

Rigid Sunday Blue Law Bill Proposed At Capital Today

Every Business Would Be Affected By Act; New State Banking Board Bill Offered

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 15.—(AP)—A Sunday blue law bill introduced in the House today by Rep. Isom Beasley, Hernando county, would prohibit all worldly employment, or business, ordinary or servile, either upon land or water, and shooting, fishing, sporting, hunting, racing, plays, dancing, and all athletic games, charity, and religious activities excepted.

A second measure to provide a state banking department was also introduced today by Rep. Chappell of Dade, while Rep. Kehoe, another Dade man, offered a bill providing stringent regulations as to determining the insolvency of all banking institutions.

The Chappell bill sought an appropriation of $100,000 for two year operation of the banking department, to be composed of a superintendent and a number of examiners. The superintendent would be given power to close banks or remove bank officers after hearings. The Kehoe bill provided penalties for the acceptance of deposits by officers of an insolvent bank. It further provided that the bank shall be held to have been insolvent for 30 days prior to its closing.

The Senate rejected a House proposal to call for a biennial appropriation bill in the first 30 days of the session. By a vote of 15 to 12, the house bill to extend the time for tax payment to June 1, struck a senate snag. The senate amended the bill to extend time to June 15, and sent the measure back to the house.

Chappell also has a bill to require the licensing of all resident motor vehicle operators under an examination, at a fee of $2.00 annually, saying such fee would give the state a revenue of $1,000,000 annually.

Mr. Hagan and I lost another vote this morning in attempting to prevent the House from spending $5,000 to purchase law books for the members. But to no avail.

The bill drawn by Congressman R. A. Green of the 2nd District was reported favorably by the Census and Apportionment Committee today, over the bill introduced by many from Central Florida. Although I am chairman of this committee, the vote in the committee was 5 to 3 against me. The bill that was reported favorably provides only that the 4th District be cut into two districts, leaving approximately 432,000 people in the 1st, and ONLY 238,000 in the 2nd District. This is certainly unequal, and I am doing my best to amend the bill, but it looks like a losing proposition.

The numerous attacks seem to be very surprised that they are having so much work to do so early in the session. The men who compose the Legislature, especially the House and 50 of them are new members, and certainly getting down to business early, and it looks as if we will have more efficiency and economy than heretofore, but those who share these things, have to keep continually at it in order to accomplish anything.

There will be a Resolution in the House, probably tomorrow, regarding Florida's exhibit at the Chicago's World's Fair. This should pass, as we certainly present our State to the thousands of people who will attend this exposition.

I note in the daily papers that the Colony market is getting worse. This is to be regretted. After all, I expect that we better off in Sanford than in thousands of people who will actually farm colonies.

UNIVERSITY SEEN AS EXTENDING TO LIMITS OF STATE

Figures Show Gainesville School Gives Education To Many

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Astounding figures on the services of the University of Florida announced yesterday led to the comment that "the peninsulas of the state of Florida is the true campus of the state university."

Advantages and opportunities of the institution penetrate into each of the 67 counties of the Florida commonwealth, and while it would be virtually impossible to accurately estimate the number of Floridians served in one way or another by the state university, through resident teaching, extension teaching and in general services rendered in all parts of Florida, more than 80,000 persons are rather definitely and intimately affected annually by the institution.

This announcement will likely occasion great surprise in that the sphere of service by the university is in many quarters regarded as merely instruction of students regularly enrolled. This year a record-breaking attendance was recorded. 2388 students enrolling.

In the eight weeks, summer session, which is co-educational, there were enrolled last year 1480. A larger registration is anticipated at the approaching summer session.

One hundred and fifty radio engineers attended the radio school campus given by the university under the joint direction of the General Extension Division and the College of Engineering. Florida public service workers registered more than 100 strong for the meter course given at the university under the same joint auspices, while an attendance of like size was recorded at the sessions of the short course for water works engineers. The annual

ALFONSO QUILTS SPAIN ABOARD FAST CRUISER

Rest Of Royal Household Have Departed For Foreign Lands; Throngs Celebrate

MADRID, Apr. 15.—(AP)—A royal family scattered into exile today leaders of the Spanish republic moved to insure the life of the new regime and make their return to Spain impossible. Prison camps at Barcelona, Valencia, Jaca and other Spanish cities were opened for thousands of political and revolutionary hostages incarcerated during the dictatorship of the last eight years.

While crowds boisterously celebrated the death of the monarchy and the birth of the republic, the King accompanied by his cousin, the Infante Alfonso of Orleans, and the Duke of Miranda, boarded a fast cruiser at Cartagena, and sailed before dawn into exile, probably for England, although his destination was not announced. Other members of the royal family left by train or boat for foreign lands.

The Spanish monarchy, hundreds of years old and once the most powerful in the world, fell at 6 o'clock (1 o'clock a.m.), succumbing at last to the tide of republicanism which washed away its supports in the municipal elections Sunday.

Niceto Alcalá Zamora, republican leader who only recently was released from jail, immediately took charge of the government as provisional president and appointed a new cabinet.

With tremendous cheer, excited crowds surged through the streets of Madrid and republican flags appeared as if by magic in the windows of buildings and in automobiles. Rafael Sanchez Guerra, son of the famous Spanish republican leader, waved the republican flag over the department of the interior while a great multitude packed in the Puerta del Sol, Times Square of Madrid, shouted deliriously.

HOOVER PREDICTS CONCILIATION IN WORLD DISPUTES

President Addresses Governing Board Of Pan-American Union

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP)—President Hoover yesterday envisioned western hemisphere nations in the near future settling every major difference by the "orderly processes of confiliation and arbitration."

Leading official Washington in its celebration of the first Pan-American day, which simultaneously was observed throughout the 21 Latin-American republics, the chief executive described the common purpose of the American to eliminate war as a major contribution to modern civilization.

He spoke before the governing board of the Pan-American Union, and was followed by Secretary Stimson, speaking as chairman of the board; Ambassador, Tellez of Mexico, dean of the Washington diplomatic corps; and Ambassador Ferraz, Cuba.

By proclamation of President Hoover, flags were displayed in the capital as on national holidays and exercises were arranged throughout the day at the Pan-American Union building. At the opening of the American league baseball season the president was (Continued On Page Four)

6-HOUR WORKING DAY FOUND TO BE OKEY BY FACTORY

Shorter Hour System Will Be Adopted As Permanent Feature

NEW YORK, Apr. 15.—(AP)—The six-hour working day will be adopted as a permanent operating policy at the Kellogg Company, cereal manufacturers, Battle Creek, Mich.

Low's J. Brown, president of the company, announced yesterday with the plan since Dec. 1 had proved profitable for both stockholders and employes.

Production was increased, he said, consumption was stimulated, overhead was decreased.

Since inauguration of the plan the company has worked four shifts in its plants, six hours each, to replace the former three shifts of eight hours each. At the same time it increased the base wage 12 1-2 per cent.

The plan was originally put into force as an emergency measure to relieve unemployment in Battle Creek and 20 per cent more workers were added. President Brown said the company discovered many unexpected advantages.

"Each shift has equal advantages," he said. "This eliminated the need for extra allowances for any shift, and also eliminated the stop for meals. The efficiency is greater than when working on an 8-hour basis."

He said that under the 8-hour system production slowed before meals and was slow to pick up after meals; also, the monotony of repetitious work caused carelessness and waste toward the end of the 8-hour day.

"Our company made a study of what the daily wage should be for an employe to give him approximately the same purchasing power as he had two years or so ago, when commodity prices were much higher," Brown added. "It was (Continued On Page Four)"

U.S. Citizens In Puerto Cabezas Are Frightened Last Another Attack Be Instituted

PUERTO CABEZAS, Nicaragua, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Nine Americans have been killed by Nicaraguan insurgents in the vicinity of Logtown about 70 miles from here since last Saturday morning. The dead are: Captain Harlan Peffley, U. S. Marine corps, Philadelphia; W. H. Bond, Jr., of Samsola, Florida; Percy Davis, Hammond, Louisiana; Hubert Wilson, New Orleans; J. D. Phelps, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; J. H. Bryan, Clinton, Maryland; Rip Davis, Mississippi; William Sclater, of Florida, but address not given; and J. M. Sagantrumi, Guatemala City, out an American citizen.

The insurgents who attacked the lumber camp in Logtown by surprise and have since ravaged nearby farms, have slain a large but undetermined number of natives. Although meeting (Continued On Page Four)

Hoover Eulogizes Results Obtained By Negro Schools

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Negro schools established since the days of slavery were eulogized yesterday by President Hoover with having exerted the greatest influence in averting racial upheavals after the admission of 4,000,000 slaves to citizenship.

From the study in the White House where President Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation, the president participated in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Tuskegee Institute at Tuskegee, Ala., by Booker T. Washington.

His address was transmitted to the chapel of the institute and there broadcast to the country. President Hoover praised the work of Booker T. Washington in leading his race toward literacy, and said the progress of the negro since slavery "has surpassed the most sanguine hopes of the most ardent advocates."

6 Alleged Leaders Of Rum Conspiracy Await Jury Action

NEW ORLEANS, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Six alleged leaders of a syndicate charged with conspiracy to smuggle Canadian liquor into the United States through Gulf coast channels went on trial yesterday at the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Reginald H. Carrington.

The men were held for the grand jury after federal agents gave the commissioner information they received by tapping the telephone wires of the accused.

One of the defendants, M. D. O'Neil, alleged representative of a Vancouver distillery, got his bond reduced from $25,000 to $15,000, but the original $25,000 bond was held over Albert Morrison, also charged with representing Canadian distillers, Joseph Miller, Al Hart and Al Hain, Chicagoans, charged with being the land crew of the rum ring.

Jerry Woods, who was arrested late Monday in Baton Rouge, was held under a $5000 bond. None of them had made bond late yesterday, and were returned to prison.

Charles Andre, Jr., radio operator, caught by federal agents sending messages to a rum ship in the Gulf on an radio, did not appear in court, and federal officials indicated that he might turn state's evidence.

The agents related conversations between Al Hart and Al Hain, in Chicago, known as "Al" and "Boss" Hart and "Boss" Hain.

ALFONSO'S PERSONAL CHARM IS BEST ASSET

Quality Is Given Credit For His Ability To Hang On For So Long

By the Associated Press
It was the accident of birth which made Alfonso king of Spain. A political accident lifted Niceto Alcalá Zamora out of the ranks of the monarchists and made him one of the most powerful influences in the establishment of the Spanish republic.

"L'Etat c'est moi," that was Alfonso's creed, and to the end of his reign he was the state, defending his throne by force of what amounted to political genius, against the onslaughts of those who would have overthrown the monarchist king.

He is a man of boundless personal charm, those who know him say, and his ability to hang on to his inheritance as long as he did.

One of his most determined opponents said not long ago, "I can only say from here, as long as I stay away from him, he is a most desirable man."

Recently, when events were moving fast in Spain, the king went to Paris to talk with Santiago Alba, the constitutionalist who had been into voluntary exile. The purpose of the visit was denied. Alfonso only smiled at the denial.

A slender, bronzed man with burning eyes paced to and fro across the royal apartment in the Paris hotel. He gazed into the flashing traffic of the Rue Rivoli and suddenly the deep lines along his profile softened to a smile.

"My people are emotional, volatile," he said, "there is a poet in every Spaniard. My subjects are restless but it is a passing fancy."

Alcala Zamora, originally a staunch supporter of the monarchy, came in later years to have other ideas. Soon after Primo de Rivera became dictator of Spain he charged that old-time politician, who was factor in political corruption.

Alcala Zamora, who had served in three cabinets, demanded publication from the king for what he called a slur. When it was not forthcoming he declared himself a republican.

The constitutional crisis was put to rest and when he was arrested after last December's revolt he did not hedge in announcing himself a leader of that rebellion.

At the start of his career he was a yawler. On July 6 he will be 84. His accession to the presidency fulfilled the aspirations of the December revolutionists who proclaimed him then as first president of the new Spanish republic.

course in veterinary surgery under direction of the College of Agriculture and the Florida Experiment Station brought 28 veterinarians to the campus for the first meeting.

An imposing realm of activities is being in the registration this year by the General Extension Division of 5000 students. For correspondence study, 2478 students find pupils in each of the 67 counties, while more than half of the colleges are listed in the 1934 enrollments in town extension classes which are regularly held in a large number of cities in Florida. University of Florida professors conduct these extension classes in similar manner with those at the university and equivalent credit is given for work earned and completed.

Agricultural figures reveal a total of approximately 27,000 hours served in one way or another by the county agents of the state, each of whom has rank of assistant professor at the University of Florida.

There have been approximately 800 farm boys enrolled in 4-H Club work conducted by county agents and the state team. Club agents during the 1934. These boys are given instruction along such lines as growing cotton, corn, peanuts and potatoes, raising calves, poultry, and working with the tractor and plow.

423 of 10,000 rural girls between the ages of 16 and 18 have been enrolled in 4-H Clubs conducted by the county agents. These girls are given instruction in such lines as sewing, home economics, and the care of the home.

Two Florida Men Among Nine Killed In Nicaragua Fray

with some reverses themselves at the hands of the Nicaraguan revolutionary with U. S. Marine officers, the insurgents appeared at Logtown Saturday morning. An automobile containing Selser, Wilson and Arthur Curtis, another American, took the marine and four guardia toward the scene and were joined by Felley and reinforcements enroute.

When they neared Logtown the insurgents ambushed them killing Felley and Selser. Other skirmishes continued over the weekend with marine planes bombing the insurgents.

Two marine officers with a handful of guardia engaged in a stiff battle Sunday killing eight rebels including Pedro Blanton, high Sandino leader. The insurgents are numerous and well armed and about 800 Americans have been taken to another place.

The two groups scuffled on the bodies of the slain and impaled their heads on fence pickets. The guardia picked up the dead and wounded and brought them to Logtown.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Marines from the U. S. Ashcroft were authorized yesterday by the state department to land in Nicaragua to protect American citizens after receipt of information that four had been killed and three were missing as a result of insurgent attacks during the last 48 hours.

Col. William C. Dufour, attorney of the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company, was informed last night by representatives of the company at Pinar Cabanas, Nicaragua, that 25 Marines were landed there during the day, but soon returned to the Ashcroft when relieved by local guardia. They were prepared to land again if needed.

Authority to land forces to protect lives was followed by the state department to Com. W. W. Weddell, commanding the Ashcroft.

On the basis of another message from standard representatives, Colonel Dufour gave the state department the names of Hugo and Otto Lehman as two of the missing Americans. Because of similarity with other names, the names could not be checked with state department passport records.

They were reported missing in the vicinity of Logtown, some 40 miles from the port.

Colonel Dufour appeared (then) to state department officials to protect his company's property, valued at $18,000,000. He said unless protected by American forces, his company "must abandon it to the insurgent forces."

Meanwhile, he said, his company had been asked to keep two of its ships in the harbor to evacuate the 300 Americans who had taken refuge on the wharves or on vessels in the harbor.

Hoover Predicts Conciliation In World Disputes

of those to arise and settle by raising the flag of each western hemisphere while the United States army band was called upon to play the various national anthems.

President Hoover recalled that during his 1928 visit to 11 Latin American countries, it became increasingly evident to him that the various nations had everything to gain by keeping in close contact with each other and by developing a spirit of co-operation having its roots in reciprocal understanding of national aims and aspirations.

"A peculiarly heavy responsibility rests upon the nations of the western hemisphere," the chief executive said. "A responsibility which, at the same time, is a high privilege. Richly endowed by nature, we enjoy the great advantage of inhabiting a hemisphere where the various peoples and nationalities have shared such objects of common interest and the opportunity to develop in the practical application of the principles of equality, combined with a full recognition of the obligations of each as of the rights of all."

"The American republics are today rapidly approaching the time when every major difference existing between them will be settled by the orderly processes of consultation and arbitration."

Secretary Belmont said Pan-American day was "intended to emphasize those basic principles of international service which tend to bring the nations of America closer to one another."

"The constructive achievements of the last 40 years," he said, "give promise of even larger results in the future. We have in this hemisphere entered upon a period of international development which I firmly believe is destined to give the world an outstanding example of mutual helpfulness in the solution of the problems common to all our countries. Without the slightest attempt at compulsion—in an atmosphere of mutual respect and confidence—we are endeavoring to place the experience of each at the service of all, thus promoting the well-being of our respective peoples."

Asserting the people of the Americas today have attained a "new consciousness" and face a "future loaded with great responsibilities and with heavy responsibilities," Ambassador Tellen said for the first time in history "a single harmonious hymn" is raised by the common aspirations of the people of the American republics.

The retiring monarch was quoted by friends as not wishing to depart without his family but deferred to the advice and guarantees of republican leaders that they would be guarded and respected in leaving. He was quoted as saying:

"Goodbye until we return."
Former Premier Juan Bautista Aznar announced that martial law had been declared to preserve order until the republican junta formally takes over its new duties later in the evening. However, republicans will be permitted, he said, so long as the public does not attempt violence.

The king's abdication took place at a dramatic conference with his cabinet from 5:30 P. M. until 8 o'clock. Concluding "that," he said:

"I am still king."
Then he announced that he had given up the throne, shook hands with each of his ministers and prepared to depart from the land where he was born a monarch. He continued cool and composed and turned the advice of his associates to disagree himself for the journey.

"I am going because it is the will of Spain," he said, "and to avoid bloodshed. I go with a clear conscience. I have always worked for justice."
President Alcala Zamora and retiring Premier Aznar were in continuous conference to arrange the conditions under which the transfer of power to the new government could be effected. The former is expected to publish a manifesto to the nation laying down the broad lines of a provisional constitution by which the nation will be governed pending a meeting of the cortes and adoption of a permanent charter of liberty.

The first act of the new government will be to grant amnesty and orders already have been issued stipulating that political prisoners be freed at once. The government is theoretically in charge of Premier Aznar until the new ministers can adopt a working program.

In contrast to past history, the portentous change in rule was effected without known clash of arms or bloodshed. Republican leaders commented widely to the effect that "there was no blood."

Col. William C. Dufour, attorney of the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company, was informed last night by representatives of the company at Pinar Cabanas, Nicaragua, that 25 Marines were landed there during the day, but soon returned to the Ashcroft when relieved by local guardia. They were prepared to land again if needed.

Authority to land forces to protect lives was followed by the state department to Com. W. W. Weddell, commanding the Ashcroft.

On the basis of another message from standard representatives, Colonel Dufour gave the state department the names of Hugo and Otto Lehman as two of the missing Americans. Because of similarity with other names, the names could not be checked with state department passport records.

They were reported missing in the vicinity of Logtown, some 40 miles from the port.

Colonel Dufour appeared (then) to state department officials to protect his company's property, valued at $18,000,000. He said unless protected by American forces, his company "must abandon it to the insurgent forces."

Meanwhile, he said, his company had been asked to keep two of its ships in the harbor to evacuate the 300 Americans who had taken refuge on the wharves or on vessels in the harbor.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP)—Marines from the U. S. Ashcroft were authorized yesterday by the state department to land in Nicaragua to protect American citizens after receipt of information that four had been killed and three were missing as a result of insurgent attacks during the last 48 hours.
