PAOLA CHURCE OF CHRIST

Windows of the Soul

Eyes have been called the windows of the soul. Clarity, expression and size—all of these are supposed to reveal character. A child's eyes seem innocent. But small, closely-placed eyes may also indicate deception. Some even say that you can tell a criminal by his eyes. Calling it nonsense, even scientists find it hard to dispel the old wives' tales that have persisted

Eyes, in a certain sense, can be the windows of the soul-precious windows through which you look at life. Don't judge another man by his eyes. Look instead through eyes of understanding and compassion, for in God's sight we are all equal. If your inner vision has been a bit faulty lately, why not start going to church next Sun-

AN "ILL WIND" hit Maitland early Saturday in the form of a small twister which set down near Lake Sybella west of the Maitland city limits and then wound its way across four miles of the north Orange County city. Patios were heavily damaged by the high winds cause from the tornado. The top left photo typifies the damage done to the patios. "I was lucky, thanks to my dog" were the words of H. F. Nemcik, 2022 Mohawk Trail, shown in the top right photo. Nemcik was awakened by his Norweigian elk hound just before the twister struck his home, ripping down his huge patio and blowing several windows out or his home. In the bottom photo, the arrow shows where the roof of this home, located at 2044 Mohawk Trail, was lifted into the air and a wooden fence, which surrounded the home, blown underneath. Part of the fence can be seen sticking out from under the roof. (Photos by Tom Alexander and Bill Vincent)

Yet the Seminole homes, especially where the > newer developments are yet to find the proper landscaping to make the overall as pleasing as it can be, hance the entire neighborhood. There is also, to be sure, the matter of keeping the outside in as good shape as its scenery. Bright colors, a fashion "must" of 1969, appear on many Spanking clean whites attract the eye to those homes where the form is the most important aspect

To the architects who drew the plans, the craftsmen who built the houses and the owners who show their pride in such a possession go our thanks. Such a drive and such an experience, however, does more than show all the fine things that our 1969 season of clean-up and paint-up has accomplished. It also shows what greater achievements are waiting for attention by both the individual and the various governmental agencies. Here in Sanford the city parks, the newly landscaped "bandshell" wharf jutting out into Lake Monroe on the west side of the marina, the general tidying up of grounds around our municipal buildings witness the attention of those in charge to this need for beautification. Alas for the Sanford Municipal Zoo! The need for better quarters, better visitor facilities, indeed.

Yet there are some very nice witnesses to the progress of improvement and beautification which has taken place and is taking place in our downtown The attractive Lakeview Shopping Plaza, adjacent to the Post Office, is significant not only for what it is but as an indication of what can take place in similar undeveloped areas. Such a tour, a pleasure drive, as can be enjoyed from Sanford to Casselberry and cross-county to

Oviedo, is a nice spring tonic. It not only encourages physical house-cleaning and yard clean-up but even can jog one's mental house into an attitude which welcomes and nourishes

Faith In Youth

A new type of youth group is roaming the streets of Ann Arbor, Michigan. It calls itself the Gillnet Gang. Its members describe themselves as "guerrillas for good." As the Altoona, Pennsylvania, Mirror observes, "... the Gillnets roam Ann Arbor streets at night doing some rather odd things for a youth gang. On one recent night they painted a bridge, which had been covered with obscenities. On another, they boarded up an abandoned house, which had been a dangerous but popular rendezvous for neighborhood children. They made a number of adults ashamed of themselves by filling downtown planters, which had remained barren of flowers because of a squabble over which group was

after all. - West Point (Miss.) Daily Times

The Census Bureau makes a college education look like an investment no one could afford to pass by. The bureau estimates the average college graduate will earn $167,000 more than the average high school graduate before he retires. That puts the college man some $4,000 a year ahead, a figure he may question as he observes how his high school neighbor lives.

$12,000 or more in four years of higher education, this represents such a spectacular return that one wonders why College Youth, Inc., wasn't listed on the Big Board long ago. A difficulty is Crane's Worry Clinic: that averages like these are already inflated by the affluence of a minority at the top. Yet even a lesser prospect provides an incentive for young people and their parents, though cashing in is
