DEATH OF DR. C. C. DOWNING

Dr. C. C. Downing died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Vaughn, early this morning, after an illness of several months. Dr. Downing was in his 86th year at the time of his death and had been a resident of Florida since 1870, practicing medicine at Leesburg and other cities in Florida where he resided before coming to Sanford. For the past six years he had made his home with his daughter in this city and had many friends here and elsewhere in the state who will be grieved to learn of his death.

The funeral services will occur from the Vaughn home today at four o'clock, Rev. Father Peck of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church officiating. The interment will be made in the family burial lot in Tallahassee where Dr. Downing resided at one time.

Deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. Alexander Vaughn of this city and several grandchildren, and one son, John C. Downing, of Tallahassee, to mourn his loss.

The sympathy of the many friends is extended to the bereaved one on their hour of sorrow.

Daily Fashion Hint

AN EXQUISITE NEGLIGEE

The charming simplicity of this negligee is one of its most valued points. It is suitable to development in tulle, satin, crepe, challis, all-tulle or voile. The plaited ruffles are of satin, whatever the foundation, and is greatly reduced with they finish the kimono sleeves. The low waist-line is defined with a narrow ribbon. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material, with 1 1/2 yard narrow and 7 1/2 yards wide ruffling. If preferred, fringe may be used instead of satin. Pictorial Review Negligee No. 9563. Sizes, 36, 40, and 44 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Cobb Ranks as Oldest in American League

DETROIT, Jan. 30.—Ty Cobb is the oldest player in the American League in point of service.

Cobb joined the Tigers in 1905 and is still going good. He has seen 18 years of service. Despite the strenuous game he plays, he has slowed down but little.

If Cobb continues to be a success as manager he can go in indefinitely in baseball, long after he is through as a player.

Cobb alone remains of the players who were in the American league at the time of his debut. He has seen them all pass out.

Eddie Collins and Walter Johnson are close behind Cobb in point of service. While Johnson is slowing up a bit, Eddie Collins seemed as good as ever last season, with a number of years ahead of him in the majors.

HOLE-IN-ONE IS EASY FOR SANDY HERD, SCOT STAR

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Shooting a "hole in one," is becoming a habit with Sandy Herd, the famous Scotch golfer who held the British open championship in 1902.

Sandy set a new world's "hole in one" record at Kingston-on-Thames a few days ago when he did the hole in one for the seventeenth time in his life. He still sighs for fresh conquest, however, and believes he will be able to make his record of "ones" an even twenty before he writes finis to his golfing career.

Herd's desire to add three more to his record is inspired by an offer of an American friend to give him a solid gold putter when he achieves his ambition. He confidently expects to win that putter.

So far as records show, the nearest approach to Herd's performance is that of Jim Baird, who has shot a hole in one eleven times. J. H. Matheon, an Irish amateur and J. H. Taylor, have had eight each, Harry Vardon, although he has won six world's championships, has holed a tee shot only once in his career.

RUTH SAYS HE'S FOR BETTER BASEBALL PAY

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—Babe Ruth declared that he was with fellow baseball players in a fight to get more pay and assailed attempts to suppress Sunday base ball in a talk before St. Alphonse association here Sunday.

The home run idol declared that last season 3,390,000 admissions were paid to one New York club and that the cry of "hold up" and "robbers" was unjustified when hard working players asked for an "increase in pay of $1,000 or so." He asserted he was cautioned by the owners of the New York Yankees to keep his salary a secret but that it had leaked out and then other players demanded more money.

Mrs. W. S. Jennings Will Speak Here at Chamber Commerce

First Vice-President of General Federation of Woman's Clubs

Mrs. W. S. Jennings, of Jacksonville, who will speak before the Sanford Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon, February 2nd, is first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. During her term of office she has charge of Home Demonstration work in the entire country. Her slogan, "A Home Demonstration agent in every county in the land."

It is earnestly hoped that as many men and women who can will hear Mrs. Jennings Friday evening. She is a forceful speaker and has a message that is worth hearing. Her wide experience in club work, both national and state, make Mrs. Jennings' views on welfare work the best that can be obtained.

ITINERANT PHOTOGRAPHERS TRAVELING THRU STATE TAKING WINTER BUSINESS

The public is requested by the Florida Development Board to withhold patronage from all itinerant photographers, unless they can show license to operate in Florida. Reports are being received that a number of photographers from northern cities are traveling through the state making negatives of persons and buildings with the promise that the prints will be mailed to parties later. Florida has a number of very proficient view and portrait photographers who pay taxes and patronize home merchants and they should be given the business.

SOMETHING NEW

The Men's Club of the Congregational Church will hold a new kind of entertainment at the Parish House on Tuesday evening, February 6th. Who ever heard of a cherry tree party in Florida at this time. Washington's birthday will soon be upon us and the Men's Club will celebrate the event in advance.

There will be no admission charged but everyone should bring a package, large or small, to hang on the tree. The packages should be wrapped so that the contents cannot be determined from the outside appearance. Many surprises are in store for everyone. In addition to all, this sport the Men's Club is trying to get the picture "Pigs is Pigs" which they will show with their new moving picture machine. Anyone who has seen this comedy will want to see it again and those who haven't seen it will enjoy something real funny.

The public is invited to this entertainment, so wrap up something useful and bring it along. Come early and get a choice seat. Remember the date, Tuesday, February 6th at 8 p. m. at the Parish House.

Fifteen million gain in Florida crops according to figures in the Jacksonville Journal. Some gain and some state.

The sky scrapers going up in Sanford are a source of interest to the people here and those who are visiting the city. They certainly look good.

Telfair Stockton for governor of Florida sounds good. We note that he was here yesterday on business and while he did not say anything about being a candidate we opine he could be induced to make the race.

The big manufacturers say that automobiles have hit rock bottom and from this time on will start to advance. This will at least tend to stabilize the markets for few people want to buy anything on a declining market.

And now the Tax Collector of Duval County gives the collector $12,000 profit after deducting all expenses. This is only one of the many county offices in Duval showing an enormous profit. Some of the county officials in Florida get more salary than the president of the United States.

According to the Jacksonville papers Mayor John Martin seems to have disappeared "somewhere in Polk County." Well, if John has disappeared anywhere in Polk county, he is in safe hands where he will get plenty to eat and plenty to well a plenty of everything.

Headlines in paper say "heavy taxation may carry Harding over." This means that with heavier taxes and some income not checked it might be found at the end of the year that the government was over instead of under if you know what we mean. It seems to be about as difficult to finance the government as to finance a newspaper.

MUTUAL ADMIRATION

Our good old friend, Geraldine Farrar, threw a fit the other day and blessed the newspaper man, saying, "I don't like those damned newspaper men; they never did me any good, anyway." Now, Geraldine, don't you fret about that. From what we know of you and your sweet little temperament, you can truthfully say that the admiration has always been mutual and always will be. But we hardly expected even a supposed lady to use such naughty words.—Winter Haven Chief.

NO HOPE FOR THE BALD

Glittering with broad-ness and proven by every applicable test of science there issues from the Washington university the sensational announcement that hair cannot be coaxed to grow where nature has laid down on the job. Use razor, petroleum or whatever you will in perfume and golden mounted bottles, and the result is the same—100 per cent unresponsiveness.

It was long ago discovered that amputated members of the body would not grow from the stump. This knowl-

THE HERALD'S PLATFORM FOR 1923

- 1.—A new Library Building in the center of the city.
2.—Extension of the present bulkhead on the lake shore.
3.—The new pier and boat basin finished before January, 1924.
4.—A big Auditorium that will seat at least 5,000 people.
5.—New home for the Campbell-Lossing Post, American Legion.
6.—A Community Chest out of which all funds will be drawn.
7.—Two mill tax for publicity purposes.
8.—Municipal ownership, starting with water works and soft water.
9.—Systematic mosquito campaign and cleaner city.
10.—Ten thousand people here one year from today.

Let us, then, not regard the Washington university discovery as epochal. It is the merest flurry against the hope that will not die—the hope of harvest on the field of shining culture.—Tampa Times.

We should worry about people being bald. We have no hair to worry about.

WHY MANY INDIVIDUALS SNEER AT THE LAW

Because a misspelled word in an indictment charging the chief of police and three other officers of Ocala with murder, the entire proceedings were thrown out of court. It was known that the four shot to death a man who was speeding over the city; shot him because in his alleged drunken condition he was breaking a city ordinance. There was no denial of the commission of a crime; but because of the omission of several letters by the blunder of a stenographer, there was a technicality. The meaning of the indictment as it appeared was plain to anyone; but the omission of two or three letters in an word invalidated the action.

Four men were turned loose—not with a verdict of "innocent," but because of a technicality. Had one of those attorneys received a letter reading: "Please find enclosed fifty dollars on account," would he have returned the check because the accompanying letter contained a typographical blunder? Yet the one case would be infeasible and morally legal as the other.

A supreme judge in the middle west once told the writer that "lawyers make their cases out of technicalities." He admitted that the practice was wrong. Circuit Judge Charles O. Andrews, of Orlando, told the writer at a banquet held last year at St. Cloud "I very much deplore the trickiness of some attorneys who take advantage of every trifling technicality. When the intention of the indictment is plain there are those who seek to take advantage of some trifling blunder in the transcribing—thereby freeing some actual criminal. The courts of justice should not be made a vehicle for such trickery. I hope that every member of the bar in this judicial district will strive to lift the law to a higher plane."

It should be understood throughout the state that a stenographer's blunder can by no means whitewash a criminal in the eyes of the discriminating public.—Palatka News.

NO TOLL ROADS WANTED IN FLORIDA

The suggestion of some one that a toll road be sanctioned and built across the peninsula of Florida at a point well down state, received favorable comment from those who never stopped to think that what Florida has been trying to get away from for years is toll roads and toll ferries. Indeed, there are but few toll bridges left, and those only where the cost of building was such that the public could not undertake to finance it.

There are no toll roads in Florida; there should be none. The state, and each county is well able to finance any road necessary to be built, and those not necessary to be built should not be built.

The Tamiami trail is gradually closing in from both sides of the peninsula. Before it would be possible to finance and build a toll road across the Glades region as proposed, the Tamiami Trail would be ready for use, and the number of cross-state travelers who would use a toll road in preference to a magnificent one free would be so small as to be negligible as a source of income.

Access to all parts of Florida should be made as easy and as free as possible. The more people we get thru and over the state, the more people we will have to remain in the state as settlers or as investors and developers.

The road building schedule in Florida is making haste with a commendable alacrity, there being safety in caution. More miles of better roads are being built per hundred thousand dollars expended, today, than ever before in our history. Wide-awake counties see to it that the sum voted by the taxpayers is spent with wise caution. Hillsborough is getting many miles of good roads for its money, so is Polk, and Lake, and Orange, and every other county which is financing its own construction work. The roads being built are for the use of the public, free, and they make more money for Florida and for the individual

BUSINESS AND AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS SOUND IN SOUTH; NEAREST NORMAL SINCE WAR

FLORIDA FIELD CROPS AND CITRUS FRUIT SHOW HEAVY INCREASES IN VALUE; SHIPPING CONDITIONS IMPROVED

ATLANTA, Jan. 31.—Improvement in hardware, the district increase over December, 1921, is 27.6 per cent, with Jacksonville showing a decrease of 4.5, three firms reporting.

The aggregate sales by 11 wholesale shoe firms show an increase of 1.7 per cent over the preceding sales by wholesale firms in December, 1921, are increased by 30.1.

With a very slight increase in the acreage planted and no marked increase in production, except of citrus fruits, the principal field crops and fruits in Florida have a farm value of $90,650,000, in 1922, compared with $46,010,000 a year ago. A heavy increase in citrus is indicated, 15,000,000 boxes being expected, against 12,300,000 last season, values estimated at around $47,000,000 as compared with $22,375,000, respectively. Short production in the grain crops, corn, oats, peanuts, rice and sugar cane and tobacco now is looked for over last year's figures, while cotton, white potatoes and hay crops indicated increases in acreage and production in Florida.

Shipping conditions are improved for moving Florida oranges and grapefruit, 5,000,000 boxes being sent to various markets to January 1, 1923.

In cotton movement, Savannah received 22,000 in December, 1922, and 28,846 in 1921. Shipments for Savannah were 31,374 in December, 1922, and 23,110 in December, 1921.

Little change is shown in the production of rice in Georgia and Florida, except that the average in Florida in 1922 is shown reduced by 1,000 acres, this state having an acreage of approximately 3,000 acres.

During the past season Florida shipped 1,000 cars of watermelons and Georgia 12,900.

Savannah deposits in Florida banks show an increase of 21.7 per cent during the year, and in Georgia an increase of 24.3.

Substantial reductions are shown in commercial failures in the district. A steady general increase in building permits is given with Atlanta and Columbus leading in Georgia and Orlando and Tampa registering the greatest increases in Florida.

Employment shows steady improvement over practically the entire district, with the exception of Key West, Fla., where cigar factories have cut their forces, and several localities in two other states. Satisfactory conditions are reported in Georgia.

The naval stores markets have strengthened, during the past month and the price of turpentine at Savannah has increased from $1.30 the first part of December to $1.60 on January 4. Prices for the better grades of rosin also have advanced.

early yesterday. The cause of the clash has not yet been determined. J. M. Bliss, a dispatcher, 41 years old, and George Yeaden, 33 years old, a railroad special officer, are dead. A switchman and a man named Gay and a guard are injured. Police indicated that the railroad men were going home when they met the special agents at their gates. The shooting then began.

A boarding house in which 15 railroad men were sleeping was dynamited recently at Corbin with no fatalities. Yesterday's shooting has not been connected with labor or strike troubles.

The applicants said varying quantities of liquor had been found on the premises of the persons involved.

Centenary Movement in Methodist Church

Thursday, Feb. 1st

Conference Will Be Divided Into Four Sessions

Dr. Jere M. Glenn, general secretary in Florida and Georgia of the Centenary Movement of the Methodist Church, will be in Sanford Feb. 1, as one of the principal speakers at a two-day meeting of the laymen and ministers of the Palatka district. The meeting will be held in the Sanford Methodist church, and the Rev. J. P. Bell, presiding elder of the district, will be in charge.

The conference will be divided into four sessions, morning and afternoon of each day, and Dr. Glenn will make the principal address at the afternoon session of the first day. He will point out the importance of the Centenary movement, and will tell something of the plans made by the Florida Conference during its Tampa session for carrying the work forward throughout the state. Dr. Glenn is well known throughout the south as one of the leading pulpit orators of the denomination.

A feature of the meeting will be the organization in the district of the laymen in each charge. At the recent conference on Home Missions and Evangelism held in Jacksonville the organization plans were discussed, and ministers and laymen from every district voiced their approval and willingness to cooperate.

Mr. Bell expects the district meeting on Feb. 1 and 2 to be the most enthusiastic conference since he took charge of the district. In addition to scores of ministers and laymen, prominent women of the district will also be present.

"DOG" AFTER BIG ESTATE

(By The Associated Press) LAKEWOOD, Jan. 31.—Negotiations for the purchase of the estate of George Jay Gould by Douglas Fairbanks, moving picture star, have been under way for some time. It was learned yesterday. The price offered by Mr. Fairbanks for the estate is estimated to be $20,000,000. The estate, Georgian Court, was selected by Mr. Gould in 1909. It includes 200 acres with numerous ponds, polo grounds and a nine hole golf course. It was while playing on this course that the late Mrs. Gould dropped dead a year ago last November. The estate also contains Italian gardens, a private theatre and a gymnasium.

THE OPERATIC CHORUS WITH "ROBIN HOOD"

How many theatre patrons stop to consider, to compare the relative merits of the girl in the operatic chorus and the chorus girl of musical comedy.

First of all in both opera and high-class musical comedy, the chorus girl must be pretty and graceful and she must know how to dance; but how much greater are the requirements for the critical operatic stage.

The beautiful and graceful girl, though she has but a small voice, has a chance when she interviews the musical comedy producer, for she may be placed in the chorus to look pretty, or dance and sing the best she can. Some of the other girls who have better voices will carry her through.

But now we come to the operatic producer; first of all, he demands that all girls in his chorus have voices—voices that are clear and that ring true. To have twenty good voices and one bad one in the operatic chorus will not do. All must be good, the producer insists. Before a girl can enter the chorus even of opera, the voice must have reached an advanced stage of cultivation. May Valentine, the producer of "Robin Hood" by far the most popular of all comic operas, offers exceptional good voices in her picked chorus.

"Robin Hood" will be seen at the Princess Theatre February 20th.

Bandits Captured, Held Up Officers and Took Pay Roll

Two Enlisted Men Held Up Five and Made Them Walk Chalk

(By The Associated Press) NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 31.—Soldier bandits, identified as Corporals John S. Wood and James S. Harvey, who yesterday kidnapped Captain Norman D. Cota and four enlisted men, commandeered their automobile, robbed them of the Langley Field payroll of $13,000, tied the victims in a woods and escaped, were captured by a posse about twenty miles from here early last night, according to a report received by military and police authorities.

The men were captured in the woods near Big Bethel. Most of the money was recovered, although the bandits were forced to abandon $5,000 in silver which was taken in the haul.

The entire peninsula was combed, dozens of civilians, soldiers and military and police officers, joined in the man hunt. Airplanes armed with machine guns were used in the search yesterday and a fleet of machines hovered low over the peninsula in an effort to locate the bandits.

Captain Cota and the enlisted men who were with him at the time of the robbery, returned to Langley Field late yesterday after a searching party found them bound hand and foot in a woods several miles from the post. The government car, which the officer and his detail drove from the post yesterday morning, was found wrecked near where the five men were tied to trees.

Captain Cota and members of his party related their story of the hold-up upon their arrival at the post. All of the men agreed that the two bandits were Corporals Wood and Harvey.

Victims of the hold-up told the story of a spectacular robbery, in which two men overpowered five men, two of the latter being armed guards. Captain Cota, who is chief finance officer at Langley Field, and who has drawn the camp pay roll for several years, was covered by one of the men by two pistols as he stepped into the car after getting the money from the First National Bank in Hampton. The other bandit on the other side of the car held his pistols on the chauffeur, Captain Cota's assistant, and the two enlisted men who served as guards.

All of the men were forced into the machine, the bandits clambered in after them, and the big car sped away. Witnesses said they thought it merely an arrest by military officers. A stop was made at a hardware store, it is said, where one of the bandits stood guard over the soldiers and loot while the other purchased rope with which to tie the victims.

Captain Cota said the automobile ran into a ditch, and was disabled. The five captives were ordered to alight and then were bound to trees, where they were found several hours later. The two bandits were last seen by the finance officer walking through the woods.

Report of Debt Funding Mission Given to British

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 31.—Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, gave a full report of his debt funding mission in the United States to his colleagues at a special cabinet council yesterday. The subject was discussed for an hour and a half, but no decision was reached, and the cabinet adjourned to meet today to continue the discussion. It is considered almost certain that a final decision will be reached this week first, because if the American terms are to be accepted a speedy decision is required in order to give the American congress time to take the necessary action, and second, because the chancellor must prepare for his budget statement next March and he needs to know definitely how much he has to provide for the payment of interest to America.

It is understood there are practically only two alternatives before the cabinet—acceptance of the American terms, or allowing matters to drift and paying five per cent interest, hoping for some change in the conditions in the future. It is believed the balance of opinion favors acceptance of the American terms, but there is a considerable divergence of opinion among the ministers, especially on account of the American plan requiring interest to be paid in American currency.

McGraw is Anxious to Get Lee Meadows

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—The first big problem that confronts Arthur Fletcher, new manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, is Lee Meadows.

Is Meadows loafing on the job or has he a sore arm? Fletcher must make a final decision in the matter.

For several years Manager McGraw of the Giants has been anxious to add Meadows to his staff of pitchers. That is the reason for the tho't that Meadows may not be taking his work seriously.

Those who know Meadows scout the idea that he is not doing his best. Others are of the belief that the knowledge that McGraw is after him may have something to do with his cry of sore arm and his inability to win.

"ROBIN HOOD" BOOKED HERE

The comic opera sector has been quiet for this long time, for as was said by the late Reginald DeKoven a few weeks before his demise, "The public seems willing to have the female form replace the art form, and a well turned ankle seems more desired than a well turned or witty line." That DeKoven set the whole English speaking world a-going when he wrote "Robin Hood," is one of the outstanding axioms of musical and dramatic parlance. The reason is that dear old Robin, with its clever tale of the twelfth century and its tunes that just naturally won't die, furnishes, as the press agent well said, "musical thrills and scenic beauty unsurpassed."

"Robin Hood" is more than an opera—it's an institution and a part of a liberal education, and as long as Americans are Americans, a worthy presentation of it will attract a host to enjoy it. It is May Valentine's production that is coming, the identical cast, one and all that has played it the entire past year in more than two hundred cities including the best theatres of Louisville, Indianapolis, Omaha, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Cincinnati.

It will be here at the Princess Theatre February 20th.

Trained Nurse Endorses Re-cu-ma For Women's Ills

Says One Bottle Relieved Her of Continual Headaches and Can Now Sleep

"RE-CU-MA will help you to get rid of your chronic headaches, sleeplessness and that tired feeling peculiar to women, because they are usually caused by bad stomachs, liver or bowels, and you will be able to enjoy your work as well as your play, and wear a smile instead of being disheartened."

Mrs. H. H. Sanders, a graduate of Dr. McGannon's Hospital, of Nashville, who lives at 1210 Selma Avenue, and who has been a trained nurse for seven years, is well qualified to judge the phenomenal new RE-CU-MA treatment, on account of her profession, as well as from her personal experience with it.

"For a year I was in a badly run-down condition and I suffered dreadfully from headaches, and was very nervous, so that I could not sleep at night," says Mrs. Sanders.

"Then one day I saw RE-CU-MA advertised, and bought a bottle. I started taking it right away, and was relieved almost immediately from my headaches. My general condition is so much better and I am stronger. I can now sleep all night. I believe in RE-CU-MA. It certainly relieved me, and I have gained three pounds since taking it."

Nine times out of ten, torpid liver, indigestion, stomach and bowel troubles are at the bottom of headaches, colds, coughs, susceptibility to fevers, and weakness. Get rid of these and prevent other sickness by keeping RE-CU-MA in the house and taking it regularly and faithfully.

RE-CU-MA can be obtained in Sanford from the Union Pharmacy and the leading dealers in every city.—Adv.

MURDOCK CLOSSES SENSATIONAL ENGAGEMENT HERE TONIGHT AT 8:15

AT PARISH HOUSE—TONIGHT WILL POSITIVELY BE THE LAST PERFORMANCE IN THE CITY OF SANFORD

Murdock, "The White Mahatma," whose demonstrations of Psychic phenomena, or more commonly known as "mind-reading," will close his successful engagement here at the Parish House with one more performance tonight starting at 8:15. There will be various changes in the program also, and according to the attendance last night, the Parish House will not be sufficiently large to accommodate all those desiring to see this Mystery Man of India.

His startling and mystifying demonstrations include tests in thought transference, where he causes the girl student upon the stage to play any musical selection or present any test that the audience think of—bear in mind all that is necessary is for you to think of the thought and instantly it is transferred to the girl student on the stage. Murdock then reverses this rule and projects that's back to various members of the audience, proving that the rule will work both ways—then he gets mysteriously written messages upon ordinary slates that can be furnished by the audience and the peculiar thing about it, Murdock has apparently nothing to do with it, otherwise than direct it, as the message appears written by an unseen hand while held in the hands of members of the audience, this is startling, to say the least, but to cap the climax, he gets Spirit pictures before your very eyes, and of anyone that has ever lived upon this earth—how this could be accomplished is beyond our power to even attempt to explain.

Finally comes the "feast of the evening," the part that all have been waiting for. He reaches for his Mystic Crystal ball and while gazing into its depth he answers questions asked mentally by the audience—in some cases the thoughts are about business, sells, buys, mortgages, love affairs; everything conceivable and he answers them instantly and openly, without a moment's delay—everything is done in the open, he also works right down among the audience dumbfounding the most skeptical. How can this man delve into the future and tell you things that you tho't were only known by you? He certainly is uncanny and he certainly possesses a most peculiar insight into human nature. Anyway, as Murdock tells you, "It is my sole object to mystify and entertain you, and I make no claims whatsoever,"—he certainly reaches that objective, and the capacity audience that witnessed his work last night helped to make his work a success. It was an intensely interested audience as ever a mystic could desire.
