Robbery, Rape Cases Slated For Circuit Court Action

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Circuit court trials are scheduled at Sanford this week for 15 defendants including a juvenile indicted for robbery, a man charged with raping a 12-year-old girl and two men charged in connection with two area burglary rings.

Christopher Paul Vammen, 15, of 115 Maitland Ave., Altamonte Springs, faces trial as an adult on robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony charge. The youth was indicted by the Seminole County Grand Jury in connection with a Nov. 24 pistol holdup at the Little Food Town Store on SR-431 near Forest City.

Lexie Lonzo Martin, 22, of the Midway community east of Sanford, is docketed for trial before Circuit Court Judge A. J. Hosemann Jr. on a sexual battery charge. Sanford police said Martin was apprehended in Jacksonville Jan. 16 in connection with the Jan. 1 rape of a 12-year-old girl at Sanford.

Albert Charles Richardson, 51, P.O. Box 515, Longwood, faces a charge of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

When Richardson, three other men and four juveniles were arrested Jan. 12 sheriff's agents said they were allegedly involved in a three-county burglary ring that had been operating in north Orange,

Seminole and south Volusia counties.

The state dropped charges against Roy Edward Sweat, 27, of Longwood, two weeks ago after a 17-year-old juvenile, already convicted in juvenile court in connection with the ring, failed to incriminate Sweat in testimony before Circuit Court Judge Clarence T. Johnson Jr.

Judge Johnson ordered a directed verdict of acquittal Feb. 20 for Robert Lee Booth, 39, of Oviedo, and ruled the state hadn't presented evidence in his trial that Booth knew a rifle he sold to a Geneva youth had been stolen.

Lawrence Grant Shazer, 20, of Orlando, also charged in connection with the tri-county ring, pleaded guilty to possession of burglary tools and is being held in county jail pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Also scheduled for trial this week before Judge Hosemann is John Willie Anderson, 55, of 702 Hickory Ave., Sanford. Anderson is accused of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property in connection with what sheriff's deputies termed a burglary ring that operated in the Loch Arbor and Lincoln Heights residential areas west of Sanford.

Four juveniles, ages 14 to 17—including a 15-year-old girl—were also charged in the case and turned over to juvenile court authorities.

Longwood First Bicentennial City In County

By BILL BELLEVILLE
Herald Staff Writer

The City of Longwood will be designated as the county's first "Bicentennial Community" at a ceremony in front of the City Hall on March 5 at 4:30 p.m.

Longwood Elementary School Fife and Drum Corps, dressed in Revolutionary War era garb, will play while Mayor Jim Lormann raises a Bicentennial Flag over City Hall.

Seminole County Bicentennial Chairman Jack Horner will present the colorful, official Action '76 flag to Lormann, according to Bicentennial Coordinator Ernie Horrell.

Horrell said that all Seminole cities will eventually be designated as "Bicentennial Communities" as part of the nationwide celebration of the country's 200-year-old birthday next year.

The Bicentennial Committee is still searching for new ideas for projects for the celebration, Horrell said. All projects, in order to be eligible for state or federal grants, must be approved by the local Bicentennial office located in the Sanford Chamber.

The ceremony will come five days after the start of an official 22 month celebration of the 200th birthday of the American Republic.

Congress chose the date arbitrarily; no major historic event occurred on March 1, 1775. April 19 is the 200th anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord—generally regarded as the start of the American Revolution.

July 4, 1776, is usually regarded as the nation's birthday since the Declaration of Independence was signed on that date.

There are hundreds of anniversaries coming up, and many of them will be marked by pageantry, parades and patriotic speeches.

Few of them will have federal financial support, although thousands have been endorsed by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration as being worthy of corporation and private backing.

A predecessor commission decided against choosing any one city as the focus of bicentennial activities, but said there should be major observances in Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Miami.

The bicentennial administration has a $10 million yearly budget through 1975, but only for administration, grants to states and for planning.

Some other federal agencies have made grants for bicentennial projects. The National Endowment for the Humanities is helping support publication of histories of each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The National Endowment for the Arts is helping commission new musical works and a variety of other bicentennial-related projects.

The National Park Service has made extensive improvements at national historic sites related to the Revolution. The Smithsonian Institution is planning a score of events, including a summer-long festival of American Folklife on the national Mall.

But most major projects are dependent on corporate and other private support. The Bicentennial Administration says it has a list of worthy projects that will require $50 million.

One that has received $4 million from four corporations may be seen by more persons than any other single bicentennial effort. It is the Freedom Train, which will carry historic memorabilia to all 48 contiguous states starting next month and ending at Christmas-time 1976. It will charge admission for the 40-50 million visitors sponsors anticipate.

Radio and television plan a host of specials and series geared to the Revolution. Resident theaters will offer all-American programs. Orchestras will play American works, old and new. Books and pamphlets will pour from the presses. Dances will be choreographed to American themes. Battles will be re-enacted. Buildings will be restored.

Two Men Arrested On Drug Charges

A 16-year-old Plymouth juvenile was in Seminole County jail Saturday following his arrest on a Seminole County Grand Jury indictment on a robbery charge.

Gary Wayne Hubbard, Box 736, was jailed by sheriff's deputies Friday with no bond. Sheriff's deputies also arrested two men Friday for delivery of a controlled substance.

Melvin Bobby Mims, 22, Box 56, Sanford was in county jail Saturday following his arrest Friday on two counts of resisting an officer without violence.

Mims' bond was set at $1,000. Corbin Andrew Shaver, 29, 710 E. Michigan Ave., Orlando, was arrested Friday for driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest without violence. Bond was set at $1,000.

George Curtis Stewart, 24, Box 244, Sanford, was arrested Friday night on a court capias for resisting arrest with violence and was placed county jail on $5,000 bond.

Burglaries being investigated by sheriff's deputies Saturday included the theft of more than $100 worth of silver dollars and a coin collection.

Howard Smith, 250 Crown Oaks Way, Longwood, reported that sometime on Friday night burglars entered his home and stole a jar with 85 silver dollars, a jar with $35 dollars worth of coins minted before 1964 and 12 packs of cigarettes from the top dresser drawer in the master bedroom of his home.

A resident of the Fern Park Apartments in Fern Park reported that stereo equipment valued at $1,000 was stolen Friday from apartment 206, Building C.

Nancy Harris, 20, Old Dixie Highway, Sanford, reported that Jackie McCue, 19, moved out of apartment 206 and took with her the missing stereo equipment and albums which belonged to William Paul, 27, whose present address is the 8-Lay Inn at I-4 and Orange Blossom Trail.

Miss Harris said that Miss McCue is believed to be moving to Titusville.

Stereo equipment stolen included two speakers, an amplifier, a turntable and 25-30 albums.

Sanford Police Saturday continued their investigation into the theft of $143 from George P. Diamond, 82, 1514 Mellonville, Ave., Sanford.

P. Diamond reported to police that he accidentally caught a couch inside his home on fire Friday afternoon and several young white males came into the house to help extinguish the fire.

While inside the house, one of the young males went into P. Diamond's bedroom where $143.76 from an insurance check was lying on the bed.

P. Diamond reported to police that one of the boys stole the money.

Sanford Police also arrested three Sanford juveniles Friday night in connection with breaking into a house at 1908 Holly Ave., and starting a fire in a box of clothes.

Police reported that there was extensive fire damage to the house.

FIRE DESTROYS RECREATION CENTER

Seminole County fire department authorities Saturday were searching for cause of morning blaze that gutted the office and clubhouse-recreation building at the Fern Park Apartments complex, 300 Oxford Road, Fern Park. Firemen using four pumps contained the two-alarm fire to the building adjacent to a swimming pool in a two-hour battle. No injuries were reported. (Herald Photo by Bob Lloyd)

Turf Club Hit By Burglars

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE

More than $3,000 worth of equipment was reported stolen Friday afternoon from the Seminole Turf Club, Casselberry.

Casselberry Police Department is conducting the investigation into the burglaries of several different stables at the race track location. The burglaries were reported to have occurred during several days last week.

Two of the complainants reported to Seminole County Sheriff's Deputies that a blue car was at the scene during the estimated time of the burglaries.

Harley Phillips, 37, 504 George St., Winter Springs reported that $1,500 worth of horse equipment was stolen from "L" Barn on Wednesday.

Phillips reported to sheriff's deputies that burglars stole four harnesses, eight set of hobbles, a collection of bridles, blankets, boots and other equipment.

Lewis Udell, 52, Box 532B, Longwood, reported that a jog cart and two sets of harnesses, valued at $1,000, were stolen from "A" Barn on Sunday.

Oliver Olsen, 45, 132 Laura Drive, Ormond Beach, reported that two sets of harnesses, several pairs of boots, and some horse medicine at a total value of $400, were stolen from "C" Barn on Wednesday.

Richard Olsen, 19, Ocala, reported that one harness and one harness bag valued at $240 were stolen from "L" Barn on Wednesday.

Seminole Sheriff's deputies Saturday were continuing their investigation into the burglary on Friday of Mrs. Ruth B. Abbott's residence at 102, Old Hickory Court, Sanford.

Mrs. Abbott, 64, reported to deputies that she received a call on Friday afternoon to appear in at the Apopka Police Department to pick up her granddaughter, Rebecca.

When she returned home from the false call she found her television set and some cash missing from her home. Total value of the missing property was reported at $352.

According to deputy's report, Mrs. Abbott received a call from an unidentified man who told her that Rebecca had been picked up at Rock Springs Park on burglary suspicion.

Mrs. Abbott then went to Apopka where she found the story was false and she returned home to discover the burglary.

Charles G. McWatters, 57, of Vihlen Road in Sanford, reported that two 100 lb. propane gas cylinders were stolen from his back yard on Friday night.

McWatters reported that one of the cylinders was filled with propane gas.

Utility Action Pondered

Utility Attorney Robert M. Morris recommended to the Seminole County Commission Friday that the board of commissioners establish "reasonable rates and order General Waterworks Utilities to comply" with the board's decision.

The recommendation follows the snafu caused by General Waterworks' decision to bill its county customers for the full requested rate increase, after commissioners failed to act on the request within 55 days allotted for board action.

"The rate increase would more than triple the monthly water and sewer bills for the utility firm's 2,000 plus county customers.

Morris, in a memorandum to commissioners recommended that a hearing be established to discuss the rate increase.

The earliest the board could meet in a hearing on the issue would be March 30, allowing time for proper public notices to be given.

According to Morris, the board "can consider any evidence presented and may request the Utility Director to submit all of the evidence presented by General Waterworks in the September hearing, and can establish and set rates at the hearing."

Morris also said that the commission can set a date when the rates will be effective and "determine the facts as required before the rates can be established."

Morris also mentioned three other alternatives the commission could follow with the firm's rate increase: Allow the rates General Waterworks requested to remain; file a law suit to enjoin the General Waterworks Utility from charging the requested rates; or enter an order determining the rates the board believes to be justified under the September rate hearing.

The utility firm decided last week to charge their customers the full requested rate hike after commissioners delayed in responding to the request.

Monday's work session begins at 9 a.m., at the Seminole County Court house.

Ford Grants Extension Of Clemency Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 123,000 men accused or convicted of desertion or draft evasion during the Vietnam war are being given until March 31 to sign up for clemency under President Ford's final extension of the program. Ford granted the second one-month extension Friday, and Clemency Board Chairman Charles E. Goodell said that for "anybody who applies after midnight March 31, it will be a sad April Fool's Day."

Mills in Hospital

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, former chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee who is battling alcoholism, may be joined by his wife in a family-oriented therapy program. "The treatment of the family is part of the care of a patient's problem," Dr. Ronald J. Catanzaro, director of the exclusive Palm Beach Institute, said Friday. "It's the whole family problem because it shows a poorly functioning family." Mills, whose problem with alcohol became public knowledge after several escapades with stripper Fanne Fox, entered the institute earlier this week for what aides said was six to eight weeks of treatment.

Muhammad Is Buried

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands of followers of Elijah Muhammad, the head of the Nation of Islam, have paid final respects in a quiet ceremony to their leader of more than 40 years. About 700 persons filed the South Side temple Friday and an estimated 3,000 persons stood outside during the 45-minute service, waiting for a glimpse of the closed casket of Muhammad. Muhammad, 77, died Tuesday in a hospital of congestive heart failure.

Rebate Plan Extended

TRENTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. has extended a limited rebate program, but other U.S. car makers say they're optimistic that the modest auto sales recovery will continue without such a purchase incentive. Chrysler, the first auto maker to offer rebates in mid-January, announced Friday that it will grant $200 discounts for the first three weeks of March on all remaining new 1974 models and on its 1975 compact custom sports coupes. That doesn't begin to match the rebates of $500 to $600 the No. 3 auto maker and its competitors have offered for the past six weeks on a wide range of 1975 models.

Fire Routs 900 At Miami Beach Hotel

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — "This is a helluva way to spend a honeymoon," said one of about 900 guests forced out of a resort hotel by a fire that sent smoke billowing through the 17-story building. "All of a sudden, the lights went out and then we started to smell smoke," John Mimmo of Philadelphia said early today of the late Friday fire. "I said, 'I think we better get out of here, and we did.'"

Union Ends Strike Of Grocery Chain

By GLENN McCASLAND
Herald Staff Writer
Striking members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters Union were scheduled to return to work Saturday following a vote to end their 12-day walkout against the 150 Food Fair and Pantry Pride grocery stores in Florida.

The end of the strike came in a wage settlement agreed to Friday by a large margin of the 2,000 member union. It was almost identical to the company's original offer, which raised salaries of top meat cutters from $219 a week to $229 a week at once and to $243 a week in six months.

However, officials said the final package did include extra fringe benefits, particularly increased company contributions to employ health insurance programs.

Supermarket officials said none of the company's large stores had been shut down by the strike although members of the Retail Clerks and Teamsters unions had honored picket lines.

Ford May Stall Oil Tariff Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford may act early next week to delay his new oil tariffs in order to provide time to negotiate a White House-OPEC joint blueprint for fighting the recession and reducing oil imports.

Southwest, Atlantic Banks Set Merger

The Boards of Directors of Southwest Florida Banks, Inc. and Atlantic Bancorporation, both registered bank holding companies, have reached an agreement in principle to merge subject to formal review of financial data by both institutions. Atlantic would issue 55 shares for each share of Southwest. The merger is conditioned upon regulatory and shareholder approvals.

Lake Mary Sets Special Session

LAKE MARY — A special meeting of the city council has been called for 5 p.m. Monday at city hall for the purpose of utility participation. After the special meeting a workshop has been scheduled to hear Larry Dale intercede for HJK Builders Inc. whose requests for building permits in the Floyd-Fredrick Street areas have been denied.

Teen Sentenced To Prison

A 16-year-old Sanford youth who pleaded guilty and testified he robbed a Five Points food store clerk at gunpoint has been sentenced to five years in prison. Circuit Court Judge A.J. Henneman meted the sentence Friday to Ervin Edwards Jr., 16, of 1207 W. 14th St., Sanford, after the youth waived a presentence investigation.

Edwards told a trial jury Thursday that Major Wheeler, 19, of 1811 W. 13th St., Sanford, was the driver of a borrowed getaway car in the Jan. 12 robbery of Jack's Mini-Market.

Tom Marconi of Chicago, a computer firm employee who arrived Friday in Miami Beach to attend a company meeting, said he carried an elderly woman down four flights of stairs. "I heard a woman saying 'Can someone please help me?'" Marconi, 31, said. "I went through the smoke to her (10th floor) room and saw she was babbling for a 6-year-old kid. We grabbed him and started walking down the stairs, but she got too weak and I had to carry her part of the way." Samuel Rapport of New York, N.Y., said he and his wife were getting ready to retire for the night when the lights went out. "A little while later, we heard someone banging on the door," Rapport said. "It was a fireman, who led us down the seven flights of stairs through the smoke."

Abortion Issue
Sobering Decision

In January of 1973 the U.S. Supreme Court handed down a 7-2 decision which sharply curtailed the power of the states to prohibit or regulate the performance of abortions.

There is an index of the depth and breadth of that controversy in the emotions aroused by the trial of a Boston doctor on charges of manslaughter arising from an abortion performed under Massachusetts law.

The Boston case raises once again the question of when, during the course of a pregnancy, an unborn fetus shall be regarded as a human being. That question stands on the frontier of human understanding.

How one answers it may depend more on his religious beliefs than upon clinical or biological facts.

The courts enter into an area that is almost mystical when they try to define what is taking place in a mother's womb.

The abortion dilemma — in its purely legal sense — might be resolved if lawmakers and the courts could rely upon incontrovertible scientific facts or upon a body of widely accepted professional opinion in making decisions that involve life and death.

As for opinion, we fear that the American people are as far as ever from general agreement on whether abortion laws are permissible as those now in effect are right or wrong.

A Tip On Murder So 'Fowl'

Open Letter to Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler

Chief: There's going to be a murder pretty soon and to set the record straight, I thought I'd let you in on it now, so's there would be no mistake later.

You know, the ideal neighborhood is a peaceful, easy-living one and that's what we've got over around my place — except for one foul soul that is really for the birds.

Here I am trying to sleep and this infernal racket starts about 2 a.m. and keeps going the rest of the night. I've put my head under the pillow so many times my ears are chafed from the cover.

It's bad enough, putting up with the guy, always dressed in loud colors and living around with all those pretty chicks. I guess having so many young hens about like that makes him want to show off at 2:30 a.m.

Why, if I had picked of the chicks like he does, I'd be so blamed tired at night that I wouldn't have to have Big Ben in London for an alarm clock.

He's struttin' around about his last time, however. When he made so much noise the sleeping pilot didn't work, I made up my mind.

One of these fine mornings, he's going to start his early stroll and stick his neck out just one noisy time too many. That's when he's mine — all mine.

It will take some planning. I'll have to get an axe and sharpen it up so's one swing will finish him off. Don't want any mess or anything like that. Just whack and that will be that.

Then an alarm clock will be needed to make sure I get up before that two-legged excuse for sound does. (My luck is such that I'd over sleep the day of the dirty deed.)

In fact, if the noise and flapping keeps up, I may have help from the neighbors and that would be nice. I mean, after all, who likes getting up at 2:30 a.m. when you just went to bed at 1 a.m. We late movie watchers must have our beauty sleep.

But because murder is a fowl deed, I thought it would be nice to let you know in advance. It will be one foul act that I will enjoy committing and that's a fact.

The one thing I haven't decided yet is just how to dispose of the body. The victim looks a bit too old and tough to hide. In fact I suspect he's already gone to pot.

But one thing is for certain, his days are numbered. The next time that bird blasts away at 2:30 a.m., he's doomed.

That dad-bird rooster down the street will have strutted his last barnyard crow.

Spies Found In The Library Of Congress

WASHINGTON — Even the staid Library of Congress has been infiltrated by the cloak-and-dagger crowd.

Now a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, headed by Rep. Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., is preparing to investigate how these great corporations work behind the scenes to manipulate U. S. foreign policy.

The subcommittee has already started quietly to gather data on high-powered lobbyists who are paid by foreign companies and American multinationals to pull strings in Washington.

Wolf tentatively has selected for his investigation the oil, pharmaceutical, steel and space communications industries, as well as the giant diversified multinationals.

SEAMAN'S STORY: This is the story of Nestor Defante, a simple Filipino seaman, who was recruited from the slums of Manila last summer by the Greek-owned, New York-based World Shipping Co.

He was promised a good job in America, with enough pay to send money home to his impoverished family.

Instead, he claims he was paid galley slave wages of $90 per month and was worked long, hot, seven-day work week.

To control him, World Tide held his visa paper, he said, for which they demanded the impossible sum of $600.

We contacted World Tide, which called the $300 salary figure "ridiculous" and claimed Defante's true salary was $232.

The day after our inquiry, according to Defante, he was hauled ashore in Athens for questioning by angry World Tide officials.

Then he was put on a plane for Manila with papers labeling him as a "troublemaker." He is now back in Manila, without a job to support his family.

Footnote: A World Tide representative told our reporter Jack Mitchell that Defante had asked to go home and that the company had paid his "repatriation expenses."

Also, why did you not point out that the hundreds of thousands of fertile acres and the millions of pounds of fertilizer used to produce this deadly tobacco are vitally needed to grow food for Americans at a time when food shortages are likely to become a major threat to the health of everyone in our Great Nation? WORLD IN BRIEF

Berlin Kidnap Victim In 'Good Condition'

BERLIN (AP) — A man claiming to represent the kidnapers of a major candidate called a Christian Democratic party official today and said that the victim, Peter Lorenz, was in good condition.

Police had urged the kidnapers to provide proof Lorenz was still alive. There was no immediate response to the call from police.

The kidnapers are demanding release of six jailed anarchists and a getaway plane in exchange for release of Lorenz.

Police said one of the anarchists had died after a hunger strike, others were released and only two were still in jail. Police today freed the two — Ettore Canella and Gerhard Jagdmann — from a West Berlin jail.

Peronists Murder Egan As 'Example'

CORDOBA, Argentina (AP) — Leftist Peronists who killed Argentine U.S. Consul John Patrick Egan said he was their "example."

field, Argentine officials made no response to guerrilla demands but mounted the biggest dragnet in the country's history.

The guerrillas set a 7 p.m. deadline for the government to prove that four missing companions were alive.

At 10 p.m., Egan's bloodied body was thrown out of a car on a dirt road two miles from this industrial city 450 miles west of Buenos Aires. An anonymous

The body was draped in a Montonero banner and was in the clothes he wore when he was abducted on Wednesday.

Egan said his brother's first wife died before he left for South America. He said his brother later married an Argentine woman.

Neither the United States nor Argentina has agreed to ransom demands in kidnappings. Egan's official title was consul.

In Rosario, 250 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, police arrested a brother of the late guerrilla leader Ernesto "Che" Guevara after a shoot-out Friday.

French President Scores First

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
The Herald Staff

PARIS (AP)—Never before in the history of the French Republic has a president been so consistently in the public eye.

In the space of nine months, Valéry Giscard d'Estaing has taken over the center of the stage. He is the most photographed, televised, looked at, discussed, caricatured, vilified and praised of all his compatriots.

As for the press, from the extreme right to the extreme left, no editor can ignore him. He is always good copy.

When he was elected by a very narrow margin, Giscard d'Estaing promised the country that "things would change." And indeed they have. The conception of the presidency, more modern, more liberal and open to the outside world was not unattractive to Frenchmen.

Never before had a president in office dared to venture out alone at night without escort or bodyguard, drive his own car or go to the theater with his family when the spirit moved him. Or invited the four men who drive a garbage truck past the Elysees Palace in the early morning hours to step right into the parlor for coffee and brisoles.

The dinner d'Estaing and his wife shared with the run-of-the-mill family was news for a good three days. It is said that when Giscard sneaks out of his gilded cage he does leave a sealed envelope stating where he can be found in the event of a crisis.

The French president is a man of his times. He knows the importance of a word, a gesture, a photo. When photographers march in front of him for a work he is gracious and smiling, never brushes them off.

Outside the affairs of state it is the minor details which appeal to the majority of Frenchmen and Frenchwomen. While they started by criticizing him, they now scoff much less. President d'Estaing has grown on them.

One of his recent innovations was the "fire-side chat." To critical eyes he has not quite mastered the technique.

He endlessly claps and unclaps his hands, but his delivery is much smoother than it was at the outset of his presidency. He may even have taken a course in elocution. Recently the magazine "Match" ran a story on the young Cambridge professor teaching English at the Sorbonne who twice a week has an appointment with the president which hangs in the air. Giscard had decided when he was still minister of Finance that his knowledge of English was not sufficient to carry on an important conversation with English-speaking heads of state and that he wanted to avoid relying on a translator.

Much of the still protocol surrounding a French president has been swept away by this 49-year-old president. A poll published last January indicated a definite current of sympathy with his innovations. For example, instead of posing for the official photograph of the president which hangs in every town hall throughout France in a meringue coat and wearing the Grand Cordon of the Legion of Honor (the highest distinction in the land) with the palace library as background, he chose to pose bareheaded on the steps of the Elysees Palace in a plain business suit. He slowed down the "Marseillaise" to a hymn rather than a battle cry. He unexpectedly visited a prison, talked and shook hands with several prisoners. He is always hatless and wearing a business suit and striped shirt when he welcomes distinguished guests at the air-port.

Observers all agree that he has now reached the third stage of his relations with the mass media and the public. The first was the "wait and see" attitude, the second was definitely pessimistic and critical because of the wave of strikes, threat of unemployment, bankruptcies and the announcement of an age of austerity. Then some weeks later the third phase occurred — when it seemed that he had ridden the storm and Frenchmen allowed that the president had every right to lead a private life if he took good care of the affairs of state.

Political pundits ponder the phenomenon of the relationship of Giscard d'Estaing and the mass media.

Malpractice Debate Raises Questions On Health Care

By MALCOLM G. TODD
The Herald Staff

The crisis of professional liability is a serious one. It must be solved quickly and the solution must be fair to patient, doctor, hospital and insurance carrier.

At its worst, the crisis could conceivably cause an interruption in the delivery of health care. This is admittedly a far-fetched possibility but so see it as the nightmarish result of a system of medical liability filled with inconsistencies.

Why does one patient receive a million dollar settlement for a medical injury while another patient in the same state with the same injury receives nothing?

Why does the aggrieved patient receive only 15 cents out of every premium dollar paid for liability insurance?

Why have professional liability premiums doubled, even tripled, in some states, forcing some doctors to retire from practice?

Why do doctors become defensive into the practice of defense medicine — the ordering of more tests and procedures than really necessary just to build a good case should an action be brought against him — in these days when costs should be held down?

Why has the doctor-patient relationship become an adversary one?

SPECIALTY	CURRENT	1971	1969
Orthopedic Surgeon Or Neurosurgeon	$14,329	$7,513	$2,809
Anesthesiologist	$9,433	$5,433	$2,050
Obstetrician	$9,433	$4,983	$2,050
General Practitioner who does minor surgery	$2,653	$1,495	$ 615

SOURCE: F. F. WANVIG, INSURANCE BROKERS

The answer to all of these questions is the American system of professional liability which requires that for damages to be recovered the plaintiff must prove negligence. An injury must be traced to the hands of an attending professional for a plaintiff to recover damages. The system ignores the realities of modern medicine and the risks that are inherent in many of today's complex procedures.

For example, open heart surgery entails great risks to the patient, but the alternative to this risk-taking may be death or disability. So more patients are taking the chance that the odds will work in their favor.

But if an operation is not successful, then the aggrieved patient might sue. Physicians fear that patients who suffer harm because of a medical procedure should be compensated. This includes unpredictable drug side-effects and unavoidable risks of surgery, none of which can be traced to anyone's negligence.

Even where insurance is available, the rising premiums threaten to keep some young doctors out of practice and encourages others to retire early.

The average cost of claims paid for physicians covered under the policy negotiated by the New York State Medical Society between 1969 and the first half of 1974, rose from $10,785 to $27,178. The insurance carrier told the New York state legislature that premiums for some medical specialties should be as high as $45,000 for one specialty a year. Yet even with premiums at that level, the carrier has served notice that it will not service the state's physicians after July 1.

Nor does the rocketing cost of professional liability stop with the physician. For my home hospital in Long Beach, Calif., the cost of insurance in 1963 was $14,000. By 1974 the hospital was paying $340,000. This year the premium has jumped to $620,000. Thus, the patient who is paid only 15 cents per day in 1965 today pays $3.65 per day to cover the hospital's malpractice costs.

Despite the rising costs, the liability problem is an improvement in the doctor-patient relationship. We must once again become personal physicians to our patients. Where there is a close relationship, with full communication between a doctor and his patient, there is little percentage received only one-

But the best answer to the liability problem is an improvement in the doctor-patient relationship. We must once again become personal physicians to our patients. Where there is a close relationship, with full communication between a doctor and his patient, there is little likelihood of a suit.

This is one reason why proper sanitation and sanitized water are so important to health. Both children and adults can get the virus and develop infectious hepatitis. Liver Ills Not All From Booze

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — My 7-year-old grandson had an attack of infectious hepatitis.

The thing that worries me now is, will his liver go back to normal or will it stay enlarged? Also, I don't know children were prone to get this disease. I thought people who drank or smoked were the ones. I would appreciate anything you have to say on this matter.

DEAR READER — I am constantly amazed at how many people think that the only way you can get liver disease is from alcohol. It is true that excess alcohol can lead to liver damage, but there are many other forms of liver disease.

Infectious hepatitis is, plainly and simply, a viral disease. It is caused by a virus. The virus can be gotten through blood transfusions, and needle sticks from contaminated needles. Drug addicts frequently get hepatitis this way.

It can also be transmitted through food and water as a slightly different form of the disease. Contaminated oyster reefs may be a source of hepatitis in some communities. This is one reason why proper sanitation and sanitized water are so important to health.

Children and adults can get the virus and develop infectious hepatitis. Viruses don't care how old you are. Many people have complete recovery from an attack of viral hepatitis. Others may be taken to the hospital because of a bleeding disorder.

Many people have complete recovery from an attack of viral hepatitis. Others may be taken to the hospital because of a bleeding disorder. This is one reason why proper sanitation and sanitized water are so important to health. Both children and adults can get the virus and develop infectious hepatitis. Viruses don't care how old you are.

Contenders, Pretenders, Dreamers...

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Champions, contenders, pretenders and dreamers all are included in the list of 246 nominees announced today for the 101st running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby.

The list includes John L. Greer's Foolish Pleasure, the nation's juvenile champion of last year, and Jean-Louis Levesque's L'Enjoleur, Canadian horse of the year in 1974.

It also includes Ascetic, winner of the Bahamas and Everglades Stakes this season; Hibiscus winner Hicks Jet; Gallant Bob, with five straight stakes victories, and the Panamanian flash, Gatch.

For sentiment, there is Run Trigger Run, owned by the western movie hero of yesteryear, Roy Rogers.

And for sheer, cold cash, there's Wajima, the $600,000 purchase as a yearling and a member of the last crop of the late Bold Ruler.

Of the 225 colts, 19 geldings and two fillies nominated for the world's most famous horse race, only 20 can face the starter May 3 for the 1 1/4-mile run for the American Beauty roses.

Churchill Downs has ruled that if any more than that show up at entry time, two days before the race, those with the least money won during their careers will be eliminated.

At least one of the 246 already is out. John M. Olin's Circle Home, a brother of last year's winner Canonade, tore bone and muscle during a prep race at Hialeah last month and probably will never race again.

Foolish Pleasure, a bargain at $20,000 in the Saratoga yearling season, won almost 15 times that much last year in an undefeated season that included six stakes races among seven starts.

If his bankroll of $24,500 as a 2-year-old sounds impressive, L'Enjoleur beat that by $1,200 in winning eight of 15 starts, most of them in his native Canada.

Gatch, owned by Antonio Eskildsen, won nine of 11 races in Panama and opened the current season with a victory at the Derby distance of 1 1/4 miles on New Year's Day. Purchased as a yearling for a meager $6,500 at Keeneland, the Kentucky-bred son of Pago Pago prompts memories of Canonero II, the surprise winner of the Derby in 1971.

Canonero, too, was a low-priced Keeneland yearling. He also was prep for the Derby in another country, Argentina. He, too, had raced at 1 1/4 miles before Derby day. There aren't any races of that distance in this country for two-year-olds.

Gatch, however, was a bit disappointing in his debut in this country, finishing the nine-furlong Everglades in sixth place, nearly six lengths behind the winner.

Ascetic, Mill House's Everglades winner, won three of six races last year and opened the current campaign by finishing fifth in the Hibiscus Stakes at Hialeah Jan. 18. The bay son of Iamascus then drew notice with a 1 1/2-length victory in the seven-furlong Bahamas Jan. 29 and a 2 1/2-length score in the Everglades two weeks later.

Foolish Pleasure, meanwhile, had only one race in preparation for Saturday's Flamingo Stakes, a special exhibition where he was within two-fifths of the Hialeah track record despite never being pushed.

Ricks Jet, bearing the colors of Randolph Weinsner, took the Hibiscus at six furlongs in the slop but was ninth in the Bahamas and was pulled up in finishing last in the Everglades.

Robert P. Horton's Gallant Bob, a steal at $2,000 as a yearling, has never raced more than seven furlongs, but has won the Sentinel, Zev and Patriot stakes this season in clockwork style.

His rider claims there's still plenty of zip left in the colt at the end of his races, but many feel there isn't enough to travel 10 furlongs in the Derby.

Although his credentials aren't impressive, Prince Thou Art carries the hopes of Larry Dan Farm, winner of two of the three [Derbies in which] it has had an entry.

The lone defeat came last year when Little Current failed to earn the centennial Derby trophy, but made amends by taking the Preakness and Belmont and being named champion 3-year-old of the season.

And perhaps the chief hope of Meadow Stable, Derby winner with Riva Ridge and Secretariat in successive years, is a rangy colt named Lefty.

Calumet Farm, the winningest owner in Derby history with eight trophies in its case, has just one nominee this year, Tim Peam, a homebred son of Nashua.

Of the total, 125 are Kentucky-bred, 46 hail from Florida, 17 from Maryland, 11 each from California and New Jersey, three each from Illinois, New Mexico, Nevada and Texas, two each from Arkansas and Ohio and one each from Louisiana and Nebraska.

Larrieu Wins Two-Mile Run At AAU Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — American distance queen Franca Larrieu, angered over an Amateur Athletic Union ruling that barred her from the two-mile run, coasted to victory in the mile with a self-imposed handicap at the AAU indoor championships.

"It was just sort of an experiment," said Miss Larrieu after she won the race Friday night despite running almost exclusively in the second lane.

"I was angry because I wasn't allowed to run the two-mile. I was playing a game with myself. It just sort of happened. It was easier on the turns and when I found myself in the second lane I figured I'd stay there until I was pressed. But I was never pressed."

Miss Larrieu had planned to run both races so she could enter both Monday night in Richmond, Va., in the U.S.-Russia dual meet. The top two American finishers in each event Friday night qualified for the Richmond meet.

For AAU officials ruled her out of the two-mile, despite the fact that she holds the American record at that distance, because she didn't have a qualifying time during the required period of Dec. 1, 1974-Feb. 22, 1975.

"I can understand their position," said Miss Larrieu, "however, if they want the best team to go against the Russians they could have bent the rules a little bit."

The 22-year-old UCLA student won the mile in an unimpressive 4:47.8, beating Julie Brown, also of UCLA, by one second.

Ivon Merrick of Seminole Junior College completed in the 60-yard dash but did not finish in the top six. Hasley Crawford of East Michigan won the event at 6.0, tying a meet record.

Ivight Stones, who set a world record in the high jump last week at 6 feet, 5 1/2 inches, won his specialty at 7-3, then missed three times at 7-4.

"I just didn't have any motivation. I had a weird feeling about this meet," said Stones, who represents the Pacific Coast Club. "I just couldn't get any practice jumps. My friendly competitors kept getting in the way. Officials were walking across my approach. It was irritating."

Rick Wohluter, running for the Chicago Track Club, captured the 1,000 yard run in 2:06.4, while Filbert Bayi, the 21-year-old Tanzanian star, completed an undefeated five race United States tour by pulling away from Brigham Young's Paul Cummings to take the mile in 4:02.1.

Mirvis Yifter of Ethiopia was named the meet's outstanding performer. Yifter, bronze medalist at the 1972 Olympics, turned in a brilliant closing kick to win the three-mile run in 13:07.5, only four-tenths of a second off the U.S. indoor record.

At Feuerbach, another Pacific Coast Clubber heading for Richmond, won the shot put with a heave of 67 feet, 10 inches.

With Franca sidelined, Brenda Webb captured the women's two-mile in 10:22. Miss Webb, a slim sophomore at Wayne State, had a mixed opinion about Miss Larrieu's absence.

"In a way I wish she had run because we would have stronger team against the Russians," she said, "but she has to follow the rules. How can you have an organization if no one follows rules?"

The pole vault turned into a 4 1/2-hour marathon with a record nine vaulters clearing 17 feet before Roland Carter of the Gulf Coast Track Club finally won it at 17-6.

Vincent Gets Run-Around In Chase After 'Taco' Perez

Joey Vincent, the Orlando middleweight who once caused Vic "Taco" Perez to retire, is back looking for the Sanford fighter. But, according to Vincent, not with a great deal of success.

"I stopped Perez less than a year ago in Orlando and went on to score two more wins," Vincent said. "But, now I am told by everyone that I am not good enough to fight Perez."

"I was sidelined with an injury for a few months but now that I am ready to fight again, I am told by Perez and his people that I have to work my way back up to him."

The record book backs Vincent, as he has recorded a mark of 9-1-1, with his only loss coming to world-class middleweight, Willie "The Worm" Monroe.

On April 10, 1974 Vincent did indeed fight Perez and did stop him in the third round. And, Perez did announce his retirement after that fight.

Perez stayed out only two months and then returned to action with a six-round win over Willie Chaney in Tampa.

On the star-studded undercard, Nani Marroero upset Jose Peterson when the fight was stopped in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. A badly gashed right eye brow was the reason for the doctor's action.

The world's sixth-ranked welterweight scored an easy six round KO over Ricky Ortiz, and Dario's undefeated brother, Juan, stopped Benjamin Camacho in the second round.

The Orlando Sports Stadium maintains that Vincent now is an unknown quantity and must prove he is worthy of a fight with Perez.

"As far as I am concerned," Vincent countered, "all they are doing if trying to protect Perez because they know I can beat him any day of the week."

"I am a main event fighter and they know I won't stop to fight a four-round preliminary just to get a shot at a fighter I have already stopped."

Are they trying to protect Perez as Vincent claims? Or has "Taco" passed Vincent?

James "The Great" Scott scored a 10-round decision over California's Jesse Burnett in a light heavyweight battle of the unbeatens down in Miami Beach. A crowd of nearly 35,000 saw Scott win his record to 10-0-1 with the unanimous win.

On the star-studded undercard, Nani Marroero upset Jose Peterson when the fight was stopped in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. A badly gashed right eye brow was the reason for the doctor's action.

The world's sixth-ranked welterweight scored an easy six round KO over Ricky Ortiz, and Dario's undefeated brother, Juan, stopped Benjamin Camacho in the second round.

Jerry Quarry returned to action with a 10 round win over "Scraper" Johnson in Hawaii.

Terry Daniels lost every round to undefeated prospect John Dennis in Scranton.

Mike Dundee's top ranked junior middleweight, Elisha Obed, scored one of the biggest wins of his career when he stopped Manuel Elizondo in 10 rounds in Arizona.

The United States Light Heavyweight Champion Richie Kates took an easy win from Paul Cardoso in Philadelphia.

Solomon Metier stopped Bowie Adams in six rounds in Eustis.

Fishing Event Set

The Ovidio Jaycees and Johnny Bolton Ford of Winter Park will host a fishing tournament March 22 at Lake Jessup with proceeds earmarked for the Central Florida Zoological Society.

The day long tournament from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. will originate from Hiley's Fish Camp on the Seminole County Lake.

A "fishing car," a used automobile with a trailer hitch, will be donated by Johnny Bolton Ford and raffled off to the fishing competitors.

The tourney's grand prize for most fish by weight caught per boat will be $250 worth of fishing tackle; second prize, $200 worth of tackle; third prize, $150 worth of tackle; fourth prize, $100 worth of tackle; and fifth prize, $50 worth of tackle.

Also, $50 worth of fishing tackle will be awarded for the catch of the biggest speckled perch, bream, shell cracker, catfish and bass.

The largest bass caught will be mounted free by an Orlando taxidermist. A conservation trophy will be awarded to the fishermen who retrieved the most litter from the lake.

Equal Rights Package Waits Ford's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has in its possession today the controversial federal rules to outlaw sex discrimination in universities and colleges, including intercollegiate athletics.

Caspar W. Weinberger, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, approved the regulations Friday and sent them to President Ford for his signature.

Under an unusual provision in the 1972 law barring unequal treatment of the sexes, the complex regulations must be submitted to a 45-day congressional review after the President signs them.

Without any major legislative changes by Congress, HEW sources said, the rules should be in place in time to be enforced when schools reopen in the fall.

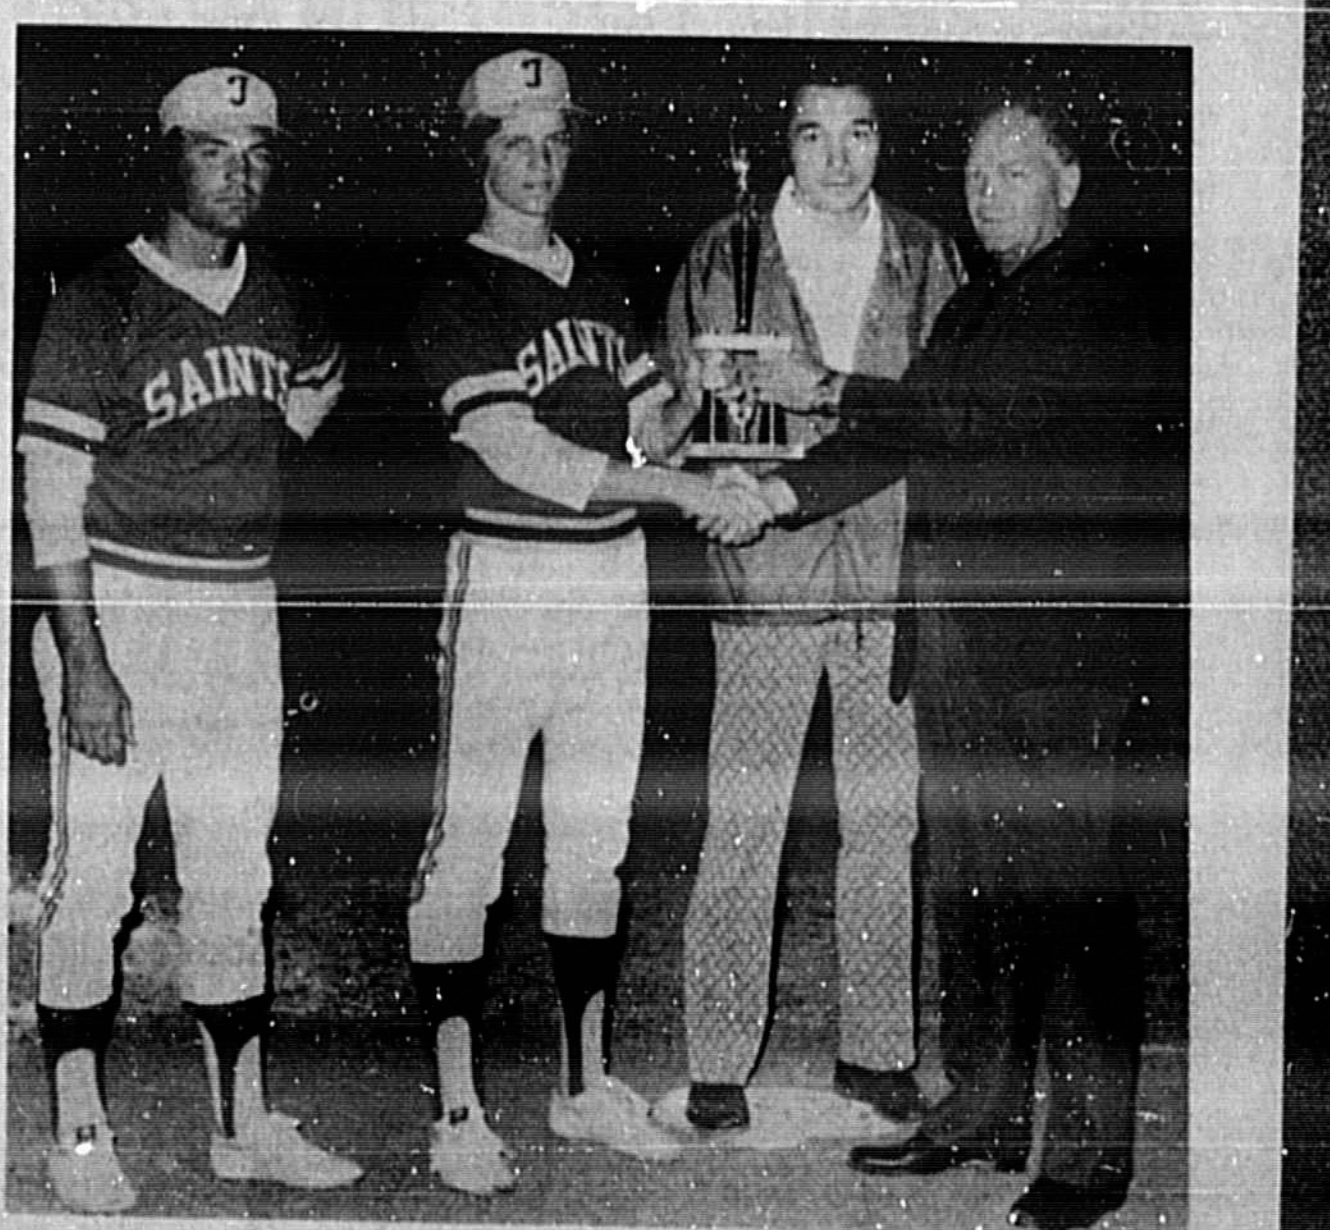

The final regulations have not been made public yet and a copy of them could not be obtained immediately. However, government sources said they basically are unchanged from the version proposed last June, except for a few new exemptions ordered by Congress.

At that time, Weinberger told a news conference that the proposed regulations "would neither exempt nor disrupt intercollegiate athletics as some have feared; rather the regulation moves in the direction of insuring better opportunities for women in athletic programs."

The regulations, implementing Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, would permit universities to have separate teams for males and females or a single team open to both sexes.

San Francisco Sells Kingman To NY Mets

By The Associated Press
The New York Mets need a home run punch and the San Francisco Giants need money. Both teams got what they needed Friday when the Mets purchased slugger Dave Kingman from the Giants for an estimated $100,000.

The Giants, who once demanded a Met pitcher for their inconsistent slugger, settled for cash this time because of their problems at the Game. The Giants have been one of the poorest drawing teams in baseball of late.

"If he makes contact, he can scare you," said New York Manager Yogi Berra of his newest player. "He strengthens our bench and gives us insurance in the outfield."

Kingman had publicly asked to be traded, since he wasn't playing regularly with the Giants. The Rancho infielder-outfielder hit .221 in 121 games last season, but connected for 18 home runs and had 85 RBIs.

His best seasons came in 1972 and 1973, when he hit .29 and .24 home runs, respectively, while playing part-time. Those years included some tape-measure slugs indicative of his ferocious power. But he also struck out a lot, indicative of his inconsistency.

It was at this time that the Giants requested outfielder Jim Mattick from the Mets in return for Kingman's services. The Mets offered them pitcher Jerry Koosman, but the Giants turned down the proposed deal.

"If Kingman plays evenly all year and moves to within three shots of the lead at 130," said New York outfielder Cleon Jones, "he can probably hit 30 homers."

Teammate Joe Torre concurred: "We finally got the right-handed power hitter we're looking for."

But Berra may have a problem finding a place for Kingman, who plays first, third and the outfield with the same consistency he shows at the plate. Kingman realizes he faces a competitive challenge with his new team.

"That's okay," he says. "I'm aware of the competition. That's the way it should be."

The Cleveland Indians and Chicago Cubs also were involved in a deal Friday. The Indians traded right-handed reliever pitcher Mike Wilcox to the Cubs for left-handed reliever Dave LaRoche and minor league outfielder Brock Davis.

The Indians also lost a player, pitcher Steve Arlin, told the team that he is retiring to devote his full time to dentistry in Columbus, Ohio.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Orioles signed pitcher Rosa Grijales, Wayne Garland and Doyle Alexander and infielders Doug DeCinces and Taylor Davis.

The California Angels announced that they have reached agreement with outfielder Frankie George and second baseman Dennis Doyle and now have all 30 players in the fold.

Kentucky Heads SEC Event

GAINESVILLE, (AP) — University of Kentucky Coach Fletcher Carr, using brothers Jim and Joe Carr as a springboard, goes after the Southeastern Conference wrestling title tonight with a big lead over the field.

With both Carrs reaching the finals, Kentucky racked up 88 points Friday for a 29-1 point lead over runner-up Florida.

The Wildcats qualified four other grapplers for the finals. Florida, with 84 points, has four wrestlers left. Rounding out the standings are Tennessee, 49 points and two men; Alabama, 34 and two men; LSU, 23% and three men; Auburn, 20% and two men and Georgia, 15% and one man.

SORC Dispute Filed

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — The Nassau Cup race committee was met today to rule on a protest by Southern Ocean Racing Conference leader Dennis Conner that has left the winner of the race up in the air.

Conner charged Friday's 31-mile sailing yacht race was actually a 26-mile test and handicaps that will determine standings should be based on the longer distance.

A race official said if the protest is disallowed, Kialoa III could prove the victor, but that Tenacious, owned by Ted Turner of Atlanta, could get the nod if the protest was allowed.

FSU Tops South Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida State kept its hopes for a post-season basketball tournament bid alive with a 77-64 victory over South Florida.

Junior Greg Grady scored 17 of his 21 points in the second half Friday night and also grabbed 13 rebounds in a lead victory and gave FSU an 16-7 season record.

The Florida lead, now 16-10, was tied for the lead seven times. The lead changed hands nine times before Florida State's pressing defense broke it open midway through the second half.

UCLA Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A much-maligned guard made the key play as UCLA squeaked past stubborn, stalling California and headed for a ninth successive Pacific-8 Conference basketball title.

Pete Trivette, who had been shooting just 3% per cent from the floor a month ago, stole the ball from California guard Ricky Hawthorne with 18 seconds to play Friday night, drove down and scored unopposed as the Bruins, rated No. 5, edged the Golden Bears 81-67.

Laver Joins Team

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Rod Laver will be the fifth member of the Australian team scheduled to face a United States team March 6-8 in the $55,000 World Cup tennis competition at the Hartford Civic Center.

Because of prior commitments, Laver's presence had been in question.

Stolle said Laver will join Ken Rosewall, John Newcombe, John Alexander and Roy Rosewall.

Lake Brantley Rules Three-Team Gathering

FOREST CITY — Lake Brantley topped Trinity Prep and Oviedo in a three-day high school track meet Thursday at Lake Brantley.

Lake Brantley accumulated 98 1/2 points, Trinity Prep 37 and Oviedo 32 1/2.

Ron Harris of Lake Brantley was involved in four firsts and four school records and Trinity Prep's Craig Chandler recorded three firsts.

Harris won the long jump at 20-feet, 7 1/2-inches, the high jump at six-feet, one-inch, finished second in the high hurdles at 14 1/2, and competed on the winning mile relay team (3:11.1). He set school records in each event.

Harris also won the 300-yard intermediate hurdles at 20.8. Mike Behan and Lee Barrett of Lake Brantley were second and third in the event with times of 46.0 and 47.2 respectively.

Harris' time of 39.8 is the fastest clocking for a state Class C runner this year.

Henry Stanley, Chuck Colter and David Arnett joined Harris on the winning mile relay team. Trinity Prep finished second in the event at 3:45.8. Marty Williams of Lake Brantley won the shot put at 47-feet, five-inches. Chandler won the high hurdles at 14.4. Craig Davis and Vic Chapman of Lake Brantley were second and third.

Church Calhoun of Trinity Prep also won the 300-yard intermediate hurdles at 20.8. Mike Behan and Lee Barrett of Lake Brantley were second and third in the event with times of 46.0 and 47.2 respectively.

Shad Hitting On St. Johns

"It's great to be in a place where there are so many good sportmen," said Gerald DeLong, who, along with his wife Charlotte, own and manage Lemon Bluff Camp on the St. Johns River.

"The only drawback," he said, "is the few irresponsible weekend boaters who speed in and out through the fishing boats showing rudeness and disregard for the safety of other people."

DeLong, formerly of Massachusetts, is no stranger to the outdoors having managed recreational areas in his home state.

This part of the St. Johns is noted for its shad fishing this time of year. Most anglers go after the fish using the trolling method and on any given day, craft of all types can be seen, from 10 foot johnboats to 30 foot cruisers.

The smaller ones could easily be upset by the wake of a recklessly-operated speed boat.

Shad have been on the slow side for a few days, but bass have started hitting according to the new camp owner. Shad minnows are beginning to make their appearance and have stirred the bass into some striking activity.

The best catches have been "Rapala" plugs, black plastic worms and live shiners. Several nice strings have been brought in from around the old saw mill near Lake Harney.

Another six weeks of good shad fishing is expected after the commercial netters in the Palatka section of the river take their nets out of the water this weekend as required by law.

At Marina Lake Camp, Mary Penny, wife of manager C.O. Penny, expressed practically the same thoughts concerning reckless operation of high powered boats.

Mrs. Penny also mentioned a string of 17 shad taken by Mr. Likeman and son Charles—the best haul made this week as most boats have been averaging about four per day.

Some specks were landed Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs.

Outdoors

Three-pound bass on a small "Beetle-Spin" lure while fishing for redear bass.

Steve Snow, 24 of Camp Seminole on the Wekiva is planning to make this an outstanding spot for bass anglers.

With the Wekiva in the process of being declared a "Wild and Scenic River," this will be an ideal place for lovers of the outdoors to see and appreciate the beauties of the river as they glide serenely along in a canoe.

The birdlife and wildlife along this stretch of water is outstanding.

Speckled perch continue to give Lake Jessup anglers a good workout with hundreds caught each day.

A sampling of catches recorded by Lowell Hiley at his camp on the south shore of the lake shows, for Wednesday alone, 85 for Mr. and Mrs. Dale of College Park, Ga. and 128 for Mr. and Mrs. Speed of Townsend, Ga. Both families fished for two days.

A pair of Casseberry men, J.A. Michael and J.R. Edwards, took 75 Wednesday while Bessie Smith and a friend from Zephyr, Fla. had 65.

Two ladies from Apopka landed 80 the same day and a Casseberry couple, Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson, caught 51. James Miller and Charlie Burke of Altamonte landed 91.

All the specks are hitting in shallow water near the lake shore about 15 to 18 inches deep on live minnows.

The "Carrot-Top" plug yielded a nice string of bass for Tommy Freeman as he fished an inland lake this week. Fred Knight at the Florida Sports Shop noted that Freeman also had deers and specks in his catch. The bass hit the top water plug in the early part of the day, then Freeman switched to trolling the deep water with a "Tom Missouri Mimow" jig to land the specks and bass.

Larry Williams and Don Knight used a "Rapala" plug to take bass of seven-and-three-fourths pounds and nine-and-a-half pounds near Puzzle Lake, according to notes made by Don Smith at Seminole Sporting Goods Store.

Saltwater catches listed showed 21 bluefish for Calvin Jardine while surf casting with a "Krocadile" spoon, and Ralph Simas used cut mullet in the surf at New Smyrna for nine blues Friday. Saturday he landed 14.

A rough catch last Saturday gave the new "Snow White 3" an opportunity to display its seaworthiness, as this writer and wife, and Doris and Lenora Duff from Kentucky tried the deep sea fishing.

Swells were running five to seven feet, but the 75 footer, owned and captained by Al Kline, took it in stride. In spite of the bad conditions, a few good sized snapper, lots of small ones, some grouper and plenty of black sea bass were brought aboard.

Sunday, with calmer weather, the big snapper gave passengers on the new boat all the excitement they needed. The Laytona bridges are again producing lots of drum and sheepshead. Wayne Brady at the "Fishin' Hole" mentioned a 15-pound drum landed in the inlet this week and speckled trout to five and six pounds landed in the river.

Ken Gibbons at the "Tackle Box" told of plenty of bluefish in the Halifax river both early morning and late evening. Spruce Creek is full of blues, ladyfish, and jack crevalle.

In the inlet, drum and sheepshead continue to hit and Kent took a five and six pounds landed in the river.

Lyman Swimmers Triumph

Lyman's swim team dominated a three-team double dual meet Thursday at Lake Highland 57-23 and Lake Brantley 48-22. Four Lyman school records fell in the meet.

Joseph Maxwell set a mark, winning the 100 butterfly in 1:12.6. Debban McCarty established a record in the 100 breaststroke at 1:23.2. Mike Dew re-wrote the record books with a 59.9 clocking in the 100 freestyle. Debban McCarty set a record in the 100 breaststroke at 1:05.5.

Lake Brantley's girls' 200 medley relay team (Crowell, Substantiel, Young and Daphin) dominated the event with a time of 2:15.6.

Lyman's Bonnie Blamick won the 200 free in 2:23.2. Maxwell of Lyman won the 200 IM in 2:39.5. Lyman's Cathy Burleson won the 50 free in 28.0 and Lesley Snow of Lake Highland won the one-meter diving competition.

Karleen Crowell of Lake Brantley won the 100 free in 1:00 and the 500 free in 5:49.1.

Lyman's 400 freestyle relay team (Maxwell, Blamick, Burleson and McCarty) won in 4:19.1.

In the boy's meet, Lyman's medley relay team (Jacobson, Kimball, Wagner and Cruickshank) won in 1:54.1. Dew won the 200 free in 1:56.0. Kimball won the 200 IM in 2:11.9 and Dan Hartman of Lyman won the 50 freestyle in 24.8.

Lake Brantley's Al Hill won the diving competition with 171.60 points. Hartman won the 100 freestyle in 56.7. Scott Cruickshank won the 500 freestyle in 6:09.3 and John Bringardner of Lake Brantley won the 100 backstroke in 1:07.7.

The Lake Brantley 400 freestyle relay team (Bringardner, Hosack, Barton and Putegnot) won in 3:48.9.

ATLANTA (AP) — Chicago's Darcy Rota said he didn't care who got the credit for the winning goal Friday night that lifted the Black Hawks to a 4-3 comeback victory over the Atlanta Flames. "Their defense man actually put it in," he said. Rota was initially credited with the goal at 14:23 of the third period, but the official score changed his mind after the National Hockey League game ended, giving it to Jim Pappin instead.

"Anyway we won," Rota said of the triumph that moved the Hawks into first place in Division 2, one point ahead of idle Vancouver. He said the shot actually was made by Atlanta's Ed Kea with help from Pappin.

Tampa Coach 'Betrayed'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Stunned Coach Dennis Fryzel says he feels "betrayed and deceived" by the decision of the University of Tampa's board of directors to end the school's football program immediately.

"I feel betrayed and deceived because I was led to believe that I was led to believe," Fryzel said Thursday after the board voted not to play the 1973 season.

"I always try to keep a pulse of the situation and I thought it was good or I would have made overtures to things like the Memphis State job, which I did not," he added.

Memphis State hired a new coach earlier in the year and Thursday named one of Fryzel's assistants, Jim Ragland, as an assistant.

Fryzel, who posted records of 8-3 and 6-5 in his two years at Tampa, was told two weeks ago that a finance committee had recommended dropping football after the 1973 season.

But there was no mention of immediately dropping it.

"I'm really concerned about my staff here," said the Denison University graduate, a native of Garfield Heights, Ohio. "I've got seven guys who gave me everything I could ask for and now they are out of a job. And these guys didn't go seeking jobs before."

He handled with his 74 underclassmen after the decision was announced.

"It was like a close member of the family died," he said later. "I said 'Heads up!' That's what I always said before on the field."

When University of Tennessee-Chattanooga Athletic Director Harold B. Wilkes heard of the decision to drop football, he commented, "There will probably be more football recruiters in Tampa the next few days than in any place in the country."

Wilkes said his recruiters would be among them.

Fryzel said the scheduled 1976 arrival of the Tampa Buccaneers of the National Football League "had something to do with it (the board's decision). But I feel that we've probably done more things than any other university in a city where the pros were coming.

SJC Golfers Top Santa Fe

The Seminole Junior College golf team edged Santa Fe Community College in a match Thursday at Mayfair.

P.K. Long of SJC paced the Raiders with an even par 36-36. Tony Harvey fired a 37-37, Bob Hendrickson carded a 36-38-74 and Charlie Taylor registered a 37-38-70.

The Raiders golfers travel to Jacksonville Tuesday for a match with rugged Florida Junior College, then meet P.K. Community College Thursday at Sheoh.

Foursomes Tie At 62

Two foursomes tied in this week's Mayfair Women's Golf Association four-ball, best-ball with full handicap event at the Mayfair Country Club.

Mary Anderson and Shirley Schulte tied at 62 with Dossie deGanahl, Vivian Pierce, Miriam Askew and Ellen Donley.

Tampa Coach 'Betrayed'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Stunned Coach Dennis Fryzel says he feels "betrayed and deceived" by the decision of the University of Tampa's board of directors to end the school's football program immediately.

"I feel betrayed and deceived because I was led to believe that I was led to believe," Fryzel said Thursday after the board voted not to play the 1973 season.

"I always try to keep a pulse of the situation and I thought it was good or I would have made overtures to things like the Memphis State job, which I did not," he added.

Black Hawks Extinguish Flames

ATLANTA (AP) — Chicago's Darcy Rota said he didn't care who got the credit for the winning goal Friday night that lifted the Black Hawks to a 4-3 comeback victory over the Atlanta Flames. "Their defense man actually put it in," he said. Rota was initially credited with the goal at 14:23 of the third period, but the official score changed his mind after the National Hockey League game ended, giving it to Jim Pappin instead.

"Anyway we won," Rota said of the triumph that moved the Hawks into first place in Division 2, one point ahead of idle Vancouver. He said the shot actually was made by Atlanta's Ed Kea with help from Pappin.

The question marks in place of the East-West spades, but we can assure you that there is a correct play here.

The correct play is to play the jack of 10. The reason for this is that some West players would put up the ace if they held it, on the theory that South held just two diamonds and one spade. Not much percentage since most defenders would figure out South's exact distribution, by assuming that with 6-4-2-1 South would have bid three clubs, not two notrump at his third turn. While with five hearts and five clubs his third call would have been three hearts.

However any slight percentage is worthwhile. South knows that West would not play the queen of spades unless he held it as a singleton.

No Rocker For Bessie; She Still Pushes A Plow

Some old folks will settle for a rocking chair and television. But not Bessie King. Going on 71 years of age, Bessie prefers her one-and-a-third acres, packets of seed and hand plow.

"I've got to keep my mind employed and have something to do to keep from getting bored," explains the energetic old lady.

Resting her hands in aproned lap over a flower-print shirt, a sun-faded straw hat shielding a still fresh-skinned face, Bessie surveys with pride the sprouting one-and-a-third acres of greens and vegetables behind her home on Elder Road, a mile or so west of Sanford. Her stout laced boots are grey with the dust of the earth she loves.

In the cool of the late afternoon, Bessie can be seen weeding the rows or picking the harvest from the vegetables planted several months earlier — mustard or turnips, cabbages and collards and beans, squash and onions and potatoes.

The ground she prepares herself, working it with hand plow or hoe. "It's not hard work," says Bessie. "Not if you want to do it."

Her greens she sells to a local supermarket chain; regular customers call at her house for the other vegetables. Bessie doesn't make a living selling her produce, but it certainly is handy pin money to supplement her meager social security check, she smiles.

And while Bessie is determined not to let old age get the better of her, she nevertheless respects her advancing years. "When I got tired, I quit right away and go do something quiet inside."

Leading the way back up the garden to the old frame house, through a dim and low-roofed garden shed and between rabbit hutches, chicken coops and piles of neatly stacked firewood ("cut it myself," says Bessie), she pauses in the cool green shade of her greenhouse.

"Vegetables aren't all I grow; I like flowers too."

Mechanization is a stranger to the King King — Bessie uses a hand plow and fertilizer distributor.

Visitor Volunteers Show Kids They Care

Are you a delinquent? Point blank he asks the question, this Visitor Volunteer at the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center.

Taken a back momentarily by the head-on approach, the kid takes a second or two to catch his breath, but will usually get around to admitting yes, I guess I am a delinquent. And they take it from there.

James (Jim) Whelan is a retired Marine Corps sergeant major and now working with Acacia Mutual Life selling insurance (when he's not coaching kids at the ball fields around the county).

For the past year, Jim has been a visitor volunteer at the Detention Center. "I've been involved with sports all my life," Jim explained, "and through sports, I've met a lot of kids. I really like being with kids."

His direct, no nonsense approach when confronting a teenager newly detained in the center goes down well with the kids. It's honest, and if there's one thing a kid can spot immediately, it's a phoney, Jim says.

The other visitor volunteers agree wholeheartedly. Carol Kirby, Visitor Volunteer Coordinator, commented: "You need just two things to be a successful volunteer here: common sense and to really care."

In fact, says Carol, the success of the visitor volunteers is based on one simple fact: they care. And always, the Center is seeking more volunteers who care enough about the lives of this county's young people to want to do something constructive about it.

"It's all a matter of breaking the pattern," director of the Center, Tom Fay explained. "Unless we can turn a kid around and set him in the right direction during the few weeks he is here, he's lost. Chances are, he'll become a 'problem parent,' the way his own parents probably were, and raise another generation of delinquent children."

The teenagers are not in the Detention Center long—a day or two, to four or five weeks at the most. They are detained there until their cases are brought before the courts. And then, 80 per cent of the kids are returned to their community.

"Helping steer these children in the right direction is thus very much the concern of the community," Fay continued. "So we are looking for workers from the community."

Further underlining the fact that almost everyone who is a resident of Seminole County has some stake in the Juvenile Detention Center, is the fact that it has been projected that one in every seven boys, and one in every nine girls in the county will pass before the juvenile court this year.

A visitor volunteer is required to spend just four hours a week at the Center, talking with the kids, playing indoor or outdoor games, teaching crafts. But mostly, just being there when the kids need a friend to rap with.

Twice a month, three-hour training sessions are arranged for volunteers.

Rosemary Banks, a student at Seminole Junior College, started coming to the Center two hours a week as part of practical training for her psychology course. Now she almost lives at the Center.

"I like the kids. I like finding out where they're from and how they're different inside. I just like meeting and talking with them."

"Rose cares," Carol summed it up.

Arnold Smith is another volunteer. He became involved through his work with Christian Counselors Inc.

Scout Dinner

The annual Blue and Gold Dinner observing the 45th anniversary of the Cub Scouts, was celebrated by Pack 194 Central Florida Council of Scouting, on Feb. 22.

This year the event took place at the Orlando Naval Training Center's picnic grounds from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Den 1 was chosen to perform a skit entitled "The 1930's." Each member of the den chose an outstanding news event which occurred during that decade and designed a poster relating to the event. The Cub Scouts also gave a short dissertation on the event and told how many boys were Cub Scouts during that particular year.

The posters included Orson Welles's famous "War of the Worlds" broadcast, the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, the birth of the Dionne Quintuplets, and the discovery of the planet Pluto.

A lot of time and research went into the skits and Den 1 deserves accolades for a superb job.

Rec Hall

The Winter Springs Community Association held an open meeting at the Recreation Hall on Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m. The major topic of discussion was the Recreation Hall. It has been decided that the organization will request that the city of Winter Springs take over the Hall and finish the work necessary to complete the building.

Although the building is on city-owned property, the WSCA has a 20-year lease to operate the building, on the condition that the building be finished and maintained. The organization now feels that it is not in a position to live up to the conditions set forth in the lease.

Teen Dances

Dances are still being held every Saturday evening at the Winter Springs Community Association Recreation Hall located in Sunshine Park from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. for all the teens in the city. A live band is playing each week. The dances are sponsored by the Winter Springs Youth Group. Drop by and join in the fun. A small donation is required.

Junior Police

The next meeting of the Winter Springs Junior Police will be held on March 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall. All youngsters in the group are urged to attend and to "bring along a friend!"

Good Neighbor

Good Neighbor of the Week is Mrs. Sharon Bartle of 219 Albert St.

Known to her friends as "Sherry," Mrs. Bartle has been called "The Boy Scout Bus Service." She has a large van which is put to use as a bus to "haul" numerous children to meetings of the Boy Scouts, Brownies and Junior Police. In addition to her "free" bus service, Sherry also spends a good deal of time sewing costumes and banners for the children in the neighborhood.

Sherry has two school age children of her own, but is never seen with fewer than four or five other youngsters in tow.

One of the outstanding features of a good neighbor seems to be the inability to say "no" and Sherry heads the list in that group.

Sherry is a credit to herself, her family and to the community. Truly deserving to be called, "a good neighbor."

Car Wash

The Winter Springs Elementary PTO held a car wash as a fund raising event on Feb. 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the grounds of the school. This was a combined teacher-parent effort.

Marriage It's Always Later Than You Think

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My younger sister passed away last month and I found a yellowed clipping of your column in her Bible. Here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: Will you please remind your readers to look after their parents who are too old to look after themselves? Old parents need all their children. It's not always easy to cope with aging parents, but we weren't easy to cope with when they were raising US either. WE OWE it to them. I just wish someone had reminded me of these things when Mama was still alive. It's too late now, and I haven't had a decent night's sleep since she died three months ago.

I knew she had a good home with my sister, so that was that. Why didn't I take her for a few weeks, or even for Sunday dinner, or for a little drive? I never had time for her, yet I had time for others, and anything else I wanted to do. A change of scenery or even a meal at my home would have meant so much to her, but I was too busy. Oh, I had plenty of excuses.

They live a great distance from us, and I used to write to them faithfully every week. Now I have stopped writing because of what happened, but my husband has now started to write to them regularly.

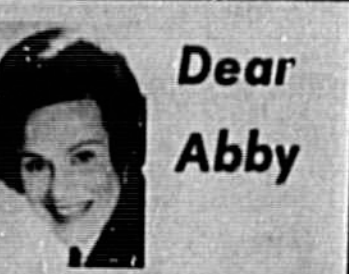

I think this is wrong of him. Don't you think that out of loyalty to me, my husband should take my part and be on my side?"

DEAR HURTI: Loyalty need not necessarily include taking on the enemies of one's spouse. You don't say what these people did to hurt you, but apparently your husband wasn't as grievously hurt by it as you were.

Dear Abby

I suppose the only one in our large family who is sleeping in my sister who took Mama to live with her. I've tried to ease my conscience by telling myself that I wasn't really ashamed of Mama like my brothers were. Or that I wasn't cheap, like another sister. I DID buy her jewelry to me, my husband should take my part and be on my side?

Spring is in the air. It's also in every heart, fashion and garden. The gardeners among us all feel stirring urges to put on their gardening gloves and get out there, growing things.

The Garden Club of Sanford, which understands very well the promptings of spring, has arranged things so that their annual Gigantic Plant Sale corresponds with the end of the last cold snap of winter (we hope) and the start of the growing season.

On Friday, members of all the club's circles, will set up their stalls in Sanford and pile them high with plants of every description. Both indoor and outdoor plants — cacti, day lilies, coleus, crotons, wandering Jew and dozens more — will be on sale from early Friday morning until dusk... or until everything is sold, if that comes first.

Not only plants, but free information will also be available on how and where to plant your new greenery. We'll sell everything but green beans. The common ivy from Mrs. Audrey Speer, chairman of the Horticulture Committee, which is organizing the plant sale. Proceeds from the sale will go towards the club's building fund.

In downtown Sanford, the Central Circle will set up shop outside McCrory's and the Jacarana Circle outside Garrett's.

Hibiscus Circle will be selling plants at Winn Dixie, corner of French Avenue and 26th Street. In the Sanford Plaza, Mimosa, Rose and Magnolia Circles will be outside J. C. Penney's and Camellia Circle outside Publix Market.

The Junior Gardeners will join in the effort with a stall near the Plaza Theatre, and they will be

Moments Of Magic At Charity Ball

By FANNETTE EDWARDS Herald Correspondent

"Moments of Magic," she called it, that charming Joan (Mrs. J. Calvin) Lee, general chairman of the Deltona Women's Club Annual Charity Ball. Young at heart and in action, she took all tasks upon herself, and managed to come up with one of the finest balls this Club has ever enjoyed.

Set in the beautiful new Deltona Country Club's spacious dining hall, the ballroom was dimly lit with the faint glow of crystal chandeliers decorated with soft colorful lanterns and beads and flowers.

The ladies, beautifully gowned in sparkling formal, their escorts also formally attired, were a beautiful sight to behold.

Norm Right of Deltona and his orchestra provided the music to which the gay couples danced. Moments of Magic, indeed, as the band played on till after midnight.

Served early in the evening, followed by an appetizing menu of tenderloin of beef en brochette, served on a bed of yellow rice, and delicious homebaked desserts.

But merrymaking was not the entire reason for the ball. This event is given annually by the Deltona Women's Club to contribute to the charities in and around Deltona. This year 17 charities will benefit from the ball. These include Deltona Library; Deltona Youth Inc.; Deltona Girls' Soft Ball League; Deltona Boys' Soft Ball League; Deltona Junior High School Band Fund; CARE; Cancer Fund; Heart Fund; United Fund; Parks Fund.

Also, The Good Samaritan Home; S.W. Volusia Outreach Center; Hacienda Girls' Ranch; Volusia-Flagler Mental Health Clinic; General Federation of Women's Club projects and Florida Federation of Women's Club Projects.

More than 60 sponsors aided this year; businessmen and women and professional persons in Deltona, DeLand, Sanford, Delray and Orange City helped to increase the financial results.

Mrs. Henry Langknecht, president of the Club appointed Mrs. Lee general chairman, and she in turn appointed 21 committee members.

For those of you who remember Martha (Mrs. W. D.) Thompson who for 20 years lived on Magnolia Avenue and was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, this fine old lady will be celebrating her 90th birthday in St. Petersburg March 8. Her former neighbor, Mrs. Ursula West, who now lives in Lake Mary, knows Mrs. Thompson would love to hear from her old friends — or her still, have them attend her birthday reception March 8, at Presbyterian Towers, 430 Bay St. N.E., St. Pete.

Awards, Demonstration At Sanford Garden Club

Mrs. Blanton Owen, vice president of the Garden Club of Sanford, was honored at the club's recent meeting for her outstanding work through the years in the club. The award, a life membership in the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, was presented by Mrs. Arthur Peterson.

"I was really surprised to be given the award," Mrs. Owen commented. "I love what I do in the Garden Club and believe as long as I'm a member, I might as well work at it. You only get out of a thing, what you put in," she smiled.

Following the meeting and tasty luncheon served by the Central Circle, a talk and demonstration on tinware art was given by Mrs. Myrtle Walla of Osteen, who is president of the Garden Club of DeBary.

Club members were delighted with the original and attractive arrangements and accessories created by Mrs. Walla which included table centerpiece tables and Spanish-air adornments for candle holders and lamps.

Teen With A Mission

A stint with a Teen Missions Team is not all spiritual inspiration, Diane Young found out last summer as she labored under hazy and hard labor to build a church in the mountains of Bolivia.

Up at 6 a.m. their work schedule calls for a five and a half day work week with Saturday afternoons free to visit such places as Eagles Nest (Hitler's high command post) and Sundays to share their love of God in services in Salzburg and Germany, which is just across the border.

Team members gather in Florida for two weeks to renovate the hazy morn of a 500-year-old mill into an auditorium and put a new roof on the building which is used as the youth camp operated by World Missions to Children.

In spite of blisters and sore muscles she returned home enthusiastic about the possibility of joining another Teen Mission Work Team this summer... and who wouldn't be, for this time her assignment is to beautiful Salzburg, Austria.

The team is made up of 25 teens plus leaders, who will

Herald's Homemakers Show Ready For Opening Tuesday

CAROLYN LEWIS

The Herald's exciting Homemaker Show 1975, featuring nationally famous home economist Carolyn Lewis of Homemakers School Inc., will be held Tuesday at the Sanford Civic Center.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. Approximately 800 guests are expected at the Civic Center for the free show.

Miss Lewis, nationally known home economist, will conduct the Homemaker Show and during the evening will prepare more than 15 different recipes on stage. Each will be geared to this year's show theme, "Homing Help."

The show will demonstrate ways to prepare menus and manage a home economically in these inflationary times.

Miss Lewis will travel more than 40,000 miles this year throughout the South presenting homemaking shows.

Each dish prepared by Miss Lewis will be given to a member of the audience after the show.

In addition to the dishes prepared by Miss Lewis, 20 bags of groceries will be given away to members of the audience.

Each person attending the show will also receive a gift bag of food samples, souvenirs, gift items, and literature from merchants supporting the show.

Gifts include a fully cooked pig, (with an apple in his mouth, of course) jewelry, a musical figurine, serving trays, a wig, free dinners, gift certificates, an ice ejector kit, cook books, King Pin Roast Thermometer, plants, electric coffee pot, a lady's blouse, a redwood sign, jumper cables, flower centerpieces, and others.

Before the show, you'll want to browse through the many displays presented by local merchants. Businesses of every nature will be offering free demonstrations of products, special sales, offers to win free merchandise and services and other show specials.

The merchants have been planning their exhibits for some time and promise to welcome you warmly. They want you to get to know that you can find just about any product or service locally and have taken the time to display their goods and services, so please take a good look around. You'll enjoy yourself, and might just win something or see just what you've been looking for for your family.

During intermission, local women's and men's shops will conduct a fashion show. Local models will be used (with your friends) and local showmen will coordinate the show. Feminine fashions for all occasions will be shown. Male escorts will be dressed for the occasion by neighborhood men's shops. If you've been looking for something special in any price range, you'll probably see it at the show.

The Homemaker Show is sponsored by The Herald and our local merchants, but is also supported by name brand national product distributors, without whose assistance the show could not be presented. Their names are listed in an advertisement in this section and their free samples will be included in the free gift bag you'll receive at the show.

The Herald is proud to bring the Homemaker Show to Sanford this year. We hope that it will be an outstanding entertainment success for all involved and that we'll be able to continue the show each year.

Come, see, enjoy, relax, learn, and forget your troubles for an evening. It's showtime, Tuesday, March 4th, 6:30 p.m. at the Civic Center in Sanford, on beautiful Lake Monroe. Don't miss it.

Ben Franklin Proved Skill In Almost Any Undertaking

By SAM STEWART
The Herald Services

There was this quip, the other day, that if it hadn't been for Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Edison, we'd all be watching television by candlelight.

Franklin's association with electricity came, of course, in some rather informal experimentation with a kite and a key, but his mention underscores the man's versatility and his high rating in almost any field you can name.

Franklin would have been 269 years old this year had he not also have been mortal.

But his name remains high with us because he was an author, a journalist, an inventor, a philosopher, a statesman, a scientist, a diplomat, and, of course, a printer. No wonder his memory gets a lot of attention as the nation's Bicentennial approaches.

Franklin also professed to be a farmer although when he had time to till any soil is something of a mystery. As a farmer, he once domed one of his other hats — that of journalist — to produce an essay entitled, "On the Price of Corn, and Management of the Poor."

If this sounds like adding apples and oranges, it is an understatement of Franklin's talents. In protesting government actions which, according to Franklin, prevented the farmer from getting a fair price for his produce, Old Ben delved into a lot of areas which concern more than 200 years after he wrote about them. He might have been coming on inflation, wage-price guidelines, price supports, taxation, the war on poverty and so on when he wrote:

"You say, poor laborers cannot afford to buy bread at a high price, unless they had higher wages. But how shall we farmers be able to afford our laborers higher wages, if you will not allow us to get, when we have it, a higher price for our corn?"

"... it seems, we farmers must take so much less, that the poor may have it so much cheaper.

"This operates, then, as a tax for the maintenance of the poor. A very good thing you will say. But, I ask, why a partial tax? Why laid on us farmers only? If it be a good thing, pray, Messieurs the Public, take your share of it, by indemnifying us a little out of your public treasury.

"In doing a good thing, there is both honour and pleasure; you are welcome to your share of both.

"For my own part, I am not so well satisfied with the goodness of the thing, I am for giving good to the poor, but I differ in opinion about the means. I think the best way of doing good to the poor, is not making them easy IN poverty, but leading or driving them OUT of it.

"In my youth I traveled much, and I observed in different countries that the more public provisions were made for the poor, the less they provided for themselves, and of course became poorer. And, on the contrary, the less was done for them, the more they did for themselves, and became richer.

"There is no country in the world where so many provisions are established for them; so many hospitals to receive them when they are sick or lame, founded and maintained by voluntary charities; so many almshouses for the aged of both sexes, together with a solemn general law made by the rich to subject their estates to a heavy tax for the support of the poor.

"Under all these obligations, are our poor modest, humble and thankful? And do they use their best endeavours to maintain themselves, and lighten our shoulders of their burden? On the contrary, I affirm, that there is no country in the world where the poor are more idle, dissolute, drunken and insolent. . . .

"In short, you offered a premium for the encouragement of idleness, and you should not now wonder that it has had its effect in the increase of poverty.

"Repeat that law, and you will soon see a change in their manners. . . . Six days shalt thou labor, though one of the old commandments long treated as out of date, will again be looked upon as a respectable precept; industry will increase, and with plenty for the poor people; their circumstances will mend, and more will be done for their happiness by inuring them to provide for themselves, than could be done by dividing all your estates among them."

There are those who would say while Franklin was, indeed, all these things mentioned earlier, he was no sociologist, and had he been confronted with situations rivalling today's inflation-recession.

Let Us Diet

By JANE GLENN HAAS
The Herald Services

My stretch knits have lost their zing. There's not even any zang left.

Even my feet feel flabby. According to the scales I don't weigh that much more. Still, there is more of me. And in the darndest places.

If I wear a belt, I look like a sausage with a string around its middle. When I look for my toes, something gets in the way and I know I'm not pregnant.

It's time to diet. And darn it, I'm not going to suffer alone. Therefore, I hereby institute the Order of the Lettuce Leaf. Let us diet together.

My doctor says there's nothing to it. He says all I have to do is limit my caloric intake to 800 to 1,000 a day.

Well, this, I know works well for me. And after two days, I'm really not even hungry anymore.

I keep telling myself. The fact that there's a sadist in the office who sits across from me eating doughnuts doesn't bother me one bit. I've just made a small doll in his likeness and am busily sticking it with pins so I don't notice the pangs in my stomach.

Now, seriously, it's time for a lot of us to shape up.

Some of you may prefer to join a diet club. Others may have to suffer in loneliness at home, just a few steps from the refrigerator.

Frankly, I don't care how you do it. Just make sure your diet is checked out with your doctor. I'm going to lose 50 pounds. I prepared myself for the ordeal by feasting on homemade lasagna the night before the days of the diet began. That way I hate myself even more.

This time I shall persevere to the bitter but better end. Maybe somebody knows a good way to make raw carrots taste like straw berry shortcake.

Right now I'd settle for another helping of lasagna.

Portable Dryer Just Under 20

Did you know the portable hair dryer, the type used in homes, is less than 20 years old? The first unit introduced was the Lady Sunbeam in 1936. What's new in the field today? The newest thing is a whole new style of hair dryer, the hand-held unit that also is a hair styler as well as a dryer. While it will dry hair quickly after a shower or swim, it also can style hair after it is dried or just be used for styling hair that is dry at the start of the process. The first units of this type introduced, the so-called "hot combs," really were more styling than dryers. Low in wattage, they styled hair very well but were slow in drying. Products tend to change to conform to consumers' desires. Today's units of this type have more power for faster drying. For instance, the SUNBEAM "Power Plus 900" has 900 watts of drying power, more than six times the 140 watts of the early units. The early units had both fine and coarse tooth combs and bristle brushes, and today's have continued styling accessories while adding a fourth

'Spice Isle' Finds Blight Of Politics

By EARL COPELAND JR. The Herald Services

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada, B.W.I. — Prime Minister Eric Matthew Gairy is still in control of this virtually bankrupt Caribbean mini-state, but growing opposition to his authoritarian tactics makes it uncertain how long he can remain in power.

The prime minister is his own worst enemy, some of his supporters and many members of the opposition say. His critics charge that he has tried to make 12,300-mile Grenada a sort of fiefdom.

Gairy, a handsome black in his early 50s, claims he was divinely chosen to lead Grenada.

In addition to the economic crisis in agricultural exports caused by a series of strikes protesting Gairy's dependence on strong-arm squads, tourism fell to very low levels last year. The broadly based Committee of 22, which led a three-month-long general strike in 1974, has lined up with the New Jewel Movement, a leftist, black pride organization oriented toward Tanzania, the opposition Grenada National Party and several labor groups in opposing Gairy. His support base in rural areas has slipped badly.

Grenada is a 133-square-mile Caribbean island lying north of Trinidad. Known as the Spice Island, it is the world's second largest producer of nutmeg, and produces mace, cloves, cinnamon and ginger as well.

With a current population estimated at only about 100,000, Grenada became the smallest United Nations member in population when it joined the world organization on Sept. 17, 1974. The Maldivé Republic, with a population of 100,000 but an area of only 108 square miles, is the smallest U.N. member in area.

Nothing has ever fazed Gairy. He returned from Aruba, where he had worked in an oil refinery, and won control of the government in the 1951 elections after founding the Grenada United Labor Party (GULP).

Using the trade union movement as his base, Gairy won major improvements for rural families and workers, and alternated in power with the Grenada National Party, stronghold of the better educated business and social elite.

Gairy's present difficulties began in 1967 when he began using influence in the government to support his vision and strengthen his political party. The political opposition was

Cohen Finds Life Calmer

EDITOR'S NOTE — Mickey Cohen is 61 now, slowed by age and illness. He's preparing an autobiography recalling his days in the underworld. There were times, he remembers, "when I could do things with a snap of my fingers. Now it's not quite like that anymore."

By LINDA DEUTSCH Associated Press WRITER LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the 1940s, he was king of the West Coast gambling rackets, handling thousands of dollars a day in bets, eluding arrest. Mickey Cohen was a tough guy who courted violence; a power in the underworld. It is different now, 13 years after he was sent to prison for tax evasion and three years after he came home, badly crippled.

At 61, Mickey Cohen says, "I live practically the same life I lived before. The only difference is that I'm not involved in gambling or any illegal activities. Not that I've lost all my friends or contacts. "Everybody comes to see me. And I'm out to all my old haunts. I just don't have the strength or stomach to get involved in anything."

Cohen greets visitors these days in a comfortable but far from lavish apartment in West Los Angeles where he spends part of every day in painful physical therapy. Partially paralyzed from a 1963 prison attack, in which a fellow inmate broke open his chest, Cohen walks with difficulty, leaning heavily on a cane.

But the colorful Cohen personality is intact. He manages to go out with friends almost every night — to his favorite restaurants, a boxing match or a movie. He has seen both "The Godfather" and "Godfather II," and he says they're accurate about the lives of gangsters.

"They must have really got some real good information," he says. "Whoever collaborated with them really knew what the score was."

Now Mickey plans to add his own story to the annals of gangster lore. With a collaborator, he is writing his autobiography, "The Mickey Cohen Story."

"A lot of my friends are prejudiced," he says. "They think it's gonna be bigger than 'The Godfather.' I really wrote the truth."

Cohen was last in the news in October. He heard the parents of Patricia Hearst, the missing newspaper heiress, had asked his help in finding their fugitive daughter.

He said he sought information through a network of underworld contacts, and found her in Cleveland, Ohio. But he said he advised Miss Hearst to hide again because she might go to jail.

"I don't bring nobody in to go to prison," he explained.

Neither the Hearsts nor the FBI had any comment on his story. Today, Cohen says of his efforts, "I've completely washed my hands of it."

"I really did it out of respect to the old man, William Randolph Hearst who was sort of a benefactor to me," he adds. "It was a heart rendering (sic) thing anyway. My sisters kept bothering me about it."

The Hearst interlude will be the last chapter in Cohen's book. Then he will look toward the future. He is mellowed now, slowed by age and illness, and he concedes that "some of my viewpoints on things have changed." But in preparing the book, re-examining his past, Mickey finds little to regret.

Premium Saltines At Century Mark

In 1875 a candy and baking company in St. Joseph, Missouri entered its "xxx" Soda Crackers in the County Fair. It took first prize and was judged "Premium" in the soda cracker category. This company was a small family organization and eventually became a part of the American Biscuit Company.

Nabisco registered the name "Premium" as a trademark in 1907. Originally, the crackers were called Premium Soda Crackers but we now know them as Premium Saltine Crackers from Nabisco.

Try this recipe — yummy — the cheese melts on the crackers.

CHEESE CRISPS
1 (3-oz) pkg. cream cheese
2 tablespoons steak sauce
1 cup grated natural

Cheddar Cheese
1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
Dash black pepper
Premium Saltine Crackers from Nabisco
Thoroughly blend first four ingredients. Spread on crackers covering all the way to edges.

NO-MIX CHEESE SPREAD

Dining Out? Try Buck's At Night

Warm welcome is the word for Criminal

Bucks Restaurant in Sanford has announced that they will be open for evening meals starting Monday.

Open since October for lunch and catering only, Bucks has become a favorite meeting and dining place for local residents, but has not served during the dinner hour.

Now, because so many have requested it, they have decided to serve dinners. During grand opening week, you'll get a free glass of wine or beer with your meal.

The restaurant is a renovated older home, turned into a warm restaurant with three dining areas and a large kitchen and work area. A majestic fireplace, heavy wooden beams outlining doorways and pot pourri accessories creates an atmosphere that is cozy and beautiful, and informal enough that you want to kick off your shoes as you might do at home.

Bucks serves lunches from 11 to 2 Monday through Saturday. Menu includes Italian and American cuisine. A huge salad bar will tempt even the most dedicated salad freak. The rule of the house is help yourself to all you want.

Bucks is a family operated business and they claim they'll treat you like one of the family when you visit. Ask for Richard and Vivian Buck when you visit and they'll make you feel at home.

French Police Gain New World Respect

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
The Herald Services

PARIS — (NPA) — Among the many changes which Frenchmen have been exposed to by President Giscard d'Estaing, one which should not go unobserved is the new portrait of the Paris police.

The new and dynamic Minister of Interior Michel Poniatowski, who is in charge of the police, has some definite ideas on making his men more popular. But not too popular. "Fear," the minister pointed out recently in a weekly magazine, "is the mother of wisdom. Something the public should learn."

The outer image of the Parisian "flic" (cop) has changed considerably since the end of World War II — modernized uniforms of white shirt and black tie, white gloves and white raincoats in lieu of the once-familiar heavy, circular capes (which could also come in handy as a defensive measure during riots) and, in the summer, crisp cotton shirts the color of a package of "Gauloise bleue" cigarettes.

But despite the outward change, they, unfortunately, still remain unloved by the great mass of citizenry. The problem is that reputedly rational logical Frenchmen cannot get it into their heads that if they are innocent, they have nothing to fear. The mere mention of the word "police" makes them apprehensive.

Not so long ago, after a demonstration in the Latin Quarter, somebody had written in large letters on the sidewalk "A good cop is a dead cop."

On the other hand, Minister Poniatowski is aware that "there is room for improvement" in policemen's manners. What he wants is a police force that is social and liberal.

Rookie flics have a special school in Northern France where they are taught the rudiments of civics and psychology and familiarize themselves with the constitutional rights of their countrymen, as well as the rules and regulations which go with their powers. If the flic is unloved, he, on the other hand, is often apt to forget the golden rule that for the most part, his fellowmen have the right to expect correct treatment and aid.

Most of the men in the police school, some 160, are between ages 24 and 34. Recruiting ads which urged "Join the Police" attracted a number of young men from various walks of life

The Florida Department of Natural Resources suggests serving delicious Florida blue crab economically by using the sweet brown clawmeat. 1 pound blue crabmeat, fresh, frozen or pasteurized
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/4 teaspoon seafood seasoning
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup dry bread, cereal, or cracker crumbs

"... Coming on the heels of the 5.5 per cent pay raise for federal workers is an increase of 25 per cent and more in the price of food served in the Senate cafeterias. I question this method of taking back the pay increase for Senate employees... I do not understand how the House (of Representatives) cafeteria is able to operate effectively with an overall 25 per cent lower cost to employees who eat there. The price of chili rose better than 30 per cent... from 65 to 85 cents."

Homemaking Tips Offered

Wise food shopping will be one of the topics discussed by Carolyn Lewis during her two and a half hour lecture.

—Buy frozen vegetables in large plastic bags and use just the amount you need.

—Use the syrup drained from canned fruits. It's hidden sugar! Boil down and use to sweeten cereals, fresh fruits, other desserts.

—Keep a list of what you usually pay for staples so you can easily recognize real "special" prices.

—Get back to baking. It's fun and your family will appreciate home baked products.

The Evening Herald staff and area merchants are very busy with their plans for this upcoming event at Sanford Civic Center.

Miss Lewis will be demonstrating new recipe ideas under a newly acquired larger demonstration mirror, which affords better viewing for the thousands of people who watch her demonstrate each year.

Her program will include at least a dozen recipes from the 1975 "Homings Helps" Cookbook. Recently off the presses, it includes recipes for desserts, beverages, main dishes, salads, vegetables, yeast breads and more. Everyone will be able to follow the recipes in their own free copy of the cookbook.

The foods prepared during the show will be awarded prizes at the close of the program after being shown to the audience. Taste-tempting, practical, interesting, new — all describe these recipes demonstrated on the Civic Center stage.

There will be other prizes awarded including 20 bags of groceries. Local merchants are making plans also for their own involvement. In cooperation with The Evening Herald and local merchants, well-known, nationally advertised products make this possible. These products are: Blue Bonnet Margarine, Premium Saltine Crackers from Nabisco, Fleischmann's Yeast, Fruit Fresh, Nestle Instant Tea, Sunbeam Corporation Small Appliances, Taster's Choice 100 per cent Freeze Dried Coffee, Woodcrafter Furniture Polish. Samples and coupons from some of these national sponsors will also be included in the free gift bag which each person receives.

Ice, Juice, Water Within Fingertips

Ice, juice or water at the touch of the finger is available in this door of a new refrigerator designed by Frigidaire. The refreshment center dispenses two separate beverages, chilled water and ice cubes. A "strength" control dial for each beverage dispenser can be set for rich, mild or anything in between to add just the right amount of water to the concentrated liquid automatically. New refrigerator has a net refrigerated volume of 20 cubic feet.

Ice, juice, or water in just the right quantities or concentration are now at the family's fingertips without any fuss or bother, because you don't even have to open the refrigerator door to get them.

A refreshment center that dispenses two separate beverages, chilled water and ice cubes is built right into the door of an innovative new refrigerator developed by Frigidaire, the home environment division of General Motors. This was announced by Harold W. Campbell, GM vice president and general manager of the division.

Two concentrate containers in the dispenser compartment each hold 24 ounces of liquid concentrate. A "strength" control dial for each beverage dispenser can be set for rich, mild or anything in between to

Margarine Originated In 1860

The product we know as margarine dates back to the 1860's at the time of the Franco-Prussian War. Emperor Napoleon III offered a prize to anyone who could make a substitute for butter. A chemist named Hippolyte Mege-Mouries won the prize with a table spread called oleomargarine.

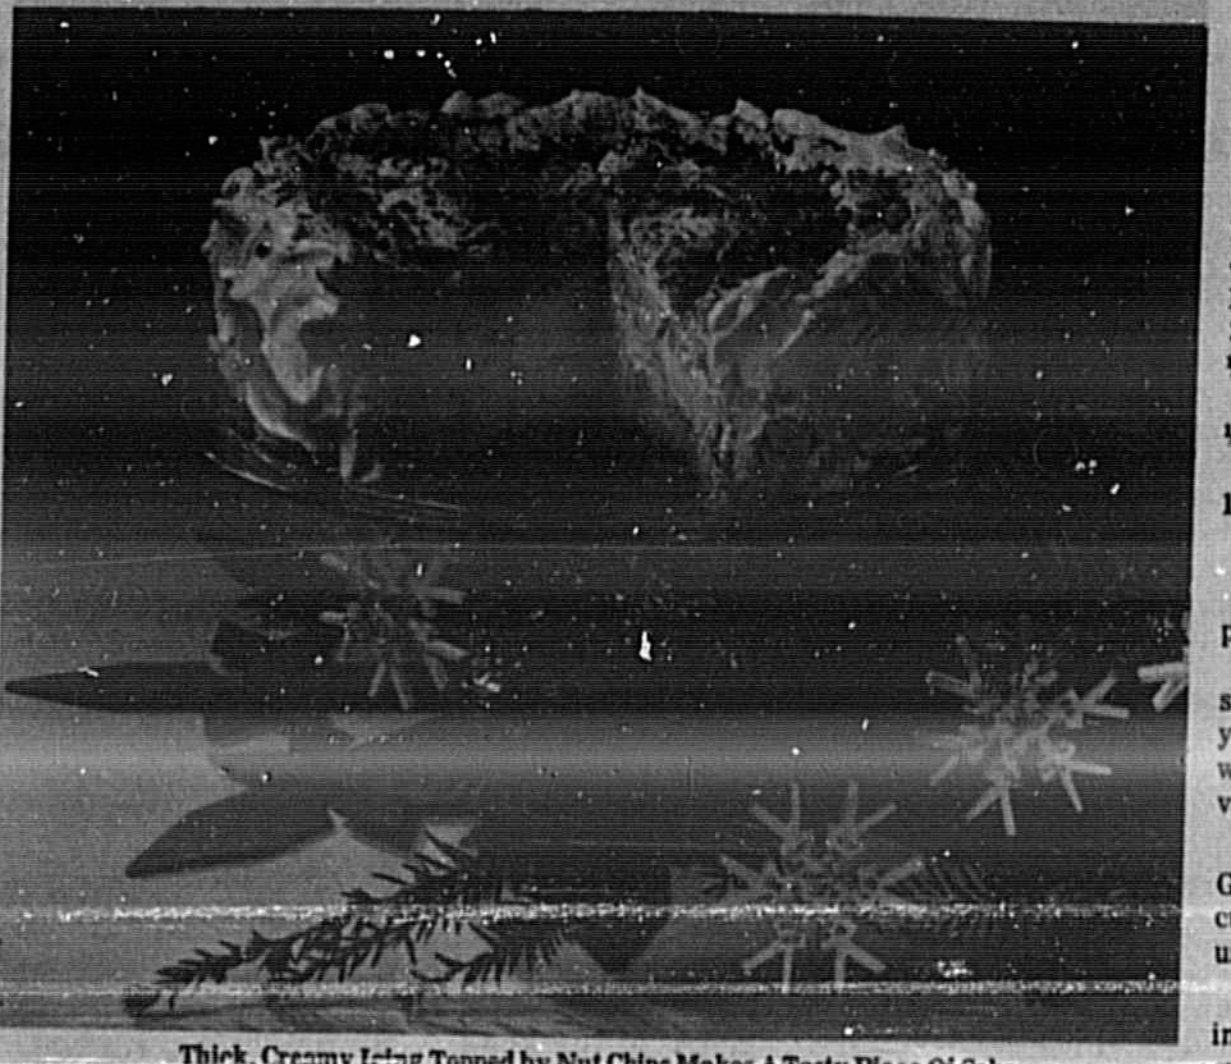

Margarine was introduced in the U.S. in 1874, but did not become generally used until after World War II. Since then it has grown steadily more popular, and today margarine is the nation's leading spread for bread. It is also one of the most widely used shortenings in cookery.

From the manufacturers of the best-selling brand of margarine comes a new booklet outlining the uses of margarine in cookery. Called "The Blue Bonnet Book of Creative Cookery," it provides important background facts for the beginning cook as well as a "refresher-course" in up-to-date information for experienced hands in the kitchen.

Starting with planning and preparing simple family meals, the booklet progresses to party-time treats (pics, laris, cake frostings, etc.) and informal entertaining (including menu suggestions and recipes). It culminates with a seated dinner for guests featuring elegant Chicken Kiev. A special section at the end includes specialties, such as Puff Pastry Turnovers and Crepes Suzette, for the now-accomplished cook.

You will want to write for your copy of "The Blue Bonnet Margarine Book of Creative Cookery." It's free from: Blue Bonnet Margarine, P.O. Box 2095, Grand Central Station, New York, New York 10017.

Thick Creamy Icing Topped by Nut Chips Makes A Tasty Piece Of Cake

CHERRY MERINGUE TORTE
Makes one 8-inch cake

1/2 cup unsifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine, softened
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 tablespoons milk
1/4 cup chopped pecans or Diamond Walnuts
1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; set aside.
Cream margarine and 1/2 cup sugar until very light. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat in vanilla extract; set aside.
Beat egg whites until frothy. Gradually beat in remaining 1 cup sugar. Continue beating until soft peaks form; set aside.
Alternately blend sifted dry ingredients and milk into creamed margarine mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Spread into 2 greased 8-inch round cake pans. Spread meringue mixture evenly over batter to within 1/2-inch of pan edge. Sprinkle one layer with nuts. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes, or until done. Cool in pans on wire racks. Gently loosen edges with spatula before removing from pans.
Fold cherries into whipped cream. Use to fill and frost sides of layers starting with plain meringue layer, top side up. Top with second layer, cake side down.

Canning, Freezing To Help Reduce Rising Food Costs

What with food prices on the rise, every housewife is on the lookout for some money saving suggestions.

One sure way to cut costs (without cutting down on your family's diet) is to try your hand at preserving.

Canning or freezing your favorite fruits isn't difficult. In fact, in just a few hours you can preserve and store enough fruit for a wide variety of taste-pleasing salads and desserts.

The trick, of course, is to stock up on fruit when it's least expensive so that when next winter rolls around you'll be able to serve fresh fruit dishes at just a fraction of the off-season prices.

Whether you choose the canning or freezing method, you'll want to be sure that your fruit stays as fresh and delicious as possible. For this, all you have to do is add a handy little product called Fruit Fresh to your canning syrup or dry sugar pack. Fruit Fresh has a special ingredient that locks in freshness and flavor and keeps fruit from turning brown and mushy.

With Fruit Fresh, you can be assured that your fruit dishes will look and taste "just-picked" even when you serve them months later.

Fruit Fresh is easy to use. For instance, as you slice and peel the fruit, put it directly into a Fruit Fresh solution (3 tbs. to 2 qts. of water). This will prevent browning or discoloring that occurs when fruit is exposed to air. Since the fresh, natural flavor of fruit is lost when it browns, Fruit Fresh actually helps preserve flavor by preventing browning. To prove this to yourself, slice a fresh peach in half. Immerse one half in Fruit Fresh solution and leave the two halves side by side. You'll see the difference in minutes.

Besides canning or freezing, you can use Fruit Fresh now on your fresh fruit dishes.

But here's a fabulous dessert you might want to try with peaches that you have preserved with Fruit Fresh:

SUNBURST TARTS
1 package piecrust mix
2 cups soft custard, chilled
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups sliced preserved peaches

Prepare piecrust according to directions on package. Roll out 1/4 inch thick on a lightly floured board. Cut and fit into tart pans and prick. Bake in a hot oven 425 degrees F about 10 minutes. Cool. Store in refrigerator until ready to use. To assemble tarts fill half full with custard. Place peach slices on custard and top with a dab of jam or preserve. Makes 8 tarts.

Iced Tea: Most Popular Drink In World

More people drink tea today than any other beverage. Most of it is grown in India, China, Ceylon, Indonesia, Africa, Japan, and Taiwan but experimenters once grew delicious tea in South Carolina. For centuries, tea has been a beverage associated with leisurely living. The formal style of tea, in the English style or in Japan, required preparation time, or even hired help. Our life style now seldom allows for complicated tea ceremonies but we do have instant Nestea — quickly prepared with no messy tea leaves to bother about later. "The cup that cheers" is a flavorful beverage with a taste and aroma that have made it a truly unusual favorite throughout the world. For a warm refresher you may like this Nestea recipe hot, but others may like the very popular "iced Nestea" way: INSTANT RUSSIAN TEA

- MIX
- 1 (1 lb. 2 oz.) large jar instant dry orange drink mix
 - 1 cup Nestea
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 teaspoon cloves
 - 1 (3 oz.) pkg. dry imitation flavored lemonade mix

- (with sugar)
- Thoroughly mix all ingredients together (may use tightly covered containers and shake.) Use 3 teaspoons for each cup of hot or cold water. Store in containers for handy use. Try this recipe the next time you are having guests and want to serve a delicious punch.
- GOLDEN WEDDING PUNCH
- 2 cups water
 - 2 tablespoons Nestea
 - 3 cups orange juice
 - 1 cup lemon juice
 - 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
- In 2 1/2 qt. bowl, combine water and Nestea; stir until dissolved. Add orange, lemon and pineapple juices, sugar and grenadine; stir until sugar dissolves. Chill. Pour tea mixture into 4 qt. decorative bowl; add ice cubes or ice ring. Before serving add ginger ale. Garnish with halved fresh strawberries, lemon and orange slices, if desired. Punch cups may be garnished with sliced strawberries. Makes 24 4-oz. servings.

A Soup For Home

The word homemade evokes fond memories in most of us — memories of Mom, apple pie and the other good things which came from her kitchen. In winter, she knew there was nothing better than a warming soup to come home to. Now we don't often take the time for made-from-scratch soups. Here's a soup recipe

CREAMY MIXED VEGETABLE SOUP

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen mixed vegetables, thawed
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 1/2 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- Few dashes ground nutmeg
- Snipped parsley
- Premium Saltine Crackers

In saucepan melt butter or margarine; add onion and sauté until golden. Stir in vegetables and sauté a few minutes. Stir in flour; then next five ingredients. Bring to boil; then simmer, covered, about 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Blend in electric blender until smooth. Sprinkle with parsley and serve with Premium Saltine Crackers. Makes 6 (about two-third cup) servings.

Double up, America.

Two can ride cheaper than one.

Frypan Cooks Slow

The versatility of an electric frypan and all the tenderness and great flavors of slow cooking have been combined in a new Sunbeam product, the Crocker Frypan. Sunbeam has added a removable crockery insert to its deluxe FPFP Frypan and produced a special use-care-recipe book with tested recipes for slow cooking in the new unit. The cover of the frypan fits either the frypan itself or the crockery insert when the insert is in place. Standard frypan recipes and cooking procedures can be followed when the crockery insert is removed. The FPFP is Sunbeam's Cook "in" Clean model, with a liner that can be removed from the leg-base cradle. The shield of the cradle prevents grease build-up on the bottom of the frypan and both the crockery insert and frypan liner can be washed in a dishwasher when the cradle is removed, if desired. The interior of the Crocker Frypan is black Teflon II and the exterior is porcelainized, again making clean-ups easy. It is available in Avocado as Model 7-152 and in Harvest Gold as Model 7-153. The crockery insert is lightweight. It can be used as a serving liner at the table, or as a serving dish when not used with the Crocker Frypan, adding another dimension to its versatility. Sunbeam plans to offer the crockery insert separately to consumers who already own Sunbeam Frypans. It will be packed with an instruction book with recipes and it fits all standard, large-size Sunbeam frypans. ROLLED STUFFED ROUND STEAK Heat Control Setting: 300 deg. and cook.

- Time: 7-9 hours
- 2 - 3 thinly sliced (1/4") round steaks
 - 2 medium onions, chopped
 - 4 slices soft bread, cut into small cubes
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon thyme
 - 1/4 teaspoon sage, ground
 - 1 1/2 cup hot water
 - 1 1/2 cups water; beef broth or bouillon

Exterior Decorating Should Be Done Now

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Herald Services

Winter is the ideal time to review the exterior decoration of your home with spring in your mind. Look at it not only from an aesthetic viewpoint, but from a practical one — proper placement of plantings can make a house warmer, blocking north winds and letting in sunlight, an economy factor, too. It is a good time to observe the outdoor incinerator, clothes dryer and barbecue in relation to the landscape. Should any of these things be screened out with trees, bushes, other plantings? You may need to purchase older plantings that can serve as screens in the immediate future, but the cost should be viewed as a long-term investment. A method chosen by one family began with photographs, long shots and close-ups of their house, front and back. They examined enlarged photographs to decide how plantings in front of the house could be improved and they used black markers to draw a more attractive size and dimension for some bushes that needed only ruthless pruning. Two cedar trees that were keeping sunlight from the dining area were earmarked for removal because the family used the room for breakfast and it seemed dreary. They decided they couldn't be sentimental about it. They replaced the trees with rhododendron.

Some people have the problem in reverse — plantings haven't grown as they had anticipated, and sometimes all the plants grow out of the balance that they had envisioned when they planned the plot. If plants are put in willy-nilly, you can't always tell how they will look in relation to one another when they grow. Experts should be consulted about any plants you want to use around the house.

On noisy streets, some plantings — hedges, bushes, trees — could be denser. But density need not look like uncultivated brush.

After you decide on the symmetry you might need, a visit to a nurseryman with before and after pictures can enlist knowledgeable advice. After all, you'll want to know how tall the plants you've sketched in the photograph will go, how soon and so on. For example, it may seem like an utter waste to plant white pine, spruce or fir six feet apart so they can be used as a screen, but within a few years these trees will have spread considerably. They can be planted in such a way that they can serve as a screen meanwhile. The pictures may be a good guide for your gardening expert but then again he may volunteer to visit your plot.

There's A New Mixmaster Mixer On The Market

Do you bake bread at home? Do you have troubles mixing heavier cookie batters with your present mixer? Well there's a new Sunbeam Mixmaster Mixer on the market you should know about. It has a more powerful motor than past Sunbeam Mixers and a new fan to keep the motor cool during heavy work. It also has new "dough hook" regular beaters, in addition to the yeast bread doughs or heavier cookie doughs. It not only will mix yeast bread doughs, it will knead them to take the heavy work out of bread baking! The Homemakers Schools are featuring bread-making currently and Homemakers School Home Economist Carolyn Lewis uses the new Sunbeam Mixmaster Mixer in her demonstrations. All the reasons Miss Lewis has liked Sunbeam's Mixers in the past have been continued: a 12-speed, governor-controlled motor to provide full power at lower speeds; automatic bowl rotations; removable beaters for easy cleaning, and a removable cord for easy storage. The new mixers are available in White, Harvest Gold, Avocado, each with glass bowls, or a deluxe, Chrome model with stainless steel bowls. If you've loved homemade bread but disliked the work of mixing and kneading the dough, this Sunbeam could shine a ray of help into your kitchen! See this Sunbeam Mixer demonstrated in a variety of bread recipes at the Homemaker School.

Tucker Has Time To Build Support

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A quirk in House rules has given Speaker Donald Tucker, Tallahassee, time to build support for his environmental reorganization bill before referring it to a potentially hostile subcommittee.

Allowed by the rules to send bills to just one committee at a time, Tucker has sent his reorganization bill to the friendly Natural Resources Committee.

A Natural Resources subcommittee is scheduled to consider Tucker's bill on March 6 and is expected to grant its overwhelming approval. Tucker's move keeps the measure away from the Governmental Operations Committee, where Rep. Curtis Kiser, R-Dunedin, has threatened a fight in the Executive Reorganization Subcommittee. Tucker said he will refer the bill to Governmental Operations after Natural Resources. He said he favors a rules change allowing referrals to more than one committee at a time.

Keeping the bill away from Governmental Operations while Natural Resources considers it gives Tucker extra time to use his considerable influence as speaker in winning support for the measure, which has been opposed by environmental agency officials, Gov. Reubin Askew and conservationists.

The bill would merge the Department of Pollution Control and Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund into the Department of Natural Resources, taking pollution control away from the governor and putting the new "super agency" under the Cabinet.

"They've got a lot of problems in our subcommittee with the basic concept," Kiser said. "I won't compromise on that issue. It's going to have to be in the governor's office or I won't vote for it."

Kiser counts at least three and possibly four members of the six-member subcommittee as opponents of taking pollution enforcement responsibilities away from the governor's direct control. That's enough to beat the bill in subcommittee. Should the subcommittee vote against the bill, it would take a majority vote of the full committee to revive it under a House rules change engineered by Tucker this year. But he confidently asserted that he has no fear of falling victim to his rule change boosting the power of subcommittees.

"There will be a good bill passed that I can accept,"

No Mystery In Bread Baking

Homemade breads need not be wrapped in mystery. The makers of Fleischmann's Yeast have spent many years developing new methods to make bread baking easier.

Yeast is the leavening for breads. It makes the dough rise and the bread light. Yeast is a living plant that thrives on the sugar in the dough, producing the gas that makes the yeast doughs and batters rise. It also gives them a delicious flavor and aroma.

You'll find more information about yeast baking and taste-tempting baking ideas in the Fleischmann's Bake-It-Easy Yeast Book. To obtain your copy, send your name and address plus 50 cents (no stamps please) to: Fleischmann's Yeast, Box 128, Elm City, North Carolina 27888. Allow 4-6 weeks for delivery. No orders accepted without Zip Code. Offer good only in U.S.A. while supply lasts. Void where prohibited, or restricted.

Change Your Care

If yours is an average family, chances are your furniture is hardly "child-proof" where active youngsters are concerned. Especially the working, eating and playing surfaces of table tops, desks, end and coffee tables, even durable kitchen counters can easily lose their shine unless certain precautions have been taken.

Remember old fashioned paste wax protection? ... its deep, clear, durable shine? Your mother or grandmother knew there was nothing better for her furniture. Maybe you helped rub it on, and remember how great it made the furniture look? Until recently, heavy buffing and polishing was the method used to keep furniture beautiful, to give it wear-protection and keep it showroom new, year after year. Now, paste wax protection and child-proof shine is yours, without work. And, you can do it easily and conveniently with an aerosol spray. It's Colgate's Woodcrafter Furniture Polish made from a special blend of two, hardbase waxes — Car-nauba and Montan. Just spray and wipe! There's no need to reapply. Even children's stubborn fingerprints, smudges and ugly water marks wipe right off.

Woodcrafter offers two distinct fragrances, Wood Fresh (unlike any other product on the market), and Lemon Wood Fresh.

Homemakers Told Avoid Food Waste

Carolyn Lewis of Homemakers Schools recently gave some of her ideas on stretching the food dollar. She feels that homemakers today must avoid waste of food. She suggests:

• Serve smaller portions. Many of us eat more than we need, especially meats. Encourage family members to limit their portions to what they can eat.

• Use leftovers. Serve soups, stews, casseroles, one dish meals, etc., twice a week to utilize leftovers from previous meals.

• Avoid spoilage. Purchase only the amount of fresh produce you can eat while it is fresh. Freeze leftovers until you can use them. Check the refrigerator often for leftovers to be used while they are fresh. Use clear containers for foods so you can easily inventory the refrigerator.

• Buy the right size package. Buy the amount of canned, frozen, or packaged foods you can use after it is opened or freeze. A large can may be less expensive per unit but not if some is wasted.

• Properly store foods. Use a freezer to preserve foods for later use. Refrigerate promptly. Cover tightly, reseal or put into another container to keep fresh.

• During the two and a half hour demonstration at the Homemakers School Miss Lewis will be giving more tips on stretching the food dollar. She will demonstrate at least a dozen recipes selected from the 1975 "Homing Helps" Cookbook. This cookbook contains a wide variety of practical, easy on the budget recipes from

Try These Freshly Baked Bread Rolls

Fresh Bread Brings Back Memories

What smells better than the aroma of freshly baked bread? It may take you back to fond memories of days gone by, but now is the time to bake some bread yourself — not just for the memory, but for the practical money-saving angle. You can also have a lot more variety than you usually find in the supermarket.

One of these modern methods is the Rapid Mix Method. Undissolved yeast is mixed with some of the dry ingredients. This eliminates the need to dissolve the yeast first in warm water before starting to mix the dough or batter.

Rapid Mix makes it easier to blend the ingredients... there's no chance of lumps. The dough feels different when you are kneading it... lighter, springier than other doughs. It also rises faster because you add warmer liquids. The warm dough helps the yeast work faster.

Try these Swedish Rye Rolls or Swedish Skanska Limpa which include rye flour, molasses and caraway seeds. Smell the aroma!

SWEDISH SKANSKA LIMPA

- 4 cups unsifted white flour
- 2 cups sifted rye flour
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon caraway seeds
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 2 cups water
- 1-3 cup dark molasses
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Blue Bonnet Margarine
- 1 egg white, slightly

beaten
1 Caraway seeds
Combine flours; in a large bowl thoroughly blend 2 cups flour mixture, salt, caraway seeds and undissolved dry yeast.

Combine water, molasses and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt.) Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1/4 cup flour mixture, or enough flour mixture to make a thick batter.

Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour mixture to make a soft dough. (If necessary, add additional white flour to obtain desired dough.) Turn dough out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to greased top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough in half. Divide each half into 24 equal pieces. Form each piece into a ball. Place 16 balls in each of 3 greased 8-inch round cake pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Brush with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with caraway seeds. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. Makes 4 dozen.

Preserving Fruit Saves

These days, with the price of goods and services going up and up, "do-it-yourself" is becoming more and more popular. However, are you really saving "do-it-yourself" you might not have thought of preserving your own fresh fruits.

Canning or preserving your own fruit isn't difficult. In fact, all you need is the fruit, a few hours time and a handy little product called Fruit Fresh. Fruit Fresh is what you need to keep the fruit you preserve looking and tasting as delicious as possible. Because Fruit Fresh has a special ingredient that locks in the "just-picked" freshness and flavor by preventing browning and mushy-ness.

For instance, as you pare, peel, slice or halve the fruit, put it directly into a Fruit Fresh solution (3 tablespoons to 2 quarts of water). This will prevent the browning or discoloring that otherwise occurs when cut fruit is exposed to air. Since the fresh natural flavor of fruit is lost when it browns, Fruit Fresh actually preserves flavor by preventing browning.

For proof positive of Fruit Fresh's unique benefits, simply cut an apple in half. Coat one half with Fruit Fresh and leave the other half untouched. You'll be able to see the difference in minutes!
Incidentally, Fruit Fresh is equally effective when you're serving fresh fruit dishes, too. Like fruit salads or fresh fruit desserts. Before serving, simply sprinkle on some Fruit Fresh, toss well and relax. Your fruit will stay fresh and flavorful in the months ahead. Here's one recipe that make you glad you preserved some fruit in Fruit Fresh.

APRICOT MOUSSE

- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup water
- 12 preserved apricots
- juice of 1 lemon
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream whipped
- Soak gelatine in water for 5 minutes. Put over low heat and stir until dissolved. Combine gelatine, apricots, lemon juice and sugar in a blender. Whip fruit is lost when it unthickens. Fold apricot puree into heavy cream. Blend thoroughly. Freeze until firm. Spoon into sherbet glasses. Makes 1-1/2 quarts.

Bernice Bede Orl's this week in astrology

Dear Bernice:
 In 32 years of marriage, I've had several ideas for going into business. My husband has always discouraged me. Later, someone else has been disappointed. Astrologically, why can I be dissuaded? My birth date is July 11, 1921, Brooklyn, N.Y. His is Aug. 16, 1920, Brooklyn, N.Y.

DEAR MRS. O: YOUR CHART SHOWS YOUR COMMERCIAL INSTINCTS AS TO THE PUBLIC'S NEEDS ARE EXTREMELY SHARP. THE PROBLEM: YOU DO NOT POSSESS ENOUGH INDEPENDENCE TO BE A SELF-STARTER. YOU CAN BE DISSUADED BY ANYONE NOT SHARING YOUR ENTHUSIASM. BUSINESSWISELY, A PARTNER IS ESSENTIAL TO SUPPLY THE INITIATIVE AND DARING. MARRIAGE PARTNERS DO NOT ALWAYS MAKE THE BEST BUSINESS PARTNERS. YOUR HUSBAND HAS THE BOLDNESS HIS CHART SHOWS. HE'S NOT LIKELY TO GET OVERLY EXCITED ABOUT AN IDEA NOT HIS.

AS THE WEEK OF MARCH 2-MARCH 8 BEGINS, PEOPLE IN GENERAL TEND TO BE OVERLY OPTIMISTIC REGARDING OUTCOME OF EVENTS. MISCALCULATIONS AT HIGH LEVELS ARE LIKELY. AT THIS TIME SAGITTARIANS AND PISCANS SHOULD STRIVE TO DEAL ONLY IN REALITIES. MIDWEEK OUR ECONOMY GETS BRUISED A BIT MORE. ON FRIDAY WE'LL HAVE SOME HOPEFUL NEWS. THE WEEK CLOSURES WITH DISSIDENT GROUPS BEING EXTREMELY RESTLESS AND APT TO DISPLAY DISPLEASURE IRRATIONALLY.

YOUR WEEK AHEAD

- ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're luckier on Monday with handling business matters than on Sunday. Interesting news Tuesday. Poor judgment Wednesday. Conditions unstable Thursday. Week closes successfully.
- TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Partnership situations are tricky but manageable as week opens. Be cautious about loaning to or borrowing from friends midweek. Difficult plan succeeds Friday. Unrealistic goals Saturday.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An advantage careerwise Monday. Be flexible about the type of agreements you make Tuesday. Wednesday. Old debts pop up on Thursday, but Friday will be profitable.
- CANCER (June 21-July 21) Social contacts you make Monday will later prove valuable. Tuesday, a trying work day. Wednesday you slack off. As week closes a difficult issue will be resolved harmoniously.
- LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) A confidential happening is beneficial Monday. Tuesday. Wednesday curb impulses to take risks, especially with belongings of others. Watch health matters Thursday. You'll like Friday.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) An idea works out fortunately Monday. Questionable judgment regarding domestic affairs midweek. A social mishap Thursday. Popularity's at a peak Friday. Be careful with tools Saturday.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Good financial prospects at beginning of week. Keep plans to yourself Wednesday. Hectic at home Thursday. Things cool down by Friday. Don't take risks moneywise this weekend.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Generally lucky Monday. Midweek will be a budget buster if you cater to your extravagances. Don't be quarrelsome Thursday. Best ideas Friday. Protect possessions this weekend.
- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something is concluded successfully as week begins Tuesday. Wednesday you have too many irons in the fire. Thursday is rough on the purse but you turn a profit Friday.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Monday an unexpected break comes through a friend. Midweek, don't bank too heavily on your hunches. Thursday is frustrating. Friday is your best day. Expensive weekend.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) An important goal is reachable early in week. Outside interests create a drain on resources Wednesday. You're hemmed in by responsibilities Thursday. Unexpected help Friday.
- PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Plans go smoothly on Monday. Keep ambitions fired up midweek or you'll fall short of your target. A problem with some friends Thursday which you'll work out by Friday.

WHY DO WE GET A FEVER?
YOU ALWAYS HAVE A TEMPERATURE, BUT YOU DON'T ALWAYS HAVE A FEVER. YOUR BODY HAS A TEMPERATURE OF ABOUT 98.6° F WHEN IT IS HEALTHY. WHEN YOU HAVE A FEVER, YOUR TEMPERATURE MAY SHOOT UP AS HIGH AS 100° OR MORE. A FEVER IS ALWAYS ALWAYS A SIGN THAT YOUR BODY IS SICK IN SOME WAY.
