Southern Cross Is Within 800 Miles Of Goal On Fiji Island

Four Daring Aviators Have Severe Battle With Elements Upon Flight To Australia

HONOLULU, T. H., June 4.—(INS)—The Australian bound monoplane Southern Cross, with four men aboard was fighting a thrilling battle with the elements on the last 800 miles of its 3,000 mile dash from Hawaii to Suva, Fiji Islands, according to reports here today by Radio Corporation of America.

Had the plane faltered or the Charles Kingford-Smith, commander of the aerial adventure had planned to make an emergency landing on the Phoenix group, the men on their long journey. The islands were reached and passed, however, early today indicating the four men on board the big tri-motor monoplane were certain of their ability to carry on to Suva. The plane was 24 hours out from Kauai at 5:20 A. M. Island Time and at its present rate of speed should reach Suva sometime between 3:30 P. M. Island Time and 6 P. M. tonight.

Final speeches will be made tonight by former Governor Sidney J. Catts, Doyle E. Carlton, Tampa attorney, Dr. Fonn Hathaway, chairman of the State Road Department, John S. Taylor of Largo and James M. Carson of Miami, all seeking the office of chief executive.

The session began at 7:30 o'clock and was so long and drawn out that it closed shortly after 11 o'clock when there were four groups of candidates remaining to speak. The speakers were given unlimited time and they took advantage of the opportunity to orate at some length. R. J. Holly, secretary of the county Democratic executive committee, presided.

Mr. Byrd's election followed Mr. Shinholser's declination of a second term, which was unanimously tendered him by the board. In expressing his appreciation of the honor, the president expressed the belief that the head of the trade body should not succeed himself and that new men should be allowed to handle the organization's affairs.

Mr. Byrd will formally take office next Friday at the monthly meeting of the organization. In relinquishing the office to his successor, Mr. Shinholser will review the past year's work in an annual report to the organization and Secretary E. J. Trotter will also read a report of the work done by his office.

There are reports president enough but not confirmed, that Mr. Coolidge already has prepared for such a contingency as his name being presented to the convention. There are reports that has written a letter which has been entrusted to a "spokesman" and which is to be read to the convention when and if his name is presented.

At one o'clock this morning, Pacific Time, the huge monoplane was in clear view of the compass island of the Phoenix group, which was circled, and the plane continued roaring on its way at a speed of 100 miles an hour.

Meanwhile, other candidates in the primary were bringing their campaigns to a close. The most interesting of the congressional contests was the second attempt of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, to take the seat now held by Congressman W. J. Sears of Kissimmee. Another close fight was anticipated in district three, where Congressman Tom Yon is opposed by A. H. Smithwick, who formerly represented the district in Congress and William L. Wilson of Panama City. R. A. Green is unopposed in district two, while in district one, L. L. Bean and Herbert L. Drane and George L. Wilder are contending for the congressional seat there.

On the eve of election all sides were claiming victory. Many of the disappointed political observers, however, were conceding that Doyle Carlton would carry the county for governor and John W. Martin would defeat Park Trammell here for the Senate.

The new board of governors is composed of John Meisch, A. P. Connelly, J. G. Ball, E. A. Douglass, S. R. Dighton, Mr. Shinholser, Mr. Allen and James L. Wells. Mr. Shinholser, Mr. Allen and Mr. Wells were selected to serve three-year terms and Mr. Byrd two years to fill the unexpired term of Forrest Lake.

Mr. Byrd will formally take office next Friday at the monthly meeting of the organization. In relinquishing the office to his successor, Mr. Shinholser will review the past year's work in an annual report to the organization and Secretary E. J. Trotter will also read a report of the work done by his office.

There are reports president enough but not confirmed, that Mr. Coolidge already has prepared for such a contingency as his name being presented to the convention. There are reports that has written a letter which has been entrusted to a "spokesman" and which is to be read to the convention when and if his name is presented.

Attempt Is Made To Assassinate Or Capture Chinese War Lord Of North

PEKING, June 4.—(INS)—An attempt to assassinate or capture Marshal Chang Tso Lin, former dictator of the Peking Government and head of the North China armies, marked his dramatic flight in an armored train from Peking to Mukden, where he arrived today.

Word was received here that Japanese troops had arrested two Chinese with bombs in their possession. The telegram gave no details but it indicated that the Chinese had been seized somewhere along the railway line in Manchuria.

The loss in the Smith home was placed at $3,000. The place was partly covered by insurance, Mr. Smith said.

Ginderville Home Of Arthur Smith Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the residence of Arthur Smith in Ginderville, a suburb of Sanford. The blaze was discovered shortly before 9:00 o'clock while the members of the family were absent. The fire department answered the call and with the aid of chemicals the firemen were able to prevent the destruction of two adjoining homes.

Herald To Give Election Results On Large Screen

The plans call for the installation of a special Western Union wire over which results of state races will be received, and in addition a telephone service by which returns will be received from county precincts.

Holly Comments On The Election Before Fleeing To Atlantic City

It has happened. The world awaits with bated and excited breath. Who will be elected on the fifth of June and the sixth of November? I have awaited the expected result and could have stood until June Fifth but here comes November Sixth and all that it might bring and I cannot stand the strain any longer. Even election day will find me out the rocking and rolling road bed of the Standard Railroad of the South "inroad" for Atlantic City, that great place of bathing suits, divorce suits and undress suits and I will have passed the buck to those who are left behind. Maybe they can pull off the election successfully and get away with it but I have had enough and if never seen in Sanford again George Melroy can have my program for 1928 and endeavor to stop Ed Kilbee and E. E. Brady after they have spoken 30 minutes out of their allotted five.

After listening to all state candidates I have come to the conclusion that Dr. Fonn Hathaway is the only honest man in the bunch when he made that famous statement "I could not be elected." This ringing declaration that had some semblance of truth in it will go down into ages as the plain and unvarnished truth from a plain and unvarnished candidate and demonstrates that now and then candidates are sometimes led into telling the truth when they least expect it.

Atlantic Airplane Arrives In Halifax On Way To Europe

TREPASSEY, Bay, Newfoundland, June 4.—(INS)—The transatlantic plane Friendship bearing Wilbur Stultz, Miss Amelia Pughart and Jess Gordon arrived here from Halifax, N. S., at 2:29 p. m. local time, on the second leg of its trip to Europe. Weather conditions were perfect. The three flyers were in high spirits, and confident they would be able to guide the huge Friendship plane across the North Atlantic. They made an unexpected stop in Halifax yesterday because of fog which covered the remainder of the route to Trepassay, where they had intended to make their first stop for fuel. Pilot Stultz brought the plane which is equipped with pontoons, down on the harbor wharfs in a perfect landing after a successful flight from Boston, the starting point of the expedition.

The distance from Halifax to Trepassay is about 250 miles. From there after inspecting their engines and refilling their tanks, the fliers will take off over the long water jump. If conditions are favorable, the take-off from Trepassay, may be made later today.

The greatest secrecy shrouded the preparations for the flight. The plane, a Fokker, officially recorded as the NX-4204, was purchased from Richard E. Byrd, who originally intended using it on his forthcoming Antarctic expedition. Preparations for the flight had been going on for weeks, but the announcement of the sale of the plane was not made until last Friday.

Except that the Friendship is equipped with pontoons, it is almost an exact reproduction of the Spirit of Enterprise, which is now being used in its way over the Pacific from Hawaii to the Fiji Islands with four intrepid airmen aboard.

I. C. C. FAVORS SHIPPERS

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(INS)—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce commission today recommended that the commission hold that special charges for the use of the refrigerator cars for interstate shipments of Bananas and coconuts from both South Atlantic ports and Tampa, Fla., are not justified and should be cancelled, without prejudice to the railroad's rights to increase the line-haul rates if they are not up to a reasonable maximum level.

Florida farmers used 61,608 tons of fertilizer during February.

Holly Comments On Election, Then Leaves For North

live 300 years longer in order to look up the records and find out what part of a Ford is being attacked now by the Carleton mechanics.

John Taylor is up in an airplane and not having any parachute he will probably remain up there until election day. Being a good friend of John, I cannot remain here and see him fall from the plane and be dashed to pieces on the rocks of politics and broken promises. Sidney Catts will have to take his chance with the bookleggers and the race track folks and after the election it is hard to tell just what they will expect of him. He might commit hari-kari or retire to the seclusion of DeFuniak where he can raise fast horses for the Kentucky derby and promise races to his grandchildren.

But—the world will move right on regardless of who is made governor and U. S. Senator and all the lesser offices for which men and women are striving and sweating and swearing and sweetering. There is such a glorious feeling comes to the defeated candidate after the result is announced and he feels that he can now leave them all "flat" and does not have to kiss any more babies, or shake hands with his enemies or sign any more notes or buy any more church organs.

For the past two months I have endeavored to pilot my three ring circus over the county for the edification of the down trodden master. It has been my sacred duty to introduce to the "proletariat" and "the great unwashed" my candidates and introduce them as the honest and conscientious gentlemen and ladies who are willing to die if need be in order that the country can be saved from the flood and Lake Mary left without a bathing suit.

I have stood by them and for them when in my own heart after reading the newspapers I was quite sure that half of them ought to be in jail and the other half in Chattahoochee and I as their printer-keeper should go with them. In such a corrupt and miserable time as this I have seen all the charges made against them are true it will never do for me to return to Sanford and attempt to murder my neighbor and it is a mystery how I have survived all these years in such company. Is it any wonder that the government investigated my underwear with the idea that I had cooties left from the late war?

It has been a good campaign and a clean decent one. It has done nothing more than to separate husband and wife, brother against brother and sister against sister-in-law and mother against daughter-in-law and husband against the mother-in-law. It has been so clean and free of all charges that the newspapers have only used up 96 per cent of their reading space on charging and counter charging. Candidates have conducted themselves with dignity and reserve—only reserving to themself the right to call the names of murderers and other pet names coined while in the penitentiary. For many years have been able to keep out of jail are now afraid to go home for fear their folks will ask them "about a certain blonde woman" or why they did not put the seven cents into the fine and forfeiture fund or why they allowed certain moonshiners to hang the moon in a new place every night.

However, in about 30 days all this will be changed. Every man under suspicion will have proved the charges against himself by his everyday actions instead of trying to hide them for 60 days before the primary and all will be peace and prosperity on the banks of the St. Johns.

And yet—how we love it all. How we love to see it every two and four years. How we enjoy every minute of it and how lonesome it will be now when the various candidates "come to" and forget to speak to me and will be out of cigars, no more free rides, no more beautiful smiles and "good mornings" and all that. How we will miss the hot air and the gas attacks and the hallaballoes of the campaigns and the attendant good times. We will miss you, dear candidates. You are like the breath of life and it will be dull and lonesome after the fifth day of June.

Yours for a better Primary Law

MONDAY, JUNE 4.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

TRUE NATIONAL GREATNESS: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.—Prov. 14:34.

PRAYER:—May our contribution to our Nation ever be for righteousness.

Don't forget to vote tomorrow.

It's the hit dog that howls, and Hathaway has been howling "mud-slinging" ever since Carlton started his campaign.

The Key West Citizen for the second time in his history takes a part in politics. It endorses Ruth Bryan Owen for Congress.

"Cats already beaten," shouts Jim Carson. Right! Now vote for the man who can beat Hathaway. He's Doyle Carlton of Tampa.

Remember that L. P. Hagan stood for economy in the last legislature. It stands to reason that he will continue this principle in the next.

The best joke of the campaign is out, "The American Citizen," in the interest of prohibition endorses Bob Pearman for the legislature. Can you imagine Bob Pearman running on a prohibition platform?

We haven't seen a copy of the Florida State News since the first time we romped on Hathaway. We hope the editor of the News won't let this campaign go to his head.

A vote for Frank Evans, John Meisch, Boston Stech and B. F. Wheeler, is a vote for continued common sense and business ability in the management of the county's financial affairs.

The opponents of Frank Evans are holding their first political meeting on the eve of election. Where have we seen these tactics employed before and to what result? We do not believe the people will be fooled by such trickery again.

"Because of bitterness there has been enough bitterness in Jacksonville this week to sink a battleship or smear a sky-scraper," pines John Temple Graves in the Jacksonville Journal. May be P. E. B. of the Tampa Tribune, who questions the ability of anything short of tri-nitro toluene to sink a battleship, will challenge this statement.

If you have not already made up your mind as to your choice for delegates to the Democratic National Convention, we would suggest Gilchrist Stockton and Jefferson B. Browne from this district, and Redmond B. Gautier, M. O. Harrison, Bryan Mack, S. C. Peacock, as well as Mrs. Lena Bird, Mrs. Alvina Craig, Mrs. Fred Nooney and Mrs. Dwight R. Read from the state at large.

"Amos is an incompetent," says a headline in the Palm Beach Independent. True! But he's not so young. His brother, Sanford Herald, Son, we have been in Florida fifty per cent more years than you have lived, and we haven't heard of Senator Stewart being indicted by one grand jury, let alone two.—Palm Beach Independent. Many a man's incompetent who's never been indicted, and many a man's been indicted who never should have been.

One of those made to order news dispatches is being sent out from Tallahassee stating that "Hathaway leads the gubernatorial field." One paragraph that interests us particularly reads: "His addresses in Orlando, Sanford, Palatka and Ocala, according to information received by his supporters, have brought many new friends to his candidacy." It is to laugh. Even Hathaway's warmest supporters, who admit that the lame ex-governor has been weakened in the county, yet, in the gubernatorial race, they must suffer for the fact—

To The Polls

Nothing remains in this campaign but the voting and after that the shouting. We sincerely hope there will be much of the former and whether we hope it or not there undoubtedly will be a plenty of the latter.

If every one of the thirty-five hundred or more qualified voters will make the trip to the polls tomorrow, we at least will secure officials who command public confidence. If the one hundred and eighty thousand or two hundred thousand voters of the state at large will do their duty as citizens, we will secure a governor and a senator who is the popular choice.

But if, on account of household duties, business engagements, a sudden rain, or an unexpected headache, this person does not cast his vote, and if because of an utter lack of interest in good government, or of willingness to study and learn who is the best candidate, another doesn't vote, and as so often happens, the selection of our public officials is left in the hands of the minority, most of whom have some personal interest in the outcome, we will not get the best men, and we will not have a republic, a government "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

So again the matter of government is in the hands of the people. Their turn does not come often. Once in four years is ordinarily their only chance to express themselves. Then they can say whether they approve the public acts of their servants, or whether they think their duties should be entrusted to other hands. We believe the people, if they take the trouble to vote, can always be counted upon to make wise selections.

We have noticed with interest that all candidates are confident. We have read Peter O. Knight's statement that Doyle Carlton would come out of the election with a plurality of forty thousand. And we have seen in the Times-Union that Hathaway's campaign manager predicts his candidacy will be supported by some thirty-five thousand.

We would not for one minute pretend to be the prognosticator that either of those gentlemen is, but it is our opinion that the race will be closer, and that Doyle Carlton will be elected by only a few thousand votes.

Al Smith At Home

When casting our votes for delegates to the Democratic National Convention, it is well to consider which of them are favorable to the candidacy of Al Smith and which are opposed to him. And when we consider this, it is likewise well to consider more about Al Smith, whether he is the kind of man we would like to see as president of the United States.

We do not believe there is any better way to get the "low-down" on a man than to see how he stands in his home town. For this purpose we quote the following editorial from a recent issue of the conservative New York Herald-Tribune, the offspring of Horace Greeley and James Gordon Bennett:

"The friends of Governor Smith, irrespective of party affiliations, sympathize with his ambition to attain an office which, ten years ago, both they and he would have regarded as far beyond his reach. Andrew Jackson and Abraham Lincoln both had to travel farther than Al Smith has ever done to bring themselves to the attention of the electorate. Ours is a people which believes in opportunity and in the men who, by patient merit, take advantage of it. It will not be held against Mr. Smith that he was born on the East Side of New York, that his parents were poor, or that he never had the advantages of more than a common school education. The voters of the country will take him for what he is, not for what he has been.

"But Governor Smith, since the death of Charles F. Murphy, has been the acknowledged leader of the local New York Democratic organization. Without his consent Mr. Olvany could not have been made the titular leader. Without his approval Mr. Walker could not have been elected Mayor. Anybody with any inside knowledge of Tammany knows that Mr. Smith is consulted before any important nominations for office are made, that no declaration of principles can be drawn up without his approval, that no program of city or state legislation can be agreed upon unless he first has been consulted. His influence in Tammany is to-day greater than that of Murphy ever was. He could displace any district leader. A municipal slate of his making would be nominated by his party without question at the next city convention.

"What has Governor Smith done to prove to the nation at large that under his direction Tammany Hall has become a better and more honest institution? It was while he was the head of his party that the citizens of Queens complained, and with excellent reason, that millions of dollars had been added to their taxes because of crooked sewer contracts. It was while he was at the head of his party that graft in the Street Cleaning Department became more flagrant than it ever had been before. It was while he was head of his party that favored contractors put up jerry-built schools, that crooked city officials took bribes to permit the sale of bootleg milk, that a favored company was allowed to charge extortionate rates for water in the Rockaways.

"There is no charge that the Governor profited from any of these things. But there is nothing in his public record to indicate that he ever put an end to any of them, that he ever displayed publicly any indignation that they existed. Mr. Smith appears to have accepted Tammany Hall as it is, with all its imperfections on its head. Outside of New York he is pictured as a crusader, as a reformer, as a progressive Governor who has made war on graft and purged the City of New York of plunderers. But since he took over the virtual control of Tammany that organization has felt free to have its will with contracts, pay rolls and all the privileges of plunder which inure to a party in supreme power. Aspiring as he does to the highest office in the gift of the people, Mr. Smith seems wholly to have neglected to put his own house in order."

IF, AS NOW seems likely, Ruth Bryan Owen defeats Congressman Sears in the race for congress from the fourth district, Mr. Sears may console himself with the fact that the vote will be no reflection on himself but merely a recognition of the unusual distinction and ability of Mrs. Owen and her extraordinary capacity to serve Florida in congress as few other members are able to serve their constituencies. Mrs. Owen is something quite out of the ordinary in politics. She is too good to miss, even if the lovable and popular Joe Sears must suffer for the fact—

"What is the difference between Democrats and Republicans?" The reply was: "Darned if I can tell you."—Ocala Star. It strikes us as a rapidly reaching the point where southern Democrats have more in common with northern Republicans than they have with northern Democrats.—Sanford Herald.—Personal contact with southern Democrats and northern Republicans will convince one who uses his "think tank" that this is absolutely true.—Ocala Star.

MORE SERVICE to Distant Points
The work of extending and improving long distance telephone service in the Southeastern States will continue this year. The program calls for an expenditure of more than $4,000,000. Present long distance facilities in this section will be augmented by the construction of 11,385 miles of new circuit, including 134 new direct circuits.
Many long distance users are expressing surprise at the speed with which toll calls are completed. New operating methods, now in effect throughout the territory, make it possible to establish long distance connection at an average time of 2.7 minutes. Incidentally, the quality of voice transmission is also perfect in 97 per cent of all toll calls.
These new circuits and improvements have been planned to care for the increasing volume of long distance business and to provide facilities for high speed service to additional points.

John G. Leonardy for re-election as Prosecuting Attorney

To voters of Seminole County:

Since coming into the office of Prosecuting Attorney for Seminole County on January 4th, 1927, I have had 600 convictions. These convictions cover crimes ranging from illegal riding of trains, larceny, worthless checks, assault and battery, reckless driving, culpable negligence as well as many convictions for possession and sale of intoxicating liquor.

I BELIEVE MY RECORD OF 600 CONVICTIONS IN A LITTLE MORE THAN A YEAR ENTITLES ME TO A FULL TERM AS PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Prosecuting Attorney, subject to the Democratic primary next Tuesday, June 5th, if elected I promise to continue to work for the best interests of the people of Seminole County.

I wish further to add that I have been actively engaged in the practice of law in Seminole County for ten years and have handled cases in all the courts, both civil and criminal.

My experience as an attorney, and my work in the office I now hold, I believe, are my best qualifications for holding the office for the next term.

Yours truly,
JOHN G. LEONARDY

One of the largest and most elaborate parties given this week was the subscription bridge party given Friday afternoon by the members of the Music Department of the Woman's Club, with Mrs. J. C. Benson, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat and Mrs. Charles Powell Jr., as hostesses.

Exquisite roses, gladioli, shamrock daisies, corn flowers, zinnias, gailardia and ferns were beautifully arranged in tall pedestal baskets about the room. The mantel was banked with greenery and centered with low bowls of cut flowers.

Tallies done in yellow were used for keeping scores and after the usual number of progressions had been played, scores were collected by Mrs. C. E. Myers, Mrs. P. E. Roumillat and Mrs. M. Minarik. The first prize, a lovely green crystal bowl, was won by Mrs. LeRoy Chittenden. The second and high score prize, a pearl necklace and pendant, went to Mrs. C. E. Rawson. Mrs. Procter of Geneva was consoled with a set of pearl lingerie pins.

Following the awarding of the prizes, the bridge accessories were removed and the tables laid with hand made covers and refreshments of congealed fruit salad and cakes were served by Mrs. S. Leuk, Mrs. R. R. Deas, Miss Marcia Pratterson, Mrs. Paul Biggers, Mrs. M. Minarik, and Mrs. C. E. Myers.

Southern Cross Is Within 800 Miles Of Goal On Fiji Island

(Continued from page 1.) The Southern Cross and 100 miles from the nearest land—the tiny Phoenix group of islands. For 20 months a watching world waited for the Southern Cross to steady on to danger. Speed at present 80 knots. Twenty-five agonizing minutes later came this: "Have encountered many small rain storms and recently the starboard motor was spluttering. All OK now, reports to all."

At midnight, Pacific Coast Time the Southern Cross passed over the Equator, 1670 miles from Fanning Sands. The plane was averaging 100 miles an hour. Approximately 1500 uncertain miles and 17 menacing hours were still ahead of the fliers. These men, despite their battles against peril of fallible mechanism and scowling elements, found time to joke and laugh as they fought their own fight.

"Jim just drew a cartoon of Jim with his eyes popping out when the motor spluttered," said a message received here by a watchman. The crew still filled with trepidation. A few minutes later, Warner, radioing the description of another grim battle with the elements. They were just entering the dread area of the doldrums, a region of fierce variable winds and squalls, feared by mariners as "the red" of tropical seas. "They ran into ponds of rain," he said. "They were forced to climb about 10,000 feet, and to bank sharply, first to left and then to right, in order to avoid them." "This is a great game," radioed Warner, "dodging these dark clouds."

"Judge Electrical Service By Its Results"

Says George E. Roberts, Vice President, National City Bank, New York
Science may measure electricity in terms of volts and ohms; business in terms of kilowatt hours and the value of production; home-makers, in terms of its labor-saving and comfort-making advantages.
However measured, its extension and application by the electric light and power companies to every department of our industrial and domestic life stand out as among the most important basic causes of America's well-being. From its wires has sprung the goldenflood of America's unprecedented prosperity.
But economists no longer limit wealth to things. They echo John Ruskin's sound doctrine that "there is no wealth but life." And judged from this point of view also, the development of electric service in America will go down as one of the greatest teaching events in history.
These things have been made possible by the application of the sound American principle of leadership through competition and in short by the principle of elimination—in short by the principle of individual enterprise.
To the degree that this principle is maintained will the benefits derived from electric light and power continue to be multiplied.
