Tire Blows; 3 Die As Semi Hits Auto

Three men were crushed to death today when a tractor-trailer carrying a load of sand skidded into the path of their Ford Bronco, crashing head on. Identities of the men killed in the wreck were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The driver of the tractor-trailer rig received minor injuries and refused transportation to a hospital.

The 8:33 a.m. accident occurred on the south side of state Road 46 about three miles east of Geneva.

According to the tractor-trailer driver, Michael Thigpen, 56, of Rockledge, he was heading westbound on SR 46 when the left front tire of the rig blew, sending the 70,000 pound vehicle with its load of sand into the oncoming eastbound lane.

"I couldn't hold it," he said. "The other vehicle tried to get out of the way by going that way," Thigpen said pointing to south, "but we met about head on."

The beige Bronco is owned by Stotler Stagg and Associates, of Orlando and Cape Canaveral, according to lettering on the vehicle's door.

Thigpen, who received cuts on his head and was shaking following the accident, said his rig was carrying the sand from Cocoa to Rinker's in Sanford. The tractor-trailer is owned by Keene Hauling, of Orlando, according to the lettering.

All of the victims were dead at the scene. One was dismembered.

Hundreds Protest 'Bias Against Christians'

Pledge Fight To Change School Policy

By Roger Simmons
Herald Staff Writer

More than a 1,000 people turned out to "take a stand for righteousness and against schools that discriminate against Christians" at a rally Monday night at the Sanford Civic Center.

The rally was called by Citizens for Decency, Inc., a group headed by Rev. George Crossley of the First Baptist Church of Lake Monroe. It was intended to protest policies of the Seminole County School Board in reference to the separation of church and state provision of the U.S. Constitution.

Crossley said those in attendance donated $1,153.76 for rally expenses and a fund for legal expenses in suits against the school board.

"Or to stage more rallies," he said.

There were verbal swipes taken at the school board, but the rally's main theme became the need for the two sides to sit down and discuss school-religion conflicts.

The conflicts heated up recently when Concerned Women for America brought suit against the school board on behalf of Sanford second-grader Olivia Mendez, who was prevented from distributing religious Christmas cards to her classmates just before the holidays and 13-year-old Rebecca Reichert of Winter Springs, who's poster of a Nativity scene was removed from school because it's religious content was against school board policies.

"We were brought here to make a statement," Crossley said. Looking at the size of the audience he added, "I see we've already made one."

Crossley later made a plea for the starting of a dialogue between the school board and a group of local preachers. He said that the lawsuit against the district could be dropped if "the school board publicly apologizes to the two students involved and sits down with a group of ministers and adopts a policy that is not discriminatory towards Christians."

The school board has said in the past that it welcomed a dialogue with the group of ministers. Seminole School District Superintendent Robert Hughes met with a group of ministers in December and said he would review the district's policies on religion in schools. But the dialogue ended when the suit was filed against the district.

"We see the suit as the next dialogue to be considered," Karen Coleman, spokeswoman for the district said. "We are anticipating court action to

With Higher Bids

City Nixes Preference For Local Businesses

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

A Casselberry firm has been awarded a contract to maintain two Sanford cemeteries, despite a plea from one city commissioner that a Sanford company be given the job — regardless of its higher price.

The Sanford City Commission should help the city's economy by awarding contracts on city projects to local businesses when their bids are within close range of the lowest bid, maintained Commissioner David Farr.

Farr told colleagues at Monday's commission meeting it is better to "deal with" Sanford businesses and keep city money in the community whenever possible.

But City Manager Warren E. "Pet" Knowles said awarding contracts to Sanford businesses was the practice of the commission years ago and the policy led to higher bids as local businesses gouged the city.

"I hate to say this but our local people started taking advantage of the city" when they were given preferential treatment, Knowles said. "I strongly urge that you don't get yourself enmeshed in that situation again."

The commission followed his advice and voted 4 to 1 to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

Bids from four landscaping companies were considered for the cemetery maintenance job — Carol King Landscape, Orlando, $63,350 a year; Kat's Lawn Service, Deltona, $51,540; Andrea's Lawn and Landscape, Sanford, $35,800; and Sun State Landscaping, Casselberry, $35,000. The two cemeteries, Lakeview and Evergreen, are on 25th Street.

Knowles recommended the Casselberry company's low bid of $35,000 in a memo to the commission, saying it would save the city $1,000 a year over the current contract with more services were written into the contract. The city currently pays $36,000 a year to Future Property Services of Winter Park for landscaping services at the two cemeteries.

Farr said it was worth the $800 difference to deal with a Sanford company and keep the money in town. He recommended that when the difference in bids between Sanford companies and others was "narrow"

TV Station Plans $4 Million Facility In Lake Mary

Representatives of Orlando television station WOFL-TV channel 35 are scheduled to go before the Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board tonight to seek preliminary approval for the construction of a $4 million studio and office facility in the city.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Lake Mary City Hall, 158 N. Country Club Road.

Jim Doyas, the station's chief engineer, said WOFL will ask the city's permission to build a broadcasting complex on a five-acre tract near Skyline Road and Interstate 4. The site is close to the NCR Corp. facility next to the interstate on Lake Emma Road.

Doyas said the Des Moines, Iowa-based

Meredith Corporation, owners of channel 35, are asking the board to approve a final subdivision review that will allow construction of road for the facility, and a preliminary site plan that outlines the placement of the building on the station's land.

"We've just outgrown these facilities," said Doyas in reference to the station's current studios and offices at 2300 S. Orange Blossom Trail in Orlando. Doyas said that the station has "looked extensively" for a site for the new broadcast facility and Lake Mary was selected, in part, because of the growth that is taking place in the area.

Lake Mary City Manager Kathy Rice said she has reviewed the station's plans and saw no major problems. She said WOFL wants to build a 34,000-square-foot building with two satellite dishes, a tower and a road parallel to I-4 that will provide access to its building. Mrs. Rice said she thinks the planning and zoning board will probably approve the plan, but added that the Federal Communications Commission and the Federal Aviation Administration must approve the construction of the tower.

Doyas said that the tower will be about 200 feet high and will send signals from the station to its transmitting tower east of Orlando in Bithlo.

"It's the kind of development we want in that area," Mrs. Rice said. She added that building the station in Lake Mary will benefit the city. "It certainly will be an asset tax wise and it won't impact our services as much as another project might," Mrs. Rice said.

If approved by the planning and zoning board, the station's proposal must then be approved by the city commission.

Doyas said that if all goes as planned, ground breaking for the facility should take place sometime in July.

He said that although WOFL will be moving its headquarters to Lake Mary, it will not be looking for new employees since the station's current staff will commute from Orlando.

Skate Ramps Issue Grows

Hordes of young people gathering in back yards to use skate board ramps are noisy and disturbing neighborhoods, County Commissioner Barbara Christensen told her colleagues at a work session Monday.

She also said she has received numerous complaints from her district — the Casselberry and Oviedo areas — that skate board ramps are multiplying and residents are "objecting that the ramps are so high the skate boarders can easily see over privacy fences."

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff pointed out, however, the same children can climb a tree and see over privacy fences.

And Commissioner Fred Streetman said remarks of opponents to the ramps are being heard, while those who favor them are not.

Kirchhoff said a ramp exists in a yard across the alleyway from his Sanford home and while they are noisy, "kids are using them and they could be doing a lot of other things that are worse."

He said the ramps are a neighborhood problem that can be solved by neighbors talking to each other and agreeing on a time, say before dark, when the activity will end each evening. "This is a fad that will die out," he said.

Streetman said he approves that building permits must be obtained to be sure the ramps are safely constructed, but he added that he doesn't want to see all applications for the permits denied.

If you live in the unincorporated area of Seminole County and want to build a skate board ramp, all you have to do is get a building permit at the county services building at First Street and Mellonville Avenue, Sanford.

If you build one without first obtaining the building permit, you'll likely be taken before the county's Code Enforcement Board, charged with violating county law, says County Administrator Ken Hooper.

U.S., Moscow Swap Charges In Shooting

A "resentful" President Reagan is demanding a full explanation from Moscow on the killing of an unarmed U.S. Army officer by a Soviet soldier in East Germany. The Russians claim he was "caught red-handed" spying.

"There was no justification for this murder," Assistant Secretary of State Richard Hurt said in Washington. "There's no truth" to Soviet charges that Maj. Arthur D. Nicholson Jr. was spying when he was gunned down Sunday.

Nicholson's body was flown late Monday to the Rhein-Main Air Base outside Frankfurt, West Germany, and was taken to a military mortuary to be prepared for a flight to the United States.

Nicholson, 37, the first member of a U.S. military liaison mission in East Germany to be killed in the line of duty by Soviet troops, died in the incident Reagan labeled an "unwarranted tragedy."

The Soviets, whose account of the shooting conflicted with the U.S. version, said the officer, accompanied by another U.S. soldier, was inside a restricted Soviet military installation and was killed while escaping after a warning shot was fired.

U.S. army and administration officials said Nicholson, a Russian linguist assigned to the liaison mission based at Potsdam in East Germany, was shot in the chest in Ludwigslust, 85 miles northwest of Berlin.

Nicholson, from West Redding, Conn., was assigned to the mission in 1982 and lived in West Berlin with his wife, Karen, and their 8-year-old daughter.

Reagan said the Soviets had been asked "for a full explanation" and said, "We're resentful and feel it's an unwarranted tragedy."

Vladimir Kulagin, the Soviet Embassy's first secretary in Washington, said Nicholson was

Foreign Affairs Anyone?

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI) — "Interested in foreign affairs?" asked a recent advertisement in a Virginia newspaper.

Not an invitation to find out about government service overseas, the ad told of a new international matchmaking service operated by Virginia Beach resident Jim Mason, 43, and his Polish wife, Danusia.

Mason said he is so happy with his 31-year-old wife that he decided to help other American men seeking a "sincere relationship" to find Polish women. He has received 50 responses in the past two weeks. The service has pictures and letters from about 1,000 Polish women between the ages of 18 and 52. The letters began arriving after Danusia's mother placed an ad in a Polish newspaper.

NATION IN BRIEF

Haitians Claim Discrimination; Seek Constitutional Protection

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Haitian refugees awaiting deportation hearings say they are victims of "invidious discrimination," and have asked the nation's highest court for constitutional protection.

Ira Kurzban, representing more than 2,000 Haitian "boat people," Monday urged the Supreme Court to give his clients the same due process rights as U.S. citizens awaiting trial.

He said the refugees have traveled more than 800 miles to Florida shores, only to be detained for months or even years before their immigration status is determined.

The administration defended its policy of detaining the refugees as a necessary tool to stem the growing influx of illegal aliens into the United States.

At issue is whether aliens have the same constitutional rights as U.S. citizens to challenge incarceration before they appear in immigration court to plead their case for asylum.

A federal appeals court ruled last year that aliens who have not penetrated the border "have no constitutional rights" to challenge the way their admission to the country is handled.

Uncle Sam May Get Refund

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the General Dynamics Corp. has ordered an internal review to check reports the company improperly qualified for $15 million in federal subsidies on the construction of liquefied natural gas tankers.

David Lewis also told a House Energy and Commerce subcommittee Monday the company had dropped $23 million in claims on Navy shipbuilding contracts.

During his second day of sworn testimony, Lewis was questioned about overseas bribe allegations, mismanagement and conflicts of interest in the hiring of a top Navy official.

Lewis denied the bribery and mismanagement allegations.

He was asked about reports that General Dynamics advised the Maritime Administration several years ago it expected a 10 percent profit on construction of two federally subsidized LNG tankers when its outside auditors actually projected a 35 percent profit.

Rep. Jim Slattery, D-Kan., said the difference qualified the company for $15 million in extra subsidies from the agency.

Gerrymandering Before Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has agreed to decide the legality of the age-old practice of gerrymandering — the drawing of voting districts by the political party in power to give its candidates an advantage.

The justices Monday accepted an appeal by Indiana officials of a three-judge panel's ruling that state legislative maps drawn after the 1980 census unconstitutionally discriminate against Democrats.

Although the justices refused to accept a similar appeal from California, it is likely the high court's ruling in the Indiana case will affect congressional and state reapportionment plans nationwide.

Indiana officials contend their maps deviate less than 1 percent from the one-man, one-vote rule mandated by the Supreme Court while preserving the voting strength of minorities.

Some School Bus Drivers Have Criminal Records

TAMPA (UPI) — An examination of school system documents, state Department of Motor Vehicles records and local court files show there are flaws in the way the Hillsborough County school bus program is operated.

But despite the shortcomings, most state and local education officials rate the county's school transportation department as one of the best in the state.

Hillsborough County has 750 drivers operating 658 buses carrying 65,000 students an average of five hours each day. The fleet recorded 10.8 million miles last year.

There have been more than 100 school bus accidents in Hillsborough County since the official start of the school year in July, and most were minor.

A check of records dating back five years showed at least a dozen drivers had arrest records when hired, and that one in five drivers involved in accidents this year were at fault.

Although a security check is required for all new bus drivers, it found at least a dozen men and women drivers with arrest records, including one woman with an outstanding arrest warrant that went undetected.

FP&L 'Concerned, Not Guilty'

JUPITER (UPI) — Florida Power and Light Co. says it offers to pay for the burial of seven people electrocuted by a fallen power line was made out of concern for the victims' relatives and their needs, not guilt.

A spokeswoman for the utility company said Monday the offer is not an admission of liability in the Saturday morning accident outside a mobile home in rural Palm Beach County.

The seven members of the West Jupiter family died after a power line fell near their mobile home and caused a grass fire beside the structure.

Believing the trailer was on fire, they tried to escape in a car, a neighbor said.

But when one of the car's rear doors was opened, it touched an adjacent vehicle in contact with the power line, and 7,260 volts of electricity shot through the two cars.

New Stars Rise To Oscar Fame

A Night Of Firsts For Amadeus' Abraham, Refugee

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Amadeus," an epic on the life of Mozart, swept eight Oscars, including best picture and best actor for F. Murray Abraham, while Sally Field, Dame Peggy Ashcroft and a refugee Cambodian in his first movie role were honored at the 57th Academy Awards.

Milos Forman was named best director for "Amadeus," which also won for best screenplay, sound, makeup, art direction and costume design during Monday night's televised extravaganza.

Forman won his second Oscar. He was named best director in 1975 for "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

"Amadeus," nominated for 11 Oscars, was based on the Tony award-winning play by Peter Shaffer, who won the award for best screenplay adaptation.

Abraham, who portrayed Viennese court composer Antonio Salieri, won the Oscar for his first major film role.

"There's only one thing missing for me," Abraham said accepting the award, "that's to have Tom Hulce standing by my side."

Hulce, who played the title role, was nominated for best actor and grinned at his colleague from his seat at the Los Angeles Music Center.

Murray Abraham Sally Field

Field, who struggled to keep her family together in Dust Bowl Texas in "Places in the Heart," also won her second Oscar, having been named best actress for the 1979 film, "Norma Rae."

Field beamed at the audience, and said it was a good feeling to know "that you like me now. You like me."

Robert Benton, who wrote and directed "Places in the Heart," won an Oscar for his original screenplay based on his great-grandmother's experiences in Waxahachie, Texas.

Ashcroft, who played a British dowager unhappy with English colonial rule in "A Passage to India," and Dr. Haing S. Ngor, a Cambodian refugee who portrayed a reporter forced to flee his country in "The Killing Fields," won as best supporting actress and actor.

It was the first nomination for Ashcroft, a stage veteran who also won acclaim this year for a similar role in "Jewel in the Crown," a British series broadcast on public television depicting the end of colonial rule in India.

Actress Angela Lansbury accepted the award for Ashcroft, who was in London to attend today's funeral of her friend, Sir Michael Redgrave.

Rock star Prince, who wore a purple sequined cloak to the black-tie ceremony, won the best original song-score Oscar for "Purple Rain." Stevie Wonder won best song with "I Just Called to Say I Love You."

Seen by an estimated 1 billion people, the ABC-TV telecast ran only seven minutes over the scheduled three hours.

Cary Grant presented the Academy's Lifetime Achievement Award to his old friend, Jimmy Stewart.

DeBary Man Hurt In Train Accident Awarded $36,400

A DeBary man has been awarded $36,400 for an injury he received after he was thrown against a wall when the train in which he was riding lurched unexpectedly. In a separate civil case, trial was to begin today in the case of a Casselberry man suing a grocery store for injuries he received when run down by a shopping cart.

A six-member Seminole Circuit Court jury gave the award to Charles E. Sims Jr., of 327 Coloma Road. The jury actually awarded $65,000 but said Sims was 44 percent responsible for the results of the incident and Seaboard Systems Railroad 56 percent responsible. Sims had asked for $290,000.

According to court records, on April 17, 1981 while an employee aboard a caboose on a train heading for the Sanford terminal, Sims was injured when the train suddenly lurched and threw him against the wall of the caboose.

Sims stated in the suit that he received neck, shoulder and back injuries.

In the second suit, jury selection began Monday and trial was expected to begin today in the case of Gillis Litton vs. Winn Dixie of 944 state Road 436, Casselberry.

Litton stated in his suit that while in the store on April 20, 1982, an employee of the store operated a shopping cart "in a negligent manner." Litton states the cart struck him and knocked him into a wall or door.

He is asking for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

2 Charged With Disorderly Conduct During Drug Raid Free Without Bond

Two men arrested on charges of disorderly conduct during raids on 11 homes suspected of being drug store houses have been released without bond.

The two men were charged after they failed to obey orders to leave the scene of two of the raids, according to sheriff's reports.

Herman Harring, 23, of 2340 Randall St., Midway, was released Friday. Tommie Barnes, 41, of 1204 W. 14th St., was released Monday.

Both are scheduled to be arraigned April 3.

The 11 people arrested on drug charges during the Friday raids have been released on bond, except for Benny Arnold, 35, of 43 Lake Monroe Terrace. Arnold, who was charged with possession of cocaine, is being held without bond because he was on probation when arrested.

The raids, a joint effort of the Sanford and Longwood police departments and the Seminole and Volusia sheriff's departments, shut down what police suspected to be the major drug bases of the Goldsboro area of Sanford and the Midway district of Seminole County.

The raids were conducted simultaneously at about 6 a.m.

The amount of cocaine and marijuana seized during the raid or its value has not been determined, according to Sanford police spokesman Keith Wright. In addition to the drugs, he said two stolen guns were confiscated — a .357-Magnum pistol and a shotgun.

Suspected New Home Burglars Nabbed In Stakeout

Two men backed their truck up to a home under construction in west Sanford, ready to haul off some appliances. But a police officer was waiting for them inside, and instead they got hauled off to jail.

A high number of burglaries in the newly developed Kaywood subdivision located off state Road 46A sparked the stakeout, according to police spokesman Keith Wright. Thieves have been taking appliances and furniture being put in unoccupied homes, Wright said.

About 2½ hours after auxiliary officer Greg Smith was stationed in a home at 165 Woodridge Trail Sunday night, two men arrived in a pickup truck, Wright said. They backed the truck up to the garage and started loading it with a television and other furnishings stored there, according to a police report.

Smith radioed Sanford police who arrested the men at about 9:30 p.m. One suspect was armed with a .22-caliber pistol, the report said. The two may be connected with other burglaries in the area, Wright said.

Kevin Dale Pearson, 22, of 1141 Landmark Lane, Casselberry, and Jackie Brumagen, 23, of Union Park, were charged with armed burglary. Pearson, who was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon, remained in the Seminole County jail today. Brumagen was released on $3,000 bond.

BRAWLERS CHARGED

Two men who allegedly beat a Sanford bar owner and a bar worker with a pool stick have been arrested along with one of the pair's father who reportedly tried to interfere with the arrests, Sanford police reported.

The two men reportedly assaulted Gust Halkis, owner of Uncle Nick's Bar, and one of his employees, Tony Duncan. The men told police they were attacked at the bar at 2605 Park Drive, Sanford, on Saturday.

The pair fled and were nabbed by police in the parking lot of the bar.

Rusty Mastrotta, 29, of Orlando, and James Kenneth Lennox, 27, of 1305 Sanford Ave., Sanford, were charged with two counts each of aggravated battery at about 3:10 p.m. Saturday. Lennox was also charged with resisting arrest with violence and two counts of battery on police officers after he reportedly fought with police. He was also charged with driving under the influence.

Lennox's father, William Maurice Lennox, 74, of 1305 Sanford Ave., was arrested at the same time and charged with interfering with police and disorderly intoxication, a police report said.

Mastrotta and young Lennox were released on $2,500 bond each and are scheduled to appear in court April 8. William Lennox was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court April 3.

CHECK THEFT ARREST

Casselberry police charged a 20-year-old Casselberry man with grand theft in connection with the theft and cashing of checks stolen from a Casselberry woman.

Anne C. Wickliffe, 77, of 1649 Lake Drive, reported to police the checks were taken along with about $200 on March 8 when two men entered her home. The pair, whom she knew by their first names, were looking for yard work, a police report said.

On March 9, she discovered she had been robbed and reported the theft to police on March 20. Two of four checks stolen with values of about $400 each had been cashed, police reported. The suspect was traced through the cashed checks, the report said.

David John Alcantara of 248 Plaza Oval, was arrested after questioning at the Casselberry police station at 8 p.m. Saturday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

'GET OFF MY PORCH'

A Sanford woman has been charged with aggravated battery after allegedly stabbing a man in the leg who refused to get off the porch of her home.

Sanford police reported arriving at the woman's home at about 5:30 p.m. Saturday and seeing George Byrd Jr., of 21 William Clark Court, Sanford, sitting on the woman's porch with a stab wound in his upper left leg. Byrd reportedly told police a resident of that home at 22 William Clark Court had attacked him with a butter knife.

The woman reportedly told police the man had refused to leave her porch. She handed over a knife to police, a police report said.

Curleen Ross, 26, was arrested at her home. She has been released on $1,500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court April 8.

ARMED ROBBERY

A knife-wielding bandit took an undetermined amount of cash from the Bear Lake Food Mart, 3498 state Road 436, Apopka, at about 10 p.m. Sunday.

Clerk Deborah Ann Seeley told deputies the man entered the store, threatened her with a knife and said, "I want money, come on." She put cash from the register into a bag. The man fled and ran south with the loot, a sheriff's report said.

A LITTLE POI

A 32-year-old man whose car was stopped by a Sanford policeman after the man approached the officer's car from the rear, without slowing, when the officer was waiting to make a turn off U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and driving with a suspended license.

Police reported finding a straw containing white powder and a partially smoked marijuana cigarette in the man's car after he was stopped because of the traffic incident.

Robert Rodriguez Nonejo of 216 Hickman Drive, Sanford, was arrested at 7:55 p.m. Sunday on U.S. Highway 17-92 at 5th Street, Sanford. He was later freed on $500 bond.

NABBED AT SCENE

Sanford police nabbed two suspected burglars as they were reportedly loading loot from a home at 165 Woodridge Trail, Sanford, into a pickup truck at about 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

Police said the pair had a television and other household furnishings in the truck when they were caught. Both were charged with armed burglary after one of the men was found to have a .22-caliber pistol.

Kevin Dale Parson, 22, of 1141 Landmark Lane, Casselberry, was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested along with Jackie Brumagen, 23, of Union Park. They were being held in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

BATTERED WIFE

An 18-year-old Sanford woman reported to a sheriff's deputy that her husband tried to choke her when she visited her baby at the home of her in-laws on Sunday.

After Lisa E. Sewell, 18, of 201 W. 19th St., reported the incident deputies went to the man's home where he lives with his parents and arrested him.

Joseph W. Sewell, 21, of 730 Baywood Circle, Sanford, was arrested at about 12 p.m. Sunday. He was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court April 3.

ASSAULT ARREST

A 29-year-old Oviedo man has been charged with aggravated assault and assault after allegedly firing a shot at another Oviedo man during an argument.

Sheriff's deputies reported arresting the man after being alerted to the incident by Oviedo police at about 3 p.m. Saturday.

The man had reportedly shot at Clifford Miller. Deputies went to the suspect's home, ordered him out and arrested him, a sheriff's report said.

Mathew Dane Morgan, 29, of Route 3, Box 1885 Smithson Road, was charged in the case. He has been released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court April 8.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Charles Woods, 45, of Deltona, was arrested at 9:01 p.m. Saturday on Laurel Avenue, Sanford, after his car failed to maintain a single lane.

—D.A. Dergberts Jr., of New York City, at 8:55 p.m. Saturday after his car was seen weaving on state Road 436, Casselberry.

—Billy Michael Candy, 28, of Mt. Dora, at 1:43 a.m. Sunday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on state Road 46A, Sanford. He was also charged with driving without a license.

—Gary Edward Campbell, 32, of 180 Manor Drive, Altamonte Springs, at 3:36 a.m. Sunday on Post and Rail Road, Longwood, after he was found asleep in his car with the engine running.

—Edward Clifton Payne, 60, of 710 W. First St., Sanford, at 6:41 p.m. Saturday after his car was seen weaving and traveling slowly on First Street, Sanford.

—Gary E. Mullini, 30, of Apopka, at 7:55 p.m. Sunday on state Road 434, near Longwood, after his car was involved in an accident.

Cost Of Operating Compact Car Jumps

DETROIT (UPI) — Lower gasoline prices, and the increased efficiency of new cars, were not enough to prevent the average cost of owning and operating a typical compact car in the nation's largest cities from rising to a record 49.61 cents per mile last year, a study shows.

The 6.6 percent increase in the cost of driving a typical new compact car means a motorist paid about $5,000 last year to operate the vehicle, Hertz Corp. said in a study released Sunday.

Hertz said the rising costs in the categories of price, interest rates, insurance, taxes and maintenance more than offset lower prices at the gasoline pumps and the increased efficiency of new cars.

The new figures top the previous record of 47.19 cents per mile in 1982.

The rental-leasing firm said the drop in 1983 to 46.53 cents per mile marked only the second time since World War II that ownership and operating costs had declined.

Los Angeles continued to lead the nation as the most expensive city in which to operate a new car at 60.69 cents a mile, 3.8 cents higher than in 1983.

San Francisco was second at 58.16 cents, up 3.5 cents from 1983. New York was third at 57.25 cents, up 2.7 cents; followed by Miami at 53.47 cents, up 3.4 cents; Chicago at 52.74 cents, up 3.3 cents; Denver at 51.91 cents, up 4.1 cents; St. Louis at 51.57 cents, up 4.0 cents; and Seattle at 50.58 cents, up 3.5 cents from 1983.

The top eight cities retained their 1983 rankings, the study showed.

All 20 cities experienced a rise in costs from year-ago levels, with a 16-cent variation among them. Increases ranged from a high of more than 5 cents per mile reported in Houston to a low of just under 2 cents per mile for Cincinnati, the study said.

Cost-per-mile figures are based on a normally equipped compact car, such as a Ford Tempo, bought new and driven 10,000 miles annually for five years, Hertz said.

Figures include purchase price, including tax, loan interest, depreciation, insurance and license fees, average repairs and maintenance, and gasoline and other service station charges.

The 20-city average of 49.61 cents per mile is 8.63 percent higher than the overall 1984 national average of 45.67 cents recorded last month by Hertz, a unit of RCA Corp.

The company attributed the increase to the traditionally higher operating expenses for cars in cities because of steeper interest rates and tax and licensing fees.

Boeing Makes End Run On $748 Air Force Pliers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Those famous Air Force pliers that cost taxpayers $748 a pair last year and were reduced to $90 after a public outcry are back up to $748.

The Washington Post, quoting recently obtained government documents, said the Boeing Military Airplane Co. after agreeing to the price slash, then tacked on a $95,307 charge for "support equipment management."

The result, the Post said, was that the total price of the pliers and other tools went from the original $557,500 to a new and similar $557,500.

An engineer who testified before Congress in June said the pliers were the standard duckbill pliers that he found in a hardware store for $7.61. The only change was a small notch on the end, an Air Force parts number on the side and a black oxide protective finish.

"Dealing with these contracts is like squeezing a balloon you squeeze it in one place and it pops out in another," said Sen.

Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, who complained about the pliers when they first cost $748.

However, Boeing spokesman Allen Hobbs told the Post the charge for "support equipment management" was legitimate.

"Building and delivering this equipment requires professional controls and support," he said. "These support costs include management, financial controls, material buying, vendor cost analysis, various types of planning, computing time, fringe benefits, etc."

Lyman High In Running For National Excellence Award

Seminole County School officials have received word that Lyman High School has been selected as a semi-finalist in a national excellence in education contest.

Karen Coleman, spokeswoman for the school district, said that Lyman has been chosen as one of six Florida high schools that will be inspected for the Department of Education's Secondary School Recognition Program. The visit will mark the first time that a school in Seminole County has been selected for national consideration, Mrs. Coleman said.

Lyman, along with 143 other high schools across the nation, were chosen for inspections by an education panel that included parents, representatives of education associations and the private sector. The panelists reviewed applications from over 500 U.S. high schools that were nominated by school officers in 48 states, the Department of Education said. The applications were carefully screened and the 143 high schools were selected for further consideration.

Mrs. Coleman said the education department is sending Dr. Joe Richardson of Georgia State University to inspect the Lyman school campus. He will be at the school on April 22 and 23, she said.

After all of the 143 high schools have been inspected, the reviewers will meet in June in Washington, D.C. to discuss their findings. The inspectors will make the final selection of schools that will be given special recognition by Secretary of Education William J. Bennett.

Now in its third year, the recognition program seeks to focus national attention on the nation's strongest schools. "Its goals are to identify and pay tribute to secondary schools that are unusually successful in meeting the educational needs of all of their students, and to offer outstanding models for other schools," Jane Glickman, department spokeswoman said.

Ms. Glickman said that one key element looked at by the program is a school's ability to overcome obstacles and to adopt new approaches in an effort to improve the education students receive.

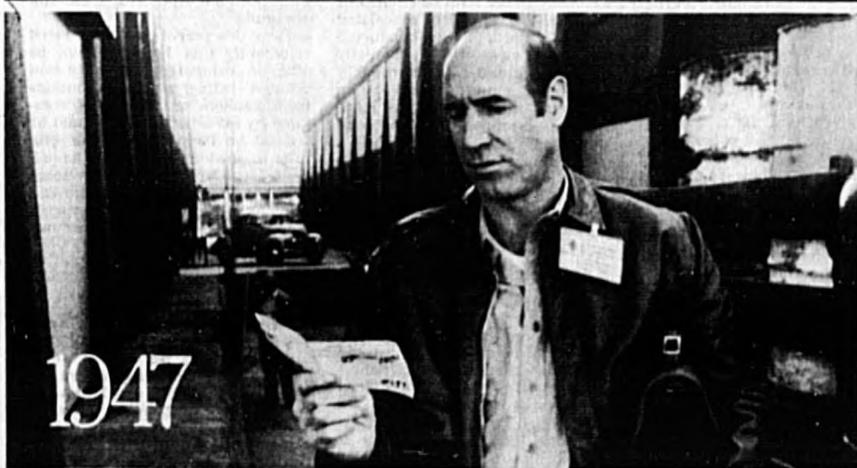

Schools participating in the Secondary School Recognition Program were examined for their overall quality on the basis of 14 criteria. They are: clear academic goals, higher expectations for students, order and discipline, rewards and incentives for students and teachers, regular and frequent monitoring of student progress, opportunities for meaningful student responsibility and participation, teachers' leadership qualities, concentration on academic learning time, positive school climate, administrative curriculum, evaluation for instructional improvement, and community support and involvement.

For many years, all the American family could count on for retirement was whatever wealth that long, hard hours of work could muster.

Later, the U.S. Government developed Social Security, and companies also pitched in with pension plans.

More recently, the IRA (Individual Retirement Account) idea meant even more help for millions of Americans.

Now, at NCNB, there are Investor Option IRAs, which, as you can see, offer more ways to put muscle in your money.

Tax Reform Is Alive But Facing Long Road

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress holds its second hearing this week on tax reform and while behind-the-scenes negotiations have kept the issue alive, more pressing problems are clouding the chances of passing legislation this year.

The House Ways and Means Committee today began its second hearing on how to simplify the nation's complex tax code, planning to listen to testimony from sponsors of the key reform bills.

Those lawmakers have recently been engaged in quiet discussions with Treasury Secretary James Baker and Deputy Secretary Richard Darman, who are trying to develop a new administration tax reform package by May.

Baker has said that virtually all parts of the Treasury Department's current proposal — which would streamline and reduce tax rates while eliminating most deductions — are open to change.

However, with debate over how to slash the federal deficit heating up, some lawmakers believe that if solid progress is not made on tax reform soon, the issue may be dead for the year.

"Unless tax reform is passed by the August 1 recess, it will not pass for the next two years," predicted Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, a member of the Senate Finance Committee. "Then we go home and then we're in the election cycle."

"Congressmen are going to be timid about changes in a tax bill even if its going to reduce taxes for middle-income people," he said.

Gorbachev In Power

Mikhail S. Gorbachev's rise to power marks a generational change in the Soviet leadership and yet another time of uncertainty for Russians and Kremlin watchers.

After the deaths in just 28 months of Konstantin U. Chernenko, Yuri V. Andropov, and Leonid I. Brezhnev, the ruling Soviet Politburo apparently decided it was time to select someone who'd be around for a while.

Only hours before Mr. Chernenko's passing March 10, the 11-member Politburo installed, and the 315-member Central Committee rubber-stamped, the balding, 53-year-old Gorbachev as the youngest Communist Party leader in the USSR's 67-year-old history.

With degrees in law and agronomy, Mr. Gorbachev also is the best educated Soviet leader since Lenin. His reputation as a sophisticated politician was enhanced during a visit to Great Britain last year in which he managed to charm the "Iron Lady," Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Before anyone gets their hopes up about a "liberal" Soviet leader, however, one should keep in mind that Mr. Gorbachev has been a dedicated communist and "apparatchik" since his youth. His political survivability is demonstrated by the fact that as Soviet agricultural boss, he won promotion to the Politburo after six bad harvests.

Style has little to do with substance in the Soviet Union. Mr. Gorbachev's mentor, the late Mr. Andropov, duped "freeze-niks" here with his reported love for jazz and bourbon; yet many believe he also plotted the attempted assassination of Pope John Paul II.

While Kremlin succession remains a mystery, the unprecedented quickness of Comrade Gorbachev's ascension suggests the transition of power was worked out well in advance, possibly in order to avoid another international embarrassment of giving the job to someone with a brief life expectancy.

Mr. Gorbachev's immediate predecessor, Konstantin U. Chernenko, is likely to only be a footnote in history books with his 13-month sickbed effort to stop economic reforms initiated during the equally brief rule of Mr. Andropov before him.

Because of his relative youth, Mr. Gorbachev should be around much longer and thus make more of an impact. At the same time, it also may take years for Gorbachev to consolidate his power, especially if his rise has been brokered. For the near future, Politburo elders may be inclined to give the posts of president and prime minister to others.

Better to learn what Mr. Gorbachev stands for before embracing him too enthusiastically.

Accent: Ignorance

The challenge facing the West in regard to the developments behind the Kremlin walls is how to pronounce the last name of the new Soviet leader, Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

The New York Times tells its readers to pronounce it "Gor-bah-CHAWFF," with the accent on the last syllable. The Los Angeles Times advises its readers to pronounce it "Gor-BAH-ehof," with the accent on the middle syllable.

Professor Jerry Hough, a Soviet expert, says The New York Times is right. The fact that journalists can't agree on how to pronounce Gorbachev's name measures the depth of our knowledge about the Soviet Union.

Bombs Away—With Banana Split Syrup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress appears sorely divided over whether to provide funds for more MX missiles. Perhaps it would make the MX issue less controversial if the nuclear warheads were replaced with ice cream.

Just how an ice cream bomb might go down at the disarmament conference in Geneva must remain a matter of speculation at this point. There is no doubt, however, that some members of Congress think more highly of ice cream than they do of the MX.

Lawgivers will have a chance to examine the issue more closely at an "ice cream social" at the Capitol. That June 20 event will signal the start of the third annual "Ice Cream for America" celebration, which will last all summer.

The big question is whether the Soviets share America's passion for frozen confection. If they do, then dropping ice cream bombs on Soviet cities might render the Russians too fat to fight.

Proposals to arm the MX with ice cream could be used as bargaining chips by American disarmament team as surely as they have become bargaining chips in President Reagan's budget negotiations with Congress.

Some Pentagon weaponeers see the ice cream bomb as the answer to the dread snow bomb the Soviets presumably have trained on the U.S. Capitol.

Intelligence reports indicate the Kremlin is well aware that a light dusting of snow is all it takes to paralyze the U.S. government.

The Soviets don't even have to deploy the snow bomb to make it effective. Just the threat of a snowstorm is enough to panic this city.

It should be pointed out that work on the ice cream bomb is still in the research stage. Some experts doubt such technological problems as melting and choosing the most satisfactory flavor can be overcome.

There are highly placed scientists, including some with access to the White House, who insist the United States would be better served by spending any research money on a jelly bean bomb.

They note that jelly beans have a solid-state quality that makes melting a minimal problem. Moreover, several conflicting flavors, including raspberry and licorice, would be placed together in the same warhead.

Detractors doubt, however, whether jelly beans would be fattening enough to match the corpulent potential of ice cream. According to Defense Department sources, the butterfat content of ice cream can be stepped up so that even moderate consumers would gain weight.

Their analysis indicates that jelly beans are widely viewed as more suitable for service as intermediate range between-meal snacks than for heavy duty as a dessert.

Would Soviet officials, including those responsible for civil defense preparations, be able to resist free ice cream falling from the sky?

Or would they eat their fill on the spot and take some home for the wife and kiddies?

Proponents of the ice cream bomb are banking on the latter. Possibly the picture will become clearer during National Ice Cream Month in July.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Credits Are Not Welfare

If one follows the syndicated columns and the political journals, one soon discovers that this is the season for what a number of commentators refer to as "corporate welfare."

One of my favorite conservative columnists, Jack Kilpatrick, recently argued that tax credits to corporations for new equipment "are outright subsidies to industry, in no way distinguishable from subsidies as food stamps for the poor." While I always respect Mr. Kilpatrick's opinions, I believe he and others who take this view are seriously mistaken. A tax credit is not welfare.

The program specifically criticized by Mr. Kilpatrick is the accelerated cost recovery system under which companies can write off certain expenditures for new machines and equipment in five years. Companies which invest in new machines and equipment receive tax benefits, but the country gets something substantial in return — more modern industrial facilities.

Mr. Kilpatrick believes that new plants and equipment would have been ordered without the tax credits. Many people believe otherwise. America's industrial facilities were rapidly becoming obsolete when the tax provision was introduced. The country still has a long way to go towards full modernization. Other countries provide their industries much more generous incentives from investment in new facilities.

In any case, the federal government doesn't give money to companies; it simply doesn't take so much away in taxes. Therefore, tax credits aren't subsidies. Food stamps, however, represent a transfer of wealth from the productive to the non-productive. They are strictly welfare payments. It's unfortunate that a welfare program is confused with a provision of corporate tax policy.

The U.S. tax system always has recognized various public interests. Since 1917, the tax code has allowed taxpayers to take very substantial deductions for gifts of art to museums. This is of benefit to donors of art works. Without the system, however, museums and art galleries would be unable to acquire new works.

Every church, private college and hospital in the country depends on the tax deductibility of gifts. They simply could not continue without tax-deductible gifts. Yet critics might argue, employing Mr. Kilpatrick's logic, that these are unwarranted subsidies by those taxpayers who have no interest in these institutions.

Arranging our tax system in this manner is an American tradition. It's the way we do things; the way we finance all sorts of activities.

IN TALLAHASSEE

Turnabout For Lewis?

By William Cottarell
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Comptroller Gerald A. Lewis, who won his first two statewide races by depicting incumbents as too cozy with businesses they regulated, may be vulnerable to that kind of accusation himself next year.

Last week's revelations about his minor, but politically embarrassing relationship with officers of the defunct ESM Government Securities Inc. of Fort Lauderdale may well provide an opponent with considerable campaign fodder. Lewis has already begun his re-election campaign organizing, and so far has the field to himself.

After Gannett News Service reported that he had received $7,000 in campaign contributions from four people and a law firm associated with ESM, and had twice conducted routine reviews of the company before it folded, Lewis quickly issued a statement last week saying the contributions in no way influenced his examination of the company's finances.

The amount involved is minuscule — less than six-hundredths of 1 percent of the $1.2 million Lewis raised in his re-election race four years ago — but the collapse of ESM after two reviews by the comptroller's office could be damaging.

ESM, which went out of business March 4, has been accused of defrauding investors of more than $300 million. Some of those investors included Ohio savings and loan associations that were temporarily closed in an emergency stopgap measure last week.

Although the information reported in the Gannett story is basically accurate, the conclusion which that story invites — implying even a hint of impropriety — is absolutely inaccurate," said Lewis. "My actions as a regulator and a public official have never been and never will be influenced by contributions to past campaigns."

A day after the Gannett report, Florida Auditor General Ernest Ellison issued an annual review of the Department of Banking and Finance. Ellison said a spot check of annual financial reports required from the 3,100 securities firms Lewis regulates had disclosed that about 40 percent of the companies had not done so.

Lewis had sent a form letter to the delinquent companies Dec. 3, telling them to get their reports in. An aide said ESM was not among those filing late. ESM's next report would have been due April 1, if it was still operating.

Early this year, Lewis announced reluctantly that he would not be able to campaign for re-election without taking any contributions from bankers or companies regulated by his department. He said he wished he hadn't made that promise in previous campaigns, having been criticized for taking some donations from bank directors and other contributors his campaign committee might not have known were in the finance business.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Blunder On The Right

NEW YORK (NEA) — Three of the ablest young Republican conservatives in the House of Representatives are, with the best of intentions, making a serious mistake in their effort to shape U.S. policy toward South Africa.

This year's big liberal push against South Africa is enshrined in HR1460, a destructive blunderbuss of a bill promoted by liberal Democratic Reps. Stephen Solarz, William Gray and Howard Wolpe. Cosponsored by 105 members of the House, this grotesque mess would ban the sale of Krugerrands, bar American loans and technology sales (including computers) to South Africa, require all American businesses operating there to abide by the "Sullivan principles" (of which more below), compel U.N.-supervised elections in Namibia (South-West Africa), etc.

Enter Reps. Robert Walker (Pa.), Newt Gingrich (Ga.) and Vin Weber (Minn.) — three youthful conservatives ... HR1460, they declared, went too far, but in its place they offered a bill of their own.

Their bill would direct the U.S. representative on the International Monetary Fund to oppose IMF loans to any country that has an official segregation policy (South Africa — great! think the liberals), or is involved in international terrorism (the Soviet Union? — well...) or illegal drug trafficking (Cuba? — er...). It would strengthen a ban on importing products made with slave labor (Russia again), and prohibit economic or military assistance to nations that vote against the United States in the United Nations more than 85 percent of the time. Specifically with regard to South Africa, it would deny federal contracts or economic assistance to any U.S. company doing business there that refused to abide by the Sullivan principles.

Now, the Sullivan principles are a basically praiseworthy set of guidelines under which cooperating American businesses in South Africa promise to provide equal pay and working conditions for black employees, permit black unions, and provide housing subsidies and such for black workers.

The Sullivan principles have undoubtedly advanced the welfare of black workers in South Africa.

But there are exceptions to every rule (e.g. the John Deere case, in which a tractor company wanted to spend money on retaining black workers on the payroll during a slack period, but could only acquire "points" under the Sullivan principles by laying them off and spending the money on workers' housing instead).

That's the trouble, gentlemen, with barging into remote and unfamiliar situations.

The Crack Is Back, Hagen No-Hits Seabreeze With 11 Strikeouts

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

DAYTONA BEACH — Eric "The Whip" Hagen rediscovered the crack in his fastball and the control of his curve Monday afternoon as the Lake Mary right-hander hurled a no-hitter in a 14-2 Five Star Conference baseball victory over Seabreeze at City Island Park. The game was stopped after six innings due to the 10-run rule.

Hagen, 3-0, finished with 11 strikeouts and just one walk. He was perfect through the first three innings, striking out six of the nine hitters. It was Hagen's second no-hitter of his career. Last year, he no-hit West Orange.

"The Whip was tough," said Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle about his hard-throwing senior. "He threw mostly fastballs and kept them off balance with his curve."

Lake Mary, ranked No. 6 in the Florida Sports Writers Prep Poll, improved to 15-3 overall and 12-1 in the conference. Lyman, ranked No. 7 in the poll, lost to DeLand, 11-10, in eight innings Monday to fall into third place. Lyman is 15-4 and 8-4. DeLand moved into second place with a 10-6 and 9-3 mark. There are five conference games to play.

While Hagen blew away the hitters, Ron Natherson and Brett Molle continued their torrid hitting. Natherson, a senior second baseman, slapped four singles and drove in four runs to boost his batting average to .333. Molle, a junior right fielder, singled and doubled and drove in three runs to improve his average to .371. Donald Grayson, Saturday's hero in a victory over Lyman, rapped two singles.

Lake Mary gave Hagen a 2-0 lead in the first when Shane Letterio walked. Scott Underwood was hit by a pitch and Rod "C.J." Metz walked to load the bases. Kevin Hill struck out for the second out but Natherson socked a single to left center to plate both runs.

Lake Mary upped its lead to 6-0 in the third as Letterio, who was on base three times and stole two bases, walked and stole second. Underwood reached on an error by the second baseball which moved Letterio to third. Underwood then stole second. Metz popped up and Hill fanned again but Natherson came through with another clutch two-out single to score two runs.

Natherson then advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Grayson. Anthony Laszale, dhing for Hagen, walked and Molle followed with a single push the lead to 6-0.

Eight more runs in the sixth inning put the game out of reach. Ryan Lisle doubled to open the frame and scored on a single by Letterio, who then stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. Underwood popped out but Metz drilled a double to deep left center to score Letterio.

Hill followed with an infield hit which pushed Metz to third where he raced home on a wild pitch. Natherson and Grayson followed with base hits to load the bases. A wild pitch scored another run and Molle doubled in two more. Letterio's sacrifice fly on a strange 8-2-3 double play on which Molle scored before Lisle was doubled off first base completed the scoring.

Seabreeze, 4-12 and 3-10, scored in the fourth on a walk, stolen base, wild pitch and a sacrifice fly. In the fifth the Sand Crabs pushed across a run on a three-base error when Natherson dropped a short pop fly and a wild pitch by Hagen.

Lake Mary travels to Spruce Creek Wednesday. Tuttle said Neal Harris will pitch. The Rams played again Monday without Mike Schmit. Tuttle said he may be out two or three weeks with mononucleosis.

Sheffield Subdues Patriots On 3 Hits

By Chris Flater

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Up until Monday night, the 1985 season for Sanford's Fighting Seminoles was one of almosts. The Tribe came close a few times to beating the frontrunners in the Five Star Conference but could never pull off an upset.

That all changed Monday night though as the Seminoles got a strong pitching performance from Brian Sheffield and an excellent defensive ballgame from Dexter Franklin en route to a 4-2 victory over the slumping Patriots of Lake Brantley High in Five Star action at picturesque Lake Brantley Stadium.

"We beat a really good team tonight," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said. "We've been close a lot of times this season. I'm really impressed with the way the kids came back after getting blown out (17-8) by Lake Howell."

Seminole improved to 7-10 overall and 3-8 in the conference while Brantley, which has lost five of its last seven, fell to 7-6 in the Five Star and 12-9 overall.

Seminole will try to knock off Apopka Wednesday afternoon at Apopka while Brantley returns to action Wednesday night when it hosts last-place Mainland.

After falling behind, 2-0, in the top of the first, the Seminoles rallied for three runs in the bottom of the frame. Seminole was the home team Monday since its field isn't ready yet and they were visitors the last time they played at Brantley.

After the first inning, not much happened offensively as Sheffield stymied the Patriots' bats and Brantley's Pat Lusk kept the Tribe's aluminum WINTER PARK — Jorge DeMonte allowed just a fourth-inning single and his Lake Howell teammates backed him with 16 runs as the Silver Hawks destroyed Mainland, 16-0, in Five Star Conference baseball at Lake Howell High Monday afternoon. The game was stopped after four and one-half innings due to the 10-run rule.

Lake Howell improved to 10-10 overall and 6-7 in the conference. The Hawks travel to Lyman for a 7 p.m. game Wednesday. A game set for Friday against Seabreeze at Daytona Beach was been rescheduled for Thursday.

Lake Howell used the red-hot bat of Ed Taubensee to score in every inning. Taubensee, who had four hits in a win over Seminole Friday, singled twice and drove in four runs in three trips. The left-handed hitting junior raised his average to .385.

Lake Howell made things easy for DeMonte to record his third win in eight decisions by scoring two in the first, eight in the second, one in the third and five more in the fourth.

In the first, John Canfield walked and stole second. Mark Schmitker followed with a walk and when losing pitcher David Livesay tried to pick Canfield off second, both runners moved up. Ernest Martinez flew out to center but Taubensee drilled a single to right for a 2-0 lead.

In the second, the Silver Hawks sent 13 hitters to the plate. With one out, Dave Marlette walked and moved to third on two wild pitches. Canfield then walked and stole second. Schmitker walked to load the bases and Ernest

Crazy Plays Doom Lake Brantley, 4-1; Oviedo Rolls, 24-2

By Chris Flater

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Taking advantage of three Lake Brantley errors, DeLand's Lady Bulldogs scored three times in the top of the sixth to break a 1-1 tie en route to a 4-1 victory over the Lady Patriots in Five Star Conference action Monday at Lake Brantley High.

DeLand moved to within a half game of Lake Howell with the win. The Bulldogs are 4-1 in the conference while the Lady Hawks are 4-0. DeLand also improved to 9-1 overall. Lake Brantley now stands at 5-8 overall and 2-4 in the conference.

"When we stop making these crazy plays we'll be all right," Lake Brantley assistant Debbie Frank said. "The four games we have lost in conference are all on errors. We have to stop beating ourselves."

DeLand scored once in the third to break a scoreless tie but the Patriots tied it in the bottom of the fourth. With two outs, Mandy Mathieson singled to right and moved to second when the outfielder bobbled the ball. Mathieson came around to score when Holly Hagaman reached on an error.

DeLand came back with three unearned runs in the top of the sixth and shut the Lady Patriots down the rest of the way. Brantley managed just five hits in the game, one each by Angie May, Mathieson, Denise Burke, Niki Burke and Deana Jeffers.

Lake Brantley returns to conference play today at 4:15 when it hosts Mainland. The Lady Bulldogs are at Lyman today at 4:15. In other Five Star games today, Seminole hosts Lake Mary at 4:15 and Lake Howell goes to Daytona Beach to take on Seabreeze.

Conference play at Red Bug Park.

Oviedo improved to 7-7 overall and 4-1 in the OBC with the win. The Lady Lions go to Orlando today at 4 to take on conference rival Jones.

Sophomore shortstop Caroline Chavis had a pair of hits in the first-inning uprising including a two-run homer, her first of the season. Oviedo also capitalized on a number of walks in the inning.

The Lions had 19 hits for the game, which was called after four and a half innings because of the 15-run rule. Chavis led the way as she went 4 for 5 with seven RBIs. That enabled her to move into a tie with Seminole's Janet Hauck for the county RBI lead.

Dee Dee Beasley stroked three hits and drove in four runs for the Lions while Jessica Bradley was 3 for 5. Barbara Malone had a pair of hits and three ribbles. Jodi Switzer was 2 for 2 with two RBIs and Fran Foster and Mikki Eby added two hits each.

Caroline Chavis drove in seven runs with four hits Monday as the Oviedo Lady Lions squashed Bishop Moore, 24-2.

'Take that, Colonel,' says Lake Howell's Sandy Gillies. The Lady Hawks' smooth second baseman fired to Ava Gardner to complete a double play against the Lady Grenadiers in the Lake Howell Invitational Saturday at Red Bug Lake Park in Casselberry. Lake Howell, which hold a one-half game lead over DeLand in the Five Star Conference, plays at Seabreeze today.

Devil's Evil Possesses Baseball Players

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Denny McLain faces up to 75 years in prison. Joe Pepitone gets caught red-handed with cocaine, heroin, and a loaded hand gun. Daryl Scotters voluntarily turns himself in for drug rehabilitation.

Why is someone up there suddenly on our national game? What is this devil's evil that is subverting so many of our "Blessed Boys" and how long can it continue? Where will it all end?

"If I knew the answer you'd have to stand in line to talk to me because I'd be the smartest man in the world," says Vida Blue, who let's you know right up front he's not.

Blue, who started this spring as a non-roster candidate with his old club, the San Francisco Giants, has pitched so well he has won himself another shot with them. At 35 he is no longer counting his birthdays, although he did celebrate something of an anniversary a few days ago. He did it very quietly.

Last Thursday was exactly one year that Vida Blue was released from the Fort Worth federal prison where he served 81 days for his involvement with drugs and drug handlers.

Milton Richman

Willie Wilson, Willie Aikens and Jerry Martin, all of whom were teammates of Blue with the Kansas City Royals, did time with him in the same slammer, but Blue took the hardest fall of all. Bowie Kuhn considered his transgressions the more egregious. Possibly to make Blue think about them a little longer, he booted him out of baseball for one year.

With Jack Clark and Al Oliver gone and Vida Blue being the most recognizable name with the Giants, most of the writers visiting their camp naturally make a bee-line to interview him.

He's astonished by the avalanche of attention he's getting. As much, if not more, than when he was baseball's hottest commodity as the American League Cy Young Award winner in 1971 with the Oakland A's.

"Questions, questions, questions," he said without showing any irritation over them. He was talking about all the questions that have been asked him regarding drugs and his experience with them. "I don't think it's newsworthy any more. It's been dwelled on so long it has gotten to be old news with the fans as well as with myself. I have no objections to the questions though. Through my recovery program, talking about what happened helps me with my overall sobriety and I grow from that, too."

Blue is bright, thoughtful and articulate. He fully realizes what a dreadful scourge the combination of alcohol and drugs has become not only in baseball, but in our entire society. Nonetheless, he is unable to offer any great new ideas for solving the problem.

IN BRIEF

Mouse Turns Loose Defense As Gold Crushes San Antonio

DENVER (UPI) — Denver Gold coach Mouse Davis gained notoriety last season as an offensive innovator with his run-and-shoot offense. He may gain more attention this year with a black-and-blue defense.

The Gold defense forced six fumbles and quarterback Vince Evans turned two of them into touchdowns Monday night, powering Denver to a 16-2 victory over the San Antonio Gunslingers.

Davis, an offensive coordinator of the Houston Gamblers, installed the run-and-shoot, making a star out of quarterback Jim Kelly. He has brought the same alignment to Denver and Evans has handled it well.

Evans converted Gunslinger turnovers into a 5-yard touchdown run and a 1-yard scoring pass to Leonard Harris. Brian Speelman kicked a 47-yard field goal after another San Antonio fumble.

San Antonio starting quarterback Whit Taylor completed only seven passes for 53 yards before being relieved in the fourth quarter by Fred Mortensen, who quickly threw an interception. A bad snap on a Denver punt with 1:55 left to play gave San Antonio a safety to avert a shutout.

Denver improved to 3-2 while San Antonio dropped to 1-4.

Knicks Lose King Permanently

The New York Knicks were quickly reminded what life without Bernard King is like.

With King — the leading scorer in the NBA with a 32.9 average — the injury-plagued Knicks have been losing steadily; in their first game since he was lost for the rest of the season, they were blown away.

The Milwaukee Bucks thumped the Knicks 126-106 Monday night, after the New York learned the extent of the knee injury King suffered Saturday. In the course of examining the star forward's twisted knee Monday, doctors discovered a torn ligament and torn cartilage. Surgery is a possibility.

"We miss (Bill) Cartwright and (Truck) Robinson and all they do," Knicks coach Hubie Brown said. "And on top of that, you lose your leading scorer for 17 games, which is what King has missed all season, and on top of that we're without Pat Cummings, one of our leading players."

"It's been a very frustrating season. It's no fun at all when your major players are out. I thank (Buck coach) Don Nelson for taking it easy on us."

Elsewhere, Kansas City beat Seattle 121-106 and Portland blasted the Los Angeles Clippers 122-99.

Brotten's Goal Tops Canucks

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — When the Vancouver Canucks jumped to a 2-0 lead early in the first period, Minnesota center Neal Brotten thought he was watching a replay of the North Stars' game with Calgary last week.

Minnesota battled back for a 4-4 tie against Calgary last Monday, but Brotten exceeded his expectations Monday night by scoring the deciding goal in a 5-3 victory over the Canucks.

"When we got down 2-0 again, it seemed like the same old North Stars," Brotten said. "It's really frustrating getting off to a poor start like that and having to battle back. It seems like we keep waiting for something to happen at the beginning of the game."

"We've got to play every game from here on out like it's a playoff game."

Brotten scored with 3:02 left on a bad-angle wrist shot that beat goalie Frank Caprice high to the short side to put Minnesota ahead 4-3.

"The winning goal was a bit of a long shot," Canucks assistant coach Ron Smith said, "but it was a bad play at center ice that caused it. Our guys skated right past the puck."

Thornton Wants Fast Recovery

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Andre Thornton spent a quiet night in a downtown Cleveland hotel "mentally preparing" for arthroscopic surgery on his left knee this afternoon.

"I plan to get a good night's rest," the Cleveland Indians' veteran designated hitter said Monday night. "And I'll ask God that my recovery be as swift as possible."

"I know I'm in good hands. Faith will get me through this."

Indians team physician Dr. John Bergfeld said Thornton may return to the lineup in as little as three weeks.

Bergfeld performed an arthrogram Monday at the Cleveland Clinic, and said Thornton's immediate prognosis was very satisfactory.

"Dr. Bergfeld said there was torn cartilage involved, but expects the arthroscopic surgery to repair that," said a team spokesman. "It's really the best scenario we could have hoped for."

Bergfeld said the recovery time could take as long as five weeks, but noted Thornton's all-around health as being in the player's favor.

Hipple Stops Rumors, Signs Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — Quarterback Eric Hipple may have a future with the Detroit Lions after all.

Despite rumors he was about to be traded, Hipple Monday signed a new 2-year contract with the Lions, the team announced.

While terms of the contract were not announced, Hipple, who played in only eight games last season because of a knee injury, is believed to have signed a deal worth nearly $700,000 in salary, bonuses and incentives.

"I'm very happy with the signing," Hipple said in a statement. "It gives me a vote of confidence and eliminates the uncertainty of my future here. It also gives me the opportunity to continue to produce as a Detroit Lion in what I believe is the greatest sports town in the country."

Furman Selects Estes As Coach

GREENVILLE, S.C. (UPI) — New Furman basketball coach George "Butch" Estes said he plans to emphasize academic standards in his effort to rebuild the struggling Paladin program.

"One of my goals is to make sure our athletes graduate, and I think the university lends itself to that," said Estes, who was named coach Monday, replacing Jene Davis who resigned last month.

"Another goal I have is to increase the support for the entire athletic program and attendance at our basketball games."

Estes moves over from Presbyterian College, which in his five years as coach he turned from a perennial loser into a 20-victory team that scaled the NAIA national rankings.

Davis cited both high academic standards and a lack of school support for his inability to post a winning season. Furman won only seven games this year, its fifth straight losing season.

Hawthorne Outruns Kinley

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Running a trouble-free race for a change, talented teenage race driver Casey Hawthorne put his family-owned Mustang in victory lane, besting Wild Bill Kinley, Junior Simmons, Dale Howard and hard-charging Ted Mitchem of Sanford Saturday night at the New Smyrna Speedway.

David Rogers, meanwhile, continued to dominate the late model action, as he won the 25-lap late model feature.

But LeRoy Porter, driving ALL-PRO regular Daniel Keene's back-up car, was putting on the show for the fans, as for the last two weeks, he and former track champion Joe Middleton, who finished third, have been fighting tooth and nail for the second spot. Fourth and fifth were Harold "Fat Rat" Johnson and Prof. Duke Southard.

After a crowd-pleasing wheel to wheel battle for the lead with Mark Sills, fastest qualifier/fastest heat winner Richard Proulx drove the Motocare machine to victory in the 20-lap thundercar main. Sills held on for second, followed by previous week's winner Tommy Patterson, Jerry Burbaugh and Mike Barfield.

The top four-cylinder finishers were Bobby Sears, Richard Boggs, Billy Hovven, Ray Symons and Steve Thompson. A 50-lap late model race will highlight this coming Saturday's End of the Month Championships for all divisions.

O's Hurlers Solid Again

United Press International

The Baltimore Orioles' chances of once again challenging for the American League East title are looking better every day.

Ned Yost drove in two runs Monday to lead the Texas Rangers to a 2-0 victory over the Orioles, but Baltimore's pitching was again sharp.

Scott McGregor pitched six innings for Baltimore, allowing six hits and both runs. Dennis Martinez, Tippy Martinez and Don Aase limited Texas, 7-7 in exhibition play, to no runs and one hit over the final three innings.

Yost's first RBI came in the fourth inning with a single off first baseman Eddie Murray's glove that scored Gary Ward from third base. In the sixth inning, Yost doubled to left off McGregor, scoring Bill Stein.

Wayne Gross homered off Dave Schmidt in the ninth inning for Baltimore's lone run. Texas starter Dave Rozema allowed six hits over five innings, but had to work out of frequent jams to get the victory.

At Scottsdale, Ariz., Ray Burris, Bob McClure, and Pete Ladd combined on a three-hit shutout to lift the Brewers. Burris, who was 13-10 with the Oakland A's last year, pitched six innings and gave up all three hits. He struck out three. McClure went two innings and Ladd worked the ninth.

At Mesa, Ariz., Otis Nixon atoned for a ninth-inning error by scoring Junior Noba with a 13th-inning single to lead the Indians. Nixon dropped Brian Dayett's fly to center field with two out in the ninth, allowing Gary Woods to score the tying run from first base.

At Palm Springs, Calif., Barry Bonnell drove in two runs and three Seattle pitchers combined on a five-hitter. Winning pitcher Matt Young held the Angels to three hits and an unearned run through six innings.

At Yuma, Ariz., Steve Garvey drove in a run with a third-inning single and Mario Ramirez hit a fourth-inning sacrifice fly, lifting the Padres. Dave Dravecky, who went 5-2-3 in the second game.

At Dunedin, veteran right-hander Doyle Alexander and Ron Musselman combined on a six-hitter to lead the Blue Jays. Toronto improved its Grapefruit League record to 13-3.

At Clearwater, a two-out single in the eighth inning by Luis Aguayo knocked in the winning run, helping the Phillies come from behind in a game played before a record crowd of 5,830 at Jack Russell Stadium.

At Tampa, Cesar Cedeno doubled home two runs in a five-run third inning to lift the Reds. Eddie Milner, Duane Walker and Dave Parker had RBI singles in the inning.

Poetic Judge: Daylight Is All Right For Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI) — A poetic judge, invoking Chicago tradition, has refused to allow lights at the home of the Cubs, saying fans have believed for generations that baseball's inventor "never intended for the game to be played at night."

Cook County Circuit Judge Richard L. Curry Monday rejected a challenge to ordinances banning lights at Wrigley Field in a 64-page ruling that borrowed liberally from baseball lore and even a famous song about the sport.

The Tribune Co., owners of the team, had sought a court order striking down a state law and a city ordinance passed to keep lights from being installed in the nation's second-oldest ballpark, and the last one without lights.

Tribune officials filed notice they would appeal the ruling. "We consider this very, very serious business, and we, of course, have appealed that decision," Cubs general manager Dallas Green said. "We're going to hopefully accelerate that appeal so we can get about running our business as a baseball business should be run."

Curry challenged the idea that baseball should be a business like any other.

"For generations now," he wrote, "baseball fans ... believe as an article of faith that Abner Doubleday never intended the game to be played at night; that vines and heroes grow better in the sun; that one 'homer in the Gloamin' is worth a hundred hits into the blackness of night and that Wrigley Field is indeed a Mecca for the baseball purist."

Curry, who described himself as a "sports fan" in a footnote to the opinion, began the ruling with a poem. He said the lyrics summarize the issues involved in the Tribune Co.'s attempt to light up 70-year-old Wrigley Field.

It reads: Do those who schedule play time for the games of our national pastime have the right to interfere with bedtime by starting the game at night-time

Baseball

Instead of the customary daytime?

Curry said the Tribune Co. had attempted to throw a legal curve in its arguments that lights should be allowed.

"Justice is a soapbox and the Cubs just don't hit lefties," Curry said.

"The judge said the suit had 'aspects which appear to parody reality and justify ridicule,'" and described the history of Wrigley Field in a chapter he entitled "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

"The ballpark is Wrigley Field, so often referred to as 'beautiful Wrigley Field' that some people believe the word 'beautiful' is actually a part of its official name.

"In the complaint, the plaintiff identifies the ballpark as '1060 W. Addison Street, Chicago, Illinois.' Such a nondescript identification may be appropriate for the Postal Service but it does not seem quite appropriate for the Cubs who have played at that location for almost 70 years."

Cubs fans flocked to bars in the Wrigley Field neighborhood to celebrate the ruling, but not all local merchants were pleased.

Steve Shaevitz, owner of Sports Distributors, a souvenir shop across the street from the park, said he believes the ruling will cause the Cubs to move.

"Money is made at night on TV, and the Tribune Co. is interested in money, like any other company," Shaevitz said. "I think these people (opposed to night baseball) are making a big mistake."

Gullickson Labors 6, Expos Win

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — Bill Gullickson survived one shaky inning Monday while becoming the first Montreal pitcher to go six innings during the Expos' 5-3 win over the New York Yankees.

Gullickson gave up four hits and a walk during a three-run New York fifth, but pushed his spring record to 3-0 when Montreal scored twice in the sixth to take a 4-3 lead.

New York starter Phil Niekro allowed just one hit in five innings but that was a fourth-inning home run by Herm Winingham. Montreal had scored a run in the second when Hubie Brooks walked, stole second, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Razor Shines.

Brooks singled home the first of Montreal's two runs against loser Mike Armstrong in the sixth and Terry Francona knocked in the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly.

Scott Bradley singled home two runs and Ken Griffey one during the Yankees' three-run fifth.

Tim Lincecum, moved to left field for this season from center, singled and stole a base for Montreal. Raines has six steals in eight attempts.

KLAWITTER SHINES

WINTER BEACH (UPI) — Greg Gagne and Ron Washington had two hits each and Tom Klawitter pitched three scoreless relief Monday to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 5-1 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Gagne scored the first run of the game in the second inning then doubled in a run in the fourth against Los Angeles starter Orel Hershisier. The Twins put the game away in the ninth with three runs off Tom Brennan, highlighted by Steve Lombardozzi's two-run double.

RYAN IMPROVES

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — Nolan Ryan hurled six innings of one-hit ball and Mark Ross worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth inning Monday to preserve the Houston Astros' 6-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox in an exhibition game.

The 38-year-old Ryan entered the game with a 6-43 earned run average, but no-hit the Red Sox until the fifth inning when Jackie Gutierrez stroked a one-out double. Ryan walked four and struck out seven in his fourth exhibition appearance.

The Astros, 8-11, took a 6-2 lead into the ninth when the Red Sox rallied for three runs against reliever Joe Sambito.

Rookie Kevin Rumine led off with a single, and one out later Jeff Newman doubled. After Dave Stapleton drew a walk to load the bases, Glenn Hoffman drilled an RBI single.

Drug Problem May Cause Brock's Resignation

Baseball

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — A former Arizona State University baseball player claims he was benched this season after refusing to take a controversial mood-altering drug prescribed by the team's psychiatrist to improve performance.

Drew Siler, a sophomore third baseman who started 10 games for the Sun Devils this season, has since quit the team and has said he will transfer to the University of Nevada-Las Vegas.

"I don't believe in taking drugs, and I never have," said Siler, who told Arizona State baseball coach Jim Brock two weeks ago he was leaving the squad. "I don't think that the use of drugs is for me."

Use of the drugs became public Friday when it was reported phenelzine sulfate, a hydrazine derivative marketed under the name Nardil, has been prescribed or recommended to at least eight members of the Sun Devil baseball team this season. Nardil is generally given as a last resort to people suffering severe neurotic depression.

Siler said he was given a prescription for the drug by Dr. James Gough, a Scottsdale psychiatrist and former director of mental health for Student Health Services at the Arizona State president J. Russell Nelson on Monday to outline procedures for the inquiry.

The matter was originally going to be investigated by Athletic Director Dick Tamburo, who called for the probe last week. It was turned over to Nelson on Monday.

"We're involved by implication, so we thought the fairest thing to do was not to conduct the review ourselves," assistant athletic director Frank Sackton said.

According to the manufacturer, Parke-Davis Co., Nardil has potentially dangerous side effects and, under certain circumstances, can be fatal.

A Parke-Davis spokesman said the drug should not be taken with cheese, beer, wine, chocolate, coffee or cola, as a reaction between any of those items and the drug can result in hypertensive crisis and an uncontrollable elevation of blood pressure. Hypertensive crisis can result in stroke and death.

Several doctors, including the chief medical officer for the U.S. Olympic Committee, believe the drug is dangerous and should be used only as a last resort.

Memphis State Relishes Background Seat

Uplifted Press International
Memphis State may own the best position in the Final Four — the background.

With all the attention going to Villanova's surprising success or to the fourth edition of the Georgetown-St. John's battle, not many people are noticing the No. 4 Tigers.

One thing is for sure, though. People will pay attention if Memphis State wins its next two games in the NCAA Tournament.

"I think Memphis State has the capability of winning the whole thing," Oklahoma coach Billy Tubbs said. "And I hope they do."

The Midwest-winning Tigers have experienced good fortune during the tournament — capturing two games at the buzzer and receiving the benefit of a key call in their 63-61 decision over Oklahoma on Saturday.

Memphis State meets Villanova this Saturday in the Final Four's double-header semifinal at Lexington, Ky. The second game features St. John's, winner of the West Regional, and Georgetown, top of the East. All but Memphis State represent the Big East Conference.

Memphis State reached the Final Four by smothering the Sooners' Wayman Tisdale, holding him to two shots the last 13 minutes. The Tigers figure to try the same on 6-foot-9 Wildcat center Ed Pinckney.

Unranked Villanova, a small Pennsylvania school, finished the season fourth in its own conference.

The 'Cats may not be elegant — clawing past Dayton, the nation's top-ranked independent college team, No. 2 Michigan and Maryland by no more than 4 points to reach the regional championship. But they clobbered No. 7 North Carolina 56-44 in Sunday's regional championship.

Villanova's chances against Memphis State — longshot as they may be — are sure to be better than if the plucky team was matched against one of its two Big East competitors. The Wildcats have been defeated three times this year by St. John's and twice by Georgetown.

Villanova is no stranger at the NCAA Tournament. This was the fourth straight year that the team made it to one of the regionals. The school made it to the Final Four in 1971, but was disqualified because star forward Howard Porter was ruled ineligible for signing a pro contract with the ABA.

Villanova's best-ever finish in NCAA play was third in the inaugural tournament in 1939.

What made Sunday's victory even sweeter for the Wildcat seniors was that it was North Carolina which beat Villanova in the 1982 East Regional finals in their freshman year. The Tar Heels then went on to win the NCAA championship.

"This is probably one of the nicest things that ever happened to me and the kids," Villanova coach Rollie Massimino said as he chomped on a huge victory cigar. "I want to congratulate my seniors. They deserved this."

As for Georgetown, it must once again defend Chris Mullin. The Hoyas have been successful in two of three meetings this year in limiting the potency of the 6-6 All-American.

North Carolina State coach Jim Valvano got so desperate trying to stop Mullin on Sunday in the West Regional championship that he assigned 5-7 leaper Spud Webb to front Mullin. A quick 5 points later and Valvano looked elsewhere.

"St. John's has too much firepower to concentrate on Mullin," Valvano said following the 69-60 decision that eliminated the Wolfpack.

While Mullin was getting his 25 points, forward Walter Berry added 19 and center Bill Wennington 14. Mullin was voted the regional's most valuable player. Berry, Webb, North Carolina State's Lorenzo Charles and Kentucky's Kenny Walker joined him on the regional all-star team.

"Since the whole offense is geared toward running him (Mullin) off picks, it's like trying to guard somebody in a forest," said North Carolina State's Terry Gannon, the third of four individuals Valvano assigned to the St. John's senior.

"The refs let him get away with a lot," Webb said. "I thought I could keep him from getting the ball, but he did a lot of pushing. He uses his body real good."

HALL WILL COACH 1 MORE

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Retiring Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall will be coaching one more game.

The 56-year-old Hall, who announced his retirement Friday night after a season-ending loss to St. John's, has agreed to coach the East team in the East-West All-America game Sunday at Memorial Coliseum.

Meanwhile, the coach of Kentucky's lone recruit for next season, Irving Thomas of Carol City High, says his star was surprised at Hall's retirement.

But Ernie Bell said Thomas, a 6-9 forward, would honor the national letter-of-intent he signed with Kentucky in November and attend the university.

"Irving signed with the University of Kentucky, not with Joe B. Hall," said Bell. "The timing was terrible, but he feels a lot better about the situation now. He's handling it well."

quiet. Sheffield allowed just three hits in going the distance and only one of those was hard hit. The lanky right-hander struck out seven and walked five.

"Sheffield was in control after the first inning," Ferrell said. "He made the pitches in the key situations."

A couple of mistakes by the Seminoles opened the door for two Brantley runs in the top of the first. Andy Dunn drew a walk to lead off and, after Brad Dunn was called out for interfering with the catcher's throw to second, Mark "Pork" Coffey dribbled a single to right to put runners on the corners.

Mike Beams hit a grounder to short but Gary Derr threw the relay to second into right field and Andy Dunn scored. Coffey, who went to third on the error, scored when Sheffield balked.

"The umpire said Brian (Sheffield) had his foot off the edge of the rubber," Ferrell said. "Usually they just tell you to watch it and let it go, but the ump called it."

Sheffield, featuring his dancing knuckleball, came back to

'Dexter (Franklin) worries you sometimes, but he really gets the job done.'

— Mike Ferrell

strike out both Mike Davis and Dan Beatty to end the inning.

Seminole responded with three runs on four hits off Lusk in the bottom of the first. Sheffield coaxed a walk to lead off and Derr followed with a single past Coffey at third. Tony Cox then hit a bullet to center and it sailed over the head of Beams who was running in on the play. Sheffield and Derr scored on the play but Cox was thrown out trying to stretch it to a triple.

With two outs, Larry Thomas singled to right center and the speedy outfielder then stole both second and third. James Hersey beat out an infield single to score Thomas for a 3-2 lead. Hersey then stole second and third but Lusk struck out Joey Corst to end the inning.

A two base error by Franklin, the Tribe's third baseman, gave Brantley a threat in the top of the second. Franklin would come back to make some outstanding plays that kept Seminole's lead intact.

Bass, who reached on the error, went to third on a passed ball. With Lusk at the plate, the squeeze was on but the pitch sailed high. The ump called a ball on the pitch but it sounded like ball so Bass didn't go back to third and was picked off. Sheffield struck out the next two hitters to end the frame.

Seminole added its fourth run in the bottom of the second. Franklin reached on a two-base error to lead off and Tom Wilks followed with a bunt single. Sheffield then skied to right and, while Wilks was doubled off at first, Franklin scored for a 4-2 lead.

After the first inning, Sheffield shut Brantley out on two hits — one a solid single by Brad Dunn — and another a bunt single by Davis.

After the second frame, Seminole got just two hits off Lusk who struck out four and walked two in going the distance. Seminole had just one runner past first base after the second inning.

In the fifth inning, Franklin made two good stops at third and threw out the runners to turn away the Patriots. With a runner on second and one out in the sixth, Franklin made a nice play to his left, held the runner, and threw out Bass for the second out.

Dexter Franklin made several spectacular plays at third base to preserve Seminole's victory over Lake Brantley Monday.

"Dexter (Franklin) made some really big plays," Ferrell said. "Dexter worries you sometimes, but he really gets the job done."

"We came in determined to win tonight," added Ferrell. "The kids played hard all the way through."

DeLand Edges Lyman In 8th

DELAND — DeLand's Bulldogs moved into second place in the Five Star Conference with an eight-inning 11-10 victory over the Lyman Greyhounds Monday night at Conrad Park.

DeLand, which has won seven in a row, tied the game with one run in the bottom of the seventh and won it with another tally in the eighth against Lyman reliever Mark Whittington.

"We just couldn't put a stopper on the mound," said Lyman coach Bob McCullough about his 15-4 and 8-4 Greyhounds. McCullough went through three pitchers (Whittington, Clint Baker and Craig Meyer) once and starter Byron Overstreet twice.

"We're just not making the defensive plays," said McCullough. "We were hurt on another groundball in the seventh. And, we made two baserunning mistakes that cost us two runs."

Derek Livernolds led the Greyhounds with a double and three runs batted in. Baker slapped four straight singles while Paul Alegre and Kyle Brubaker each had a single and a double. Mike Henley had a pair of base hits and Odum singled home two runs.

...DelMonte

Martinez walked to force home a run. Taubensee followed with another single to chase home two more for a 6-0 bulge.

After Scott "Thurman" Munson grounded out, Ernest Martinez scored on a wild pitch and Terry Gammons singled to right to plate Taubensee. Bobby Miller then stroked a double to left center to score Gammons and Dave Marlette followed with a single to right field to chase home two more. Canfield singled but Schmitzer whiffed to close the frame.

DelMonte lost his no-hitter in the fourth when Brian Byers drilled a clean single up the middle.

Tub-Master Honors ICBA Achievements

The Inter-County Basketball Association's third season of play came to a highly successful conclusion this past week with a series of all-star games and trophy presentations. On hand to help honor the boys and girls of the ICBA was Ms. Jane Danc, representative of Tub-Master, the local Orlando firm that donated all the awards (over 250 in all).

In the Senior division the Eastmonte Greyhounds who won the playoffs, topped the division all-stars, 76-67. Lance Wall had a great night scoring 28 and rebounding like crazy. Eddie Norton of the Oviedo Stray Cats led the All-Stars with 21. Wall was named the game MVP.

The varsity game had the South Seminole Bobcats, undefeated league & playoff winners, beating the All-Stars, 76-61. The well-divided Cat scoring was led by J.J. Miller, Willy Daunic and Danny Rubin — all with 15 each and Delmon Simpson with 11. Terry Dixon of Winter Park was the biggest star of the stars with 29. Dixon and Rubin were named co-MVP's.

In the JV game, the All-Stars turned the tide and topped the division champs, Winter Park, 43-35. Donovan Williams led the way with 17 and Danny Phillips had 10.

Basketball

The Jackson Hts. Scorpions defeated the all-stars in Girls Division play, 18-12, after trailing 6-0 early on. Bridget Jenerette led the champs with 9 and was selected as the game MVP.

Sportsmanship awards went to coaches Doug Zook of Westmonte in the Senior division; Kevin Weidecker of Winter Park in the Varsity; Ken Mickenberg (and Mrs. Coach) in JV's, from Tuskawilla, and Jim Norton of the Scorpions in the Girls.

The five-member all-star teams for each division, as voted on by the coaches, season-long, were: Seniors — Eddie Norton and Doug Ackerman of the Stray Cats, Eyan Waihouse of Westmonte; Lance Wall and LaVeche Nelson of Eastmonte. Second team — Kelly Klukka and Pop Bowers of Stray Cats; Kevin Brown and Willie Meadows of Westmonte; Steve Falk of

Arms Negotiators Get Down To Specifics; 'Star Wars' Up First

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — U.S.-Soviet arms talks moved into the detailed negotiating stage today, unaffected by the killing of an American Army officer by a Soviet soldier in East Germany.

A U.S. arms delegation spokesman said the Geneva talks, now in their third week, were continuing with the first detailed discussion of possible future defensive anti-missile systems in space.

Max M. Kampelman, overall leader of the U.S. delegation, returned to Geneva from Washington today in time for the first meeting of the respective sub-groups on space arms. The meeting was held at the Soviet mission to the United Nations.

The arms talks began March 12, with the first two weeks mainly devoted to organizing the complex negotiations. The Soviet Union is determined to torpedo Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative — known popularly as "Star Wars."

Moscow says there must be an end to research into anti-missile systems if the superpowers are to progress toward reducing intercontinental and medium-range nuclear weapons.

Nakasone Orders Concessions

TOKYO (UPI) — Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, eager to ease friction with the United States and Asian trade partners, ordered new concessions to open Japan's markets to foreign imports, government sources said today.

The Nakasone government said it would implement another round of market-opening measures in April. A series of similar steps carried out in the past have failed to satisfy the United States and other trading partners.

The prime minister instructed the officials to study ways to gradually lower tariffs on imported forestry products over a few years, work out a medium-term program to increase official development aid and come up with concessions to expand imports from Asian countries, they said.

The forestry industry is one of four major areas of interest for the United States in trying to get Japan to open its markets to foreign imports. The other areas are telecommunications, pharmaceutical and medical equipment and electronics industries.

Abductions Scare Off Westerners

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Large numbers of Westerners were reported to be moving out of Moslem areas today while authorities searched for a U.N. official and a French bureaucrat — the latest victims in a wave of recent kidnappings.

A U.N. Relief and Work Organizations official, Alec Collett, 63, was abducted Monday in Beirut, just hours after police reported the kidnapping of Gilles Peyrolles, the 32-year-old director of the French cultural institute in the northern city of Tripoli.

The independent French-language daily L'Orient-Le Jour said the abductions had triggered an "exodus" of foreign nationals from mostly Moslem west Beirut, "especially those working for international organizations."

No group claimed to be holding Collett, but the shadowy Lebanese Armed Revolutionary Factions said it took Peyrolles. It threatened to kill him unless France released one of its members within 48 hours.

The little-known group is believed responsible for killing four U.S. and Israeli officials in France since 1981.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Wintery weather assaulted the West today with snow and icy winds that knocked out power, endangered young livestock and threatened to end a Plains heatwave that had made Nebraska warmer than Florida. Gale warnings covered the northern Pacific Coast and winter storm watches for wind-blown snow were issued for northern California and western Nevada. Idaho and the mountains of Oregon were covered by travelers advisories. Three inches of snow dusted Ely, Nev., today, and an inch was reported at Billings, Mont. A mixture of cold rain and snow threatened the health of newborn livestock in Utah and Montana, prompting stockmen advisories. Frost and freeze warnings were posted in the Carolinas. Utah Power & Light crews worked today to repair a power line that was damaged Sunday night by strong winds that pushed 10-inch-thick blocks of ice out of the Great Salt Lake, knocking over 14 support towers.

AREA FORECAST: Today sunny and mild. High in the upper 70s. Wind northeast around 15 mph. Tonight fair. Low in the mid to upper 50s. Wind southeast 5 to 10 mph. Wednesday mostly sunny and breezy. A little warmer with high in the low 80s. Gusty southeast wind 15 to 20 mph.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — Small craft should exercise caution. Northeast wind 15 to occasionally 20 knots today. Wind becoming southeast 10 knots tonight and 10 to 15 knots Wednesday. Sea 4 to 6 feet decreasing to 2 to 3 feet tonight. Partly cloudy.

EXTENDED FORECAST: Generally fair Thursday becoming partly cloudy Friday then cloudy with a chance of showers or thunderstorms north part Saturday. Lows averaging upper 50s north and 60s south except near 70 southeast coast and low 70s keys. Highs averaging near 80 north and low to mid 80s south.

Longwood Makes Powers An Offer

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

As expected, the Longwood City Commission has voted to offer William T. Powers, assistant city manager and finance director for the city of Perry, the job of city administrator effective May 1 with a starting annual salary of $35,000, $5,000 less than he had asked for.

Powers would not say today whether he would take the job, but instead will make a counter offer. He said the matter is in negotiation, pointing out that the cost of living is considerably higher in Seminole County than in Taylor County where he now works.

Monday night's vote was 4-1 with Commissioner Perry Faulkner dissenting, but not because he was against hiring the 42-year-old Powers.

Faulkner said his objection was to the city not offering Powers the $40,000 Powers said he would have to have to go to work for Longwood. Powers had also said he would expect a $5,000 pay increase within nine months and two weeks vacation the first year and three weeks the next.

The present salary for Longwood city administrator is $34,290. In addition to the salary, Powers will have his moving expenses paid, will have the use of a city car for official business and to drive to and from work if he lives in the city.

The city will send Powers the offer asking him to sign it if he is agreeable. No deadline was given for a reply.

"We like the man, he's well qualified," Mayor Harvey Smerlison said, "but why bring him in at a higher salary than necessary?" He pointed out that Powers is only making a base salary of $24,800 plus benefits at his present job.

"Let's start him at a realistic figure," Commissioner Larry Goldberg said. "Otherwise if we start him too high we could not afford to move him up the ladder and he would be dissatisfied in the future."

The commissioners came to a consensus favoring Powers over the other finalist, Wallace A. Payne, 48, city manager of Crystal River, at a work session Friday afternoon. The two men came to Longwood Thursday and met with department heads and toured the city before being interviewed by commissioners individually and as a group on Friday.

Powers has a master's degree in public administration and has been with Perry, a city of 9,000, for four years. Longwood has a population of 12,000.

In other business Monday, a request by developer Robert C. Dietz to rezone a parcel south of Overstreet Avenue from R-1A to R-2 residential was denied after several nearby property owners protested. R-1A zoning is for single-family homes of at least 1,800 square feet while R-2 would allow Dietz to construct duplexes.

Dietz said he thought duplexes would make an ideal buffer between the commercial zoning along county Road 427 and the single-family residential area. He said a privacy fence would be put up.

Residents, however, complained that duplexes would lower their property values and increase traffic in the area.

Sanford Man Faces 15 Years In DUI Death

A Sanford man has pleaded no contest to the DUI manslaughter death of a pedestrian who was killed as he walked along Celery Avenue, east of Sanford.

Ernest Tom Pitts, 47, of 1752 Midway Ave., entered the plea Monday before Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor who could sentence Pitts to up to 15 years on April 30 for the death of Tommy Mills, 19, of Academy Avenue. Pitts was arrested within minutes after his car ran down Mills on Nov. 4.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Mills was eastbound on the south side of Celery Avenue at 11:32 a.m. when he was struck from behind by a 1972 Ford, which was also eastbound. Witnesses said the car was weaving from lane to lane and struck Mills, throwing him into a damp, weed-filled ditch on the south side of the road. Mills was dead at the scene.

In other court action: —Wesley James Hotelling Jr., 20, of 4859 Publix Lane, pleaded guilty Monday to carrying a concealed weapon. He could receive up to a year when sentenced May 10 by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. Hotelling was arrested Sept. 25 after he fought with an Orlando man and kicked in some drywall at a building site in Casselberry. An investigation into the dispute by an officer revealed a loaded pistol under a shirt on the front seat of his vehicle.

—Stacie Leake Joiner, 21, of 108 Delores Drive, Altamonte Springs, arrested Oct. 30 and charged with possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia was sentenced to 3 years probation. She was charged after a sheriff's deputy spotted her using marijuana in a car which was also occupied by three boys. Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salif also ordered her to complete 300 hours of community service. She could have received a year in the county jail.

—Lee Andrew Nelson, 19, of 502 Peachtree Lane, Altamonte Springs, was sentenced by Salif to 3 years probation for resisting arrest without violence. He could have received a year in the county jail. Nelson was arrested Oct. 18 after he ran from a hearing room in the courthouse and had to be chased down by deputies. Nelson bolted after a judge ordered him to be taken into custody for not getting an attorney to represent him in a theft case. He was also sentenced to 3 years probation in the theft case.

—Eddie Lee Gray, 30, of 2019 McCarty Ave., Sanford, was sentenced by McGregor to one year probation and a $500 fine for resisting arrest. Gray was arrested following a scuffle Aug. 14 at the Seminole County Courthouse after he refused to leave the building to begin serving 15 days for non-child support. Gray could have received up to a year in the county jail.

—Roger Hornsby Steward, 24, of Windsong Apartments, 919 Ballard St., Altamonte Springs, was placed on one year probation but was to remain in custody until an opening in an alcohol treatment center became available. Steward was arrested after he kicked an officer who stopped him for DUI Sept. 27. McGregor also suspended Steward's driver's license for five years, ordered him to spend 10 days in the Seminole County jail, and pay a $500 fine.

—Jonathan Wayne McFarland, 20, of 133 N. High St., Lake Mary, arrested Dec. 3 on a charge of car theft. He was sentenced by McGregor to 3 years in prison to be followed by 2 years of community control, a form of in-house arrest.

—Robert Steven May, 34, of 1013 Moree Loop, was sentenced to 3 years probation by McGregor for juggling bank accounts. According to court records, May deposited checks in a new account at Liberty National Bank which were drawn on a closed account at Atlantic Bank. He was arrested Nov. 6 and could have received up to a year in the county jail.

—Janice Matnor, 20, of 34 William Clark Court, was sentenced by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. to 3 years probation for attempted burglary. She was arrested on the charge Dec. 20 following an attempted break in at a Sanford grocery store.

consider legality of the action taken by the superintendent and the school board.

Crossley urged the crowd to put pressure on Hughes to meet with members of the clergy. "If they fight this suit, they're spending your tax money," he said.

Mrs. Coleman said early Tuesday calls were beginning to trickle into the school board from persons who attended the rally.

Crossley warned that if the school board would not open discussions with him and others, his group would fight the board's "unconstitutional, immoral, indecent discriminatory policy."

He said that the school board members should be voted out of office if they don't correct the discrimination against Christians.

"Christians are not going to be treated like second-class citizens," he said. "You've got as much rights as everybody else and it's time we started using them."

School Board attorney Ned Julian Jr. was at the rally but declined to comment. "I came here to see what everybody had to say," he said.

After the rally, Crossley said he saw Julian. "I wish I'd seen the school board," he added. He said he thinks Julian should resign.

"Everything he's done has led to confrontation," Crossley said. "He's brought us to conflicts and he's not doing the job he should be as school board attorney."

Another attorney, John Jones, was one of the first to speak at the rally. He said Christians will not be kicked around by the school board.

"It's high time God-fearing, Bible-believing Christians were not treated as second-class citizens," Jones said. Applause greeted his comment that he believes school prayer will return to public schools this year.

"I think we're going to see the Supreme Court establish silent prayer as a First Amendment constitutional right by the end of the year," Jones said.

Brian Pappas, candidate for the state commissioner of education, invited by Crossley to speak at the rally, said he wants to be the commissioner of education so he can help put an end to the secular-humanistic approach to teaching that is in schools today. He said the teaching of "self-gratification" in the schools would stop if he is elected.

Crossley said the state needs a new education commissioner since "in public schools today you can hear more about Karl Marx than Jesus Christ."

On the scene were 10 Seminole County firefighters with three vehicles and at least three Seminole sheriff's deputies.

Firefighters had to use extrication tools to cut the bodies out of the vehicle. Florida Highway Patrol troopers are in charge of the investigation.

The Bronco, registered in Brevard, appeared to be carrying surveying equipment, boards and stakes. Stottler Slagg and Associates is an engineering, planning and architectural firm.

At least two law enforcement personnel working the accident complained that if the vehicle inspection system was still intact, the tractor-trailer rig would not have had a bad tire to blow out.

Gary Kaiser, director of public safety for Seminole County, said such accident's do cause people to think about the inspection system.

The accident brings to six the number of people killed in traffic accidents in Seminole County this year.

An 82-year-old woman who was involved in an auto accident Monday died today in Oviedo. Details of that accident were not available because the troopers who worked the accident were at the scene of today's fatality.

caught photographing a Soviet military installation and was killed trying to escape.

"We have lodged a protest and expressed regret over the death of the American military officer," Kulagin told United Press International. "Despite the presence of clearly visible warning signs in Russian and German, (the Americans) entered the territory of a restricted military installation. One of the U.S. officers wearing a camouflage suit and carrying a photo camera penetrated directly into the territory of this installation where he photographed the combat equipment which was there."

"Caught red-handed by a Soviet sentry guarding the equipment, he did not comply with his orders, and after a warning shot, while attempting to escape, he was killed."

U.S. officials denied Nicholson and his partner were spying. Burt told a news conference that Nicholson's mission when he was shot was "to monitor Soviet activities. They are unarmed but they carry cameras because one of their jobs is to monitor Soviet military activities."

Burt said Nicholson was accompanied by, Sgt. Jessie Schatz, also fired on but not injured.

Burt said Nicholson and Schatz were in a marked military vehicle wearing army field camouflage uniforms when they were shot at without warning. He said they were "near, but not on or in, a permanently restricted area."

Burt said Nicholson had left the vehicle when a Soviet soldier emerged from a wooded area and started shooting. The first shot was directed at Schatz, who was still in the vehicle. Nicholson was hit by one of about three shots fired. Burt said.

Burt quoted Nicholson as saying, "Jess, I am shot." Burt said a Soviet soldier later arrived with a first-aid kit, but the Soviets made "no effort" to help Nicholson. Burt said later the incident "shows a disturbing tendency or pattern by the Soviet Union to shoot first and ask questions later."

the Sanford business be preferred.

But Commissioner John Mercer said out-of-town businesses would soon tell the city to "stick it in your ear" whenever it requests bids on a project. He said word would get out that Sanford businesses get preferred treatment and bidding would be less competitive and the city would lose money.

Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, said Monday he agreed with Farr. He said a city has to shop for the best deals but when the difference in bids is small the Sanford business should get the contract.

"For a few bucks I'd rather see the local guy get it."

Farr and Horner did not quantify a "small" or "narrow" difference.

Lewis, Agee Vows Spoken

Wilda Helen Lewis of Sanford, and William Michael Agee of Lake Mary, were married Feb. 9, at 11:00 a.m., in the Lakeview Baptist Church, Lake Mary. The Rev. Jackie Nix performed the traditional ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lewis, Houston, Texas. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Patsy Agee, Tallahassee, and J. Wendell Agee, Lake Mary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal lace over bridal tulle gown fashioned along the Southern Belle silhouette. Tiers of lace ruffles, accented with white satin ribbon, formed the bouffant skirt that cascaded into a sweeping chapel train. Her headpiece was a lace-covered picture hat holding her elbow length veil of imported illusion. She carried a bouquet of white and red roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Sandy Lewis attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a red tulle gown with a cinch waist and full skirt accented with a neck ruffle. She wore lace gloves and her hairdress was a comb arranged with a spray of flowers. She carried a nosegay of pink and red carnations.

Mrs. William Michael Agee

ers. She carried a nosegay of pink and red carnations.

Cinda White and Margaret Hobby, sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns, flowers and headpieces were identical to the honor attendant's.

Lt. Jim Agee served his brother as best man. Ushers were Richard Lemons, cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard White, brother-in-law of the bride.

Ruth White, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Robert White, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Following a reception at Lake Mary City Hall, the newlyweds departed on a honeymoon trip.

They are making their home in Lake Mary. The bride is a student at the University of Central Florida, Orlando, and the bridegroom is a project engineer for Wenco Development Corp., Sanford.

Church Presented Flag During DAR Meeting

One of the highlights of the March meeting of Sallie Harrison Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was the presentation of an historic flag to the Lake Mary Presbyterian Church.

The Daughters met in the fellowship hall of the church and Mrs. R.E. True took this occasion to present the Rev. A.F. Stevens the American flag which had been used at the funeral of Robert E. True during World War II and presented to Mrs. True after the rites. The Trues, pioneers in Lake Mary, have strong ties to the church and community. R.E.'s father having been involved in the construction of the Lake Mary Church.

After the business meeting presided over by the Regent, Mrs. E. Paul Kelly, Mrs. Clark Davis described the schools supported wholly or in part by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. These are the schools for American Indians, Bacone College in Oklahoma and St. Mary's in South Dakota, as well as Hillside School in Massachusetts, Hindman Settlement School in Kentucky, Crossnore School in North Carolina, Berry College in Georgia, Tomasee in South Carolina and Kate Duncan Smith School in Alabama. These schools are evidence that NSDAR feel that its soundest and most enduring investment is in the education of children.

Mrs. Zoe Stanley and Mrs. Mills Boyd reported on the State Convention which they attended recently in Jacksonville.

Refreshments with a St. Patrick's Day theme were served to the members and guests.

College Student Never Learned To Ride A Bike

DEAR ABBY: I am 21-year-old male college sophomore, physically intelligent, with no physical or mental problems — except for the one I'm writing about: I never learned how to ride a bike.

When I was growing up I never owned a bike, and I didn't have the courage to ask any of my friends who had bikes to teach me. I grew up feeling inferior, but the pain of not being able to ride a bike was pushed out of my mind during my teen years when I learned how to drive my father's car.

Now that I'm in college, I really need a bike because I live two miles from school and there's no bus service near me. Driving a car is out of the question because there's no place to park.

Is there a place where adults are taught to ride a bike? In private, I mean, because at my age I'd feel like a fool trying to learn in a park or some other public place where people could see me. Please answer soon. This is eating me up.

Dear Abby

DEAR CONCERNED: Your concerns may be justified, but to avoid upsetting her, make no accusations. Instead, insist that she discuss it with a family counselor, who will undoubtedly agree with you. Your ex-wife will find the counselor's decision easier to accept than yours.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument. Is it proper to send a wedding invitation to:

1. A terminally ill person in a hospital?
2. A senile elderly person in a nursing home?

N.V. IN NEW YORK

DEAR N.V.: No to both.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Easter is nearly here, and if you plan to surprise a small child with a gift such as a live rabbit or a baby chick, please consider this: Living creatures need proper care, so unless you are certain that the rabbit or chick will receive the care it needs to survive, please give a stuffed bird or animal instead. Living creatures are not "toys" to be mauled, abused or neglected.

And if you plan to dye your own Easter eggs, please be aware that hard-boiled eggs — especially dyed ones — should not be kept even under refrigeration for more than a day.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Mother of the Groom" was totally off-base. You said the stepmother should not have

I think she's using our son as a surrogate lover, or a doll. Well, he is neither a lover nor a doll, and I am worried that if this continues, she may do him some serious harm.

What do you think? And how should I handle it? I don't want to upset her as it has taken three years to build a halfway civil relationship.

Abby, in some cases, a step-parent most certainly should be in the receiving line. Some stepparents play an important role in the stepchild's life. Questions such as "How long has the stepfather been remarried?" and "With whom do the children live?" were not answered in the letter. The relationship between the stepparent and the child or his or her new spouse must also be considered.

It's their wedding, and they should have a say in the matter.

STEPPARENT-TO-BE

DEAR STEPPARENT-TO-BE:

I agree, the circumstances can make all the difference in the world. In this case, the parents of the groom had a bitter divorce, after which the father promptly married his girlfriend, who had been waiting in the wings for some time. These facts should have been included in the letter but were not.

In my eagerness to stay within the space allotted for my column, it's often necessary to cut the original letter to the bone. Or sometimes a local editor cuts a letter, eliminating some important facts.

In this case, it was I who cut the guts out of the letter, omitting some pertinent facts. Many readers wrote to complain. They were right.

(Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 39923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

KEEP YOUR CITY CLEAN

The Sanford City Commission has declared the month of March as "Clean-Up" month for the City of Sanford.

The Sanford City Commission urges all residents to join in this effort and keep "The Friendly City" a clean and beautiful city.

Arms Negotiators Get Down To Specifics; 'Star Wars' Up First

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — U.S.-Soviet arms talks moved into the detailed negotiating stage today, unaffected by the killing of an American Army officer by a Soviet soldier in East Germany.

A U.S. arms delegation spokesman said the Geneva talks, now in their third week, were continuing with the first detailed discussion of possible future defensive anti-missile systems in space.

Max M. Kumpelman, overall leader of the U.S. delegation, returned to Geneva from Washington today in time for the first meeting of the respective sub-groups on space arms. The meeting was held at the Soviet mission to the United Nations.

The arms talks began March 12, with the first two weeks mainly devoted to organizing the complex negotiations.

The Soviet Union is determined to torpedo Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative — known popularly as "Star Wars."

Moscow says there must be an end to research into anti-missile systems if the superpowers are to progress toward reducing intercontinental and medium-range nuclear weapons.

Nakasone Orders Concessions

TOKYO (UPI) — Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, eager to ease friction with the United States and Asian trade partners, ordered new concessions to open Japan's markets to foreign imports, government sources said today.

The Nakasone government said it would implement another round of market-opening measures in April. A series of similar steps carried out in the past have failed to satisfy the United States and other trading partners.

The prime minister instructed the officials to study ways to gradually lower tariffs on imported forestry products over a few years, work out a medium-term program to increase official development aid and come up with concessions to expand imports from Asian countries, they said.

The forestry industry is one of four major areas of interest for the United States in trying to get Japan to open its markets to foreign imports. The other areas are telecommunications, pharmaceutical and medical equipment and electronics industries.

Abductions Scare Off Westerners

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Large numbers of Westerners were reported to be moving out of Moslem areas today while authorities searched for a U.N. official and a French bureaucrat — the latest victims in a wave of recent kidnappings.

A U.N. Relief and Work Organizations official, Alec Collett, 63, was abducted Monday in Beirut, just hours after police reported the kidnapping of Gilles Peyrolles, the 32-year-old director of the French cultural institute in the northern city of Tripoli.

The independent French-language daily L'Orient-Le Jour said the abductions had triggered an "exodus" of foreign nationals from mostly Moslem west Beirut, "especially those working for international organizations."

No group claimed to be holding Collett, but the shadowy Lebanese Armed Revolutionary Front said it took Peyrolles. It threatened to kill him unless France released one of its members within 48 hours.

The little-known group is believed responsible for killing four U.S. and Israeli officials in France since 1981.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Wintery weather assaulted the West today with snow and icy winds that knocked out power, endangered young livestock and threatened to end a Plains heatwave that had made Nebraska warmer than Florida. Gale warnings covered the northern Pacific Coast and winter storm watches for wind-blown snow were issued for northern California and western Nevada. Idaho and the mountains of Oregon were covered by travelers advisories. Three inches of snow dusted Ely, Nev., today, and an inch was reported at Billings, Mont. A mixture of cold rain and snow threatened the health of newborn livestock in Utah and Montana, prompting stockmen advisories. Frost and freeze warnings were posted in the Carolinas. Utah Power & Light crews worked today to repair a power line that was damaged Sunday night by strong winds that pushed 10-inch-thick blocks of ice out of the Great Salt Lake, knocking over 14 support towers.

AREA FORECAST: Today sunny and mild. High in the upper 70s. Wind northeast around 15 mph. Tonight fair. Low in the mid to upper 50s. Wind southeast 5 to 10 mph. Wednesday mostly sunny and breezy. A little warmer with high in the low 80s. Gusty southeast wind 15 to 20 mph.

Longwood Makes Powers An Offer

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

As expected, the Longwood City Commission has voted to offer William T. Powers, assistant city manager and finance director for the city of Perry, the job of city administrator effective May 1 with a starting annual salary of $35,000, $5,000 less than he had asked for.

Powers would not say today whether he would take the job, but instead will make a counter offer. He said the matter is in negotiation, pointing out that the cost of living is considerably higher in Seminole County than in Taylor County where he now works.

Monday night's vote was 4-1 with Commissioner Perry Faulkner dissenting, but not because he was against hiring the 42-year-old Powers.

Faulkner said his objection was to the city not offering Powers the $40,000 Powers said he would have to have to go to work for Longwood. Powers had also said he would expect a $5,000 pay increase within nine months and two weeks vacation the first year and three weeks the next.

The present salary for Longwood city administrator is $34,290. In addition to the salary, Powers will have his moving expenses paid, will have the use of a city car for official business and to drive to and from work if he lives in the city.

The city will send Powers the offer asking him to sign it if he is agreeable. No deadline was given for a reply.

"We like the man, he's well qualified," Mayor Harvey Smerilson said, "but why bring him in at a higher salary than necessary?" He pointed out that Powers is only making a base salary of $24,800 plus benefits at his present job.

"Let's start him at a realistic figure," Commissioner Larry Goldberg said. "Otherwise if we start him too high we could not afford to move him up the ladder and he would be dissatisfied in the future."

The commissioners came to a consensus favoring Powers over the other finalist, Wallace A. Payne, 48, city manager of Crystal River, at a work session Friday afternoon. The two men came to Longwood Thursday and met with department heads and toured the city before being interviewed by commissioners individually and as a group on Friday.

Powers has a master's degree in public administration and has been with Perry, a city of 9,000, for four years. Longwood has a population of 12,000.

In other business Monday, a request by developer Robert C. Dietz to rezone a parcel south of Overstreet Avenue from R-1A to R-2 residential was denied after several nearby property owners protested. R-1A zoning is for single-family homes of at least 1,800 square feet while R-2 would allow Dietz to construct duplexes.

Dietz said he thought duplexes would make an ideal fit between the commercial zoning along county Road 427 and the single-family residential area. He said a privacy fence would be put up.

Residents, however, complained that duplexes would lower their property values and increase traffic in the area.

Sanford Man Faces 15 Years In DUI Death

A Sanford man has pleaded no contest to the DUI manslaughter death of a pedestrian who was killed as he walked along Celery Avenue, east of Sanford.

Ernest Tom Pitts, 47, of 1752 Midway Ave., entered the plea Monday before Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor who could sentence Pitts to up to 15 years on April 30 for the death of Tommy Mills, 19, of Academy Avenue. Pitts was arrested within minutes after his car ran down Mills on Nov. 4.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Mills was eastbound on the south side of Celery Avenue at 11:32 a.m. when he was struck from behind by a 1972 Ford, which was also eastbound. Witnesses said the car was weaving from lane to lane and struck Mills, throwing him into a damp, weed-filled ditch on the south side of the road. Mills was dead at the scene.

In other court action:

—Wesley James Hotelling Jr., 20, of 4859 Public Lane, pleaded guilty Monday to carrying a concealed weapon. He could receive up to a year when sentenced May 10 by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. Hotelling was arrested Sept. 25 after he fought with an Orlando man and kicked in some drywall at a building site in Casselberry. An investigation into the dispute by an officer revealed a loaded pistol under a shirt on the front seat of his vehicle.

—Stacie Leake Joiner, 21, of 108 Delores Drive, Altamonte Springs, arrested Oct. 30 and charged with possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia was sentenced to 3 years probation. She was charged after a sheriff's deputy spotted her using marijuana in a car which was also occupied by three boys. Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salif also ordered her to complete 300 hours of community service. She could have received a year in the county jail.

—Lee Andrew Nelson, 19, of 502 Peachtree Lane, Altamonte Springs, was sentenced by Salif to 3 years probation for resisting arrest without violence. He could have received a year in the county jail. Nelson was arrested Oct. 18 after he ran from a hearing room in the courthouse and had to be chased down by deputies. Nelson bolted after a judge ordered him to be taken into custody for not getting an attorney to represent him in a theft case. He was also sentenced to 3 years probation in the theft case.

—Eddie Lee Gray, 30, of 2019 McCarty Ave., Sanford, was sentenced by McGregor to one year probation and a $500 fine for resisting arrest. Gray was arrested following a scuffle Aug. 14 at the Seminole County Courthouse after he refused to leave the building to begin serving 15 days for non-child support. Gray could have received up to a year in the county jail.

—Roger Hornsby Steward, 24, of Windsong Apartments, 919 Ballard St., Altamonte Springs, was placed on one year probation but was to remain in custody until an opening in an alcohol treatment center became available. Steward was arrested after he kicked an officer who stopped him for DUI Sept. 27. McGregor also suspended Steward's driver's license for five years, ordered him to spend 10 days in the Seminole County jail, and pay a $500 fine.

—Jonathan Wayne McFarland, 20, of 133 N. High St., Lake Mary, arrested Dec. 3 on a charge of car theft. He was sentenced by McGregor to 3 years in prison to be followed by 2 years of community control, a form of in-house arrest.

—Robert Steven May, 34, of 1013 Moree Loop, was sentenced to 3 years probation by McGregor for juggling bank accounts. According to court records, May deposited checks in a new account at Liberty National Bank which were drawn on a closed account at Atlantic Bank. He was arrested Nov. 6 and could have received up to a year in the county jail.

—Janice Manor, 20, of 34 William Clark Court, was sentenced by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. to 3 years probation for attempted burglary. She was arrested on the charge Dec. 20 following an attempted break-in at a Sanford grocery store.

consider legality of the action taken by the superintendent and the school board.

Crossley urged the crowd to put pressure on Hughes to meet with members of the clergy. "If they fight this suit, they're spending your tax money," he said.

Mrs. Coleman said early Tuesday calls were beginning to trickle into the school board from persons who attended the rally.

Crossley warned that if the school board would not open discussions with him and others, his group would fight the board's "unconstitutional, immoral, indecent discriminatory policy."

He said that the school board members should be voted out of office if they don't correct the discrimination against Christians.

"Christians are not going to be treated like second-class citizens," he said. "You've got as much rights as everybody else and it's time we started using them."

School Board attorney Ned Julian Jr. was at the rally but declined to comment. "I came here to see what everybody had to say," he said.

After the rally, Crossley said he saw Julian. "I wish I'd seen the school board," he added. He said he thinks Julian should resign.

"Everything he's done has led to confrontation," Crossley said. "He's brought us to conflicts and he's not doing the job he should be as school board attorney."

Another attorney, John Jones, was one of the first to speak at the rally. He said Christians will not be kicked around by the school board.

"It's high time God-fearing, Bible-believing Christians were not treated as second-class citizens," Jones said. Applause

Rev. George Crossley

"I think we're going to see the Supreme Court establish silent prayer as a First Amendment constitutional right by the end of the year," Jones said.

Brian Pappas, candidate for the state commissioner of education, invited by Crossley to speak at the rally, said he wants to be the commissioner of education so he can help put an end to the secular humanistic approach to teaching that is in schools today. He said the teaching of "self-gratification" in the schools would stop if he is elected.

Crossley said the state needs a new education commissioner since "in public schools today you can hear more about Karl Marx than Jesus Christ."

On the scene were 10 Seminole County firefighters with three vehicles and at least three Seminole sheriff's deputies.

Firefighters had to use extrication tools to cut the bodies out of the vehicle. Florida Highway Patrol troopers are in charge of the investigation.

The Bronco, registered in Brevard, appeared to be carrying surveying equipment, boards and stakes. Stotter Staggs and Associates is an engineering, planning and architectural firm.

At least two law enforcement personnel working the accident complained that if the vehicle inspection system was still intact, the tractor-trailer rig would not have had a bad tire to blow out.

Gary Kaiser, director of public safety for Seminole County, said such accident's do cause people to think about the inspection system.

The accident brings to six the number of people killed in traffic accidents in Seminole County this year.

An 82-year-old woman who was involved in an auto accident Monday died today in Oviedo. Details of that accident were not available because the troopers who worked the accident were at the scene of today's fatality.

caught photographing a Soviet military installation and was killed trying to escape.

"We have lodged a protest and expressed regret over the death of the American military officer," Kulagin told United Press International. "Despite the presence of clearly visible warning signs in Russian and German, (the Americans) entered the territory of a restricted military installation. One of the U.S. officers wearing a camouflage suit and carrying a photo camera penetrated directly into the territory of this installation where he photographed the combat equipment which was there."

"Caught red-handed by a Soviet sentry guarding the equipment, he did not comply with his orders, and after a warning shot, while attempting to escape, he was killed."

U.S. officials denied Nicholson and his partner were spying. Burt told a news conference that Nicholson's mission when he was shot was "to monitor Soviet activities. They are unarmed but they carry cameras because one of their jobs is to monitor Soviet military activities."

Burt said Nicholson was accompanied by Sgt. Jesse Schatz, also fired on but not injured.

Burt said Nicholson and Schatz were in a marked military vehicle wearing army field camouflage uniforms when they were shot at without warning. He said they were "near, but not on or in, a permanently restricted area."

Burt said Nicholson had left the vehicle when a Soviet soldier emerged from a wooded area and started shooting. The first shot was directed at Schatz, who was still in the vehicle. Nicholson was hit by one of about three shots fired, Burt said.

Burt quoted Nicholson as saying, "Jesse, I am shot." Burt said a Soviet soldier later arrived with a first-aid kit, but the Soviets made "no effort" to help Nicholson. Burt said later the incident "shows a disturbing tendency or pattern by the Soviet Union to shoot first and ask questions later."

the Sanford business be preferred.

But Commissioner John Mercer said out-of-town businesses would soon tell the city to "stick it in your ear" whenever it requests bids on a project. He said word would get out that Sanford businesses get preferred treatment and bidding would be less competitive and the city would lose money.

Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, said Monday he agreed with Farr. He said a city has to shop for the best deals but when the difference in bids is small the Sanford business should get the contract.

"For a few bucks I'd rather see the local guy get it," Farr and Horner did not quantify a "small" or "narrow" difference.

Lewis, Agee Vows Spoken

Wilda Helen Lewis of Sanford, and William Michael Agee of Lake Mary, were married Feb. 9, at 11:00 a.m., in the Lakeview Baptist Church, Lake Mary. The Rev. Jackie Nix performed the traditional ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lewis, Houston, Texas. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Patsy Agee, Tallahassee, and J. Wendell Agee, Lake Mary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal lace over bridal tulle gown fashioned along the Southern Belle silhouette. Tiers of lace ruffles, accented with white satin ribbon, formed the bouffant skirt that cascaded into a sweeping chapel train. Her headpiece was a lace-covered picture hat holding her elbow-length veil of imported illusion. She carried a bouquet of white and red roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Sandy Lewis attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a red tulle gown with a cinch waist and full skirt accented with a neck ruffle. She wore lace gloves and her hair was styled in a comb arranged with a spray of flowers. She carried a nosegay of pink and red carnations.

Cinda White and Margaret Hobby, sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns, flowers and headpieces were identical to the honor attendants.

U. Jim Agee served his brother as best man. Ushers were Richard Lemons, cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard White, brother-in-law of the bride.

Ruth White, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Robert White, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Following a reception at Lake Mary City Hall, the newlyweds departed on a honeymoon trip.

They are making their home in Lake Mary. The bride is a student at the University of Central Florida, Orlando, and the bridegroom is a project engineer for Wenco Development Corp., Sanford.

Church Presented Flag During DAR Meeting

One of the highlights of the March meeting of Sallie Harrison Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was the presentation of an historic flag to the Lake Mary Presbyterian Church.

The Daughters met in the fellowship hall of the church and Mrs. R.E. True took this occasion to present the Rev. A.F. Stevens the American flag which had been used at the funeral of Robert E. True during World War II and presented to Mrs. True after the rites. The Trues, pioneers in Lake Mary, have strong ties to the church and community, R.E.'s father having been involved in the construction of the Lake Mary Church.

After the business meeting presided over by the Regent, Mrs. E. Paul Kelly, Mrs. Clark Davis described the schools supported wholly or in part by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. These are the schools for American Indians, Bacone College in Oklahoma and St. Mary's in South Dakota, as well as Hillside School in Massachusetts, Hindman Settlement School in Kentucky, Crossnore School in North Carolina, Berry College in Georgia, Tommassee in South Carolina and Kate Duncan Smith School in Alabama. These schools are evidence that NSDAR feel that its soundest and most enduring investment is in the education of children.

Mrs. Zoe Stanley and Mrs. Mills Boyd reported on the State Convention which they attended recently in Jacksonville.

Refreshments with a St. Patrick's Day theme were served to the members and guests.

College Student Never Learned To Ride A Bike

DEAR ABBY: I am 21-year-old male college sophomore, physically intelligent, with no physical or mental problems — except for the one I'm writing about: I never learned how to ride a bike.

When I was growing up I never owned a bike, and I didn't have the courage to ask any of my friends who had bikes to teach me. I grew up feeling inferior, but the pain of not being able to ride a bike was pushed out of my mind during my teen years when I learned how to drive my father's car.

Now that I'm in college, I really need a bike because I live two miles from school and there's no bus service near me. Driving a car is out of the question because there's no place to park.

Is there a place where adults are taught to ride a bike? In private, I mean, because at my age I'd feel like a fool trying to learn in a park or some other public place where people could see me. Please answer soon. This is eating me up.

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Don't be so hard on yourself. It's no crime to be unable to ride a bike.

Ask a friend who bikes to teach you on a country road. Or go to a shop where bicycles are sold; the people there will find a teacher for you. They may even suggest training wheels. You can do it. People have learned to ride a bike in their 60s; you're just a kid. Get going.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-wife and I are having an ongoing disagreement concerning our 5-year-old son. (We have joint custody.) She insists on having the boy sleep with her every night that he is in her care. I don't think it's healthy for the boy, and I have told her so, but she has one excuse after another.

I think she's using our son as a surrogate lover, or a doll. Well, he is neither a lover nor a doll, and I am worried that if this continues, she may do him some serious harm.

What do you think? And how should I handle it? I don't want to upset her as it has taken three years to build a halfway civil relationship.

CONCERNED FATHER

Dear Abby

DEAR CONCERNED: Your concerns may be justified, but to avoid upsetting her, make no accusations. Instead, insist that she discuss it with a family counselor, who will undoubtedly agree with you. Your ex-wife will find the counselor's decision easier to accept than yours.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument. Is it proper to send a wedding invitation to:

1. A terminally ill person in a hospital?
2. A senile elderly person in a nursing home?

N.V. IN NEW YORK

DEAR N.V.: No to both.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Easter is nearly here, and if you plan to surprise a small child with a gift such as a live rabbit or a baby chick, please consider this: Living creatures need proper care, so unless you are certain that the rabbit or chick will receive the care it needs to survive, please give a stuffed bird or animal instead. Living creatures are not "toys" to be mailed, abused or neglected.

And if you plan to dye your own Easter eggs, please be aware that hard-boiled eggs — especially dyed ones — should not be kept (even under refrigeration) for more than a day.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Mother of the Groom" was totally off-base. You said the stepmother should not have been in the receiving line at all.

Abby, in some cases, a step-parent most certainly should be in the receiving line. Some stepparents play an important role in the stepchild's life. Questions such as "How long has the stepfather been remarried?" and "With whom do the children live?" were not answered in the letter. The relationship between the stepparent and the child or his or her new spouse must also be considered.

It's their wedding, and they should have a say in the matter.

STEPPARENT-TO-BE: DEAR STEPPARENT-TO-BE:

I agree, the circumstances can make all the difference in the world. In this case, the parents of the groom had a bitter divorce, after which the father promptly married his girlfriend, who had been waiting in the wings for some time. These facts should have been included in the letter but were not.

In my eagerness to stay within the space allotted for my column, it's often necessary to cut the original letter to the bone. Or sometimes a local editor cuts a letter, eliminating some important facts.

In this case, it was I who cut the guts out of the letter, omitting some pertinent facts. Many readers wrote to complain. They were right.

(Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 39923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

HEARING TESTS SET FOR SANFORD/CASSELBERRY AREA
 Electronic hearing tests will be given free at the Orange Hearing Aid Ctrs. 2701 S. Orlando Dr., Sanford (Monday only) and 120 S. Hwy. 17-92 Casselberry, Monday-Friday this week. W. Christenson and B. Fisher, certified by the National Hearing Aid Society will be at these offices to perform the tests.
 Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss.
 Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them can find out about the latest methods of hearing corrections.
 The free hearing test will be given Monday thru Friday—this week at the Casselberry office and Monday at the Sanford location. Call the number below and arrange for an appointment, or drop in at your convenience.

Lured by that plastic book and assembly-line foods found at those franchise eateries? Take heart, there's a charming unpretentious place off the beaten path in Longwood that will take you back to a gentler era. You can relax and enjoy conversation with a friend while your food is prepared with care to your order from choice ingredients.
 Discover The Runcible Spoon Tea Room tucked away in the Browser's Barn located at 150 W. Jessup Ave., off county Road 427 north of post office in Longwood's Historical District. Serving good fresh food. It's a great place for lunch with the girls or a mid-afternoon tea break from shopping in the quaint shops located in Browser's Barn and the historical district.
 The tea room was opened in 1981 by Betty Jo McLeod and Dorothy Pearson, who light their menu as well as open face Tropicana Chicken or Asparagus, Tomato and Swiss with Ham open faced sandwiches, pizza pocket sandwiches and others. The desserts she makes will thrill your taste buds.
 To discuss arrangements for a private party, please talk to Dottie Pearson after 3 p.m. or before 10:30 a.m. She can be reached by telephoning 831-4661.

Sharon Hunt (right) and Elyse Ison display some of the Easter silk arrangements at Flowers by Gaynelle.

Order Easter Flowers At Flowers By Gaynelle

Spread a little Easter joy by sending a bouquet, plant or corsage from Flowers by Gaynelle, 818 S. Sanford Ave., Sanford. Hop on down and order your Easter flowers early and avoid the rush.

You can remember friends and family members both near and far with beautiful spring flowers such as FTD's arrangement in an Iris stained glass vase or the Easter Basket bouquet. Gaynelle is affiliated with several floral wire services. Just call 322-5086 to order by phone and you can charge them on your Master Charge or Visa cards.

Gaynelle also have a soft cuddly bunny hugging a bud vase with flower or assorted Easter dish gardens, potted Easter lilies and azaleas.

There are many beautiful new silk arrangements of spring flowers in attractive containers—both large and small.

If you are planning a spring or summer wedding talk to Gaynelle. She does fresh or silk flower arrangements for weddings at reasonable prices and has all the traditional wedding equipment for rental. Items available include the kneeling bench, flower stands, arches, aisle cloth, tree candelabra and wine glasses.

Owner Gaynelle Hendrick has on her staff her daughter-in-law Sharon Hunt and Elyse Ison. Whether the flowers are for a wedding, funeral or to cheer up a friend in the hospital, you can be assured your flowers will be fresh.

Balloon Magic Delivers Fun For All Occasions

Add a little Balloon Magic to your Easter greeting this year. The Easter Bunny will say "Happy Easter" for you by delivering a bouquet of colorful balloons attached to an adorable stuffed bunny, an Easter basket, or candy.

To top it all off the happy recipient of the surprise will receive a Polaroid photo taken of the Easter Bunny presenting the balloons to him (or her).

Linda Sapp, owner of Balloon Magic, opened Sanford's only all-occasion balloon delivery business in February and she has been spreading happiness ever since.

She delivers anywhere in the Sanford, Lake Mary, Longwood and Altamonte north of state Road 436.

She delivers helium-filled latex decorations and balloon arches for special occasions. "Balloons make people smile, it makes them happy," Linda said. "We sell fun, I always knew there was some kind of job where you could work and have fun, too."

How did she get into the balloon business? "I got laid off of my job and I needed to do something," Linda explained. "In the past I had sent balloons to people and knew Sanford didn't have a balloon delivery service. I attended an open seminar in Georgia in December to learn everything I needed to know to start the business, then I got my license and began advertising.

"I've gotten a real good response," said Linda, "but there are some hazards. The first time I wore rabbit outfit, I fell flat on my face in the parking lot when making a delivery in a hospital. An old man rushed up and said, 'Rabbit, rabbit, are you O.K.?' You have to get used to handling the balloons, they get tangled up in the wind or float away."

Federal Deficit: $20.8 Billion In February

By Denis G. Gulino

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Another $20.8 billion in debt showed up on the government's books in February, on the way to a record $209.7 billion deficit this fiscal year, the Treasury Department reported Monday.

The accumulated deficit during the first five months of the fiscal year, which started Oct. 1, is $99.6 billion and is running 11.7 percent ahead of the same period last year.

The red ink will have to build faster in order to reach the $209.7 billion deficit forecast in the president's budget on Feb. 4. At the current rate it would reach only $195.9 billion, barely a new record.

The five-month total for income tax collections is $139.2 billion, 9.1 percent ahead of last year. Corporate income taxes, at $18.1 billion, are running 34.3 percent ahead of the same period in fiscal 1984.

The cost of paying interest on the $1.71 trillion national debt is $74.85 billion for the five months, 20.9 percent ahead of last year.

That interest cost is forecast by the administration to reach $180.3 billion by the Sept. 30 end of the fiscal year, a record amount that by itself accounts for most of the deficit.

As more annual deficits are added to the national debt the cost of paying interest on the total increases.

Already the interest cost has grown to be the third largest single category of government expense, after social programs and defense, and is the fastest growing category.

The five-month total for social programs is $128.9 billion, 8.1 percent ahead of a year earlier. Defense in the same period cost $103.5 billion, 6.8 percent ahead of the October-January last year.

So far in the fiscal year government receipts total $290.6 billion and government expenditures $390.3 billion.

Sun Radiation Brings Out Brown Skin Spots

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have developed brown areas on my face, on both cheeks and at the corners of my mouth. This condition appeared once before but faded after about six months. This time it has persisted for more than a year, and the spots have not lightened with the use of two different commercial fading creams.

I am 46 and had a total hysterectomy 18 months ago. Is there any way to completely fade the brown marks and avoid their recurrence without giving up all the summer sports I enjoy?

DEAR READER — The winter is a good time to have such spots checked by your doctor. When you don't have a tan, it is easier to see just what needs treatment. All skin spots and bumps should be seen by a physician, since a good look is worth a thousand words of description. If you have the usual brown spots, or "liver spots," caused by the accumulation of melanin skin pigment, your doctor may wish to remove them by lightly freezing the surface of the skin. The area peels off, leaving normal skin.

The radiation from the sun definitely brings out these spots. You can help to prevent them by avoiding sun exposure. Be extra-careful to protect your skin in the winter. Avoiding reflected radiation from the sidewalks, snow and exposure to wind in the winter is important. Use a good sunscreen year-round and use it properly. Then, if you enjoy summer sports, you can be exposed to the sun longer with less damage. Don't forget the value of clothing in protecting your skin. That includes wearing a hat to shade the face.

I have discussed such spots in The Health Letter, Special Report 28, Skin: Aging, Spots, Cancer and Sun, which I am sending you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Our church activities involve much handshaking. Doesn't that spread germs of flu and colds, coughs and many other things?

DEAR READER — Bless you for trying to be helpful. Hands are near the top of the list of vehicles that spread diseases. Colds and flu are spread by hands. Not only can you get the germs from other hands, but your hands can pick up infectious organisms from doorknobs, handrails and other surfaces.

The infected hands end up rubbing the face, particularly the nose, and the germs have access to your body.

You can do several things to help prevent the problem. One is to wear gloves; another is to wash your hands frequently, and particularly after being out with people. A third, and very important, thing is to avoid putting your hands near your face.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Richard Frey, long-time editor of the American Contract Bridge League Bulletin (1958-1970), is a great contributor to bridge literature. Modern players may not know that he was also a great championship player in the early days of tournament bridge. Here is a deceptive play he made 50 years ago that has withstood the test of time.

In 1985 North would introduce the heart suit into the bidding after South's opening one no-trump bid. Not then. No-trump was raised, and Frey happily accepted with 17 high-card points and a 10 as a kicker.

Declarer won the diamond lead with his jack and played the heart queen. West won and switched to the club deuce. When East played the ace, Frey had his chance to make the bridge columns of the future.

He played the club king. If you place yourself in the East position, you can hardly be blamed for feeling that declarer also had the club queen. This play, accordingly East played back a diamond, and declarer had time to set up the heart suit and nine tricks. If South does not make the deceptive play of the club king, East would continue clubs, and declarer would be set in three no-trump.

Incidentally, the play should not have worked. Without an honor in clubs, West should have led a high club such as the eight or six. No doubt East felt it was more likely that his partner had erred than that Richard Frey had wasted his club king.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 27, 1985

Be willing to relinquish in the year ahead projects or ventures that have proven to be unproductive. Once you let go, new and better things will replace them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful today not to take credit for the ideas of others. Instead, build upon your own bright thoughts. Major changes are in store for Aries in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Treat the property and possessions of others as respectfully today as if they belong to you. Return what you borrow in mint condition.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be hesitant to make compromises or concessions today to placate friends. If you'll yield, they will yield as well.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Although you'll be innovative and imaginative today, you're also apt to be rather impatient and you might put projects into motion too prematurely.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your luck has its limitations today, so don't press it to extremes. Hope can be realized through logical procedures, not wild risks.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try to keep relatives out of your business affairs today. Although they may be eager to help, they could, instead, gum up the works.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A kind friend may try to cover for you today. He will repeat to another not what you said but what you should have said.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you use your head today, gains and losses can be balanced out. Instead of worrying about what you lost on apples, try to pick it up in pears.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Even though you take pride in being independent, you will fare better today by becoming more closely involved with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You may get off to a faulty start today but once you get on a roll, you will be remarkably productive. In fact, you'll complete several things you thought you could not.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Do not be more attentive today to a new pal than to friends of long standing. They'll notice and resent your preferential treatment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're capable of rather remarkable achievements today, especially in situations where you are materially motivated. Think dollars and cents.
