

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION THE RED CROSS CIRCUS BRINGS LARGE CROWDS

FIRST PERFORMANCE PLEASES THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

The great Red Cross Society Circus opened yesterday with one of the greatest parades that has been pulled off in this city in many a day and it was a surprise to all who witnessed it.

The parade started on Teeth street at eleven o'clock under the skillful manipulation of Grand Marshal C. M. Hand and assistant Paul Jones and led by the big band under Leader Gallagher with the Home Guards under Capt. Dingle and Maxwell with the many floats following was a most imposing spectacle.

Space will not permit a detailed statement of the many floats and cars but they deserve special mention. All the Herald force were in the parade and the floats could not be accurately tabulated. However the one representing Uncle Sam and America in which R. A. Terheun represented Uncle Sam, Mrs. Robert Herndon Miss Columbia, Mrs. Gertrude the Red Cross Nurse, Corporal Reno the Army and Iszy Kanner the Navy, with the Boy Scouts and little Wallace Phillip in uniform was of special interest.

The Queen's Contest car with the contest committee and the Red Cross cars filled with nurses, the cars containing the beautiful young ladies in the Battle of Roses costume and the little girls in the Haymakers and the Miller ambulance with W. W. Abernathy as the doctor, Ed. Betts as the patient and Mrs. Minnie Jones as nurse were all good.

Another feature of the parade was the auxiliary cars from Longwood, Chuluota, Altamonte, East Sanford and Geneva all of which were auxiliary to the Seminole County Chapter of the Red Cross and demonstrated the co-operative spirit that prevails in the county in this great cause.

Major Forrest Lake in uniform of the Governor's staff and Judge Housholder and Hon. Geo. DeCottes the speakers in the Liberty Loan campaign were also in the parade.

The big tent was packed last night when the doors opened and from the time that the Ringmaster, R. J. Holly was introduced and in turn introduced the first number there was something doing every minute. The big free attractions on the outside of that daredevil Harry Rich, who thrilled them on top of the Stone Gove block with his trapeze acts and then held a 200 pound cannon in his teeth and had it shuck the force throwing him backward several feet. The streets were packed around the circus arena and the opening number, Miss Columbia with Mrs. Robert Herndon in the title role, supported by Capt. Dingle and Corp. Peabody's squad of Seminole Guards started the circus proper. This was a beautiful number in which Mrs. Herndon had opportunity to show her ability to play the cornet in revolve and America. This was a most fitting number for the opening of the Red Cross Circus and there will never be a more beautiful or a better Miss Columbia in any city than Mrs. Herndon.

and this paper will give all of their names in Tuesday's issue, for they were just too sweet for anything and space will not let us give them the mention today that they should have. With fakes and sickles they disported around the ring and finally raked up Old Glory and wave it in the breeze.

George St. Laurent, the upside down juggler next does some of the most difficult acts on the trapeze and bars and juggles balls while upside down, an act which is entirely new and novel.

And the clowns were there in all their glory and we want to mention every one of them but they were so many and varied that they will also have to wait till Tuesday when they will be mentioned. They pulled the funny stuff better than professionals and kept the laughs coming.

Buckskin Bill, that veteran of the plains surprised everybody present by his rifle and pistol shooting. He shot his trusty Winchester rifle in every position known and hit the mark every time and with his pistol broke glass balls while they were in the air and this at night. He gave a good performance in this line afterward coming out and sticking knives all around his wife who posed for him while he literally threw knives at her and they never arrested him or cruelty to his wife.

Weldon's Trained Deers was what the girls call a real cute act in which the only trained deers in the world are put through all kinds of tricks and exhibit human intelligence. The trained deers were here before but many saw them last night who did not have the opportunity while they were here before.

The Zimmerman Twins, little shavers of 11 years gave a boxing and wrestling act that was good and showed that these kids had remarkable aptitude in this art of manly defense. They are scientific boxers and wrestlers and were well received. Harry Rich gave a good one right here in allowing himself to be tied up in a Siberian straight jacket and then came out of it with apparent ease and just for that allowed a big Buick auto to run over his body twice.

Marvelous Melville is all that the name implies and his fine work on a trapeze and overhead rings he gave an exhibition entirely new and novel bringing it to a most spectacular close by leaping to an immense pair of buckhorn antlers as a gun is fired and the antlers do the pendulum swing making 75 revolutions to the minute. It was a thriller and was well received.

The grand finale was the Battle of Roses and while the audience was almost frozen and the cast also these beautiful young ladies gave one of the finest spectacular productions that has ever been witnessed in this city. It was away ahead of any productions that close the big circus features and one that will never be forgotten. These young ladies and four little tots have been drilling for the past week on this production and their work showed the careful training of Madame Seville, one of the best teachers in America. Special costumes of pink and blue and silver trimmings and the intricate figures of the dance with special music made a great hit with the audience and if this part had been put along in the first part of the program would have been enjoyed much better, but the cold weather made itself felt and the audience could not enjoy the Battle of Roses after sitting on the seats for an hour or more and getting chilled through. Suffice to say that the Red Cross Circus is a big success and as the weather man says warmer today and the Battle of Roses will be pulled off tonight in the first part of the program we want to urge all who not have already witnessed the circus to be there tonight and Saturday afternoon for it is well worth the price of admission. The Battle of Roses alone is worth 75 cents any time and you will enjoy every bit of it.

More about the Circus again. Olga Valein Kenneth Robbins

GREAT IDEA CITY MARKET IN ORLANDO

WILL HAVE LIBERTY KITCHEN AND CURB MARKET

The following article from the Orlando Sentinel will be interesting to Sanford people.

According to definite plans now being completed, Orlando is very soon to have both a "Liberty Kitchen" and a curb market, these a result of earnest work from members of the local Council of Defense.

Different organizations represented in the Council of Defense have provided the necessary equipment for the community kitchen, and a suitable room at No. 10 West Pine street opposite Hand's establishment has been given rent-free for three months.

Here the Orlando Paint and Wall Paper Company have donated materials for some needed repairs and Mr. Charles Nystrom has contributed his services in the repair work. Mr. J. B. Finley, Jr., has made the signs desired for the windows free of charge. The grateful appreciation of the committee in charge is extended to each of these helpers, as also to all other donors.

The formal opening of the kitchen is to be held at 3 p. m. on Friday, April 12. Mrs. J. T. Fuller will make an address and Miss Dorothy Pratt will give a demonstration of a "one-piece meal." Orlando women will be quick to show their interest and support of this movement in behalf of food conservation, as also in the other important project, the curb market.

Permission has been given by Mr. Beacham to use the vacant lot by the former jail for a month's trial of the curb market, the city council will have the "sanitary" department keep this lot in order, and the Board of Trade has appointed a committee to operate with the committee from the Council of Defense in necessary arrangements.

These committees hope to have everything in readiness to start the curb market within two weeks. The general plan is to have truck gardeners bring their country produce to this place on Wednesday and Saturday mornings, and sell direct to consumers, a mutual benefit. It is hoped that sufficient interest will be shown, by both producers and consumers, to make this the success here that it has proven in nearby towns.

Fifty dollars was donated by the Board of Trade toward the expense of the "Liberty Kitchen" and some chairs, etc., which have been used at the tourists' headquarters will be loaned for use here.

NEXT QUOTO NEW DRAFT 150,000 MEN

WILL LEAVE APRIL 26th MAKING MILLION MARK

Washington, April 11.—Brigadier General H. Crowder, provost marshal general has issued a call for 150,000 drafted men from every state in the union to go to cantonments during the five day period beginning April 26. This is the greatest number of men summoned to the colors in any single month since the initial call last autumn and fore-shadows the institution for a new War Department policy for making America's weight in the war felt as rapidly as possible.

When 150,000 new men get to the cantonments the number of drafted men in the service will approximate 1,000,000. This is in addition, of course, to the officers and men of the regular army, the National Guard and the Marine Corps, who number in the neighborhood of 1,000,000. In other words, the land forces of the United States ready for the front or in training will number within a month something like 2,000,000 men.

New York state will be required to furnish 10,171 men in the new call. The state draft authorities will make the apportionments for the different districts. Notices to the men who will have to go will be sent out within a week.

All the men summoned are of Class I and constitute what is commonly known as those of the "second call." They are to take the places in some instances of drafted men who are to be sent to France and in others they are to occupy quarters available through the enlargement of certain cantonments.

Of the 150,000 men 116,700 are white and 33,300 negroes, chiefly from Southern states. William G. McAdoo, director general of railroads has arranged for the transportation of the men to the cantonments in special trains which will be run for five days. Florida's quota will be 3,350.

While no figures are as yet available on the actual number of such men called officers of the provost marshal general's office said that the 150,000 new men of the call today would bring the draft total up to 1,000,000.

The draft registration was 10,000,000 so that a tenth of the whole number either is in service or soon will be in training. There are between 2,000,000 men—dependent upon final physical examination—available in Class I. In addition a law recently passed provides that men be registered as they become of age. This is expected to make upward of 1,000,000 men available every year.

DELAND, DAYTONA AND NEW SMYRNA PROVE GREAT HOSTS

Despite the war and all that goes with it the old Florida Press Association continues to flourish and the meeting this year with the good people of DeLand, Daytona and New Smyrna was one of the bright spots in the history of that organization. The Million Dollar Triangle meaning the good roads that connect these three thriving cities of Florida was given a good boost at this meet. The badges being green and gold ribbon and beautiful gold and sterling triangle pins to commemorate the occasion and the three cities. The meeting started at DeLand on Wednesday afternoon with a general get together at the beautiful building in DeLand that houses the Commercial Club and here the members of the Florida press some seventy in number gathered to renew old acquaintances and make new ones, and gathered with the feeling that in DeLand they were in the house of their friends. The party then embarked for DeLeon Springs, rightly named, one of the beauty spots of this state where as guests of Powers & Son, the newspaper men disported for some time and from there they were taken to the model farm and ranch of F. N. Burt of DeLand.

Mr. Burt has some 2,500 acres under fence, and his fields, barns, pens, silos and general layout remind one of a northern farm rather than a Florida one. Tractors were hauling six plows at a time across his broad acres. He is raising some fine hogs and cattle, having perhaps 2,000 cattle on the place, we are told, though but a few of them were in sight at the home place, being held for a shipment to the Jacksonville stock yards. His pens are models, stanchly built and in good shape as the average stock yard pens. He does not permit the tick to eat up his stock before it is shipped, and we looked with interest at his dipping vat.

Two monster terra cotta silos grace the place and the ensilage was being fed to the cattle. Most of it was gone, but more will be put up from the coming corn crop. They must be able to hold several tons.

During the evening a banquet had been prepared at the College Arms. Judge Burt Fish of DeLand was toastmaster, and Judge Fish is a considerable toastmaster. Mayor S. A. Wood is said to hate to make addresses of welcome and had left the city on "important business." Rev. Geo. T. Eelf "subbed" for him with "the keys to the city." A. W. Honeycutt of the Commercial Club, one of the best in the State gave the "key to our hearts and President Wayne Thomas of the Plant City Courier responded for the Press Association.

Addresses were made by Judge Wright of Jacksonville, R. H. Edmonds of the Manufacturers Record, R. J. Holly of the Sanford Herald, Clarence E. Woods, now state explosive agent but formerly of the Euclid Lake Region, Harry L. Brown of the St. Augustine Record, and Dr. Lincoln Hulley, the eloquent and beloved president of Stetson University.

Mr. Edmonds, one of Florida's greatest friends, whose daughter is a student at Stetson, spoke on "America's Relation to the World War." The duty of winning the war is close to Mr. Edmonds' heart, and he warned the editors that every man jack of them must turn in and do his best to arouse his people to the need of action. His talk was an eloquent presentation of the subject.

Dr. Hulley at the banquet invited Clarence Woods of the Euclid Lake Region, R. J. Holly of the Sanford Herald, T. J. Applayard of the Tallahassee Record and Harry Brown of the St. Augustine Record to address the students of Stetson University at chapel the following morning and not one of them ducked the blow although it was a most trying

MADAME SCOVELL'S WORK

This Wonderful Artist Here to Train the Girls

It happened in Tampa where the Society Circus originated and Mr. Kirkland went to the old Tampa Bay Hotel to find Madame Scovell to engage her to put on her best of girls in some of her creative numbers that he found her in a deep study over some ancient history.

"That's funny," he said, "for a dancer to bury herself in," but he did not think so when the dancer explained that she was very much inspired with Roman history and Nero's reign.

"But," said Mr. Kirkland, "I don't want any of that dry stuff. I want something snappy," where as Madame Scovell said "Snappy or no snappy I can put on a number like the Roman dancers that won't seem one bit ancient and will appeal to the modern public." And so she did like the work of ancient Romans, with all their garlands and flowers. The beautiful girls of Tampa, also St. Petersburg, Clearwater and several other towns have had the pleasure of being trained by a dancer who loves dancing and there is where her success lies. And now we have it all in Sanford and Madame Scovell says there is not one town has anything on Sanford for grace and beauty, for the girls are all perfect in these dances. They can hardly wait for Thursday to come. Following are the Roman Maids, in the Ballet of Roses:

Dorothy Rumph, Muriel Harold, Fern Ward, Esther Miller, Agnes Dumas, Gladys Dieterich, May Thrasher, Marian Dieterich, Ethel Henry, Helen Peck, Florence Henry, Vera Terheun, Clarice Hand, Fannie Reba Munson, Zoe Munson, Sarah Wight, Mollie Abernathy, Lillian Schwartz, Kathleen Brady, Catherine Levis, Frances Gonzales, Elizabeth Stafford, Frances Chappell, May Holly, Margaret Neal, Mildred Holly, Olive Newman, Georgia Mobley.

Boy Scouts Selling Tickets
In the various phases and departments of the Red Cross Society Circus the Boy Scouts are right on the job under the leadership of their popular Scout Master, D. C. Marlowe. The Scouts will camp on the Circus grounds the three days of the performances and in addition to the many other things the Scouts are selling tickets for the Circus. If you buy your tickets of a Scout you are helping one of the three patriots to win a flag. The boys are working like Trojans to sell tickets and should be encouraged in their patriotic endeavor to help the Red Cross, the soldiers and sailors and the allies, for every ticket sold means more material for hospital garments and surgical dressings.

WANT TO JOIN

Old Men and Boys Try to Break Into Army

Jacksonville, Fla., April 8.—Because of the innate courage and patriotism of the average American citizen, young and old, scenes that are extremely pathetic are witnessed daily in the recruiting stations of the regular army in this city, Pensacola, Tallahassee, Tampa, Orlando and Miami. Some of the pathos-burdened incidents are as inspiring as efforts of members of the "slacker" brigade to avoid service are disgusting.

Not a day passes at these stations on which under-age boys do not offer for enlistment in some branch of the service, and in many instances they misstate their age, so great is their desire to fight or work for the country in the hours of travail.

On the other hand, men who are over-age or infirm resort to the "camouflage" practise, claiming to be much younger than they are and steadfastly denying that they are victims of manifest afflictions. Without exception, these men boys and over-age and diseased men leave the stations crestfallen and disconsolate. Some curse, while others shed tears of chagrin and anger.

As the war progresses the need of the services of real men increases and few are shirking nowadays. The army calls for the services of able bodied men of from 18 to 21 and 31 to 40, inclusive, and offers them very chance for promotion, strengthening of mind and body and honor during the war and in years to come. The men are given the best of treatment and there is not one who has spent a few months in a training camp who is not thankful because he had that privilege. The experience has made men of many seeming weaklings.

Are you going to play "slacker" at this crucial period and be scorned in future years, or are you going forward manfully and volunteer your services?

If you are a "slacker" at heart your service would be useless in any capacity.

If you are a courageous patriot why not show it without delay by enlisting at one of the recruiting stations, with a traveling recruiting agent or your postmaster?

Anna Mason

Where Do You Stand?

The Herald publishes today an interesting story from Jacksonville relative to the strenuous efforts that are made by mere boys and aged and infirm men to enlist in some branch of the army and contribute what they can toward making the world safe for democracy. This story is well worth considering, and particularly by men not included in the draft.

When a man who is capable of fighting refuses to enlist voluntarily or tries to avoid the draft, his cowardice or selfishness nauseates his fellows. When an under-age man or an over-age man frets and bemoans his fate because he is not allowed to serve, his condition is both pathetic and inspiring.

Germany, brute of nations, must and will be beaten. But Germany cannot be beaten unless Americans do their "bit."

Florida has made a magnificent record in contributing fighting men, money and the work of noble women to the cause.

While this record is being made, what are you doing, young American?

Have you offered your services or are you skulking in the rear?

The army offers you every chance for promotion and betterment of condition in many ways.

Uncle Sam and his suffering allies are calling for you.

Why not show your courage, your Americanism, by enlisting today?

Cheering Up The Editor

"I notice," said the man with the Bone Dry voice, "that a number of our firms have a lot of new stationery. I suppose all that new type you ordered some time back came in mighty handy."

"You are very observant," responded the editor in that tone of voice usually reserved for lawyer, who want a free puff but are too ethical to advertise. "I suppose you also noticed the salesman for the Ketchum and Skinnum Printing Co., of Jacksonville leaving town with a large smile, and a pocket full of orders last month, including one from the bank of which you are a director."

The man with the Dry Bone voice departed sadly, with the half column obituary he had written for his rich uncle who had died last week in the next county, leaving him off his heels, still in his pocket. He was so perturbed at the rudeness of the usually mild editor that he forgot to stop at the grocery and order a gallon of coal oil for the new cook to start the fire with.

Polk county now has thirty-six dipping vats for tick eradication, four of which were built since the first of March. Thus she leads all other counties in the state except Escambia, which has thirty-seven vats, while Duval comes third with twenty-six vats. The state now has 607 vats in operation which means that the tick is doomed in Florida.

Castor bean gardens in the Miami section will be under the supervision of E. V. Blackman of Miami, chairman of the Agricultural Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, he having recently been appointed to that position. It will be the duty of Mr. Blackman to visit every castor bean field in that section, and will try and see to it that not a single plant is lost.

Every indication points to a bumper vegetable crop in the Wauchula section. The acreage is larger than ever and prospects were never brighter. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Wauchula Vegetable Growers' Association it was estimated that the association would ship from 75 to 100 carloads of vegetables this season.

The Co-operative Fertilizer Company has been organized and notice of intention to apply to the governor of the state of Florida for incorporation is being published. The main place of business is in Miami, where Garment making promises to become an important industry in Tampa. The Weber Manufacturing Co. is now turning out fifteen dozen bungalow aprons a day and will be able to turn out fifty dozen a day as soon as all the equipment is installed and this is believed to be a start in what will become an important industry in the cigar city.

Rosa Milheim

Plans are being approved and orders are being prepared for the construction of a new depot at Sebring by the A. C. L. Railroad. It is expected that the new building, which is to be one of the most handsome in the state will be ready for occupancy not later than the first of next October.

"Listening In" in Egypt.

Mohammedans in Egypt are "listening in." The attendance is steadily increasing, and one Sunday four Mohammedan professors were at the preaching service and 15 Mohammedan boys came to the Sunday school for the first time. Their fathers stood outside the window to ascertain what the teaching might be. A number of them were thus listening out of doors.—The Christian Herald.

Chairman Forrest Lake of the Liberty Loan Committee states that the French War Relic Train will be here on the morning of April 23rd at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain until ten, giving everyone an opportunity to visit the train and see the real relics of the war at first hand. This train is said to have one of the finest displays of war relics that have ever been brought to America and the train is a special one travelling through all the states to stimulate the Liberty Loan buying. Remember the date April 23rd at 8 a. m. 66-4f

Wear clothes that are cheerful

THIS Spring it's a part of your duty to wear stylish clothes; clothes that look cheerful and help you feel that way. There's big work ahead for all of us and the more cheerfully we go at it, the better we'll do it.

It's cheerful also to wear clothes that save money for you. Good clothes will do it—but be sure they're good. We don't sell any other kind; we make certain that they're good for you—that makes them good for us.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are good clothes

They're cheerful clothes—because they're stylish and because they save money for you.

Kaiser May Be Wiser
Our world is in a terrible uproar. Such as was never known before. Convulsed with murder, war and strife; With sufferings untold and loss of life.

What the future outcome will be, No one at present can foresee, To what straits our country may be driven, Is foretold by Joseph Hoag's vision.

We cannot conceive of such a thing, That we are to be ruled by a king, Yet the slaughter of millions will prevail, With bones and shells falling thick as hail.

The killing of innocent people by air machines, And the drowning of others by submarines, While these missiles at their foe are hurled; Germany doubly states she'll whip the world.

But the German emperor, known as Kaiser, When the war is over may be wiser, And when he's dead and beneath the sod He may see his mistake about me and God.

And when he is dead, for a certain spell He'll see it's not me and God, But me and the Levi in Hell. S. S. Green.

(Ed. Note)—Mr. Green is one of our popular winter visitors and this poem echoes his sentiments.

Keep Your Eyes Open for That Train
Atlanta, Ga.—There are many thousands of people in the sixth federal reserve district who never heard of the famous French flying "ace," Lt. Pegoud, who will become famous

Lt. Pegoud, who will become familiar not only to his far famed exploits, but with many other tales of equal interest through the tour of the Liberty Loan special trains throughout the district.

Lieutenant Pegoud's motor will be on one of the trains. That motor carried the intrepid flyer on innumerable journeys of combat in the skies of sunny France. It aided him in bringing down 63 Hun airmen before he himself was brought down by one of the enemy.

As the motor now rests in one of the cars of the special, it is battered and rusty and the dirt of France still clings to it from the spot where it hit after hurling 10,000 feet from the sky.

There is also a flying machine captured from the Boches; and one of those little sparrow hawks, a French Fleuret observer's plane, whose swiftly revolving engines propel it at the amazing speed of 150 miles per hour. This latter machine is camouflaged like the sky in which it sails; and only the insignia of France can be distinguished when it is aloft.

Give Your Little Ones An Interest in the Future

They are your hold on the future, and America is fighting to make their future safe. They are too little to realize this now—but some day must learn to reverence the traditions of America, the ideals of America, the great cause for which the men of their father's day gave their lives.

Be ready then to put in their hands bonds of their government. They will be for them inspiring evidence that their fathers planned sacrificed and invested for their sons' future. Liberty Bonds will mean more to them than money. They will make them proud of the fathers who in America's day of great need proved themselves true American patriots.

To DeLand, Daytona and New Smyrna, greetings. On the Million Dollar Triangle you are the best yet and we shall never forget your hospitality.

The picture of Major Edgar Wright of the Grower in the Tampa papers show a very stern visage and a regular cast iron face. Come out of it, Edgar.

The Red Cross Circus is on. Get busy and lend your assistance in making it a great big success as it deserves. It is a high class amusement for a good cause.

Orlando will have the curb market and several other good ideas in connection with it and Sanford would do well to get a line on some of this good work. This city was the first one in the state to start a curb market and there should be a curb market here all through the summer. There never was a time in our history that we needed the market place as badly as now and both the public and the farmer will gain thereby.

It would be a good thing for the police force to find out just what certain people are doing in Sanford. If they have no visible means of support and are not tourists and cannot give a satisfactory explanation of why they are here living in good style and doing no work then they are of the kind that we do not want in Sanford and they are here to hold up either some of the home people or some of the visitors. The police have a perfect right to know their business here and they do not need to hesitate to ask it for the people will stand behind them in

DOES THE QUESTION MARK (?) FOLLOW YOU?
 You who stay at home because of family ties, over-age or failure to come up to the high physical standard of the army and navy must remember that after the war an honorable discharge from the county guard will prove that you served your country in time of war and did the best you could. Don't let a question mark follow you through life after the war. Enlist in the county guards before the ranks are filled and it is too late.

You who have enlisted and persistently fail to do your duty and serve your country by not going to drill should remember the oath you took when you enlisted. Don't let the question mark follow you also but rather let the service of your country appeal seriously to you.—Times-Union.

TRANSPORTATION TROUBLES
 A representative of this paper, returned from a tour of the entire territory covered by the Tribune, says he has never seen so much truck and food grown anywhere in his life as he found in South Florida this spring. Then he says, "I have seen acres of cabbage rotted in the field, acres of lettuce and other perishable stuff thrown out, and there is threatened the destruction of thousands of acres more before cars and transportation are arranged to handle the food we raise in this part of the state alone."

In connection with this statement comes word from Congressman H. J. Drane that in response to a letter from him to the United States railroad administration heads, that "The Southern roads will arrange a conference with the Pennsylvania Railroad for determining the schedules north of Potomac yards."

Mr. Drane has been instant and unceasing in his labor to have lifted the iron weight that was smashing the life out of Florida growers, and his results are to be commended. He is working as fast as he can, and he is getting results; but it is poor consolation to the Florida growers who are now losing thousands of acres of cabbage in the state, to know only that "Southern roads will arrange a meeting with the Pennsylvania Railroad." While waiting for that meeting to be arranged there will be rotted thousands of acres more, and there will be left in the state hundreds of farmers who, taking the government at its word, planted to the limit and now are losing big money because they cannot get cars to move out the crops they were urged to raise.

It is not fair. It is ridiculous to talk of arranging a meeting later with a connecting northern road about freight distribution schedules when the need is imperative and immediate.

We print here the letter from the car service section of the United States railroad administration, signed by one, W. L. Barnes. It is all the Florida delegation has been able to get for us—yet; but Florida congressmen and Florida senators are going to persevere until there will be relief of a nature more definite than promise to "call a meeting of roads" after crops have disposed of themselves by decay?

The administration's letter to Mr. Drane is:
 "Referring to your letter of March 11, with further reference to the movement of perishable freight from Florida.
 We are now advised by Regional Director Markham that a conference was held on March 21 with the Florida growers at which time they were advised that the Southern roads would arrange a meeting with the Pennsylvania Railroad for determining the schedules north of the Potomac yards. It was agreed that a circular would be issued to the Florida shippers stating changes to be made in routes and diversion points.
 We assure you that everything possible is being done to expedite this service.—Tampa Tribune.

The above will be interesting to Sanford people since Secretary Marlowe of the Sanford Board of Trade was "the committee" that appeared before Regional Director Markham at Atlanta and secured the results noted above. If other cities of Florida had sent delegations results would have been obtained for them.

BEWARE OF CLAIM AGENTS
 claims under the War Risk Insurance Act.
 There is no necessity for the employment of claim agents or attorneys for the collection of the benefits granted by the War Risk Insurance Act because the process of such collection is exceedingly simple and the Bureau of War Risk Insurance stands ready to render any and all assistance required. A great service can be rendered by making these facts clear to the dependents of soldiers and sailors who are being approached by unscrupulous persons. The suggestion of the American Bar Association that the patriotic lawyers of the country advise claimants free of charge of their rights under the law is deeply appreciated by the Treasury Department and affords a splendid opportunity for service to the nation and to the men who are facing the fire of battle for us.

I earnestly hope that you and your associates will respond to the enclosed appeal.

Sincerely yours,
 W. G. McAdoo,
 Secretary,
 American Bar Association,
 March 25, 1918.
 Chairman Legal Advisory Board.

Dear Sir:
 It has come to the attention of the American Bar Association that unscrupulous claim agents and pension attorneys are notifying beneficiaries who have occasion to make claim under the War Risk Insurance Act, that they must employ counsel in order to be sure of obtaining payments from the government. In many instances beneficiaries have been induced to advance substantial sums of money to these agents in return for the promise of a service which in all probability will be unnecessary.

These activities are in direct violation of the spirit of the War Risk Insurance Act, and are in the highest degree reprehensible and unpatriotic. Unless they are promptly and effectively checked they will result in grievous abuse, and will produce the same undesirable conditions which brought such discredit upon our previous war pension system.

Pending the passage of an amendment to strengthen the law, action must be taken to protect beneficiaries from the mischievous activities of these professional claim chasers. The lawyers of the country are in a position to afford this protection by volunteering their services to beneficiaries in the preparation and filing of their claims. While these services will be of an extremely simple nature they will not only be of great value to the person receiving them, but will solve a problem of national importance and long standing. We believe that every patriotic member of the Bar will gladly come to the assistance of the government and give this aid to the dependents of men in the service.

Some one in each community, must take the lead in this matter. You as chairman of the legal advisory board, which once before has called together the lawyers of the district for a not dissimilar service are naturally the one to take the lead in your district. We suggest as a first step that you again call upon your associates for cooperation in order that the work may be distributed and made as light as possible for each individual. Next that you enlist such forms of publicity as are at your disposal so that no beneficiary in your community in need of assistance will have excuse to seek it outside of your ranks. Thirdly, that you proceed to aid gratuitously all beneficiaries unable without assistance to prepare their claims, and that you continue such gratuitous service until circumstances no longer require it. Lastly, that you send to the American Bar Association, 1712 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, the name of every claim agent, pension attorney or other person known by you to be violating the spirit of the War Risk Insurance Act in the manner above described.

Local legal committees of the State Council of Defense or Home Service Section of the Red Cross already engaged in giving free legal advice to drafted men or their dependents should, of course, be utilized in carrying out the work herein suggested.

A copy of the War Risk Insurance Act is enclosed.

Very truly yours,
 John Lowell, Chairman,
 Special Comm. for War Service.

WAR NEWS
 Armentieres has been evacuated by the British, while the Germans, driving in from the southwest of the town are struggling to push forward in the area southwest of Messines ridge, the key point of the British line in Flanders.
 Messines ridge itself has been the objective of desperate frontal attacks and the Germans are reported to have pushed on to the ridge several times during the fierce hand to hand fighting. Each time, however, the British came back at them with effective counter attacks and today were still holding the ridge.
 West of Armentieres the enemy, struggling in his deep salient has pushed the fighting to the limit, and at one time succeeded in driving some three miles beyond the river Lys to LaCreeche. In this situation the British likewise reacted strongly and by vigorous counter attacks ousted the Germans from La Creeche and other neighboring terrain.
 Wytsche, south of Messines was also the objective of heavy German attacks and possession of it changed several times, but this morning found Field Marshal Haig's troops holding the town.
 There was a similar hard fight at Lestram, at the western tip of the German salient on the river Lawe. The Germans worked their way into this place yesterday, but were unable to move on farther and ultimately were driven out of it and back across the Lawe.
 The evacuation of Armentieres had been forecast and discounted as the place is without strategical value. What is left of the town is full of gas, hanging there from the copious gas shell bombardments.
 North of Armentieres the British hope hinges on Ploegstert wood, which is the line bisected this morning.
 There was no let up in the engagement today, the battle continuing on the entire 26-mile front from La Basse north to the Ypres-Compiens junction just below Ypres.

WAR WILL LAST 2 YEARS
 Highlanders Here Know Something About It
 The Canadian soldiers here gave out the following interview in the Orlando Sentinel:
 Corp. J. R. Armstrong of the Royal Highlanders of Canada, and Pvt. J. Brown of the 48th Highlanders of Canada, were in the city yesterday, coming from Sanford where they have an exhibit in connection with the Red Cross Society Circus now being staged in that city.
 Corporal Armstrong enlisted at Toronto in the first division to leave for France and served in the second battle of Ypres, also the third, and has seen some heroic fighting. Pvt. Brown enlisted some time later at Toronto and fought through the battle of the Somme where the present fighting is going on. Both were honorably discharged from service in March of this year, because of physical disability.
 "The next Allied move," they said, "will be made by the Allies all along the line, not at one point, but at all points and with such swiftness and violence as to make great headway against the Germans."
 Private Brown declared that the Somme offensive conducted by the British two years ago would have had far reaching effects if it had not been for rain and bad weather. "We had their line cracked good and plenty," he said, "and then came the bad weather and we needed more reserves. We had them on the run but we had hard luck."
 It was their opinion that the war would last two more years and that America would have the deciding effect. They both felt sorry that America did not get in the war sooner. They told of Canada's part in the conflict but took no "bouquets" upon themselves, merely commenting on the part the Canadians had played.
 Many persons greeted them while they were here and enjoyed talking with them. They have no doubt of the outcome whatever, and declared that time was a great factor and the allies could afford to wait. They both asserted that the German leaders always skillfully covered up their losses for fear of trouble at home, and said that the recent drive had torn a fearful hole in the German armies which could never be repaired.

The Canadian boys at the Circus with their trench warfare and relics of the great conflict are worthy of more than passing notice. They can give you a good idea of modern warfare and they were there and know whereof they speak.

The circus is livening up things this week and many people from other cities and towns nearby are coming here to see the sights. There is nothing like a circus to stir things up and keep them moving, and a person who does not like a circus is a grouch.

The ladies of the Seminole Chapter Red Cross deserve all that the public can give in the way of patronage at the Circus. They have labored day and night to make it a success and a good patronage is due them. Let everybody turn out and not only will you see a first class performance but you will be helping along a good cause. Every night this week.

Mr. C. L. Polk
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Waters have moved into the Garner cottage on Magnolia avenue where Mr. Waters can be close to his Candy Kitchen. The Zimmerman Twins here with the Red Cross Circus are causing quite a commotion among the boys and especially with those who have seen their boxing and wrestling bouts. These kids are just about as clever as you ever see them and they are popular. They pulled off a boxing stunt at the San Juan Hotel in Orlando that sold many tickets to the Circus.

PRESS ASSOCIATION IN TRIANGLE CITIES HAVE A GREAT TIME

ordeal to face that battery of eyes of the students, especially those beautiful Steison girls, but the exercises were greatly enjoyed especially the impromptu poems written by Dr. Hulley on St. Augustine and the one on the Irish written for Holly and editors and faculty and students had a great time.

A most interesting meeting of the Publishers' Auxiliary at the Commercial Club followed, at which meeting the following officers were elected for the year: Gilbert Leach president, Wayne Thomas vice president, W. M. Haynes secretary, Harry Brown director and Chris. Codrington treasurer. The ladies of Deland gave the visitors a luncheon at the Commercial Club after which they entrained in autos for Daytona.

Here at the Seaside Inn at one o'clock an elegant buffet luncheon was served by the Daytona Chamber of Commerce local newspaper men and everything that goes with a buffet lunch was served.

At seven o'clock as guests of the princely F. E. Fitzgerald of the Daytona News the visitors were tendered a most sumptuous banquet at the Prince George Hotel and here the camouflage literary program was pulled off to the great delight of the editors and the visitors from many cities of Florida and other parts of America.

Harry Brown was called upon to explain the loss of a night shirt and when he arose R. J. Holly also arose. Mr. Brown was told to sit down and Holly made Brown's explanation of the aforesaid garment. Chris. Codrington was called upon to tell about Catta that he had met and Harry Brown arose and made him sit down while Harry explained the subject. Jack Worthington substituted for S. J. Triplett in the same manner and R. W. Storms for T. J. Appleyard and so on down the line until those called upon first were afraid to rise for fear there would be something pulled on them. Swartz and Young, the well known song writers of New York were present and rendered a bunch of new songs just written and never as yet published that brought down the house. They are the writers of Tipparary and many other popular songs and were there with the punch. The banquet and camouflage program were splendid and after a few informal parties over town the editors retired for a few hours' rest. Many of them spent the night at the beach where those great hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Ayers of the Daytona Beach Hotel looked after their comfort and would not charge them a cent for the same. They owe these good people one and all of those Daytona and Daytona Beach folks who helped to make their stay so pleasant. The next morning bright and early the cars took the editors to New Smyrna over the second run of the Triangle and this beautiful drive was greatly enjoyed throughout its entire length. Arriving at New Smyrna they assembled at the school auditorium where the pupils had appropriate exercises after which the regular business of the association was taken up. The annual election of officers resulted in the following: President, R. W. Storms of DeFuniak Springs, vice president F. E. Fitzgerald of Daytona, secretary T. J. Appleyard, treasurer Miss Ruby Pierce of West Palm Beach and Gilbert Leach corresponding secretary.

Several cities wanted the next convention, among them Tampa and Tallahassee, but having promised Gilbert Leach last year that Leesburg would be considered and after Gilbert had promised another triangle with Leesburg, Eustis and New Smyrna, Leesburg had it and Tampa and Tallahassee gracefully gave way.

After the meeting the editors were transported to Coronado Beach across from New Smyrna where one of those good old fashioned shore dinners had been prepared at the pavilion and it was some dinner with everything even to the oysters provided.

The visitors were then taken over the city, out to the ruins of the Spanish Mission and other points of interest and then the third round of the Triangle was taken by those who motored south Florida way and in a driving rainstorm we bade adieu to the jolly bunch at New Smyrna, the good old friends of the Press association, and with Walter Haynes of the Herald, Wayne Thomas of the Plant City Courier, the retiring president of the association the editor and his wife returned to Sanford with that good feeling that we had been somewhere, and had some time with the best people on earth but were also glad to get back to Sanford and Seminole and business again.

The Society Circus opened in a blaze of glory last evening—not a hitch from start to finish. The Battle of Roses as the grand finale was really the most beautiful dance ever seen in Sanford by local talent. It was wonderful to see what Madame Scovell had done in so short a time. The costumes were exquisite and every movement was grace. The four little sprites, Mildred Holly, Margaret Neal, Olive Newman and Georgia Mobley were adorable. You have to see this dance to appreciate it and it is worth the price of admission alone.
