MINOR RIOTING IS FEATURE OF RED ACTIVITIES

By Cities of Europe And U.S. Are Scenes Of Demonstrations By Radical Element

Minor disorders flared in today's observance of "international unemployment day" in the United States and Europe. Demonstrators were arrested in a number of cities after clashes with the police, especially in Washington, London, and Berlin.

A single tear gas bomb and a dozen arrests today ended a noisy demonstration which brought an "unemployment day" demonstration in front of the White House.

Several persons received minor injuries in the short, desultory struggle between police and a few leaders of the demonstrators. A few demonstrators were arrested in the order of President Hoover, the police acted when a group of demonstrators climbed to the top of the high iron railing along the Pennsylvania Avenue side of the White House grounds.

Demonstrations were held in other American cities. Police in Washington, D. C., broke up a demonstration and arrested four persons. Police in New York arrested about 100 demonstrators gathered in Union Square. New York, said the "International" had planned to demonstrate in all world cities.

There were numerous demonstrations in Europe. In London, a clash between police and demonstrators, most of which ended with the arrest of leaders. The men were injured in a clash with police in London. In Berlin, police and demonstrators were gathered. Riot also occurred in Hamburg, Berlin and Kiel.

There were many demonstrations in America. In San Francisco, a demonstration was held. In New York, a demonstration was held. In Chicago, a demonstration was held. In Boston, a demonstration was held. In Philadelphia, a demonstration was held.

PUNCH AT BAT IS IMPORTANT SAYS ST. LOUIS LEADER

Bill Killifer Thinks Young Players Are Promising Hitters

By Alan Gould
Special Press Sports Editor
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 2 (AP)—Baseball and boxing do not have a great deal in common but there is one essential factor necessary to succeed in either sport.

"A boxer must start with the punch," says Gene Tunney. "That is his main asset."

"A ball team must have good pitching and we have it," says Bill Killifer, keen-eyed, sandy-haired manager of the St. Louis Browns. "But we can use more punch at the bat."

Given another slugging outfielder of the type of Heinie Manush (improved slick work on the part of some of the other regulars and the Browns would be as formidable as any outfit challenging the hold of the Athletics on the American League championship title or is reaching for the runner while also hoping his holdout worries soon will be over.

The Browns have one of the finest pitching staffs in either league, with Gray Crowder, brawny O'Brien, and Blackie as the ace. Besides a number of prospects in training here, including Dick Coffman. They also in Killifer's opinion, one of the greatest young catchers in 24-year old Dick Farrell brother to Walter Farrell, sensational Cleveland pitcher. They have a great first baseman in the veteran Lu Eby, a fine key-one pair in Mott and Kress, two hard-hitting outfielders in Manush and Fred Schulte. There is an excellent blending of age and youth, experience and aggressiveness in the club manifest to any one who observes the spirited work under the kindly but energetic Killifer.

As it shapes up today, however, the team is the offensive strength to be more than a menace to the Athletics, although the Browns last season came as close as any club in the league to breaking even with the world champions. Unless they are carried through by a spectacular pitcher, the Browns have little chance to beat on the Yankees and they will be pressed by Detroit and Cleveland for a first division berth. St. Louis was third in 1928 and fourth last year under Dan Howley.

"If money could buy it, we would have hitting strength now," remarked Killifer. "The club has been willing to pay high for what it needs but good young players, by even good veterans, who can hit are not to be plucked at random. We made Washington a factoring offer for Gene Coekin but it was rejected. Our right field fagot would have been a great spot for the Gene. As it is we must build up with younger players."

CELERY FEDS WIN LIFELESS GAME FROM ORLANDO 5

Locals Disappointed Because "B" Team Is Used Against Them

By Lof on Edenfield
The Seminole High School basketball team closed their season last night with a somewhat disappointing victory over the Orlando "B" team by a score of 29 to 20.

The Celery Fed's invaded Orlando with hopes of facing the fast stepping Orlando quintet which goes to the state tournament at the University of Florida the last of this week. Upon their arrival they found that Coach Wright had planned to give the "A" team a rest and play the "B" team.

It was understood that in previous seasons the Celery Fed's had always crippled the Orlando quintet for their coming encounter with larger schools and that Coach Wright would not take his chance again.

The locals expected to be outplayed and out-classed by the superior quintet but had it in their hearts to give Orlando the hardest fight of the season. But when Coach Wright ran his "B" team out upon the court the entire Sanford squad lost all interest in basketball. The game had been scheduled with his "A" team and not his "B" and it seemed a shame to the local quintet.

As far as the game goes it was a very slow and one-sided affair. The Celery Fed's walked out upon the court very lifeless and played a very lifeless game. While for Orlando's "B" team they were untrained and inexperienced.

It was an easy one-sided defeat and if the locals had played their old style of basketball against the Orlando "B" team it is doubtful if the Orlando reserves could have carried the ball down the court.

Every player was a star for Sanford in the one-sided affair. Higgins, Jackson and Ponder leading the offense while Aycock, Tolson and Cain led the defense. Higgins was high point man of the game with 10 points, followed by Jackson with 9 points and Ponder with 6.

Chance and Ishell were the outstanding stars for Orlando. Chance collected 8 points and 1 foul. They displayed a great ability for floor work and running the ball.

S. H. S. (29)	Orlando "B" (20)
Higgins (10)	Chance (9)
Lake (4)	Kazakistan (2)
Aycock	Crenshaw
Ponder (6)	Ishell (8)
Tolson	Conningham (2)
Cain	Fleckenstein (2)
Jackson (9)

THE PUBLIC LOST IN THIS FIGHT!

By Burriss Jenkins Jr.

BEATS CHARLES

The Loughran-Carries bout followed the Sharkey-Scott fight. Although winning, Loughran realized at the finish he had been in a real battle. Loughran had a cut over his left eye and a bloody mouth. Charles also was cut over the left eye, but at the finish the Belgian seemed to be the better of the two. At times Charles had Loughran on the run and it required Tommy's most skillful efforts to carry him through.

ENGLISH RACER IS IN U.S. TO TRY FOR WORLD'S RECORD

Kaye Don Expects To Attain 250 Miles An Hour In His New Car

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Mar. 2. (AP)—Another carefree, smiling Englishman is in America today to challenge death and man-made speeds on the hard sands of Daytona Beach.

This time it is Kaye Don, crack British race driver, who will follow in the wheel ruts of his famous English predecessor, Major Sir Henry Segrave. Last March on the Florida sands that have cost two American speed kings their lives, Segrave drove his Golden Arrow sunbeam to the amazing record of 231.36 miles an hour.

Don, a good-natured veteran of World War flying days, will try to smash that record in a bigger, and he thinks, better sunbeam, this one a mammoth seven-ton at Palm Beach. Loughran asked heavy and tried to make his punches carry the deadening effect that one of his weight should be able to strike. But Charles had the heavier wallop, although he couldn't get it over other snare to win the battle.

creation in silver gray labeled the "Silver Bullet." It is his turn to drive because Segrave, one of his best friends, has definitely turned from automobile record-smashing to his first love, the building of a speed boat that will conquer all time standards on the water.

Don arrived in New York yesterday on the Berengaria, a few cables away from where the Silver Bullet lay crated and lashed to the forward deck. In his party was his sister, Mrs. Roberts, Louis Costello, a mite of a Frenchman who designs the racing monsters for Sunbeam, and eight mechanics. The party leaves Thursday for Florida where the tests must be made under the American Automobile Association auspices between Mar. 15 and Mar. 30.

Don is a bachelor of 26, tall, well set up, with sandy hair, a brisk tan moustache, blue eyes and a pair of deep dimples at the corners of his mouth. He drives purely for the sport of the thing, was the British champion in 1928 and 1929, has never plotted a purchase faster than 162 miles an hour, and few a bomber in France during the World War. This is his first trip to America and his biggest thrill so far was the motorcycle police escort that whisked him from the dock to his hotel to the tune of wailing sirens and scattering traffic. He thinks that automobile speeds are not yet close to the limit.

"If we could," he said, "what is done in the air, we can realize that a human being should be able to travel faster than 250 miles an hour on land. Within five years, the record should be close to 300 miles an hour. It is all a question of stream lining." The Silver Bullet which has never been driven but has a theoretical speed of 260 miles an hour is a great improvement over Segrave's Golden Arrow in every way. It has a better engine and light weight resistance. Don said the new car is 50 feet long, weighs seven tons, has two stabilizing fins to keep it on the ground, and is equipped with 14 tires 37 inches in diameter and lightly covered with rubber. The tires are tested to last four minutes at a speed of 300 miles an hour.

HARNESS RACING MEET TO BE HELD IN DELAND SOON

Speedy Trotters And Pacers Will Participate In Events

DELAND, Mar. 2.—A harness racing meet, which is reported to be one of the outstanding racing events of the Florida season, will be held in Deland Mar. 11. Many of the fastest trotters and pacers from the race tracks of Miami, Palm Beach, Longwood and other parts of Florida will compete with speedsters from other states. It is predicted that records will be broken on the half-mile, oval, dirt track, which, according to Fred Speerhase, track superintendent is in the best condition of its history.

A "grudge" race will be an interesting feature of the meet. Preceding the races begun Feb. 11 at the Volusia County Fair there was considerable discussion as to whether horses that had spent some time in training by Florida would outdistance new arrivals. The Fair races showed that those that had been here longer were the fastest. Now the new arrivals that are no longer "new," will have a chance to pay off the "grudge" race.

Races will start promptly at 2:30. The Deland Band will furnish music and Chief Shee Noo, famous Indian tenor, will sing. Dolly May, world's champion guinealess trotter, that holds the record for a mile in 2:10 without a driver, will attempt to lower this record. Another special feature will be Fred Speerhase's horse, Peety Mount, driven by a dog.

The judges are F. N. Burt, DeLeon Springs; H. S. Caywood, Paris, Kentucky; H. J. Lavigne, Marine City, Michigan; T. Myers, W. C. Jackson, Deland; Elmer Case, Daytona Beach. Official starter is J. E. Tanner, Deland.

HAPPINESS

In youth, they dreamed of happiness and fancied it to be a vague and shadowy distant joy too far away to see. They talked it on their wedding day and down along the years. As if there is some special day when happiness appears.

They loved and toiled to start the home wherein their tales were born.

Together round the garden they would gather, night and morn "Some day, if fortune smiles," said he, "we'll surely be happy here."

"We'll have a maid to do the work and one to cook," said she.

Their ship came in as time went on, but still they looked away. They had not found the perfect peace—their souls would not be glad.

For they had grieved and they had wept, and they had looked to fate.

And when at last they had gone, anxiously she said:

Now looking back, across the years, "What fun we had," she said.

"In this little home of mine, how I've a good time had. Says she, "I think I'd like to live these struggle years again."

With all their doubts and all their sighs, for we were happy then." By Edgar A. Guest.

The Plant Board apparently has plenty of brains but what it needs now is some good.

Many parts of Florida suffered from frost during the past few days, but not the relay delta.

When a man runs for office, he stands on his platform usually about as high as the average voter.

A new altitude record has been established proving that a man can go high without violating the National Act.

Speaking of the new fruit fly discovered in Orlando, Uncle Ezra in the Southern Weekly to make "show horses" that off!

Money Thompson apparently was busy checking up on Great Britain that he didn't have time to look after Chicago's finances.

The State of Massachusetts says "You get took no matter what. The world inherits the earth and then have to give it up because of the taxes."

Orlando leads a police chase the week, boy William's boys could put on a pretty good circus, what with all the automobiles in the zoo and all the fun-takers on the force.

American Bonities, both North and South, are gathering in Miami this week to determine America's sweetheart. We thought Peggy Hopkins Joyce had decided that a long time ago.

Dr. Paton, Johns Hopkins professor, says a moderate drinker has a greater life expectancy than a total abstainer. Presumably, of course, his moderation doesn't lead him to poison liquor.

If the tax committee, recently appointed by Governor Carlton, can find something to tax to which no one will object, they will not only be great economists, but wizards as well. The citizen has yet to be found who likes to be taxed no matter what the method.

The Strength Of Editorials

How many people read editorials? If you are reading this, you are one of twenty-one percent who do, according to Professor Hamilton Gray of the University of Iowa school of Journalism. Practically no one nowadays takes a newspaper because of strong, vigorous editorials, but rather for news value, comics, or other features only. The editorials gain few subscribers and only twenty-one percent of those who subscribe anyway read what the editor has to say.

In conducting the survey, Professor Gray analyzed the circulations of three large mid-western dailies which went into the homes of more than 660,000 persons. Exactly 3,237 individuals were interviewed personally. These were divided into various classes according to profession or employment. And from the investigation it was learned that:

Fewer women read editorials than men. Doctors, lawyers, merchants, are more likely to read editorials than clerks or laborers, while the old and middle aged more often read them than the young. Subject matter and the length of editorials apparently makes very little difference whether or not they are read. Most of those interviewed admitted that they could seldom tell anything about the subject matter from the caption, and usually read the editorials regardless of everything else just as a matter of habit.

While only twenty-one percent of the subscribers read editorials, sixty-one percent read something on the editorial page. Cartoons are the most popular with thirty-seven percent paying close attention to them each evening. Editorial features are very popular with women. Only one out of the twenty-one persons who read editorials at all, read all of them.

It would seem from this analysis that the editorial, the powerful mold of public opinion in the days of Dana, Greeley, and Watterson, is doomed. Comparatively few read them at all, while no statistics are available as to those who are influenced in even the slightest degree by them. The pen may be mightier than the sword as was almost universally alleged in bygone days, but in this modern era, while the sword itself has degenerated to utmost uselessness, we doubt if in a duel between these two weapons, anyone would choose the pen.

This situation has been brought about largely by ease, and quick dissemination of news, and the generally widespread possession of facts and information by the whole public. Newspapers, formerly the medium of potent editorials almost exclusively, now confine themselves largely to news. The quick transmission of newspapers and magazines to all parts of the world by trains, steamships, and airplanes, together with the telephone, telegraph, cables, radio, all contribute to give people knowledge of the progress of events so that they can form their own opinions.

They no longer rely upon the editor and his writings to show them what they should think.

Our Forest Service

The high value of the federal forest service is clearly shown when one learns that this organization has under its management 159,480,865 acres of land representing 151 named national forests. Without such a forest service it might well be expected that this country, certainly within the next hundred years, would be completely stripped of all trees. The Detroit News describes the forest service as follows:

"February 1 marked the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the federal forest service as a distinct governmental bureau. The event was fittingly observed in Washington by a dinner gathering of many of the men prominent in the success of the service."

"Starting in 1905 with very little except an idea, our forest service has grown until it now has under management 159,480,865 acres of timberland representing 151 named national forests. These are located in 30 different states and Alaska and Porto Rico. The larger part of the holdings are in virgin timber located in the west. This is harvested when mature upon a selective cutting basis, assuring a permanent continuing growth. The revenue for the last six months of 1929 from these forests totaled $3,215,164."

"Since 1905 the service has been under the administration of four of America's leading foresters, starting with Gifford Pinchot, who was followed by Col. Henry S. Graves, Col. William B. Greeley and the present chief, Maj. Robert Y. Stuart. Each in his time contributed to the success of the service until today the forest policy of the United States occupies an enviable position in governmental accomplishment among the nations of the world."

THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT, says an Associated Press dispatch, now is considering adoption of standardized low-priced dresses and shoes for the masses, along with uniform types of houses, beds and other furniture, and even standardized forms of food. After these matters have been attended to, it will be easy to go ahead and standardize the color of hair and eyes of the Russian masses, adopt standardized food and body dimensions and top the foolish variations in the size of people's noses. Standardized brain capacity also should be provided, as pure communism and that state of equality which the millennium demands can never be so long as there are people with varied mental ability. Kansas City Star.

Comptroller of the Currency John W. Cole has announced that the aggregate resources of the 2,108 reporting national banks in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii on December 31, 1929, the date of the recent call for statements of condition, amounted to $32,821,141,000, according to $28,141,000, the amount reported by 1,173 banks as of October 1, 1929, the date of the previous call, but over $4,680,000 less than the resources of 7,915 banks on December 31, 1928, the date of the corresponding call a year ago, when the aggregate resources were more than three and a half billion dollars.

Telling The World

BY NEAL O'HARA

Thank heaven for winter is practically over. Not that the weather was so tough, but we got sick of looking at rotogravure pictures of prominent people Lilliput at Palm Beach. We have seen enough pictures of Al Smith swimming and looking M. C. Statesburg at the Bath and Tennis Club ball and debaters in their silk louncing pajamas last six or seven years.

The Mediterranean foot fly didn't cure the winter in noticeable way. But if Florida had passed a law prohibiting newspaper cameras inside the State, you would have found our most prominent people staying at home. For there is nothing harder than getting unburied on the sands without a grafter in-sight.

The more we see of fashionable people posing in beach pajamas, the more we understand how Mr. Gooding attracts the popular vote sticking to old-fashioned nighties.

It has been a great season for Palm Beach and Miami Beach. There has been no raw photography to every 500 persons, and for a camera has been smashed. The height of the Florida season is now when you look into your front door.

Back in New York, Philadelphia or Chicago, you may see a big banker who is so important a banker can't get to his job with his head, and a platoon of Vice-Principals. But down in Palm Beach a tramp photographer can see only a man at the bathing machine, but you are talked to for an hour on an expenditure of your knees.

All over the indolent sands of Florida, the captains of industry jumping chains say so. They jump back to business all primed up to ride the office horse.

Folks will leave their business in the middle of winter to jump down to Daytona Beach, pay $20 a day for a bed room, $150 a month for a bath, and then wait for the sparkling champagne and a cosmopolitan or two.

In the past few weeks, we have seen more political parties than when in a bathing machine. They there are in the "regret" gallery back in New York. Another fact of the post of Governor's standing beside a bicycle at Palm Beach in a white flannel suit. We do not quite get the idea of Grobman's Policy Commission posing with a bicycle, but maybe it proves he is trying to solve the parking problem during his vacation.

You cannot keep a prominent capitalist out of town, some of the more outstanding debaters in the country. They will do anything to get the tan they've got in long as it comes out brown in the refrigerative season.

There is only one way to discourage these prominent people. They might not be so anxious to face a camera if the newspapers published nothing like this.

A few famous descriptions like those, and the paper readers would get some relief, maybe winter.

It is a fact that the total deposits of all the reporting banks and branches, or $22,774,196,000, showed an amount including reserves with the Federal Reserve bank of $1,448,046,000, down from $1,572,587,000 in the 1928 period. Racketeer Victim

FRANCINE LARRIMORE

A highlight on the attempt in Chicago to extort $1,000 from Francine Larrimore was made public recently. She is the victim of several New York racketeers threatened by racketeers in the Windy City.

Ellie Carter and others said the letters were the work of "blackheads" and paid room last night.

One of the real racketeers, who did not want Miss Larrimore to think ill of the crafty set here, on invitation to dine with him and his wife, in the sweet public place they could find, as the "small fry" could not be with a "real fry" and be afraid to meet her.

Miss Larrimore did not accept the invitation.

The tables were dressed to represent small green clover leaves while vases and bowls of golden-colored garden flowers and fern were arranged in various places about the party room.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, cast healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When you smoke, let your eyes be bigger than your shadow. Reach for a Lucky Strike instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.
