

Wind Blamed For Tragedy

3 Killed When Wall Collapses

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Three Sanford men are dead and three more are hospitalized following the collapse of a wall at the W. Atlee Burpee Co. building in Sanford Friday.

See Pages 2A and 6A for more on the tragedy

William Gracey, 55, 2551 Palmetto Ave., owner of Gracey Construction Co., and two workmen for the company, Nathaniel Bailey, 31, of 612½ Cypress Ave., and Vincent Foster, 29, of 1120 W. 14th St., were killed when the wall collapsed on them shortly before 5 p.m.

Robert Walton, 34, 1840 Jerry Ave., Sanford, is in stable condition at Central Florida Regional Hospital. He is in the intensive care unit with severe head injuries, hospital officials said.

Also in the hospital are Darrell Jackson, 29, of 102 Scott Drive, Sanford and Charley Jones, 26, of 1726 W. 14th St., Sanford. Both men are listed in good condition with multiple abrasions and lacerations.

Two other men, Lucius Williams, 41, of 2211 W. 13th St., Sanford and Clifford Grooms, 32, 2704 Bungalow St., Sanford, were treated and released at the hospital. William Choice, 34, of 78 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, and Robert Jackson, 35, of 1121 W. Seventh St., Sanford, were uninjured in the collapse of the building.

The men were working in the building, at 206 W. First St., preparing the structure for demolition Saturday when the west, brick wall gave way.

burying them beneath a pile of rubble.

The Gracey firm and roofing contractor Bobby Barbour had been contracted to tear down the 78-year-old building which had been purchased by Flagship Bank. The site was to be used as a parking lot.

The roof of the building had been removed and the workers were within an hour of having the interior gutted and ready for demolition, one of the workmen said.

According to the workmen, a stiff breeze blew from the west, cracking the unsupported west wall. The wall collapsed, with the whole length of the second floor wall falling into the shell of the building.

Six men, the dead and hospitalized, were working closest to the wall when it fell. The rest of the crew scrambled to pull their colleagues from the rubble.

Crews from Herndon Ambulance Service were at the scene within minutes and transported the injured men to the hospital.

Witnesses said that Gracey's son Tommy, who had left the building only minutes before the wall caved in, returned to the scene before the dust had settled.

Tommy saw his father's arm, with a copper ID bracelet the family had given him as a birthday gift, sticking out from under the rubble, broke into tears and had to be restrained by bystanders, witnesses said.

Victims Recall Tragedy

Darrell Jackson, 29, of 102 Scott Dr., Sanford, should not have been in the 78-year-old W. Atlee Burpee Co. building Friday.

But he was shortly before 5 p.m. Friday, lending the guys a hand.

Then the bricklayer heard a familiar crack.

"I looked up and it was 2 feet into the building," Jackson recalled Friday night while recovering from injuries in a Central Florida Hospital bed.

"I hollered 'Look out!' and threw my arms over my head," Jackson said.

"I saw the wall fall down," he continued. "Bricks were everywhere."

The muscular Sanford man said he and a buddy had stopped by the demolition project to pick up a friend.

"They were taking flooring out of the bottom floor," Jackson said, referring to work by the Gracey Construction Co. Jackson worked for Gracey and his dad, Billy, on various projects.

Jackson said the crew was preparing all week "to pull it in, the building, in the morning (Saturday). And we, a friend and I, had left a job and we went

The bodies of the men who were killed Friday lay covered outside the west wall of the W. Atlee Burpee Seed Co. building, 206 W. First St., Sanford, shortly after the top of the two-story brick wall collapsed and fell on them. This photograph was taken by Henry Longwell who had worked for the seed company for 40 years.

Mice In Fuse Box The Cause?

Fire Damages Molly Magee's

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Two mice in an electrical panel box may have been the cause of an early morning fire which extensively damaged Molly Magee's Restaurant at 2544 Park Drive, Sanford, Fire Chief William C. Gailey said Saturday.

The restaurant, which had changed hands only Wednesday, had closed for the night and five employees were still in the building when the fire broke out at about 2:35 a.m. Saturday in the rear of the building, Sanford Fire Department Lt. Larry Helman said.

"We first smelled 'something hot' coming from the air-conditioning vents. Then there was a flash in the ceiling and a big snap, said the manager Jean Pierre. We ran out and didn't even have time to get the money from receipts."

Helman said the fire apparently started in the panel boxes, possibly from an electrical short circuit, and is under investigation by the State Fire Marshal's office.

Damage to the interior is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 and the back part of the building, which included offices, was gutted, Helman said. Five units from the Sanford Fire Department responded to the alarm and had the fire under control in a half hour. No injuries were reported.

Impaired Physicians

Pressure, Temptation Are Often Too Much

Part I of a 4 part series
By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Typically, he's an upper middle class man. He's both professionally and financially successful. He has a wife and a family. And a problem. Possibly drugs. More likely alcohol. He could be your doctor.

While concrete statistics are sketchy and national figures are difficult to ascertain due to differing state laws, licensing practices and various state regulatory agencies, it's estimated that as many as 10 percent of the nation's 415,000 physicians are impaired to the extent of being unable to perform properly because of alcohol or drug abuse.

And, one Seminole County doctor who has been through the rehabilitation program in Florida for drug abuse, says he estimates between 15 and 40 of the 100 or so medical doctors in the county have a drug or alcohol-related problem. That would be well above the national estimate.

However, not until the last few years has the impaired physician problem come to public notice. And while most states, including Florida, have medical committees usually operating under the auspices of state medical societies to deal with the impaired physician problem, controversy shrouds current methods of either dealing with impaired physicians through rehabilitation programs or ushering them out of practice.

Who is the impaired physician and what causes drug abuse and alcohol problems within the medical profession?

"The typical impaired physician is a 35 to 50-year-old hard-working family man," says Dr. Dolores Morgan, Addiction Treatment Program director at South Miami Hospital, one of three Southeastern facilities that deals specifically with rehabilitation of impaired physicians.

Although Morgan said it would be difficult to place an exact percentage on the number of impaired physicians nationwide, he agreed that 10 percent would be a "fairly accurate ballpark figure."

Morgan adds that male physicians haven't cornered the market on the drug and alcohol abuse problems.

"The problem runs on a proportionate basis," she said.

"Women doctors experience the same problems with alcohol and drugs as their male counterparts," he said. It's just that male doctors outnumber female doctors 3-1 on a national basis.

Morgan keys on a variety of underlying reasons leading to alcohol and drug abuse by physicians, male or female.

"Stress, long working hours, important hours spent away from the family are just a few," said Dr. Morgan.

She also labeled ignorance on the part of doctors about drug and alcohol abuse, lack of education about the problem in the medical society itself and unrealistic expectations from patients as factors that can detour physicians away from thriving, successful practices down a rocky road of depressing, degrading and humiliating experiences which often end up in professional and financial ruin.

"Doctors are people, too," she said. "They are no more immune from alcohol or drug abuse problems than any other profession."

"They are under tremendous stress daily and the public's expectations of what doctors can do is unrealistic," said Dr. Morgan.

"The public makes gods out of doctors and then condemns them for being gods."

They've been made out to be the pillars of society — miracle workers," continued Dr. Morgan. "But they're human like everybody else."

Morgan said the seeds of alcohol and drug abuse problems are often planted early in aspiring doctors' careers.

"There's very little if any education provided about drug and alcohol abuse in the profession during med school years," says Morgan.

Morgan said of the 70 doctors who have been through the South Miami Hospital program in the past two years, most began as social drinkers or occasional drug users while going through med school.

"Most of the younger doctors under 35 experimented previously with either marijuana, cocaine or alcohol," she said. Morgan indicated that the majority of doctors 40 and over have alcohol abuse problems more than drug problems.

"The abuse problem begins innocently enough," said Dr. Morgan.

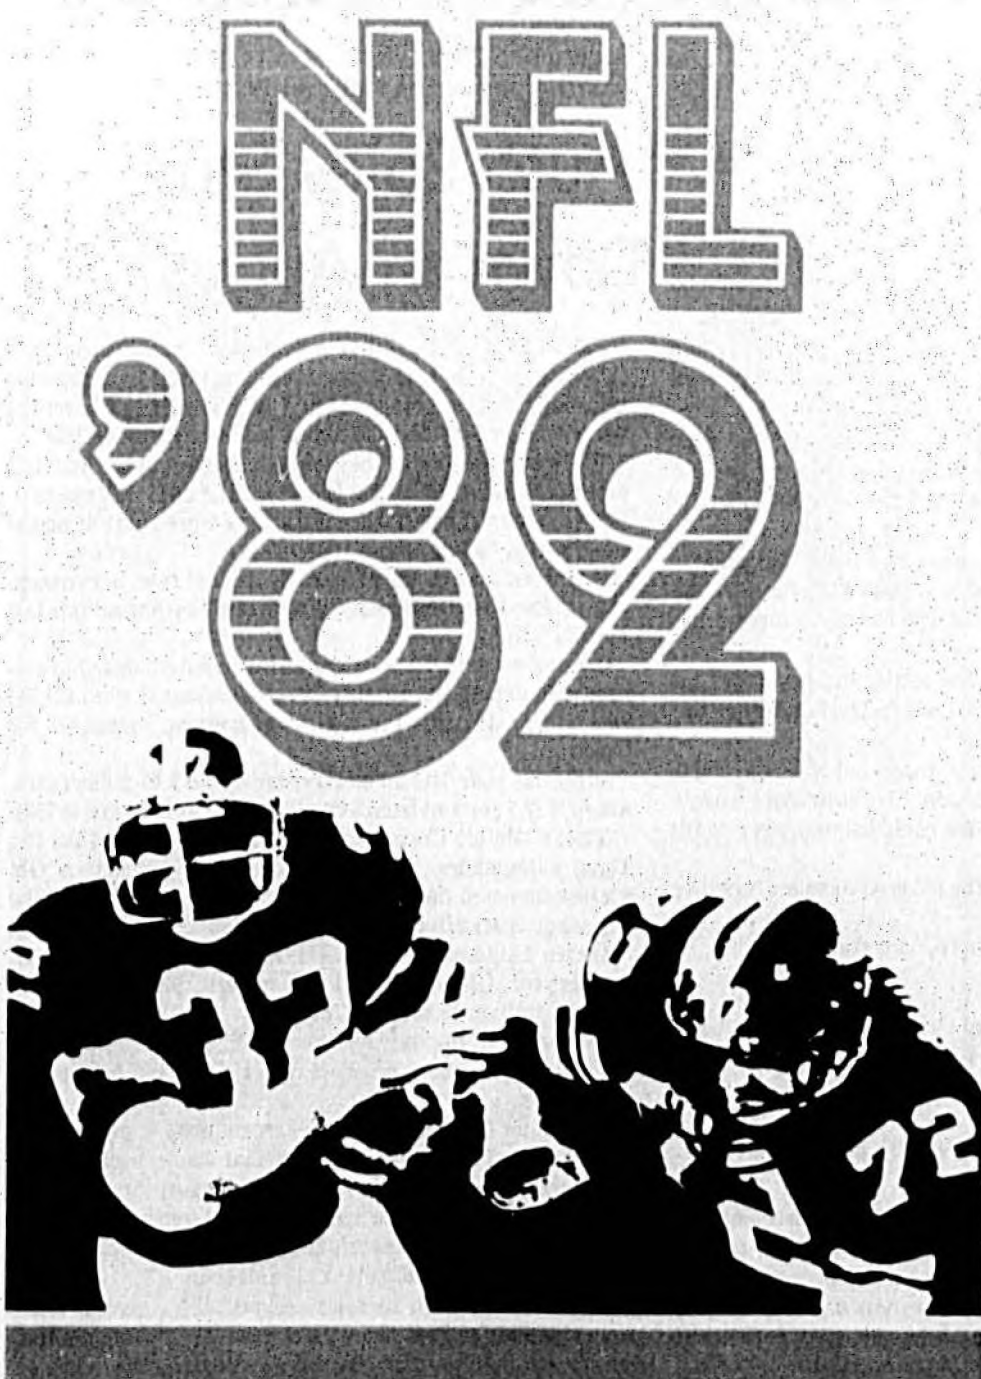

"After med school doctors begin practices and after a number of years reach a certain level of professional and financial success."

"But along with that success doctors sometimes find themselves totally attached to the pain and suffering they deal with on a daily basis with their patients," Dr. Morgan continued.

"They sympathize and empathize with their patients' pain and suffering and often can't leave it at the office."

"That constant dealing with suffering can easily lead to depression among doctors," said Morgan.

There are still many off-the-field questions to be answered concerning the National Football League. Regardless, the exhibition season has started and hopes are high there will be no more problems with drugs, contracts and courts. FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

'Reverse Drug Sting' Nets Cash For Law Enforcement

MIAMI (UPI) — South Florida undercover narcotics are making money for their departments out of a "reverse sting" — selling dealers drugs instead of buying them before they make the bust.

"It's a new, experimental approach to narcotic investigations, and it's been very effective," Miami Beach Police Inspector Lou Guasto said Friday. "The results have been impressive."

So far this year six Dade and Broward county police departments have used the new technique to seize over $4 million in drug money.

More Bodies May Be ID'd

BROOKSVILLE (UPI) — The attorney for mass murderer Billy Mansfield Jr., says information may be released Monday that could lead to the identity of two women Mansfield admitted last year to killing.

Mansfield, 26, pleaded guilty earlier this month to killing four women whose bodies were found buried in the rubble-strewn backyard of his family's home in western Hernando County, and as part of a plea bargain agreement was sentenced to four life terms to be served concurrently with a 25-year-to-life term he received earlier this year in California.

Illegal Aliens Sought

MIAMI (UPI) — The U.S. Border Patrol, two police departments and the U.S. Coast Guard combed densely wooded Deer Can Island north of Miami early today for a group of suspected illegal aliens.

The Coast Guard said about a dozen of the aliens in a speed boat were forced ashore by two helicopters Friday night. First reports were that they were believed to be Haitian refugees, but they could not be confirmed.

Medfly Spray Won't Harm Mother's Milk

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fla. Sunday, Aug. 15, 1982—3A

BOSTON (UPI) — Nursing mothers need not fear the pesticide used against the fast-breeding Mediterranean fruit fly in California and Florida contaminated their milk and jeopardized their infants' health, researchers said Wednesday.

In a study reported in a letter to the New England Journal of Medicine, researchers said they found almost no sign of malathion in breast milk of nine nursing mothers who lived in California's Santa Clara Valley, a key spraying target.

"I always think more research is good, but this was enough to at least head off the major concerns about the spraying," said Bo Lonnerdal, an assistant professor of nutrition at the University of California at Davis.

"The point is mothers should not be overly concerned about the spraying contaminating their milk and harming their infants."

Homes of the participants had been sprayed four to 14 times during their pregnancies and nursing periods, wrote Lonnerdal and Maria Teresa Aquino of the Institute for Medical Research.

Malathion, they wrote, is rapidly processed and eliminated by the body. But there was concern in California and Florida, where most of the spraying was done to protect fruit crops, that malathion would contaminate breast milk.

The amount of malathion the researchers found didn't even reach the minimum their equipment could detect, which was 100 times lower than the level allowed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for cow's milk.

"It is therefore suggested that malathion that is inhaled or ingested during extensive aerial spraying does not contaminate human breast milk in amounts that can be considered harmful to a nursing infant," the study said.

The volunteers' homes were sprayed from July through September 1981 under a program ordered by California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. after a massive ground attack failed to eradicate the medfly from a three-county quarantined area of the Santa Clara Valley.

Some residents petitioned to halt the spraying because of possible health hazard, but lost in a court hearing.

IN THE SERVICE

SCOTT K. STONE

Plc Scott Kerry Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Columbus Stone of 1700 Arden St., Longwood, recently returned home on 17 days leave from Parris Island, S.C. after completing 11 weeks of recruit training.

During training, Stone received formal instruction in first aid, physical fitness, marksmanship, Marine Corps history, customs and courtesies, drill and nuclear, chemical and biological warfare. Following his leave, Stone will report to MATSG 90, Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn. for formal instruction as an aircraft maintenance ground support equipment technician. There he will be instructed on the installation, inspection, testing and maintenance and repair of aircraft maintenance ground support equipment electrical and instrument systems.

Stone is a 1978 graduate of Lyman High School and received his welding certification at Seminole Community College.

C. ROSS MCCLELLAN

Marine 2nd Lt. C. Ross McClellan, son of Charles R. and Virginia A. McClellan of 350 Virginia Ave. Longwood was graduated from the Navy's Aviation Indoctrination Course (AIC).

During the four week course at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, trainees studied basic aerodynamics, aviation physiology and engineering. They also studied land and sea survival techniques and participated in an extensive physical fitness curriculum.

AIC is the first step in the Naval flight training program leading to designation as a naval aviator.

NICOLAS J. COVELLI

Navy Ensign Nicolas J. Covelli, son of Nicolas C. Gomez and Elsa C. Angarilla, both of 160 N. Third St., Winter Springs, has been commissioned in his present rank upon graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. During four years at the Academy, midshipmen studied engineering, mathematics, physical and marine science, management and government. In addition to an active physical fitness curriculum, they also studied military justice, leadership and naval history, plus a wide variety of elective courses, leading to a baccalaureate degree and commissioning in the Navy or Marine Corps.

The east wall of the W. Atlee Burpee Co. building on First Street in Sanford came tumbling down Saturday. The building's demolition was planned for Saturday but was made more urgent when the second story of the building's west wall collapsed Friday, killing three men. Three other men are still in Central Florida Regional Hospital from injuries they received in the accident.

Gracey In Construction All His Life

William "Billy" Gracey Jr., 55, of 2551 Palmetto Ave., was in the construction business all of his professional life, his wife Anne said Saturday.

Mrs. Gracey had been at the demolition site Friday afternoon minutes before the tragedy that claimed her husband's life and the lives of two other men.

"I had just left the site and went home," Mrs. Gracey explained. She was notified of the accident by her son, Tommy.

Mrs. Gracey, 51, said her husband and the workers had been at the old W. Atlee Burpee Co. building for two weeks. Mr. Gracey planned to demolish the building Saturday.

Mr. Gracey worked in the construction field since he was 20, according to Mrs. Gracey, who had to be treated herself for shock at Central Florida Regional Hospital Friday night. Most recently, Mrs. Gracey said her husband was only working as a construction consultant.

Mr. Gracey was born June 27, 1927, in Sanford. He was a World War II Army veteran and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Kay Bartholomew, Central Florida Regional Hospital, director of marketing and public relations, said the hospital staff and other emergency personnel had no difficulty handling the disaster.

"Everything went very smoothly," she commented. "We pulled in two extra emergency nurses and four or five additional physicians were called in."

Medical personnel heard about the disaster and voluntarily came in to see what they could do.

"When a disaster occurs, people come down automatically," she said. "We opened up an additional waiting room at the emergency room for the families. Otherwise, the facilities were enough to handle it."

"The first injured men were brought in almost immediately," she said. "Then Danny Gracey came in after 6. He had been injured in a chain saw accident at another construction site. And the last persons injured came in after 7. So we did not have all of the injured to treat at the same time."

A farm worker, Vincent Foster, 29, of 1120 W. 14th St., Sanford, who died in the accident, had only worked for the demolition company for three to four weeks, according to his wife, Lela, of 76 Lake Monroe Terrace. Born and raised in Sanford, he is the son of James and Arnetta Foster.

Darrel Jackson recuperates in a bed at the Central Regional Florida Hospital where he was listed in good condition Saturday. He was one of five men hurt in the collapse of a wall of the W. Atlee Burpee Co. building in Sanford.

BUSINESS

IN BRIEF

Cardinal Opens Another Apartment Development

Cardinal Industries, Inc., of Sanford, developers of the 59-unit Heronwood Apartments on Golf Club Parkway north of Cypress Lake Drive in Fort Myers, has announced the complex is now open.

Heronwood is a seven building complex with 57 one-bedroom and two two-bedroom units. The $2 million development, constructed in approximately 100 days, was financed by Florida Federal of St. Petersburg.

Heronwood was the first apartment complex to be developed by Cardinal in Lee County and the 116th in Florida since the company began operating in Florida five years ago. With these and more than 400 other developments in Ohio and the Midwest, Cardinal is the largest factory-built, code conforming modular apartment builder and developer in the United States.

Scotty's Lists Monthly Sales

Dennis W. Stults, Executive Vice President of Scotty's, Inc., has announced that sales for the four weeks ended July 31 were $23,118,046 or 5 percent over sales of $21,993,528 for the corresponding four weeks last year.

Stults noted sales to the professional builder remains soft and most of the increase was contributed by increased consumer sales mostly in new stores opened or acquired during the last year.

Stults added the company has three new stores under construction: one each in Tampa and Lake Worth, and a replacement store in Auburndale.

Scotty's operates 98 stores, including two Surplus Outlets and one Thrifty store.

Courson Completes School

Dennis H. Courson, president of Flagship Bank of Seminole in Sanford, is one of 391 bankers who recently received graduation certificates from the School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University. This three-year program provides graduate level study of all aspects of banking, economics and related subjects.

Sponsored by 15 Southern state bankers associations in cooperation with the Division of Continuing Education at LSU, the banking school requires attendance on campus for three years, with extensive home study assignments between sessions. The faculty consists of 125 bankers, business and professional leaders, and educators from all parts of the U.S.

During their three years at the school, students received 180 hours of classroom instruction, 30 hours of reviews, planned evening study, and written final examinations at the end of each session.

IRS Exam Deadline Near

Persons interested in taking the 1982 Internal Revenue Service Special Enrollment Examination must have their applications postmarked no later than Monday to be eligible for this year's test.

The examination will be given Oct. 14 and 15 in Ft. Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, Panama City and Tampa.

The test is given annually to qualify persons who are neither certified public accountants or attorneys to represent clients before the IRS. It is not a test to qualify for employment with the IRS.

Those interested in taking the examination should obtain the Special Enrollment Examination Application Packet. The packet includes materials on the requirements for enrollment and the examination. The examination will include true or false, multiple choice, and problem-type questions.

The Special Enrollment Examination Application Packet can be obtained by contacting the IRS Public Affairs Office, Box 35045, Jacksonville, 32202, or by calling the IRS toll-free tax information number.

Roads Help Create Jobs

A total of $7.9 million for roads to accommodate new and expanding industry has been approved by the Department of Commerce Division of Economic Development, Secretary of Commerce Stuart Edgerly announced today.

Edgerly said 13 projects in the state were selected to be funded by the FDC transportation program established by the Legislature. More than 10,000 jobs will be created by the industries benefiting from the road funds, he said.

The Division of Economic Development will proceed immediately with the selected applicants, Edgerly said. Funding will be contingent on the successful negotiation of each contract.

Depending on contract agreements and availability of funds, additional projects were approved on a stand-by basis, Edgerly explained. He said in the event that one of the 13 projects is not contracted for or does not meet the terms of its contract during the 1982-83 fiscal year, the monies would be re-allocated to a project on the stand-by list.

Edgerly explained an additional $721,000 will be held in reserve for contingencies.

A seven-member committee considered the applications and established priorities of the proposals. Funding levels are set by the Division of Economic Development.

State Economic Development Director Steve Mayberry, who chaired the funding committee, said the projects were selected from 32 applications that requested a total of more than $32 million in road monies. All counties in the state have been invited to submit applications for review.

Preliminary earth moving and surveying are already underway for the construction of the new JCPenney credit office in Sabal Point. The facility is expected to employ 400 persons.

Computer-Based Firms Are Attracted To Area

The location of J.C. Penney Co.'s credit center at Sabal Center in Seminole County is an indication that Central Florida is attractive to computer-based companies, an official with the agency that helped bring Penney's to the area said.

Roy Harris, executive vice president of the Industrial Development Commission of Mid-Florida, said, "The location of Penney's in the area is an indication we're going to get more and more of this type of industry in the area."

The IDC is a private non-profit agency funded by Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties and Orlando to promote industrial sites in those areas.

Harris said Central Florida is proving very attractive to computer and communications-based firms. Two other data processing facilities, AT&T and EBS, Inc., have been announced in the area over the past six months, he said.

JC Penney vice president Ted L. Spurlock cited a number of reasons for his firm's selection of Seminole County over several other eastern cities as the location for the credit office, including favorable climate, good transportation, favorable energy costs, taxes, and a strong work force, particularly in the area of data processing, which will be a major element in the operation of the new center.

"Last, but not least... was the excellent cooperation we received from the business, civic, and governmental leaders," said Spurlock.

Harris said the commission has been courting JC Penney for quite some time, supplying employment and site-related information during a lengthy site selection process.

"We had many people involved in the process to bring this project to fruition, particularly the Seminole County Commissioners who were instrumental in the zoning of the property and the final closing of the deal," he said. "We have had a great amount of interest from firms with a heavy reliance on data processing that find our work force ideal to draw from, as well as the many other factors that make the Orlando area an attractive business site."

The office will be located in a one-level, 68,000 square foot building on Wekiva Springs Road, north of State Road 434 in Sabal Center, the 17.5 acre commercial portion of Sabal Point. The new facility is under construction and is expected to open next spring.

Operations at the new facility will be phased in over a period of several years, eventually handling billings for approximately six million JC Penney customers in the eastern third of the nation. An initial work force of more than 100 full-time and part-time workers will expand to as many as 400 by 1986, said Spurlock. The company will begin to accept employment applications next February, he said.

Sabal Point is a 3,050 acre planned community including executive housing and the Sabal Point Country Club. Sabal Center is now being master planned, with a financial institution, restaurant, offices for condominium ownership or lease, and an executive health club included in the plans. The Center fronts the 6th and 7th fairways of the golf course at the Country Club.

According to Sabal Point Properties President Wally Temple, JC Penney is the anchor tenant in Sabal Center with approximately seven acres of the 17.5 acre tract. "One of the attributes of this site for JC Penney was the high concentration of executive homes in this area. The new facility will attract many people from the labor pool in the area who want to work near their homes," Temple said.

All Publix Supermarkets Going Video

Publix Supermarkets officials pride themselves on pioneering and vision in the operation of a Florida grocery chain that has attracted national acclaim and worldwide attention.

Publix has been innovative in food distribution and merchandising and in the area of employee communications and training.

Publix recently enlarged its communications program to include video equipment. In January, Publix's video training tool was introduced in each of the chain's 260 stores including its Seminole County stores. All of the stores have been equipped with Sony SLP-303 video players and PVM-1900 video monitors. Later this year, the program will be expanded to include Interactive Video.

At Publix's Video Communications Department in the chain's main Lakeland office, video communications training supervisor Cliff Morgan works with equipment that includes a Sony 3-inch U-matic editing deck, a video camera and a Sony recorder along with a video dubbing center consisting of 10 Sony SLO-323 Betamax recorders.

The initial emphasis of the new Publix video program falls into two main areas—orientation of new employees and training of cashiers and management to operate the computers used in all the Publix stores.

To launch the program, each store manager was given four basic training tapes covering cashier training, computer operation, preparation of deli products and preparation of baking products.

"We try to stay away from actors," says Morgan, head of the Publix Video Communications Department. "We use our employees because they are more believable."

"One of the advantages of the video training program is its speed," says Morgan. "In the old days it took a minimum of three months to produce a training film. We can now tape in one day, bring the tape back, edit it, dub it and have it ready to send to the stores in three days. If our management wants to announce an important policy change, we can be ready to go in 24 to 36 hours."

Sometime in 1982, Publix will expand the video training program with the introduction of the Sony Video Responder system. At that time the existing training tapes will be developed into interactive learning programs.

Interactive video means the employee can learn at his own speed, and can go over problem areas privately.

Publix has 15 interactive Video Responder systems consisting of four basic components: a Sony Video Responder, a printer, a Betamax videotape player and a Cue Programmer.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Reese's Probation Hearing Date Changed To September

MIAMI (UPI) — Former NFL defensive lineman Don Reese will undergo a hearing into alleged probation violations Sept. 21 instead of Aug. 31.

The hearing was delayed because two key witnesses are also expected to be called in the trial of former New Orleans Saints running back Mike Strachan, who is charged with 12 counts of distribution of cocaine.

The witnesses are San Diego Charger running back Chuck Muncie and his financial advisor Allen Weiner. Dade Circuit Judge Ellen Morphonios Gable granted without comment the prosecution request for the delay of the Aug. 31 hearing.

Assistant State Attorney George Yoss has requested the delay Thursday and Reese's attorneys made no objection.

Muncie was named in the article published in June as a cocaine user and is now undergoing treatment in a California drug rehabilitation program.

Weiner, who has prepared Reese's income tax returns in the past, admitted he has snorted cocaine with the player in the past but no longer uses the drug.

Reese and Muncie played together with the Chargers and the New Orleans Saints after Reese left the Dolphins following his conviction.

W.V.U. Tailback Quits Team

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (UPI) — John Kooztz, voted West Virginia's best high-school football player last season, quit the West Virginia University football team Friday for "personal reasons," a WVU spokesman said.

Kooztz, a 5-foot-10½, 170-pound tailback, worked out Thursday morning, then told Head Coach Don Nehlen he was leaving.

Oiler-Jet Game On Earlier

HOUSTON (UPI) — The starting time for the Aug. 22 Houston Oilers-New York Jets game has been changed to 12:30 p.m. EDT, an Oilers' team spokesman said Friday.

Mitchell Leads 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Second-round draft pick Mitchell Anderson scored 22 points to lead the White squad to a 132-108 victory over the Red team Friday night as the Philadelphia 76ers concluded their three-day camp for rookies and free agents.

Bruce Atkins, the team's fourth-round pick from Duquesne, scored 20 points for the White team before a crowd of 2,071 at the fieldhouse at St. Joseph's University.

Teepee Tries To Turn Tide

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves, deluged with superstitious callers, have decided to reinstall a teepee in their home stadium for mascot Chief Noc-Homa, who has been homeless while the Braves have been winless.

The teepee was removed July 29 from the stadium's left-field bleachers to make room for more fans. But the Braves have won only two of 16 games since and are now on a 10-game losing streak. The teepee will be in place for Tuesday night's doubleheader against Montreal.

Steelers Ink Assistant Coach

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Friday announced the hiring of Ron Blackledge as an offensive assistant to Head Coach Chuck Noll.

A Steelers' spokesman said Blackledge, 44, would begin his new duties immediately and would be with the team when they play their first pre-season game tonight against the New England Patriots at Knoxville, Tenn.

Blues Sign Top Forwards

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Blues said Friday two of their top defensive forwards, Larry Patey and Mike Crombeen, have signed new contracts.

The team did not disclose the terms or the lengths of the pacts.

White To Coach Japan Bowl

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Football coach Mike White has accepted an invitation to coach in the eighth annual Japan Bowl next January in Yokohama, Japan, the University of Illinois announced Friday.

White played a major role in developing the Japan Bowl in 1977. The game later was dedicated in the memory of Joe Roth, a quarterback under White at the University of California, who died of cancer. "I'm extremely excited and honored that I've been asked," White said.

Padres Extend Contract

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego Padres announced they have extended General Manager Jack McKeon's contract for three years.

McKeon has been the Padre GM since 1980, but his contracts were on a year-to-year basis until the new pact.

Bucs, Expos Tighten East; Rose Knots At-Bat Record

United Press International Doug Flynn straight from cowboy country makes John McHale look like a pretty good horse trader.

"It's the first time I've gone down the stretch with a pennant contender and I guess that has helped," Flynn, recently acquired from the Texas Rangers, said Friday night, after tripling home two runs to give the Montreal Expos a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Pat Zachary got tagged early Friday night by the Chicago Cubs for four runs in the first three innings, but the Mets rallied for three late runs in the seventh as New York topped Chicago 6-1.

National League

Flynn has spent plenty of time with non-contenders and the trade gave him a shot at post-season play. He has responded with a .321 average and six RBI.

The decision left St. Louis in first place in the NL East, a half-game ahead of Philadelphia. Third-place Montreal trails by three games and Pittsburgh by four.

The victory may have been costly, however, as Montreal starter David Palmer was forced from the game in the third inning with a strained right elbow.

Brynn Smith eyed his record at 1-1 with his first major-league victory as he went 2-2-3 in innings and Jeff Reardon went the final 3-2-3 in innings to earn his 19th save.

"I think that Jeff deserves the win and not me," said Smith. "He pitched longer than I did...."

Philadelphia's Pete Rose tied Hank Aaron's all-time at-bat record at 12,364.

In other games, Pittsburgh topped St. Louis, 7-4, Cincinnati shut out Houston, 3-0, New York defeated Chicago, 6-4, San Diego ripped Atlanta, 7-4, and Los Angeles topped San Francisco, 6-1.

In the American League, it was Boston 5, Baltimore 2; Detroit 10, Kansas City 1; New York 4, Chicago 3; Minnesota 3, Seattle 1; Texas 8, Cleveland 9; Milwaukee 3, Toronto 1; and California 7, Oakland 0.

Pirates 7, Cardinals 4 At Pittsburgh, Tony Pena and Bill Madlock smashed solo homers and Mike Easley went 3-for-3, including an RBI double, to power the Pirates.

Reds 3, Astros 0 At Cincinnati, Frank Pastore pitched a five-hitter and Johnny Bench drove in one run and scored another to lead the Reds. It was Pastore's second shutout and third complete game of the season.

Mets 6, Cubs 1 At New York, George Foster drove in two runs and Jesse Orosco, 2-7, pitched the final three innings in relief of Pat Zachary to spark the Mets.

Padres 7, Braves 4 At San Diego, rookie Tony Gwynn's bases-loaded single drove in the tie-breaking run and Kurt Bevacqua cleared the bases with a pinch-hit double in the seventh to hand the Braves their 11th straight loss.

Dodgers 6, Giants 1 At Los Angeles, Pedro Guerrero hit a three-run homer and Bob Welch, 14-7, hurled a three-hitter to increase the Dodgers' lead to 2½ games in the West.

Reincarnated Whitaker Homers Twice In Tiger's 10-1 Victory

After winning Rookie of the Year honors in 1978 Lou Whitaker faded out of the picture. Now, after three years of struggling, he's back.

And, since he was moved up to the leadoff spot on July 6, he is hitting .386, raising his season average from .250 to .306. He had four home runs and 21 RBI at the time of the change and now has 11 homers and 52 RBI.

Friday night Whitaker hit two home runs for the second time in three games, and rookie Glenn Wilson hit his fourth homer in seven games, to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 10-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

"I'm just trying to take it all in stride," Whitaker said. "I'm having fun trying to do my best — and my best is turning out to be very good."

Tom Brookens and Trammell also homered for the Tigers, who won their third straight game and snapped a three-game Kansas City winning streak.

American League

Milt Wilcox, 7-6, made his first start since July 19, allowing two hits and no runs in five innings. Pat Underwood earned his first save. Kansas City starter Dave Frost, who lasted 3-1-3 innings, took the loss.

In other AL games, Boston downed Baltimore, 5-2, New York edged Chicago, 4-3, Texas nipped Cleveland, 8-7, Minnesota trimmed Seattle, 3-1, Milwaukee shaded Toronto, 3-1, and California routed Oakland, 9-0.

Red Sox 5, Orioles 2 At Boston, Dwight Evans doubled, tripled and scored two runs and Jim Rice collected three hits to help the Red Sox snap a three-game losing streak.

Yankees 4, White Sox 3 At Chicago, Rick Cerone's leadoff homer in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and helped New York snap a three-game losing streak.

Rangers 8, Indians 7 At Arlington, Texas, Dave Hostetter's bases-loaded sacrifice fly delivered George Wright from third base in the bottom of the ninth, capping a three-run Texas comeback.

Twins 3, Mariners 1 At Minneapolis, Gary Ward and Gary Gaetti singled in runs and Bobby Castillo pitched a three-hitter.

Brewers 3, Blue Jays 1 At Milwaukee, Pete Vuckovich fired a seven-hitter and Jim Gantner singled in the go-ahead run to cap a two-run fourth inning to pace the Brewers.

Angels 9, A's 0 At Oakland, Calif., Mike Witt pitched a four-hitter for his first shutout of the season.

Bottom Falls Out For Torre

Atlanta Braves manager Joe Torre is more than a little concerned about the current state of affairs with "America's Team." More noticeably over the past two weeks, "America's Choke."

That's what Joe Torre is doing and who could possibly blame him in the face of the utter catastrophe that has befallen his once breezing, way out front Atlanta Braves.

Less than two weeks ago, on July 30, they had a whopping, bulging nine-game lead in the National League West and the only question was who'd they meet from the East in the division playoffs for the pennant in October. But then everything went to pot.

The Braves, who set a major-league record by jack-rabbiting out of the chute with 13 straight victories, went into a terrible tailspin. They lost 10 in a row and 14 out of 15 to fall out of first place and trail the Dodgers by 1½ games. That was their sorry situation after losing, 8-2, Thursday in the opener of a four-game series in San Diego against the third-place Padres, who had lost their previous three.

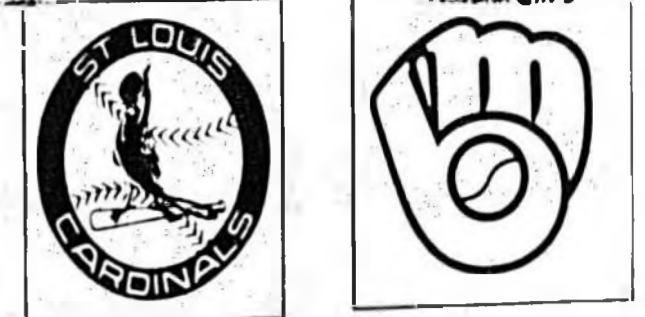

"I always pray," Torre said. "He wasn't joking, either. He meant it. "But I don't pray 'let me win,'" he said. "Why should I be singled out to win when someone else very likely is asking and hoping for the same thing? That's a pretty tough decision you're asking him to make and that isn't what it's all about. Even when I was playing, I never went up to the plate and prayed to get a hit. But I always prayed."

Torre can't ever remember being in such a skid as this one, either as a player or as a manager in his five years with the Mets. Oddly, he got off to an excellent start when he took over as manager of the Mets in late May of 1977, winning seven of his first eight games, but shortly afterward lost 15 out of 17 and the club finished last.

"This is worse, though," he said. "I make myself think positive," Torre said. "You gotta keep your head up. If the players see you with your head down, it's bad for them. You can't let that happen."

There are few calmer, more even-dispositioned men in baseball than Joe Torre. He doesn't start raising the roof when things go bad. Once in awhile, he does let off steam and he did after last Monday's 5-0 shutout at the hands of the Giants.

"We played very flat in that game and after it was over, I had a meeting and got a few things off my chest," he said. "We were 24 games over .500 after our first 100 games. Now we're 12 over, and if someone would've tried to tell me this was gonna happen a month ago, I would've told them they were crazy."

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Sunday, Aug. 15, 1982—1B

Cecile Heard has an eye for beauty which won her the Lyndon Johnson Beautification Award for the Sanford Post Office grounds when she was the postmaster. During retirement, Cecile starts her day working the crossword puzzle. A bookworm of a sort, Cecile says she is concerned with the literacy of the younger generation.

Retired Lady Postmaster 'Bossed' All Male Staff

By LEIGH TUCKER
Special To The Herald

Cecile Heard never did take to the Women's Liberation movement. She was "liberated" long before the term became popular, and by her own efforts.

"I believe in equal pay for equal work," she says. "But men and women do not necessarily perform the same jobs with equal facility. They are biologically and physiologically different."

Born in Cordele, Ga. she graduated from the University of Georgia in 1942 during World War II. She wanted to join the Women's Army Corps but her mother was against it, and Cecile was still a minor.

"Mother didn't think it was 'ladylike' for me to be a WAC," laughed Cecile. "But she let me join the WAVES (Women Accepted For Volunteer Emergency Service). For some reason, the navy seemed a more suitable place to her."

Cecile's first station as a commissioned officer was at Miami where she worked in communications, first in cryptology, and then as a courier of codes.

"Like other WAVES who were couriers, I was required to carry a revolver, a thirty-eight. We were called 'pistol packing mammas' after the song of that name which had just come out. It was interesting work, but we grew very tired of the nickname!"

When the war was over, Cecile worked for the telephone company in New Orleans for two years. Meanwhile her parents had moved to Sanford and she liked what she saw there when she visited them. So, in 1948, she came to Sanford to live, where she applied for, and received, a job as clerk in the post office.

At first she was little more than secretary to the postmaster; then she was given charge of the finance section. Fifteen years later she was commissioned as postmaster.

In 1948, the position of postmaster was a political appointment, pure and simple. The jobholder was expected to be the representative of the congressman in the district, to join civic organizations, and to promote the congressman's causes and reelection. Whether he knew how to run a post office was not important.

"I was a political appointee," said Miss Heard, "but attitudes were changing by that time (September, 1963) and new regulations were in the making. Quite rightly so, in my opinion. I believed in really working at my job, and trying constantly to improve the local service. My staff was cooperative, so we made a good team."

"There were problems, of course," she continued, "but none of major importance. My biggest headache, I guess, was keeping up with population growth."

Cecile Heard was not the first woman, by any means, to be appointed postmaster. However, most of these appointments were in rural areas or small townships. In Sanford, she had a staff of 48, all male. It was a big job.

Citations in plenty have come to Cecile Heard, local, state and national. Long before Lyndon Johnson and the First Lady, Lady Bird, began their campaign of natural beautification, Miss Heard was hard at work on her own schedule of beautification and orderliness.

"There is beauty in simplification and efficiency," she says.

Many civic organizations in the area gave her citations for her accomplishments on the post office grounds. An award came from Atlanta for her suggestions as to improvement in postal services. Perhaps the one she is proudest of was the Lyndon Johnson Beautification Award, made in 1970, for the Sanford Post Office grounds. She retired in 1972, after 25 years of service.

What has she been doing since?

Despite her firm answer, "as little as possible," she's not been idle. Travel was a favorite pastime for her, and she's taken trips with friends by air and sea to Great Britain, Ireland, Europe, a cruise from Copenhagen, a trip around the world and even a safari in Kenya—probably the most exciting of all her journeys, she says.

"Seeing wild animals in their natural habitat was a truly fantastic experience," she exclaimed. "I always liked to visit zoos, but this was incredible. I wish I could go there again, and other places, too. Prices are out of reach now, though—at least out of my reach. I'm glad I went when I did and have all those memories."

At home in Sanford, Cecile tends her house and grounds with the care and eye for beauty you would expect of her. She likes to play bridge with her friends and she's an avid crossword puzzle fan.

"I can't start the day till I've done the morning crossword puzzle," she declares.

Her chief worry is the literacy of the younger generation. Letters to her from college graduates who can't spell accurately the simplest words shock her.

"How can they run the world of tomorrow, or even manage their own affairs of today, if they can't spell?"

Cecile is still service minded. She belongs to the Living Bank organization, through which, at her death, her body is made available for medical use at any teaching institution. In her case, it will be the University of Florida at Gainesville.

"The thought that some part of my eye might help a child to see, or some organ of mine extend a life of usefulness, is an intensely gratifying one to me. Why should my body moulder in a grave, no good to anyone?"

That's just like Cecile Heard.

Reunion SHS Class Of '62 Gathers

Some of the members of the 1962 graduating class of Seminole High School, Sanford, had not seen each other in 20 years prior to the class reunion of Aug. 6 and 7.

But lost time and a lot of reminiscing heralded the reunion weekend with a family barbecue Friday night at the Sanford Police Benevolent building.

Then on Saturday, a dinner dance was held at the Sanora Club in Sanford with Ron Getman as master of ceremonies. The class president, Bob Williams, welcomed the classmates, spouses and special guests including former teachers, Alicia Schmidt, William P. "Bud" Laver, Don Reynolds, Coach Jim Pigott and John Colbert and their spouses.

The following awards were presented:

traveling the farthest, Jimmy Williams and his wife Beverly from Oregon; most children (five), Carol Sue (Higginbotham) and Dr. John Boniface; changed the least, Tim Richards of Sanford; changed the most, Jim Williams of Oregon; youngest child, Frankie (Jones) Cook, Georgia; newest child, born to Dusty Crawford of Sanford, on Aug. 7; and dance contest, Glenda (Williford) and Wayne Edwards of Sanford.

Carol Ann (Carroll) Smith was awarded a plaque: "Dedicated Classmate — Our Sincere Appreciation For Once Again Bringing Together The Class of 1962."

Mrs. Smith said, "The committee members' dedication, love of school spirit and fellow classmates made the seven months of hard work on the reunion a great success."

Engagements

FRANKIE MAE FOSSITT, ANDREW MITCHELL

Mrs. Frank Fossitt, 3411 Hughey St., Sanford, announces the engagement of her daughter, Frankie Mae, to Andrew Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Mitchell, 2711 West 2nd St., Sanford.

The bride-elect, born in Sanford, is a 1971 graduate of Seminole High School.

Her fiancé, born in Brooklyn, N. Y., is a 1966 graduate of Eastern District High School, Brooklyn.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 28, at 2 p.m., at West Sanford Free Will Holiness Church, Sanford.

Jackson-Mahue

Mrs. and Mrs. Earl Jackson, 194 Providence Blvd., Deltona, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane, to Marc Mahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahue, 408 Lakeside Drive, Sanford.

Born in Spartanburg, S.C., the bride-elect is the maternal granddaughter of Lula Hall Wingo, Deltona, and the late Mr. Robert A. Wingo of Spartanburg. Her paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson of Spartanburg.

Her fiancé, born at West Palm Beach, is the maternal grandson of Mrs. Pearl L. Rendell, Sanford, and the late Russell E. Rendell of West Palm Beach. His paternal grandparents are Mrs. Rosa Mahue Menage of Lake Park, and the late John E. Mahue.

Mr. Mahue is a 1975 graduate of Seminole High School where he was a member of Key Club and Tech Club. He holds an A.A. degree from Seminole Community College, and is employed by Seminole County.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 28, at 7 p.m., at Central Baptist Church, Sanford.

Sexagenarian Holding Out For Marriage

DEAR ABBY: We kiss and cuddle by the hour. We aren't youngsters. He's a widower of 66, and I'm 69 and have never been married — or anything. (Yes, I'm still a virgin.) The kissing and cuddling is as far as I will go. Of course, he would like sex, but I told him no marriage, no sex.

He wants to live together first and has given me every excuse imaginable for not wanting to get married. Mainly, his children are against it, and he hasn't enough money. Also, he says there are plenty of women who will give him sex without marriage.

The lack of money and his children being against it happen to be true. I don't know about the other women. We live in the same apartment building, which gives me an edge.

Age, my chances for marriage are practically nil. The attraction between us is strong.

If I hold out for marriage, do you think he'll give in?

YOUNG AT HEART

DEAR ABBY: Whether he will give in, I cannot predict. You could save a lot of time by giving him a deadline. But never give a man a deadline (or an ultimatum) unless you're prepared to lose.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 12, there was some question about marriage.

In And Around Lake Mary

Dr. Emory and Mrs. Elizabeth (Coles) Bradburn Road, returned Sunday from a 17-day vacation.

They began their trip visiting friends in Atlanta, Georgia, then went on to Chatanooga, Tenn., and Land Between Lakes, Ky.

They drove to the Wisconsin Dells and then followed by driving to Clary Lake, Wis. where they spent a week on the Stevens Estate.

The couple returned with lovely handmade items.

recognition.

The 23-year-old Sanford man who describes his singing career at the moment as dramatic, recorded the novelty song, "Blast Off, Columbia." The record, like the rocket whose feat it extols, was launched, burned brightly for a brief time and disappeared from sight.

The record featured a song written by Jerry Rucker of Geneva, in honor of the space shuttle Columbia maiden voyage in April of 1981. The song was national acclaim when it was played for a wake up call for astronaut John Young and Bob Crippen.

Since then McCall has had the opportunity to sing it for John Young in person at the John Young Day in Orlando. He has made several club appearances and has sung in concerts with well-known country music stars such as Mel Tillis and Tammy Wynette.

McCall said he's also done some back-up work and made some demo records. He's in the process of writing a couple of songs himself — crossover between Blue Grass and country. "In a country boy," said McCall, "born and raised in Virginia where I sang some before coming to Florida.

"I had been in touch with Glenn Hanaman of Silver Pelican Records (Miami), said McCall, "so he called me to say he had a song he wanted me to record."

It turned out to be "Blast Off, Columbia" and the rest is history.

One of the reasons his singing career is stunted at this time, he said, is that Silver Pelican Records is in the process of moving its label to Nashville. Another is a torn cartilage in his knee that requires surgery.

Because of his record, McCall has received the International Youth Achievement Award for 1981 from the American Biographical Institute of Cambridge, England, and Raleigh, N.C., the Young Community Leader certificate and he has been listed in Personalities of the South. He also has his background and two copies of the 45 rpm record at the County Music Foundation Library and Media Center in Nashville.

McCall and his wife, Julia, have one child, a little girl.

Roy McCall has sung his way to several commendations.

'Blast Off, Columbia' Launches Career

DEAR ABBY: I received an invitation to my cousin's wedding. With it came an RSVP card, with a stamped envelope to return. I was confused. I had never received such a card before. I called my friend who said that it was a new thing. I was told that it was a new thing. I was told that it was a new thing.

By BERNICE BEDEOSOL

For Sunday, August 15, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY August 15, 1982
 This coming year you can look for several persons from your past to re-enter your life. Those who brought you good luck will do so again. Those who carry only trouble haven't changed either, so try to avoid them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you are in need of assistance today pertaining to a confidential manner, look to members of your family, rather than to outsiders, for help. Predictions of what's in store for you in the seasons following your birth date and where to look for your luck and opportunities are in your Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Conditions are changing for the better today and something could happen to instill new hope in your heart. A friend might be instrumental in triggering it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It may be difficult to dismiss career or commercial matters from your mind today. This could be because Lady Luck is trying to get your attention.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't waste your energies and imagination on trivial ideas today. Think in grander terms. Don't be afraid to put into action that which you conceive.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you have something important to do today you'll find you'll perform best when you don't have someone checking you every move.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Lady Luck looks favorably upon your partnership arrangements today, so don't do on your own something which could be done better if another were involved.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your contemporaries may lack your drive today, so you must be careful not to let them distract you from fulfilling your goals.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Persons fond of you are anxious to see that you are happy. They are likely to treat you more generously than usual today.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is a good day to devote your energies to domestic matters which need attention. You can get a lot done today if you choose to.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's to your advantage to be assertive today regarding decisions important to you and your mate. Be bold in making judgments.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't let golden opportunities slip through your fingers today, especially if something pops up which could enhance your security or add to your resources.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Spend time today with those who are active and young at heart. Make having fun your top priority.

For Monday, August 16, 1982
YOUR BIRTHDAY August 16, 1982
 Opportunities will develop this coming year which will enable you to sever situations that you feel have restricted you in the past. Your new attitude will permit bygones to be bygones.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll fare far better today if you don't hold any grudges. Being vindictive will only create greater dissension. Try to turn the other cheek. Predictions of what's in store for you in the seasons following your birth date and where to look for your luck and opportunities are in your Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Ask yourself: "Is my budget taking an unnecessary beating?" Making excuses for needing nonessentials won't resolve your financial dilemma.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Using back-street tactics today may help you win the battle against your competitors, but you could lose the allies you'll need to win the war.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If that same, old repetitive problem hits you on the head again today, perhaps it's time to realize there may be something you are doing wrong.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a good chance that today your curiosity may involve you in another's troubled affairs. You'd be wise to mind your own business.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The brick wall facing you today may have been built by a vengeful individual. Rather than try to scale it, backtrack and find a new route.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Unfortunately, it won't do you any good to grumble about that pile of work today. The only way you'll get it out of your hair is to do it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You shouldn't allow anyone to wield power over you or your children today. They could be trying to accomplish a selfish purpose at your expense.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Some day you may have to resolve an issue that keeps popping up at home, but today is not the time. All you'll do is add kindling to the fire.

WIN AT BRIDGE

As is the case with most double dummy problems the bidding doesn't make too much sense, although we have seen worse bidding on many occasions. Still South has bid six hearts. East throws a spade on the first diamond and South must ruff.

Now he plays his last four trumps and is delighted to see that all adverse trumps have fallen.

Meanwhile, he has had to make four discards from dummy and if he hasn't let the ace, king, queen and jack of spades go he will be set. So he has thrown them away. Now he enters dummy with the ace of clubs and leads the deuce of spades. East can take his 10 now or at trick No. 13, but it is all the same. Six hearts has wheeled in.

In real life would it be possible for a declarer to work out that play? Yes! Anything can happen at the bridge table and it is not too illogical. East has no diamonds and exactly four hearts. Hence, if he holds exactly three clubs plus six spades, including the 10, he is going to be hung, drawn and quartered. If he holds anything else South will be set several tricks at his silly contract.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Today's hand is called a "double dummy" problem. This doesn't mean that the players are dumb, but the final contract and bidding frequently are. Double dummy problems usually come from the fertile imaginations of bridge writers. These hands are almost always fantasies rather than real life situations.
