The Miami All-Stars headed by Teen Gallegos carried too much power at the plate yesterday for the Sanford Lookouts and the local club went down to defeat 11 to 3 in the first of a three-game series being played in Miami.

"Lil' Dicky" Dean lashed two five-inning under that barrage of base hits that included two home runs. He was replaced by Joe Pinder, who was unable to stop the onslaught.

Sanford put on the pressure in the sixth inning to score all three of their runs while the Miami men spread their scoring over the rounds pushing across two counters to the second, three in the fourth, four in the fifth and one each in the seventh and eighth innings.

The second game of the series will be played tonight with either Cleo Jeter or Lefty Frank Hudson doing the hurling for Sanford.

The All-Stars recently played Daytona Beach of the Florida State League two games, winning one and losing one.

To Feel Fine, Use Vegetable Laxative

Here's the laxative that acts as thoroughly as harsher ones, but is a gentle persuader for intestines when used this way. A quarter to a half teaspoon of BLACK DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water—there you are! Then this all-vegetable laxative usually allows plenty of time for sleep, acts thoroughly and gently, and relieves constipation's headaches, biliousness, irritability, bad breath. BLACK DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is "intestinal tonic-laxative," which helps tone the intestinal muscles. Millions of packages used prove its merit! Economical—25 to 40 doses, 25c. —Adv.

Miami University Plays Wake Forest In First Contest

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The coming week-end's schedule for Florida's collegiate football teams will be featured by the season opener for Miami, last year's state champion, and the first Southeastern conference game for the University.

Miami's Hurricanes open on their home field Friday night against Wake Forest, while Florida, defeated 12-0 by Texas yesterday, will attempt a comeback against Miami State at Gainesville Saturday night.

The Rollins Tars, 54-7 victors over South Georgia State at Orlando Friday night, go to Deland next Friday for the first of their two games with Stetson this season. They play again at Orlando Tuesday.

Stetson brought its average up to the 500 mark by trouncing the South Georgia Teachers, 19-0 at Deland Friday night.

The University of Tampa's Spartans are scheduled for a week's rest after their invasion Saturday night of Cincinnati where they were beaten, 26-7, by the Cincinnati University Bearcats. The Spartans play next on Oct. 14, meeting the University of Miami in Tampa.

A massive Texas line and a speedy, 165-pound halfback named Jack Crain proved the undoing of the Florida Gators for the Longhorns. The elusive Crain, who led a 42-yard gain in the second quarter to put the ball in Gator territory and four plays later dashed 16 yards around right end to score. He was instrumental in a drive that carried to the Florida four-yard line in the final quarter and set the stage for a blocked kick which proved fell on for the second Texas touchdown.

The husky Texas forward wall held the Gator ground attack to 23 yards compared with 140 for the Longhorns. Each team tried 13 passes, Florida completing four for 69 yards and Texas connecting with five for 44 yards.

The Spartans found fullback Jack Dufford of Cincinnati too hot to handle. He was a ball of fire all evening, scoring three touchdowns and setting the stage for the fourth. Buchanan, Spartan fullback, scored Tampa's lone touchdown near the end of the first half.

Feds Recuperating From Eustis Fray

After their 12 to 6 defeat at the hands of an underdog Eustis team, the Sanford Celery Feds today went through an easy workout from out a few kinks.

Several players suffered slight injuries but nothing serious had cropped up. Coach Leonard L. McCluskey sent his charges through a running, passing, and dummy drill as he laid plans for heavy workouts in preparation for the game Friday with Julian Land of Jacksonville.

McCluskey said he wasn't too disappointed over the showing of the Feds in their first game. "They are mostly inexperienced and too much couldn't be expected of them," he stated, adding, "Besides, Eustis has a very fine line team, not heavy but with a fairly strong line and some fast backs."

CHALKING 'EM UP

Leaguer's Victory
 The defeat of the University of Florida Gators at the hands of the Texas Longhorns Saturday afternoon was not altogether unexpected. We had hoped to see the Gators come through with perhaps a point victory or something like that but they couldn't quite make it. The Longhorns and one, Jack Craine, proved to be a little bit too much for the inexperienced Floridians. At that, it wasn't exactly a runaway for the Texas. That Gator defense was pretty fair most of the time and when those sophs get in a few more games they're going to be tough to crack on the defense. But the offense is even more complicated than defense and it is much more difficult to produce a crack offense usually. But the Gators weren't outclassed. They were beaten by a team that was a bit better—on that particular day anyway. All publicity from the University has been to the effect that the Gators would be lucky to win a third of their games, consequently few persons have built high hopes. By the time the Mississippi game is over this week-end, we should have a much better idea of what the Gators really have this year.

Anything Can Happen
 Word comes from Miami that the All-Stars whipped the Lookouts 11 to 3 and knocked Dixie Dean from the mound in five innings. Every time we see the Sanford outfit get shellacked we console ourselves by thinking of the 19 to 3 lacing the Deland Red Hats administered Sanford during the Shaughnessy playoffs. And yet the Lookouts came back strong to take the series. Maybe they can do the same in Miami. Certainly Sid Hudson, Cleo Jeter, and Frank Hudson can turn the trick one time at least. We doubt the All-Stars can produce four pitchers the equal of Sid, Frank Hudson, Cleo Jeter, and Dean.

Softball is Here
 The Softball season gets under way tonight at the diamond on the lake front. The interest was very high last year and should be even higher this season. Everything possible has been done to insure good play by finding teams that are evenly matched. Last year the situation found one team or two so far ahead of the pack that interest lagged where the tailenders were concerned. This should not be the case this year and probably won't.

Florida Power And St. Johns Will Begin Softball Season Here Tonight

The Sanford Softball League opens the 1939 season tonight at 8:00 o'clock at St. Johns River Line team meets the Florida Power and Light outfit at 8:00 o'clock in the opening contest of the year.

Six teams are included on the roster. St. Johns River Line, Florida Power and Light, Reel and Sons, Kilgore S&D Company, Lemmond Tire Shop, and Osceola Cypress Company.

Games will be played on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. All games will start at 8:00 o'clock. The public will be admitted at the same price that prevailed last year.

Impres for the league will be Bert Chapman and Al M. Wallace. They will umpire all games.

A total of 20 games will be played during the first half of the season and a total of 30 during the last half.

Reel and Sons was the last organization to enter a team in the league and in order to permit the gathering of a team, Reel was eliminated from games the first week.

The administration of the league is under the supervision of Director M. Hardaker and the Department of Recreation headed by Chairman H. James Gut.

Meyers And Frey Aid Cincinnati To Pennant

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who pulled out of here last night for New York and their rendezvous with the Yankees on Wednesday, believe to a man that they are in the world series principally because of the great play of Billy Myers at shortstop and Lonnie Frey at second base.

This is the somewhat surprising result of a semi-private poll conducted at odd hours by the writer. The National League champs give full credit to their great two-man-busting staff—Walters and Derringer—and to the timely hitting of Frank McMorrick, who led the loop in runs-batted-in. But invariably they come back to their keystone combination.

"There," said one of the team's stars, "is the difference between fourth place last year and first this year. It's been fun to stand out there and watch that pair go. In my book they're the two most improved players in the league." The Yankees' Crossetti and Gordon are any better I write to see 'em, prove it."

Allies Refuse To Yield To Threat By Nazis, Soviets

Chamberlain Declares No Assurances From German Government Will Be Accepted

Il Duce May Not Make Peace Move

Hints Spread That Finland Will Get Russian Demands

Britain and France today refused to yield to a "scarcely veiled threat" of Soviet-German collaboration if European hostilities continue.

Prime Minister Chamberlain acted as spokesman for the British-French allies in a House of Commons speech.

He said the Allies would "examine and test" any German peace proposals but that "no mere assurances from present German government can be accepted by us."

The threat was implied, he said, in the Soviet-German declaration which partitioned Poland and mentioned the alternative of "renunciation" if the Western Allies fail to make peace.

Nothing in the declaration could serve the Allies from an "effective prosecution of the war," Chamberlain said.

An authoritative Berlin source indicated Germany and Russia would consult after the western belligerents declared their attitude.

In Rome, Mussolini said he had been suggested after the Italian foreign minister visited Adolf Hitler Sunday.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia gave a strong hint that Finland as well as the small Baltic states would receive Russian demands for naval and military bases.

Talk about peace terms overshadowed hostilities on European battlefields.

On the Western Front, France reported "great activity" by patrols on both sides during night.

The French estimated they held about 156 square miles of German territory between the Maginot and Siegfried fortification lines.

On the Eastern Front a German communiqué said "German troops marched into the fortress of Warsaw" and began counting prisoners taken during the September campaign.

The British air ministry casualty list reported 16 British fliers killed, seven wounded, three missing and five believed to have been captured.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Senator Logan

Unexpected Death Of Kentucky Solon Interrupts Debate On Neutrality Statute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The unexpected death of Senator Marvel Mills Logan of Kentucky took one of President Roosevelt's supporters from Congress today and brought an interruption in the tense struggle over neutrality legislation.

The 65-year-old Democrat, who had been a member of the Senate since 1931, died of a heart attack this morning. He suffered a slight heart attack Saturday and another last night.

Logan was a figure in Kentucky politics since 1910, starting out as county judge and then serving as successor in assistant attorney general, attorney general, chairman of tax commission, appellate judge and chief justice of the state.

Senator Barclay of Kentucky, Democratic leader, announced the Senate would meet only to adjourn today out of respect to "the outstanding of the highest quality."

Political observers speculated on a possibility that Governor A. B. Chandler might resign in favor of Logan's son, Keen Logan, who had been appointed to the state judiciary.

Logan was among the foremost political figures in the state's history. He was a member of the House of Representatives from 1910 to 1912 and served in the United States Senate since 1931.

Plans Are Made For Paving Of Road To Coast

Parrish Is Advised Work Will Begin On Improvement Of No. 11 Without Delay

The preparation of plans for the paving of State Road No. 11 to the Seminole County line has been authorized, according to a telegram received today from State Senator J. J. Parrish of Titusville which said that contracts for the improvement of this road to the St. Johns River will be awarded as soon as the plans are completed.

Definite action on this project will climax several years of effort on the part of the Seminole County and the Board of County Commissioners, brought about as well as the efforts by the leading citizens in the two counties. A joint appeal by a delegation from the two counties, brought action at the budget meeting of the State Road Department last Fall and an appropriation for paving the stretch between Mims and the St. Johns River was secured for this year.

However, several months passed without action on the part of the State Road Department and it was not until Senator Parrish and Mayor Edward Higgins visited the capital on Sept. 20 that assurances were given that the project would get underway with the least possible delay.

The telegram from Senator Parrish is as follows: "I have the following from the State Road Department under the date of Oct. 2: 'Due to your efforts the Road Board has authorized the preparation of plans for State Road No. 11 to the St. Johns River for a paving contract to be let as soon as the plans are prepared by the Road Department.' (Signed) J. J. Parrish."

This is following up on the visit of Edward Higgins and myself there on Sept. 20 when they agreed that the paving of this road would be paid right away and that they would let us know as soon as they had the plans ready. I think we can get the paving of this road completed in a very short time.

The difficulty lies in several directions. Russia already has bought a considerable quantity of German machinery during the past 12 years. She has bought whole factories at a time. The first five-year plan in Russia was largely implemented by German machinery.

But machinery breeds machinery and in time Russia began to supply her own needs with machinery she had bought. She has now begun to export machinery.

Germany now will be even more heavily armed. Experts here believe she will be even stronger in her arms even although it is her iron shortage will be terrific. At least half of her normal iron ore supplies have been cut off.

She still has access to Sweden, her principal supplier. In 1937 she bought 122,000,000 marks worth of iron ore from Sweden but her 1938 purchases were cut to 70,000,000 marks worth of iron ore from Sweden. In that year France sold her 70,000,000 marks worth of ore. Spain and Spanish Morocco ordinarily supply an additional 30,000,000 marks worth because of the British blockade.

There is a strong suspicion that a long war will have Germany sweeping the bottom of the sea.

THE WESTERN FRONT: YESTERDAY AND TODAY

The current western front is not much farther east than the battle line at the close of hostilities in November, 1918. Names of cities to left of World War armistice line on above map were common to all U. S. citizens during days of 1914-18. American soldiers saw service in much of the area shown and those in the army of occupation after the war advanced far beyond the present line of hostilities.

Cuban Sugar Duties Will Not Be Reduced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The state department said yesterday there were no prospects to reduce import duties on Cuban sugar.

This was in reply to inquiries regarding that a reduction was to be made in the Cuban trade agreement under negotiation.

A number of protests have been made recently by persons, including several senators, who said they feared the prospect of a reduction.

It is therefore to be hoped that those who may still be in foreign countries and who desire to return to the United States will travel on American vessels or other neutral vessels and thus avoid the danger inherent in traveling on vessels of belligerent countries within the areas specified above.

Howard Brown, the well known newspaper columnist, denies he is Francis P. Whitehair of De-Land is another making motions like he was figuring on running for governor.

British Girl Scars Cows Off Highways With Her Bicycle—something there.

Al Smith, the Happy Warrior, cast his vote for peace Sunday when he came out in favor of the "cash and carry" plan.

Hitler is going to give the English one last chance to make peace had then if they don't knock under, he's liable to lose his patience again.

In 1914 about one man in 50 had any preference at all as to the winner of the war. Now already about 60 percent have made up their minds as to whom they want to win.

While our senators in Washington debate the Neutrality Act, our representatives in Panama extend the three mile limit three hundred miles into the ocean. Now what are we going to do if a belligerent warship comes within that limit anyway?

It looks as if neutral freighters are having more trouble with German U-boats than are the ships of belligerent nations. Staying neutral won't save our ships from destruction if they come anywhere near the British Isles, whether they are loaded with planes, or wheat.

Mussolini as the "dove of peace" is a hot one. About as appropriate as the role Chamberlain is now playing in the guise of a warrior. Remember the Ethiopian campaign which Mus-solini's son spoke about as so beneficial, especially when the bombs fell on defenseless native villages.

A symphony in colors: the Poles were reported as blue over the approach of the Red army, said the Sanford Herald. As we understand it, the Reds attacked the blue Poles in the country . . . that's one time we don't say "three cheers for the red, white and blue!"—Miami Post.

We've heard the question asked a hundred times in the last few weeks: "What did we get out of the last war?" We'll tell you what most of us got. We got out with a whole skin and that's a lot more than several million French and English can say. If you had saved several billion dollars, but comparatively few lives.

The Sanford Herald wants to know if it won't have a hollow sound next Christmas eve when we all start singing, "Peace on Earth, Good will toward men." But the Herald probably knows it didn't need the out-break of open war-fare to make the words sound hollow. "Peace and good will" are so rare, they're valued.—Melbourne Times.

Something new in reducing ships is being tried in this country by Prof. Ross Smith and his White Fleet. It's undertaken in San Francisco for two weeks on the main course of action as new aircraft under the nation's eye.
The White Fleet will arrive about the first of October.

The Isolation Myth

While the Big Berthas of senatorial oratory blast away in their drive to keep America out of war, our representatives to the Pan American conference at Panama organize a "safety belt," averaging some 300 miles in width, around the continents of the Western Hemisphere and in these waters forbid the warships of any belligerent nations to come.

This happened only a few hours after a German warship sank the 5,000 ton British ship Clement only 50 miles off the coast of Brazil. The purpose of establishing the safety belt is to prevent any such occurrences in the future, keeping the fighting at a safe distance from our shores, and further isolating ourselves from the war in Europe. So we forbid belligerent ships to come within 300 miles of North or South America.

That seems to us to be a splendid idea, but what are we going to do about it if the belligerent nations fail to follow our suggestion? If a German U-boat or battle cruiser in the South Atlantic has sunk one British freighter there, it is more than likely to sink another if it can, regardless of whether we like it or not. It is not likely that Hitler will pay any attention to our requests just because we say "please."

And what about the British? After all, if Hitler's U-boats are going to hang around the coast of Brazil and sink British freighters loaded with essential supplies for British housewives, you cannot expect the British government to sit back and refrain from sending warships down there to sink them, just because we have established a "safety belt" in which we respectfully ask belligerent ships not to operate.

Of course, we might take a belligerent stand ourselves and if the Germans persist in sending their warships into our waters, dispatch an American fleet to the scene and sink every war ship we can find within the "safety zone." But if we do that, what becomes of our much vaunted intention to keep out of war? Won't we be right in it then up to our necks?

Meanwhile in Washington we waste our time debating the relatively unimportant merits of the Neutrality Act. "The arms embargo," insists one side, "will get us into the war." "Repeal of the arms embargo," declares the other, "will get us into the war." As if any law which Congress might pass could keep us out of war, if the hurricane blows our way, any more than Halle Belassie might have issued a decree which would have kept his country out of war.

Also interesting in the day's news is the announcement from the Department of State that this country refuses to recognize the German conquest of Poland, or the partition of Poland, and continues to regard the old Polish government as still in existence just as if there had never been any war. And so we take a stand against both Germany and Russia.

And at the same time from Berlin comes a warning to all American ships against any "suspicious behavior" in European waters. They must not zig-zag, a convenient method of avoiding German torpedoes, they must not use their radios, they must not screen their lights, or fall to obey a command to stop, say the orders from Berlin.

The significance of all this seems to be that in a world war, every nation is involved in one way or another, whether it wants to be or not. The only question is on which side it wants to be involved, and to what extent.

He Is An American

(From The New York Sun)

He is an American.
He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by defiance.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.

He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.

He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a State line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships GOD in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the State with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges.

He is a fortunate man.
He is an American.

And We Thought Politics Made Strange Bedfellows!

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHELSON
Democratic National Committee

Adjournment of partisan politics for the period of the present emergency—that is, the situation created by the outbreak of declared war in Europe—continues to be the theme of spokesmen of both major parties.

Alfred M. Landon, the most recent of Republican nominees for the Presidency, while indicating his accord with the President's desire to have the existing "neutrality" act revised or repealed, expressed the thought that his notion of the most important action to keep politics out of the situation would be for the President to declare that he would not be a third term candidate. Doubtless all other active or passive candidates of both parties might agree with the former Kansas Governor in favor of such a statement from the White House, though they might not agree with Mr. Landon's expressed reason for it.

Most people, I think, would figure that such a declaration by Mr. Roosevelt, so far from mitigating the fever of political activity, would fan the political flames more than anything he might do. It would unleash the full fury of campaigning by twenty or more ambitious gentlemen. Just think what would be the effect of a score of presidential booms all going the limit to annual prospective convention votes!

Every one of the aspirants, either because of his own views or because of what he deems expedient for his own candidacy, would be vociferously for the President's program, or against it—as to neutrality and every other element dealing with the situation which calls for the burying for the time being of partisanship in order that this country should present an united front to the respective belligerents who are vitally concerned with what America does.

It keeps the Political Peace, Measurably.

The uncertainty of the President's ultimate course—which uncertainty is as great in my own mind as in that of the next man—to some extent, at least, keeps the indicated campaign quietness, which makes for consideration of the big issues in a calmer, less political atmosphere. Incidentally, I think as I stated long ago, that the ultimate decision depends on future events over which the President has no control. In other words, he will not take another convention unless he has to, and I believe it is his fervent hope that that necessity will be averted.

In the controversy over the neutrality processes, for the consideration of which the President called Congress back, there is no need for calling names or scribing unworthy motives to those who take one position or another. The President believes that repeal or revision of the act is our best hope of peace.
Those who insist that there is "no repeal," that there was to doubt his sincerity when the law was under consideration, or when he voted against the very bill he now insists must be kept on the statute books.

"There is a simple and straightforward course," said the veteran California senator when he was arguing in the Senate in 1937, "that this nation may take. We can re-enact the existing law relating alone to arms, munitions and implements of warfare, and permit our people to trade as usual. They would be subject, of course, to the rules of international law, to search and seizure by belligerents, and to the perils of blockade. Those would be the risks they must take if they desire to trade."

On the same day, Senator Borah, also in opposition, told the Senate "Whatever else we do in this legislation, let us keep unimpaired our right to carry our commerce to whatever part of the world American initiative and American genius may win their way." Undoubtedly Senator Borah was as honest in his position two years ago as he is now in fighting as hard as he can to prevent what he advocated then.

Helping One Side or the Other There is nothing either strange or unusual in statements changing their viewpoint as conditions change. There was an European war being waged two years ago; it is in full swing today. The so-called neutrality law which ties our commercial hands is a measure for the advantage of the totalitarian belligerents, and the disadvantages of the de-moctrines that are fighting them —and to our own commerce.

The new enactment would apparently be to the advantage of the democracies and the disad-vantage of the Illicite countries, and would maintain our trade and our historic commercial fights.

Whatever course we take is going to help one side and hinder the other, and our relative innocence from or danger of involvement in the European struggle is approximately the same no matter what we do or fail to do.
If it had not been for domestic politics, we would have been back on our historic ground before there was any declaration of war. If it were not for political maneuvering, there would be no serious controversy as to our getting back there now. This does not mean that all of the administration's opponents in this measure are playing politics in a matter of such vital concern for the nation. But there is no question that a vast majority of our people have made up their minds what they want and that the sincere advocates of the present status constitute only a relatively small minority.

And, incidentally, the question of what party wins the election thirteen months from now ought to be as foreign to the course of legislation during the present session of Congress, as the state of the weather on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1940.

Maurice Chevalier To Present Sequel Of Famous Ditty

PARIS, Oct. 3 — Maurice Chevalier will introduce here soon a marching song that is intended to take the place of "Madelon," the French soldier's song of the First War. It is entitled "Victoire, Victoire, Victoire," and is to be a Madelon. The words are by Marcel Triveaux, and the music by Fred Gaborin, a Volunteer serving in the Garibaldi Legion of anti-Fascist Italians.

According to the story of the new song, Victoire is the twenty-one-year-old daughter of Madelon, and her father was a French lieutenant who won his commis-ion just before he was struck heroine of the World War song.
Victoire is represented as somewhere behind the lines in the present war, serving coffee to the troops, and sought everywhere from Beirut to Thionville.

The refrain runs:
"Victoire, Victoire, c'est en toi

Lookouts Turn Tables On Miami All-Stars With 12 to 7 Victory

Sanford's championship Lookouts turned the tables on the Miami All-Stars yesterday by scoring 12 to 7 after losing the return by a 11 to 7.

The game was the second in the series and was played at Sanford. The Lookouts were led by pitcher Frank Walker, who pitched a complete game, allowing only seven runs, three earned, and striking out 11 batters.

The Miami All-Stars were led by pitcher Willie Shaw, who pitched a complete game, allowing only seven runs, three earned, and striking out 11 batters.

The game was a close one, with the Lookouts leading 7 to 6 in the bottom of the ninth inning. However, the Lookouts scored three more runs in the top of the tenth inning to win the game.

Gators Backle Down For Maroon Encounter

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Florida's Gators, just home from their Texas trip, backed down to intensive work yesterday in preparation for their Saturday night encounter with Mississippi State.

Head Coach Tom McAllister, who coached the Maroons in their 1938 upset of highly-rated Arkansas, drove home the seriousness of the situation with the contest.

"They had a very versatile and smooth offensive and were completely smart and alert on the defense," McAllister reported. He also saw the Maroons play the week before when they defeated Howard 11-0. These conclusions were made after the Gators had won their last game, 14 to 0, against Alabama last Saturday.

Democratic women from 14 counties of the first congressional district will hold the first of five Florida rallies in Tampa, Oct. 29-31.

Reds Jubilant On Eve Of Series With New York Yankees

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The World Series got into a brisk ball yesterday as the rip-roaring Reds hit town as full of cocky spirit as the boys of dead old Steve.

At the same time, some lingering doubt still existed in the Yankee camp over the pitching assignment for the first game of the Fall series on Wednesday, although all signs pointed to a complete recovery of Red Ruffing's sore arm, thereby sending the American League's top right-hander against Paul Derringer in the curtain raiser.

Since New York began to lose some of its "so what" attitude concerning the series with the arrival of the National League's standard bearers, and indications were for the heaviest betting payoff yet since the Yankees began their domination of the pennant picture in 1926. The boys with a hot or two apparently weren't afraid of the Yanks this time.

Accustomed as they are to these post-season festivities, New Yorkers just couldn't shake off the confidence and spirit of the National League challengers. Will McKee's hired hands are an all of fight as a matter of fact. The opinion was they could make a lot of trouble for the Yanks, who are going into the series with their top two hurlers, Ruffing and Lefty Gomez, just recovering from ailments. Now were the boys and girls overlooking the fact that the Yanks are rounding out a self-satisfied four-year reign at the head of the baseball parade.

CHALKING 'EM UP

By CHARLIE CHALKER

The Great Classic in the sporting world they probably isn't a single event with more color and national interest than the annual World Series between the pennant winner in the American League and the National League. The game packs more thrills per minute than all the rest of the games during the year put together. And tomorrow the Yankees will open the series with the Cincinnati Reds in New York with the odds in their favor. The Ruppert Rifles have lost most of their murderous hitting qualities over the years. Since the early days of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig the Yanks have been a heavy hitting club, and mostly have won their games by a terrific home run or triple to score anywhere from one to three or four runs. Meanwhile the other clubs have been depending on good pitching to hold down their own opponents' score and trying to play "smart" ball themselves by angles and sacrifices, trying to get over one or two runs.

What might have been "smart" ball once is no longer so—now when a team is playing the Yankees. Almost any man in the lineup can break up a game with a looping clout to the outer gardens. The Reds have a fine ball club; they have two fine pitchers in Sucky Walters and Paul Derringer. But it takes more than two pitchers to beat the Yanks. The pitchers will be under a constant strain and tension. They must keep the Yankee clubmen muffed all the way. If they let one ball cross the center of the plate at the wrong time, it may be the game. The batter is never under quite the tension as a pitcher in a World Series game. He has time to be expected in a hot several times and, whereas the pitcher once he steps into the box and has prepared to throw cannot step without a balk if he feels a nervous twitch of the arm that he might like to quiet for a moment. If we grant that the Cincinnati have the superior pitching, we must admit that the New Yorkers have it all over the Reds in the slugging department. And it will be the hitting that will win this World Series and not pitching. We'll take the Yankees in five games. They could cross us up and win it in four but we won't worry about that.

Florida Power Downs St. Johns In First Softball Fray By 9-5 Score

Florida Power and Light tangled with St. Johns River Line last night in the first game of the Softball League schedule with Florida Power winning 9 to 5.

The game was replete with errors and sloppy playing, which was to be expected in the first fray of the season.

Florida Power demonstrated much the better offense and defense although both clubs were exceptionally ragged in the field. Light rain earlier in the day wet the grassy outfield and made footing uncertain.

Florida Power scored once in the first inning, three times in the second, once in the fourth, three times in the seventh, St. Johns scored once in the second, three times in the fourth, and twice across their final tally in the fifth.

Ritmon Kinlaw pitched the route for Florida Power, permitting nine hits while Cooke and Ashdown tossed for St. Johns giving up an equal number of singles. St. Johns was particularly faulty in the field making six errors while Florida Power made but three.

Kinlaw, Eshwin, and Cardell paced the Florida Power hitters with two safeties apiece while Ashdown led the St. Johns club with two.

GOOD FOR MALARIA!

And Malaria Gills and Food!

It is a well known fact that malaria is a disease that is caused by a parasite which is transmitted by a mosquito. The parasite enters the body through the bite of the mosquito and then it travels to the liver where it multiplies. From there it travels to the red blood cells where it continues to multiply and eventually causes the symptoms of malaria.

Malaria Gills and Food is a natural remedy that is effective in treating malaria. It contains a combination of herbs and minerals that help to kill the parasite and to strengthen the body's immune system. It is a safe and effective remedy that is suitable for all ages.

Rollins Weakened For Stetson Fray

WINTER PARK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A Rollins team badly weakened by injuries will take the field Friday night at Deland against the Stetson Eagles, the two traditional rivals.

Yesterday was really a blue Monday for Jack McDowell, grim and gloomy as he watched a make-shift first eleven run through their first drill at Simpson-Stephens Field for although his Blue and Gold gridiron team roughed over South Georgia State last Friday night, to chalk up a 54-7 win, six first string men are on the sidelines today with injuries received in that game.

"Why is it that it's always our first string men who get hurt every time?" McDowell asked indignantly. "Some of those boys were only in the game a quarter and look at them." He waved a hand at towering Tim Phillips, 6-foot-8-inch tackle. "That fellow's got a mass of sore-kissed bones."

HEH, HEH! THAT DUMB DETECTIVE WILL FIND OUT SOMETHING WHEN I BLOW THIS SHED UP---HE WILL BE SENT TO HIS DOOM!

I TOLD MY ENGINEER TO KEEP STEAM UP TO THE SAFETY POINT---WHEN WE GET WITHIN THE HARBOR OF SAN FRAGEL, ALL HE WILL DO IS ADD A FEW SHOVELS FULL OF COAL AND THE BOAT WILL GO HIGHER THAN A KITE!

DAN HAS BEEN CALLED BY THE OPERATIVE IN CHARGE OF THE BOILER ROOM---

YES, DAN--THEY WOULD QUITE A CONVERSATION--I THOUGHT YOU SHOULD KNOW!

THANKS, JERRY, I'LL KEEP A CLOSE EYE ON JOSE--DON'T LET THE ENGINEER PUT ANYTHING OVER ON YOU!

IS THERE ANYTHING ELSE YOU WOULD LIKE TO HAVE ME DO, MR. DUNN?

NO, JOSE--YOU WILL NOT LEAVE THE BRIDGE UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES!

GOOD GOSH DOC! WHAT WAS THAT?

IT SEEMED TO COME RIGHT OUT OF THAT HORSE

GOD, ED SWEAR THAT WAS THE SOUND OF A HEAVY CALIBER REVOLVER... BUT OF COURSE THAT IS IMPOSSIBLE
