My son! I like to think his voice
Will rumble down the Nation's halls
To dream and set his feet
In statesman's robes, the people's calls
In thunders volumes praising him—
The very dream of the enthralled!

I like to fancy him in trade,
A man of vim and iron will—
A master in the field of talk,
And towering like the topmost hill
Above his foes—such thoughts as this
Fair seem to make my being thrill!

My son! I like to think—but there,
How idle is this dream—A jest!
I'd hope he'll join the Legion that
Hoams here and there in simious quest
Or join some Bush League Baseball team
And bat .100 like the rest!

The medical profession is active in warning the people to swat the fly. The Woman's World says that in the end the warfare on the fly is the woman's fight.

That is on the theory that the lady of the house is to do the fly killing after the flies come along, but still more important in the war on flies is the man's work of keeping the premises clean and free from breeding places for flies, and certainly that is not a woman's part of the fight.

If the premises are kept in that condition above reproach, there will be no flies, that is a fundamental truth, and it is the business of the man to see that the premises are put in perfect condition while it may be perhaps the woman's business after that to see that garbage is not left for a moment uncovered and the opportunity furnished, flies for their development.

I do not quite agree with the woman's World in its doctrine that the desperate fight on flies is to be conducted as a woman's affair. It requires all humanity united to win that campaign.

A contributor to the May American Magazine says:

"If there isn't some good in everyone, what are they here for?"

"Anybody can point out anybody else's bad qualities. If you want to distinguish yourself go around picking out good qualities."

"Pick out the man whom everybody dislikes. Select the one you feel could best be spared from your office, from your circle of acquaintances, from the community in which you live. Ask yourself if there isn't something good about him."

"Put him on a mental dissecting table. Cut him to pieces and see what is in him. Remember you are looking for the good."

"Throw away the bad in him and forget it. Make a list of his good qualities. It will surprise you how many you can find."

"The next time you hear him criticised tell people the things you know about him—the good things. You'll at least be different and you'll find that it does you more good than it does him."

"How would you feel if you knew that people whenever they talked about you, talked only about what was had in you. You know it's there, plenty of it, but you'd rather not have it talked about. It's much nicer to have only your good points discussed."

"Give the other fellow the kind of a deal you like yourself. If you can say nothing good about him, say nothing."

"There are mighty few people in the world we can't say something good about if we try. The trouble is, we don't try."

"And yet, the more good you find in other people the more good other people will find in you."

"Women, too, can make this experiment."

I am indeed glad to see all the ladies' clubs of Sanford united and in this confederacy of the ladies is a good lesson for the men of Sanford. When all of us can bury our differences and get together in the grand idea of doing good in this world then indeed will our large city forge ahead. The ladies in this one movement of getting together have demonstrated to me that at some time in the future the Sanford women at least will be able to vote on school matters and from that will graduate into ward politics and become sure enough voters. There is nothing quite so grand in local affairs as the spectacle of all the ladies' clubs of the city uniting in one body and burying all social differences that they can work hand in glove for the betterment of Sanford. The confederation means that the Welaka Club, Wednesday Club, Music Club and West Side Improvement Association have united, and in these few clubs we have the social, literary, music and arts and civics or welfare units of the city united. Sometimes in my useful or useless career in Sanford I have taken occasion to rap the dear ladies on some of their club doings but I now wish to take it all back and commend them one and all upon their grand spirit of uniting and feel that in the future Sanford will depend upon the ladies for much of our improvements and good works. I have always given our ladies credit for being the best looters among us when we could get them interested sufficiently to drop cards and social subjects long enough to take up civic reforms and other measures that would be of more material assistance to all of us. All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and would make Sally a dull girl, and now with the clubs united we can expect both play and work and a happy medium that will work well in every social and political and actual and civic life.

Sanford has never been an aristocratic city, for which I certainly thank the good ladies, who have too much common sense to put dollars ahead of brains. The people of Sanford have more red blue than blue blood in their veins; and we can all find some good in the worst of us. Aristocracy never builds cities and in the market places of the world it is a mighty poor asset. The clubs of Sanford composed of ladies have united and from this date the buried and they are classed among the "dead ones" in any live community. The city that can unite all classes and masses in the grand idea of unity for common cause will soon forge ahead of the one who is willing to hang cards of introduction upon the family tree and worship said tree for an idol.

Therefore it gives me great pleasure to see the clubs of Sanford composed of ladies have united and from this date the ladies will have the floor upon all occasions. As the clubs indicate, they will take up the four great classes of work (work being a fitting name for it) and the Woman's Club of Sanford will be known far and wide as being the largest, most active and best ladies' organization in the world.

Nick Johns, the Greek who conducts the small fruit stand near the Star Theater was badly cut Sunday afternoon by Tom Pickens. The dispute arose over a matter of changing money and Pickens jerked out his knife and started carving Johns with the result that the doctors had to sew him up. Pickens was jailed, and both of them can tell their troubles to the mayor today.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

Twelve new houses are being started this week.

No, Gwendolyn, the brick roads have not gone into an eclipse. Just teasing Orlando about them.

If the Socialists and Republicans of Seminole county would just become Democrats we might make them great.

Secretary of State Bryan and wife are coming to Florida next week. He probably wants to decide the sheriff's race in Seminole county.

Orlando is putting up a sky scraper and two department stores. We told them county division would help them but they could not seem to see it.

One half million dollars for celery alone coming into Sanford this season will mean that the wheels of progress will turn at a merry clip this summer.

Our excellent schools will turn out their full quota of bright girls and boys next week and a fine program has been prepared that will include the entire week.

Don't become peeved at Governor Trammell. He has received so many petitions from so many different kinds of politicians that he is slightly addled. Who can blame him?

THE LATEST SANFORD STUNT Chap from Sanford: "We're now figuring on coming down to Orlando and defacing some of its beauty. This time we proposed to carry the court house, Lake Fola and the jet away up to Sanford to decorate the waste places between the new depot and Sanford town."

Chap from Orlando: "Sure you've got that state legislature and that Governor fixed that they'll give it to you on a platter. You're getting your meeting club stumps outside the executive mansion waving banners and extending one of our swan quills for the document to be signed."

Oh, you Sanford! Orlando Citizen. Thank you, Bro. Howard. You have paid Sanford a real compliment for the first time in your constipated career.

ACCESSION TO FORTUNE In distributing the plums incident to the formation of the new county of Seminole, it is gratifying to observe that those who were most instrumental in bringing about the creation of the county were fittingly remembered. Editor Holly, who admittedly did the hardest and most effective work was given the lofty and remunerative position of secretary of the county executive committee. The job pays at least $2 per year, and carries with it the title of "Hon." Hon. Bob, here's looking at you, and may your accession to fame and fortune fail to turn your head.—Lakeland Telegram.

CLARK ON SAME JOB In making up the different committees in Congress several members are anxious to wear the position of Chairman of the Public Buildings from Hon. Frank Clark. Press dispatches state that Clark will get the chairmanship of this important committee and his Sanford friends will be glad to learn of his latest honor. We want Frank Clark on the Public Buildings when our new government building starts.

SENATOR WILSON, VEGETARIAN Some paper down in South Florida near where Bob Holly resides printed a story about J. Ned Wilson coming from a district where they eat cotton seed and when the article appeared the genial senator from Shalala arose and is waiting the coming to Tallahassee of the author.—Joe Reese in Miami Metropolis.

We said it and we stick to it and a glance at Senator Wilson will prove the statement. Either he is fed on cotton seed meal or velvet beans or cow peas to gain his avoidupolis.—If Jim Ned Wilson wants satisfaction let him come to Sanford on the Fourth and eat our barbecued meat to disprove our statement.

THE SANFORD CELEBRATION On July Fourth Sanford will have one of the greatest celebrations that this section has ever witnessed. We expect to celebrate the victories of 1776 and of 1913 and the day will be given over to sports, games, speeches, entertainments, barbecues, fireworks. There will be something doing every minute and the world at large is invited to attend. Seminole county expects to celebrate in a most fitting manner and no expense will be spared to show the visitors that the good old southern hospitality and barbecue and basket picnic where the CASE OF SOREHEAD Beware, lest on throwing firebrands at the cat you singe yourself. To be sure, the late Sanford county commissioner, the Sanford Herald and everybody with the Sanford brand on his brow made rather a noisy tune of it over the fact, as they claimed that they had so successfully sold their special brick roads bonds of $200,000 at one-half cent above par. Also it is true that they mounted the highest fence posts, hopped their wings and crowed with a big noise because they had beat Orlando to it, but then, that was only natural all young roosters do that immediately they discover they are roosters, and we must allow they are roosters over there. The only mistake they made was that they thought they had laid an egg, and as 'tis rooster like to crow when a hen lays an egg why shouldn't they, although young roosters have thought have thought they had laid the egg?—Orlando Citizen.

Well, dear brother, we broke an egg case of sorehead ever since. Simply because the bond firm that put up a forfeit to buy the bonds failed to float them in the market gives you but little cause for such a loud crow and it comes with a bad grace from a rooster that has recently had his tail feathers pulled out. The special district road bonds are something new on the bond markets and it matters but little whether they are Seminole county or Orange county because they are backed by the Sanford Special Road District and no county at all.

The Orlando papers have a hard time confining themselves to facts ever since county division and now their attempts to belittle our efforts at building brick roads are very childish and unbecoming to men. And to use the Citizen's own quotation at the head of this article, "Beware lest on throwing firebrands at the cat you singe yourself," and this can be taken seriously by the Orlando papers. They have been singed good and plenty.

SANFORD IN THE FIRST According to the Johnson bill that has passed the Senate and House Seminole county will be in the first district comprising Lee, DeSoto, Manatee, Polk, Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco, Hernando, Citrus, Suwanee, Lake and Seminole. Orange county goes to the Fourth district and thus at one fell blow we are cut off from mother and home and from our dear friends in Jacksonville and go to the bold, bad men of Tampa. But being in South Florida we would much prefer to be in the same district with Tampa than with Jacksonville and if the bill meets with the approval of Governor Trammell the old Second district will know us no more. Our only regret will be that we cannot vote for Frank Clark again, for Frank is paroled out among the Sea Island cotton growers and other rough necks of the new Second district. Claude L'Engle is given Duval county and several others with the new Fourth district and he can strut as he pleases and hold tenure of office as long as he wants it.

SEMINOLE COUNTY EDITION. So many inquiries are coming in daily for information concerning the new county of Seminole (from purchasers of tracts of lands that The Herald has decided to issue a special edition for Seminole county and the work will leave the press about the first of September. Every section of the new county will be represented in the edition and it will be one of the most comprehensive descriptions of this part of Florida that has ever been printed. There will be no wasted space but plenty of good descriptive matter with facts and figures, half tone illustrations, bits of history ancient and modern and pen pictures from many authors.

In all the Seminole county edition will be something that every one will read and it should be the means of causing a general exodus to Seminole county this fall.

The only way such an edition can be made possible will be through the patronage of the public in general and the merchants in particular and we would advise them to wait for the big show and save their money for the special. There are many fake schemes of advertising floating in here every day, holdups they are in reality and they will bring the local people of Seminole nothing in return. It has been demonstrated time and again that the special editions of the home paper have induced more people to locate here than any other agency and now that we have so much to advertise it would seem right and proper to issue a special edition and let the world know about Seminole county.

Wait for it.

Up in Virginia an editor found guilty of criminal libel was sentenced to six months in the chain gang. If he was found guilty—and we suppose that it must be assumed that it was because the jury said so—as the base ball player was called out, and asking why he was out received the answer, "You're out because the umpire says you're out"—the sentence was probably all right.

But we are reminded, as we have been before, that we have never heard of anybody being sentenced for criminally libelling an editor. And we venture as susceptible of the widest proof, if any would deny it, the assumption that no person on earth are so persistently and carelessly and maliciously libelled as are editors.

If as many editors as lawyers got into our law-making bodies possibly this condition would never exist.

The governor of West Virginia has had a newspaper plant confiscated and the staff arrested for publishing articles "to incite riot." Sure!—confiscate the newspaper. Reductions in wages sometimes cause riots just as directly, but whoever heard of a magazine being arrested for inciting riot?—St. Petersburg Times.

Who is Thomas? The following letter was received at The Herald office today from Havana, Cuba with a request to publish it and if any of the readers can throw any light on the subject the same will be appreciated by a loving parent. To Sanford-Papper Dear Writer—

Some weeks ago some gentlemen came to Habana by the cheap excursions and say they comes from Sanford, America, and one man name Tomas Johns mek the love dulcetes to my little girl, Dolores, and say he come back in a few two, tree week and make her the Senora Tomas. He say he sell him the land and own big hacienda for the Senor Americanos to stay call him the Sanford Hotel. Can you the writer man make me the explanation about the Senor Tomas and accept the blessing of the Senorita Dolores and the Mucha Gracias Antonio Gomez Habana, Cuba.

Nothing about any such person as the letter would indicate. He evidently means some one named Thomas, but the only Thomas of Sanford is John Thomas, the well known machinist and he did not go to Cuba on the excursion, and upon being questioned by the Herald staff, he does not know anything about any other John Thomas, but that he could prove an alibi and if some other Sanford man had taken his name in vain he would have to suffer the consequences.

Uncle Billy Holden Dead

W. H. Holden, an aged resident of Orlando passed away last night at 11 o'clock at his home. Holden was on Lake Holden. He had been gradually sinking and the end was expected and came very peacefully. The body was brought this morning to the Hand Undertaking parlors and will lie there till tomorrow when the funeral services will be held at St. Luke's Cathedral, Rev. Mr. Rickert officiating. The pall bearers have not yet been appointed.

Mr. Holden was a man that all respected, for he was the soul of honor and was considerate of everyone. The very animals on his place being the subject of his care. While not engaged actively in the war between the states, he was employed in the Commissary Department, and did good work for the south. He was a man of indomitable energy, and at an age when most men would have only considered their ease, was working about his place raising the fruits, vegetables and flowers that he gave so freely to his friends.

Mr. Holden lost his wife some years ago, and his daughter, Florence, followed soon after her mother, and his son, W. D. Holden, one of the most prominent men of Sanford, was killed in an auto accident last August. He leaves two sons, Norman, who is a leading business man in Montana, John, who lives in Alabama. Mrs. Mary Lang, of this city are Mrs. Cora Fielder, of New York, both being widowed.

The interment will take place at the Conway cemetery. Mr. Hand having charge of the services.—Reporter-Star.

Edwards A Big Leaguer

Edwards, the star second sacker of the famous Sanford team last season is here this week calling on his many friends. It is rumored that Edwards has been drafted by the New York Americans and will be in the big league next season. He is as good as they ever get them in the amateur league and is bound to keep his place in the bunch of big ones.

WOODLAND PARK NOTES

Saturday the children of Mrs. Dickinson's class held their annual picnic at Woodland Park. Those who came by water were conveyed by the big launch Ramona, while the advance guard wheeled out. It is needless to say they enjoyed themselves fully, for they all do that. The party was made up of about equal number of boys and girls and looked after by Mrs. Dickinson, who certainly deserves credit for controlling them so thoroughly. Mrs. Dickinson was the first of the teachers to see the advantages of Woodland Park as the proper place for her class picnic and had leased the park for that purpose last year. A shower in the afternoon did not interfere with their pleasures, as the majority were in the pool then and the balance under shelter enjoyed watching the races. It is hard to say which amusement was enjoyed most, the pool with toboggan, the roller coaster, trolley, whirl, swings, etc., were all liked equally well and all the children want to come again.

Sunday, owing to rain, a good many people who had planned to come were disappointed. The Mamie brought a party and a few came by auto, buggies and bicycles. The park has been leased for Saturday by Miss Carrie Ensminger and Mrs. Polk for their class picnic. They held it here last year and just can't help coming again. Friday, May 23rd, Miss Nellie Furen's class will use the park, and for Saturday, May 24th the park has been engaged by Miss Whitner.

OVIDO OCCURENCES

OVIDO

Mrs. E. Lee Smith closed her music class here Friday evening with a recital and class examination. Having taught here for the past two years she had enrolled a large number for the size of the town. The following pupils furnished music at the recital: Mrs. Smith and son, Jesse B. furnished a duet, with Mrs. Smith at the piano and Jesse B. the mandolin. Miss Hope was read by Miss Eledia McCulley. Lang's Flower Song by Miss Gladys Linehart. Instrumental, O Happy Day, by Miss Vera Howard. Mrs. Smith and Vera also gave two duets which were greatly appreciated. The Progressive March by Miss Pearl Bacon. After the class examination which showed the exact work accomplished by each pupil in the rudimental part, scales, musical terms, etc., Miss Opal Bacon gave the Dream of Rosebud Reverie, which was followed by the song, My Heart and I, by Miss Annie McCulley. Miss Mary Aulin gave the variations of "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," and Miss Jennie Hope sang, O, How I Need Thee, piano accompaniment by Miss Maggie Hope. Certificates were then presented to Miss Annie McCulley, Miss Opal Bacon and Miss Pearl Bacon. They were presented by

Rev. Smith with very appropriate remarks. Mrs. L. T. Hurt and Miss Eledia McCulley also later. Misses Mary Aulin, Gladys Linehart and Edith Howard will receive theirs later when their work is all handed in. Mrs. Smith gave some original piano solos by request. All expressed their selves as having had a pleasant and profitable evening. Quite a number of invited guests were also present. Rev. Hope and Mrs. Smith were present at the class, urging them to go with their work.

Rev. Smith and family moved to Apopka Tuesday.

Dancing Class
Tonight at 7:30 at the city hall will occur the regular dancing class followed by dancing from 8:30 to 11:00. The class is now in charge of Mrs. T. H. Cook, who takes the place of her sister, Mrs. Mehrtens, who has left the city and will be carried on as formerly.

We Need the Drainage

The Sanford drainage will endeavor to pass a bill at the present session of the legislature to be reimbursed for all the work done in digging ditches throughout the celery delta some two years ago. Not only should Mr. Pace and others receive their money but the work of ditching should be finished before the rainy season starts again. There is nothing that will be of so much benefit to this section as this system of drainage ditches and the work should not be held up on account of personal grievances and selfish motives.

The best stewards and chefs have been engaged with a score of skilled assistants. The kitchen is being rebuilt and completely refitted. The electric light and power plant is being renewed and doubled in capacity; the elevator service improved, and the entire hotel is being renovated for the comfort and convenience of guests.

The Atlantic Beach Hotel will be operated hereafter continuously, and not merely for a few months during the late tourist season. Summer and winter it will extend a hospitality and quality of service that will secure the comfort of its guests as well as their return. It will be operated on the American and European plan. The grill room and dining room service will be as nearly perfect as skill and experience can make it and it will win for the hotel a reputation national in extent.

The ocean beach here being unequalled anywhere else, no expense is being spared to make surf bathing a leading attraction. The bath houses have been doubled in capacity; life guards and swimming instructors have been engaged. Rafts and life lines are being installed, and hundreds of the best and most expensive bathing suits obtainable have been purchased. ### FARMING IN FLORIDA

Instruments for Cultivation and How to Use Them

Through cultivation of Florida soils is an effective means of increasing crop yields. In many cases the success or failure of a crop depends on the cultivation during the period from first plowing to harvesting. It would be more productive if the moisture supply were controlled by judicious cultivation. Soils that were deeply plowed early in the season and have a liberal supply of humus have sufficient moisture now stored up to produce a good crop yield, even though little or no rain should fall between planting and ripening. If the moisture is not necessarily permitted to escape by evaporation or taken up by weeds.

Weeder

Permitting grass and weeds to grow into sod, and then plowing the middles out with a turning plow, is almost sure to result in a low yield of corn. The scooter plow or one horse plow is not suitable for cultivation. The ordinary sweep or small shallow working tool is better, but will not do enough work per day. One of the most useful implements is the adjustable weeder. It costs about $12. It is light, and one horse can haul it. When working over the crop (not between the rows), it should cultivate 8 to 10 acres per day. It can be run over corn, cotton, sweet potatoes, some vegetables, and even winter pasture crops. All the surface should be cultivated right up to the plants. This can be repeated until the plants are two feet high. Then the weeder can be adjusted to run between the rows, until the crop is made. If this is done regularly once a week, little or no hoeing will be necessary.

A light smoothing harrow will answer a similar purpose until the plants are twelve inches high, if the teeth are set, so as not to tear up the crop.

Surface Cultivation

The surface two horse cultivator with knife like attachments working like sweeps does excellent work. It is adjustable to any width of row, and is made to work shallow. It is light and will cultivate six to eight acres a day. It costs about $15. It straddles the row and cultivates one half the middles on both sides.

Riding Cultivators

A riding two horse cultivator would be a good investment for any farmer with 25 or more acres in cultivation, providing the land is mostly cleared from stumps. These stumps are equipped with levers and adjustments, making it possible to run between any width of row or cultivate to any desired depth. Six or eight acres per day can be cultivated when the rows are four feet apart. The machine will cost about $45.

For a larger farm a better tool is the double two horse riding cultivator. It cultivates the entire middle of two rows, and in four foot rows will cover from 14 to 17 acres per day. It has various attachments and will cost about $55. Such machines have many uses.

Spring Tooth Cultivator

The Diverse Spring Tooth Cultivator is especially good for keeping down Bermuda or nut grass in cultivated crops. The long spring teeth will cover most of the grass they fall to tear out, and if the grass is kept below the surface the roots will soon die. The implement has two sections with a lever for each. When cultivating between rows, if it is desirable to throw some dirt up to the plants the levers are thrown backward, while to throw the dirt to the middle the levers must be shifted forward. The cultivator is also equipped with fenders, so that the row may be straddled, cultivating both sides at once, and the dirt thrown to the plants or away from them as desired.

Mulch Harrow

The mulch harrow does good work, especially when crops are nearly matured. The tooth bars are slightly curved downward so as to conform to the rows. The lever adjusts the angle of the teeth so that they run quite deep when it is thrown forward. When the lever-backward the implement becomes a smoothing harrow, and breaks only the thin crust on the surface. It has about sixteen teeth, arranged as with the ordinary smoothing harrow. The cost is approximately $7.

Cultivator

The ordinary one horse cultivator, used mostly in vegetable fields, does good work in tall crops, working between the rows when the crop is about mature. The best of these machines are equipped behind with rake-like attachments to break the ridges made by the cultivator feet, and drag out or bury the grass or weeds.

Disk Cultivator for Sweet Potatoes

Most riding cultivators have various attachments suitable for different crops. One of the most useful of these is the three disk attachment, especially in making beds for sweet potatoes. If after making the beds they are still too flat, the disk may be set to throw the soil higher when going over the beds a second time.

The same disk cultivator can be used for cultivating the beds after the plants are growing, or for running over the sides of the beds with these disks, and then reversing on the same row so as to force the loose soil back. (The fender attachment between the plants and the inner disks prevents covering the smaller plants.) This can be repeated until the plants have made a considerable growth.

Gassman is Legging It

Doc Gassman, who is one of Sanford's boosters in making a tour of the East Coast and every hour The Herald receives a card from him which reads as follows:

"Melbourne wants Sanford to be the state capital."

"Eau Gallie wants Sanford to be the state capital."

"Titusville wants Sanford to be the state capital."

If Doc keeps at it we will have the state capital before the bill to divide the state passes the senate, and at present we are too busy getting a court house to start building a state capital, but send her along, Doc, we will try and take care of the new baby in the proper manner.

Bulk Head the Lake Front

Editor Sanford Herald:

What public move ahead of us is of the importance to the growth of our city, now than the bulk heading and filling in of our lake front? We have visitors who come here and view the beautiful bay of water—Lake Monroe—and exclaim, "What an asset you have here in this lake and river!" As one put it, "You have here a million dollar asset!" Is it not time we were turning this asset to good account? And I am reliably informed by those who have gone into the matter that it is easily in our power to bulk head the lake front, and by lending its sanction can have it done without cost, save for what it may spend for the necessary work at foot of the streets and this can be done by long term city vouchers at a low rate of interest. I understand that it has been figured out that the space between West Side Cypress Avenue to West Side of French Avenue can be done for less than $35,000, and all with long term city vouchers at low rate of interest. Why this delay. We want the bulk head and hotel and the bulk head must be done to get the hotel to get to work
