$1.5 Million Shopping Center Wins Okay

The proposed $1.5 million Win-Mac shopping center at I-4 and Highway 436 was given formal approval by the County Commission this morning.

The Commission voted to uphold action of the County Zoning Commission in approving a rezoning from agricultural and residential to commercial for the property at the southeast corner of the interchange.

Commissioner James P. Avery Jr. pointed out that more commercial and industrial properties are needed in the county to bring about increased taxes.

C. W. Clayton Jr., representing Win-Mac, charged that South Seminole County is "becoming the bedroom for Orange County."

The board approved Avery's motion to uphold the Zoning Commission in a 4-1 vote. Commissioner John Fitzpatrick seconded Avery's motion but voted against it.

Agreed to accept from Elmer Jones deed for three acres of land in a Negro cemetery off Highway 436 for a potter's field in return for condemning land under eminent domain for an access road to the burial plot.

Engineer William Bush pointed out the county several years ago through oversight failed to record deeds for a previous right-of-way and that the land was cut off by the new Interstate A.

County also accepted right-of-way for the State Road Department to install an access road to relieve four home owners also cut off by I-4.

By LARRY VERNEEL
Memorial Day tomorrow... Nothing scheduled here... No parades, no remembrance of our war dead... How many men from Sanford lost their lives fighting for us? Will we remember them as we read the paper, put on TV, shoot pool, play golf, go to the grocery?

Nobody asked me but, I was always embarrassed by the words sacred, glorious, and sacrifice and the expression in vain. We had heard them, sometimes standing in the rain, out of earshot, so that only the shouted words came through, and had read for a long time, and I had seen nothing sacred on the battlefields and the things that were glorious had no glory and the sacrifices were like the stockyards in Chicago if nothing was done with the meat except to bury it. There were many words that you could not stand to hear and finally only the names of the places had dignity. Certain numbers were the same way and certain dates and these with the names of the places were all you could say and have them mean anything.

I think of Terry Cordell killed in Viet Nam and abstract words such as glory, honor, courage or hallow were obscene beside the concrete names of villages, the number of roads, the names of rivers, the numbers of regiments and the dates.

I think of the snowy ridges of Korea... I think of the Solomons, I think of the Argonne, I think of a village in Korea in the spring of 1952... I think of a regiment wiped out for a war nobody won... I think of Terry Cordell dying alone in an unfamiliar land with a strange flag flying overhead.

I hope there are some flags flying on First St. tomorrow... Parking meters are being installed in front of the Mayor's business office today.

Federal government still sitting on those port terminal plans... We queried County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick about that regional planning council meeting in Daytona yesterday and what he learned and John came right back spouting figures on how much the Osceola and Lake County Commissioners are getting per month and pay boosts for both boards.

Things must really be bad at the sewage treatment plant... They disconnected the phone and put a pay station phone there.

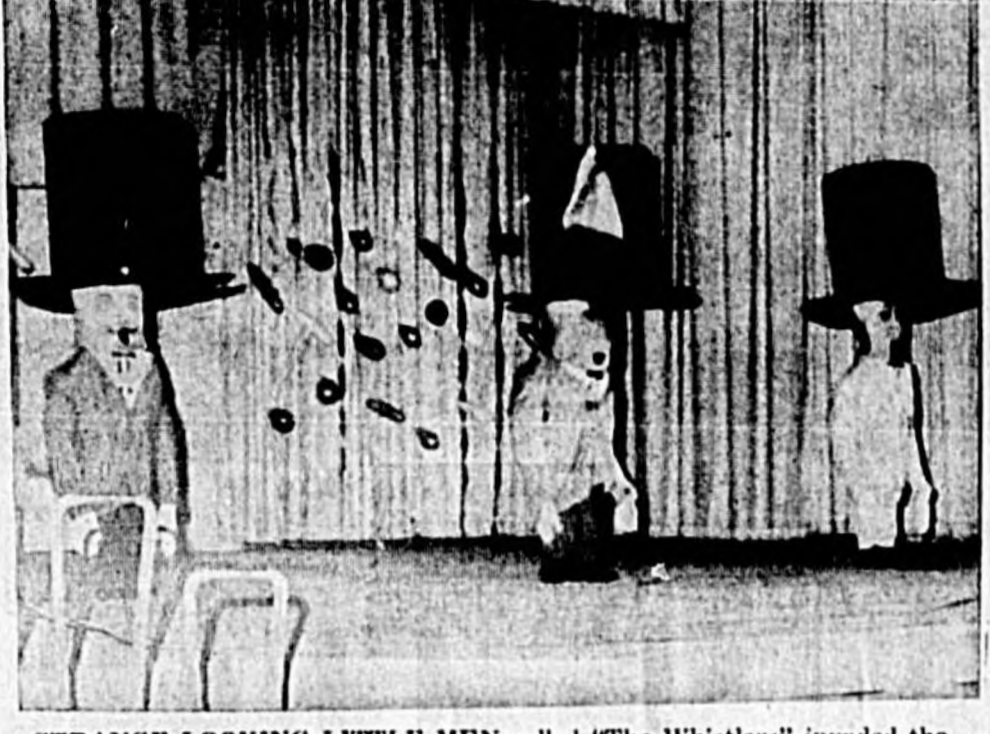

Jaycees are planning a massive drive to make this city the most flag flying city in the state... Target date is June 14 (Flag Day)... Flag sales will start very soon.

That three-page controversial letter being circulated by three City Commissioners was given the brush-off by the County Commission this morning. Chairman J. C. Hutchison pointed out that the letter had been received by all members of the County Commission and directed Clerk Art Beckwith to "file it." The letter was not read or identified.

All governmental agencies, City Hall, and courthouse will be closed tomorrow... Herald will be open and will publish... as usual.

Although workmen are busy cleaning up the old hospital building at Fifth and Oak, presumably preparatory to conversion to an apartment building, the realty broker reports the deal has not been consummated.

That was no mirage... That really was a survey crew out by Bear Lake Road this morning.

STRANGE LOOKING LITTLE MEN called "The Whistlers" invaded the stage of Seminole High School Tuesday to take part in the Merry Go-Round, musical variety show. The highly amused but somewhat bewildered audience were told that they were Moose! (See story on Page 5 of today's Herald.)

323 'Jump' Burning Ship

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — A flash fire broke out in the boiler room of the destroyer USS Blaney today less than one hour after the ship arrived here to participate in Memorial Day exercises.

A Navy spokesman said the fire was touched off by lubricating oil which came in contact with a spark or a hot pipe after an oil gauge line broke.

The fire slightly damaged the equipment in the boiler room and scorched the paint. The blaze did not spread to other parts of the vessel.

Most of the 323 men aboard jumped or walked down the gangplank from the destroyer to the Maine State Pier where it was tied up. A handful of sailors remained aboard to help civilian firemen in putting out the blaze.

Two sailors were overcome by smoke while fighting the fire. No one was seriously hurt.

Pope Better; Spends Quiet, Restful Night

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican reported today that a "distinct improvement" was noted in the condition of Pope John XXIII.

The statement was the most optimistic to date about the condition of the 81-year-old Pope, who is suffering from internal bleeding and a stomach tumor that could be cancerous.

In a communique issued shortly after 2:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EST), the Vatican said: "At 10 a.m. (4 a.m. today) a distinct improvement was noted in the general condition of the ailing patient, thus confirming yesterday's prediction."

No Sugar Shortage Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Department officials told Senate investigators today that the United States does not face a sugar shortage this year and predicted that climbing prices should level off soon.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's mighty Titan-2 rocket, the powerplant for future orbital voyages of U.S. astronauts, blew up in the sky today in one of the most spectacular failures of the year.

The 103-foot missile lumbered from its launching pad at about 11:35 a.m. (12:35 p.m.) But about 30 seconds later, its massive booster stage cracked open and sent a towering ball of black smoke and brilliant red flame soaring into the sky.

Legislature Clears Battle Decks For Desperate Tax Hassle

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislature, clearing the decks for a big tax battle, tied up loose ends today by sending to the governor bills raising junior college teachers' pay, repealing the $400 teacher competency award and creating a public defender system.

Another does away with the controversial competency award but allows funds to pay teachers who have already qualified for the bonus.

The bill creating the office of public defender in each judicial circuit to represent penniless persons accused of crime cleared with concurrence in an amendment authorizing the court to determine the insolvency of the accused felon.

Also cleared was a bill giving legal status to the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies (FICUS) but restricting its activities. Amendments set a maximum of $18,500 a year on the salary of the director, whose title is changed from president, and requires frequent reports to the Cabinet and Board of Control on off-campus courses offered by FICUS and student enrollment. It also empowers the Board of Control rather than FICUS to determine off-campus study needs.

The Legislature also wrapped up and sent to the governor bills to establish a junior college in Polk County and a Gulf coast laboratory in Northwest Florida to study dog flies and create divisions of sponsored research at state universities.

The measures, which already had passed both houses, cleared the Legislature with concurrence of the Senate in minor House amendments. One bill gives junior college instructors a $350 annual pay raise and provides funds for year-round operation of these two-year colleges.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS Mayor Lawrence Swofford, left, signed on the dotted line this morning with Mackie Brothers Construction of Miami for the building of the town's new $350,000 water plant. Standing by were Carl Burbridge, center, company representative and Harold Hudcliffe, president of Glace Engineering of St. Petersburg which handled all preliminary work.

Union Official Re-Arrested On FEC 'Sabotage' Charge

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — A 40-year-old union member was re-arrested today on charges of sabotaging a freight train operated by the strike-bound Florida East Coast Railway May 3 at New Smyrna Beach.

U. S. Marshall served the warrant on Harold V. Thompson 49, of Daytona Beach, just as a preliminary hearing on the charge was about to begin before U. S. Commissioner Alfred Hawkins.

Thompson was indicted by a federal grand jury in Jacksonville Tuesday. He was released on $5,000 bond pending trial in U. S. District Court in Jacksonville later this summer.

During the first day's hearing before the commissioner last week, the government sought to show Thompson deliberately tampered with the braking system of the train.

No 'Mixing' Authority-Judge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A federal judge today ruled the Justice Department was "without authority to sue for integration of schools at Huntsville and Madison County in Alabama.

Federal District Judge H. J. Grooms dismissed a suit filed in January for desegregation of schools near the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, which has thousands of federal employees.

Grooms cited many decisions in which courts have held the federal government has no right to sue for the civil rights of individuals.

"I am of the opinion that the United States is without authority to maintain this action and, further, that the complaint does not state a claim upon which relief can be granted," Grooms said.

Race Tension Nothing New To Chicago

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third in a series of five dispatches by United Press International on racial problems in key northern cities.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Racial tensions are nothing new to the nation's second largest city, but this spring civil rights leaders sense a mounting tide of impatience in the air which could lead to serious trouble in the weeks ahead.

If racial conflicts do explode here, they are likely to do so during the summer, which Chicago Urban League Director Edwin C. Berry calls "the riot season."

"Chicagoans are sitting on a tinder box and they very narrowly missed an explosion in the last few weeks," said Berry in a warning to the Urban League's board of directors.

"The mood is more critical than at any time I've ever seen it. This mood will be very serious this summer as long as we don't do anything about it."

"We need to take immediate action in a crash type of program related to equality of opportunity in jobs, housing and education."

"We currently live in an unjust society, racially speaking, and the ingredients of this racial unrest are always present. When anything happens — like the Birmingham situation or like the gathering of the mob on the Southwest Side when there was supposed to be a Negro moving in — any little thing like that can touch it off."

Berry and other experts in the field agree Chicago's race problem is longstanding and is growing. The ground roots of the problem can be told in statistics:

—Of the 3.5 million inhabitants of metropolitan Chicago listed in the 1960 census, 819,000 were Negro.

—The 1960 census listed 2.6 million persons in Chicago, 462,000 of them Negro. This meant Chicago's Negro population had risen 48 per cent in 10 years while the overall population had dropped.

—Of the city's 813,000 Negroes, 520,000 live in the South Side area nine miles long and three miles wide known as "The Black Belt." Of the rest, the overwhelming majority also live in all-Negro pockets. This is the situation that has led some to describe Chicago as the nation's most segregated city.

—Almost half of Chicago's Negroes came here from somewhere else.

—Seventy-five per cent of the persons on county relief rolls are Negro.

These figures add up to trouble in the vital areas of housing, education and jobs.

There were 34,625,000 households in the U. S. in March of 1962, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

Vatican-Red Ties Hurt If Pope Should Die

MOSCOW (UPI) — Efforts by the Vatican and the Kremlin to smooth over the bitter relations between Roman Catholicism and communism may come to an abrupt end if Pope John XXIII dies. Whether they then would be resumed will depend in large measure on the man who succeeds to the post of spiritual leader of world Catholics.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Communist leaders apparently view Pope John as a man whose pronouncements and attitude were strikingly different from the strongly anti-Communist position of his predecessor, Pope Pius XII.

The result, since early last year, has been a series of Kremlin gestures of friendship that would have been unthinkable in the days of Pius XII.

It may be that they will be ruled out as well under the next Pope.

Khrushchev, an avowed atheist, not only sent Pope John congratulatory messages on his birthday and when he was awarded the Balzan Peace Prize, but also dispatched his son-in-law, Ilya Ilyaevich Alexei Adzhubel, to Rome.

Adzhubel had a private audience with the Pope.

Simultaneously, leaders of the Russian Orthodox Church began making similar friendship gestures. They sent two observers to the Ecumenical Council.

Then early this year the Russian Orthodox journal Moscow Patriarchate favorably reviewed the council's proceedings, particularly the Pope's stress on the need for peace.

U.S. To Honor War Dead

By United Press International
Americans across the land made plans today to pay homage to their war dead and celebrate the start of the vacation season during the long Memorial Day weekend.

As motorists prepared to flock to the highways, law enforcement officials throughout the nation called out full forces and ordered a heavy crackdown on traffic violators.

The National Safety Council predicted between 450 and 550 persons could die in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. today and midnight Sunday.

Another 20,000 to 24,000 persons could suffer injuries disabling them beyond the day of the accident, the council said.

For many persons, Memorial Day will mean a trip to the cemetery, located perhaps in a busy city or on a treeless, sunbaked prairie. There they will place bouquets on the graves of loved ones.

Many will gather for traditional Memorial Day speeches that ring with patriotism.

Gen. John A. Logan of Illinois, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued his famous order to decorate the graves of the Union veterans May 30, 1868. In the course of time, his directive came to embrace the dead of all wars.

The American Veterans Press Association asked that every home, factory, school and public building be decorated with an American flag.

Gator Hardware Opening Winners Announced

Biba Beasley is the winner of the aluminum step ladder; Homer Pippen won a keg of nails and Hudson Glenn's name was drawn for the Jig-saw.

"We are indeed grateful to the many people who dropped in during the day to see our new store and find out what we have to offer, and we hope they'll make us their one-stop hardware needs," said Coleman.

House OK's Non-Controversial Bills

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Seeking to cut an overcrowded calendar down to manageable size, the House took up and passed Tuesday a big batch of non-controversial bills.

Most of the measures were minor legislation. Included were bills to change the name of the State Nuclear Commission to the Florida Nuclear and Space Commission and adding a member to the Agricultural Advisory Council report.

Civil Defense Money Probe On

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House armed services subcommittee today sought to find out exactly what happened to the more than $1 billion appropriated for civil defense since 1951.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., asked Assistant Defense Secretary Stuart L. Pittman to prepare an accounting of the money. He indicated one thing he wanted to examine was the number of civil defense employees in the nation.

The subcommittee is hearing administration proposals for a vast nuclear fallout shelter program. The plan would spend $175 million in the coming fiscal year, and put more than $2 billion in federal aid in shelters over five years.

A bill authorizing creation of divisions of sponsored research in state universities cleared the legislature. Money to support the research would come from grants and donations for research.

The House also approved and sent to the Senate a bill adding 25 beds to the State Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center at Avon Park. Money to pay for the additional beds would come from taxes on liquor which normally go to support the rehabilitation program.

New Rights Bill To Be Submitted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration is expected to submit its new civil rights bill to Congress next week.

A spokesman said late Tuesday the administration hoped to get the details of the bill worked out this weekend.

The manner of presentation has not been decided, the spokesman said, but he indicated the administration wanted to get the bill to Congress before Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy testifies before the House Judiciary Committee June 12.

off indebtedness of the Carillon Tower at the Stephen Foster Memorial at White Springs.

Set $250 a year license fee for liquor dealers selling tax free liquor at international airports to passengers leaving the country.

Authorize the Commissioner of Agriculture to set standards for agricultural projects which would be labeled seal of quality. Producers would pay a $10 fee for use of the label.

Kersey Service Set Thursday

Mr. Kersey, who died at 6:30 p. m. Monday at his home at 311 S. Park Ave., had lived in Sanford for the past 40 years during which time he operated a grocery in Oviedo for 20 years. He was born in Monticello on Oct. 27, 1883.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Susie Kersey of Sanford; three daughters, Mrs. Katherine Phagan of Sanford; Mrs. Mildred Newsome of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. M. M. Shaw of Jacksonville; nine grandchildren and seven great-grandsons.

Troop Plane Crashes, Burns; 69 Aboard OK

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — "Don't panic," the first sergeant yelled just before the huge troop transport plane smashed to the ground.

"Now unfasten your safety belts and get out." The plane already was in flames as the 64 soldiers escaped safely from the wreckage of a Standard Airways Constellation which crashed while landing Tuesday at Municipal Airport, according to some survivors.

Only five of the 69 passengers and crew members were injured, none critically.

Capt. David Brown, the pilot, said the craft lost power while he approached for a routine landing. It crumbled to the ground short of the runway and burned for more than three hours.

The soldiers, returning from maneuvers in California, said the plane was burning when they jumped to the ground and fled to safety.

First Sgt. Charles L. Brigrance shouted commands of "don't panic" after another soldier yelled "We're crashing... we're crashing."

There was no other warning of the crash.

The 69 moved quickly to safety after the plane shattered to a halt in mud.

Witnesses said the right wing tore off the craft, then the other wing fell off. Fires started in the wings and spread to the fuselage.

"I looked out both sides of the plane and all I could see was a real orange-colored flames," Pfc. John L. Sturino, Kenosha, Wis., said. "When the plane came to a halt... we went out."

Several soldiers said there were flames around them when they leaped to the ground. A spokesman for Standard in Los Angeles said the men were out and "milling around" before the fire broke out.

The airline, which had contracted to transport the soldiers, said "due to lack of adequate fire fighting equipment" at the airport, the fire started. Airport manager Nick Dellere said a fire truck rushed immediately to the plane, but could not contain the blaze.

The injured soldiers were Pfc. G. R. Jants, 21, of El Dorado, Kan., fractured leg; Pfc. John J. Adams, 24, of Twin Rocks, Pa., broken toe, and Sgt. Joshua Hill, 34, of Thomson, Ga., contusions. Only Jants was hospitalized overnight.

Crew members hospitalized with bruises were Peter Raymen, 39, Long Beach, Calif., and Joe Merlo, 39, Sepulveda, Calif.

The soldiers all were members of Troop C, First Reconnaissance Squadron, Fourth Cavalry of the First Infantry Division stationed at nearby Fort Riley, Kan.

JFK Celebrates 46th Birthday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy is 46 years old today — brimming with vigor and in "excellent health" except for his persistent back ailment.

A tiny red skin blemish which appears from time to time and is again in evidence on his left cheek is the only outward sign of a physical problem for the Chief Executive.

But this was dismissed by Press Secretary Pierre Salinger as insignificant. Salinger's assessment: "The President is in excellent health and his back condition is improving."

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy arranged a family celebration of the President's birthday for this evening but Salinger declined to provide any details.

The President was getting one gift today that was unrelated to his birthday — the "Father of the Year" award by the National Father's Day Committee. The presentation was to be made at the White House.

Kennedy's chronic back disorder, stemming from a strain two years ago which aggravated an old injury, has kept him from the golf course and forced him to take various precautions to avoid harmful twists and turns.

But, partly as therapy for his back, Kennedy still conducts an active physical exercise program — swimming twice a day in the heated White House pool, and performing a half-hour's daily callisthenics prescribed by a medical specialist.

Red Schoolhouse Show 'Hilarious'

By Dottie Amata

Hilarious highlight of the variety musical revue benefit show, Merry Go Round, Tuesday were "The Whistlers", men of the Sanford Moose Lodge.

Marching on stage in huge top hats, the Whistlers appeared to be short men about four feet tall. As the audience realized that the strange faces under the hats were painted on the men's abdomens, with navel painted as mouths, the group "whistled" to the tune of the Colonel Bogey march.

brought down the packed house.

The many talented acts performed by local people, both children and adults was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the audience which almost filled the auditorium of Seminole High School for the benefit of the Little Red Schoolhouse.

A number which moved hearts and moistened eyes was young Michael Zarella, one of the musically talented children of the little school, who successfully played a duet with his cousin, Faye Karns.

Michael Zarella's masterful effort receive an ovation.

LL Dick Cleveland, who emceed the show kept the crowd laughing between acts with his clowning and jokes, and also entertained with piano selections.

Not listed on the program were two fine baritone solos by Jerry Covington.

"Fashions in Orbit" by the members of the Theta Epsilon Sorority featured "gowns" in many styles including a cool one covered with dozens of swinging tea bags, a "sack" dress decorated with polka dots, a "waifle Pique" with real waffles, and many other zany but clever costumes.

The songs, dances, skits and novelty acts were all received with delight and applause by the appreciative audience.

Many were heard to say, "I never knew we had so many wonderfully talented people around here."

All proceeds of the show go toward the financial support of the Little Red Schoolhouse, a school for mentally retarded children which is underwritten entirely by donations, contributions and gifts. Director and coordinator of the show was Mrs. John Barlow, vice president of the Seminole Assn. for Retarded Children.

The Michael Zarella number was emceed by Kenneth McIntosh, first president of the charter organization for the school who led the organization in it's first three years.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The State Road Department was scheduled to open bids on 32 highway projects here today. Two interstate jobs were included: The final I.R. 75 link between Georgia and Wildwood, and signs for the Orlando Expressway.

BARGAIN BUS

One of the biggest sight-seeing bargains in the world is a 56-cent two-hour double-decker London bus trip which covers almost every major sight in the city.

Students receiving the honor or ranked in the upper eighth scoring division of those taking the scholastic aptitude portion of the tests given ninth graders throughout the state earlier this school year.

The letter listing the awards referred to the students as "the most valuable of the natural resources from which the future of Florida and our nation will be molded." It urged the youngsters to take advantage of their "God-given talents" and to take courses which would prepare them for college admission as present or proposed state and national programs should make it possible for all worthy students to attend college by the time they finish high school.

Ft. Sumter, 1963

The newest events affecting the racial situation in Alabama suggest that this country may be moving into one of the most turbulent ordeals in the whole of its domestic history.

The bloody riots at the Ole Miss campus last fall could be only a fore-taste of what is to come.

For the stage has been set for a naked clash between federal and state power. If that conformation comes to pass, there can be no predicting the full outcome. But it could be very, very grave.

History never quite duplicates itself. The defiance of Gov. Orval Faubus at Little Rock disappeared quickly when President Eisenhower acted. Though Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett several times defied U. S. marshals, he yielded at a late stage.

Alabama's Gov. George Wallace says however, that he will plant himself at his state university's door to bar entry of negroes now set for June 10 — and will not yield.

What will happen if he stands that ground?

Alabama's Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers says serious violence may occur. This seems a reasonable forecast, since the state already has seen riots over racial issues this year — and they occurred at Ole Miss in spite of deliberate plans to avoid them.

We are unlikely to see again any extensive use of federal marshals such as was resorted to by President Kennedy at Oxford, Miss. The experiment failed, and the troops which first appeared at Little Rock came in the end to Ole Miss.

There can be little question but that the Army would be called on speedily to break a defiant stand by Wallace and quell any resulting disturbance.

In past interviews Wallace has said he knows this consequence may follow. He wants this test, at any cost. He says he thinks the forcible removal (and perhaps arrest) of a governor would stir the nation to the peril he finds in the U. S. government's course.

Implicit in this is his idea that, once awakened, a majority of Americans would call on the President, the Congress and the federal courts to change course of a direction acceptable to the forces sternly resisting desegregation.

Everyone concerned with this desperately serious problem, whether near to it or standing at some distance, must ask himself:

In this, or it it not, a nation whose individual parts (states) are stronger than the whole?

Would a majority of people rise, as Wallace hints, in support of a course that would confirm state superiority?

Or would a majority support the federal power as supreme?

There is not much time before the next crisis. By all means imaginable, letter, telegram, public opinion poll, the country's clear answer to these questions ought quickly to be made known.

We are deciding not just a matter of civil rights. We are deciding again what kind of a nation we want the United States to be.

Reason, the elemental reason of a solid — thinking people, should inject itself into this controversy before a hard collision comes — and perhaps brings with it ungovernable violence and a train of events deeply injurious to all Americans.

For Senior Citizen

Senior citizens seeking a new place in the sun may be interested in the fact that among 4,000 posts available in the Peace Corps in 445 countries are hundreds which might well be filled by qualified persons who have recently retired or are contemplating retirement.

These openings are being created by Peace Corpsmen who are completing their two-year tours of duty and by requests for expansion of projects, or for new programs. The posts must be filled by Sept. 1.

Says Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director: "We want as many senior volunteers as we can get for overseas assignment because of the expertise, patience and wisdom only experience and time can give."

Basic requirements: a bona fide skill in some trade or profession, ability to pass a satisfactory physical examination and successful completion of an orientation period.

The modest compensation and expenses do not conflict with pension, Social Security or dual compensation laws, the Peace Corps says.

Post Offices have Peace Corps questionnaires.

Helen Fuller Says

Frank Words Over JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some frank words are beginning to be spoken about why for almost three years the Kennedy Administration has failed on one of the President's major promises in the 1960 election campaign — federal action to improve the nation's schools.

The problem, of course, is that every proposal to Congress for doing so runs squarely into the wall of religious controversy. Many Catholics oppose aid programs which exclude parochial schools; many Protestants oppose those which include the church schools. This impasse existed before Kennedy came into office, and it is no surprise that the conflict between extremists on both sides has continued. What has surprised some observers is how little effort has gone into surmounting the wall of controversy.

Now Mr. Kennedy's right-hand man in the White House, Presidential Special Counsel Theodore Sorensen, has publicly explained Kennedy's failure to come up with a solution. "While it should not be impossible to find an equitable constitutional formula to settle the church-school aid problem," Sorensen said in a recent lecture at Columbia University, "it is difficult for that formula to be suggested by the Nation's first Catholic President."

In other words, Sorensen was saying that because he is a Catholic the President feels politically inhibited from suggesting a compromise on school aid that might be viewed as increasing federal help for parochial schools — a strange observation for the President's aide to volunteer. Kennedy assured the country during the campaign that his religious affiliation would never affect his conduct as President. Sorensen tells us that in this case it has.

The explanation may be that the President's Council intended his remarks not as an excuse for Kennedy's conduct but as a spur to others to take initiative on school aid themselves. If that was the purpose, it is already partly achieved. Last week Senator Abraham Ribicoff (R-Conn.), who served as Kennedy's first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, took the floor of the Senate to propose a compromise school aid bill he has devised and to call on his fellow Senators to get busy and do likewise. His speech aroused more than passing interest and for the first time in months there is talk of getting down to business again on education.

As a nation, Ribicoff expressed himself frankly. "We must replace bitterness about the religious controversy in education with reason and careful thought; we must see to it that those who oppose each other talk with each other and talk constructively." It is time the extremists were relegated to the back seats, the Senator declared. The question, he said, is: "Are the adults of America mature enough to resolve their differences for the education of their children?" The answer is not yet apparent.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Political implications of the Kennedy administration 1964 wheat program may not be clarified much before next year's presidential and congressional elections. Of perhaps even more importance, the wheat vote muddles the whole farm legislation picture, greatly impairing needed new cotton and dairy programs.

Republican leaders had defeat of the administration wheat program as a repudiation of all farm control policies advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Orville S. Freeman. They call for his resignation, even though the President expresses confidence in Freeman and gives him credit for working to increase United States farm income to the highest levels since 1955.

At the same time, Republican farm belt congressmen are rushing in with new wheat legislation they want passed this year to raise support prices well above the levels of $1.25 a bushel, which will be in effect under existing law.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S. D., is introducing a bill to continue the 1963 wheat program, which would mean a government support price of $2 a bushel. GOP Reps. Albert H. Quie of Minnesota, Bob Dole of Kansas, Don Short of North Dakota and others are sponsoring new wheat legislation which would reduce the support price to between 65 and 90 per cent of parity, which would be $1.62 to $2.25 a bushel.

The explanation may be that the President's Council intended his remarks not as an excuse for Kennedy's conduct but as a spur to others to take initiative on school aid themselves. If that was the purpose, it is already partly achieved. Last week Senator Abraham Ribicoff (R-Conn.), who served as Kennedy's first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, took the floor of the Senate to propose a compromise school aid bill he has devised and to call on his fellow Senators to get busy and do likewise. His speech aroused more than passing interest and for the first time in months there is talk of getting down to business again on education.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Edith is a typical "worry wart." But 10 million like her consult us doctors every week. Yet they have no diagnosable physical ailment whatsoever! So scrapp-book this vital case and its follow-up. You have only 76 years here on Earth so get 100 per cent enjoyment from them. Don't go through life only half living!

CASE P-431: Edith J., aged 39, is a typical "worry wart" about her health.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she began breathlessly, "I feel as if I am going crazy."

"I take all sorts of vitamins and sleeping pills till my husband grows so cross at me that he quarrels every time I open the medicine cabinet."

"In the last year I have consulted seven different doctors. And I now get a hormone injection every week."

"But still I am a nervous wreck. What's wrong with me, anyway?"

Each week 20,000,000 Americans enter a doctors' offices.

But 10,000,000 of them have no diagnosable physical ailment whatsoever!

These 10,000,000 are just worry warts about their health.

They are violating one of the Ten Commandments, too, for it says we are not to put any other gods ahead of God Almighty.

Yet these medical worry warts are worshipping pills and tranquilizers, vitamin ampules and syringes.

Basically, they are afraid! A large percentage of these neurotic worry warts simply lack a working partnership with God Almighty.

They belong to no church whatever, so they are trying to go it alone.

But in this competitive modern world, that is too big a job even for a brilliant college graduate.

We all need help and companionship and teamwork to make the grade in this hectic world nowadays.

And those of you who don't even attempt to become members on God's team get doubly scared.

So you run to an M. D., hoping to enshrine him as a little medical god.

Instead of fingering your beads, a la the Catholic faith, you finger pills and vitamin ampules when you are out of sight of that little medical god.

And you show an undue fear of cancer, as well as of thermonuclear war!

You need to get on God's team and then live like a lion instead of a timid sheep.

Edith's chief problem was sexual. She felt she wasn't experiencing all the thrills that a wife should enjoy.

So she decided something was wrong with her anatomy. She shopped around among seven doctors in the past year, vainly hoping somebody would tell her what was wrong.

But she was a shy, modest wife, so even in her opening remarks to me, you will observe that she never mentioned sex.

Yet that was what she finally centered on after an hour's interview.

She was terrified that when she passed her 40th birthday, she would be permanently on the shelf and entirely devoid of physical charm to her husband.

Edith is a typical wife who is scared about the female menopause, due chiefly to her false notions about the function of the womb.

Tomorrow I shall elaborate her case more fully. Meanwhile, send for the booklet "Menopausal Complexes of Men and Women," enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Golf season is when a married woman is looking for a husband.

They should make a piggy bank that would equal every time Mom or Dad sticks a knife into it to get some change out.

Famous last lines, after Saturday's food shopping: "How did we ever spend that much?"

With vacationing in the offing, we sure hope there to go around.

If you really want to find out how a stuffed olive feels, go on a picnic.

Folks are out in the woods tramping down violets, buttercups and other spring flowers. No wonder they're wild!

When Men's sick or away for a visit, Dad does the can-can at mealtime.

The bathing girl each year may look somewhat different, yet the men always look the same, at the bathing girl.

Why don't we just plant weeds in the garden in the first place?

Housing Costs Dip Compared To 'Ole Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—Practically everything cost less in the "good old days," but grandfather had to spend more of his income on housing than you do right now—and he had to work a lot longer to pay for his home.

William J. Levitt, president of Levitt and Sons, Inc., in the course of building some 60,000 single-family houses, has come up with some interesting information on housing.

Grandfather, he says, was supposed to budget 25 per cent of his earnings for the purchase and upkeep of his home. Today, however, housing costs the average family only about 20 per cent of its income. "That's true whether you rent or live in your own house. In the case of home ownership, the 20 per cent includes taxes and insurance as well as mortgage principal and interest."

Times also have changed, Levitt said, in the amount of labor required to purchase housing. "The general rule of thumb for grandpa was that it took the equivalent of about two and one-half years' income—the fruits of his labor for that time—to pay for a home. The average family today buys a home that costs the equivalent of only two years' income."

Levitt's figures, based on his company's experience in building residential communities, are confirmed by government statistics which show median income of families with FHA-insured mortgages is $7,108 before taxes, and the median value of the houses they buy is $14,607—just slightly more than double the typical income.

Chief reason for this change in the homeowner's favor, Levitt feels, is that incomes in recent years have increased faster than the purchase price of homes.

Celery Ave. Project Set

Work on widening Celery Ave. from the east City limits to the St. Johns River will start in 10 days, State Road Department member Max Brewer informed Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr. today in Tallahassee.

At the same time, Cleveland said that bid letting on resurfacing the road will be held in July.

Earlier the SRD had released a tentative construction program which includes $75,000 appropriation for the widening and paving project.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

It All Depends Whose Ox Is Gored

Newspapermen are a strange breed of people. They hold a fierce loyalty to their newspaper, more so than any other person to his profession or his special line of endeavor. And they work hard and fiercely to maintain an honest and integrity relationship with their readers.

Purpose of a newspaper is manifold but the prime purpose is to present honest, factual reporting of the news. The Sanford Herald has long endeavored to follow this prime purpose . . . in fact, has endeavored mightily to present an unbiased picture in all, including controversial, matters.

For a month or more The Herald has been under attack by three members of the City Commission. In the beginning, all five members sought to have The Herald publish a "letter to the editor" complaining of "unfair news practices." The Herald refused to publish this letter but, in a meeting with all five Commissioners, guaranteed to publish a letter complaining of any specific misrepresentation of a news story. The Commission countered with only generalities, failing to pinpoint any specific item. The Herald also agreed to publish statements by any Commissioner if he felt he had been misquoted or his position misrepresented.

Two members of the Commission withdrew their names from the letter when the other three began circulating copies throughout the count-ty. Jimmy Crapps and Al Wilson withdrew their names from the controversial letter when they learned it was to be circulated to others than The Sanford Herald. For the most part, responsible persons who received this letter read it and discarded it into "file 13." But an out-of-county newspaper has seen fit to air the epistle and, therefore, The Herald must say its say.

We owe this responsibility to our readers.

The Herald points to the fact the City Commission "killed" the jet fuel pipeline to the Naval Air Station but after this newspaper printed the facts the Commission recanted and approved the facility.

The Herald points to the fact the City Commission "killed" the new military academy but after this newspaper printed the facts the Commission recanted and now is completing negotiations to have this 250-cadet school located here.

The Herald believes in publishing the facts, especially for the betterment and improvement of the community and regardless whether it steps on the toes of a privileged few.

The City Commission has extended the olive branch to The Herald news staff . . . so we understand. We will learn at 2 p.m. Friday whether the dove of peace is flying over City Hall. We hope so . . . but, regardless of outcome, we will continue to print the facts.

Chamber, City To Meet Friday On Prep School

Executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been invited by the City Commission to attend a joint session at 11 a.m. Friday to "clarify matters" pertaining to the establishment of Sanford Military School.

Initial action was instigated by the Bureau of Private Colleges and Schools, New York City, which brought the principals together, followed by action by the Chamber of Commerce in bringing the MacFadden Foundation together with the City Commission.

The City Commission now is near completing negotiations with the Foundation for the 250-cadet school here, starting in September.

Commission members also will meet at 2 p.m. Friday with the publisher and news staff of The Herald, also to "clarify matters."

2 Face Illegal Fishing Charges

Two men charged with "monkey fishing" will be arraigned June 17 before County Judge Vernon Mize.

Judge Mize said today that the two local men, William V. Hosack and William T. Behrens, were charged by a fish and game warden with having possession of an illegal device for taking fresh water fish.

The men were said to have had several hundred pounds of fish in their possession when arrested, obtained by using an electrical shocking device commonly referred to as a "monkey box."

The men are free under $750 bond each.

Negroes Promise Stepped Up Drive

Negroes promised to step up their anti-segregation campaign in Jackson, Miss., today despite the possibility of more arrests.

There also were racial demonstrations in Florida, North Carolina and Louisiana Wednesday but the most violent protest against discrimination happened in the North—at Philadelphia.

Around 250 demonstrators protesting discrimination in hiring practices, fought with 300 policemen at a school construction site in Philadelphia and eight policemen and two pickets, including a minister, were hurt.

Heavy Rains Here Give Boost To Vegetable, Citrus Crops

Heavy and consistent rains during the last week have given a "good boost" to vegetable and citrus crops and to home shrubbery and lawns.

Heavy winds accompanied a 1.37 inch rainfall Wednesday evening, causing minor damage in and around Sanford but a $1,500 damage to a floating dock at Monroe Harbor Boat.

Normal rainfall for May is 2.4 inches but as of May 22 only 1.83 inches was recorded this month at the county agricultural center. However, the Naval Air Station weather bureau reported this morning a total of 3.34 inches now has been recorded for this month. The NAS bureau added that 2.33 inches fell during last weekend.

Pope Rallies In Battle For Life

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII rallied further today in his fight for life as internal bleeding which has sapped his strength finally stopped.

An official Vatican medical bulletin issued at 1:40 p. m. (8:40 a. m.) said the 81-year-old pontiff, confined to bed with an abnormal stomach growth—or tumor—and other complications, "showed a marked rally" from his ailments.

Internal bleeding was stopped for the moment and he was strengthened with a series of blood transfusions.

An earlier morning bulletin issued at 9:45 a. m. (5:45 a. m. EDT) also reported optimistically on the Pope's condition, stating that "the Holy Father spent an excellent night after a perfect rest."

Aloha Party

Discreet PTA will host sixth graders at an "Aloha" party Friday evening. The students will have a swimming party from 7 to 9 p.m. at municipal pool, followed by dancing, music and refreshments at the school cafeteria.

House Okays 30 Day Extended Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House voted today to extend the 1963 session for up to 30 days.

The bill extending the session was passed in the House where enough supporters have already signed a petition to assure its adoption.

A three-fifths vote is required for an extension beyond the regular 60-day session which runs out tomorrow night.

Sponsors said the move was made today to overcome efforts by Gov. Farris Bryant to call the legislature back into a special session restricted only to finance and tax measures.

Speaker Malory Horne said should the Legislature be able to overcome the monumental problems ahead of it by Friday night, the resolution called by recalled and killed. But nobody really believed this was possible.

Up To People

The big questions were scheduled first in the Senate's morning session. The senators were faced with a hiked and expanded four per cent sales tax and a fight to get a three cents hike in the cigarette tax to the floor.

The cigarette tax issue raised a furor in the Senate Wednesday. Most of the Senate went on record Wednesday as being opposed to the four per cent sales tax—one per cent above the present mark. The tax is also expanded under the bill to include most items with the exceptions of groceries and medicine. It also raises the tax on automobile sales from one to two per cent.

The bill was passed and sent to the floor by a 93 vote of the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee, Sen. A. J. Boyd, Leesburg, said he had 29 commitments to veto the bill, more than enough for a kill on the multi-million dollar proposal.

Sales Tax Hit By Governor

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant came out strongly today against the four per cent sales tax proposal advanced by House and Senate Finance Committees to solve the state's financial dilemma.

Bryant would not threaten a veto outright, but he left the impression that he would dissolve the bill if it cleared the Legislature, which seems extremely doubtful with a Senate majority already pledged against it.

Bryant made these other points at his weekly news conference:

—He will call the Legislature into immediate special session if it does not complete its labors by voting an adequate tax program by tomorrow night.

—He is seriously concerned about chances of his bond financing program for university and junior college construction getting through the House.

—Passage of a bill increasing the state cigarette tax by three cents a package is very important for fiscal balance in addition to the amount of revenue it would bring the state and municipalities.

Bryant said he has discussed with legislators last night and again this morning, the possibilities of a special or extended session of the Legislature which is due to adjourn Friday.

Fern Park Bill Seen

The Seminole County legislative delegation introduced a bill into the house Wednesday which paves the way for Fern Park to become a city in late 1963 if the majority of the people in the area desire it.

Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr. disclosed today that the bill was introduced and has been put on the Senate calendar today.

The bill states the County Commission may provide for holding a community election this November within the unincorporated area known as Fern Park for the purpose of determining whether a majority of the registered voters desire to have a charter prepared to make the community a city.

Move On To Halt U. S. Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negotiators for the nation's railroads and five railroad unions gave up their holiday today in an effort to avert a nationwide rail strike.

But spokesmen for both sides in the long-standing dispute cautioned against interpreting the decision to work through the holiday as a sign that an agreement was near.

One source said there had not been much change in the situation since the latest round of negotiations began following the May 11 report of a presidential emergency board appointed to recommend a settlement.

The main issue in the dispute is the railroads' desire to eliminate the job of fireman on diesel locomotives. The railroads say the firemen no longer are needed and union rules which require their presence in the cab are featherbedding.
