Chalk it up: School race gets nasty

By Bill Kerna
Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — This could get ugly.

Seminole County School Board member Bob Goff and his challenger, school-district spokeswoman Dele Schaffner, turned the first debate of the political season into a stage for slinging mud.

The battle for the District 3 School Board seat will be full of venom if a debate held Thursday at the Eastmonte Civic Center in Altamonte Springs is any indication.

Goff, Schaffner sling mud at first debate for school board seat indication.

The debate was sponsored by the Seminole County Republican Executive Committee at its regular monthly meeting, and moderated by committee chairman Jim Stelling.

Schaffner, director of community involvement and public information for the school district, got in the first true ring of the night. She accused Goff, an outspoken and sometimes controversial incumbent who has held office since 1996, of being an "embarrassment" to the School Board.

"Your 3 1/2 years on the Board have been controversial," Schaffner said to Goff. "Many see you as an embarrassment, to say the least."

She also read from a past newspaper editorial in which Goff was accused of being "rude and profane."

Goff did not back down, saying Schaffner is basing her campaign upon mudslinging.

Lake Mary closer to developing downtown area

Commission approves first reading of comprehensive plan

By Michelle Jerie
Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — City officials and staff are one step closer to developing the old downtown district.

City Commission approved on first reading the adoption of the city's revised, updated and amended Comprehensive Plan, which includes a change in land-use for the area surrounding the downtown area.

The Downtown Development Core District is approximately 38 acres, and the property is owned by various private owners. The area includes property situated within the confines of Lake Mary Boulevard, Fourth Street, Wilbur Avenue and First Street.

Currently, the core district is zoned for numerous uses, including residential. Once the zoning district is established, zoning will include PD, professional office, C-1, general commercial and PUD, planned unit development.

According to Lake Mary Senior Planner Susan Deines, the zoning will allow for the establishment of small businesses and offices. However, no fast food restaurants or gas stations will be permitted.

Construction of buildings will follow city building codes, which means the maximum height will be between 35 feet and 40 feet, Deines said.

New residential development shall not be permitted but individuals will be allowed to maintain their residences in the core district. However, if a building is

Police ground truck for safety reasons

A dump truck, driven by Kim Lane of Winter Park, collide with a Corvette on U.S. Highway 17-92 near 27th Street in Sanford. The driver of the Corvette, Molly Ley, and her passenger were not hurt in the crash. Lane was cited for an improper lane change. In addition, Sanford police officer David Morganstern noticed the truck had several worn tires, and contacted inspectors with the Department of Transportation's Division of Motor Carrier Compliance. The inspectors check the truck out, and put the truck out of commission for safety violations. Morganstern said officers will increase truck inspections and ground those with safety violations.

Sounding the alarm: Firefighters give away smoke detectors

By Nick Pfeiffaut
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Residents of the city of Sanford may be able to obtain a smoke detector for their home, free of charge, from the Sanford Fire Department. The project is part of a statewide effort to promote home safety.

In late 1997, State Fire Marshal Bill Nelson received 50,000 smoke detectors with batteries from Radio Shack, to be distributed throughout the state. The purpose was to ensure that they are utilized in residences which pose the greatest risk of fire injuries and deaths. For the second year, the State Fire Marshal's office has supplied quantities to local fire departments, which have agreed to not only provide delivery, but handle the installation for those who need assistance.

The Sanford Fire Department has recently received its second batch, with two cases arriving earlier this week. They require nine volt batteries for operation. To apply, residents are required to contact the Sanford Fire Department at 407-302-1027, or stop at the main station, 130 S. French Avenue, and obtain a detector application. After the application has been received and accepted, Sanford firemen will go to the home and install the device in the appropriate area.

Over the years, Radio Shack reportedly has donated a total of 250,000 of the smoke detector alarms in other states. The alarms can no longer be sold in stores because of federal regulations which changed, regarding the requirement of a continuous tone versus a beep. While these will have a continuous tone whenever they sound a fire alarm, they are, none-the-less, still valuable in alerting residents of fire.

School attendance drops on anniversary of Columbine tragedy

By Bill Kerna
Staff Writer

Attendance took a significant drop Thursday at schools in Seminole County, but no serious incidents occurred on the ominous one-year anniversary of the massacre at Columbine High School.

One year ago Thursday, two students killed 13, wounded 23, then killed themselves at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colo.

No students were arrested in Seminole County schools on Thursday, authorities said. Classes were not disrupted.

However, in middle schools and high schools, an average of 20 percent of enrolled students did not show up for class on Thursday in Seminole County.

This represents about a 15 percent drop from normal student attendance rates. On an average school day, about 95 percent of enrolled students attend class.

Thursday was not only the anniversary of Columbine, but also the day before a long Holiday break. School is out in Seminole County today and Monday. School officials said that both Columbine and the long weekend contributed to the drop in attendance.

"A lot of people have been concerned with what this week stands for," said Jim Dawson, director of school safety for Seminole County. "Plus, traditionally before an extra holiday weekend less students attend school."

Many students and parents have been on edge this week as Thursday approached. School officials have had a busy week of tracking down rumors and disciplining some students for writing graffiti on bathroom walls.

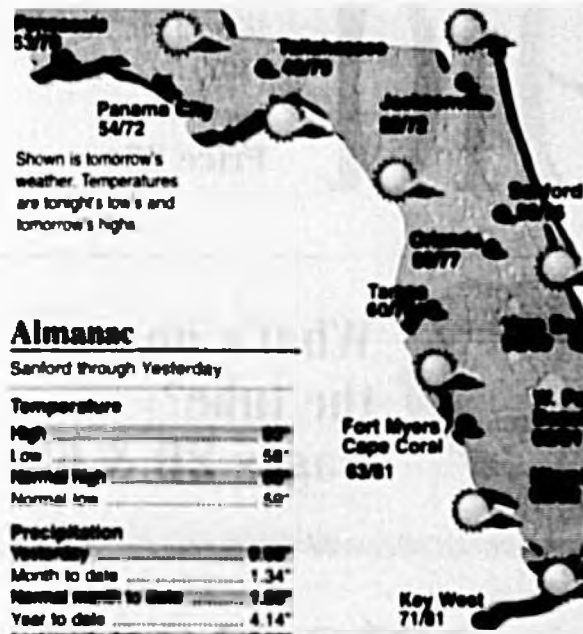

"It's been an interesting week to say the least," Dawson change to commercial use, it will not be permitted to revert back to residential.

Answering a resident's concern about an increase in traffic in the downtown area, Deines said the city was already looking into road-way improvements.
"The scale of development is not going to be anywhere near what you see on Interstate 4 and Lake Mary Boulevard," Deines said.

"And, we don't anticipate any different traffic problems in the area."
Commissioner Gary Heuler assured the small group of residents attending the meeting that approval of the Comprehensive Plan land use element does not mean the city will begin "blanket zoning."
"We are not zoning anything right now," Heuler said. "Every time someone wants to change the zoning, we will have to come to the City Commission and ask for a change."
"We are not saying anyone can come in here and do anything they want."
According to Deines, the city uses the state-mandated Comprehensive Plan to project outward development. It steers the city's large term, long range development goals.

There are eight elements in the plan, including the future land use, which governs the city's zoning. The last update to the plan was made in 1991.
Now that Commission has approved the plan, it will be sent to the state Department of Community Affairs for review. When the state finishes its review, City Commission will address the state's suggestions and will eventually hold the second reading of the plan.
Deines said she believes the second reading of the Comprehensive Plan will be in September.

Monday Night Football with a Rush

Of course, Rush Limbaugh should get the Monday Night Football commentator's job. How could ABC-TV pass on Rush?

Here's a guy who is as legally annoying and arrogant as a person can get, more full of himself than "Long Gone" Cosell, meaner than "Dirty" Dan Dierloff and a bigger jerk than the Giff.

"Boomer" Esiason, recently told to pack, was too gentle, too caring, too much of a nice guy for MNF. "Dandy Don" Meredith was the last to get away with this type of demeanor. Besides that, Boomer is a left hander. Limbaugh, we know, is far right.

Giving up his day job is hardly a sacrifice for Limbaugh, who has drip dried the Clintons for eight years. There's nothing left to ridicule.

The NFL is so much juicier for a man with Limbaugh's tongue. By the time the new season begins, five players will be incarcerated, 10 demanding trades and a half dozen coaches close to being fired. Rush wouldn't need to look any farther for fodder.

Limbaugh, the record shows, once worked for the Kansas City Royals baseball team — in p.r. (public relations not pinch running). That the Royals are still in business, suggests the owners survived Rush's contributions.

We wouldn't endorse just anyone for the MNF assignment. Regis Philbin would ask more questions than he answered.

Leonardo DiCaprio would sink faster than the Titanic. Peter Jennings only knows Canadian football. Mary Albert hasn't the bite.

Just like Cosell, Limbaugh never played the game of football. He's not a pretty boy, ex-quarterback, and he doesn't sound like Jingles — the Andy Devine cowboy sidekick. Rush would supply more A, B and C than Xs and Os. No jock mentality to be. Years ago when I was learning the journalism trade, I helped out on the radio broadcasts for the George Washington University football team. The Colonials no longer have a team — for which I feel guilty.

GW was playing a game against its No. 1 rival, West Virginia, at Morgantown. Nat Allbright, a colorful character who did play-by-play for GW football, was thirsty after describing the action in the first half. I looked to me and said, "Rush, fill everyone in on what to expect in the second half."

Allbright scooted out to get himself a soft drink, leaving me alone at the mike.

After reviewing the scoring plays and offering an opinion about the second half, I looked around to see if Nat Allbright was on his way back.

He wasn't. I said what little else there was to say and then dropped the mike off from the press box and down toward the stands. "Let's pick up the band," I told the radio audience.

Rush, I'm certain, will do better than that.

The Jesus film

The Jesus Film, said to be the most accurate film ever made about Christ is to be shown Sunday, April 23 at 7 p.m. at First Baptist Church Markham Woods, 5400 Markham Woods Road, Lake Mary. Exactly who was Jesus Christ? Award winning producer John Heyman answers this question in the film. Virtually every word in the film is taken directly from the Gospel of Luke.

In preparation for the film, workshop teams painstakingly studied the clothing, architecture, customs and food, to ensure the film's complete authenticity. Jesus was filmed on location in Israel in Biblical settings with a cast of over 5000 Israelis and Arabs.

For additional information on this showing at First Baptist Church Markham Woods, phone: 407-333-2085.

A story about Simon

Simon of Cyrene was chosen on this day 2000 years ago to carry Christ's cross to Calvary.

Matthew, Mark and Luke all mention Simon by name — a name known for centuries and for centuries to come.

Simon was a Jew who was probably in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover. St. Mark wrote that he was the father of Alexander and Rufus. Cyrene was a city of Libya in North Africa.

According to Mark, Simon was passing his way in from the country when the soldiers "forced" him to carry the cross. Jesus had been flogged severely and needed help as he climbed toward Golgotha.

Through the years, Biblical scholars have attempted to learn more about Simon and why — of all those present — he would carry the cross. They've also attempted to learn what became of him later.

There's a story — and a lovely one — about what happened at the crucifixion and about the Resurrection (eventually known as Easter).

In the story, Simon is an egg merchant. When he returns to his produce farm in Cyrene, Simon discovers all his hens' eggs miraculously had turned a rainbow of colors.

Russ White

The egg, in most cultures, signifies birth and resurrection — in this case the birth, death and Resurrection of Christ.

Whatever the modern celebration of bunnies and Easter eggs, the story of Simon's carrying the cross represents the struggles that all people experience in life and the responsibilities of those who believe in God to carry the cross of his Son.

As Simon did, we bear the weight of the cross. As Simon, we may not realize instantly the award for carrying such an enormous load.

Today, worshippers throughout the world are observing Good Friday. It is the most solemn day for Christians. Easter Sunday is the most triumphant. It's a great day for church and a great day for good eggs.

The Easter holiday is not about glitz

Anita wasn't there. She had moved to a retirement home in California. But almost everyone at the City Mission remembered her.

Nearly 10 years before, having hit the depths of sin — prostitution, the whole bit — Anita and a girlfriend made a suicide pact, and they were on their way to the East Ninth Street pier in Cleveland to carry it out. They would jump into Lake Erie and end their lives.

But on the way, they passed the City Mission and decided to stop in. They never made it to the pier, and their lives were reclaimed. For years after that, Anita made her testimony at the City Mission on Easter morning along with many others.

She wasn't there on this particular Easter morning. But there were others in the congregation who had been Easter regulars for many years. All told, about 100 of us made it to that sunrise service on a wet Easter morning when there was no sunrise — to worship in a place that had none of the usual Easter trappings.

There was no choir and no lilies in the chancel. Actually, there was no chancel in this planet of ruins in the City Mission, you could see the heating pipes running across the ceiling.

Not only were there no stained glass windows, but there were no windows at all. Somehow, though — and maybe this is the real miracle of Easter — the risen Lord made an appearance. He had been making appearances here for many years, since some businessmen in Cleveland decided that the church needed an "arm" in the area of the city known inelegantly as Skid Row.

Since then, City Mission has been radiating kindness and hope to men and women down on their luck.

The Easter service was plain. There were no frills or flourishes — only what was called for. For me, the highlights were a violin solo of "The Holy City" and a soprano solo, "Because He Lives."

The sermon was conducted by a native of Guyana in South America whose name I forget. He was in the city to play the part of Lazarus in the opera "I Am the Way," which had had three performances that week.

The sermon he gave that Easter was almost a theatrical performance — dramatic and powerful, with lines that often reached a high pitch of poetry: "It is now early afternoon on Friday. Christ is waiting off in the distance. But Calvary must come first."

About 20 years before, shortly after he joined the cast of the opera, he had had a "born again" experience.

He said, "Before my conversion, if I had been driving on a morning like this, I would have said, 'What a gloomy day.' Now I look upon it as a reward for the earth."

Celebrating Easter on Skid Row without any embellishments is a reminder that it is the gift that is important, not the wrapping.

"Just sling the mud, don't have any answers, don't have any issues," Goff said of Schaffner's candidacy. "Be a rubber stamp. Continue what has been done."

However, Goff admitted that when he first became a member of the School Board, he learned from mistakes. He also said that his uncompromising style will not change.

"I say what I mean," Goff said. "I stand up, and I speak my mind. Am I going to change? No."

In between the insults, there were a few issues discussed. Schaffner said the School Board should not have agreed to give the Central Florida Zoo $1 million toward an expansion project.

"Could you tell me what educational needs are outranked by the zoo?" Schaffner asked.

Goff responded that the zoo has an established educational program, and that 14,000 students participated in programs at the zoo last year.

Goff said that Schaffner's status as Chair of the Board of Directors at Seminole Community College may conflict with her role on the School Board. He asked if, given a choice, she would support educational programs for public schools or SCC.

"The control of vocational programs will go between public schools and community colleges," Goff said. "We need to maintain the programs we've got at public schools."

Schaffner countered that because vocational programs are already well established in Seminole County, proposed state reforms relating to vocational programs will not impact the school-district's relationship with SCC. She said her support of SCC would not impact her support of public schools.

"This is not an issue," she said.

Both candidates say they should be elected based on their experience and accomplishments.

Schaffner said she has been active in the school-district for 27 years, starting out as a parent volunteer. She points to her founding of the Dividends volunteer program, which sponsors 16,000 volunteers in every school in the district.

"Elect me to the School Board, and watch what a difference I can make," Schaffner said.

Meanwhile, Goff said that he created Arts Alive, a program that has raised more than $100,000 for the school-district.

"The Board has changed in the last couple years," Goff said. "I'm a part of that. We have a different Board. It's not a rubber stamp."

Schaffner criticized Goff for his sometimes contentious relationship with school-district staff. One issue raised by Goff during the debate illustrates the friction.

During a recent closed executive session to discuss the school-district's attempts to satisfy requirements of the U.S. Justice Department relating to school desegregation efforts, Goff asked for a document containing a Justice Department proposal.

School Board Attorney Ned Julian declined to release the document because it is not public record. Goff asked Schaffner how she would handle such a situation. Schaffner said she could not say. She was not part of the executive session and unfamiliar with the details.

"I represent the taxpayers who expect fiscal responsibility," Goff said. "I don't like it when bureaucrats refuse to answer questions."

During an April 11 School Board meeting when Goff chastised him, attorney Julian said that public discussion of the Justice Department document could jeopardize negotiations that were mandated by a 1970 federal lawsuit.

Superintendent Paul Hagerty supported Julian, saying that the Board could see the document if a majority vote is taken to make it available.

The School Board did not take any action regarding the document during the April 11 meeting. Board member Larry Furlong criticized Goff for discussing the matter in a public forum.

Area cities host Easter egg hunts

By Nick Pletouf
Staff Writer

Many organizations are planning on Easter Egg Hunt activities for children in their communities. Most are being presented by city Parks and Recreation Departments, while others are sponsored by individual churches. Some have already been held during this past weekend. The Seminole Herald presents the following line-up of still-upcoming activities and locations.

SANFORD - The Sanford Recreation Department will hold its annual Easter Eggstravaganza, Saturday, April 22, at Lee P. Moore Park, in the Hidden Lakes subdivision. The Recreation Department will be hiding over 3,000 toy and candy filled eggs for the children to hunt. This event, scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m., is free of charge and open to all children age 12 and younger. The Easter Bunny is scheduled to make a personal appearance to kick off the hunt. Youngsters are urged to bring their own Easter baskets. For additional information, phone 407-330-5697.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - First Baptist Church, Sanlando Springs, and the Altamonte Springs Recreation Department Division of Leisure Services will hold an Easter Egg Hunt and Easter Story, Saturday, April 22, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at Eastmonte Park in Altamonte Springs.

Separate egg hunts will be held for youth, based on age. Every egg will contain a prize. Refreshments will be available.

LAKE MARY - Covenant Community Church, along with local businesses will host the Seminole County Easter Egg hunt, Saturday, April 22, from 9:30 a.m. Formerly known as the Lake Mary City Wide Easter Egg Hunt, the event will take place at Lake Mary City Hall. Free fun and games and free concession stands are offered, along with appearances by interesting individuals including the Easter Bunny, Stuff the Orlando Magic Mascot, and others.

Pantelias hangs up the cleats

Coach calls it quits after 28 years at SCC helm

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Veteran Seminole Community College baseball coach Jack Pantelias did not get the going away victory he would have liked, but he did see his Raiders fight to then end as Pantelias' 28-year reign came to an end, 15-10, at the hands of Central Florida Community College in an Mid-Florida Conference game at Raider Field on Thursday.

Pantelias is just the second baseball coach ever at SCC, moving over from Florida Technical University (now the University of Central Florida) to replace Jay Bergman when the current UCF coach left to become an assistant coach at the University of Florida in 1972.

Pantelias, who has won over 600 games as coach of the Raiders, announced back in August that he would be leaving the program after this year and it appears assistant coach Rick Eckstein, who played for Pantelias after graduating from Seminole High School in the early '90s, is in line to take over the program.

The CFCC-Patriots from Ocala (29-25 overall, 12-16 in the M-FC) looked like they might make Pantelias' final game a painful one as they took a 7-2 lead after two innings.

But SCC fought back to trail 7-5 after four innings and 10-8 after six innings before the Patriots scored three runs in the top of the seventh inning to put a cap on any Raiders thoughts of a comeback.

Garrett Robinson had three hits, including a home run, and drove in two runs and Brian Busher was 3-for-5 with a pair of doubles and three RBI to lead a 15-hit Patriots attack.

Manases Pabon also homered for CFCC, while Sias Swentzewski drove in four runs.

SCC did out hit the Patriots, 16-to-15, with Juan Chacon (3-for-6, home run, two runs, three RBI), Christian Corvos (2-for-4, home run, run, RBI), Adam Shorts (2-for-6, triple, run, RBI), Todd Babl (2-for-5, two runs, RBI), Oviedo's Rich Rodriguez (2-for-5, two RBI), Eugene Ribley See SCC, Page 2B

Seminole Community College baseball coach Jack Pantelias (center, above) addresses his Raiders one last time before the final game of the 2000 season Thursday afternoon at Raider Field.

The Mid-Florida Conference contest against the Central Florida Community College Patriots from Ocala also marked the final one for Pantelias at SCC as the veteran coach announced his retirement after 28 years at the helm of the Raiders.

Powerful Kissimmee Osceola High School star Ben Johanning (right), who has been drafted in each of the last two years, closed out his career at SCC in style, homering against both CFCC on Thursday and Florida Community College in Jacksonville on Tuesday.

SAC teams win three-of-four on softball diamond

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

WINTER SPRINGS - With district tournament play coming up next week, Wednesday was a good day to be the home team as the three Seminole Athletic Conference softball squads that were hosting games won.

State-ranked Lake Mary was also bitten by the home field advantage bug, falling 3-2 in Orlando to University in a great match-up between two teams with 20 victories each.

Aimee Nettles hurled a three-hitter and Kelly Cruz, Kristen Schrupp and Eileen Hatfield had two hits each as Winter Springs topped Bishop Moore (10-10), 3-1.

Nettles ran her personal record to 10-3 on the season, lifting the Bears to 17-8 on the year.

Winter Springs scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning to erase a 1-0 deficit and then added an insurance run in the third inning.

Cruz was a perfect 3-for-3 on the day, including a pair of doubles, while Hatfield also had a perfect day at the plate, going 2-for-2 with a double. Schrupp was 2-for-4 with a double.

Lake Brantley welcomed DeLand to Altamonte Springs and rallied to defeat the Bulldogs, 6-5, to improve to 7-16 on the season. See Profs Page 2B

Lions hang on to defeat University

By Tony DeBermier
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

ORLANDO - Not all wins are the same. Some wins fall into the exquisite category, executed with style and flair. Some are ugly, garnered in spite of miscues and mishaps.

The Oviedo High School baseball team, ranked No. 4 in the most recent Florida Sports Writers Association's Class 6A state poll, slogged its way to its 14th consecutive win Thursday afternoon, overcoming a variety of factors to defeat the University Cougars, 6-3, at Larry C. Payne Field.

"I had a bad feeling before the game," said Oviedo head coach Harold Hitt. "I thought we might be in trouble. We didn't look sharp during our pregame drills and we just seemed sluggish. I really thought we might get beat today.

"But I have to give the guys credit. They did what they had to do to get the win. There are some things I would have liked to see us do better, like running all the way through first base on ground balls and take advantage of more scoring opportunities, but we did what we had to do to win."

One factor that may have been working against the Lions (who are now 23-3) was the 4 p.m. start (even though Oviedo is now 3-0 in games with afternoon starts over the last month). Or perhaps it was the 80+ degree heat, bright sun, and the fact that the Lions were in their black uniform tops.

Perhaps it was the fact that University (now 13-14) was sandwiched between Tuesday's game against state-ranked Venice (No. 5 in the FSWA 6A poll this week) and tonight's Seniors Night clash with Miami-Columbus at Oviedo's Paul Mikler Memorial Field.

"We can't afford to let down against anyone," said Hitt. "Fortunately, I guess, there aren't any other games left for us See Lions, Page 2B
