Hugs, Not Drugs

Anti-Drug Message Filmed At LMHS

Former Harlem Globetrotter Curly Neal, right, gets a hug from his daughter Rocuri, left, as he grins on cue with TV Ted during the filming of a national anti-drug television message at Lake Mary High School Monday. Neal, who moved to Longwood after 22 years with the Trotters, said he believes more athletes should be speaking out against drug abuse. On hand to be in part of the film were portions of the Lake Mary and Lake Brantley high school student bodies shown giving a cheer below. The filming focuses on steps used at the schools to curb drug abuse. Lake Mary's program includes asking students involved in extracurricular activities to sign a contract promising to stay off drugs. Lake Brantley's program includes a questionnaire geared towards identifying drug abusers. As for the filming, "It seemed to go really nice," said Lake Mary Assistant Principal Bill Moore. The public service announcement, which will include footage of the two high schools' boys basketball teams competing, is to be shown during October.

Summit Set Daniloff Goes Free; So Does Zakharov

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz announced today that in return for the release of American reporter Nicholas Daniloff a Soviet spy will leave the United States today and that the Kremlin will allow the release of dissident Yuri Orlov.

Orlov, 62, a physicist by profession, was chairman of Moscow's Helsinki monitoring group that the spotlight on alleged Soviet civil rights violations until his arrest in 1977. He has been forced to live in a remote Siberian village, Shultz said, and is in extremely poor health.

Meanwhile, in another major development, President Reagan announced today that he and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev will hold a second superpower summit Oct. 11-12 in Iceland.

"I don't think this is going to be just a signing meeting at all," Reagan said in announcing the second summit session between the world leaders.

Asked if he expected any agreements, on arms control or other topics, to result from the meeting that will be held in Reykjavik, Iceland, Reagan said, "All we've agreed upon is we're going to have a meeting."

The president added, "I said the chances are better than they have been for years for reaching some kind of agreement."

Shultz then took the podium to detail the agreement that resulted in Daniloff being freed after almost a month in the Soviet Union, clearing a way for the Reagan-Gorbachev meeting.

"Daniloff is out," Shultz said. As part of the deal, Shultz said the Soviets had agreed to reduce the number of people at their United Nations mission in New York.

"The Soviets have assured us that their numbers in the U.N. mission are less than those that we set out for Oct. 1," Shultz said.

Shultz said Gennadi Zakharov, the Soviet physicist attached to the United Nations, pleaded no contest to three charges of espionage today in New York and a federal judge ordered him remanded to Soviet authorities. He is expected to leave the United States today and will not be allowed to return for five years.

In a four-minute proceeding in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn, two of three charges against the 39-year-old physicist were waived and he was given a five-year suspended probation on the third.

Seminole voters enter precinct 63's polling place this morning for today's run-off primary. Polling places will be open until 7 p.m. When polls opened at 7 a.m., weather was warm and bright, high expected in the mid-90s and a 20 percent chance of rain. County elections officials expect an 18 to 20 percent turnout of eligible voters.

Economic Indicators Decline .2%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's broad gauge of near future economic activity declined 0.2 percent in August, at least partly because of a plunge in cotton prices, the Commerce Department said Tuesday.

The composite index of leading economic indicators, which seeks to forecast domestic economic activity three to six months in advance, fell to 179.1 on a scale that began at 100 in 1987. The decliners were led by a 0.27 drop in sensitive materials prices.

Net business formation, building permits, vendor performance, average weekly initial claims for state unemployment insurance and contracts and orders for plant and equipment also made negative contributions.

The index has advanced by 9.7 percentage points since August 1985.

Political Endorsement Letter Gets Coach In Hot Water

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

A Lake Mary High School soccer coach said it was "naive political judgment" which led him to include an endorsement of a school board candidate in a letter he sent to parents of between 40 and 50 school soccer players in August.

Larry McCorkle, a soccer coach, included the endorsement of friend and former team assistant coach Larry Betsinger in an Aug. 19 letter to parents of the District 1 school board seat held by incumbent Bill Kroll.

It was Kroll who brought the letter to the attention of Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes. Hughes said he took to Kroll then asked Lake Mary High Principal Don Reynolds to investigate the matter.

If any disciplinary action is to be taken, Hughes said he would issue a decision within two weeks, but said McCorkle is a "professional educator" and the letter was a "minor discrepancy."

"It is definitely not of the magnitude to involve employment status," Hughes said.

He said he is investigating the incident and may not act on the matter himself.

but send it back to Reynolds for any disciplinary action.

Reynolds said, "I've done all I'm going to do. I called him (McCorkle) into my office and told him I thought he used poor judgment. He wrote the letter on his own time and spent his own money."

Hughes said the letter included other school related information and it was the last paragraph endorsing Betsinger that created the problem.

McCorkle said the letter was printed on plain white paper and he paid for the postage and production of the letter.

He said that shortly after the letter was sent, he got a letter from Hughes which was distributed county-wide explaining what school employees conduct should be regarding political issues.

"At no time did I ever think I did anything that would create this controversy," McCorkle said. "It was a surprise to me. I'm not trying to do underhanded deeds."

According to elections rules, school employees cannot exploit relationships with students for personal gain, or distribute campaign material.

"He should have written two letters," Reynolds said, "one as coach, the second as a private citizen."

"Mixing the two was the problem."

Candidates' Forum Set For Wednesday

Candidates in Seminole County races are set to begin their final push for office early Wednesday with a "Meet the Candidate Forum" in the Community Improvement Association's Civic Center, 260 North Country Club Rd., Lake Mary at 8 a.m. The forum will be hosted by Lake Mary's Chamber of Commerce.

None of the participating candidates were involved in Tuesday's run-off elections, having secured their place on the Nov. 4 general election ballot in the Sept. 2 primary.

According to chamber president Buzz Petoas, candidates who have said they will appear at the forum include county commission candidates, incumbent Republican Bob Sturm, Lake Mary, and his Democratic challenger, Bob French, Casselberry. The two are in a race to capture the district two seat, which Sturm has held for eight years.

Four school board candidates are slated to appear as well, Petoas said.

Incumbent District 1 board member Bill Kroll, Longwood, and challenger Larry Betsinger, Longwood, are expected to attend, along with District 5 incumbent Jean Bryant, Sanford, and challenger Ann Neiswender, Paola.

Petoas said also expected to appear are Republican state agriculture commissioner candidate Charles Bronson, State Representative District 27 Democratic candidate Jeff Book, Republican state treasurer candidate Van Poole, and 18th judicial circuit court judge candidate Ned Julian Jr.

Petoas said other candidates for state office may send representatives to the forum.

The meeting is free and open to the public, Petoas said.

NATION IN BRIEF

New Evidence Spurs Renewed Search Efforts For Fugitive

WRIGHT CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Spurred by new evidence indicating Michael Wayne Jackson is nearby, authorities dismantled roadblocks and changed tactics today in their nine-day search for a fugitive with "the instincts of an animal."

Investigators have found facial hair bearing light traces of paint in a vacant trailer outside Wright City. Police said Jackson, who allegedly has killed three people in his three-state rampage, streaked his full beard with silver paint before slaying his parole officer Sept. 22 in Indianapolis.

Authorities had announced they would scale down the search after a raid on a vacant house early Monday failed to turn up any sign of Jackson.

But the new evidence prompted them to say they would use different tactics in their efforts to flush out the murderous fugitive, who has not been seen since the night of Sept. 22 — when he abandoned a stolen car on Interstate 70 following a shootout with police and fled into a nearby wooded area.

Walker Sentencing Delayed

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The sentencing of confessed spies John and Michael Walker has been delayed to give Navy Intelligence time to determine whether John Walker lied about the scope of the family espionage ring.

The Walkers were scheduled to be sentenced Wednesday as part of a plea bargaining agreement, but Monday U.S. District Judge Alexander Harvey postponed sentencing until Nov. 6 at the request of the U.S. attorney.

Harvey warned, however, that he would grant no more delays in the case.

John Walker and his son, Michael, pleaded guilty last fall to selling U.S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union in what has been called the most damaging spy network in U.S. history.

Under the plea agreement, John Walker was to receive a life prison sentence and Michael was to receive 25 years in prison.

Alien-Smuggling Ring Broken

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Immigration officials seized nearly 200 illegal immigrants at International Airport, breaking up what they called a major smuggling ring that flew the aliens "on their merry way" around the nation.

Immigration and Naturalization Service agents Monday night took 140 allegedly illegal aliens, including entire families, into custody minutes before they were to leave on Eastern Airlines for Chicago and Newark, N.J.

Minutes later, agents seized an additional 55 aliens as they arrived on a flight from San Diego. INS Western Regional Commissioner Harold Ezell said.

Ezell said smugglers had been using commercial flights to transport as many as 40 aliens almost every night, but the INS did not have the manpower to stage a full-scale raid until Monday night. The airport had been under surveillance for "some time," he said.

The aliens were from a number of countries, including Mexico, the Dominican Republic, Peru, Iran, Colombia and various Asian nations. In some instances entire families were taken into custody.

House Votes To Override Reagan's Sanctions Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House, in a crushing 313-83 decision, has taken the first step to overturn President Reagan's veto of a bill forcing new sanctions against South Africa, setting up a showdown vote in the Republican-led Senate.

Reagan made a late-hour offer to order limited sanctions as he appealed to Congress not to abandon his policy of quiet pressure on South Africa's white minority government to end its apartheid system of racial segregation.

But though he succeeded with the same strategy last year — derailing tougher sanctions nearing passage in Congress in favor of limited penalties that he extended this year — critics denounced the offer Monday.

Opponents said the limited sanctions had no impact on the Pretoria government and that violence and repression has continued in the strife-torn region.

Rep. Stephen Solarz, D-N.Y., said Reagan's position "is an act of incredible moral arrogance and supreme political cynicism" and his "expressions of concern make crocodile tears seem like Perrier water."

Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and usually a close Reagan ally, said limited sanctions would be ineffective.

"To argue for Republican sanctions imposed by the president as opposed to those by a bipartisan Congress weakens American foreign policy," he said.

There was no doubt about the outcome in the House Monday, in which only 79 Republicans and four Democrats voted with Reagan. The total was far in excess of the two-thirds vote required to override a veto.

The Senate voted 84-14 in favor of the sanctions bill last month and the override vote could come up before the end of the week. To kill the veto and enact the bill, there must be a two-thirds vote in both chambers.

"We have the votes (to win)," Lugar said.

Governor Blames Bombings On Racists

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Gov. John Evans ordered a special team to help investigate the bombings of three downtown buildings and the home of a critic of a neo-Nazi group, saying the attacks likely were the work of racists.

Coeur d'Alene already had been shaken by the Sept. 15 explosion at the home of the Rev. Bill Wassmuth, a civil rights leader, when bombs went off Monday morning at the federal building, a restaurant and a store complex.

Bomb threats forced the evacuation of six other buildings, including City Hall and a military recruitment office, where police found a fourth bomb on the roof. There were no injuries in the bombings Monday or Sept. 15.

Candy store owner Silas Petty, who claimed he felt one of Monday's blasts nine blocks away, said, "It's an attempt to intimidate the people in town. That's usually what terrorist activity is, and isn't this terrorist activity?"

FBI agent John Campbell said there was no evidence linking the neo-Nazi Aryan Nations Church, based 10 miles north of the city, to the bombings. Church founder Richard Butler denied responsibility.

But Evans, who last week attended one of two rallies held to protest the bombing of Wassmuth's home, said he thought racists were responsible.

"It's a backlash response to the efforts we're putting forth to recognize we're not going to tolerate discrimination," he said.

The governor dispatched John Rooney, state law enforcement director, and seven state police officers from Boise to aid in the investigation in Coeur d'Alene, a city of 18,000 in northern Idaho near the Washington border.

The Aryan Nations Church spawned The Order, a violent gang of about two dozen racists who tried to start a revolt against the federal government.

A federal grand jury in Seattle last year indicted 24 Order members on racketeering charges. Eleven were convicted in the conspiracy that included charges of bank robbery and the slaying of Denver talk show host Alan Berg.

Police said they did not know how many people were in the vicinity of the explosions Monday.

Dennis McCallister, an agent with the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, said Monday's bombs were similar. He refused to elaborate, except to say they were different than the pipe bomb that exploded at Wassmuth's home.

Suburban Residents-Only Park Law Voided

DETROIT (UPI) — A judge threw out an ordinance restricting parks to residents of predominantly white suburban Dearborn, ruling the law would discriminate against blacks living nearby and subject all park users to illegal searches.

Mayor Michael Guido vowed to appeal Monday's ruling against the voter-approved ordinance, saying a failure to challenge the court's decision "would be a disservice to the people of this community."

The ruling, termed "historic and precedent-setting" by the American Civil Liberties Union, brought a call from NAACP leaders for an end to a black economic boycott of the city and a "coming together" toward racial harmony.

Dearborn — a community of 90,000 residents, of whom just 83 are black, according to the 1980 census — has a history of racial divisions. The late Orville Hubbard, who served as mayor for 36 years beginning in 1942, once promised no black would ever live in the suburb.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Marvin Stempien had ruled in May that the ordinance barring non-residents from parks was legally adopted by Dearborn voters on Nov. 5, 1985.

On Monday, however, he struck down the statute as racially discriminatory in regard to two parks bordering predominantly black areas of Detroit. He held it was not necessary to prove intent to discriminate if the effect of a law was discriminatory.

Furthermore, he ruled that enforcement of the ordinance in any Dearborn park through random identity checks would constitute an unlawful search of park users.

"The court finds that persons enforcing the non-resident provisions of the Dearborn ordinance would be empowered to exercise totally unguided discretion as to when and where stops would be made, and as to whom they would stop," Stempien said.

"This court concludes that governmental action to be an unreasonable intrusion to a Dearborn park user's privacy and liberty interests which are protected by the Michigan and U.S. constitutions."

The ruling followed a non-jury trial of an NAACP lawsuit challenging the ordinance. The trial ended July 2.

Joseph Madison, an NAACP board member and one of five individuals who brought the suit, called for an immediate end to the boycott mounted against Dearborn merchants last November.

"We now need a coming together," Madison said. "The next move now is to build bridges toward community relationships."

Robert Sedler, an ACLU lawyer who represented the NAACP, said the ruling was "historic and precedent-setting" and established that Michigan's protection against such ordinances is greater than the federal government's.

Illinois' Floods Death Toll Rises

Flood waters washing across parts of Montana, Oklahoma and Illinois today chased hundreds of families from their homes, drowned cattle and moved Navy volunteers to help save a town from a rain-swollen river.

A 20-year-old man was missing and presumed drowned today after a boating accident in Libertyville, Ill., Monday. Three other deaths have been blamed on flooding in northeastern Illinois since last week.

The flooding spread to northern Cook County Monday. About 150 patients in Forest Hospital at Des Plaines were evacuated because of flooding. Patients were taken to other hospitals aboard buses. U.S. Navy boats and trucks.

The National Weather Service said flood warnings were in effect early today in parts of Oklahoma and Michigan, battered by tornadoes Monday. Flood watches were posted for portions of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Illinois.

Thunderstorms rolled across northwest Oklahoma early today with winds gusting to 53 mph. Heavy rains are likely in parts of the state tonight, weather officials said.

In Michigan, records for September rainfall were set Monday in Grand Rapids, Houghton Lake and Flint. Thunderstorms with 60-mph winds and acorn-size hail swept through south-central Michigan, threatening flooding in 44 counties.

In northern Montana, the worst flooding in 34 years forced at least 350 people from their homes Monday and drowned hundreds of cattle. Floodwaters slowly subsided on the Milk River today in Saco but threatened four small towns downstream.

In Glasgow, Mont., the river was expected to crest 3 feet above flood stage by Wednesday. Farmers and ranchers were hurriedly moving their cattle, machinery and haystacks to higher ground, a spokeswoman for the Valley County Civil Defense said.

Authorities reported 16 businesses and 127 homes damaged by high winds and heavy rain Monday in Oklahoma City. The storms spun off tornadoes in southeast Oklahoma City.

"We're looking at about $1 million damage," deputy fire chief Jon Hansen said. "We're very fortunate that we had no civilian injuries reported so far. It's really luck more than anything else."

As much as 7 inches of rain deluged areas west and north of Tulsa, Okla., Monday, flooding highways and swelling rivers.

High water in Kingfisher County, drenched with more than 6 inches of rain, forced about 300 people to seek higher ground, police said.

Severe thunderstorms producing 65-mph winds moved across north-central Texas early today, and baseball-size hail pounded an area southwest of Lubbock.

In Illinois, torrential rains flooded streets Monday, caused delays of an hour or more at Chicago's O'Hare Airport and forced nearly 50 families to flee their homes, some swamped by 4 feet of water.

Rain fell on Gurnee, Ill., feeding floodwaters from the Des Plaines River that have covered nearly a square mile of the town. Seamen from Glenview Naval Air Station joined volunteers trying to stem the flooding.

Since last week, 50 businesses and 600 homes have been damaged and 140 homes destroyed in floods in Lake County, Ill.

Forecasters predicted possible heavy rain again today in the same areas.

'Squatter' Arrested At Unoccupied Home

An 18-year-old Palm Bay man was arrested at an unoccupied Winter Park home where he reported told Seminole County sheriff's deputies he was staying while awaiting induction into the U.S. Navy in Orlando.

The deputy investigated a report that someone had been inside the unoccupied home at 2193 Linden Road, at about 4:52 p.m. Saturday. He found signs of an intruder, but left without seeing the suspect.

The deputy returned to the home at about 9:15 p.m. and reported finding the man hiding behind a tree in the yard. The man was questioned and reportedly said he had been staying at the home.

A real estate agent, who is responsible for the home, was called and told deputies the man didn't have permission to be at the home.

Norman Raymond Blevins was charged with burglary to an unoccupied home at 19:54 p.m. Saturday. Bond was set at $1,000 and he has been released from jail.

CHASE SUSPECT NABBED

A 56-year-old man who reportedly chased Gwendolyn Sparrow on foot on 13th Street while pointing a revolver at her has been charged by Sanford police with aggravated assault with a firearm and carrying a concealed firearm.

The suspect was nabbed in his van on West 13th Street at Southwest Road at about 6:50 p.m. Sunday and was reportedly identified by the victim, a police report said.

Columbus Carswell of 17 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, has been charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

WIFE BATTERED

Sanford police who responded to a call at 120 Long Leaf Pine Circle, Sanford, at about 1:40 a.m. Monday, reported arresting a man who had allegedly battered Barbara Gonzalez.

Mrs. Gonzalez had injury marks on her neck and arms and said she was afraid of her husband, a police report said. The suspect had reportedly broken two doors in the home.

Hector David Gonzalez, 27, of the above address, was arrested at his home, charged with spouse abuse-battery. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

FLED SCENE, NABBED

A man who allegedly walked away from the scene of a domestic disturbance as Sanford police arrived at 1717 W. 13th Street at about 7:30 p.m. Sunday, was caught on 13th Street and arrested.

The man at first refused a police order to stop, but eventually did. He reportedly said he didn't have any identification and didn't have to talk to police. A policeman told him if he didn't cooperate he would be arrested on a resisting arrest charge. The man was arrested and taken back to the home where Brenda Williams reportedly identified him. She alleged he had tried to choke her.

Lucious Williams, 45, of 2211 W. 13th St., was arrested at 7:35 p.m. Sunday on 13th Street. He has been charged with battery-spouse abuse and resisting arrest. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

AUTO THEFT CHARGE

Sanford police reported charging a 29-year-old man with grand theft-auto after they stopped the vehicle on Southwest Road, Sanford, after the man was seen acting "suspiciously" while driving on Country Club Road.

Police pursued the vehicle and determined through a records check that it had been reported stolen.

Theodore Williams of 1818 Lincoln Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 4:38 a.m. Sunday. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

SPEED BRINGS POT ARREST

Lake Mary police charged the driver of a car stopped on Lake Emma Road, Lake Mary, with speeding after clocking the vehicle at 57 mph in a 35 mph zone. The driver and his passenger were both charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia after contraband was reportedly found in the vehicle.

Arrested at about 10 p.m. Saturday were driver, Gregory Lawrence Williams, 23, of 210 Bradshaw St., Sanford, and Dennis Taylor Privat, 18, of 4969 Orange Ave., Sanford. They have been released from jail without posting bond.

two men after police reportedly saw them passing and smoking a marijuana cigarette in the woman's car at the Hotline Bottle Club, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

The woman, who reportedly tried to conceal the cigarette when police approached at about 4 a.m. Sunday, was released on $500 bond after being charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana. The men, arrested on the same charge were released without posting bond.

Arrested were: Cynthia Gail Watson, 27, of 257 Buttonwood Ave., Winter Springs; Robert Anthony Esposito, 18, and Michael Jess Baugart, 24, both of 355 Wymore Road #101, Altamonte Springs.

STOMACH PUMP, THEN JAIL
 A man found unconscious in his pickup truck by Altamonte Springs police investigating a theft report at Shop Life, Gooding's Plaza, Montgomery Road at about 5:30 a.m. Friday, reported finding the man passed-out in his truck near that store.

Police were unable to awaken the man. They reported finding marijuana and a jar of a yellowish-orange substance in the truck. The man was transported to Florida Hospital/Altamonte, where his stomach was pumped before he was released to be jailed on charges of possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and possession of an altered driver's license.

Daniel Paul Stimpson, 28, of 2911 Brantley Hills Court, Longwood, has been released on $500 bond to appear in court Oct. 13.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
 Cashier Marion O'She, 37, of 201 Hamlyn Drive, Fern Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that while she was in the back of Sunflower Cleaners, 191 State Road 436, Fern Park, at about noon Sunday someone stole $200 from the cash register.

A $200 welder and other items were stolen from the van of Robert Flanagan, 46, of 454 Roxboro Road, Longwood, Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

Robert L. Brown, 50, of 124 Oak St., Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies his 1989 Datsun pickup truck valued at $500 was stolen from a lot at Sunlake Apartments, Lake Emma Road, Longwood, Sunday.

A $2,000 diamond ring was among about $4,000 worth of jewelry and a radio stolen from the home of Robert Casavant, 42, of 2720 Miller Road, Oviedo, Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

Mark David Martin, 26, of #3 Old Grove Lane, Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies 24 cassette tapes and a radio with a combined value of about $275 were stolen from his vehicle, Saturday or Sunday.

A $150 watch, a $400 class ring and about $15 was stolen from the home of James Scanlon, 24, of 111 Spring Wind Way, Casselberry, on Friday, a sheriff's report said.

A $500 video recorder was stolen from the vehicle of Joe David Bragg, 32, of 1366 Freymark St., Altamonte Springs, on Friday or Saturday, a sheriff's report said.

Jeffrey Postle, 24, of 416 Highland St., Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies a two edgers with a combined value of about $550 were stolen from a trailer in his yard Friday or Saturday.

Stanley A. Cook, 68, of 1545 N. Carolwood Blvd., Fern Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that an amplifier and tape deck he was repairing for Spring Baptist Church, of Casselberry, was stolen from his garage Thursday or Friday. The items were valued at $1,280.

A color TV and radio worth $600 were taken from the home of Charles Lunquist, 46, 411 Palmetto Ave., Apt. 4, Sanford, during the day Thursday. Police could find no signs of forced entry.

The American Legion post at 3508 S. Orlando Drive in Sanford was burglarized Thursday. Police said someone pried open a door and removed money from three coin game machines. The liquor room was also burglarized but authorities could not determine what was taken.

ASSAULT IN BATHROOM
 A Winter Park man was arrested on a charge of sexual battery and lewd assault on a child after a 10-year old girl said he assaulted her while her parents were out of town attending a funeral.

According to the girl, she and her sister were being watched by an older sister. Her older sister had a visitor who brought a friend. They all went swimming in a pool.

Her older sister and friend got out of the pool, leaving the two younger girls and the visitor's friend.

The 10-year-old girl told investigators the friend came to the shallow end of the pool and tried to have sex with her. She said she escaped.

Later, after she had taken a shower and was about to dry off, she said the same man entered the bathroom, held her arms by her wrists, forced her to the floor and assaulted her. The incident occurred Aug. 26.

Arrested Friday at 3:25 p.m. and charged with sexual battery and lewd assault on a child, was Roderick Antonio Scott, 20, of 521 Barefield St. He was being held without bond Saturday in the Seminole County jail.

SPOUSE ABUSE
 A Longwood man was arrested on a charge of spouse abuse after his wife accused him of striking her.

Margaret Cohen, of 400 Columbus Circle, said her husband struck her on the left side of the face. The woman was treated by paramedics. The incident occurred Friday around 8 p.m.

Arrested and charged with spouse abuse was James Ashby Cohen, 44, of the same address.

WARRANT ARREST
 An Altamonte Springs man was taken into custody by a bail bondsman in North Carolina after he failed to show in court in Seminole County.

The man was to appear in court Sept. 5 on a charge of issuing a worthless check. He was arrested at the Seminole County jail at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

Taken into custody by Lee A. Wheeler and turned over to Seminole County sheriff's deputies was Heriberto Blas Vazquez, 19, of 641 Jamestown Blvd.

How Do You Spell Release: D-e-a-l?

Relations between the United States and the Soviet Union are at one of history's pivotal moments, one that could usher in an era of East-West cooperation or set the stage for years of confrontation.

During most of his presidency, Ronald Reagan has laid the foundation for a more constructive Soviet-American relationship. The U.S. defense buildup, coupled with the "Reagan doctrine" of challenging Soviet proxy regimes around the globe, reversed the dangerous trend toward American weakness that characterized the 1970s.

Mr. Reagan's firmness and patience in dealing with the Kremlin is starting to bear fruit as he approaches the halfway point of his second term. Yet, perhaps because his time left in office is growing short, the president is displaying uncharacteristic eagerness to bargain on Moscow's terms instead of his own. This switch risks unraveling the progress begun in 1981.

Nowhere is the change more apparent than in Mr. Reagan's handling of the Nicholas Daniloff affair.

Certainly there should be rejoicing that Mr. Daniloff has been released after 31 days of confinement in Moscow, either in a KGB jail or in the custody of the U.S. Embassy. There seems to be no doubt in the minds of Mr. Reagan and Secretary of State George Shultz that Mr. Daniloff was taken hostage in a bold bid by the Soviet's General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev to secure the release of a suspected KGB spy arrested in New York.

Thus the question arises, at what price was the release of Mr. Daniloff secured?

The White House continued summit preparations with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, even as Mr. Gorbachev branded Mr. Reagan a liar by repudiating the president's assertion that the reporter was no spy.

Meantime, American arms negotiators in Geneva offered fresh concessions to Moscow on strategic weapons and medium-range missiles. And, at the 35-nation European disarmament conference in Stockholm, the United States agreed to the Soviet's watering down of minor proposals to reduce the risk of accidental war.

Taken together, these actions establish a pattern designed to reward Soviet intimidation. More important, they sacrifice long-term stability in East-West ties for short-term political harmony at a summit later this year.

Should the fate of Mr. Daniloff, as well as international norms of civilized behavior among states, be disregarded by Mr. Reagan in order to hold a summit and sign a Soviet-American agreement of some sort?

Representative Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., rightly argues otherwise: "No summit is as important as the principle involved in the relationship between the U.S.S.R. and the United States with regard to the Soviets' creating a hostage..."

Now that progress is evident in various arenas of Soviet-American cooperation, Washington was under growing pressure to resolve the Daniloff case swiftly to prevent lost opportunities. The president himself contributed to the pressure by telling the U.N. General Assembly that a major breakthrough in the arms-control talks is within reach.

For the administration, the temptation increased daily to accept the KGB's plan to exchange the American reporter for Gennadi Zakharov, the Soviet spy arrested by the FBI.

Such a trade, if made, could constitute a fatal American mistake. It would, in the words of Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., "call into question the honor of the United States."

More to the point, such a display of presidential weakness at this critical juncture could set Soviet-American relations on a dangerous path for years to come.

The unwarranted seizure of Mr. Daniloff can appropriately be described as a kidnapping. With his release, we need to know the cost of the ransom.

Flab Or Non-Flab, That Is The Question

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I'll let Jimmy the Greek and his Las Vegas cohorts fix the odds, but in a debate between George Allen, the former professional football coach in Los Angeles, Washington and Chicago, and NAAFA, I wouldn't give any points.

Allen, now chairman of President Reagan's Council on Physical Fitness, told a news conference that youngsters in Soviet Union are in better condition than in the United States.

"I have yet to see a Soviet youngster who is very overweight," said Allen after observing training programs in Soviet schools. "They're all in good shape, the way I like my players to be — very little body fat."

NAAFA, as you might suspect, stands for National Association to Aid Fat People. Needless to say, its game plan is different.

It contends the concept that "thin is beautiful" has been overdone by bus companies, airlines, movie theaters, restaurants and other establishments that provide patrons and customers with chairs.

Fat people, NAAFA leaders argue, can't help being that way, and dieting and exercise programs to lose weight can be dangerous.

I don't know what they might say about a move by the Nutritional Effects Foundation to reduce the fat content of meat, so that consumers will ingest more red corpuscles.

Nor would I venture an opinion as to where this leaves us skinny types who are too small to play pro football. I do know, however, that at least one former FBI agent has written a book not about spying but about obesity.

It is called "Fat Chance," and it seems to make some of the same points FAAFA does, only better.

"You can starve a hippopotamus to death, but it will never be a gazelle," wrote the author.

He might also have pointed out that a dead hippo will never be a sparrow either. But that is another matter.

The next step, I assume, will be a fat liberation movement, which will lobby Congress for equal rights legislation and field its own slate of candidates in future campaigns.

"Two desserts in very pot," a fat-loving politician might promise, and many voters do indeed have pots.

I also can foresee the fat lobby trying to persuade Congress to enact legislation requiring wider seats in public transports.

If that proves too expensive, maybe the carriers can maintain special sections for the overweight.

"Flab or non-flab?" a clerk might say as you are checking in.

I also can foresee a campaign for new anti-discrimination laws in employment.

Take the case of the female worker whose supervisor starts making suggestive remarks — like suggesting she has fat ankles, thighs, hips, bust and shoulders. Would the courts side with corpulent workers who complain they were denied advancement because of their weight?

We shall see. Meanwhile, drastic action is needed to give fat people an image of health. May the FBI should start slipping untrimmed junk food into the lunch boxes of Soviet school children.

Flinch Factor Studied

By Jack Anderson

We recently reported on the "flinch factor" that causes hand-held-missile marksmen to miss their targets when they must wire-guide them while exposed to the jarring sounds of battle. Now we've learned that the General Accounting Office is checking into the flinch factor as it applies to Air Force pilots who have to "lock on" to their missile targets by flying in a straight line for 10 or 20 seconds. Any flinching in this situation could cause the multimillion-dollar missiles to miss their targets.

WHITE HOUSE PIPELINE: Washington gossip columnists would be the last to admit it, but the capital's cocktail circuit has been lacking a prime source of titillation recently: the once formidable backbiting between the National Security Council and the State Department, a battle that fortified a whole generation of tale bearers in this chatty city.

The reason is simple: The National Security Council, under its director, Adm. John Poindexter, is now completely overshadowed by Foggy Bottom and its boss, Secretary of State George Shultz. Poindexter is not only far from a household word in the country at large — he's barely known even in Washington power circles. Not for him the inspired leaks of such Machiavellian predecessors as Henry Kissinger and Zbigniew Brzezinski. Foreign policy is firmly in the State Department's hands, which is presumably the way President Reagan wants it. But it's tough on the gossip industry.

MINI-EDITORIAL: So George Allen, erstwhile football coach and current chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, thinks Soviet youngsters are in better shape than American kids because they don't watch TV till 3 a.m. "eating popcorn or some other junk food." He saw no fannies in Moscow, and praised the Kremlin's mandatory physical education program for better organization and greater discipline than its sloppy U.S. counterparts. We're not surprised that an old football coach would envy the dictatorial powers of his Soviet alter ego, but would he recommend banning sponsors' junk food ads and stadium sales?

VIEWPOINT

Indian Refugees Return To Uncertainties

By Lucy Hood

SANTIAGO PETATAN, Guatemala (UPI) — The Hernandez family stepped tentatively from the pickup that brought them back to their village.

They had fled four years earlier after 400 people were slaughtered in a nearby town, but now they were back.

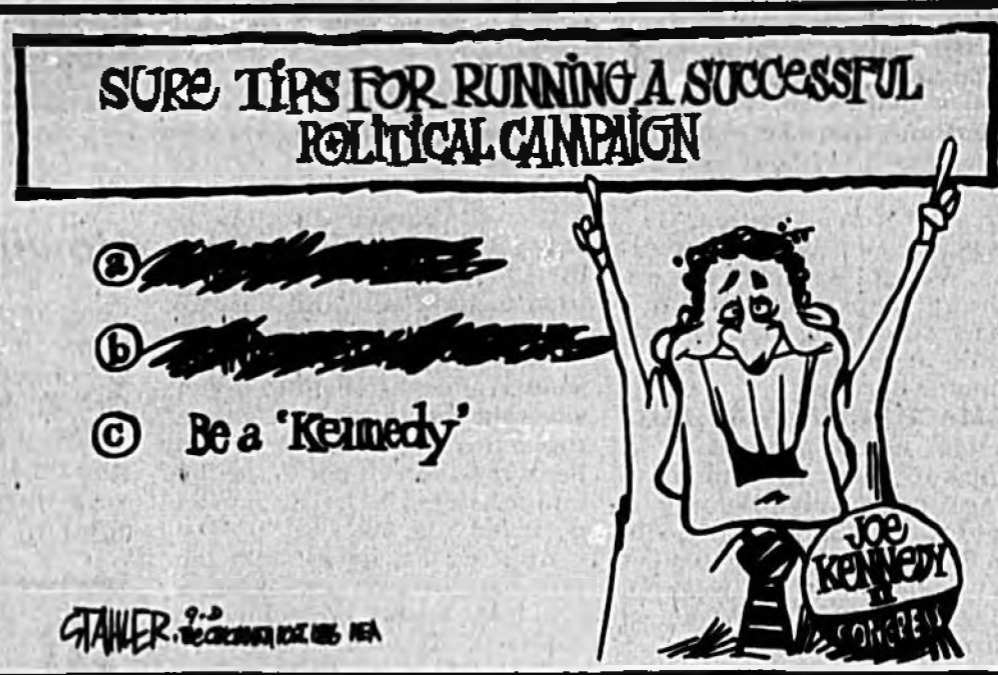

The returning Indian family included three new members, sons who had grown up in Mexico and spoke only Spanish, and not a word of the Indian dialect used in the village.

Some neighbors gave them a cool reception, an indication of the difficulty they would have reintegrating themselves into the tight-knit village.

An estimated 46,000 to 100,000 Guatemalans, most of them Indians, fled into Mexico between 1981 and 1984.

Human rights groups charge they left their homeland to escape the army's counteroffensive against rebels who then controlled much of the Indian highlands, saying the soldiers destroyed entire villages suspected of harboring guerrillas.

The army has consistently refuted the charge, saying the guerrillas forced the Indians into Mexico to provide them with a base of support after the army systematically re-

ROBERT WALTERS

A Coast, A Struggle

WATERLOO, Iowa (NEA) — During his speech to members of the Iowa Motor Truck Association, Gov. Terry Branstad makes a blatant appeal for voter support by chronicling the accomplishments of his first term.

He stresses the achievements likely to be most attractive to the trucking company executives, including reform of Iowa's unemployment compensation and liability insurance laws. "As governor, I've made improving the business climate of Iowa my top priority," he proclaims.

The audience listens respectfully but displays little enthusiasm. With Election Day approaching and Branstad, a Republican, fighting for his political future, there is little evidence that he is getting the fresh backing he desperately needs to gain a second term.

More than 800 miles away in Washington, Sen. Charles Grassley, also an Iowa Republican, attends to the business of Congress (he returns home every weekend). He is thoroughly confident that he will be elected to a second term this year.

Indeed, the highly regarded Iowa Poll conducted by the Des Moines Register showed that Grassley led his Democratic opponent by a phenomenal 40 percentage points when voters were surveyed in July and again in September.

Branstad held only a 2 point lead over his opponent in the July poll. Although the gap widened to 8 points in the September poll, the gubernatorial contest remains too close to call.

This raises the question of how two politicians — both members of the same party in the same state seeking re-election in the same year — can fare so differently.

The situation suggests that politicians' personalities and the public's perceptions have an important influence on the outcome of elections. The quality of the opposition can be almost irrelevant.

Branstad still suffers from the image of an inept young man (he will turn 40 later this year) who has never really mastered the job of governor.

Political observers here cite his outspoken opposition to a statewide lottery — until he belatedly discovered that it was overwhelmingly supported by the public. He then shamelessly switched his position.

Moreover, the conventional wisdom about the 1982 gubernatorial election is that Branstad didn't win it as much as his Democratic opponent lost it.

Finally, whoever won that gubernatorial contest inevitably would have suffered in comparison with Robert Ray, an enormously popular Republican who was governor for 14 years before stepping down.

Grassley has polished an image ideal for an Iowa politician — the apparent country bumpkin whose superficial lack of sophistication belies the fact that he is shrewd and smart enough to handle any city slicker.

"Grassley tied down his conservative base long ago and now he's locked up liberal votes as well with his criticism of mindless defense spending," notes one journalist here.

Indeed, Grassley has established himself as the leader of Congress' "cheap hawks" — conservative Republicans who insist they want a strong defense but will not countenance wasteful military spending.

WASHINGTON WORLD

Marigold Champion Memories

By Arnold Sawilak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you heard a low rumbling last Tuesday afternoon, it probably was Everett McKinley Dirksen commenting on the latest outrage committed by the folks he left behind to tend the nation's business.

Dirksen's posthumous dismay would have been caused by the House of Representatives, which gave final congressional approval to legislation designating the rose as the national flower.

The rose? Dirksen would have been horrified. Most surely, he would have taken the Senate floor and denounced the choice at length in an avalanche of technicolor rhetoric delivered in an oratorical style once described as "a rising tide of olive oil."

Dirksen, who came to Washington in 1933 and represented Illinois in the House and Senate for 36 years, was the champion of the marigold for the national flower. His loyalty to the marigold was as passionate and steadfast as his advocacy for other lost causes of the day, such as balanced budgets and more Republicans in the Senate.

His speeches on behalf of the marigold were yearly events eagerly awaited by aficionados of old-time elocution, and there were some who believe the debate over the issue of a national flower was purposely prolonged by members who preferred to listen to Ev Dirksen damn the rose and other such pretenders as the dogwood and the cornflower at length rather than sit through another dreary debate over nuclear proliferation.

Dirksen, who died just 17 years ago, was one of the last practitioners of medicine show oratory in Congress. His voice was low and syrupy, and like Tony Bennett, he loved to hold a note, rolling a long word around on his tongue and savoring each syllable.

His ornate style could be deceiving. During one legislative battle, reporters asked Dirksen, then Senate majority leader, a question and were told in sonorous tones, "That is locked in the bosom of Abraham."

He was telling them to ask House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck. One reporter who recalled that the initial stood for Abraham got the story.

said the refugees returned "with bad ideas, with subversive ideas."

When civilian President Vinicio Cerezo took office in January after 32 years of military-dominated rule, he said the refugees were welcome to return but urged them to wait until he could create more secure conditions.

Hernandez and his family did not want to wait any longer, however.

"I'm coming back because I want to see my mother, and my mother-in-law (who joined them in Mexico) wants to see her son," he said.

A government-hired bus carried them part of the way home. One Guatemalan waiting at the bus stop on the Pan American Highway told Hernandez, "You guys ran. We stayed and lived through the hard times."

"No. You did not live what we lived through. It was worse where we were," Hernandez told him, nodding his head north toward Mexico.

The final leg of the trip home was completed in a truck that picked up them and their possessions — two chickens, a duck, three ducklings, kitchen utensils, clothes, roofing material to begin building a house and 40,000 Mexican pesos ($57).

The pickup took the family along a rugged dirt road to Santiago

Petatan, and during the ride, Hernandez waved to friends working in the fields, people he has not seen for four years.

The faces of his wife and his mother-in-law were expressionless. Manuel, his 4-year-old son, spoke with a Mexican accent, using Mexican slang none of the other Indians in the bus or truck understood.

Arriving in Santiago Petatan, Lorenzo's mother-in-law, Jesusa Lopez, was dropped off at her surviving son's home.

Four of her sons were killed in the March 14, 1982 massacre. Her husband died in a Guatemalan refugee camp in Mexico and her other daughter decided not to come back.

Inside her home, Jesusa broke into tears of joy and sadness as she explained the deaths of her four sons and husband.

At Hernandez's home, as is common with Indians, most relatives were stoic and reserved. His relatively healthy, well-fed children contrasted sharply with the malnourished children of his relatives in remote Santiago Petatan.

Throughout the homecoming, Hernandez and his wife had to change from the Indian dialect they used with their relatives to speak to their children in Spanish.

Hernandez said he hoped he made the right decision.

Cowboys Bounce Cards' Comeback

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Just when the St. Louis Cardinals thought they were getting back in the game, the Dallas Cowboys put them out.

The Cardinals scored on the opening drive of the second half, but the Cowboys used a kickoff return to set up a decisive touchdown en route to a lopsided 31-7 victory Monday night.

"We started to jell after (Gordon) Banks' kickoff return," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry, who tied Don Shula for second place for most career victories as an NFL coach with 256. "After we scored, that seemed to take the wind from their sails.

"Our comeback in the third quarter was the key. We did the same thing against Atlanta last week and didn't win. The ability to bounce back was encouraging."

With Dallas leading 10-7, Banks galloped 56 yards, before Cedric Mack made a touchdown-saving tackle at the St. Louis 43.

Herschel Walker, who rushed for 82 yards on 19 carries in his first NFL start, ran for eight yards and caught a 10-yard pass to put Dallas, 3-1, on the St. Louis 24.

Walker, who caught five passes for 57 yards and a touchdown, gained 11 yards on a screen pass, before Tony Hill beat Lionel Washington in the end zone for a 10-yard touchdown pass. The score gave Dallas a 17-7 lead.

"We had come back after being down and then they get the big kickoff return," said St. Louis Coach Gene Stallings, who was an assistant under Landry for 14 years at Dallas. "We didn't want them to get good field position and they made a big play."

The Cardinals, 0-4, took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 76 yards in seven plays to cut the Dallas lead to 10-7.

"We made some plays and had it going," Stallings said.

But the Cardinals did little after that.

Quarterback Neil Lomax threw four interceptions, finishing with 14 of 33 passing for only 112 yards.

Stallings did not criticize Lomax, who was loudly booed by the sellout crowd.

"Early, he did play well but nobody played well in the second half," Stallings said. "We missed a lot of passes but that's not Neil's fault. I didn't think about taking him out because that would only hurt his confidence."

"He's our quarterback and he was doing the best job he could."

"I threw the ball well, especially to Dallas," Lomax said with a laugh. "It's not the interceptions that bother me so much as our inability to move the ball."

Fisher Detects Pop, Runs Away From Deficiency

DAYTONA BEACH — Tracy Fisher, a Lyman High junior, flashed some of the brilliance (and promise) here Saturday that made her one of Seminole County's best runners as a freshman.

And, after a year layoff, it appears as though nothing will stop Fisher from reaching her potential this fall.

Fisher and the Lyman Lady Greyhounds cross country team turned in a stellar performance Saturday at the Seabreeze Beach Run held on Daytona Beach. Fisher finished 10th with a time of 12:24 while teammates Lynn Gomezperalta and Julie Greenberg also finished in the top 20 as the Lady Greyhounds finished fourth in the meet.

Defending Class 4A State champion Winter Park, led by individual champion Kim Bovis (11:50), took first place with a team score of 51 followed by defending 3A champion Titusville Astronaut at 73 and defending 2A champ Daytona Beach Father Lopez at 120. Lyman was the second 4A team and fourth overall with a score of 149.

A year ago, when she could hardly finish a workout, Fisher and coach Fred Finke sat down and talked about the problem. It was later learned that Fisher was the victim of a vitamin deficiency.

"I was always tired and wanting to sleep," Fisher said. "I'd be going to sleep at 8:30 p.m. and still be tired during the day. I'm glad we found out what was always making me tired. Now I'm as ready to run as I ever was."

Finke said he's relieved to "iron out" the problem and Fisher has regained her pep. "We evaluated her problems and symptoms and we found out she wasn't receiving enough iron," Finke said. "So we put her on a program to help her get over it."

Lyman had a rough start Saturday as it was unable to get the starting lines on time and Fisher, although happy with her performance, was not pleased with tardiness.

"I was upset we didn't get to the start on time, but I'm happy with my time," Fisher said.

Finke was pleased with the performance also and is looking for good things from Fisher and his team in the future.

"I think she (Tracy) is starting to concentrate more on racing now," Finke said. "The top three girls work hard together and will stay together during the course of the season."

Fisher now has her mind on this year and hopes of returning to her top form. "I'm more interested in running this year," she said. "I hope to finish in the top five at the county meet, and I really want to make it to state."

Also turning in strong performances for Lyman Saturday were Gomezperalta (13th at 12:32) and Greenberg (18th at 12:41).

The Lake Mary girls squad was surprised as senior Lisa Shelby led the way posting a personal best with a run of 13:43 bettering her time by over 40 seconds as she finished 54. Tabatha Gano was next with a time of 13:57 good for 58, Allison Snell ran 14:08 finishing 66. Heather Heikkila disturbed by a kidney infection ran 14:42 placing 88, and Heidi Hostnick rounded out the scoring with a time of 15:28 good for place 101.

The Lyman boys team came up with a no team score as Finke was more interested which squad would best represent him overall.

Junior Robin Rogers turned in the top individual performance for the county, finishing third with a time of 15:26. Second for the 'Hounds was Mike Mohler finishing 14 with a time of 16:11. Teddy Mitchell finished third for Lyman with a time of 17:10 good for 36th place, and, coming off an injury, Kevin Quinn ran a 17:40 to round out the Lyman team.

Lake Mary was the top team to finish for the boys finishing fifth with a team score of 196. Eric Peterson led the way again for the Ram's finishing seventh with a time of 15:55.

Tribe, Howell Tune Up For SAC Opener

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High and Lake Howell High each got in one last match Monday night to tune up for tonight's Seminole Athletic Conference openers.

For the Lady Seminoles, coach Beth Corso said poor serve receiving was the difference in a 15-5, 15-8 loss to New Smyrna Beach's Lady Barracudas Monday at New Smyrna.

Lake Howell, meanwhile, won its third game of the season by outlasting Winter Park, 15-7, 8-15, 15-9 in a game played Monday night at Lyman High.

In tonight's SAC openers, Seminole hosts Oviedo, Lake Howell is at Lyman and Lake Mary goes to Lake Brantley. All matches start with the junior varsity at 8 followed by varsity at 7.

"We've got to improve on our serve receive for our conference opener," Corso said. "We had eight bad serve receives in each game tonight. Our serve receive didn't allow us to set up our offense."

Seminole dropped to 0-4 with the loss while Oviedo comes in with a 7-1 record including three straight in taking the Winter Park Tournament title this past weekend.

"Oviedo's experience really pulls them through," Corso said. "They're not a real tall team but they play well together."

Against New Smyrna, Seminole jumped out to a 3-0 lead behind opening server Lisa McGrotha. New Smyrna then reeled off seven straight points to make it 7-3 but Seminole pulled within 7-5 with Maryann Calibuso and Liz Long serving one point apiece.

Seminole had its chances to pull closer but couldn't convert and New Smyrna then scored six straight points for a 13-5 lead. After the Lady Tribe failed to score on two more serves, New Smyrna scored two points to close out the first game.

Along with the eight bad serve receives, Seminole had just one kill in the first game, that by Diana Mitchell.

Seminole played well in the early going of the second game and, after trailing, 4-0, came back to take a 6-4 lead with Bengie Calibuso and Long serving two points each.

The Lady Barracudas bounced back with six points of their own for a 10-6 lead before Sheri Peterson served Seminole within 10-8. New Smyrna ran the lead to 14-8 and Seminole held through three more side outs before New Smyrna got the final point.

"I liked our coverage and movement and we had good serving from McGrotha and good net play from Sheri (Peterson)," Corso said. "But we only had three kills in the two games. We were setting up Liz (Long) most of the match but everything she hit went out."

In junior varsity action, Seminole dropped a 15-5, 15-8 decision to New Smyrna. The JV Lady Seminoles now stand at 1-1.

Lake Howell was led by the strong serving of Monica Schneider, Kelly Dean and Debbie McDonough in its victory over Winter Park. The Lady Hawks take a 4-5 record into tonight's SAC opener.

"The last few wins have been a confidence booster for us," Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "I think we're ready for the conference to start."

In the first game Monday, Winter Park had a 3-1 lead when

Schneider, the team's senior leader, served nine straight points for a 10-3 Lake Howell lead. Winter Park got within 10-7 before Dean served two points and Sandy Montes then served the last three points of the first game.

Lake Howell had a breakdown in its defense in game two which allowed Winter Park to even the match with an 15-8 win. "Winter Park started hitting offspeed stuff in the middle and we were not adjusting," Luciano said.

In game three, Winter Park had a 9-4 lead when McDonough's key hit broke up the rally and gave the serve to Lake Howell. McDonough, the only sophomore on the squad, then served six points to give the Lady Hawks the lead, 10-9. Dean's offspeed hit provided the 10th point.

Lake Howell then made it 11-9 on Susan Hayden's hit and Schneider then came on to serve the 12th through 15th points for the Lake Howell victory.

Earlier Monday, Lake Howell's junior varsity dropped its opener 15-13, 15-6, to Winter Park.

Slumping Gators Scare Arnsparger

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Louisiana State head football coach Bill Arnsparger, who is prepping his Tigers this week for their Southeastern Conference opener, won't be taking the slumping Florida Gators lightly on Saturday.

Arnsparger said he respects the Gators, despite their early 1-3 showing.

"Considering that they have played the number one and number two teams in the country and Mississippi State, who is up there, they have played well but not well enough to beat three of the top 10 teams in the country," he said.

LSU, 1-1, will practice today through Thursday in Baton Rouge before heading for Gainesville on Friday morning. Kickoff on Saturday is set for 12:30 p.m. CDT.

REPORT: HUMES TO QUIT HEELS

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — William Humes, once touted as the next in North Carolina's long line of 1,000-yard running backs, has decided to leave the Tar Heel football team because of nagging injuries, says the school's newspaper.

Seminole To Host Lake Mary Friday

While three county football teams go on the road Friday, Seminole and Oviedo will be in their backyard for a pair of crucial showdowns.

●Seminole, which has lost its first three games, faces Lake Mary in a Seminole Athletic Conference battle at Sanford. The Rams, 1-1, were idle last week after getting upended by DeLand a week earlier.

"They're a very talented team," Seminole coach Dave Mosure said about the Tribe's county rival. "They can beat you in a lot of ways."

Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said he was impressed with Seminole's defense in a 7-3 setback to Lake Howell Friday. "They've got some well-built kids who are really quick," he said.

●Oviedo, 1-1, was also idle last week after losing to Daytona Beach Seabreeze the week prior. The Lions are in a must-win situation Friday at home against New Smyrna Beach if they want to remain alive in the District 4A-5.

Oviedo coach Jack Blanton is looking to wake up an ineffective offense. "New Smyrna can score points," he said. "We'll have to do better than we did against Seabreeze (14-2 loss)."

Elsewhere, Lyman, 2-1, travels to DeLand for a District 5A-4 game, Lake Howell, 3-0, journey to Apopka to a key District 5A-5 encounter and Lake Brantley, 0-3, treks to Winter Park for another 5A-5 clash.

Lake Howell is 1-0 in 5A-5 while Lyman is 0-1 in 5A-4. Brantley is 0-1 in 5A-5. — Sam Cook

Sax Moves Up

LA's Steve Sax beats the throw home. Sax singled and tripled in two at-bats Monday against San Diego to boost his batting average to .328, nine points behind National League leader Tim Lincecum. Padre Tony Gwynn didn't play while Raines and the Expos had the day off. Raines (.337) leads Gwynn by (.329) eight points. Raines plays at home tonight against the New York Mets.

Lyman Meet To Gauge Frosh-Soph Performers

The annual Lyman High School Freshmen-Sophomore meet will be held tonight starting at 5 with the girls two mile race followed by the boys three mile at 5:30. The meet features the best young runners from the six Seminole County schools while Orlando Bishop Moore and Trinity Prep have been on hand in the past.

In the girls meet, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley are expected to battle it out as the two schools' junior varsity squads have been trading the top spot back and forth the past year.

Lake Howell's top sophomores are twins Jenny and Tammy Bolt while sophomore Cindy Oliver and freshmen Michelle Lee and Hollie Marshall have also performed well in the early season. Lake Brantley has four top-notch sophomores, all of whom run varsity, in Kristin Longmire, Heather Camino, Mindy Olinger and Karen Kopp.

Other top performers in the girls race should include Seminole's Nadrianne McGill, Lake Mary's Allison Snell and Lyman's Adelle Portney.

Mary Lou Steps Out

Retton, 18, Retires With 5 Gold Medals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mary Lou Retton, America's Sweetheart, announced her retirement from gymnastics Monday at the golden age of 18.

The bubbly pixie who won five medals at the 1984 Olympics, reluctantly gave up her quest of further glory for the joy of returning to school.

"Gymnastics was my life for 11 years," she said. "I spent my whole life in the gym, six hours a day every day. Now there's kind of a gap in my life. But I achieved the goals I wanted at an early age. Now I have the rest of my life to do what I want."

She wants to pursue studies in communications at the University of Texas, where she is a freshman, and to remain involved with gymnastics as a coach and announcer. She is in negotiations with NBC to work as a commentator on gymnastics events leading up to and including the 1988 Olympics at Seoul.

"I'm very excited about being in school," she said. "I haven't been in a formal class atmosphere since the 10th grade when I had to do correspondence courses. I graduated that way, and I don't think I learned as much as if I had been in school. If I didn't attend college, I feel I would have regretted it."

Classes started Sept. 2, and Retton says during the first few days she was the object of stares and attention whenever her name was called, or while walking on the campus.

"They're getting used to me now," she said.

In Speech 319, Retton had a surprise for her teacher and classmates.

"I had to give a five-minute speech, and everyone was expecting me to explain how to do a flip or the intricacies of gymnastics. Instead I brought a spare tire with me and I explained how to repair a flat tire. I know all about that."

The 4-foot-9 gymnast became a heroine to the American public with her exploits at Los Angeles. By winning the all-around title, she became the first American woman to earn an Olympic gold medal in gymnastics. Then came the decision as to whether to renew her intensive training for another Olympics.

Cross Country

In the boys meet, host Lyman has the strongest top two in freshman Teddy Mitchell and sophomore Darren Marshall, both varsity runners, and two up and coming runners in freshman Rabbin Brooks and sophomore Tom Hansing.

Lake Howell also has a solid young running corps led by sophomores Kavan Howell and Brandon Lowenthal and freshman Jason Springhart. The Lake Howell junior varsity had a perfect score of 15 in winning the Seminole High Invitational this past weekend.

Seminole High is led by sophomore David Johnson, who should be among the individual leaders. Other promising young runners for the 'Noles include sophomores Jason Kaiser and Brent Posey.

Leading the way for Lake Brantley is freshman Tyler Iller while sophomore Derek Bates is Oviedo's top young runner.

Bennett: Bucs Fighting Through Childhood Pain

By Ira Kaufman
UPI Sports Writer

TAMPA — According to Coach Leeman Bennett, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers are merely fighting their way through a painful childhood.

The Buccaneers fell to 1-3 Sunday with a 23-20 overtime loss to Atlanta. The Falcons rallied from a 20-7 halftime deficit to remain unbeaten while Tampa Bay dropped to 3-17 overall under Bennett, the ex-Falcons coach who couldn't help but admire Atlanta's tenacity.

"We had a supreme effort and played about as well as we can play," Bennett said Monday. "This team has gotten better each week and I think the players feel that way, too. We've got to dwell on what we did positive and we'll start making those big plays — the interceptions and sacks — as time goes on. It's all part of our growth process. The Falcons went 4-12 two straight years before they matured this season."

Bennett said tailback James Wilder, sidelined for the last two games with a bruised chest, is probable for Sunday's game against the Los Angeles Rams. Second-year defensive end Ron Holmes hurt his left knee against the Falcons and was listed as doubtful for Sunday.

The Falcons outgained the Buccaneers 300 yards to 87 yards after the first half, and quarterback David Archer made several key plays to force a 20-20 tie on Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard field goal as the fourth-quarter clock expired.

"Here was a football team that was undefeated and that made up its mind it wasn't ready to lose," Bennett said. "They simply decided we weren't gonna beat them, and that's what happened. We came up short because we didn't make the four or five plays you need to win. I told my players that the teams that have beaten us (49ers, Vikings, Falcons) have lost a total of two games, so it's obvious we've been playing some good clubs."

In his seventh NFL start, Tampa Bay quarterback Steve Young played his most polished game. The second-year pro completed 12 of 21 passes for 160 yards, and scrambled for another 68 yards. He threw one touchdown pass and ran 21 yards for another score within a 67-second span late in the first half.

"This was by far the best Steve Young has looked," Bennett said. "I thought he grew a lot in this game."

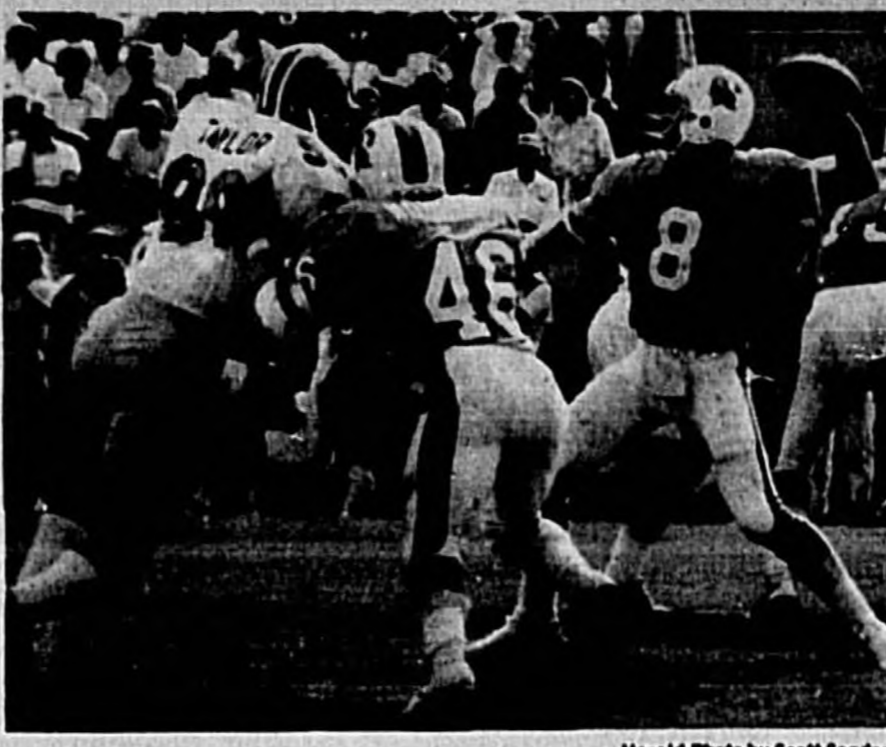

Defensively, the Buccaneers will focus Sunday on stopping Eric Dickerson, who has accounted for 450 of the 569 yards gained by the Rams on the ground. Atlanta's Gerald Riggs ripped Tampa Bay for 129 yards on 27 carries and Dickerson is averaging 25 attempts per game.

"People have been able to run against us better than I would have expected," said Bennett. "Atlanta got outside on us a couple of times."

49ERS EXPOSE MARINO

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami's 31-16 loss Sunday to San Francisco underscored how important Dan Marino is to the Dolphins.

When Marino plays his normal game, the team's massive defensive shortcomings are shielded some and the Dolphins are competitive. When he has a rare off day, like he did Sunday against the 49ers, the Dolphins' weaknesses — an injury-plagued offensive line, poor running game and a porous defense — are painfully exposed.

Marino's right arm has carried the Dolphins' the past two seasons and he entered the game as the highest-rated passer in NFL history. Against the 49ers, he reverted to some bad habits he displayed in his senior year at Pittsburgh and threw four interceptions, missed open receivers, and looked like a mediocre quarterback.

In his last year at Pitt, Marino forced the ball into coverages and tried to accomplish too much. He did that again Sunday in the Orange Bowl. Still, he finished with 27 completions in 46 attempts for 301 yards and a touchdown.

"I sometimes got into the bad habit of trying to do some things that weren't there," Marino said. "Other times, I had guys out there and I made bad throws. As a quarterback you have to play smart and (Sunday) I didn't play very smart."

The 49ers pressured Marino into one interception, but the other three were poorly thrown balls. In the third quarter, on third-and-20 from the San Francisco 25, Marino failed to see Mark Clayton alone in the end zone and instead dumped the ball off to Tony Nathan for a 6-yard gain.

On almost any Sunday, the Dolphins would have scored on that play and trailed 17-16 early in the third quarter. Instead, Fuad Revez missed a 37-yard field goal and Miami came away with nothing.

Marino was taken out of the game when Ronnie Lott picked off a pass and lateraled to Tom Holmoe, who ran 66 yards for a touchdown.

Luckhurst Lives For The Pressure

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

TAMPA — Atlanta field goal kicker Mick Luckhurst thrives on pressure situations — which is the big reason the 4-0 Falcons have equaled their victory total of last year.

Luckhurst's 18-yard field goal with 44 seconds remaining against Dallas two weeks ago gave Atlanta its second win against the Cowboys in club history.

His pair of 34-yarders against Tampa on Sunday — one with no time on the clock and the other with 2:20 left in overtime — showed that it is a true offensive asset to have a kicker that can make a boot in the clutch.

"That's what Mick does best," a relieved Atlanta assistant coach Dan Henning said after the Falcons 23-20 come-from-behind overtime victory over Tampa Sunday.

Throughout the game Luckhurst was nervously pacing the sidelines, hoping for an opportunity to kick an important field goal. Luckhurst wanted to win the game like he had against Dallas the week before.

"I sure hope I get a chance to kick another one like that," Luckhurst said in the third quarter from the Falcons' sideline. "It really felt sweet last week and I would love to do it again."

Kicking is probably the most pressure-filled job on the team. A kicker can be the hero of the game, or he can be the goat. Luckhurst said that he likes to be in a situation where the outcome of a game depends on his left foot.

"I like for it all to come down to my kick," Luckhurst said. "There is a lot of pressure but I really like it."

With Tampa holding a 20-14 lead late in the fourth quarter, it appeared that Luckhurst would not get the opportunity he was seeking. Atlanta got the ball back and called on Luckhurst to kick a 43-yarder with 4:03 remaining. Luckhurst calmly walked on the field and drilled the ball through the uprights to make the score, 20-17.

After a critical interception thrown by Tampa quarterback Steve Young with 2:23 left in regulation, Atlanta had one last try.

It appeared that Atlanta scored a touchdown with under a minute left but the play was called back due to an offensive interference call against the Falcons. After two more plays failed, Luckhurst was called in with only 4 seconds to play.

Luckhurst came in and kicked a knuckler that just barely cleared the bar, tying the game and sending it into overtime. "I thought it was short," an ecstatic Luckhurst said after the kick. "That was too close. I didn't get all of it but it still counts the same."

After both teams stopped each other once in overtime, Atlanta got within field-goal range and called upon Luckhurst once again. Luckhurst responded with a perfect 34-yarder giving Atlanta the win. "It feels great to do this two weeks in a row," Luckhurst said. "Hopefully I'll be in the same situation soon."

Pack Tried Out Flutie

BOSTON (UPI) — Quarterback Doug Flutie has received a tryout with the Green Bay Packers, a published report said today.

Flutie, the former Boston College standout who played professionally with the New Jersey Generals of the U.S. Football League, was given permission to try out with the Packers by the Los Angeles Rams, who hold his NFL rights, the Boston Globe reported.

The Rams recently traded for rookie quarterback Jim Everett, whom they signed to a $2.6 million contract.

Coach Forrest Gregg has said his 0-4 Packers need help at quarterback. Randy Wright and Vince Ferragamo are the team's two quarterbacks.

General owner Donald Trump last week gave Flutie permission to try out with an NFL team.

PATRIOTS FOR SALE
FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — The financially strapped owners of the New England Patriots are trying to revive efforts to sell the AFC champions, a published report said today.

Billy Sullivan, patriarch of the family that owns the team, and his son Patrick, the team's general manager, met last week with Boston businessman Robert Kraft in hopes of reaching an agreement, the Boston Globe said.

The Sullivans have apparently given up on finalizing a deal to sell the team to a Philadelphia-based group of investors headed by former U.S. Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis, the newspaper said.

The Sullivans are behind on interest payments to the banks that hold notes on Sullivan Stadium, the New England Harness Raceway and the Patriots, the Globe said.

DENT TO MISS VIKINGS

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (UPI) — Defensive end Richard Dent, last year's Super Bowl MVP, will probably miss next Sunday's game against Minnesota, Chicago Coach Mike Ditka said Monday.

Dent, who missed most of Sunday's 44-7 romp at Cincinnati, has a pulled hamstring and will not practice this week.

"It's very swollen. It's a good pull," Ditka said. "Dent will miss the game."

Dent will be replaced by Mike Hartenstein, who will set a new club record if he plays Sunday. Hartenstein has played in 167 straight games and will break the club record of 168 set by Bob Parsons.

"If Dent can't make it, Hartenstein will. If Hartenstein can't make it, Henry Waechter will. If they can't do it, we'll go out and sign someone," Ditka said.

Ditka and Dent, who led the NFL in sacks last year, were at odds earlier this month after Dent could not practice because of a back injury.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Panamanian Legislators Protest CIA Inquiry With Hunger Strike

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — Three legislators on a hunger strike said they will end their protest when Panama's legislature restricts the presence of the Central Intelligence Agency in the country and condemns its inquiry into corruption in Panama.

The legislators, members of the ruling military-backed Revolutionary Party, began their protest in front of the U.S. Embassy Monday.

Last week U.S. senators approved a measure for the CIA to verify a series of recent U.S. news reports linking the Panamanian military with arms and drug trafficking and human rights violations.

The three legislators said they expected other lawmakers to join the strike in the afternoon.

"It is flagrant interventionism in Panama's affairs and a sign of disrespect for the good relations our people have had with the people of the United States," said Luis Gomez, head of the Committee on Foreign Relations in the legislature.

Polish Leader Leaves Peking

PEKING (UPI) — Polish leader Wojciech Jaruzelski left Peking today after a three-day visit that marked the first resumption of Communist Party ties between China and a close Moscow ally since the bitter Sino-Soviet split of the 1960s.

"Through discussions of economic construction and the exchange of experience, we have discovered that we have several points in common — and the same applies to international issues," Chinese Foreign Minister Wu Xueqian said at the departing ceremony for Jaruzelski and his 50-member delegation.

Jaruzelski's visit marks the first party contact between Peking and a close Moscow ally since the Sino-Soviet split of the 1960s.

Court Upholds Emergency Acts

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — In a landmark judgment, the nation's highest court today upheld emergency measures allowing jailing without charge.

After seven weeks of consideration, the Appeal Court in Bloemfontein ruled on contradictory judgments by Supreme Courts in Natal province that upheld and struck down President Pieter Botha's sweeping detention measures.

In Johannesburg, U.S. Ambassador Herman Nickel said an "honest broker" might be needed to bridge deep suspicions preventing power-sharing negotiation between the white-led government and black leaders.

Botha Monday night ruled out a general election this year but called on voters to be prepared if he decides to call for elections next year.

Chernobyl Reactor In Operation

MOSCOW (UPI) — One of the Chernobyl nuclear station's four reactors has resumed operation, five months after history's worst atomic power plant disaster, the Soviet media announced Monday.

The report came first in a Sept. 26 newspaper from Kiev that reached Moscow Monday and was confirmed later in reports by the official Tass news agency and the government newspaper Izvestia.

"The physical start of the undamaged unit No. 1 of the Chernobyl nuclear power station has taken place," Tass said. "It was out of operation for five months."

"Today, in the morning, the reactor reached the minimum controlled level," Tass said Monday. It said the start of generation of electricity was the next stage.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Utility Rate Reduction Pact Subject To PSC Approval

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Public Service Commission will be asked to approve an agreement worked out with Florida Power Corp. providing for a $54 million rate reduction in 1987.

Public Counselor Jack Shreve, who represents consumers in utility matters before the PSC, said the agreement reached Monday was a result of a petition he filed with the PSC earlier seeking a rate reduction because of the drop in interest rates, the decrease in bond rates and the overall condition of the economy.

"The drop in rates and the general economy did not justify the type earnings they were getting," Shreve said.

Shreve said the agreement provides for the customers to recover the entire tax reduction Florida Power Corp. will receive in the tax bill now awaiting the signature of President Ronald Reagan, as well as a reduction in the allowable rate of return granted the utility.

"If Florida Power had been allowed to keep the entire tax reduction it would have been profit," Shreve said. "I want the benefit to go to my customers."

He said the Florida Power Corp. reduction will be about $3.38 per month for a customer using 1,000 kilowatt hours of electricity.

Tests Set For Radon Levels

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Scientists are testing well water in parts of the state to determine if a radioactive gas that is derived from uranium presents any health hazards, a University of Florida professor said Monday.

Radon, a radioactive gas derived from uranium, is colorless, odorless and tasteless, UF environmental engineering Professor W.S. Bolch Jr. said. Since all soils and rocks contain uranium, Bolch said, small amounts of radon are ever present.

But he said phosphate deposits contain more uranium than other materials in the soil, and phosphate underlies large areas throughout the state, especially in northern and central Florida.

Radon has been linked to an increased risk of lung cancer. The Environmental Protection Agency says as many as 20,000 deaths a year may be attributed to radon.

Inmate's Fast Of Scant Concern

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Jailers say they are not worried about a frail-looking anti-abortionist who is on a hunger strike, but they plan to keep an eye on her until she is turned over to state custody this week.

"It's not her intention to starve herself to death," said Stephen A. Flynn, the lawyer for Joan Andrews. He said the Newark, Del., woman "has many times fasted before."

Derailment To Force Evacuation

Five railroad cars including a tank car carrying a corrosive chemical were derailed by a broken track in DeBary early today and an evacuation of nearby residents was being planned. No injuries were reported.

A.L. Wilson, fire marshal for Volusia County, said the accident occurred around 8 a.m. at Benson Junction, on Fort Florida Road a few hundred feet west of U.S. Highway 17-92.

Wilson said 33 cars of the 38-car train got past the bad rail before it broke, tipping the corrosive chemical car on its side and tipping other cars carrying plastic, plywood and fertilizer.

About 50 to 60 residents in a mobile park area next to the track have been told they will have to evacuate when the cars are righted late today. The evacuees can go to the DeBary Fire Station and auxiliary building.

A "seal kit" for the tank car was being rushed to the scene because small leaks were discovered. If the situation grows worse, the area will be evacuated sooner, a railroad official said.

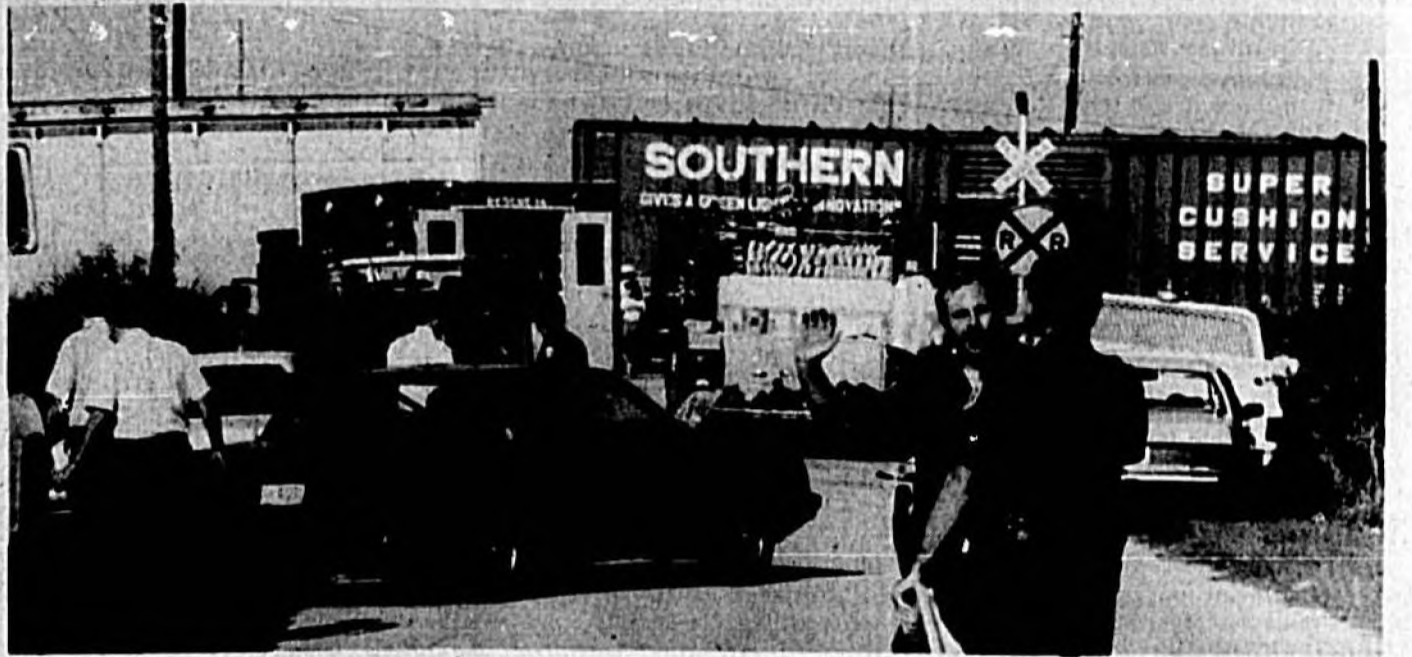

Wilson said a diesel engine was traveling to the scene from DeLand to pull the upright 33 cars away and a wrecker train is on its way from Jacksonville to right the cars and repair the track. It was expected the clearing and repair would take all day.

Volusia County Sheriff's deputies began cordoning off the area about 1 1/2 hours after the accident when more leaks were found in the black tank car.

CORRECTION

Because of a reporting and editing error, the dates of the first primary election and the general election were incorrect in a page one story Monday. The primary election, reported to be Sept. 3, was Sept. 2, and the general election, reported to be Nov. 3, is Nov. 4.

AREA DEATHS

Franklin Whitner Chase, Citrus Grower, Dead At 78

Franklin Whitner Chase

Central Florida citrus grower Franklin Whitner Chase, 78, of Windermere, died Sunday at Orlando Regional Medical Center of lung cancer following a long illness. Born Jan. 20, 1908 in Sanford, he moved to Windermere in 1933.

He was the son of Sydney O. Chase, founder of Chase and Company, produce and fertilizer company, and Laura Whitner Chase, a descendant of William Pope Duval, Florida's first territorial governor.

Part of Chase and Company, Sanford, and Chase Groves, Inc. for more than 50 years, his experiments and procedures at his packing plant led to improvements in the citrus business. He managed Chase and Company's and Chase Groves, Inc.'s grove holdings in Isleworth near Windermere and around the state, becoming a leader in the citrus industry.

He was one of the first citrus growers to use overhead sprinklers in the groves. He developed more than 20 root-stock varieties.

In the early 80s Chase groves were hit by winter freezes, hurting business. In 1984 when Chase retired, the business was closed and the family sold the Isleworth property to Arnold Palmer for the development of a 900-home subdivision and golf and country club.

He was a member of the Florida Citrus Commission for 12 years. He was director of the United Growers and Shippers Association and was director of the West Coast Growers Cooperative in Dade City from 1965 to 1982.

He was an alumnus of Phillip

Exeter Academy and Princeton University. He married the former Helen Vernay of Sanford in 1935. During World War II he served as a captain in the U.S. Army Air Corps in North Africa and Italy.

He was a member of the Orange County Committee of 100, the Windermere Navigation and Water Control Advisory Board, the West Orange Health Care Foundation, and the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, where he served on the vestry.

He was director of the Butler Chain Conservation Association and a trustee of West Orange Memorial Hospital from 1947-1984. He was a member of Country Club of Orlando, Isleworth Golf and Country Club, Wildcat Cliffs Country Club, Highlands, N.C., and Cedar Creek Racquet Club, Cashiers, N.C.

Survivors include his wife, Helen; son, F. Whitner Chase Jr., Sanford; daughter, Lucia Chase Bright, Valdosta; brother, Sydney O. Chase Jr., Sanford; five grandchildren, Franklin W. Chase III, Windermere, Pamela Harlan Chase and Elizabeth Randolph Chase, both of Winter Park, Thomas Converse Bright and Elizabeth Chase Bright, both of Valdosta; one step-granddaughter, Elizabeth Allison Sirkin, Sheridan, Wyo.

A memorial service is scheduled for 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Episcopal Church of the Messiah in Winter Garden.

Woodlawn Funeral Home in Orlando is in charge of arrangements.

Teens Lose Self-Control And Want To Find Birth Control

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and have been going with this guy. I'll call Brian for four months. (He's 17.) We are very much in love and need help.

We have been having sex regularly and we never once have used any kind of protection. Thank God I haven't ended up pregnant. I want to ask my mom to put me on the pill, but I'm afraid if I do, she will forbid me to see Brian again, then I'd probably end up running away. Brian keeps telling me to ask my mom to put me on the pill, but I'm scared. I'm scared I'll get pregnant, and I'm scared to ask my mom. What should I do?

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: First, a boy who uses no protection when he's having sex with a girl doesn't "love" her — he's using her. And a girl who would permit it is a child in a woman's body. Sex is for mature people who can handle parenthood should they accidentally have a child. You obviously don't qualify.

The best birth control is self-control, but for me to tell you that you have no business having sex is useless because you already know it, and are not about to stop because I said so.

Dear Abby

You can either go on as you are and end up pregnant — which you surely will — or you can tell your mom that you are sexually active and want to go on the pill. Or you can go to a family planning clinic on your own and learn to protect yourself from an unwanted pregnancy or the possibility of a venereal disease. I do not approve of sex for children your age, but if you choose to continue, then you must protect yourself.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter in your column from "Skinny Minnie," it made me realize how many other people have my problem. I've been underweight all my life, but it never bothered me until people started sticking their 2 cents in. I've even been asked if I'm anorexic, which I am not. I've tried everything I know of to gain weight. I've even gone to doctors. Nothing has helped. Like "Skinny Minnie," I've learned to live with my problem, but how I wish people would leave me alone. Maybe if you print this it would let folks know that it's just as cruel to say, "Gee, you're thin," as it is to say, "Gee, you're fat!"

BALTIMORE TOOTHPICK

DEAR TOOTHPICK: Well-mannered people never make personal comments. And that goes for the following: "Gee, you're tall," "Gee, you're short," "Is that your own hair, or are you wearing a wig?" "Are you wearing false eyelashes?" "Are those fingernails real?" "Are those your teeth?" "Have you had a nose job?" And the list goes on.

DEAR ABBY: I thought you might like to hear how I handled a remark about my obesity: When a "supposed" friend said, "You certainly are getting fat," I replied, "Every time I look into a mirror, I am reminded of how fat I am, but your stupidity shows only when your open your mouth. I may lose weight but you will always remain stupid."

Planning For The Future Of Sanford

The Kiwanis Club — Seminole Sunrise of Sanford recently held its presidential installation for 86-87. Jim Hardy, left, outgoing president hands over the president's gavel and duties to C. J. "Kit" Carson. Carson plans for the Kiwanis this year are of course the annual benefits for the underprivileged children such as the Flea Market and Peanut Day, but more importantly, "We want to become more public in the things that we do," says Carson. The president-elect invites the men of the community to become civically involved with the Kiwanis Club at 7 a.m. every Friday morning at the Airooft Restaurant. Carson will start his year as president on Oct. 1.

Leisure Classes Announced

The Leisure Time Program at Seminole Community College announces that the following classes will begin during the month of October 1986. "These classes are self-supported by student fees at no expense to the taxpayer," according to Fay C. Brake, supervisor of the program. Registrations are being accepted in the Registrar's Office at SCC.

OIL AND ACRYLIC PAINTING (morning class) — Basic to advanced techniques in acrylic and oil painting concentrating on use of color, composition and perspective as applied to portrait, figure, still life and landscape painting.

MOTORCYCLE RIDER COURSE (morning to afternoon) — This course is designed to assist in the development and improvement of riding skills necessary for individuals with little or no riding experience. Motorcycles and safety equipment provided. Approved by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation.

BETTER BIKING PROGRAM (morning to afternoon) — For the experienced motorcycle rider. This program reviews important riding skills such as proper braking, turning, speed selection and countersteering. Use your own motorcycle. Riders need helmet, gloves, boots, jacket, and sturdy trousers. Approved by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation.

HOME CANNING (evening class) — Six sessions in which the students will learn how to can vegetables, pickles and jelly. The season of the year will dictate the availability of fruits and vegetables and will determine specifically what will be taught.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT (morning and evening classes) — Designed to introduce the different floral design techniques.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT/SPECIALTY FLORAL DESIGN (morning and evening classes) — Designs for weddings, proms, and other special occasions. Class instruction will include basic skills for creating taped and wired designs and holder bouquets and corsages.

CHRISTMAS ARRANGEMENT AND WREATH WORKSHOP (morning and evening classes) — These classes consist of making the coordinating Christmas arrangements, wreaths, mantle pieces, and other holiday pieces for the home or as gifts.

WU SHU KUNG FU (evening class) — Kung Fu is the oldest known martial art and as such has given birth to or influenced many other styles of martial arts.

Scuba World III Expands Classroom, Display Area

Scuba World III, has doubled the size of its store in the Land and Water Sports Center at 1667 S. U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, expanding from 1,200 square feet to 2,400 square feet. The expansion will provide much more classroom and showroom area, according to co-owner and president Kevin Gonzalez. He also said computerizing the store will provide much more efficient management and control of inventory. New classes are starting Oct. 13 and 21 for open water divers. The $19.95 fee covers equipment, wetsuit, classroom and pool instruction. To complete the course, for an additional $30 students will receive four open water dives in area springs, equipment, wetsuit and open water diver certification. Scuba World III, a PADI (Professional Association of Diving Instructors) training facility, "Dry" classes are conducted in-shop at Suba III's Longwood store and pool classes are offered year round in an indoor heated pool. Scuba III's sister store is located at 937 W. State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, in the Kmart Shopping Center. Co-owner is Steve Bilsky. Both Steve and Kevin are open water diving instructors. Kevin is a 26-year resident of Sanford and has been diving for 13 years. Steve has 11 years diving experience. Mark Willetts, who was born and raised in Sanford, now works at Scuba World III full-time. I you have a diving enthusiast on your Christmas list, you can purchase gifts they are sure to like at Scuba World III and a layaway plan is available. Scuba World III carries equipment by all major diving manufacturers and offers professional repair service on all makes and models of Scuba equipment. They rent diving equipment such as air tank, regulator, buoyancy compensator and wetsuit. They conduct diving trips to such places as Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Miami, the Bahamas and the Florida Keys. In May a trip aboard a 110-foot dive boat in the Cayman Islands is planned. For more information on classes, trips, or equipment call 695-0991.

Chiropractor Has Clinic On Lake Mary Boulevard

Dr. Thomas F. Yandell Jr., doctor of chiropractic, has opened his new Lake Mary Boulevard Chiropractic Clinic in Suite 107 of the Bayhead Center, 902 E. Lake Mary Boulevard, Sanford. Dr. Yandell specializes in acupuncture, pain control, and personal injury and workers compensation cases at his chiropractic family health center. Earlier this year, Dr. Yandell was part of a delegation invited to Japan and took part in lecture group and workshop on chiropractic techniques while there. He spent 15 days in Japan studying research in acupuncture, pain control, special techniques and massage in conjunction with the 30th anniversary of the Japanese Chiropractic Society. Dr. Yandell is starting some really modern techniques in acupuncture, the non-piercing needle technique, which is called Teishin and electrical acupuncture. "Manipulation of the spine in combination with acupuncture is over 5,000 years old," Dr. Yandell said. "Japanese and Chinese philosophy with acupuncture is if you balance energy or electrical pathways in the body that gives the body a natural balance and a natural way to heal itself." "The chiropractic philosophy is that you balance out structure of the spine, take pressure off the nerves there by putting the body in a state of balance, therefore putting the body in a position to heal itself," he added. "The Chinese doctors' philosophy is if you can combine acupuncture and its results with manipulation of the spine and its results, the patient has the best chance of receiving good results," Dr. Yandell said. "That is the philosophy of my new clinic." "It is a holistic approach for the whole family. I encourage the husband or wife to bring their spouse with them for the free spinal evaluation and findings," he said. The clinic is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon and 3-7 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon. Call 322-9300.

Linda Johnston, president of The Office Source, with Carl Shackford, service technician.

Office Source Announces Merger With Micro Supply

The Office Source, 111 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, announced today the details of an upcoming name change and merger with Micro Supply Company of Orlando, a statewide retailer of computer and office equipment and supplies. As of Nov. 1, the Sanford business will be known as Micro Supply of Seminole County.

Office Source President Linda Johnston, commenting in an interview Monday, said, "Joining forces with Micro Supply Company will enable us to offer a broader spectrum of computer and data processing products as well as technical maintenance and service of business equipment. We have spent this last year building the network of consultants, supply vendors and technical staff that we needed to make this new venture work. It is very exciting to see it all finally coming together."

The first joint effort will be participation in The Great Southern Computer Show, Oct. 10, 11 and 12 at the Centroplex Auditorium in Orlando. This show of computer equipment and services is open to the public. Micro Supply of Orlando and Seminole County will have for sale and display a sample of the computer hardware and supplies sold at both locations.

The Orlando based company has been in business for four years and while its home office is at 2230 Curry Ford Road, it has serviced all of Florida and other southeastern states with an outside sales force and in-house telemarketing staff. As a distributor for Okidata printer parts, one of the largest and most recognized maker of printers in the industry, the company has shipped parts as far away as South America.

Concentrating in the IBM environment with compatibles such as Zenith, Corona, Toshiba, Altos and their own clone, Micro Supply can provide solutions for any size business. With additional equipment such as networking systems, modems, multifunction cards, monitors and many different lines of printers, a total line of computer oriented products is available.

Working along with Linda at the Sanford store is Carl Shackford, the manager of the service department in both stores. Living in Sanford, Carl usually starts his day in the Sanford store, but his busy repair schedule rarely keeps him in one place. Commenting on his department's work, Carl said, "We want to provide technical assistance for as many machines as possible. Our emphasis is on an IBM based micro-computers and printers, but I have had requests for service on a wide array of office equipment. We will do service on-site or at the store, and a customer only needs to call to see if we can be of help to them."

Until all the changes are implemented The Office Source will still have the same sign and location. Linda commented further, "We will provide the same quality products and competitive pricing, with service, that has helped Micro Supply to grow as they have. Our computer supply prices cannot be beat and we provide free delivery, of course. We will continue to offer computer and office supplies on an order basis, but feel that with the added power of the Orlando store behind us, our service will be more efficient."

Within several weeks all existing customers of The Office Source will be notified of the changes and invited to a Grand Opening of the new facilities.

"We hope everyone will either call or stop by if they have any questions, but we have plans to let our customers know about the changes in a very special way. We invite anyone interested in learning more about our company and how we can help them to call us anytime!"

With a reminder that both stores accept Master Charge, Visa, and Choice cards, the locations are 111 Magnolia Ave. in Sanford, with phone numbers of 323-5815 or 365-8111 and Micro Supply of Orlando, 2230 Curry Ford Road and the phone number is 898-9187 or 898-7100. Store hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. An answering machine is on the 365-8111 line for customers to leave messages after hours. During the week before the final transition, special hours will be announced to accommodate the celebration.

Winemakers Strike Back

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The giant California wine industry, retaliating against a union call for a boycott of its products...

“Boycotts cause permanent damage to a business,” said Bob Lieber, spokesman for the Winery Employers Association.

“Consumer tastes are hard to establish. Once people switch to another brand, it is hard to get them back. This is no longer a garden variety dispute between management and labor. This is nuclear war,” Lieber said Monday.

The walkout began seven weeks ago and eventually spread to a dozen major wineries in the state, which produces $5.5 billion of wine annually.

Precautions Advised In Viewing

Solar Eclipse On Tap For Friday

A partial eclipse of the sun will be visible in most of the United States when the moon slips between the Earth and sun Friday, and scientists say spectators at the sky show should make sure to protect their eyes.

The eclipse will be total only in a narrow band of the Atlantic Ocean east of Greenland, and it will be difficult to observe even there because of the sun's position in the sky and expected bad weather.

But for the United States and Canada, a dramatic display is in the offing.

“A partial solar eclipse like this one is an event for the public to enjoy,” said Jay Pasachoff, director of the Hopkins Observatory at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

“There is little of scientific value to be done during a partial eclipse, though some measurements can be made with optical and radio telescopes. (But) it is always fun to see an eclipse. It won't get dark at all, but it is exciting to know that a partial eclipse is in progress.”

Officials at the Naval Observatory in Washington say the eclipse Friday will not be visible in California and parts of Oregon, Nevada and Arizona, but “the rest of us here in the continental United States will see a partial eclipse.”

By a quirk of nature, the sun's apparent size as viewed from Earth and that of the moon are roughly identical. When the moon's orbit carries it directly in front of Earth's star, it blocks out the sun's light, producing an eclipse.

In a partial eclipse, only a portion of the sun's disk is blocked out. For observers in the Northeast and eastern Canada, the sun will appear as a thin crescent during maximum coverage.

The farther west one is, the less the coverage. In Eugene, Ore., for example, only a small portion of the sun — 4 percent — will be covered. But in Boston, about 74 percent of the sun's disk will be blocked out.

Scientists warn that extreme care must be used when looking at the sun.

“The sun is no less hazardous to view during a partial solar eclipse than it is on any normal day,” Pasachoff said.

One of the safest ways to watch the eclipse is with a “pinhole camera.” Take a sheet of cardboard and punch a small hole in its center. If a white piece of paper is held below the hole, an image of the sun will be projected onto it.

Similarly, binoculars or a small telescope can be used to project an image of the sun onto the ground or a piece of paper. In no case should the observer ever look through optical instruments aimed anywhere near the sun.

“Binoculars or a telescope, of course, greatly intensify the sun's power to blind,” warns Sky & Telescope magazine. “In past decades, hundreds of unwary people suffered permanent impairment of vision after watching eclipses with inadequate protection.”

Pasachoff said the next total eclipse that astronomers can view will occur in Indonesia and the Philippines on March 17, 1988. An annular eclipse like the one that dazzled Americans in 1985 will cross the continental United States in 1994.

The next total solar eclipse visible from the United States will be in 2017.

Simian Stripper Mugged

NEW YORK (UPI) — A monkey forced out of the striptease business by a stroke was mugged at knifepoint with its owner while the two begged on the streets to raise money for the simian's veterinary bills, police said.

The 2 1/2-year-old, Guenon blue-faced monkey, known as Mr. Mike, was "shaken but uninjured" in the attack, police spokesman Peter O'Donnell said Monday. The weapon — a 9-inch kitchen knife — was not recovered.

The monkey mugging occurred Sunday in front of a post Fifth Avenue department store where Mr. Mike and his owner, Anthony Agnello, were begging to help pay $1,200 in veterinary bills for Mr. Mike's recovery from a stroke.

Intervention Can Help The Problem Drinker

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — You often tell friends or spouses of those with drinking problems to seek help from Al-Anon. However, I would like to remind you of the valuable role played by an alcoholism counselor in the process called "intervention." It is a myth that a person must admit he or she is an alcoholic before receiving help, although such an admission is necessary before a successful recovery can be achieved.

DEAR READER — I appreciate your comments; they are relevant. Like many other practicing physicians, I have been involved in the intervention process. Alcoholism counselors are invaluable in this setting. In my experience, intervention often includes confrontation. The spouse, friend or parent of the heavy drinker initially seeks help from a professional — a doctor, counselor, clergyman or Alcoholics Anonymous member. A potential alcohol problem is identified. The group then meets with the drinker. This meeting can take place in any suitable location — home, office, hospital and so forth. The problem is explored and brought out in the open. I have found that such a combined approach often provides an opening wedge into the alcoholic's most treasured defense: denial.

As the intervention progresses, the participants usually are able to work out which treatment program would be appropriate: outpatient, residential, detoxification and/or A.A. In addition, Al-Anon, Alateen, and groups for children of alcoholics are important resources. The alcoholism counselor is crucial; he or she has the responsibility not only of setting up the meeting and mediating it, but also of providing ongoing treatment for both patient and family. Thank you for writing.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes whiteheads? DEAR READER — Whiteheads are plugged pores. Most skin pores contain sweat glands. Even if a pore becomes partially blocked, its sweat gland will continue producing. The water from the perspiration is reabsorbed into the skin (or evaporates), leaving a jolly white residue. With time the residue hardens and enlarges, blocking the pore entirely. The pore is then widened by further accumulation of soapy material.

and a whitehead forms. Eventually, the tip of the whitehead, which is exposed to the air, darkens — because the sulfur in the residue is oxidized — and becomes a blackhead.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

In July the Grand National Team Championship was won in Toronto by Seymour Deutsch, Jim Jacoby, Bob Hamman and Bob Wolff. It was Seymour's first major national championship. Today's deal, taken from a regional tournament in Texas where we were practicing before competing in Canada, shows Seymour earning a significant pickup through a deceptive lead.

Seymour, sitting West, made a one-spade overall. North's three-club bid was pre-emptive, and East jumped to four spades either to make that contract or to get in the way of whatever South might be wanting to bid. Right or wrong, South concealed his diamond holding and bid five hearts. Everyone passed, and without much ado, Seymour placed the jack of clubs on the table.

Place yourself in declarer's seat and try to be objective. Doesn't that club jack look like a singleton? And what chance would you have to make five hearts if you played dummy's club queen, saw East take the king and give his partner a club ruff, and then had the defenders play a heart at you? On the other hand, if diamonds were 3-3, you could take the club ace, play A-K of diamonds and ruff a diamond, then ruff a spade back to your hand and play A-K-J of hearts to make your contract. And that's what declarer tried to do.

Alas, West ruffed the third diamond, cashed the king of clubs and played a spade. Declarer still had to lose two more tricks, and Seymour Deutsch had taken one more giant step toward winning the exciting championship in Toronto.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
OCTOBER 1, 1986

It's to your advantage in the year ahead to set several lofty goals for yourself. Each will be reachable, provided you are prepared to put out the proper effort.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You must be able to distinguish today between sensible optimism and just plain wishful thinking. If you're dominated by the latter, disappointment is likely. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's best today and tomorrow that you keep your friends out of your material affairs. Their good intentions could cause you complications that are easily avoided.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An important objective won't be achieved today if you attempt to attain it in a half-hearted fashion. In order to succeed, you must go all-out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Proceed cautiously with your present plans. There is a possibility that some obstacles exist of which you are unaware, and they could impede your progress.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A proposal might be offered to you today that looks very enticing on the surface. Be sure to check it carefully, because there may be undesirable strings attached.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Self-confidence is essential today if you hope to further an ambitious interest. You're the one who holds the ace, not the other guy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do not be lax or indifferent about your responsibilities today. If you let important situations drift, you could end up in a bind.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful today in your group involvements that you don't put yourself in a minority position where you are opposing an aggressive majority.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you have a family problem today, draw the line so that outsiders cannot intrude. Input from in-laws or friends could make things worse.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your attention span might not be up to par today, so you'll need discipline to focus on the tasks at hand. Think only of what you're doing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your usual competence in financial matters could be absent today. Don't do anything foolish that could hurt others, as well as yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you are too indecisive today, persons with whom you'll be involved may lose faith in you and withdraw their offer to have you as part of their team.
