

Gators To Open 1938 Schedule Against Stetson

Saurians To Inaugurate Opening Of Season Under Arcs

By FRANK WRIGHT
GAINESVILLE, Sept. 6.—Two weeks from next Saturday night begins what promises to be the most interesting football season the University of Florida has engaged in since 1930.

On September 24 the Gators usher in night football at home. There is every indication that Florida Field Stadium, under the glamour and brilliance of the new illumination system, will be a beautiful spot. The No. 1 opponent is Stetson, coming up, apparently, with a strong, and typically scrappy team, a team that if it could whip Florida, would give almost anything for the victory.

Under the lights the night of September 24 will trot three or more combinations, each personality involved striving to justify the reputation earned as a junior or a sophomore, or in the cases of the more than two score who will be playing their first college game, a desire to show to command the coaches' respect.

No Florida team, in the eight-year history of Florida Field Stadium, has ever scored more than 14 points. Perhaps in that No. 1 game there may be not only a craving to win, but to win by a record score.

But then comes the initial trip of the season, a rather difficult journey as trips go, to Mississippi. At Starkville, where the Gators played a year ago, Florida faces an acid test. This game may be the turning point in the schedule. It's the really tough assignment. The argument that Mississippi State can't be so bad, because of a change in coaches, does not bear weight. Here in Florida, we can remember back in 1928—the year Charlie Bachman coached the Gators. What happened—only one loss, that by one point, in the final game, and before that Tennessee affair, a succession of spectacular wins and when the counting was all in for the year, Florida had led in scoring every collegiate football team in America.

Mississippi State has, apparently, some exceptional sophomore material. Indication of that was given last Fall when the Maroon frosh crushed Alabama's freshman 20 to 0, and rolled over the Ole Miss yearlings 33 to 0.

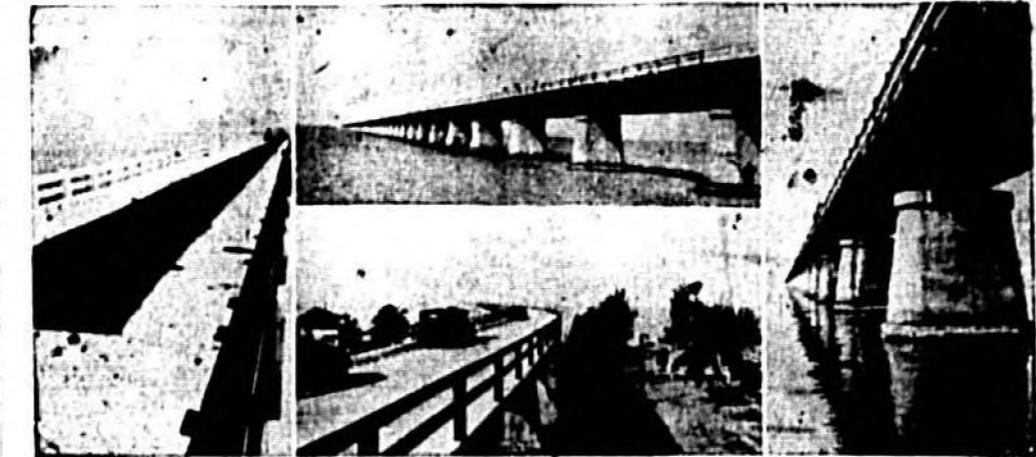

This second game of the year must find the Florida sophomores equal to the part they must play. A win over State should set the Gators into stride. A loss will simply reveal the fact, probably, that the sophs have much to learn, and are not yet able to meet the competition of the Southeastern Conference. As it now looks, the seniors and juniors alone can not carry this 1938 program, and the Mississippi State game clearly points out the urgency for the new men to be ready.

Then comes Miami University, at Gatorland, in another under the lights set-to. This game, and the one the following Saturday night with Tampa, are on the schedule in answer to strong insistence from alumni and fans generally, and too, because Florida was ready and willing to meet these worthy rivals in a program to help the institutions further their respective gridiron affairs. Twice in a row, the Gators will meet inspired competition. Florida alumni in Miami have already arranged for a special train that will bring folks into a spur track only a few hundred feet from the stadium.

The two-year series with these two teams could probably insure, with popular support, to the seasons in 1938 and 1939, continuance of the contests for a long while to come. Not simply because of this fact, but because the games this year give every indication of being outstanding OVERSEAS HIGHWAY, connecting Key West with the mainland of Florida, is a marvel of engineering skill and scenic beauty. For nearly a hundred miles it curves like a giant scimitar across the open sea, crossing tiny coral islets, to the southernmost point in the United States. On the right, picture shows the massiveness of the structures which have defied tropical storms for a quarter of a century. On the left, picture shows the type of surface construction used to convert former railway bridges into 22-foot concrete highway bridges. games, due to the keenest of the rivalry, should fans give every possible support.

Boston College, to be played in Boston the last Saturday in October, is another opponent being met for the first time this season. Annually, one of the strong teams of the East, B. C. will give the Gators of 1938 a real test of what four games experience can mean. The B. C. game starts a succession of weekly battles that must find Florida at top speed every Saturday. With B. C., Georgia, Maryland, Georgia Tech, Auburn, and Temple following in order, no one can say "Breathing spell" in Gatorland and escape without a punning.

BOOMERANG PRECAUTION

Gu. Hele, O.K. Sept. 6.—Wayne Hood, three years over, hid his receipts in a shoe box Saturday night to foil burgars. He couldn't recall yesterday which box he had used and surveyed an array of 2,000 boxes in perplexity. He and his staff began searching. Four hours later they found the right box.

RACE DRIVER KILLED

MORRISTOWN, Tenn. Sept. 6.—G. R. Hancock Jr., 21-year-old race driver from Owensboro, Ky., was killed here yesterday attempting to qualify for the Labor Day automobile race. Hancock's car left the track on the west turn, plunged thru a fence and across a field and landed in an old barn. His father, G. R. Hancock, of Owensboro, was among those who witnessed the fatal accident.

'SAFETY SALLYS' who serve as traffic warnings at school crossings in Long Beach, Cal., put up their best front for City Manager R. M. Dorson, an active force in the city's safety campaign. No accidents involving school children were reported for at least 120 days after 68 of these novel signs—which the school pupils like—were set in place.

CAUGHT SHORT

$7,070.00

MAKES $10,235 TAX PAYMENT TO STATE

After making every possible effort to raise $25,200.00 chain store tax demanded by Comptroller Lee by September 1st, we find we are short $7,070.00. Local employees added nearly $250.00 to the payment made Lee yesterday by contributing their this week's pay checks and we were still short $7,070.00. We asked a few more days' time to get up this balance but were told "No".

We intend to meet this new crisis by offering you one more chance to buy furniture at your own price.

If you were one of the few whom we turned down, come back again and make another offer. We are now in a position where we have to accept practically any offer.

Again we say, if you need furniture, do as many others have done during the last ten days, come in, make your selection, then make us an offer. Unless absurd, you have bought a bill of goods. You have a further advantage over last week's customers in that there are many car loads of new furniture, selected at the July Grand Rapids and Chicago markets, that have just arrived and are now on our floor. All are included. None excepted. We need $7,070.00 and we need it quick, so we are going to sell furniture at your price for cash till it is raised or till we are closed up. Either way our loss is your gain. We repeat - ACT QUICK.

6000 Retail Clerks Strike In Coast City

27 Major Department Stores Picketed; Move Said Largest Ever Called

Police Leaves Are Cancelled

Advertisements In Newspapers Say Stores To Be Open

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Massed picket lines of laughing, smartly dressed women paraded today in front of leading department stores, signaling the opening of a strike of 6000 retail clerks.

Twenty-seven major department stores were picketed in what labor leaders termed the biggest strike of its kind ever called in the United States. All police leaves and days off were cancelled when the strike was voted at a mass meeting last night. Newspaper advertisements announced that "stores will be open as usual."

The strike followed the breakdown of negotiations between the AFL Retail Department Store Clerks Union and employers over the union demand for a registered list from which employees would be chosen and a "seniority" plan.

Senator McCarran Is Leading By Over 3 To 1 In Primary

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7.—Senator Pat McCarran was re-elected today by a landslide in the Democratic nomination for an overwhelming majority from 100,000 New Deal backers.

With 60 percent of the votes from yesterday's primary contest, McCarran had 114,127 to Albert H. Burton's 76,000 and Dr. John W. Weeks' 581.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Major Tydings of Maryland fought back today against the Administration campaign in an open primary election.

The Governor made the trip very nicely, Dr. Cone reported after his patient was settled.

It didn't require any anesthetic on the way and doesn't seem particularly tired.

Dr. Cone said he would remain in Tallahassee until the morning of the 10th.

Mr. Cone and Mrs. Byron, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas W. Long, wife of the state beverage commissioner, were here in time to make final preparations for the Governor's arrival.

"You don't know how happy the Governor is to be home," Mrs. Cone said. "He's been wanting to come back. It feels good to be here again."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, of Lake Mary, celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary last Sunday, the occasion being observed quietly with many friends of the couple calling during the day.

Another step in Sanford's "face-lifting" progress has been the re-decoration of Sadye's Beauty Shop. The floors have been refinished in a mottled gray and the walls and ceiling have been painted silver and cream, with black and red trimming.

Cone Returns To Mansion In Tallahassee

Long Ambulance Trip From Jacksonville Leaves Chief None The Worse For Wear

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Governor Dan Cone returned to his Tallahassee mansion last night after a 24-day absence from Jacksonville.

The Governor, who suffered a heart ailment in Jacksonville, July 27 and had been in a hospital here since that time, was brought here and placed in a special ambulance on the way to Tallahassee.

Dr. Dan Cone, the governor, was carried back to Tallahassee last night in an ambulance from a Jacksonville hospital where he spent 24 days suffering from a heart ailment.

The Governor made the 167-mile ambulance trip in less than four hours. He sat almost upright in a comfortably padded hospital wheel bed.

On his arrival at the mansion at 6:25 o'clock he was wheeled to a ground floor bedroom prepared especially for him and was confined under strict orders of his physician against visitors.

Dr. Dan Cone of Jacksonville, the Governor's second cousin, made the ambulance trip with him.

"The Governor made the trip very nicely," Dr. Cone reported after his patient was settled.

It didn't require any anesthetic on the way and doesn't seem particularly tired.

Dr. Cone said he would remain in Tallahassee until the morning of the 10th.

Ralph W. Warren has returned from a ten-week stay in the North during which time he visited in Detroit, Boston, and New York, and traveled through Canada. Old Timers Proven Right As Dust Bowl "Greens Up"

By ROBERT GUGER, AP Feature Service Writer

When the dust storm came, we thought it was the end of the world. We thought the land was dead. We thought the crops were ruined. We thought the people were doomed.

But now, as the dust settles and the green grass begins to grow again, we realize that we were wrong. The land is not dead. The crops are not ruined. The people are not doomed.

The old timers were right. The land was never dead. It was only sleeping. And now it is waking up.

The old timers were right. The crops were never ruined. They were only buried under a layer of dust. And now they are growing again.

British labor is demanding of the conservative British government that Czechoslovakia must not be sacrificed to German imperialism. It is a strange thing that while selfish capitalists and international bankers are being blamed for the last war, it should be labor itself which is demanding that Britain be ready to fight in the next one.

President Roosevelt is no
"yellow dog" Democrat. He would vote for the man who comes the nearest to agreeing with him respectively of whether he is a Democrat or a Republican. And we don't know but what that is the best way to do. Too many of us, we are afraid, would vote for a sition was a Republican.

A Rome newspaper, whose edi-

The Curse Of Europe

Thirty-one years ago bells rang from the church towers throughout Spain, guns boomed from the hillside in royal salute, and peasants danced and sang in the village squares. The occasion was one of great rejoicing, for the liberal and popular King Alfonso and his beautiful young bride, Princess Ena of Battenberg, a grand daughter of Britain's Queen Victoria, had just become the proud parents of a son and heir to the throne, Alfonso de Bourbon y Battenberg, the Prince of Asturias.

Yesterday this same Prince, now known as the Count of Covadonga, was riding home from a night club in the early morning hours with a pretty cigarette girl known as "Merry Mildred." The car swerved to avoid a truck, hit a telephone pole, and the Count was injured. Suffering a broken bone or two, several minor cuts and bruises, injuries which seldom prove fatal to commoners, he bled to death in nine hours.

For the Count was afflicted with haemophilia, an hereditary disease with which much of the royalty of Europe has long been cursed. Victims of this strange ailment for which there seems to be no cure, live in constant fear of bleeding to death from the slightest scratch, seldom manage to reach adult manhood. On numerous previous occasions the Count had lain at the point of death because of some pin prick, an extracted tooth, or an abra-sion from a razorblade.

As is usually the case he had inherited the ailment from his mother, who herself was not afflicted by it. The disease, it seems, is not active in the female members of a line but is transmitted by them to their sons. It was this same House of Battenberg, in Germany, to which was traced the haemophilia of the little Russian czarovich, because of which Czar Nicholas tolerated in his court the presence of the treacherous Monk Rasputin who seemed to have some strange occult powers in stopping the flow of blood.

A lot of water has run through the mill since that eventful day in May of 1907 when the whole countryside greeted the birth of the King's eldest son. The Count has lived a futile, unhappy life, in constant fear of death. His country has gone from one revolution to another while his people slaughter each other by the hundreds of thousands and with their bombs and hand grenades destroy the priceless treasures of centuries.

One could not help thinking as the Count lay slowly bleeding to death in Miami with all the wealth of his family and the brains of medical science utterly helpless to do anything whatever about it, that Spain too suffers from haemophilia, is slowly bleeding herself to death.

Ten Business Commandments

Ten excellent "commandments" for business men who want to get ahead have come to us by way of the Americanizer, published at the home office of the American Fire and Casualty Company for members of its organization. The following ten rules for running a successful business are timely and might apply to anyone who is engaged in selling to the American public:

- 1. Don't wait for the other fellow to come to you; go to him.
2. In competition with others, always give them the credit of being a little smarter than you are. Then work like the deuce to prove that they aren't.
3. If you have no money and little credit, capitalize your personality. Sometimes it pays to have nerve.
4. Never admit to anybody—and least of all to yourself—that you are licked.
5. Keep your business troubles to yourself. Nobody likes a calamity howler; besides, he finds scant favor with the bankers.
6. Don't be afraid of dreaming too big dreams. It won't hurt you to figure on owning a railroad, even if you have to compromise on a flivver.
7. Make friends; but remember that the best of friends will wear out if you use them too frequently.
8. Be square even to the point of finickiness, and you will have mighty little occasion to complain of a crooked world.
9. Take advice but do your own deciding.
10. Don't toady. The world respects the man who stands up on his hind legs and looks it in the eye.

IN ORDER TO help advertise Sanford, and its celery, when a member of Sanford Lions went to Oakland, Calif., recently to attend the Lions' annual convention, he carried with him 500 cards addressed to the Sanford Lions with a request on each card for celery recipe books. These were distributed during the convention, and to date every one of those cards has been received by the Sanford group. This is reminiscent of the vast amount of advertising which St.
Augustine secured through folders that contained shrimp recipes. Recipes for cooking shrimp were given during a contest conducted in the St. Augustine Record, and the best recipes finally were selected, and prizes given. The prize-winning recipes were printed in a leaflet, and thousands of copies were given and mailed away, thus helping to advertise St. Augustine as a good place to eat.—St.
Augustine Record.

MURPHY LAW WARNING
OCALA STAR

The Star has been asked to call attention to that section of the Murphy tax exemption law which has not been given full publicity.

The Murphy law only runs until June 9, 1939. As nearly every one should know, the Murphy law enables property owners whose taxes have become delinquent to redeem their property at great savings, practically cost and publication costs. For that reason the law has been described as the "low dollar" tax redemption act.

However, it does not seem to be generally understood that at the date of expiration of the Murphy act, in June of next year, title to every piece of property in the state which is delinquent will vest in the Internal Improvement Board and become the property of the state. Under the Murphy act property owners are denied the right to file protests in court.

Only ten months remain in which property owners can take advantage of the Murphy tax redemption law. It should be borne in mind that there is a great deal of detail work connected with preparing the papers necessary for advertising delinquent property, and that if there is a great rush at the last minute the county clerk's office will be swamped and some property owners may be unable to comply with the necessary legal requirements.

Those who own delinquent property should not delay in making application for its redemption. Time flies and the expiration date of the Murphy law is drawing nearer month by month.

62 Candidates Greet McLucas At First Practice

Turnout One Of Largest In History Of School

First Day's Workout Consists Mainly Of Kicking, Passing And Other Fundamentals

Coach Leonard L. McLucas was greeted Tuesday afternoon by 62 aspiring candidates for posts on one of the two squads of Seminoles High School for 1938 as the first practice of the season got underway.

The large turnout pleased Coach McLucas and he appeared optimistic at the enthusiasm shown by the boys.

The turnout was one of the largest in the history of the school.

Only a light workout was indulged in for the first session. Exercises were the focus on the program with blocking and tackling instruction, punting and kicking drills, passing and other fundamentals.

Heading the back was first footed Darrell Ferguson. Line men from last year who reported were Tiger Howell, Warren Odham, Fred Gama, Jim Ray, Ashby Jones and Whitey Young.

Players reporting yesterday:

Centers: Fred Gama and Jim Riser.

Guards: Robert Stamboni, Edward Hawk, M. Lodge, S. Williams, R. Kader, D. Denmark, Roscoe Whitley, Jim Young, B. Collins, D. Jones, E. Ferguson, Joe Crenshaw, Orin Adams, H. Madden and J. Richter.

Orlando Defeats G-Men As Islets Beat Gondoliers

Holland, Senator's Pitcher, Strikes Out 13 Batters

In the state league playoff game Tuesday night Orlando defeated G-men 3 to 0 while Islets was beating Daytona Beach 4 to 5.

Bill Holland struck out 13 men during the course of the game. He whiffed one at least every among except the sixth inning when the Senators produced the playoff series between the two clubs at least another day by striking out 13 on one batter. Holland allowed only five hits and did not issue a single walk until the ninth when he gave up two bases on balls.

Sam Cole, with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate, topped the Senators at the plate being the only one of the victors to hit safely more than once. Jack DeVincenti, with a double and single, and Lou Rogers, with two singles, each in four attempts, accounted for practically all of the Gainesville hits.

The Gondoliers won out over the Islanders by pushing two runs in the eighth inning of their game. The Gondoliers have now won two games and dropped one. Joe Shroba and Bill Donnelly were tagged for nine blows by the victors. Jug Lane relieved John Travis in the fourth on the Con mound and between them relieved eight safeties, six of them being charged to Travis.

The new "cold light" which has been recently perfected will be used to illuminate the Florida National Exhibit at the New York World's Fair next year, but there will be nothing cold in the reception which the thousands of visitors will receive in the $300,000 Florida exposition building, housing the state's greatest presentation of attractions.

The number of retail and wholesale dealers in alcoholic beverages in Florida totaled 9,555 for the fiscal year of 1938, the records of the Bureau of Internal Revenue disclose. This was a decline from the 9,609 listed for the fiscal year of 1937. However the numbers of dealers in malt liquors (ale and beer to you) increased to 1850 in 1938 over 1738 in 1937.

Politicians Are Worried By Use Of Word Purge

political purposes, its primary meaning became confused when Mussolini, in his original Italian fascist purge, had resorted to the method, and a certain amount of humor in it, caught worldwide attention and associated the word with dictatorship.

Then came the no less famous "blood purge" in Nazi Germany which was followed by a similar liquidation in Russia. That was enough to identify a purge with dictatorships and, for this generation at least, to brand it as their instrument, their weapon and their method.

The fundamental correctness of the word in the present instance seems a misfortune of the first magnitude to some Democrats because of the peculiar circumstances of the present efforts at party purification.

It just happens that persons marked for party discard are persons who opposed the court bill and the reorganization bill, two measures concerning which the cry of dictatorship was raised to such an extent that the President himself saw fit to disclaim either device or qualifications for dictatorship.

The Republican party chairman lost no time in tying the Old World and New World situations together. John Hamilton accused the President of "adopting the Russian technique of the purge" in an effort to "divert our attention from the failures of the New Deal."

What the troubled Democrats here seem to be studying hard to do is to convince the public that what is happening is not Russian, not German, not Italian, but actually nothing more than what President Woodrow Wilson had in mind when he said at Indianapolis on January 8, 1915:

"The country is not going to use any party that can not do continuous and consistent teamwork. If any group of men should dare to break the solidarity of the Democratic team for any purpose or from any motive, theirs will be a most unenviable notoriety and a responsibility which will bring deep bitterness to them. The only party that is serviceable to a nation is a party that can hold absolutely together and march with the discipline and with the zest of a conquering host."

Wilson was not accused of dictatorship inclinations when he said that. The modern dictator had not yet been invented and the old ones were buried with the Caesars.

Chapter Eight

Alvin's hopes for the rescue of her brother faded rapidly. Not even Fairchild, for whom she had started the around-the-world flight that ended in disaster in China, would sponsor another trip for her. Ruth Harding was in despair and even little Hulda, whom nothing could dispirit ordinarily, was unduly serious.

That morning Alvin had gone to the bank, but had been turned down. They wouldn't lend another cent on the farm mortgage. "Oh, it's no use," Mrs. Harding cried. "Let's not pretend. Oh, my poor Harry..."

Alvin rushed to her and threw her arms around her, fighting for control. She looked up suddenly as she heard the noise of a taxi drawing up before the house. As she watched, a man stepped out. He was the last word in sartorial perfection, wearing a morning coat and derby, sporting a cane, and displaying a flower in his lapel.

"You're waiting for me, aren't you?" he asked grandly up the stairs to the porch. "Miss Harding, I presume," bowed

"What happened? Did she accept the check?"

The County Attorney said he spoke neither for nor against the hospital but before concluding his talk, he declared his personal preference was in favor of the County's building the hospital of which he said "I consider it a good investment."

Cummings Advises Roosevelt Purge Proves Beneficial

Attorney-General Endorses Loneragan For U. S. Senate From Connecticut

Refuses Comment On That Campaign

Son James Begins Special Diet Preparatory To Operation

HYDE PARK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Attorney-General Cummings, recently returned from a western trip, today was reported reliably to have advised President Roosevelt that his efforts to elect "liberals" to congress had been politically beneficial.

Cummings, a resident of Connecticut, has endorsed Senator Loneragan for renomination in that state's Democratic convention next week.

He declined comment on that race, but the Connecticut situation apparently was included in his general political talk with Mr. Roosevelt at the summer White House.

After his talk with the attorney general, the President received a model of Admiral Farragut's flagship, the "Hartford," from a group of Hartford-on-the-Hudson war veterans.

Afterward he drove to his Val Kill cottage for a conference with representatives of the National Youth Administration. The summer White House kept in touch with Rochester, Minn., Sanatorium where the President's son, James, is recovering from a special diet preparatory to undergoing an operation for gastric ulcer.

8 Florida Cities Get Projects In Re-Housing Work

USHA Lends 90 Percent Of Cost And Provides Subsidy

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 8.—(AP)—Eight Florida cities are participating in the national government's $400,000,000 slum clearance and low rental rehousing program, according to the United States Housing Authority.

Projects to rehouse low-income slum dwellers are to be constructed in St. Petersburg, Tampa and Jacksonville at an estimated total cost of $3,809,658 of which the United States Housing Authority lends 90 per cent of the total development cost and supplies an actual subsidy to insure rents low enough to meet the pocketbooks of small-income families.

Of the $3,809,658 to be spent on the three Florida projects now getting under way, a total of $1,008,000 will be in direct wages to workers at the sites. This sum will provide for an estimated 1,701,000 man-hours of direct labor at the sites and an estimated 2,551,500 man-hours of direct labor "behind the scenes" or a total of 4,252,500 man-hours in all. It is estimated that 1,547 workers will be engaged on the sites over the entire period of construction. In addition to the money spent for wages, it is estimated that $1,694,000 will be spent for construction materials. In Jacksonville, where the estimated cost of the development is $1,110,025, there will be provided approximately 555,000 man-hours.

Miss Marjorie Tillis Is Back From European Tour

Returning from a European tour of two and one-half months, Miss Marjorie Tillis, social science teacher at Seminole High School, said today that the general consensus of opinion in Europe is that there will be no war in the near future unless Hitler should disregard all diplomatic protestations and wantonly attack Czechoslovakia.

17 Killed As Train Strikes Gasoline Truck

PERPIGNAN, France, Sept. 8.—(AP)—At least 17 persons were known to have died in a fire which burned the wooden coaches of a railroad train on the outskirts of Gerona, Spain, after a collision with a gasoline-laden truck which exploded.

Many of the victims died fighting to escape the flames, which engulfed the derailed passenger cars.

The truck was part of a convoy carrying gasoline to the Barcelona government capital. It collided with the train at the crossing and its two occupants, fearing an explosion, fled.

Co-Operation Among Citrus Growers Urged

Seminole Producers Hear Kramer Plead For Mutual Efforts In Gaining Goals

Appealing for close cooperation between the growers and the state, L. H. Kramer, president of the State Citrus Growers Association, Inc., addressed the members of the Seminole Citrus Growers Association Wednesday night at the County House.

Mr. Kramer said it was the members of the various local organizations who made the state program strong and without their mutual efforts to put across their objectives the state association could not function as effectively as it should.

He emphasized the necessity for the local units to cooperate their place in the state organization and function accordingly.

Pointing out that it was not the officers of the state association who made the plans and policies of the state group, Mr. Kramer declared that it was the individual grower himself who was the power back of the organization. Whatever the grower wished to say has its direct effect on the actions of the officers, he added.

In order to explain more fully how the grower holds the balance of power, the state president said that all questions involving policy would be submitted to the various local organizations in the form of referendum.

Commenting on plans of the state organization, Mr. Kramer named several projects being worked out by various committees. One of these concerns a marketing agreement which, he asserted, is one of the prime objectives for this year of the organization. How the agreement will ultimately be worked out, he said, he did not know, but he pointed out the purpose was to get an agreement that will be mutually beneficial to both grower and shipper.

He stated that it was not the motive of the growers organization to make war on the shippers, as, in his opinion, that would have a detrimental effect on both groups. Rather, he emphasized, it is the purpose of the growers to cooperate as far as possible with the shippers.

The executive committee, he asserted, is ready to present to the State Citrus Commission a request to raise the requirements on the juice content of fruit to 10 percent.

Other matters under consideration, he said, were the investigation of the possibility of securing crop insurance, investigation of selling fruit by weight, and the drawing up of a uniform contract between grower and shipper.

Referring to the internal makeup of the state association, the speaker explained how the organization would work. For finances, he said, the association will depend mainly upon the dollar dues of each member which, under the present set-up, would amount to about $2,500 inasmuch as only 50 cents of each dollar goes for expenses of the state group.

He spoke of a magazine which, he said, is planned to publish soon. From the sale of advertisements in this magazine, he declared, it is hoped to make about $10,000 per year.

Present plans of the group do not call for paid officers with the exception of a secretary. Fred Forward, president of the Seminole County association, introduced Mr. Kramer.

About 100 persons attended the meeting.

Sudeten Officials Postpone Renewal Of Peace Negotiations

Whipping Of Minority Legislator Prevents Further Moves Despite Hitler's Orders

Alarm Intensified In London, Paris

French Continue To Strengthen Frontier

Whip negotiations broke down today because of renewed negotiations with the government until the whipping of a Sudeten German legislator had been adjusted satisfactorily.

The government sent the inspector general of the state police to the region near the Polish and German frontiers, where a mounted policeman brought his crop down on the shoulders of a Sudeten German member of parliament during a demonstration at Mauthausen.

While negotiations broke down today there was increasing evidence that many Czechoslovaks considered the government's latest offers to the Sudeten Germans were too generous.

Adolf Hitler today ordered Sudeten German leaders to renew negotiations with the Czechoslovak government after the break in autonomy talks had given Europe its sharpest war scare in weeks of ten years.

Hitler, all styled protector of the Sudeten Germans, had ordered negotiations suspended yesterday. His change of mind, it was said, was because of his desire to convince the world he was having nothing and no to find a peaceful solution of the crisis.

There was evidence, however, that German promises to Czechoslovakia and with British postmarking efforts was near a deal.

Alarm apparently became more intensified in London and Paris. The British "Times" cabinet, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, chancellor of exchequer, and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary assembled in London. Wilho became played, 500,000 French soldiers of the Maginot line of broken fortresses facing Germany. The air strength was reinforced and the high command was shifted to put experts at the German frontier.

In Spain, insurgent forces appeared to be making "feints" attacks to test government defenses for a weak spot against which to launch a major offensive.

Severe fighting continued on the Yangtze River front in China, with Japanese reporting a steady advance.

Earlier today Hitler was reputedly understood to have advised Konrad Henlein, the "Czechoslovak Hitler," to exact the fullest possible measure of concessions from Prague because British support of the Czechs is waverling.

The "two fathers" conferred secretly last night, in the midst of the uproar of the tenth annual Nazi congress, on the dangers arising from fresh outbreaks of violence between Czechs and Henlein's Sudeten German cohorts.

Hitler was ready to hurry back in Prague to deal with the situation growing out of what the Sudeteners and their Nazi supporters called "Czech terrorism" and a "collapse of the Prague government's ability to maintain internal order and prevent bloodshed."

Hines Counsel Seeks Dismissal Of All Charges

Stryker Says Defendant Not Head Of Schultz Racket

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Defense counsel of a Chicago racketeer sought to prevent the four-week trial from reaching the jury by asking District Judge Ferdinand Pecora for dismissal of the indictment in a 27-page type-written brief.

A rapid fire of testimony intended to bolster the charges of gangland informers that James J. Hines served as paid political protector of Dutch Schultz, mammoth policy racketeer yesterday concluded District Attorney Dewey's case against the 61-year-old Tammany district leader.

The last prosecution witness, James D. C. Murray, New York lawyer, boldly underscored previous testimony that Hines at tempted three years ago to block the appointment as special racketeer prosecutor of Dewey, the crusading young man who eventually brought him to trial.

Hammering home his final point of evidence that Hines allegedly was associated with Schultz, the underworld overlord, Dewey produced Cornelius Casey, chief of Troy, N. Y., from 20 years a Democratic chairman of Rensselaer county.

Because of the unusual interest in Mr. Carter's presence here, Mr. Kirchhoff said, it is planned to hold the meeting at some other location other than the Welaka Building in order to accommodate the anticipated crowd.
