SMITH SPEECH BRINGS CHEER TO DEMOCRATS

Message Broadcast On Radio Reveals Al Smith

Fears Of Rebuke

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The long races which most Democratic leaders have been exhibiting around Washington since their return from the scenes of last week's debacle at the polls were distinctly more cheerful today.

Governor Al Smith's message to the American people, broadcast to the nation yesterday, said him to be "a happy warrior" in defeat, as well as victory, did a lot to perk up sagging Democratic hopes.

Governor Smith's speech had been regarded with some apprehension by some of the party leaders here. A few of them feared that the Governor might allow some of the bitterness of the campaign itself to creep into his valedictory address, or that he might take advantage of the occasion to rebuke some of the members of his party.

Their fears were groundless; instead of the wail of the losers, or the acerbic silt of a disgruntled candidate they heard an appeal to forget the bitterness of the campaign, an appeal to support the Hoover administration in its constructive measures for public welfare, and a further appeal to continue their own fight for constructive, forward-looking government.

"It must be remembered," said the Governor, "that while the political party may seriously divide public thought and public opinion during the progress of the campaign, after the American people have made their decision, the man selected is not president of the Republican party, but president of the American people."

"He is president of all the people," said as such he is entitled to the cooperation of every citizen in the development of a program calculated to promote the welfare and best interests of the country."

At the same time, the Governor declared emphatically that the principles for which the Democratic party stands are as great in defeat as they would have been in victory, and it is our duty to vindicate the principles for which we fought." And he assured the Democrats in Congress particularly to mobilize their constructive program-building constructive principles. The Democrats, he said, cannot afford to sit back inactive, hoping to profit solely by mistakes of

City Commission Appropriates $500 For Chamber Of Commerce Folder

At its meeting Tuesday afternoon, the City Commission okayed a request of the Chamber of Commerce for an appropriation not to exceed $500 for publishing a Sanford folder for publicity purposes, and voted an additional $500 with which the organization is expected to clear the sides of all obligations before moving Dec. 1 into new quarters in the City Hall.

The folder, as explained by Secretary E. J. Trotter to the Commissioners, will contain 16 pages. The front cover will be an all-around view of Sanford's improvements in a state of economy. The job will be in several colors, and will bear the inscription of "Sanford, The City of

The inside 16 pages will include a large map of Florida in the center showing Sanford's proximity to other large cities and its strategic location for shipping facilities. Glanced around the map will be a review of records of the City. The outside 16 pages will carry an all-around view of the city's delta and the river. The job will be placed in a folder, giving comprehensive information concerning Sanford's appeal to the tourist and business.

The folder, it was announced that an issue for 15,000 children will be issued with the prints. Budgets for the printing like $500 have al-

Violent Cyclone Believed To Have Caused Death Of 40 Persons In Argentina

Reports Trickle In Through Damaged Communications Which Relate Stories Of Heavy Destruction Done

Buenos Aires, Nov. 14.—Forty-one persons are reported killed and about 150 injured in a violent cyclone which raged in the subtropical region where San Juan, the capital of the province of Corrientes, is situated. Destruction of means of communication made it difficult to obtain details although reports trickled through of houses unroofed or laid flat.

The fragmentary dispatches received here say that most of the houses and buildings in the struck area have been damaged. Many inhabitants were said to have been buried in the debris.

CITY TERMINATES WOMAN'S CLUB IS JAMIESON LEASE TO PUSH WORK OF OF GOLF COURSE LITTLE THEATER

Group Of Citizens May Take Over Future
Operation Of Links

The municipally owned Sanford Country Club, buffeted between city and private operation, and in recent months the source of much concern, is once more on the hands of the City Commission, which, after lengthy discussion yesterday afternoon, cancelled the lease held by Harry R. Jamieson. The City will formally repossess the property three days after the notice, which was to be mailed out today, is received by Jamieson.

On the heels of this action, the Commissioners made known their willingness to accept a proposal submitted informally by a group of local citizens to take over operation.

A definite proposal was not taken, but the Commission instructed the clerk to write Leon E. LeRoy, heading the citizens' group, stating the citizens' desire to entertain an offer for the future upkeep of the property.

Mr. LeRoy, appearing with several others to present a petition protesting against the present methods of operation, stated that he would be able to raise $10,000 among local golfing enthusiasts if the City Commissioners would appropriate a similar sum. The $10,000 would be used to repair the course and take care of its upkeep. All revenue received from greens fees and other sources in connection with its operation would be kept by the citizens' committee to defray maintenance costs.

Discussing the petitioning informally, the Commissioners agreed that no application would be made until the citizens have actually raised their share. Commissioner Frank L. Miller, however, stated that when the petitioning committee comes up for a vote he would oppose it because he said he was "against dismantling city money for the entertainment of a few people."

Fine Arts Committee
To Supervise Staging
Of Plays Here

By Josephine Drummond
The Sanford Woman's Club, a fostering the "Little Theater," movement considered an outstanding artistic effort of the day. It will function under a carefully selected Fine Arts Committee. Any member of the Woman's Club can be identified with the Little Theater group—and men of our community can enroll as honorary members.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has suggested the following scheme of organization.

I. An Experienced Director or Producer.

A. Directly and personally responsible for all details of production.

II. Committee Chairmen.

A. Production.

1. To assist director in selection of cast, and during rehearsals and performances.

B. Selection.

1. To read and select plays for production.

C. Properties.

1. To make property lists and secure properties.

D. Art.

1. To design and adapt scenery.

E. Costume.

1. To design, make and secure costumes.

F. Lighting.

1. To advise practical schemes of lighting.

G. Music.

1. To select and produce appropriate music when needed.

H. Publicity.

1. To advertise the production.

2. To arrange for all printed material.

I. Business.

1. To prepare a budget of expense.

2. To manage ticket sales.

3. To handle all finances and approve all purchases.

This scheme proves to be the necessity of having in our group scenic artists, stage helpers, costume designers as well as actors.

With the aid of an experienced director or producer, a committee chairman it will be the aim of the "Little Theater" to present at regular intervals carefully selected and carefully rehearsed plays with an attempt at professional competency—making the organization and production of the Committee.

Mrs. Willebrandt
Makes Unexpected
Call Upon Hoover

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general and store center of the presidential campaign hurried on to Los Angeles today on a departmental business after a brief stop at the home of Herbert Hoover by pay phone.

Coming unannounced, Mrs. Willebrandt, whose home is in California, took the Hoover household by surprise. She stopped only a few minutes and was fairly out of the house before her presence was discovered by news reporters.

Mrs. Willebrandt was accompanied by two women friends whose names could not be learned. She finally decided to discuss politics, but said she had discussed nothing relating to public business with Mr. Hoover. She was in the house less than 15 minutes.

Armed with deep sea fishing tackle, purchased in San Francisco on his first venture from his New York Hill home after his election, Hoover turned, tony to the final phase of preparations for his good will tour of Latin America.

Mrs. W. E. Dunaway, 714 Main Avenue, died Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Orange General Hospital, Orlando, following a long illness. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, with Dr. F. D. King officiating. Interment will follow in the family cemetery at Apopka.

Mrs. Dunaway with her husband have resided in Sanford for the past three years, and formerly resided in Deland. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and was formerly a teacher in the lower department of the Sanford School. She was the holder of one of the distinctions among members of the church.

Her son, Raymond C. Dunaway, and A. B. Conner, Standard Oil representative, All but two members were present.

Assassin, Will Face

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14 (INS)—Capt. Jesus Obregon, nephew of the late assassinated president of Mexico, Gen. Alvaro Obregon, yesterday committed suicide after he had been foiled in his attempt to avenge his uncle's death. He had been unarmed when he drew a pistol at the door of the cell in which the convicted slayer of Gen. Obregon was confined.

Captain Obregon, who was 21 years of age, had gained admittance to the penitentiary shortly after noon. A visitor who was talking with a guard near the cell of Toral, noticed Obregon's agitation as he approached the cell door. When he drew his pistol both grappled with him and wrested away the weapon before he could fire.

Captain Obregon was not detained by the penitentiary officials, who at first refused to make known his identity. He returned to his home in the city, and a few hours later shot himself in the chest with a pistol. He died soon afterward. Acquaintances of Captain Obregon said that his conduct was sometimes erratic. His father is Gen. Jose Obregon, a brother of the slain president-elect.

León Toral, on July 17, entered a banquet hall in a suburb of Mexico City and on the pretense of showing General Obregon cartoons which he had drawn, fired several shots into his body. He recently was brought to trial and after seven weeks of trial and after which showed the intensity of feeling against him, was convicted and sentenced to execution by a firing squad.

His attorney has appealed to the superior court on the ground that Mexican law does not provide the death penalty for political crimes, such as they assert Toral is guilty of. The court rejected the compromise as "scrapped" but said that it was "an honest, straightforward attempt to escape from the deadlock which developed at Geneva and was threatening the peace of disarmament."

In the attack on the Baldwin foreign policy, Lloyd George asked the committee to express official regret that the accord with France had abandoned the principle of limiting small submarines and other naval vessels.

He attacked the government's reluctance to exclude reservists from compensation of military strength, a point which has been urged by France and which was conceded by Great Britain in the accord, as contrary to the spirit of the Geneva and Locarno treaties.

BANKERS GATHER TO URGE BUYING ON INSTALLMENT

National Association Of Finance Bodies To Meet November 20

NEW YORK. Nov. 14.—(INS)—Continuing and stabilizing the prosperity of the automobile industry through sound installment selling and the extension of the installment plan into new fields and the problems arising therefrom will be the theme of the two days session of the National Association of Finance Companies to be held at the Hotel Roosevelt, November 20 and 21.

Bankers, automobile manufacturers and financial analysts will lead the discussions, which will cover the relationship between manufacturers, merchants, banks and the companies which finance installment sales of automobiles and other merchandise in the United States alone, according to C. Hanch of Chicago, general manager of the association, who maintains that the present banner year in motor car production is made possible by the wide distribution resulting from the finance companies. More than sixty per cent of the automobiles sold last year were marketed through extended payment plans, according to his estimate.

Saturation Point

"Foundations for present motor stock values were laid fourteen years ago," said Mr. Hanch. "Automobile production had reached its peak sales 'saturation point' previously deemed impossible. Banks of the country wanted some evidence that this comparatively new scheme was sound and could keep within bounds. The answer of the finance companies was the adoption of standard terms. These terms have nothing to do with rates charged but with the conditions under which the purchase money is advanced."

"Experience showed that the purchaser must have a substantial equity before the deal was made. This led to the requirement that one-third of the purchase price of all new cars must be paid cash. The only other requirement was that the balance be taken up within a year in equal, monthly payments. These terms reduced us to a point which entirely satisfied the bankers, and put the finance companies in the preferred list among the banks best customers."

Consumer Credit

At the conference the discussion of the place of consumer credit in the world's economic system will be led by J. Gibson Jarvis, general manager of the United Dominion Trust, Limited of London. The general credit situation will be covered by George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, and a bankers' impressions of time selling will be given by O. F. Meredith, vice-president of the Foreman, National Bank of Chicago.

Other speakers include Milan V. Ross, economic analyst, who will evaluate the extension of installment selling into new fields of merchandising; George M. Graham, president of the Willys Overland Co., who will discuss the relation of the manufacturer to the finance company; and Major E. V. (Mike) Eickenbacher, famous war hero in 25 air duels, who will succeed to draw a parallel between motoring and aviation.

White Shadows In South Seas" To Be Shown At Milane

Thrilling adventure and romance feature the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "White Shadows in the South Seas," which will be shown again tomorrow and Friday.

The plot is built on the romance of a white man, who, after running away from the level of a beach, pulls himself together to rescue a wronged child, and as a result of his charity, is lured to the ship and not drifts. The ship comes to the roof of a tropical island where, after a series of hairbreadth escapes and romantic adventures, he is welcomed by a native tribe and becomes a member of the village. When he leaves the island, his heart is broken, and he leaves the scene of his former life.

Tomorrow the role of the sympathetic John in "White Shadows" will be played by the young and charming Virginia Pearce.

"Oh, no! My old bones do without liniment yet. It's for my grandson who comes home soon from foot-ball practice."

life boat number 13, after swimming for some time. There were 23 others in boat number 13, he said. While he swam about in the wreckage-filled sea, Quirino said he saw many people swimming near him.

O. L. Maxey, of Richmond, Va., a survivor on the Berlin, and other passengers also criticized the slowness of the crew in getting the open boats into the sea. They said it required two hours to lower four life boats.

If the first S. O. S. had been sent out the night before I believe there would have been no occasion for loss of life," said Maxey. "The sea men failed to hurry up the life boats and the whole thing moved without any precision."

The confusion and panic in the water after the three boats with their precious burdens of human life had been lost was heart rending to the passengers still on board the sinking ship.

But the passengers left behind had fears and dangers of their own to face for the ship began to roll and pitch fearfully. Before the last of the small boats were cleared away it was struck amidships by a tremendous wave which rolled it up over keel up.

The Vestris, was dragged and helpless, floated like the carcass of a huge dead whale while the passengers and women leaping in the water tried to climb up the slippery bottom to the keel. During the ship would sink at any minute they dived from the keel back into the water in an attempt to swim to the nearest boat or to hold themselves afloat with flotation devices until the rescue fleet could arrive.
