Leaders of Narcotic Smuggling Group Caught in Tampa Released on Bail

3 Are Arrested In Tuesday Raid

Exposure of Gigantic 'Dope' Ring Comes After Long Search

TAMPA, Sept. 24.—Gripping tales of the drug underworld, replete with all the elements of a movie thriller, were revealed by Federal Narcotic agents Wednesday following the arraignment of two of the alleged leaders of the ring, Enzo S. Maxia, James Sugar, and Giuseppe...

The exposure of the ring came as a result of more than six months' hard and clever work on the part of Inspector Rogers, and Agents Harry F. Kiger and James M. Bransky. Playing the part of dope peddlers, Kiger and Bransky, under the guidance of the leaders of the dope ring, bought "junk" spent days and nights in their company and, certain they had them red handed, read their net and captured the whole gang.

Chief Middlebrooks in charge of Florida and South Carolina, extended the raid to the government plant into the biggest dope ring in the Southeastern States.

He believed this clean-up will go a long way in curbing one of the most dope markets in the Southeastern States.

He raised the work of agents, Kiger and Bransky, who had risked their lives numerous times, he said, by getting on the inside and virtually living with those charged with retailing drugs.

The tactics the agent employed required the brains of a Sherlock Holmes. Chief Middlebrooks' explanation of the work of the agents was that they were sold from coffee shops, cafes and from dwellings and through the aid of small children employed by some of the small dealers.

Stories of how one of the peddlers took girls from the ages of 16 to 20 on joyrides, enticed them into his home and there under their force, compelled them to use his drugs, were disclosed by the agents. After being assured the girls had the option of the habit, the peddlers made customers of them and reaped big profits from the sales.

That the drug market had reached an alarming stage due to the long number of addicts was indicated by the Federal agents. From restaurants, coffee shops, lunch stands, and numerous other places the drugs were being sold to smokers and adults, ranging in prices from $1 to $10 a grain. The peddlers resorted to all sorts of schemes to sell their wares, throwing hope from passing automobiles to their customers on the sidewalks and delivering in small tin cans, packages and in bags through their runningboards. Federal agents said the price of the dope had jumped from $35 to $105 an ounce. Unable to pay more many of the addicts resorted to thievery.

Among those who already have applied for dope at the narcotic office in the Federal Building was a Jacksonville boy who said he had been addicted to the use of morphine. He told the authorities a possible story of how he fell prey to the peddlers here. Another victim walked into the chief peddler's office yesterday and pleaded for some of the drugs. He, too, was placed under arrest.

Excavators Discover Many Valuable Relics In Mound Located Near Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Excavators of the Great Sepulchre near Bainbridge are re-arranging their summer finds and discovering further secrets hidden by the ages. These will be deciphered and woven into the chain by which an American antiquity may eventually be lifted into the realm of history.

Preliminary survey of the articles by Curator H. C. Shroton to the Ohio archaeological and historical museum at the conclusion of the summer's exploration gives promise of a winter of revelations about the pre-Columbian inhabitants of America.

Several ornamental pipes and ornaments found in the Sepulchre mound were arranged to become evidence that the people who fashioned them were of a culture not as high as those of the Hopewell group, Mr. Shroton said.

LIONS TO INSTALL LOCAL CLUB NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

Formal Organization By The District Governor Is Arranged For at Luncheon Today; 29 Names On Roll

Plans for a banquet on Friday night of next week when Lions International will formally install the Sanford Lion Club were made today at the weekly luncheon of the local organization, whose members will entertain Franklin O. King, district governor, and between 25 and 40 members of the Orlando Lion Club.

The local club has been under the process of organization for the past four weeks during which time it has secured 29 members, all of whom will become charter members of the Lions Club, it is announced.

Mr. King, together with other members of the club, will be in attendance at the luncheon, which will be held at the Sanford Club, which had its inception at a conference some time ago between several Sanford business men and officers of the Orlando club.

The Sanford club will become the thirteenth Lion Club in the state, it is announced. Among the Florida cities which now have Lion Clubs are: Daytona, Palm Beach, Miami, Orlando, Sebring, Pensacola and St. Petersburg.

The banquet next Friday night will be for the purpose of formally installing the charter from the national organization, it is stated. The charter will be presented by Mr. King, who will formally install the local officers and deliver an address of welcome. A musical program together with addresses by prominent members of the Orlando and Sanford clubs will feature the evening's entertainment, according to present plans.

Slashing Reduction Predicted by Solon

Appropriations And Railroad Legislation To Receive Full Attention, Asserts Tilson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Tax cuts will be given the right of way over all other legislation in the coming session, House Speaker Charles D. Tillman, of Connecticut, Republican floor leader of the House, declared at the close of a conference with President Coolidge Wednesday.

The minority program for Congress, as laid before the President by a major problem in this order: First, tax slashes; second, appropriations, and third, railroad consolidation legislation.

Following that, general legislation will be taken up in the order of its pressing importance, Tilson said.

20 Per Cent Cut

Tilson confidently predicted that $200,000,000 will be the minimum tax slash. Surtaxes, he said, will be cut from 40 to 20 per cent and the lower bracket will be cut to a rate of one per cent on income of $5,000 to 12 per cent on $8,000 and 3 per cent up to $10,000.

President Coolidge's plan for consolidation of Governmental departments is doomed to failure in the next session, Tilson said. "There is not sufficient sentiment behind any such plan of consolidation yet proposed," he said. "Senator Edge's proposal to vest in the President the power to consolidate does not appeal strongly. It would be a large grant of power."

The railroad legislation will probably consist of enabling the government to acquire the operation of the roads, Mr. Tilson said. "I believe in giving the present railroad labor a chance to work out its own destiny."

London Regretful As Art Treasures Are Sent To Gotham

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Surprise, regret and resignation mark the comments Wednesday on the deal disposing of the art treasures of the late Lord Leverhulme—surprise at the unexpected boldness of the executor, regret at the loss of London's supremacy as an art center passing to America, and resignation at the realization of the hopelessness of competing with the United States in such matters.

"It is a sign of the times," says the dealer here, "America has the money and there is no more to be said."

The Star in an editorial, makes the bitter reflection that "America, through lack in entering the war late enough to avoid impossibilities which fall upon her allies, should thereby be enabled to decide her principal ally of treasures she had hoped to retain."

Italian Princess Becomes Bride Of Philip Of Hesse At Impressive Ceremony

Mafalda, Second Daughter Of Ruling House Is Married According to Time-Honored Custom at Ancient Castle

European Royalty Well Represented

Ceremonial Rites of Church Performed in Garden Of Royal Home Near Raccogigi

RACCOGIGI, Italy, Sept. 24.—(AP)—With time-hallowed ritual, beautifully simple, but rich in dignity and solemnity, Princess Mafalda, the youthful second daughter of the ruling house of Italy, Wednesday became the bride of Philip, Prince of Hesse.

The nuptial ceremony was held in the garden of the castle, which had been specially transformed into a lower of flowers. The walls were covered with paintings and heraldic tapestry of rich red and golden hues, interwoven with black. It was here that the civil ceremony was performed.

The bridal procession was headed by King Victor Emmanuel with Princess Mafalda on his arm, and Prince Philip accompanying Queen Helena. They were followed into the bridal hall by the guests. The king, the queen and the queen mother, seated on one side of a red velvet covered table and Princess Mafalda, Premier Mussolini, and former Premier Tittoni sat on the other side.

Signor Tittoni read the marriage articles of the civil code after which the marriage contract was signed with a gold pen by the bride and groom and king and queen as witnesses.

When the civil ceremony had ended the wedding party formed into a procession again and marched through the hall of the castle to the chapel on the ground floor, where the extremely simple but solemn ceremony of the Roman Catholic church was performed by Monsignor Buccarini, chaplain of the court of Italy.

Those attending the ceremonies were the king and queen, the queen mother, Crown Prince Humbert, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta; Duke of Apulia; Prince Aymon; Duke of Spoleto; Prince Victor George of Greece; Prince Charles of Greece; Prince Marie Jose daughter of the King and Queen of the Belgians; Princess Olga, wife of Prince Paul of Yugoslavia; Prince Anze of Denmark, who comes from the house of Clavi di Bergoglio, and her sister, Princess Anne.

The gifts to the bride couple were numerous and beautiful. (Continued on Page Three)

French Commission Opens Negotiations For Payment Of Debt

Members Both Bodies Pledge Themselves To Go Into Problem As Practical Men

Both Groups Seek Quick Agreement

Caillaux Says France Hasn't Forgotten Debt Owed to U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Conversations looking to the settlement of France's four billion dollar debt to the United States formally were begun today when members of the French and American debt commissions assembled at the treasury.

Led by Finance Minister of France Joseph Caillaux, the French mission appeared at the treasury promptly at 10 o'clock to be met there by Secretary Mellon, head of the American mission, and actual negotiations long rumored and deferred, were on.

The commissioners pledged themselves to go into the issue as practical men, recognizing problems of each other and desiring of reaching a quick agreement.

France's position, stated by Caillaux, was that his country had not forgotten "what we owe to America for her splendid work to end victoriously the war and the generous help our people received from citizens of the United States."

The joint session today was comparatively brief, lasting only a little more than an hour. It was followed, however, by a meeting of the American commission, which it was indicated, was prepared to talk over the general situation among its own members.

Reach Capital Wednesday

The French mission arrived in the capital Wednesday, ready to open negotiations for funding of their nation's four billion dollar debt to the United States.

In the dull, damp atmosphere of an early autumn afternoon, the Frenchmen stepped from their private car in which they traveled from New York, and immediately set about preliminary discussions of the formal negotiations into which they will launch today.

As the first move, M. Caillaux hurried to the embassy and then made formal calls to exchange greetings with Secretary Kellogg at the state department and Secretary Mellon at the Treasury, the latter chairman of the American committee and guide of the American policy in the negotiations. The French chairman was accompanied by Emil Dueschmier, the French ambassador who had gone to New York to meet his countrymen who they landed from the liner Paris.

Other members of the delegation were taken direct to the hotel which will be their headquarters.

The visitors apparently expect the negotiations to be brief. They have made arrangements to sail (or home Oct. 3, and M. Caillaux declared he saw nothing new to cause a change in the calculations. All the delegates were confident of an early settlement that would be satisfactory to both countries.

Facts and Figures

Here are some of the important facts and figures of the French debt to the United States as recorded in the files of the treasury: The debt was created in 1917 and 1918, various loans being made for purpose of war supplies and for other war purposes.

Notes, literally 1,000,000 bearing the signature of then Ambassador Jusserand and Joseph Simon, French fiscal agent, were given in exchange to the treasury.

Principal of the loan is $3,340,516,943.72.

Accrued interest as of last June 16 is $870,940,904.55.

The total indebtedness is $4,210,556,948.27.

The principal includes $400,000,000 representing surplus war materials sold in France.

On that amount France has paid into the rate of five percent, or $20,000,000 annually since 1920.

The law under which the loans were made fixed the interest at 5 per cent. In settlement made with other debtors that figure has been scaled down and a similar arrangement is likely for France.

Blaine Would Put End To Riffian Warfare

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Governor Blaine of Wisconsin today made public a telegram which he sent President Coolidge declaring that before conversations are entered upon with France, looking toward a settlement of the war debt, America should demand "a halt in this ruthless warfare" between the French and Riffians in Morocco.

Recent Killing of Palmer By Bandits. But One Incident of Ten Years Tale of Hard- ships Endured by Pioneers

Floods Play Havoc During Early Days

Development Organization Rendered Great Aid to the Native Chinese Reported

HARBIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The recent tragic death of Morgan Palmer at the hands of Chinese brigands on his ranch in northern Manchuria forms the latest chapter in a history of ten years' effort by Americans to develop modern agriculture in China on a large scale. Ten years ago a group of Americans, lured by the rich undeveloped regions in upper Manchuria, organized the Manchurian Development Company, with the purpose of introducing American agricultural machinery in cultivation of vast tracts where workmen and work animals were scarce.

Lewis S. Palen, formerly an official in the Chinese customs service, headed the enterprise. He secured title to 15,000 acres in the angle between the Amur and Sungari rivers and enlisted the interest and financial assistance of Charles R. Crane and the late Willard Straight. A number of American and Danish agricultural experts were engaged, buildings were erected and workmen, with their families and live stock were installed upon the land.

Floods hampered the work of the colonists during the first two years. Then came the World War with consequent disruption of river navigation and the political contention over management of the Chinese Eastern railway. The foreign experts departed and affairs were left in Chinese hands. Later a system of leasing land to tenants for a small rental payable in grain was adopted, but bandit activities put an end to this effort and the whole project eventually was abandoned.

It was at this stage when Morgan Palmer, long familiar with Manchuria through service with the Salt Administration, the American Red Cross and the American Legation, acquired control and undertook to reorganize the enterprise with the aid of Russian refugees. He enlisted the interest of Chinese authorities, and in the course of a year some ten hamlets sprang up in various portions of the big estate. Blockhouses and defense walls were built, and the Chinese provincial administration supplied arms and ammunition against possible bandit attacks. Palmer's project was said to have been more altruistic than commercial in that he had great plans for aiding the Chinese to improve their condition through teaching modern farming methods.

Appreciating however, the need of applying business methods in promoting his welfare work, Palmer had at the time of his death practically completed the organization of a corporation, which had been registered in the Harbin consulate and was awaiting registration in Shanghai. Palmer was to have been president and O. Omran, representing Franklin H. Palmer, Inc., Boston, vice-president. It was Palmer's intention to turn over to the new corporation the control of business and financial affairs while he devoted himself to management of the ranch.

New Florida Real Estate Brokers' Law Will Become Effective September 30

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 23.—(AP)—General interest throughout the country as well as in Florida has been created in the new Real Estate Brokers Law which goes into effect on September 30, says a statement issued at the office here of the Real Estate Brokers Registration Bureau.

The law provides for the licensing and registration of all real estate brokers and salesmen and specifies that every person comes within the law, who in any way deals in real estate for a compensation or valuable consideration, either buying or selling of or for another, or offering for another to buy or sell real estate, or leasing or renting or offering to rent real estate. The exception to this ruling is the owner, or lessor, or attorney-at-law acting in the performance of his duties as attorney.

It is further provided that one such act constitutes the person or firm performing the act a real estate broker or real estate salesman within the meaning of the law.

Application blanks may be secured from the county judges. They must be properly filled out and executed in duplicate and filed with the judge together with the license fee of $10 for brokers and $5 for salesmen. In addition there is a registration fee of $5 for brokers and $1.50 for salesmen.

Operating without a license after September 30 next, it specifically stated, will be in violation of the law and subjects the broker or salesman so acting to prosecution and to the penalties provided.

The board has called particular attention to the fact that under this law no person will be permitted to recover in any court in the state for services rendered or claimed to have been rendered in the sale or purchase of real estate, unless such person has at the time of transaction in question complied with the provisions of this act as to procuring license and registration certificates.

The judge holds the application under advisement for ten days. If no objection is filed and all requirements are met the license is issued at the expiration of the ten day period. A certificate of registration is given with the license.

Under this law it is necessary for each active member or officer of a firm or corporation to secure a license as a broker in addition to the license issued such firm or corporation and every employee who acts as a salesman must hold a salesman's license.

It is also required of every real estate broker to open and maintain an office in the state. He must display in a conspicuous place on the premises of his office a sign to indicate that he is a licensed broker. Prompt notice must always be given the board of any change of principal business location, or if a salesman, of change of employer. The board will issue without charge a new certificate showing the new address of employment.

Headquarters for the board will be maintained in Orlando. Complete records of all brokers, resident and non-resident, who are licensed and registered under this law, will be available at all times at this office. A record of those who have been refused license or whose license have been revoked will also be kept. List will be published semi-annually.

The members of the board are Walter W. Rose, of Orlando, chairman; Thomas C. Hammond, of Tampa, and William R. Rannie, of Jacksonville.

Oahu, In Hawaiian Group, Is Named As Botanical Garden

HONOLULU, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The island of Oahu will be made a Pan-Pacific botanical garden under plans of the Pan-Pacific Biology commission and suggested by Willis T. Pope, horticulturist at the United States Agricultural Experiment station.

Numerous sites have been offered where food trees and plants from Pacific lands may be planted and cultivated. Different altitudes, different amounts of moisture and elements of climate are required for various plants and most of the requisites are found on the island. It is possible however, that the higher slopes of the extinct volcano crater of Mauna Kea, island of Hawaii, also will be utilized for the cultivation of fruit and other food trees from temperate zones in the Pacific area.

Pope reported that considerable progress had been made since Prince Chandaburi, brother of the king of Siam, planted the first food trees from his country on the Pan-Pacific research institute grounds. Other distinguished visitors also have planted foreign trees of food value on the institution grounds and at various places on Oahu.

Seeds and cuttings of various plants have been received by the commission from every part of the Pacific area and are being cultivated in suitable locations.

Commissioner Quits Plans for State Trip

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—State Game Commissioner Royall has found it necessary to temporarily abandon his visit of counties of South Florida, he announced upon his return from a recent trip to Gulf and Calhoun counties.

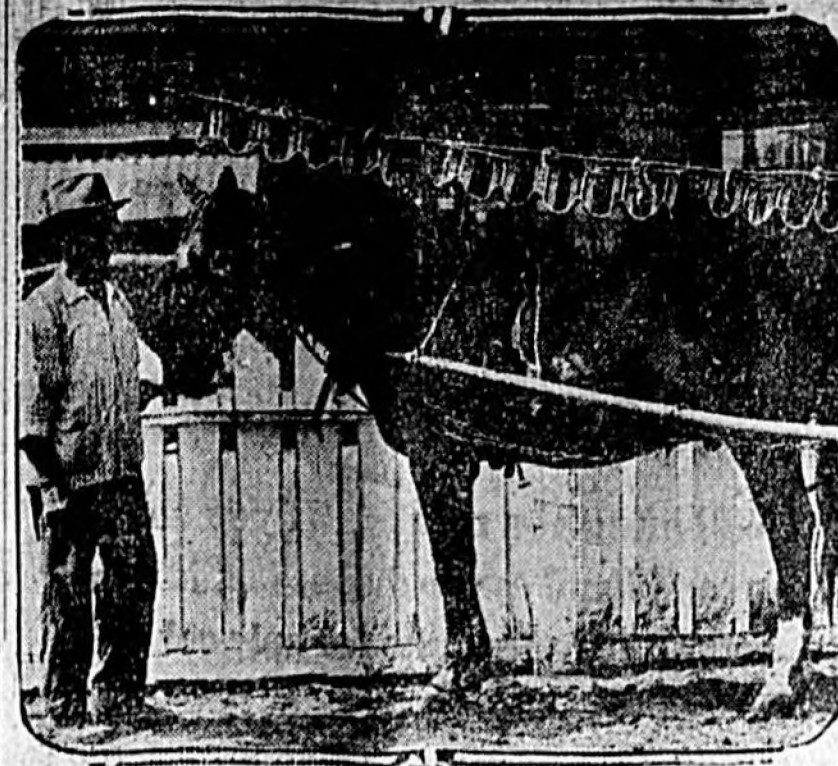

The change in plans, he said, arose when an emergency visit to West Florida was found, where lack of rain has caused the death of thousands of fish in shallow lakes. Thousands of buzzards have gathered there for a feast, it was stated, and crews of workmen have been put into action in ditching connections with larger streams, and in making transfers by barrels and hogheads to the Chipola river, and also the Ocklawaha. The transfers, which are saving countless numbers of the fish, must be quickly made, Mr. Royall pointed out.

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Miss Nettie Brogden, supervisor of rural schools, is spending the present week in Jefferson county, as the first trip on an itinerary which will take her to Putnam county, and to Gainesville, where she will attend the home demonstration meeting.

Miss Brogden will also visit Leon county, where she will give a standard test in reading, in order to determine what standard the grades have attained. She will then make a general survey of the county's rural school work.

The rural school supervisor has just returned from her initial inspection trip since her appointment. She visited St. Johns where she was assisted by Superintendent Meserve in bringing up rural schools to the standard and in classifying them. One of her first steps was to place the children where they could learn the best, she said. She was also assisted by Miss Sarah Bard, of Putnam county, the school supervisor, in planning for her work in that county.

Gaiety Will Prevail At National Legion Meet In Omaha Soon

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Omaha streets are going to be full of song and gaiety when the American Legion National Convention comes here in October. Entertainers will come from every part of the United States. The list is open to any Legionnaire who can sing.

Ten entertainment stations are to be down town where the Leg-

Judges will be at each station. Entertainers will be ranked according to the reception given them by the audiences. Cash prizes will be awarded.

This is said to be the first time a plan of this kind has ever been used at an American Legion convention. It is just a part of the general plan of entertainment which will keep the Legionnaires on the alert during the entire week.

GASOLINE GYPSY BECOMES MENACE TO SOCIAL LIFE

Arkansas Agency Finds New Class of Hobo Constant Drain on Welfare Bodies; Sickness Is Common Plea

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The "flivver hobo" is a unique figure in American life a decade or more ago, rapidly vanishing from the landscape and is being replaced by a product of the age of the automobile—the "flivver hobo" or rather hoboes, for the new type seldom travels alone, according to officials of Little Rock social agencies.

The "flivver hoboes" are always without money and in most instances accompanied by large families. They enter a city from unknown places and with unknown destinations and apply to community funds and social agencies for aid, sickness being the most common plea.

The usual requests are for money, gasoline and oil or for repairs to their automobiles, officials say. They usually claim that they left home because of labor conditions and are going to some distant place to seek employment, asking aid in getting to their destinations.

Proposals to aid them by selling the automobile are always rejected by the "tourists," records of Little Rock agencies show. Out of a large number of "stranded tourists" who have applied for aid here not one would consider parting with the automobile. Tickets to their homes or to the stated destination are also not desired.

"Most of the 'flivver tourists' that apply for aid are frauds and we do not propose to give them money or gasoline so as to pass them on to some other city," says C. H. Wickard, of the Little Rock Social Service Exchange.

"The Social Service Exchange will aid distressed tourists and will furnish them food and buy medicines when there is sickness, but will not encourage fraud by purchasing gasoline or paying for repairs.

"The 'flivver hobo' is a serious problem that is nation-wide in its scope. These nomads, who are modern tramps, wander aimlessly about the country applying for charity and with no destination or purpose. They are perpetrating fraud on social agencies and community funds in many cities. Correspondence of this office shows that these nomads are applying at many cities in the middle west and that most of them are 'headed west.'

"The greatest tragedy in connection with the modern hobo is the neglected and under-nourished children who are compelled to follow. They have no opportunity for schooling and their health is in most instances impaired by unnecessary exposure and lack of wholesome food. The compulsory school law does not affect the 'flivver hobo' because they are never stationary and are not registered in any city.

Volusia Making Plans For Fair In January

DELAND, Fla., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Plans are now being laid for the Volusia county fair that will be held in this city the last week in January. The premium list has just been completed and it contains $11,000 in cash prizes in addition to many other prizes.

Capitol Briefs

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Over 5,000 letters were returned to the state insurance department from the Jacksonville postoffice. The letters were sent out to insurance agents, and reached Jacksonville just as the old city directory went out of use. Lack of address caused the return.

No one was any more glad to have the work of the State Pardon Board concluded than Mrs. Bessie Gibbs Porter, the governor's secretary. Mrs. Porter did double duty, so to speak, while the board was in session. She handled the pressing affairs of the chief executive, and also acted as secretary to the board.

Workers of the secretary of state's office are spending a good portion of their time these days in filing away charters of incorporation. The volume of the charters right now is in excess of at any time in the history of the state. They are piled upon the tables in huge numbers. Most of them are realty ventures.

Judge T. E. Andrews, of the prison department, is preparing to handle the acts of clemency handed down as a result of the semi-annual session of the State Pardon Board, just ended. Judge Andrews will undertake the pleasant duty of notifying the prisoners directly of their pardon, wherever clemency is granted.

Farm Instruction Head Will Visit Institutes On Trip Over State

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—E. W. Garris, supervisor of vocational agriculture, of the Department of Public Instruction, is visiting Winter Haven, Sebring, Wauchula, Plant City and Largo, this week, in the interest of his department.

Mr. Garris expects to be absent for the entire week. He will visit the schools at the foregoing places, in order to get them "lined up" for the coming term.

Begin Work On New Meridian Marker At State Capitol

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Work has begun here on the Tallahassee "base and guide meridian," authorized by the last legislature.

The monument, the construction of which is in the hands of Fred Elliott, chief engineer of the drainage department, as proposed for this inscription, will be erected "over and to perpetuate the original government monument marking the intersection of the guide meridian and the base parallel for Florida.

Below the main inscription will also be placed the words: "Authorized by act of Legislature, Chapter 10188, 1925 Session. Committee, Senate, W. C. Hodges, chairman, S. A. Hinely; House, G. W. Green, chairman; Peter Kendrick, W. T. Hendry. Erected, A. D., 1925."

The monument will be located just outside the capital. An appropriation of $500 was made by the legislature for its erection. The drainage department "inherited" the work of looking after its erection.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The cabinet council under the chairmanship of President Von Hindenburg today accepted the allies invitation to a security pact conference on the assumption that the German note of July 20, would be adopted as a basis of negotiations.

Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann will be the German delegates to the conference with Doctor Friedrich Gaus, chief legal expert of the foreign office, as secretary-general.

Firestone Double the Mileage at Half the Cost Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00. Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound. It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord. Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes. And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords. Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire. In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction. Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OPTIMISM

There ain't no use in whinin'. While the sun keeps on a shinin', And sorrow is a bitter cup; So forget that ugly pout, You had better cut it out, For things is lookin' up.

If it is a cloudy day, And things don't come your way, Don't go snarl in like a pup; No use to fume and sputter, While you've plenty bread and butter, For things is lookin' up.

If it rains, it doesn't matter, If it snows why all the better, You'll not go without your sup; Be a booster, not a foster, Be as happy as an oyster, For things is lookin' up.

Anyway, we still have a few books that are good for the young ladies to read. For instance, there's the cook book.

The Waterloo Times-Tribune says that it is getting to the point where a man killed by an automobile died a natural death.

Isn't it funny that no matter how great a person becomes, if he happens to fall from grace, there is always someone to say "I told you so."

We see in the papers that the Imperial diet building at Tokio has been burned to the ground. Probably the Emperor fired the chef who did in retaliation.

Now these Chinese tong warriors are using hatchets to do their killing with. That without doubt is the final proof that the American Indian is descended from a wandering tribe of laundrymen.

The Association against the Prohibition Amendment estimates that there are 1,100,000 bootleggers doing business in the United States. No wonder the number of millionaires has increased in the past few years.

Automobile drivers in Miami are between the devil and the deep blue sea. They are ever in constant danger of being arrested for speeding, and if they drive a little more slowly, for blocking traffic.

Henry W. Faulhaber of Pittsburgh has purchased a wagon load of Swiss pipes, beautifully carved pipes and formerly owned by the sometime Kaiser Wilhelm. They valued at fifteen thousand dollars. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

Senator Borah Picks Al Smith as Next Democratic Candidate for President.—Headline. But if it is all the same to the Senator, there are quite a few Democrats of the choosier sort who prefer to do their own picking.—Macon Telegraph.

Horatio Alger, Jr., should have known King Boris of Bulgaria. That monarch only last week leaped from the running board of his automobile, caught the bristles of a runaway team and probably, as the dispatch says, "saved the lives of several children who were riding in the wagon."

Statistics show that pupils in Chicago schools made an average of 76.1 per cent in their studies in 1925, while pupils of the class of 1875 made only 52.7 per cent. It is hard to believe that the older generation was any more stupid on that account. Study lights were poorer, transportation more difficult and most of the boys and girls of 1875 worked outside of school hours.

Treasure Hunters

Twenty years ago many stories were current in Florida of buried treasure. It was said that the notorious pirate, Captain Kidd had a cache in Florida where he hid precious jewels and pieces of eight, seized from Spanish trading vessels. It was rumored that other pirates occasionally found it convenient to buy treasure upon the coast of Florida.

Rumors of buried wealth however, were not confined to pirate tales. At one time a story was going the rounds that certain Seminole Indians who had amassed considerable wealth from sanguinary trading in otter and alligator hides, had not knowing what else to do with the precious metal, buried quantities of gold and silver in various places along the edge of the Everglades.

So there was a time when some adventurers came to Florida to probe the shore line and tread the Everglades ever looking for and hoping to find huge chests or leather sacks which might contain enormous wealth. Whether such treasure was ever found has not been recorded.

But of this much we are certain, there was in Florida at that time a hidden wealth of vastly greater size than any single chest might contain. While poor deluded treasure hunters dug in Florida beaches and prodded among the reeds of Florida muck, they never thought the treasure lay directly beneath their feet. It never occurred to them that the very sand beneath their feet was worth thousands of dollars an acre, perhaps thousands of dollars a foot.

Other men, not so anxious to "get rich quick", but with a foresight and a vision which enabled them to see the possibilities of Florida's future, were buying land at ten or twenty dollars an acre, or one or two hundred dollars a front foot, which since then has brought to them more wealth than Captain Kidd and all his cohorts ever knew existed.

And the treasure hunters are without doubt still hunting.

We Don't All Speak Alike

The English vocabulary is constantly increasing although the average individual's vocabulary may continue at five thousand words. We had the "automobile" first, but that was too long so we cut it to "auto," and then we made a verb out of it, "autoed" and "autoing."

We find words quite common in one part of the country are frequently misunderstood in another. The Eastern half-back says "frightful" when a man in the South would be lynched for such an effeminate expression; and yet here in the chivalrous South, one "drags his girl to a hop."

So we see we mustn't be too fussy about how the other fellow talks. He may sound funny to us, but the chances are we sound just as funny to him. As the Pittsburgh Advocate tells it, "A boy left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother who elected to stick to the farm, telling of the joys of city life in which he said: "Thursday we autoed out to the Country Club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach for the week-end."

The brother on the farm wrote back: "Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all the afternoon. Today we muled out to the cornfield and ge-hawed until sundown, after we had supped we piped for a while. After that we staired up to our room and bedstedded until the clock fived."

THE FLORIDA craze is evidently just reaching out West. People on the streets Sunday and yesterday had visible manifestation of the rich and gasoline filling stations had financial evidence of it. From thirty to forty cars passed through Charlotte Sunday bearing tags of Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and other Western towns, bound for Florida, but yesterday there was a variation when several large buses, big as the Laurel Park conveyances, came through from Western points, all Florida-bound.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

AMBITION IS THE spur that makes man struggle with destiny. It is heaven's own incentive to make purpose great and achievement greater.—Mitchell.

WORDS, AT THE touch of the poet, blossom into poetry.—Holmes.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

A suburbanite in New Jersey was moving from one street to another where he had just built a new house. Observing with dismay the careful way in which the moving crew yanked his cherished things about, he was filled with a desire to save from possible damage a tall grandfather clock which he prized highly and which was reliably reputed to be more than a hundred years old.

Taking the clock up in his arms he started for the new house. But the clock was as tall as its owner, and heavy besides, and its doors kept swinging open, so that he had to put it down every few feet and rest his arms and mop his streaming brow. Then he would clutch his burden to his heaving bosom and stagger on again.

BLESSINGS IN DISGUISE

TAMPA TIMES

Evidence is at hand that the drought which has been so serious in portions of Georgia, especially in the northeastern portion of that state, may turn out to be a blessing in disguise.

Acting upon the suggestion of a far seeing citizen—Thomas J. Shackelford, of Athens, we believe it was—that the Georgia highway commission change its road building plans so as to furnish immediate work and livelihood for the farmers in the well nigh devastated area the commission went to Washington to secure the early release of federal road building funds for Georgia. The response was all that could have been expected. These funds, amounting to several million dollars, will be advanced on December 1 of this year provided the state complies with the ironclad requirement of matching them for road work.

The result is that there is now agitation of an issue of road bonds in Georgia to the amount of $100,000,000, with indications that the people are of the mind to act favorably upon it, since such such issue seems to be the only way for securing the government money which is so much needed in the present emergency.

Fears, Many Kinds. Japan Fears Birth Control? What Can Mitchell Know? A Lady Argues.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

FOLLOWING A great war, the days of fighting and killing the pendulum swings the other way—those that have been fighting suddenly become filled with fears. It will amaze you to read the various kinds of "despair" listed by Professor Glen Frank, new president of the University of Wisconsin.

There is BIOLOGICAL fear, PSYCHOLOGICAL fear, POLITICAL fear, ECONOMIC fear, HISTORICAL fear, Administrative fear, TORICAL fear, ADMINISTRATIVE fear, MORAL fear. These fears can all be boiled down into one word, "NERVES". The only thing we need be afraid of is ourselves, our weaknesses. And fortunately we die, and our fears with us. Then comes a new, unfringed generation. The baby now learning to walk will fear the great war no more than you fear the result of Napoleon Third's folly in 1870.

THE JAPANESE also, brave an any nation, have their individual strange fears. The learned Japanese doctor, S. Washio, publishes his fears in The Trans-Pacific of Tokio. He is horrified by degeneration among Japanese, since the glorious Meiji restoration. Police men conspire with criminals, says he, to mail carriers, to mail bags, or burn them, to save trouble. Men full of faith only yesterday "feel now that the world is near an end. A while ago in Japan, there was only one murder in several years. Now there is a new murder every day.

Japanese discipline is ruined by skepticism, irresponsibility, hopelessness and licentiousness.

JAPAN IS worried by the birth control advocates. That warlike nation has 1,041 regular army officers drilling all half-grown male Japanese of the middle grade and collegiate schools. And Japan fears that birth control may cut down the number of soldiers.

BUT THE birth rate among human beings is not controlled by laws, or by well-meaning ladies devoting their lives to propaganda, saying, "Don't have so many children and you'll be happy."

CONSIDER THESE two epitaphs in British churchyards. On a tombstone at Monk's Kirby you read: "In memory of Eliz. Mott, wife of John Mott, who died October 24, 1726. Married 44 years and the mother of 42 children. A loving wife, a tender mother. Scarcely left behind her such another."

THAT ENGLISH mother, Elizabeth Mott, had strength, liked her husband, liked children, believed that she was doing something for her king and country, when she added 42 little English men and women to the population in 44 years.

SECRETARY WILBUR, of the Navy, says he will not allow Col. Mitchell to testify in the Shenandoah investigation. "What," asks Secretary Wilbur, "could Colonel Mitchell, in Texas, known about the wreck of the Shenandoah in Ohio?"

He might ask, "What could Henry Ford, in Detroit, know about the breaking down of an automobile engine in Alabama?" Ford might know a good deal, for he knows about automobiles.

Colonel Mitchell, in Texas, hazily devoted his life to flying, might know more about the wreck of the Shenandoah than Secretary Wilbur, in Washington, could possibly know.

"GENERAL PERSHING will be the principal witness against Colonel Mitchell at his trial for advertising Army and Navy flying incompetency."

Nobody will enjoy that joke more than General Pershing. It happens that General Pershing has never been up in a flying machine in his life. Naturally he won't be engaged to give advice on flying.

LADY CYNTHIA Moseley, beautiful daughter of the late Marquis Curzon, joins the British Socialist-Labor Party, will run for Parliament on Labor's ticket.

That means little to us, but it would mean a good deal to the late Mr. Leiter, Chicago dry good pioneer, part of whose millions went to England when his daughter Mary was married to Curzon.

THIS BOY CERTAINLY KNOWS HIS OIL

ETIQUETTE

MIAMI TRIBUNE

It is the expressed opinion of Mr. H. I. Phillips who writes in the American Magazine, that there are too many rules of etiquette for dinners and dances and not enough in other places where they are most needed. In other words he thinks the etiquette is not evenly distributed. He also thinks that some people have too much etiquette and others have not enough and that the places where etiquette is particularly needed at the theatre where people come in late and make jumping jacks of other members of the audience who are trying to see the show, in street cars and in driving automobiles.

Mr. Phillips suggests that when the average man not accustomed to formal dinners is confronted with the array of various forks and spoons at the side of his plate and all kinds of strange dishes to tackle, he feels very much like a "slump ginger man." On the other hand when he is pushed about on the street, at theatre windows and is yelled at by automobilists who may have perfect form at a dinner table, he feels that the matter of etiquette needs to be more properly distributed over the whole sphere of an individual's life.

The writer says: "I have seen a young man stand bareheaded, hat in hand, on a cold day in the middle of the sidewalk to show proper respect to a young lady acquaintance, and inside of an hour rip a fender off a flier driven by a somewhat stranger, and demand, 'Why the—don't you look where you're driving? D'ya want to get killed?'"

It is also stated that the telephone gives an excellent opportunity for a person to reveal an equal degree of etiquette as shown at a formal dinner party. "How many men and women are 100 per cent good mannered on the telephone?" says Mr. Phillips. "If the same etiquette were followed at the dinner table that is followed at the telephone we should have something like this:

Mr. Jones: Would you please pass me the butter?
Mrs. Smith: I beg pardon?
Mr. Jones: Please pass the butter?
Mrs. Smith (passing the bread): Here you are, sir.
Mr. Jones (in high temper): I said butter, not bread. Are you deaf or something? Gimme the butter!
Mrs. Smith (muttering to herself): The butter is busy.
Mr. Jones (pound plate with knife): You can't tell me the butter is busy! . . . I know better! . . . I had it only a minute ago! . . . I'll report you to the management!
Mrs. Smith (loudly): The big fresh bimbo. How does he get that way?

SPARE THE SPOONERS

TAMPA TRIBUNE

To the regret of the burglars, yeggmen and other such criminals, Chief of Police D. B. York has ordered his men to pay more attention to them and less to roadside petting parties. In other words, the police will go after the major crimes rather than the petty offense.

There is enough crime in this city to keep the police force busy without spending valuable time keeping tab on necking duets. The Chief says he does not sanction such semi-public demonstrations of affection or whatever it is that is demonstrated, but there are worse offenses that will henceforth be the principal concern of the officers. In their spare time, of course, their duties may yet embrace suppression of embracing couples. These impromptu pairings are primarily the affair of the parents, in the case of minors, anyway.

French Girl Defies Dangers of Saharan Wastes For Husband

HAVRE, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mme. Delingette has nothing of the explorer about her, yet she is said to be the first woman to have crossed the Sahara desert. This journey she accomplished with her husband and M. Bonnaure, an engineer. She is a dainty French woman, and is very modest about her exploit. When asked why she risked so dangerous a journey she replied quite simply, "Why to be with my husband, of course."
 Her advice to would-be explorers of her sex is terse: "If women want to go from Oran to North to Cape Town in an automobile they must make up their minds to do without their daily bath and their morning manure. They must be ready and willing to lend a hand in tight places, either to pull the car out of a rut or help to build bridges of logs—we built 129."
