Arson suspected in Monday house fire

A two-alarm fire on Sanford Avenue Monday night is a suspected arson case, said fire investigator Tim Robles. When Sanford Fire Department Battalion Chief Tommy Martin responded to the two-story house fire at 613 S. Sanford Ave. he called for the second alarm. As many as a dozen fire-fighting units from Sanford, Seminole County and Lake Mary responded to the blaze.

There were individuals staying in the home although no tent was being collected. Robles said. One civilian was transported to the Central Florida Regional Hospital for smoke ventilation. The house that had no electricity or gas had been the recent target of the police department for drug activity and prostitution. "With that right away we suspected it to be a very suspicious fire," Robles said.

Sanford Avenue was closed from about 9 to 10 p.m. After the smoke had cleared at about 11 p.m., three separate origins of fire were discovered by investigators. Robles said the home was built in the 1930s, and the three origins of fire included one on the front porch, one in the bedroom and another in a second-story bedroom.

The owner of the home is Allison Galbrith of Port St.

Anyone with information about the suspected arson fire can call 407-302-1022. The state fire marshals offer a $1,000 reward for information leading to an arrest.

Suicidal boater leads police on chase

By Christopher Patton Staff Witer

SANFORD - A potentially armed and suicidal Sanford man took law enforcement officers on a wild boat chase early Monday morning on the foggy waters of Lake Monroe and the St Johns River.

The incident began when a relative was leaving from a visit with Smith Sunday aggravated assault on a law enforcement officer as he reportedly tried to ram authorities' boats on nine different occasions, said you,' Olson said. The relative reported

Smith may be suicidal and armed in a 17foot boat with a 90 horsepower engine on Lake Monroe. A public records check at the state department of motor vehicles revealed the boat is not registered to Smith.

A wildlife officer responded and tried to strike up a dialogue with Smith, Olson said.

Smith allegedly reacted by attempting to ram the officer's boat. At that point, the Seminole and Volusia sheriff's offices also became involved as both sent two watercrafts searching for Smith.

One Seminole deputy reported Smith, came out of the fog at full speed and he had to make a hard right turn to avoid being hit, said Olson. Smith reportedly tried to ram the wildlife officer's boat seven times, and

Commissioners discuss proposed transit tax bill

By Christopher Patton Staff Writer

SANFORD - Two agenda items discussed by county commissioners Tuesday could assist in improving mass transit services in Seminole.

Staff informed commissioners of a newly proposed house bill that would allow them to ask voters to levy a one-cent transit sales tax - only after the current local option expires.

Rep. Sara Romeo (D) of Hillsborough County is sponsor-ing House Bill 675, which proposes to amend the state statue that allows counties to levy a transit system surtax. The new bill would strike a requirement in the statue that prohibits counties with a charter adopted after June 1, 1976 from participating. Seminole voters adopted the current charter in the 1980s. The LYNX Board will also consider supporting the new bill at their Thursday meeting. LYNX is actively searching for a more predictable revenue source from Seminole, Osceola and Orange counties, said Frankie Callen, LYNX executive manager of governmental affairs.

"What other counties choose to do is totally up to them," Callen said, "but this could give them one more option."

Man no longer threat to rose bush garden

SANFORD - For two long years, the Lori Fiorelli waited for the news she received Jan. 18.

Friday wasn't necessarily a special date, but with one single arrest, it marked the end to an assault on the couple's flowerbeds. Sanford police arrested James Elwood Knight, 47, of Sanford Friday night after Ron Fiorelli witnessed Knight stealing two of his blue potted rose bushes. Since 1998, Lori Fiorelli estimates 100 rose bushes have been stolen from her Park Avenue rose garden. Police found Knight hiding in an alley with five rose bushes as a passer-by alerted them to which direction he ran. It's uncertain, as of yet, if he will be implicated in the previous thefts. "I really think it's the same guy," Lori said. "I'm going to keep on this and make sure he pays for the crime."

Knight is not admitting to any additional thefts at this point, but investigators are talking with him, said police spokeswoman Cleo Cohen.

Police charged Knight with petty theft and possession of drug paraphernalia, as they also found a suspected crack pipe. He did admit to investigators to jumping the fence and stealing the rose bushes, according to the police report.

The Friday attempted theft was to no surprise to Lori. She said a thief routinely would make a big hit and then come back again shortly afterward. The thief had not made an appearance

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Daughter who sleeps nude keeps mom awake at night

DEAR ABBY: I started college last fall and noved into a dorm. My roommate and I get along great. She sleeps in the nude. It shocked me at first, but the weather was hot, so I tried it. Now I wouldn't sleep any other must be lesbians. (We're both straight.) She says what I am doing is immoral and un-Christian. Abby, I am a very religious person. I cannot se how sleeping in the nude is immoral. I don't talk about it or prance around nude. Am I missing something? How can I convince Mother that

Dear

Abby

what I'm doing is really OK? FEELING THE HEAT

DEAR FEELING THE HEAT: Nudity is not immoral; it has nothing to do with religion. It is not an Indication of sexual activity or lack of it. Nudity is simply a state of undress. You are comfortable with it; your mother is not. You probably can't convince a person who feels that nudity is fundamentally wrong that it's OK. Part of growing up is learning to listen to our conscience and deciding what's right for us. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old daughter, "Jenny," sleeps at her best friend's house about once a month. Her friend has a double bed, which they share. I have been fine with this. I have slept in the same bed with other women, and there was nothing sexual about it.

Since last summer, Jenny has been sleeping in the nude. I don't have a problem with that, either. She doesn't parade around the house naked and is quite modest. I started sleeping in the nude when I was 18. Again, there was nothing sexual about it.

The other day, I asked Jenny if she slept in the nude when she was at her friend's house. She said they both did. It has been bothering me ever since. I can't help feeling their friendship is sexual. I'm afraid asking her outright would make her angry or might result in her lying to me, since she knows I would not approve of her having sex with anyone at this age.

Abby, do you think it's possible two 16-year-old girls could share the same bed naked and not be sexually involved? What can I do to ease my mind?

SUSPICIOUS MOM IN NAPA, CALIF.

DEAR SUSPICIOUS MOM: Yes, I do think it's possible. However, your question is intriguing. Are there any other reasons you are suspicious? Has she shown an interest in boys?

Your daughter will not become defensive when you talk to her about her sexual orientation unless you appear accusatory or judgmental. Although time may answer your question for you, you and she are overdue for a frank and loving mother-daughter chat. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I recently heard the best way to sleep soundly is to keep your feet and hands warm. The image I had from this report was:

Sleep with socks and mittens, but nothing else. A few days later, another article claimed that when you sleep totally nude, heat is more evenly distributed, thus you sleep more comfortably, even in the cold of winter.

What have you heard about sleeping in the nude?

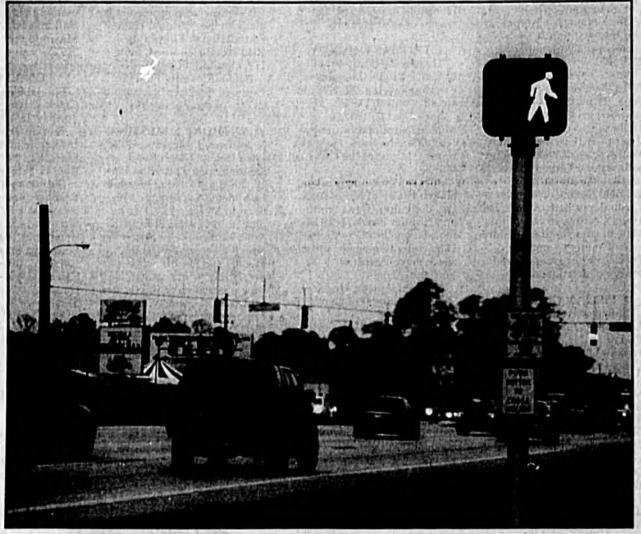

NUDIST IN SANTA CLARITA, CALIF.

DEAR NUDIST: Only this: Heat escapes from the top of the head and the bottom of the feet. So to conserve body heat, wear socks and a ski cap. And pray that anyone who sees you doesn't die laughing.

Chop shop coverage yields numerous calls

Articles about a chop shop investigation that appeared in the Seminole Herald have resulted in more than 500 calls into the Seminole County Sheriff's Office from the public and law enforcement agencies.

Sheriff's spokesman Steve Olson said the calls have resulted in the City-County Auto Theft Bureau receiving five to six new leads and located four to five new victims. The Bureau is still in the process of trying to return the hundreds of calls and asks the public to be patient.

Investigators from the City-County Auto Theft Bureau continue to investigate a group believed responsible for vehicle thefts, cargo trailer and boat trailer thefts, as well as the theft of numerous other items, including antiques. The investigation, to date, has resulted in an estimated $300,000 worth of property being recovered.

It began as a search of a suspected chop shop operation located at a home at 1511 Mellonville Avenue in Sanford on Nov. 15. During the execution of that search warrant, investigators identified three stolen trailers, one stolen boat and five stolen vehicles. There were also vehicles on the site where the vehicle identification numbers did not match their parts. There were numerous antiques and other items in the home that were stolen.

The investigation led to additional search warrants being issued in Seminole and Orange Counties. The warrants resulted the recovery of even more vehicles and property stolen from victims in Orange, Seminole, Lake and Volusia Counties.

During the course of the investigation, three people were arrested. Richard Van Alstyne, 37 (dob 6-2-64), of 1511 Mellonville Avenue was arrested for grand theft auto, larceny and burglary. He is out of jail on bond. Timothy Suwalski, 36 (dob 3-22-65), of 3171 Elkcam Boulevard in Deltona was arrested on drug charges. He is also a suspected of being involved in the theft ring. He is currently out of jail on bond. Mark Greskowiak, 43 (dob 6-26-58), of 2550 Mellonville Avenue was arrested on auto theft charges. He, too, has since bonded out of jail.

It's believed the group may be still active and that more stolen property may be hidden in various locations throughout Central Florida.

Anybody with information is asked to call Investigator Scott Slavin of the City-County Auto Theft Bureau at 407-665-6631.

'Walkability' improvement workshop Feb. 8

By Den Ping

SANPORD — City planners will host a community work-shop Friday, Feb. 8, to solicit solutions for improving the "walkability" of U.S. Highway 17/92 between 13th and 20th

The workshop will be facili-tated by Dan Burden, director of Walkable Communities Inc., and Charles Gandy, a nationally recognized expert on "antigridlock" transportation strate-gies and former Director of Advocacy Programs for the Bicycle Federation of America from July 1994 to September

"The city applied for and received a grant from City planners want to make 17/92 area pedestrian friendly MetroPian Orlando to conduct the program," said Antonia Gerli, senior planner for the city of Sanford. "The workshop is open to everyone. We want to find ways to make that area more pedestrian friendly,"

Gerli said the city is searching for solutions to calm traffic and "improve the 'walkability' between 13th and 20th streets."

"We thought that area had some problems, particularly when you take into account the middle school and the shopping center located there," Gerli said. "That is a heavy pedestrian area, but it's also a fairly uninviting pedestrian area."

Approximately 30,000 cars travel that stretch of 17/92

daily, including a high volume improvements until after the of truck traffic, Gerli said.

"The State Farmers' Market at 13th Street and 17/92 draws a lot of trucks and that adds to the pedestrian issues," Gerli said.

The workshop, scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday, Feb. 8 at Sanford Fire Station #31, will focus on hands-on participation and community input is encouraged.

"The group will provide recommendations to the city," Gerli said. "Hopefully, we can come up with some solutions that can be implemented."

Gerli said the city won't be able to identify funding sources or a preliminary timetable for

"We expect both the city and MetroPlan could provide funding," she said. "It really depends on what kind of solutions are recommended and how those solutions would fit in the different transportation classifications."

In addition to Burden and Gandy, Gandy, planners from MetroPlan Orlando and county officials will attend the meeting.

"We'll be using the workshop to make people aware of our needs," Gerli said.

For more information about the free workshop or to make reservations to attend, call 407-330-5673.

He's had brushes with the law before, but nothing of this magnitude, said Olson. The majority of his arrests stem from economic crimes with the most recent coming in August on a probation vio-lation charge. In addition to aggravated assault, Smith is also wanted on violation of probation.

lobbied nion last summer to void the Christmas parade contract between the city and Main Street and allow DBA to run the event. Main Street members acquiesced but grumbled about DBA's sharptongued carping regarding previ-ous Christmas parades.

Frith just shrugs when she asked about the history of the Main Street-DBA relationship. As a proud member of the Daughters of the American Revolution (her ancestor, Capt. Henry Hoover, fought with George Washington) Frith values history, but knows her tenure as director will be judged on future actions.

There are so many opportuni-ties ahead of Main Street and the city of Senford that I honestly don't have time to focus on those things," Prith said. "I'm new in town so I begin with a blank slate for everyone. I don't know you and you don't know me, so there's no reason why we can't build a relationarity.

Prith notes that Sanford is not unique when it comes to turf wars among civic groups and points out that Main Street and DBA, as well as the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, have a core mission of making Sanford a better commu-nity. The key is taking pride in success, regardless of which group claims credit.

"Who isn't for a more prosperous Sanford?" Frith asked. "That's what we're all trying to accomplish. I see what Sara is doing, and it's wonderful. I don't think Sara's goal is to see Sanford fail. We want the same thing. We don't necessarily all have to agree, but it would be fruitful to at least talk with each other."

Frith said she and Jacobson plan to meet soon for lunch.

"I think we can find a way to work together," Frith said

Bob Kuhn, Main Street's president, agrees with Frith that Main Street shouldn't "argue over who gets to do which event."

"We need to focus on the posi-tive," Kuhn said. "We have a responsibility to fulfill the requirements of our charter."

Those requirements include historical preservation and economic development. Special events, such as Oktoberfest, and the monthly antique car cruises and the weekly farmers market will remain a part of Main Street's mission. But expect to see Frith spending more time recruiting businesses to downtown.

"I intend to use the extensive list of contacts I've developed over the years," Frith said. "I've been in Central Florida for 20 years, and there are a lot of people interested in Sanford."

One area Frith plans to focus on is the city's HUBZone status granted by the federal govern-ment's Small Business Administration. The HUBZones are designed to promote business and job opportunity in economi-cally-distressed urban and rural areas by increasing federal contracting activity in those areas. Eligible small businesses must locate in HUBZones (Historically Underutilized Business zones), which are areas of generally low income and high unemployment. The SBA expects the pool of available contracts to grow to around $6 billion annually by 2003.

Frith said one of the attractive features about HUBZones is that 35 percent of a qualified business's employees must live in the who want to stand in the sun. It's an all around win-win situation."

but residents, as well," Frith said. "A vibrant downtown has a good balance of both."

In the coming months, Frith will work with the Main Street board of directors, community leaders and city officials to lay out the vision for the organization and downtown Sanford.

"I operate on a four-point principal: research, plan, implement, and evaluate," Frith said. "I'll take a community-approach."

When not working for Main Street, Frith stays busy restoring her 1929 home in Orlando and spending time with her two chil-

"A friend of mine told me I had enough energy to light up Times Square," Frith chuckled. "I have a good work ethic, and I'm really excited about this job.

"This job represents a compos-ite of what I've done best throughout my career," Frith said. "It has the historic preservation that I love — I absolutely love antiques and old buildings. It requires the political and marketing skills that I have acquired. When I saw the ad in the newspaper, I said to myself, That is a composite of everything I would want to do."

Raiders roll

SCC women take outright M-FC lead

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

DAYTONA BEACH — The amazing Seminole Community College women's basketball team continued a remarkable streak Saturday night, edging past Daytona Beach Community College, 70-68, at the Lemerand Center in Daytona Beach. The victory was the third straight over the Falcons for the Raiders and extended their unbeaten streak in Mid-Florida Conference play to 10 in a row over two years.

The win was the seventh in a row for SCC overall, giving it a mark of 12-8. The victory also left the Raiders alone atop the M-PC standings with a 2-0

DBCC came into the game ranked No. 18 in the nation with a 20-2 record overall and the Falcons were also 1-0 in the conference after upsetting No. 8 nationally-ranked Central Florida Community College in Ocala on Wednesday.

SCC will be idle tonight (Wednesday), but will return to the SCC Health and Physical Education Center to host Florida Community College at Jacksonville this Saturday night.

The game will be the first of a women/men doubleheader with the tipoff set for 6 p.m. The SCC men will take on the FCC-J Stars at 8 p.m. Admission to all SCC home games are free to the public.

The turnaround by the Raiders has been nothing short of phenomenal. Before Christmas, the women of coach Ken Patrick were struggling to stay at .500. Most of that was attributed to a very tough schedule and injuries. But it's hard to believe that the team could turn into a winning machine just with the return of four players, only one of which, sophomore center Brandi Davis, an offensive rebounding wonder, See SCC, Page 3B

LAKE MARY — Carl Brown and his Lake Mary girls basket-ball team may not get a medal for knocking off four stateranked teams in nine days, but the effort just might pay off in a state championship.

Putting forth an outstanding defensive effort, the Rams capped off the amazing week with a 51-31 victory over No. 9 Class 5A State-Ranked Buchholz High School (17-6) from Gainesville Saturday afternoon at Lake Mary High School.

It has often been said that to be the best, you have to beat the best. If that is true, this past week's string of games should give Lake Mary the background it needs to make a run at the state title.

The undefeated Rams, 23-0 and ranked No. 1 in the state in Class 6A, started the string of games with wins over two Class 6A ranked teams, No. 3 Sarasota and No. 5 Sarasota-Riverview, in the Sarasota Girls Basketball Showcase last week-

Lake Mary then came back to Central Florida to face a young, but extremely talented, Oviedo squad on the Lions' home court on Tuesday, before host-

Sophomore guard Angle Pressey (No. 11) scored 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting from the floor and also had six rebounds and two assists to help host and No. 1 Class 6A state-ranked Lake Mary improve to 23-0 on the season with a 51-31 trouncing of No. 9 Class 5A state-ranked Gainesville-Buchholz Saturday afternoon. The win was the fourth in nine days of a state-ranked team by the Rams.

Lion girls continue to surprise in soccer

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

OVIEDO - It's been quite a past few days for the Oviedo girls soccer team.

After posting a big district and Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lake Mary on Wednesday, the Lions came up with an even bigger shocker on Friday, shutting out two-time defending State Champion Lake Howell, 1-0, at John Courier Field. Jennah Carter's 15th goal of the season was the only score, while Nellie Liljenquist made seven saves in goal to record the shut out as Oviedo evened its record at 8-8-3.

The Silver Hawks (17-5-1) suffered yet another setback at the hands of an SAC foe on Monday as goalie Courtney Silvera made four saves as Winter Springs nipped Lake Howell, 2-1.

Lake Mary (17-6-1) bounced back from its loss to Oviedo with a 1-0 shutout of the Bears on Friday.

Jacklyn Wenaas scored on an assist from Lauren McIntosh and Natalie Haerens made five saves in goal to preserve the shutout for the Rams.

Ashley Reilly scored Lyman's goal and Katie Pickelsimer had five saves in goal as the Greyhounds battled to a 1-1 tie with Titusville on Friday.

Also on Friday, Lauren Kovacsik scored both goals and Dalila Vizueta made five saves in goal as Seminole whitewashed Deltona, 2-0. Kimmie German and Jeanette Gurtis had assists for the Fighting Seminoles.

Monday was not good for SAC teams as Lake Howell fell to Bishop Moore, 3-2, and Lake Mary lost star midfielder Tres Loch in a 1-1 tie with Winter Park. Loch, a junior, suffered a dis-

The Rams (14-5-4) got their goal in the first half from Tyler Brown on an assist from Fernando Tovar, but the Wildcats (22-2-1) got an empty net goal early in the second

UCF (10-7 overall, 6-2 in ASC) conceded the first place ranking in the A-Sun with the loss as Belmont improved to 7-1 in the conference (13-2 overall).

The Bruins took an early lead going 8-for-8 from the field and scoring 19 points in the game's first seven minutes, while the Golden Knights would commit 12 turnovers in that same amount of time. Juggling their lineup, the Golden Knights went with a three-guard offense to start the second half and went on a 10-2 run to cut the Bruins lead to four points, 39-35. ### Girls

The inside trio of junior forward Alexa Kane, sophomore forward Meghan Chamberlain and senior center Jackie Beik did most of the damage for the hosts.

Kane had 10 points and four rebounds, Chamberlain six points and four rebounds, and Belk two points and four rebounds.

Brown kept the Bobcats offbalance on offense the entire first half, switching from a man-to-man, to a zone, to a full court press on almost every trip down the court.

For the half, the visitors hit just four of 21 shots (19-percent) from the floor, pulled down just nine rebounds and turned the ball over six times.

The Rams also had trouble with turnovers (8), but made up for the miscues by making seven of 19 shots (37-percent) and grabbing 20 rebounds.

Both teams picked up their play in the second half, but it was Lake Mary that stayed in control of the action and the contest was never in doubt.

With sophomore guard Angle Pressey leading the way, the Rams doubled the score on Buchholz, 34-17, after three quarters and Brown went to his bench for much of the fourth period.

Kane led all scorers with 17 points and also had six rebounds, two assists, a steal and a blocked shot.

Pressey, the daughter of Orlando Magic assistant coach and former NBA star Paul Pressey, was also in double figures with 10 points, making 5 of 6 shots from the floor. She also had a good all-around game with five rebounds, an assist and two steals.

Also having good all-around games for Lake Mary were Beik (six points, seven rebounds, one steal), Chamberlain (six points, six rebounds, steal), senior point guard Bryn Mosler (six points, six rebounds, two Katie Wattam chipped in with four rebounds and senior Rachael Whelan had two steals.

For the Bobcats, who hit just 10-of-39 shots (26-percent) and were outrebounded 39-22, Staere Pestrak was the leading scorer with nine points. Katie Pestrak and Kelly Nixon added six points each.

Buchholz continued its trip through Central Florida on
