BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

GOD'S TENDER MERCIES:—Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy loving kindnesses; for they have been ever of old. Psalm 25:6.

PRAYER:—We thank Thee, Lord that Thy Mercy is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Thee.

Destruction of fish continues. And they are not being destroyed by their natural enemies, either.

Some folks seemed to think there was something fishy about the Iszak Walton League's fish bill.

"Wales Reaches Paris Incognito," headline. Must be one of those new-fangled French runabouts.

Fortunately, there have not yet been recorded any accidents of a serious nature at the downtown railroad crossings.

The Iszak Walton League should not overlook the zealous work performed by its secretary, S. R. Dighton.

If Easter were good for nothing else, it served to give Sanford churches their largest attendance in a year.

With the baseball season upon us we wonder what will be the favorite excuse of the office boys this summer.

No matter how ravenous the Gators are today, we don't believe the Celery Feds will prove a very choice morsel for them to devour.

"We can use a Canal," says the Leeburg Commercial, but it has been our experience that you can't untill you get it.

They tell us that there was a celebration last Saturday in a prominent attorney's office in the Seminole County Bank building.

Throughout the nation the days from May 1 to 7 will constitute National Music Week. In Sanford making preparations for its observance?

The best fish story of the season comes from Daytona Beach. There thirty men fought for fifty minutes to land a fifteen hundred pound shark.

His heart is sewed up. A young man in New Orleans submitted to an operation which resulted in eight stitches being taken in his heart to close a stab wound.

If you ever open a restaurant make it a small one so it will look busy.—Saratoga Times. Why not open a big one, advertise it in a big way, and it will look busy too?

A leading state paper says "our editorial policy is not warped by private interests therefore this newspaper is enabled to serve its public as only a non-subsidized paper can."

The mayor will throw out the first ball in Friday's game but unlike the president he has no sprained wrist to blame if he should pitch one over that is a bit wild.

It's still open season for those matrimonially inclined. We are patiently waiting for a certain young professional light, a rosy young business man and a bespectacled young banker to fall in line.

The only fault we find with the Florida State News of Tallahassee is that it spells Florida "Floridian." But it is young and probably will grow out of it. Palm Beach Independent. You're optimistic. Some editors have been misspelling this word for sixty years and will probably keep right on until they register with Gabriel.—Sanford Herald. And when Gabriel calls, we believe he will omit the "i" in Floridian.—Deland News. Faith sublime.—Palm Beach Independent. Should be as strong as Gibraltar and doubtless is.—Gainesville Sun. Yes, scientists and artillerymen imitate Rotarians in saying Gibraltar ain't what it used to be, ain't what it used to be, ain't what it used to be, forty-five years ago.—Palm Beach Independent.

It Can't Be Any Higher

Saturday afternoon the City Commission wisely decided to withhold action on the extension of the franchise of the Florida Power and Light Company until the people of Sanford had been given an opportunity to express their views in a general meeting to be held at the Court House during the early part of May. The present franchise expires at the end of seven years and the Power Company desires a new one covering a period of thirty years.

It is the contention of Joe Gill, vice president and general manager of the company, that the difficulties of financing under a seven year franchise are almost insurmountable. Bankers and investors in general want to know, before making loans or purchasing bonds, that the company will be privileged to do business for a period long enough to make investments reasonably secure. When large sums of money and a low rate of interest are concerned, seven years is a short period of time.

The request of the Power Company certainly deserves every consideration of the people of Sanford. Electrical service in this city has improved tremendously in the past two years under the regime of the present operators and is now everything in the way of power and lighting perfection that one could ask. The company has spent a vast sum of money in making this service possible and has located in this vicinity one of its main plants, which is decidedly an asset to this city and has contributed much to its industrial growth.

If it is within the realm of reason, the franchise asked for by the Power Company should be granted. All the people of Sanford want is maximum service with minimum rate. The record of the company assures them of the former. It is up to the people to speak for themselves as to the latter. The officials of the company say the rate compares favorably with rates in other cities, and is not sufficiently large to make a reasonably return upon the investment of the company in Sanford.

To many people it seems large. To some it seems unbearable. But whether this is due to an extravagant or careless use of electrical current, or a reduction in personal incomes without a corresponding reduction in personal luxuries, we are unable to say. Neither is it at all positive that a municipally owned plant or one of another company could furnish current at a lower rate.

Of one thing we can be sure that if the new franchise is granted the Power Company, the rate will never be any higher. Section VII reads, "That the rates fixed by the Grantee from time to time shall at all times be just and reasonable, and, subject to reasonable minimum charges and service guarantees, Grantee's net rates for electric energy furnished for lighting purpose shall not exceed eleven cents per kilowatt hour."

So it is up to the people to say what they think of the present rate, and they should attend the May meeting in large numbers to voice their opinions.

A Good Business

Whether Sanford should continue its efforts to become a tourist resort or abandon them altogether in favor of agricultural and industrial activities is a problem which civic leaders should give serious thought. The Herald is one of those who are firmly convinced that the failure to formulate a positive tourist policy would be a vital mistake in the development of the city.

One of the Palm Beach colony, in writing for the New York Times says, "I am entirely satisfied that if Florida will get down to brass tacks and plan a campaign that will increase its only paying crop, TOURISM, the state will gradually improve, as it should. On the other hand, if your promoters continue and are partially successful in promoting agriculture in any and every branch, of anything but tourists, your grief will continue and is deserved. Old Nature does her work well. She provided Florida with a wonderful climate to be enjoyed by those who have sufficient money to spend their winters where they wish. She gave Florida a climate from May to November that requires born natives to stand and they provide conditions pleasing to your great and only paying crop, 'TOURISTS.'"

We think this writer is inclined to be extreme. In fact, when he said that tourists were our only paying crop, he was decidedly mistaken. The Tampa Times, in commenting on this letter, gives a long list of Florida's "paying crops," which include among others sponge fisheries, citrus fruits, poultry, hogs, cattle, and sheep, lumber, manufactures, and sugar. We in Seminole county are firmly convinced of the paying qualities of celery.

But it cannot be denied that in Florida the tourist is a great "crop," one of the easiest to cultivate and one of the surest of a profitable return. Give him a place to stay, good food to eat, and you have him. If you want to please him especially and be sure of his returning another winter, give him a good course on which to play golf, and a brook or a pond in which he can hook trout. If you wish to throw in something gratis which will make him tell friends and bring them down with him, give him a pleasant environment with enough "jazz" so that a man can fox trot without being talked about, but not so wild that he is apt to be held up or shot when ever he steps out at night, or poisoned to death whenever he drinks a cocktail.

Agriculture has done wonderful things for Sanford and every civic organization should unite in the further promotion of it, but the "tourist crop" is a lucrative business when properly handled.

FAST TIMES ON FLORIDA RAILROADS

LAKELAND STAR-TELEGRAM

Railroad men throughout the State will be interested in a remarkable performance in the matter of speed, recorded by the Florida East Coast Railway. That line has come into prominence within the last few years as being one of the best-equipped and operated railway properties in the entire country; less than a year ago a double-track line was opened all the way through between Jacksonville and Miami, the main line shortened by the construction of what is known as the Multirte cut-off between St. Augustine and Bunnell, saving something like nineteen miles; every inch of the road has been rock-ballasted and oil is used for fuel in generating the steam for the huge locomotives that are said to be the last word in mechanical progress. Added to all this has been the installation of automatic block signals over the entire system. And what does all this mean? A remarkable cutting down of time schedules. In the old days it required about ten hours to make the run between Miami and St. Augustine even with the fastest trains. One day a week a special train clipped off the 310 miles between Miami and St. Augustine in five hours and eight minutes. Admittedly this is much faster than the regular schedule even under the newer and better conditions for it meant that the special average 60.5 miles per hour including stops to change engines and for train inspection at division points, this representing a delay of fifteen minutes. The actual running time was 293 minutes for the 310 miles at the rate of 63.5 miles per hour. The incident is noteworthy as indicating the high state of efficiency reached by the rail lines operating in Florida.

60 Billion Population.
 It's Time To Prepare.

 A Job With General Motors.

DIKES ARE REPORTED crumbling along the lower Mississippi, 800 are homeless in Kentucky, 1,000 in Arkansas, and rivers continue rising.

"Hold the levees at any cost," is the order sent out. Levees are made of mud, permanent defense is needed, and it is not impossible. Great reservoirs could be planned for temporary diversion of surplus waters. Colonel William Beyce Thompson has said that modern engineering could use all surplus Mississippi waters on western desert land.

THE WORLD WILL NEED fresh water, now wasted, for irrigation, and rich soil now washed, millions of tons, into the gulf and ocean, if Prof. A. E. Ross, of Wisconsin, learned sociologist, is accurate in his figures.

HE SAYS EARTH'S population will multiply itself by 32, by 2027. That date is only 100 years away, and when it rolls swiftly around—some children living will see it—the population of the world will be sixty billions, instead of one billion, nine hundred millions, as at present.

THOSE FIGURES ARE based on the fact that life lasts longer, plagues and famines no longer rage over the earth, even war is milder, since women, children and prisoners are no longer massacred.

The figures need not frighten us. "God does not let trees grow into the heavens." Texas alone could feed the earth's present population, with intensive cultivation, and have much left over. But 60 billions, and later, 100 billions of human beings will need plenty of fertile grounds, and governments should begin to get it ready.

JOHN M. PARKER, ex-governor of Louisiana, who fought and defeated the Ku Klux Klan at Mer Rouge, is out for Governor Smith of New York for Democratic candidate in 1928.

Mr. Parker says, "The South will swing into line for Governor Smith," and gives him the highest endorsement as the best possible Democratic candidate.

AT THE SAME TIME a poll on Coolidge and the "third term" results, it should, in the overwhelming opinion that there is no "third term" at issue. The poll decides that finishing out an unexpired term, due to death, is not a "Presidential term." It is the election that counts, of course.

It looks like "A1 against Cal," a Coolidge-Smith battle in 1928.

ALFRED P. SLOAN, President of General Motors, and Pierre S. DuPont, will be inundated by applications from young gentlemen that would like to "grow up with the business" when the new plan is announced for a second managers' securities company.

General Motors would supply cash to buy $35,000,000 worth of common shares before the end of 1930, and junior executives of General Motors would share the profits on this purchase.

The idea is not philanthropy, but a desire to interest junior executives, personally and intensely, in General Motors' earnings.

SUCH A PLAN WAS started in 1923 for the General Motors, senior managers. The managers' securities company, started four years ago, with $33,750,000, is now worth $150,000,000.

THAT ONE PROFIT-SHARING idea in four years has been worth more than $150,000,000 over and above their salaries to the senior managers of General Motors. That makes it worth while to work, and undoubtedly helps to explain the extraordinary profits and rapid success of the General Motors Corporation. Give your employees a share in the profits if you can. They will love you, but they love themselves more. That is human nature.

NEWS FROM CHINA WILL grieve our bolshevik brothers. They fight each other here and there, but the Chinese seem to have agreed on one thing, that they don't want bolshevism. Groups of "reds" are broken up, their arms seized, unions forbidden.

TO KEEP WELL, WALK. Edward Payson Weston, 87 years old, knocked down by a taxicab and thought to be fatally injured, is well again and will walk to church tomorrow. His recovery amazes doctors, considering his age. All his life he has been a walker, the world's champion walker in fact. He has kept his backbone erect, his body well shaken up, his whole physical machine constantly and normally exercised. Walk, breathing deeply, chest expanded, and live longer.

NOTICE ONE THING about Mussolini whether you like his absolute power or not. He keeps Italy on her feet financially. Italy is poor, but the lira is now worth more than 5 cents. France is very rich, yet the franc, originally of more value than the lira, is worth less than 4 cents. Mussolini, who says, "I refuse to be assassinated," also says, "I refuse to let the lira collapse." The lira is not assassinated, and the lira does not collapse. There is will power there and efficiency, so far.

The Miracle Man

NEUROTIC AMERICA

THE FORUM

"America is God's Own Country," writes Professor William McDougall, the English psychologist who recently gave up his chair at Harvard to move on to Duke University.

That, for an Englishman, is a large admission! But Professor McDougall hastily qualifies his startling admission by adding that "the crime rate in general and the homicide rate in particular are monstrously high."

And this, he suggests, is extremely odd. Most people think that crime is due to poverty or unemployment or lack of education. Yet here is the richest country now in existence, and certainly the most educated, going in for crime to beat the band. It takes a psychologist to answer, and Professor McDougall, being a psychologist, obligingly answers.

The answer is—Nerves, American nerves. Dreadful things! Most of us have 'em. Or, as Professor McDougall more dignifiedly put it: "A rising tide of neurosis has run parallel with the rising tide of crime. No statistical evidence is available, but there is ground for believing that America far exceeds all other countries in this respect also; perhaps not so greatly as in respect of crime, but still very greatly. Neuroshenlia was discovered in America and has often been called the American disease. And in the Great War the incidence of neurotic troubles in the American army in proportion to the length of its service in the field seems to have been extremely high. This high frequency of neurotic disorder seems to be another symptom arising from just that social condition, which, as I have suggested, is responsible for the rising tide of crime. Neurosis in all its forms is the consequence of moral conflict; it expresses lack of harmony and integration if the forces of character, the impulses of the human heart.

"Nothing tends so strongly to promote harmony and integration of character as a clear-cut moral tradition brought to bear on each man with all force of unanimous community sentiment and unquestioned community sanctions. Under such conditions each man knows what is right and what is wrong (or believes he does) and acts accordingly.

"But where traditions are discredited and weakened, where communities are shifting and shapeless, and where each man's place in his community is undefined and temporary, there men are thrown back on themselves and are perpetually called upon to make moral decisions; and, in the absence of clear guidance and sanction from community opinion, this is too great a task for most of us. The decisions are never made; and, in the moral sense, such men live from hand to mouth. Thus they become the seat of unresolved moral conflicts, which in so many cases result in neurotic disorder."

CONFIDENCE AND FAITH IN ORLANDO

ORLANDO SENTINEL.

The Yowell-Drew company has been a dominating influence and a source of inspiration in Orlando, Orange County and Florida for a period of 35 years. Under the unswerving leadership of N. P. Yowell and a staff of loyal associates the Yowell-Drew company has always set a dizzy pace for others to follow.

It does not require much effort to remember the gloomy days of thirteen years ago when the corporation erected a four story building on a 90 by 90 foot lot at the corner of Orange and Central avenues. This vision was rewarded in a few scant years by the addition of a fifth story to the addition, followed later by an annex of three stories, and later the raising of the annex, the erection of a new unit larger than the original structure, and finally the remodeling of the entire plant into the handsome department store in southeastern America.

It is a stimulating, invigorating and encouraging asset to growing Florida to have such an institution dominating the horizon of our economic, financial and commercial life. In making its announcement yesterday that certificates of deposit on the new Orlando Commercial Bank would be accepted at 100 cents on the dollar, is another demonstration that the Yowell-Drew company is pointing the way to a future of confidence and faith in Orlando, its people and its institutions.

For forty years N. P. Yowell has watched and visions the future greatness of Orlando and Florida. Here is a man and a leader who has sacrificed his time to the welfare of his fellow men. Never has he failed to give his wholehearted support to worthy enterprises. He deserves success and his company is reaping the benefits of a generation of intensive labor, honest service, quality of merchandise, and sterling sincerity. The recent announcement will hearten the people and awaken a new resolution of unified cooperation and confidence in the future greatness and encouraging growth of Orlando and Orange County.

Sanford Forum

Editor: The Sanford Herald, A friend of mine who had a big fish bowl with a glass partition through it, put a lousy bass on one side and some minnows on the other. Every time a minnow approached the partition, the bass struck, but after several days of fruitless lunging which netted him nothing but bruises, he gave it up and was satisfied with the food dropped in from the top. My friend removed the partition and the minnows swam all around the bass, but he did not strike at a single one. He was sold on the idea that business was bad. The moral as applied to conditions that too many of us imagine exist in Sanford today? Strike again! Perhaps the partition is no longer there, but in our imagination any-how. Let us keep on striking. "The psychology of the crowd" look out for it. Don't let it get us.

Things are never so bad but they might be worse. It's always darkest just before the dawn. Strike! strike! strike! and before we know it, this community will make a clean up just as that lousy bass might have done if he hadn't got the blues.

Yours for Sanford,
 W. M. YOUNG.

Tom Sims Says

We note that Mr. Shaw is going to meet Mr. Tunney. Where does Tex Rickard dig up all this heavy weight timber?

The younger generation is enjoying a new mental freedom and re-sents all prohibitions, according to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews. In the next column there was an item about rouge pots dating back to 3000 B. C. being turned up in Ur.

NANKING PARLEY MAY SET UP RULE AGAINST HANKOW

Steps Taken By Kui-Shek Followers To Form New Government As Opposed To Hankow Administration

SHANGHAI, Apr. 18.—Steps were taken by the Conservatives under Gen. Chang Kai Shek at Nanking today to convert the so-called Nanking conference in to a government in opposition to the Hankow administration, according to authoritative information received here.

Four thousand northern soldiers, captured in fighting between Pukow and Pengpu, arrived today from Nanking. Nine thousand others will arrive later, Nationalist military chiefs said.

A Nanking dispatch reported the capture of Pengpu by the Cantonese. While this claim is considered doubtful there is every indication that the northerners met with a serious reverse and have been driven back from Pukow.

Communist leaders who have been supporting the Kankow government refused to attend the conference at Nanking, it was said, in view of their failure to appear, the Conservatives are understood to have met in motion for the creation of a new south China government with the red element omitted.

Conservatives in Shanghai, Nanking and elsewhere are planning mass meetings to be held Tuesday to celebrate the inauguration of the new regime.

The 4,000 northern prisoners arriving today were trapped in an enveloping movement carried out by the Cantonese moving from the Anhwei district several days ago.

Nationalist leaders are planning to send all the prisoners to Fuhien, later eroding them in the and divided down to 25,000 work-southern army.

The general strike in Shanghai was today. It is expected that 6,000 of these strikers will return to work tomorrow.

French police boarded the steamship Chenouaux and arrested five Chinese communists.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—The third expeditionary force of U. S. marines is enroute to China aboard the Dollar Steamship Presidential Grant; the navy announced today.

Sailing from San Diego yesterday, three days ahead of the tentative scheduled time, the liner carried 70 officers and 1,343 enlisted men, commanded by Col. H. C. Davis.

While the destination of the marines is given as Shanghai, Rear Admiral C. S. Williams, Commander of the Asiatic fleet, has authority to direct the liner to any Chinese port where the situation is threatening.

Karlve Hausholder left Sunday afternoon for Jacksonville where he will visit his grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Hausholder.

Crackers' Boss Turns Down Million Offer

ATLANTA, Apr. 18.—(INS)—Rell J. Spiller, owner of the Atlanta Crackers has refused a $1,000,000 cash offer for the club, made by a group of New York business men.

The offer was to have included purchase of Lithia Springs, near Austell, Ga., which Spiller also owns.

Spiller denied reports that George Stallings, present owner of the Rochester Club, was to have figured in the deal, and also that Ty Cobb, now with the Philadelphia Athletics was to become manager of the club.

HEAVY HITTING IS FEATURE OF 1ST WEEK IN MAJORS

Yankees With Five Wins And No Defeats Have Scored 52 Runs And 76 Bingles; Pirates Lead In National

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Apr. 15.—Deep thinking, it seems, still is to run a disconcerting second to deep hitting in the major leagues, in spite of the alleged decrease in the ability of the official ball. At least, I should so judge by the returns from the first week of the 1927 season at hand today.

The first six days of the campaign find the New York Yankees out at the pace in the American League and how did they get there? They got there by scoring 52 runs and 76 hits in no more than six games, five of which they won by an ample majority, the other being tied.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates are front-running the situation with four victories in five starts. They also strong armed their way to the front, their record showing an average of almost six runs and more than 10 hits per game. The Giants, in four games, can show an average of more than eight runs and 10 hits a game and, in consequence, are only half game back of the Pirates.

The Boston Braves and Phillies likewise are off to a higher rating than the intelligents is decreed and again the punch is the answer. The Phils, in breaking even, have averaged five runs and 11 hits and the Braves slightly less in both departments in winning four and losing two.

In fact, there is only one salient exception to the rule, the Philadelphia Athletics, and even they finally have started after the leaders, after getting three defeats and a tie in their first four games with the Yankees. Pitching has been the Athletics' trouble to date; they have the men but the men haven't had the stuff, Sam Gray, in winning over the senators yesterday, being the first of Mack's pitchers to start and finish the same game of course, the club will move with less friction when one or two changes are made; these seem to be inevitable. But, at that, an outfit that uses 17 pitchers in six games can't expect to go anywhere with a burden like that.

The Athletics' attack, showing an average of 13 hits a game, is even a bit beyond that of the Yankees and Pirates but pitching and the defense in general has thrown the balance of power the other way. The Yankees haven't made an error in their last three games and their starting pitcher has finished in four of the six games played. The Pirates also have supplemented sound hitting from Kremer, and they have made only four errors in five games.

The senators fattened on the deplorable Red Sox at the outset, thus concealing the principal Washington weakness at this time—bad pitching. Barring Hollis Thurston's efforts, the Washington staff has been very sad. This is another instance of indifferent pitching ruining a lot of good hitting, for the Senators have averaged almost six runs a game. On less, the White Sox have managed to line up right behind the Senators in the standing with three victories in six games.

INDIANS RUN MARATHON IN TEXAS

Running 82 miles and 26 miles on a stretch means little to these members of the Tarahamara Indian tribe of Mexico. The three young men finished the 82-mile run from San Antonio to Austin in good time Friday and the girls made excellent time over their run to Georgetown and back, 26 miles in all. The Tarahamaras live in the mountainous region around Chihuahua City, Mexico, and have been noted for their endurance for centuries. To show it, they're ready to run again! Any time!
