Try To Relax Before Taking Blood Reading

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Today, when everybody is so concerned about blood pressure, where there are free clinics twice a month, and blood pressure machines, I wonder just how great the benefit is to the individual! If taking blood pressure should affect everyone like it does me, it could cause great stress. For people like you, who get upset when their blood pressure is taken, that usually means that they have to rest for a while in between readings and sort of get used to the surroundings to get a reasonably accurate pressure reading. If the upper reading is still high, it can be important. We do know that when the top reading is too high, it can be a factor in increasing one's risks for heart attacks and strokes. It is not always said that an increase in the lower readings would, I wouldn't get hysterical about it, however, as that will make matters worse instead of better.

I do think, however, that you should make a major effort to get a family doctor. You might prefer to let him worry about your blood pressure rather than having to worry about it yourself. That might be the best treatment of all for you. I am sending you the Health Letter number 18, Blood Pressure, which explains factors that control the level of pressure and how it fluctuates. My other two suggestions would be to develop a regular walking program if you don't already have one. Also, you happen to use a lot of coffee, you might be wise to either stop it entirely or switch to a decaffeinated brand. That may give you less nervous or tense. Stopping coffee often does for a person who is taking a tranquilizer is supposed to do.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I had it taken at a "Golden Age Group" where the attitude was, "You haven't had yours taken!" At this time it was 180/110. Since then, I have gone to free clinics twice a month and each time it upsets me. They found it to be 168-72, 170-74 and the last time, 180-90. It appears to me that my pressure varies with the nurse. When it was 168 and 170, the nurse was pleasant and talked before slipping on the band like the others had done. I have restricted my food to no salt and less sugar. I never did eat a lot of meat, certainly no sweetmeats, kidneys or that sort of food. Could the fact that I have reduced salt and sugar account for the lower numbers? Or is it just the difference in the observations of the nurses?

DEAR DR. LAMB — All of your lower readings are perfectly normal. They are certainly within the range of normal fluctuation of blood pressure. All of your upper readings are a little high, but that is not unusual finding in your age group. It really evaluate what your top reading means, you should mentally and emotionally relaxed, as not doing.

Israel Cabinet OKs Draft Mideast Pact In Marathon Parley

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The cabinet today overwhelmingly approved the U.S. draft peace treaty between Egypt and Israel. But the national radio said the cabinet made some changes in the document.

The approval came in the 17th hour and the third day of a marathon debate on the draft treaty that was hammered out in Washington negotiations.

Social Welfare Minister Israel Katz said 18 ministers approved the document and two abstained. None voted against.

The abstentions came from the rightwing in Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin's ruling Likud bloc — Energy Minister Yitzhak Moda'i and Health Minister Eliezer Shostak.

"I think we are all satisfied," Katz said. "I think that Prime Minister Begin is satisfied."

There was no immediate indication what changes the cabinet made in the draft treaty, which will be taken back to Washington.

Earlier, Begin said it may take until mid-December before a pact is signed — with President Carter looking on.

Begin told the newspaper Maariv in an interview that President Carter told him in a letter he would like to come to Jerusalem to sign the treaty as a witness.

TAKING THEIR PLATES IN THE SUN

Hot Dogs, sauerkraut and baked beans cooked by the sun, topped the menu Tuesday afternoon for Dr. Borden Kirker's mechanical design class at Seminole Community College. Dr. Kirker, along with student Jane Hoffman check the sauerkraut cooked on her portable solar cooking unit while R.T. Milwee savors the fruits of the solar labor.

He said he does not think the treaty will be ready for signing Nov. 12, the anniversary of Sadat's visit to Jerusalem, and that negotiations could last two or three months.

"It won't be tomorrow or the next day," Begin said of the signing. "President Sadat gave me suggestions on which the discussions about them will last more than a few days."

"Besides, there is no reason to rush. We have to make sure of every letter and detail in the agreement because we are talking here about our fate and the fate of our children and our grandchildren."

"Egypt is not risking anything in the agreement. It is getting all of the Sinai. Thus, it can be in a hurry, but we can't."

Begin's central theme in the Maariv interview was that Israel did not want to be rushed into agreeing to the complicated provisions of the treaty but at the same time he served notice he expected a pact to be concluded.

Jury: Human Error Part Of Vote Machines Failure

By DENNIS FEOLA Herald Staff Writer

Human error, a lack of quality control on the part of the manufacturer and a lack of preventive maintenance were responsible for voting machine breakdowns during the Sept. 12 primary in Seminole County. That is the opinion of a grand jury report issued this morning after being ordered sealed for 15 days.

The grand jury said 28 machines were rendered inoperable because of problems with the locking mechanisms which control the tumblers.

The rubber tension tabs melted because of the heat at the warehouse where they were being stored, the grand jury reported.

They said the locking mechanisms became displaced when the machines were moved and the problem could not have been discovered while they were at the warehouse.

Human error caused the ballots to appear improperly aligned in 36 machines, the report indicated. However, the jury noted the slipped ballots in no way affected the votes cast or tabulation.

Preventive maintenance could have prevented 12 machines from breaking down, the jury said. They were rendered inoperable because of broken curtain cables, broken electrical wires, missing voting handles, improper voting sequence selection and a broken clevis pin.

County Commission candidate Ron Holman said that the Seminole County Maintenance Department employees assigned to the Seminole County Supervisor of Elections ever used or followed the maintenance procedure as outlined in the manufacturer's maintenance manual. On the contrary, Seminole County Maintenance Department employees failed to demonstrate a knowledge that such a manual existed for maintenance purposes," the report said.

"Poll workers contributed to voting machine failures due to lack of sufficient knowledge, skill and operating procedure. The 1978 Florida Legislature appears to have corrected some of these problems by designating the Supervisor of Elections responsible for procuring and training of poll workers," the report said.

The jury also noted the machines are stored near papers and other combustible materials creating a potential fire hazard.

The jury made the following recommendations: The voting machine storage building should be better ventilated to improve the air circulation.

Carter's War On Inflation: Next Words, Deeds Key

By DENNIS FEOLA Herald Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter offered no guarantee. He didn't claim to have all the answers.

But he did make it clear the government would do its best to bring down the surging inflation that is undermining practically every American's most cherished ambition — financial peace-of-mind.

In his speech from the Oval Office Tuesday night, Carter exhorted both workers and employers to observe a new set of "standards" for pay and price increases.

And he also asked Americans not to be skeptical and to exhibit a new trait in human nature — patience. "These days can't work, but that will take time, and you are the ones who can give them that time," he said.

The real question cannot now be answered: Will this anti-inflation effort work, when similar efforts of the past have failed?

Carter's low-key speech may not have rallied the necessary response — but his words and actions in coming days could do so.

Then there is the political side of the equation. The public considers inflation its major domestic worry. If prices at the grocery store and other retail outlets continue to soar, the voters' only recourse would be to take it out on Carter and other Democrats at the polls.

Real Wage Increase — He will recommend to Congress that groups of workers who meet the pay standard receive an off-inflation pay raise, "up to some reasonable limit," if the plan is not fully implemented by the end of 1978.

Federal Budget — He plans to cut federal spending from the present 20 percent to 25 percent of the gross national product by 1981, a year earlier than the last three years.

'Lots Of Butterflies,' Says 1st Black Sergeant

Admitting he had "lots of butterflies," Joe Dillard accepted his promotion to sergeant this morning. He is the first black man to be promoted to that rank in the history of the Sanford Police Department.

A Sanford resident since 1979 and a member of the department since 1971, Dillard, 26, said he was proud of his accomplishment. "A lot of people were pulling for me," Dillard said. "It's more to have quite an impact."

A happy Dillard, who is married and the father of five children, accepted a new badge, bars and stripes from Chief Ben Butler at his office.

The only reason he was promoted was because he was qualified," Butler said.

The chief said Dillard's name topped the list of those recommended for promotion by the interview board, which is composed of five officers from different law enforcement agencies.

The 96th Congress defied easy analysis at every turn. It began by puncturing the forecasts of those who saw in the juxtaposition of a Democratic President and an overwhelming Democratic Congress the ingredients for a legislative steamroller to match Franklin D. Roosevelt's first 100 days or Lyndon Johnson's congressional blitz of 1965-66.

And it ended by embarrassing those who predicted, as recently as a few months ago, nearly total failure for Mr. Carter's domestic legislative agenda.

Congress' overall performance during the 1977-78 session left much to be desired. But, from Mr. Carter's standpoint, recent activity did provide him a modest list of legislative achievements.

Enactment of the five-part energy package heads the list of domestic accomplishments. Without sustained White House lobbying, it would never have been enacted.

Civil Service reform and deregulation of the airline industry must be rated as solid achievements.

Here, too, White House pressure was critical—particularly on Civil Service reform.

Congressional agreement to extend the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment was another plus for the White House.

In foreign policy, the president can point as noteworthy achievements to ratification of the Panama Canal treaties, repeal of the counterproductive arms embargo against Turkey and approval of his proposed sale of warplanes to Egypt and Saudi Arabia.

It is, however, important to recognize that the chief characteristic of the 96th Congress was its feisty independence from the White House and, on occasion, from its own leadership.

Is Iowa Singing Ted's Song?

DES MOINES (NEA) - Just as Sen. Edward M. Kennedy reached the microphone at a crowded fund-raiser here for Sen. Dick Clark, an accordion player in the next room abruptly terminated the evening in disgust Friday night.

"I recognize that song!" Kennedy shouted. "But Dick," he moaned in mock dismay, "it seems to have stopped in the middle!"

He needs a few words. In Iowa these days, nothing does the Kennedy music for long - not even Jimmy Carter's triumph at Camp David and subsequent surge in the polls.

Iowa Democrats, with their first-in-the-nation precinct caucuses, gave Jimmy Carter his initial boost towards the White House way back in January 1976. But there is no guarantee they will repeat the favor in January 1980.

Carter has clearly recaptured much of the ground he lost during the first 18 months of his presidency, quelling - perhaps for good - the doubts about his competency which had gnawed at even his staunchest supporters here.

But the moon is off the rose nonetheless. The emotional allegiance many Iowa Democrats felt to Candidate Carter has been largely dispelled by President Carter. With one exception, a trip billed solely as a support mission for Dick Clark, Ted Kennedy electrified every crowd he addressed and touched off talk of a dramatic movement in 1980.

Chuck Gifford, director of the United Auto Workers here and a key early Carter supporter the last time out, is effectively off the reservation now. Kennedy is his candidate if Kennedy will run - and will quite probably be his candidate even if he continues to insist he is not going to run.

Tom Whitney, who as chairman of the Democratic Party when Carter won the 1976 precinct caucuses, is quietly talking with key political activists in edifying a half-dozen shire included - about organizing a half-dozen "draft Kennedy" movement early next year, an effort that would be concentrated on the Iowa precinct caucuses and a write-in vote in the New Hampshire primary.

Ed Campbell, Whitney's successor as party chairman, is more discreet - but clearly cool to Jimmy Carter.

All of them, and others as well, will be meeting with like-minded Democrats from every part of the country when the national party holds its mid-term conference in Memphis in early December.

John White, Carter's hand-picked national party director, has rigged the conference rules so tightly that there will be no meaningful opportunity for dissent during the formal proceedings in Memphis. Kennedy will participate in a panel discussion of national health insurance, but he will not near the full convention plenary session.

The real politicking at Memphis will be taking place in corridors and hotel rooms, and Iowa Democrats are likely to be in the thick of the plotting.

The precinct caucuses of 1976 were pure opportunity for Candidate Carter, an obscure Iowa governor from Georgia who simply started hearing and working harder than anyone else in the field. For President Carter, who can no longer devote even days - let alone months - to cultivating caucus support, they are pure peril.

'I Just Love Autumn In An Election Year!'

RONALD REAGAN UNESCO And The Press

Despite the New York newspaper strike, business is booming on Broadway, Off-Broadway and Off-Off-Broadway. But that repertory theater of high comedy on the East River, the United Nations, is having its scenes stolen this week by its Paris branch, UNESCO, the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

There, the members of UNESCO have begun a meeting which is sure to get rave reviews from totalitarianism fans everywhere. Central topic of the meetings is a resolution which calls for state control of the mass media in every country of the world.

No, your eyes aren't playing tricks. It's really happening. And the resolution was not concocted by the ghost of Dr. Goebbels but by the UNESCO Secretary General, Amadou-Mahtar Mbow of Senegal.

In short, the resolution, if passed, would encourage every neighborhood dictator on the globe to do whatever he wants with critical members of the Fourth Estate, and to do it with the arm's satisfaction that his actions have been sanctified by an international body.

Article III spells out the proposed "obligations" of the news media. It is incumbent on the mass media to respect the dignity and dignity of all nations, peoples and individuals, without distinction of race, sex, language, nationality or philosophical conviction.

What a monstrous, in those poorly stated of the Third World. "It's a journalist's criticizes the government or the dictator's wife's hairdo, it could easily mean 30 days in the policy for "disrespect."

Article XI goes a step further, to state control of the media. "In no case shall the press be subjected to any form of censorship, to interference or to any other restriction which would impair its freedom of information and in compliance with the relevant international instruments and agreements," it says.

Setting it that this outrageous tract will win a heavy majority of UNESCO's 144 member nations - despite the opposition of the Western democracies. There are two reasons: many Third World representatives are super-sensitive to what they consider is an unfairly bad press for them in the Western world and that worldwide news organizations are Western dominated.

Fortunately, for sane people throughout the world, the resolution is not binding, though it passes by a large margin. Dictators, strong men and one-party governments will no doubt see on that fact to justify silencing and jailing the news more to their liking. And, guess who is egging them on? The world champion media manipulator, the Soviet Union, abetted by most of its satellite nations.

Not letting government have the money to spend in the first place is the best and perhaps the only way to stop excessive government spending by the legislature, says Ader Crenshaw, Republican candidate for Secretary of State. When it comes to spending our own money and planning our family's budget, we won't spend more that we can afford. If we do, we are assessed severe penalties. The same should apply to state government," he said.

Sanford Cuts Down $195 Damage Claim

By MAX ERKLETTIAN Herald Staff Writer

A claim against the city for payment of $195.57 in damages to a car from a fallen tree limb in the city's right-of-way has been rejected by the Sanford City Commission.

The commission Monday turned down the claim sought by Rev. Ermo P. Ingel, 310 West 11th St. The claim, filed with the city Sept. 25, was the second such claim filed in a little over two months.

The commission voted in August to pay $1,200 for damages to a 1973 Chevrolet owned by Norvel Angie, 814 Park Ave. Angie made claim after a tree limb fell on his car.

The commission action in both cases followed the recommendation of City Attorney Vernon Mize.

Mize explained his varying opinion in the two cases by noting he considered two factors: whether the tree is in the city right-of-way and if there was any "apparent defect" in the tree.

Mize noted Angie had reported the noted condition of the tree that damaged his car, prior to the limb falling, while there have been no reports of damage in the tree that damaged the Ingel auto.

"It's my understanding that the tree in this case was a healthy looking tree and the city had had no reports or complaints on this tree," said Mize. "Therefore, I do not feel the city is liable in this case."

"How can you pay $1,200 and not pay $195?" asked Mayor Lee P. Moore.

"I'm going to vote for the motion, because it goes along with my position on the other case. I didn't feel the city should have taken action in the other case, because I don't feel the city should pay anything until it is instructed to do so by a court."

In other action, the commission went on record opposing casino gambling.

Florida voters will be able to decide in the Nov. 7 general election if casino gambling will be legalized in south Florida. The resolution cited a belief that casino gambling "will not be in the best public interest and will only serve to attract more of the organized criminal element that is already present in the South Florida area."

The commission also enacted an ordinance raising water and sewer connection fees for the first time in 20 years.

The new fees would not affect monthly water and sewer rates; the connection fees apply only to structures built before March 1972.

The new connection fees for sewer will go from $50 to $85 for alley and easement taps and from $60 to $250 for street taps.

Water connection fees for structures built prior to March 1972 would jump from $65 to $150 for three-quarter inch pipe; from $130 to $200 for one-inch pipe; from $200 to $300 for one-and-one-half-inch pipe; and from $275 to $400 for two-inch pipe.

The new fees reflect actual costs for making the utility connections and are not an effort to raise additional city revenue, according to Knowledge.

Another portion of the ordinance gave a breakdown of sewer and water connection fees for structures built after March 1972.

Prior to adoption of the ordinance there was a $500 base fee for both sewer and water connections.

Under the breakdown, the $500 fee base remains the same. However, it is broken down to $221 fee for the sewer connection.

Water connections would range upward as follows: $220 for a three-fourth-inch pipe; $240 for a one-inch pipe; $340 for a one and one-half inch connection and a $419 for a two-inch connection.

The difference in the costs of the water connections covers the increased cost of meters and fittings, according to city officials.

Another measure included in the ordinance would jump fees for delinquent utility payment from $3 to $4.

After-hour turn-on fees would go from $2 to $7 and transfer from $3 to $10.

element that is already present in the South Florida area. The commission also enacted an ordinance raising water and sewer connection fees for the first time in 20 years.

The new fees would not affect monthly water and sewer rates; the connection fees apply only to structures built before March 1972.

The new connection fees for sewer will go from $50 to $85 for alley and easement taps and from $60 to $250 for street taps.

Best To Invest Abroad

By LEROY POPE UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Just as Europeans are investing heavily in the United States, it's time for Americans to diversify their portfolios into the international arena, officials of Fiduciary Trust Co. of New York believe.

The firm points out that the U.S. interest rate is at a historic low, which prevailed from 1963 through 1974, effectively lured American portfolio investors from even thinking about direct investment overseas.

European and Asian banking stocks are an area well worth looking at. Fiduciary Trust said. "The German universal banks operate on an entirely different banking system and can profitably engage in many areas of financial opportunity which U.S. banks long have been excluded," the study went on.

"In southeast Asia, it even is possible to invest in a bank which essentially performs the functions of a central bank; both the earnings and stock market price, even in local currencies, of these banks over the past three years have outperformed their American equivalents."

Because of the lack of liquidity in the foreign security markets, Capital International SA and Fiduciary Trust think American portfolio investors should keep a majority of their investments in U.S. companies.

The impact of currency fluctuations on international investments is often exaggerated, the study said. It pointed out that those who correctly forecast the drop in the British pound from $1.30 to $1.20 and sold their British holdings a real windfall over the past three years have outperformed their American equivalents.

FBI Checking CORE Chief Roy Innis

WASHINGTON—The FBI and police agencies on both coasts are investigating accusations that Roy Innis, the controversial director of the congress of Racial Equality (CORE), ordered the shooting of a former colleague and the beating of another.

Innis vehemently denies the allegations. We have signed no orders, however, from the trigger man who says he committed the most fatal shooting on direct orders from Innis. His story has been corroborated by a man who claims to have been an eyewitness to the incident, which took place in Washington, D.C. in February, 1974.

CORE sources told our associates Gary Cole and Tracy Opposite that Innis has personally ordered the conviction of other CORE officials of the organization, as well as the beating of dozens of CORE members.

It should be noted that Innis, who took over the leadership of CORE in 1968, is credited with a bitter feud with CORE founder James Farmer and others who have been trying to end Innis. In this regard it is recalled that some allegations of libel and invasion of privacy by Innis are exaggerated or even concocted out of whole cloth.

Bus Shortage, Age A Problem

School Transportation Department Has Good Record

BY LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

It operates on 942 lines, transports more than 20,000 students and has the fifth largest budget of any department in the Seminole County school system.

But despite the almost $2.3 million budget the transportation department still faces several problems.

"I would say our biggest problem is transporting the exceptional educational children," according to Roy Wright III, fleet safety and route manager for the department.

State law requires the school system to provide transportation to the nearest appropriate school and for the exceptional educational children this means a ride that for some lasts about two hours.

"We try to get them there as soon as we can but our main problem is that area is just not enough buses," Wright said.

Seminole County's 2,000 exceptional education students are in a variety of programs including those who have learning disabilities, are mentally and physically handicapped, those with speech and hearing problems and those who are emotionally handicapped.

Of the 187 buses currently on the road 36 are used for the exceptional education program, according to Wright.

"Prices for a 60 passenger bus average about $15,000 while the newer 80 passenger buses run an average of $20,000, according to Wright.

The lack of enough school buses is also evident in another area... the general condition of the school bus fleet.

"I would say that our buses are older than some of the ones in adjoining counties," he noted.

The school system has ordered eight new buses but they are not expected to arrive until next summer and will then be ready for the school year.

Wright noted that the school bus fleet is 14 years old. "The problem with having older buses is that once they get beyond 10 years old, we have trouble getting the proper parts," he said.

He noted that although it is required to inspect the bus every 30 days, "when you have buses that are 12, 13 or 14 years old you have trouble."

However, according to Wright the transportation department has several bright spots to point out.

"I think one area we are really strong in is our safety record," he said. Last year the buses drove more than two million miles and had 34 accidents.

"The most important thing about that figure," Wright said, "is that there were no students injured. So far this year school buses have been involved in seven accidents which resulted in no major injuries to the passengers."

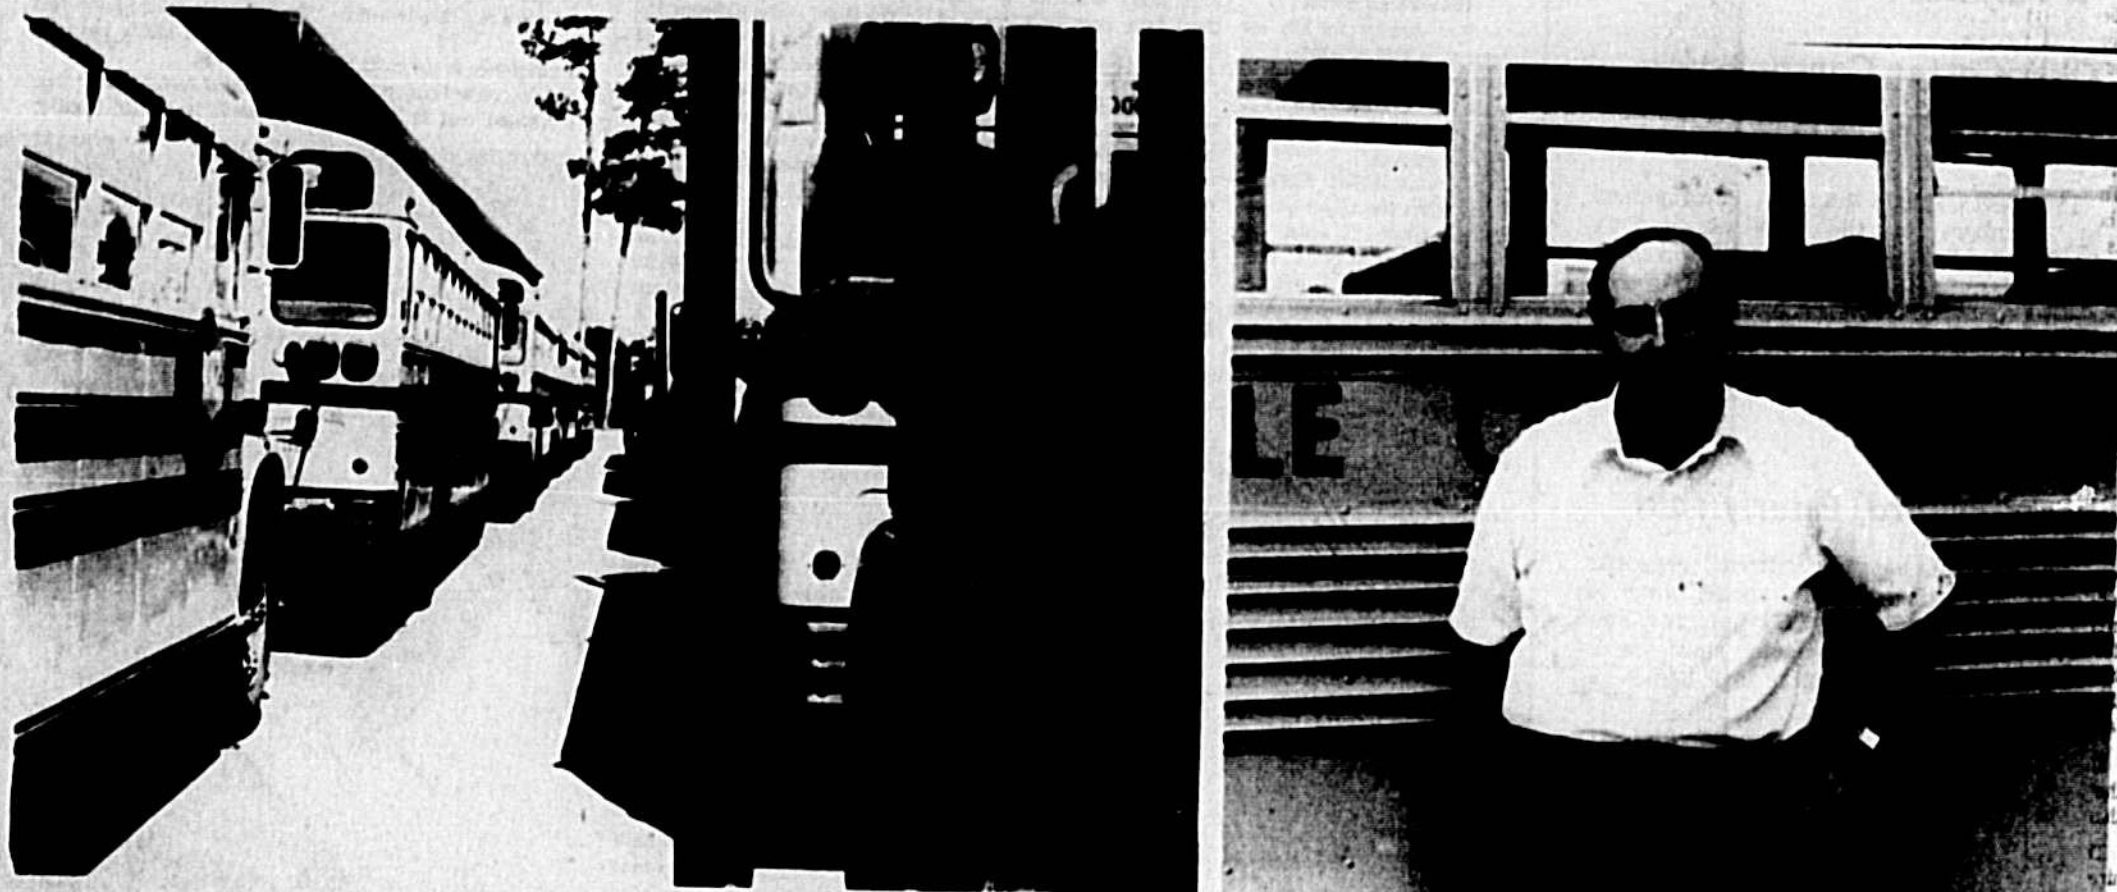

Most of the accidents over the years have been in the heavily populated south end of the county.

"We have buses going up and down that corridor between U.S. 27-90 and Interstate 4 on 625 and with all that traffic accidents are bound to happen sooner or later," he said.

He noted the department tries to combat the threat of accidents by having three safety training courses a year. Additionally, before a driver is allowed to drive a bus alone he is given 30 to 120 hours of training in the classroom and behind the wheel.

The only regret Wright has about the training is "supervisors do not have the time to go out in the field with the drivers." He added "this would not be a desirable situation, but to other things."

Sued In Pasco County, Too

Architect Faces Another County School Lawsuit

Sanford architect Eoghan Kelly, about to be sued a second time by the Seminole County School Board over leaky roofs at several county schools already has been sued in another Florida county for the same reason.

The new lawsuit is expected to be filed in Seminole County this week, according to the school district's attorney, in connection with leaky roofs at six schools. The first lawsuit in Seminole was over leaky roofs at six other schools. The school board alleges in its suit Kelly's faulty design caused the leaking.

The four he deems most qualified in a council work session next Monday at 7:30 p.m. The council will hold a special meeting following the workshop to choose a clerk.

Councilman Ray Leisenberger on Oct. 8 moved to hire Mrs. Shomate's daughter, Linda Martin, who takes minutes for her mother at the council meetings for 30 hours a week "for the rest of January."

Under the new city charter, the job will be appointive rather than elective as in the past.

The city council is anxious to hire her replacement as soon as possible so that he or she can be trained by Mrs. Shomate before her retirement.

Chacey said he will narrow the field of applicants and bring worked on the school, as does the lawsuit in Pasco County involving nine schools there, alleging faulty workmanship. The Seminole County School Board is asking the courts to award damages equal to repair costs. Of the 13 Seminole County schools involved, four already have been repaired at a cost to the school district of $11,518.82. No estimate was available on what it will cost to repair the other eight.

"I have been working on the suit and expect to file them this week," said school board assistant attorney Ned Julian Jr.

Named in the suit besides Kelly will be GAF Inc., the bonding company, and E. C. Goodman, the contractor.

The four schools which have already been repaired are Tusawilla Middle School, Lake Howell High School, Idylwild Elementary and Teague Middle School.

Schools which still need to be repaired are Jackson Heights Middle School, Lake Oriens Elementary School, Winter Springs Elementary, Sabal Park Elementary, Altamonte Springs Elementary, Lake Brantley High School and Forest City Elementary.

The first lawsuit involving six other schools is still awaiting court action, according to Julian.

In Pasco County the decision to file the suits was made after the school board heard the results of a study completed by Robert Stafford of Charlotte, N.C., consulting engineer who specializes in inspecting roofs. The roof problems in Pasco County were the results of the architect's design error and the contractor's failure to properly install materials as specified in the contract, according to Stafford's study.

Stafford was the same engineer who inspected roofs in Seminole County and said the leaks were caused by possible design error and workmanship errors. — LEONARD KRANSDORF

Longwood Interviewing For Clerk

Interim City Administrator David Chacey has reported to Longwood City Council he is interviewing applicants for city clerk to replace City Clerk Omita Shomate after she retires after 20 years in office in January.

Under the new city charter, the job will be appointive rather than elective as in the past.

Impasse In Clerk Pact Talks

Differing views on the issue of retroactive pay increases resulted in the Seminole County School board Tuesday night declaring impasse in its four months of negotiations with the county clerical union.

Additionally, Gene Groome, Seminole Educational Clerical Association (SECA) spokesman said he will today be asking for a mediator from the federal mediation and conciliation service.

However, Ernest Cowley, school board chief negotiator said, "I will not refuse to talk to a mediator but I will tell them they are wasting their time because we will not compromise on the issue of retroactive pay."

Groome counters, "If (Cowley) is just playing the game of negotiating because in negotiating nothing is ever set and firm."

In the impasse process the two teams will now have to select a special master from a list provided by the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC). Once the special master is selected, hearings will be held and a decision will be offered.

The mediator process is different in that the mediator meets separately with both sides and tries to offer suggestions and attempts to get both sides to compromise.

The agreed-to base salary increase raises the base from $4,750 to $4,974 an increase of 4.6 percent.

Spray Paint May Salvage Sanford Lights, Decorations For Holidays

Sanford's downtown Christmas decorations may be salvaged for another year with spray paint and the replacement of light sockets.

Don Knight, representing the Sanford Business Association (SBA) and City Public Works Director Bob Kelly met at the city maintenance building today to inspect the decorations.

Knight plans to report to representatives of the SBA on the condition of the decorations before a final decision on their fate is made.

Knight has suggested spray painting the Christmas trees to improve their faded appearance.

Asked if the decorations can safely be used for this year's Christmas Parade, Kelly said, "I think they can."

Kelly said he felt the faulty light sockets in the decorations could be replaced, thus relieving fears of a hazard.

The Christmas decorations are owned by the SBA and are stored in the city maintenance building. The city does not contribute to the purchase of such decorations.

Cook Of The Week

Old-Fashioned Cooking Takes Blue Ribbons

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Ethel Frith, Casselberry, believes in cooking the old-fashioned way. "I always cook from scratch. My husband just won't eat any other kind. I've found there aren't any shortcuts when you cook the old-fashioned way. You can't expect to turn out a baked product in a hurry. You have to have patience," she said.

Several of Ethel's recipes have garnered Blue Ribbons for her at the Central Florida Fair. "Telling of how she became involved in entering competition, she said, "I became very interested in the Home Economics Department of the Fair one year. All the competing food items caught my eye and I decided to enter the next year. I did, and really enjoyed it."

Ethel is adamant on not trying to double a recipe. "It just doesn't work out. I never double a recipe of any kind, because it's so easy to ruin it," she said.

Admitting that the high price of ingredients has cut down on her baking, she also has looked to the future by having her Christmas fruit cake already baked and frozen!

Ethel and her husband, Hammond, get fresh vegetables from their own garden. "We also go up to the home place in Georgia every year, and I can do a lot of things. I make and can jellies, preserves and relishes. The pear relish I prepare is

- from pineapple pears that I get from my sister in Jacksonville," she said.
- Ethel doesn't care for highly seasoned foods, believing they aren't good for the body. "I try to use very little salt, also," she added.
- Baking is Ethel's specialty, although she enjoys all types of cooking. "Changing recipes to suit your own taste is fine. If you make something and you don't care for it, add ingredients to please your own taste. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't," she said.
- Ethel's meat casserole recipe is easy to freeze and nice to have on hand for unexpected company. However, if it is frozen for later use, she suggested leaving off the cheese until ready to serve.
- Her hobbies include quilting and tending her beautiful plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Williams of 1800 Park Ave., Sanford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Lee, to Lindsey Nelson Allen, son of Capt. and Mrs. Nelson Wayne Allen, 2422 Foxwood Road South, Orange Park.

The bride-elect, who was born in Sanford, is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stewart and the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams, all of Sanford.

Miss Williams is a June 1974 graduate of Seminole High School where she was a member of the Anchor Club and National Honor Society. She is a March 1977 graduate of Florida Technological University with a major in Allied Legal Service. She is employed as a legal secretary in the law office of Ackerman, Sontoff and Eidsen, Orlando.

Her fiancé, who was born in Oakland, Calif., is a June 1972 graduate of Curtis High School, New York City, where he was on the yearbook staff. He is a May 1977 graduate of West Virginia University at Morgantown and is an accountant in the Orlando office of Colley, Trun-

10-Year-Old Dreams Of Role As Actress

DEAR ABBY: I am 10 years old and want to become a famous actress. I would be very good at it because ever since I was a little girl I have been very good at "pretending" and that is what acting is, isn't it? I have to finish high school to be an actress.

Dear Abby

FUTURE ACTRESS
DEAR ACTRESS: Finish high school. And college, too, if you can. Being good at "pretending" might help a lot because there may be times when you have to "pretend" that you are eating.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice that mothers should give their daughters sex education is ludicrous! If a daughter confides to her mother that she is shoplifting to support a drug habit, would you then advise the mother to instruct her daughter on how to shoplift without getting caught?

If not, may I say that sex without marriage is just as morally wrong as shoplifting and drug use.

"RIGHT AGAIN IN FLORIDA"
DEAR RIGHT: Wrong! The crime of shoplifting cannot be equated with the "crime" of premarital sex.

I hear from enough teenagers to know that once they have gone all the way with someone they think they love, they continue to have sex every chance they get. (The sex drive is one of the most powerful of all natural urges. Second only to the need for food!)

It is the responsibility of every parent to teach their children ALL the facts in order to protect them from VD and accidental pregnancies.

Uninformed kids who are sexually active (and face it, millions are!) not only ruin their own lives, but they place a heavy burden financially and

Seminole Home Health Services Open In Sanford

In his new position, Walko will be responsible for the agency's overall operations in Seminole and Volusia Counties.

Quilting: Labor Of Love

Reminiscent of the old quilting bees, Rosalie D'Albora, Grace Boruch and Nancy Larkin place final stitches on a quilt containing 900 different flowers — two alike.

The quilt was begun last spring in preparation for their church's Winter Carnival on Dec. 1, 2, and 3. Over 100 women of St. Mary Magdalen parish had a share in making the king-size quilt.

After the flowers were appliqued, quilted, embroidered and crewel-stitched to the squares, small groups of women met twice a week of the most of Mrs. Larkin to stitch the squares to the cotton polyester.

The labor of love had a fringe benefit, just as the quilting bees of old, and that was the fellowship shared by the women during the months of work.

The secret to an old favorite — chili — is the deft handling of seasonings. Chili-Pork Stew is a different version of the hearty dish.

Take Diners South Of The Border

Each person seems to have a favorite chili recipe. And essential to tasty chili is the deft handling of seasonings. Americans are most likely to use chili powder. But Mexicans and other Latin-Americans use dried ristras or whole red chili peppers to flavor their special dishes. Mingled with chili peppers in characteristic Mexican recipes are such other aromatics as cumin, oregano and garlic. All these spices are ground and blended by experts to make our very popular chili powder.

Here is a different chili-pork stew that combines potatoes and tomatoes with pork shoulder and chorizo or pork sausage links.

CHILI-PORK STEW

- 1/4 cup instant minced onion
- 1 1/4 teaspoons instant minced garlic
- 1 1/4 cups water, divided
- 3 tablespoons oil
- 3 pounds boneless pork shoulder, cut in 2-inch pieces
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 1 leaves, crumbled
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- 2 pounds potatoes, peeled and quartered
- 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, broken up
- 1/4 pound chorizo or pork sausage links, sliced

Rehydrate minced onion and garlic in 1/2 cup of water for 10 minutes. Heat oil in large heavy saucepot or Dutch oven. Add pork. Brown well on all sides. Remove pork and set aside.

Drain all but 2 tablespoons fat from the pot. Add rehydrated onion and garlic. Sauté for 5 minutes. Return pork to the pot. Add 1/2 cup of the water along with the salt. Bring to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until pork is almost tender, about 1 1/2 hours, stirring occasionally.

Blend flour, chili powder, oregano and sugar with remaining 1/2 cup water. Stir into gravy in saucepot. Add potatoes, tomatoes and sausage. Cover and simmer until meat and potatoes are tender, 40 to 60 minutes longer. Garnish with avocado slices, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Soup And Sandwich Popular Meal Combo

Soup-and-sandwich meals are popular with all ages. They are an easy way for busy mothers or single people to prepare filling, nutritious lunches or dinners with little strain on the food budget.

A new approach is to combine soup and sandwich into one casserole, using onion soup mix topped with crusty bread, cheese and sardines. Make the cheesy soup ahead — it takes about 30 minutes to prepare — and gently reheat when ready to serve.

Make the "sandwich" topping of French bread chunks or rolls, layered with cheese and Norway sardines. Slip this rarebit-like treat under the broiler to lightly brown. Serve with a crisp tossed salad and, as dessert, your favorite fruit or fruit pie and ice cream.

This makes an excellent after-the-game dinner for family and guests.

NORDIC RAREBIT A RARE TREAT

- 1 can (3 1/4 ounces) Norway sardines, drained
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- Rub heavy saucepan with garlic clove. Heat brush and wash with garlic just to simmering point. Discard garlic. Add 1/4 of the Swiss cheese. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Gradually stir in onion soup, nutmeg and cornstarch-water mixture. Pour soup into shallow
- heat-proof casserole that will fit under broiler.
- Cover surface of hot soup with bread cubes. (You may substitute individual rolls for French bread.) Sprinkle bread with half of remaining Swiss cheese. Arrange sardines on top. Cover sardines with remaining Swiss cheese and Parmesan. Slide casserole under broiler. Broil until cheese is bubbly and golden. Ladle into soup plates and serve at once. Makes 4 hearty servings.

TRY LEMON POUND CAKE THE METRIC WAY

Would You Believe A 'Half-Kilo' Cake?

Youngsters can enjoy themselves while getting their newly learned math and metric work in the kitchen. Here are two recipes for lemon "pound" cake — or, in metric, lemon "half-kilogram" cake. The metric cake is not a direct conversion of the conventional recipe, but uses logical measurements in utensils created for the coming era of metric.

LEMON POUND CAKE

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 cups 100 percent natural cereal
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Beat together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Add to batter mixture alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Blend in 1 cup cereal, lemon extract and vanilla.

Generously grease 10-inch tube pan. Pat remaining 1 cup cereal onto bottom of pan. Spoon batter over. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven for 1 hour and 30 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 15 minutes; remove from pan. Complete cooling on rack.

Makes one 10-inch tube cake.

LEMON "HALF-KILOGRAM" CAKE

- 200 ml butter or margarine
- 400 ml sugar
- 3 eggs
- 750 ml all-purpose flour
- 5 ml baking powder
- 1 meat
- 250 ml milk
- 500 ml 100 percent natural cereal
- 5 ml lemon extract
- 2 ml vanilla

Beat together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Add to batter mixture alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Blend in 200 ml cereal, lemon extract and vanilla.

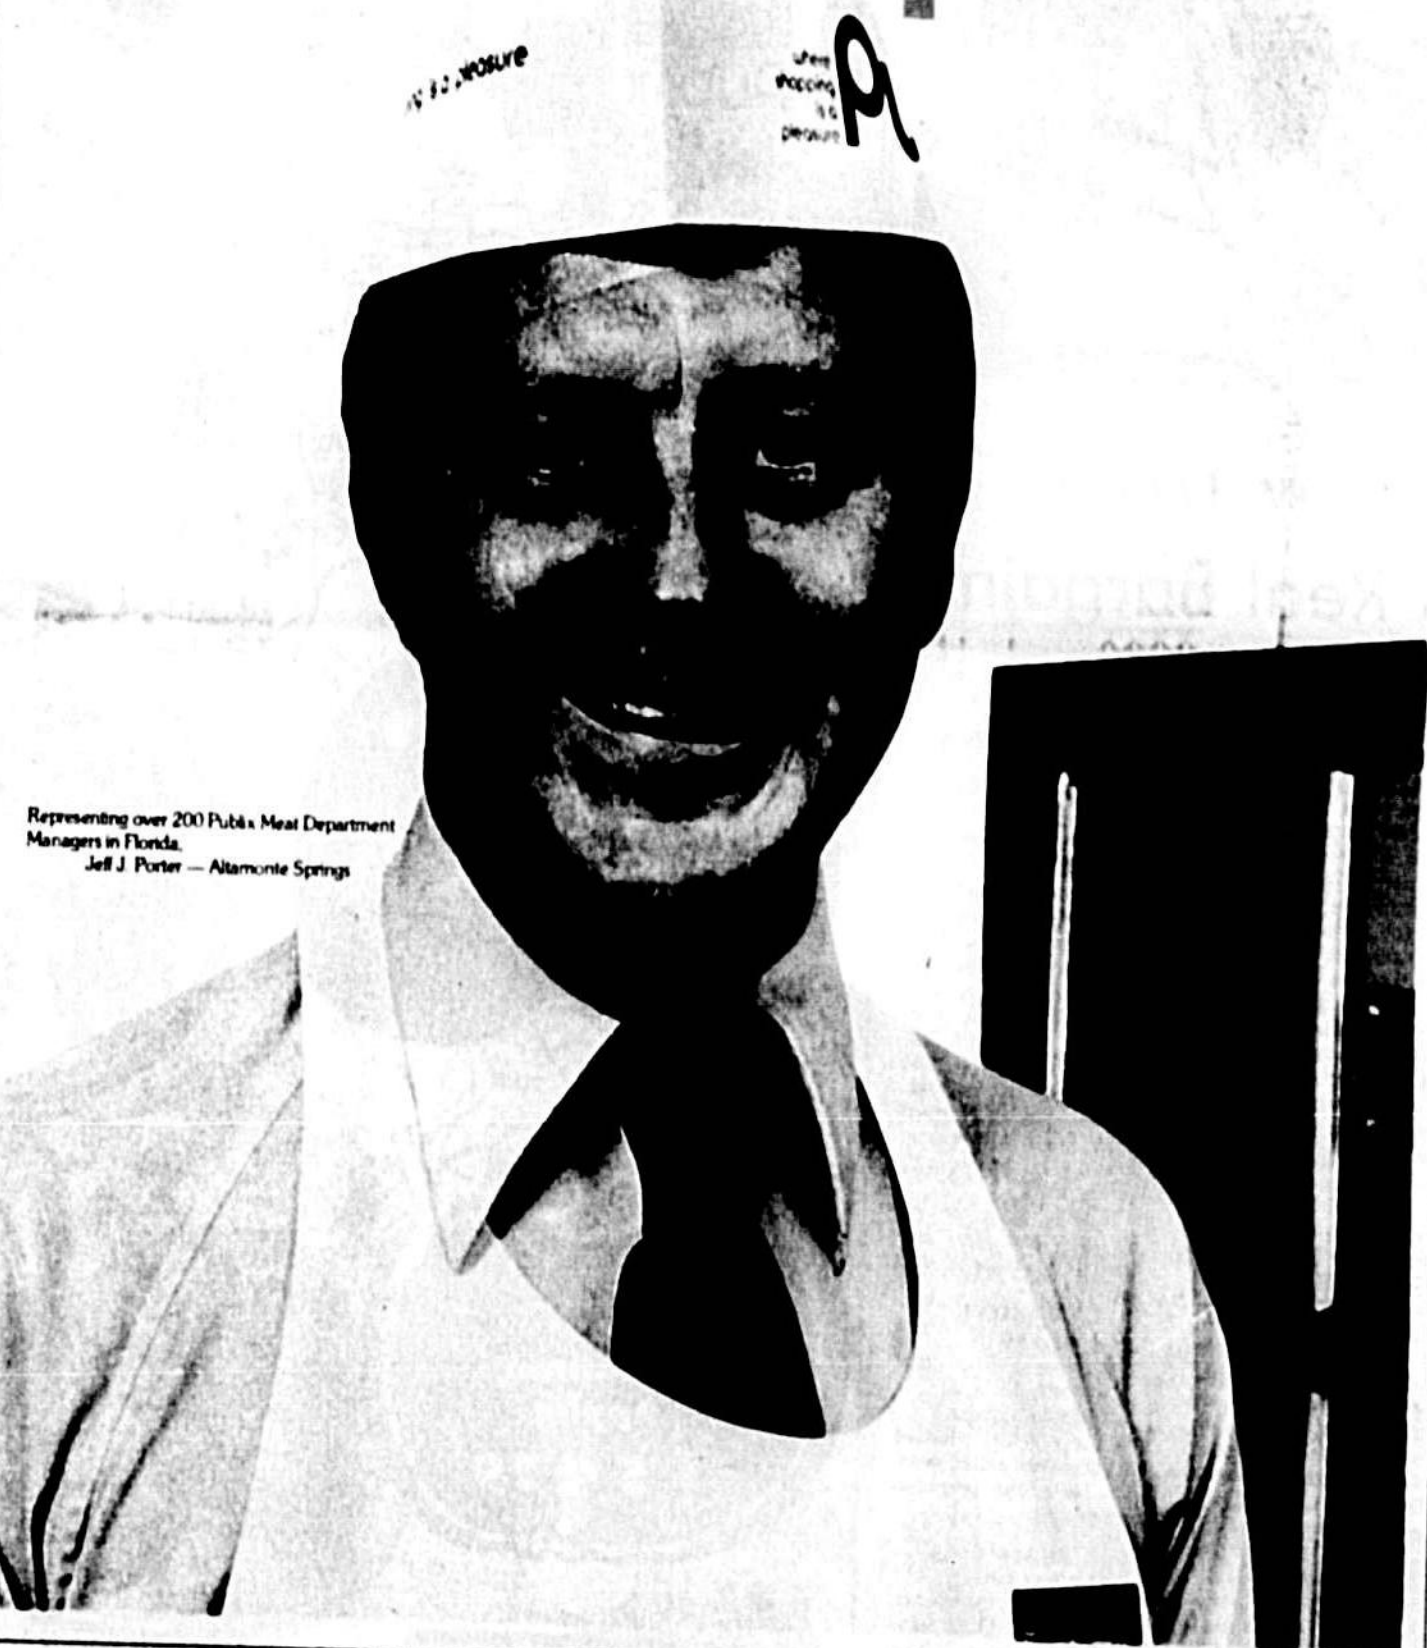

Generously grease 10-inch tube pan. Pat remaining 200 ml cereal onto bottom of pan. Spoon batter over. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven for 1 hour and 30 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 15 minutes; remove from pan. Complete cooling on wire rack.

Makes one 10-inch tube cake.

"Every customer's different. It keeps me on my toes."

"I make sure there's a big variety of sizes and cuts out there in the beef case — both U.S.D.A. Choice and ProTen. But not all my customers are big beef eaters, so I'm just as concerned with our pork, ham, chicken, lamb, veal — everything else. I think we've got better variety than any place in town."

Tasting Party Easy Way To Entertain

A cheese tasting is one of the quickest and easiest ways to turn an ordinary get-together into a memorable event. A bountiful spread of assorted cheeses is an open invitation for guests to indulge and enjoy. Choose types that offer a variety of flavors, from mild to sharp, as well as a blend of textures, from creamy smooth to firm.

Although non-alcoholic beverages such as coffee, cider, light fruit punches, soft drinks, and tea enhance these flavors, wine is a natural and by far the most popular partner for cheese tasting parties. A cheese festival is the time for you and your guests to experiment, so don't feel inhibited by the myriads of pairings with a particular cheese.

Too Much Alcohol May Be Problem

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am in a State Hospital for alcohol. For treatment I have to take Antabuse everyday. Now, I can't have any sex life and I have a very hard time passing my urine. Can I take any medicine to bring my sex life back? I would appreciate an answer since you are my last resort.

DEAR READER—It will take more than an answer to your letter to solve your problems. At least you started on the right course by getting off alcohol. Many men find out that alcohol is not conducive to good sexual performance. To paraphrase Shakespeare, "It provokes the desire, but takes away the ability." Your problem may not be the treatment of your alcoholism, but the alcoholism itself. The constant consumption of alcohol can damage your liver which, in turn, may affect your male hormone levels and your sex drive.

Whether you need additional vitamins at this time or not depends on your current diet. It is not unusual, however, for people who have been consuming lots of alcohol and have liver damage to have increased vitamin requirements above those normally recommended for healthy people. To give you a better understanding of what alcohol is doing to your body, and why it is so important for you to stop it, and stay off it forever, I am sending you The Health Letter, number 14, Alcohol, Whiskey, Gin, Vodka, Rum, Wine and Beer. DEAR DR. LAMB—My husband and I have been attempting to have another child for about 14 months. He has been examined and found to be entirely normal. I did get pregnant before and lost our

Double Apple Ring Unexpected Delight

Try a new approach to the salad course... Waldorf salad extraordinary.

As much as we've enjoyed a summer of seasonal fruits and tossed garden greens, fall dinner menus call for heartier eating and a new approach to the salad course. Double Apple Ring is an unexpected delight. It's crisp and crunchy, yet sweet and creamy. It's Waldorf salad extraordinary! This, two-step, salad combo starts with a ring mold of raspberry gelatin with applesauce folded in for extra tang. Then the Waldorf is mixed. This recipe, a variation of the hotel's famed apple and celery classic, adds miniature marshmallows, chopped walnuts, and salad dressing for a slightly sweet, slightly tart flavor. To serve, unmold the gelatin ring and fill the center with the Waldorf mixture. Now during the autumn months when apples are at their peak is a good time to serve Double Apple Ring for family meals or for guests. It's delicious, attractive, and a double good addition to almost any dinner menu. DOUBLE APPLE RING 1-3oz. pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin 2 cups boiling water 1/2 cup cold water 1 1/2-cup jar applesauce 1 1/2 cups chopped apples 1 cup Kraft miniature marshmallows 1/4 cup celery slices 1/4 cup chopped walnuts Salad dressing Lettuce Combine apples, marshmallows, celery, nuts and enough salad dressing to moisten; toss lightly. Chill. Unmold gelatin; surround with lettuce. Spoon apple mixture into center of mold. 8 servings.

Popcorn: Melt It, Pour It, Bag It

Halloween! It's that time of year again when the neighborhood "big-wheels" get out and appear on your door-step in the guise of witches, ghosts and goblins. It's a time when the next-door five-year old with an unmistakable giggle asks disappointedly from under a big white sheet, "How do you know it's me?" The celebration recalls a time when the fantasy of the supernatural seemed as real as the magic of "Star Wars" today. However, you will find nothing supernatural or magical about the prices of the goodies the youngsters at your doorstep will be begging for this year. Popcorn is a nearly perfect snack food. It's inexpensive—5¢ to 6¢ per pound bag of kernels. It's simple and quick to prepare. Tastes great, is accepted in some weight-loss diets as a substitute for bread and contains nutrients. SUGAR 'N' SPICE TREAT 4 qts. plain popcorn 1 tsp. cinnamon 1-3rd cup butter or margarine 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 cup salt Prepare 4 quarts of un-buttered popcorn according to instructions. ## Winds Imperil Manila

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Typhoon Rita, the worst storm to hit the Philippines in eight years, today raised the nation's rice and coconut growing region with winds of nearly 100 mph and roared toward populous metropolitan Manila.

Reports from the rice bowl region of Cebu province, 230 miles southeast of Manila, said Rita triggered flash flooding in low-lying areas, forcing at least 1,210 persons to flee from their homes and seek shelter in town halls and schools.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

U.S. military authorities said the helicopter carrier USS Okinawa sailed out of the Subic Bay naval base to avoid the storm and U.S. aircraft flew to Okinawa from Clark Air Base, home of the 13th Air Force 60 miles north of Manila.

The weather bureau said the eye of the storm was expected to pass 31 miles north of the Manila today with winds up to 80 mph.

"The worst will come in the evening," Roman Kintanar, director of the geophysical office, said.

Kintanar described the storm as "extremely dangerous" and warned residents to take all necessary precautions.

Rita struck the coconut-producing eastern coastal provinces with peak winds of 137 miles an hour, but it lost some of its punch as it ran into the Sierra Madre mountains in its inland sweep.

Intermittent heavy rains and wind gusts pulled the Philippine capital of 7.5 million persons, snapping power lines. The metropolitan area was placed on typhoon alert and most streets in the capital were deserted.

The storm disrupted communications and forced the suspension of all domestic air services and reducing rail traffic. Ten outgoing and eight incoming international flights were canceled.

$22.9-Million Teacher Pact Gets Board OK

The Seminole County School Board has approved a new three-year contract for teachers calling for pay increases ranging from 4.6 percent to a high of 22.4 percent with an average pay raise of 6 percent.

It will cost the school system $22,922,178.53 to pay teachers for the first year of the new three-year pact.

That's $1,670,399 more than it cost this year under the old contract ending July 31. The figures do not include another $4,092,192 for fringe benefits for the first of the three years — an increase of $834,000 over this year's amount.

It took the school board about 30 minutes to accept the new contract Wednesday night by a 4 to 1 vote, with Robert Feather opposed because he said the pay raises were too high.

Under the new contract, teachers will receive pay raises from $400 to as much as $2,740 over existing base pay, depending upon the number of years of experience and the type of degree they hold.

There are about 1,700 teachers in the Seminole County school system affected by the new contract.

Of that number some 10 percent, or about 170 to 200 teachers, will receive the $400 raise as beginning teachers with bachelors' degrees and no previous experience, according to Owen McCarron, personnel director.

For those teachers, the new base pay is $9,100, plus fringe benefits.

McCarron estimated there are approximately 12 to 15 percent who fall into the highest pay raise category of 22.4 percent.

For those 220 or so teachers with the most years' experience and holding advanced degrees, the annual salary can be as high as $15,015.

The tax rate for school purposes in Seminole County is $4 per $1,000 assessed valuation and, according to Roger Harris, assistant superintendent for finance, that will generate about $12.9 million. Harris said about $3 million of that amount is currently budgeted for salaries and fringe benefits with the remainder coming from other non-tax revenue sources. The $3 million represents about $4 on the tax rate for teacher salaries and fringe benefits.

Two weeks ago the teachers had ratified the contract by a 1,121 to 136 vote and all that remained was for the board to give its approval.

Feather said he believed the base pay raise should have only been raised to $9,000. He also cited the Aug. 21 retroactive date as

Sanford Loses $99,200 From Feds; Options Hunted

By MAX ERILETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

The city of Sanford will not receive $99,200 in federal anti-recession funds it had anticipated in its budget for the current fiscal year because of Congress' failure to enact the anti-recession program for another year.

The measure funding the anti-recession program was passed in late September by the Senate, but sat in the House Rules Committee until the last session of Congress ended Oct. 14.

Anti-recession funds could be applied only to salaries and employee benefits. The program originated as an effort to stimulate employment. The city had been receiving anti-recession funds since the program began July 1, 1978.

City officials are looking to the general fund for money to make up loss in anticipated revenue.

The city had budgeted the federal money to pay for: its $87,118 contribution to the Florida Retirement System, $16,640.14 for salaries and benefits for four employees and $6,311.86 for the contingency fund.

The four positions funded through anti-recession funds are: two clerk-typists in the finance department; one clerk-typist in the assistant to the city manager's office and a uniformed parking specialist.

"These items will have to be squeezed into the general fund," Henry Tamm, City

Clerk-Finance director, said of the items originally scheduled to be funded with anti-recession money.

The city has $2,346,100 in its general fund for the present fiscal year.

Settlements: Will Decision Slow Talks?

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Israel's top negotiators departed for the peace talks in Washington today carrying a decision by the cabinet to strengthen settlements in occupied Arab territories, a move likely to irritate President Carter and stall progress on delicate treaty negotiations with Egypt.

Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan disclosed the cabinet decision as he and Defense Minister Ezer Weizman departed for Washington to resume negotiations with Egypt on the U.S.-sponsored treaty.

"Government officials were reluctant to discuss the decision to expand the settlements. But one official, when asked if it was tied to getting approval for the draft treaty, said: 'Of course, there was an interest in getting wider support for the draft in the cabinet.'"

"The government's decision appeared designed to appease Cabinet hard-liners who were reluctant to vote in favor of the treaty, which calls for Israel's withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula. The Cabinet approved the treaty by a 15-0 vote after a three-day debate.

"Carter has called Israeli settlements on occupied Arab land illegal and an obstacle to peace. After the Camp David accords were signed, Carter and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin publicly disputed how long Israel would delay settlement activity in the lands captured in the 1967 war.

PLO's Arafat: Pact 'Ticket To Slavery'

HEBRON, Lebanon (UPI) — Palestinian chief Yasser Arafat condemned the Camp David accords as a ticket to Palestinian "slavery" today and vowed to fight them "with all our potentials."

In his first interview with an American correspondent since the historic accords fashioned by President Carter Sept. 17, Arafat said the twin agreements made in the fifth Middle East war more likely "will all our potentials."

The guerrilla leader also disclosed Washington was trying to get him to join the Camp David negotiating process for Palestinian self-rule on the West Bank and the Gaza strip, where 1.1 million Palestinians live.

But he scoffed at the U.S. bid. "We are not against peace, we are against slavery. ... They ask me to put my signature to accept the slavery of my people."

Arafat said Israel's defense with Egypt made war more likely because it freed the David plan calling for elections on the West Bank that would lead to Palestinian self-rule with a continued Israeli military presence in the area.

"Such elections would be completely illegitimate," Arafat said. "We are against it."

He said Carter, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin tried to implement the self-rule plan over opposition from the PLO and Palestinian mayors. The PLO would fight "with all our potentials."

Asked in the hour-long interview if this included military options, Arafat stressed: "With all our potentials. We have to defend our people, our rights, our future."

Arafat, who will leave for Moscow in 48 hours, concluded with a warning about being the PLO into a corner.

"It should be understood that if you put a cat in the corner, he is going to scratch. But we are not cats. We are tigers."
