Anzio . . . Okinawa . . . Iwo Jima? On which beachhead did they find it, that cross crudely drawn in the sand? No doubt it appeared on every blood-stained shore where gallant men of Christian faith have fallen wounded or dying!

For the Cross on which Christ died has ever stood as the symbol of His Life and Truth. And often It has spoken eloquently what human lips could not frame.

Is it not too little simply to honor those who have fought and died for our freedom? Each generation must inscribe its own prayer on the beachhead of history.

Religious freedom is the heart of our heritage.

In a world in which Liberty must be armed to endure, faith must be practiced to be preserved.

Pray for yourself, your family, your nation, your world . . . in the church of your choice next Sunday.

Central Florida Rabbit Breeders Association will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at First Federal caucus room in Orlando.

From the mallbag: "The mall is a big improvement to an unsightly alley. But so many more improvements are so necessary. We do have a very nice, popular zoo to be proud of. Hundreds of people visit it every week. Then they look across the street at our delapidated band shell on Lake Monroe. . . . Just try to drive around the pier. The bumps are awful and dangerous to cars. What and when can something be done about this?"

Pre-school roundup will be held at the West Side building, Third and Maple, on Friday 1-3 p.m. for all children who will be entering the first grade of West Side Grammar School in the fall. Children must be six years of age on or before Jan. 1. Parents are requested to bring birth certificates or other legal proof of age.

The "Clock" has received an air mail special delivery letter from Chicago stating that the Nile and the St. Johns are not the only rivers running north. Now, we are beginning to believe this. But we enjoy the last paragraph: "Keep up the good work. We enjoy the Clock."

NAL Auxiliary of Letter Carriers is meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the First Federal caucus room.

Local politics in the campaigning just closing, made a point of having telephone service between north and south Seminole County. A letter today from Arthur H. Beckwith Jr., clerk of courts, reports his office has installed a toll free line to the Orlando exchange. From now on, South Seminole residents may telephone his office without toll charge.

Roger Miller, of Oviedo, adds to the odd names of municipalities with a list from Georgia. He reports of Pokedale, Hard Cash, Split Silk and Between. And he reminds of the old familiar odd name, Plum Nelly, plum out of Tennessee and nearly in Georgia.

Annual spring concert of the Seminole High School glee club will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. No charge.

Must have been a busy weekend at Seminole Memorial Hospital. From Thursday through Sunday there were 48 admissions, nine births and 35 discharges. Of the 35 admissions 14 were from out of town.

When introduced at the Oviedo High all sports banquet Friday night as the assistant to the president of A. Duda & Sons, James Colbert explained that when he was appointed to the position the only change was that he got the mail delivered to him instead of delivering it himself. While presenting the firm's trophy to Jimmy Courier as the school's most valuable baseball player, Colbert misread for a moment and remarked, "I guess I'll go back to delivering mail."

The thickest fog seen since one of our Clock winders left California blanketed an area between Casselberry and Sanford early this morning. Traffic was held to a snail's pace along the route. Oncoming autos, even with headlights burning, were barely visible at 40 feet in some places.

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider said that some 2,500 "iron" auto tags—advertising Seminole County and the six county municipalities plus Chuluota, are now in "circulation." Krider says that to his knowledge Seminole is the first county in Florida to use the plates in this manner.

Laos Rule Collapses As Reds Score Gains

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Laos' shaky truce and coalition government crumbled today under a Communist onslaught in the key Plain of Jars that sent neutralist military leader Gen. Kong Le fleeing to the hills.

Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma appealed to the British and Soviet envoys to do everything possible to stop the two-pronged offensive by the Communist Pathet Lao. Britain and Russia are co-chairmen of the 1962 Geneva conference which established the coalition government.

The Pathet Lao sweep of the strategic plain in central Laos dealt the coup de grace to the two-year-old cease-fire and virtually ended all hope for an early settlement of the political crisis.

The weekend successes of the Pathet Lao brought a top-level review of U. S. policy on Laos by American officials in Washington. Sunday Secretary of State Dean Rusk met with diplomatic representatives of a dozen countries involved with the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom.

The Pathet Lao attacks coincided with stepped-up Communist guerrilla activity in neighboring South Viet Nam, putting pro-Western forces on the defensive in key parts of Southeast Asia as the rainy season begins.

Informed observers in Vietnam believed the Pathet Lao offensive was the Communist's final reply to the union of neutralist and rightist forces achieved after the bloodless right-wing coup April 19.

Offering advice is Chief C. H. DeMorse, one of the attendants of the flight control system trainer. All functions of a real jet are performed by the person in the "cockpit" of the trainer. Thousands visited the base for the annual Armed Forces Day event. (Herald Photo)

Greater Effort Needed, He Tells Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson asked Congress today for an additional $125 million in economic and military aid to advance the anti-Communist war in Viet Nam.

"The Viet Cong guerrillas, under orders from their Communist masters in the north, have intensified terrorist actions against the peaceful people of South Viet Nam," Johnson said in a special message to Congress.

"This increased terrorism requires increased response," he said. Of the new funds, $70 million would be for economic and $55 million for military uses in Viet Nam.

Johnson said this was one of "two major changes" which prompted his request to add the $125 million for Viet Nam to the $3.4 billion foreign aid program he already had submitted to Congress for the 1965 fiscal year, starting July 1.

The other change, he said, was that "a new government under Prime Minister Khanh has come to power, bringing new energy and leadership and new hope for effective action."

"I share with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge the conviction that this new government can mount a successful campaign against the Communists," the President declared.

"We cannot respond to the new situation in Viet Nam within the limits of the original budget proposal without unacceptable danger to our other basic security interests," the President said.

Johnson noted that in March Khanh "declared his intention to mobilize his nation" and enlarge his domestic budget by 40 per cent to provide for this.

"We must share the increased costs of the greatly intensified Vietnamese effort," Johnson said.

Johnson said that in March Khanh "declared his intention to mobilize his nation" and enlarge his domestic budget by 40 per cent to provide for this.

Burns, High Separate After Heated Setto

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida's two Democratic gubernatorial opponents, with a civil rights wedge driven bluntly between them Sunday night, took their campaigns on separate ways in Dade County today.

Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns threatened Sunday night to lose it with no future dual appearances with Miami Mayor Robert King High "depending on his (High's) future conduct."

Burns was scheduled to meet an Elk's club in Homestead today and have a reception for a Miami supporter later. He is scheduled to be on a radio program later tonight.

High's campaign today was to start with a breakfast followed by a television taping session in the afternoon.

The pair had their fourth straight face-to-face meeting, and the hottest of the runoff campaign, at a television debate Sunday night.

The debate, which had been scheduled to go for a half hour, blossomed suddenly into an hour program when moderator — host Ralph Renick WTVJ steered the questions to civil rights.

Renick asked each candidate how he regarded NAACP approval of a candidate. The NAACP Political Action Committee, in a pre-first primary analysis, said High had the best attitude toward civil rights out of the six Democrats in the race.

But the NAACP says it did not "formally" back High. The two men answered the question, but the answers took too long for Burns.

He got up and headed off stage saying he would not participate further in the debate unless the format of the program was followed.

"I understood the questions from you (Renick) would be with one minute limitation. . . I did not know we were going to get into the same vicious attacks Mr. High has resorted to." But he returned and continued the clash after High asked: "Are we still on the air?"

Burns said before his temporary exit that he did not feel it was right for any kind of bloc vote, but High snapped that a Negro bloc vote helped elect the Jacksonville mayor. Burns conceded that he got a heavy Negro vote in his hometown, but added that "with the Negro vote thrown away, I still would have won."

Burns has claimed that High has the backing of the NAACP, and both High and the NAACP have denied any official backing in this direction. High, in turn, has accused the Jacksonville mayor — an unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1960 — of courting the Negro vote by playing up to the NAACP.

Renick asked each candidate how he regarded NAACP approval of a candidate. The NAACP Political Action Committee, in a pre-first primary analysis, said High had the best attitude toward civil rights out of the six Democrats in the race.

But the NAACP says it did not "formally" back High. The two men answered the question, but the answers took too long for Burns.

Final Canal Route To Be Discussed

Final alignment of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal will be discussed Friday at a luncheon meeting in DeLand with the DeLand Chamber of Commerce Caps Kennedy Access Road Committee.

The luncheon will be held in the Calico Kitchen Restaurant with directors of the Canal District. After it, the directors will meet with the Chamber group.

To be discussed is the highway which will parallel the canal and originate in the vicinity of the Orange City-DeLand interchange on I-4 and terminate at U.S. 1.

The canal will open up a waterway from Lake Monroe to the Indian River. Fill from the dredging operation will be used to build the highway.

The four-lane road will be located to the north of the canal and be placed far enough away from it so that the canal side can be utilized for industry, pleasure boating and other uses.

West of Sanford and near the St. Johns River bridge will be located a number of warehouses and terminal buildings to handle the expected outbreak of new materials arriving by way of the canal.

The Lake Monroe area would be reserved for a huge marina, according to plans now under discussion.

Maxwell Jury Being Chosen

Attorneys were questioning prospective Circuit Court jurors this morning in an effort to seat a six-man panel to hear an armed robbery charge.

The defendant was identified as Bernard Maxwell who allegedly used a knife to rob Charles Crispfield of $288.34 last Feb. 25.

The defense attorney is Paul C. Perkins of Orlando. Handling the prosecution is Attorney A. J. Hoesman. Hearing the case is Circuit Court Judge Volle A. Williams.

Deductions May Not Cover All Of Income Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said today it would ask businessmen to tell their employees about the possibility that not enough money would be withheld from their paychecks to cover income taxes due next April 15.

The federal tax agency plans to mail out notices to some 4½ million companies next Friday, urging that employees be advised "to review their tax status" for 1964.

Many companies have indicated they already are doing this, an IRS spokesman said. Payroll withholding may not be sufficient to cover tax liability this year because of the recently enacted $11.5 billion tax cut.

While everyone received a "substantial" reduction in taxes, it may not seem so to some taxpayers, when they file their returns next spring unless they act now to correct the situation.

Starting last March 5, the rate at which taxes are withheld from wages dropped four points — from 18 down to 14 per cent. But the tax rates themselves — the rates at which taxpayers must finally pay — did not drop so fast.

Congress wrote the law so that tax rates would fall in two stages, not reaching the bottom until 1965.

Technicians To Visit SNAS

An estimated 250 members, wives and guests of six Central Florida technical groups will inspect some of the Navy's latest technology tomorrow as they visit the Sanford Naval Air Station for a tour and aircraft carrier landing demonstration.

Later the groups will hold a combined dinner meeting at the Mayfair Inn where they'll hear an address by Capt. James O. Mayo, Commander of Sanford's Heavy Attack Wing One.

The Orlando chapter of the American Society for Metals is arranging the program. Also included are the American Society for Chemical Engineers, the American Society of Tool Manufacturers and Engineers, the Florida Engineering Society, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Society of Quality Control Engineers.

The combined technical societies will assemble at 5:30 p. m. in the NAS Sanford auditorium. They will inspect the Navy's new twin-jet RA-5C Vigilant reconnaissance bomber on the flight line and in the air during Field Mirror Landing Practice, a simulation of aircraft carrier landings.

Finally they'll tour new facilities of the Naval Air Maintenance Training Group, which trains support personnel for Sanford's six squadrons.

Viet Cong Hits Five Outposts, Sink Vessel

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A series of hit-and-run attacks on government forces indicated today that the Communist Viet Cong has started a rainy season offensive.

The South Viet Nam government announced that Communist guerrillas attacked five government outposts and sank a landing craft in weekend action near the Cambodian border, leaving as many as 46 Vietnamese soldiers dead or missing.

The synchronized attacks followed Thursday's Communist ambush near Saigon in which 31 government troops were killed.

There were no reports of Viet Cong losses in the weekend attacks, or casualties among the more than 15,000 U. S. advisers aiding the Vietnamese in the guerrilla war.

Vietnamese officials and their American advisers have been anticipating stepped-up guerrilla activities to coincide with the beginning of the rainy season. During the four-month season, heavy rains turn rice paddies into seas of mud which give an advantage to the kind of hit-and-run tactics used by the Viet Cong.

Shift In Laos Policy Hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. policy in Laos was being given deep soul-searching thought today by administration officials concerned about new Communist attacks in the Southeast Asian trouble-spot.

American officials said some major decisions might have to be made soon. There was a feeling in high quarters that the latest red attacks might be the "last straw" — that the Communists could not be permitted to keep on violating the Laotian truce.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summoned to conferences at the State Department Sunday diplomats from a dozen countries with special interest in Laos.

EDWARD KOSKY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louisa Kosky, 101 Pinecrest Drive, has received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. from U. S. Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. He will report for duty June 30.

Bryant To Open I-4 On May 29

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant will cut the ribbon May 29 opening Interstate Highway Four from Daytona Beach to Orlando.

The 3 p. m. ceremony at Daytona will open all of this free express highway between Daytona Beach and Tampa, except for the section from Downstown Orlando north. The rest has been opened previously.

Confession Of Theft Reported

Chief of Police George Kelsey reported today that Boyd E. Edwards, 25, of Orlando, had confessed to breaking in to the city hall and breaking open the safe, taking records, checks and $147 in cash. Kelsey said the checks and cash were returned.

Edwards, charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny, was released under $2,500 bond by Peace Justice Thomas Moon.

1964 MAY DAY KING AND QUEEN, Dale Alexander and Brenda Brown.

JUNIOR ATTENDANTS, and dates, Ronnie Hinson and Linda Spencer; Joe Farless and Janie White.

SENIOR ATTENDANTS and dates, Kenny Poff and Barbara Watson; Billy Wiggins and Carl Wheatland.

SOPHOMORE ATTENDANTS and dates, John Cannavino and Marilyn Epps; Leroy Nopper and Bonnie Todd.

For centuries, Latin, Germanic and Celtic races have associated May Day with religious and other festive observances. To this day, May Day customs survive in May pole dances, the crowning of the queen of May and outings to field and forest.

In keeping with ancient tradition, the Student Council of Seminole High School staged their annual May Day Ball Saturday night at the Civic Center with "Reflections of Spring" carried out in elegance and splendor.

The entire auditorium of the Civic Center was transformed into an enchanting garden, featuring arched arbors clinging with vines interspersed with miniature umbrellas. Centering the area was the traditional May pole with brilliantly hued streamers and balloons, surrounded by a profusion of greenery and white wrought-iron garden furniture.

The colorful coronation ceremony depicted the pomp and solemnity of the investiture of a royal monarch. Steve Sewell introduced the king and queen and attendants as they promenade under the arched arbors to approach the stage. The queen and her attendants carried beautiful bouquets tinted in accord with their lovely formals, and their dates all wore matching bouillonieres.

Preceding the introduction of the court were Vicky Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Reynolds, who served as flower girl and Kevin Epps, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Epps, Jr. who was crown bearer.

The lovely queen, Brenda Brown, was crowned in an exquisite floor length white sheer organza creation with her tiara sparkling as she entered on the arm of king, Dale Alexander, dressed in all white formal attire.

Attendants and their dates were, seniors, Barbara Watson and Kenny Poff and Carl Wheatland and Billy Wiggins. Junior attendants were Linda Spencer and Ronnie Hinson and Janie White and Joe Farless. Sophomores were Marilyn Epps and John Cannavino and Bonnie Todd and Leroy Nopper.

The tables were centered with miniature May poles, surrounded with fern and umbrellas. A variety of cakes, candies, nuts and punch was served during the evening.

Miss Jerl Wheatland, popular and talented vocalist, held the audience captive with a musical medley.

Dance music was furnished by "The Coachmen."

Miss Ethel Riser and Paul Hickson, assisted by Miss Ollie Reese Whittle were faculty chairmen of this fabulous May Day Ball Coronation.

Student Committees assisting with the highly successful ball were Invitations, Carl Wheatland, chairman; Band contract, Jimmy Dodson, chairman; Refreshments, Susie Halback, chairman with Carol Oxford, co-chairman; Reserve Civic Center, Con Wilson, chairman; Equipment and supply, Ronnie Hall, chairman, assisted by Bill Stemper and Dale Alexander.

Thousands Visit Sanford Navy Air Station For Open House

Several thousand visitors milled around Sanford Naval Air Station Saturday for four hours of inspecting the modern facility.

Central Florida WW Council Meets

The Welcome Wagon Council of Central Florida met Tuesday, May 12, at the Winter Haven Moose Lodge with a total of 63 women present, representing some 3,000 members of the 19 clubs which are active in the council. Hostesses for the event were members of the Winter Haven Club.

Speaker for the day was E. L. Davis, executive vice president of the Winter Haven Chamber of Commerce, who spoke favorably on the part Welcome Wagon plays in his city.

Recommendations presented by Mrs. Margaret Cann, executive supervisor were: (1) keep a file on all council meetings; (2) pass the file on to incoming presidents for use as reference material (3) all clubs should become members of the council; (4) all clubs should establish a calendar basis with all officers coming in at the same time, preferably in January, and (5) annual reports from all clubs are to be turned in to Mrs. Cann at the end of 1964.

Mrs. Cann will offer a prize of $10 to the club having the largest representation at the Ocala council meeting which will be held at Silver Springs, Sept. 18.

through knowledge that the Navy's air arm is flexed and ready to strike whenever the need arises.

THIRD GRADE CHILDREN of Mrs. Mildred Whigham, Mrs. Frances Kaleb and Mrs. Long of Westside Grammar School presented an operetta, "If I Were Going," recently at the school. Countries "visited" included Norway, England, Brittany, France, Spain and Africa. Children wore costumes and presented songs and dances of the countries with the assistance of Mrs. Ralph Stumpf, music teacher. Scenes were drawn by the pupils.

The gates were opened at 10 a. m. Saturday and the crowds were not long in coming. The displays were "secured" shortly after 2 p. m. and the throngs began a gradual departure.

Probably the most spectacular event of the day was the air-sea helicopter rescue performed by Lt. E. H. Haupt in front of the base tower.

The crowd was kept behind a roped-off area as the "downed" man. As the lifts were made, the crowd sent up a loud cheer.

The noon activity was followed by a crash-firefighting display and it too drew loud applause and cheers from the crowd.

Many types of Navy aircraft were on display throughout the four hours with pilots and other crewmen offering advice to those seeking it on the capabilities of the planes.

All buildings were open for inspection and drew considerable response from the visitors. Navy personnel explained the operations of all phases from the giant jet engines to radio control and communications.

Continuous movies were shown in one building and it too drew an active response. Many films which have only recently been declassified were seen. These included the previously secret ejection seat which allows a crewman to be tossed free of the aircraft even while it is still on the ground.

NATO Nuclear Hopes Brighten

THE HAGUE (UPI) — Allied sources said today recent off-stage consultations have "considerably increased" the likelihood of Allied approval of the internationally-manned nuclear navy proposed by the United States.

They said the U.S.-favored force of surface vessels equipped with Polaris missiles probably will come into existence, perhaps early next year.

Opposition to the project was said to have lessened because it was regarded as offering political advantages.

A U.S. destroyer is to start experimental operation, probably next month. West Germany, Italy, Britain, Holland, Greece and Turkey have agreed to make men available for its crew.

Voters Reject Opportunity

The recent defeat of the water control bill was a defeat the people of Seminole handed themselves. Obviously the people did not comprehend the measure because they rejected exactly what they asked the County Commission for in 1961.

It was then, after water brought severe damages to certain areas, the people asked the Commission for action but, legally, could obtain only sympathy.

But the Commission decided to do something more. They investigated and found that a water control measure was vitally needed. They went to Atlanta and asked the Housing and Home Finance Agency for help.

But the agency said that before they could grant funds to finance a master control plan the county would have to have authority to put the plan in effect. They did not say that the county would have to carry out the plan — only that it have the authority.

To get it the Commission asked the county's legislative delegation to get approval to put the measure on the ballot. This would have been sufficient for the HHFA to grant the funds necessary to provide the county with a master plan.

Opponents of the bill said that the taxing powers of the Commission would be too broad. But they overlooked the fact that even today the Commission has the power to levy a tax up to 10 mills for roads and bridges but only 1.66 mills is actually being levied. This is true in a number of other areas. It was also charged that the Commission could obligate the taxpayers by issuance of general obligation bonds. True, but not without a referendum vote of freeholders and in full compliance of existing state laws which govern such matters.

This leads us to believe that the Commission has been, in now and would be in the future quite prudent in setting millages in all areas of county management.

While our sister county of Orange, already having received some $200,000 in federal funds for its master plan which is now 80 percent complete, moves forward, Seminole must await the next session of the legislature for permission to again put the measure before the people. It will require another 18 to 24 months.

Opponents of the bill charged the commission with having ulterior motives. Nothing could have been further from the truth. The commission's only desire was to devise a water control plan for Seminole, set up districts, and let the people themselves vote as to what they thought best for their own area.

The voters did not reject the County Commission. They rejected the opportunity to improve their own properties and enhance its monetary and material value.

A Show Of Strength

Every now and then, when my mind comes out of hibernation for a bit of exercise, I seize the opportunity to try to put the goings on in Laos in order.

A man's mind must be in top gear, with its cerebellum hitting on all eight, and all lobes lubricated, for him to straighten out Laos.

Usually I have the help of my man in Vietnam, but he was involved in Monday's coup (or was it Wednesday's coup?) and the cable office was held by the Yang Wats, a splinter group of the left-center neutralist-vegetarian party, the Pathet Vos. So, his normally informative dispatch could not be sent.

This meant I had to go it alone, and going it alone in Laos is treacherous business. It is always safe, however, to assume that Prince Souvanna Phouma is shaky and in trouble. He claims to be a neutralist, but if he is he is the only one in Laos.

The Prince has just announced that he is taking over the direction of all military affairs. To do this, he will have to equal Stephen Leacock's messenger who "mounted his horse and galloped off in all directions." And one must not forget that Souvanna Phouma (sounds like a great Southern dish from Savannah, doesn't it?) has to come to terms with his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong who, up until we went to press, was leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, formerly known as the Lap Pats.

The Pathet Lao, you will most certainly remember, broke away from the Kong Le party after an argument over the use of glass pole-vaulting poles. No I'm wrong. That argument, which brought about open warfare in the Lang Dat delta, was between the Khat Koo and the Whang Nangs.

If this comes about, and there is a strong likelihood that it will, Phouma, and his aide-de-camp, Oomph La, will have to turn their backs on the Viet Vites, headed by Chang Koo, and seek aid either from Household Finance or the Solt Bank.

It is common knowledge that the real strong man in Laos, although his name is never mentioned in polite society, or even in the deepest bush, is Prince Lao Low, a full half-brother to Oomph La. If this behind-the-scenes string-puller decides to make a show of strength, there is nothing to prevent the total collapse of Khat Kan, who has been hiding his time under the alias of Lymph Lun.

If that happens — well, there could be real trouble in Laos. Let us all hope and pray that things in Laos will remain fairly firm and as static as they are today.

The Fall Whistle Stop Tour Begins

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Studies by startled U. S. scientists reveal that the Soviet Union is putting 80 percent more effort than the United States into learning how to control the energy that's in the H-bomb.

The United States now has 365 scientists on controlled thermonuclear research. The Soviet Union has 600 on this potentially tremendous source of power.

The Russians are investing heavily in new research buildings and in high-powered equipment. The Kurchatov laboratory in Moscow is the largest in the world in fusion research.

The Communist party has ordered that controlled fusion research be put on the first priority list and all monetary ceilings removed.

Soviet scientists already have moved so fast in one crucial fusion control problem, reports a highly placed U. S. nuclear physicist, that their results have sparked a whole series of new ideas in the United States.

Until recently, U. S. scientists have been confident that we were well ahead of the Russians. That may still be true, for the big Soviet push is less than four years old. But with this new Soviet effort, U. S. superiority could disappear in less than five years. Some scientists believe the U.S.S.R. is already ahead.

If the Soviets get there first in fusion control, it would bring a bigger worldwide shock than the first Sputnik. As one scientist puts it, "In the long run it is much more important to solve (the) energy (needs of) mankind forever than just to put a satellite up."

The major problem in controlled fusion is learning how to contain large amounts of the interacting hot gas particles bring them toward temperatures equaling those on the sun's surface and concentrate or contain these gases (plasma) in a small enough space with sufficient stability so that fusion will take place continuously.

Scientists have been able to do this only with very small amounts of plasma for tiny periods of time. Some startling, absolutely new developments were discovered recently during a trip to the Soviet Union by a group of top-flight U. S. government thermonuclear experts. The new developments included:

1. One of the major problems in controlling thermonuclear reactions is to keep the plasma mixture stable so that the production of energy will continue.

U. S. scientists were impressed by an ingenious Soviet development "whereby as soon as the plasma begins to get unstable you reverse some of the magnetic field within about a millionth of a second, so that the conditions are reversed and it becomes stable again. Then, in another millionth of a second you do it again."

2. Getting the plasma mixture hot enough for fusion to take place is a second major problem. At Kharkov the Americans found the Russians in a key experiment had managed to heat plasma about eight times hotter than we have.

3. Keeping the plasma mixture from escaping is a problem with gases so hot they can "burn" through any container. One way of doing this is by means of a mirror machine, which uses a magnetic field to reflect the escaping gases (plasma) back into the mixture. A Russian mirror machine, similar to one at Livermore, Calif., produces about three times the magnetic field with much simpler apparatus.

But what impressed the U. S. scientists most was the tremendous influx of bright young scientists and engineers into the Soviet-controlled thermonuclear research program.

To The Editor

At the end of the school year that he enjoyed the Bible stories more than anything they had during the school year. This is only to show that at least some children do get something out of it. I for one don't believe that the youths are much different than others before them.

R. A. Cobb

How does one go about thanking the wonderful people on your staff. It has been my privilege and wonderful experience to get with your personnel to publicize the "Merry Go Round" for the Seminole Association for Retarded Children which turned out to be a real success.

Yet I know that if your Julian Stenstrom, Doris Williams and Bill Vincent Jr., hadn't taken the time and effort, plus the encouragement I needed, I know I would have fallen by the wayside. When a man as busy as your associate editor takes the time to remove an obstacle in my path on a moment's notice and immediately takes the situation in hand it makes me realize I'm dealing with compassionate people and this is something we don't always find in business offices. As I talked with Mr. Stenstrom, your society editor Mrs. Williams and worked with Mr. Vincent, your photographer, I noticed the atmosphere in the office. Everyone seems happy doing whatever work is before them and apparently this rubs off on another. I'm sure that every Herald subscriber who reads this and has had the opportunity to be in the Herald office has noticed it also.

So allow me to humbly express my sincere appreciation to your staff and say "thanks a million." You'll have been wonderful.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Girls, you can increase your chances of happy marriage if you will analyze the "image" which men hold of the women they plan to marry. Even your envelope and stationery can help, so scrapbook this case and its follow-up tomorrow.

CASE 5-467: Jean J., aged 19, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have a sweetheart with the Army in Germany."

"But I am not a very talented letter writer. Oh, I write him two or three times per week, though he doesn't reply that often."

"However, I feel he may need to be cheered up so I don't try to keep an exact balance between the number of letters I send him in contrast to those he mails back to me."

"How can I make my letters more interesting?"

Letter Psychology
Girls, you can inflame the ego of your boy friends just by making the outer envelope suggest sweet femininity!

And when you cause a boy to feel more important, you already have the inside track toward winning his wedding ring.

Be picky out stationery that is of delicate pastel shades. Then don't hesitate to perfume it with delightful seductive scents.

Remember, when your letter reaches the other end of the line, his buddies may seize your envelope and inhale the fragrant perfume.

"Hey, Jim," they may loudly exclaim, "here's another letter from that cutie of yours back in the States."

"If she's as sweet as her letters smell, she is a hum-dinger!"

Do you girls think for even a moment that such favorable comments from his buddies will offend your boy friend? Not on your life!

For your envelope has given him favorable publicity. It has made him feel important in the eyes of his pals. He may be kidded for being a Don Juan, even though he is a very shy or timid suitor, but men eat that up!

Besides, delicate perfumes are associated with sweethearts so scented letters start a romantic train of thought that will lead to you!

In fact, the role of perfume has never been properly investigated as regards romance.

But it wields tremendous influence as a subconscious persuader!

A smart girl thus uses all the legitimate psychological aids to maintain the "image" of a sweetheart which men hold regarding women.

For example, men abhor cigars in the mouths of their girl friends, especially when they are thinking of marriage.

The same goes for liquor glasses and rough talk or risque stories.

Oh, they may ply a "good time girlie" with liquor, offer her cigarettes, and laugh at her sexy jokes.

But they aren't planning to marry that type of girl! They are just urging her into a quick state of inebriety so they can have an affair.

So don't be deluded by the glib advertising that tries to make teenage girls imagine they will be more attractive if they smoke or drink.

Thousands of toponch men who apply to our Scientific Marriage Foundation tell us: "Don't waste my time introducing me to a girl who smokes!"

Yet those same men may be chain smokers themselves! But they know cigarettes debase the "image" of a truly feminine type of girl.

And in marriage, opposites attract, meaning sexual opposites.

Thus, a girl wants a masculine boy friend while a man desires a very feminine sweetheart; not a half-masculinized female!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Matter of Fact

John Hancock's career in the cause of American independence may have been influenced by the British seizure in Boston in 1768 of the sloop "Liberty" for failure to pay duty on a cargo of wine consigned to Hancock. He became a member of a committee appointed after the Boston Massacre of 1770 to demand the removal of the British troops from the town.

Welcome Wagon Board Feted At Luncheon

Fifteen executive board members of the South Seminole Welcome Wagon Club were entertained at luncheon at their May meeting held at the home of Mrs. Juanita Moore, 113 Oak Street, Sanlando Springs.

During the business meeting, with Mrs. Sandy LaPoma, president, presiding, plans were approved to invite the club's sponsor to be guest at the May 28 general membership meeting which will be held at the Trade Winds in Seminole Plaza at 10 a.m. Card games will start at 12:30 p.m. followed by luncheon at 12:30. All past presidents are especially invited to attend.

An exchange of comic gifts among the members will be conducted in celebration of the club's fourth anniversary.

Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Cathryn Wesley and Mrs. Lucille Crowell reported on their visit to the three children sponsored by the club at Sunland Training Center. Toys were taken to each child. The board voted to again sponsor a ward birthday party for Darlene, one of the children, next month. All members will be asked to donate cupcakes and those not used in Darlene's ward will be served to the children in other wards. Soft drinks, ice cream and a toy for each child in the honor-ore's ward will be provided by the club.

Mrs. LaPoma reported on the meeting of the Central Florida Welcome Wagon Council which was held May 12 in Winter Haven. Others attending were Mrs. Crowell, Mrs. Gilda Pettinai and Mrs. Maryann Milcs.

The next board meeting will be held at 11:30, June 15, at the Trade Winds.

new officers at the final meeting for this school year.

James Birkenmeyer of Casselberry, school board member, was installing officer. New officers are Mrs. Gerald McGinnis, president; Mrs. T. J. Durrance, first vice president; Mrs. William R. Eggars, second vice president; Mrs. D. F. Fenstermaker, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert L. May, corresponding secretary and Mrs. David Joyce, treasurer.

Each of the officers received a lovely carnation corsage.

Mrs. McGinnis introduced the following committee chairmen appointed to serve next year: Mrs. J. T. Clark, awards; Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. R. L. Heintzelman, clinic mothers; Christy Harp, beautification; Mrs. J. H. Van Epoel, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. E. Wright, finance; Mrs. G. T. Casalou, library; Mrs. E. M. Cadiz, room mothers, grades one through three; Mrs. Bradford Lyon, room mothers grades four through six; Mrs. Ralph Moore, membership; Mrs. Frank Leist, newsletter and Mrs. Leonard Casselberry, publicity.

As a result of the $476.47 netted from the Spring Festival last month, in addition to other fund raising projects, the treasurer reported a balance of $952.27. The outgoing president, Mrs. H. D. Sterling, read reports on proposed projects for the school and the membership voted in favor of purchasing maps and globes amounting to $398; a portable PA system costing $67.60 including labor for installation; and 13 fans at $29.74 each. A sum of $50 will be held over for next year's budget which was estimated for $810 and approved.

Mrs. Sterling gave her annual report detailing CTP activities for the past year. Membership for the year totaled 381 and 22 mothers served regularly in the school clinic treating a total of 792 children. Clinic mothers also conducted eye and ear tests. Parents were invited to visit the classrooms following the meeting.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Juliana Stenstrom
All sports banquets.

So far we've covered two of them. One at Lyman where Chicago Bear Quarterback Bill Wade was the featured speaker, the other last Friday night at Oviedo where the principal address was delivered by Florida State University's football coach, Bill Peterson. Both almost reached the outer limits.

Now with two down and one to go, Seminole High's big night is to come on May 26. And the Tribe's authorities are going to have to go a long way to pass what we've seen and heard thus far.

Back at Oviedo, we've never seen such spirit. Neither have we seen a bunch of athletes, parents and townspeople as anxious for one school year to end and another to begin. In 1962, Oviedo's first year of football, the Lions hoped to score two touchdowns all season. If they did that they'd consider it a big year. Why, they had men on that club who'd never seen goalposts until they ran out on the field for their first game—in 1962, that is.

But the Lions did better than pick up a pair of TD's. They posted two wins and a tie. Last season—their second—they won four and tied one. Now, this crew is getting set to go undefeated. And most of their ball club is back again.

The same thing is true for the Lions' basketball team. And ditto again for baseball. Without a doubt they had the finest edge and did a good team in the county this season. Not bad for a high school with some 70 boys enrolled. Another pair of items the fans are looking forward to is the heating of the gymnasium over there next winter for basketball and eventually the lighting of the baseball field for night ball.

We were lucky enough to be seated next to Johnny Courrier and his lovely wife, Dorothy. They're the parents of the Oviedo ace—Jim Courrier. Johnny is an ex-Seminole High star—particularly in football during the early '50's. Johnny recalled the days when he quarterbacked the old Celery Feds. Those were the days when Seminole had such greats as George Moya, Don Jackson (later all-American at North Carolina), Clifford Howell, Fulton Hester, Hendrix Lyles, Stinson Kinlaw, Dub Entsminger, Ushy Kanner (all-Southern center during his senior year at SHS), Wilson Smith, Skinny Vincent, George McClelland, Woody Riser, Pete Higgins.

Quite an array of talent in those days, SES had. And they had to have it because Coach Leonard McLucas played such clubs as Lee and Jackson of Jacksonville, Ocala, Daytona Beach Mainland, Orlando Senior High, Leesburg, Rollins Frosh and many of the other top eleven in Florida.

Johnny recalled the time when Hendrix Lyles fumbled the ball in a crucial spot during a Seminole affair. The following week McLucas made Lyles carry the ball everywhere he went—day in and day out—all week long.

Courrier also remembered the time when a Seminole back was downed about two yards inside the sideline. In those days you had to put the ball in play where it went down, even if six linemen had to line up on one side of the center. Courrier was quarterbacking and told Moya to take the snap and run it out of bounds. Then the ball would be spotted 18 yards from the nearest sideline. Moya took the ball, but he didn't dash out of bounds. He went all the way for a TD.

Those were the days, all right. But we imagine they couldn't have been anymore thrilling to John Courrier than Friday night when he heard his son, Jim, called up front to receive trophies for being named the most valuable foot-

Courier Wins 3 MVP Awards; Scott Named Grid Coach

Youth Captures Grid, Cage And Baseball Honors

By Juliana Stenstrom
Last Friday night's all-sports banquet at Oviedo High School's cafeteria almost turned out to be an "appreciation night" meeting of the Jim Courier fan club.

The versatile Lion who excels in baseball, basketball and football was given a tremendous trio of honors when he won just about everything except The Sanford Herald's trophy symbolic of the Lions being named the Seminole County cage champions for this current school year. Courier had to share that with his eager mates.

But Courier did walk off with the most valuable trophies in baseball, basketball and football while Ted Bellhorn captured the MVP award for track. It was a signal honor for Bellhorn since the youngster has now won the award two consecutive years.

The affair was also highlighted by an address by Bill Peterson, head football coach at Florida State University. He outlines the qualifications he looked for in athletes. The FSU mentor cracked a series of rapidfire athletic jokes as did master of ceremonies, Bob Ward, an Oviedo grower.

L. H. Webb, executive vice president of the Citizens Bank of Oviedo, presented the firm's award to Courier as the most valuable football player. Coach Jim Palmer reviewed the season and presented awards to Ted Bellhorn for being the best line-man and Rex Brooks for being the top back.

The Herald's trophy symbolic of the county's cage title was presented to basketball to co-captains Courier and Bellhorn.

The Jones Memorial trophy for being the most valuable player was presented to Courier by Jimmy Jones, a former Oviedo athlete. Coach Paul Mikler outlined the basketball season and presented Bellhorn with an award for being the best defensive cager and another to Billy Mikler for being the top offensive man.

James Colbert, assistant to the president of A. Duda and Sons, said he was reminded of the old tune, "I've Heard That Song Before," when he called up Courier to take the firm's trophy for being the most valuable baseball player. Colbert reviewed Courier's feats on the mound this season, pointed out that he had allowed only three earned runs all season, and stressed the youngster's batting average of .568. Coach Mikler recalled the highlights of the diamond schedule and presented the best offensive man award to Brooks, a Lion catcher, and the best fielding award to Danny Gammage, an outfielder.

The school's own trophy given to the top track athlete went to Bellhorn, a second year winner. The best sprinter award went to Billy Mikler and Brett Thompson won the award for being the squad top field man.

Mikler, also athletic director at the school, expressed his appreciation to the newspapers for what he called the best coverage the school's athletic teams ever received and made particular mention of young Joe Warden, a senior student at Oviedo, who served as The Herald's sports correspondent this year. Mikler referred to Warden as "the second Dr. Gallop" when it comes to statistics.

ball player, the most valuable basketball player, and the most valuable baseball player.

Jim's only a junior, too. He'll be back to quarterback the Lions on the gridiron next fall, to lead the cagers next winter, and hurl for the Oviedo baseball team next Spring. And, don't think coaches Art Scott and Paul Mikler aren't happy about that!

South Seminole Little League Field Dedicated

By James Casselberry
Officials of the South Seminole Little League were justifiably proud Saturday night at the dedication of the newly lighted field in Casselberry.

It seemed that everyone wanted a part in the celebration of the completion of the project and even the proverbial dog showed up to run around the field in obvious approval.

Members of the South Seminole Junior High School Band played several numbers under the direction of bandmaster George Kirshen and gave a stirring rendition of our National Anthem following the raising of the colors by Boy Scout Troop 212 of Lake Mary. Roy Howell Jr., Jr., is scoutmaster of the troop.

Art Lego, Manager Coach of the Casselberry Senior League Team, was master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by Rev. Leonard Jones of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church. State Rep. Joe Davis spoke commending those who had a part in improving the field for solving their problem on a local level in the democratic way instead of looking to government bureaucracy to do it for them. He also said that if the "steamwork" found in the sport of baseball was applied to our county we would all see tremendous growth.

Area director of Little League for District 3, Jim Slade, of Orlando congratulated the league on its fine field and stated that there are now 29 leagues in his district with 4,976 Little League players. The Little League pledge was given by Jimmy Dunham a member of the Sunland team.

Official lease papers were exchanged between Hibbard Casselberry who is leasing the property to the Towns of Casselberry, city officials who are sub-leasing to the South Seminole League and league officials.

All the Little League teams in the loop including senior and farm teams, made an impressive sight as they massed on the infield with their coaches and managers.

Teams included in the league are Altamonte Twins, coach Lamar Cockrell; Altamonte Senators, Lorne Jacob; Bear Lake, John Brewer; Casselberry, Elmer Helms; Lake Mary, Charles Smith; Longwood, C. L. Cooper; North Orlando, Tony Kreeck; and Sunland Estate, Frank Roncome.

In the Senior League, managers are Howard Willoughby, Altamonte; Bill Powell, Bear Lake; Jack Simpkins, Longwood; Art Lego and Larry Miller, Casselberry; O. P. Birch and Jim Greenwood, Sunland; and Merle Brown, North Orlando. Player agents are Lewis Cole and Elmer Helms.

All of these managers received Little League pins along with manager of the farm teams, league officers and auxiliary officers.

Officers of the league are Bill Livingston, president; C. L. Cooper, vice president; Bob Conover, treasurer; Mrs. Athalee Helms secretary; Carl Unley is vice president in charge of senior league.

Officers of the auxiliary include Mrs. Esther Cote, president; Mrs. Joan Voskan, first vice president; Mrs. Ann Cooper, second vice president; Velma Brewer, Secretary; Dottie Culpepper, treasurer, and Mrs. Catherine Webb, past president.

Surging Yankees Close In On Sox; Giants Win Two

By United Press International
The Philadelphia Phillies have discovered a short cut to the National League pennant — and the path leads right through Houston.

The Phillies gave Chris Short his second start of the season Sunday night, and the lanky southpaw responded with a neat 2-0 dispatch of the Houston Colts in a quick two hours and 11 minutes.

Even in more of a hurry, however, was the Philadelphia infield, which in addition to producing two rather ordinary double plays completed the first triple play of the major league season.

The rare triple killing was as much the result of faulty Houston baserunning as defensive skill. With Rusty Staub on second and Walt Williams on first in the fifth inning, Colts' catcher Jerry Grote slashed a hard grounder to Phil's first baseman John Herrnstein. Herrnstein fired to shortstop Bobby Wine for one, and Wine relayed to Herrnstein for No. 2.

Staub, meanwhile, was wheeling for home, but Herrnstein astutely threw to catcher Gus Triandos to nip a run in the bud and provide Houston fans with their first encounter with a three-for-one Yogi Berra "retired" today . . . again.

Berra, who insisted he was all through playing last November then hedged a bit recently, put his mask and mitt back on Sunday for the first time since being named Yankees manager.

It was only for pre-game batting practice but the Yankees promptly got the message.

They went out and had their best day of the year by knocking over the Kansas City A's twice, 11-9 and 8-0, to climb within 10 percentage points of the first-place Chicago White Sox.

The San Francisco Giants received successive shutouts from lefty Bob Hendley and righty Ron Herbel in posting a doubleheader sweep of the Mets, 6-0 and 1-0. In other National League action, Pittsburgh split with the Dodgers, winning the nightcap 8-3 after losing, 3-2; St. Louis roughed up Milwaukee, 7-3, before the Braves took the second game, 4-2; and the Cubs and Reds divided a pair, Chicago winning the opener, 2-4 and Cincinnati the nightcap, 7-1.

Over in the American League Detroit swept two from Cleveland, 3-1 and 4-1. Minnesota nipped Boston, 6-5, after the Red Sox had won the opener, 6-2, and the White Sox edged Washington, 3-2, and Los Angeles routed Baltimore, 9-4, in single games.

DOUBLING UP
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (NEA)—Two of Syracuse University's top football quarterbacks are starters with the Orange baseball team. Rich King, who was No. 1 quarterback last fall, is in left field. Hal Rooney is the shortstop. Both are hitting over .300.

SOUTH SEMINOLE LITTLE LEAGUE President Bill Livingston winds up to toss out the first pitch which officially opened play on the league's newly lighted ball park at Casselberry. The Casselberry hurler, Bill Miller, watches.

Elks Win 1st Half; Navy Wallops Hunt

The Elks Club nine wrapped up the first half championship of the City Recreation Department's Junior League by whipping CPO 9 to 2 in a Friday contest at Memorial Stadium. Gary Maples hurled steady ball over the seven-inning route, allowing only four hits while whiffing nine. Maples, along with Don Nicholas, Mark Coole and Billy Miller each collected two hits to lead the Elks parade.

Maples and Bobby Powell, of Rotary, were the loop's only hurlers to pitch four wins and both did it without a setback during the league's first half.

Perfection Dairy and Florida State Bank played nip and tuck ball all the way with the Drymen edging the Bankers 12 to 9 in an overtime tilt. Skipper Dalton registered his initial pitching victory and Ben Twyman, Mark Cockman, Garvin Harden and Mike Hardin provided the hitting punch. Cockman hit for the circuit the third time this season.

The Perfection win left them tied with the Bankers for second place in the Little American League. In the Little National Chase took over third place by walloping First Federal, 10 to 3. Stan Winfree was the winning pitcher.

In a Saturday morning exhibition, Navy of the Little National topped Hunt Lincoln-Mercury, 8 to 3. Skipper Senark homered for Hunt but it was overshadowed by a pair of round trippers by the Navy's Freddie Turman of the Little American. Andy Rufus collected a trip of hits to assist the Navy's cause.

No games were played this weekend in the Men's Six-Pitch Softball League. Action resumes tonight when Kingswood meets Robbs and the USO tackles McRaney.

Assistant Will Replace Palmer As Oviedo Coach

Oviedo High School Athletic Director Paul Mikler announced Friday night that assistant football coach, Arthur Scott, has accepted the position of head football coach at the Oviedo school.

Scott will replace Jim Palmer who has coached the Lions during their first two seasons of football.

Palmer has accepted a position in the much needed field of counseling and will remain at Oviedo High in that capacity.

Scott came to Oviedo from the University of Alabama. He is now attempting to line up an assistant. He anticipates making an announcement within the next several weeks.

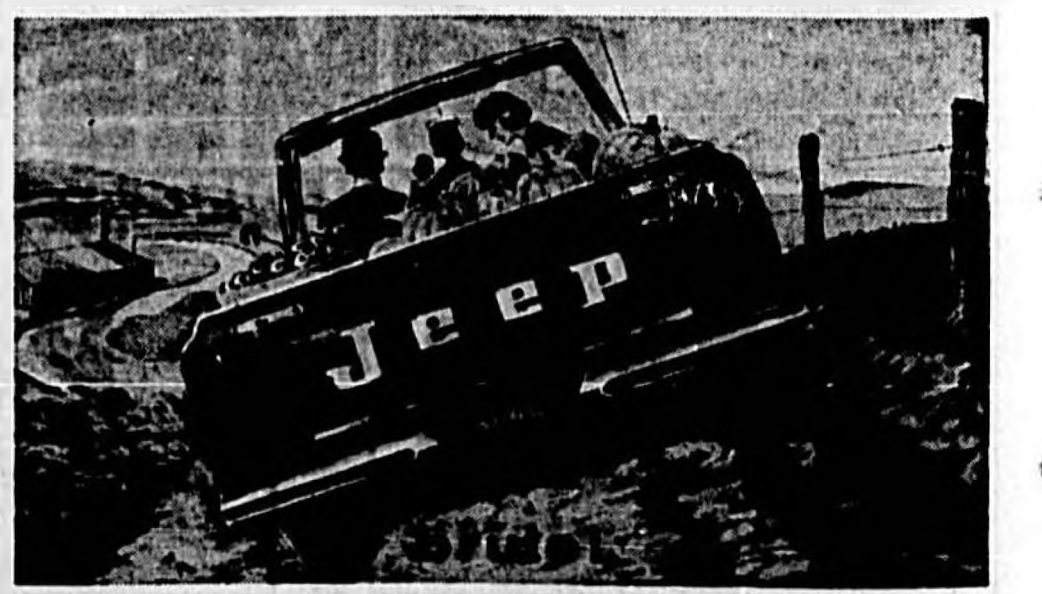

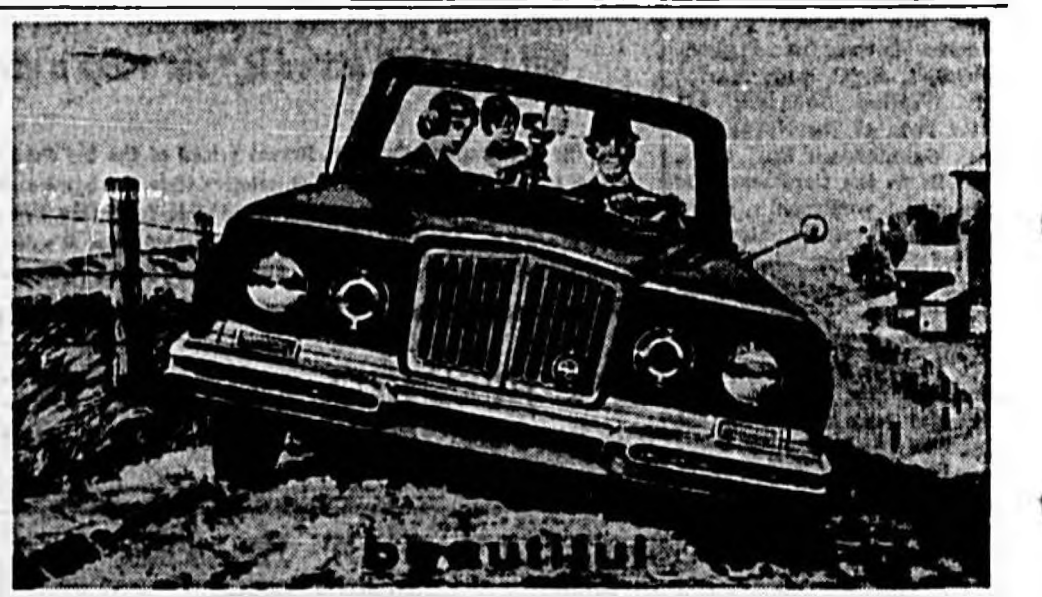

During Palmer's first season at Oviedo his club won two games and tied one. During the past season his club posted four wins and one tie. These were the first two years that Oviedo participated in football and Palmer was credited by school authorities and townspeople with doing a fine job with inexperienced material.

Arguments In Mississippi Suit To Begin Integration Launched

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Arguments open today on a year-old integration suit seeking to pierce racial barriers starting this fall in Jackson public schools.

The hearing, before U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize, involves a temporary court order issued two months ago directing school officials in Jackson, Biloxi and Leake counties to submit plans by July 15 for desegregation of at least one grade per year, beginning in September. Negro attorneys were expected to ask that the temporary injunction be made permanent. Attorneys for the school board oppose the move, largely on grounds that separation of Negro and white children is for the "best interests" of both races.

If Mize declines to set aside his previous order, it could bring about the first race-mixing in Mississippi below the college level. Mississippi is the last remaining state that has not made at least a token start toward public school integration since the U. S. Supreme Court's historic ruling 10 years ago.

WORK. ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Early morning rising and carrying through with duties ahead sees you making fine progress today and tonight. Plan your hours, whether at home or at business. On the road, too. TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Self-expression is the keynote today and you must do so to the best of your ability instead of being a dilettante. This comes easier than usual. Fundamental security for all is the first prerequisite. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You must get an early start at all business or creative affairs if you want to make a big surge forward. Be sure to get errands done, too. Show partners you are truly devoted. LEO (July 22 to August 21) You can easily interest some bigwig in a constructive plan which you have in mind, if you show you are a practical person. Cut down on expenses. Get property holdings in fine condition. VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) By digging up the data you need, you find you can go forward more easily and grow both in character and physically. Don't be afraid of new developments. This increases happiness, too. LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You can get the support you need provided you are secretive and do not confide in others. Personal anxieties can be eliminated by wise thinking. They are really very minor. SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) If you spend some time meditating, you find that you early make the right changes to improve conditions and relationships about you. Find the right data. Then carry on stalwartly. SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) If you are dynamic where business and creative affairs are concerned, you get ahead much faster. Show that you are wonderfully sociable. Gain fame thusly, too. CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) You can find just the right outlets that have eluded you in the past, if you take the time to investigate them. Set up appointments with the right people. Be more aggressive. AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) It is pretty much up to you if you want to improve conditions at home, temper and be more thoughtful. You have good ideas. Use more tact. PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Good pals will point out that the best way to please distraught associates is to be more attentive. Show generosity, also of spirit. Kindness pays off big dividends. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those overly-meticulous persons if you don't early teach to give more attention to the truly important issues in life and to stop fretting over details. The ability in this nature is considerable and much can be accomplished, for others as well, and right training makes difference between success or failure in this chart. Boy Hides Out 11 Days At World's Fair

NEW YORK (UPI) — In what may be one of the gross understatements of the year, Dominick Tucci's mother describes him as "adventurous."

The 12-year-old who hid out at the World's Fair for 11 days proved to his parents and security police that he not only is adventuresome but elusive and enterprising as well. Dominick, who sneaked onto the fairgrounds May 6, established his elusiveness beyond a doubt by remaining there day and night until Sunday—defying the best efforts of his parents and police to find him. They knew he was there.

His ability to live off the land, so to speak, proved the blond seventh grader's enterprising nature. He ate well, slept comfortably and managed to come up with enough spending money to occupy his waking hours.

In fact, he may prove to be one of the few fairgoers who left the grounds with as much money as he had when he arrived.

Dominick's springtime odyssey ended Sunday when a constabulary who had seen his picture in a newspaper noticed him in the flesh at one of the pavilions and alerted police.

They telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benito Tucci. The boy's much relieved mother said he is "adventurous, but not a bad boy."

Dominick set out for the fair from his home in Port Washington, in suburban Long Island, on May 6 after his parents told him they would not visit the fair until next fall. He used the last of his money for train fare.

How did Dominick live during the 11 days and 10 nights he spent on the fairgrounds?

For money, he spent the pre-dawn hours each day relieving the coins people had thrown into wishing-well fountains at the Bell Telephone Co. exhibit and other pavilions.

"Sometimes I got as much as five dollars," he said. "I ate hamburgers and had sodas. Except last Friday I had chow mein."

The 4-foot, 8-inch 60-pound youngster, who had become known to police as "The Phantom of the Fair," spent four nights in the dark and empty Continental Insurance Co. pavilion, and other nights in the Coca Cola, African and Johnson's Wax pavilions.

Was he afraid? "There's nothing to be afraid of," he said. "The fair is crawling with cops."

Dominick said he planned to stay the entire summer at the fair.

But his mother has other plans for him. She brought a clean set of clothing for him, then hustled him home.

MRS. CARL (SHIRLEY) SCHILKE, president of Seminole Memorial Hospital Ladies Auxiliary, presents $25 bond to Mrs. S. J. Dupree, mother of Betsy Letrea Dupree, first baby born at the hospital during National Hospital Week, May 10 through May 16.

Bill Asks Raise For Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

The Senate Civil Service Committee begins hearings today on a federal pay raise bill that includes a $7,500 a year salary boost for members of Congress.

The pay raise for representatives and senators, who now receive $22,500 a year, is part of a $513 million measure that would provide an over-all average increase of about 4 per cent for the almost two million classified and postal workers on the federal payroll.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., was expected to urge passage of the bill during testimony today. It already has been listed by President Johnson as "must" legislation this year.

William McKinley's portrait is on the $500 U. S. bill.

Maryland Outlook Encourages Wallace

BALTIMORE (UPI) —

Predictions of a heavy voter turnout in Tuesday's Maryland primary spurred Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., today in their final hours of campaigning.

Wallace, who has based his campaign on an attack on the administration's civil rights bill was to make his final campaign appearance tonight in the National Guard Armory at Glen Burnie.

Democratic leaders have estimated that the segregationist governor will get about 26 per cent of the vote.

Other observers have predicted he will receive as much as 40 per cent. Wallace has said he would view his campaign successful if he received 5 per cent of the Democratic vote.

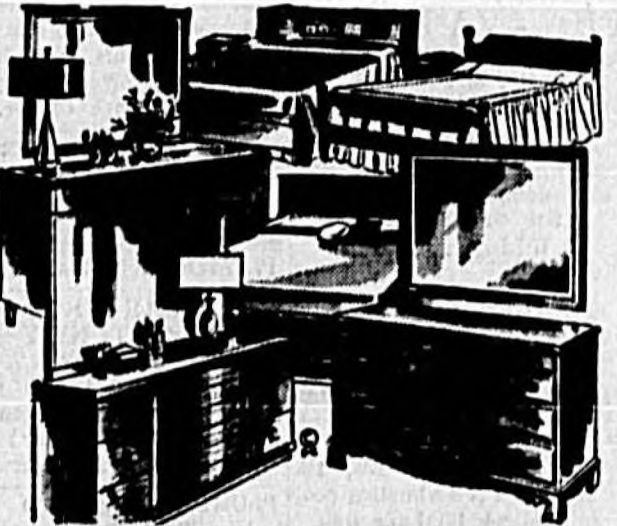

Brewster, President Johnson's stand-in in the battle for Maryland's 48 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, said he was completely confident of winning, and the only question was by how big a margin.

Regardless of the outcome of Tuesday's voting, convention delegates will be committed to a candidate only on the first ballot.

The Republican contest has been overshadowed by the bitter debate between Brewster and Wallace over civil rights versus state rights. GOP supporters will vote for an uninstruacted delegation to the Republican National Convention.

It was estimated that more than 600,000 votes would be cast in the hotly contested election that has brought many liberal Democratic senators into the state from near-by Washington to aid Brewster's campaign. A forecast of warm and fair weather throughout the state Tuesday was expected to help bring out the voters.

Tension Rises As Cuba Mobilizes

MIAMI (UPI) — Tension gripped Cuba today and Premier Fidel Castro's military guard was up to ward off a possible new attempt to overthrow his Communist regime.

An announcement was expected any time that Cuban exile leader Manuel Ray, reported to be considered by Castro as possibly his most dangerous enemy, had arrived in his homeland to take charge of anti-Castro operations by his Cuban Revolutionary Junta (JURE).

Ray has promised to return to Cuba by Wednesday, the 62nd anniversary of the island's independence from Spain.

Final Week Of Runoff Campaign Under Way

MIAMI (UPI) — Haydon Burns and Robert King High struck out for Central and North Florida today to start the final seven days of their runoff campaign for governor, and from now on they'll be making their pitches from separate podiums.

Burns was to leave Miami late in the morning - after a television taping session - for Jacksonville, where he will spend the rest of the day. Tonight or early Wednesday, he is due to head for Panama City and Pensacola for a last try at rounding up Panhandle support.

High also was to fly to Jacksonville today, but with a stop at Lakeland on the way. He hoped to be back home by tonight, however.

The two candidates spent much of the weekend in Dade County, which should cast close to one-fifth the total votes in the primary next Tuesday. Burns plans another trip into High's territory next weekend to wrap up his campaign.

Today, the Miami Herald declined to recommend either of the candidates to its readers. The paper said editorially that it was not impressed that either Robert King High or Haydon Burns is a towering candidate for governor.

The hottest exchanges of the runoff campaign have come in four point appearances of the candidates. But Burns put an end to these Monday by announcing there will be absolutely no more public appearances anywhere with him and the Miami mayor together.

"Let him conduct his own fifth and mud-slinging campaign in his own studio but not in my presence," said Burns. At a news conference, the Jacksonville mayor accused High of "flat refusal to follow the program set by the moderator" in past debates.

"He solely engages in unprovoked personal attacks," said Burns. High held his press conference later in the afternoon, and let fly at Burns in retaliation. He accused Burns of "running out," and said, "his campaign war chest is of such large proportions that apparently he feels he can buy this election."

"I am genuinely shocked at this maneuver on the part of Mr. Burns . . . public confrontation and debate by candidates for high public office is the American tradition," High said.

"The truth of the matter is that Mr. Burns is afraid to debate because each face-to-face debate has revealed his attempts to mislead the people of Florida."

Burns had a different view: "I think if there is to be a measure taken of gain or loss, I have picked up support three to one over Mr. High in the joint appearances. People do not hold with his trite approach," said Burns.

High, Burns added, "does not have a chance of election, and the public would look at me as a simpleton if I permitted him to deface the high office of governor" - in further debates.

High said Burns, because of "special interests" backing him could, not afford debate on High's proposal of a minimum wage for state workers, and that the Jacksonville mayor favors an extension of the state sales tax "which he disguises as a use tax."

High said, "I am genuinely shocked at this maneuver on the part of Mr. Burns . . . public confrontation and debate by candidates for high public office is the American tradition," High said.

lously waiting for some sign of Ray, and possibly another exile leader, Elroy Gutierrez Menoyo, who was at the helm of an anti-Castro plot called "plan Omega."

The Communist controlled island was on a maximum alert with troop and tank movements reported by newly arrived refugees and also government radio network messages monitored here by UPI.

Dispatches from Havana also revealed a state of military mobilization. Cuban Industry Minister Ernesto (Che) Guevara also disclosed the Castro regime is ready militarily. He said "something" was expected from the exiles, but gave assurances over Havana Radio that "we know how to handle it."

Guevara's admission was accompanied by a new warning from the Soviet Ambassador in Havana, Alexander Alexiev, that "the imperialists are mistaken if they believe they are going to act with impunity against Cuba."

Alexiev, in a statement broadcast over Havana Radio, reiterated Moscow's pledge to "stand by" Castro.

Compromise Bill Worse, Rights Foe Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said today that the Senate's new compromise civil rights bill is "more obnoxious" than the House version and that Southerners will continue their "educational campaign" against it.

The Georgia Democrat made the comment after a meeting of the Southern caucus. Southerners had been expected to oppose the compromise, which was drafted by Senate Democratic and Republican leaders in an effort to win non-Southern votes to close off debate on the rights bill.

Russell told reporters he believed the Senate's pro-civil rights faction still lacked the necessary votes to invoke cloture - or gag rule. Such a move requires the backing of two-thirds of those present and voting - or 67 senators if everyone is present.

A feature of the compromise permitting the attorney general to move against a massive pattern of discrimination "is aimed solely at the South," Russell said.

The Senate is now in its 58th day of debate on the bill.

Fort Lauderdale News For Burns

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — The Fort Lauderdale News today endorsed Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns in his gubernatorial runoff campaign against Miami Mayor Robert King High.

"We are endorsing Burns because we not only believe he is by far the most qualified man to receive the nomination, but also because he represents a conservative philosophy of government more closely attuned to the needs and the stature of the state than the far-out-in-left-field posture adopted by his opponent," said an editorial in today's editions of the afternoon newspaper.

Hospital Gets $2,500 For Pediatrics Wing

A check for $2,500 was presented to the Seminole Memorial Hospital Monday by the Sanford Rotary Club and the money will be used for the new pediatrics wing at the hospital.

Accepting the check was John Schirard Jr., a member of the hospital board. Making the presentation was Bill Hemphill, Rotary Club president.

Bringing the program were Mrs. Ruth Lance and Mrs. Ormond Powers, of the Orlando office of the society. Mrs. Lance noted that Randall Chase, of Sanford, has been a director for the group for "many years."

Also heard was a report from the president-elect, Richard Deas, on the Clearwater Rotary meeting held over the weekend.

F. D. Scott announced that next Monday's meeting will not be held but club members instead will hold their annual outing at Harry Robson's camp May 27.

His wife escaped from the car when it landed on its top in 15 feet of water Monday and was treated for shock at James Connally AFB hospital.

Charges were filed against Air IC Rudy T. Davis, Montecano, Wash., in the death of the children, ranging in age from four years to 10 months.

Under questioning Davis changed his initial story of an accidental plunge into the lake when the brakes failed. He admitted cutting the brake line with his pocket knife, blaming the plot on family troubles.

Vote Infractions In 7 Counties Cited By Adams

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The secretary of state has cited voting irregularities in seven counties and has called for corrective legislation.

The voting infractions in Bay, Clay, Madison, Nassau, Santa Rosa, Walton, Washington and Monroe counties were reported Monday in a 15-page report from Secretary Tom Adams.

Adams followed the voting with recommendations for seven changes in the state's election laws that included the mandatory use of voting machines in all counties.

The secretary said his deputies found nothing to indicate foulness or criminal intent on the part of election workers to rig the outcome of the voting. He had added:

"Our deputies did observe a disturbing number of irregularities in election procedures which were in direct conflict with provisions of the election code."

The report said in Nassau County, one candidate helped the county canvassing board tabulate the vote and absentee ballots were accepted after the deadline.

In Walton County, election deputies said an unidentified man wearing overalls and carrying a pistol was seen near one of the polling places.

The man was not wearing a badge or other identification and although he did not hinder any voter outwardly, the mere presence at a voting precinct of a man carrying a deadly weapon in open sight constitutes a grave threat to the free ballot, the report said.

Enterprise Man Held In Slaying

ENTERPRISE (UPI) — Algie Bradley, 25, was being held in county jail at DeLand today on suspicion of murder in the killing of his brother, Samuel T. Bradley, 38, at the latter's home here Monday night, according to the sheriff's department. Deputies reported Samuel Bradley was dead on arrival at West Volusia Memorial Hospital. The brothers were commercial fishermen.

Three directors from each of the districts will be elected. The three members from the Indian River District will be elected June 2. The 21 directors will be seated at the annual membership meeting at Winter Haven June 16.

Voting will be at Tampa, Tavares, Ocala, Orlando, Wauchula and Winter Haven. All voting will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Wallace Vs. LBJ In Maryland
BALTIMORE (UPI) — Maryland voters went to the polls today under sunny skies in a Democratic presidential primary election billed as a contest over President Johnson's civil rights program with Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace symbolizing the opposition.

Officials in Baltimore, where polls opened an hour earlier than the rest of the state, reported the early voter turnout was "heavy for a primary election."

In populous Montgomery County, a Washington suburb, the turnout was reported "very light." But in Prince Georges County, another Washington suburban area, voting was described as "good." There are nearly 200,000 registered Democrats eligible to vote in those two counties.

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, (D-Md.), "stand-in" for President Johnson in the voting, cast his ballot as the polls opened in Baltimore County. A final voter turnout of almost 500,000 out of a total of 931,000 registered Democrats was predicted before the polls close on the hard-fought campaign.

$26,000 U. S. Installation Loan Wins OK

Installation of a water works system at Lemon Bluff, on the St. Johns River, in Volusia County, was approved today by the Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, it was reported by William T. Shaddick, the agency's state director at Gainesville.

Shaddick said a $26,000 loan has been made to a group of 42 families to develop a rural water system.

The loan will enable the Lemon Bluff Water Association, Inc. to drill a well and install a water system to serve the residents of Lemon Bluff, where a number of retired citizens reside.

The existing source of water in the Lemon Bluff area consists of shallow wells of extremely poor quality and the water contains salt and iron.

Dr. J. C. Bunten, president of the association says, "This water system will provide us with a source of potable water. The poor quality of water has prevented us from developing the area. With good quality water our population should double in five years."

Other officers of the association are J. W. Smith, Osteen, vice president, and Kermit A. Wiggins, Osteen, secretary-treasurer.

The Farmers Home Administration loan is to be repaid over a period of 39 years at 4.5 per cent. The development of the water system will begin about June 15.

Rural water systems are available to organizations operating on a non-profit basis such as non-profit corporations and water supply districts. Small rural towns and other rural political subdivisions are also eligible. These loans are made only when adequate credit at reasonable rates and terms is not otherwise available.
