

Tommyes Recall 'Great War' And Its Action

LONDON (NEA) — Fifty years after the event, what does the average British soldier who fought in the trenches remember about World War I?

Does he recall the agony of Ypres (or "Wipers," as the British Tommy called it?), where hundreds of thousands of British and Germans were killed or maimed? The vast graveyard of the Somme? The tragedy of the Gallipoli landings?

Fifty thousand Britons who took part in World War I have written down their most vivid recollections of that conflict at the invitation of the British Broadcasting Corp. And, surprisingly enough, the mud and the blood figure very little in their souvenirs.

"The thing they remember most," says BBC producer Tony Essex, "is the summer of 1918, which sticks in their mind as an idyllic time.

"The Germans were busy on the Eastern front, the summer was hot and sunny, and the French cafes were open. There were peasants working in the fields, and there was time to smoke and drink and write letters home.

"Long after they have forgotten the horrors, the veterans remember July 1918," Essex explains. "Many of the letters we have received tell about it.

The BBC producer, who was not born until 1925, is drawing upon these letters for "The Great War," a series of 26 programs which is Britain's most ambitious and most expensive television undertaking to date.

"The Great War" series has been screened in this country since last May, and eventually will be seen by 40 million viewers on the continent. It is due to be televised in the United States on a limited basis this fall.

In preparing the series, producer Essex has had access to the film archives of 20 different countries, including Russia and its satellites. But it is the filmed interviews with ordinary Britons who responded to the BBC's appeal that have yielded the most notable scoops.

For example, BBC was able to track down one of the two survivors of the cruiser HMS Indefatigable, which was torpedoed during the Battle of Jutland in May 1916, with a loss of more than 1,000 lives. This eyewitness, a sailor named Farmer, escaped because he had been sent up into the rigging to untangle some flags, and thus he was thrown clear when the cruiser was hit.

In the first-ever tank attack, which took place September 25, 1916, the BBC was able to trace and interview the commander of one tank, the driver of another (there were only four tanks involved) and an eyewitness who saw what took place.

In another remarkable coincidence, the BBC found the driver of the first tank to enter the French village of Fiers after the Germans had evacuated it. Clattering along the shell-pocked street, the driver asked his way of a British corporal. Quite independently, other researchers found this corporal.

"The only persons we have not been able to lay hands on," says Essex, "are the women who handed out white feathers to men in civilian clothes during the war. Whether they are ashamed of the part they played, I don't know, but not one of these women has responded to the special appeal we have made for them to come forward."

The BBC is proud that its series has stolen a march on American television by four months. A comparable U. S. series is still in the future.

It is also proud of the objectivity with which "The Great War" has been assembled. "We have tried to avoid giving a British viewpoint of the war," says Essex. "After all, the British contribution up to 1916 was small. It was the French who took the worst beating and suffered the greatest casualties."

School bells are ringing at Southside Elementary School in Sanford at 8:15 a. m. now instead of 8 a. m., according to information The Herald's Clock Winders have received from several sources.

Apparently the majority of members of a recent delegation appearing before a meeting of the Seminole County School Board were persuasive enough to cause school officials to change the hour.

While the delegation was not unanimous in its opinions as to the opening hour, the majority of them objected to school taking in at 8 a. m. because during the winter it would still be dark when some of the children would have to leave home to walk to school. Then, too, these same parents objected to the children having to use many streets which did not have sidewalks and crossings which were not guarded or were without traffic signals.

Mayor Al Wilson publicly paid a 25 cent parking fine Monday, in front of a crowd at the City Commission meeting, saying he wanted everyone to see it. The Mayor said a friend from out of town flitting him here got the ticket and dropped it on his desk telling him, "You're the Mayor - get it fixed."

"I want you all to see how I'm 'fixin' it," quipped the Mayor as he handed the quarter to Chief Roy Williams.

Incidentally, Mayor Wilson makes a very fine chaplain as he leads the invocation at the city commission meetings. He offers up some mighty fine prayers for guidance, (which apparently have little effect on the wrangling that follows.)

Couldn't blame the Zoning and Planning Commission of the city of Sanford if they throw up their hands and quit. They haven't been getting anywhere with their recommendations lately. These men work for free and spend a lot of time trying to work out problems to the best interests of everyone concerned. Commented one City Commissioner - "a man buys a piece of property and then sets in to tell everyone for blocks around what they can or can't do with their property."

Sidelight on an honest observation: At City Commission meeting Monday a motion was made by Commr. Jim Crapps, and a fierce discussion followed for about 20 minutes. Asked Jim of Earl Higginbotham, "Are you going to second my motion?" "No, cause I don't even know what I'm talking about now, and neither does anybody else in this room!" replied Higginbotham.

Question: Which is more to be feared? Mowers, plows and tractors or snakes, alligators and rats?

ONLY 14 Days Left To Register For General Election

Miss Gabor will narrate a fabulous fashion show for all Central Florida tonight at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Auditorium in Orlando. Mayor Launches City Registration Drive

Mayor A. L. Wilson of Sanford has proclaimed the next two weeks, until Oct. 3 as a "Drive For Registration" period urging all who are eligible to register to vote.

MAYOR A. L. WILSON

The Mayor's proclamation reads in part: "Whereas this is truly a crucial time in the life of our country and . . . it is necessary that all Americans appreciate fully their heritage of freedom and the necessity to rededicate themselves to the preservation of basic American principles. . . .

"It is important that all Americans make this particular time the occasion to exercise the privilege denied to all but free people and register to vote in the up-coming elections."

Mayor Wilson urged that all eligible to do so exercise that privilege as loyal conscientious citizens.

Oct. 3rd is the last day to register before the books are closed, one month before the general elections on Nov. 3rd.

Altamonte Acts On Lot Rezoning

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

The subject of spot zoning was booted around like the proverbial football at Wednesday night's meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council when it became the center of controversy on two rezoning applications — one for a professional building and the other for a nursery.

Nevertheless, the Town Council voted to uphold the recommendation of the Zoning Board that several lots on busy Malland Avenue be rezoned from R1A to R3 to permit the construction of the professional building to accommodate physicians, dentists, architects and other similar offices.

However, the Council tabled the question of permitting another parcel of property to be rezoned from R1AA to R3 to permit the operation of a children's day nursery.

In other action, County Commissioner James P. Avery, who was not present, was the subject of some criticism from residents of Altamonte Springs because he, as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, reported that some 300 acres of Altamonte Springs land drained east and through Gees Creek into Lake Jessup.

The subject was brought to the attention of the Council by L. T. Bryan who suggested that Commissioner Avery, in whose district Altamonte Springs is situated, "familiarize himself with Altamonte Springs' draining problems."

Bryan asked: "I'd like to know what 300 acres of Altamonte Springs drains to the east. I've lived here for 30 years and was once a member of this Council and I know of no area within the town's limits which drains eastwardly."

know, either." No further action was taken.

Albert P. Benson appeared before the Council and asked for a letter of apology because a draining ditch was cut across his property without his authorization.

Swofford told Benson that as long as he had lived in Altamonte Springs this land has had a natural drainage ditch. "We had to open the ditch to permit draining of high water," Swofford told Benson and the Council, "and as long as I'm here representing the well-being of the people of this community I'm not about to apologize to anyone for authorizing the ditch to be cleaned out or a new one cut to prevent flooding."

The Council took the matter under advisement.

traveled the St. Johns River Wednesday, tied up at the former bandshell for the night then crossed the lake to begin the work this morning. It is expected to be completed later today.

Accommodation Ruled Out For Restaurant

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A special three-judge federal panel ruled today the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act could not be made apply to a Birmingham restaurant that refused to serve Negroes.

It was the first time a federal court has ruled the accommodations section did not apply to any particular business.

The suit brought by "Ollie's Bar Be Que" was not a class action and therefore the ruling could apply only to the one restaurant.

Another special federal court earlier in Atlanta upheld the accommodations section as applied to a motel and a restaurant because the court felt they dealt heavily in interstate commerce.

Ollie's contended it was located far from any interstate road and did not cater to transients and therefore the restaurant should not be subject to the civil rights law.

Navy Barges Trying To Raise 'Vigilante'

Navy crews manning a tug and two barges were on the scene this morning attempting to salvage the wreckage of a twin-jet Vigilante from the bottom of Lake Monroe.

The plane crashed last week shortly after takeoff from Sanford Naval Air Station. Two men aboard were killed. It was headed for Kansas to escape hurricane Dora.

The plane is in about 12 feet of water. The Navy crew expects to fasten onto the aircraft sometime this afternoon and retrieve the huge plane later today.

It will be taken to the local air station and inspected to determine the cause of the crash. In charge of the salvage operation is the commanding officer of the base, Lake Monroe late yesterday afternoon and attracted spectators to the lakeshore. The viewers continued along the lakeshore throughout this morning.

MIAMI (UPI) — Gladys matured into a big hurricane today with 125 miles an hour winds pointed at the mainland.

It also increased its forward speed slightly. At 11 a. m. (EST), the Weather Bureau centered the season's seventh tropical storm and its fourth hurricane about 975 miles slightly south of the east from Miami, near latitude 21.6, longitude 80.8. It was holding a west-northwest course at 12 miles an hour.

"Gladys became better organized and intensified during the night and early morning hours," the Weather Bureau said.

"Highest winds are near 125 mph near the center with hurricane-force winds (75 mph or higher) extending out 100 miles to the northeast and 50 miles to the southwest of the center."

Forecasters said Wednesday Gladys did not have the circular calm eye surrounded by a cloud wall with fierce winds characteristic of a well organized tropical storm.

Instead, its center was elliptical in shape and was separate from the cloud wall, forecasters said.

Seminole Blvd. May Not Have To Be Closed

If no more rain falls in the next few days, it will not be necessary to close Seminole Boulevard along Lake Monroe to traffic, City Manager W. E. Knowles told The Herald at noon today.

Knowles said he expected the lake to crest sometime today and after holding for several days, begin to drop slowly.

"If we get more rain, however, it will be a different story. Then it will come over the road and it will be necessary to block off the boulevard to avoid ruining the pavement," Knowles remarked.

Water is over the road at the Mellonville intersection and two holes have appeared in the road bed near the swimming pool.

The lake is now well over seven feet above sea level.

Man, 109, Leaves Widow Of 104

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A 109-year-old retired farmer who remembered the dead on a Civil War battlefield as a boy, died here yesterday leaving 180 descendants.

Sim Ell Bryan was survived by his 104-year-old widow, Effra, whom he married in 1876 at Jasper.

Bryan was born in Echols County, Ga., but lived in north Florida the last 50 years of his life.

Bryant Asks $3 Million Storm Aid

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant asked the President to rush $3 million in federal emergency funds to Florida to help the state recover from the ravages of hurricane Dora.

The governor asked for a total of $4.8 million in emergency funds in a telegram to Washington Wednesday and urged the President to send $3 million to Florida immediately.

Pain-Killing Drugs Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has begun an investigation into two pain killing drugs that are considered responsible for the death of at least 28 persons.

The FDA appointed a special advisory committee to determine whether to take the drugs — aminophrine and diprone — off the market and whether to require that they be labeled with a special warning.

Baker Cites Experience, City Record

In announcing his candidacy for re-election to the Sanford City Commission, Joe Baker declared today that his decision was based on the conviction that the knowledge, understanding, and experience he has gained in the past six years in this office would be of continuing benefit to the taxpayers, particularly at this time.

Baker, a former mayor and lifelong resident of Sanford, stated that Sanford has made greater advancements in the past several years than at any other comparable period in its history. He explained that a recent revision of the city's long range fiscal program has made it financially feasible for the city to set up new programs of services and improvements with no increase in taxes.

"During my tenure of office," Baker continued, "we also have cooperated fully in every reasonable plan for helping the revitalization of our downtown area - realizing its importance as the nucleus of every community.

"We have secured additional parking areas for the downtown section and have begun plans for the proposed lakefront marina.

"We have set up an annual street resurfacing program and a program for dealing with unsafe structures. We have spent much time studying the needs and means of putting into effect an extensive fresh water program which is vital to our future water supply.

benefit of the entire city. I have a sincere desire to serve, and if the people of Sanford vote to return me to this office, I shall continue to follow this policy," he concluded.

Co-owner and producer for Perfection Cooperative Dairies, Baker Dairy Farm was selected as one of the most efficiently operated dairies in the state by the Department of Agriculture.

Baker was chosen Outstanding Young Farmer of Seminole County in 1959 and was named Outstanding Young Man of Seminole County in 1962.

He is presently serving on the Subcommittee for Annexation and has served on the Legislative Committee for the Florida League of Municipalities.

Active in several agricultural organizations, Baker is concluding his second year as president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau. He has served as a deacon of the First Presbyterian Church, is married, and has three children, Susan, Cindy, and Stephen.

Hearing Defects Discussed For DeBary AARP

By Mrs. Frank White
Developments and improvements made in hearing aids since 1952 were outlined by Ben Meyers, consultant on hearing impairment, for members of the DeBary Chapter American Association of Retired Persons, at its opening meeting of the season last week in the Firemen's Recreation Hall.

Accompanying Meyers was his technician, Mrs. Gertrude Wilburn. Both are of Daytona Beach.

Explaining the two types of hearing impairment, Meyers said that "conductive loss" is due to blocking of the ear canal with wax or fungus growth, damage to the bones of the ear or injuries to the ear drum. Surgical treatment often corrects this defect.

"Perceptive or nerve loss," if treated early and properly, usually is relieved through use of transistor hearing aids. The chapter was advised that AARP has contract arrangements with a leading hearing aid manufacturer through which purchases can be made at a 30 per cent discount. Diagnostic and testing services also are available under the program for which details are available from Mrs. Fred Hamilton, chapter secretary.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Marge Ulrich, president, a nominating committee of Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Theodore Edelman and Mrs. Harry Bell was named to recommend three candidates who will be elected as directors at the October meeting.

Mrs. Bauer Dies In New York

Mrs. Theresa Bauer, mother of Mrs. Julius Dingfelder, died Wednesday in New York City. She was 82.

Mrs. Bauer and her late husband, Jacob Bauer, spent many winters here. Mrs. Bauer was born in Nuremberg, Germany, and was a civic leader in her community and the state of Bavaria. As state vice president of the Red Cross during World War I, she was the first civilian to receive personally from King Ludwig III of Bavaria the King Ludwig Cross for various services.

She was instrumental to commensurate summer castles of royalties and converted them into convalescent homes for soldiers.

Surviving besides Mrs. Dingfelder are daughters, Mrs. Frederic Pollak of Long Island City, and Mrs. Max Meyer of Framingham, Mass.; three grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this morning at Riverside Chapel, New York City.

Buddhist Influence In Art Discussed

By Dottie Austin
Mrs. William Boutwell of Sanford, formerly the Princess Vijaya of Nabha, India spoke at the first meeting of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association at the Cultural Arts Center, Monday.

Discussing her subject, Arts and Customs of India, Mrs. Boutwell told members that all art forms, painting, music and dance are influenced by religion, history and locale.

Hindu is the oldest religion, she said as represented by architecture and fine jewelry.

Examples of Buddhism art can be seen in paintings on cave walls over 3,000 years old, which were done in vivid colors by the Buddhist monks.

Historical influences can be seen in the sculpture, found in palaces, fountains and the famed Taj Mahal.

Dances fall into three main classes — human emotions, drama in dance telling a story and folk dances.

"As in America, Indian culture is a heritage from many countries. The U. S., like India, has great reserves of many cultures. One of the strongest cultural bonds is the English language," Mrs. Boutwell said.

"I hope that excellent means of travel and mutual desires will increase the awareness of the people of these two countries to learn more about each other's customs and cultures, bringing them closer together and keeping them friends for always," she said.

Mrs. Boutwell described the tiny miniatures painted on ivory, an art handed down from generation to generation, which is now about to become extinct. "Only one old gentleman now carries on — his sons have left to seek more lucrative sources of income," she noted.

Rural sections are noted for wood and ivory carving and also for the weaving of fine brocades, especially in the winter time when men, women and children, kept indoors by the snows in the mountains, shars in these arts.

"In the beautiful Kashmir valley are woven fine handmade shawls in vivid colors. They take a whole winter to weave one beautiful shawl. The motifs are taken from nature, — flowers, such as the popular lotus, and animals, including snakes, which signify evil.

"The British influence has given a most important gift to India—the English language. They also left us the beautiful capital city of New Delhi, one of the most beautiful in the world. When the British came they continued the Indian style of architecture, using the red sandstone, and Indian motifs which make government buildings look like Indian palaces.

"This has been a wonderful gift to India, as new and old Delhi blend together into one handsome city," she noted.

Mrs. Boutwell also described the influence of the Moguls, who brought their particular form of art and culture from Persia. One of the most famous landmarks of this Persian culture is the Moti Mahal, a restaurant known world-wide for its exotic Mogul foods, a "must" for all tourists, many of whom revisit it many times, especially for a favorite dish called chicken tandori.

All Acts Signed Up For Navy Talent Show

Director of the Navy Talent Show, scheduled for September 26 at the Civic Center, Mrs. Elaine Orazi, announced today that all acts have been signed up and polishing rehearsals are well under way.

"The RVAH Tigerettes, in cooperation with Naval personnel, many citizens and the merchants of Sanford are proud to announce the presentation of a Navy Talent Show for the benefit of the local USO," said Mrs. Orazi.

"Many varied acts are on the program, and an added feature will be the skits put on between acts by Navy wives clubs at the Sanford NAS. We feel sure this will add fun and many laughs to the show," she noted.

"Many local merchants have donated gifts for the best act in first, second and third place, the H.L. Hunt Company is sponsoring the printing of the tickets and the Florida State Bank is underwriting the printing of the programs," she added.

"If you enjoy live entertainment and fun, singing, dancing, original skits and many other kinds of talent, you will enjoy this show. It will be held at the Sanford Civic Center at 8 p.m. Sept. 26. Osteen Civic Association To Meet Monday

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
Nick Pfeiluf, president of the Osteen Civic Association, has announced that the group will hold its first meeting of the fall at 8 p.m. Monday in the County Barn Building.

At this time the nominating committee will present the proposed slate of officers and other important business matters will be presented for discussion.

All members and residents interested in activities of the association are urged to attend this meeting.

Democratic vice presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey headed for Texas today on the first leg of a three-day campaign swing which will feature a major farm speech Saturday.

Humphrey chartered plane, "The Happy Warrior," was to leave Washington National Airport at 8:30 a.m. EDT for Wichita Falls, Tex., the first of four cities he will visit in his running mate's home state.

The Minnesota senator was to speak today in Waco and San Antonio. Friday he scheduled three speeches — at a four-state convention of the National Rural Electric Co-Operatives Association at Hot Springs, Ark.; the Arkansas State Democratic Convention at Little Rock, and before a group of businessmen and industrialists at Houston, Tex.

Humphrey will address the national plowing contest at Buffalo, N. D., Saturday, then fly to Chicago to fill in for President Johnson with a speech before the Polish-American Congress.

Forest City Group To Begin Work On Club

By Maryann Miles
Beginning construction on grounds for the proposed Forest City Community House and Recreation Center in Lake Harriet Estates was scheduled Monday night by members of the Forest City Community Association at their opening meeting of the current club year.

The group was informed that arrangements have been completed for a bulldozer to clear the property in October after which work will get underway immediately on the ball park and shuffleboard court. An outdoor pavilion, complete with barbecue pit, is in the planning stages and layouts for the club house building will be started in the near future.

Eleven members of the association were present for the opening meeting which took place in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Christensen in Forest City with John Bethas, president, in charge of the business session.

The next meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Beane, Causeway Drive, Forest City.

Rollins Frosh Begin Studies

WINTER PARK, Fla. — More than 135 Rollins College freshmen are coming to college a week early this year to get a head start on their adjustment to a new way of life and study.

This group of Rollins students will be participating in Rollins' fifth annual How-to-Study Week, Sept. 15-19.

The Rollins program, directed by Dr. Dudley DeGroot, offers the entering collegians a chance to become familiar with the academic aids of the College, and it gives them positive advice on time management. The goal of How-to-Study Week is to start Rollins freshmen moving properly toward the realization of a liberal arts education—the development of mind, body, and spirit.

and grandiose—a center of the arts. In music there has been brought about a synthesis of eastern and western music. Paintings are simple in their declaration of customs shown in bright, clear colors.

One of the questions from the audience concerned the sari which Mrs. Boutwell was wearing and she described it as being made of five yards of 45 inch material, bordered with a three inch band of hand-woven trim in bright colors and pure gold, with a peacock design, worn draped ankle length over a full length slip.

"The sari is worn at all times by Indian women, even when doing routine household chores," she said.

After the program, a business meeting was held, cards and yearbooks distributed.

The new art classes which will be held twice a week, with an art instructor furnished by the Seminole County Public Schools will begin on Sept. 22 at 7 p.m. and continue each Tuesday and Thursday. Instructor will be Mrs. Mildred Babcock.

Persons interested in membership in the SSAA are requested to contact Mrs. A. E. Stevens.

NOTs Score Twice In Civic Projects Held In Village

By Margaret Cooby
The North Orlando Teen Club (NOT) recently participated in the Teenage March against Leukemia in the North Orlando and Coronado homes sub-divisions. Going from door-to-door were Mary Connolly, Marty Deen, Maureen McVay, Nancy Peck, Diane Stephenson and Judy Walters. To date they have collected $38.71.

In mid-summer the NOTs sponsored a project called "Christmas in August." The teenage diligents went from door-to-door again, with automobiles driven by club sponsors, Mrs. Hugh T. Singleton and Mrs. Jerry M. Sills, to carry the clothes, foodstuffs and toys being collected. Although the initial canvass was not tremendous, the NOTs inspired such considerable interest that contributions continued to pour in. Mrs. Singleton, who supplied a room in which to store the results of the "Christmas in August" project reported that it took an entire room to store the goods.

The first station wagon was collected in late August by the District Twelve Office of the Florida State Department of Public Welfare, at which time Mrs. Carolyn C. Higgins, social worker, wrote "... a very needy family was helped by your generous donations of clothing, canned goods and baby bed. This agency wishes to thank each and every one of you for helping out in a very desperate situation."

At that time the Welfare Department could not know that they would be collecting another carload as a result of the NOT campaign for the needy. Final report was that an infant was completely clothed, two needy families in Seminole County were supplied, and a quantity of toys for older children are being held for Christmas in December.

A big hats-off to the Juvenile Diligents of North Orlando for their worthy work.

Moose Women See Program On New Home

Publicity Chapter Night of Sanford Chapter 1004, Women of the Moose, featured a program of colored slides showing construction progress on the new Moose Home at 2660 S. Palmitta Avenue in Sanford.

It was announced that the chapter will assist Lodge 1851 at the Seminole Legion 81 Ceremonial scheduled Sept. 20-21 at the new Moose Home and was reported that net proceeds of $235 from the recent Shipwreck Dance, sponsored by the chapter, have been turned over in their entirety to the lodge to help furnish the new building. The chapter also has donated a total of 100 place settings in dishes.

New members enrolled in the chapter during the meeting were Barbara D. Ulom, Carol M. King and Shirley Ann Washburn. Doorprizes were won by Joyce Whitten, Eva Moore and Elsie W. Lacey.

Senior Regent Eloise Small announced that the regular Chapter Night Business Meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 20 and Mrs. Moore, practice director, called a ritual for Oct. 3. Both will take place in the new Home.

GROOMING FAIR HOSTESSES—Two young hostesses at a New York World's Fair pavilion are caught during a special grooming course. Learning to care for neglected eyebrows (left) was high on the agenda for the more than 300 young women enrolled by their companies at a New York salon. Some were overweight and the young lady (right) appears ready to follow her New Year's resolution to diet and exercise.

Traditional Barber Shops Transform To Sleek Salons

BARBER SHOP
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—New techniques in wielding the scissors, clippers and comb may soon make today's barbering as out-of-date as "shave and a hair cut, two bits!"

And some of the methods now being used is that male bulwark, the barber shop, are definitely borrowed from its female counterpart, the beauty salon.

"The barbering profession has never seen anything like it," said Glenn Graves, president of the San Francisco Barbers College. "Men are thinking more about the hair on top of their head and barbers are looking upon themselves as more than just hair cutters."

Graves thinks even the barber pole may soon become an antique item. "You wouldn't recognize some of these places around here as barber shops," he said. "Rugs on the floor, low leather chairs, and soft, background music. Things are changing."

"These new shops are not shops," said Graves. "They're men's salons and the barbers call themselves hair stylists and most work on an appointment-only basis. Funny thing is, they're booked solid most of the week."

The change from shop to salon has been brought about by a change in the barbering techniques, including two the boys have stolen from the women's beauty salon. They are the razor cut and blow wave. Instead of attacking a shaggy head with conventional scissors and electric razor, straight-edge razor and hot-air hand blower are used.

Graves said the razor cut and blow wave were originated in Florida about six years ago. It has since spread to New York, Chicago, Miami, San Francisco and Los Angeles, where movie men are making rich men of barbers (hair stylists).

Razor cutting, according to barber college executive Palmento Fernandez, is simply "splitting hairs."

"It's like wood planing," he said. "You run the straight-edge through the hair. This thing it so that even hair cut to an inch and a half will lie down."

Fernandez explained the hair is first shampooed and then razor cut.

The finale is the blow wave, using a blower which shoots warm, soothing air at the razor-cut hair which has been coated with a wave-set.

"It's pretty much the principle of the ladies permanent wave," explained Alessandro Ramirez, an instructor. "The air dries the hair in place and the stylist is able to make curly hair straight, straight hair curly and establish that natty, well-groomed look without any signs of effort."

Fernandez said, "the beauty of it is, you never have to use anything on your hair — no greasy kid stuff — and that hair will always stay in place." — barring steam, rain, mist or aggressive touzalung.

Clear the decks for "picture gallery" bracelets. Made of bright sueds and with large see-through cut-outs, these feature a miniature gallery of portraits by famous artists. It's from pop art offerings in the new collection. Another picture bracelet offers a collection of "monsters we have known and loved," says the manufacturer. Samples: Frankenstein, Dracula, the Wolfman. Many of the bracelets have matching headbands.

News on the fall campus scene revolves around a 100 per cent cotton that looks and feels like leather. Supple and soft, the new leather-like cotton is washable, porous, water-repellent and beautiful. One of the smartest is a single-breasted, reefer coat with a shirt-placket front that makes fashion sense on two counts: It's shown in this season's pet shade, claret; it's lightly fitted the figure the skimming way. One manufacturer uses camel-colored leather-like cotton to interpret the classic polo coat, wrapped close to the body via a tie belt. Four flap pockets complete the sporty air of this casual design.

Beauty after Forty
EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

"Straight Talk" news from Toni—you can have the "Smooth 'n' Sleek" Toni, the uncurlly permanent. This gives the look that many want to achieve and personally I like the smooth look for gray hair, I think it more elegant. Now with this new non-curlly permanent you can so easily have the new look for your hair.

The season for wearing black has come to New York. Everywhere women are wearing black, lots of jewelry and very smart hats of black.

The designers are "plugging" the elegant look and I hope that women are heeding this. All women "after forty" should be elegant. It becomes them.

More and more women are carrying small pill boxes in their handbags, and wearing pill boxes on their heads for the theater and evening events. These are jeweled and exciting. Some are made of precious fabrics and are very expensive! If you are clever with your needle, you could easily "pearlize" a small pill box or use any jewels that your heart desires.

I went to an "ice cream party" in New York, believe it or not. This was a fun party and the guests arrived after lunch for dessert. The ice cream is brand new and perfectly delicious. It is called "Checkerboard," the creation of Sealtest. This ice cream is composed of small squares of chocolate and vanilla. It looks exciting and is!

Household Hints

If you double a recipe, don't double the amount of seasonings until you've taste-tested.

A salt and vinegar paste will clean un-lacquered brass and copperware quickly.

Treat grass stains by rubbing detergent into the stain and laundering with a bleach that is safe for the fabric. On wool, sponge the stain with rubbing alcohol.

Fall's "Fair Lady" Will Wear A Hat

Back in the days when they made a silk gown out of such raw materials as Lina Doolittle, ladies dressed like ladies and wore a bare feminine head upon the light of day.

This year, when short, sleek hairstyles make it possible for a girl to wear a hat again, the millinery industry has taken to the imagination that glorious era of "My Fair Lady." Gone are the bits of whimsy pervading preciosity of the back of the head. Today hats are unmistakably, jejevously and elegantly HATS.

Brims come in a wide variety of shapes. There are small tailored fedoras and swaggy hats, large winged and sloping cloche brims, huge beacons and rollers and floppy double-faced stitched brims.

Decorations aren't even kissing cousins to the hat we once knew. They are much fuller and more mobile. Some cover the hair completely, others can be worn on the back of the head or tilted to the side for a peevish effect.

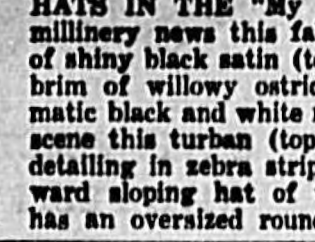

There are helmet caps, curved to fit the head and worn perfectly flat on the hair. Other caps are trimmed with a flat bow or feather pompon and some tie with chin ties.

Turbans this season have back interest - snoods, domes, large bows, jewels and feathers.

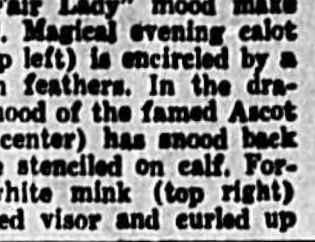

Fabrics include anything that is soft and supple - leather, suede, felt, jersey, velvet, brushed wool, knits and fashions. Fur is still important, but dyed and decorated skins are the big news.

Red and green lead the color range, with brown from beige to buff a close runner up. And there's lots of black and white.

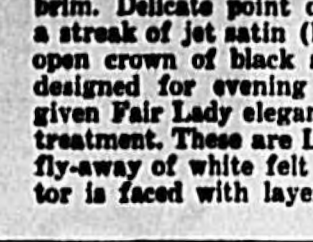

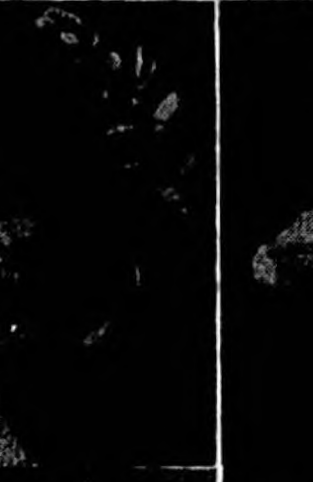

Just pick yourself a chejean with the Fair Lady feeling and you'll look as elegantly feminine as the ladies who frequented Asot when Lina peddled her posies.

HATS IN THE "My Fair Lady" mood make millinery news this fall. Magical evening calot of shiny black satin (top left) is encircled by a brim of willowy ostrich feathers. In the dramatic black and white mood of the famed Ascot scene this turban (top center) has snood back detailing in zebra stripes stenciled on calf. Forward sloping hat of white mink (top right) has an oversized rounded visor and curled up brim. Delicate point d'esprit, highlighted with a streak of jet satin (lower left) pours from an open crown of black satin. A new helmet cap designed for evening wear (lower center) is given Fair Lady elegance by its original feather treatment. These are Lilly Dache designs. Large fly-away of white felt lower right by Sally Victor is faced with layers of delicate feathers.

POTATOES IN POPULAR WAYS. If you wish it, just ask the office for bulletin No. 55. It gives you pointers for buying and storing them and lots of ways to prepare them. Here are several that I think you will like.

POTATO MEATBURGERS
1/4 cup ground or coarsely grated raw potato
1/4 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup grated or finely chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. chopped green pepper
1 egg, beaten
Cooking fat or oil
1 cup tomato juice
1 tsp. flour
1/4 cup water

Add potato, beef, onion, green pepper, and salt to the beaten egg. Shape the mixture into flat cakes. Heat a little cooking fat or oil in a fry pan and brown the cakes on both sides. Add the tomato juice and simmer until the meat is done—about 20 minutes. Remove cakes from the pan and keep them hot. Mix flour and water and add gradually to the liquid in the pan. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened, and pour over the cakes. Serves 4.

POTATO - LIVER LOAF
1 1/2 lbs. liver
2 tsp. fat or meat drippings
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely cut celery
1/4 lb. pork sausage
1 tsp. salt
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 egg, beaten
about 1/4 cup milk or canned tomatoes

Brown the liver lightly in the fat. Chop liver, onion and celery by hand or put through a food chopper, depending on the texture desired. Brown the onion and celery in the fat and add to the liver. Add the rest of the ingredients, using just enough milk or tomatoes to moisten the mixture well. Pack firmly into a loaf pan to shape. Bake in the pan or turn out

Miss Jon Alfa Smith Becomes Bride

Miss Jon Alfa Smith became the bride of John Gail Smith in a double ring ceremony at the Central Baptist Church of Sanford, on August 14th, Friday, at 7:30 p.m. The beautiful candlelight service was performed by Rev. Gail Smith, pastor of the church, and father of the groom.

Nuptial music, including traditional wedding marches, was furnished by Mrs. Shirley (R. D.) Grieme, the church organist. The solos, "Always" and "O Perfect Love" were sung by Chester Long, with "The Lord's Prayer" sung as a benediction.

The bride was radiantly attired in a magnificent white formal wedding gown, with a Martha Washington skirt paneled with deep rows of scalloped chantilly lace. The bodice was of chantilly lace with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves terminating in points. The satin chapel train, edged in chantilly lace, matched the skirt of satin with a spray of illusion roses quilted into the left front. Her illusion veil, edged in chantilly lace, flowed from a tiara or iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid centered on a white Bible showered with satin ribbons. The bride was given in marriage by her father, F. C. Smith, of DeBary.

The bride's two sisters were her only attendants. Mrs. Nannette Edwards attended as matron of honor and Miss Vonnie Smith, as bridesmaid. They were attired in matching ensembles of lavender brocade. Their bouffant veils were held by clusters of tiny lavender flowers and they carried bouquets centered with lavender and yellow orchids.

Earl Benton served the groom as best man and Richard Bennett was usher. Junior ushers were Roy Smith, Reuben Smith and Phillip Smith, brothers of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Jewel Smith, chose a teal-blue chantilly lace sheath dress with beige accessories. Her illusion veil hat was adorned with teal-blue tea roses and her corsage was a white orchid.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Alice Smith, wore a whipped cream dress imprinted with roses, with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Her illusion veil hat was held with miniature roses.

The Church was decorated with candles and greenery in each window. Two branched candelabra holding lighted tapers and two floor baskets of white carnations, white chrysanthemums and white gladioli, were on either side of the podium. Two white table urns with miniature arrangements matching the other floral arrangements were placed on the altar table. The center aisle was covered with a white bride's carpet.

The Reception was held in the dining area of the Church. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Geneva Owen, who kept the bride's book, Mrs. Ethel Owen and Mrs. Mary Noon, who introduced out-of-town guests and coordinated the reception, Mrs. Bobbie Jean Reeves and Mrs. Abbie Owen served the cake and punch. The decorations in the reception room were two bouquets transferred from the sanctuary for the purpose.

The beautiful four-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with white roses, pale lavender roses and pale green leaves, with a miniature bride and groom on top. The cake, silver punchbowl and silver candelabra were placed on tables covered with white cut-work linen cloths, and approximately two hundred guests were served. Mrs. Lucy June of Palatka, friend of the groom, baked and decorated the beautiful cake.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. Mary Smith, of Sarasota; Mrs. Ethel Smith of Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Long of Ocala; Mrs. Lucy June of Palatka; Mrs. Effie Housh, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Housh and daughters, Dianne and Jennie Housh, and James Cody of Palatka and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reeder, sons, Tommy and Clark, and daughter, Patricia, of Palmetto.

Mary Dunn Feted At Party

Merriment and gaiety "rang out" at the Ravenna Park home of Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. J. F. Dunn recently when daughter, Mary, observed her 7th birthday with a gala celebration.

The guests enjoyed the usual party games, contests and confusion in a celebration of this nature in which the mamma got the full treatment. Prizes were won by Pamela Shattan, Julie Jenkins and Mona Wiggins.

Highlight of the occasion was the opening of the lovely gifts. The union of "ohs" and "ahs" would have provided the Metropolitan Opera with superb chorus material.

Clusters of colorful balloons adorned the party area with miniature ballerinas flitting gracefully in and out between the seven pink candles on the fluffy white frosting, as they did an occasional promenade at the corners. Ice cream and punch were served in pastel striped cups and plates and on the cut work cloth table cover.

Photograph elsewhere depicts the delight of the guests but thus quoth Barbara Dunn, "never more."

Miss Jeanne Elkins Heads For New Colorful Career

By Mrs. Margaret Cosby
Friends of Miss Jeanne Elkins, 44 South Cortez Avenue, North Orlando, are bidding their popular, vivacious neighbor adieu with mixed emotions. They know they'll miss "Jeannie's" contagious exuberance but are delighted that she will be enjoying the career she longed to return to.

While recently in New York City doing - the - town and visiting friends, relatives and old business acquaintances, she was offered a supervisory position with the Diana Shop. Jeanne was astounded, but delighted and, with her usual spontaneity, accepted. Within two weeks' time she'd set her personals in order and went letting off to New York for a brief familiarization with the home office. It was then away to Bloomington, Illinois, and her new business adventure. Jeanne is well remembered as owner - manager for the last 12 years of a Maitland Plaza woman's apparel shops. Several years ago, under advice of her physician, she found it necessary to retire from this business. However, not being one to retire completely, Jeanne went into the real estate business.

Much as Jeanne is looking forward to her new position, she knows she will miss the Southland she loves, and trusts that any of her friends passing within a hundred miles of Bloomington will detour over to see her.

Florida Now Ranks 3rd In Horse Breeding

When Needles won the Kentucky Derby in 1964, he started something in Florida.

That something was the tremendous growth of the horse breeding industry in Florida, according to Joseph O'Farrell, owner of the Ocala Stud Farm and president of the Florida Breeder's Sales Company.

O'Farrell told Kiwanians at their luncheon Wednesday at the Civic Center that Florida is now the third leading horse-breeding state in the union and still growing.

"In 1956 there were three horse-breeding farms in Marion County. Today there are 77, with Florida-bred horses having won 45 major stakes races in the past few years," he said.

Roman Brother is the most recent winner, taking the 1964 Jersey Derby and the New England Sweepstakes race.

"Why are Florida horses so good?" O'Farrell was asked.

"In the Ocala-Marion County area there is a wonderful supply of calcium and phosphorus in the land—our problem is in keeping it balanced, for the best possible feeding of the mares and foals," O'Farrell said.

Horse breeders who have flocked to Florida and bought farms now own horses worth $60 million, and provide payrolls of over $2 million a year, with another $5 million spent for construction, feed, seed and fertilizer.

"Besides all that, Florida-bred horses have gained international fame from top-money-winning horses, but having two Kentucky Derby winners is absolutely fantastic. When Needles won we were overwhelmed, and then along came Carryback and we just couldn't believe it," O'Farrell said.

"Now we know the environment, soil, sunshine and air in Marion County is developing the finest thoroughbred horses in the country. Ocala Stud Farms have twice been the leading commercial winners in the country," O'Farrell pointed out.

"I would like to correct a wrong impression while I am here," the horse-breeder said.

"Only horses are 'thoroughbreds'. All other animals are termed 'pure-breds,'" he emphasized.

O'Farrell came to Ocala in 1956, from the Windy Hills Farm in Maryland, which he owned with his brother.

Ocala Stud Farm sent their full crop of foals to the races in 1959 and has been first, second, third and fourth among the world's commercial breeders every year since. They were in first place in 1963 and again in 1964.

Carryback, Roman Brother, My Dear Girl, Kovin, Minstrel, Cedar Key and many other top stake winning horses have been raised at the Ocala Stud Farm.

O'Farrell is also a member of the board of directors of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders Assn.

Sanford Church To Hear Guest Missionaries

A special service at First Church of the Nazarene, Maple Avenue and Second Street, has been announced for this Friday, at 7:30, p.m. featuring Rev. and Mrs. Harold Stanfield, missionaries in Bolivia, South America. The Stanfields are on furlough in the United States holding services among Churches of the Nazarene.

This is their fourth furlough since being assigned to Nicaragua in 1943 by the Department of World Missions, Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Stanfield began his work in San Jorge, Nicaragua, and was later made field superintendent. In 1959 he was transferred to Bolivia where he has served as superintendent until his furlough this year.

In missionary services, Rev. Stanfield will describe the country and its people and tell of the work of the Church of the Nazarene among them. He will show colored slides.

Rev. Stanfield is a native of Colorado and attended the Christian Training School in Huntington Park, Calif., where he graduated in 1933. Prior to his appointment as a missionary he served as pastor in two different Churches of the Nazarene in California.

Rev. Paul Birkes, pastor of the local church, extends welcome to all to hear this missionary couple.

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

A year ago this time SHS football fans were sweating out the opener with Titusville's Terriers at Sanford's Memorial Stadium. Everybody was wondering what effect the skinned baseball infield would have on the game.

As it turned out, it had quite a bit of effect on the contest, which the Seminoles nearly lost — and would have had it not been for a TD with 62 seconds left to play.

If you will recall it rained and rained until nearly game-time. As a result, the skinned infield was turned into muddy clay. By the end of the first period it resembled a hog pen.

This year, however, it'll be a different story. We won't say that it will not rain. But we can guarantee you that there'll be no muck and mire on one end of the gridiron if it does. The field is in great shape. The clay infield has been removed, the skinned area resodded and the park looks better than we've ever seen it for football.

Seminole's first pair of tilts will be doozies!

Not only did the locals come from behind to knock off Titusville in the opener last year, the Tribe had to do it again the following week to wreck Colonial.

Both of these clubs, we understand, are out this season to reverse that pair of decisions. Seminoles will have its work cut out Friday night and a week from then. If the Tribe can get out of those two games unblemished, chances are that they'll provide their Metro opposition with considerable competition.

Out Oviedo way, high school principal Clyde H. Holder is about as excited over the athletic prospects of the school as the most avid fan.

Holder is anticipating a top notch grid season. But he's also expecting to have great basketball and baseball seasons.

The Lions are all excited about their "new" opener Friday night. Originally they weren't slated to open until a week from Friday but they wanted that 10th game on their schedule and they got it in Zephyrhills.

Did you get a chance to scan the roster of Sanford Junior High Braves which appeared in Wednesday's edition of The Herald?

There's some mighty familiar names on that list. Matt Morgan — for one — is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Morgan. It wasn't too many years ago that John was quarterbacking the "Celery Feds" as they were then called for Head Coach Leonard McLeese. Now John is the Tribe's physician.

Then there is Paul Glad. That name's real familiar to SHS fans who recall Mike Glad, Seminoles' huge tackle last season who is now at Georgia Tech with the frosh.

The roster also includes Stan Hemphill and it seems like we've heard that name before. Not so much on the gridiron, perhaps, as on West First Street in Sanford.

There's a Dan Wright on the club, too, which reminds us that his father is now ready to move heaven and earth to enhance football in the schools. Dan Sr. is chairman of the Board of Public Instruction.

Bill Bracken is another well known name. It reminds us of Principal Andy Bracken of Seminole High. And they've got a youngster named Bruce McKibbin. That's another familiar name around Sanford and has been for quite some time.

As the old saying goes — "Time marches on!"

Moving Day Set

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The biggest mass move since the Giants and Dodgers pulled up stakes together will be completed within the next 30 days when the Milwaukee Braves officially transfer their franchise to Atlanta and the Cleveland Indians shift to Seattle.

Yogi's Yankees Trail Leaders By Half Game

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

The first three-way tie for a pennant in major league history became a real possibility today when the American League's three contenders found themselves separated by a mere .001 in the standings.

All that's needed to make it an official three-way snarl at the top is for the New York Yankees to beat the Los Angeles Angels in their twilight game tonight. The Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who became locked in a two-way tie after Wednesday's games, are idle.

The race reached its most frantic stage of the season on Wednesday when the White Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 4-1, the Yankees downed the Angels 4-4 and the Orioles lost to the Minnesota Twins 2-1.

That put the White Sox and Orioles in a flat-footed first-place tie with identical 88-41 records for .501 percentages with the Yankees right behind at 85-39 and .590. The White Sox and Orioles each have 13 games left to play while the Yankees have 12.

In the event of a three-way tie, the team will play a round-robin with the first two teams losing two games being eliminated. The only two-way tie in the AL's history occurred in 1948 when the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox in a one-game playoff.

The National League has had four playoffs — in 1946, 1951, 1959 and 1962.

The White Sox, who think of the race in terms of a battle of bulletpoints, trailed 1-0 until the seventh when a single by Bill Skowron, Pete Ward's double, a wild throw by Mickey Lolich and Jim Landis' single vaulted them into a 2-1 lead.

The Yankees, who have won nine of their last 13 games for the fastest recent pace of the three contenders, saw Roger Maris hit a two-run sixth-inning homer to open up a 3-3 lead. It was Maris' 22nd homer of the season and the 1,000th hit of his career. Jim Bouton received.

The Orioles, struggling at a 500 pace since Sept. 1 mostly because of light hitting and a weary bullpen, managed seven hits off Minnesota's Camilo Pascual but four of them were by Brooks Robinson and Pascual struck out 12 batters.

The Twins scored both their runs against rookie 16-game winner Wally Bunker in the fourth inning on Harmon Killebrew's 47th homer, two walks and a double by Pascual.

The Cleveland Indians swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators 3-1 and 3-2 and the Boston Red Sox routed the Kansas City Athletics 10-1 in other AL action.

In the National League, Houston shaded Philadelphia, 6-3, Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati downed Chicago 5-3, New York blanked San Francisco 4-0, and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 7-5.

What's That Again? Scheduling Basketball Games Real Problem For Oviedo High

By Julian Stenstrom

You can't win basketball games unless you play basketball.

That may sound like a silly statement but it isn't silly at all to Clyde Holder and Paul Mikler, principal and athletic director, respectively, at Oviedo High School.

And how did basketball get into the picture in the first place — just an football season in getting underway?

Simple! If you're going to play basketball this winter you've got to schedule games right now and that's exactly Oviedo's problem.

Why? For the past several years Oviedo, a Class B school numerically, is a "Class AA" school when it comes to winning basketball games.

They're too good, and the record proves it. Therefore, little schools don't want to play the Oviedo squad is out of their class. Big schools don't want to play Oviedo because they've got everything to lose and nothing to gain.

That leaves the Lions without a decent number of games to play. Right now they've got 14 tilts slated and need at least six more.

Last year they nearly knocked off Evans, the Metro champs in a late season affair and the Trojans refuse to meet Oviedo this year.

Seminole of Sanford won't play Oviedo this year. The last time these two schools met Oviedo slaughtered the Seminoles, 77 to 60-something.

Titusville went up to Daytona Beach last year and knocked off the club which later claimed the state title in a tourney at Gainesville. But Oviedo went over to Titusville and trounced the Terriers.

New Smyrna Beach won't have anything to do with Oviedo anymore. Lyman, however, is the only local (or nearby) school to stick with the Lions. We understand Seminole will play them during the 55-66 season.

The Titusville athletic director told Holder, the Oviedo principal, "We'd rather play Orlando's Boons and Edgewater both on the same night to tangle with Oviedo."

Holder says, "We'll play any school of any size at anytime anywhere they will play us. We need six games and need them badly."

Being tough has its good points but it doesn't help in getting basketball games on the slate.

Baby Seminoles Getting Ready For Winter Park

By David Higginbotham
Jim Williams, a 185-pound end, won't be in the starting lineup when the Seminole High Jayvees open their season next Thursday in Winter Park when the Baby Seminoles tangle with the Little Wildcats in a Metro League affair.

Williams will be out for about a week with a foot injury. A sophomore this year, Williams was a standout for the Sanford Junior High School Braves last season.

Another youngster sidelined is Charles Lewis, a 170-pound center, who came up with a pair of "busted" ribs and a number of pulled muscles during a Tuesday drill. However, Lewis is expected to resume workouts next week and may get to see some action in the Winter Park fray.

Head coach Ralph Stumpf and his aide, John Colbert, have only five sessions remaining before they put that fabulous record of 30 games without a loss on the line.

The Winter Park contest will be played at 4 p. m. next Thursday.

Stumpf ran his squad through a scrimmage session Wednesday using Chris Ackers and Buddy Stumpf at the quarterback slots. Both mentors agreed that it was an excellent workout and that in their opinions the squad was still improving.

Stumpf had bickers working on punting and extra points with Buddy Stumpf and Greg Schively doing the booting.

Lyman Jayvees Announce Four Game Schedule

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

With only a week left before the first contest, the Lyman Jayvees are making final preparations for their meeting with the Cardinals of Ocoee. Coaches Dick Copeland, Tom Barnes and Jim Farley still have a lot of things to do prior to the deadline but the Hounds are beginning to look like a football team.

The backfield of Jack Blanton at quarter, Austin Saville at full and Al Cantrell and Phil Ferrault at the halves appear to be pretty well set, but there are other boys who have looked good in practices of late. Such names as Terry Toole, Larry Lott and Andy Hinely could become a part of the starting eleven before next Friday.

The line will contain a number of experienced boys, but most of them will be seeing high school action for the first time. Youngsters most likely to get the starting call are Alie Buesse, Chuck Wagner and Gene Winkleman.

The Lyman kicking situation is still causing conjecture. Larry Miller and Eddie Long have been booting for the varsity during recent sessions and it is still a big question mark in the Hound organization.

Harris said the group will form between 6 and 6:15 at Seminole High and leave promptly for Titusville. The motorcade will be escorted by deputies of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

WILLIE G. HOLT

Holt To Begin Sixth Season With Panthers

By Bob Thomas

When the Croona Panthers host the Wild Bulls of Ocala High Friday night in the season's opener at Sanford's Memorial Stadium, it will be the sixth curtain raiser for Head Coach Willie Holt.

In his previous five seasons at the helm of the Panthers, Holt has produced 26 victories in 45 games and considers that he has had three good seasons in his five years.

His club rolled up a record of seven wins and two losses in 1959; won six, tied two and lost one in 1961 and last season they rolled to a six and two record in eight tilts.

Holt was voted coach of the year by fellow mentors in the Big Nine North Conference last season.

Sept. 17, 1964 — Page 9 of the Sanford Herald

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — President Johnson presented a string of anti-war pledges that today heightened the question of nuclear arms control as an election campaign issue. The President laid down his views Wednesday night at a civic dinner here in which he said:

—The nation and the world "can rest assured that we have taken every step man can devise to ensure that neither a madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."
—He "will never let slip the engines of destruction because of a reckless and rash miscalculation about our adversaries."

Johnson pointed up the nuclear issue at a non-partisan dinner sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce and three Seattle area universities. The event climaxed the first day of a two-day tour through four western states and the Canadian province of British Columbia.

Heading from Seattle to Portland, Ore., for a breakfast sponsored by public and private power interests, Johnson issued a statement hailing the partnership of both groups in this area.

He said an 11-state inter-tie of Northwest and Southwest power facilities represents "true conservation — the cooperation of all in the development of our resources for the benefit of all."

"This is the kind of conservation action we intend to continue," Johnson declared. The President described the inter-tie as "the most exciting transmission system in our history."

Wallace 'Home In Indiana'

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, in his first northern foray since Democratic primary time, hailed opponents of the civil rights act Wednesday night and said the nation's press "does not tell the truth." Wallace got a three-minute standing ovation when he started his speech to a group called the Society for the Preservation of Every American's Rights (SPEAR). During the talk, he got his biggest applause for his attack upon the press.

"In the main, they don't tell the truth," Wallace said. "They malign and distort, even about the attitude of the people here. If you don't agree with them, you are a racist, a bigot and immoral."
The Southern governor said he was the only person to address the National Press Club in Washington and not receive a certificate of appreciation. "I suppose that's because I'm a bad burzer," he said. "But I told them they can take their certificate of appreciation and they know what they can do with it."

For Wallace, who carried Lake County in Indiana's Democratic primary last May, the trip here was almost a "visit home." "If I'm ever run out of Alabama, I'm coming to Lake County," he said. "This crowd has again shaken the eye teeth of the liberals. I know I'm home here."

Dora Drowns Little Pines

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Forest Service today announced the loss of 5,000,000 pine seedlings from their nursery in Chiefland due to wind and water damage by Hurricane Dora. The damage, which occurred September 11 and 12, represented a net loss of $12,000 to $15,000, according to Aaron Jordan, State Reforestation Supervisor.

The slash pine seedlings were growing in the Andrews Nursery, owned and operated by the Forest Service, and were slated to go to market next month as part of the Service's annual sale. Ready for market, they would have cost tree farmers $100 per thousand.
About 15 per cent of the Andrews crop was damaged by the two days of rain which totaled 12 to 16 inches according to Nurseryman W. T. Green, of Chiefland.

Poison ivy is prevalent from southern Canada through most of the United States and parts of northern Mexico.

Diet Sweeteners May Be Harmful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is studying whether artificial sweeteners might be detrimental to health.
Deputy FDA Commissioner John L. Harvey said Tuesday the study was prompted by an increase in the use of sugar substitutes, particularly in carbonated beverages.
Chief sugar substitutes are saccharin and cyclamate. Due in large part to the popularity of low-calorie soft drinks, artificial sweetened foods and drinks are being widely consumed.

School Still Has Openings

There are still openings for full or part time students in the Mary Karl vocational division of Daytona Beach Junior College.

Director Hal Massey said students over 16 may still enroll for the new five unit 24 month program in industrial electronics.

Also open to new students is the specialized program in woodworking and the course in industrial landscaping and nurserywork.

New students should contact the vocational counselor in Collins Hall for enrollment information.

Appointments may be made by telephone at 255-1476 he added.

Armed Forces Test Pipeline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The commands of all the U.S. armed forces are conducting a global communications exercise simulating "conditions that would exist during a major enemy attack on the free world nations."

The exercise, designated "High Heels II," is being directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and will continue for most of the rest of the month. It does not involve the movement of forces, but tests world-wide communications and reporting procedures.

4-H Expansion Drive Slated

CHICAGO (Special) — Members, leaders and friends of 4-H and the Cooperative Extension Service are joining forces to expand opportunities of 4-H Club membership in every county and state in the nation.

A concerted push is being made to offer 4-H training to increasing numbers of boys and girls between 9 and 19 years old.

Current enrollment is a round 2,251,500 members in 94,700 clubs.

The Cooperative Extension Service gives leadership to the program, and is assisted by 362,000 men and women who serve as unpaid volunteer leaders. Added to these are more than 130,000 older 4-H youths who have been trained in junior leadership.

During the last decade 4-H Clubs have been established in urban and rural non-farm homes which today account for 32 per cent of the total membership.

Man, 81, Saved In Auto Mishap

An 81-year-old DeBary man narrowly escaped death Tuesday night when his car went out of control and veered into seven-foot deep Lake Marie. He was rescued by prompt action of two young men.

J. H. Manion lost control of his car, according to Constable Oscar Papineau, and plunged into the water.

Two men, Bernie Wilford of DeBary and Walter Brauns of Deltona, plunged into the water, opened the car door and pulled the elderly motorist to safety. The men then re-entered the water a second time and turned off the headlights on the car.

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, pleased and encouraged by his stumping in the South, today resumes his search for dissatisfied Democrats to enlist in his Republican revival.

The senator flew here late Wednesday for a number of morning campaign appearances. He was to rendezvous later with the GOP's most recent political convert — Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, S. C. Thurmond officially announced his switch to the GOP Wednesday night.

Thurmond was to introduce Goldwater at a rally in Greer, S. C. Goldwater, anticipating Thurmond's formal announcement, campaigned through Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama Wednesday declaring that the South Carolinian's switch sets an example for Democrats in the South and elsewhere in the nation.

Goldwater brought his campaign plans here after a night rally in Montgomery, Ala. There he promised that a Republican administration will move to curb Washington's "federal bureaucracy" by returning government functions to the states along with tax revenues to assist in their financing.

In the West Gate shopping center near Macon Ga., Goldwater said he was "very pleased and extremely encouraged" by the response to his first campaign foray into the once-Democratic South. His trip will take him to New Orleans for a speech tonight.

Goldwater, who has not had a poor evening crowd since he began his intensive campaigning, had another fine turn-out in Cramton Stadium in Montgomery. The 25,000-seat stadium, host to the annual Blue-Gray football game, was nearly full for the rally, and about 700 teen-aged Goldwater girls in white evening gowns decorated the sidelines as he spoke.

Pre-Wright 'Aerial Steam Engine' Never Got Off Ground

By Patricia Platt
 United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Six decades before the Wright brothers' aerial triumph at Kitty Hawk, N. C., three Britishers designed, patented and built a model of a "machine for conveying foods, letters and passengers from place to place through the air."
 They called it an "aerial steam engine."
 But all that ever got off the ground was a hullabaloo of harmful publicity. After two much-trumpeted models failed, the inventors were ridiculed out of the flying machine business.
 Yet the plans for the unsuccessful invention of the 1840's incorporated many essentials of the modern airplane. And though the machine itself never survived a test, it anticipated the powered, sustained and free flight envisioned by glider-builders of the time and realized by the Wright brothers in a film by "aeroplane" over the North Carolina sand dunes in 1903.
 The Library of Congress now has received a gift from Mrs. John Jay of New York of the papers of John Chapman, one of the collaborators in the brilliant, if luckless, partnership that furthered the vision of air travel. Included are design plans of the curious craft.
 The aerial steam engine was the brainchild of William Samuel Henson. He built and tested a 20-foot wing span model between 1844-47, assisted by John Stringfellow, an engineer.
 Stringfellow later whipped up a smaller model. It also was a dud.
 Chapman, a political writer and editor in later life, became involved with the project through his friendship with Henson. The papers "disclose Chapman's familiarity with the leading aerodynamical ideas of his time and suggest him as a hitherto unknown and unsuspected third man in this curious aeronautical partnership," the Library said.
 Henson was said to have designed the machine about 1840. He registered it for a patent in 1842. But he touched off premature publicity by printing the patent drawings in the Illustrated London News and L'Illustration in 1843.
 Soon after the drawings appeared, the Library said, "a host of romanticized sketches based upon them began to appear widely." By the time Henson got to work on the first model in 1844, the aerial steam engine was on its way to being "illuminated, exaggerated and finally defeated by propaganda."
 But Henson and his friends were encouraged by their own publicity. They formed an "Aerial Transit Co."—before producing or testing even a model of the plane—which was to finance a full-sized airplane. Despite their fanciful claims, the company aroused little public support.
 After a model powered by a small steam engine and two pusher propellers flunked the first test in 1847, Henson quit the project and emigrated to Texas.

Paper Work Another 'Tiger' That Worries Red Chinese

By Charles R. Smith
United Press International
HONG KONG (UPI) — The United States is not the only "paper tiger" worrying Communist China.

The Red Chinese are bothered by red tape, the mountain of paper work piling up at home. They are trying to do something about it. "Paper work is a means of office work," China's official Peking People's Daily newspaper said revealingly. "Much of it is entirely unnecessary. But there is also much that can be dispensed with or which is unnecessary."

At the same time, it brings a great deal of trouble to other departments and organs at the lower levels. How did it all happen? The paper asked in a commentary. Why is there so much paper work now? It never used to be so.

"To analyze the reasons for excessive paper work and to solve the problems thus created, we must first of all start with examination and improvement of the work of our departments."

A typical examination disclosed "that the principal causes did not originate from the outside; they originated from the inside and were due to the shortcomings of the work of the department itself."

In short, paper work often is increased to try to cover up incompetence. Take the handicraft bureau of Shuntak county in Kwangtung province, for example. An article published in another newspaper, the Canton Nanfang Jihpao, contained complaints of handicraft cooperative members about excessive paper work.

GENERAL TRENDS: Now you have a day and evening when you can put your most unconventional and original plans into effect. But to do so you need to sidestep a stuffy person who just can't get out of the rut of conservatism and who could cause you a problem for this reason. Keep showing you are open-minded and dynamic.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have some interesting plans that could easily be made workable by getting backing from intelligent friends with vision. Don't limit your thinking. Get busy now!

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Vital persons in your life can be counted upon to help you become a more wealthy person and a pillar of the community. Show that you reason with impunity. Then advancement comes quickly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make the contacts that will appreciate your ability and ingenuity—step out early into the world of action. Make out-of-town calls that can be helpful, also. Be dynamic!

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Less deliberation and more honesty will gain you the romantic interest you desire. Then you can give expression to the fine artistic ideas you have. Commercialize on them.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) If you go out to a charming spot with an interesting associate, you can exchange ideas and get good results. Later, get into matter of policy with others around. Be interested in them.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Any mechanism you need to make own work more easy and efficient should be invested in right now. Listen to suggestions of co-workers. They may appear strange, but may be workable.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Having fun is very important now, so get work done quickly, then dress nicely and go—go—go! This could also bring fine contacts into your life. Be happy, smile.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Buying new pieces of furniture, and adding comforts to own apartment or house is fine today. Take time to back projects of others. Be sure they are of a practical nature.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Impress those about you with your special talents, even though they think you are just in the work-a-day class. Don't be taken for granted. Make a name for yourself.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Being practical and doing what others expect of you can certainly increase abundance now. Make home improvements that give your property more value. Spend wisely.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) No better day than this for social fun and impressing others with your fine talents. Get your appearance improved. Be theregarious person for which your sign is noted.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) By investigating you can now find the answer to many of the things that have been puzzling you and others. Then take time to beautify surroundings. Add fresh color.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will definitely be a product of the New Age and do much to promulgate the Aquarian Age, which we have just entered. See to it that the education takes in both the accepted principles and standards of the past as well as knowledge of what-over is most current and modern. The field of science would be fine for this probing, intelligent mind.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I pulled out of the parking lot behind a supermarket too quickly, and I almost ran over a man who was walking toward his car with a large sack of groceries. He dropped the sack and a carton of eggs went her-plunk! I said, "Oh, I'm so sorry—I hope your wife doesn't break your neck." He smiled and said, "No harm done, Madame, and besides, I have no wife."

I don't know why, but I quickly replied, "That's a coincidence, I have no husband."

(I am a widow.) Then he grinned broadly, revealing the most beautiful even white teeth I've ever seen, and he tipped his hat. Abby, please don't think I'm crazy, but I haven't been able to get that man's face and voice out of my mind. I would like to see him again. But how?

LADY IN THE BLUE SEDAN

DEAR LADY: Go back to that supermarket at approximately the same time you met him there. If he has any interest in seeing you again, I'll bet you see him.

Jacoby On Bridge

Thirty years ago, before bidding had developed to its modern science, North would probably have jumped to three spades instead of merely raising to two and South would have closed the bidding at six. West conceivably might have opened the king of clubs, but the chances are that he would have led some other suit. South would have remarked "We did not bid enough" and spread his hand for all 13 tricks.

This isn't really an indictment of modern science because South's bidding was far from scientific. One of the first things a player should learn is that the Blackwood convention is not used when you have two quick losers in an unbid suit. South had two quick losers in clubs.

Of course, it takes considerable intentional artifice to lead the king from king and one against a slam contract, but South had certainly drawn a diagram for West by bidding spades, hearts and Blackwood. Had South really wanted to use science, he could have bid six spades in any one of several deceptive manners. The simple one would have been to bid three hearts and then use Blackwood after his partner jumped to four spades. After this series of bids it would have taken a clairvoyant in the West seat to find the club lead.

We The Women:

Some words when spoken in haste leave a woman lots of time to repent in leisure. Regrets often follow such remarks as:

"I'll show him he can't treat me like that and get away with it."

"I thought I ought to tell you for your own good."

"If a child of mine ever behaved like that, I know what I'd do."

"Just drop in any time."

"After all, it's too good a bargain to pass up."

"I really shouldn't repeat this, but..."

"I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man on earth."

"I'm going to give her a piece of my mind."

"Stop worrying about Sally. There's nothing in the house she can hurt."

"I'm going to put my foot down."

"There's no hurry about returning it. Keep it as long as you like."

"I hope when I'm HER AGE I'll have sense enough not to try to act young."

TV Time Previews

TV Time critics preview coming television shows by attending rehearsals, watching screenings, analyzing scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their previews for today:

8-9 p. m. (CBS) Rawhide. "Incident at Crooked Hat."

9-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Dr. Kildare. "Tyger-Tyger." Part Two of this ill-fated romance, which poses the question: Can a handsome young doctor with his recordings find peace and contentment in the love of a madcap surfing enthusiast subject to epileptic seizures? If this were a movie, Dr. Kildare would probably renounce his profession and become a beachcomber, but as TV is more attuned to reality, he tries to cure his girl, Yvette Mimieux continues to give a powerful performance as the epileptic and her efforts make the hour worth watching.

9-9:30 p. m. (ABC) T. Darrin. Take This Witch Samantha. If the opening episode is any gauge, this promises to be a delightful series. It delves into the problem of what happens when a normal, red-blooded advertising executive marries a lovely girl who turns out to be a genuine witch. Dick York plays the harassed husband with Elizabeth Montgomery a sheer joy as the young bride who's trying desperately to kick the habit of using her supernatural power—and as long as this series survives, you know she never will. Bounding out the splendid regular cast is Agnes Moorhead, the old witch, as the world's greatest supernatural mother-in-law. It's surprisingly easy to accept the basic premise and once you do, you're in for quite a few hearty laughs.

What do you do when the boss rushes out of his office and asks: How many amendments are there to the Constitution and what does the last one provide?

You pick up the telephone and call South Seminole Junior High School and ask for Guy Strickland. But he's in class and you ask Mrs. Joann Rowe, the civics teacher.

She answers: "There are 24 and the last one, ratified Jan. 23, 1964, provides that there shall be no poll tax as a voting requirement."

How about that! Did you know?

The Henry Sheldon Sanford Memorial Library will now be open from 2 to 3 p.m. on Tuesdays as well as Thursdays and Saturdays.

"Never have I seen a community extend as warm a welcome as did Sanford and Seminole County to the 'Bats' of VAH-13."

Probably one of the most cherished letters the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has received contains that sentence. The writer is Cdr. C. V. Nolte, commanding officer of Sanford's newest squadron.

"I understand much, if not most, of the credit belongs to your outstanding Seminole County Chamber of Commerce," the letter continues. The booklets, maps and information sheets provided the foundation for a smooth adjustment to our new environment. And the "Welcome Home" sign across First Street was heart-warming — a real morale booster."

The letter concluded with a personal note to John Krider, Chamber executive manager: "Thank you, Mr. Krider, for all your efforts. Please count us among the proudest citizens of this friendly, progressive community."

We plead guilty to a small error in Wednesday's story on the waterfront development engineering survey. Test borings of the lake bottom will not cost $1,000 each, but three for $1,000, approximately. We misunderstood Pete Knowles and caused him to get several phone calls from commissioners. Our apologies. Borings may not be necessary, anyhow.

Someone came in the office the other day with a corny story. We don't recall exactly what it was but it did remind us of the corniest story ever told:

A colonel by the name of Corn married a young lady by the name of Cobb. A few years later along came a little nubbin. They dressed him up in silks and tassels and everybody stalked by and said "Shucks."

The J.C. Penney's Company expects to open its new store in the southern part of the city next Feb. 4—the first Thursday of that month, according to the local manager, Charles Robinson. He said work is progressing rapidly on the bright new building and "we expect to have the key to it by this November."

Robinson adds that he expects to start hiring store personnel sometime in December so that all will be ready when the grand opening target date is reached.

Sign on a new constructed school wall: "This is a partition, not a petition. No signatures required."

ONLY 13 Days Left To Register For General Election

Avery Answers Swofford On Drainage

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

"If I had been living in a town for 30 years and was its mayor and knew no more than was indicated by certain comments being made," said County Commission Chairman James Avery, "I would keep my mouth shut and attempt to become more literate in the results of the town's draining problems."

Avery made his statement to The Herald today in reference to remarks made by Mayor Lawrence Swofford of Altamonte Springs during the town's council meeting Wednesday night.

L. T. Bryan of Altamonte stated that Avery ought to become more familiar with the town's draining problem before indicating that some 300 acres of Altamonte Springs drains eastwardly into Gee Creek. Swofford concurred and said that he had resided in Altamonte for 30 years, too, and he had never heard of it, either.

"Certain comments," Avery said, "were made that no part of Altamonte Springs drained through Gee Creek. Nothing could be more incorrect. If drainage surveys performed by competent licensed engineers and other hydraulic information prepared by the U.S. Government is to be relied upon, the full facts related to draining in Altamonte Springs are:

"Approximately 300 acres drain into Prairie Lake, thence to Casselberry, thence to Lake Kathryn, thence to Gee Creek and thence to Lake Jessup;

"Approximately 250 other acres in the southwest part of Altamonte Springs drains into Lake Orietta which is land locked. Other acreage in the extreme southern part of the town drains into Lake Seminary; and,

"An interesting fact is that the boundary of Altamonte Springs extends into Prairie Lake.

"These are facts," Avery declared, "that the Town of Altamonte Springs and its mayor may or may not be aware of but God has made it this way.

"Government topography maps, drainage survey information and the experience of the County Engineer is available to interested people at the Courthouse.

"The statement made by Swofford that the Board of County Commissioners would not listen to him is totally untrue," Avery continued.

"The Board, in conference, when informed that the mayor desired to talk, cancelled its business and allowed him to talk as long as he wanted to. He stated that no actual emergency existed in Crane's Roost and that waters could rise one more foot before flooding would result, but that he 'just wanted to let you know about the rising water.'

"The board questioned the mayor about ideas to alter problems and he said he did not have any.

"Later at the Civil Defense meeting the mayor was recognized and asked to present his estimated damages. He again stated that Crane's Roost was not an emergency."

Editor and Publisher said the 77 newspapers — those which reported to the poll — constitute 44 percent of the nation's dailies.

The sampling was made before the 10 newspapers in the Hearst group announced for Johnson today.

Board Offers Lake Kathryn Flood Relief

The Board of County Commissioners today authorized immediate action to alleviate flood conditions in the Lake Kathryn area by telling the county road department to obtain the necessary equipment to completely open Gee Creek which drains some 4,000 acres of South Seminole.

It was estimated that the cost would run between $3,000 and $5,000. But Chairman James Avery declared that even if there were only two people per acre the health and welfare of some 8,000 people is to be considered.

The Commission also approved accepting an easement which will permit the County to cut a draining ditch between Big Bear Lake and Cub Lakes which will eliminate further draining from Big Bear into Cub through Little Bear Lake. The ditch will go under Bear Lake Road.

"We have 5,000 people on some 1,200 acres in this area," Avery pointed out, "and all residents are on wells and septic tanks."

SALVAGE OPERATIONS continued today for the Navy Vigilante plane which crashed in Lake Monroe. Yesterday Navy crews brought up portions of the aircraft. Constitution's 177th Birthday Is Celebrated Seminole County Civitans held a birthday party Thursday—for the United States Constitution, which is 177 years old this week.

"Few documents ever drawn have had the far-reaching effects of this one," said Judge Volle Williams, speaker for the occasion.

"Many other nations have copied our Constitution, including Cuba, in 1940. But it has no meaning, except that which is given in the hearts of 193 million Americans," the Judge pointed out.

"It has no meaning in Cuba now that the land has fallen to the Communists," he noted.

"The intent of the Constitution is to protect, rather than to govern. It is the concept of America that we are each like every other human bring—a child of God," he said.

"The Constitution is an offspring of the Magna Carta, which broke the back of rule by divine right, and imparted dignity to mankind.

"Three of the major points of this document is that it provides for free elections, indictment by a grand jury and the right to trial by a jury of your peers. A peer is an equal. The Constitution forbids the bestowing or the acceptance of titles," he noted.

"The Constitution was born in four months of stormy debate and deliberation as the men who drew it up hammered it into the cornerstone of our democracy.

"Today, 177 years after its birth, the Constitution has not changed. But interpretations have changed. The Supreme Court has often gone far afield in its interpretations and I am not happy about it," Judge Williams emphasized.

"Every American should have a copy of the U. S. Constitution in his home, should read it and comprehend the powers that are placed in the hands of the people. Think of the spirit of the men who drew it up, rather than of the words. Benjamin Franklin was 84 years old when he helped frame the Constitution," he noted.

Herlong Offers Reapportioning Proposal

Rep. A. S. Herlong has submitted a congressional reapportionment plan for Florida and it will be offered the Florida Legislature when it convenes early next year.

It has the approval of the congressional delegation from this state, Herlong told the Herald today.

The proposal would put Seminole, Orange, Brevard and Osceola counties in the 11th District. Now Seminole and Osceola are in Herlong's Fifth District.

The 11th District is represented by Rep. Ed Gurney of Winter Park. Gurney faces Tom Kenney of Cocoa Beach in the November election.

The plan would eliminate one district in North Florida and create a new one in the heavily populated southern end of the state.

Vigilante Wreckage Brought To Surface

By Harry I. Johnson
Managing Editor

They brought the remains of a Navy Vigilante jet from the bottom of Lake Monroe yesterday—in pieces.

About the biggest section seen by a Herald news team was the tail section which had been pulled from the murky, oil-slicked waters and placed aboard a barge.

The Navy had brought a crash workboat, a tug and two barges to Lake Monroe to salvage the aircraft which had fallen into the water Sept. 8 as two men aboard it were headed for safer ports to ride out hurricane Dora.

Both men were killed apparently on impact.

Still unsaid is why the men failed to eject when the developed trouble. Civilian speculation has it they knew of the danger but elected to ride the aircraft away from populous Sanford and to the water.

Sanford Naval Air Station tower personnel reported soon after the crash they saw a brief flash of firing after the plane had taken off and then lost sight of it in the pre-hurricane haze. It crashed seconds later.

The sections of the plane are being taken to the local air station to be analyzed in an effort to determine the cause of the fatal crash.

Throngs of curious lined the bank when the work began, some using binoculars to watch operations. Scores were on hand at the municipal pier when the barge arrived with the debris.

Sanford Police Chief Roy G. Williams was on the scene for much of the time to be sure the salvage work was not impeded by the curious.

South Atlantic Coast Advised To Be Alert

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Gladys shows no signs of turning its 125 mile an hour winds from a westerly course, forecasters said today.

"Interests along the South Atlantic Coast should keep in touch with advisories on Hurricane Gladys over this coming weekend," the weather bureau said.

Gladys, the season's seventh tropical storm and fourth hurricane, was moving slowly but should be close enough to the mainland Saturday night to push heavy seas against the coastline that already has been battered by hurricanes Cleo and Dora this year.

"However, present indications are that the leading edge of gale winds will still be 100 or more miles off the United States mainland by Sunday morning," an advisory said.

At 11 a.m. EST, Gladys was centered about 777 miles east of Miami and about the same distance from the North Carolina coast, near latitude 28.4, longitude 67.8. It was moving toward the west-northwest at 9 MPH.

Weathermen said that a cold front that moved over the northeastern United States was strengthening into a warm high pressure system that would continue to block the hurricane from turning more to the north. Furthermore the westerlies — high altitude west-to-east air streams — which sometimes turn tropical storms away from the mainland, were not affecting Gladys.

Even though the hurricane was far north of Puerto Rico, the weather bureau said it would cause rough seas with swells of 6 to 10 feet over the open waters along the north coast of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the northern leeward islands.

"Swells will also be felt on the northeastern sides of the outer Bahamas Islands," the weather bureau said.
