striped brilliant orange.
And if couturiers have any thing to say about hats they are going to be small, even though many of them are high. Feathers are in vogue in all the types of trimming and here are just as many brims as pillboxes in the collections.

Texas Is Rated As Most Likely To Succeed In South

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Newsfeatures
DALLAS — It's like old times in the South-west Conference. Not only is there a full house but most of the squads are brimming with veterans.
The University of Texas, well equipped with experience and boasting the speed that means a top-flight ground game under the D. N. Bible system, generally is rated No. 1, but any one of three teams—Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian—could edge in with the title.
Third of A Series
Then, too, Texas A. and M. bids up with a flock of lettermen and some of the finest freshman prospects to come along in years.
The Texas Aggies, led by one of the best ground games in the state, are expected to scrap it out for the privilege of staying out of the cellar.
The coaches all agree that Texas should win the title. Even Bible grants that his Longhorns should be the favorites. "I give the team to beat but I don't think I have the team to do it," says Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies. He admits, however, that he is going to show one of the best ground games in these parts—one fully as strong as last season when the Cadets were tough customers.
TCU Stronger
"Texas looks toughest," says Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian, but I'm going to have a much better team than last year. It's almost as big as the 1938 TCU eleven that was national champion. And we have an outfit that will feature power."
The T formation will dominate the style of play. Only TCU and Southern Methodist will stick to the wingback formation, but because they always have strong passing units and both Meyer and H. N. Russell, who has been acting head coach of Southern Methodist, say the T-back is best suited for an annual game. Texas will operate mostly with the single wing but Bible is planning some variations of the T to go with it.
There is only one coaching change. It isn't really a change. It's the return of one of the head mentors after being in the service three years. Latty Bell came back to Southern Methodist two weeks before the opening game to take over two all-time head football coaches and athletic director. James H. Stewart had been athletic director but resigned to become executive secretary of the conference.
Taylor Hawks Freshmen
Baylor returns to football after being out two seasons. There are some experienced material including Jack Price, who played at Penn State and North Carolina in 1942, but largely the Hawks will depend upon freshmen to carry them back into conference warfare.
Two outstanding candidates for All-American are among the list of veterans crowding the rosters at most of the schools. One of them is, of course, Hurst Lechtol, big Texas wingman who made the mythical team last year. The other is Monte Morrie, great Texas A. and M. tackle.
Texas has six lettermen and a dozen from other colleges in the Navy training program, but not too many of those lettermen fellows are crowding into the starting lineup.
Southern Methodist has 15 lettermen including Howard Maley, former summer and quarter-back who played with SMU two years before going into the Marine where he got two more seasons of football. Arkansas has eight lettermen and three squadmen and one of it's finest crops of freshmen. Texas Christian has 12 lettermen and three veterans from other schools. Texas A. and M. has 12 lettermen and five squadmen. Rice has only four lettermen and two fellows who won letters at other schools.

record—one that scouts relish is that against major leaguers in ten games this year. Dick swung for the atmospheric average of .488. Many of the service team pitchers he faced formerly were under the big top, too.
Dick likely will go first to the Cardinals' Columbus, Ohio, farm team of the American Association, and from there, those who saw him in action this year will all say he'll move up to the big show and soon.

Americans have a word for it
Bill Larkin's boy, who has been from overseas for good, was telling us about the funny customs and the different languages of European countries.
One thing he noticed is that in so many of those countries there is no word for "home." "House," or "building." But no name that stands for what we mean when we say home.
"In spite of the fact," says Bill, "that it's the most important thing there is—a place where you can take your shoes."

POINT REWARD FOR USED FATS DOUBLED

4 points instead of 2 for every pound!
EVERY one of you housewives in America, in your own kitchen, can speed the return of larger supplies of soaps and all the peacetime things you have been waiting for so long. You can do it by saving more used fats... every drop you can scrape or skim! It's as urgently needed as ever. So keep doing it, won't you?

You women of America have done a magnificent job of saving used fats during the war, but victory has not ended the need. The fat supply for the manufacture of soap and other long-wanted products is millions of pounds less in 1945 than it was in 1941. That is why the government offers four ration points instead of two for every pound of used fats you turn in.
By skimming, scooping and scraping every last drop of used fat, you can help increase your own home supplies of soaps, soap flakes and powders more quickly. And not only soaps. But the bylons, cottons, electric washers, irons, refrigerators, automobiles and hundreds of other peacetime products we've all been waiting for.
The fats saved in your kitchen are urgently needed to help get peacetime goods back into production... and I back to you... more quickly. So won't you keep up the good work even though the war is over? You'll help to fill your own needs for soaps and the civilian goods you're dreaming of. Remember, every drop of used fat is still vitally important. Keep saying, won't you?

War Fund Drive

The National War Fund Drive to raise $115,000,000 for the coming year gets under way tomorrow night and will be inaugurated in Seminole County with a "kickoff" dinner at the Mayfair Hotel...

Although the war is over, the need for the National War Fund is greater than ever and will continue so as long as American boys, who wish to return to civilian life, are retained by the Army and continue to serve in remote island outposts in the Pacific...

Removed from the excitement of actual combat, relieved of the necessity for vigorous training, faced only with the monotony of camp life and with very little to do that they want to do, while they are awaiting the opportunity to return home, American soldiers are confronted with a morale problem which only the USO in some small degree is equipped to handle...

Sanford has special cause to feel indebted to the USO. For the thousands of young men who have been stationed here at one time or another since the war began, it has been a haven of refuge from the rigorous routine of station life. It has provided them with good wholesome entertainment during their off-duty hours, the value of which cannot be over-estimated by the people of Sanford.

Although the quota to be raised is a large one, we feel confident that the drive will meet with complete success, knowing full well the worthiness of the cause and the competence of Mr. Coleman and his assistants who have it in charge.

Wages And Things

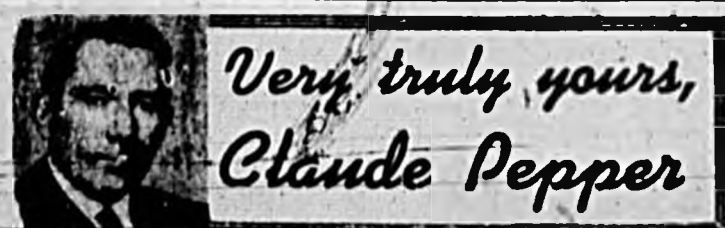

It was a doctor talking. He had just come from a store in a neighboring city where he had tried to buy some things they didn't have. He was pretty much disgusted as he picked up a newspaper and read the headlines, "Oil Workers Decide to Strike". Then he met a newspaperman on the corner and decided to give him a piece of his mind.

"Why don't some of you people with the power of the press behind you explain to working people that a lot of money in the pay envelope won't do them any good if there isn't anything to buy with it?" he asked.

"I can tell an occasional person I meet on my rounds, but it doesn't mean much. The people I meet are all sick. But you sit at your desk and write stuff that goes to thousands of well people. And they all need to know that and nobody really makes it clear to them. Economists using fancy words don't mean anything to people who work with their hands. But telling them straight from the shoulder in words they can get the first time does mean something. Why don't you get on your job and tell 'em plain?"

"Money isn't anything in itself. It's food and shelter and clothing and other comforts that people want. They can't have them unless they grow food or build houses or make clothes and so on. If they make enough things, the prices will be inside their pay and they'll be comfortable. If they skimp on their hours and get too much pay in proportion to what they make, the prices of everything they want to buy will go up and up and in the end there is hardly anything to buy and it won't go around and no matter how much money they get they won't have any comfort. Tell 'em that and tell 'em flat. They need to know. They mean well but they just don't understand and nobody tells them."

"Half my patients are sick because they have'n't had the right food for the last year or more. They had money, but would it buy good red meat? Or butter? It wouldn't. It isn't money that counts—it's producing things to buy!"

Due to the absence of the men in the army the women were still having to do most of the work at this farm. The men are returning now because there has been large scale demobilization in the Red Army.

We have been to the Russian Ballet which gave a very beautiful performance. We are to see other performances before we go and today the agency which is set up to entertain foreigners is going to give us a reception where we will get a chance to meet a good many people who have a part in Russian cultural life.

Of course, you have to realize that while Russia has accomplished marvels not only in fighting but in war production during the war, she is not yet a fully industrialized country. It is rare to see a private citizen owning an automobile. The automobiles they have generally go to officials and to professional people such as doctors or to factory workers who have achieved distinction or artists who merit some special reward.

The Russians are making a tremendous effort to industrialize their country. You must remember that for years before the war, the people had to sacrifice civilian goods in order to build up the Red Army and war production. If they hadn't, it is frightening to think what might have happened to the world.

The Russians like the Americans. They are generally a friendly agreeable people. They know about us and they want to be like us generally. It is very clear that the Government and the people earnestly want to work with America in keeping the peace and promoting better conditions in the world.

The Russians desperately need peace so that they can repair their own war damage and build their own peace-time production. For that reason I do not believe the Russians have any aggressive intentions. For the first time their old enemies, Germany and Japan, are no more a threat to them. They have an opportunity therefore to raise the standard

"PAYING THROUGH THE NOSE"

Girl Editors Plan Final Issue Of International GI Newspaper

By JOY MILLER AP Newsfeatures WICHITA, Kan. — A newspaper that started out as a 1944 "hitlist" card now has a 4,000-plus circulation.

Its co-editors, with half the United States between them, have no editorial offices, advertising, paid subscriptions, or salaried employees, but they receive from 30 to 40 appreciative letters daily.

The unique publication is the Oregon State Yank and the editor is Elaine Plaine, Sewall, Wichita, and Jane Steagall, Portland, Ore.

It all started in 1943 when Elaine, just married and out of school, decided to cooperate with the girls who were in the service. Elaine wanted something different in the way of Yuletide greetings and news about school friends.

Handicapped by living more than two thousand miles from her alma mater's campus at Corvallis, Ore., Elaine enlisted the aid of a former classmate, Jane Steagall, assistant advertising manager at Lipman-Wolfe's in Portland.

The first issue was printed in the Wichita-Elaine planning office in Wichita and mailed in 1944. Elaine and Steagall, who were in 1940 servicemen, all former Oregon State, whose names had been supplied by interested friends.

Then letters started pouring in, Elaine explained, "from all over the United States and fighting fronts of the world. Every letter was a plea for more Yanks we gave it to them."

Although the girls had paid for the first issue themselves, a matter of $150, financing the paper thereafter was simple. Practically every letter praising the Yank and requesting more of the same, enclosed checks to help out.

Within the next two issues published quarterly—the paper had grown to eight pages and was mailing 1,700 copies a week. The publication was moved to Portland, where it was printed and color added. An OBC alumna who owned an engraving company donated the cuts.

The first anniversary issue in November, 1944, boasted a mailing list of 2,500. The format was enlarged to 16 pages, with two colors. More than 50 pictures added interest to each issue. The staff of new-felling was busy, informal. The only serial note was the page, "So Proudly We Walk," dedicated to those Oregon State killed in action.

TERRACE TALK

Do you possess a dog collar? Not a wild you put on a puppy, but the sort that dramatizes a dinner dress with a low scoop neckline. If your exchequer doesn't run to the bought kind, wind a spiral of tiny pearls about on "collars" of velvet tubing — or sew brilliant buttons to a velvet ribbon.

MRS. DALE L. SCOTT JR. received a cablegram from DALE in Hawaii giving the information that he would be landing in San Francisco on Oct. 5. DALE, who has been on a carrier, had just reached Honolulu — not far from Tokyo — when orders were received to return to the states. While his carrier was anchored near Tokyo, if any officer wanted to go into town — four were ordered to go together and armed! Also he wrote that looking out of his port hole one day the ocean would be smooth as glass and the next day they would frantically cling to their bunks because a typhoon would shake them like an automatic mixer.

Word from EDDY G. D. BISHOP JR. (BUDDY) has been received that he is, on his way to a year's policing duty. For a while he was stationed in Hawaii. His camp, Tarawa, was on the northern part of the island near a small village called Kamuela. He was about 70 miles from Hilo, the largest city on the island. That was where he boarded and loaded ship for the Iwo Jima operation and this trip was BIDDY stopped at Pearl Harbor before leaving the islands for a few days liberty. While there he saw CAPT. JACK BOLT his old classmate, and a good time was had. "He who possesses that delicate sixth sense we call tact must know not only when to be silent, but when to be deaf and blind. When you tell your plain friend that she has an expressive face; the author whose book the critics have torn to pieces, that you prefer his fifth chapter (it is the shortest); the child who fetched you a nosegay; that you love flowers you hold to the truth, and yet refrain from giving sharp wounds to kind hearts. And when, hearing something not intended for your ears, you refuse to listen, and then proceed to forget the chance words which have reached you through mistake, you only do as you would be done by — surely the first of all duties to our fellows."

Miss Evelyn Stowe Is Married In San Diego

The First Methodist Church of San Diego was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 29, at high noon, when Miss Evelyn Stowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stowe, of Indian Mound Village, became the bride of Charles Vodopich, A.O.M. 2/c, U. S. N. R., son of Mrs. Mildred Vodopich, of Grand Junction, Colo. in an impressive ceremony performed by Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the church.

Baskets of white, gladioli, white aster, and statice, palms, banked the channel of the church, and cathedral candles cast a soft glow. Mrs. Fowler, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music which included "Ave Maria" because of the traditional wedding march.

The bride entered on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown was of pale ivory satin, made with sweetheart neckline, shirred bodice with sleeves tapering at the wrist and the gathered skirt ending in a train. Her full length veil was of net with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, gift of the groom. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and lavender.

Miss Georgia Rose of Pasadena, was maid of honor. She wore a corn yellow gown of taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphinium with matching ribbons. A yellow flower arrangement was worn in her hair.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue silk crepe with matching lace yoke and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a corsage of pink roses and delphinium.

William Edward Bunsar, A.O. M. 3/c, of Pasadena, served the groom as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church lounge. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with the bride's cake. Silver candelabra holding lighted tapers graced each end of the table. Mrs. Fowler served the wedding cake while Miss Rose presided over the bride's book.

Following the reception the young couple left for their wedding trip to Pine Valley, Calif., after which they will reside in San Diego.

Miss Susan Kirtley To Wed W.W. White

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roy Kirtley announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Susan, to William Walker White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair White, Jr., Saturday at a luncheon in their home on Golden Lake.

The reception rooms of the Kirtley home were decorated with lovely arrangements of rose hibiscus.

The luncheon table was laid with a cloth of white organza with a white appliqued line center and border. The names Susan and Bill were written on a reflector which centered the table. An arrangement of white carnations was placed at one end of the table and at the other a small white split-bamboo cage containing a pair of lovebirds.

The place cards were hand painted gold wedding bells tied with maline and were replicas of those used at Mrs. Kirtley's announcement party.

The guests included intimate friends and relatives of the Kirtley and White families.

Wedding plans will be announced at a later date.

Auto Industry's War Output Set At 29 Billions

645 Concerns Pooled Know-How, Made Fourth Of All Arms

DETROIT, Oct. 1. (AP)—The nation's automotive industry delivered nearly $29,000,000,000 worth of war products to the United States and its Allies from the beginning of the war to date.

components, and $903,660,000 worth of "all other war products."

2,600,000 Vehicles The military vehicles totaled 2,600,000 and included 659,031 jeeps and 578,000 military trailers.

What the application of the industry's mass-production methods meant in stepping up unit volume while lowering costs was illustrated in the production of the standard .50-caliber machine gun.

Included in council membership were all the nation's motor vehicle makers, manufacturers of automotive bodies, trailers, automotive parts and accessories and the major producers of automotive tools and dies, lugs and fixtures and special-purpose machines.

Production of baby carriages, strollers, and walkers in 1944 totaled 1,036,000 units, an increase of 32 per cent over that of 1943.

Steel Construction Proved Its Worth In London Blitz

By TRUDI McCULLOUGH AP Newsfeatures Writer NEW YORK — One of the reasons why Britain's war production did not stop during the blitz and Germany's was able to continue under repeated bombing is of interest to contractors, engineers and architects planning tomorrow's buildings.

These findings, currently published in the American Institute of Steel Construction's Digest, were recently corroborated by Maj. Gen. Ira Eaker who told construction officials in Washington that no factory district built up with steel construction could be left unharmed for more than six weeks.

"In my experience I have seen very little serious bomb damage to buildings erected with steel frames. . . . Of course, this excludes direct hits, although steel stood up remarkably well in direct hits and saved countless lives. . . . In several instances (in power plants) where bombs fell on or close to buildings, the rubble of walls was cleared away in a day and our equipment was back in commission within hours instead of days and weeks."

At present, approximately 80 per cent of all tooth brushes are made from nylon bristles. Total U. S. production of farm machinery in 1944 was valued at more than $1,050,000,000, compared with $522,000,000 in 1929.

CARDUI Cold Preparations

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson PREVENTING LOSS OF PIGS MEANS SUCCESS IN STOCK ENTERPRISE The fall crop of pigs is now coming on, and farmers will do well for themselves and for the country as a whole if they will make every attempt to avoid losing any of the future porkers.

Handling the brood sow carefully and giving her a clean farrowing house, or bit of clean land on which to farrow, providing adequate feed and clean water for her, providing quarters for the sow and her pigs that will eliminate the danger of the pigs being crushed, keeping the sow and litter on clean pasture with plenty of clean water so the pigs will not become infested with parasites, and vaccinating all the pigs (at the same time) against cholera are some of the things that the farmer can do to avoid losing some of his herd.

Thousands of pigs die every year because these measures are not taken, but the fact that the number that has been lost during the past three years is smaller than during other years is encouraging evidence that many farmers are endeavoring to make the most of their livestock enterprises by raising all their pigs.

Florida Centennial At Orange Jamboree

MIAMI (Oct. 1. (Special)—Florida's Centennial has been selected as the theme of the King Orange Jamboree parade here on New Year's Eve, it was disclosed this week by President George E. Whitfield of the Orange Bowl Committee.

The parade, blocked out since 1941, will be revived with all of its pre-war splendor to honor 100 years of Florida statehood and entertain thousands of spectators the night before the big Orange Bowl football game.

Nothing will be left undone, he says, to make the 1945 spectacle one which will sparkle in the minds of on-lookers. Seder's fair extravaganza and pageantry has proven long ago and those who are familiar with his previous parades are looking forward to his first production in three years. The last parade in 1941 was reviewed by some 200,000 spectators who jammed Flagler Street and Biscayne Boulevard to watch the procession of 90 floats, 50 bands and hundreds of beautiful girls.

Key-note of the show was victory and the armed forces of the Army Air Corps, the Navy and the Marines each contributing a float. Probably the most outstanding of these was the Marine Corps display which warned spectators to "Remember Wake Island," the phrase emblazoned in lights on the float.

Belme made his comments after an assertion by Walter H. Petry, Federation field organizer in Baltimore; that no nationwide strike threat had been voiced by Federation officials. Petry said Belme had informed him the reports were erroneous and unauthorized.
In the oil refinery wage dispute, Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach was reportedly preparing a fresh appeal for settlement of the eight State walkout which threatens to cause transportation tie-ups in several areas.
Reports reaching the wage controversies that the union itself was rationing gasoline in the Detroit area prompted the Secretary to telegraph a warning against any such action. "If the supply in the Detroit area is such as to necessitate rationing," he said in a wire to August Scholle, Michigan CIO director, "it should be done by the proper authorities."
Schwellenbach's telegram to the Michigan CIO director said that investigations by his representatives convinced him that the rationing program of the union "is resulting in confusion and resentment that soon will endanger the health and safety of the people of Detroit."
"Therefore I vigorously urge that you arrange immediately a meeting of the officers of the union and insist that action be taken at once to withdraw from that program," Schwellenbach's telegram said.
"I am now trying here in Washington to bring about a settlement of the strike through the process of bargaining. The prompt recognition by the Detroit local of its responsibility to conduct itself as not to endanger the public welfare would help nullify the fears which have been expressed during the negotiation."

Schwellenbach's telegram to the Michigan CIO director said that investigations by his representatives convinced him that the rationing program of the union "is resulting in confusion and resentment that soon will endanger the health and safety of the people of Detroit."
"Therefore I vigorously urge that you arrange immediately a meeting of the officers of the union and insist that action be taken at once to withdraw from that program," Schwellenbach's telegram said.
"I am now trying here in Washington to bring about a settlement of the strike through the process of bargaining. The prompt recognition by the Detroit local of its responsibility to conduct itself as not to endanger the public welfare would help nullify the fears which have been expressed during the negotiation."

Strike Lines Expanded By New Disputes

Telephone Workers Are Expected To Be Out For Four Hours On Friday

(By Associated Press)

Strike lines were expanded in the last 24 hours by fresh labor disputes and a survey disclosed some 415,000 idle one of the largest totals in months. New trouble threatened as a strike vote was called for Friday that will pull 200,000 telephone workers off their jobs for four hours. The hottest spots are in the coal and oil fields, where about 130,000 being out seriously curtailed production. In Washington, the oil CIO workers reportedly are ready to accept a government plan to end a strike which affected the plants in 16 states. A decision is due today (4 P. M., E.S.T.) from union and company heads on a proposal for arbitration of union demands for a 30 percent wage increase and a temporary 15 percent pay boost.

The spreading soft coal strike in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky—idling some 90,000 miners, brought an embargo on most shipments, to conserve supplies, for essential services.

Other strikes reported were: New York City Fifth Avenue bus drivers; A. L. lumber workers in the Pacific Northwest where some 61,700 workers were out.

Secretary Schwelbensch's drive for settlement of the 12-state transportation-crippling oil strike showed signs of slowing down tonight. The chief spokesman of one major company, Socony-Vacuum, walked out of the peace conference and left Washington late today (4 P. M., E.S.T.) for New York on his way to a settlement meeting at Schwelbensch's home.

"Some of the people think they need more time, that their opinion should be waited on," said the industry man, C. E. Teltzworth of New York.

Sinclair Accepts
However, the Sinclair Oil company announced it would accept Schwelbensch's plan without change.

Other conferees, on both sides had brought in some qualifications they wished to attach to Schwelbensch's back-to-work proposal. Teltzworth said. But he added he was not fully familiar with the views of the CIO Oil Workers' International union, since the union was meeting separately with federal conciliators.

In a letter given to Schwelbensch, Teltzworth said Socony-Vacuum gladly subscribed to most points of the government plan, including a temporary wage increase to boost pending final settlement.

But he said he could not subscribe to arbitration of the wage question unless the arbitrator were mutually acceptable to both sides, and unless the arbitrator, in reaching his final ruling, considered the wage question "from the beginning, and without reference to either the union demand or the offers made by some oil company."

15 Percent Of Quota Reported Raised At Dinner

The Seminole County War Fund drive got off to a good start last night with a statement at the "right of dinner" held at the Mayfair Hotel by Chairman H. H. Coleman that the Advanced Gifts Committee had reported 15 percent of the quota already raised and with an announcement from Capt. W. P. Easton that proceeds from the Naval Air Station theater from Oct. 7 to Oct. 14 will be devoted to the National War Fund.

"I am confident that this would be the last War Fund drive and that the boys would be home before another year," Mr. Coleman expressed confidence in the campaign workers and the public's appreciation of USO services and suggested that the solicitors "put all their eggs in one basket." He explained that 60 percent of national quota goes to the USO and United States Service, 24 percent to European relief, 8 percent to Pacific relief, 1 percent to emergency, and 1 percent to administration and campaign expenses.

Prof. H. P. Constans, head of the department of speech at the University of Florida and principal speaker at the dinner, pointed out that although the war is over, the state of Florida alone still has 185,000 boys in uniform, many of whom will be unable to come home for a long time yet and he recalled his own impression of the first World War when, he said, it seemed to him he spent a whole lot more

Yamashita To Be Tried In Philippines

MacArthur Restricts Jap Overseas Communications To Messages He Approves

TOKYO, Oct. 3. (AP)—General Tomoyuki Yamashita will be tried in Manila by a U.S. military commission as a war criminal. General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo announced today. He will be arraigned on charges at the home of the Philippines high commissioner. He will be charged with the "responsibility for brutal atrocities and other high crimes against the people of the United States and its Allies and dependencies." The trial will be open to the public.

General MacArthur also restricted Jap overseas financial and business communications to messages he has approved, and warned the Japanese to keep their hands off Korea. While threats of famine brought fresh troubles to the Jap cabinet, Russia meanwhile announced to the United States its determination to take a hand in the control of Japan, the Moscow radio reported.

It said the formation of a four power control government for Japan should precede any previously agreed upon "consultative commission" to direct a long range Allied occupation policy. The Korea warning came after reported "promotions" of Jap officials serving there. All such promotions are ineffective, Allied headquarters said, adding that its own military government is the sole authority for Korea.

The first report of a rice riot in northern Japan lent credence to the possibility that Hiogoichi Kuni might resign and his cabinet go with him.

American Prisoners Brought Aboard By Stretcher Carriers

In a letter to his parents, W. O. Livingston Jr., Ylc., writing aboard the USS Sanctuary, told of the removal of prisoners from Japan on Sept. 15.

"We left Japan this morning about 10:30 after a very eventful night," he wrote. "At noon yesterday our first load of patients came aboard. There were five stretcher cases and the water was quite rough. It was very difficult to hoist them from the boat to the ship, but they managed after so long a time. The patients were very thin and pale, but flashed the nurse a very sweet smile and made her farewell when they were hoisted from the boat.

"All afternoon stretcher cases arrived. The water calmed down in the evening and both load and boat were under way. I volunteered to help. We would meet them at the gangway and take them through the line, carrying their luggage for them. Most of them were Australians, Dutch, Japanese and British. All of the men looked fairly well but only because of the tons of food that was dropped by the Yanks after the war.

Survey Is Made Of Upper Valley Of St. Johns

Government Engineers of the Jacksonville District are conducting a survey of central Florida waterways, including the upper St. Johns Valley, now heavily flooded. The St. Lucie River and other waterways to determine what should be done in the way of flood control and water conservation, it was announced today by Mayor Edward Higgins.

This survey had been interrupted by the war emergency, he added. Co-operation of the Navy here is being called on to secure aerial photographs of the flooded St. Johns as a means of aiding the survey.

A two inch fall in the St. Johns River level was recorded during the past three days by Archie Smith at the Sanford Boat Works. The decline was three quarters of an inch on Sunday, the same on Monday and a drop of one half inch on Tuesday. Cars and trucks have resumed travel from Sanford to Osteen but the falls between bridges are still flooded.

It was reported from DeLand that on Tuesday the river reached a crest and higher than at any time since 1928. Water about six inches deep is running over the East highway east of the river, which is approximately four and a half feet above normal. Many side roads near the river and its tributaries are blocked by the water.

Actual rainfall recorded by Weatherman H. E. Wittner in DeLand during September was 13.29 inches or 7.30 inches above the normal of 5.99 inches. This more than seven inch excess just about represented the heavy rains during the storm period. It offset the dry period earlier in the year, and results in 5.29 inches excess of rain for the year to date. The excess for 1944 was 12.25 inches of rain.

Major Powers Disagree On Terms Of Potsdam Decisions; New Meet Likely

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Senator Johnson, (D Colo.), told the Senate today that Great Britain has turned down President Truman's proposal to permit immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine.

He said the British government will announce next week a plan to admit 1,000 Jews a month, or 18,000 a year. A British white paper now in effect limits immigration to 10,000 a year.

Big 5 Peace Parley Ends In Discord

LONDON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov brought into the open today a disagreement among the major powers whether a Big Three participation by all five principal powers in the European peace settlements existed.

In a press conference, Molotov disclosed any knowledge of such an agreement. Earlier, Byrnes said President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee left the Potsdam conference with the understanding that France and China would be permitted a full share in the discussions of treaties, a brief that Marshal Stalin apparently understood the two nations would be barred from such discussions.

Byrnes announced the disputes would continue to work here on some aspect of the conference which ended without a agreement on any major issues. It seemed obvious that Truman, Attlee and Stalin would be obliged to reach a basis for a meeting of minds before the work could be resumed on writing the treaties. It seemed likely they would communicate through diplomatic channels before meeting personally.
