

Seminole Five Hand DeLand 32-30 Defeat

Last Night's Victory Makes Third Conference Scalp

Although leading by a score of 16-7 at the half, the Seminole School Celery Feds eked out only a 32 to 30 victory over the DeLand Bulldogs after a last quarter scoring spurt on the part of the invaders that tied the score to 30 with only a few minutes left.

A double foul tied the score to 30 and with only about one minute of the game remaining the visitors dropped a field goal to take the winning margin with only four seconds remaining.

The Celery Feds, lead by "Little Jimmy" Altman who scored no less than 12 points, took the opening encounter from a DeLand B team by a score of 22 to 1. The Celery Feds held the visitors scoreless for three quarters and a free throw in the fourth gave the DeLand Cagers their only point.

Frank Merchant and Darrell Ferguson were in the limelight for the Feds, last night, the latter putting up a total of 9 points while Merchant dropped four field goals in the basket. Dick Sherman of DeLand, took scoring honors with a total of 15 points to his credit.

Morgan, ace Fed guard, was taken out of the game because of a foul in the third quarter and Ferguson committed his fourth foul in the last minutes of the last quarter.

The game last night strengthend the Feds as the leading contenders for the Northeast Conference title which they narrowly lost to Leesburg last year. The win last night was the third conference decision in as many tries and the fourth win in six tries.

The Feds face the Eustis cagers in a tilt on the local court Friday night.

Miami Refunding Is Scrutinized By Grand Jury

Other Discrepancies Come Under Scope Of Extensive Probe

MIAMI Jan. 26.—(AP)—While prosecutors prepared for speedy trials of five city officials indicted for soliciting bribes, a special grand jury delved yesterday into details of the $25,000,000 municipal bond refunding program.

Robert H. Cook, bond dealer who represented a syndicate headed by H. J. Wanling which bid unsuccessfully for the refunding issue, was called to testify. State Attorney Worley indicated, however, the jury had not completed its scrutiny of a referendum the commission called last fall on a bus franchise proposal which the voters rejected. Several witnesses to be examined on this phase of the broad city hall investigation were out of town.

Meanwhile the jury looked into a situation where 15 employees of the city shop and wage division were discharged on one day, receiving two weeks' pay for lack of notice and two weeks' vacation pay apiece, and then all restored to service the following day.

"It is apparent there is nothing more serious in this regard than a stupid blunder," Worley announced, saying the grand jury found no action necessary. Who committed the blunder was not established.

The prosecutor's staff examined Robert Wetmore, chairman of the Miami boxing commission, J. R. Bowland, police chief under the former administration, and four men police said were bookmakers.

County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor said the indicted officials would be brought to trial at the term of criminal court starting Feb. 1 and that he would begin questioning witnesses immediately.

Major Robert H. Williams, a candidate for congress, Commissioners John Dubois and Ralph D. Ferguson and Thomas E. Grady, rate and traffic consultant, were indicted on charges of conspiracy and exacting a $250,000 bribe from the Florida Power & Light company. A special engineer, Carl F. Lambert, was indicted on a charge of exacting $2,000 from a concern which was to have made a water waste survey.

The indictments charge exacting of "remuneration not provided by law," a felony punishable by a maximum of 10 years in prison and $1000 fine upon conviction.

The county commissioners meeting today received letters from Circuit Judge Paul Barnes and the county bar association criticizing its method of selecting grand jury panels. Judge Barnes said one member of the present venue was a bookmaker, another a convicted felon and a third had served a federal penitentiary term. The commission prepared a letter to be sent to all judges requesting the names of jurors previously excused for cause so they may be eliminated from future panels.

Chinese Attack Swiftly, Disperse

Battles Of Irregular
Bands Have Interrupted Rail Service

PEIPING, China, Jan. 27.—(AP)—China's Red legions and peasant irregulars are on march against the Japanese in the vast north China area. Concentrating swiftly, attacking swiftly and dispersing swiftly, they have struck time and again at Japanese communications lines and garrisons.

Authentic details of the warfare in broken northern provinces where the Chinese-Japanese conflict began were brought to Japanese conqueror Peiping by messengers who arrived from war areas.

They reported that Chinese irregulars along the main railroads wiped out small detachments of Japanese troops in at least 20 instances. Battles of irregulars interrupted traffic on Japanese controlled railroads at least three times this week, they said.

BEIJING, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Chinese military leaders declared today guerilla warfare on China's far-flung battlefronts and a revitalized air force has brought them increasing success against the Japanese invaders.

They contend the Japanese were over extended in a vast area of central China and were being harassed constantly by fast-moving guerilla forces striking repeatedly at thin communication lines.

Guerrilla tactics, the Chinese said, were being employed more and more, with the result that the Japanese have been prevented from undertaking further advances.

They cited reports purportedly received from fighting zones in southern Shantung and east.

New Jersey Solon Dies In Fall From His Hotel Window

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Edward A. Kenney, 52, New Jersey representative in Congress known for his advocacy of a national lottery, plunged or fell to death from the sixth floor of a fashionable hotel during the night. The body, clad only in underwear, was found by a hotel waiter. Kenney had been the guest at the annual congressional dinner of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce at the hotel. He had spoken at dinner. Police said they believed Kenney remained at the hotel and decided to retire in the room set aside by the hotel for honored guests. The window of the room was open when the body was found. Kenney was a native of Clinton, Mass., and had served three terms in Congress from New Jersey.

Tons Of Missiles Are Dropped From Italian And German Aircraft Over Teruel

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Jan. 27.—(AP)—More than 400 Italian and German warplanes bombarded government lines and villages across the entire Teruel front for nearly 10 hours yesterday, loyalists reported. In a merciless attempt to blast a path for Spanish Franco's capture of the city.

The massing of the Italian-German bombers, which willed the sky like a flock of swallows and dropped 1500-pound aerial torpedoes, was believed to constitute the biggest air raid in aviation history.

The planes, dropping bombs, by the tens of tons spread death and destruction without pause from 9:40 A. M. until nightfall.

The Spanish press agency reported from Alcañiz, northeast of the already shattered city of Teruel.

The destruction spread from the government's front lines to the second and third lines of reserves and to villages 15 miles behind the battlefronts, it was asserted.

The bombardment appeared to have been led by a squadron of black-painted German Heinkel bombers.

Pennsylvania Hunters Enjoy Bumper Season

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP)—

Pennsylvania hunters killed more deer in 1937 than in any other previous year in the historic state game commission.

Major Michael Riddle, president of the commission, disclosed

today that the army of nimrods brought down 24,000 bucks—9

more than previous peak which was in 1931.

He attributed the increase to two factors—larger herds and more hunters.

The deer kill also jumped from

Faith In Airplanes

Each time disaster strikes a passenger aircraft, whether it be the Hindenburg, a giant clipper, or a trans-continental liner, there are skeptics who raise their eyebrows and predict an unhappy demise for the Twentieth Century's swiftest medium of transportation. The airplane will never be safe. There is no possible way of preventing a motor from stalling sometimes, causing the plane to come down, maybe in a swamp or on top of a mountain. There is nothing one can do about the weather. Even if planes are made fool proof, rain and fog and snow and sleet will always be a serious menace.

And so it goes. But all these dire predictions do not seem to dampen the ardor of aviation enthusiasts or diminish advancements in airplane construction or flying technique or modify predictions of a great future.

Engineers attending the sixth annual meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences in New York listened to reports of motors of increasing dimensions, mounted on larger equipment enabling the airplane of tomorrow to penetrate high into the stratosphere and to fly long distances with heavy loads.

At the same time attention was focused on the increasing reliability of motors, reducing the necessity for installing numerous engines and strengthening the safety factor. Planes of the future will be launched from catapults making it possible to get heavily laden ships into the air without requiring extremely long runways.

All in all, the picture one gains from the talks and discussions of the aeronautical engineers is not one of despondency but of greater hope and faith in the future of airplanes as reliable and swift carriers of passengers through the skies to the four corners of the earth.

Why Crime?

What causes an individual to resort to a life of crime? How does he begin, and under what circumstances? Why does he not live according to the law of the land instead of the law of "self"? The Palm Beach Post looks at the life of the kidnapper and slayer of Charles Ross and draws some interesting conclusions.

The Post writes: "For many years we have said that slums are places of crime-breeding. For many years we have been correct in that belief. But the common hatred for slums may have shut out of vision the fact that not all crime breeds in slums.

"As an outstanding example that it does not, consider the case of John Henry Seadlund, confessed-kidnap slayer of Charles Ross, wealthy Chicagoan, and slayer of one who helped him obtain $50,000 as ransom.

"Seadlund is 27 years old. He comes from the small town of Ironton, Minnesota, where his friends, to quote a news story, 'remember him as a quiet, studious type during his boyhood.' His father was master mechanic at Ironton. John was graduated from the Crosby-Ironton high school, and later played with the Ironton hockey team. Mrs. Seadlund lives in the family home here with two daughters, one a teacher and the other a nurse."

"His mother blames his predicament on lack of work: 'When his father died in 1933, John tried to get work in the iron mines, but they told him there was nothing for him. He sat around home for two years. He was desperate for money.'

"Other stories tell how for some years he was a lumberman in the Northwest.

"In all that environment there is nothing to influence him to be desperado and murderer doubly. He came from no slum surroundings. A high school graduate, with one sister a school teacher, the other a nurse; with his several years in the woods, where there are 'tongues in trees, books in the running brook, sermons in stones,' admittedly not exerting a baneful influence—with all this he still turns out to be a kidnaper who killed his victim, killed the man who helped him in the crime, and sought to preserve his ransom intact; a kidnaper whom the head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation declares is the prince of cruel kidnappers."

Seadlund became a criminal in spite of what was apparently a decent home life. This does not lead us to believe that home life has little to do with the forming of character necessary to keep an individual from becoming a lawbreaker. Indeed, we believe the opposite to be most true. A decent and intelligently conducted homelife is our best insurance for preventing crime as it is our best assurance that American life and ideals will continue to prosper and grow.

Women's Power Of Intuition Denied By Psychologists

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two psychologists at Florida State College for Women here discount the much-talked-about feminine "power of intuition".

Dr. Christian Paul Heinlein and Dr. Julia Hall Heinlein, former fellows of the National Research Council of Washington, D. C., said scientific tests they made at the college here failed to prove that rule of "chance allows the women more intuition than did not "know" by intuition whether the sealed folder contained the cross or the circle.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY'

By RUSSELL KAY

There'll be days like this but I think, heaven they're few and far between. What I mean to say is, to say that these may be FAIR DAYS for the BIG BOSS (although I've been calling him by a few other names)—but they are DOG days to me, dog days. If I do and doggone if I constrictions of composition I'll be a fountain of human sympathy. And now, havin' emptied my tear ducts, I'll tell you about what a swell time we had at the press breakfast.

Regardless of reports and rumors to the contrary—the newspaper men opened the affair with a business session. The Principal event was the decision of the Board of Directors to work toward bringing the national convention of the NRA in Florida in 1938. This endeavor would mean reams of favorable publicity for the state.

Practically every city in the nation would be represented at the convention, and with the beauties of the state spread before them, those boys would really "go to town" when it comes to writing in their home papers about our winter vacation.

So be up and dump your weekly column right in my lap and says, "Well, you ain't got much to do outside of answerin' a few hundred letters, gettin' out a stack of circulars, keepin' the books and a few other odd chores—got ya abated and knock out a column for me this week and if we don't both get shot I'll buy you a lollipop or sompin'."

When I sat down to the typewriter I had as bad a headache as Westbrook Pegler had after his New Year's celebration, and I had a notion to follow his example and fill my column by writin' "The Boss Has Gone to the Fair, It's Me" and keep on repeatin' it until the darned column was full up. But on the other hand, maybe that wouldn't be so smart, and anyway I hate to be an old copy-cat.

Then I thought I'd ask Cleo Trice Carten to put her brainy head close to mine for an inspiration—and SHED GONE TO THE FAIR, TOO.

Many the time I've sat and watched the conductor of this column groan and groan and sweat worse'n a wrestler out at Benjamin Field goin' thru the agony of gettin' out of a too-tight suit. And I've seen him start a sheet para, tear it out and throw it after wrinin' about half a lot of "naughty words" which would have shocked my Aunt Jane to death. And I used to go home before the girls and gravy big nap would hurry up and set it over with so I could go home before the girls and gravy got cold and gummy. But after tryin' it a time or two myself hereafter when he gets into the middle of hell all dressed up in acup and fish clothes. . . . Keathly Bowden of Clewiston had to stay home and nurse his press which fell thru the floor.

Charles Borby was the belle of the ball all dressed up in lingerie and fish clothes. . . . Keathly Bowden of Clewiston had to stay home and nurse his press which fell thru the floor.

Charles Borby was there, but where? . . . Colin English, Bob Gray and Nathan Mayo represented the Government at Tallahassee. . . . Karl Lehmann was head man in the show, and an all-round good one, too. . . . And O. Robertson's Chino-Jap skit was a wow. . . . Junior Chico, Sonny Rasch, Richard Kennedy and Floyd Winter—all members of Tampa's Federal Theatre, put it over in grand style. . . . And Oh, Oh, that prize fight! with George Burns dressed up in long underwear and pink bloomers or somethin' Duke Jack Benny and Eddie Cantor. Even Charley McCarthy's first cousin was there, . . . and did he have a crush on Marie Holden? . . . And they gave Holden, Willis and several others distinctions the sort of HONOR AWAY. Folks, it was a grand party.

And here I am clear to the bottom of the column, and I haven't said anything about the Florida Fair. You'll just have to come and see for yourselves, but I can promise you this: you'll have a grand and glorious time because the Boss says it's biggest and better than ever before, and HE KNOWS IT'S SO—I'll be lookin' for you at the FAIR.

Russell Kay Friday.

Film Comedy Has Three New Hits

Three of the season's outstanding comic hits, one of which bids fair to become "the most played on the air," will be heard in "Thrill of a Lifetime," the comedy which comes tonight at the Ritz Theatre.

The first of these, which was written by Fredrick Hollander and Sam Coslow in collaboration with Carmen Lombardo, brother of the famous Guy and the vocalist in the Lombardo Orchestra, is "Thrill of a Lifetime," and it is sung by Dorothy Lamour, screen starlet girl who scored in the recent musical hit, "Singin' High, Singin' Low," "High Wide" and "Handsome" and also in "Last Train from Madrid."

Two other songs introduced in the picture are "Sweetheart Time" and "Paris in Swing," both written by Coalow and Hollander. In addition, there are two novelty numbers by the Yacht Club Boys, "If We Could Run the Country for a Day" and "It's Been a Whole Year."

"Thrill of a Lifetime" is the mad, merry tale of a bunch of happy-go-lucky youngsters in love, set against a background of a love interest supplied by Eleanor Whiting and Johnny Downs, and Betty Grable and Leif Erikson, with liberal doses of comedy furnished by the Yacht Club Boys, Ben Blue and Judy Canova.

Dorothy Lamour is featured in a specialty number in the film, which was produced by Fanchon, Hollywood's only woman producer.

The average adult has about 100,000 hairs in the scalp.

IN COLLEGE GIRLS' REVUE

By JOAN DURHAM
AP Feature Service Writer

Students are streamlining etiquette at Oregon State College in Corvallis, Ore.

They've found that several time-honored rules don't work at fraternities, or society house gatherings and at other large gatherings of students.

To prove their points these nicely-conscious students have organized an etiquette committee which puts on demonstrations in campus houses and halls. Teams of two or three girls travel from house to house, at dinner-time to demonstrate modern collegiate etiquette.

Janet Hinckle, attractive junior from Portland and one of the leaders of the program of common sense behavior, lists some of the advocated changes:

"When everyone at the dinner table rises every time an older person comes in, it causes confusion.

Circumvent that custom by requiring standing on the part of only the persons on either side of the place the newcomer is to sit.

Always approach your chair from the left, to avoid barked shins when a long line of diners is being seated on the same side of the table. (Either side has been pronounced as correct by etiquette authorities.)

Let the hostess or house mother lead the way to the dining room if she goes ahead of honored guests. (The latter is a practice that's tabooed by etiquette dictators.) It will save embarrassing blunders.

Dress Up To Individuality

Other points touched on by the demonstrators are: How to hold a partner at a dance, proper introductions, being pleasant to and considerate of chaperones, opening doors for dates.

Miss Hinckle says the committee first inquires of the boys what they think is best, then confers with the girls and finally, "when we find general agreement on some practice we put it into our rules."

Asked how a girl should think a boy for a date she said the committee hadn't gone into too much detail—and then added, "We have a few things to individual initiative."

MARINELLI SURRENDERS
NEW YORK—(AP)—In a non-descript office under a Brooklyn elevated train track, Albert Marinelli, a powerful old-time Tammany boss, surrendered today on a federal indictment, and shortly afterward hurried off to appear before a grand jury investigating the Rubens passport mystery.

New Big Sum's Spent On Since Repeal

Money Used For Drink
Would Have Built
2,000,000 New Homes

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Money spent for alcoholic drinks since repeal in 1933, if all put into building, would have erected 3,000,000 new houses in addition to the 1,200,000 completed in that period, it is estimated by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Giving a basis for this statement, the research department of the national temperance organization states:

"Conservative reckoning of total gross cost for alcoholic beverages, based upon official figures of liquor withdrawn for consumption, in the years 1933 to 1937 show an estimated total of $12,637,000 paid by the people to the liquor-makers and distributors during the months April, 1933, to October, 1937.

"But for the re-legalized liquor traffic since 1933, on the basis of the Government's estimates of $4,000 for individual home units, it would have been possible, with the money extorted from the people, possessed by the drink trade, to have added more than 2,000,000 new homes to the housing totals for those years.

"Self-evidently, the building of that many additional homes would, as the President put it in his message, help tremendously to solve the unemployment problem, boost orders for all kinds of products, and add materially to the people's purchasing power."

In addition to the direct cost of liquor, this statement points out, there are the indirect costs due to liquor-bred casualties, to liquor-laden crime, and commercialized vice in general.

"Once the people realize," it concludes, "that the drink trade, instead of adding to prosperity is taking it out of the pocketbooks of the people $3 for every dollar it turns back to the public treasury, and is everywhere swelling the tax rolls to meet costs of liquor bred social evils, it can scarcely be doubted that a new and far more effective attack upon the beverage alcohol menace is in the offing for the near future."

death from the skies; the royalists said, government troops achieved several swift victories north of Teruel in the mountains and succeeded in occupying commanding positions along the Saragossa-Teruel highway, chief line of communication to Franco's rear.

A brief artillery barrage at dawn paved the way for a successful attack on rebel defenses here in the region of Torre de Caren, it was announced at Alcalá.

The German and Italian planes used by the loyalist news agency to have been new ones, caused their worst losses in the vicinity of Teruel, a score or so miles north of Teruel along the Saragossa road.

The massed planes appeared shortly after the loyalist inferior, supported by tanks launched its surprise attack.

Mechanical Engineers Find Most Accurate Thermometers Erroneous

THOMAS, N. Y., Jan. 27—(AP)—The most accurate thermometers used in readings air conditioning units have been making errors of several degrees. Discovery of these mistakes is reported at Cornell University in the Sibley School of Mechanical Engineering. Thermometers, it appears, are frequently fooled into giving wrong readings because they receive the radiation of the walls around them. This happens when the walls are not at nearly the same temperature as the air. If the air is 60° and the walls are 15° degrees warmer, the thermometer may read 65. If walls are cooler than the air, the thermometer will read too low.

These errors are of much engineering importance because they are made by thermometers which are supposed to be accurate within hundredths of a degree.

Outdoors, the biggest error happened on one of the coldest days recorded at Cornell. Most thermometers read 65° degrees below zero, but a government instrument, the roof of a college building, was below. Its 12-degree error could not be attributed to heat radiated by the sun.

The Cornell engineers discovered that wet-bulb thermometers did not read correctly. A wet-bulb instrument has a piece of damp cloth wrapped around its bulb. Separation from the base cools the thermometer much as a wet cloth cools a man in a breeze. It gives a lower reading than the ordinary (dry-bulb) instrument. The difference in reading enables engineers to calculate the moisture in the air. Accuracy about moisture is one of the important factors in air conditioning. But at Cornell it has been found that wet-bulb thermometers usually

Motocycle Will Be Held At Daytona Sunday

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Dale Hawk, 27, who was the man who helped instill speed in motorcycle racing, believes a new American record will be established next Sunday.

An expert engineer employed by a national motorcycle factory at Milwaukee, Wis., operates a 200-mile national championship motorcycle grind. He will assist drivers in adjusting their machines and making last minute preparations for the race.

Three factors will play an important part in the creation of a speed record: the driver, the motorcycle and the track.

With the 40-mile track round the lake being shaped under the expert supervision of City Engineer Director Ray Ellering, an average speed of better than 80 miles an hour is contemplated by certain state officials.

Peace Proposals Japs Menaced Offered AFL In Speech By Lewis

the AFL horse, foot and dragoon, if the AFL will issue charters to the CIO units and later call a convention to arrange the details.

If that be not pleasing to the AFL, we offer the alternative proposal that on the first day of February the AFL unions march into the CIO, horse, foot and dragoon, receive charters, and hold a convention later to arrange details."

Stand Cheering

That brought the entire convention to its feet, cheering, whistling and applauding, Lewis beamed.

Before the climactic peace offer, Lewis had declared that no one had been hurt by the CIO fight.

He said unionism had made gains in steel, automobiles, rubber, the transportation industry and the radio industry, then added:

"Why, even the AFL is no weaker. Everywhere the CIO has gone in and organized a basic industry, it has made it safe for the AFL to come in and gather up the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker."

"We've kept the wind off them. So they don't need to worry. All they need to do in this country is to sail along behind the CIO and we'll continue to keep the wind off them."

Lewis said he knew the miners were with him.

Only One Traitor

"Indeed I am aware, I know of but one member of the United Mine Workers who has fulfilled a traitorous function in this great movement of ours and he is a little man that sees ghosts at night."

A canvas of delegates showed they thought Lewis referred to William Green, AFL president and a member of the United Mine Workers for 48 years.

Lewis' speech brought to a close an afternoon of rank-and-file speech-making in support of the CIO and against the AFL.

William Dulrymple, delegate from Consign, Calif., and SWOC director of the "west coast," called the AFL "strikers" and "the cheapest bunch of damned scabs I've ever seen."

The applause and shouting that followed a "no surrender" speech by Philip Murray left no doubt that a majority of the delegates were supporting the CIO fight.

Murray, vice president of the U.M.W. and director of the CIO campaign, told the delegates they had given their officers a job to do at the 1938 convention and "with your continued support we're going to do it."

Japs Menaced By Red Forces In China Area

in Anhwei provinces as far west as Wuhan and Hangchow sectors, to support assertions those tactics have been increasingly effective.

Japanese efforts to smash Chinese defenders in central China by seizing the vital Lung-hai and Tientsin-Pukow railways, which cross at Suchow, apparently have bogged down in the face of Chinese resistance.

Information received from American missionaries at Tientsin, about 60 miles north of the Tengtung line, indicated the Japanese forces virtually had been stalled for three weeks 90 miles north of Suchow.

This Japanese army moved down through Shantung province while another force advancing northward from the Nanking area was fighting its way to the Huai river in Anhwei province near Penghu, some 55 miles south of Suchow. The southern army apparently has been advancing very slowly.

Chinese military leaders pointed to regeneration of their air force as prosaically showing opposition to the Japanese aerial offenders.

Japanese and Chinese pressure on Hangchow, 125 miles southwest of Shanghai, have been lessened. Chinese troops in that area were said to have withdrawn to the southwest.

At Wuhan, where severe fighting has been going on and both sides have suffered heavy losses, the Chinese said Japanese received 10,000 reinforcements.

Japanese naval headquarters reported pursuit ships shot down two Chinese bombers and anti-aircraft fire accounted for another during a raid by a dozen planes on Nanking Wednesday morning.

Chinese said the bomber hit by anti-aircraft managed to land safely.

They reported the raiders destroyed or damaged between 12 and 20 Japanese planes on the ground. The Japanese said their depot was set afire but only one plane was damaged.

A Japanese communiqué said Japanese planes also raided Hung-chow late yesterday but were driven off with the loss of one plane before they could drop their bombs.

In the wreckage of a plane a million-hour speed limit for the Japanese said they shot down horses.

New Millions Are Asked For U.S. Armament

Roosevelt Calls Present Army And Navy "Inadequate For National Security"

Naval Building Nearly Billion

Money Is Also Asked For Improvement Of Army's Equipment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to authorize millions of new expenditures on the Navy's fighting forces and the Army's land defenses to bolster armaments which he termed "inadequate for purposes of national security."

Outstanding among the President's requests for armed "protection" based "not on aggression but on defense" was a 20 per cent increase in the Navy building program. Navy officials estimated the cost would be $800,000,000.

The President also recommended an expenditure of $17,330,000 for the betterment of the Army, including $3,000,000 for anti-aircraft armaments. The program he outlined calls for building two additional battleships and two additional cruisers during the calendar year of 1938.

Meeting Planned For Local District Of Townsend Clubs

DELAND, Jan. 28.—A district convention of Townsend clubs will be at 2 P. M. Sunday, Feb. 6, at the city hall in Sanford, according to an announcement by the district board chairman, J. L. Sparling, Orlando, received here thru G. B. Russell, president of the local Townsend club.

As the convention will be held to select the district representative to Washington, all Townsend clubs in the district not having a regular meeting between now and Feb. 6 should have a special session to elect its own delegate and alternate to the district convention, Sparling said.

They should be supplied with written credentials signed by the club president and treasurer, and should be vested with power to pledge their respective clubs to pay as much as possible within these months to defray expenses of the district delegate to Washington.

Whether or not the district board organization will be convened in this district not having a regular meeting between now and Feb. 6 should have a special session to elect its own delegate and alternate to the district convention, Sparling said.

Sanford Townsend Club 1, to night will entertain all tourists in the Sanford area at a tureen supper to be served at 7 o'clock in the club rooms on the lower floor of the Welaka Building, First Street.
