

Cotton Stamps Tc Help Cut Surplus Of Fiber In U. S.

OAINESVILLE, Mar. 4—(Special)—Severe reductions in cotton exports because of the war and the necessity of preventing further accumulations of cotton are factors which led to adoption of the new supplementary cotton program, according to A. P. Spencer, vice director of the State Agricultural Extension Service.

Pointing put that the 1940 crops will add about 2½ million bales to the 1946 million to current searon, he urges Florida farmers to support the measures contained is the supplementary program for bayes and the measures and the program of the 1946, this years rup might have been about as large as last years grap, without the new supplementary program contained to the country program country prog the production of food for home mas.

This voluntary program in no way changes the operation of the 1941 AAA conservation and parity programs, and underplanting of acrosge allotments in 1941 will not affect allotments in 1943, or subsequent years, criege on farms where no cotton was planted in 1939 or 1950. Mr. Spencer said:

Farmers will receive stamps for planting less than their 1941 allotments or their 1940 planted acrosgs, whichever is smaller, at the rais of 10 cents for each point of the normal yield on the underplanted acrosgs. Sharveropers, temants, and owner-operation of the stamps per family. Operators of more than one farm or of a farm with two or more tomants are limited to $50 worth of the stamps.

Whispering campaigns and just plain ordinary back fence scandal-mongering are not sufficilly unknown in this country where many a man has been defeated for office with nothing more substantial than the innocent repetition of unsupported gossip and where many an otherwise dull and uninteresting morning has been enlivened by the elaboration of fairy tales concerning one's neighbors.

But during the past year the science of spreading rumors has reached a fine point of perfection. Hitler's Nazi propagandists have taken a well known weakness of human nature and turned it into a device, a "secret weapon", which has proved far more destructive to his enemies than even his Stuka dive bombers. Whole nations have been brought under his domination without firing a shot and merely by circulating rumors.

At the time of the invasion of France German spies and French fifth columnists made it their business to contact as many people as possible spreading false information in an effort to confuse and demoralize the population. Passing hurriedly along the street, stopping to chat with this little group and that, they would ask, "Have you heard that the town officials have evacuated?" Soon the whole town had evacuated.

Defense Program Helped By Model Railroad Groups

By RAY PEACOCK
NEW YORK, May, 5—(P)—Defense industries are raising the dickens with model railroad clubs
by picking off the most expert members for jobs demanding nimble lingers and skill and patience. For this we have the word of Richard a Merie, chairman of the New York Society of Model Engineers, which has experienced particularly heavy raids on its property of the control of the co membership.

The reason, of course, is that any man who will toil over a complicated model and tease it into operating acquires an aptitude needed by the defense industries.

One amateur who built a gaso-line engine, a' Merie relates, now has a job testing airplane en-gines. Another who teamed up with a machinist on a model loro-motive now is testing bomb sights. Still another is checking over the potential value of idle locomotives.

Buch men turned to making models in the first place because if a social condition, a' Merie be-factory living conditions for de-fense workers, the Administrator asserted. Expansion of private building in strategic industrial areas has been encouraged, moreover, by the gen-prolipolicy of limiting direct gov-ramental construction of housing under the defense program to altustions presenting excessive risks or other conditions unsuit-able for private operations. Furthermore, recent trends

Furthermore, recent trends show an acceleration of gains in private building activity under the FHA plan. During the last aix months of 1940, a total of 88,811 new homes were started under FHA inspection, an increase of 29.5 percent over the corresponding period of 193). WAS THIS YOU?

Wedneaday afternoon at 1.16 o'clock you got your mail at the Post Office, where you heard a lady receive some in-formation about the Kenil-worth Lodge, Sabring, from a gentleman who is known to you but was unknown to the lady. You wore a grey striped suit, blue shirt and tie but no hat. You started reading your mail in front of the Florida Power and Light Company of-fice on East First street where you were foliad by Mr. Ray mond Ball. You then walked west with hint on First Street, west with hint on First Street, stopped in front of Roumillat and Anderson's Drug Store where you both examined a long sheet of peper. When the light in the clock tower changed, you both proceeded to the entrance of the Walter L. Cooper Agency and walked up the stairs.

Identify yourself at The Herald office before your name appears in this column Friday and receive two free tickets to see "The Philadelphia Story" starring Cary Grant, Katherine Hepburn and James Stewari, at the Ritz Theater next Sunday and Monday.
