Personality Spotlight
AUDREY HEPBURN
United Press International

Audrey Hepburn, a rare flower in Hollywood's hothouse, has always looked as though the slightest breeze would blow her away. But she has the courage and gumption of a Thoroughbred.

When she was thrown from a white Arabian stallion and suffered severe back injuries Wednesday in remote Durango, Mexico, she was trying to overcome a fear of riding she had developed at the age of 11 after a horse threw her.

On location for the Hecht-Hill-Lancaster film "The Unforgiven," she had, she said, "fallen in love" with the horse.

This was typical of Miss Hepburn. Despite her frailty, she has an enormous zest for life. As a child, she was a good horsewoman. She is an excellent skier. She is married to Mel Ferrer.

During World War II, the 26-year-old Brussels-born actress gave underground ballet concerts to raise funds for the Dutch resistance movement.

Conquers Fear
Miss Hepburn did not actually have to do the riding scenes in "The Unforgiven," according to Ernie Anderson, spokesman for the film's producer.

"But she had conquered her fear of horses, and she insisted on doing it despite the fact that we had a double to do all the riding scenes for her," Anderson said.

Miss Hepburn has always felt an affinity for animals. She has a Yorkshire terrier named "Famous." And in another film she recently completed, "Green Mansions," her co-star was a fawn named "Ip."

Like Mary and her little lamb, the five-week-old fawn followed her all over the MGM lot. Miss Hepburn told an interviewer she had also "fallen in love" with Ip.

"I've been working for years and living in small apartments where I couldn't have pets," said the brown-haired, blue-eyed actress. "Now I'd like to have dozens."

Miss Hepburn's gentle and delicate ways charmed the critics when she made her debut on the American stage. She won the Antoinette Perry Award as best actress of the year on Broadway for her performance in "Ondine" in 1954.

For her first major motion picture, "Roman Holiday," she won the Academy Award as best actress of the year.

Florida Power Employee Ends Career

Roy J. Livors retired Friday after 31 years of service with the Florida Power and Light Company.

Livors has been with the Sanford branch of the company since Dec. 18, 1928, after 11 years with the Cocoa branch. In 1940 he was transferred again to Cocoa to complete some temporary work, but was back to Sanford as soon as the work was completed.

"Those shoes will be hard to fill," said H. C. Moore, supervisor of transmission distribution, at a gathering of Livors' many friends and fellow employees. "Roy has been a fine, dependable, willing and able employee."

"Roy did everything in a cheerful and efficient atmosphere, and to find another man like him will be a difficult task," W. O. Livingston, customer service supervisor, said of Livors.

All the employees who had worked with Livors had an opportunity to express their thanks to him and wish him a farewell.

Gifts and a letter of "thanks and good luck" were presented to Livors by the employees of the company.

Roy and his wife, Lillie Mae, reside at 1200 Park Ave., but soon will be moving to a cabin at Lemon Bluff.

Brevard Is Losing Its Dollars, Too

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—Brevard County residents, including numerous employees at the Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center, are doing much of their shopping outside the county, according to an Air Force study.

The study, made by the Operations Analysis Office at Patrick, reported that retail sales in the county increased 418 per cent from 1948 to 1957 but did not keep pace with sharply rising per capita income.

It said residents are going elsewhere to do their shopping, particularly for clothing, household appliances and furniture.

Retail sales jumped from 16.9 million dollars in 1948 to 87.5 million in 1957, the study showed. Retail sales in adjacent Orange County jumped 214 per cent and the state increased 149 per cent during the same period.

Per capita income rose 8 per cent from 1950 to 1956, but on a per capita basis the increase in retail sales was only 59 per cent, the report added.

Rockefeller Seeks Tax Hike, Stakes Future On Program

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, mentioned as a contender for the Republican presidential nomination next year, has staked his political future on a record tax increase for five million New York wage earners.

Some of Rockefeller's most ardent supporters said the new governor had taken a major political gamble by asking the Legislature to raise income taxes 150 million dollars to balance the 1958-1960 state budget. The tax hike would provide more than half of what is needed to avert what he terms "fiscal disaster" for the state.

The governor's supporters said there were two sides to the tax raising plan and it will take a year to determine success or failure.

"If Governor Rockefeller gets New York state out of the red and on a pay-as-you-go basis after only one year in office, he has made a tremendous accomplishment and it should set him right with not only the people of the state but people all over the country," one supporter said.

Another backer said he could see the governor coming out ahead if the proposed tax program produced not only the expected 277 million dollars in new revenue but enough to reduce taxes in 1960.

"Remember, the Legislature meets again next January and if the governor can come up with a balanced budget, plus a tax reduction he will be the toughest candidate in the nation," a Republican leader said.

Southwestern Ice Storm Will Expand

United Press International
A southwestern ice storm, which has paralyzed parts of west Texas under a six-inch coating, was expected to expand Tuesday northward into Missouri.

The combination snow and ice storm was blamed for 18 deaths in Texas alone, 14 in traffic accidents on slick highways, three in the crash of an ice-packed plane and one by drowning.

The storm also hit much of Oklahoma and Arkansas and snow occasionally mixed with freezing rain was reported as far north as Kansas.

Schools were closed and transportation snarled Monday as the treacherous layer of freezing rain spread over west and north-central Texas. The heavy ice snapped tree limbs and utility lines throughout the area.

To the north, snow up to four inches spread into Oklahoma where a 10-inch snowfall blanketed the Panhandle region. A man and his daughter were killed Monday when their car skidded on an icy road near Oklahoma City and struck a train.

A warning trend pulled the northern portion of the nation out of one of its coldest spells of the winter. Readings early today climbed as much as 40 degrees in the vast region from the northern plains through the New England states.

By contrast, colder weather invaded the Southeast, accompanied by outbreaks of heavy rains. Boston, Ala., recorded an one-inch rainfall during the night and a downpour at Mobile, Ala., brought that city's 24-hour total to more than two inches.

Weathermen predicted freezing rain will continue in northern Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, spreading into Missouri. Rain was seen for the southern states, changing to snow flurries in the upper Mississippi Valley and the Lake Superior area.

Vogel said the fire, which probably resulted from a short circuit, did most damage to electrical equipment. He estimated damage at $6,000.

She added that these conferences will be held "as soon as sufficient facts regarding the current reappraisal have become available."

The letter noted that "you failed to state the purpose of this meeting, but I assume your intention is to discuss a level of assessment for the 1959 tax roll."

The Russians previously had refused to pass the convoy without such an inspection. Burns came here as Washington announced that the United States had demanded that the Russians release the American trucks and servicemen held at the Helmstedt checkpoint and that Moscow makes certain there is no "repetition of the incident."

After two and a half hours of negotiations with the Russians at their checkpoint headquarters just 150 yards down the road towards Berlin, Burns announced that he had reached agreement. A few moments after his announcement, those waiting on the west side of the border saw the American truck headlights suddenly come on and their engines roar into action.

The four trucks moved through the Soviet barrier, which had been raised for them, and on across the bridge separating the two control points—one on the Western side and one on the Communist side. They accelerated all the way, and were hitting a good speed when they neared the west.

65 Dead In Crash Of Airliner Youth Is Orphan Due To Big Crash

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eight-year-old Robert Sullivan became an orphan today. But almost 10 hours after the crash of an American Airlines plane in the East River here, young Robert hadn't been told how his life had been altered.

His father and two sisters were killed and his mother died a few hours later of injuries suffered in the crash. Robert, a handsome blond boy, told nurses when he was brought to Flushing Hospital early today that he thought his father was dead, he didn't know for sure.

Robert, whose family lived in Hempstead, N.Y., and his mother were brought to the hospital in the same ambulance at 2 a. m. The mother, Lorraine, 40, died three hours later. Robert, sitting in bed for an examination this morning, was naked from the waist up and red welts were visible across his abdomen. A nurse said he had suffered abdominal abrasions when he was thrown against his safety belt in the crash. His condition was listed as fair.

After the crash, he climbed to the top of the wreckage with his mother, who he said appeared to have a broken leg. "I was kneeling on the wreckage with mother, that's why I was so cold," the nurse quoted Robert.

He swam with his mother to a tugboat where they were picked up, Robert said. "I only had a couple of swimming lessons and the current was strong," Robert said. "I told him his mother was downstairs," the nurse said. "He doesn't know the others are dead."

"We can never thank the neighbors or the Sheriff's Department enough," McGowan said. "I don't know who the people are who helped us, but I do want them to know how much we are appreciated."

The child was discovered missing about 10:30 a. m. The McGowans moved here recently from South Carolina.

Citrusmen Seeking Hike In Shipments

LAKELAND (UPI)—General Manager Homer Hooks of the Florida Citrus Commission will ask the Commission next week to seek to revitalize Florida's dwindling fresh fruit shipments. Hooks said Tuesday he will suggest at the next Commission meeting Feb. 11 that an industry meeting be called to get "into the whole subject of our fresh fruit sales and how they can be increased."

He told the local Rotary Club that unless the steadily declining shipments are bolstered, citrus growers are going to be in trouble when the grove damage suffered in last winter's freeze has healed and orange production again reaches the 100-million box level.

He said "shipments have declined steadily for the past 10 years and this season appear to be headed for their lowest volume in 28 years." He added processors have "done a magnificent job in taking care of our annual production increase... but the fact remains that the increase in processing does not automatically justify or excuse the decrease in fresh sales."

Hooks said the industry must increase fruit quality and improve marketing methods to put fresh fruit sales back to their former levels.

65 Dead In Crash Of Airliner

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new American Airlines jet-powered airliner missed its LaGuardia Airport runway in fog and rain and plunged into the East River just before last midnight, killing 65 of the 73 persons aboard. A passing tugboat plucked nine persons from the water and the wreckage. One died later in a hospital. By mid-morning, 19 bodies had been recovered from the shallow muddy waters of the tidal river.

The plane, a new two million dollar turbo-prop aircraft put into service only 10 days ago, was the airline's Flight 320 out of Chicago. Its last contact with the airport tower was a routine acknowledgment of permission to land, made "from less than three miles away."

The plane apparently smashed into the river in landing position, broke apart and sank quickly in about 26 feet of water. It appeared likely that the cause of the fatal crash—first of a U. S. made commercial jet-prop in the U. S.—would not be determined until completion of an investigation.

There were only two large pieces of wreckage. Everett Phelps, co-captain of the tugboat H. Thomas Tall, said, "The tail and part of the fuselage. Three people were perched on the fuselage. We hauled them aboard. As we did so, a hand pulled through a door in the wreckage. "The man inside the fuselage called for help. Crewmen yanked on the door with hooks but couldn't get it open. Then the fuselage section pulled away from the hooks. The man's hand disappeared. His cries stopped. "I only there were more boats around, more people could have been saved."

Two Sanford women employed by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. received Vail Awards today for saving the life of a Sanford woman last May. The awards are given for life-saving action on the part of telephone operators.

May when she suffered a heart attack and was cut off from a conversation with a nephew in Arkansas. Due to their quick thinking, police rushed to Mrs. May's home and admitted her to the hospital, where she soon recovered.

The awards were made by C. W. Tuck, general traffic manager for Florida.

Nearing completion in downtown Sanford is one of Central Florida's most modern office buildings. Designed after a "skater" building in Miami Beach, the Kirk Building at Commercial Ave. and Hood St. will house 12 offices. The steel and concrete roof will go on the latter part of this week, according to Bill Kirk, who is doing his own contracting.

Concrete block construction has been used throughout. The floors are terrazzo, and ceilings are low with recessed lighting. Each office has its own bathroom. The building is designed for additional stories. Expansion may be accomplished by removing all interior walls, if necessary. The roof is held by concrete pilasters.

A terrazzo floored arcade will give easy access to offices and the street. Kirk estimates that customers will use the convenient city parking lot adjoining the property.

The flat roof will have a seven foot overhang with a two foot aluminum facing to give the building a low look and protect it from weather. A sidewalk around the office has been included for convenient access.

Kirk said that seven of the offices had been rented, but declined further comment on who will occupy them. The building will be completed in about six weeks, he said.

"Take a Look at Sanford's Tomorrow" is how the sign in front of the office reads. Kirk will start construction on a new medical building near the hospital within 30 days.

Fire Extinguished Near Local Garage

Heavy winds that ripped branches from trees and sent loose articles flying hampered Sanford firemen shortly after noon today as they extinguished a fire at Hill Bros. Trucking Co. garage on West First St.

Minor damage was caused by the fire, which started in a pile of assorted trucking articles behind the garage. Flames quickly spread to an adjacent open area, where brush and grass were under dry. Water was played on the trees and buildings after the blaze had been put down. Damage was not estimated, and the cause undetermined at 12:30 p. m. Chief R. T. Thomas and six men from the Sanford Fire Department rushed to the scene.

Atlas Is Launched After Titan Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Air Force fired its 20th intercontinental Atlas early today to close out the key phase of the husky missile's development.

Alimed at a point about 4,300 miles down the Atlantic tracking range, the 80-foot rocket was the last in the Atlas "B" series. In this phase the Atlas was tested with all three of its powerful rocket engines, designed to give it a 6,300-mile boost.

The firing followed by 11 hours the second attempt to fire the Atlas' backup missile, the Titan ICM. The Titan launching was thwarted at the last second when a malfunction developed in the 80-foot missile.

Floodlights pierced the clear sky as the Atlas blasted off at 3:01 a. m. e. s. t., shattering a thick ice coating formed by the sub-zero liquid oxygen in its tanks. The Atlas made a smooth start and climbed with gradually increasing speed into a star-filled sky. After about two and a half minutes the missile's two booster engines appeared to burn out as planned, and the Atlas continued under power for another full minute.

County Will Get Building Survey

The firm will submit a report on the condition of the courthouse, jail, county home, road camp and the health unit.

Seminole County Health Unit Assured

Seminole County will have its site near the hospital was discussed, but was found to be "too highly priced."

The Board passed a resolution amending the present budget to include matching funds required by the government before construction can begin. Forehand informed county administrators that he could not make an application without proof of local matching funds.

John Krider and Lawrence Snowford were appointed assessors of the project and will sign all necessary documents on the part of the Board. The county must provide $85,000 for building costs.

Forehand said that he would begin work immediately on estimated cost figures, and advised the Board to hire an architect, in outlining the steps required, he said the second step would include a re-evaluation of the county's financial resources. The third step will be a site survey and legal opinion of site values. The fourth will be the opening of bids and the actual start of construction.

Plans will be accepted only after a study of other health units in Florida. Forehand stressed that a simple construction was adequate. "There is no set design, but the building must be fire resistant and functional for your purposes," he added.

Dr. Thurmond told the Board that he had investigated the vacant medical building in Longwood and found it satisfactory. Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. was authorized to investigate the ownership of the building. The structure has been offered to the County Health Department for use as a health center.

Other Commission action included a decision to investigate all alleged substandard practices.

Engineer Can Solve Problems In County

Seminole County has employed the services of a registered road engineer. He will report to this county on March 2.

The new engineer is Frank Robert Davis Jr. of Fort Lauderdale, assistant engineer in Broward County since 1952. Davis was chosen from a field of many applicants. He had the qualifications which most impressed the County Commission. In a preliminary discussion last week, Davis was the first choice of at least four of the Commissioners.

Much of the criticism directed at the Commission by State Auditor Bryan Willis last week was credited by Commission Chairman John Krider to the absence of an engineer. The confusion which surrounds the present road construction program also is caused, to a great degree, by lack of efficient, professional guidance which a qualified engineer could give.

Seminole Commissioners pledged themselves to "no politics" with the road program while searching for the right man to fill the engineer's job.

Naturally, the engineer, whoever he might be, must answer to the Commission. Board members are charged with the responsibility; they must answer to the public.

However, a road engineer is more qualified in the matter of road construction than any member of the Commission, a fact which has been stressed by Commissioners. They will depend upon his advice and guidance in engineering problems; he will take orders from them.

This is as it should be. With a well-qualified man to run the county's road program, Commissioners then can turn their attention to other matters. Although the road program is a prime project, Commissioners have many other county activities to direct.

Krider said recently that Seminole would have a "real road program in one year." Much of this progress was predicted on hiring a competent engineer. Commissioners have hired a man they feel is well-qualified for the job. Soon, the show should be on the road.

Training Is Valuable

Young Carl Stubbings of Lake Mary is a happy boy. He also is a hard worker when 4-H Club projects are involved. The youngster swept top honors in the annual Seminole County 4-H Club Beef Show, scoring 93.7 points of a possible 100. Three of his entries won blue ribbons in the show, an enviable accomplishment.

Winning, of course, is the goal of all youngsters who participate in 4-H, FFA and FHA projects. Winning is important. More important, however, is the training that youngsters receive in such programs.

Livestock shows, dress revues, baking contests and other projects provide the climax to a year's work. While pointing to these special dates, youngsters learn to plan, to manage efficiently, to develop initiative.

In short, boys and girls who participate in these programs learn to manage their own affairs. This is valuable experience for our citizens of tomorrow.

Car Wreck Fatal To Flight Pioneer

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Jack Frye, former president of Trans World Airlines, was fatally injured Tuesday night when his car was struck broadside by a vehicle which failed to heed a stop sign, the sheriff's department reported.

The 44-year-old aviation pioneer who for several years headed the General Aviation and Film Corp. of New York, makers of Anco photographic equipment, after his retirement from TWA in 1947, was thrown from his car by the impact of the crash. He died an hour later.

Deputies said the driver of the other car was Roswell M. Wright, 62, who was uninjured. She was cited for driving at an excessive speed and running a stop sign.

Of New York City's five boroughs, only Queens has always gone by that name. The Bronx was originally "Bronck's Land"; Brooklyn was "Breuckelen"; Manhattan was "New Netherland" and Richmond, or Staten Island, was "Staten Eylandt."

THINKING MAN'S SMOKE!

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB

If there ever was a—well, "mature"—woman who is a comfort to other—well, "mature"—women, it is Claudette Colbert.

Miss Colbert, radiant star of stage, screen, radio and teesee, is the last woman in the world to deny that she will never see fifty again. And she is pretty as a picture, stacked like a truck driver's whistle, full of beans, happy as a lark and still at the top of the professional heap.

"I couldn't lie about my age if I wanted to," she said the other day, between performances of "The Marriage of Figaro," the Broadway hit in which she is co-starring with Charles Boyer. "Everyone knows I made my Broadway debut in 1924, a year after I was graduated from high school right here in New York City.

"And I'll tell you something else no matter how young or old an actress is, the public is always firmly convinced she's ten years older. If you've been around as long as I have, everyone thinks he saw you in a play when, actually, you were in grade school. And if you try to correct this impression, you're dead. The person just goes away muttering, 'See, another actress lying about her age.'

"I went from Broadway to Hollywood, and in all the years I was there I always regarded myself as an actress, not a glamour girl. In 1934, I played the mother of a girl who was in reality, only a few years younger than I. So it is no traumatic shock to me or my vanity now to be cast not as a dewy maid but a matron.

"You know," Miss Colbert continued, with a golden glint in her big, luscious eyes, "I think we should feel sorry for all those bosomy belles who are now the rage of Hollywood. They ain't," she said with a perceptible wink, "gonna look good when they're my age. The big balcony doesn't age as gracefully as, let's say, normality."

Miss Colbert says all her Broadway salary is spent in long distance calls to her husband, Dr. Joel J. Pressman, the distinguished Los Angeles surgeon to whom she has been married for 23 years. Except for an eight-week stint on Broadway when she replaced an ailing Margaret Sullivan in "Janis," "The Marriage-Go-Round" is her first Broadway play since her marriage.

"I couldn't and wouldn't leave home before," she said. "But recently I've been itching to do a play. I got restless and probably impossible, and finally my husband said, 'Go ahead, and get it off your chest.' And that's what I'm doing.

"She brought with her from Hollywood her avocation, painting. A really gifted portrait painter, she has made one fundamental discovery about humanity—that men are just as vain about a portrait as women.

"A few years ago," Miss Colbert said with that gamine grin that has made her a fortune, "I

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Herald:

After reading your paper these past few days, there seems to be much to do about nothing regarding the recent county audit, so why cover it up?

Let's look at the staggering figures published Friday last, as they came out of the adding machine. It cost the people of this county $173,202.50, of which three-fourths ($130,000) was paid out in salaries, to collect receipts totalling $211,248.50.

Amazing isn't it to be commended by the state auditor for keeping out of the red and in the black ($28,044.38) from all agencies (some of the large depts. barely made it) "the residue," of a gross $211,248.50 or "after expenses which?"

The tax collector's dept. received five gold stars for returning $3,881.98 to the county. Receipts were $51,525.26 and expenses were $47,643.28, with enough left to buy a car maybe for some newly-appointed extra high-salaried official in the very near future. But some of the other departments weren't that fortunate.

A sort of county WPA, except the take home pay is slightly larger than it was thirty years ago. Public servants come pretty high, earning far greater salaries than their employers.

It seems to me the County Commissioners could burn a little more middle oil and cut that $138,000 in half twice to operate a few county offices and on a business-managed basis. I see no need for more taxes or means of additional revenue. The custom is more taxes, more people required to collect it. The cost being 75¢ of every $1 and a paltry 25¢ goes into the coffers to build and maintain a growing County.

Perhaps that's the American way, but unionists are condemned for extracting more money from their employers, while public servants who are in "power" have the power to fix their own salaries, create many jobs and titles to suit themselves or whatever the traffic will bear. John Q. Public picks up the tab in some form or another, even if he has to borrow to pay his taxes. So, he just mumbles "there might be a law against it," (the people in power biting the hands that feed them.)

At the rate of spending, we are running a close second in competition with the federal government, which recently admitted losing one million dollars a day in the Post Office Dept. But they can afford it and we can't.

Please, I want my street repaired and I am willing to pay for it. But by the time enough money is raised within the next 3 to 10 years, I won't be able to see the motor grader as it passes by my house.

Air Force Probing Crash Fatal To 3

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—The Air Force today pressed its investigation into the crash of a B41 jet bomber here which killed three officers. The plane hit with such force that all emergency crews could find "scattered bits of fingers and four burned parachutes."

The plane dove into the ground about 25 miles northeast of Little Rock Air Force Base Tuesday night. The terrain was so bad it took the first crew two hours to reach the site.

The Air Force identified the dead as Capt. Charles W. Stevens Jr., 41, the aircraft commander, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stevens, live at 702 Ann Street, Beaufort, N. C.; Capt. Robert S. McCoy, 34, the copilot, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jackson, live at 4007 Oak Drive, Des Moines, Iowa; and Lt. J. W. Smith, 24, the navigator, whose mother, Mrs. Sandra Louise Vary, lives at 218-84 N. Y.

Cold Blast Moves Into East Today

United Press International
A fast-moving storm center carried snow, rain and ice into the East today, hampering rescuers searching for survivors and victims of an airplane crash in the East River, about a mile from New York's La Guardia Field. Fog and icy rain blanketed the scene near Rikers Island where an American Airlines Electra en route from Chicago to New York crashed Tuesday night with 72 persons aboard.

The freezing precipitation stretched from the Virginias northward into Maine. Snow and occasional freezing rain also persisted in the Great Lakes region. Earlier, the storm laid down a coating of ice from western Texas into the Great Lakes, and was blamed for 18 deaths in Texas, 14 of them in traffic accidents. Light rain or drizzle occurred in the Southeast during the night from the central Gulf Coast to the Ohio valley and from northern Florida to the Carolinas.

Law Doubts Story On Island Robbery

By RICHARD W. HATCH
MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Police said today there was something "fishy" about the armed robbery of the secluded island home of a Latin beauty once called the Mata Hari of Cuba.

The two gunmen reportedly took some $2,500 worth of jewels, $300 in cash, two pistols and abducted a guest, who authorities believe could have been an accomplice in the holdup of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vasquez.

Junior High Teams Top Ormond Beach

The Sanford Junior High basketball team scored its tenth straight victory yesterday, soaring over Ormond Beach 42-22.

The junior high eagles were in the lead throughout the game. Only once did Ormond come close—in the third quarter—when Sanford led by only four points, 29-18, but it didn't last long. "We ran off and left them after that," said Coach Howard Gordie.

Donald McMurray was high point man for the Sanford team with 16. Ken Newman was high for Ormond with 11.

The Junior High girls also won their game with Ormond, 27-21. Lavine Pitts was high for Sanford with 15 points.

Friday, DeLand will host the Sanford squad at 3:30. Coach Gordie said, "If we get by them, we've got a chance."

Patience And Sam Steal Space Show

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A couple of lady monkeys named Miss Patience and Sam stole the show from congressmen and generals at a House Space Committee hearing.

While legislators and high ranking officers exchanged questions and answers about the nation's space program Tuesday, the two monkeys demonstrated Air Force space equipment outside the hearing room.

The committee room was jammed, but the crowd at no time outnumbered the group that gathered in the hall of the old House office building to watch the monkeys.

Miss Patience's specialty was sitting strapped in a chair and pulling a lever every time a light flashed. She had good reason to pull the lever. If she didn't, she got a mild electric shock.

Sam had an easier job. She stretched out in a posture—conforming chair—the kind the first U. S. space man will travel in. When it was given an occasional spin she didn't fall out, thanks to straps.

Three Stars Die, But Show Goes On

MOORHEAD, Minn. (UPI)—A troupe of rock 'n roll performers went on with the show before 2,000 subdued teenagers Tuesday night despite the deaths of three of their stars in a plane crash.

The 12 troupe members who had arrived here by bus for a one night stand at first cancelled their date in Moorhead. However, they later decided to honor their commitment in the tradition of showmanship.

The stars of the group—among the biggest names in rock 'n roll—and their pilot were killed Tuesday when their chartered plane crashed in an Iowa farm field near Clear Lake shortly after takeoff.

The singers killed were Ritchie Valens, 17, a recording star billed as "the neat Elvis Presley"; J. P. (The Big Bopper) Richardson, 26, and Buddy Holly, 21. The dead pilot was Roger Peterson, 21, Clear Lake.

Sam Geeller, their traveling manager, said he wanted the singers to take a bus with the rest of the troupe but they chartered a plane because they wanted to make a fast hop and take care of personal matters.

"Buddy wanted to get a suit cleaned," Geeller said. "Valens wanted a haircut and Richardson just wanted to get some sleep."

Deaths

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)—William Wild Bill Snowden, 48, one of the nation's top stock car racers, died here Monday night.

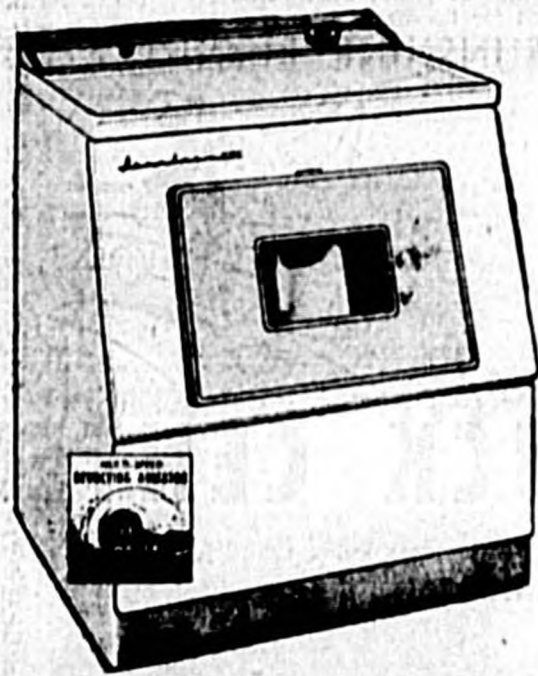

PLAINFIELD, N. J. (UPI)—Mrs. Dudley Glass, 71, widow of a well-known Atlanta, Ga., journalist, died here Tuesday after a long illness. Mrs. Glass's late husband was the author of a daily column which appeared in the old Atlanta Georgian. He later wrote for the Atlanta Constitution. A son, Richard C. Glass, is Southern Division news editor for United Press International.

KENT, England (UPI)—Mrs. Violet Markham Carruthers, 84, author and public figure, died at her Kent home on Monday.

Dollar Abused, But People Don't Care

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The clearest present danger to the people of the United States probably is the abuse and devaluation of the dollar in their pockets and their dollars in the bank.

This abuse has continued roughly, over a period of 20 years although it could be argued that 25 or 30 years would be more on the target. However that may be, the U.S. dollar is not quite a 50-cent piece today although disguised as a valid buck with Geo. Washington's picture on it.

Compared to its 1933 value, the dollar now will buy almost 50 cents worth of groceries or baby shoes. That is a situation which should urgently interest the mass of the population because it is the mass man, or the common man as the politicians call him, who has the most urgent stake in the cost of his groceries and shoes for his babies.

The mass man does not give a hoot, however. If he did give a hoot there would be an early end to the big-time government spending, the big-time borrowing of money to pay government bills and the big-time dollar inflation which such practices help to bring about. The mass or common man is a mighty fellow at the polls. He could, if he would, vote the spenders out and vote some economists in.

He could, that is, if he could find some economists. President Eisenhower was an economy candidate in 1952. He made a campaign pact with the late Sen. Robert A. Taft that the federal budget should be hauled down to about 60 billions, and the voters supported him by the multi-millions.

The President still was campaigning as an economist as late as last year when he warned the people that they had better elect a Republican Congress because the Democrats were wild-eyed spenders fit to wreck the national economy. That did not scare the voters, any.

The Democrats are spenders, all right, and they probably are going to prove it when they work over Eisenhower's 1960 fiscal year budget. That budget, however, is something of a spending document on its own. It was presented as a balanced budget.

The balance depends, however, on some new taxes which are not likely to be voted and on persuading congressional Democrats to hold appropriations to the budget limits. That is not likely, either. What is likely is another unbalanced budget, which likely will drop the dollar down another notch or two, making the groceries and baby shoes a little more costly next time.

Overall, the 1960 budget is for spending 12.4 billion more than the 1955 budget which was as close as Eisenhower ever got to that 60 billion figure he discussed with Taft. Even 1955 was not very close.

Spending that year totaled 64.5 billion.

Colts Give Ewbank $30,000 Contract

BAITIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Webb Ewbank, the "kewpie doll" coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts, has a new $30,000-a-year contract through 1961 today that puts him among the highest paid coaches in the National Football League.

Colt President Carroll D. Rosenbloom revealed the terms of Ewbank's new contract at the club's annual dinner for Baltimore writers and broadcasters Tuesday

Dixie's Lighter Side

By LEON BURNETT
United Press International
It presumably is pure coincidence that the two latest farm crops are worms and fish.

Down on the Delta, sections of Mississippi and Louisiana, some farmers are turning the flatness of their acres to good use by rotating their crops—rice during one period, fish in the next.

After the rice is harvested, the fields are flooded again. Fish are then stocked, fed and fattened and then "harvested" when they reach a marketable size.

And near Vidalia, Ga., Andrew Tyson has bought a farm on which he plans to raise fishing worms commercially.

Still on the subject of fish, Georgia legislators are concerned about a sport called "bottle fishing."

Rep. Mac Pickard said so many fishermen have been tying their lines to bottles and floating them in the Chattahoochee River that fishing has been ruined for devotees of the rod and reel.

The era has dawned when men can legally shift the blame for errors in a machine.

A jury in Montgomery, Ala., ruled that the manufacturer of an adding machine gone haywire is legally liable for any loss that resulted from the errors.

Sen. Charlie Brown introduced a bill in the Georgia Legislature which would absolve members of the tax department of blame for errors made by electronic computers.

Dan Gallagher has abandoned plans to do missionary and evangelistic work in the Bahamas. His rebuilt lifeboat, donated by a boat club, ran aground at the point known as Hell Gate near Savannah, Ga., shortly after he set out.

Study in contrast: Economy-minded John Patterson, new governor of Alabama, reported that he spent only $10 on personal expenses during his first 10 days in office.

Financial records show that ex-Gov. James E. Folsom spent at most $20,000 during the first month of his most recent term.

Some future City Council in Savannah has been saddled with the task of predicting the advent of doomsday 10 years in advance.

This came about because a woman failed by $50 to provide enough in her will to cover perpetual care in the city cemetery.

The incumbent council discussed the matter and voted to provide "as much perpetual care as possible under the circumstances." Or, to further quote one city father, "Perpetually excusing 10 years."

Russ Shot Down Plane With 17, U. S. Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States charged today that Russian fighters deliberately shot down an unarmed American transport last September.

It added, in effect, that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan lied about the incident during his recent visit here.

The State Department released a batch of transcripts, photographs and documents to back up its charge that the plane, which crashed in flames over Soviet Armenia on Sept. 2, was shot down deliberately.

They included what the department described as the transcript of an intercepted radio conversation among the Soviet fighter pilots as they shot down the four-engine plane and watched it crash in flames.

Also released were photographs and translations of two articles from Soviet Aviation, the official Russian air force newspaper, describing the "attack" on the "enemy" and identifying four Russian fighter pilots who took part.

One of the articles reported that an unidentified Soviet general met the pilots after the attack and "shook their hands warmly and thanked them for their successful execution of the mission."

Previous reports had said the unarmed American plane, with 17 men aboard, had crashed after it was intercepted by Soviet fighters near the Turkish-Soviet border and escorted into Soviet Armenia.

The Russians had acknowledged finding the wreckage, but had denied that the plane was shot down. Later, the Russians turned over six bodies to American authorities and said they had no information about the other 11 men who were aboard.

It added, in effect, that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan lied about the incident during his recent visit here.

Mayfair Reports Theft Of $18,000 In Jewelry

Two robberies within three hours netted thieves an estimated $18,000 in jewelry and furs at the Mayfair Inn yesterday.

Police first were summoned to the hotel at 4:30 p.m. when Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Knapp discovered a trunk in their room had been pried open.

At 7:00 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. Jachow Lichtenstein, also guests of the hotel, reported the theft of a large quantity of jewelry from a green leather box on their dresser.

Value of the Knapp's possessions was set at a total of $3,000, including a dark mink stole valued at $800. Jewelry stolen included rings, pearl necklaces and bracelets, in three boxes. The lock was picked on the wardrobe trunk, and the drawer containing the jewelry pried open.

Mr. and Mrs. Lichtenstein estimated the value of jewelry stolen at $15,000. The list included a diamond wedding band with baguette, a five and one-half karat emerald cut diamond ring, a gold watch with diamonds, and other bracelets, pins and earrings set with precious stones.

Frank Mohane Jr., manager of the hotel, reported the thefts to local police. Complete descriptions of jewelry and furs have been given to the Sheriff's Department and the Orlando Police Department.

Another jewel theft had been reported earlier in the day at the Mt. Plymouth Hotel, a scant 15 miles away. Lt. Joe Hickson of the Sanford Police has been assigned to the case.

U. S. Army in Europe headquarters announced the men were turned over to American officials near Herzhshakopen. Their release was arranged by the American and East German Red Cross organizations, an Army spokesman said.

Men released are Lt. Richard Mackin, of Washington, D. C.; Sgt. Kenneth G. Carlson, of San Leandro, Calif.; Pvt. Elyan E. Bell, of Hill City, Kan.; and Pvt. James W. Hayes, of Baltimore, Md.

The fifth was believed to be Pvt. Melvin Hampton, of the 6th infantry unit in Berlin.

Release of the Americans was negotiated by Robert Wilson, director of the American Red Cross in Europe, in talks with Ludwig Werner, president of the East German Red Cross.

The Red Cross organizations were asked to negotiate because the United States does not recognize the Communist East German government and will not deal with it.

Sen. Cross Blasts Parent 'Option' As 'Just Subterfuge'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Sen. J. Emory Cross of Gainesville has attacked the parent option plans for preventing school integration in Florida.

Although most legislators have endorsed the plan, Cross declared Wednesday that the plan wouldn't work.

He called it a "subterfuge" and said the only way to make sure that segregation is maintained is to close the schools.

Anybody who says otherwise is fooling the people, he said.

The plan was advanced by Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin and School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey, and is being mailed to all legislators to try to line up their support before the 1959 session convenes.

In general, the plan would permit parents to withdraw their children from an integrated school and receive a state subsidy of about $240 a year to educate him privately.

Sens. Doyle E. Carlton, Wauchope, H. H. Hair of Live Oak, and S. C. Clark of Monticello, said they would vote for the plan.

But Carlton and Rep. W. C. Herrick of Dale said they would insist that no state subsidy be paid directly to the parent.

Cross protested, however, that the "question is not closed or open schools."

"It is integration or segregation and if we want segregation, we must have the courage to fight for it."

"I would rather have a generation of uneducated, courageous, moral people than a generation of educated, morally degenerated cowards."

Nikita Denounces, Invites President
MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today invited President Eisenhower to Moscow as a step toward bringing the two nations together and ending the threat of nuclear war.

Khrushchev extended the invitation in a speech in which he also denounced Eisenhower and his administration for ignoring the "thaw" in the East-West cold war.

He said the four of the United States by Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan "in particular" helped along this thaw, and added:

"Should the President decide to come to our country he would be met with sincere hospitality by our government and the Soviet people."

"A visit of this kind would undoubtedly be useful to both countries and would meet with the approval of the peoples of the U.S.A. and the Soviet Union," Khrushchev said in the speech before the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist Party.

Seven-Point Plan Given To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today in a seven-point civil rights program for stronger federal power to punish anyone using threats or violence to obstruct court-ordered school integration.

His program, designed to make "equal protection of laws . . . a reality for all," also would authorize temporary aid to states and localities cooperating in carrying out school integration.

It would allow the Federal Bureau of Investigation to crack down harder in school and church bombing cases.

In urging that school integration obstruction be made a specific federal offense, Eisenhower said: "There have been instances where extremists have attempted cases a federal offense."

Greater authority for the FBI in investigating destruction of schools or churches.

Power for the attorney general to inspect federal election records and to require that such records be maintained "for a reasonable period of time."

A temporary program of financial and technical aid to state and local agencies to assist them in making the necessary adjustments required by school desegregation decisions.

Legislation to authorize temporary provisions for educating children of military personnel when public schools are closed because of integration orders.

That Congress consider setting up a permanent "commission on equal job opportunity under governing contracts."

A two-year extension of the Civil Rights Commission.

Jazz Band To Play At Center Friday
Bobby Hackett is known as a musician's musician in the nightclub and recording circuit.

The purity of his trumpet also has found favor with platter customers, evidenced by the sale of recordings, "My Funny Valentine," and "In in the Mood for Love," backed by strings of the Jackie Gleason orchestra.

Hackett and his jazz band will appear tomorrow night at the Sanford Civic Center. The orchestra is the first "big name" band to come to this immediate area. Tickets for dancing or listening are on sale at Lonnie's Record Rack and Miller's Radio and Appliance.

The dance starts at 8 p. m. with dress optional.

Sanford Recreation Director Donald Perry has urged residents to support the dance. "We don't expect to make any profit, but if we do, proceeds will go for a special dance fund for teenagers," he said. "We would like to see more good bands in Sanford, and interest shown now will have a definite bearing on future engagements."

Legislators Seek Answer To Mixing
RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, with the prospect of court-ordered school integration hanging over a third city, assigned the task of finding new ways to maintain segregation today to a 40-member legislative commission.

"It is my fervent, fervent hope that working together we can evolve a solution which will be in the best interests of Virginia and all her people," Almond said.

Tampa Is Chosen By Big Industry
SAVANNAH (UPI) — Southern Nitrogen Co. Inc. has announced plans to construct a new three million dollar plant in Tampa.

Wind-Fed Fires Raze 50 County Acres
Three raging forest fires destroyed an estimated 50 acres of Seminole County timber yesterday.

Whipped by high winds, small blazes turned swiftly into infernos within minutes. Winds were steady at 30-40 miles per hour, with gusts up to 50 miles per hour. Forest Service crews saved.

The first fire was discovered at 4 p. m. on the Country Club Road at New Upsala. Rangers said that the fire was burning faster than suppression crews could operate. Two Forest Service crews, the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department and one landowner crew were able to bring the blaze under control.

Carl McWhorter directed the landowner crew.

The fire, which was slowed by a small creek and a pasture, was caused by careless brush burning, Rangers said.

Residents in the Lake Jessup area were alarmed last night when the skies turned red with flames and smoke, as a huge fire began to rage shortly after 6 p. m.

Accrete behind the residence of George Mickey was turned to ash as flames climbed into large pines and oaks. Rangers dug a trench around the Mickey house, and brought the fire under control around 9 p. m. Sparks and flames were blown several hundred feet into the air as the high winds continued.

Forest Service crews also answered a call at the Wekiva River, just south of Highway 46, at the same time, where they suppressed a fast-moving brush fire. Three crews were sent to the Lake Jessup area. The fire was stopped at the Sanford Area station.

County Ranger Bob Gray said this morning that cooperation from residents "mandatory in preventing this wasteful destruction."

Subs Near Coasts? Question Is Open

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy left open today the question whether any contact by electronic devices has been made with Soviet submarines off America's coasts.

It issued a statement Wednesday night saying it had yet to make a "verified sighting" of a Russian sub within 500 miles of the U.S.

The statement was issued after President Eisenhower referred news conference questions about Soviet submarine activities to the Defense Department. The President said he was not sure how much of his information could be made public.

The Navy's statement was extremely cautious.

It said there had been reports "of varying validity" concerning unidentified subs in the North and South Atlantic in the last two or three years and to a lesser extent in the Northeast Pacific during the past year.

"Most of these reports can be attributed to friendly submarines, surface vessels or marine life," the Navy said. Then it added:

"We have made no verified sightings of Soviet submarines off our coasts; that is within, say, about 500 miles."
