turn they have to be a friend in return. When people will stay in a place for years and not make any friends there is something wrong not with the place nor the people that live there, but with those people that are making continuous complaints. It's been sung until its redoubt that they are going to hunt a better place. When they find it, it won't be them that's made it any better off by them being there. There are advantages and disadvantages and good and bad people every where but life is just what one makes it. A person has to be good to be happy and live and let live.

J. T. LEE IN TROUBLE.

Former Sanford Marshal Shoots Man in Miami Last Wednesday.

J. T. Lee, formerly of this city but for many years a resident of the lower east coast is in trouble at Miami according to despatches from that city. Lee shot and killed a man named Russell last Wednesday and the coroners jury has bound him over to the grand jury. J. T. Lee was marshal of Sanford for several years and was also engaged in the fish business here for some time and is well known in this county where he was born and raised being the son of Hon. J. H. Lee of Ovidio and his family reside here now. The latest from Miami on the case says:

John T. Lee, who shot and killed Pierre G. Russell here last Saturday night, was held to the grand jury without bond by Justice of Peace Combs here today, following the verdict of a coroner's jury that Russell had been murdered by Lee.

No new facts developed at the inquest today, witnesses failing to throw any light on incidents leading to the tragedy. The claim of Lee that the shooting was in self-defense was partly substantiated by the testimony of Autumn Leary, aged fourteen, who declared Russell spent last Saturday afternoon cleaning a rifle. Other witnesses stated that Russell had no weapon at the time of the shooting.

A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, "He'll Print 'em".... So Says Saunterer.

There are some people in this town that ought to take a trip up the country and learn something about building a town. I would suggest that they go to the Thousand Isles and spend a month on each island and by that time Sanford will have become a city.

I note that the new Valdez Hotel is getting out postal cards that will be sent out by the business houses of Sanford in their letters to their friends and acquaintances in other parts of the country. The cards advertise the hotel and advertise San Juan county, which is the proper spirit in advertising. And I might add that anything that advertises the county will advertise the hotels. And this only follows out my ancient idea that we should all work together in one harmonious family for the upbuilding of our community. The fact is the world.

The many new cars in Sanford denote prosperity. On Saturday nights First street looks like Fifth avenue in New York.

many cars parked on each side of the street. And Sanford dealers are getting the agency for many new cars, thus being able to sell the cars here instead of having people go elsewhere. There are new garages and sales departments starting up and the auto industry is looking up from every angle.

The Fellow That Thinks He Can
If you think you are beaten, you are; If you think that you dare not, you don't; If you'd like to win, but you think you can't, it's almost a cinch you won't; If you think you'll lose, you've lost; For out in the world you find Success begins with a fellow's will; It's all in the state of mind.

Full many a race is lost Ere even a step is run, And many a onward fails Ere even his work's begun. Think big and your dream will grow; Think small and you'll fall behind; Think that you can, and you will; It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are; You've got to think high to rise; You've got to be sure of yourself before you ever win a prize; You can't always go to the top of the ladder or later man; But soon or late the man who wins Is the fellow who thinks he can. Trench and Camp been made chairman of the state road department and no better man than Sir Michael can be found in all the land. He has dreamed of good roads in Florida for many years and has worked for them early and late. He knows as much about good roads and road building as any man in the state and he should make good in his new position. And that he is our Mike Smith, which makes a wonderful difference.

What a shame it rained Friday and Saturday and kept our ball team from showing up those fresh sprouts from Orlando. I understand they opened the churches down there on Friday and Saturday and prayed for rain.

What a wonderful outpouring of people in Sanford are attending the union services every Sunday night. Despite the fact that so many people are away for the summer the church is getting over a splendid record for the month. It is a credit to the churches are getting together on the subject of real religion irrespective of creed.

There is more talk about Sanford in this state and in other states now than ever before and we want to send out literature and get our share of the trade. We are going to have an average of the day. The Board of Trade can do nothing without an active paid secretary and this should be our first aim should have a rally in September when all our people get back home and see that every man in Seminole County comes into the rejuvenated Board of Trade with the idea that a good secretary will be employed at once. Sanford will never get what is coming to her without an active Board of Trade with a paid secretary.

Baptists Choose Stetson.
The committee which was appointed on the motion of Rev. Claud W. Duke, at the Florida Baptist convention held in this city last January to try to recon-ile the differences existing in the convention for a long time and which were the cause of the formation of Columbia University at Lake City, some years ago, have at last, after amny meetings succeeded in their efforts and Stetson University at DeLand will be the only Baptist university in Florida, Columbia ceasing to operate.

A majority of the board of trustees of John B. Stetson University will now be Baptists residing in this state, affiliated with the Florida Baptist convention and the Baptist convention will approve of each trustee before his election by the trustees of Stetson.

The Baptist convention will use its best influence, moral, religious and financial, in the support, maintenance and development of the university.

Stetson had 642 students on its enrollment last year and with the number that will be added from Columbia, there should be between seven and eight hundred students there next year.—Tampa Tribune.

CLARK FOR SHIP CANAL.
Washington, July 23.—Congressman Frank Clark, of Florida, to-day requested the house committee on railroads and canals to give immediate consideration to his resolutions just introduced, for a survey for a ship canal across the State of Florida connecting the Atlantic ocean with the Gulf of Mexico. This resolution is as follows:

"That the secretary of war be authorized and directed to at the earliest practical date cause to be made a survey for a ship canal across the State of Florida connecting the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico; that in the making of such survey the secretary of war shall use the St. John's river from its mouth to where the Oklawaha river empties into the St. John's river, thence up the Oklawaha river to Silver Springs, thence by the nearest and most practicable route to the Withlacoochee river at or near the city of Dunellon, and thence down the Withlacoochee river to the Gulf of Mexico; provided, that in addition to the route mentioned the secretary of war may make other surveys of other routes should the same appear to be feasible. The secretary of war shall make report to congress of the survey herein, specifically required, together with an estimate of the cost of construction of a ship canal over such route, capable of accommodating vessels drawing at least fifteen feet of water and shall also make report of such surveys as may be done hereunder."

Amusements for Employees.
The secret of having thoughtful care for the management of employees is not a new discovery. It has been in use for more than a generation by one of the most successful departments of a great corporation in this country. Lucien M. Coker also introduced the idea in Paris years ago. New York merchants arrange picnics and dances for their woman and man clerks.

Art of Coloring Glass.
It is probable that the coloring of glass and particularly the garnet tint and the ruby hue, as some authorities would have us believe, originated in China. This color garnet is obtained by adding to a molten mixture of silicates a quantity of gold with fine dust of cobalt and alumina. On its first heating the glass is colorless, but on reheating it develops its most rich appearance.—New York World.

FAT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The members of the B. Y. P. U. that is ten of them, met at the Pastorium last Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing plans for increasing the membership and attendance of the Union, which has for the past two months been somewhat "lagging" along those two lines. A check of the Church Membership was made under the direction of Dr. Hyman, our pastor, and all young people of the B. Y. P. U. age in the membership were listed and divided into equal groups. Those present at the meeting were each given a group and it will be the earnest endeavor of these group captains to enroll every one of those assigned.

After the business of the Union was taken care of stories were told and jokes laughed over and every one thoroughly enjoyed the evening. Refreshments were served after which the members departed with the determination of making our Union the best in the state.

In presenting the loving cup to the B. Y. P. U. of the Woodlawn Baptist Church of Jacksonville, Dr. Hyman made the prediction that it was the last time anyone would be the winner of the cup except Sanford. In order to hold the cup "for keeps" Sanford will have to win it three successive years, so you see if we are to make Brother A Hyman's prediction come, true someone has some work to do. Wonder who it is going to be up to.

B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening at 7:30. Good program on, Group Two being in charge, Miss. Group Captain. Everybody welcome, young people especially. Bring your Part up.

Group Two is expecting to be entertained by Group One and Three these two groups having lost in the contest just closing. Group Two tries to "rub it in" every chance they get but Groups One and Three say they will give them the best set of "cats" they ever heard about. I'm going to be there myself.

B. Y. P. U., Baptist Temple, Sunday Evening, 7:30. Watch us.

Office Supplies Here

People do not have to go out of town for their office supplies in fact they are coming here from other towns to get what they want in this line. This week a gentleman from a neighboring city came into the Herald office for an article that he could not buy at home and remarked that the Sanford Herald had one of the most complete lines of office supplies that could be purchased and handled articles that could not be purchased in his home town. The Herald is adding to their office supply department all the time and will soon be forced to take the entire first floor space for the supply department. It is a most complete and up-to-date line of office supplies for the constantly increasing business.

JOKE ON THE EDITOR

Is Revived on his Recent Trip to Europe.

It is early Editor Bob Holly, of the Sanford Herald, that is, a man who has been in Europe a long time and has seen a lot of things. He is now back in Sanford and is being interviewed by Game Warden Chas. G. Megarow now deceased, when they informed him that Bob Holly was out fishing with a net. Here is Captain Vogt's story.

A few years ago Lake County was famous for many counties distant, for the preservation of her large and beautiful lakes. The hunter out of season and the hunter without a license, and the hunter with entirely too much of this world's goods in quail and deer, or minus his certificate of integrity, was treading on dangerous grounds within the precincts of Lake County, for the fragrance of his unlawful spoils and even the echo of his gun would reach the keen perceptions of Charlie Megarow, our game warden, and then would come the charge of fifty dollars for a wild turkey or many simoleons for the privilege of fishing "with a net" surreptitiously. Charlie's visual organs were good, but sometimes he was visionary. "Bob Holly," now of the Sanford Herald—"Our Bob"—was once the subject of Charlie's microscopic vigilance. He came to Eustis one day and soon dropped on a scent. Somebody told him confidentially of course, that Bob Holly had gone on the lake and had "a net" of fair proportions with him, and that it was not a scoop net either. Charlie went down to the shore, chartered the boat, Tibberias, and with a crew sailed for Gabriel's Point, within the shadow of which was "Bob" fishing with a "net" sure enough. An introduction to Annette was all Charlie got on this occasion. The case was not brought before a justice of the peace, but Charlie went on a still hunt for his informant, who, just then could not be found. But "Bob" didn't cease fishing. He "flagged" around some for a while until he landed his affinity and he still sticks to the lake shore for some reason or other. He is now living at Sanford on the shores of Lake Monroe—Eustis Lake Region.

WHO WAS IT?

DID IT HAPPEN TO YOU

A preacher at the close of his sermon said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up." Presently every man, woman and child, with one exception, rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception a care-worn, hungry-looking individual, clothed in his past summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it my friend," asked the minister, "you are the only man not able to meet his obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he answered, and the brethren here who stood up are my subscribers and—"

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister. —Exchange.

YEAR BOOK IS READY

The following letter has been received by The Herald from Senator Duncan U. Fletcher:

"I will appreciate it if you will inform your readers that I will be very glad to forward a copy of the Agricultural Year Book for 1918 just made available for distribution to any persons interested. That publication contains a great deal of valuable information, and is desired by farmers, truckers and others.

Hardboiled Smith Sentenced

Washington, July 23. Lieutenant Frank H. Smith, known in the army as "Hardboiled" Smith was given 18 months imprisonment, Lieut. Joseph Mason and Helfenstein were dismissed from the service, and Sergeant Clearance R. Ball, after conviction by court martial of cruelty to American army prisoners of war on Farm No. Two in France. This information was contained in a report to the war department from General Pershing, which was read to the house war investigating committee today by General March, Chief of Staff.

Admission that American soldiers held in prison and camps in and near Paris suffered atrocities for which several minor officers were convicted by court martial proceedings was reported today by the Chief of Staff, today by the Chief of Staff investigating committee.

NEW GARAGE OPENS

Sanford is probably the greatest automobile city in the world there being more cars here for the number of inhabitants than any other city. And so many cars make room for many garages and among the new ones is that of May and Walthall who have rented space in the Leffler building at the east end of First street and will have their show rooms there. They will have the agency for the Cole, Auburn and Columbia cars and have already sold many of these cars here. Mr. Ervin May is a hustler and has been in the game for many years before coming here being in Orlando in the Florida Auto Supply Co. Mr. Walthall is equally a live wire and has been in the farming game here for many years and lately added a meat store to his many lines. Mr. Walthall and Mr. May are doing great business here and their new show rooms will add greatly to the auto and supply business of this section.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Weather and Crop

Conditions in Florida. Temperature: Temperatures averaged 81 degrees, 2 degrees below normal during the week. Monday was the warmest day, the temperature 84 degrees.

Precipitation. Except over small areas rain occurred daily; it was heaviest, as a rule, over the northern and central portions of the peninsula where some stations reported 2 to 4 inches. At Sanford the total for the week was 1.4 inches.

Summary of the following totals, inches and tenths: week report 1, Tampa 5.9, Pinellas 4.7, Clearwater 4.0, Cedar Key 3.5, St. Petersburg 2.0, Pinellas Park 2.3, DeFuniak Springs 3.0, Orlando 3.2, Titusville 4.4, Jacksonville 1.9, Tallahassee 3.1, and Monticello 1.9.

Condition of Crops. As a rule there was too much rain. There were several days when work was carried on to great advantage, but sunshine was insufficient practically throughout the week. Cotton continues generally poor, the progress during the week being unsatisfactory. The wet weather favored weevils activities, and complaints to that effect were numerous. The corn crop shows the ill effects of excessive rains during previous weeks as well as the unfavorable effect of the wet weather of the current week, especially on low lands. The crop as a whole, however, continues fair to excellent. Sweet potatoes, peanuts, and cane were generally favorably affected except low lands were too wet. Citrus fruits and ranges are in excellent condition. Less rain and more sunshine are needed throughout the section.

Games to be Played Here.

There are so many inquiries about the games to be played in Sanford for the remainder of the first half of the season that we give them according to the schedule:

The next games here will be with Lakeland next Tuesday and Wednesday the 28th and 29th. On August 4, 5 and 6th Tampa will play here. On August 13th and 14th Lakeland will play here. On August 15th, Bartow will play here. And on August 16th ORLANDO WILL PLAY HERE. Keep this in your pocket.

President Says Welfare Work Must be Maintained in Full Strength for Men Overseas

URGES ALL UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN PLEDGES PAID OR WELFARE WORK WILL SUFFER—NECESSARY FOR SOUTH TO "SPEED UP" ITS PAYMENTS OR DROP BEHIND

Washington, D. C.—The need for the payment of United War Work Campaign subscriptions has become so acute because of the danger that the work of the welfare organizations for our soldiers still in uniform will be curtailed that a letter to Raymond B. Fosdick, chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, from President Wilson, has been made public. This letter from President Wilson, better than any other document, shows the great need for continuing the welfare work until the Army of Occupation is withdrawn and demobilization is completed.

It is to back up the President's request and to fill the great need for cash to carry on the work that "Speed Up" Week, July 28th to August 4th, has been inaugurated so that everyone who has not paid his pledge will do so at that time.

The President of the United States of America.
Paris, 18 April, 1919.

My Dear Mr. Fosdick:

All that I have seen and heard over here in France has but added to my sense of profound appreciation of the vital importance of maintaining in full volume and strength the service of the seven organizations which last fall joined in a united campaign for support—the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army, on behalf of our soldiers and sailors.

In addition to the needs which existed at the beginning of the war, there are now added and very imperative reasons why this work should be continued during the period of demobilization.

The American people showed in a remarkable manner their wholehearted support of the cause for which their men were fighting when they responded so generously to the appeal of the United War Work Campaign last November, and I earnestly hope that the whole amount then subscribed may be forthcoming, in order that this final helpful and still absolutely necessary ministry on behalf of the men who have given themselves with such rare devotion to the nation's cause may be in every way worthy of their wonderful spirit.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

Honorable Raymond B. Fosdick, Chairman, Commission on Training Camp Activities, 45, Avenue Montaigne, Paris.

brother admitted, but thereafter he appeared to need no further urging. Jasper now often sat smiling fatuously into vacancy—and to fancy one's self in love with a Prudence Winters—Hephzibah thought—must take imagination indeed! She was interrupted in her reflections by the unexpected appearance of a young woman in the doorway.

"How do do," remarked the young woman breezily. "I rang, but no one answering, and the door being open, I walked down through the hall."

"You are Hephzibah, aren't you? I'd know it." The young woman smiled and dimpled.

"Jazz sent me in for his cap," she said, "the wind blows his hat so in the car. And he said I'd better introduce myself—you'll have to know me better later. We are on our way to be married."

Hephzibah arose dazedly. "Married?" "Jazz?" she repeated, "married? What do you mean?"

"The lovely girl laughed. "Jazz—that's what I call Jasper," she exclaimed. "I met him at Aunt Pru's a month ago. She's going with us now to the personage where we are to be married. Jazz was afraid to tell you about it for fear you wouldn't approve of me."

Impulsively the girl caught Hephzibah's wrinkled hands in her warm ones.

"Oh! come along with us," she said. "He will be so pleased." And to her own astonishment—Hephzibah went.

MARRYING JASPER

By AGNES G. BROGAN.

Professor Carleton glanced up from his desk impatiently as the study door opened. His impatience changed to mild resignation as he perceived the tall figure of his elder sister enter the room.

"Yes, Hephzibah," he merrily inquired.

"Jasper," she said, "the time has come when I must relieve myself of the care of your household. I am growing too old for the responsibility."

Professor Carleton ran his fingers perplexedly through his thick graying hair, beneath it his still young eyes gazed back distressed.

"Well, Hephzibah," he said at last, "you are justified in your determination. Martha will have to look after me as best she can."

"Martha," his sister explained, "is going with me. She is used to my ways and will need no training. You must make other plans for yourself."

"Plans?" gasped her brother. "What plans can I make concerning a household, Hephzibah, when I have always depended upon you?"

"That's just the trouble," his sister remarked, "you have depended too long. There is but one solution, you must find you a wife."

"A wife?" The professor blinked; if he had not been always absorbed in books he might have realized that this was a strange suggestion. His sister's steady head got him to think of his sister's proposal.

At last he thought and came to the solution. Prudence Winters, daughter of Professor Winters, deceased, should be chosen as the fortunate woman. True, Prudence was by several years Jasper's senior, but did not Jasper's advanced health fit him to be suitably the companion of an older woman?

And in Prudence the sister found all that was needed. So quietly she proceeded for his brother's opinion.

"A wife, certainly," he replied, "but of your problem, and because your mind has been occupied with other things, I have thought the thing out for you. You must pay respectful attention to Prudence Winters. She is a woman who would make you entirely happy."

"Is not Prudence," the professor asked disapprovingly, "that thin woman with the first-looking face?"

"Fences," his sister severely remarked, "should no longer influence your choice. Practical worth is now your necessary consideration."

"But I'm not so old," Jasper demurred. "I have still a good many years before fifty."

Hephzibah fixed her cold eyes upon him.

"You have my suggestion," she said, and arose.

"What do you wish me to do?" the brother asked meekly.

"For the sake of your own future comfort I advise you to pay your attention as soon as possible to Prudence Winters," Hephzibah said, and passed from the room.

Undoubtedly the professor fingered his hat. His sister had spoken; soon she and Martha would leave him alone in his helplessness; perhaps after all her plans might be worth consideration. Jasper had learned to have confidence in Hephzibah's judgment. Slowly he passed down the street to Prudence Winters' home, but when he returned his face was gloomy.

Hephzibah's lips twisted in the nearest approach to a smile.

"What?" she asked, "you found Prudence at home—and a worthy person?"

"As a housekeeper," her brother dryly replied, "Prudence is doubtless unexcelled."

"You must go again," his sister advised. "Next time you will also discover that she has brains."

And obediently Jasper went the second time. His countenance upon his return seemed somewhat brighter.

"You stayed longer this evening," Hephzibah said hopefully, "you discovered the brains."

"She has her interesting side," the

IDEAS FOR THE PUBLIC PARK

Points That Should Be Given Consideration Before the Final Plans Are Made.

In the landscape architect's ideal conception of an acre of park for every hundred inhabitants, there is no guide for calculating park space appropriate to a town of 5,000. It is evident that an acre, more or less, would not be a determining factor in its value. The problem of relative size is really a local one, its answer depending on the community's facilities for outdoor enjoyment, on the benefits that will accrue to it by the acquisition of a park, and on the specific idea which lies behind the desire for a park.

Camping and picnicking, two legitimate park uses, both suggest an appeal to the motorist. A good camp site is pre-eminently adapted to the attraction of strangers, thereby bringing some added trade to the town merchants. For the campers good drainage is essential.

A fitting entrance is the first important consideration. If the park is near the business section of the town, extending the approach to the main street by means of a parking strip planted to trees is very effective. Such a strip, extending for one block along

BUILD ON RIGHT PRINCIPLES

United States Housing Corporation Gives Outline of Plans Made for the Future.

Women are to be consulted in the planning of homes in after-war building, according to the announced policy of the United States Housing Corporation.

"When our men want to find out what plan to follow in building a workman's home they usually talk it over with headquarters," according to a statement by the United States Housing Corporation. "Headquarters they find invariably in the kitchen. The greatest housing experts are the housewives themselves. They know when arrangements are convenient and where steps may be saved in the daily routine of work. Many of our standards representing the greatest convenience and the greatest beauty that the money invested will buy are the result of home-need suggestions from women."

"In all building projects the government's standards have been placed on a high plane. The women of the country will see to it that in future, private development must measure up to these standards. All specifications for drainage, ventilation, lighting and kitchen fittings must be maintained on the present level. No slump back into the pre-war tenement will be tolerated by the workers. In all future building projects, whether sponsored by the government or by individuals, every house will be required to have a maximum of light and air."

Municipal Forest Parks.
 That municipal forests could profitably be established by many cities is the opinion of Edmund Searce, forester at the Ohio experiment station. His opinion is based upon the fact that there are many municipal forests in New England and that such woodlands have been established in Europe for 200 years.

"Many municipalities have areas of rough or hilly lands near their limits, which in many cases may be already partially covered with native forests. In other sections planting could be done to reforest cleared land, which could easily be converted into a forest park."

MAKES FOR BETTER CITIZENS
 And That is Only One of the Reasons Why Home Ownership Should Be Encouraged.

It will be a great and good thing for the American people if the thrift habits formed during the active war period be turned to the wholesome business of extending home ownership.

The proffered communities in which to rear and educate families are those wherein the percentage of home ownership as compared with tenantry is large. Proprietorship, or the process of acquiring proprietorship, begets an active individual interest in community development.

Owning really implies the payment of taxes, and every taxpayer naturally is zealous that his money paid for this purpose shall be used to the very best advantage. He cannot be properly true to his own interests without using his vote to put into office men who have a high conception of administrative stewardship.

Home ownership contributes to stability of population and to better neighborhood. It puts family life on a firmer base and raises its standards. It makes, therefore, for a high quality of citizenship, and that in turn yields rich dividends materially and ethically.

Home ownership sharpens the sense of individual responsibility in community upbuilding. It enhances self-respect and breeds a vivid consciousness of moral and civic partnership.

of brick or stone may be elaborated to a vine-draped pergola on each side, costing complete at least $350. Or a rustic entrance, to harmonize with a wooded area, may be constructed of timber from the clearing of the site. Only sound logs and limbs of durable wood should be used. For such an entrance of appropriate size, 200 hours of labor must be allowed.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ELDER SPRINGS WATER

THOMAS D. BAKER, Ph. D.
 Analytical and Consulting Chemist - Professional of Natural Science
 Emeritus, Rollins College, Florida
 Private Laboratory of Rollins College
 Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 24, 1918

Mr. T. O. Charles
 Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water that you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Color	Clear	Chlorine	1.75 parts per million
Reaction	Neutral	Total Solids	8.00 parts per million
Free Ammonia	0.00 parts per million	Hardness	23.03 parts per million
Albuminoid Ammonia	Trace	Nitrate	Trace

The absence practically of free and albuminoid ammonia in the water and its very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristics of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of excellent natural aeration and 1.0°W degree of hardness.

The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count, in four samples of the water, of 2 bacteria per cent, and in finding no coliform or other harmful bacteria, fully confirm its good quality indicated by the CHEMICAL analysis.

Of the many waters of this and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Water."

Yours very respectfully,
 (Signed) THOMAS D. BAKER
