Slump, Surf Got Your Hair? Billa's Beauty Shop Answer

Is your hair-do suffering from summer slump, sun and surf? Looking for a "no frills" opportunity to save?

Billa Crews and Roma Hope, owners of Billa's Beauty Shop and Resale Boutique at 1002 French Ave. Sanford, want to help you get your hair-do looking like you just stepped out of a beauty parlor. They are offering a "no frills, no fuss" shampoo and set for only $3 as their Monday, July 10, special.

In the Resale Boutique good used clothing will be on sale at half price. The boutique features ladies' dresses, white uniforms, pantsuits, shoes and purses. Billa's will sell your good used clothing on consignment.

Billa and Roma are sisters as well as partners and have many years experience in the beauty parlor business. Originally from Kentucky, Billa has lived in Lake Mary for 10 years and formerly operated a beauty shop there. Roma has lived in Sanford for the past eight years. They opened their shop on French Avenue in December.

"We offer a full beauty service in a friendly, Christian atmosphere," says Roma. Billa's is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday and evenings by appointment.

They feature Apple Pectin Acid pH and Uni-Perm permanents and tinting, color rinse link touch-up and bleaching hair. They also do haircuts, styling, shampoo and set, manicures and pedicures.

"We also do the long hair high style, which some people still like, but many shops don't do anymore," Roma pointed out.

Billa's also features wigs and hairpieces in a variety of styles, lengths and colors.

Billa enjoys doing macrame and other crafts. Macramé items and dolls she has made are on display and available for purchase in the boutique.

Drop in to meet Roma and Billa or call 322-5664 for an appointment.

London Conference Unaffected Egypt Offers 'Hard-Line' Peace Proposals

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Egypt formally relayed its latest peace plan to Israel today through U.S. Ambassador Samuel Lewis. Although its conditions already have been rejected, Israeli officials said there was nothing in them to bar a peace parley in London later this month.

Lewis relayed the Egyptian plan to Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan during an early morning meeting at Dayan's suburban Tel Aviv home.

Israeli officials termed the proposals hard-line but said they would not prevent a meeting in London later this month between Dayan, Egyptian Foreign Minister Ibrahim Kamel and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

In a related development, opposition leader Shimon Peres said he will "exchange views" but not negotiate when he meets Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Vienna next week.

"There is a government that has to conduct official negotiations," Peres said in an interview with UPI. "We can talk over matters, but not negotiate."

The Egyptian plan — whose main points were rejected by the Israeli cabinet even before they were formally presented — called for Israel's withdrawal from the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

After five years of temporary administration by Jordan and Egypt, the 1.1 million Palestinians Arabs living in both areas would be allowed to exercise the right of self-determination.

The Egyptian plan was presented by President Anwar Sadat to Vice President Walter Mondale Monday for relay to Israel. The full text will be released later today, after it reaches Israel, but highlights were published in early editions of Cairo newspapers.

As reported by the newspapers Al-Ahram and Al-Ghousria, the outline does not specifically call for a sovereign Palestinian state, nor does it provide a role for the Palestine Liberation Organization by name.

Diplomats characterized the Egyptian plan as "tough," and noted similar ideas had been rejected by Prime Minister Menachem Begin of Israel last week.

"Israel is bound to oppose this scheme at the London conference — if it is ever held," one diplomat said.

Israel has agreed in principle to send Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan to London to confer with his Egyptian counterpart, Ibrahim Kamel, and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. But Begin deferred a final decision until he could "examine Egypt's proposals."

The prime minister said he would not characterize the Egyptian plan at this time, but said he was "quite positive" Israel will attend the London foreign ministers conference that Mondale helped set up.

"They will probably announce it after a Cabinet meeting this week," he said.

He said he considered his trip successful, but said, "the difficulties there in trying to find peace cannot be overestimated."

"We've got to have peace in the Middle East," he told reporters. "It's so important to Israel and her neighbors. There have been four wars — our nation is going to do its part to try to overcome the differences and the gaps and do it in such a way that it leads to greater security for Israel."

Israel's plan calls for limited self-rule for the Palestinians and no withdrawal for five years, after which it said it would negotiate the question.

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will attend the London meeting in mid-July, and at that time both the Egyptian and Israeli proposals will be on the table.

Argument Ends In Shooting Death Of Seminole Man

By MAX ERKLETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eddie Lee Cooper, 44, of 1910 1/2 Southwest Road was shot and killed shortly after midnight today following an argument with a man across the street from Joe's Tavern, 1912 Southwest Road, according to information supplied by the Sheriff's Department. The man reportedly pulled a gun on Cooper and shot him in the upper left chest area, according to the sheriff's department.

Cooper was found lying face down in a pool of blood by the roadway when sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene. Cooper had no pulse and had stopped breathing when deputies arrived, according to a report of the incident.

There was one witness to the shooting, a woman according to sheriff's records.

Pathologist Dr. Sara Irgang performed an autopsy this morning at Seminole Memorial Hospital. The body was taken to the hospital early this morning.

Dr. Irgang's examination at the scene. "He died of massive internal bleeding," concluded Dr. Irgang late this morning.

"The bullet hit a major artery near the heart," said Dr. Irgang. Death came within a few minutes of the shooting, she said.

"All I could tell from the autopsy was that the bullet was a small caliber," she said.

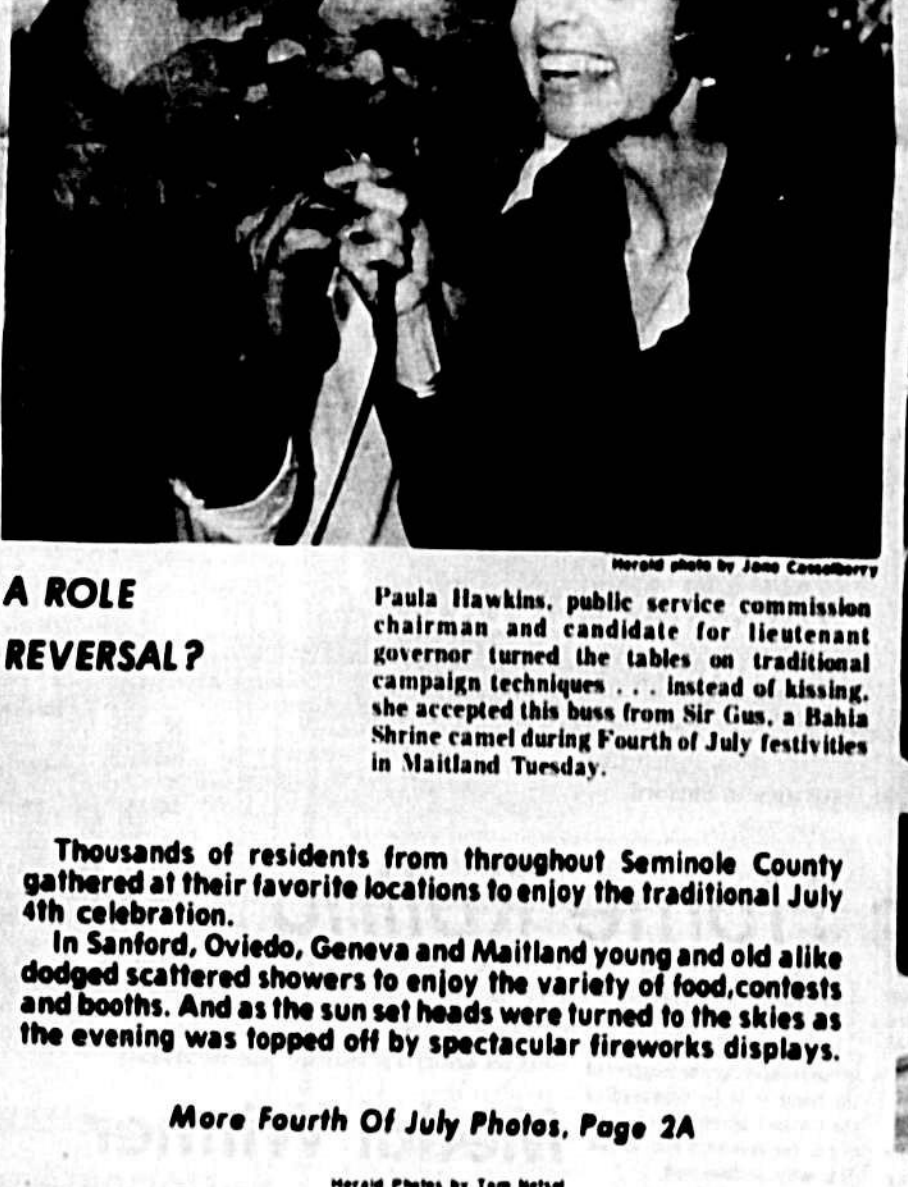

A complaint had been made to the sheriff's office about a half hour prior to the shooting about fireworks being set off in the area, according to sheriff's spokesman John Spinks.

The body will be taken to the Wilson-Eichberger Mortuary, 1110 Pine Ave., Sanford. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Cabinet May Be Asked: Hold Youth Home Ruling convicted of a crime or who are on probation.

Gunter may ask that action on the matter be deferred pending the outcome of a lawsuit filed by the Myrtle Lakes Homeowners Association, said the lawsuit challenging the legality of locating the home in an agriculturally zoned area adjacent to the Shadow Hill subdivision in Longwood.

Marguerite Castellon, a cabinet aide in Gunter's Tallahassee office, confirmed today that Gunter and his staff are discussing whether to argue that the home be deferred. She said a decision will be made during an agenda briefing of Gunter and his aides this afternoon.

Meanwhile, Ned Julian Jr. of the Sanford law firm of Stensstrom, Davis and McIndosh, representing the homeowners association, said the lawsuit citing inconsistencies in the county zoning ordinance has been assigned to Circuit Judge Thomas Waddell, but that no hearing has been set as yet.

Julian and Kenneth McIndosh, working jointly on the suit, said the county zoning ordinance is inconsistent in that two of the uses permitted in the agriculturally zoned area single

Recall Petitions Certified

The number of signatures on the petitions to begin the process of recalling from office Winter Springs Councilman John Daniels and Lawton Peltier are sufficient, Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce will certify to the city of Winter Springs today.

The petition on Peltier contained 365 signatures, 299 of which are valid, said Mrs. Bruce, while the Daniels petition carried 304 signatures, 236 of which are declared valid.

The law requires a minimum of 250 signatures in a city Winter Springs' size to initiate a recall.

The remaining procedures for a recall which now must be accomplished are: the city clerk on receipt of the certification from Mrs. Bruce must serve upon the two councilmen a certified copy of the petition; the two then have five days to respond with a defensive statement of not more than 300 words; a new petition must be prepared containing not only charges but also the defenses and the petition committee must collect new signatures of 15 per cent — 394 in Winter Springs case — of the registered voters within 90 days.

The new petition would have to be certified and a circuit judge would be requested to call a special election.

The entire process could be stopped by the resignation of the officials involved.

Peltier has already stated that he will not resign. Daniels has made no comments for the record since the recall effort was begun by Charles Mort, a former federally funded Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) city employee.

Mort in the petition charges Daniels with misfeasance, malfeasance and neglect of duty and Peltier with misfeasance, neglect of duty and incompetence.

Mrs. Bruce said this is the first recall petition submitted to her office in Seminole County history.

and for children who have been convicted of a crime or who are on probation—not permissible under the county zoning ordinance.

Julian said the homeowners in addition to having representation by Skerstrom, Davis and McInish locally have retained the services of a Tallahassee attorney, Clyde Taylor.

A petition signed by 300-400 persons opposing the location of the home is to be delivered to the Cabinet by representatives of the homeowners and Taylor Thursday, Julian said.

It was reported that the homeowners contend the plans to buy the 600,000 live-bedroom home will cause them to suffer irreparable injury if HRS is not enjoined from occupancy and

Medal Winner

MOSCOW (UPI)—Nathaniel Rosen was 10 years old in 1958 when a dynamic pianist from the United States named Van Cliburn amazed Soviet audiences and won America's first gold medal in the Tchaikovsky Competitions.

By that time, Rosen had been playing the cello—a small one—for four years. On Tuesday, Rosen was rewarded for 24 years of practice and followed Van Cliburn into the elite circle of Tchaikovsky winners.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Forgers Flood World With U.S. Currency

LONDON (UPI)—Argentine forgers believed to have connections with the Mafia have flooded Britain and other parts of the world with an estimated $40 million in counterfeit U.S. currency, police say.

The reports, hammered in the British press Tuesday, said nearly $10 million in forged $100 bills already has been recovered in Britain, and another $30 million worth in the rest of the world.

Farm Program Failing

MOSCOW (UPI)—President Leonid Brezhnev's address to Communist Party Central Committee makes it clear Soviets still have failed to solve problems of waste and inefficiency in agriculture.

The basic problem outlined by Brezhnev was that the government is not getting a sufficient return on its investment in agriculture, "one Western diplomat said.

Doctors Strike in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—Relatives are moving thousands of sick Nigerian patients out of Lagos hospitals, which have been struck by the state's public and private doctors.

Both public and private health services in the Lagos area were paralyzed for the second day Tuesday as doctors refused to treat the sick because of a dispute with the military government.

In Race For Governor

Kirk Decides To Run As A Democrat

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Unable to collect signatures and the money to qualify as an independent, former Republican Gov. Claude Kirk said today he will run for governor this fall as a Democrat.

Kirk, who served from 1967 to January 1971 and was beaten in his bid for a second term by Reubin Askew, announced the decision at the Palm Beach County election supervisor's office where he changed his voter's registration from independent to Democrat.

"The Florida Republican Party, which I helped to make a viable and real political entity, has been brought to the auction block and, like anything else up for sale, it will go to the highest bidder," Kirk said. "The Democratic election, on the other hand, will be a political litmus test where the choice is clear."

Kirk was a Democrat until the mid 1960's. He once led a state committee that worked to elect Dwight Eisenhower president on the Democratic ticket.

He blasted Belleair millionaire Jack Eckerd, considered the frontrunner for the Republican nomination, calling him "Evil Ego Eckerd." He would be the Democrat with the best shot at beating Eckerd in the general election, Kirk said.

"A people's campaign that means business and talks issues will swamp Eckerd's million-dollar public relations extravaganza," he said.

Not only is the Democratic primary the only primary to be decided on the issues, not money, he said, but Florida is still predominantly Democratic and that nominee has the best shot at getting elected.

"I have chosen to fight my battle for Florida in the Democratic arena because that is where the people of this state will speak in this election."

Kirk announced as an independent earlier this year and began a drive to get the signatures necessary to get on the ballot. He made legalized casino gambling his main campaign plank.

After having trouble gathering signatures and raising the money to have them certified by local elections supervisors, he filed suit, challenging the requirements for an independent candidate and lost.

"The people of Florida remember me as the governor who helped to bring Disney World and other businesses to Florida," he said. "The people of Florida need me as governor again."

Is Proposition 13 Paying Off?

At a time when Howard Jarvis was scorned as but a nuisance in the legislative halls of Sacramento, two of California's most noted economists—Milton Friedman and Arthur Laffer—were preaching their theories that economic expansion goes up as tax rates go down—that tax cuts build new jobs as well as worker incentives. California now becomes a vast economic laboratory to prove or disprove the Friedman-Laffer hypothesis. Already, there are signs that California's prosperous but static economy is about to take off. The state Chamber of Commerce has just announced the results of a survey that indicates a whopping $2.9 billion expansion of business and industry within the next 12 months, which will create an estimated 24,000 new jobs. And while the business community seems shy about openly attributing this growth to passage of Proposition 13, it appears the state's improved economic climate has been buoyed by the prospect of reduced taxes stemming from passage of Proposition 13.

An encouraging fact for Californians is that another state, New Hampshire, has already proved how high economic levels accompany low taxes. Fortune magazine recently pointed out that, whereas New Hampshire's conservative leadership was criticized half a dozen years ago as reactionary for keeping its government and its taxes small, "the new conventional wisdom is that these reactionaries could be on to something big."

In contrast to the entire Northeastern section of the United States, which has had a declining economy and a declining population growth, New Hampshire is the fastest growing state east of the Mississippi except Florida; its unemployment rate is only 3.4 percent and its private-sector jobs have increased 21.5 percent.

The chief danger looming for California is that Sacramento will yield to increasing pressures from local jurisdictions and restore property taxes on businesses instead of cutting back on government spending. Already, business has become the obvious tax target for those who seek quick, and easier, solutions to the current revenue crunch. The predictable, political impulse will be to choke the golden goose all the harder to make up for taxes lost from home owners.

If this happens, California will be placed in the worst of economic worlds because it will deprive itself of the chance to make up lost home owner taxes as promised now by expanded business, expanded jobs and expanded tax revenues. To express this another way: Proposition 13 would be converted into a total disaster if its affirmative side, namely an improved business climate, is cut out; a stagnant economy coupled with the loss of revenue from home owner tax relief would lead to stultifying increases in sales and income taxes. Everyone in California would then be worse off than before.

Now that Proposition 13 has been passed, with all of the disorderly disruptions that were predicted, the best hope for making it work to maximum advantage is to retain its economic stimulants.

Go Ahead, Sue

By George, there is something new under the sun. There's a lone some Lorraine in San Francisco who is suing his date because she stood him up. He wants to collect the $20 he spent in time and mileage only to find nobody was at home when he rang the bell.

What he's really going to find is that ain't no way to win a lady. He may get his $20 but that's all he's going to get. A few weeks earlier, a young man in Denver filed suit against his parents, demanding $250,000 damages because his family failed to raise him in a proper fashion.

The suit claims the parents were guilty of wilful and wanton neglect.

Such lawsuits could in some way be connected to the vast number of attorneys graduating from our nation's law schools. — What was that line in "King Henry VII"? "The first thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers."

BERRY'S WORLD

Around

The Clock

By JIM HAYNES

Most of the south's "good ole boys" had to be in Daytona Beach over the long holiday weekend. I certainly hope there aren't too many more racetracks around here.

They bill Daytona International Speedway as the racing capital of the world. Chamber of commerce guides show the track's sprawling 15-mile course with Richard Petty's familiar No. 43 car leading the pack. Also beach bikin' photos. Neither is an exaggeration.

But they omitted the symbol of what made stock car racing what it is today. The All-American, unofficial pace spectator—a beer-guzzling, devil-may-care redneck.

I saw him and recognized him immediately. There he stood high on a bench, trying to get a clearer view. His boddy belly hanging well past his belt, he had peeled off his T-shirt and tagged a man-with-no-name had down over his eyes. He is racing's Grizzly Adams.

"Somebody hand me another six-pack," he commanded to one of his buddies, stretched out in the bleachers and seemingly ignoring the practice runs and soaking plenty of sun, but more suds.

The carnival atmosphere carries over to all of Daytona's neighboring communities—including those in Seminole County.

I have a friend who runs a gas station and prides himself on being a southern gentleman. A car pulled into his station Friday, bearing a Georgia tag.

"So help me, I couldn't understand them at all," he said. "Finally I gathered from their drift they wanted directions to the Speedway. Why, I tried to fill their gas tank after they said something at first. But the tank was already full. They were feeling no pain, but those accents!"

People rank as the No. 1 attraction at Daytona. To be certain it is a sight to see and hear those cars the first time around the track. But the actual competition of seeing who gets there first gets very repetitious and while one is waiting for the final laps and an expected duel between the big names of the game, people take over.

Halter tops, frisbees, stale hot dog buns, and an unquestioned loyalty to stock car racing are the most noticeable around this track.

I didn't actually see any fights between A. J. Foyt and Buddy Baker fans, but I understand a discussion on who was best got out of hand. The kicker to that misunderstanding was that they weren't fighting as much over who was the best driver, but which form of racing—short track or long—was the true best.

The best tip to pass on to anyone from out of the area is to make reservations ahead of time. From what I gather, motels in the immediate Daytona area are booked for next year. Seems people make reservations for the following year as they check out.

Seminole County felt the crunch, as overflow from the east coast filled our motels to capacity. Make that reservation for 1980, sir.

ANGLE-WALTERS

'Families' Gets A Chance

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the push-and-shove world of Washington, delay is usually the equivalent of a death knell. But it can, on occasion, be a respite from disaster.

The latter is clearly the case with the postponement from 1979 to 1981 of the White House Conference on Families which President Carter first proposed during his campaign two years ago.

Like most of his campaign promises, Carter's plan for a massive national convocation on what aids the American family and what the government can or should do about it turned out to be fraught with practical and political difficulties.

The immediate cause of the postponement announced last week by HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. was administrative trouble. For nearly 18 months, planning responsibility for the conference had bounced around HEW with almost nothing getting done.

The big-name outside chairman of the conference, former HEW Secretary Wilbur Cohen, had been forced to resign because of health problems.

The "inside" director, Patsy Fleming, a special assistant to Califano, quit in angry protest when Califano decided to name a white, Catholic male as her co-director. (His original choice of Mrs. Fleming, a black divorcee with three teenage children, had come under fire by the Rev. Andrew Greeley, a Catholic priest who writes a syndicated newspaper column.)

No agenda had been drawn up for the conference. No decisions had been made on how delegates would be chosen. From a practical standpoint, it was obvious that the conference should be postponed.

But what had also become evident, to both HEW and the White House, was the political delicacy of any government-sponsored conference on the family.

Conservatives who have battled the Equal Rights Amendment, opposed abortion and child care legislation and disrupted last year's International Women's Year conference were starting to focus on the planned family conference. From a different direction, there were rumblings from black groups fearful the conference would concentrate too heavily on the stereotypical two-parent, two-child white middle-class family.

Belatedly, it dawned on the administration that a White House Conference on Families just months before the next presidential election could easily turn into a political demerol of the first order.

"We knew from the beginning that this is a hairy topic, but I'm not sure anybody in the administration realized it," said Robert Rice, director of policy analysis for the private Family Services Association of America.

JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — A year ago, we raised a lonely voice in favor of developing alcohol fuel to relieve the energy shortage. It might not be necessary after all, we reported for Americans to junk their big cars, give up their weekend drives and move back into the city from the outlying communities.

Before the nation runs out of gas, we suggested, the dividing supply could be supplemented with a product that can easily be distilled from agricultural surpluses, timber wastes, cheese whey, waste paper, even garbage.

These plentiful resources can be converted into alcohol fuel, which can then be blended into gasoline without altering the engine.

An evidence that the substitute would work, we pointed an alcohol mix into our own gas tank. The new gasoline industry, we predicted, would reduce our alarming trade deficit and create new jobs at home.

But we warned that the oil industry would oppose developing a rival fuel. "This suit only would threaten oil profits but it'd break the industry's monopoly," we wrote on Aug. 9, 1977.

The prediction was fulfilled all too quickly; our claims testing alcohol fuel drew howls of outrage from oil executives and generated a propaganda campaign against us from coast to coast. For the columns had stimulated pro-

A Better Mortuary?

Earlier this year I was a patient at Florida Hospital North, Alamoonte Springs. Recently my daughter was a patient at Seminole Memorial Hospital, Sanford.

I feel the need to write this letter because I've never been able to compare day and night, black and white, etc.

While at Florida Hospital, not only was I given the best of care, I was given it in a most kind and considerate way. Everyone from the head nurse down to the man operating the buffer on the floors, treated me with a warm kindness that made me feel at home.

All I met at Seminole Memorial were people who acted like they hated even being there, much less being nice to anyone!

I know that in hospital work, the employees are faced with people at their worst—sick people, people in pain. But how much further a smile goes than a frown!

When I discussed this with my son tonight, I told him that if all the employees of Seminole Memorial were to leave and go to Florida Hospital looking for jobs, they would all have to have their faces and spirits lifted before they would be put to work.

I am sure that Seminole Memorial Hospital serves a very basic need in this community.

However, I submit that before they can begin to fill this basic need, they are in dire need of a good Public Relations man to stimulate employee interest.

Or it might seemingly be of more interest to take out all the beds and turn it into a huge mortuary, for which all the employees seem aptly suited!

RONALD REAGAN

Russia Versus China

Zbigniew Brzezinski seems determined to make normalization of relations with the mainland of China the holy grail of U.S. foreign policy in the belief that an alliance with the Peking Communists will blunt Russian expansionism and make the Soviets more agreeable at the SALT bargaining table.

Peking endorses the idea, with warm praise for Brzezinski's recent visit. For some time now, the Peking leadership has been predicting war in Europe between the USSR and the NATO allies. This is partly a game of let's-rop-and-him-fight-and-I'll-hold-your-coats, but it also has elements of what's-past-the-graveyard, for the Chinese are very worried about the presence of nearly one million Soviet troops in the vicinity of the USSR-China border.

The forthright Washington-Peking alliance that Brzezinski's visit and other recent Carter administration moves portend raises the possibility that Soviet aggressiveness, far from being blunted, may be stepped up.

Michael Ledeen, executive director of the Washington Review of Strategic and International Studies, in a recent article on "How the Russian-Chinese War Will be Fought" makes a persuasive argument that the Russians may actually launch a sudden strike against the Chinese. This could be hastened by the creation of an "instant cordiale" between Peking and the United States.

Ledeen reports that sources in both the American and European defense and intelligence establishments "...say that insupportable strategic pressures will force Russia to initiate a war while it believes China is still at a military disadvantage."

Why the rivalry? As one close observer of international communism said to me not long ago: "The communist religion there is room for only one Rome." Increasingly, the Chinese have been challenging Moscow for ideological leadership of the international movement.

Verbal attacks on Soviet communism have increased in intensity over the years (especially during Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution of the 60s.). All the while, Peking has held out the promise of ideological purity to communist parties of the West and has been competing with the Soviets in providing aid to Third World countries.

However, I submit that before they can begin to fill this basic need, they are in dire need of a good Public Relations man to stimulate employee interest.

Or it might seemingly be of more interest to take out all the beds and turn it into a huge mortuary, for which all the employees seem aptly suited!

NATION IN BRIEF

Holiday Weekend Deaths At 634 By 7 a.m. Today

A count by United Press International at 7 a.m. EDT today showed at least 634 persons had been killed in traffic deaths since the holiday weekend began at 6 p.m. local time Friday. The counting period ended at midnight Tuesday but reports from some states were not complete.

A breakdown of accidental deaths:
Traffic 634
Drownings 140
Planes 21
Total 795

California led all states with 68 traffic deaths, followed by Texas with 44, Illinois recorded 29, New York had 26, Florida 24, Georgia 22, Arizona 21 and Indiana and Alabama 20.

Russian Working Rights Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assistant White House press secretary Walt Wurfel today invited a group of Russian correspondents to meet with him to discuss their "rights and privileges" while working in Washington.

Asked whether the summoning of the correspondents to the White House had anything to do with the trial of The New York Times and Baltimore Sun correspondents in Moscow, Wurfel said, "we wouldn't want to make any connection."

It was understood that some 10 Soviet correspondents were invited to a similar meeting at the State Department last Friday, and only three showed up.

Strike Talks Resume

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Negotiations were to resume today between union firefighters and city officials in the wake of a three-day walkout during which more than 400 fires were reported, many of them deliberately set.

Firefighters "reluctantly" agreed to comply with a court injunction ordering them back to work Tuesday morning, 450 of the 1,400 members of the International Association of Firefighters Local 1784 were back on the job. Union officials said the remaining firefighters would report to work at Wednesday and Thursday shift changes.

'Longest Walk' In Reverse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reversing the "Longest Walk" when Indians were forced westward by spreading colonial settlements, a group of modern native Americans are walking from California to a peaceful demonstration in the nation's capital July 15.

Leaders of the Indian march on Washington predicted Tuesday federal and community cooperation and their own spiritual intentions will prevent a repeat of the destructive occupation of federal offices by the Trail of Broken Treaties Caravan in 1972.

Reward Offered For Killers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI will pay $10,000 each for information leading to the arrest of two Cuban exiles being hunted in connection with the 1976 slaying of former Chilean Defense Minister Orlando Letelier.

FBI spokesman Dave Cassens said Tuesday "up to $10,000 has been authorized for payment to individuals" who help find either Jose Dionisio Suarez or Virgilio Paz.

The FBI considers the two armed and dangerous.

Human Rights Stand Protest

PLAINS, Ga. (UPI) — The imprisonment of a black woman for killing a white man she claimed tried to rape her drew about 150 chanting protesters to President Carter's hometown Tuesday for a Fourth of July protest centered on Carter's human rights stance.

The human rights problem in the world today is right here in the U.S., marchers shouted, making the chant rhyme as they sweated and waved away swarms of gnats along the two-mile parade route.

Twisters Rip Dakotas

By United Press International
Tornadoes ripped through parts of the Dakotas today, leaving at least three persons dead, downing power lines and destroying homes and buildings.

The worst of the twisters hit in Elgin, N.D., late Tuesday. Three persons were killed and as many as 40 injured in the town of 800 persons in the southwestern part of the state.

Jim Hanson, administrator of the Jacobs Memorial Hospital in Elgin, said he was on weather watch when he saw "a lot of wind in the clouds" in the western sky. Shortly later, sirens sounded.

Hanson said he went home and spotted the funnel cloud a block away as soon as he parked his car.

Meet Edward Villella—Athlete Par Excellence

By SHERYL FLATOW NEW YORK (UPI) — He moves with the agility of Bjorn Borg, leaps with the buoyancy of Julius Erving and possesses the grace of O.J. Simpson.

Edward Villella, athlete par excellence, earned his reputation on the stages of City Center and the New York State Theater at Lincoln Center where, for 18 years, he has been a principal dancer with the New York City Ballet.

By MILTON RICHMAN

Billie Jean Not Better

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than anything else in the world, she wanted this one, and now that she had it, there was only one sensible thing left for Billie Jean King to do.

The time was three years ago yesterday and the place Wimbledon, England.

King had just routed Evonne Goolagong Cawley, 64, 6-1, in the most one-sided women's final in nearly a quarter century for her sixth Wimbledon singles' championship and she had barely walked off the court when she made her momentous announcement.

Not that she really has to. She owns more titles than any woman around today and unquestionably she does more for women's tennis than possibly anyone who ever lived, so why, after announcing she was quitting three years ago, is she still going out there knocking herself out trying to prove something?

One thing for sure: she's not getting any better. Those three tennis operations she has had have to be taking their effect the longer she keeps pushing herself trying to compete on even terms with much younger performers such as Evert and Navratilova.

Off the court, King sometimes pushes as hard as she does on it, aggressively negotiating many of the hard-earned rights she has won for women players.

No-Name A's Back In Pennant Race

By United Press International CHARLEY FINLEY's "no-name" Oakland A's are right back in the thick of things in the American League West.

"T a r a z a n" Joe Wallis slammed a pair of two-run homers and Tony Armas another, as the A's, given up for dead just last week, thumped the Seattle Mariners, 9-4 Tuesday night to climb to within a half game of first-place California.

"You have to be careful how you deal with the press," says Villella. "You know they're not going to end up classical dancers so you can't ask them to do very in-depth things. You have to get the principles and the parallels across to them."

Who Says Second Million Is Toughest To Make?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forgo's trainer, Frank Whiteley, always maintained the second million dollars a horse earned was a lot tougher than the first million, but even he never thought the last $40,000 would be this hard.

Forgo, a mere $39,839 short of Kelso's all-time record of $1,377,898, Tuesday failed to attempt to reach that mark and become the first racehorse ever to earn $2 million, as he finished fifth behind Upper Nile over a sloppy track in the $100,000 Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park.

"It is tough," admitted Whiteley. "I didn't know how tough." The 8-year-old gelding, plagued throughout his career by gimpy ankles, could not find his footing on the sloppy track and never made his customary charge at the leaders in the 1 1/4-mile test, finishing 1 1/4 lengths back.

Despite day-long drizzle that turned the track into goo and dampened whatever holiday spirit there might have been, $3,897 turned out to see Forgo, who is nearing the end of his long career.

Loas this season. Bruce Sutter picked up his 11th save, preserving rookie Dave Gettle's first major-league win. Padres 7, Giants 5.

Dave Winfield's third career grand slam ignited a three-run first inning and led surging San Diego to a 7-5 victory over the Pirates' pitcher in the opener. Cubs 7, Cardinals 5.

A leadoff homer by Bobby Murcer in the fifth inning broke a 4-4 tie to give Chicago its eighth straight win over St. Louis.

Evert Faces Wade Today

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — For 12 months Chris Evert has waited for her moment.

Wednesday the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., tennis machine gets her long-awaited chance for revenge against Britain's Virginia Wade when they clash on the center court for a place in the women's final of the $312,000 Wimbledon championships.

This time last year, Evert was favored to land the title for the third time, only to suffer a semifinal upset against local favorite Wade, who went on to capture the crown for the first time after 14 Wimbledon.

Evert edged out six-time champion Billie Jean King, 6-3, 6-2, in Tuesday's quarterfinals, just as she did in 1977, while Wade demolished Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia, 6-0, 6-4.

Referring to the coming battle against Wade, Evert said: "The desire for revenge will be there. I'm definitely more motivated this year. I'll be hustling, trying for every point."

Wade, who will be 33 next week, says she has not felt any extra pressure in being the defending champion and is confident she can repeat last year's victory over Evert and go on to retain her title.

"Christie is a great player, but who knows whether she will be good one day or the next? I am a better player this year and have better potential. I have played Christie twice in team tennis this year and did very well."

In the other semifinal, second-seeded Martina Navratilova, the Italian-based Czechoslovak, faces 1971 champion Evonne Cawley of Australia.

Navratilova outplayed South African Marise Kruger, 6-2, 6-4, Tuesday, while Cawley, hampered by a twisted ankle, defeated Romania's Virginia Ruzici, 7-5, 6-3, and is receiving specialist treatment for her injury.

But Navratilova has no intention of taking pity on the Australian. "You feel like a turkey out there. You have got to remember who she is and that even injured she can beat a lot of people."

The men have a rest day when Sweden's Bjorn Borg, out to win the title three times in succession, meets unseeded Dutchman Tom Okker and world favorite Jimmy Connors plays Vitas Gerulaitis in an all-American clash.

Blue Jays 9, Tigers 2: John Mayberry led a 17-hit drive in two runs apiece to pace attack with four singles while Toronto over Detroit.

White Sox 7, Rangers 1: Eric Soderholm's lead-off home run in the seventh inning lifted Chicago over Texas. Mike Pelfrey, 14, picked up his first American League victory in relief.

Orioles 6, Indians 4: Baltimore parlayed five straight singles and a pair of throwing errors into a five-run, sixth-inning uprising and reliever Don Sluhsen picked up his 12th save as the Orioles snapped an eight-game road losing streak.

Twins 7, Brewers 2: Right-hander Gary Seron fired a five-hitter and Stan Ford had three hits — including a two-run double — to pace Minnesota. Seron, 43, posted his second complete game.

Reds 9, Yankees 5: High-batter Gary Seron fired a five-hitter and Stan Ford had three hits — including a two-run double — to pace Minnesota. Seron, 43, posted his second complete game.

Phone Call To Zoo Helps Lift LA After Cey Decked

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda said a call to the zoo was very reassuring.

Lasorda said the incident picked his club up, as they went on to a 6-1 victory over the Braves. The win, the Dodger's 18th in their last 20 games, coupled with Cincinnati and San Francisco defeats, moved Los Angeles into second place — two games behind the Giants.

Her Husband Drinks Himself To Sleep
 Dr. Lamb
 DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a very worried wife. Can you give me an estimate of how long a man who is 59, and weighs 210 at 6 feet tall can continue to drink alcohol? He was a successful moderate drinker until about eight years ago. Now he consumes a pint of whiskey and a six-pack of beer every day within two hours in the evening and maybe eats and then falls into bed. How long can he expect to survive at this rate?
 DEAR READER—If your description is correct this man is an alcoholic and needs help. He can look in the yellow pages for a telephone directory under alcohol and find the organizations within his community that could be of help to him.
 You might also ask him to read The Health Letter number 14 on alcohol which I am sending to you. It outlines most of the medical problems that alcohol causes. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1581, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.
 There is no way to predict how long he can survive with this habit. Individuals have different levels of tolerance. Carbons of the liver scarred by the liver is the sixth most common cause of death in American men and of these 90 percent are caused by excess use of alcohol.
 In the amounts this man drinks, alcohol can also cause high blood pressure, heart disease and many other severe medical problems. It should never be forgotten that alcohol is a cellular poison.
 The unfortunate aspect is that an individual may be developing progressive, serious liver disease and not suspect a single symptom. There may also be changes in the heart muscle fibers which cause no symptoms until the heart muscle actually starts to fail.

WIN AT BRIDGE
 But East was not finished. His double of two spades was brass and unwarranted. How did he expect to defeat such a contract? West, knowing his partner's penchant for doubling, approached in game, ran to the hearts. North bid three spades and the irrepressible East doubled again.
 After West won the opening heart lead, he switched to trump which was won by dummy's king. Declarer cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. He led a small club to dummy and West had to split his honors. The ace took the trick.
 Declarer now had six tricks. He cashed the 10 of clubs, the seventh. Trick 8 ruffed another diamond, the eighth trick and there in dummy was that beautiful ace of trumps.
 East had paid well for his irrepressibility.

Serve Chilled Soup To Keep Your Cool

Soup in summer? Why not? Many of the finest restaurants make a specialty of their cool soups in summer. Vichyssoise and Gazpacho are famous internationally.

Potato-spinach soup may remind you of Vichyssoise (potatoes, leeks and cream) because this one contains potatoes, onion and milk with spinach and a dairy sour cream topper.

As with all chilled soups, out the ingredients in a blender, through a sieve or a food processor so the texture will be smooth and pleasing. Dairy sour cream in the soup or as a topper adds creamy richness so that you can make a satisfying meal with the addition of a sandwich or salad.

CHILLED POTATO-SPINACH SOUP
Yield: Approx. 6 cups

2 lbs. butter
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1 tsp. salt
1 strip lemon peel
2 cups peeled sliced potatoes (about 3/4 medium)
1 lb. fresh spinach
2 cups milk
1/4 cup lemon juice

1 cup dairy sour cream
Dairy sour cream
Grated lemon peel

Melt butter in a 3-quart saucepan; sauté onion for a few minutes. Add water, bouillon cubes, salt, lemon peel and potatoes. Cover; bring to a boil and cook 10-15 minutes or until potatoes are nearly tender. Add spinach; cover and cook 5 additional minutes. Puree in a blender or sieve mixture. Stir in milk, lemon juice and sour cream. Cover and chill several hours before serving. To serve: Ladle into chilled bowls and garnish with dollop of sour cream and lemon peel.

Chinese Pork gets exotic touch

Peanuts Add The Unexpected To Pork Dish

The Chinese relish food combinations that would be unlikely to occur to Westerners, but the resulting contrasts of flavor texture are delicious as well as exotic. Chinese Pork with Peanuts is such a flavorome dish.

CHINESE PORK AND PEANUTS
(4 Servings)

1 lb. cornstarch
1 lb. La Choy Soy Sauce
1 lb. sherry
1 lb. lean pork, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 the. cooking oil
1 garlic clove, minced
1/4 lb. fresh mushrooms, cubed
2 celery stalks, cubed
1/2 the. La Choy Bamboo Shoots, drained and cut in half
2 dried red peppers, seeded and minced
1 the. La Choy Soy Sauce
1/4 cup chicken broth
1 cup blanched salted peanuts
1 green onion, chopped fine

Combine cornstarch, 1 tablespoon soy sauce and sherry, blending well. Pour over pork, tossing to coat.

Heat oil in large skillet. Add garlic and pork and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until pork loses its pinkness, about 3 minutes. Add mushrooms, celery, bamboo shoots, red pepper and 1 tablespoon soy sauce, mixing well. Cook and stir about one minute.

Stir in chicken broth. Cover pan and cook over medium heat about 4 minutes or until hot. Stir in peanuts; continue cooking until heated through. Garnish with chopped green onion.

Summer Sweets Are Just Peachy

Make the most of fresh fruits as they come into season in your area.

If you go to a pick-your-own farm, take only the amount you will consume while the fruit is of good quality.

FRESH PEACH ICE CREAM

2 1/2 cups (2 lbs.) mashed peeled fresh peaches
1/4 cup sugar, divided
1/4 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, slightly beaten
2 1/2 cups milk
2 cups heavy cream

Crushed ice
Rock salt

In large bowl, mix mashed peaches with 1/4 cup sugar, lemon juice, vanilla and almond extract. Set aside.

In large saucepan, mix together flour, remaining 1/4 cup sugar and salt. Stir in eggs. Scald milk and gradually stir into egg mixture. Place over low heat and stir constantly until mixture thickens enough to coat a spoon. Remove from heat and cool.

Stir in heavy cream and prepared peach mixture. Pour into can of electric ice cream freezer. Insert dasher. Place can in freezer container. Layer crushed ice and rock salt in freezer around container according to directions for freezer. Follow manufacturer's directions for freezing ice cream.

To ripen ice cream, turn into plastic containers or bowls. Cover and freeze 2 hours. Serve with sliced peaches. Makes 2 quarts.

FRESH PEACH SHORTCAKE

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add egg and milk. Mix with a fork to form a soft dough.

On a floured board, knead dough 20 times. Divide in half. Pat one half into a greased 8-inch round layer cake pan. Spread with melted butter. Pat remaining dough over top.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes, until golden brown. While biscuit is baking, prepare peaches for filling. Cool biscuit 5-10 minutes and separate biscuit layers with a fork.

FILLING

4 cans sliced fresh peaches
1/2 cup sugar, divided
2 cups heavy cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sprinkle peaches with 1/4 cup sugar and let stand at room temperature. Whip cream with remaining 1/2 cup sugar and vanilla until thick. Spread bottom layer of biscuit with half of whipped cream. Top with 2 cups sliced peaches. Add top layer and repeat. Serve immediately or chill. Makes 8 servings.

Woman Found Dead—Murder Is Suspected

Sanford Police are investigating the possibility of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver Young, 66, of 1016 Locust Ave., who was found this morning by two friends.

"She was found in a pool of blood on the floor of her living room," said Lt. Ralph Russell.

Altamisa Dixon, 1102 Locust Ave., and Martha Parker, Redding Garden Apartments, discovered the body when they went to visit the woman, according to Russell.

An autopsy is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Friday at Seminole Memorial Hospital to determine the official cause of death, according to Russell.

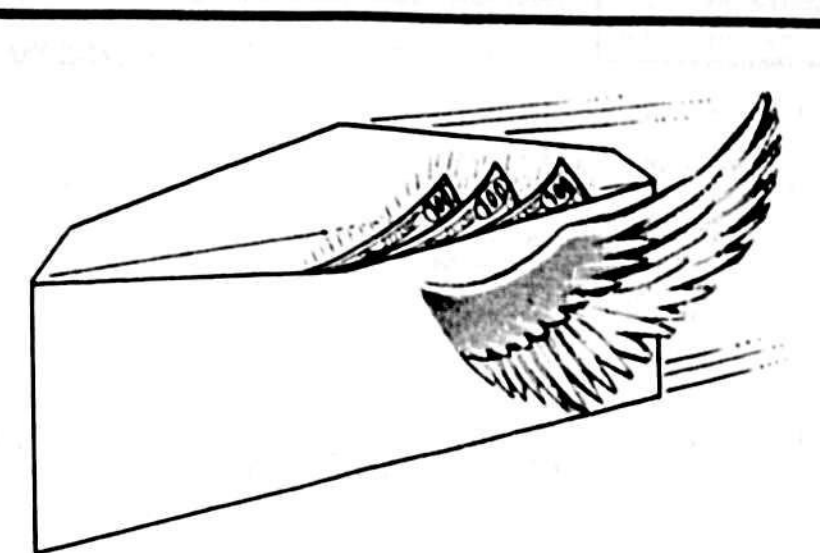

Russell declined to reveal the nature of Mrs. Young's wound or to say if there was evidence of a forcible entry to her home, because the investigation was in the preliminary stages late this morning.

Meanwhile, in an unrelated case Sylvester Thompson, 25, of 1713 W. 14th Street, Sanford, turned himself into a Seminole County Sheriff's Deputy Wednesday afternoon and was charged with the murder of Eddie Lee Cooper, 44, of 911 East 11th Street.

Cooper died shortly after midnight Tuesday following an argument with a man across from Joe's Tavern, 1912 Southwest Road. A witness to the shooting told sheriff's deputies the two men had been arguing when Thompson allegedly pulled a gun and shot Cooper.

"He knew we had been looking for him," said sheriff's spokesman John Spolski, "and when he saw one of our cars, he called the deputy over."

An autopsy performed Wednesday morning at Seminole Memorial Hospital by pathologist Dr. Sara Irgang revealed Cooper died of massive internal bleeding.

HEAVENLY DOLLARS FOR BEST? (Sketch by Ron Beck)

Saintly Donor Strikes Again

Whoever Democratic congressional candidate David Best's benefactor with the heavenly dollars is, he would like to know his or her identity.

For the second time in a week the Orlando campaign headquarters of Best for Congress has received a note from an anonymous person, who said he or she will be 90 years old this month, with in excess of $100 enclosed.

The money was sent "so you alone will know you are being watched over," said a new note from the anonymous friend, explaining the funds are meant for Best's personal use and not as a campaign contribution.

Again, several Biblical quotations were enclosed.

Jack Calderon, Best's press secretary, said the money cannot be accepted as a personal gift.

"Rather than giving it away to charity again, we hope the person will contact us and tell us what is in the latest letter and the exact sum sent this time so we can return it," he said.

"If after 10 days the person has not contacted us and identified himself or herself, we will again give the money to charity," said Calderon.

Calderon said Larry Boyles of the Federal Elections Commission said he has never heard of anything like this happening in a campaign before.

The latest letter was postmarked again in Orlando and dated this time July 3. On June 29 the headquarters received the first letter from the person saying the "Lord" prompted me to share this $100 with you for your spiritual and personal needs."

That money was donated in $75 sums each to an Orlando nursing home, a Baptist Church and a Catholic church in the Orlando area and a Jewish Synagogue in Citrus County.

"We'd really like to know the person," said Calderon. — DONNA ESTES

Workshop Set On Aluminum Smelting Plant

The dispute over the location of an aluminum recycling plant in Sanford will enter into another stage Tuesday when the Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) will hold a workshop meeting at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

A spokesman for residents of the Silver Lake area where Keller Industries plans to locate the plant said representatives from the neighborhood will be on hand at the 10 a.m. meeting to continue to voice their opposition. Despite comments from DER officials that the plant has met all air pollution standards, Richard Fowler of Silver Lake said his group is not convinced.

The plant which the company says will employ 20-25 was opposed by the group primarily because of their concern over the pollution aspects of the plant.

DER spokesman Chuck Collins said today that Keller has met all the DER guidelines to cut down on air pollution. "We believe that relatively clean air will now be released into the atmosphere," Collins said.

DER District Manager Alex Senkovich noted that because of steps taken by Keller his agency would now have "no reluctance in granting the air permit."

However, Fowler, a retired U.S. Navy Rear Admiral said he and the Silver Lake residents are still not convinced the device being used by the company will cut down on the pollution. "One of our main concerns is that the method does nothing about the gases, just about particles being released."

Senkovich noted the engineers have determined the "amount of the gases is small and there is no problem at all."

Senkovich added the Tuesday meeting will not be a formal hearing but will serve primarily as a forum where both sides can exchange ideas. "It's primarily a workshop session so we can tell the people what we believe and they can state their concerns."

He added his agency will stress Keller has met all of DER's requirements on air pollution and that concerns zoning or traffic problems are not under DER's authority.

Senkovich noted that the residents are still displeased, they can petition for a public hearing which could be held within 45 days.

Pays Power Company Deposit

Visitor Solves Blind Woman's Plight

A HAPPY MINNIE BYRSE PAYS ELECTRIC BILL AND DEPOSIT

We felt sorry for the predicament she was in and felt she needed help," the lady said.

This feeling prompted the Sanford visitor and her sister from Jacksonville to give Minnie Byrse the $75 she needs to pay a deposit to the Florida Power & Light Co.

Miss Byrse was featured in an Evening Herald story Tuesday. The story related how Miss Byrse, who has been blind for 32 years, was now facing the problem of how to pay her power company deposit.

The amount was assessed after her electricity was shut when she failed to pay a delinquent bill. The Seminole Community Action Agency had agreed to pay the delinquent bill but was prohibited by rules regulating that agency from paying the deposit.

The ladies who made the contribution called the Herald office and noted that after reading the article they felt "like we would like to help," and made the anonymous donation.

Warplanes Sweep Over Syria; Beirut Fighting Resumes

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Seven Israeli warplanes screamed low over Beirut twice today with deafening sonic booms in a show of strength designed to warn Syria to end its rocket, tank and artillery bombardments of Christian militia positions.

Terrified residents ran for cover as the Israeli planes flew in from the sea and blazed over the capital in two swoops. The force of the sonic booms was so great they shattered glass in many sections of the city and some Beirutis obviously thought they were bombs.

The Israeli move followed a night of the fiercest Syrian rocket, tank, artillery and mortar bombardment of Christian militia positions in east Beirut since the Syrian-Christian militia positions.

tian fighting erupted last Saturday.

A broadcast by the right-wing Phalangist Party radio, calling the seven-hour battle "the worst catastrophe this country has ever seen," estimated 50 persons were killed or wounded in addition to the 167 dead and 500 injured in the previous five days of fighting.

The Israeli show of air strength was seen as a clear signal to Syria to ease up on the Christians or risk confrontation with Israel.

Israel has supplied Christian militia forces in south Lebanon with military aid for the past two years in their battles against Palestinian guerrillas and Lebanese leftists in the border region.

Syrian troops instantly went on full alert, donning steel helmets and manning fixed positions. Palestinian guerrillas in the refugee camps southwest of the city quickly activated anti-aircraft positions.

Shortly after the initial panic atmosphere subsided, explosions and gunfire could be heard, signaling renewed clashes between Syrian and Christian positions.

The latest fighting began Wednesday night and tapered off into small arms fire early today.

A total of 1,200 Syrian tanks, artillery and rocket shells fell on the Christian part of Beirut and its southeastern suburbs, the radio said. "Shells were falling at an average of one every minute," it said.

"The (Syrian) bombardment pounded our areas in such a mad way that no sane man could imagine it happening even on the most ferocious and violent of battlefields," the Phalangist radio said.

Nearly 80 buildings caught fire and several others were partly damaged, the radio said.

The sharply escalated fighting took place despite cease-fire orders issued by both the Phalangist radio and official Damascus Radio Wednesday.

A high government source said Lebanese Foreign Minister Fuad Bishara had "come away with nothing" in his meeting with Syrian officials in Damascus Wednesday.

He went to Damascus in an attempt to get Syria to soften its insistence that the Lebanese government endorse a crackdown on the militia.
