

Beauty Project Now Underway

By Mona Grinstead
The North Orlando Garden Club has announced that residents of the village can begin work on their landscaping ideas for the spring if they wish to participate in the club's second annual beautification project.

Last year the club sponsored April as Beautification Month with judging of lawns and prizes awarded the first of May. This year judging will not be done until the first of June, however, club members urge all residents to start work now to help beautify the community.

Class Tours Nursing School

Nine members of the Biology II class at Seminole High School, accompanied by their teacher, Don Reynolds and faculty member, Mrs. Lois Higginbotham journeyed to Gainesville recently to tour the College of Nursing at J. Hillis Miller Memorial Hospital at the University of Florida.

All of the girls are interested in further academic studies in the fields of nursing of medical technology, and were shown the training and teaching facilities of the College of Nursing at the state university.

Graduate nurse instructor, Miss Susan Sexton, assisted by senior student nurses Miss Becky Brandon and Miss Mona Wise conducted the lecture tour of the nursing hospital, which include clinical training rooms, the children's ward, maternity ward, patient facilities, the Eye Bank, central reception room, medical students facilities, library and laboratories.

One of the most unusual aspects of the hospital were the dozens of tiny study cubicles assigned to medical students, each one just big enough to accommodate one student at one desk.

Following lunch in the hospital cafeteria, some of the students were asked to act the part of casual spectators and hospital visitors in a movie sequence which was being shot in the main lobby of the nursing school, where art exhibits were on display.

The three nurses outlined for the Seminole High School girls, the step by step procedure and courses of study which are undertaken at the University Hospital nursing school.

The students and teachers were accompanied by Herald reporter Dottie Higginbotham. Students who took the university tour included Carolyn Turner, Linda Mills, Linda Williams, Louise Higginbotham, Johnetta Gore, Peggy Powell, Roberta Rankin, Sandi Wright, Jill West and Jackie Lovelace.

Gale Warnings Up

Storm Whips Off Florida

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — An Atlantic storm moved slowly northward off the Florida coast today, whipping up high seas with winds to 50 miles an hour and battering already eroded beaches. The Coast Guard reported three vessels receiving assistance at sea and said a fourth boat—a 40-foot snapper fisher—was still being sought after two days. One tug arrived here safely today after being escorted in.

The Weather Bureau continued gale warnings from Cape Canaveral north to Nags Head, N. C., and said tides were running two to four feet above normal along the Florida-Georgia coast. "Considerable beach erosion and some flooding" was forecast. At Jacksonville and St. Augustine Beaches, both hard hit six weeks ago by erosion from another Atlantic storm, workers sought to stop the surging seas with sandbags. The Weather Bureau said the storm causing the turbulence was centered over northeast Florida and was moving slightly toward the northeast. The Coast Guard said the 92-foot tug Fort Sumter, which sought help yesterday after its engines were clogged with water, was assisted at the mouth of the St. Johns River by the buoy tender Sweetgum, arriving about 7:30 a. m. The Sumter, of Charleston, S. C., and its barge San Juan, continued up river unassisted. A spokesman said the Sweetgum then headed for the St. Augustine area where the snapper boat Sultana II was disabled. The snapper Peewee, overdue with the Sultana II, had not been located. The Coast Guard 82-foot patrol boat escorted the fishing vessel Mingo toward Ft. Pierce. The Mingo lost a rudder yesterday. The tanker Illinois, which also lost a rudder yesterday, was accompanied by the ocean-going tug Marion Moran. Several beach communities from Daytona Beach north reported street flooding and loss of electric power caused by the storm. Some evacuations were reported in Daytona Beach but no injuries were reported anywhere.

By LARRY VERSHEL
Mayor Tom McDonald today refused to show us that letter from NAS Captain Robert Ware regarding the pipeline.

Pete Knowles wouldn't tell us anything about it.

Ah, it sure is a rough life for a reporter in this town.

Navy ratman supposed to be in town today to "shed some light" on the pipeline controversy (?).

Memo to Curly Dunn . . . Save that $60 . . . give it to the heart fund, polo drive, Sarepta Home, but it at the Quarter horses, dog track, donate it to the city, school board, county commission . . . Play Arnold Palmer golf for it, buy a complete set of books of knowledge, get a $10 year's subscription to the Herald, take a trip to Miami, . . . but don't qualify for the legislature.

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee didn't show up for that informal meeting with Pete Knowles on stadium lease. Too busy listening to parents complain about Pinecrest, or was it that Industrial Chamber meet?

Maybe Postmaster Guy Allen has seen the light of day. . . Notice a photo of John Kennedy in his office.

Don't forget that Civil Defense siren blasts off at noon tomorrow.

Tom Spear named chairman of local law day here in May.

Why doesn't the city hang out more of the yellow courtesy boxes on the parking meters? Why add a double penalty by making a motorist walk a block to pay his 25-cent overtime parking fine?

Better get those license tags there won't be any extension this year.

Johnny Fitzpatrick has really become public relations minded . . . Cut the ribbon at the fair opening . . . What's that about neither rain nor . . . Say, Mack, about that raise?

Speaking about raises, nobody asked me, but it's about time the commission gave attorney Harold Johnson a pay hike . . . He's been on the job a long time.

Petitions addressed to the Seminole County Legislative Delegation are being circulated throughout the county asking that no bills be allowed to pass which would allow "any municipality in any county in the State of Florida to annex or extend its territory without a referendum vote of the property owners in the areas involved."

The petitions, expected to carry at least 1,000 signatures, go on to state that "we, the undersigned, believe this to be the only true and Democratic way of Government."

J. C. Huskisson, who also was executive vice president of the non-profit fair association, was stricken while laying last minute plans for Shrine officials at the first event on the fair schedule.

No legislative hearings this week . . . John F. will have to wait until next week.

Fair Opens In Mud, Rain

A covering of straw over the ankle deep mud at the Seminole County Fairgrounds marked the entrance to the annual County Fair Monday, as determined Fair Association officials carried out the ribbon-snipping ceremony to officially open the rain-plagued event. Only a handful of exhibitors, carnival roustabouts and a couple of bedraggled, mud-caked photographers witnessed the ceremonies. Earlier in the day judges awarded the President's Trophy to the 4-H groups exhibits as a whole; and gave the Blue Ribbons Rosette to the Home Demonstration groups. The Sanford Junior High exhibit took the Red Rosette. At nightfall, the myriad colored lights of the midway outlined the ferris wheel, the rides, tents, booths and shows as they twinkled brightly in the cold misty drizzle. Today and Wednesday mark Children's Days at the Fair with thousands of free admissions tickets having been given out. On these two days the fair will open at 3 p. m. Exhibits of animals will be judged today or Wednesday according to Fair Association President John McCloskey. Judging has been delayed because of the absence of one member of the judging team.

Extended Phone Progress Made In Oviedo

Reports on progress for extended telephone service without toll charges from Oviedo to all areas of South Seminole County were made at Monday night's meeting of the Oviedo City Council by Bob Shelden and Al Probst of Southern Bell Telephone Co. The councilmen were told that Southern Bell and Winter Park Telephone, which services South Seminole, submitted a petition on Jan. 8 to the Florida Public Utilities Commission asking for approval on the extended service. Both companies stand ready to begin work on the project immediately after an okay from the commission. In other business the council approved Oviedo Land Co.'s plan for Unit One of Mead Manor as presented by John Evans, president of the company. The new subdivision, located near the Municipal Swimming Pool and fronted by Mead Road, contains 20 lots and will constitute a first class residential development. Mayor Lee Gary reported that the new fire tower and siren installation, completed last week, was tested on Friday and could be heard "for miles around." He also advised that the old city dump had been leveled and covered over and that the county presently is working on relocating the dump in an abandoned clay pit on the outskirts of town. The project is expected to take at least three to four days longer since county machinery broke down Monday and progress was delayed for the day. Changes and additions to the street lighting system were approved and a request was okayed from the Oviedo Garden Club for labor on clearing the triangle near the cemetery. Customary refreshments served at the close of every Oviedo Council meeting this month were hot coffee and home-baked apple pies made by City Clerk Dot Coulter.

Canada Rulers Near Collapse

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, his Conservative government collapsing under the strain of a nuclear defense crisis, was believed today to dissolve parliament and take his case to the people. Diefenbaker was expected to make his move shortly after the House of Commons convenes at 2:30 p. m. However, if the prime minister should hesitate to act, there is no doubt that his opponents will.

Thieves Break Into Capri

The Capri Restaurant and Grill was broken into early Monday night or sometime this morning and the office ransacked and nine fifths of whiskey stolen, police said. Entry was gained by the sliding glass door on the east side of the building. Police said the burglars broke into the cigar machine and juke box, broke into the office, stole a gun and ransacked the entire place. Police are working on clues this morning.

'Defense Project' Label Hung On Sanford Pipeline

The proposed two-mile jet fuel pipeline for the Sanford Naval Air Base should be considered a "national defense project," in the opinion of a local oil-pipeline expert. J. G. Reichel, of DelRay, today concluded a letter to John Krider, Chamber of Commerce manager, thusly: "It would appear that there is no justification for any objection by individuals or corporations for the construction of this pipeline to the Sanford Naval Air Station, insignificant in size and undoubtedly a national defense project."

Reichel is a member of the national pipeline committee of the American Right of Way Association and of the advisory council of the Southern Gas Association. He is vice president for 10 southeastern states of Coates Field Service, Oklahoma City. Reichel, 35 years in the oil and gas transportation business, agreed this morning to confer with Gerald Rauch, president of Standard Southern Corporation, Houston, parent organization of Sanford Pipeline Company, and Hy Baron, president of the local pipeline firm. Rauch and Baron arrived today to be on hand for any questions which the City Commission may wish to propose before its next scheduled regular meeting Monday evening.

"There are three methods of moving oil and gas products," Reichel wrote Krider. "They are tankers, pipe lines and railroad tank cars. These are listed in their economic preference. However, in case of war, tankers are 'sitting ducks' for submarines which prompted construction of the Big and Little Inch pipe lines in 1943 for the purpose of transporting crude oil and petroleum products from Texas to the Eastern seaboard. Ninety days after the completion of the two lines the war with Germany was over as we had an ample supply of these fuels and Germany did not. The writer was on those two pipe line projects."

Reichel continued: "There is not a city of any size which does not have many pipe lines therein laid adjacent to firm residences, industrial plants, governmental areas and many times on railroad right of way."

Referring to the Atlantic Coast Line's objections to the local pipeline, and the City Commission's subsequent rejection on a 3-2 vote, Reichel said: "In fact, now many railroads are projecting a line near . . . A line was built by Southern Pacific Pipe Lines, Inc. (a subsidiary of Southern Pacific Railroad) from El Paso, Texas, to Los Angeles, a distance of 1,523 miles and later extended to other points."

Health Aid Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Radical new plans for cutting the nation's mental hospital population in half and preventing thousands of new mental retardation cases were submitted to Congress today by President Kennedy. The program, built around hundreds of new, comprehensive community mental health centers, would be costly—running into hundreds of millions of dollars when fully implemented by the states. But the President said in a special message, "We can procrastinate no more."

Over-all costs for beginning operations were included in the Chief Executive's $98.8 billion budget submitted last month for fiscal 1964. With his message today the administration proposed four pieces of new legislation which would involve $1.3 billion in new obligations authority from Congress at this session.

Kennedy pointed out that mental ailments now cost the taxpayer more than $2.4 billion yearly in direct public outlays for services—about $1.8 billion for mental illnesses and $600 million for retardation. On top of these public costs are even higher indirect public outlays in welfare costs and wasted human resources, he noted. "The time has come for a bold new approach," the President said. He conceded the need for postponing new domestic programs and reducing government expenditures if possible at a time when he is attempting to get Congress to cut taxes.

"But we cannot afford to postpone any longer reversal in our approach to mental affliction," he added. He conceded the need for postponing new domestic programs and reducing government expenditures if possible at a time when he is attempting to get Congress to cut taxes.

Reichel verified that Pipe Line Technologists is the consulting architect for the Sanford project. (Rauch also stated this morning that H. L. Hunt, owner of the local Hill Products, is a heavy investor in some of these mentioned pipelines.)

FEC Sticks By 'Picketing'

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Striking railroad workers stuck by their picketing today, unmoved by the Florida East Coast Railway's effort to resume limited freight service with supervisory personnel. "These trains are insignificant and no more than we expected," said Jack Hadley, leader of the 11 unions on strike against the FEC since Jan. 23 in a dispute over wages. The railroad sent a 26-car freight train south to Miami Monday, using a five-man crew of management personnel, and brought back a trainload of empty cars from Miami. The FEC hoped to keep up the limited freight service, started after a federal court enjoined the Jacksonville Terminal Co. from refusing to receive cars from the strike-bound railroad. The company funneled the cars on northward, freeing the FEC of rental for them. Hadley said he met Monday with Federal Mediator James Holaren, but that "nothing of importance was discussed."

Terrorists Hack Five To Death

ENGOBO, South Africa (UPI) — Terrorists hacked to death five white persons today as they lay sleeping in their house trailers on a lonely road near Engobo. The victims included four members of one family, two of them young girls. Police immediately spread a dragnet over the area for the killers, believed to be members of the dreaded African underground "Poqo" organization which recently staged riots in Queenstown and Paarl. The victims were identified as Norman Grobelaar; his wife, Natalie; and their two daughters, Edna, 14, and Dawn, 11. The fifth victim was Derrick Thompson, 19, a mechanic.

Qualifying For State Opens

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's new legislative reapportionment formula, if it becomes official, is likely to bring more than one old campaigner back to the fray. One of the first would be Bernie Papp of Key West, former dean of the House and a Monroe County representative for 28 years until he was beaten last May. Papp said Monday he would run for Monroe's new Senate seat under the proposed plan. Secretary of State Tom Adams began qualifying candidates almost as soon as he opened qualifying Monday, and made Feb. 15 the deadline. First to qualify was a woman, Mrs. Angela Petrozella, a Democrat from Miami who flew here to qualify in person for the Group 4 seat of Duval County's new 14-member House delegation. Three of these seats are filled by present legislators. But the 45-Senator, 112-Representative plan still must be approved by a special three-judge federal panel here. The court, which invalidated the present 38-Senator, 95-Representative apportionment last summer, received a new attack on the proposed formula Monday.

North Orlando To Meet Today

North Orlando's forthcoming election to fill the offices of three councilmen will be the number one item on the agenda for today's 8 p. m. meeting of the Village Council. Dates for voter registration and for qualification of candidates, as well as the actual election date, will be set during the meeting. Mayor Frank Fasula said this morning that he also has several bills to be presented to the council for payment.

Vocational Training Jeopardized?

Fear that all vocational training in Seminole County may be jeopardized because of a squabble in the needlework industry was expressed Monday afternoon at a Chamber of Commerce industrial committee meeting. The meeting was called at the request of Marvin Meltzer, general manager of Sanford Manufacturers, who failed to attend. (Meltzer said this morning he learned last Saturday he would be unable to attend Monday's meeting and asked for a postponement but was advised it was "too late." That the three-company squabble may interfere seriously with vocational training was expressed by S. Cool Supt. R. T. Milwee and E. S. Douglas, director of vocational education. Scott Burns, committee chairman, and John Krider, Chamber manager, brought out the session Monday was called because of complaints by Meltzer. Representatives of Piero Manufacturing Company and Allx of Sanford claimed they have no complaints, are satisfied with the training set up in their plants although Allx has not a sufficient number of trained operators. Meltzer was quoted that he does not want a training school in his plant. Krider recalled that a universal school for all needlework companies was set up here by the school vocational department "but it failed because of lack of co-operation by the companies involved." He said 14 sewing machines for training were promised and only four were effective. He added that only 15 persons showed up for training although Douglas said 150 completed the course. Milwee and Douglas explained that there has been a vocational training "freeze" for the last four years, when the Legislature limited the number of vocational units to the figure of that time. They added no more vocational units can be added until the Legislature lifts the "freeze." Douglas said the heating and air conditioning industry is willing to donate new machinery for the training of personnel if the Legislature would act to permit more units. Meeting was adjourned after it was decided that Burns, Krider and representatives of the three companies will meet at a later date in an effort to have the three firms iron out their differences among themselves.

THE FIRST 4-H EXHIBIT to be completed during Saturday's preparation for the Fair was that of the Longwood 4-H Girls Club. Helping the girls were Mrs. Pat Boyles and Mrs. John George, leaders, left to right. All items shown were made by club members including the lovely white lace formal the mannikin wears. Former Resident Dies In Atlanta

Word was received here Sunday of the death of Lawrence P. McDaniel, 50, of Atlanta, Ga., a former Sanford resident.

The son of the late James C. McDaniel and the late Mrs. Virginia Douglas, he lived with his parents from 1910 until 1929 and attended local schools. He later attended Fork Union Military Academy in Fort Union, Va., where he graduated in 1932 with high honors. He had been a resident of Atlanta since 1939 and was a retired post office employee.

Survivors other than his wife, two sons and four grandchildren, are two sisters, Mrs. R. F. Lanox of DeLand and Mrs. Ruth Surman of Atlanta; a brother, A. Martin McDaniel of Bunnell. He also is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Corrella Deane and her son, R. W. Deane, both of Sanford. Services and burial will take place in Atlanta.

BPW To Meet

'Back To God' Service Is Scheduled In DeBarry

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBarry Herbert D. Glibb Post 85, American Legion, will sponsor a "Back to God" service in memory of the "Four Chaplains" who were aboard the U.S.S. Northchester when she was torpedoed in the Atlantic Ocean during World War II. This service will be held to help fight Communism, Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. in the DeBarry Community Center.

The four chaplains, two Protestant, one Catholic and one Jewish, threw their life jackets to the soldiers when they found there were not enough jackets on board for the men. They linked their arms together and went down with the ship.

Scheduled to participate are Rev. Augustus C. Summers, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, DeBarry; Rev. Daman Scott, DeBarry Community Methodist Church; Rev. Hubert Thomas, First Baptist Church, DeBarry; Rev. Paul E. Shultz, All Saints Episcopal Church, Enterprise; Rev. Wylie P. Stoen, Pilgrim Community Church, Orange City; Rev. William P. Fagan, Congregational Church, Orange City; Father Michael J. Donlon, St. Anne Catholic Church, DeBarry and Irving I. Jacobs for the Jewish Faith. Members of World War I Barracks 1197 and its Auxiliary.

Church Choirs Reorganize

By Frances Wester
The Youth Choirs of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary have been reorganized into the following groups: Cherub Choir for children in grades one through six and Junior Choir for young people in grades seven through twelve.

The Cherub Choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Kay Sasman with Gayle Roberts as accompanist. The Junior Choir will be under the direction of Jim Daugherty accompanied by Mrs. Sasman. Rehearsal time for the choirs will be on Wednesday at 8:45 p. m. for the Cherubs, and at 7 p. m. for the Juniors. The Senior Choir rehearsal is held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, under the direction of Robert Mero.

Anyone interested in singing is invited to join any of these choirs.

The recently organized music committee of the church is composed of Mrs. James M. Thompson, chairman, Robert Mero, Barton Pilcher, Mrs. Frances Wester and Mrs. Kay Sasman.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I sorted the laundry this morning, I found lipstick all over the collar of my husband's shirt. He tried to tell me it was TOMATO JUICE. What would you do in a case like that?
GWEN

DEAR GWEN: I'd find out who the tomato was.

DEAR ABBY: I have one of the best husbands in the world, and I know it. He puts in a 9-hour day of hard work, and then comes home and helps me with the housework. He keeps all the floors waxed and polished. He takes care of the woodwork, keeps the windows sparkling and he even does the washing and ironing (yes, I said ironing) when I am behind in my work. Last week he canned 100 quarts of peaches. Now, here is my problem. He isn't very affectionate. I am only 33 and he is 36.
NEEDS AFFECTION

DEAR NEEDS: Maybe he's tired!

DEAR ABBY: What's the difference between a gentleman and a wolf?
S. K.

DEAR S.K.: Time!
DEAR ABBY: A no-good tramp is bothering my husband. She is married (this is her fourth husband) and has children ranging from 4 to 19 years old. She has been calling him at home until I thought I would go out of my mind. She stopped calling him at home when I threatened to tell her husband. But now she calls him at work. If her husband knew about it he would bust her head open. I would tell him but I am afraid he would harm my husband. Should I tell her husband and let my own husband take his chances? I don't know how much more of this I can stand.

MOTHER OF FOUR

DEAR MOTHER: You seem ready to do a lot of "talking" and "head busting" — but all with the wrong people. Why don't you start with your husband? No man needs to be "lothered" if he doesn't want to be.

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school and am writing for others as well as myself. Do you see anything wrong with a boy and girl walking down the hall with his arm around her waist? (Not real tight.) If it is wrong, please tell me why. There has been a lot of comment about this at our school lately.
FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: While it may not be "wrong," it is in bad taste. Cuss your books and embrace your studies.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

New York's Card School points out that with 17 points and a balanced hand, South has a normal opening no-trump bid, and North should raise to three.

West opens the four of hearts. He should lead fourth best at no-trump from a suit headed by queen-jack-small. South must take nine tricks. Normally with 29 points and all suits stopped, South should have no trouble making three no-trump. Yet, West has made the best opening lead and South can only count on eight tricks in top cards. Still, there are ways to make that ninth trick. Spades might break three-three, or South can finesse the queen of clubs. He has a one-way finesse against the queen of diamonds. As last resort he can hang out high cards and hope for the best.

However, he has an absolute surefire play for his contract and should accept it. South holds off twice in hearts, but must win the third lead of the suit. East will probably discard a low diamond, but all South is interested in is that East is out of hearts. Therefore, South can give East the lead without fear that he will be able to do anything about the two good hearts in the West hand.

Hence, South lays down the king of clubs, continues with the five and finesse dummy's ten. East is in with the queen and can lead anything he wishes, but South now has a third club trick to add to the eight tricks he started with.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

A recent column in which I reprinted a reader's letter suggesting that a mother is in large part responsible for whether children look up to, admire, and respect their father has brought forth a number of "How about...?" letters from other readers.

How about (some say) writing a column telling the men who also have a responsibility for making their children think their mother is something pretty special. Of course they do. Men can do it easily by often praising the mother in front of the children and never finding fault with her in the children's hearing.

Young children who are used to hearing their father praise their mother for everything from how pretty she looks to what a good manager she is, and how much she does to make home a happy place, are sure to have a higher opinion of their mother than children who constantly hear how she has done this wrong, or forgotten that, or neglected something else.

But that isn't the whole story in the letter about that column. Some women protested that it is almost impossible for a wife to build a man up to his children, if he is set on tearing down the image of the kind, loving, patient father.

If a man is harsh with his children, if he never praises them for anything they do well, if he is so cross and irritable around the house that the children dread his homecoming, a wife can talk her head off about how much their father really loves them and get nowhere at all. One wife even said in her letter, "I think our children actually hate their father in spite of everything I can say, because he is so critical of everything they do, so short-tempered with them and so unnecessarily harsh in his punishments." Well, there it is—the rest of the story—as it has come in from readers.

Mrs. Charles B. Cole Installed As Worthy Matron Of Eastern Star

One hundred-fifty members, relatives and friends of Seminole Chapter 2, Order of Eastern Star witnessed the installation of Mrs. Charles Cole and J. E. Blackman as worthy matron and worthy patron for the ensuing year.

Other officers installed were Mrs. L. E. Estes, associate matron; R. E. Peurifoy, associate patron; Mrs. J. J. Nicholson Jr., conductress; Mrs. Irving Pryor, associate conductress; Mrs. J. H. Billrey, secretary; Mrs. L. T. Sheppard, treasurer; Mrs. Jos. Leinhardt, organist; Mrs. J. H. Anderson Jr., chaplain; Miss Anna Muir, Adah; Mrs. W. A. Reynolds, Ruth; Mrs. C. N. Roberson, Esther; Mrs. Paul Marks, Martha; Mrs. Alborn Rector, Electa; Mrs. J. E. Blackman, warden; and Harvey Dunn, sentinel.

Mrs. J. H. Anderson Jr. was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Walter Haines, installing marshal; Mrs. Phil Wyatt, chaplain, and Mrs. Betha Snyder, organist. Mrs. Nick Pfeiffert, soloist sang "The Holy City" and "Be Faithful and Loyal" to the tune of "Take Time To Be Holy."

Choir members of Central Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Cole is a member, sang "Beautiful Hands" under the direction of W. L. Harmon with Mrs. Darrell Grieme at the piano. Choir members participating were, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Owen, Mrs. Gall Smith, Mrs. Robert Reeves, and Mr. Harmon.

Emblems were presented to the Star Points by Mrs. Leinhardt, Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Wm. Moye, and Mrs. Peurifoy, past matrons under whom Mrs. Cole had served. They gave brief speeches of the meanings of the emblems. Mrs. Cole's watchwords of faith, loyalty, and constancy were presented by past matrons Moye, Sheppard, and Wyatt who spoke briefly of the significance of the words before attaching them to a triangle, held by Mrs. Anderson, carrying out the worthy matron's colors of yellow, white, and green, with the triangle signifying the "Trinity."

Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Peurifoy, Mrs. Nicholson, and Mrs. Pryor presented Mrs. Cole's emblems of praying hands, a heart, a cross, and broken column with appropriate remarks. Mrs. Estes and Mr.

Peurifoy, with a short poem presented her with the cross which had been covered with fern by the Star Points as they recited short selections. Mrs. Peurifoy, presented the Worthy Matron's pin to Mrs. Cole, and a spray of yellow chrysanthemums from the chapter, after which she and Mr. Blackman presented past matron and past patron jewels to the Peurifoy's.

Mrs. Cole introduced her mother, Mrs. W. R. Beecher, Mr. Beecher, her brothers, Van, Leonard, and W. R. Jr., and niece, Patricia, as well as her husband, Charles.

Mr. Blackman introduced his mother, Mrs. J. R. Blackman; his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. F. White; daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Murray F. Byrd and four daughters, all of Darlington, S. C., and his wife, Alene.

Mrs. Cole presented gifts to her installing officers, members who participated in courtesies, soloists, choir, and Rev. J. W. Parham of Palm Bay, former pastor of Central Baptist Church, who gave the benediction.

The chapter room was decorated in the west with an arched trellis of yellow roses and a tall basket of yellow roses. At the secretary's desk and the conductress stations were small pots of yellow roses. The dining room table was overlaid with a white cloth. Two three-branched candelabra holding yellow and green tapers were at either end and in the center was a sheet cake decorated with small yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Brodie Williams served cake and Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. R. H. Beckham poured coffee.

Sorority Chapter To Name Officers

Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a rush party for 19 rushers for the Nu Phi Mu Chapter which is being organized in Sanford at the Holly Avenue Kindergarten.

The rushers were dressed in casual clothes with the members of Xi Beta Eta dressed as children, complete with overalls, hair ribbons and dolls. Ethel Lee Walker won the prize, a tape measure, for correctly guessing her waist measurement by cutting a piece of string from a ball held by Mrs. E. C. Harper Jr., friendly venture chairman.

Ellen Bernosky and Glenda Emerson each won a bag of bubble gum for being the best "Blower Upper" and "Balloon Buster" in the hilarious balloon breaking contest. Carol Mitchell won the prize, a light bulb, for the scavenger hunt. This was done without leaving the building, as each girl had to find as many of the articles named in their pocket books.

Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., as president, presented a record of the program, "Soup, the Curtain Raiser for the Meal Proper."

Mrs. C. R. Sims, guest story teller, told a Swedish folk tale from a collection of stories by Kate Douglas Wiggin, entitled "Nail Soup" or "The Old Woman and the Tramp."

Mrs. R. F. Moulé read a poem, "Going Back To Georgia" and Mrs. C. C. Welsh told a story from Story Art Magazine entitled "La-Kol-A and the Turtle Soup."

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. H. L. Moore and Mrs. V. Hasty. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of white flowers flanked on either side by tiny purple china cows. An assortment of home made cookies, minis and coffee were served with soup plates being used to hold the goodies and continue the soup theme.

Mrs. W. L. Roche, chairman, gave a report on the sale of the cookbooks "Recipes To Treasure." They were compiled from recipes sent in by members and friends of the Sanford Story League. The proceeds of this sale, which to date is over $300, will be used to help school libraries throughout the county.

Mrs. C. C. Welsh, program chairman, announced the theme for the program, "Soup, the Curtain Raiser for the Meal Proper."

Lake Mary Family Has Busy Week

By Frances Wester
Guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Anderson of Lake Mary at their home on Lake Emma, last week, were Russell Palmer of Enterprise, his niece, Mrs. J. V. Richards, with whom he makes his home, and Mrs. O. Z. Tyler of Miami, their cousin and house guest. Mr. Palmer is Mrs. Anderson's uncle and the ladies are her cousins.

Saturday, Mrs. Anderson and Miss Lettie Caldwell of Sanford visited Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brownlee of Zephyrhills. He was critically ill in Jackson Memorial Hospital, Dale City, and Mrs. Brownlee, of course, was by his bedside.

Wednesday, Mrs. Anderson and Miss Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Meriwether and Mr. and Mrs. George Sline, all of Sanford, attended the funeral service in Zephyrhills of Dr. Brownlee who had been the beloved pastor of Sanford's First Presbyterian Church for 37 years.

Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Anderson Jr., in Orlando, attending the family fellowship supper at the First Presbyterian Church of Orlando.

Following the supper they were privileged to hear the concert of the choir of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Raymond Anderson, Pennsylvania grandson of the Senior Andersons, is a sophomore there, and the Junior Andersons took home for the night two of his friends, Glen Mains and Douglas Boyd, members of the choir.

Over coffee and pie, at the Cherokee Drive home of the Junior Andersons, they all had a chance to get acquainted.

New Families Welcomed To South Seminole

Mrs. Nora C. Norris, Welcome Wagon hostess for the South Seminole area, reports the following new families welcomed recently:

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kinsey and children, Kary and Jimmy, from Lakeland; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Miller, Sherrian, Elizabeth and Sarah Jean from Sanford; Mr. and Mrs. Robb Williams, Michelle and Juvanna from Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Ledford and Michael from Plainwell, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Perkins from Wellsville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Vargo from Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs. James McMurry, Steven, Donna, Christina and Michael from Lansing, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burgess, Tommy, Bobby, Donnie, Mark and Ellen from Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christensen, Donnie, Kathy, Eddie and Glenn from Clairmont, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jenkins, Lonnie, Cynthia and Mickey from Orlando.

Mrs. Wesson Honored At Stork Shower

By Louise Himmeh
Mrs. Jerry Wesson, the former Miss Carol Galloway, was honored recently at a baby shower at the home of Mrs. Calvin Alexander of Weatherfield. Co-hostesses were Mrs. William Spring and Mrs. Carson Browning.

The living room was gaily decorated with baby toys highlighted by a hand-crocheted baby doll made by the hostess' grandmother, Mrs. P. E. Johns of Cleveland, Ohio. Gifts were uniquely presented in a baby car bed and Mrs. Wesson received an array of handmade kimono, blankets, sleep coats and many other lovely and useful gifts.

The refreshment table was especially attractive against its background of pink and white streamers which were draped from ceiling to table. A bouquet of spring flowers cleverly arranged in a miniature high chair formed the centerpiece. Refreshments were mocha ice cream, punch and cake which was decorated with pink and blue booties.

Among the many guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. B. A. Galloway, Mrs. Horace Wesson, Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. Jon Wesson, Mrs. R. R. Tope, Mrs. Aida Johns, Mrs. B. H. Judy, Mrs. Marion Dodd, Mrs. Dale Duane, Mrs. Don Barnett, Mrs. June Penland, Mrs. Clarence Brunson, Mrs. Joy Johnson, Mrs. William Howington, Mrs. Jimmy Carter, Miss Carolyn Baker, Miss Billie-Jo Buchanan and Miss Adrienne Cornibert.

Correction
Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey G. Ayers who were married Jan. 21 are living at 1020 Elm Ave. and not at 102 Elm, as stated in the wedding announcement. Mrs. Ayers is the former Miss Carolyn Washburn.

Story League Hears Stories About "Soups"

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
The Sanford Story League met recently at the Episcopal Parish House with Mrs. Fred Robb, president, presiding.

The board presented three recommendations for approval which will be sent in a letter to the city commissioners. They concern the moving of the public library.

Mrs. W. L. Roche, chairman, gave a report on the sale of the cookbooks "Recipes To Treasure." They were compiled from recipes sent in by members and friends of the Sanford Story League. The proceeds of this sale, which to date is over $300, will be used to help school libraries throughout the county.

Search For Integrity

The name of Howard Morgan will be unfamiliar to most people. He is vice chairman of the Federal Power Commission, the agency which regulates private utilities.

In a letter to President Kennedy, however, in which he stated his intention to retire from the post at the end of his term in June, Morgan set down some thoughts which are of sobering importance to us all.

Underlying the great difficulties facing members of regulatory commissions, Morgan urged the President to select men of exceptional character.

"Ordinary men," he wrote, "cannot administer these (regulatory) laws today in the face of pressures generated by huge industries focused with great skill on and against the sensitive areas of government. Ordinary men yield too quickly to the present-day urge toward conformity, timidity and personal security."

Significantly, the basic problem, according to Morgan, is not corruption or dishonesty. Men in public of-ice are, for the most part, law-abiding, well-intentioned citizens.

"But," wrote Morgan, "abandonment of the public interest can be caused by many things, of which timidity and a desire for personal security are the most insidious."

Morgan is wrong only in thinking this is a modern problem. It was old when Solon codified the laws of Athens. Nor is it confined to men in government. Those in industry and business—also as honest and well-intentioned—are themselves the victims of countless pressures, "timidity and a desire for security."

It is not a problem of good versus evil. It would be much simpler if it were. Yet out of it often comes much evil—wasted public monies, abused resources, delayed reforms.

There is no clear way to combat this "system" save by endeavoring to impart to each new generation the ideal that personal integrity is more important than personal security and popularity.

Unfortunately, too few of us believe it.

A Way Of Life...

Bills have been introduced in Congress—not for the first time—that would either reduce or eliminate altogether the withholding of federal income taxes from people's paychecks.

Reasoning behind the bills is that it might awaken Joe Citizen to the fact that an awfully large slice of his earnings goes direct from his employer to Washington. Realizing this, he might demand some semblance of economy in government.

As it is now, the tax extraction is relatively painless. Though 18 percent of a man's wages, beyond exempted amounts, is withheld, he never sees it; never having had it, he doesn't miss it. With the natural human capacity for rationalizing, our man doesn't let himself think that the money ever actually was his. He figures his pay only as what he takes home in his pocket.

Without withholding, he might be shocked back to reality come April 15 when he was required to forward a large bundle of dollars to Uncle Sam in one fell swoop.

That's the way it was in the old days before withholding, but taxes were lower then and the yearly bill was not a great problem for most people.

Today, Joe Citizen has become anesthetized to taxes through withholding. Indeed, one of the objections to withholding when it was first proposed was that it would make tax increases too easy to pass. Subsequent history seems to have borne this out.

These antiwithholding bills won't get very far in Congress, of course. Withholding is part of our way of life now. Government is too tightly geared to this continuous income. And the days of low-budget, low-tax government are as vanished as the United States that once was an island isolated by two oceans.

Still, it would be interesting to see what would happen after one year without withholdings. Undoubtedly there would be a nation-wide agonizing reappraisal.

Despite the fond hopes of the sponsors of these bills, however, the upshot probably would be not more economy in government and resulting lower taxes but a quick return to withholding.

Anyone want to bet?

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE C-450: Harley D., aged 64, is the father of 11-year-old Della mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane," he began about six months later, "we purchased a used typewriter from my boss.

"For he was trading it in for a new machine and the typewriter salesman allowed him only $37.50.

"So my boss let me have the machine for the same price. And it has been the best investment I think I ever made.

"First of all, my wife had trouble typing in high school, so she immediately began to pound the keys as she brushed up on her touch typing.

"Della grew somewhat envious so her mother told her she could learn to typewrite if she'd be very VERY careful, but that typewriters cost a lot of money and are for grown-ups, not children.

"This obviously placed more prestige and distinction on Della's right to use the machine.

"And my wife procured a wall chart for use in teaching Della the touch system. Della picked it up so fast it surprised both of us.

"And not only did she send frequent letters to her dotting grandmother, but she began to typewrite class reports for her 6th grade.

"Her marks, which had previously barely averaged 'B,' now were mostly in the 'A' bracket. And Della developed a much greater interest in school subjects, too.

"Later, her class decided to put on a little play, so Della even volunteered to type the various speaking parts for the different actors and actresses.

"Her teacher gave her extra credit, too, for this additional home work.

"And now Della is helping her Sunday School teacher type 18 copies, with carbons, of a weekly Bible Test, using your suggestions about the 4-answer questions.

"So Della has changed into a real devotee of education. She is the ally of her public school teacher and the mainstay of her Sunday School teacher, as well.

"In addition, she has decided she wants to be a teacher or a writer, so she has begun to plan far ahead regarding a lifetime career.

"When you consider that all of these changes are based on a mere $37.50 which I paid my boss for that used typewriter, it seems to be unequalled educational insurance, eh?"

College Insurance

Yes, there are various forms of superb college insurance.

For example, you can buy regular college insurance policies from your local life insurance agent.

But if your child flunks out of high school or develops a hostile attitude toward further education, that youngster will not care to use the college insurance policy, anyway.

So it is always smart to add a few extra cultural aids to your home, even while the children are in grade school.

These tools include a Bible, dictionary, encyclopaedia, atlas, flash cards and typewriter.

So send for my booklet, "How To Tutor Your Child At Home," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Though it is scarcely mentioned in President Kennedy's first three major messages to Congress, a lot of labor legislation might be stirred up in this session of Congress.

AFL-CIO President George Meany has in the past opposed opening up existing labor laws. He fears this would lose a Pandora's box of amendments which would only make a bad situation worse, ending with more troubles for unions.

The big organization's legislative counsel, former Wisconsin Congressman Andrew J. Biemiller, points out, however, that labor favors repeal of Landrum-Griffin Act restrictions on picketing and Taft-Hartley Section 14-B which permits the states to enact their own right-to-work laws.

Union legislative programs also favor expansion of minimum wage law coverage to more workers. And Biemiller believes first efforts may be made this year to obtain the 35-hour work week by law, as well as by collective bargaining.

One of the things labor may have most to fear in this session of Congress is that the major strikes of longshoremen, newspaper employees, aircraft and missile workers now in progress will result in the introduction of much new restrictive legislation.

Labor Secretary William Wirtz admits the administration is considering proposals which would permit the government to move into major jobs.

The Plumley program opposes changes in Taft-Hartley disputes more rapidly and with more power to effect settlements in the public interest.

There have been no decisions announced yet on what the President might propose to Congress. One difficulty is that mediation procedures authorized by existing law have been used so much that they have been dulled and lost their effectiveness.

Job security, or loss of employment from automation, is one of the major issues in current disputes. Neither the unions nor management has yet come up with any satisfactory suggestions for laws that might ease the problem.

Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., of the House Labor committee is planning an exhaustive investigation of the issue this session.

Organized labor leaders still back Kennedy's broad programs on general principles, but they differ with him on details and execution. Union leaders are as dissatisfied with the President's State of the Union, budget and economy messages as are the organizations representing big business—though for completely different reasons.

Business spokesmen think the President goes too far. Labor spokesmen think he doesn't go far enough or fast enough.

AFL-CIO is for a $2 billion tax cut in the lowest income brackets this year. The $2 billion cut offered by the President is considered too small to do any good in reducing unemployment.

W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, opposes the President's proposal to split the lowest income tax bracket and asks for a go-slow policy on tax revision in the interests of sounder economic growth.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Ladd Plumley has announced a 10-point labor legislation program for his organization.

It calls for putting unions under the antitrust laws, reform of the National Labor Relations Board, amendment of Walsh-Healy and Haakon-Davis acts, permitting the U. S. secretary of labor to set wage floors on government contracts, full state control of unemployment insurance and the U. S. Employment Service.

The Plumley program opposes changes in Taft-Hartley emergency strike provisions and limitation on state right-to-work laws. Expansion of minimum wage law coverage and equal pay for women also are opposed.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has reintroduced his bill to put transport unions under antitrust law control. Labor leaders claim it would affect other unions too, and oppose it.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has introduced a sweeping labor-management reform bill to curb union bargaining and political power which labor would fight on every detail, bringing on a long hard fight in an already overloaded Congress.

Matter Of Fact

Here is a term to add to those such as: polygamy, monogamy and bigamy—benogamy. This word denotes the custom by which one, and only one member of a family or stock is permitted to marry.

Thus among Nambotiri Brahmins of Malabar the eldest son alone marries to keep the family property intact and to prevent its disintegration by partition which the marriage of younger brothers might necessitate.

Of late, it has become quite common to discuss the possibility of organized life on other planets. In fact, such discussions have become so common that recently a word was coined to describe an intelligent social order outside our solar system. The word, "exosociety."

Letters To The Editor

Sorry, so busy over the weekend having some of that stultic rub off on me—that Mr. Krider doesn't believe the largest sport fishing for shad on the Atlantic Seaboard produces.

He should take a look at the 10 fishing camps on the river now, as against three to 15 years ago. Where are the figures on what the canal will actually produce?

RCA from the Cape staged their own private little shad derby—personnel morale, you know! Fishing and recreation—is this why industries are coming here? Yes.

Would probably have been busier if someone could persuade the Chamber of Commerce to put on their signs at Bunnell and the city limits (cost to the taxpayers $300 a year) one little line: "Try our shad fishing Jan. 1 through April 15."

And then I would have had less time to wonder where John got all his misinformation. True, I am not an engineer. But you don't have to be to know that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line.

I'm not so sure on the shad habitat? But would he accept the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries as an authority? They along with the Conservation Department and Game and Fish Commission went on record last year opposing the dredging of the river from Lake Harney to Lake Monroe and this was only for removing seven small bars. Not dredging 180 feet wide and 12 feet deep.

That I thought the 11-mile canal site would damage the shad fishing. What I really think is that I would be willing to pay the two-mill raise in taxes, which I am reliably informed is the amount it will cost for the next 30 years or so, if John and his canal-digging buddies will start at Indian River and dig a 11-mile canal and keep their hands off the shad fishing from Lake Monroe to Lake Harney. Central Florida's best natural non-freezing asset.

I admire John's vision of large bodies of water for fishing, boating, duck hunting and even water for our growing cities. But I'm afraid he has, in these visions, overlooked the Pot of Gold, that is our best non-freezing asset, the shad fishing from Lake Monroe to Harney.

Yours for a canal AND our beautiful St. Johns River with its shad fishing.

Jim Crowe

PS: While we are having

And this Pot of Gold is not at the end of a canal-digging rainbow but here in our own backyard.

This myopia also applies to Mr. Krider's map reading as the northern (around your elbow to your thumb) route is the one that passes by the river now, as against three to 15 years ago. Where are the figures on what the canal will actually produce?

Would like to call attention to the fact that this sport fishing has been advertised in sports column, feature articles and front page news in papers from Miami to Monticton, N. B., Canada and as far west as Chicago. The list includes such papers as Miami Herald, St. Pete Independent, Tampa Tribune, Sanford Herald, Orlando Sentinel, Florida Times-Union, Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch, Washington Daily News, Washington Post, New York Times, Chicago Tribune and others too numerous to mention, all at no cost to the taxpayer of Sanford and Seminole County. But still no word on the Chamber of Commerce two points is a straight line.

"He that would make good use of an part of his life must allow a large part of it to recreation" (apologies to Dr. Caleb King Sr.).

Four billion dollars was spent by 30 million citizens on hunting and fishing in 1960. Figures from U. S. Department of Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service and Bureau of Sports Fisheries.

S. B. (Jim) Crowe (Ed. note: John Krider said today plans for the proposed canal are only in their tentative stage. No one has been selected. In the early planning there was talk of a millage but it appears costs can be borne by revenue bonds.)

visions let's vision a nice white sand beach all along the lake front (Monroe) instead of an oily, mucky industrialized lake front. Recreation, you know.

People traveled as far hunting and fishing in 1960 as Colonel Glenn would have in 100 years had he stayed in orbit—13.2 billion miles. Sanford is missing a bet in not pushing the marina on the lake front.

Nicklaus Top Phoenix Choice

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus and other members of golf's "big five" left the California gold rush today heading for Arizona in the hope of striking another bonanza.

The National Open king subdued Gary Player with such ease in the playoff for the Palm Springs Golf Classic championship Monday that he automatically takes on the mantle of favorite to win the Phoenix Open starting Thursday.

With five tournaments under their belts, the touring professionals have watched members of the "big five" win four of them. Arnold Palmer won at Los Angeles, Player at San Diego, Billy Casper the Crosby at Pebble Beach, and then Nicklaus here. The only title to escape them was the San Francisco Lucky International, won by veteran Jackie Burke.

The other member of the "big five," Gene Littler, hasn't won yet. But he finished off the Palm Springs event by shooting the lowest round of the tourney, a 61—and appears ready to step into title competition in Arizona.

The five men, in addition to winning four or five titles, have captured $34,023 of the $210,000 in purses offered. With nearly 100 pros on the winter tour, that leaves slim pickings for the rest of the crew.

Nicklaus, who at one time had decided to skip Palm Springs because of bursitis in his hip, had been having a rough year for him on the tour before he hit the jackpot here. He had won only $2,063 in four tournaments before he picked up the first place check here Monday by firing a beautiful, six-under-par 65 to trounce Player by eight strokes.

"I said earlier that it would be ridiculous for me to win here with a bad leg," said Nicklaus. "And it still goes. I was lucky. I didn't play nearly as well here as I have in many other tournaments."

He had blown a five-stroke lead on Sunday during the fifth round of the tournament. He had been fading his tee shots so badly that he even asked advice from his wife—who doesn't play golf.

But when he got into the playoff Monday against Player, everything was precision. He birdied the first hole with a 10-foot putt and never looked back. He out-drove Player by as much as 50 yards on many holes.

When Gary blew out of contention by taking a triple-bogey seven on the 12th hole as he battled the palm trees, Jack just coasted in.

"It's easy when you have a six-stroke lead," said Nicklaus. "I sank three long putts and after that I was just trying to get close."

Even with the six-shot advantage, the one-time Ohio State athlete never let up. Player, taking a trimming, continued to fight and birdied the 17th and 18th holes. But Nicklaus birdied the 17th and eagled the 18th — each with 33-foot putts. He had a final 65 against two-over par 73 for Player.

The victory was worth $9,000 to the new champion and $1,600 to the runner-up. "And we want it definitely understood," the two men chorused after the battle, "that we didn't split the purse. We never have and never will."

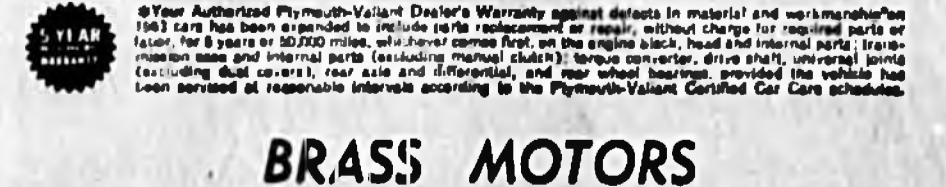

FACTS ABOUT VALIANT'S NEW WARRANTY*

- DOES IT INCLUDE THE COST OF LABOR?
- DOES IT COVER EXPENSIVE PARTS?
- IS IT TRANSFERABLE WHEN YOU SELL THE CAR?

Yes. There is absolutely no charge for labor and parts. For the entire life of the warranty, should any defect in material or workmanship occur on the parts covered by the warranty, it will not cost you one cent to have this defect corrected.

Absolutely! It covers the major power train components—the engine block and its internal parts, the automatic transmission and its internal parts, the rear axle. These are parts that would normally cost you plenty of money to replace or repair.

Yes. As long as the car has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedules, the warranty can be passed on to the new owner. Think what that will do to the resale value of your Valiant!

Close One For Cinci

United Press International If luck appears to be on the side of highly rated Cincinnati, Illinois and Georgia Tech, remember it's the "year of the rabbit."

Top-ranked Cincinnati, held to a two-point lead at half-time, defeated upset-minded Drake, 71-60, Monday night for the Bearcats' 36th consecutive victory. Drake clicked on only 2 of 29 shots in the second half.

Bearcats Hold Rating Poll Lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cincinnati, Loyola of Chicago, Duke and Illinois dominated the United Press International major college basketball ratings today, with the unbeaten Bearcats unanimous first-place choice for the seventh straight week.

Cincinnati, which has won 16 games this season and 36 in a row over the last two campaigns, was the No. 1 pick of all 33 coaches who comprise the UPI rating board. Loyola, unbeaten in 20 games, held the second spot for the seventh straight week.

Duke, which has lost two of 17 games, and Illinois, beaten twice in 15 starts, remained third and fourth, respectively, while Arizona State U. held on to fifth place and Georgia Tech remained sixth.

Colorado moved from eighth into seventh place, swapping positions with Stanford, while Mississippi State advanced from 11th to ninth and Oregon State slipped from ninth to 10th.

The ratings are based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 2, and do not take into account Monday night action involving Cincinnati, Illinois, Arizona State U., Georgia Tech, Colorado and Mississippi State.

The fight for the national title now appears to be strictly a case of who can stay unbeaten between Cincinnati, the pre-season choice, and Loyola. The Bearcats have six games left to play starting with Bradley on Saturday. In all, five of their remaining games are against Missouri Valley rivals.

Loyola, on the other hand, has only one tough assignment in its six remaining games—and that comes on March 2 against 11th-ranked Wichita. Duke also has six games left on its regular schedule before competing in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament.

Stenstrom Gains In Hi-Nooners

Stenstrom Realty strengthened their lead in the Hi-Nooners league when they won three points from the second place C. P. O. Wives.

Mar-Lou Restaurant won three points from Grapeville Nursery; Shoemaker Construction also won three points from Nationwide Insurance; and the Mayfair Inn split their points 2-1, with M. & R. Bar.

The baby 3-10 split fell for Teena Armas, Celeia DePalma, Olga Mireles, and Carolyn Salles. Louise Cadenhead, Marie Cisowski, and Gertrude Nopper converted the 2-7. Mary Elmore and Kitty Purdy converted the 4-5-7; Gertrude Nopper, and Mary Tomaleski the 5-8-10.

when the score was tied seven times in the first half before the 'Cats gained a 40-28 edge at intermission. Ron Bonham poured in 31 points for Cincinnati and teammate Tom Thacker scored 19 to provide the Bearcats with their seventh straight Missouri Valley Conference victory. McCoy McLemore topped Drake with 17. Illinois held a 13-point lead, 88-73, with about seven minutes remaining when Indiana caught fire to narrow the gap. The total of 203 points for both teams was tops for the Big Ten Conference this season.

All five Illinois starters hit in double figures, with Tal Brody scoring a high of 22 points. Tom Bolyard tallied 35 in Indiana's losing effort.

The victory left Illinois with a 2-0 conference record and dropped the Hoosiers from second to fourth place with a 3-2 mark.

Georgia Tech, trailing 23-18 at the half, raised its record to 17-1 only because Dave Hunter's 50-foot shot for William and Mary at the final buzzer hit the front rim and bounced away.

The Engineers hit on only 26 per cent of their shots, but John Herbert made the most of this inaccuracy with a Tech high of 12 points. Hunter scored 16 points for W&M.

Mississippi State tied Georgia Tech for the Southeastern Conference lead by awamping Tulane, 91-73, in a league game. The ninth-ranked State, held to a 37-37 intermission tie, broke loose in the second half as Leland Mitchell led the way with a game total of 29 points.

Jim Kerwin, the leading scorer in the SEC, paced Tulane with 27 points.

SOKC Stakes Entries Set

All sixteen entries for the semi-finals in the running of the second annual Racing Queen Stake Wednesday night at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club have been announced by Racing Secretary R. C. "Pitay" Williamson.

Queens going to the post in Wednesday night's eighth race are Opal Mack, Sweet Calleen, Pretty's Beat, Tiptay Dixie, Braille, New Hit, Little Rhonda and Toni Dawn.

Queens in the ninth event are Abigail Sue, Bonnie Abbe, Rocket's Circus, La Gina, Casandra, Texas Lace, Daring Darlene and Lou Havoc.

The first four to finish in each contest will battle it out in the Racing Queen Stake final on Saturday night.

Next week the Racing King Stake will follow the same schedule while the King-Queen Championship is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 23.

Last February the Racing King Stake was won by Orville Moses Fathom and he heads a fast field in tonight's featured ninth race. A victory would probably clinch a spot for him in the King Stake lineup. The speedy 67-pound brindle has already triumphed in one main event and he finished second in his last two Grade A starts.

Opposing the Moses star tonight will be Sarasota Egg King, Midterm, Ed's Tango Dancer, Meinberly, Erma Eastman, Mona Means and Sock Tray.

"It's More Fun To Watch The Greyhounds Run"

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolaki From here on in, you'll be constantly reminded of "Time Out For Fun." I guarantee you, it'll be one of the best shows FOR THE WOMEN (Dress 'em All!) that has ever come to the Sanford area.

You'll be seeing lovely models from New York City . . . the Lester Lamb Trio . . . famous dance team—Heller & Helene . . . the latest hair stylings . . . and a real handsome lug, Art Mathews, also of TV & Broadway fame.

All of this, here at Jet Lines on Thursday, March 7th at 9:30 a. m.

Well, lemme see! We had a fine turn-out for our Charles Music Co. Sunday Sweeper.

Matter of fact, these are the "Bombers" who struck more often as a result, walked home very happy and with a couple of bucks.

Heard quite a few of the folks already makin' their plans on takin' part in this coming Sunday's Scotch Doubles.

I suppose that's because of the exceptional turn-out last Sunday . . . and it wasn't even published. You remember, we had over 33 couples.

Well, anyway, just cause you've asked us for it we're going to start the Scotch Doubles at 8 p. m. . . again at 7 and the final squad at 9 p. m.

Most importantly . . . first place again carries a minimum of $50!

The St. John's Realty team in the Sandspurs Friday evening league were the league leaders in the forms of Eleanor and Anderson and Jean Monroe. Jean had high game with a 168 and Eleanor took series with her 473.

Go but that Jim Altman continues to roll a hot ball. Last Friday he continued his "pin bombin'" as he led the men in the Sanford Herald Mr. & Mrs. League with a 195 hi game and Blatin' Bill Bassett stole series by totaling 555.

Elsaine Kostival's 183/518 series was good 'nuff to lead all of the charming ladies.

Let's hop Scotch with the other league leaders and try to cover as many of the stars as space permits.

JET LANES KEGLERS . . . Don Kalmyer bounced back into print again with his 245/558 winning duo. Hey, that's a mighty big score, amigo.

SPARE TIBBERS — L. Moore shot the Big one, a 204 which was tied by Mr. Klomp who also took series with a 534.

SUNDAY NITE MR. & MRS. — Shirley Ryan and Marti Jovi were tops for the gals with a 183 & 474 respectively. Leading the other "Mistress" were Ed Korgan—191 & Bob Guthrie's 544.

NURSES—Jordan had a 157 & Harper shot a 379.

CITY LEAGUE—This league produced 24 games of 200-or-higher scores and there

George E. Turner Dies In Orlando

By Helen Snodgrass
The Enterprise Community was saddened last week at the death of Mr. George E. (Uncle George) Turner of Orlando.

The Florida Power Corp. Plant at Enterprise was named for Mr. Turner upon his retirement in 1947 after 22 years with the company. As superintendent in charge of construction with Florida Public Service, which later merged with Florida Power Corp., he was in charge when the Enterprise Plant was built in 1926.

D. J. Parker, chief of Turner Plant and Harvey Dunn, both of Enterprise, served as pallbearers at the funeral last Wednesday afternoon in Orlando. Andrews Evans, of this community, also attended.

Seminole FFA Take Judging Honors At Ocala

The Seminole High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America took second place among all the FFA teams in the state in Judging of the Southeastern Fat Stock Sale held at Ocala, Saturday, Vocational Agriculture teacher Bill West said today.
Members of the judging team were Donnie Sipes, Mike Maples and Al Goodspeed.
In seventh place in the judging was the Sanford Junior High FFA team, made up of Earl Bouquardez, Jay Richards, and Christ Akers.
"We are very proud of these boys," said West. "They were up against some stiff competition and to come off in second place is a very high honor."

Author-Lecturer To Speak For Two Casselberry Clubs

By Jane Casselberry
James Batal of Coral Gables, author and lecturer, will have two speaking engagements in Casselberry this week.

On Wednesday he will speak at the Women's Club of Casselberry at 8 p. m., following a short business meeting at 7:30 p. m. on the topic, "The Role of Arab Women in the Modern World."

During his five separate periods of extended residence in that vital region of the world—from 1943 to 1957—Batal has observed the tremendous changes that have taken place there, with women playing a significant role in the struggle for freedom by the Arab States.

On Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Batal will be guest of the Lions Club of Casselberry at a supper meeting held at 6:30 p. m. at Bill's Diner. His topic will be "The Strategic Importance of the Arab Countries to the Western World."

Retirement Center Plans Presented

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Plans for the proposed Retirement and Convalescent Home in DeBary were presented by Dr. Brooks Smith and Architect James Chapman of Sanford at last Wednesday's meeting of the West Volusia Civic Round Table held in the Recreation Hall of the DeBary Fire Station.

Robert Besserer, administrator of Seminole Memorial Hospital, the scheduled speaker, was unable to attend.

Chapman reported that the overall proposed center would cover an approximate 32,000 square feet with duplex cottages consisting of one bedroom, one bath and a kitchenette. Admission would come upon advice of an individual's private physician and although nursing care would be available, medical care would still remain on a private basis.

There would be a chapel, library, music room and art room. Garden plots and a shuffleboard courts will be included on the grounds.

The Nurses' Unit, under daily supervision of a doctor and nurse, would be in the main building which, along with the reception room and main dining room, would surround a meditation garden with foundation and benches. There also would be a recreation area with side enclosures but no roof in order to allow residents to enjoy the sunshine.

This main building, designed with two wings each containing a Day room, would accommodate 76 persons. Additional cottages would be constructed as needed.

Chapman advised that a scale model of the entire Center soon will be available for display purposes in DeBary. The business meeting of the group was held following a period of general discussion, questions and answers. Presiding was Mrs. P. Smithdeal, president.

The next meeting was set for Feb. 27 at 7:30 p. m. at the Florida Power Lounge in DeLand.

High school boys interested in cars and willing to live up to the ideals of the club are welcome to join. Anyone wishing to become a member should contact Joe Zukowski. As a fund raising project the club will sponsor a car wash on Saturday, Feb. 16, at Ed's Standard Station in Casselberry next to the Drug Store.

Elected president was Carolyn Tamm, vice president is Marsha Parks, secretary, Debra Huskin, delegate, Linda Franci and reporter Margaret Ervin.

Seventeen members, leader Linda King and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Myrtle Wilson were present at the meeting.

The girls finished their food records and discussed selling tickets for the skating party benefiting Sarepta Home.

Girls 4-H Club Elects Officers

Officers of the Sanford Junior 4-H Girls Club were elected for the coming year at their meeting last Thursday.

FRENCH FRANC

The name of "franc" first was applied to a French gold coin in 1630 by King John II because of its Latin legend: Johannes Dei Gratia Francorum Rex (John, by the grace of God, King of the Francs), according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Lyman Boys Form Car Club For Teenagers

By Jane Casselberry
A group of teenage boys who are students at Lyman High School have formed a car club which they call "The Charioteers". The newly organized group held its second meeting last Tuesday evening at the home of Joe Zukowski, North Triplet Drive, Casselberry, and elected officers.

Danny Vinson was elected president and Jim Parsons was named vice president and secretary.

The club meets every Tuesday evening, presently at the homes of the various members but they are hoping to find a regular place to meet such as a garage or barn in which they can work on their cars.

"The Charioteers" have as their purposes to promote public safety, to improve their knowledge of automobiles and to discourage drag racing on highways.

By-laws will be submitted to the Sheriff's Dept. for approval as well as to other local law enforcement officers.

The club also hopes to participate in all worthy community activities.

High school boys interested in cars and willing to live up to the ideals of the club are welcome to join. Anyone wishing to become a member should contact Joe Zukowski. As a fund raising project the club will sponsor a car wash on Saturday, Feb. 16, at Ed's Standard Station in Casselberry next to the Drug Store.

NAS Pushes For Pipeline

U. S. Navy's desire for installation of the two-mile jet fuel pipeline to the Naval Air Station was outlined to City Commissioners and a group of Sanford businessmen Tuesday afternoon by a representative of the Navy Fuel Supply Office, Washington.

Total savings in fuel transportation by barge from Jacksonville to Lake Monroe and pipeline to the base was estimated at $62,141 a year, as compared to present tank car and truck transportations.

The total figure includes $32,141 savings in actual transportation plus $12,500 in storage, $5,200 in labor at Jacksonville, and $12,500 in barge cleaning in the Jacksonville-Mayport-Sanford complex.

The Washington representative pointed to these advantages of the barge-pipeline transportation system:

- Save $32,141 in transportation cost; improve quality control; improve NAS operations by providing a third method of receiving fuel, provide storage, permit removal of storage tank cars, reduce congestion and permit reassignment of personnel; permit release of 30 government tank cars for other uses; eliminate added work at Jacksonville, and permit full-time barge assignment for fuel deliveries.
- The Navy's primary jet aircraft fuel, JP-5, is to be issued at all Naval air stations serving carrier type aircraft in order to eliminate retrimming of aircraft engine fuel controls when shifting carrier aircraft operations from ship to shore.

North Orlando voters will go to the polls on March 19 to complete their first fully elected council since the municipality was chartered five years ago by the North Orlando Co.

North Orlando Votes Mar. 19

The election date was set Tuesday night at a meeting of the Village Council with all members present except vice-mayor Bob Stephenson.

Up for election will be the three company appointed posts of Frank Fasula, Clarence Memory and Ruel Stripling.

Dates for qualifying were set from Feb. 18 through Feb. 28. Candidates must file petitions carrying the signatures of at least 10 registered voters with the village clerk.

Voter registration will open Monday and run through March 15. Offices in the Village Hall will be open on weekdays from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. and on Wednesdays and Fridays from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m.

In other business at Monday night's meeting, Councilman W. W. Anderson, in a statement of resolution denied the press, notified Mayor Fasula, in effect, that he "would continue to contest any move not completely non-discriminatory and in conformity to the best interest of the citizens."

The council also adopted the mayor's recommendation that the Volunteer Fire Dept. be reorganized under direction of Henry Ward. The village-owned fire truck may be leased or bought by the newly formed group which the council will provide with six months insurance. After that time the organization will be on its own and will come under no jurisdiction of the council.

These were the answers to that question: M. L. RABORN — "I won't say whether I will or will not change my vote."

A. L. WILSON — "I listened but I have not formed any conclusions."

J. H. CRAPPS — "I haven't changed my mind about anything."

The cabinet adopted a proposed $882 million budget today which would finance limited expansion of state government in the next biennium and pay raises over the period of about 10 per cent.

The total is about $30 million more than current sources are expected to provide in the next two years, but is a whopping slash under the record $1.3 billion the various agencies and institutions had requested.

So despite the weather hundreds of Seminole County children used the free passes given to them to attend the Seminole County Fair Tuesday, gazing at the exhibits, clambering aboard the thrill rides, eating candy apples and cotton candy, and hot dogs on sticks.

Today is the second children's day, and the weatherman holds out a hope of better luck for dampened Fair Association officials as continued drizzle, cold winds and rain may let up around noon.

Four school children won door prizes Tuesday, and four more will be given today.

First place winner was Sheila Davis, who won a bicycle; Joe Lowe, a transistor radio; Albert Stephens, a spinning reel and rod and Linda Akin, a basketball.

Drinking for the door prizes will be held at 6 p. m., Fair Association President John McCloskey said.

Judging of livestock will begin this morning as out of town judges arrive to begin their rounds.

The Fair continues through Saturday, opening at 8 p. m. today, 5 p. m. Thursday and Friday and 1 p. m. Saturday.

Ray Milwee and Pete Knowles got together yesterday for "exploratory talks" on leasing the stadium for $1 per year rental. Will come up at School Board meeting tomorrow.

The word is that Ray is cool to the idea of a new stadium out by the high school... Too expensive to maintain.

Some Junior High parents beat down a PTA last night... Funny thing but, we hear the majority of the teachers were against it. Just for the record... you don't need any majority to form a PTA.

Get well Sid Richard... we miss ya!

It will cost $585 to replace the radio tower out by Fire Station No. 2... High winds blew it down earlier in the week.

If Jake Zorian of Maitland flops with that proposed Boat marina in 180 days L. D. Plant, who can build one as a hobby is ready to go... Too bad exclusive rights were given... Plant was ready to put down $150,000 this week and is proceeding with plans if Jake flops.

House and Home Finance officials are processing that Port terminal application... Cost of the complete facility... $300,000 to $400,000.

Read somewhere (Oh where was it) that Republicans will enter the legislative races... Funny, the last time one entered, he left town... If someone threw his hat in against Mack Cleveland he might leave the earth...

Republicans didn't have enough money and gumption to get candidates to run for posts that didn't take qualifying fees, how are they going to come up with one that costs $60.
